Board Accepts School Budget

Education Funds Comprise Half of Total Town Expenditures

The Board of Directors last night unanimously accepted and approved Manchester's 1951-52 education budget to the amount of $1,381,305. The remainder of General Manager George H. Waddell's recommended $3,120,425 budget for the coming year will be considered at another special session next Tuesday at 8 p. m.

The Board of Education appropriation is the largest item of the budget, comprising about half of the total expenditure. Last night's approval will permit the immediate start of maintenance work in local schools to prepare them for re-opening in September.

The directors accepted the budget at the suggestion of Director Ray S. Warren after a one-hour question period. Representing the Board of Education were Chairman Charles S. House, Superintendent of Schools Arthur H. Illing, Secretary William E. Buckley and Business Manager Douglas E. Pierce.

House explained that maintenance work cannot be started until the school budget, which included funds for the work, is approved. Deadline for approval of the buget is August 10, and that does not provide enough time for the needed repairs to be finished by the September opening date.

For that reason the work in the past has been postponed to the end of the fiscal year when schools close, but by that time the money ear-marked for maintenance had been used up in required services, such as providing transportation, and the repair work has suffered, it was said.

Directors Katherine Bourn and Melvin B. Hathaway objected to a $10,000 contingency item in the school budget, stating that the directors should control any additional funds until they are needed.

House and Waddell explained that the sum is for unforeen expenditures, such as hiring additional teachers, and that if there were no contingency fund a public hearing would have to be held to provide for any extra spending during the year. This process might take two or three weeks, and the delay would be a handicap in hiring of teachers. House assured that money will not be spent unless needed.

The directors agreed that the remainder of the budget will be discussed through the general manager, and that it won't be necessary to call in various department heads. Budgets already considered include highway, police, park, recreation and building inspector.

'Top Communist' Held

Marshall Bids Congress Act On Aid Bill

Washington, July 27—(AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall said today he is "shocked" at the defensive let-down of the American people since the Korean truce negotiations.

In a plea to Senators, Marshall asked that Congress approve the full $6,300,000,000 the administration asks for foreign arms aid.

He said that if it came to a choice it would be better to cut funds for the United States' own armed services rather than trim the money intended to strengthen western European forces.

The program will provide "only the essential military requirements" in 1952 for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's armies, Marshall said, and stressed that the "major purpose" is to prevent another war, not just to defend Europe in case of war.

Best Deterrent

"The best deterrent to war is being prepared," he said.

Marshall testified before the Senate Foreign Relations committee whose members learned with some dismay yesterday that the $8,500,000,000 asked now for foreign military and economic aid is only the first part of a three-year program to cost about $25,000,000,000.

The $8,500,000,000 includes $6,300,000,000 for arms aid and $2,200,000,000 for economic assistance.

Secretary of State Acheson told the Senators yesterday of the three-year program. He said it is necessary to counter Soviet Rus-

Top U. S. Reds Demand Cut in Bail, Freedom

San Francisco, July 27—(AP)—Top California Communists, angry over surprise arrests and a government demand for $75,000 bail each, go into federal court today with demands for freedom on smaller bonds.

Twelve California Communists, including the pinch-hit national party leader, William Schneiderman, 46, were jailed yesterday. All were charged with conspiracy to publish material advocating overthrow of the government.

Schneiderman was arrested in New York and held in lieu of $100,000 bail. He took over the top party spot after the conviction of 11 Communist leaders in New York last year.

Four here and four more in Los Angeles were told to put up $75,000 each, or go to jail. They went to jail, angrily protesting "No one but an underworld kingpin" could post any such amount.

Two Women Free

Two San Francisco women were freed on $2,500 bond each and a third on $7,500.

Today's court fight will center about those bonds also. The government wants them raised. U. S. Attorney Chauncey Tramutolo contended:

"Without high bail there is a great danger they will become fugitives."

It was that argument that caused U. S. commissioner here and

Gunmen in Police Uniform Rob Bank

Somerville, Mass., July 27—(AP)—Two gunmen in police uniforms, with badges, held up the Davis Square branch of the Somerville National Bank today and escaped with $33,000.17.

The loot was first announced as $12,000 but the bank reported the new figure after a check.

The robbers escaped in a car driven by a third man.

The men wore masks beneath their police caps and one carried a machine gun. The other was armed with a pistol, believed to be a .45 caliber.

They were dressed just like Somerville policemen with regulation caps, white shirts, black four in hand ties and police trousers. The disguise was complete even to badges on the left pocket of the shirt.

Furthering the deception was their car, a black Buick such as Somerville detectives use. It carried plates registered to a Somer-

Truman Asks Aid to Arabs

President Declares Help To Refugees Will Ease Middle East Situation

Washington, July 27—(AP)—President Truman today asked Congress to vote immediately $5,000,000 in stop-gap funds to prevent starvation of Arab refugees from Palestine. Mr. Truman said this would "avoid a deterioration in the present critical situation in the Near East."

The President asked for $2,000,000 for August and $3,000,000 for September. The relief to Arab refugees displaced from Palestine has been carried on for the past year through contributions from UN countries, including $25,450,000 from the United States.

The president made his appeal in letters to Chairman McKellar (D., Tenn.) and Cannon (D., Mo.), of the Senate and House Appropriations committees respectively.

Washington, July 27—(AP)—The government today ordered another five per cent cut in steel for passenger car production, effective on October 1.

Auto output in the October-through-December quarter will be cut to 40 per cent of the level of the six months preceding the Korean invasion. This will mean a production of slightly over 1,100,000 cars.

If the auto makers need it, they'll be permitted to use some foreign steel, too, so that they can make the 1,100,000 quota. De-

Conferees For Curbs Until June

Washington, July 27—(AP)—Senate-House Conferees voted tentatively early today to permit price rollbacks on non-farm commodities to levels which prevailed just before the Korean war— provided certain cost increases are taken into account.

The tentative decision came near the end of an all-night session of the conference committee, which agreed to extend economic controls legislation through next June.

Extends Emergency Curbs

The extension measure covers wage, price, rent and other emergency curbs.

Senator Maybank, (D-SC) the Joint Committee chairman, told reporters the group will meet again later today to make a final decision regarding the non-farm rollback provision. He said a few other provisions also will come up for a final vote at that time.

Those matters include what to do about a proposal to scrap the ban voted on livestock slaughter quotas by both the Senate and the House.

Bars New Beef Cutback

The legislation would keep intact the 10 per cent beef price rollback already in effect, but would bar additional price cutbacks for that commodity. The Office of Price administration planned two more reductions, each 5% per cent.

The conferees agreed that prices for other farm commodities could be rolled back to 90 per cent of the level of last May 19 or to the parity level, whichever was

List Provisions Of Controls Bill

Washington, July 27 — (AP) — Here, briefly, are the major provisions in the economic control bill as Senate-House conferees neared the end of work on the compromise measure:

Taft Disputes Truman On Military Reprisals

Washington, July 27—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) disputed today President Truman's contention that no military man had been disciplined for testifying before Congressional committees.

Mr. Truman told a news conference yesterday that if he had intended disciplining military officials he wouldn't have let them testify in the first place.

He made these remarks in connection with a denial that any more reprisals had been considered against Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who remains a five-star general technically on active duty despite his removal as Pacific commander.

Cline-Denfeld Case

Noting that Adm. Louis E. Denfeld had been fired as Chief of Naval Operations after testimony in the Navy-Air Force feud, Taft told a reporter:

"The President's attitude indicates the need for Congress having the right to obtain frank opinions from military officers. Today the vast military program threatens the solvency of the country. Congress must have the facts to determine whether all of it is necessary.

"Our foreign and military policies have been determined too long in secret."

During a House inquiry into interservice rivalry in late 1949, Denfeld had testified that the

MacArthur Maps Six Major Talks

New York, July 27 —(AP)— Gen. Douglas MacArthur is mapping plans for a series of major speeches on foreign and domestic issues, an authoritative source said today.

MacArthur returned last night from a railroad tour of southern and western New England.

He addressed a joint session of the Massachusetts House and Senate in Boston on Wednesday night.

The informant, who declined use of his name, said MacArthur has a tentative schedule of six speeches, to be delivered in widely separated points in the United States.

Due in Ohio

His next appearances, the source said, probably will be in Ohio and in Miami Beach. All six will be delivered before the end of 1951, he said.

MacArthur's official spokesman,

Somebody Rests in Sam's Grave—But It Isn't Sam

New Orleans, July 27—(AP)—Legally dead and "buried" for two years, Tony Jones set off a weird Louisiana swampland murder mystery when found alive in a Texas prison.

Authorities were baffled today by the finding of the 40-year-old Jones in Denver, Colo.

As far as Louisiana officers were concerned Jones had been in his grave since a knife-slaying two years ago.

They were equally puzzled as to the identity of the body resting in Sam Jones' grave.

These are the persons whom police plan to question:

1. Jones, known also as John C. Harper in Denver where he has spent most of his time since he was "murdered." He has been arrested for investigation of murder and will be questioned on his arrival today from Denver. He was found in Denver Wednesday night.

2. Accused of Murder

2. Donald Easterwood, a 26-year-old GI student welder and father of four children, who was tried and acquitted on charges of murdering Jones. Easterwood was arrested last night for investigation of murder.

O'Keefe was ejected for causing a disturbance at the telecast, which featured Cook County Sheriff John Babb and State's Attorney John Boyle on "the reckless spending of taxpayers' money." Army Claims Reds In Troops Buildup

Washington, July 27 — (AP)— The Army claimed today the Allies had the Communists in Korea "hanging on the ropes" last month but held off trying to deal a knockout punch in order to show "good faith" in peace talks.

At the same time, the Army officially accused the enemy of carrying out a "tremendous buildup" of troops, supplies, and weapons at the front since the original peace proposal was made June 23.

In contrast, the Army said, one United Nations combat unit was pulled out of the battle area and sent to Japan. The unit was not identified.

The Army's report was given in an unusual on-the-record briefing for newsmen at the Pentagon. Originally briefings of this nature are held to give reporters background information only but this time the Army spokesman read a statement for publication.

Late in May, it said, the Allies had just beaten off a major Chinese Communist drive in the "most disastrous defeat" since the Chinese entered the war last November.

Reds In Confusion

The Chinese were driven back in confusion," the Army said, with losses of more than 100,000 men.

The Allies were in a good position to follow through, the statement continued, but held up the drive after agreeing to enter into peace talks.

This is what the spokesman said:

"On May 16 the Chinese Communists launched a major offensive on the east central front and drove the South Korean forces back about 20 miles. The threat to the Tenth Corps was contained

Hunt 26 on Boat Off West Coast

Long Beach, Calif., July 27—(AP) —The Coast Guard began a search early today for a 40-foot fishing boat reported missing with 26 persons aboard.

The boat, the Bolo, owned by Dan Jeffries of Long Beach, was scheduled to return last night after an all-day fishing trip. At midnight the Coast Guard dispatched a cutter to search for the vessel.

Four hours later the cutter reported it found no sign of the Bolo in a preliminary swing around Santa Barbara island, 48 miles southwest of here. The Bolo, captained by Dave Bennett, took a party on an albacore fishing trip near the island yesterday morning. The boat has a radio receiver but no transmitter, Jeffries said.

A Coast Guard plane was readied to take off at dawn from San Diego to aid in the search.

Hold Teen-Ager In Fire Deaths

San Francisco, July 27—(AP)—A teen-ager who pleased for a smoke said today he accidentally started a conflagration that killed eight persons.

He was charged with manslaughter.

Chief Homicide Inspector Frank Ahern reported Kenneth Skinner, 17, related:

He delivered newspapers in the four-story building at dawn Sunday. Standing near drapes in the lobby, he ignited his cigaret lighter for a smoke.

"There was a flash and the whole thing went poof."

Small Wildcat Walkout Menaces Output at Ford

Detroit, July 27—(AP)—The Ford Motor Company said today its entire national operations were threatened by a wildcat strike at a small but vital Michigan parts plant.

Ford, acting as labor unrest idled 32,500 workers elsewhere in the auto industry, appealed for help directly to CIO United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther.

There was no immediate reply from the union chief.

Blames Minority

Ford's parts plant at Monroe, Mich., employing about 2,000 men, was closed yesterday by a strike over a worker's disciplinary layoff. Management said an "irresponsible minority of workers" was to blame.

Across the nation Ford employs approximately 110,000 production workers.

A wildcat strike at Chrysler's Dodge main plant killed 22,500 men. Another 10,000 remained idle at Hudson in the month-old "strike or lockout" dispute.

At both, the union has charged illegal "speed-up." Managements have denied it.

Reuther's intervention was ask-

UN to Hold For Present War Front

U. N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, July 27—(AP)—The Allies told the Communists today where they want to draw the cease-fire line in Korea—and why.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, Chief United Nations delegate, explained the Allied position in detail as negotiators got down to the meat of armistice talks in their 11th meeting at Kaesong.

Admiral Joy talked 52 minutes.

He gave the Reds two marked military maps to picture his position.

The five Communist generals made no comment. Instead they asked for, and got, an adjournment until 10 a. m. Saturday (7 p. m. EST Friday).

Await Red Answer

North Korean Gen. Nam Il, spokesman for the Red delegation, presumably will present the Communist reply at that time.

The general understanding is the United Nations is pressing for a demilitarized zone roughly along the present battle line. The Communists want it along the 38th parallel.

Starting from a point 35 miles north of the 38th parallel on the east coast, the battle lines run roughly 15 to 20 miles north of 38 for 75 miles to Chorwon. Then they drop sharply south along the Imjin River, crossing the Parallel at a point east of the Kaesong armistice site.

Joy's statement, opening actual negotiations for an armistice, took most of Friday's 72 minute session.

The first 18 minutes were de-

Mrs. Czaplicki, mother of three children, was arrested July 18 in connection with the death of John Borzarski, 55, of New Britain whose battered body was hauled out of the Connecticut river at Middletown on July 14. Conferees Until June For Curbs higher, Committee officials said, however, that in practice the farm rollback section could affect only a few commodities, such as cotton, wool, veal and lamb.

In its tentative form, the compromise exclusion bill fell far short of the kind of controls legislation President Truman has requested. The separate bills passed earlier by the Senate and House were minus most of the additional controls authority which President sought.

Liberalized Credit

The conferees also approved more liberal consumer credit controls than the Federal Reserve board now has in effect, covering the installment purchase of new and used automobiles and such household items as radios and television sets.

The administration won at least one victory when the conferees agreed to permit rent rollbacks to levels which prevailed just before the Korean war, in newly designated critical defense areas.

In both the Senate and House bill, was a provision authorizing rent increases of up to 20 per cent above the June, 1947 levels in areas not controlled. Committee officials estimated that the increases in most bases would amount to only five to seven per cent because boosts have been granted since 1947 for many dwellings.

Deadline Near

The compromise bill produced by the Senate-House conference committee must go back to both Chambers for final votes before going to Mr. Truman to be signed into law.

Much consumer items as refrigerators, washing machines and, electrical appliances will get about 65 per cent of their pre-Korea tonnage. They get 70 per cent now.

Fleischmann said there's no reason for the consumer to worry. He said in a statement:

"Even with our defense production program we will generally maintain a level of civilian production approximately equal to that of 1948—which certainly wasn't a year of hardship."

Nevertheless the planned cuts in automobile and consuming goods came as a surprise because Fleischmann and other defense leaders within the last month had assured civilian manufacturers that no further curtailments were planned this year.

At 1,100,000 cars, auto output will be about 100,000 less than in the present quarter and 400,000 under the output of the April-June quarter.

Decision Due On Steel Mill

the concern has the proposal "under advisement" and has conferred with officials of the Bethlehem Steel Development Corp., and others.

He said he "knows nothing about" a new story which quoted John E. Kelly, consulting engineer to the Steel Development Corp., as saying three new sites are under consideration.

In fact Eberstadt would not discuss details.

Senator Benton (D., Conn.), announced last week that he had conferred with Eberstadt about the proposed $250,000,000 mill.

The Barium Steel Corp. is a holding and management company with 15 subsidiaries. Its largest plant is the Central Iron and Steel Co. in Harrisburg, Pa., which turns out steel plates.

Bar Association Elects Lessner

George C. Lessner was elected president of the Manchester Bar association at the annual summer meeting of the association held at the Coventry lake cottage of Arnold W. Garrity on Wednesday, July 25. Mr. Lessner has been actively engaged as a practicing attorney in Manchester since 1930 and is a former judge of the Town Court of Manchester. He is a partner in the law firm of Garrity and Rottner. Mr. Lessner succeeds Harold W. Garity as president.

Other officers elected were: Raymond A. Johnson, vice president; Charles S. House, treasurer, and Jay E. Rubinow, secretary.

All of the members enjoyed a full day of boating, swimming, baseball and other forms of recreation. Raymond A. Johnson conducted a brief symposium on the matter of fees. Dinner was served by Garden Grove caterers.

Army Charges Reds In Troops Buildup

by the Second Division and the Third U. S. moved from reserve.

"By May 23 the forces of the Communist effort was broken and the Eighth Army moved immediately into counter offensive. The weight of this counteroffensive was so effective that the Chinese Communists were driven back in confusion, losing over 100,000 men and suffering 10,000 prisoners. This was for the Chinese their most disastrous defeat since they entered the war last November.

Acted In Good Faith

"Acting in good faith the U N. (after June 23) accepted the proposal to explore the possibility of peace and halted the advance.

"It is evidence of good faith by the U. N. that further tactical exploitation of U. N. forces was halted at the very moment when the U. N. forces were in the position to achieve an even greater success. They (the Communists) were hanging on the ropes."

At that time, the spokesman, continued, the area known as the Iron Triangle was under U. N. control, south forces were going up the east coast and "great quantities" of enemy material had been captured. The enemy's manpower losses "were staggering."

He added:

"The picture since then has been one of constant and continuous buildup behind their screening forces. There has been continuous and aggressive action all along the line. The enemy has moved south through Korea a far greater quantity of supplies than he needs to support forces during the negotiations.

Fresh Red Troops

"Fresh Chinese Communist units and thousands of individual replacements have moved in. On the eastern central flank a greater volume of fire has been received and there have been heavy probing attacks.

"All evidence points to a tremendous buildup of North Korean forces. A new North Korean Army two to three times the size of that which attacked in June, 1950 has been equipped and trained by the Communists and it's now available.

"There have been further observation of elements moving south toward the battle lines, increasing numbers of artillery positions have been located. There are troops and equipment in the Pyongyang area.

"Artillery is nearer to our front than ever before.

"In brief, the enemy has utilized the time since the Malik proposal to build his logistic support and to move supplies and weapons south.

"It is hoped that peace talks are not an indication of bad faith in the U. N. on the part of Malik.

Malik is Soviet Ambassador Jacob Malik who made the Soviet suggestion for Korean peace talks.

New 5 P.C. Slash In Auto Steel

fense Production Administrator Manly Fleischmann said.

The announcement came as DPA issued steel, copper and aluminum allocations for the final quarter of the year. Except for consumer goods, production levels will be about the same as in this quarter, it was stated.

Much consumer items as refrigerators, washing machines and, electrical appliances will get about 65 per cent of their pre-Korea tonnage. They get 70 per cent now.

Fleischmann said there's no reason for the consumer to worry. He said in a statement:

Truman Checking Fees For Boyle

Washington, July 27—(AP)—President Truman says he is looking into charges that William M. Boyle, Jr., received $8,000 in legal fees from a firm which also received $565,000 in government loans.

Boyle, close friend of the President and chairman of the democratic National committee, has declared he had nothing to do with the loans granted by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) to the American Lithofold Corp., a printing firm.

Mr. Truman told a news conference yesterday all he knows about the matter is what he read in the papers. He doesn't believe a thing until he knows it himself, he added.

The President said he is looking into the matter, first brought to light by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch on Wednesday. The newspaper said Boyle received $8,000 from American Lithofold in monthly installments shortly after RFC granted it a loan in late 1949.

Attorney Charles N. Crockett, deputy judge of the criminal court, is representing John R. Bennett, 25, of Storrs, former employee of a local restaurant, who is under arrest in Hartford after allegedly forcing his former wife at gunpoint to drive with him to Maryland, where he wanted to remarry her.

Bennett is currently charged with carrying a concealed weapon and breach of the peace. Authorities are investigating the case further to determine whether to file rape and kidnaping charges before Bennett appears at a hearing Aug. 13.

The ex-wife, Mrs. Betty Bennett, told police the accused picked her up in Hartford, early Tuesday, offered to drive her to work and ended in Maryland. Instead, she talked him into driving back to Connecticut, she said, and he was arrested by state police.

voted to procedural matters. The two delegations reached agreement in principle on just how to tackle the four major points of their truce talks, a U.N. announcement said, and named teams of officers to work out the details.

Then Admiral Joy leaned his elbows on the green topped conference table and began reading a prepared statement on the Allied position. It was officially described as a "sparsely phrased and logically crystalized" position. It was officially described as a "sparsely phrased and logical presentation."

Opening a military viewpoint, Joy expressed a willing "to discuss the military aspects of the Korean translation being read by a U.N. interpreter.

After he had spoken for nearly half an hour, the American admiral produced a wall map to illustrate "a major point he was making." Nuckols said.

Joy handed the map to Nam, who showed it to the other Communist delegates. A few minutes later Joy produced a larger map and explained another military point on it, and gave that to the North Korean general.

General Nam gave no hint of the Communist reaction.

Although Joy read from a carefully prepared statement, Nuckols said the U.N. delegation had "a great deal" of discretionary power in its armistice talks. He said it didn't know how much leeway the five Chinese and North Korean generals had.

Reds Want 38th Line

The U.N.'s wants to settle on the most defensible battle line possible. This is generally unanswered stood to be approximately along the present line, where Allied troops hold positions on higher hills and peaks than those along the fortified 38th parallel.

Communists made it clear from the start they want the line to be along the parallel, dividing line between North and South Korea.

Establishment of a three-mile Naval neutral zone off the shores of Korea is believed tied to this agenda item.

The Reds brought a newcomer, believed to be a high ranking Naval officer, Friday. Presumably he was an adviser to the Communist delegation, although he did not enter the conference room.

There was no hint as to how long negotiators would be tied up with the second item on the agenda—the military demarcation line and buffer zone for the armistice. But the difference in view was sure to make it a slow process.

Three More Hurdles

They disposed of the first item—adoption of the agenda—Tuesday.

When they finish the second point three more big hurdles remain.

Point three covers cease-fire details, including international supervision on both sides of the line to make sure terms of the armistice are obeyed.

Point four is exchange of prisoners. Nuckols said this item was phrased in general terms and did not preclude the U. N. from working to recover an estimated 75 government, commercial and religious people captured by the Reds at the start of the war.

Point five, calling for recommendations to governments of the warring nations, covers the Red demand for withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea.

stop-gap resolution providing funds where appropriation bills had not been enacted, it made no provision for the Point Four refugee program the President said.

One of the top crucial causes of tension in the Near East is the miserable state of refugees in thousands of Arab refugees from Palestine," the President said. "A major step forward can and must be made when the Arab league went on record in favor of a massive program of resettlement of Palestinian refugees in the Arab states. Grave damage to this program is likely to result if the present aid program ceases before there is a temporary shortage of funds."

Reds Demand Cut In Bail, Freedom

in Los Angeles to demand $75,000 bail each of the other eight.

Tramitolo said a federal grand jury in Los Angeles will be asked next Wednesday to indict all 12.

He originally demanded that those arrested here be denied bail.

"That's unheard of," snapped U. S. Commissioner Francis St. John Fox. "Bail is denied only for murder and treason."

Defense attorneys called the $75,000 figures "vindictive, preposterous."

Cites Costello Case

One of them, Richard Gladstein, called it "prohibitive and tantamount to no bail at all." He pointed out that Frank Costello, New York gambler "who could provide $75,000," was released on $5,000 bond.

Gladstein himself is free on bond pending outcome of his citation for contempt of court when he was an attorney for the 11 top Communists convicted in New York last year.

The moment freed on lesser bail here are:

Bernadette Doyle, local party organizer, $2,500. She polled more than 600,000 votes for state and congressional schools last fall, but was defeated.

Mrs. Loretta Starvus Stack, former California organizational secretary, $2,500.

Mrs. Oleta O'Connor Yates, California state party secretary, $7,500. She posted it in treasury bonds.

The others arrested in San Francisco:

Ernest Otto Fox, 45, waterfront section organizer of the San Francisco county party organization.

Carl Rude Lambert, 34, chairman of the Security Review committee of the party's district 13.

Albert Jason Lima, 43, Richmond, Calif., East Bay Regional party chairman.

Philip Marshall "Slim" Connelly, 47, Los Angeles editor of the People's World.

Dorothy Ray Healy, 36, Connelly's wife and chairman of the Los Angeles County Communist party.

Henry Steinberg, 38, Los Angeles county legislative director.

Miss Rose Chernin, 48, executive secretary of the Los Angeles Committee for Protection of the Foreign Born.

Ellington

The next meeting of Ellington Grange will be held in the Ellington Town Hall on Wednesday, August 8 and is Exchange Officers night. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Preusse as chairman. It was voted that the committee arrange for some sort of a gathering as a picnic or evening social affair.

Judge Carl A. Goehring of Main street has returned after a few days vacation at Fayette, Maine.

Mrs. Charles Hein, Miss Jane Hein and Mrs. Edward Brace will attend the State Convention of the American Legion and Auxiliary in Bridgeport Saturday. Mrs. Hein is the president of the Hatheway-Miller Post American Legion Auxiliary of Ellington.

Mrs. Charles Downs of Pleasure Beach is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Chapman of Maple street.

Ellington Grange met on Wednesday night July 25 in the Ellington town hall with Master Gerard Neighboring and furnished the program which consisted of a quiz and music. The 13th degree was conferred on two candidates from Ellington Grange, by Windsor Grange. This advanced degree is only a program degree as the Grange has only seven degrees, the seventh being the National Grange degree. Guests were present from Farmington and Hartford.

sia's designs and bring about "an era of genuine relaxation of tension."

Marshall was called to give details on military aspects of the program.

In a prepared statement he read to the committee, Marshall listed only lightly on what is to come after this year.

But he said requirements in the two following years "will be at least as large as the amount we are requesting for this year."

Thereafter, the Defense Secretary said, U. S. military equipment assistance "can be reduced."

When the Foreign Relations committee chairman, Senator Connally (D., Tex.), directed aides to invite Armed Services committee members to sit in on the hearings.

However, no armed services members were present when Marshall began testifying.

The Armed Services committee has had indicated they felt they should sit in on the hearings since the program was so largely concerned with military matters.

Marshall faced questioning about the "critical necessity" for such a program as that outlined by Acheson.

Senator H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said he intends to try a move to consolidate the $6,300,000,000 military part of the authorization bill with the regular armed forces appropriations.

This would mean $6,000,000,000 economic aid portion of the measure would be considered under present circumstances—wide open to possible fatal attack in the Senate. Senator Byrd (D-Va) said he will try to strike out all of the economic aid.

Smith said he favors a foreign military aid program "if there is enough to take care of equipping our non-divisional units, but it can be produced" but doesn't believe the U. S. should promise full outlays without guarantees of action abroad.

Senator Dirksen (R-Ill) said Acheson's proposal for about $25,000,000,000 in military funds for three years faces rough going.

retired Major General Courtney Whitney, confirmed the fact that speaking and observation platform tours have been planned for the former Far Eastern commander.

Whitney said, however, that the MacArthur schedule is not yet definitely lined up. He added:

"He has received invitations to speak before practically every state legislature in the country, as well as a great many civic and private organizations. He is going to accept some of them."

MacArthur himself indicated, in his Boston speech, that he had such intentions. He said at one point, "I shall raise my voice as loud and often as I believe it to be in the interest of the American people."

Pleased With Reaction

Whitney said MacArthur was "highly pleased" with the reaction to his speech. The General received hundreds of telegrams and telephone calls immediately after he finished speaking, Whitney said, and others reached him during his tour yesterday.

After he left Boston, MacArthur went by automobile to Waltham, Framingham, Springfield and Chicopee, Mass. En route, he stopped at two Army hospitals to talk with disabled soldiers, many of them wounded in Korea. He made back-platform appearances in a number of Connecticut cities, including Hartford and New Haven, during the two-day trip.

Mrs. MacArthur was beside him during the entire tour.

Whitney told reporters that MacArthur has made "no decision" on the various offers from commercial firms that he has received. Asked about rumors that "feelers" had been extended to MacArthur about the post of baseball commissioner, which recently became vacant, Whitney replied, "Nothing in it."

He added his personal opinion that the General would not accept the office, if approached directly.

Exchange Student Comes to Tolland

New York, July 27.—Hans Doering, a German exchange student en route to the 4-H Club, Tolland, Conn., was among 860 passengers who arrived here Wednesday on the new Holland-America liner Ryndam which completed her maiden voyage docking at Pier 4 in the Hudson river at Hoboken.

Three hundred German teenagers aboard the liner will spend a year with an American "foster" family, attending school and participating in the community's activities under an exchange program arranged by the United States High Commissioner for Germany.

The new "economy" liner, designed to provide low cost transatlantic passage for the average budget, was extended the traditional harbor welcome as she moved up the lower bay. Civic, naval and company officials boarded the 15,000-ton liner Quarantine to welcome the vessel to New York.

In 1849 Walter Hunt, an American, invented the "miracle fastener"—the safety pin—and in 1891 Whitcomb Judson produced the clasp locker, which, improved, became the zipper.

retained but two proposed cuts of 4½ per cent each would be barred.

Prices on other farm commodities could be pushed back to (1)—90 per cent of the level of last May 19 or (2) to the parity level, whichever is higher. Parity is a figure designed to give the farmer a fair return for his products.

Rents

A 20 per cent increase over July 1947, levels would be allowed. However, any increases already made since 1947 would have to be taken into account so that in most cases committee officials estimate the raise could not amount to more than five to seven per cent.

Rent rollbacks to levels just before the Korean war would be permitted in newly designated critical defense areas.

Credit

"Regulation X" restrictions on private home financing would be relaxed in critical defense areas to encourage construction of housing for defense workers and military personnel.

The one-third down payment on new and used automobiles is retained but 18 months, instead of the present 15, would be permitted for paying the balance.

Down payments on household appliances, such as radios, would be reduced from 25 to 15 per cent and the payoff period would be lengthened from 15 to 18 months. The same terms would apply to other household furniture and floor coverings.

Miscellaneous

A small defense plants administration would be created to help small companies get more defense business.

Government authority to make defense loans and grant subsidies on raw materials is continued with restrictions.

Remaining Issues

The biggest is the ban voted by both House and Senate on slaughter quotas. Conference Chairman Maybank (D., S. C.) says he believes the committee will scrap the ban.

A young man once asked Dr. S. Parkes Cadman:

Young man—Can I live a good Christian life in New York on twenty dollars a week?

Dr. Cadman—My boy, that's all you can do.

Wildcat Strike Menaces Ford Co.

ed by Ford in a telegram warning TA that all its plants in the country might have to close.

The Monroe factory, a key supplier, where frames and coil springs and performs plating operations. Other big Ford plants are described as dependent upon it.

Serious Situation

Ford, complaining of a series of strikes, told Reuther "We don't think" that the UAW leadership "appreciates the seriousness of the situation."

The one worker in question, a member of Local 723, was reported laid off for his part in an earlier strike.

Alex Hunter, plant manager, charged that unionists had threatened reprisals against employes who refused to strike, but Ken Bannon, the UAW's national Ford director, denied this.

Bannon said there had been no violence or threats of violence. On the other hand, Hunter said there had been threats to "burn homes and damage cars" of employes.

A crowd milled around the plant yesterday but police dispersed it. Dodge's 1,400 striking strikers, all in the trim department, stayed out in rebellion against orders from UAW Local 3 leadership. Mass layoffs resulted.

Two Men Fired

The Dodge dispute hinges on the firing of two men for failure to meet production rates. Strikers accused the company of contract violation in increasing the rates.

Hudson, in the face of a union stay-away-from-the-job move, retreated it had "work available" and was prepared to resume production.

UAW Local 154, charging a speed-up and "lockout," has instructed its members to stay away until Hudson shows "good faith." At the same time it insists it is not on strike.

The union also once said Hudson wants to keep its plants closed because it can't sell its cars. Management declined comment.

For 31 successive days management had sent its 10,000 workers home daily when production rates were not met.

Disputes Truman No Revenge Claim

Army and Air Force were whittling away at the Navy's striking power.

Retiring Secretary of the Navy Matthews said Denfeld was not fired because of this testimony, but rather on grounds he did not have "respect for authority" which should exist between "various official ranks."

Bill Bars Reprisals

Taft was one of the authors of a bill passed by the Senate this week to bar reprisals against military officials and government employes whose testimony the judiciary committee said "may offend someone higher than himself in the government hierarchy." The House has not acted on the measure.

The Ohio Senator said, however, that even if the bill becomes law it would not reach a situation in which the President might bar some official from testifying at all.

Mr. Truman at first told reporters at yesterday's conference he had no comment on MacArthur's assertion in a Boston speech that he had been urged to "keep silent—or take the bitter consequences."

But the President went on to deny that the General had been threatened with any reprisals.

Mac Probe Report

There was no word, meanwhile, that administration leaders have been pressing Chairman Russell (D., Ga.) of Senate MacArthur inquiry committee to bring out some majority findings on the group's inquiry.

Senator Bridges (R., N. H.) said some Republican members of the combined Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees which conducted the inquiry may meet next week in an effort to agree on a report criticizing administration handling of Far Eastern affairs without directly supporting MacArthur's program to expand the Korean war.

Senator Hickenlooper (R., Iowa) said there is certain to be a report of some kind from the Republican group but Senator H. Alexander Smith (R., N. J.) said he thinks public interest in the MacArthur ouster has died down.

Truman Raps Arvey

Mr. Truman wouldn't give newsmen any inkling of whether he intends to run again next year, nor would he say whether he is planning a cross-country tour such as he made last year.

When a reporter said Jacob Arvey, Chicago Democratic leader, had suggested Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower or Senator Douglas (D-Ill) as possible candidates if he doesn't run, the President said tartly that Arvey had gone off half cocked once before, in 1948.

This was a reference to Arvey's plunge in an Eisenhower boom at that time. He later supported Mr. Truman.

Eisenhower wouldn't run then, but Senator Duff (R-Pa) said in Denver yesterday it is more likely the General will be a Republican Presidential candidate next year than he will not be.

Duff is regarded as a leader in the Draft-Eisenhower movement among some Republicans.

Insurance Man Slain, Robbed

North Andover, Mass., July 27 (AP)—A Lawrence insurance agent was found dead of two bullet wounds last night and police said it was probably a case of "murder and robbery."

The victim was Leo Monfret, 37, father of two young sons and an employe of the John Hancock Insurance company.

Police said one .32 caliber bullet entered his back and another his chest. His pockets were found turned out and he reportedly told his wife he would have been carrying some $300 after making collections, police added.

No gun was found near the body which was sprawled on the ground in the lonely, wooded Boston Hill section.

5 DAY FORECAST

Boston, July 27—(AP)—The temperature in New England during the next five days, Saturday through next Wednesday, will average near the seasonal normal. Cooler weather over the weekend will be followed by a slow rise in temperature the first of next week.

Precipitation during this period will on the average total about five-tenths of an inch occurring as showers the first of next week.

Somebody Rests In Sam's Grave

S. Jones' common-law wife, Patricia Land, who identified the decomposed body found in nearby Jefferson Parish swamps as that of Jones. She admitted the slaying, repudiated her statement and then accused Easterwood and testified in court she saw him kill Jones.

Easterwood worked at a New Orleans filling station with Jones and came under suspicion after Jones disappeared and $96 was reported missing from a cash drawer.

Easterwood was indicted in the murder charge largely on the Land woman's testimony. A jury freed him, however, and in doing so gave him a $100 gift to start over again.

Chief Deputy Sheriff John Faulkner of Jefferson Parish and another deputy went to Denver earlier this week to look for Jones. He was accompanied by a former friend of Jones, John C. Painter.

Chance Meeting

Painter had a chance meeting with Jones several months ago in Denver. When Painter returned to New Orleans he told his story to the New Orleans States. The newspaper notified the sheriff's office.

Jones admitted taking the money from the gas station, but denied he knew anything about a slaying.

Faulkner said a murder charge will be filed against Jones, but the name of the victim will not be included in the charge.

"Jones is beginning to get nervous," Faulkner said in Denver. "He was calmly when he was arrested, but his manner is changing. I am confident he will give us considerable information by the time we land at New Orleans. There are indications he will tell us what it's all about."

Hunt for Woman

The chief deputy said he has important information about the murder victim and he said he felt Jones "knows a great deal about it."

Trousers taken from the corpse bore laundry marks of an address where Jones formerly lived.

Police are conducting a statewide search for the Land woman Matthews S. Brandt, assistant district attorney, said she will be charged with perjury when found.

Dr. Kermit Bras, Jefferson Parish coroner, said it may be necessary to exhume the body of the man buried in Jones' grave. "I want to talk to Jones before I make any decision," he said.

46 Safe as Plane Skids to Landing

members huddled to the rear of the plane, taking baggage with them, to add weight on the tail.

Despite the sparks and flames, no fire broke out on the plane and there were no injuries.

After the plane was examined, it was determined that the nose gear was functioning normally.

However, an airline spokesman said the indicator light in the pilot's cabin still flashed red, or unsafe. The spokesman added that the pilot followed emergency regulations in landing the craft with its tail down.

Formula For A Speech

The ingredients of General MacArthur's second round appeared to the American people have now become identifiable. An analysis of his Boston speech which, in its turn, was several degrees more violent than his Texas speeches, reveals that he has fashioned an extraordinary combination of appeals and arguments.

If every one of these arguments and appeals should work, as it is intended to work, it would be the greatest crowd-sweeping and popularity-winning speech in American history, and there would be no doubt that MacArthur could do with this nation as he pleased.

There are reasons why this is not going to happen. For one thing, the more directly General MacArthur comes into the political arena, the more obviously melodramatic and stagey he becomes. For another thing, his extraordinary combination of appeals and arguments contains self-violations and contradictions so apparent that the combination fails to jell successfully and become a dramatic, convincing whole.

The first and standing ingredient in this appeal is the erection of a high and lofty and pious platform.

He spoke, he told the Massachusetts Legislature, "neither with partisan affiliation nor political purpose."

It would be difficult for any student of the speech that followed to escape the confusion that it was a political speech, dedicated to the candidacy for the Presidency of Senator Robert A. Taft.

"I shall set my course," he said, "to the end that no man need fear to speak the truth."

Later in the speech, he himself said that "we have been told of the war in Korea that it is the wrong war, with the wrong enemy, at the wrong time and in the wrong place."

We have never been told that. General Bradley, whom MacArthur was paraphrasing, used those terms to characterize not the war in Korea, but the war General MacArthur wanted to fight outside Korea.

Again in the speech, General MacArthur claimed that the present cease-fire negotiations in Korea represent our acceptance, now, of the "identical proposal" he himself was criticized for making last March, just after he had been notified that Washington was getting ready to make peace-proposals of its own.

That has become a favorite claim in the MacArthur campaign, that we criticize his March peace proposal, but take the same thing when it comes from Malik, a Communist.

The claim is not true. The present truce negotiations in Korea are the result of proposals clear of threat and dictation. MacArthur, in March, led up to his own announcement of his willingness to meet in the field on a truce with the following paragraph:

"The enemy therefore must by now be painfully aware that a decision of the United Nations to depart from its tolerant effort to contain the war to the area of Korea through expansion of our military operations to his coastal areas and interior bases would doom Red China to the risk of imminent military collapse."

In this, General MacArthur was making a threat beyond his own authority. He should have known it was not the way to produce truce talks.

Malik did not say to us: "Talk truce in Korea or we will attack the Atlantic Coast." If he had said it to us, there would be no truce talks.

The second main ingredient in the MacArthur speech is that he is at once for war and for the abolition of war.

"We must finally come to realize that war is outmoded as an instrument of political policy, that it provides no solution for international suicide."

That is MacArthur, the fervent disciple of peace.

In the same speech, MacArthur was bitter and devastating in his criticism of the fact that we do not seem likely to carry on the Korean war to wider and more decisive areas.

"It can be accepted," he said, "as a basic principle proven and irrefutable since the beginning of time that a great nation which enters upon war and fails to see it through to victory must accept the full moral consequences of defeat."

By this passage, we must seek that same "international suicide" MacArthur also warns against.

What is the truth? It is that we are indeed doing what MacArthur himself says we need to do, trying something new in history. But that leads into the third ingredient of his speech, which is the claim that the war in Korea is futile.

"Utter uselessness" is the phrase General MacArthur applies to the casualties who have sacrificed themselves in Korea. "The threat of aggression upon the weak by those collusively inclined among the strong has not diminished. Indeed, nothing has been settled. No issue has been decided."

It is perhaps one of the minor tragedies of our time that a man with the spiritual instincts and the imagination of General MacArthur is somehow not privileged to see and sense and share the history which Korea has made and may make. It is almost unbelievable, in fact, that any one with his sense of history should somehow have missed and ignored his own chance to dramatize and glorify decisions and policies which are perhaps of climatic importance to civilization.

The threat of aggression has been diminished by the action in Korea, and proof of it lies in the fact that the aggressors are in process of giving up their aggression. Something has been settled. It is that aggression will be met by the methods and forces of collective security wherever it happens. Korea is the first time in the world's history that has been done. An issue has been decided. The decision is that the United Nations shall become a defender and enforcer of a world law against aggression.

And as for the sacrifice of those who have died in Korea, we believe that no sacrifice in world history has been more noble or purposeful. They may be the first such sacrifices in history which really transmit safety to their survivors.

There are other ingredients included in the MacArthur formula. Strangely enough, although he warned that "there can be no compromise with atheistic communism—no half-way in the preservation of freedom and religion," and asserted that "it must be all or nothing," he also began to claim personal credit for Russia's present disposition towards peace. It is the rallying of the American people to the MacArthur stand, he said, which is "exerting a profound influence upon the Soviet course of action." So here he accepted and approved a possible change in Russian policy which certainly would result in the avoidance of that "all or nothing" world decision he himself had just held necessary.

The final major ingredient in the MacArthur appeal is a routine repetition of Senator Taft's domestic political arguments. He is against Truman. He is against Communists. He is against taxes. He is against reliance upon governmental benefits and securities. And yet, in a magnanimous touch beyond the capabilities of Taft, his heart throbs for the "forgotten man."

What is this? It is at once everything, and nothing. It is every possible and imaginable appeal, every last touch of noble sentiment, every conceivable playing upon the nerves and hopes and fears and aspirations of the American people, and yet all combined into one pattern so self-contradictory and so self-revelatory that even our most hardened professional politician might blush to deliver it.

This talent is obviously at the service of the Republican party, or, to be more precise, at the service of that section of the Republican party which would choose to nominate Senator Taft. The latter individual, presumably, if elected, would dedicate himself to the execution of a MacArthur foreign policy, and also to more personal matters such as the purging from public office of men like General Marshall and Bradley. All in all, this is probably the most handsome solicitous the Republican party has ever been offered. One can pass a judgment: that the power and prestige of such an appeal will exist, more and more, primarily in its own opinion.

Unconquerable

The latest news from Czechoslovakia is that four Czech generals have either been arrested or committed suicide to avoid arrest because they were disloyal to the Communist regime. This is at once one more tragedy in the course of Russian imperialism and a demonstration of the permanent insecurity that imperialism will face so long as it tries to hold a country like Czechoslovakia.

Some of the generals involved were Czechs who had been selected, by the Communists, as reliable replacements for officers whose loyalty was in question. The answer is that there is no true Czech who can ever be loyal to Russian imperialism. The answer is that the Russians could search for a thousand years and not find Czech officers whose loyalty would be to Russia. The answer is that Czechoslovakia is a hard one for the Communists to crack. They will never be secure in Czechoslovakia.

Czechs have one thousand-year-old passion. It is for their own liberty. They got it after World War I. They made superb use of it. They were sold out, to Hitler, at Munich, and their liberation from Hitler, when it came, turned into a new brand of slavery. But they do not forget their one objective; they will never accept their own loss of liberty; the Russians will never succeed in digesting their country. Their love of liberty constitutes a force greater and more lasting than anything the Russians can muster, and it will triumph in the end.

Sprinkler Use Still Problem

Waddell Reports Pressure in Green Area Dropped Last Night

Because several local residents have either forgotten or chosen to ignore the request to curtail use of lawn sprinklers between the hours of 4 p.m., and 9 p.m., Manchester is having low pressure problems again and people in the Greenwood drive and Middle turnpike area are being deprived of water.

General Manager George H. Waddell said this morning that it was necessary to hook up an emergency pump again at Manchester Green to boost the water to the higher level of Greenwood drive. This results in pressure-loss for people on Middle turnpike, east.

Waddell stated that "we appreciate the fact that people are retraining from using sprinklers during those hours, but some are continuing to use the sprinklers on Greenwood drive and Middle turnpike." The pressure loss also affects hydrants and poses a serious fire hazard.

The general manager pointed out that the situation is a continuing one and that people are requested to control sprinkler use at least for the balance of this year.

A pressure chart at the Water department office shows that the pressure yesterday dropped to a low of 30 pounds between the hours of 6 p.m., the heart of the critical period. Normal pressure measured on the 50-55 pound mark.

Although the situation has apparently been caused by the extended dry spell, the trouble is not caused by a water shortage in the town-owned system. Excessive use of water, however, to keep lawns from drying out robs the mains of pressure and leaves higher levels of the system with little or no pressure resulting in little or no water.

Residents of Greenwood drive, for example, at times have found themselves without water for cooking, bathing, the children and other necessary household uses in the early evening hours.

Home-owners can still have healthy lawns by watering outside of the five-hour period when consumption hit its highest peak. On one day the rate jumped from a normal of 1,400,000 gallons to 2,250,000 gallons.

Similar action in curtailing sprinkler use has been taken by the Metropolitan District of Hartford, which serves several towns near Hartford.

After having the situation explained by Waddell, the Board of Directors on July 17 authorized him to ask for the five-hour sprinkler ban. Until recently, the results had practically solved the pressure problems.

By town charter, the water commission is made up of the Board of Directors, and General Manager Waddell is superintendent of the department.

Gunmen in Police Uniform Rob Bank

ville man who works for a local undertaker. Police said probably both plates and car had been stolen.

The figure for the amount of the loot was given by the bank president, Clarence G. McDavitt, Jr.

Acting Manager Loring P. Gleason, assistant to the president of the bank, and four tellers — two of them women were in the bank when the men entered shortly after 8:30 a. m.

Two customers also were on hand.

The man with the machine gun covered the employees and customers while his companions climbed over a shoulder-high counter and began loading cash drawers and three tellers' cages.

"Don't move or we'll drill everybody," the man with the machine gun warned. None of the tellers—Mrs. Doris Williams, 23, Mrs. Edith Coyne, 30, Ray W. Widgett, and Thomas Griffin, 24, attempted to resist.

The men missed a much greater sum. Officials estimated that not more than $20,000 was in the bank when they entered. Shortly after they had departed, however, an armored car crew delivered a much greater amount for use in the day's business.

Value of the shipment was not disclosed.

The machine gunner was described as a heavily-built man about 5 feet 11 inches and his companion a man about 5 feet 7. Employes thought both were about 40 years old and noted gray at each man's temples.

Police set up road blocks around the area in an effort to trap their black sedan.

Large Crowd Waits General

Few Can Say They Saw MacArthur; Special Two Hours Late Here

General MacArthur's train slipped through Manchester's Depot Square at 4:45 p. m. yesterday, and a large crowd was on hand although the train was two hours late. A station attendant estimated that the crowd, including a great many youngsters, numbered between three and four hundred.

Apparently few, if any, actually saw the famous General. From the station platform, a group of people could be seen in the last car seated about a table, possibly eating, and one of them waved "something white," one observer said. No one appeared on the rear platform of the flag-covered train, which slowed down to about 20 miles per hour. A pilot train preceded the General through town.

People started to gather at the station as early as 2:15. The train was originally scheduled to come through at 2:46. Patrolmen Newton Taggart and Milton Stratton were on duty. By 4:45, the crowd had swollen and many other people were standing along the tracks and at the Oakland street and other crossings. Many cars were parked in the area.

Sherman Rites At Arlington

Washington, July 27 — (AP) — There was a grave today in Arlington National Cemetery for Admiral Forrest P. Sherman, on a knoll where oak trees stand tall and straight like the masts of a ship.

They chose that burial place for the 54-year-old member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Chief of Naval Operations who died in Italy last Sunday while on a military-diplomatic mission to help strengthen the defenses of the western nations.

In tribute to that great man, as President Truman characterized him yesterday, there gathered for funeral service this afternoon in the Arlington amphitheatre a company of the nation's highest governmental and military leaders.

Record Topped In Blue Cross

All Time High in Payments to Hospital Is Reached, Report States

The Connecticut Blue Cross report for the first half of the year 1951 indicates that out of a total of $6,857,701 in payments made for members' care, $113,559.48 was expended at the Manchester Memorial hospital. General Manager Robert Parmall pointed out that this is an all-time high for a six month period for the non-profit hospital plan. The total payment for this period exceeds that of a similar period last year by $1,594,000.

Since enrollment remained approximately the same as last year, Parmall informed, the greatly increased payments can only be attributed to higher hospital costs, greater use of hospital facilities and additional hospital services. He stated that some of the increase can be traced to higher benefits which went into effect in April, but added that these will not show their full effect until the program is a year old.

Largest payments for the six month period went to Hartford hospital ($746,075) and Grace-New Haven Community hospital ($681,000).

Connecticut Blue Cross has made total payments of $53,643,644 since the plan was organized 14 years ago, Parmall said. Grace-New Haven heads the list with combined payments of $6,705,000 since 1937. The total in payments made to the local hospital since the plan started is $897,991.04.

Three radio-equipped cars from the Manchester Civilian Defense radio contact corps put on a very interesting demonstration for the members of the local auxiliary town police at the second meeting of this school of instruction. With John D. Avery, local communications chief at the controls at the firehouse, David L. Bailey, local police school instructor, sent the members of the class out with the radio cars. While they cruised the streets in town radio contact was maintained with headquarters and the other cars. The local men, who had the opportunity not only to observe but to operate the equipment, found Monday's meeting of great interest.

Mr. Bailey is working on plans to conduct another active participation type of meeting for the next session of the school on August 6. Eleven local men are now enrolled in the auxiliary town police. They include Leslie Spencer, Donald Tedford, Gilbert Pickett, Robert Richardson, Harold Ogren, Thomas Carpenter, Ronald Grose, Frank Utin, Raymond Peterson and Ralph Burleigh. With one exception all the men are from the north and northeast sections of town. Mr. Bailey is hopeful that representatives of other areas in town will be signed up with the group.

Limit Parking In Rockville

New Hours Are Attempt To Solve Congestion In Shopping Center

Rockville, July 27—New parking regulations are expected to go into effect on Middle and Lowland road as soon as signs can be installed. These will limit parking on Middle Road from the Rockville Hotel to the Rockville Garage to one hour, while on the Lowland Road two hour parking will be in effect along the wall on the north side of the street.

The congested conditions in this area have been under study for some time by the Police commission. Property owners have complained that the present all day parking privileges have been abused and that as a result shoppers found it difficult to find a place to leave a car for even a short time. The limit on parking is being tried in the hopes that it will result in more available space for short time parking.

Red Sox and Cards Play Tonight For Round Title

Big Steve Cooper and husky Dick Farrell are expected to hook up in a pitchers' duel tonight at Memorial Field when the Red Sox meet the Cardinals. It will be the final game of the first half of the season. Should the Red Sox win behind Cooper, Coach Ernie Dowd's nine will be crowned first round champions. On the other hand, if Coach Ronnie Dalgle's charges can back up Farrell and win, the teams will be deadlocked in the standings. If this is the case, a one game playoff will be staged Sunday afternoon at 2.

Last night the Yankees shutout the Dodgers 4 to 0 behind Charlie Keeney. Keeney gave up but three hits.

The Yanks sewed up the game in the first inning when they scored three runs. With two out Hohenthal singled, stole second and went to third when Bell reached first on Rylander's error. Pickral then also reached first on an error by Rylander, Hohenthal scoring and Bell going to second. Each runner advanced on a passed ball. Keeney singled to bring in Bell, Pickral going to third, later scoring on a passed ball.

In the fourth the Yanks added a run. Bell singled and stole second base. Pickral doubled to left to bring in Bell.

Only Gene Sarazen and Bobby Jones ever won the U.S. and British Open championship the same year. Jones did it twice.

Gavilan to Risk Crown August 29

New York, July 27 —(AP)— Kid Gavilan of Cuba will defend his welterweight boxing title against Bill Graham of New York in Madison Square Garden Aug. 29 unless out any guarantee that he'll get a return bout should he lose the crown.

Gavilan and Graham signed for the bout yesterday but, at the insistance of Chairman Eddie Egan, chairman of the State Athletic Commission, there was no return clause in the contract.

The champion will receive 32½ per cent of the net receipts and Graham 25.

Although Gavilan is recognized as champion by both the New York Commission and the National Boxing Association, Egan and the division championship picture will not be cleared until Charlie Humez of France gets a chance. Humez is the European champion.

The New York commission would like for the winner of the Gavilan-Graham bout to meet Humez so that an undisputed champion will reign over the 147 pounders. Humez won the European crown by defeating Bruce Eddie Thomas last June 13. Thomas holds a decision over Graham.

A Grand Performance

Husky southpaw pitcher Steve Cooper of the Manchester Little League All Stars rates an accolade for his great performance in a losing cause in the District Eight Tournament game Tuesday evening in Rockville.

The big, bespectacled youngster pitched no-hit, no-run ball for five innings, facing only 15 men in this time, par for the distance, against Thompsonville. In the sixth inning the cream of the Carpet City's league put together on two hits, a costly miscue, another single, and a fielders' choice for two runs. Thompsonville won, 2 to 0.

Big Coop whipped his fast ball past 15 opposing batters. He and his batterymate, Dinky Hohenthal, personally accounted for 15 of the 18 putouts. Cooper's control was excellent as he did not issue one free ticket and was not charged with any wild pitches.

It was a grand game for hurler Billy Rinaldi of Thompsonville to pick up a hard-to-breaker for the 12-year-old Cooper to lose.

Cooper is a two-year veteran in the local circuit and has established himself as the No. 1 pitcher in the Little League competition. He was an unanimous All Star selection.

Baseball fans should keep an eye on the happy-go-lucky Cooper. He should be a future baseball standout in Manchester.

Battle to the Wire

But two weeks remain in the regular Twilight League baseball season—and pennant-and-playoff clubs are fighting for the three remaining playoff spots. It is the tightest battle in years. Pratt and Whitney has clinched first place as well as gaining championship honors.

Battling for the other playoff berths are Silk City, British Americans, Willimantic Ridges and defending champion Hamilton Props.

Here's the way the standings look today:

	W	L	Pct.	GBL
Pratt & Whitney	11	1	.917
Silk City	7	5	.583	4
British America	7	6	.538	4½
Ridges	6	6	.500	5
Hamilton	5	7	.417	6

Only two games separate second place Silk City and fifth place Hamilton. The Props have games with Pratt and Whitney, Silk City and Willimantic. Silk City must play Hamilton, BA's and Ridges while the Ridges have games left with Pratt and Whitney, Hamilton and Silk City. The BA's have two games remaining, one each with Silk City and Pratt and Whitney.

The playoff positions may not be decided until the final out in the final scheduled game; the race is that close.

Mintz Hearing Date August 1

Harrisburg, Pa., July 27—(AP)—Fiery-tongued Jake Mintz has an August 1 date with the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission to determine whether he will be allowed to continue in boxing.

Mintz, manager of ex-heavyweight champion Jersey Bazaard Charles, was placed under immediate suspension at ringside of last week's title fight after he uttered loud long protests against the naming of an official.

Chairman George Jones, Jr., set the date for the hearing yesterday and moved it from Philadelphia to Harrisburg. He said it would be open to the press "If I'm not overruled."

"The actions of Mr. Mintz took place before all the sports writers and the 25,000 fans attending the bout," Jones told a reporter. "They were, in our judgment, detrimental to boxing. Because of these things I can not see why the press should be barred."

Charles, who has been managed by Mintz since he won the title three years ago, lost the championship to Jersey Joe Walcott in the night where Mintz was suspended.

Mintz protested the naming of Charley Daggert of Philadelphia as a judge, holding up the fight 10 minutes. Daggert was the only one of the panel of 12 officials not from Mintz's hometown of Pittsburgh where the fight was held.

Other members of the commission are John (Ox) Da Grosa, Philadelphia, and John Holahan, Pittsburgh.

Joe Explains Batting Slump

DiMaggio Not Getting The Old Snap Into Swing; Hitting Late

New York, July 27—(AP) — Joe DiMaggio sat in front of his locker, stripped of his baseball gear, puffing absent-mindedly on a cigarette. He was alone except for a close friend.

All around him teammates were still talking about Wednesday's dramatic 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians. Prospects of three straight over the Tribe appeared very bright as Allie Reynolds, who had conquered Cleveland four times this season, was due to pitch.

DiMaggio watched silently for a while, then spoke for the first time.

"Notice the way we've been winning them lately? 1-0, 2-1, 3-2. The pitchers have been carrying us all the load. The boys have been in a hitting slump.

"Maybe I should talk about myself only," he said with a rueful grin.

"I haven't been doing anything to help the club. I just can't seem to buy a base hit." He went hitless in yesterdays' game, getting on base only once and that via a walk.

Before DiMaggio himself broached the subject about his non-hitting, you asked:

"What's the matter, Joe? Can you account for your failure to hit lately, you said to me?"

DiMaggio didn't answer for a moment. He got up, blew a cloud of smoke out through his nostrils and flipped the cigarette away.

"No," he answered quietly. "I know what's the matter with me. I'm trying the old snap into my swing."

DiMaggio cocked his wrists and went through an imaginary swing. "Right here," he said, looking down at his doubled fists as he finished the swing. "I just don't seem to give it that old follow through."

"Up around here, too," he continued, drawing his right hand across his chest from one shoulder to the other. "I just haven't been able to make the bat come around as quick as I used to."

You suggested politely that maybe he was swinging late and hitting at bad balls.

"Yes, I am swinging late," Joe said. "But it's not because I'm biting at bad balls. Oh, of course, I'll go for a bad one now and then. But most of the time, they're right down the middle. I see them coming and set myself. But when I swing, the ball shoots right up at me."

Age Creeping Up

DiMaggio bent down and you couldn't help but notice the streaks of grey in his hair. Even his beard of one day's growth was sprinkled with white hairs giving unmistaken evidence that age was creeping up on the great star.

"It's not that I don't know what's the matter with me," he said. "I know what I'm doing wrong. It's just that I can't seem to do anything about it."

You asked whether he was worrying too much about it—if it affected his eating, sleeping, etc.

"No," he shook his head emphatically. "I don't allow it to get me down too much. Naturally, I'm concerned, but not to a point where it's got me down in the dumps."

Could it be that his long layoff due to an injury made him dismed his batting eye and all he needed was a little more actual competition?

"No," he answered honestly. "That's the way it has been all season. Right from the start."

What did he intend to do about it?

"Beat it," Joe answered without hesitation. "I'm going to beat it. I'm going to keep swinging until I get the old snap back. It will come back to me. I know it.

"I know I haven't been of much help. But I'm going to hang in there. I'm going to battle it 'til I lick it."

"Remember what I said," he repeated. "I'm going to lick it."

DiMaggio said it very quietly, through tight lips. Seeing the serious, determined look on his face when he said it, and hearing the quiet, calm and confident way in which he said it, you left with the feeling—and hope—that Joe will "lick it."

Great One-Handed Stab By Kurek in Seventh Saves Game; Blow Victim of Tough Luck

Moodus will face Hamilton in the finals of the State semi-pro baseball championship. The Nodus came up with two unearned runs in the bottom half of the sixth inning last night to gain the nod over Silk City 3 to 2. Walt Golet scored the two runners with a single to left field after two costly boots by the Aces inners defending the runs.

Dick Blow, the veteran Easter League, turned in the niftiest performance seen at the Oval since Bob Andrews tossed his no-hitter several weeks ago. It was no fault of Blow's that the Aces failed to win the ballgame. He gave up but four hits, two of the scratchy bunch, fanned seven and was complete master of the Noise until his defense fell apart.

It took a great catch of a line drive off the bat of Pat Bolduc to end the threat which Aces fought valiantly to get back the run it lost in the second inning. Lewis went all the way to second on a two base error and Bolduc lined what looked like a hit to wards right with two outs. Chi Kurek dashed high in the air to stole the base hit, ending the threat.

Costly Boots

Here's how Moodus got the run in the sixth that won the game. Kurek grounded to third and Plated was safe on the bad one. Joe Pulcik sacrificed with Blow to pitcher and Kusaro hit into a fielder's choice, Plated safe at second baseman, who was covering the bag. Golet then singled to left for the two runs.

Silk City took a one run lead in the first when Lewis singled, stole second and rode home on George Kepler's single.

Blow scratch hits and an infield out saw Moodus tie up the count at 1-all in the second. Pete Hopkins sent a slow roller to the left of the mound and Plecan's play at first was late. Bob Lindner's high hopper toward third was scooped up by Freddie Booth to his left, sending Hopkins to third. Hopkins scored on Dom Pulcini was grounded out, short to first.

Catch of the Night

The catch of the night was made by Rod Amadon when he made a one-hand grab of a line drive off his shoe top on a bid hit by Lewis to left as second hitter in the third. Kepler followed with a walk and singles by Bolduc and Booth produced the other Silk City run. Amadon's great at of a ball hit by Lefty Jadzinia was the tide-turning play against Pratt & Whitney last week.

Blow walked but one man and he was quickly erased on the first end of a double play. Five of the strikeouts were swinging. In the fifth he put six straight strikes on the first two batters caught looking at his sweeping curve the time and again clipped off a one nor of the state. An excellent pitching performance was wasted because of faulty support.

Hamilton and Moodus meet Sunday afternoon at 2:30 in the finals.

Vollmer's Vollies Boost Sox to Within Points of Lead

Natural Rivals Paired In Twi Contest Tonight

Tonight's Twilight League game finds Pratt & Whitney facing Hamilton at 6 o'clock, representing the top and bottom of the league. Both teams tied for first place in the Hartford Dusty League. P & W has already copped the title here.

This will be the third meeting between the teams and P & W holds two victories over their natural rivals. T-4 and 4-2. Jimmy Blanchard is expected to oppose Bob Andrews on the hill.

The hitting of Tom Bergamasco, Joe Tripp and Lefty Jadzinski have played the biggest part in the Airmen's rise as they copped their first flag in the league. P & W is a running team and boasts two of the best base stealers in Johnny Sarazaj and Sam Wylie. The Props put their hopes in the hitting of Bobby Knight, Red Jacko, Mike Zwick and Art Pongratz.

Ed Kelly, Hamilton center fielder, will probably be playing his last game in the league for this season. The blond-haired fly chaser is slated to enter the service Monday.

Herman Schaefer, new coach of the Indianapolis Olympians in the NBA, was formerly the assistant coach of the Minneapolis Lakers.

Gets Three Homers, 11 in Last 18 Games

Dodgers Pull Away to 9½ Game Lead; Bob Feller Wins His 15th At Yankee Stadium

By Jack Hand
Associated Press Sports Writer

With Clyde Vollmer, blazing Boston Red Sox clutch hitter, it seems to be home run or nothing.

Vollmer, a powerful six-footer, hit three homers yesterday against Chicago in a 15-10 win that boosted his club within two percentage points of first place.

Since big Clyde came to the fold the range about three weeks ago, he has hit 11 home runs in 18 games. Over that same period he has had a total of 23 hits. So exactly half of his hits in that period have been over the wall.

Vollmer managed to sprinkle nine singles and two doubles among his homers in his sensational spurt of timely hitting. Only a journeyman outfielder who was obtained from Washington last year in a deal for Tom O'Brien and Merrill Combs, Vollmer may be the difference between also ran and contender for the Sox.

Because Cleveland finally won a game, the Yankees failed to gain ground on the league-leading New York Yanks. 8-4, Vollmer's big outburst was an important factor in the pennant race.

Vollmer's of the day came with two on in the sixth and the score tied at 10-10. He came up with one on in the first and with nobody on in the second. Both of his six bigs runs batted in. He now has 75 runs batted in this season—tops for him in the majors.

While the American League tightened its pennant grip on second even more with Brooklyn moving away from the National League pennant race New York on a 9-1 win over Chicago.

The Phillies, making a belated bid to regain their 7½ game lead, moved within six games of the third place Cardinals by shutting out St. Louis for the second straight night, 7-0. Ken Johnson, an ex-Card, did the job with seven hits.

Vollmer's hitting was the big news of the Thursday scores, however, in the wild slugfest at Fenway Park that produced a total of 31 hits.

Ellis Kinder, long a Chicago jinx, gained his 17th straight over the Sox with a 7-inning relief job over the last 2 1/3 innings. He was the last of four Boston pitchers. Harry Dorish, fourth Chicago thrower, took the loss.

Vollmer hit some fun company. Ted Williams hit his 29th and Dom DiMaggio his ninth for the Red Sox. Eddie Robinson amassed one with two on in the opening inning for Chicago.

Bobby Feller became the first major leaguer to win 15 in Cleveland's success at Yankee Stadium but he wasn't around at the finish. Feller gave way to a pinch hitter in the sixth while leading 5-4. Honners by Cliff Mapes, Johnny Mize and Yogi Berra chipped away most of his early lead. Lou Brissie held for the rest of the way allowing one hit and no runs in four innings.

Allie Reynolds, a four-time winner over the Tribe which he turned back with no hits July 12, was tagged with his sixth loss. Stubby Overmire mopped up for a lost cause. Once again Joe DiMaggio went hitless, slumping to .231.

George Kell, Dick Kryhoski and Pat Mullin hit into Washington pitchers for three hits each in Detroit's 6-3 win. The Tigers hopped on reliefer Mickey Harris for three in the eighth with Connie Berry's two-run double the big blow.

Matt Batts' two-run homer in the fifth helped the St. Louis Brown to a 4-4 edge over the Philadelphia A's in a night game. Duane Pillette with ninth-inning help from old Satch Paige, subdued the A's who have lost seven in a row.

Big Don Newcombe won his 14th and ninth in a row over Chicago. The Dodgers increased their lead. Held to one run by Omar Lown on the first six innings, the Dodgers routed the Righthander with three in the seventh. Roy Campanella hit his 17th off Lown in the eighth.

New York and Pittsburgh were idle but Boston wrapped Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger in the first game of a doubleheader. Warren Bickford was in control until the ninth when he was replaced by Bob Chipman after two runs were in and two out.

First place in the final first round standings in the Little League will be at stake tonight when the Red Sox meet the Cardinals at Memorial Field at 6:15. The Red Sox enjoy a one game margin and must win to gain the round honors. Should the Cards win, a tie for the lead will exist and a one-game playoff will be necessary. Truman Blasts Red Military Preparations

Truce Teams Clash on Buffer Zone

Allies, Reds Hold Firm on Own Terms

U. N. Advance Headquarters, Korea, July 28—(AP)—The United Nations and Communist cease-fire teams clashed head-on today over the thorny problems of a military buffer zone across the Korean peninsula.

Gen. Nam Il, chief Red envoy, stated the Red position "with more force and nerve than on any previous occasion," an eye-witness said.

But at the end of two hours and 10 minutes, both sides held stubbornly to their earlier positions.

Refuse To Budge

The Reds want the buffer line along the 38th parallel. The U.N. allies want it along the present battle lines.

Air Force Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, who attended today's three sessions, said there was no indication of an area of agreement.

Both sides refused to budge.

A heavy rain hammered down on the former Kaesong restaurant as the grim negotiators faced each other across the green-topped conference table.

The atmosphere in the room was officially described as "cool military formality."

The phrase was not elaborate, but it recalled a description of the first meeting of liaison officers in the same room July 8.

Col. Andrew J. Kimsey said the tone of that first meeting was "military courtesy—a cold way of not being exactly hostile."

Nuckols said the positions of the two sides today were "reasonably clear-cut, but there is a considerable difference between the positions."

Concerning Nam, Nuckols said, "I wouldn't say he was belligerent, but he certainly was forceful."

The delegates presumably will

Curbs Dispute Back in House

Senate Approves Bill For Some Price, Rent Rollbacks, Increases

Washington, July 28 —(AP)—Senate approval of a new economic controls bill — permitting some price and rent rollbacks and opening the way for some increases—shifted the controversial measure to the House today.

House leaders plan to call it up for vote Monday. They predicted passage, which would send it to President Truman just a day before the present law expires at midnight Tuesday.

The Senate passed the bill by voice vote last night shortly after Senate-House committees had completed work on a compromise version of separate measures approved earlier by the two branches.

The new bill would continue rage, price, rent and other emergency controls through August 31—12 months less than Mr. Tru-

7 Hurt as 11 Cars Bump on Parkway

Greenwich, July 28—(AP)—An automobile tipped over on the busy Merritt parkway here, and 11 other cars came to grief as a result.

When the accident occurred last evening, traffic was heavier than usual for a Friday because of fans headed for the White Sox-Yankees night baseball game in New York.

No other car was involved with the one that tipped over, but a six-car pile-up and two two-car collisions followed it.

New Orleans, July 28—(AP)—The "murder victim" who was found alive will be questioned today in an attempt to unravel a bewildering swamp murder.

Gaunt Sam Jones, legally dead since he was found "murdered" two years ago, arrived here from Denver, Colo., last night to face a murder charge.

Donald Easterwood, the young father of four children, who was tried and acquitted of murdering Jones, will also be questioned by nearby Jefferson Parish authorities and New Orleans police.

Easterwood was re-arrested after Jones was found alive and explain another major puzzle that developed yesterday—a statement by their chief, Secretary of Defense Marshall, that the United States plans to have 400,000 American troops in Europe in 1952.

Europe Figure Doubled

That is nearly twice as many as previously indicated by Marshall, who has said six full divisions would be the American contribution to Europe's defense. His figure yesterday included 40,000 airmen.

Secretary Marshall was testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations committee in support of the administration's $8,500,000,000 foreign economic and military aid program.

About the same time yesterday morning, newsmen sleeping into the Bureau of the Army's briefing officer, expecting the usual off-the-record background talk on how things are going in Korea.

Instead, the spokesman announced the conference would be on the record, and began reading

Russia for Talks On World Issues

Moscow, July 28.—(AP)—A group disappointed by the interview of British Quakers left for home with Malik. He said he was encouraged because of the time and attention the Soviet government had given to them and disappointed because Malik answered by merely calling attention to past Soviet statements and actions on the subject.

Western diplomats, remembering that Malik's last public statement in New York led to the Korean cease-fire talks, were highly interested in the exchange although one of them described the Quaker mission as a "very odd affair." He said the handling of foreign affairs should be left to governments and qualified experts and not to self-appointed delegations.

Two Gunmen Rob, Shoot Avon Woman

Bulletin!

Hartford, July 28 — (AP) — A posse of 25 State Police searched the woods and fields in the Johnson road section of Cheshire this morning for two men believed to have held up a small bar in Avon early today and shot Mrs. Idella Brown, 45, who operates the place.

Avon, July 28—(AP)—Two gunmen robbed and shot the woman proprietor of a luncheonette here early today.

Less than an hour later a car fleeing from a pursuing state police cruiser was wrecked on the College Highway in Cheshire. All the two men in it fled on foot down a side road. A posse of about 30 officers quickly assembled in an effort to track them down. Cheshire is about 25 miles south of Avon.

Senators Row Over Aid Bill

Threaten Double Testimony by Officials on 8.5 Million Program

Washington, July 28 —(AP)—Jockeying between two Senate committees threatened today to force double testimony by top government officials on the $8,500,000,000 foreign aid program.

Chairman Russell (D. Ga.) of the Senate Armed Services committee told a reporter he had been unable to make any satisfactory arrangements for his group to sit in on Foreign Relations committee hearings on the bill.

Chairman Connally (D. Tex.) of the latter group said Armed Services members can sit in, but indicated they can't ask questions or vote. None showed up yesterday.

As a result, Russell said that when the Foreign relations group concludes testimony, he will move that the measure then be referred to his committee.

He conceded this will delay Senate action on the program and force return testimony by such witnesses as Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Marshall and the top military brass.

"Our committee has heard disturbing reports that some equipment in very short supply for our own forces would be delivered in very considerable quantities to Europe under this bill," Russell said.

He said the armed services group wants to know which countries will get arms and what kind, since the distribution of

Says Iran Oil Accord Rests With Britain

London, July 28— (AP) —W. Averell Harriman flew in from Tehran today and told newsmen he thought the Iranian oil crisis could be solved if Britain agrees to Iran's proposals for reopening negotiations.

"I am hopeful that proposals that the Iranian government have made will form the basis of the two governments getting together," he said. "I am personally quite confident that if negotiations can be re-established that a satisfactory solution would be worked out."

Harriman, President Truman's international trouble-shooter, has been in Tehran trying to bring Iran and Britain together to discuss the dispute over nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company's properties.

Last Tuesday the Iranian government, through Harriman, offered for the first time to discuss the crisis with the British government. A previous attempt to tempt by directors of the billion-dollar company broke down after one meeting.

Calls Cabinet

Harriman will talk today with Prime Minister Clement Attlee, Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison and Chancellor of the Exchequer Hugh Gaitskell.

The prime minister also summoned an emergency meeting of all his ministers for this afternoon and ordered the top men and their advisers to stand by for a round of conferences which may continue through the week-end.

"They are asking quite natural questions" about the Iranian offer, Harriman said, but declined to say what the questions were.

"I have come to London," Harriman told newsmen, "as there seem to be some questions on which the British government wanted clarification from the Iranian government. I felt it would be easier to personally discuss them than by telegram.

British officials have indicated that, before accepting Iran's offer to talk, they want assurance that British oil field workers will be freed of "interference" from Iranian officials.

Fourth Rights Trustee Jailed on Court Contempt

New York, July 28—(AP)—A Federal Civil Rights Congress (CRC) bail fund trustee, Abner Green, was in jail today for refusing to assist the government's hunt for a quartet of fugitive, top-ranking Communists.

Jailing of Green on a contempt conviction yesterday was the top development as United States authorities pushed a home-front offensive against domestic Reds.

Another government action was a motion to force William Z. Foster, the ailing titular head of American Communism, to supply a new $10,000 bail or go to jail. He currently is free on CRC bail, which has been outlawed by a federal judge.

Four In Frisco Jail

In San Francisco, bail was fixed at $50,000 each for seven of 12 California Communist leaders arrested on Thursday.

Four others, unable to dig up $75,000 bail each, remained behind bars in Los Angeles.

The 12th secondary Communist, William Schneiderman, failed to get his $100,000 bond reduced before a federal commissioner here. Schneiderman, the party's California chairman, reportedly has

Leopard Skin Rug Worth $100,000

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh V. Giltner, of Pueblo, Colo., and their daughter, Deloris (center) are shown with a huge leopard skin rug sent them by their son, Sgt. Elverne H. Giltner, from Korea, where he is serving with the Eighth Army. The New York Times, July 27, quoted Korean Consul General David Namkoong as saying the rug is worth $100,000 and is a "priceless cultural treasure." It is 18 feet 11 inches, by eight feet in size, and is made of 48 matched leopard skins. Sgt. Giltner wrote his mother that he bought the rug from a Koran and that it came from the Chang Duk palace in Korea.

Dixiecrats Are Poised For Truman Showdown

Washington, July 28—(AP)—Southern Democrats in Congress are watchfully awaiting any belligerent move by President Truman as the signal for a political finish fight in 1952.

All Mr. Truman has to do is to say the word about Civil Rights or to criticize them openly, and the political firing on Fort Sumter view a statement last week by will begin.

Some Dixie leaders evidently Senator Humphrey (D., Minn.), invoking the Southerners to leave the party as the first shot in a battle they now believe Mr. Truman is planning to make against them.

Humphrey was the leader in a move to strengthen the Civil Rights plank at the 1948 Democratic convention. He succeeded and some of the Southern delegates walked out.

FEPC Hot Point

The central point of controversy between the President and the southerners has been a Mr. Truman's proposal for a Fair Employment Practices commission (FEPC). It would be charged with preventing race, creed or color discrimination in job hiring.

This is the closest approach to a frontal attack on the race segregation practiced throughout the South and is regarded by many Southerners as the opening wedge for abolition of segregation.

On the Civil Rights issue, Mr. Truman lost 39 electoral votes to 16 states' rights picked four years ago but still beat Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, the Republican nominee, 303 to 189. That would seem to uphold Humphrey's argument that the Democratic party doesn't need the conservative Southerners.

See Truman Upset

But the Dixie Democrats say that if Mr. Truman challenges them, it may be a different story in 1952.

This time, they intend to make their fight within the party, probably under the leadership of such men as Gov. James F. Byrnes of

Warns U. S. Get Set for Emergency

Detroit, July 28—(AP)—President Truman bitterly accused Russia today of making dangerous, war-like military preparations "around the world" and warned his country to get ready for "any emergency."

Mr. Truman questioned whether the Communists "really desire peace in Korea" since, he said, Soviet rulers "are putting themselves in a position where they can commit new acts of aggression at any time."

And he assailed administration critics at home for "trying to stir up trouble and suspicion between the people and their government."

Charges Big Lie

"They are using the smear and the big lie for personal security and partisan advantage, needless of the damage they do their country," he asserted. "Never, not even in the bitterest political campaign, have I seen such a flood of lies and slander as is now pouring from over the country."

Mr. Truman flew here from Washington to address an outdoor ceremony in Cadillac square in front of the City Hall as part of this industrial city's 250th anniversary celebration.

"We can not let our guard down, no matter what happens in Korea," he said in his prepared speech.

Urges Preparedness Now

"We must have men, ships, planes, tanks, and bombs—on hand —ready for any emergency."

The President said Russia's actions "certainly are no indication of peaceful intentions" and went on:

"We do not yet know whether the Communists really desire peace in Korea or whether they are simply trying to gain by ne-

13-State Hunt For Four Men

One in Annapolis Jail Break Described by Police as Dangerous

Annapolis, Md., July 28.—(AP)—A 13-state alarm was broadcast today for four men—one of them described as "dangerous"—who overpowered a lone guard and escaped from the Annapolis jail last night.

Sheriff Joseph Alton of Anne Arundel county said the four made their getaway in an Annapolis taxicab.

County and state police set up road blocks as soon as the break was reported and State police in 12 other states were alerted to be on the lookout for the quartet.

The sheriff identified the ringleader as Ray Weber, about 32, parolee from Utah, held here on two charges of breaking and entering. Alton said Weber was dangerous.

The other three who escaped

Arrest 9 in 3 Million Counterfeit, Dope Ring

New York, July 28.—(AP)—Federal authorities early today arrested eight men and a woman, described as members of a $3,000,000 a year French-Italian counterfeiting and dope ring.

Deported vice king Charles "Lucky" Luciano was named as head of the Italian link of the alleged 19-member smuggling combine by Assistant U. S. Attorney Louis I. Kaplan, who added:

"This is the largest Italian-French smuggling ring ever to come to the attention of the district attorney's office."

Seven of the men were arraigned early today after seizure of bogus money with a face value of $100,000 delivered to an undercover agent last night in a midtown Manhattan hotel. Authorities said the bundle of fake 10 and 20 dollar bills, delivered in a cardboard suitcase by two men, was to be exchanged for $22,000 in real currency.

The seven were held in a total of $450,000 bail by U. S. Commissioner Edward McDonald, who set a hearing for August 10.

At the arraignment, Assistant U. S. Attorney Eugene F. Roth said:

"These men are here on charges involving the importing of narcotics. They represent one of the largest conspiracies in the illegal drug trade ever to come to our notice. This is the first time we
