

Published Weekly by E. WOODS & CO. Office, 112 Broad St., North Manchester.

TERMS: $1.50 a Year, Single Copies 5 Cents. FOR ADVERTISING SEE SPECIAL ADVERTISER. Our Advertising Rates are Reasonable.

Entered at the Post Office in North Manchester as second-class matter.

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1892.

GENERAL HANCOCK IS A POSSIBLE candidate for the governorship of Pennsylvania. While some affect to believe that the man who has been a candidate for the presidency looks upon this gubernatorial position as a stepping-stone for a re-nomination in 1894, it can hardly be admitted that even the governorship of Pennsylvania would help him to the election he failed of in 1880. Gen. Hancock ran his strongest possible campaign against Gifford. On his own side he had his faithful though not brilliant record. On the other hand Gen. Gifford was crippled by the Mary Estlin. Gen. Gifford was elected, and did the people ever regret their choice? The nomination of Gen. Hancock in '94 would be one in a thousand for the Democratic party. To defeat the ruling administration they will have an Herculean task and their leader must be more than a military hero.

They are having lively times in Congress and all because speaker Keifer has neither the ability or the self control to preside. The intelligence of the American is supposed to be most perfectly personated by members of Congress, but even these great men are human, not infrequently they are human, not infrequently they are human, not infrequently they are human, not infrequently they are human. When they get excited, they are as hard to hold in check as a knot of quarrelsome school children. Last Wednesday these great men became so excited that they came very near black eyes and torn coats. An old gentleman who had been speaker of the House and had learned the ropes, succeeded in quelling the disturbance and Speaker Keifer, who had, all this time, been winding himself in vacillating, decisions sank back in his chair in the sublimity of mortification. A day's report was sent across the water Wednesday night of which the country can't be proud.

The Mohammedan world is now looking for the fulfillment of a prophecy, which has been in circulation for many years, which is this: "On the first of the month Moharram, in the year 1300 (Nov. 12, 1892) will appear a sign from Allah. He will be exactly forty years of age, and of noble bearing; one arm will be longer than the other; his father's name will be Mohammed, his mother's Fatima, and he will be hidden for a time prior to his manifestation." There are two claimants to this looked for Mahdi, (Messiah). The first is a sheikh from Asia Minor, who, together with his wife, claimed the gift of healing, she performing her miracles among the women of the harem, and her husband exercising his powers among the men. They became emboldened by their success, criticized the government, which had them arrested, and they will probably be banished from the country. The other claimant has advantages over the healing dervish; one arm is longer than the other, according to the prophecy; his name is Mehdi and there is much mystery surrounding him, which appeals to the oriental mind, and mystery is a strong influence in the mind of humanity. When the Moslem revival swept over the whole East in the year 1876, Mehdi succeeded in gaining great influence, as a missionary, in all the regions of Africa and the word of this prophet is obeyed by tribes of the Desert. One account states that the African Mehdi only claims to be an instructor of the people. Another says, at the proper time he will proclaim himself as the Mahdi.

from on high. This revival excitement is causing apprehensions in European governments, for should the Moslems rally under the banners of a mortal Mehdi, the danger to English and French dominion in Africa would be great.

BOLTON.

The warm weather is welcomed by all; the air is filled with sweet perfumes from the apple blossoms and the result will be an abundance of fruit.—The preaching elder, Rev. Mr. Robinson preached at Quarryville May 21st.—Mr. E. R. Chappell is dangerously ill.—The body of Mabel P. White, daughter of William C. White, was interred at the cemetery at Bolton Center, May 25th. Her age was five years and six months; she was a very bright and interesting child and loved by all who knew her.—Mr. Henry Bailey has moved from Quarryville to Springfield, Mass.—Decorations day was observed here by the usual distribution of flowers upon the graves of the soldiers. Speeches were made by the Rev. L. Barber and N. Goodrich.—The grass on the Sandford Steele farm is to be sold. Those desirous of cutting their own hay will find here a good chance.

NORTH MANCHESTER.

One hundred and ten dogs have been licensed since May 1st.

Showering organs are now universally conceded to be the best made.

For bananas, Bermuda onions, asparagus and all kinds of fruit and confectionery, go to H. P. Bissell's.

The East Hartford bridge had a narrow escape from destruction Wednesday afternoon. Some of the planking at the east end caught fire and with the strong breeze blowing, lively work was required to extinguish the flames.

Fancy-laced shirts 75 cents each, at Bissell's one price store, North Manchester.

Samuel Trimble and wife of Windham have sold to James Roulledge of Manchester, a quarter of an acre of land with buildings thereon on Cottage street for $1050. H. H. White has sold to Levi Drake for $400, a half acre of land in North Manchester.

The following is the list of advertised letters remaining in the North Manchester post office, June 1st: Mrs. J. W. Gordon, John C. Ryan, Miss L. D. Brown, Norman Ryan, Mrs. J. W. Gordon, Mrs. Mary Brennan, Miss J. W. Gordon, Mrs. E. W. Harrington, Mrs. Adde E. Wabbur, Nellie M. Riley, Miss Minnie Horan, Miss Katie Sheridan.

The Cowles hotel which has been managed by the brothers Walter and Clinton Cowles for the last thirteen years, passed, June 1st, under the management of E. H. Parshley, late of the Clarendon hotel, Middletown. Mr. Parshley proposes to keep a temperance house. C. W. Cowles who has lately operated the hotel, has moved into his new residence on School street. He will retain control of the wellstocked livery stables. W. W. Cowles is operating the farm in Backland very successfully.

A dispute concerning a right of way between H. B. Freston and Maurice Sullivan, both of Wapping, was settled this week by a commission consisting of Moses Scott, Aaron Cook and Daniel Wadsworth. The commission decided that Sullivan should have the right to cross Preston's property by paying two dollars a year for the privilege. The contestants were under bonds to abide the decision of the commission and by taking this course they have saved themselves the burden of an expensive law suit.

The new arrangement of the timetable on the New York & N. E. left two morning trains to Hartford, one leaving Manchester at 7.45 and the other at 9.05. The gap between these two trains greatly inconvenienced residents along the route between Hartford and Vernon. People doing business in the city did not like the idea of getting up for the early train, and the 10 o'clock train would make them too late to their business. The railroad company has, therefore, graciously consented to restore the train leaving Vernon at 7.38 and Manchester at 7.48. The train will be put on next Monday morning.

On Thursday morning, as the double team owned by Joseph Woodbridge of Manchester, was standing near the South Manchester track, one of the horses became frightened by the cars and together they started to run down the South Manchester rail-road track. They ran until they came to the cattle guard near the first crossing, when both fell turning over the cart, to which they were hitched. They were injured to some extent but not badly. The driver Robert Watt was thrown from the cart, soon after the horses started, and one wheel passed over his neck and chest. He was carried to the depot, where Dr. Whiton examined him and found that no bones were broken but that he was injured internally, to what extent he could not say.

Decorations day was observed in Wapping with more than usual interest. The graves of the fallen in both cemeteries were profusely decorated with flowers and the new made grave of Mr. Asaeh Green, a soldier of the war of 1812 who died May 20th at the advanced age of 90, was not forgotten by the veterans of the late war. The Grainger drum corps furnished music for the procession, and a stirring, able address was made by the Rev. B. E. Warner, rector of the Episcopal church, South Manchester. A collation was given to the veterans and their families, after which many went to join the celebration of Drake Post, G. A. R., South Manchester.

BOCLAND.—Walter W. Cowles paid a visit last week to the noted stock farm of Richard Goodman, Esq., of Lutter, Mass.—The change in the time table of the N. Y. & N. E. road is not much of an improvement over the old one.—Last Friday evening about thirty-five of the friends and neighbors of Walter W. Cowles made him a surprise visit, it being the third anniversary of his marriage. They brought with them the South Manchester string band and plenty of refreshments. Dancing was kept up until the " wee sma' hours" of the morning. An excellent speech was made by Dr. G. W. Jacques, and all went home hoping that Mr. Cowles and his estimable wife might live to see twenty times the third anniversary.

BURNSIDE.

Memorial Sunday was observed in the Methodist Episcopal Church, the pastor preaching an appropriate sermon from Mark 14:6. Several veteran soldiers were present in company with the usual congregation. Bouquets of flowers and good singing added to the pleasantness of the occasion.

Decorations Day was more than usually interesting. The East Hartford Association together with a number of members of Drake Post made a large representation of army boys. Music was furnished by Colt's band. The services at the soldiers' monument were very excellent and impressive. Rev. Mr. Pope, of North Manchester was the orator. A grand collation was served in Elm hall at the conclusion.

A Mrs. Howard, from Collins depot, came to this place a few days ago, having recently lost a child by diphtheria; soon after coming she was herself attacked by the disease, in its most malignant form, and died after most intense suffering. During the illness she gave birth to a child. The intense dread of the disease, kept every one away from the house, leaving the nearest relatives. She was buried on Tuesday afternoon privately.

Owing to an increased attendance, four dozen new vestings were placed in the Methodist vestry last week. The time for long vacation is near at hand. The teachers good and faithful "deserve" it. Miss Alice Riley, Miss Mary Little and Miss Julia Avery, have the love of all the children. They will undoubtedly be employed again at the opening of a new term.

A new road is being made, to take the place of the old road, which gives too much dust to the East Hartford Paper Manufacturing Co. The general health of the town is good. A few still feel chills and fever, but every body says they are not so bad as a year or two ago.

There will be a strawberry festival at the Methodist Church, Thursday evening.

WINDSOR.

Decorations day was observed in a very appropriate manner. The exercises were first held at Poquonock cemetery, after which the procession returned to the town hall, where a very beautiful collation awaited. The procession then re-formed and marched to this cemetery. The exercises consisted of opening prayer, by Rev. D. Nash, music by the M. E. choir, Windsor band and Poquonock drum corps, presided by Commodore T. T. Tappan, oration by Major McManners, of Hartford, benediction by Rev. R. H. Tuttle.

Wednesday was quite an eventful day here. The W. H. S. Literary society was held in the afternoon and the exercises were very interesting. The Ladies Aid of the M. E. church had quite a full attendance at their society in the afternoon, and realized quite an amount from a tea-meeting held in the evening.

People were somewhat started by a furious runaway about 6 p. m. A span of horses attached to a wagon containing horse-hold furniture standing in front of the store on Broad street became startled and ran down Main street about a quarter of a mile, turned into the road leading to the woods taking a circuit of about a mile and a half around to the depot, where they ran into a post and were stopped, having distributed many of the goods by the way side. The loss is not fully estimated but it was evidently quite an unfortunate affair to the owner of the goods and Mr. J. Ransom who had recently purchased one of the horses. The lesson to be learned is, don't leave horses unhitched.

At a recent Town meeting it was voted to build a lock-up. After the experiences of some of the inhabitants with traps on last Sunday it is very evident such a place is needed.

GLASTONBURY.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

These began on Sunday evening, when Dr. Scudder gave a rousing discourse on the subject, which was listened to by a very large audience, from all parts of the town. The doctor's trumpet never "gives an uncertain sound" when the principles of the union or loyalty to the country are to be discussed. It was a most satisfactory effort, receiving as its deserved reward, the high praises of all who heard it. Decorations day itself was one that well deserves to be classed among the most perfect in all the details of the service, that has been observed since the close of the war. The veterans were out in full force and uniform, with music and banners. The program which was very elaborate, was carried out to the letter and neatly on time. The turnout of the citizens was very general, the speaking was excellent, and the poems from two gifted ladies were full of touching tenderness and poetic beauty. The provisions of flowers by the ladies were very abundant, and many of the memorial designs were very unique, appropriate and perfect.

The gems of floral beauty. The collations served at Buckingham and at the chapel of the First Congregational society were ample and timely, and only less satisfactory to the eye than to the natural appetite of all who partake of them. It may be said of the day in general, and all that pertained to the observance of it, that there has never been a more satisfactory or appropriate one; too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the ladies and gentlemen who had charge of the refreshments. A special vote of thanks is due Mr. Lucius Talcott, John I. Goodrich and Charles Douglas, for that barrel of ice loaned them, which none could be made to refresh the spot more tastefully. The fact is, when Mr. Lucius Talcott puts the finishing touch on ice cream or lemonade, there's no need of another touch; "his just splendid!"

The recent rise in the river has for the second time flooded some of the newly planted corn, and the high water surging upon the waves of its height, has made a pronounced mulling up and mixing up of meadow fence, that will require a good deal of sorting, if not pulling and re-planting to tell what it was.

Mr. D. W. Williams has sold his splendid family horse to Mr. Augustus Cowles of this place.

Mr. J. B. Williams accompanied by S. G. W. Rankin, and J. Sprague, came to this place, for the purchase of two very beautiful horses, one from Brighton, Mass., last Monday. One of them is to be used as a saddle horse by a son of Mr. Williams, who is in Amherst college, where physician has ordered horseback exercise as a remedy for physical debilities. The possession and graceful movements of such a thing being sought to simulate health and vigor to almost any one within the range of possibilities.

SOUTH GLASTONBURY.—On Friday evening, May 20th, a grand rally and hop was held in Academy Hall. The object of the rally was a beautiful bay gelding owned by Mr. Frank Quimby, which was won by Mr. Thos. Moore (who by the way has quite recently "won" the best of a beautiful damsel, who became his bride). The gentlemen doubly proud of his good fortune, an elevated is he that he has temporarily retired from business to enjoy the sweets of his fairly won trophies. The hop was a very enjoyable affair.

"The wealth and beauty of Cotton Hollow" gathered there and "stripped the light," etc., and felt that "when youth and beauty meet they are unconquered," and it was so.

The music furnished for the occasion was by Gilmore's string quartet, a very "lemon" affair. The silver snare band, which has been in existence for many years, gave a most excellent performance. The choir, which is composed of the children of the Sabbath school, which numbered about seventy-five, which after a little drill and marching formed in a military square in front of the church, where prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Barbour of Bolton Center, being invited by Pastor Goodrich, after which the veterans received the flowers and with the procession and colors marched to the cemetery and strewed the following graves: Albert Harris, George Andrews, Henry Spencer, Dwight Barrows, Augustus Fox, Dexter Clark, Lucius Talcott, Edwin Hunt, Wm. Homeraine, Edwin Rose, Charles Clark, Sylvester Pratt, Charles Ingraham, Charles Halsey, Clinton Fox, who served in the war of the Rebellion, also Collins Malne, Luther Talcott, Nathan Ingraham, soldiers of the war of 1812. The exercises at the cemetery over, all repaired to the church, where addresses were made by Revs. Goodrich and Barbour, which were of interesting interest. Good singing was rendered by the choir. At the close of the service, Mr. S. M. Malne made a few remarks, which were very timely and of great benefit to the church and congregation. A vote of thanks, in the vestry room adjoining, the kind ladies of the place had prepared a little lunch of cake, cheese, hot coffee, etc., which all present partook of, and dispersed in good spirits and in this way has the Decoration day of 1892 passed with us at this place.

Mr. C. Barrows, who is at work in Bolton, is spending a few days with his family and friends here.

Cruelty to Animals.

It is not full time for a protest to be made against the practice by farmers and others of transporting calves to market in the merciless manner it is done at present. The usual mode is to tie their legs firmly together and dump them into a small business or box wagon of some kind, or into a horse-drawn carriage, and carry them without change of position for hours, and over a rough road for miles, and subject them to cold, rain or sun. Occasionally we see a farmer or marksman thoughtful and merciful enough to provide a rack, which can be constructed with very little expense and pains taking, and in which the creatures can be carried without suffering; but this mode is the exception and not the rule. Now, what is the use of this act of cruelty? It affords a person an opportunity to "show his teeth" and he responds that he hasn't time to do otherwise. How much would it cost to make a rack for the purpose? Probably from fifty cents to a dollar. How much time? Oh, from half an hour to an hour, and the rack would be made for ever. "But suppose you take the old horses and stuffy animal sources, and then take such remains of time as you find going to waste every week in the year. You will find how much would it cost you? Not much, but what is the use in being so sensitive and particular?" says my sensible friend. "The calves are going to be slaughtered. If I was going to raise them I would not think of treating them so." Why? "Because such treatment might injure them." Then you overlook the suffering of the creature only. You don't take into account the fact that the creature are just as capable of suffering as you—that they have souls as well as you, that they have a respect, even though they are going to be slaughtered, that they are God's handiwork; as well as you; that they have a much more sensitive nervous system than you. If they are to die that you may live, what warrant have you for needlessly torturing them?

Can you spare a little refuse barrel and just a little time to save these animals from an unnecessary suffering? Haven't you humanity, kindness or sensibility enough to induce you to do this? "Oh, give us a rest," says my friend. "All that is preaching and sentimentalism." And off my friend he takes himself in a perturbed mood, and seeks satisfaction in talking to his neighbors about my silly weakness and foolish sentimentality. But I ought to have said to him that there is a certain law against all sets of abuse and cruelty towards animals, and unless he revokes and improves his treatment of them, the law will be after him. They will stir up his consciences if nothing else will do it. And perhaps this is the trumpet sound to the world. Our prosecuting officers will do well to look for transgressors in this direction, and it need be make an example of some of the ANIMALS.

A FRIEND TO THE ANIMALS.

Strawberries at Bissell's. Low Prices at Bissell's. Cabbage! Cabbage! for sale at Bissell's. Smokers should examine Bissell's new stock of pipes and cigar holders. Happy is he who wears the "Happy Hours" low shoe. For sale at R. P. Bissell's. Price $2.65. Bissell sells that new yeast "Ager's Superior." It is superior. Try it. Ager's Superior Dry Hop Yeast is the quickest to rise of any in the market. Try it. R. P. Bissell sells it. "Parlor Pride," liquid stove blacking. "No dust! No hard work! No rust! L. S. Emmons. "Daisy" Lawn mowers; best in the market, $9.50. L. S. Emmons.

BURIES.

In Rockville, May 27, by Rev. N. Scudder, Geo. B. Rowley, aged 28, son of Geo. B. Rowley, and Maria M. Seeger, aged 24, daughter of Mr. Seeger, of Bolton. In Rockville, May 28, by Rev. N. Scudder, Adam Edickson and Mary Walker. In North Manchester, May 29, by Rev. H. H. Martin, William J. Chambers and Jane Hershorn, both of Rockville. In North Manchester, May 27, by Rev. H. H. Martin, Frank C. Holbrook of Lebanon, and Mrs. Geo. Foster of Manchester. In Burdette, May 4, by Rev. A. W. Klapsy, Arthur Manning of East Glastonbury, and Carrie M. Hills of East Hartford. In Thompsonville, May 28, by Rev. J. Odham, Wm. Baker of Thompsonville, and Deena Whaley of Amley Centre, N. Y. In South Manchester, May 28, by Rev. E. B. Cheney, Henry Tryster and Margaret J. Russell. In South Manchester, May 27, by Rev. E. B. Cheney, William Hearn and Eliza A. Dew.

DIES.

In South Manchester, May 25, a son to George and Hannah L. Day. In Rockville, May 26, Mabel Child, daughter of W. C. and Hattie Conroy White, aged 5 years and 6 months. In Edgemoor, May 27, Florine E. McCray, aged 4 years. In Rockville, May 27, Frederick Galtner, aged 47 years. In Rockville, May 30, Albert Darr, aged 20 years. In Somers, May 31, Mary L. Pease, aged 27 years. In Wallingford, May 31, James Dabry, formerly of this place.

WATKINS BROS., FURNISHING UNDERTAKERS, No. Manchester.

B. C. APEL, FURNISHING UNDERTAKER, 42-44 out of town, ordered by telephone or telegram promptly attended to.

W. S. GOSLEE, LAW OFFICE, Town Record Building, Glastonbury, Conn.

S. H. BURGESS, Dentist, NORTH MANCHESTER, - - - Conn. Office at his residence, near R. R. Depot. Careful attention given to the saving of the natural teeth. Artificial teeth inserted the same day the teeth are extracted. Pure Gas or Ether used when desired.

First-Class Dental Operations Performed at the office of G. M. GRISWOLD, North Manchester. His new method of filling is giving entire satisfaction to his numerous patrons.

PASSAGE TICKETS - - - AT - - - LOWEST RATES! By the White Star, Anchor, Indian, National and Globe Lines. Drafts on England, Ireland and Scotland, at lowest rates.

W. EMMONS, WITH G. S. PARBURT, North Manchester. BARGAIN COLUMN. Advertisements of forty words or less inserted in this column for twenty-five cents per week, payable invariably in advance.

TO RENT! One and one-half story dwelling in North Manchester. Has seven rooms and is near depot, post-office, churches and schools. Inquire of E. O. HILLIARD, H. H. WHITE.

ICEY! For sale, 50 or 60 Tons of Prime Ice. Stored in ice house at west landing house, North Manchester. W. H. CHENEY.

S. C. BRADLEY, Has on hand a Fresh Stock of LIME and CEMENT. Also a full line of the BOWLER and STONERIDGE FERTILIZERS. For all crops. There is Nothing like Them!

R. P. BISSELL.

New Goods at the One Price Store.

COME AND SEE US!

We have just received a large assortment of

LADIES' STRAW HATS, MISSES' STRAW HATS, CHILDREN'S STRAW HATS.

SUN UMBRELLAS AND PARASOLS.

A Complete Stock of Gen't Furnishing Goods, Fancy Shirts, AND TIES.

OUR SALE OF BOOTS AND SHOES

Increases every day.

We buy the Best Goods and Guarantee Satisfaction. TRY THEM AND BE CONVINCED.

GROCERIES & PROVISIONS Meats at Wholesale Prices.

FLOUR, FEED and BALED HAY.

FRUIT AND CONFECTIONERY.

At the ONE PRICE STORE.

R. P. BISSELL.

FURNITURE! Examine Goods!

I HAVE ON HAND Carpets, Oil Cloths, Shades, Fixtures, Feathers, Comfortables, Clocks, Mirrors and Brackets. PARLOR, CHAMBER, DINING ROOM and KITCHEN FURNITURE. Latest Designs at Bottom Prices.

Furniture Repairing and Upholstering a Specialty.

UNDERTAKING! I keep a complete assortment of Funeral Supplies. Hearse and Embalming FREE. Carriages furnished when desired.

B. C. APEL, North Manchester. LADIES!

Why waste your strength and patience trying to shine a stove with dried up blacking and a worn out brush, when a gentle friction with a cloth saturated with

"PARLOR PRIDE," STOVE ENAMEL, - - - Will do the work. No Hard Work. No Dust. No Rust.

L. S. EMMONS, Agent for the Daisy Lawn Mower.

The easiest and lightest running machine in the market.

North Manchester, April, 1892.

SATURDAY, JUNE 3, 1892.

SOUTH MANCHESTER.

There will be no Cheney's lower hall Sun. A job lot of ladies' Sun per pair at Hale, Day & Co.

Just received ladies latest styles and news W. H. Cheney & Co.

There will be no recitation "Hazel Kicks" this evening, the stage occupied over.

New lines of children's low prices. W. H. Cheney.

Subscribers who fall their paper regularly, notify the publishers of their desire to correct any mistakes.

Sheet paper in all colors per dozen. W. H. Cheney.

Mrs. Rev. J. C. Gowen has been seriously ill at the parents in Holliston, Mass. last fortnight, is improving to be able to return to work.

The most popular work in Cheney's is Marriage Licenses. This week to Frank C. Lebonam and Orra L. P. Cheney, and to John M. Elizabeth Johnson, both of Chelsea.

Children's carriages at W. H. Cheney & Co.

Mr. Rusk Cheney has been seriously ill during the last of his writing he is recovering. His recovery, though slow, is now expected.

A large assortment of just received at Hale, Day & Co.

Manchester P. O. advertised letters for W. June 3rd, 1892, Mrs. D. Michael Barry, Robert Bridget Cummings, L. C. Emma Hume, Miss Carol Miss Emma Johnson, W. gent, R. T. No. 9584, S. Sheehan, Patrick Sullivan, Corner.

W. H. CHENEY For sale, 200 pounds of Green at the lowest rate. H. R. Hale.

If you want a good get a piano or organ of $100. 100 Asylum street. H.

An interesting fact in world memorial day is related resident who says the wound inflicted during the rebellion was received by a soldier named Binglee, who in Manchester and took to join his regiment under oak tree which stands with throw of the soldiers' front.

The wound was not received but came with the ball known marksman who fired train of soldiers on its front.

Dry chestnut wood, at reduced to $5.00 per solid. H. Cheney & Co.

Although it has something never appreciate a good never, that assertion seems thrown by the great rush for the performance of "H" by the Madison Square T. pany at Cheney's hall this evening. The box office was open o'clock Tuesday evening, an hour, would be pure been waiting about the door while the astonished it could hardly keep their doors. There is now no crowd house, although are still obtainable. The capacity of the hall will be the utmost by the interior chairs and extra seats.

Buy C. O. C. shirts, guaranteed. W. H. Cheney's ORIGINAL—has in store a lad who, der age of nine years, displays remarkable capacity for his name is John Doy father, Patrick Doyle, residing at No. 3, North fard. The lad came to Chelsea to live about three H. seems to have a passing ing other people's horses, has not yet learned to be driver he once in a while trouble. He first brought to prominent notice in May 16th, when he whilst belonging to Addison J. was standing in front of Skinner's store. The horse and turned the buggy boys and tramped unpaired. day he took Charles M. and enjoyed a ride free of an investigation of his that he has become quite horse thief in Hartford. It to have taken four teams sence of their owners. It Hartford officers were as him and he was sent here their pursuit. The boy is, for his age, and his short him appear almost barely probably be sent to school.

