Two Manchester garagemen were down to the town during the other night when one fellow remarked to the other, "Jeepers, listen to dat smell."

Along these lines, a correspondent sent in a long article recently which told of a dance at which there were "many on looking listeners."

Our mailbag tells us that the following is a view supported by the local Chamber of Commerce.

"Senator Aiken, of Vermont, has been championing the proposed St. Lawrence waterway-hydroelectric project ever since Hector was a pup on the grounds that the power plant would bring oodles of weal to the people of his native New England. In one flight of fancy he visualized 10 million migrant Britishers settling in his State and nearby Canada.

"He continues to ballyhoo the benefits of this power, notwithstanding that the Federal Power Commission has said publicly that the amount of power which New England would receive from the St. Lawrence plant, even if it received a generous allocation, would have only a negligible effect upon the area's power needs and its power costs.

"The commission first made this statement in a letter to Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts; subsequently made the statement public."

Now we aren't here to discuss the merits, or lack of them, of the St. Lawrence project. We're just interested because the Manchester (Conn.) Chamber of Commerce is listed as a member of the organization that authored the above bulletin, the National St. Lawrence Project Conference, a national organization in opposition.

We were talking to Mrs. Martha Stevenson, secretary of the local organization, and she told us that the group had joined the conference long before she became a member of it.

The Conference is apparently a worthwhile organization since the bulletin lists about 231 member groups, most of them chambers of commerce, from throughout the country.

We were just wondering how many members of the local Chamber of Commerce agree with the stated view or whether they even know enough about the project to either agree or disagree.

Along with our standard copy rules we would like to inform our readers of the picture situation. Many people do not know the method of printing a picture in a newspaper, and it often causes disappointment or misunderstanding.

When a picture is brought to a newspaper it must go through a process of photo-engraving. The Herald, not having a photo-engraving plant of its own, sends the pictures to Hartford to have a metal plate made from them, known in the printing parlance as a cut. Making the photo-engraving does not damage the picture, and the person who brought it to us can call at the office and get it back.

Here's where the misunderstanding comes in. Often a person who has had a picture appear in the paper before does not realize that it can be used over and over again. Because of that he will send in a second picture to be engraved. If it is not checked in our files, and that sometimes happens, we send it to be engraved and end up with a useless duplicate cut. We also, chances are, end up with one more picture in our already crowded file of pictures which have never been called for by their owners.

More and more frequently people come into the office with tinted or color pictures. We can not use this type of photograph. The engraving more often than not comes out so dark as to be unrecognizable.

Snapshots to be useful must be very clear and sharp. It must be realized that the picture cannot be improved in the engraving, and almost always it loses a certain amount of its clarity.

The fact that we must send our pictures to Hartford makes it imperative that any picture which is to be used on a certain date be sent in ahead of time so that we can have it for the appropriate issue of the paper. Spot news photos we can get through special service, but too many special service photos will jam the engraver so that the service is no longer special.

We are often asked why we refuse to print bridal pictures after the wedding is over. The reason for this rule at the office is that once the wedding is over, that is only value to a wedding cut, for the paper cannot use a wedding cut again. We will accept a wedding picture which comes in promptly with the wedding story before the time of the wedding. Pictures taken the day of the wedding are not developed and given to us in time to be used. They must be taken ahead of time.

A glossy portrait picture makes the best cut. You can obtain one from your photographer, and you will either give it to you or send it in to us.

We hope that this explanation will clear up many of the misunderstandings which have occurred in the past.

Once again our inquisitiveness in this column has born fruit to use the phrase loosely. Last Saturday we mentioned in our "Whatever-became-of" paragraph a note to the effect that Golden Sweet apples seemed to have disappeared.

John Hill down on Spencer street came to our rescue and sent us a bag of Golden Sweets this morning. He has three Golden Sweet apple trees among others in his orchard.

This must be the season for Golden Sweets. We have heard rumbling about the famous Russet apples.

Christie F. McCormick and his Fire Protection and Utilities Study committee deserve the thanks of Manchester citizens for their excellent report which was presented to the Board of Directors and other officials this week.

The committee was appointed in December of last year and told to investigate the water and fire protection systems here. This the committee did, and the group has collected several pages of interesting, valuable facts, with the aid of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the local League of Women Voters, and various town and district officials.

Many probably will not agree with all the conclusions reached and recommendations made by the committee. But the group did their job and did it well with a commendable sense of civic responsibility.

To Chairman McCormick, Anthony D'Avanzo, Laurence Eddy, Albert Foy, Mrs. Louis Heard and George Williams—thank you.

Having read about towing rackets in New York and other parts of the State of Connecticut, I have wondered how certain tow men in Manchester got to wrecks so fast, sometimes even before the police.

I now know and thought other people might want to know. I was near a gas station at Manchester Green when I heard a radio announce locations of police cars and I even heard Chief Schendel talking. I inquired and found this gas station also has one for State Police calls to their men in the field.

Heard Along Main Street

And on Some of Manchester's Side Streets, Too

Fall and winter programs will soon be starting in Manchester again, after the Labor Day holiday, and this is as good a time as any to explain to readers who act as club or group correspondents the proper way to turn in copy to The Herald.

1. Write on only one side of the paper.

2. Never carry a paragraph over to another paper.

3. Start stories several inches from the top of paper to allow editor space to mark in heading.

4. Always sign items. List telephone as additional information may be needed.

5. Don't write heads, let the editor do that after he receives the copy.

6. If typing copy, always double space, leaving room for corrections.

7. If written in long hand, print names. Also, use full names, i.e. John Smith, not J. Smith; leave space between lines.

8. Get items into The Herald as early as possible. Sports items must be received no later than 9:30 a. m. Monday through Friday, and 8:30 a. m. on Saturday to insure publication. General news items should be turned into The Herald as early as possible. Deadline is 2 p. m.

Correspondents who follow the above rules will get along fine with ye editor.

Municipal Offices Reopen Saturdays

Today marks the last of the Saturday morning closings this summer for the Municipal building, and all offices will return to the regular schedule next Saturday, Sept. 1.

Acting on a petition presented by Municipal Building employes last May, the Board of Directors agreed to permit Saturday closings during June, July and August providing that the offices remain open until 7 p. m. Thursdays for the convenience of the public. An ordinance revision later permitted the town clerk's office to assume the same schedule.

The Muncipal building, under its regular schedule, will remain open until noon Saturdays.

Claim British Armed Forces Move to Iraq

Abadan, Iran, Aug. 27—(AP)—Iranian sources said today three British tank-landing craft, loaded with tanks and troops, entered the mouth of Shatt-el-Arab river and headed toward Basra, Iraq, early today.

These sources said an Iranian gunboat, the Simorgh, was at the river mouth about 60 miles from Abadan and alerted Abadan's civil and military authorities to the presence of the British vessels, which were said to have passed by Abadan at about 2 a. m.

Hours after Hussein Makki, Tehran nationalist who was in charge of carrying out the law nationalizing the Anglo-Iranian Oil company holdings around Oil Abadan, said in a speech that "if British troops land in Iran, even though we are short of weapons, we will defend ourselves with our bare hands." He was addressing 20,000 persons at memorial services commemorating the deaths of Iranians during the Allied occupation of Iran in 1941.

Also Leave Door Open For Parley

Tokyo, Tuesday, Aug. 28—(AP)—The Communist high command today bitterly rejected the allied charge that it alleged Kaesong neutrality violation but, at the same time, left the door open to a possible resumption of the Korean armistice talks.

The Reds broke off the talks Aug. 23, alleging that an Allied plane had attempted to "murder" the Communist delegation at the Kaesong conference site.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Supreme United Nations commander, told them Saturday the charges were "malicious lies" but that he was willing to resume the armistice effort.

Reply Unsatisfactory

In a reply broadcast early today by the Peiping Radio, North Korean Premier Kim Il Sung and Chinese Red Gen. Peng Teh-huai said Ridgway's statement was "entirely unsatisfactory."

They accused him of manufacturing incidents to break up the truce talks and of "slandering" the Communists.

Following a wordy complaint that reiterated all the old Red charges, they then stated:

"We hereby once more propose to you that this case arising of provocation should be dealt with by four side with a attitude of serious responsibility. Then the continuation of the negotiations for a fair and reasonable armistice agreement can be guaranteed.

Copper Men Strike, Unions Bid Truman Take Over Industry

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

America's strategic copper industry ground to a halt today. Union leaders asked President Truman to take it over when last-minute negotiations failed to avert a strike.

As a 7 a. m. (local time) deadline moved across the nation, members of the Independent International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers went off the job.

The union, principal one in the wage dispute with the copper industry, has been an independent since it was thrown out of the CIO last year along with others accused of following the Communist line. It once was the mainstay of the old United Mine Workers World (IWW).

Hit first were the smelters on the East Coast, then those in the Midwest. Picket lines were set up. No violence was reported. Union members at the big Barber, N. J., American Smelting and Refining plant said local negotiations also were off, at least for the time being.

Truman Silent

Officers of the independent union telegraphed their seizure request to President Truman early today.

There was no immediate indication of Mr. Truman's attitude toward the request.

"I don't have anything on that at this moment," Joseph Short, White House press secretary, said when asked about it in mid-morning.

"Do you foresee anything during the day?" he was asked.

"I think you'll have to take things as they come," Short said.

Strike Shuts Three Plants

American Brass Men Walk in Torrington, Ansonia and Buffalo

Waterbury, Aug. 27—(AP)—Three plants of the American Brass company were closed today by strikes which had not spread to several others.

Pickets paraded before the Torrington and Ansonia plants in Connecticut and the Buffalo, N. Y. plant.

Unaffected by the strike were company plants at Detroit, Kenosha, Wisc., and Waterbury.

J. Harold Madden, public relations director for the huge company, said the company is preparing to meet with Federal Conciliator George Roewer today. Madden, however, expressed little hope for an agreement because, he said, the positions of both sides remain unchanged.

The union is demanding a 32 cents-an-hour package wage settlement which is geared to the copper industry workers. The company has rejected this demand and has refused to make a counter proposal.

About 2,500 workers are affected by the Ansonia strike and 1,300 are affected at Torrington.

Sees Accord on Cut In Corp. Tax Boost

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—Chairman George (D., Ga.) said today the Senate Finance committee is nearing a decision on corporation and excess profits levies in the tax increase bill.

George said he believed firm agreements would be reached at an afternoon session.

The group is expected to make cuts in the $2,855,000,000 of additional corporate taxes voted by the House as a part of its $7,200,000,000 tax hike measure.

The Senate committee already tentatively has lopped $438,000,000 off the personal income tax increase voted by the House.

George said the committee also would go into cases where the excess profits tax pinches hard.

Earlier, the chairman told newsmen he believes a majority of the committee "wants to do something" about tax-exempt earnings of certain cooperative and mutual banking, savings and loan and insurance groups.

Personally, George said, he believes "there is no excuse for not taxing these sources to some extent."

Emphasizing he was making no predictions to the final decisions, he said there has been talk in the committee of tapping undistributed earnings of such companies and mutuals for some $75,000,000 to $100,000,000 of taxes.

Not all such cooperatives and mutuals are tax exempt.

George said that was just one of a variety of things the committee has in mind to compensate at least partially for sharp cuts it has made in the yields proposed by the tax bill the House has passed.

The Senate committee already has topped an estimated $856,000,000 from the total $7,200,000,000 the House had voted. All the cuts so far have been made in the taxes

U. S. May Alter Policy On India, Jap Pact Foe

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—A new and less benevolent American policy toward India appeared certain today to result from Prime Minister Nehru's refusal to sign a United States-sponsored peace treaty with Japan.

American officials made no secret of their bitter disappointment at India's public denunciation of the proposed treaty, signed yesterday as it did only nine days before the start of a Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco Sept. 4.

India's arguments for boycotting the signing, officials here said, seemed to echo Russia's long standing objections, and give powerful, timely ammunition to a new Moscow propaganda drive to wreck the Japanese treaty.

Will Sign Own Treaty

In New Delhi, Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru told parliament today that India will sign a separate treaty with Japan as soon as Japan has achieved independent status.

Nehru, whose treaty statement brought cheers from parliament, did not say what he meant by "independent status." However, it was explained later that he was referring to Japan's position after the signing and ratification of the San Francisco treaty.

A separate peace between the U. S. and Japan is expected to be signed after the multi-nation peace treaty is disposed. That pact would provide a new legal basis for keeping U. S. troops in Japan for its defense.

The State department yesterday made public India's decision not to sign the U. S. backed treaty along with an accompanying American rejection of India's arguments.

New York, Aug. 27—(AP)—One thousand persons attended a funeral mass today for Maj. William V. Holohan, who was slain almost seven years ago behind enemy lines in Italy and his body dumped in a lake.

The body was recovered from the lake and returned to New York last week.

Anti-Soviet Bloc Seen In Southeast Europe

Bled, Yugoslavia, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Formation of a strong defensive block against Russian imperialism in southeastern Europe is believed here to have been the aim of W. Averell Harriman's week-end visit to Marshal Tito.

Harriman, President Truman's top-ranking diplomatic trouble shooter, paused in Yugoslavia Saturday and Sunday en route from Tehran, Iran, to London.

It is an open secret that the U. S., Britain and various other Atlantic Pact countries would like countries in this area—Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey and perhaps Italy—to draw together in a military alliance.

Could Challenge Reds

Collectively they could mount enough strength in fighting men and material to challenge, with American help, Soviet hopes of obtaining a controlling position in the Mediterranean.

Yugoslavia has an army second in size only to Russia on the European continent; the Greek army has been toughened by its experience in the recently-ended civil war and is equipped by the U. S.* The Turks always have proved formidable foes.

Support for the alliance was demonstrated by Congressional passage of the Greek-Turkey aid

Fort Bragg, N. C., Aug. 27—(AP)—The Carolina war games ended today in complete victory by U. S. forces.

Umpires said that the 43rd and 28th Infantry divisions, and the 6,000 paratroopers of the 82nd Airborne division, had jumped over the week-end, "knocked out" the enemy aggressor.

The infantrymen and the paratroopers linked up for the final push that overwhelmed the enemy as the two-week exercise Southern Pine closed. The maneuver, largest field training exercise since World War II, involved 110,000 soldiers and airmen.

Theoretically, the enemy came up from the Caribbean area.

One Dead, 15 Hurt In 2 Car Crashes

Norwalk, Aug. 27 — (AP) — A Brooklyn, N. Y., man was killed, his wife was injured seriously and 15 other persons hurt in two automobile accidents on the Merritt Parkway here yesterday.

Dead is Jack Levy 45, of 151 Ten Eyck Walk, Brooklyn, N. Y. On the danger list at Norwalk Hospital was Levy's wife, Amy, with fractures of the spine, pelvis and right wrist. Seriously hurt and under arrest charged with operating a motor vehicle so as to cause loss of life was Mandell W. Gardner, 48, of 1115 Union street, Brooklyn.

Gardner's wife, Amelia, 46, suffered a fractured pelvis and internal injuries while Herman Guber-

Bernarr Proves Something With Air Leap--But What?

New York, Aug. 27—(AP)—Physical culturist Bernarr MacFadden, who celebrated his 83rd birthday with a 2,000-foot parachute jump into the Hudson river, yesterday, says he is good for things like this for 10 more years.

"I recommend this for everybody," he adds. "It's a damn good thing to do. I could do it every day in the week."

When MacFadden was fished out of the Hudson after his jump yesterday, he said:

Niagara Falls Next

"I feel like a million. I feel 25. Next year, I'm going to jump over Niagara Falls."

MacFadden's parachute leap yesterday was for the dual purpose, he said, of demonstrating that "old age is just a habit" and that U. S. paratroopers need have no fear of landing in water.

But the publisher of health pamphlets and romance magazines almost failed to accomplish the second purpose. A wind caught MacFadden and almost dashed him into the Rocky Palisades.

Then he narrowly missed a clump of trees on the cliff, and finally landed in the river only 20 feet off the New Jersey Shore.

Senate May Slash Aid Bill Billion or More This Week

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—The big foreign aid bill reached the Senate floor this week amid signs it will sustain or possibly even increase a billion-dollar cut over President Truman's protests. Debate is scheduled to start tomorrow.

The Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations committee have recommended a $7,835,000,000 authorization, as compared to the $8,600,000,000 Mr. Truman asked for military and economic assistance abroad.

Expect Big Cut

Although the President reportedly has protested vigorously in conference with legislators, administration leaders appear resigned to a sizeable cut.

Some Democrats have said they would support moves to increase the authorization but none seemed ready to lead any serious fight.

Senators Kefauver (D., Tenn) and Fulbright (D., Ark) said Saturday they believe the amount approved by the Senate committees is too small but neither had any plan to propose an increase.

Senator Connally (D., Tex), on the other hand, called for deeper cuts in foreign economic aid. "We can't go on forever supporting the whole world," he said.

The committees voted to cut out about $675,000,000 in economic aid and $260,000,000 in military help.

Connally said he would prefer to see the military reduction restored. But if it's not restored, he said he would still favor making the economic cut an even $1,000,000,000 instead of $675,000,000.

5 Groups Probing United Air Crash

Oakland, Calif., Aug. 27—(AP)—Five investigations were aimed today at determining the cause of the United Airlines crash Friday which killed 56 persons.

The probes were pressed by the Civil Aeronautics Board, Douglas Aircraft company (maker of the plane), Pratt-Whitney (maker of the plane's engines), the FBI and the Alameda county sheriff's office.

A DC6B, United's newest and fastest four-engined transport, ended a cross-country flight when it rammed into a hill only a few minutes flight from Oakland airport.

United announced Saturday night that the last body had been recovered and identified. The victims included 44 passengers and a crew of six.

Town Backing Festival Float

Development Body Puts Okay on $500 Donation for Local Display

The Development Commission has recommended that the town donate $500 to the float which will represent Manchester in the Connecticut Valley Clams Festival in Hartford Sept. 11, General Manager George H. Waddell reported this morning.

The Board of Directors at their meeting last week voted to accept the decision of the developers on the matter and authorized Waddell to act in the interim before its next meeting.

Waddell stated that the funds will be taken from the budget of the Development Commission.

Thomas J. Hackett, chairman of the festival committee here, appeared at the directors' meeting last week to request the financial support of the town. Other groups in town, such as the merchants, have already donated to the fund, which will cost about $1,500, he said.

Hackett told the directors that the float is really a community project and will provide good advertising for the town.

After some discussion, the directors referred the matter to the Development Commission and, to save time, agreed to accept the commission's recommendation.

U. S. May Alter Policy on India

tion, meanwhile, was on the high seas bound for the United States. Headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, the Soviets are expected to unleash an all-out propaganda barrage at the pact at San Francisco and then stage a walkout.

In Moscow, the Soviet government newspaper attacked the proposed treaty as an American attempt to set Japan against other Asian peoples and make it into an American colony.

The proposed Japanese-American military agreements, the paper added, mean "strangulation of the national interests of Japan."

At least 46 nations are expected by American diplomats to approve the peace pact despite Russia's threats. Only Burma and Yugoslavia so far have joined India in refusing to sign.

Key State department officials said they are convinced the timing and nature of India's criticisms were not set to give added punch to Moscow's expected propaganda offensive.

Rather, they attributed it to what some of them view as a misguided effort by Nehru to steer a neutral course in the East-West conflict and emerge as leader of the Asiatic democracies.

These officials indicated to a reporter that the State department intends to substitute tougher diplomatic tactics for the almost unlimited patience and kindness it was displayed in dealing with Nehru so far.

Nehru's somewhat tardy and spectacular refusal to sign the American-British sponsored treaty they said, in effect constitutes a blanket indictment of American policy throughout the Far East.

This clearly calls for a re-examination of past American policies to determine what can be done to make India and other southeast Asia nations understand basic American aims more correctly.

Airs Objections

In rejecting its conference invitation, India assailed the final treaty draft because it:

1. Fails to turn over Formosa to Communist China.

2. Does not confirm Russia's present hold on the Kurile Islands and southern Sakhalin.

3. Gives the United States trusteeship control of the Ryukyu and Bonin Islands instead of returning them to Japan.

4. Allows American occupation forces to stay on in Japan.

The treaty draft as written, India concluded, contains the "seeds of a new dispute" in the Far East, and at the same time fails to restore Japan to a position of "honor, equality and contentment among the community of free nations."

phur and raw tartar, the sources said.

Meanwhile, the West's tightening restrictions against reporting vital raw materials and equipment behind the Iron Curtain in reports of to be causing critical shortages in Communist areas.

Qualified informants said that, in addition to publicly recognized purchasing agents, Iron Curtain countries are making purchases through clandestine agents.

In one West European country the Polish and Russian clandestine purchasing agents have been trying to outbid one another, these sources said.

For electrolytic copper of 99.9 per cent purity, the Polish purchaser is paying 12 to 15 per cent above world prices while his Russian competitor is paying 18 to 20 per cent premiums, the informant said. Middlemen who can arrange purchases are offered three per cent commissions.

Keenest bidding is reported for electrolytic copper, large ball bearings, refined sulphur and industrial diamonds.

The informants said the agents operate all over Europe, but concentrate on Italy and The Netherlands. Payment is in any hard currency desired, through accounts in Swiss banks, the sources said.

are a constant menace to the community," the report said.

Several examples of violations without the names of the pharmacists involved, were cited by the commission.

Turning to physicians, the commission said it was "extremely unfortunate" the responsibility for a sizable part of any violations of the law on dangerous drugs "must be placed on the doorstep of the physicians of the state."

Many of these physicians, the report declared, "display a pronounced reluctance to cooperate with a law enforcement agency."

The law provides, the commission recalled, that dangerous drugs can be obtained only by prescription—and prescriptions cannot be refilled except by written or oral order of the physician.

"Many reports come from pharmacists about physicians who fail to cooperate with them on refills. In other cases the physicians are reported to have approved refills at such important intervals that it is apparent that dosage directions . . . have been violated by the patient."

Directions Violated

In the case of a Hartford woman, the report said, a physician continued to approve refills "at such frequent intervals that it was apparent that dosage directions . . . had been violated by the patient."

Repeated refills, with the knowledge of the physician, led the woman to become an addict, taking "2,300 sleeping pills in a four-month period."

A New Haven physician, the report said, prescribed a six-month supply of a dangerous drug "at one time."

"A small fraction of this amount," the commission said, "would have caused death of the patient."

In Meriden a patient visited two physicians and obtained a prescription for 400 phenobarbital capsules from one, 600 from the other.

"This was despite the fact that physicians have repeatedly been asked by the commission to prescribe only the amount of the dangerous drug sufficient for emergency."

One man, the commission recalled, became a drug addict and asked to be taken into State Police custody because he felt he was "a danger to others."

The drug victim said he had illegally purchased the capsules from a New Britain pharmacy and "expressed the desire to shut off his source of supply by helping secure evidence against the pharmacist." The case was followed up with the pharmacist, fined $400, with a four-month suspended jail sentence added.

Arsenic was sold over-the-counter to a man who said he wanted it to kill some crows, the report said. Police said the man later confessed he intended to use it "to kill his wife."

Ten hearings and two prosecutions on drug violations were conducted by the commission during the last year.

Food Checked

The food industry also came under the commission's fire in the annual report.

Continued checking of food in all forms, the report said, indicate that there are many "careless or otherwise unscrupulous individuals operating in the food industry." Cases of manufacture and distribution of adulterated or misbranded foods were given in the report.

As a result of in eatigation 210 embargoes on foods were placed during the past year which ended June 30.

Violations included short-weight candy and butter, hamburg containing sulphite to give it a "natural redness," horseradish containing turnips and parsips and "pure" grape juice containing 30 per cent added water.

cently arrived in western Europe who had high contacts in the Hungarian defense ministry.

The treaty reportedly also calls for Hungary to send complete units to Russia for training with Hungary again paying the bills.

This is causing ill-feeling in the small Danubian country which is already burdened with the high cost of Soviet occupation, according the reports.

Hungarian units under Soviet command will participate in maneuvers in the Ukraine at the end of October and in early November. A large group of Hungarian staff officers finished training courses in the Soviet Union in May. Combat and general staff officers studied at Leningrad; intelligence officers and political commissars went to Moscow.

Hold Last Rites For Maj. Holohan

followed in Gate of Heaven cemetery, Pleasantville, N. Y.

In Washington yesterday, Rep. Cole (R., N. Y.), asked for a "top-to-bottom" investigation by the House Armed Services committee of what he termed "the Defense department's baffling performance" in connection with the death of Holohan.

Cole said in a statement that he wanted the Defense department to tell why, as he put it, it has shown so little interest in pushing the case to a final and complete solution.

Holohan was slain by his two American aides, according to the Defense department, and two Italian partisans. The Italians soon will go on trial in Italy as accomplices.

The two Americans, former Lieut. Aldo Icardi, of Pittsburgh, and former Sgt. Carlo G. LoDolce, of Rochester, N. Y., have denied the account. LoDolce has repudiated a confession attributed to him.

Boyle to Testify In Probe of RFC

previously mentioned in connection with the loan will be called along with Boyle as witnesses.

Hoey is chairman of the special investigations subcommittee which announced Saturday it will check into allegations that the American Lithofold Corp.—turned down three times—succeeded in getting a loan approved during Boyle as an attorney.

The St. Louis Post-Dispatch published a series of stories in which it said Boyle was paid $5,000 for his services.

Boyle said he received $1,250 from the firm for legal work he did before quitting his law practice to become a fulltime employe of the Democratic committee in 1949. He has said his work for the printing firm had nothing to do with the RFC loans.

Informed of the proposed Senate probe, Boyle issued a statement Saturday in Beverly Hills, Calif., in which he said:

"I will be glad to cooperate in any way with Senator Hoey and his committee. I am sure that the facts will develop full substantiation of my former statement."

The Post-Dispatch, meanwhile, reported that Cecil A. Green, whom it identified as a former business associate of Boyle, is employed by American Lithofold as a "Washington secret."

In a copyrighted dispatch from Washington, the newspaper said Green has been on the St. Louis firm's payroll at $500 a month since 1949. It added:

"Since 1949, when American Lithofold began to employ influential Washington and St. Louis politicians, the firm and its subsidiary, American Carbon Paper Co. of Chicago, have received $1,038,633 in government printing orders.

man, 44, of 1280 St. John's Place, Brooklyn, N. Y., was hospitalized with rib fractures and other injuries. Nancy Gradner, 11, suffered minor injuries.

State Policeman William Matthews said the station wagon driven by Gardner and with the Levys and Guberman as passengers, was east-bound when it hurtled across the esplanade into Park Place, a west-bound car operated by Koati Orlynkowich, 55, of 291 Coram avenue, Shelton. Four occupants of this car were injured, two of them seriously.

Bronko Orlynkowich, 58, of New York City, brother of the driver was hospitalized with a brain concussion and chest injuries. John Lotko, 38, of Shelton, also suffered a brain concussion. Orlynkowich and his wife, Agnes, 38, suffered mino injuries.

The accident tied up traffic on both lanes of the parkway. The second and related accident resulted from the tieup. A mile west of the first crash a car operated by Miss Margaretta Mumford, 22, of 256 manor circle, Takoma Park, Md. struck the rear of a car stalled by the traffic tieup.

Injured in the collision were:

Mrs. Mabel Mulhound, the mother of the driver, concussion of the brain and multiple head injuries.

Robert Sheller, 44, an attorney of 1538 Undercliff avenue, Bronx, N. Y., possible fracture of the breast bone; his wife Helen, 41, possible fracture of the left ankle.

The Shellers refused to be hospitalized and left after receiving treatment. Three others injured in the second accident did not require hospital treatment.

Traffic was tied up for about five miles in either direction along the heavily traveled parkway while ambulances took the injured to the hospital.

Southeast Europe Alliance Is Seen

bill which bolstered anti-Russian morale in both countries.

Split Widens

With the split between Tito and Stalin the situation improved further.

Yugoslavia, while insisting on a neutral position, had to turn to the West for economic aid and military equipment no longer available from its one time Communist allies.

All these factors were brought out over the luncheon table Saturday where Harriman and Tito sat talking for five hours.

It is doubtful if the chain-smoking Harriman emphasized too strongly the U. S. desire for a southeast Europe alliance since he is well aware of how suspicious and resentful other countries are of American interference in their affairs. But it is probable that he emphasized to Tito that the spigots of American aid—both military and economic—would be opened wider if Yugoslavia will say frankly where it will stand in event of a third world war.

Trieste Is Problem

Harriman, who had had wide diplomatic experience in London, Moscow and Washington, looks at the problem of southeastern Europe from a geographical rather than a political point of view.

To him it seems natural that Yugoslavia, Greece and Turkey should be drawn together for protection against Russia despite their political differences.

It is a bit different in the case of Italy. Open wounds still remain between Yugoslav and Italians stemming from the Italian peace treaty. Until such questions as the future of Trieste are solved there seems little chance of partnership.

Harriman spent Saturday night in a villa across a lake from Tito's home. Notes of the American song "Solitude" drifted over the water — expressing Yugoslavia's present position in the world.

Perhaps Harriman's talks have helped to change the tune.

HARRIMAN DISAPPOINTED

London, Aug. 27—(AP)— W. Averell Harriman has an appointment this afternoon with Prime Minister Clement Attlee to discuss the breakdown of Iranian oil negotiations.

Before seeing Attlee, President Truman's personal envoy will lunch with Richard Stokes who was head of the British oil mission to Iran.

Harriman told a new conference yesterday he was "very much disappointed that the talks came to an impasse in Tehran. I believe there is a basis for a settlement and I hope that the talks may be resumed under circumstances where there can be a practical discussion of problems that are still unresolved."

Attack Premier

Meanwhile, Iranian Premier Mossadegh was attacked in his Parliament in Tehran for failure of the talks. The attack was seen as the first move of an effort by Mossadegh's opponents to force his resignation before the general elections scheduled in November.

The attacker was shouted down by Nationalists with the cry of "traitor."

HAIRCUT—TWO BITS

"I made a good living 50 years ago and I'm making a good living now," John Widger maintains.

Widger works 15½ hours a day. He takes only a half hour for lunch and a nap.

Calls Shrubs Bad Hazard

Recent Complaints Make Warning Necessary to Corner Lot Owners

Recent complaints have prompted Building Inspector David Chambers to remind owners and residents of intersection properties that they are liable to fine if they maintain any shrubs or buildings that obstruct visibility and thus cause a traffic hazard. Chambers is enforcement officer for Manchester's Zoning Regulations.

Article IV, Sec. IV, of the regulations is entitled "Corner Visibility" and states: "On any corner lot, no fence or similar structure shall be erected and no hedge, shrub, tree or other growth shall be maintained so as to cause danger to traffic by obstructing the view."

Violation of the zoning regulations is punishable by a fine not less than $10 and not more than $100 for each and every day that such violation continues."

Some people may find they have some pretty expensive shrubbery on their property. Building Inspector Chambers pointed out. The violation is a serious one since it can cause accidents and possible death.

Most complaints have concerned shrubbery and hedges that have grown so high that a "blind" intersection is created for motorists. The situation poses an added hazard for any children who might be playing in the area.

Owners or residents should see that shrubbery, especially hedges, is trimmed regularly and is not allowed to grow high enough to obstruct the view of motorists or bicyclists, he said.

Hearst owned the entire 100,000 shares of Hearst Corp. common stock and 170,000 shares of preferred, with Miss Davies owning 30,000 shares of preferred stock.

Henry S. MacKay, Jr., and Randolph Apperson Hearst, special administrators of the "publisher's estate, which is scheduled for probate hearing today, issued a statement late yesterday saying they have known about what they term "the so-called agreement" of Nov. 5, 1950.

They said that although published reports have the paper making Miss Davies sole voting trustee in control of all the Hearst property, "this so-called agreement was never executed and for this and many other reasons has never been effect than if it ever existed."

The agreement in question reportedly was drawn by Gregson Bautzer, Hollywood attorney, but he declined comment, saying any legal work he may have handled for Hearst was in the confidential lawyer-client status. Miss Davies' residence in Beverly Hills said she was unavailable for comment.

Miss Davies, who went directly from a convent to a New York musical as a dancer in 1916, was married in the movies in the 1920's by Hearst-controlled film companies. She was the publisher's confidante for many years.

Hearst's will established three trusts, one for his widow, Mrs. Millicent Willson Hearst, from whom he had long lived apart; one for his five sons, and another for charitable and similar enterprises. The five sons and eight business associates, MacKay among them, were named trustees.

The will, supplemented by nine codicils, was drawn May 20, 1947. proposed an additional $1,000,000,000 cut below the figures approved by the committees.

Would Trim Personnel

Ferguson said yesterday that if the Senate rejects his across-the-board slash, he will offer an amendment to other money bills.

The Defense department would direct the $6,013,000,000 military program; the Economic Cooperation administration (ECA), the major share of the $1,522,000,000 economic assistance program, and the State department would handle "Point Four" aid to underdeveloped areas of the world. The House had voted to set up a new agency to handle all three.

SWIMMERS GET $4,800

Cairo, Egypt, Aug. 27—(AP)—Three Egyptian swimmers who spanned the English Channel Aug. 16 have been awarded a total of $4,200 by their government.

The awards came to the same amount as the prizes offered by the London Daily Mail which sponsored the mass channel race. The Egyptians had turned down the prizes, declaring the newspaper had "slandered" their ruler, King Farouk.

TEST PLANE CRASHES

Torrence, Calif., Aug. 27—(AP)—Test pilot Jesse P. Martin worked in his spare time on a custom-built airplane which he hoped would some day make him famous.

Yesterday he crashed to his death in it.

With his wife and two children and his parents looking on, Martin, a 34-year-old aircraft mechanic, took off in his home made craft at Torrence airport. At 250 feet altitude he banked into an 180 degree turn. Suddenly, it went into a spin and plunged into an open field 300 yards from the runway.

vestigation jointly with our liaison officers of the incident that occurred on Aug. 22, when your military aircraft bombed and strafed the vicinity of the residence of our delegation in order once again to prove the full validity of our protest."

The Reds, after a long, weekend of vitriolic propaganda against the United States and the United Nations, thus passed the buck back to General Ridgway.

On the basis of the previous exchanges, it appeared unlikely that he would consider their response satisfactory.

However, the Red invitation to renew the investigation at Kaesong and to seek a settlement indicated clearly they were not yet prepared to cancel the deadlocked truce talks once and for all.

The official Red reply reiterated their original charges, accused Ridgway of "slanderous" the Communists, and told him:

"Your attitude regarding the affair is such a distortion of the fact, such a denial of the truth, such a confusion of right and wrong, and such a self-contradiction that it is very hard to make people believe that they are not one of manufacturing incidents and undermining the negotiations."

The Reds thus were accusing Ridgway of the same thing that he had laid to their door—inventing an incident to wreck the armistice effort.

Whether Ridgway had received the reply official was uncertain. It was broadcast in Chinese voice, but on previous communications the Allied command has awaited an official written copy, properly delivered by liaison officer, before making comment or response.

General Ridgway himself returned to Tokyo only Monday after a flying four-hour visit to Korea. His purpose was not disclosed.

The sudden Red broadcast reply followed a massive outpouring of propaganda attacks on the United States and the Allies, which had been in full flow ever since the Communists broke off the Kaesong talks at 1:45 a. m. Thursday.

The burden of these semi-official and unofficial Red broadcasts was that, even after the breakoff, the United States had made two new land and air raids on the Kaesong area and also had sent warplanes scouting over Shanghai, Taingtao and other Chinese coastal cities.

Near the end of the day Monday, the Peiping radio said the Communists still were expecting Allied liaison officers and correspondents to return to Kaesong to investigate the original charge of a bombing the night of Aug. 22.

Welcome Home Frank

Sailor Frank S. Lent, Jr., of 10 Laurel street, is due home today from Bainbridge, Md., where he was honor man of his company—and he is expected.

His family has decorated the front of the house with a huge "Welcome home, Frank" sign. Under the sign is a nest, sprewed of spinach canes and corncob pipes.

Frank's brother, 13-year-old Dave was carefully rearranging the display this afternoon after a wandering youngster had disturbed it. He explained that the spinach and corncobs allude to the best-known sailor of all—Popeye.

Dave said brother Frank will be home for two weeks before going to the Great Lakes Naval station.

Mrs. Neill Given Farewell Party

Saturday night a surprise and bon voyage party was held for Mrs. Robert Neill at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Crealey of 56 Summit street. Mrs. Neill who is from Portadown, North Ireland, has been visiting her sister since May. She will sail on her return trip September 5, on the S. S. Washington.

The guests numbering about 40 all knew Mrs. Neill in "the Country." She was overjoyed at meeting so many of them again and all had a wonderful time reminiscing about old times and places.

On behalf of the group present, Mrs. Mary Conn and Mrs. Mary Turkington who were in charge of arrangements for the party, presented Mrs. Neill a lovely balls fringed bedspread, also a gift of bed linens and a purse of money, together with a card bearing all the guests' names.

Bingo was played and all the winners gave Mrs. Neill the prizes they won to take back with her. They included tea, soap, puddings and other items. Other games were played also group singing.

Sandwiches, cake and tea were served. One cake had a small boat on it with the words "Bon Voyage" printed on the sail and "Good Luck" printed on the sides.

The party broke up at a late hour, all wishing Mrs. Neill a safe journey home. She said she was looking forward to returning for this certainly was a wonderful country.

Several guests came from Springfield, Mass., to see her and to wish her a safe journey home.

APPROVE YOUNGDAHL

Washington, Aug. 27.—(AP)—The Senate Judiciary committee approved today the nomination of Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl of Minnesota to be a federal judge in the District of Columbia.

Youngdahl, three times Republican governor of Minnesota, was named by President Truman to succeed the late Judge T. Alan Goldsborough, a Maryland Democrat.

Copper Unions Ask Truman Take Over

union announced the appeal to the President a few minutes after some 12 hours of mediation talks in Washington broke up without settlement of the dispute.

The IUMMSW officers also announced that the strike of 58,000 union members scheduled for 7 a. m. (local time) today would begin as set.

Mediators Fail

The Washington meeting, sponsored by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation service, was aimed at averting a strike scheduled for Kennecott Copper company properties in Utah.

If acceptable to representatives of the company, AFL unions and the mine, mill and smelter workers, a government peace proposal was expected to have provided a pattern for avoiding the nationwide non-ferrous metals industry strike or for settling it.

In announcing its appeal to President Truman, the union reported for the first time the terms of the government proposal, made by Cyrus Ching, director of the Mediation and Conciliation service.

The smelter workers said the government proposed wage increases averaging 16 cents an hour and a pension plan to cost about four and a half cents an hour.

Blames Producers

The union said it wired the president:

"Refusal by Kennecott and other producers to accept the Ching proposal puts the responsibility for the shutdown on them and therefore we ask that you use your powers to have the government take over the industry immediately and put the Ching proposal into effect."

In Washington, Mediation service officials said the meeting broke up after Kennecott officials turned down the government proposal.

were proceeding normally. They are the U. S. Metal Refining Co., at Carteret; Raritan Copper Works, a division of Anaconda Copper Mining Co. here, and the Phelps-Dodge Copper Co. plant in Elizabeth.

The American Smelting workers walked off their jobs to support a demand for a 20½-cent an hour package pay increase. The company offered a package increase of about 10 cents. Negotiations broke off last Friday. No negotiations are scheduled today.

Some 300 pickets paraded in orderly fashion in front of the plant today, with only top management officials permitted to enter the plant.

The last strike at the plant was in Feb., 1946, and lasted for 16 weeks.

An agreement for a package pay increase of between 20½ and 21 cents an hour was reached yesterday at the U. S. Metal Refining Plant with Local 637, Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

The Raritan copper works recently signed a contract with Local 17 of the Mechanics Educational Society of America.

from the south Iranian oil fields ended today with the arrival here of Field Manager Peter Cox.

Britain ordered the men to leave the fields and concentrate at the Abadan refinery when negotiations over Iran's nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil company's properties broke down.

Cox said the "Evacuation was completed smoothly and without a hitch. There was no hostility and the senior Persians (Iranians) seemed genuinely distressed. Everyone was extremely friendly and all were under the impression we would be back again shortly."

He said all services were left operating normally, but "I have no idea how long they'll be able to carry on without senior British engineers."

Cox said the largest unfinished project was installation of $2,100,000 gas turbine electric power generator which the British had within one month of completion.

Corp. Tax Hike Cut Expected

of private individuals and corporations.

More than half of this is represented in the Senate group's vote last week to boost personal income taxes about $2,400,000,000 a year—which would be $438,000,000 less than the House had approved.

Still to be decided at the closed sessions of George's group, resuming today, is whether to revise corporation tax rates approved by the House.

The House has proposed that the socalled normal corporation income tax rate of 25 per cent on income exceeding $25,000 be lifted to 30 per cent. The House measure would leave unchanged the 22 per cent corporation surtax rate and the 30 per cent excess profits tax rates unchanged. But it would cut exemptions from the excess profits tax and allow all corporation taxes deducted to take as much as 70 per cent of a firm's taxable earnings. The law now says the combine taxes cannot take more than 62 per cent of a firm's taxable income.

Diplomat's Wife Returns to Villa

Beauvallon, France, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Melinda MacLean, American-born wife of missing British diplomat Donald MacLean, has apparently returned to her secluded, well-guarded villa here.

Police will not let correspondents near the house but an eavesdropper heard a feminine voice tell the MacLean children to wake their mother. It is therefore presumed Mrs. MacLean has returned from wherever she has been for the past three days.

There has been speculation that Mrs. MacLean may have come here for a reunion with her husband who disappeared some months ago with his foreign office colleague Guy Burgess. Some quarters fear the two diplomats may have gone over to the Russians.

near Alpine and opposite Yonkers, N. Y., just north of New York City.

From both banks of the Hudson thousands of spectators watched as the octogenarian jumped, his ski suit looking like red flannel underwear.

Chased by Police

Reacues dragged him into a fishing boat. Then MacFadden transferred to a waiting police patrol truck the wheel. But first he discarded his ski suit, tied a belt and helmet, and changed into a gray suit and shirt, plaid bow tie and straw hat.

MacFadden had intended to jump near the Goethals bridge but bridge but New York City authorities sent up a police helicopter to shoot him away. So he took his stunt upstream.

Similar laws with Canadian and American authorities had caused him previously to drop, at least temporarily, plans to parachute next week into the churning waters of Niagara Falls, he said.

The publisher made his first parachute jump at Danaville, N. Y., two years ago to celebrate his 81st birthday. His actual birth date is Aug. 16.

He took off in a plane yesterday from Teterboro, N. J., with Major Floyd Hill, one Canada, as his technical adviser. Hill's brother, Reef was killed a few years ago trying to shoot Niagara Falls in a "barrel" made of inner tubes.

Town Spends Less on Fire Safety Than 15 Other Cities

When stacked against 15 other Connecticut communities of comparable size, Manchester spends less on fire protection and has a lower fire department budget and per capita cost than any of them, according to figures compiled by the Fire Protection and Utilities Study committee. Tables on the study committee findings are included in the recent report submitted to the Board of Directors and district officials.

The figures used in the comparison are based on the year 1950. The table contrasts the towns in population, area, grand list, fire department budget, salaries, per capita cost, total paid men, number of stations and pieces of apparatus.

Manchester's population in 1950 was 33,906. Populations of the other communities are: Bristol, 35,673; East Hartford, 29,349; Danbury, 30,713; Fairfield, 30,307; Greenwich, 40,546; Hamden, 29,311; Meriden, 43,866; Middletown, 29,665; Milford, 26,345; New London, 30,587; Norwich, 37,715; Stratford, 33,620; Torrington, 27,770; West Hartford, 44,401; West Haven, 31,876.

Manchester had a fire budget of $106,005 with a per capita cost of $3.22. The closest to this was Stratford with a budget of $120,107 and per capita cost of $3.57. Next lowest per capita was Danbury with $4.05. Highest was West Hartford with $8.73.

Other per capita figures were 6.9, 5.89, 5.24, 7.73, 4.78, 6, 5.24 and 4.93. None were given for the rest of the towns.

Against Manchester's budget of $106,005, other budgets totaled $214,000, 172,814, 212,556, 226,858, 201,188, 141,500, 130,500, 120,000, 138,954, and 387,630. Four not given.

Quad Amputee, 19, To Marry Sept. 9

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 27.—(AP)—Pvt. Hubert Reeves, 19-year-old quadruple amputee of the Korean war, will be married next month to an 18-year-old girl he met in letters she wrote him while he was in a hospital.

The bride-elect is Beverly Jean Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Hall of Wilmington, Ill.

The Halls announced the engagement yesterday and said the couple will be wed Sept. 9 at the First Baptist church in Joliet. A reception will follow at the Cantigny Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Joliet.

The young infantryman said Miss Hall wrote him while he was being treated at Valley Forge General hospital in Phoenixville, Pa., last March. On returning to his Joliet home, he said he looked her up and the romance bloomed.

Reeves was in combat for less than a month. His limbs were frozen when he was captured last winter. He lost parts of all four limbs.

Another Parkway Sunday

It was another Sunday on the Merritt Parkway.

Down on the Norwalk section of the Parkway, an eastbound car somehow went out of control, hurdled the center esplanade, and crashed into a westbound car on the opposite lane of the Parkway.

One passenger in the car which went out of control was killed. Two other passengers in this car were critically injured. Three other passengers were somewhat less seriously injured.

There were four passengers in the westbound car which, driving along under perfect control and minding its own business, nevertheless received the surprise crash of the marauding car. Of these four, two were seriously injured.

This was merely the first phase of this typical Parkway incident. The accident tied up traffic in both directions. And ten minutes later, in the type of accident which is Parkway routine, a car crashed into the rear of a car which had halted at the end of the traffic tie-up. The impact was sufficient to drive the stationary car ahead until the two cars stopped ahead of it were also involved. None of these three cars, it should be pointed out, could possibly have done anything to avoid being hit.

In this second accident, a result of the first, six people were injured, one seriously.

One dead, 15 others injured, some of them perhaps critically—that was the toll of some relatively slight mechanical or human failure—a failure which, under other conditions, might have had no serious consequences whatever.

What was the condition which created this tragedy? It was the speed which made the whole chain of accidents a matter of split-second timing. Under the speed which is legal on the Merritt Parkway there was, given crowded Parkway conditions, no chance for all the innocent people involved. The only decision for safety they could possibly have made was an original decision not to be on the Parkway on a Sunday. Once they were on it, they were locked into the possibility of danger.

This goes on weekend after weekend and still the Parkway authorities think they are sensible in permitting what amounts to a mile-a-minute pace on the Parkway.

Trade With Russia

This country is running into new defiance on its policy of trying to shut off trade between other countries and Russia.

It is not that any nation is determined to make any careless contribution to Russia's war potential. It is that many nations depend upon trade with Russia for a balance their economy could not easily obtain in any other direction, and that they see no valid reason why such trade should not continue, providing it does them just as much good as it does Russia.

Britain stated its case just the other day, pointing out that the things it gets from its trade with Russia are not available elsewhere, that they add much more to Britain's general strength than British exports to Russia add to Russia's general strength.

It has previously been pointed out that much of western Europe's economy depends upon supplies from behind the Iron Curtain—like Polish coal, and that strict application of the trade embargo Congress has been thoughtlessly urging would hurt our friends more than it would hurt Russia.

And now, just after Congress has laid down a policy in which American aid would be banned to countries trading any of a long list of articles with Russia, there is an East-West meeting in Geneva for the precise purpose of exploring means to increase trade between Russia and Western Europe. Russia, Hungary, Poland, Britain, Denmark and France have all sent high-ranking delegations to this meeting, and reports from the meeting say that the Western Europeans are in no mood to allow the United States to veto any good deal for expansion of trade they might be able to make. Gossip at the meeting, in fact, is to the effect that they are even considering such a drastic step as taking themselves out of American economic aid programs in order to gain a free hand for trade with Eastern Europe. Congress, of course, has exposed itself to this threat by its policy of decreasing appropriations for such aid at the same time it is threatening to cut such aid off from nations which trade with Russia.

We do not expect such a direct slap in the face to develop. Such gossip is, we suspect, an expression of a mood rather than an intention.

But this mood is sufficiently important. It means that we are asking our friends to do something which, to them, does not seem common sense. A little worse than that—we are not really asking them to do it—we are closer to ordering them to do it.

The root of the trouble, of course, lies in the shallow motivation and thinking of Congress, which has been thinking more of some spectacular anti-Russian gesture than of sound policy.

And this thinking is whetted, of course, by such charges as those of David Lawrence, editor of United States News, to the effect that the policy of the British is merely "crass materialism," in contrast with our own belief that human life was more precious than profit." To such thinking, those nations which trade with Russia are selling human lives of their own sons for a little profit.

If there is one thing that should be obvious, it is that these nations don't think that is what they are doing.

But the fundamental question is something apart from the relatively small amount of trade which is involved. The question is whether the West is working toward peace or toward war. Every one, of course, will answer that question by naming peace. The question then becomes this: how do you work toward peace?

The answer of other western nations seems to be this: you work toward peace by preserving, as much as you can, and expanding, as much as you can, any and all elements of normalcy in the relationship of nations. We call that appeasement.

Our answer seems to be: you work toward peace by starving and choking your opponent until he says uncle and promises to be good. Our friends call this war madness.

The danger of the first answer, as we see it, is that it may help the enemy nation to get ready to fight.

The danger of the second answer, as our friends see it, is that it may force the enemy nation to fight out of cornered desperation.

We ourselves have, in the past, followed both policies. For a long time, we supplied an aggressive Japan with the actual raw materials of war. Then we stopped. But when we stopped, the Japanese then made their decision to attack Pearl Harbor.

Our friends think they are pursuing a middle course, which neither gives Russia any military materials nor condemns Russia to complete ostracism in the family of nations. If we want to operate successfully in the world, we should at least try to understand their own view of their policy before we decide to try to order them to abandon it.

The Grand Tour?

Not so long ago, Governor Dewey of New York made a speech in which he declared that the modern need was for the development of "world politicians."

We are not sure whether he is aiming at becoming a "world politician" or merely secretary of state under a Republican administration, but he has just returned from an extended tour of the Far East. Encouragingly, he said on his return that the closer you get to the problems of the Far East the less glib you get about solving them. But, aside from his personal experience in development of such humility, the point is that an American governor and party leader considered it natural and appropriate and valuable for himself to spend generous time in a personal survey of areas where American foreign policy has vital interests.

Now we note that the same kind of foreign study has become a trend. There is another American governor now on tour of the Far East—Governor Earl Warren of California. Perhaps he, too, is doing something he considers fitting for his own political future. In any case, we're all for it, and we take it as encouraging recognition of where the interest and responsibility of American leadership now reach.

7 WAR CASUALTIES

Washington, Aug. 27—(AP)—The Defense department today identified seven additional U. S. casualties of the Korean war. They included two injured, one missing and four wounded in accidents.

Over 2.5 Million In Civil Service

Washington, Aug. 27— (AP) — Total Federal civilian employment passed the two and one half million mark last month.

An increase of 16,000 persons in this country and overseas between July 1 and Aug. 1 brought the total to 2,505,400, the Civil Service commission reported today.

However, the commission said, the rate of hiring by executive agencies in the Washington area declined. The defense agencies continued to expand "but at a slower rate than in recent months."

Non-defense agencies reported about 700 fewer workers here on Aug. 1 than at the beginning of July.

The five largest agencies reported the following numbers of employes (figure in parenthesis indicates increase from last preceding employment): Army, 528,200 (21); Post Office, 503,800 (20); Navy, 453,200 (18); Air Force, 265,200 (11); Veterans administration, 182,300 (7).

Our modern funeral home is a special structure dedicated and furnished to provide the facilities and conveniences to serve the living and reverently prepared the deceased for burial.

ABOUT that old prescription Dr. Jones wrote for you two years ago. The bottle is on the shelf in your medicine cabinet, about one-fourth full. It would be safer for you and your family to discard it. Someone might take it by mistake, or a child might be attracted to it by the bright color and do himself harm. Many medicines deteriorate after exposure to light and air. On long standing, some compounds change their chemical structure. Yes, the safe thing to do is to throw it away. If illness again overtakes you, see your doctor. Bring his prescriptions to us for compounding.

Commissioner Ed Wierzbicki reports that the coaching staffs of the Little League Yankees and Dodgers will hold an important meeting tonight following the Little League game. The session is listed at the East Side Rec.

Ollie Jarvis, sponsor of several athletic teams during the past five years, postcards from Montreal where he is vacationing with Mrs. Jarvis.

Coach Ernie Dowd of the Little League Red Sox has been laid low by bursitis. Ernie was up and around over the week-end and hopes to lead the Red Sox tonight against the Cardinals at Memorial Field.

Leo (—Yogi") Fracchia caught a great game for the Manchester Auxiliary policemen in their game with Springfield yesterday afternoon at the Charter Oak Park. Leo should be good, as he catches (dogs) most every day of the year.

Sammy Maltempo, former pro boxer, came up with a great catch in centerfield yesterday for the Coppers that ended an inning and wiped out a Springfield scoring threat.

Police Chief Herman Schendel was one of five third base umpires used during the game. Bill Braun ard was behind the plate and Bob Kiernan at first. There wasn't an argument (?) in the game.

Private-Eye Dave Hutchinson was on deck to take pictures of the game. Hutch is an auxiliary copper.

Hohenthal Holds 40-Point Margin

Twilight League All Stars will face Moodus tomorrow night at 6 o'clock at the Oval. All proceeds from the game will enter the Twi League Accident Fund. Coach Johnny Rocer will direct the local squad.

Twi League President Nick Angelo reports that he cannot make a 5:30 starting time for remaining Twi League baseball games because the Wilimantic Ridges cannot appear before 6 o'clock.

There is a Little League baseball rule that coaches, managers and players must not question any decision made by an umpire.

A total of 21 candidates reported at the Charter Oak Lots yesterday morning as Alex Pergiano and Coach Steele Solomonson put the Silk City gridders through the paces. Practice sessions are scheduled tonight, Wednesday and Friday nights at 6 at Charter Oak, also Sunday morning at 10. All candidates are welcome as all positions are open.

Question of the day: What happened to the scheduled playoffs last week in the Rec Softball League?

A Weighty Proposition

Singapore—(AP)—The Singapore Amateur Weightlifting Federation received an invitation from Italy to participate in the world's championships at Milan. But it seems the bid isn't going to be accepted. B. L. Dunsford, president of the federation said he didn't think that Singapore presently had any lifters of world class, although this British colony did make an impressive showing at the Asian Games.

A Tale of Two Shut-Outs

St. Louis—(AP)—A repeat pitching duel with a reverse twist has occurred in the majors. On Aug. 14, 1940, at Sportsman's Park, Cliff Chambers, then hurling for the Pirates, shutout the Cardinals whitewashed the Pirates and Aug. 9 in the same park. Chambers, now pitching for the Cardinals, whitewashed the Pirates and Howie Pollet by the same score, 4-0.

Card Righthander Blanks Dodgers To Deadlock Race

All Four Little League Teams Tied for First Place in Standings; But Two Games Left On Slate; Simmons Superb in 3 to' 0 Win

Standings

| | W | L | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Dodgers | 4 | 4 | .500 |
| Red Sox | 4 | 4 | .500 |
| Yankees | 4 | 4 | .500 |
| Cardinals | 4 | 4 | .500 |

Gum-chewing, freckle - faced Ronnie Simmons entered the Little League baseball Hall of Fame last Saturday evening at Memorial Field when he pitched a perfect no-hit, no-run game for the Cardinals against the Dodgers. Not one Dodger player reached base in the greatest exhibition of pitching in the two seasons of Little League warfare in Manchester. It was the first perfect game by a pitcher in the history of the Silk Town loop.

The decision created a tie for first place between all four entries. The Cards, Dodgers, Yankees and Red Sox have all scored four victories against a like number of reverses. Only two more games remain on the schedule. Tonight the Red Sox face the Cards and tomorrow night the Yanks oppose the Dodgers. There will be a tie for first place in the final second round standings between the winners of the two remaining games. The Red Sox won the first half.

Back to last Saturday night's contest.

Was Never Better

Simmons was never better and his mates played errorless ball behind his excellent pitching. The 12-year-old righthander didn't allow a base on balls, whiffed seven batters, and drove home two runs in the three-run fourth inning with a triple.

All the scoring was done in the fourth. Bruce Smith opened the game with a single to left and when Denny Quay miscued, Smith raced to second. Bill McDonald lined to short and Al Freiheit made a great one-handed stab for the out. Don Squatrito lashed a single back through the box into centerfield and Smith countered. Bobby Sutton singled to right center, with Squat going to third. Simmons then unloaded his three-bagger, to center for the two Red Bird runs.

Defensive Standouts

Defensively, Sutton was a standout at second base as was Jimmy Beckwith at first. Bobby Daigle made a great catch of Mark Solomon's bid for a hit by racing to his left to snare a red-hot liner.

The defeat knocked the Dodgers out of first place and also ended the four game win streak of the club. Last place finishers in the first round and losers of their first three starts in the second round, the Dodgers enjoyed the fruits of first place for less than 24 hours.

Williams Says Ball Deader

Slugger Convinced Ball Doesn't Have the Life of Other Years

Cleveland, Aug. 27—(AP)—Ted Williams, the only active major leaguer to top .300 in ten successive seasons, says that the ball is leader today than it has been for several seasons.

"I don't care what anybody says," insisted the pride of the Boston Red Sox just before the important doubleheader with Cleveland yesterday. "I'm convinced the ball doesn't have the life it had last year or the year before. And what's more, it is getting deader all the time."

Ignoring a reminder that he had just swatted six practice pitches over the right field fence, the lanky slugger stuck to his rather interesting statement. Ask any pitcher and he will swear its getting more lively.

"I don't know what those guys will say," he said with an accusing look in his eye.

Alibing Again

"There goes that popoff Williams again," Lou Boudreau said when he isn't hitting .350, he's blaming the ball.

"Let 'em," Ted went on defiant-ly, "I said I thought so early in the season and they gave me it. Maybe the material they use now is not as good because of the war, or maybe they've been keeping the ball in an ice. I don't know this season, but I'll bet the ball is deader."

Williams then proceeded to weaken his argument by blasting three hits as the Red Sox split the twin bill with the Indians. That raised his current batting mark to a respectable .324, fourth high in the league. Ted, as usual, is among the leaders in practically all slugging departments including home runs (20) and runs batted in (109). He is behind the pace, however, of previous years. His lifetime batting mark for nine years (not including 1951) is .350 during that time he hit 293 homers and drove in 1135 runs.

Ted, who factured his left elbow when he crashed into the wall making a catch in the 1950 All-Star game, refused to use that as an alibi for his current below-Williams-par season. The 32-year-old outfielder insists he is not slowing up.

"The elbow fells fine now," he said. "It tightens up a little on cold days. It bothered me early in the beginning of the season. It's not the elbow, it's not me. It's the dead ball, I tell you.

Case of Hodges

"Take the case of Gil Hodges of Brooklyn," he pointed out. "He hit 28 homers in two and a half months before the All-Star game, didn't he? What's he got now? 24. He has hit only six in a month and a half since then.

"Look at all your big hitters today—Luke Easter, Vic Wertz, Walt Dropo, Vern Stephens, Larry Doby, Yogi Berra, Joe DiMaggio, Del Ennis and Hodges. Only Doby is hitting above .300 and he's just over. Look at your leading batter in our league. He's hitting around .330. George Kell is doing okay but he's a line drive hitter. It's the long ball hitters who suffer when the ball gets deader. And even Kell is hitting about 20 points under his regular figure."

Williams then switched his attack on the pitchers, citing names and figures to prove his point.

"You're going to see about a dozen pitchers in both leagues with 20 victories when this season is over," he predicted. "Imagine that. We've not had more than three-four-20-game winners in our league since I've been up here. This year we'll probably have six. And they won't all be guys who have won 20 before.

"Fellows like Ed Lopat, Mike Garcia, Ned Garver, Preacher Roe, Don Newcombe, Sal Maglie and Murray Dickson never won 20 before.

"Look at your large number of shutouts this year, and the list of low-hit games and see whether I'm not right. There've already been three no-hitters and 1-don't-know-how-many-one-hitters."

Hmmm, Teddy sure picked a bad time to complain about the ball. But how was he to know that they day would produce 26 home runs, two eight-run innings, another seven and one of five? Or that Pittsburgh and Brooklyn would choose that afternoon to stage a 12-11 slugfest and St. Louis' Cardinals would nip the Boston Braves, 12-10?

Bono Back in Pro League

Montreal—(AP)—Bono is in pro football now. Bono is the pet dog of lineman Johnny Newman of the Alouettes in the Canadian Football League. Good old Bono became familiar to Canadian football fans when Johnny played with McGill University. Now the canine roams the sidelines in the Alouette games.

BA's, Props Resume Twi Series Tonight

Team Battled to 3-3 Tie Last Friday in Battle of Darkness; Both at Full Strength

They wound up in a 3-3 tie in the first game of the elimination at the West Side Friday night, so, tonight the BA's and Hamilton will try again to come to a decision.

Jimmy Blanchard is expected to start for the Props while either Cal Lyles or Jack Scully will take the mound for the BA's. Art Pongrats and Tony Berube will catch. Game time is 6 o'clock.

It will take three nights this week to decide third and fourth place. The playoffs, barring any postponed games, will start next Monday night. Tomorrow night will be the annual All-Star game with the Mondus Noises offering the opposition.

Ridges Sitting Back

Williamantic's Ridges are sitting back waiting for the outcome of tonight's game to see who they play for third place. The loser tonight will meet Wednesday's loser to decide fifth place.

Sensational New York Giants May Catch Dodgers Yet

Banks and Stratton Homer As Local Cops Win, 11-8

Sunday afternoon at Charter Oak Field, Manchester's Auxiliary Police Softball team played host to the Springfield, Mass. Auxiliary Police Softball team. Manchester emerged victorious in their first start of the season by an 11-8 score. The visitors came here boasting a five-win, one lost record compiled in the Bay State City.

The game started with Lloyd Jarvis on the mound for the home team and Lee Fracchia behind the plate. The first Springfield batter, Tom Bruno, beat out a hit to shortstop. The next batter Constantine hit to the mound and a fast Jarvis to Nolan to Kiernan double play erased both runners. John Vigliano third man up in the inning went out short to first.

Manchester lost no time in entering the scoring column by counting six times as nine men went to the plate. Bobby Stratton at third scored for Springfield with Johnny Vigliano doing the catching.

The visitors could do nothing with the offerings of Jarvis in the first four frames. Meanwhile Jarvis's mates had tallied three times in the third one being a four base blast by Charlie Banks.

Springfield surprised no one by cheering in the fifth inning as the visitors managed to take three runners stranded on second and third as Sam Malinowski, Mike Stratton, Bob Carman, Richard Bernardo, Carlo Stacco; left on bases, Springfield 8, Manchester 5; base on balls, off Skala 4, Jarvis 4; strikeouts, Skala 3, Jarvis 3; hits off Skala 8 in 5 innings, Jarvis 3 in 2 innings; umpires, Bruno, Stacco, Skala; umpires, Braunard, Kiernan.

Manchester opened the home half of the fifth inning by lining a hit by about that went between the outfielders for the game's second home run. Bob Stratton hit a home run in added one run as Manchester matched this and added another run in their half of the seventh stanza.

Leading 11-3 going into the seventh, the home forces had trouble certain that they could put bases on balls, three hits, and two costly errors, one a three base error, gave Springfield five runs before Beaudry popped out to Fracchia to end the game.

Both teams had many followers present and had their fair share of opportunities to cheer. Braudry led the Bay Staters in the hitting department two hits in four trips and five of his mates chipped in with base hits. Jimmy Edwards with two for two led the winners at the plate. Nolan and Mitt Stratton each had two for three and five other players each chipped in with base hits.

Arrangements are being made to play Springfield again in that city in the near future.

Ernie Johnson Named To All Star Squad

Ernie Johnson, lanky right-hander with Milwaukee, has been named to the American Association's All Star team for the 1951 season. Johnson has won 13 games while dropping but three.

Last week Ernie downed Toledo 3 to 2 for his 13th win and ninth straight. Minneapolis broke the streak by beating Ernie and the Brewers 3 to 2 in 10 innings. Against Minneapolis, Johnson held a 2 to 0 lead with two out and one man on base in the ninth when outfielder Jimmy Blasso muscled and the Millers went on to score twice in the ninth and once in the tenth to win.

Leo's Club Has Won Last Fourteen Games

Chop Brooklyn Lead to Six Games; No Change In A. L. Race as Top Teams Split Twin Bills

By Ralph Roden
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants' sensational 14-game winning streak today projected, the National League pennant race smack into the limelight with the American League's tight flag chase.

Manager Leo Durocher's pennant-hungry Giants swept a doubleheader from the Chicago Cubs yesterday, 5-4 and 5-1, to chop the once succulent lead of the Brooklyn Dodgers to six games. The Dodgers split with the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates, winning the nightcap, 4-3, in ten innings, after blowing the opener, 12-11.

Meanwhile, the American League race remained in status quo as the Cleveland Indians retained their one-game lead over the New York Yankees by splitting a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox. The Red Sox, trailing by five games going into the first, drove the Indians took the second, 2-1. The Yanks divided with the Chicago White Sox, losing the opener, 3-2, and winning the nightcap, 8-6.

In other American League games, the Washington Senators swept a pair from the St. Louis Browns, 9-3 and 9-1, and the Detroit Tigers defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-0.

Remaining National League games saw the St. Louis Cardinals and Boston Braves and the Philadelphia Phils and Cincinnati Reds split doubleheaders. The Cards beat the Braves, 12-10, but lost the second game, 9-1. The Phils edge the Reds, 2-0, after Cincinnati had won the first game, 4-2.

Home Runs Decide

Two home runs by Wes Westrum and one by Don Mueller accounted for all of the Giants' runs in their first-game triumph. Westrum won the game with a two-out homer in the ninth.

Jim Hearn limited the Cubs to six hits in the nightcap as the Giants compiled their longest winning streak since the 1936 champs won 15 straight.

The Giants broke a 1-1 tie in the second game with three runs in the fourth inning on four singles and a long fly. Willie Mays stole home with the Giants' final run in the sixth.

Brooklyn Blew a 9-2 lead in dropping the opener. The Pirates jumped on Don Newcombe and Clyde King for eight runs in the seventh inning with Bill Howerton's three-run homer climaxing the rally.

The Bodgers were on the brink of another defeat in the nightcap but Andy Pafko smashed a homer with one out in the ninth to tie the score and Jackie Robinson broke it up in the tenth with a one-out homer off Ted Wilks.

Lefty Bill Wight blanked the Indians on five hits in the opener at Cleveland before 75,997 fans, largest crowd of the season. Bob Feller, running for his 21st victory, went down to his sixth defeat.

The Indians collected only three hits off Leo Kiely and Ellis Kinder in the nightcap but two of them were home runs by Luke Easter and Sam Chapman. Bob Lemon, with help from Mike Garcia, gained his 16th victory.

Ed Robinson and little Nellie Fox ruined the Yanks in the opener at Chicago. Robinson homered in the eighth to tie the score at 2-2 and Fox doubled home Don Lenhardt with the winning run in the ninth.

Pile up Early Lead

The Yanks piled up a 5-0 lead in the three innings of the nightcap and led all the way. Late-inning homers by pinch-hitter Bert Hass and Don Lenhardt however, threw a scare into the champions but relief pitcher Allie Reynolds stopped the Sox on a save game for rookie Art Schallock.

Ed Hudson, with help from Sandy Consuegra, gained his fourth victory for Washington in the opener at St. Louis. Former Brownie Don Johnson breezed to a four-hit victory in the finale.

Fred Hutchinson shut out the A's on three hits in the single game at Detroit as the Tigers pounded Bob Hooper for a 5-0 lead in the first three innings.

Ewell Blackwell checked the Phils on five hits in the opener at Philadelphia. Rookie Niles Jordan, making his first major league appearance, shut out the Reds on three hits in the nightcap and drove home the Phils' second run.

Red Schoendienst batted in four runs on a homer and two singles as the Cards to victory in the opener at Boston. The Cards wrapped up with seven runs in the fourth inning. The Braves clinched the nightcap with an eight-run, six-hit rally. Bob Lois Marquez' bases loaded double was the big blow.

Sense and Nonsense

Police Chief—What! You mean to say this fellow picked a woman to death in a cabaret in front of two hundred people and nobody interfered?

Captain—Yes, Chief. Everybody thought they were dancing.

A telephone is an object that rings when the only person in the house is in the bathtub.

Policeman—Hey you, didn't you hear me say, 'Pull over'?

Driver—Oh, I thought you said, 'Good morning, Mayor'!

Policeman—It is a nice morning, isn't it?

We know an old maid who always sleeps on the floor. She got tired of always looking under the bed and never finding a man.

The preliminaries to a kiss are more thrilling than the kiss itself.

Neil—I hear Maud has turned Joe down.

Bell—Yes, and she was surprised that he did not turn up again.

A grumpy householder was awakened at 3 a. m. by a drunk pounded insistently on the door. The sleepy man opened the bedroom window and shouted to the inebriate below: a Man—Go away, darn it. You're trying to get into the wrong house!

Drunk—Oh, yeah? An' how do you know yer not lookin' outa the wrong winder?

Experience is a wonderful thing. It enables you to recognize a mistake when you make it again.

It is always gratifying to meet a man who looks after the small things of life, as everyone knows that the great things will take care of themselves. Jones is a man of this kind. His partner Robinson remarked:

Robinson—Well, Jones, we've had a rousing week, haven't we? One constant run of customers, and good ones too, from Monday morning to Saturday night.

Jones—Yes, and that new doorknob's about ruined.

A bathing beauty, pinched for walking on the street in a bathing suit, was held by a judge for "further examination." Justice isn't blind.

Dentist—You told me you never had a tooth filled before. Now I find metal dust on my drill.

Man—I always wear my collar button kinda high, doc.

The thing most often given up by girls when they marry is housework.

A traveler just home from abroad was described as an earthquake.

Traveler—Most amazing thing I ever saw. The hotel rocked. Cups and saucers rattled all over the room, and . . . His meek-looking companion turned suddenly white.

Companion—Great Scott! That reminds me. I forgot to post a letter my wife gave me two days ago.

Say Red Bomb Hit Kaesong

Tokyo, Aug. 28—(AP)—The United Nations command charged today that the Communists sent one of their swept planes through the motions of bombing Kaesong late Wednesday and then blamed the Allies for the attack.

The charge was contained in a bulletin released by the Public Information Office at Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters as the U. N. commander studied a Communist note that could shatter hopes of truce in Korea.

"There is as yet no indication as to the nature of the reply General Ridgway will make to the latest Communist letter," the Public Information Office said.

Offer to Renew Talks

The Reds offered to resume truce talks—which they broke off last Thursday—on certain conditions. Primarily, they want Ridgway to say a U. N. plane bombed the Kaesong neutral area Wednesday.

He has already said no U.N. plane was even in the area. He told the Communists they manufactured the incident.

Less than 24 hours after the Reds rejected this, Ridgway's Public Information Office restated the same position in detail.

It said no U.N. planes were in the area at the time of the attack

Tries to Inflict More Knife Wounds on Man Seeking Medical Aid

New Britain, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The emergency room of New Britain general hospital was thrown in an uproar early today when a man followed a battered victim into the room and tried to inflict further injury upon him.

Two nurses and a hospital janitor were able to keep the alleged assailant, Mann Ware, 32, of 106 Hartford avenue, this city, away from his victim in the emergency room until police arrived.

Bleeding from a lacerated right shoulder, John Brown, 32, of 170 Winter street, New Britain, entered the emergency room at about 6:30 a.m. and asked for medical aid.

As Brown was being treated, Ware arrived at the hospital brandishing a butcher knife and was prevented from entering the emergency room by Lorraine Cha-

Indicts Five Newsmen For Defaming Gamblers

Lake Charles, La., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Five newspaper men who crusaded against wide open law violations are under indictment on charges of defaming three admitted gamblers and several local officials.

And the Peoples Action Group which instigated a special session of the grand jury to investigate law violations, is under order to give the grand jury a list of its members. The list has been kept secret so as to avoid any possible intimidation of witnesses in the investigations.

The Calcasieu Parish (County) grand jury refused to indict Sheriff Hilary Reid whom the PAG had accused of malfeasance in office.

Named in the indictments handed down yesterday were Thomas B. Shearman, publisher of the Lake Charles American Press; his son, William Hugh Shearman, copublisher; Kenneth L. Dixon, managing editor; James W. Norton, city editor, and Carter George, police and court reporter.

But rumors persisted that a succession and even some pro-Peron sources that Mrs. Peron—who has risen to the position of one of the most powerful women in western hemisphere politics—will decline the Presidential nomination.

Paris, Aug. 28—(AP)—General Eisenhower's staff officers said today there would be no comment from the general concerning the filing of his name as a Democratic candidate for President in next May's Oregon primary election.

Salem, Ore., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Democrats beat Republicans in Oregon in putting up Gen. Dwight Eisenhower as a candidate for President.

Yesterday a group of Democrats filed petitions to put Eisenhower on the State's Presidential primary ballot next May. There were 1150 signatures although Oregon's law requires only 1,000. Permission of the candidate is not necessary.

Republicans said they will file their Eisenhower petitions later.

State law also requires that a candidate be a member of his nominating party. Eisenhower has never listed a party affiliation.

Dave O'Hara, state elections chief, said this might lead to a

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has told Senators he is "very hopeful that many of our problems would disappear if western Europe were one federal union."

He said he believed once the whole area of western Europe is united in a federation "The Soviets will never be able to hold the east Germans out of it—I believe that with all my heart."

Italy to Demand OSS Pair Return

Verbania, Italy, Aug. 28—(AP)—The Verbania prosecutor will make a formal new demand today for extradition of the two former U. S. Army behind-the-lines agents, Aldo Icardi and Carlo Lo Dolce.

Legal sources close to the prosecutor's office said the request was already drawn up and would be sent "within a few hours" to the prosecutor general at Turin.

He has said that when he received the new request, properly documented, he would send it to the Ministry of Justice in Rome to begin the long legal process of asking the U. S. to send the two men back here to stand trial.

The two have been named by the U. S. Defense department as the players of their commander, Maj. William Holohan. Under American law they cannot be tried in the U. S. for a crime allegedly committed during the war service covered by their honorable discharge from the Army.

State Watches Copper Strike

See Crippling Blow to Industry If Walkout Continues Long Time

Hartford, Aug. 28—(AP)—Industrial Connecticut, the nation's leader in the use of copper and brass, today watched with anxious eyes the outcome of the nationwide strike of 58,000 workers in the copper industry and, closer to home, the tie up at the Ansonia and Torrington plants of the American Brass company.

Copper and brass are vitally important components of Connecticut's economy and a prolonged strike in the copper and brass industries could deal a crippling blow to many mills and factories in the state.

It's hard to put an exact finger on precisely how many of 1,760 factories which process or use metals specifically copper and brass. But, the Manufacturers Association of Connecticut reported, probably a high percentage of

Troops Bivouac In Detroit Area

Detroit, Aug. 28—(AP)—Battle-equipped Army troops, reportedly numbering in the "hundreds," bivouacked in the immediate Detroit area today.

Without public advance notice, the troops entered the Detroit area yesterday by way of trains and a bill they contend would erect a barrier to shipments of war useful goods to the Communists.

A group of Republicans, denouncing the measure as weak and ineffective, claimed growing support for a move to replace it with one of their own devising.

At issue is a House-passed bill, heartily in the basic of Rep. Battle (D., Ala), which would prohibit all U. S. aid—military, economic or financial—to any nation engaged in shipment of war potential goods to Russia and her satellites.

It would give the administration some discretion in enforcement—a feature which the Republicans criticized.

AFL Drops ULPC, Urges CIO Merger

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The AFL, today withdrew from the United Labor Policy Committee (ULPC)—an organization formed nine months ago with the aim of presenting a solid labor union front during the defense mobilization period.

At the same time it urged that the CIO work toward eventual merger with the AFL.

William Green, AFL president, presented a formal statement announcing the AFL's withdrawal to a meeting of the ULPC. He said the ULPC had been established only on a "temporary basis," and added:

"Its operations never were and never could be regarded as a satisfactory substitute for organic unity of the free American trade union movement."

Represented on the ULPC were the AFL, the CIO and the railroad unions.

The AFL leaders said that since the committee was organized last Dec. 14, it had accomplished its major purpose—creation of labor representation in the key defense agencies.

The committee staged a walkout last spring from various mobilization agencies and President Truman eventually set up an expanded and a prestige stabilization board with power to settle disputes as recommended by the ULPC.

Truman Assails Czech Envoy on Oatis Case

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—President Truman told the new Czechoslovak Ambassador today the best way to restore cordial relations with the United States would be for his government to free William N. Oatis, Associated Press correspondent jailed on spy charges.

In a meeting limited to five minutes, reporters were told Mr. Truman informed Dr. Vladimir Procharka that relations between the U. S. and Czechoslovakia had "deteriorated ever since Jan Masaryk was murdered."

This plain talk when the Ambassador called to present his credentials was reported afterwards by the President's press secretary, Joseph Short.

Short told newsmen that in the conversation between the Ambassador and the President the Ambassador said "He hoped to make our relations more cordial."

Cites Prior Accord

Masaryk, a staunch anti-Communist, fell to his death from a window, while he was under house arrest by the Reds in Prague several years ago.

Prior to Masaryk's death, Short said, the President "The relations between the United States and the Republic of Czechoslovakia had been wonderful."

Short added that the President in this regard, "Mentioned the extreme friendliness of our political relations and also the back and forth trade relations."

Short continued:

"But now, the President said, it looks as if our relations would not be what they had been unless Czechoslovakia changed its policies."

No Response

Short concluded by asserting: "The Ambassador made no response to these remarks."

Ambassador Procharka had told reporters he found Mr. Truman

Truman Senators Fight For Curb on Soviet Trade

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—Administration forces in the Senate fought today to win approval of a bill they contend would erect a barrier to shipments of war useful goods to the Communists.

A group of Republicans, denouncing the measure as weak and ineffective, claimed growing support for a move to replace it with one of their own devising.

At issue is a House-passed bill, heartily in the basic of Rep. Battle (D., Ala), which would prohibit all U. S. aid—military, economic or financial—to any nation engaged in shipment of war potential goods to Russia and her satellites.

It would give the administration some discretion in enforcement—a feature which the Republicans criticized.

GOP Assails Bill

Senator Ferguson (R., Mich.), one of the GOP forces' quarterbacks, said the measure "lacks teeth."

All the administration needs to do, Kem said, is to enforce an amendment to a money bill he sponsored last June directing President Truman to halt all economic aid to any country furnishing war-potential goods to nations in the Soviet orbit. The National Security council has made many exceptions, as it is empowered to do if it finds the national security requires them.

The Battle bill is backed by the administration, which contends the Kem amendment is of more harm than help because it is too rigid.

Senator Sparkman (D., Ala.), floor manager for the new bill, told his colleagues yesterday that some materials must be allowed

Say Break Not Coming In Walkout

Denver, Aug. 28—(AP)—Union leaders said flatly today there would be no break in the nationwide strike in the strategic minerals industry before a Washington meeting tomorrow.

A spokesman for the International Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers Union (IND) said no formal answer would be made to a back-to-work request from the Wage Stabilization Board to halt the strike of 58,000 producers of copper, lead, zinc, and silver.

"We think our attendance at the board meeting in Washington tomorrow will be sufficient answer," said the union spokesman.

The telegraphed request was received by the union at 9:30 a. m. (MST).

Freight Rates Up 6.6 Ave. Today

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—Higher freight rates—averaging 6.6 per cent for the country as a whole—went into effect today for most commodities handled by railroads.

The new boost, the ninth since World War II, took effect at midnight local time throughout the nation after a 15-day public notice authorized by the Interstate Commerce commission (ICC).

The commission rejected plans for a new general 15 per cent boost in rates.

Instead, it gave the rail lines permission to go ahead with a 9 per cent boost in the East and 6 per cent elsewhere. Counting dol-
