yards of the spot where the examination rooms of the Civil Service Commission stand to-day.

Those who would now struggle to the top—those like Carnegie and Lloyd George—may be removed by the artificial obstacles to real happiness and progress.

By means of this division of opportunity we have achieved the goal of placing round pegs in round holes.

The only remaining thing to do is to readjust the pegs to the holes. We can remove many of the artificial obstacles to real happiness and progress.

Tonight, as the members of the class of 1923 are about to leave this High School to enter the great school of life, it is fitting that we pause and think of the benefits we have obtained from our training.

To you, Superintendent and Members of the School Board, we are indebted for the equipment and curriculum; the athletic and social advantages given us during our High School life.

Members of the Faculty, you have been the duty of guiding us in our reading, writing, arithmetic and science.

Parents and friends, we owe you a debt which words cannot repay. You have been constant in the presence of us, and we are indebted to you for the many opportunities which you have given us.

Members of the class of 1923, tonight have been crowned with the laurels of our school life.

Members of the class of 1923, tonight have been crowned with the laurels of our school life. We have been fortunate in our training.

CONNECTICUT FORESTRY

That forestry and forestry work for prevention in Connecticut are receiving as much attention as the funds available and the development of public opinion will permit has been verified for some months by Forester Austin S. Hays.

This excellent showing is attributed to the introduction of pumps by the state forester to replace the usual method of back firing in checking fires. The state forester also is engaged in organizing protective associations, the volunteer members of which will assist themselves not less than four cents an acre yearly to help in fire fighting.

Eventually it is hoped that these proposed voluntary associations will be induced to give practical attention to the growing task of reforesting waste lands.

Three years the nation has waited for the national forestry policy enthusiastically promised by Mr. Harding and nothing has come of it. It is up to the states in general to take the lead.

THE BERENGAERIA CASE Secretary of the Treasury Mellon ordered the breaking of the British embargo on the lighter carrying by the steamship Berengaria for use on its voyage back to England.

When this particular feature of the law first came into prominence President Harding was quoted as desiring of letting matters take their course so that Congress should not be hurried to legislate.

HOW TO START THE DAY

On one of the swiftest mornings that have ushered in such a beautiful day we were fortunate daily newspaper to find the following interesting item prominently displayed: "Dumplings of steamed puddings are quite likely to fall if you lift the lid of the steamer before they are done."

THE BITTER END OF A PERFECT ROMANCE

Things often are not what they seem. In the supposedly romantic settings of the theatrical and motion picture world one would expect to find romance attaining its greatest perfection.

But this romance of love is not invariably lasting. Even a perfunctory study of the favoring conditions of the stage and the motion picture world, that least of all there, can romance claim immortality.

Mr. Hays said that cheap Bureau of Land and Water, Canada, is naturally, romance in themselves but lovers of all times have usually assumed them as indispensable adjuncts of their own self-centered dreams.

MODEL ILLUSTRATES KEYSIN'S THEORY

Ithaca, N. Y., June 22.—Einstein has been made visible to the masses by Prof. Vladimir Karapetoff of Cornell University. He has recently perfected a device, which by making use of Einstein's theory of time is a concept not entirely different from that of space, conveys to the eye a visual illustration of the results of Einstein's original theory.

TWO RATTLESNAKES KILLED

Thomas Babbs of Lime Rock killed two rattlesnakes yesterday morning near Cannon Mountain. The baby was instantly killed and the other 3 feet 11 inches. It is believed that the continued dry season is driving the snakes down from the higher altitudes to find water.

FRANCHISE EXPENDITURES

Paris—France spent more than four times as much as Germany has paid during the four years from the signing of the armistice to December 31, 1922, according to recently compiled figures.

London—There is gloom in London. The London season has been a flat fizzle, far as trade is concerned. Old Juppiter Pluvius, who always has been best in London in accordance with the expectations.

The London season reaches its climax which opened on June 18. This is the big society racing event of the year and English women and American continental visitors plan to display their colorful costumes during Asot week.

Altogether it has been a freaky spring and summer in London. There have been but a very few days when winter overcoats were discarded. The weather was not so good as it was in the past.

As an arbiter of style the Parisian has been in the limelight. The Prince recently appeared in a blue derby hat. This is the first time he has been followed, and even the smartest "Berties" in Broadway and Bond street are clinging to their hats and "black bows."

English society has taken up Fred and Adele Astaire, the two young American dancers who were featured in "Top Hat" in London. John Ervine and Sydney Carroll, says their prices, and "now the Astaires are the social talk of the town."

American tourists are champion pet collectors. The Navy Hotel management announces that they are prepared to accept in exchange already housed monkeys destined for Milwaukee; great wattle chameleons for Columbus, Ohio. Many parrots are cared for pending the voyage to America. It is noted that ocean-bound vessels for the United States are going to resemble Noah's Ark.

There was great relief sent up when H. H. Asquith made a solemn and public pledge that he would be replaced by an electrically operated signal system. This is the first installation of its kind in Europe.

The falling blizzard hunched down Paris Sunday. That it was an excessive cold weather the Municipal Council today postponed until July 1 the election of a committee that was planned for this week.

METEORS SAME AS EARTH MATERIALS

Cambridge, Mass.—Meteors have always been looked on with interest by the sky watchers. They swoop down in a startlingly common mysterious hinterland of outer space. We look at something of awe, even today, and wonder about them.

The subject has recently taken on new interest because of the discovery that the iron and nickel meteorites, because of the discovery of a single substance, but are made up of the same material as the meteorites, which are so alike chemically that they cannot be distinguished by ordinary means.

Prof. G. P. Baxter, working in one of the Harvard laboratories, has completed atomic weight determinations on both iron and nickel meteorites, and finds that the two are made up of the same material.

Sense and Nonsense

Howdy, Pals. Money can't buy happiness because happiness is not for sale. It happens in something which comes from going good which you can't expect.

The meanest man in the world is the roommate who borrows your best tie, and then goes out and orders grapefruit.

Man gets 39 days for stealing 30 cents' worth of soap. But Americans have our faults, but we do have a pity.

Another difference between death and taxes is that death is satisfied with one lick at it.

The man who breathes how long it is until real summer will put a 39 day' note in the bank he will find it won't be as long as it seems.

Manner of Passing of Champions in One Month Widely Different—Wilde Acquits Himself Like a Man.

Two champions passed within the month in the same ring but the manner of their passing was different. James Wilde, the Little Welsh Wonder, was not a champion when he was killed. He was a contender. He was beaten until he had known, senseless, John Patrick was not a champion when he was killed and philosopher, but hit once on the jaw and decided that it was all over.

That line-up will furnish what should be one of the fastest games seen in this section in a long time. In the Woonsocket team, summer pro dawdles down to summer street to test the mettle of the visiting team.

The knitted Jaquette, in lovely soft tones is an agreeable variation of the always useful sweater. It adapts itself equally well to summer frocks or pleated skirts.

June is the time to plant the seed of perennials. The soil should be kept moist and undisturbed, but it has been my experience that it requires infinite patience. Very few of the seeds seem to germinate, and it is possible to do so it is better to obtain the young plants the second year from a reliable grower of experience.

The manufacturers of Grape Nuts and other cereals, the Postum Cereal Company of Battle Creek, are offering a total of $2,500 in prizes for the best suggestions and recipes using Grape Nuts. Prizes made by the use of this ingredient are quickly made and wholesome. One such recipe is the following:

2 cup grape nuts, 1-2 cup scalded milk, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1-2 cup raisins. Scald milk and add the cereal, raising and adding a little nutmeg. Cook six minutes directly over the fire, stirring constantly and serve with any good pudding sauce.

Apparages of very good quality is still to be found in the markets, although the price is much higher than it has been, make use of it while it lasts.

Leghorn hats for wear with summer dresses are trimmed with millinery ribbons of narrow cream lace. Raspberries are beginning to ripen and a refreshing drink for hot weather is made by the use of one equal quantity of raspberries, one pint of raspberry syrup, one cup shredded pineapple. Chill on ice for two hours, serve with sprigs of fresh mint.

A neat way of caring for rubbers when not in use, is to fasten a picture towel rack in the closet where they are kept and hang the rubbers on the rack by the heels.

New apron designs in unbleached muslin are very artistic. The apron is usually cut on curved lines and is buttoned along the edge. Sometimes a single large flower like a poppy forms the pocket. A poppy bud and leaves will repeat on one side near the neck while other sprays at each side of the apron at the foot.

TO EXAMINE BROKERS.

New York, June 22.—The New York Stock Exchange today took steps to investigate the financial standing of its members, owing to numerous failures of brokerage firms recently.

Artileers

The knitted frock that most popular member of the dress family, and one of the leaders in the knitted outer-wear vogue, is sweeping all before it. Wherever you go, the knitted frock, in its various interpretations, meets the eye. It is equal at home on the links, the avenue, in the motor, at tea, in fact, at any place where smartly turned-out women are encountered. It is an easy matter to imagine the frock illustrated, worn upon most any occasion, and one must envy the good comfort of the wearer. The habit of combining worsted with fibre silk is an especially popular one, and good use of it is made here. In the instance the frock appears in a tiny cross-stitch design, carried out in various colors, thus effecting color contrast without however, expressing any feeling of bias.

The introduction of the two-piece knitted frock was singularly fortunate, inasmuch as women were eager to depart for a time from the straight line, chemise type of frock which has been so much in the public eye. A slender, soft giraffe may be worn with the frock illustrated, if one wishes, but a narrower, more pertly diction says it shall be attended casually on one side, where it is permitted to depend from the edge of the blouse in the most conclusive manner.

HATS OF WOOD THE LATEST

New York, June 22.—Now we have hats of wood! The latest craze is close-fitting, turban-like hats, made entirely of wooden veneer. They are strange and crisscrossed on the head much like the pearl caps of Juliet's day, and they come in all colors imaginable. There is nothing fashion can't hit upon when she is really bent on a new achievement.

Down on Long Island a gentlemanly, courteous man, whose English is polished as well as correct, sells hot dogs and soda water to the youngsters of the neighborhood, from a little hole-in-the-wall. Two years ago, that same man was at the head of one of the biggest, and presumably strongest, brokerage houses on the Consolidated Exchange, with a business running into millions annually. The crash came and young R. D. MacMasters, head of the company, was forgotten when he faded from Wall Street like, as the Street has a habit of forgetting its shining lights of yesterday. After searching for something to do, he took his few remaining dollars to the hot place and works away there ten or twelve hours a day.

Will Rogers says it's a grand thing when you see a motion picture, to be able to say to yourself, "Well, that's a terrible picture, but Will Rogers has made the actor's mouth look a lot better, anyhow. And pretty soon if the present drift keeps up, we are going to get a lot of comfort out of the thought that 'It's an awfully unreal story, but we certainly see a lot of social prominent people in it.'" The latest girl of the haute monde to be whisked into the film is Mrs. James V. Converse, twin sister to Mrs. Reginald Vanderbilt, wife of the late Harry H. Morgan, Consul-General to Brussels. Not only is she to be a movie actress, but a producer, as well heading her own company.

Never would a jeweler suspect that anyone of his customers would be interested in the law and its preservation. That evidently was the standpoint of a well-known Fifth Avenue jeweler, whose latest clients recently received engraved invitations to view the latest Napoleon portrait at the stores with the "Napoleon portrait." He was unable to explain how the name Napoleon came attached to the string, and neither was he able, or at least he was not willing, to explain how, when and where they entered America. On the contrary, he accepted with grateful humility the judgment that he must pay full duty in addition to a fine equal to the appraisal value of $20,000.

Reports of next season's theatrical offerings are already coming in and as usual there is a thrill in them. June Crow, who we told will play here in "Anthony and Cleopatra," and "Twelfth Night," after an engagement on the Pacific Coast in "Romeo and Juliet." Another Miss play, entitled "Success" will be brought over early in the season, as will "By the Grace of Angels," by the author of the present hit, "Arise! We All!" This is just the beginning of the announcements and others will come thick and fast from now on.

The Bird of Ill Omen has appeared again at Pelham Bay, our happy resident suburb just above Manhattan Island. The bird is only a scrawny and apparently ancient sea gull, but its every croak is a sound of sinister portents to the usually unsuperstitious Pelhamites. They remember the series of fatalities and near fatalities that occurred last summer in the wake of the Bird of Ill Omen. Fishermen were drowned, the worst storm in the section's history came upon them, a whole acre cut off all remaining connections, unkillable rats overran Chinatown's islands, the pride of the bay, and now the bird is back, sitting on its rock as it did last season, with omen sticking out all over him.

BONDS OF SILK

Gift to Lyons Strengthens Bond Between Nations.

"The recent presentation of silk to the City of Lyons by Lohbert, French Consul General of New York City," said Horace R. Cheney, South Manchester authority "marks still further the cementing of the bond of friendship between France and America in the recent war."

"Millions of American men and women of all classes, all professions and all industries have battled on French soil... have shared its sorrows and its triumphs, France, war's horrors and its triumphs."

"And if history indeed repeats itself the hearts and minds of those Americans will bear forever the stamp of that which they saw and heard and felt in France. Their contract in circumstances inducing more than millions of recurrences — with French thought, French art and architecture must bear proof."

"And touched by the Genius of France these men are now returning to their former spheres and we who remain cannot escape their influence — we must be, and are, ready to receive and feel, the dictates of the Genius of France."

"The feeling of authority in matters of the best that France gives makes one confident of her judgment in the arts and fabrics of the present ability to interpret the newer trend which the world is yet to witness."

NO MORE PARCELS UNTIL JULY FIRST

New York, June 23.—No parcel post packages addressed to foreign countries will leave this port next week, and even first class mail will be held up from June 23 to July 1. This announcement was made today by the superintendents, of our going foreign mail. The reason for this order, emanating from Washington, is that the increase has been so great and unexpected in American mail for foreign countries that the Postoffice Department $6,500,000 appropriation for this purpose has been practically all used.

It is estimated that 50,000 parcel post packages and 800,000 first class letters will be held up. Conditions will become normal July 1, when the postal appropriation begins.

YALE SUPERMAN IS CALIFORNIA YOUTH

New Haven — California has given Yale another "superman," this time in the intellectual class, in Francis Otto Matthiessen, whose home was in Pasadena. Yale senior student, he was elected to the most honor in his class most to be admired, most scholarly, most brilliant, and most likely to succeed. Then the faculty picked him out as the senior who has done the most for Yale by inspiring in his classmates an admiration and love for the best traditions of that high scholarship to the service of which our universities are dedicated.

To make the honor immediately substantial, Matthiessen was awarded $500 in cash, as a result of a prize offered by Mrs. Alphonse Henry Snow, of Washington, D. C., in memory of her husband, who was a member of the Yale class of 1879. The Snow prize was awarded this year for the first time and becomes a permanent feature of the Yale prize list.

Besides getting the cash prize Matthiessen in the previous year was awarded a Rhodes scholarship and the famous DeForest public speaking medal. He was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the high-stated honor. Besides these activities he found time to be a class leader in the University Y. M. C. A., managing editor of the Yale Daily News, and an editor of Yale Literary Magazine.

WITH THE MANCHESTER AUTOMOBILE DEALERS

The Herald Man on a Tour of the Manchester Display Rooms.

W. R. Tinker, Jr., reports Chevrolet deliveries during the past week of a roadster to Alfred Gross of Pearl street, a sedan to Thomas Hudson of Kington street and touring cars to Daniel Rudas of Center street and W. P. Taggart of Cooper street.

Improved conditions within a few days. The Manchester Hudson-Essex Company have delivered an Essex sedan with edged with chrome and black leather upholstery. An announcement of a drop of $50 in the price of the touring car and $75 on the coach is especially gratifying to the local representatives in view of the fact that some of the automobile manufacturers have recently raised prices.

George S. Smith, local Maxwell distributor has delivered a Maxwell special touring car to Tony Hayward of Birch street and a sport model to W. H. Flannigan of Hartford.

W. J. Herron of the Standard Motor Sales Co., has returned from New York with a Willys-Knight Country Club model, the first of this make which has had a touring season. It is on exhibition at the showroom, 21 Maple street.

Why do so many people buy Buicks? Because they are a standard car. Because you see more on the road. Because most all public services like them. Because they are economical and foolproof. ONE KILLED IN WRECK

Westerly, R. I., June 22.—One person was instantly killed and four others were seriously injured early today when a large touring car turned turtle on a curve at Ashaway, near Westerly.

The party, consisting of three girls and two young men were returning from the Harvard-Yale boat race when the accident occurred. Veronica McAleay, 20 years old, of 339 Broadway, Pawtucket, a student of the Rhode Island College of Education, and a niece of Postmaster McAleay is the dead girl. Her companion, Miss Lancy Danner, of 174 Mulberry street, Pawtucket, suffered a broken leg and six ribs. Arthur Webster, 23, of 174 Mulberry street, was badly cut and bruised about the body. John B. Redican, of 132 Dunster street, Pawtucket, was cut about the neck and head. Miss Dorothy Stach, of Plainville, Mass., suffered a broken right arm and a wrenching left knee.

MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENTS.

The lid on the accident situation in the principal Connecticut cities is being held tightly by the police forces and active safety organizations, according to the weekly report of the department of motor vehicles. The single exception in the report is the number of accidents is increasing with much greater strides than the registration list.

Hartford with 60 major accidents, is by far the worst locality in the state for motor vehicle mishaps. Most of the other cities show perfect control of the situation by the reduction from last year's record for the same week, in spite of an ever-increasing registration list.

Hidgopet succeeded in cutting her motor vehicle toll down to one third while New Haven and New Britain had but one half the number of major accidents this year as they had for the same week last year. Waterbury, Meriden and New London show slight increases.

My next door neighbor is indeed a most peculiar chap, for things I find most interesting he doesn't care a rap. He sits on his reads for hours, this literary guy and writes all the authors—that they write an "how to" why. Sometimes I interrupt him and we talk a little while but he's so dumb on some things that I almost have to smile. For instance he don't even know what I mean when I say "You'd better try 128 to get KING." But when it comes to books "an" he see I take the prize, an' cause I interrupt him an' we talk a little while but he's so dumb on some things that I almost have to smile. BIG U. S. SHIP BREAKS ALL OCEAN RECORDS

Ex-Head of Shipping Board Tells President That Leviathan is Champion of the Seas—Her Records.

New York, June 22.—Albert D. Lackner, former chairman of the United States Shipping Board, today sent a wireless message to President Harding from the American liner Leviathan, announcing that the great ship had broken all speed records on her trial trip and proudly calling her as "the champion of the seas." Lackner paid tribute to President Harding's efforts in behalf of the American Merchant Marine.

The following copy of the message was given out at the office of the United States Shipping Board:

Copy of Message: "I have the honor to inform you that the S. S. Leviathan which was recommissioned and put into service through the constant encouragement of you have always given the Merchant Marine, has within the last 25 hours, broken all established world records for sustained speed.

Break Records. "She has made 28.04 knots in one hour, she has sustained 25 knots for six hours. She has, during the 25 hour period, made a distance of 687 nautical miles, an average speed being 27.48 knots per hour. The distance run in eleven miles further than the fastest record made by a marine ship. Thus, through its first big ship, in its first trial run, America has the largest, the fastest and the fastest ship in the world. An inspiring premiere ship to our merchant marine, may this performance entice our people as it should and be some return to you for your constant interest in and enthusiasm for America on the seas. It is an historic tribute to the genius of those who designed and rebuilt the Leviathan, the champion of the seas, her officers and crew."

COUPLE ARRESTED. Bridgeport, Conn., June 22.—John Harvey, 31, alias Harry Benson, wanted in New Haven as a witness in a federal case, was captured at the point of a gun by Detective Sergeant John Curry today after a hallway of an apartment house at 96 Courtland street. Mrs. Gertrude Harvey, his wife, also was arrested on the same charge. The pair were to have appeared as witnesses by United States Commissioner H. B. Lynch in the case of United States against Rocco Feina, on Thursday.

ATTACKED BY DOG. Youngstown, Ohio, June 22.—Former Justice John H. # THE VACATION SEASON IS NOW HERE

Toilet Articles for Vacationers!

To really enjoy your vacation you should have a full supply of high grade toilet articles. It is best for your comfort and for your health. Here are some of the many things you will want to take with you.

Quinn's Pharmacy

TOILET POWDERS IMPORTANT FACTOR IN WOMAN'S VACATION

Interesting Facts About Them.

Toilet powders used for the purpose of adding to the comfort of the user have long been sold. One of the first to be used extensively was starch, either pure or mixed with other powders, and it was very useful for drying the skin surface until better powders became known.

The chief constituent of our talc is the finest, softest, most velvety powdered talc we know how to buy. And I might tell you that we have made many tests of many talcs from many lands. We are using the highest grade of Italian talc and we do not know where in the world any thing better may be had. Colgate talc powder contains an appreciable percentage of boric acid and some other ingredients that go towards making ideal comfort powder. It is used to dry excessive moisture from the surface of the objectionable property of extracting any of the moisture that belongs in the skin. It is fine to prevent or relieve chafing. It promotes skin health and body comfort.

The time was when most ladies disdained face powders. These same ladies recognized at once the benign effect of high grade talc powders on their cheeks and gradually became users themselves. It became quite common with those who had bought talc powders solely for the comfort they produced, to dab a little of the powder on their faces, at first remove a stain and later make it disappear, because they actually believed that it added to their beauty! Thus it became quite a general practice among ladies to use talc powders on the face at a time when they still abhorred face powders.

You will probably be interested in learning more definitely about the composition of most of the face powders now in vogue. The principal materials in their manufacture are talc, starch, oxide of zinc and some of the aluminum, zinc and magnesium salts have been that some of the early manufacturers of face powders actually used white lead and cases of poisoning are said to have occurred. It is hard to believe that any reputable manufacturer nowadays would use this material, but a recent pamphlet calling attention to the possibility of lead poisoning, due to the presence of lead as an impurity in some of the materials commonly used in the manufacture of face powders.

Everywhere in nature it is evident that beauty is to be admired. The flowers are made beautiful and given sweet perfumes to attract the bees and other insects that scatter their pollen for them. Everywhere in the animal kingdom beauty plays an important part in the lives and happenings of all beings endowed with the five senses. It is then perfectly natural that the beautiful half of mankind should be aware of its beauty and is it not commendable that women should seek to perpetuate her beauty and pardonable if she should even try to enhance it! Here is where face powders come in and a modest woman with a delicate touch and an artistic taste will often add to her beauty with face powder. Face powders for this purpose must not be too shiny. They should not possess too much color, nor should too much pure white powder be used on a face that is full of color. It is for this reason that powders are made not only white, but also with flesh and brunette tints. In some cases a slight application of a highly tinted powder followed with a powder that is but slightly tinted, often gives the desired result.

Investigate the Attractions Offered at Resorts in This State.

Whether it is to the seashore, the lake, country, mountains or elsewhere, everyone has his own ideas as to what constitutes a vacation, but for many, the problem of making up one's mind—without changing it four or five times—is one that is far from easy of solution.

It is a fact that few sections present the vacation opportunities that are offered by New England. It has been aptly termed "The Vacation Land," and such it really is. Connecticut, for its size, is remarkably well equipped with seashore, mountain and lake resorts that hold boundless attractions for thousands who come from points far distant for a few weeks during each year to participate in the long holiday that begins with the approach of the summer season.

Variety of Amusements. The majority of Connecticut people, it can safely be said, are prone to spend their vacation periods in this section, which offers an endless variety of recreation and amusement. If it is camping or automobile touring touring that appeals to the vacationist, he will find no more desirable spot than Connecticut.

If his bent is towards the seashore and if it is healthbuilding features, the southern boundary of the state, on Long Island Sound, presents several hundred miles of choice bathing places that draw patronage from many states. If decision has been reached to his way to one of the numerous inland lakes and streams for a pleasant camping or fishing party, Connecticut is the place to do it. On top of all that, there is to be considered the vacation in the country, on the farm, or in the mountains, for those whose liking for the great, free waters and open spaces gets the better of them. In fact Connecticut residents should feel particularly proud of the remarkable facilities at their immediate disposal in their home state for the fulfillment of their varied ideas regarding just what constitutes a vacation.

Charm of New England. As has been often said, nature was in her most versatile mood when she planned New England. There is variety aplenty for the young and old in vacation time in

TAKE A PORTABLE RADIO WITH YOU THIS SUMMER

They Will Bring Entertainment to You at the Shore or in the Mountains.

There are two kinds of radio amateur class and each has its particular problems as regards portable equipment for summer use. The experimenter is the less fortunate of the two since he is not entirely happy without all kinds of new-fangled devices to tempt his curiosity. He is the one who dabbles in the technicalities of the game and in camp or at the shore he will find himself at a disadvantage. The individual who thinks of radio only as a means to an end, the broadcast listener, will buy the smallest equipment he can find and pack it along as he would a phonograph.

Some months ago—for one may still refer to the development of broadcasting in such terms—the crystal and single circuit tuners were most popular among listeners. Everyone from the small boy next door to the business traveler up the street was tickling with these little sets and got a huge amount of enjoyment out of it. At that time radio was looked upon with considerable amusement. It was just a fad they thought and probably would not amount to much. The successful use of these sets was often the exception. Tired of the amusement, to radio fan now, dequally means more than a crystal and a clear box tuner.

The day is fast going by when the radio fan buys a receiving set as he would a necktie, nor does he longer trust entirely to the dealer's judgment in the matter. Usually he has taken the pains to learn something about the radio set for himself and not infrequently he knows in his own mind about what he wants. He knows the merits of a three-circuit and two-step amplification and he talks in terms of radio and audio frequencies. The masses, the manufacturers have not been slow in following their own lead and the result has been the marketing of apparatus that is rapidly increasing in efficiency from the standpoint of the serious listener.

Radio for Summer. It is therefore reasonable to assume that this is not only going to be a radio summer as the dealers have been predicting, but it is also going to be the first season when the radio enthusiast is bound to do it. His level has to get the utmost satisfaction. Heretofore atmospheric conditions have been blamed for a relapse of radioactivity during hot weather and static which is the worst offender will doubtless play its part in the matter to come but not with the same intensity. Already it is being whispered in radio circles that a device for the elimination of static may soon be on the market, then the worst enemy of the radio vacationist may be conquered.

TOUR ON A BICYCLE THIS SUMMER

Touring on a bicycle requires special care in selecting an outfit. The spectacle of a young man starting out on a long trip with a great pack on his back, bundles on his handlebars and an enormous burden over his rear wheel on a luggage carrier is pathetic. One inexperienced tripper, so burdened, said his outfit weighed 140 pounds. He had a tent, waterproof, blanket, spare clothes, food for many days, though he was passing towns every hour, and cooking utensils enough for a party of four, though they were taxing his strength and wearing out his stamped bearings and underlined tires.

A bicyclist's camping outfit, complete with a tent, a blanket, a four-pound tent or a waterproof cover, extra clothes, a canteen (a quart in settled regions, a gallon in arid lands) and a camera.

A rider should select food suitable to the region in which he is going to travel. He should carry no burden on his back, waist or any part of his person. Hosiery, luggage carriers or bags should be fastened directly to the machine. Burdens should be so placed as to keep the center of gravity low; any pendulous method of the luggage must be prevented. Nor is there any need to burden yourself when riding on a motor cycle. The motor will carry almost as much as can be stacked on it, but even so the rule holds true that the lighter the outfit the greater the comfort and ease of travel.

Bicycling costs perhaps a dollar a day if the tourist camps out. If he cooks his own meals he saves two-thirds of the ordinary expense, and if he knows how to cook, he can live much better and have less indignation than if he were to eat the masses served at smart styles for bathers.

SMART STYLES FOR BATHERS.

The wrap-around coat dress is going strong for summer, even in the heavier cotton materials, for it looks well turned out for the street and is a pleasant change from the hair-raising ways of the slip-over styles. The Fifth Avenue shops are showing these dresses in cotton ratine, the drop-stitch ratine in amber with a great bow of dark brown ribbon on the hip, in dull-blue ratine embroidered in scarlet.

Even bathing-suits are made in the wrap-around fashion and are very good looking in the printed, silk, foulards and ginghams. For which they will engage in excavation at one of the most important cave man areas of Southern France, Dr. Alan Hrdlicka of the U. S. National Museum, who was recently placed in charge of the school, announced here today.

AMERICAN STUDENTS SAIL ON SEARCH FOR PREHISTORIC.

Washington, June 22.—Americans will leave New York for Europe Monday, June 25, to study the cave man in his natural haunts. Students of the American School for Prehistoric Studies in Europe will start that date to visit all the important sites and view the principal remains of early man, after which they will engage in excavation at one of the most important cave man areas of Southern France, Dr. Alan Hrdlicka of the U. S. National Museum, who was recently placed in charge of the school, announced here today.

It seems to be becoming more and more likely that man himself originated in Western Europe," Dr. Hrdlicka explained. "Archaeological specimens representing man's history from the earliest part of the Ice Age and possibly before have been recovered in great numbers from this field. The museums of Paris, Brussels, London and Prague are filled with them. In addition, there are now in those museums over one hundred skeletons dating from about 10,000 years ago to well over 200,000 years ago. With all this, vast deposits containing cultural remains of early man have been discovered in great quantities of scientific treasures will gradually come to light as the work of excavation progresses. Six graduate students occupying positions in museums and colleges have already been selected on the recommendation of their institutions.

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR ROY WATSON

Man Who Was Killed by Kick of Horse Identified by Hartford Man—Has Sister in New York State.

It has been ascertained that Roy Watson, the man in the employ of the Miller Construction Company, who was killed yesterday at Hills-town by the kick of a horse, was an ex-serviceman who was overseas with Company G of the Sixteenth Engineers in France. The company was under Captain Jann, of Detroit, and Major Birmingham, of New York. Michael Carroll, of 415 Capitol Avenue, Hartford, who identifies Watson, gave the above facts, says he has a sister living somewhere in New York state. It is probable, therefore, that the man will have a military funeral.
