About Town

The Mary Cheney and Whiton Libraries will be closed Saturdays beginning this Saturday and lasting through Labor Day.

Ronald H. Prentice, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Prentice of 372 Center St., is on the dean's list at Gettysburg (Pa.) College for the second semester of the 1964-65 school year.

John G. Tyler, son of Mrs. Gertrude G. Hylek of 305 W. Center St., enlisted in the U. S. Marine Corps Tuesday and left for 12 weeks training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, Parris Island, S. C.

Maurice P. Moriarty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Moriarty of 75 Forest St., is participating in a six-week program of intensive combat training as a Reserve Officer Training Corps cadet at Ft. Devens, Mass. He will be commissioned as a second lieutenant after graduation from Boston College, where he is a junior.

Louis Vismontas of 82 Foster St., former head of the Manchester High School mathematics department and now a teacher at East Catholic High School, has been selected to attend a Summer Mathematics Institute for Secondary School Mathematics Teachers at Drew University from July 6 to Aug. 13. It is sponsored by the National Science Foundation.

Brandin Lodge, Order of Vasa, will have a picnic meeting tonight at 6:30 at the home of Miss Cheryl Werdelin, 49 Pleasant St.

Driver to Face Reckless Count

An East Hartford woman was charged with reckless driving after her car struck another automobile from the rear yesterday afternoon at Center and Cooper Streets.

Police say that Joseph Giera, 19, of Hartford was westbound on Center St. signaling for a left turn when he was struck by an automobile operated by Thelma Young, who said she was attempting to pass a third vehicle veering to the right in front of her. The impact threw the Giera vehicle off the road and onto the sidewalk. There were no serious injuries according to police.

Court appearance is scheduled for July 12 in Manchester Session of Circuit Court 12.

A tractor-trailer struck a Vernon man's car while backing up to make a turn yesterday morning on Hartford Rd. near Gosiee Dr.

Lonnie C. Chapman, 42, of Indianapolis, Ind., was charged by police with improper backing. Police say Chapman missed a right hand turn and was backing up when he struck the car driven by George J. Perzel Jr., 25, of Vernon who had stopped behind the truck. No one was injured, according to police.

Court appearance is scheduled for July 12 in Manchester Session of Circuit Court 12.

DIRECTOR NEEDED

HARTFORD (AP)—State Labor Commissioner Renato E. Ricciotti must appoint a new executive director for the state Labor Department's Employment Security Division, it was learned Wednesday.

The present director, Joseph J. Gibbons, has taken a job with the U.S. Labor Department. The Labor Department announced Wednesday he has been sworn in as branch chief in the Bureau of Employment Security.

His place has been taken temporarily by David Pinsky, director of research for the state Labor Department.

Conti Named Counsel for Housing Unit

Atty. Joseph A. Conti, of 241 Summit St., has been appointed counsel for the Manchester Housing Authority (MHA), to succeed Atty. Sanford Piepler.

Atty. Piepler, who, in April, had succeeded Atty. Herman Yulies in the post, resigned nine days ago.

In a letter to all MHA members, Atty. Piepler had cited "conflict of interest" as his reason for resigning, since Green Manor Construction Co., which retains the law firm of Lessner, Bottner, Karp and Piepler as counsel, had, the day before, submitted the low bid for construction of an addition to Westhill Gardens, housing for the elderly.

Atty. Joseph Conti

Atty. Conti's appointment was unanimous last night, upon a motion by John Hotchkinson and a second by Pascal Mastrangelo.

Conti, a Democrat, as is Piepler, was counsel for the now defunct Northeast Refuse Disposal District. He resigned from that post on Tuesday, "to permit the towns of Vernon, South Windsor and Bolton to form a new North Central Refuse Disposal District, without Manchester's participation."

Love Advice Corny

ROME — Brush imaginary dust from her coat, hold hands under the table, touch your lips to the glass her lips have touched, and be sure your gestures seem corny. That's advice from a 2,000-year-old book on "The Art of Love" by Ovid.

Green Manor Gets Westhill Contract

The Manchester Housing Authority (MHA), subject to the approval by the Federal Public Housing Authority (FPHA), has awarded a $1,443,000 contract to Green Manor Construction Co. for the construction of a 100-unit addition to Westhill Gardens, housing for the elderly.

Green Manor was the lowest of five bidders who, on June 22, submitted their prices for the construction. Its bid was about $72,000 less than the low bid of $1,515,000 made in March by Anderson-Fairbanks Inc. of Hartford, and subsequently rejected because it was too high for available funds.

The award to Green Manor was made on the recommendation of PHA official Herbert Livermore, who has assured local housing officials that he will seek Washington approval for sufficient funds to guarantee start and completion of the project.

Livermore said that the approval "will not be much of a problem," since Pederzen and Tilney, architects for the addition, have made sufficient changes to bring structural costs down to $1,142,000, well within the $1,235,000 budgeted for that purpose.

Site costs of $224,250 and equipment and related costs of $76,750 bring the total cost figures up to the amount of Green Manor's low bid.

Livermore has told the MHA that, in the event there is still a question of price by Washington officials of the PHA, further changes, which would cut an additional $36,675 from structural costs, could be made.

He added, however, he thought that additional paring will not be necessary, since the PHA, in the past, has gone along with recommendations made by his New York office when, as shown in Manchester's case, attempts at cutting costs have been evident.

BEETLE TROUBLE

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Big black beetles were blamed for a number of car pileups on an expressway here. A three-mile stretch of expressway had to be closed until sand could be scattered. The beetles, apparently forced out of lowlands by heavy rains, made the pavement so slick that driving became hazardous.

Gospel Singers Come to Church

"The Rebels," a quartet from Tampa, Fla., will appear at the Church of the Nazarene, 236 Mai nSt., tonight at 7:30. The public is invited. A free will offering will be taken.

The singers organized 18 years ago and consists of a group of young businessmen who devote their spare time to Gospel singing on Tampa radio stations and in the area's schools and churches. Their popularity has grown through the years and they have been called one of the greatest Gospel singing groups in America and are often referred to as being America's foremost singers of Gospel and spiritual songs.

Their piano accompanist is a native of Georgia and has been with the quartet 13 years. He is said to be one of the finest Gospel song writers in America today.

Test in Reading Warns Motorists

After two children were hit by cars in this school zone, Franklin, N. H., Police Chief James E. Newell Jr. decided to take a drastic step. Feeling most motorists didn't read or ignored regular traffic signs, he had this one deliberately painted with an "E" backwards. Only four complaints have been received about the spelling but Newell still feels a road sign is most effective.

Old Red Building 4th of July Mecca

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Thousands are expected this weekend to tour the old, red brick building on Philadelphia's Chestnut Street where the Declaration of Independence was signed 189 years ago.

They will be among the more than two million persons who annually visit Independence Hall, including tourists from all states and many countries. Heads of state and presidents periodically visit it.

Set in the brick courtyard beside a statue of George Washington are two plaques, marking where Abraham Lincoln stood in 1861 and John F. Kennedy stood in 1962 during visits.

U.S. Attorney General Nicholas deB Katzenbach will be the principal speaker at Monday's ceremonies, commemorating the activities of that steamy summer in 1776.

Independence Hall was originally built in the early 1730s to house Pennsylvania's General Assembly.

Delegates from throughout the colonies came to it to take up grievances against the British crown in 1776 and eventually proclaimed their independence.

At the signing John Hancock commented, "We must be unanimous; there must be no pulling in different ways; we must all hang together." Benjamin Franklin then replied, "Yes, we must indeed all hang together, or assuredly we shall all hang separately."

It was just one of a number of colorful episodes in the building's history.

According to a government publication, Indian delegations were sometimes housed in one wing when they came to Philadelphia. But that practice was halted in 1799 because of the danger of fire.

When originally built, the structure had no bell tower. One was added later, torn down, then restored. In it was hung in 1753 the state house bell now known as the Liberty Bell.

The bell, with the biblical inscription "Proclaim liberty throughout all the land unto all the inhabitants thereof," was ordered by the superintendents of the State House, supposedly to commemorate the 50th anniversary of William Penn's charter of privileges.

The bell is now housed in the hall, forever muted by a huge crack. At the time of the signing of the Declaration it hung in Independence Hall and presumably could have rung to proclaim the signing.

Independence Hall served as

Grannies Prefer One-Horse Power

COTTAGE GROVE, Ore. (AP) — Nine "gallopin' grandmas" prefer horses to horsepower in making their annual 28-mile freeway trip to the Fourth of July Yoncalla Rodeo in western Oregon.

The "elderly ladies" of the Cottage Grove Riding Club have made the trip by horseback for the last four years. The older gentlemen and the younger set of the club follow in motor vehicles.

Mrs. Roy Easley, 52, started the all-day excursion four years ago when she challenged Mrs. D. K. Mosby to make the trip on horseback. Two other ladies accompanied them.

"Some of us were kinda sore, but we made it," Mrs. Easley said. "We had so much fun and excitement we decided to do it again and eight or nine have made the trip every year since."

Mrs. Easley said the mem-

Arrests Himself

SHREVEPORT, La. — Police Chief Harvey Teasley was fined $100 Thursday on a charge of careless and reckless driving.

Teasley filed the charge against himself following an accident last month when he drove the wrong way on a one-way street and ran into a car. City Court Judge G. Randall Whitmeyer told the chief: "I've read the accident report and am familiar with the case. The fine is the same given any other citizen in a case similar to this one—$100."

Took Russian Name Naval Critic Reveals

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — A U.S. Navy officer today disclosed that he assumed a Russian name to write a book highly critical of some Pentagon and Navy thinking, and nursed his secret for two years.

Cmdr. John A. Davis Jr., 43, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, confirmed in an interview that he authored the fictional work titled "Shadow of Peril." Today was his last day in the Navy, following his voluntary resignation.

The pen name he used was Aleksandr I. Zvdanov, who is described as a Soviet submarine captain.

The book accuses some United States admirals of basing up reports of U.S. weaknesses at sea in order to get more air power, and takes a few swings at some Pentagon policies on antisubmarine warfare.

Written while Davis was serving as a submarine and antisubmarine adviser to the chief of naval operations in the Pentagon in 1962, the book also needles admirals supporting showcase aircraft carrier programs.

The main theme of the story — told through the eyes of a Soviet submarine skipper — contends Soviet submarines can easily penetrate U.S. defenses and threaten United States naval forces.

Until his retirement today, at which he received a letter of commendation from Adm. Roy L. Johnson, commander in chief U.S. Pacific Fleet, Davis was a

169 Bills Signed

Rights Board Strengthened

HARTFORD (AP) —Gov. John Dempsey has signed a bill strengthening the State Civil Rights Commission's hand in dealing with cases of housing discrimination.

A bill arming the commission with the power of injunctive relief was one of 169 signed by Dempsey Thursday.

Under the new law, the commission can seek a court injunction to block the sale or rental of housing involved in a pending discrimination complaint.

If the complaint wins his case, he would then be able to buy or rent the housing he seeks.

Before enactment of the new law, there was nothing to prevent a landlord from selling or renting his property before the case against him was settled.

The governor also signed bills increasing the salaries of sheriffs and exempting from taxation goods in transit stored in public commercial warehouses.

Sheriffs in Hartford, New Haven, Fairfield and New London counties will realize salary increases from the present $8,500 to $10,500 a year. Those in Middlesex, Tolland, Litchfield and Windham will have their present salaries raised to $8,500.

The exemption from taxation of merchandise in transit does not cover goods stored in privately-owned facilities.

Also signed into law by the governor was a bill raising the amount of damage requiring motor vehicle reports, from the present $100 to $200. The bill takes effect Oct. 1. Other bills of general interest which cleared the governor's desk will:

Allow the State Highway Commission to acquire, not by condemnation, land adjacent to a highway for the preservation of natural beauty.

Authorize the leasing of facilities for Superior and Common Pleas courts in Tolland County.

Increase from $7,100 to $8,100 the salary limit for over-time pay for state employes.

Create a state commission on the arts.

Appropriate $5,000 for the marking of graves of veterans of the Colonial and Revolutionary wars.

Raising the limit for urban renewal assistance by the state from $37.5 million to $54 million.

Requiring doctors and surgeons to report cases of child abuse to the state welfare or welfare commissioner of local police.

Liberalizing the income limits for medical assistance for the aged, raising the single limit from $1,800 to $2,100 and the married limit from $2,700 to $3,200.

Allowing the Civil Rights Commission to subpoena witnesses during an investigation of a employment discrimination case.

Appropriating $30,000 for the establishment of day-care programs for emotionally disturbed and mentally ill children.

Incorporating the Covenant Life Insurance Co. of Hartford.

Establishing a Bureau of Motor Vehicles Department in Enfield and Old Saybrook.

Creating a 10-member legislative committee to study the judicial pension system with an appropriation of $10,000.

Authorizing the installation of traffic dividers the entire length of the Wilbur Cross Parkway at the rate of four miles a year or more.

New Weather Satellite Launched

Tiros 10, a new weather satellite, was launched late last night from Cape Kennedy. It joins three others operating on space patrol to provide comprehensive photographic coverage of the coming season of tropical storms. This is the first of the series paid for by the Weather Bureau and is a forerunner of an operational system planned to begin next year. (AP Photofax)

Groton Strike In Second Day

GROTON (AP) — A strike at the nation's leading builder of nuclear submarines moved into its second-day without any indications that a settlement was imminent.

Negotiations involving federal mediators, officials of the struck Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp., and the Metal Trades Council of New London County, AFL-CIO, were being held in Washington.

In Washington Robert H. Moore, deputy director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said some progress has been made toward a settlement, but he declined to say in what areas.

At least 10 arrests have been reported, nine on charges of breach of peace, the result of picketing skirmishes, and the other on a charge of destroying state property.

A fist fight erupted about 9 a.m. today involving about 30 persons, but it was quickly smothered.

Production was halted Thursday when the strike broke out at 12:01 a.m. with the expiration of a three year contract. The strike has idled some 12,500 production workers.

The company has been offered a four-year contract calling for a nine per cent wage increase, a ninth paid holiday and improvements in vacation and other benefits.

Jack Bautista, president of the council, which represents 11 unions at Electric Boat, called the offer "an insult" to the intelligence of the negotiating team, which he is heading at Washington.

He said the union has come back with a counter offer calling for a two-year contract with "significant wage and benefit increase."

U.S. Air Force Pounds Dien Bien Phu Target

Vietnamese Paratrooper Holds Pistol to Guard Cong Guerrilla

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force planes pounded the airfield and barracks in North Viet Nam's Dien Bien Phu today, site of the decisive French defeat in the Indo-china War.

South of the border, government troops killed 128 Viet Cong and captured 8 others in three ground operations, a U.S. military spokesman reported.

Communist mortars hit two air strips with mortar fire during the night. U.S. spokesmen said three helicopters were damaged at Chu Lai, 220 miles northeast of Saigon, and another helicopter crashed due to mechanical failure after it took off during the attack on the Soc Trang strip, 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. spokesmen said a total of 30 planes pounded the targets at Dien Bien Phu, about 186 miles west northwest of Hanoi. They said no antiaircraft fire was encountered over the scene of the bitter 1954 fighting and no enemy planes were sighted.

All planes returned safely from the mission, they said.

The first attack on the target almost on the Laotian border was made by eight F105 Thunderchiefs supported by three other planes. They hit the Dien Bien Phu barracks area for 40 minutes, the spokesmen said, destroying at least 8 buildings and damaging four others.

They dropped 24 tons of 750-pound bombs and fired 2.75-inch rockets, the spokesmen said.

Delaware River Dwindles Too

State Drought Worsens, Little Rain Seen for July

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) — No immediate change is foreseen in the wind pattern that has resulted in a prolonged and deepening drought in Connecticut, the U.S. Weather Bureau says.

Below normal precipitation is expected again in July, the bureau said Thursday.

If its 30-day forecast holds true, July will be the 13th month in the past 15 in which rainfall was below normal.

The Weather Bureau said Thursday prevailing wind patterns continue to steer rain-producing clouds away from Southern New England.

The clouds have dropped their moisture through the central part of the United States and over the Atlantic Ocean, well off the Connecticut coast.

The weatherman said rainfall began falling in lighter than normal amounts late in 1961 and deficits have been increasing to large over since.

In 1962, the deficit was 3.32 inches. It was 6 inches in 1963 and 5.37 in 1964.

Rainfall for the first six months of 1965 has been 7.18 inches below normal, the bureau said, the largest half-year deficit since the start of drought conditions.

Rainfall for June at the Weather Bureau totaled 1.98 inches—a deficit of 1.72 inches for the month.

Drought conditions have been most serious in the northwest section of Connecticut which has a deficit of 50 inches in the past four and one-half years.

State Climatologist Joseph J. Brumbach said that at the end of June, soils capable of holding three inches of moisture contained only about one-tenth of an inch. He said this was the wind pattern that has kept rains that had not been irrigated.

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware are considering an emergency plan to stretch the dwindling water supplies of the Delaware River which serve an area with 20 million people.

The plan was proposed Thursday at a closed, informal meeting of the Delaware River Basin Commission in Gov. Richard J. Hughes' office.

The decision on the fate of the plan will come July 7, when the commission meets again in Philadelphia.

Convention Adjourns, Settles Rules Dispute

HARTFORD (AP) — Connecticut's constitutional convention is in adjournment today after an opening day session that produced little in the way of surprises.

The only departure from the prearranged program was an hour-long dispute over rules.

Otherwise, the delegates, as expected, elected former Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin, a Republican, convention chairman, and Patrick B. O'Sullivan of Orange, a Democrat, vice chairman.

Both are retired chief justices of the State Supreme Court of Errors and will share equally in the role of presiding officer.

The delegates also heard speeches by Gov. John Dempsey and Baldwin elected other officers and appointed standing committees before adjourning until July 13.

The moves to amend the rules were designed to make the convention more open. They were beaten easily but not before Republican and Democratic leaders experienced a few uneasy moments.

The leaders had agreed in advance that a resolution, still in committee after the deadline for committee recommendations, would remain there unless two-thirds of the committee members petitioned the resolution out.

But Penn T. Kimball of Westport proposed that the rules be changed to allow a simple committee majority to petition out resolutions for floor action after the deadline.

The resolutions, Kimball said, would still have to be approved by a two-thirds vote of the convention after they reached the floor.

Kimball, a Democrat, called the convention rules restrictive and said the Rules Committee, in recommending them, erred in not placing more confidence in the judgment of the convention itself.

The delegates rejected the Kimball amendment and other attempts to alter the two-thirds rule.

Only five delegates, including Kimball, voted against the Rules Committee recommendations.

The others were Mrs. Arline W. Ryan of Branford, Lawrence J. DeNardis of Hamden, former Gov. C. Wilbert Snow of Middletown, and Thomas J. Meakill, former mayor of New Britain.

Kimball and Snow are Democrats. The others are Republicans.

Defenders of the Rules Committee recommendations argued that decisions for a two-thirds requirement were adopted only after long and serious consideration.

The two-thirds vote, they said, would insure more responsible action on such matters as proposed amendments to the state's constitution.

Barges Blocked On Elbe River, Permits Needed

BONN, Germany (AP) — Two Communist East German barges were held up today at Schnackenburg on the Elbe River because their captains refused to sign the usual permits for entering West German waters, Chancellor Ludwig Erhard's spokesman reported.

Press chief Karl Guenther von Hase told a news conference that the Communist government "is obviously making a test" of conditions under which barge traffic can move between the two Germanys.

East Germany dropped the old four-power permits for barge traffic and introduced documents of its own Thursday. The Erhard government objected to this as a violation of postwar agreements but instructed West German shippers to make no difficulties.

Barges had been moving normally until this morning when the two from East Germany

Soviets Launch Cosmos Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched another unmanned satellite today in its Cosmos series, the Soviet news agency Tass announced.

The observatory in Bochum, Germany, had reported picking up signals it said varied from the Cosmos series. The observatory last said it could not tell whether the satellite was manned or unmanned.

The new satellite, Cosmos 70, carries scientific equipment designed to continue the study of outer space, Tass reported.

The satellite is in a highly oval orbit, Tass said, ranging from 715 miles up to 187 miles above the earth.

"The apparatus on board the Sputnik is functioning normally," the agency added.

POPE CONSIDERS TRIP

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican press office announced today that U.N. But the unusual Vatican announcement, breaking a silence here on frequent reports about such a trip, suggested the Roman Catholic ruler has the trip under consideration.

HANOI REJECTS PLAN

TOKYO (AP) — Hanoi radio said today the Viet Cong has rejected the Commonwealth peace mission and branded its peace bid a trick to cover up U.S. "aggression" in South Viet Nam. "The so-called 'peace initiative' of Prime Minister Harold Wilson is but another trick aimed to extricate the U.S. aggressors from their predicament, to cover up their criminal acts of war and to divert the attention of world public opinion," the Viet Cong was quoted as saying in a broadcast heard here.

SERVICE HONORED

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has honored today the agency which protects him — the United States Secret Service — by proclaiming the period during July 5 Secret Service Week. The date marks the 100th anniversary of the agency. Johnson said that for a century the service has guarded the integrity of U.S. money and security and for nearly two-thirds of that time has been responsible for protecting the chief executive.

Bolton

Town Meeting Warning Includes Trooper, Budget

Trooper[illegible] will be asked at this town wishes to maintain a resident state trooper, and to approve the town budget for an interim fiscal year, from Sept. 15 through June 30, 1966.

The agenda for the meeting was prepared by the selectmen at a meeting last night. The board also took up a number of other items.

The town has already voted to apply for a full-time resident trooper. The state is ready now to provide one, and the town must make its final decision and budget funds to cover the town's share of the cost.

A proposed budget has been prepared by the board of finance. It to cover the cost of town government until the town can convert to a uniform fiscal year. A bond issue, to cover the budget during the changeover, must also be approved.

The town also will be asked to approve $5,000 for the purchase of library books for the high school. This is a bookkeeping matter, arising from misunderstanding of the allocation of bond money.

Also on the call will be an item to change the election date for town officials and the annual town meeting to the spring, so that this part of town business will coincide with the uniform fiscal year. The election date would be between April 15 and May 15.

The town will also vote whether to accept a gift of 5 acres of land at Bolton Center, and whether to appropriate $500 to cover legal fees in the transfer of the land to the town. The land is being offered to the town by Mrs. E. Pierce Herrick, to be used for park and recreation purposes.

In other business last night the selectmen reappointed Charles Aldrich to be special constable for another six months.

They also confirmed the appointment of James Finnegan to the board of tax review, to fill out a term until the fall election. The vacancy was created by the resignation of Charles Church.

At the request of town counsel, Atty. Harold Garrity, the selectmen voted to pay $25 membership dues to the Connecticut Association of Municipal Attorneys.

The state highway department was sent notification of town aid funds for roads for the fiscal year July 1, 1965 to June 30, 1966. Bolton will receive $36,771 for $1.69 miles of improved roads and $489 for 8.57 miles of unimproved roads, totaling $37,260.

A letter from H. B. O'Loughlin, of the highway department, was read, allocating $2,350 of town aid funds to be used for winter maintenance, fred maintenance and traffic control on roads, this will provide paint for marking the centerlines of Bolton roads.

Notification was received from the State Tax Department that Bolton will receive a part of $193,23 in lieu of town taxes on state owned property. State land in Bolton includes Bolton Notch State Park, Lake Hollrook (Notch Pond), Bolton Lake and part of Gay City state park.

A letter was read and noted from Paul V. Hayden, a member of the national committee to implement President Johnson's call for an all-out effort to provide jobs for the many young Americans leaving school this month. The letter urged the town to lend its efforts to this campaign.

A letter from John H. Elliott added the use of the Civil Defense facilities at the elementary school for the Tolland County rural civil defence committee. The matter was referred to John Garbisch, town CD chairman.

The selectmen received from the Tolland County Extension Service a list of four contractors who sell or erect pole buildings. This will be forwarded to the public building committee.

William L. Lopes, a local insurance agent, appeared at the selectmen's meeting to inquire about the insurance advisory board. He pointed out that agents in town who sell only life insurance are not part of this board at present and can receive no part of any commissions. He said now that the town is buying life and major medical insurance group policies, the time is ripe for the insurance agents should be changed. The selectmen stated that the setup of the insurance advisory board is already under study.

Bicycle Tourist

William Clark, of Hebron Rd., sailed Saturday from New York aboard the Holland - America liner "Seven Seas," enroute to a summer-long bicycle tour of Europe. He is one of fifteen members of Connecticut Congregational youth groups participating in the tour, which is being led by Rubert Edmondson, of Coventry.

After landing in Rotterdam, the group will tour Holland for five days. Then they will see Denmark for 10 days, Sweden for 10 days, Norway for 12, and will have two and a half weeks in Great Britain. The last three days will be spent in Coventry, England, where the party will be guests in homes in the parish.

Most of the travel will be by bicycle, and each tourist has his gear packed in saddlebags totaling 25 pounds in weight. Long hops on the itinerary will be made by train. Overnight stops along the way will be at youth hostels, in accordance with a schedule prepared well in advance of the trip.

Clark will be a senior at the UConn college of business administration in the fall. He added to his savings for this trip, money earned while fulfilling the requirements of his salesmanship course.

The young travelers will return by ship, landing in New York September 7.

Girl Scout Trip

Girl Scout Cadette Troop 659 will visit Griffette Castle next Tuesday. The scouts are to meet at the Community Hall at 10 a.m., bringing a lunch, a permission slip and money for the admission fee. Mrs. Alfred Lanteri, Mrs. Kenneth Griffin and the troop leader, Miss Carol Lefebvre, will serve as drivers and chaperones. The group will return to the Community Hall about 4 that afternoon.

Jarvis Loses

Potter's Oil of Willimantic defeated Bolton's Jarvis team 5-0 in last night's game. Bill Hammond pitched a no-hitter for Potter's Oil, and was a standout batter as well with a triple and a single. Dave Southerlin pitched for Bolton.

Sunday Service At Zion at 9

Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church will begin its summer schedule Sunday with a service at 9 a.m. This schedule will be in effect through the first Sunday in September. Sunday School will be in session throughout the summer in the Parish House at its regular time, 9 a.m.

Vacation Bible School at the church has concluded its first week today. Enrollments for boys and girls 3 to 15 years of age may be made at the Parish House for next week's session, Tuesday through Friday from 9 to 11:45 a.m.

South Windsor

Players Set To Produce A Musical

The South Windsor Country Players are making plans to produce the musical comedy "Paiama Game" for their fall production.

The play will be staged in conjunction with the South Windsor Lions Club for the benefit of the South Windsor Scholarship Organization.

Ernest Cirillo of Windsor is director. Casting dates will be announced shortly for actors, singers and dancers. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Patrick Whitfield, 205 Farnham Rd.

Orville Welch has been elected president for the coming year. Other Players officers include, Joseph DeMatio, first vice president; Phyllis Reynolds, second vice president; Alfred Rosolo, treasurer; Gloria Whitfield, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Smith, recording secretary; Wayne Bidwell, associate board member.

To Attend Jamboree

Mrs. Caroline Toce, Main St., will leave July 7 for the senior Scout Roundup at Farragut Wild Life Farm, Idaho, to serve as a counselor.

Mrs. Toce has been in scouting for some 14 years: As a Girl Scout, leader and currently as district advisor.

She is the first leader to attend a round-up from South Windsor. Scouts from the United States and other countries meet for two weeks in this international "camp-out" to meet other girls, discuss Scouting and exchange ideas and problems.

Summer Services Set

The Wapping Community Church has announced the summer services schedule following a special meeting of the board of deacons. Services will be held at 8 and 9:30 a.m. to provide added convenience during the summer months.

Awarded Scholarship

Miss Kathryn Poulos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Poulos, 50 Alison Dr. was awarded a $400 scholarship from the Hartford College for Women. Kathryn is a 1965 graduate from South Windsor High School.

Registration Results

A total of 425 children have been signed up for free swimming lessons to be given at Veterans Memorial Park this summer, recreation director Sam Brady has announced.

Of the total enrolled, 375 children will be included in classes for beginners and advanced beginners, Brady said. Those passing specific tests will be awarded Red Cross swim certificates at the end of the lesson program.

Beginning today, children in Grade 7 or who are 11 or older may enroll in a junior lifesaving course at the swim area. Those in Grade 11, or 16 may enroll in a senior lifesaving course. All interested should contact Nick Gladic, head life guard at the swim area.

Brady also reminded that the playgrounds at Wapping, Orchard Hill and Pleasant Valley schools are now open for the summer season. The playgrounds are open daily Monday through Friday from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and 1 to 3:45 p.m. Facilities are available for children between the ages of five and 14. No registration is required.

Ranking Student

Miss Nola G. Collins, 1224 Sullivan Ave., Wapping, a 1965 graduate from Connecticut State College, was among the forty highest ranking students in her graduating class. She achieved a cumulative point average of better than 3.26 during her four college years, a score that is the equivalent of an A average. Miss Collins majored in elementary education.

Dedication Ceremonies

The official dedication ceremonies for the monument and park to all South Windsor war veterans will be conducted by the Abe E. Miller American Legion Post Monday at 2 p.m. at Veterans Memorial Park.

The invocation and benediction will be given by the Rev. James Bonnema of the Christian Reformed Church and Mayor John Egan will be a guest speaker.

There will be free admission for all South Windsor residents and their guests.

VSB Registration Set

Registration for Our Savior Lutheran vacation Bible school is being received by Mrs. Roy Browning, 80 Graham Rd. and Mrs. William Lanning, 6 Plum La. School will run from July 6 through the 16. The program will be held daily from 9 to 11:30 a.m.

Kabuki for Europe

TOKYO — Japan's traditional theatrical art form, the Kabuki, will be performed in West Europe for the first time next fall by a troupe of 60 that will include a number of Japan's leading actors. Kabuki has been presented abroad before, but this is the first time the Japanese Government has sponsored such a project, paying half the estimated tour cost of $280,000. The first performance will be at the Berlin Arts Festival.

Sheinwold on Bridge

WESTERN EXPERT MOVES TO NORTH

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Thirty years ago the best bridge player in the West was a girl named Helen White. After marriage and a trip to New York, the Western star became famous as Helen Sobel, the world's best woman player (and at least the equal of any man). With her recent marriage to Stanley Smith, a Detroit accountant, tournament buffs hope the fair Helen will return to showing the rest of the world how to get the most out of 52 cards.

Opening lead — King of Diamonds.

Today's hand shows the defensive skill of the then Helen Sobel. At West, Mrs. S. (this solves the problem of which name to use) led the king of diamonds and continued with the ace.

Since East's high-low signal made it clear that South held the lad diamond, Mrs. S. continued with the jack of diamonds. If dummy ruffed with a high trump, West would get a trump trick.

South was afraid to ruff with a high trump (although he might have made his contract if he had done so) and saw no advantage in ruffing low and letting East over-ruff. Instead, he discarded a club from dummy, hoping to limit his club loss to two tricks.

Takes Clubs

East discarded the seven of clubs to show his strength, and Mrs. S. held the trick with the jack of diamonds. Now it was necessary to give up two club tricks before doing anything else, so Mrs. S. led the nine of clubs from the dummy and won the club return with the ace.

West's trump tricks only stalled away. Mrs. S. led a fourth diamond. Declarer ruffed with the deuce of trump in dummy, hoping that East would carelessly over-ruff with a low trump. But East, a gent by the name of Charles Goren, smiled gently at this bit of trickery and ruffed with the ten of hearts.

South had to over-ruff with the queen and hearts, and now Mrs. S. was sure to defeat the contract with a trump trick. We hope to see many more such defenses from Mrs. Stanley Smith.

STATE VEGETABLES

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP)—After being taken for granted for years, the humble pinto bean and chili have received their due reward.

The state staples of New Mexico's food became the official state vegetables.

A bill introduced by State Rep. Arcenio Gonzales, D-Las Vegas, had been passed by the legislature and signed by Gov. Jack Campbell.

A Friendly NOTE

By Steve Cavagnaro

It's getting increasingly hardar, it seems, to get away from it all. This is particularly true of telephones, what with 140 million of the talkers now sprinkled over the world. Eighty million of the telephones are in the U. S.; Russia has four and a quarter million and China with 500 million citizens has but a scant quarter million instruments.

Surprisingly, however, Canada and not the U. S. is the talkingest country; Canadians average 583 telephone conversations per capita last year.

There are still a few frontiers where you cannot answer to a wrong number. There are no telephones for homeowners in a number of countries such as Nepal, Yemen and Greenland.

You always have a telephone at your disposal . . . to call 643-1415 and make reservations for the finest in good food and the best in service at CAVEY'S RESTAURANT, 45 E. Center St. You'll feel like a monarch. See Eddie Reed at the piano nightly. Closed Sundays.

New Town Officials Named In Atmosphere of Harmony

The board of representatives got the wheels of the new government moving last night with a wide variety of town appointments.

Almost all the appointments got quick approval from the new governing body as it met on the first day of the consolidated government.

Partisan bickering, which has marred a number of board meetings during the three-month transition period, was largely absent last night. The honeymoon atmosphere was reflected by Republican board member Thomas Carruthers, who introduced motions for approval of nearly all appointments announced by Thomas McCusker, the new Democratic mayor. Carruthers is chairman of the Republican town committee.

The Appointees

Appointments made last night included:

William Laddecke as treasurer; Wilfred Lutz, auditor; Raymond Spielman, tax collector; John Ashe, fire chief for District 1 and fire marshal, and Joseph Dwyer, fire chief for District 2 and deputy fire marshal.

Edmund F. Dwyer was named Civil Defense director; Donald Berger, recreation director; Joseph Kristan, health officer; Donald McNulty, deputy fire marshal; Robert Demling, tempory building officer, and Helen Pressler, temporary finance director.

In a short address to the board as the meeting started, Mayor McCusker called for "action an "historic occasion." He said the start of the consolidated city seals the end of the 75-year-old city government and the 12-year-old fire district government.

McCusker said that no one "will be hurt under consolidation." While consolidation may cost a "little more," he said the long run residents will save money.

May or McCusker stressed the theme of cooperation before the board, mostly split between Democrats and Republicans. "I ask your cooperation in the cause of government," he said. "I believe this cooperation will be coming."

The mayor urged board members to "pitch in and work together." He said that many things needed to be accomplished in town, but made no specific proposals in his talk. The mayor, though, said he hoped the new planning commission would work together with the redevelopment agency.

Appointments to commissions were passed without discussion by the board but ruffles in the calm began appearing during appointments for individual offices.

Board member Franklin Welles proposed that the town consider alternating the position of auditor between Lutz and Robert J. Pue. Lutz has been auditor for the town and Pue, auditor for the city. Both have worked together in arranging a bookkeeping system for the town.

Laddecke's appointment as treasurer was approved without discussion. He has been city treasurer and was chairman of the town finance board for several years.

The two appointments were passed unanimously but the appointment of Spielman for tax collector brought dissension.

McCusker read a letter from Thomas J. Wolff, who was unable to make the meeting, opposing the appointment of anyone to the tax collector post expect the highest scorer in state administered tests. Spielman was not the highest scorer.

Score Was Close

McCusker said that the final rating between Spielman and the highest scorer was "extremely" close and pointed to Spielman's 30 years of public service.

Republican board member Herman Olson said he assumed that only the top scorers were being given posts in which competitive tests were required.

But McCusker replied that the charter required this only for the post of police chief, director of public works and building inspector. For other posts, the board may choose from the top three.

Olson voted against Spielman's appointment. Both Olson and Welles asked to go on record as wanting only the top scorer for competitive positions.

Competitive tests caused another stir during appointment of the police chief, director of public works and building inspector. Tests for the positions were taken several months ago and results announced. But formal appointment by the board was required.

Olson asked to see the test scores for all three positions. After studying the test results of police chief he said the scores were too close to make a decision from them on who should get the post.

Had No Option

But McCusker replied the charter required only test scores must be followed in the appointment. Experience and other factors could be considered.

Atty. Frank McCoy, another board member, agreed with Olson that board members in the case of the police chief, should have been allowed to exercise their judgment.

McCusker said in the future board members would have that privilege.

Board members, including Carruthers, Welles and Olson, along with test results and appointments of Chief Ashe, Fire Chief Dwyer, Director Berger, Attorney Lutz and Tax Collector Spielman, as chairman of the town finance board for several years.

Traffic authority Thomas Carruthers, George Risley, Fred Bilow, Andrew Tricarico, George Trapp, Edmund Dwyer, Eugene Joslin and Atty. Bernard Ackerman.

Sewer advisory committee — Joseph Gworek, James Kelly, David Somerville, Roland Gledhill and Frank Biancardi.

McCusker said the sewer committee would be concerned with sewer program in the rural area.

One board approved a proposal by Olson that the planning and zoning commissions and the zoning board of appeals look into the federal 701 program, which provides funds for town planning.

Auditor's Proposals Adopted

The board adopted a number of proposals made in a letter by auditors Lutz and Pue. Measures adopted included: Naming of a temporary finance officer to sign for town purchases of a bookkeeping machine; and inventoring of town equipment to determine fixed assets.

In other business the board approved purchase of a 1963 packer truck for use in rubbish pickup, at a cost of $5,000. The board voted to waive a charter requirement for bidding because the truck is needed immediately.

Approved salaries for several town posts that had been worked out at earlier board meetings. The mayor will receive $5,000; the treasurer, $2,500; town clerk, $9,000 and selectmen, $2,50 an hour. Under the new government, selectmen will handle mainly voting matters.

Approved the continuation of a fire district committee, appointed before consolidation, to approve two fire trucks when they arrive.

Agreed to turn over a letter from the head of the Manchester Child Guidance Clinic, requesting town's share of financial support, to board of education chairman Edward Callahan.

The board also heard a proposal from board member Robert Deming that a survey bond issue (to be set at Mrs. Freseler, new chief accounting clerk in the town treasurer's office) $75,000 for the tax collector; $50,000 for the treasurer; and $1,000 for Mrs. Ethel Pease, who has been city clerk and will continue in the government in another post.

Deming said he plans to arrange for a blanket bond for all town employees.

Tax Appeals Hearing Set

The town board set a public hearing on tax appeals for July 8 p.m. in the circuit courtroom to authorize borrowing up to $75,000 in anticipation of taxes. Deming said the money is needed to meet town operations, including salaries.

The board will meet after the hearing to vote on the measure. The board plans to meet next Tuesday with the new commissions appointed last night.

Before the meeting started last night, the town clerk swore into office Mayor McCusker, the members of the board, town counsel Robert Baum and selectmen Thomas Durelle, Harry McMann and Joseph Konicki. Two members of the board were absent, Wolff, a Democrat, and George Risley, a Republican.

Joseph Gill, president of the Polish-American Club in Rockville resented the mayor with a gavel on behalf of the club.

The board met in the circuit courtroom, or what was called city hall until yesterday.

Emergency Ambulance

Residents of rural Vernon will continue to have emergency calls for fire equipment and ambulance at $75-2000, District 2 fire department has announced.

Stocks in Brief

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market eased today after a three-day rally snipped a six-week losing streak.

Prices were irregularly lower and trading was moderate.

Brokers and investors were moving cautiously in advance of the three-day Fourth of July weekend. The market will be closed Monday.

The enthusiasm that accompanied the rally was somewhat dimmed by a fall in U.S. gold reserves to the lowest level since October 1938, a rise in unemployment in June and a drop in factory orders in May.

Changes of key issues were held mostly to fractions with a few going to more than a point.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was down .4 to 318.1 with industrials off .5, rails off .4 and utilities up .1.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials at noon had dipped 0.38 to 871.31. It had been off more than a point an hour earlier.

Rubbers and utilities advanced while most other groups were mixed.

International Business Machine lost more than 3 points and Xerox and Control Data declined more than a point.

Prices were mixed in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged and Treasuries declined.

Canadians Visit CAP Squadron

Royal Canadian Air Cadets of Wing 6 in Ottawa arrived in Manchester last night for a weekend visit with the Manchester Civil Air Patrol. It's a return visit for the CAP made to Ottawa in May. Greeting Squadron Leader Robert Goudie (right) is Cmdr. Richard Griffith of the CAP. The Canadians are house guests of CAP cadets. Today they toured the capitol, visited Lake Compounce and WTIC studios in Hartford. This evening they will attend a dance. Tomorrow they visit Mystic Seaport, go beaching, and depart for home Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. (Herald photo by Pinto.)

Summer School Receives Grant for Reading, Math

The Manchester Summer School set a precedent yesterday by becoming the first agency in town to have a program approved under the new state aid to disadvantaged children act.

The State Department of Education has approved an $1,800 grant to start a special six-week course in remedial reading and arithmetic for about 185 selected children.

The grant will pay for three teachers who will conduct "intensive, small-group" classes. Emphasis in the course goes beyond just correcting reading and arithmetic weaknesses, said Robert Nearing, the summer school director.

The classes will also stress communicating with others, identifying other weaknesses, and impressing upon the youngsters the advantages, both social and economic, of staying in school now and later.

The program is set up for the disadvantaged child and the state grant is based on the families with incomes less than $4,000 and the number of town children on ADC (aid to dependent children).

However, once the state has approved the basic program, any child in the community in need of such a program may enter it.

Thus, in this program, of the 185 children who will benefit from it, there are only 62 on ADC and 20 from homes with marginal incomes.

All 185 children have been recommended for this program by their teachers. About 125 of them are in Grades 2-8 and need emphasis on reading skills; another 60 are in Grades 4 and 5 and need emphasis on arithmetic.

If it hadn't been for the state grant, said Nearine, there would have been no such program.

In having its program approved, Manchester becomes one of the first towns in the state to benefit from this aid which took effect yesterday.

In all, close to $100,000 is available to the town under this $10 million act, which in many respects duplicates the newly passed federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act.

The town's total available grant is based on 380 children on ADC and about 1,200 families with incomes less than $4,000.

School administrators are currently in the process of drawing up other programs for fall, said Allen Cone, vice principal of Bennet Junior High School and chairman of the administrative council, yesterday.

The following criteria were used in selecting the summer school program:

1. Unbearable home situations tending to minimize the values of school attendance;
2. Home situations which might indicate putting the child in a structured environment than letting him run loose all summer;
3. Recommendation of the social worker based on past contracts and referrals;
4. The need for developing skills to prevent future academic failures or eventual school dropouts.
5. The mental ability to profit from a short six-week program;
6. Assessment by both the teacher and principal of the pupil's willingness to participate in such a program.
7. The parent's willingness to have the child participate.

Little Rain Seen Coming During July

At a news conference after the meeting, Hughes declined to give any details of the plan because he did not want "to alarm people unnecessarily."

But he gave these hints:

1. New York City might have to reduce the amount of water it takes from two reservoirs in the Delaware's northern reaches.

2. New York City might have to release more water from the reservoirs to keep up the flows downstream.

3. New Jersey and Pennsylvania water supplies in the basin might have to help out by releasing water into the river.

Both New York City and Philadelphia depend for about half of their water supplies on the Delaware.

New York City is allowed to draw an average 440 million gallons a day from the Delaware Basin under a 1954 decree of the U.S. Supreme Court. But in return it must release enough water to provide specified flows downstream.

New Jersey and Pennsylvania officials have charged that New York is violating the 1954 draught of water but has not been meeting the minimum releases recently. In Friday's meeting Monday, Hughes threatened to go to the Supreme Court if New York City does not live up to the court decree.

But Hughes toned down his stand at the meeting Thursday and stressed unity. He said the compromise plan offered "is a reasonable and fair solution for all states concerned."

About 1,800 Set to March In Anniversary Parade

Over 110 units, including approximately 1,800 marchers, will participate in tomorrow's anniversary parade scheduled to start at 2 p.m. Donald Crawford, parade chairman, has announced that the honorary grand marshal of the parade will be the Rev. Dr. William D. H. Moe. Antoni Sadlak will serve as grand marshal, and the parade marshal will be Lt. Col. Edward L. Burnham, U.S. Air Force Reserve.

The parade will assemble at the junction of Old Stafford Rd. and Dunn Hill Rd. Units should register at the fork of Old Stafford Rd. and Rt. 74. The registration area will be manned beginning at 1:30 p.m., to permit participants to register for the competition. All unassigned units will be given assignments by the parade chairman at this time. Division commanders are requested to report to the parade marshal before 1:30 p.m. The parade will move out at 2 p.m., proceeding down Old Stafford Rd. through the Green, down Merrow Rd., across the highway and will disperse in Gerber Field.

The parade will be reviewed by Honorary Grand Marshal Rev. William Moe, and other dignitaries, from the reviewing stand in front of the Hicks Memorial School. All music units will play and drill units will perform while passing the stand.

Participants in the parade include:

Escort Division — Police escort, honorary grand marshal, grand marshal, color guard, Connecticut State Police Auxiliary, parade marshal and the Eighth Air Force Band.

The first division will include the Department of Connecticut V.F.W. Color Guard, Fletcher's Raiders, Brothers of the Hoof, St. Luke's Paradettes, Rockville Fish and Game Club float, Staff Sgt. American Legion, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, Smitty's Cadettes, Salmta Drum Corps, Rockville American Legion, Rusty Olmstead's Scouts, Tolland 4-H town committee float, Florites, Somersville Fire Department, Hebron Flea Dogs.

Second division — Holy Rosary Cadetettes, Willimantic V.F.W., 1940 M.P. Company CNG, Manchester, Knights of Columbus, Golden Antlers, Junior Women's Club float, Tolland Twisters, Rhoda School Band, Tolland Ambulance Association marching unit, Daughters of Union Veterans, Staffordville Fire Dept. No. 1, North Coventry Fire Dept., Yankee Pedediers, Democratic Women's Club float, Democratic Women's Club motorcade.

No. 1, Hartford Fire Dept.

Fifth Division — The Surfers, Manchester Post 3046, VFW, Tolland GOP float, 1915 touring car, Sheffield Sabres, Coventry-Mansfield American Legion Post, Tri-City Motorcycle Club float, Vernon Fire Dept. Co. No. 1, Willington Fire Dept No. 2.

Sixth Division — Nutmeg Rangers, VFW Post 254 and auxiliary, Charlie Luce vehicles, Toreadors, Sheutpsit Post 341 Auxiliary Drill team, 4-H Town and Country Rider float, Reddington Rock Riders, 4-H Hoof beats, Hoofs and Saddles, Ellington Fire Dept, Somers Fire Department, and Tolland Fire Dept.

Traffic and Parking

Parking during the parade will be permitted in the Hicks and Meadowbrook parking lots, along the west side of roads east of the Green and on the east side of side streets. Field parking will be provided off Tory Rd., Bald Hill Rd., and in the field where St. Matthews church is being built (between Dunn Hill and Rt. 74).

Dunn Hill Rd. will be one way. All east-bound traffic will be routed along Rt. 74 to Tolland St., then to Dunn Hill. Vehicles carrying marching units will be directed to Gerber Field where the parade will disband.

When the parade starts, all traffic will be stopped at the intersections along the main parade route and will be held until the end of the parade has passed. Traffic will then be detoured around the parade route and allowed to proceed.

Historical Museum

The historical museum being held in the front classroom of the Hicks Memorial School during the anniversary contains a wealth of memories from Tolland's past. Each object in the exhibit is of Tolland origin, or has been handed down from previous generations of Tolland residents, and helps to give a picture of the way of life of the Tolland residents in previous years. Over two hundred articles were gathered by Helen Needham and her committee for the exhibit.

Just a few of the many historical items on exhibit are: A pestle and porcelain mortar upon which glue were hand made in 1840 by Dr. Gilbert Preston; a wooden washing machine used at the turn of the century; and a copy of "Elements of Grammar" used in the Tolland School in 1863, all of which were loaned to the museum by Mrs. Florence Meacham Anderson.

A shaker bonnet, woven by hand from flax which was raised here, was lent by Lilly Crandall, as was a cheese basket from the cheese mill and a red carpet, woven by Frank Ladwig. Miss Crandall's mother prepared the rags and rolled them into balls of the correct weight to put on the loom for weaving.

Mrs. John Usher donated a flax wheel, and a spinning wheel used for wool or flax. All the labor, from sowing the flax seed to finishing towel, was done by the Babcock family in the late 1700's.

Mrs. Roland Usher donated a school bell used in the school at Leonard's Corner and at the Seven and Nine School where where she was a teacher.

Clarence Metcalf contributed a musket used by his grandfather in the Civil War. Miss Bernice Hall and Mrs. Ira Crosland donated a steeple clock formerly used by the Franklin Deliverers in what is now the Garefty home.

Helen Needham contributed a basket made by the Raisch family about 50 years ago. Mr. Raisch, who lived at the top of Faulk Hill, grew his own willow. Mrs. Robert Jenks donated the Agard family croquet set, circa 1865, and a wedding dress belonging to her mother that was hand made of Cheney silk about 1900.

Mrs. Arthur Bushnell lent a doll which is about 200 years old and was made by her husband's great - grandmother when she was a little girl. Bertha Place contributed an old cobbler's bench and equipment for making shoes.

Many more fascinating items are on exhibit in the museum, which will be open from 1 to 5 p.m. tomorrow.

Today's Events

The boy scouts will hold a "Multhermia" this afternoon from 2 to 5 p.m. demonstrating the various skills used in scouting. A court of honor will be held tonight at 7:30 at the scout camp on the field south of Crandall's pond. Merit badges and awards will be presented and a campfire program will follow. The public is invited to attend these activities.

Tomorrow's Events

The anniversary parade will start at 2 p.m. on the Green.

Drills of the various parade units and the awarding of trophies will be at 4 p.m. on the baseball field in front of Meadowbrook school. Forty-seven trophies will be awarded.

Climaxing the week-long celebration will be the Anniversary Ball, to be held from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the exhibition hall, Stafford Fairgrounds, in Stafford Springs. A few tickets to the ball are still available at the anniversary headquarters, or from Mrs. Bruce Cummings, chairman of the ball.

Hearing Clinic

A hearing clinic for children five and six years old, entering kindergarten or Grade 1 in September, will be held at Hicks Memorial School July 16 through 23.

Appointments may be made through the Rockville Public Health Nursing Association.

VFW Auxiliary News

The ladies auxiliary of Sheutpsit Post, VFW, was awarded a plaque, in honor of their surpassing of the membership quota, at the convention in Bridgeport.

Delegates to the convention from Tolland were Sandra Donbeck and Lorraine White. Alternates were Georgianne Hampton and Dolores Jacobson.

The ladies auxiliary drill team color guard will march in tomorrow's anniversary parade. Any ladies belonging to the auxiliary wishing to join the color guard are requested to contact the new president, Rose Sargent.

Tolland's History in Fashions

A potpourri of styles, representing apparel popular with Tolland women during the town's 250 year history, are modeled by residents during the historic fashion show Wednesday evening at the Hicks School gymnasium. Most of the clothing exhibited was contributed by Tolland families; a few dresses were made from cloth spun by the families of town forebears. Tolland is celebrating its 250th anniversary as an incorporated town this week. (Herald photos by Offiara.)

Apartment Bid Near Park Before Planners July 12

A public hearing on a re-quest for a zone change, which may open the way for an apartment complex on W. Middle Tpke., across from Wickham Park, is on the agenda for the July 12 meeting of the Town Planning Commission (TPC).

The regulation requiring a special permit for the construction of group dwellings in that zone is now being tested in the courts, on an appeal by Alexander Jarvis Briefs on it appeal were filed today by Town Counsel Irving Aronson and counsel for Jarvis.

The operators of the par-3 golf course, who were turned down by the TPC recently on a request to rezone their property for business use, have filed an application with the Zoning Board of Appeals (ZBA) for a variance to permit them to construct a restaurant on that site.

A public hearing on the variance request will be heard at the ZBA's July 19 meeting.

Hospital Gets Three Interns

Semi-annual Manchester Memorial Hospital completed its intern rotation yesterday. Four doctors who had finished one-year internship left for more specialized training and three new interns began training programs here.

The new interns are Dr. Donald Cullen, Dr. Christina Andia, and Dr. Brilinda Cue. They will join Drs. Renato Dioquino and Librado Bueno, who have been interns since January.

Of the four leaving, two Drs. Hugo Melamedoff and Dimitrije Ivanovic, plan to enter a psychiatric residency program at Middletown State Hospital, Middletown, N. Y.

Dr. Victor Cantisano will begin a three-year program of specialized training in radiology at Sinai Hospital, Baltimore, Md.

Dr. Sumrith Pracharktam will enter a three-year program in ophthalmology at the Homer G. Phillips Hospital in St. Louis, Mo.

In addition, Dr. William Benson, an extern for the past three months, will return to the University of Iowa College of Medicine to complete his fourth year of medical studies.

Of the new interns, Dr. Cullen is a 1963 graduate of University College, Dublin, Ireland, he has been in Manchester before, having served here as an extern.

Drs. Andia and Cue, both women, are also both 1964 graduates of the University of Santo Tomas, Manila, Philippines. Drs. Dioquino and Bueno are also graduates of the University of Santo Tomas.

New Formula Increases Aid For Bus Rides by $13,892

A new state formula for school bus transportation grants will bring an increase of $13,892 into the town's general fund this fiscal year.

Part of the legislation to come out of the General Assembly, this revised grant now covers all public school children from kindergarten through Grade 12. The old grant was based on kindergarten through Grade 8 only.

According to Board of Education Business Manager Douglas Pierce, the total bus cost for all grades is $77,941. The grant will pay half of $38,820.

The revised formula simplifies accounting for the school's finance office. There are 2,600 children in town requiring transportation. Whereas formerly the elementary school bus user had to be subtracted to figure the state share, now the total figure can be used.

This $13,900 joins the $200,000 general state aid increase also voted by the General Assembly. Both will go into the town's general fund.

In 1965-66 the town may expect to receive approximately $1.4 million in various state educational grants. Last year, 1964-65, the town received $1.24 million.

Meanwhile, the other side of the picture shows the board of education operations budget rising $321,000 to a total of $5.39 million.

However, of this increase of $321,000 in the school budget, the state is in effect, paying for $213,000, or over two-thirds.

Town Teachers to Travel And Study During Summer

The faculty of Coventry High School is engaged this summer in a variety of activities — traveling abroad, visiting other parts of the United States, and seeking higher education.

Touring Europe are Mrs. Irene Pomeranta of the foreign language department and Mrs. Valia Jones of the mathematics department. Mrs. Teresa Williams, of the art department, is accompanying four girls as part of the Language League program, skipping Rome to study art, history and Italian. Taking the trip are Cynthia DeMars, Patricia Minicucci and Carol McKinney.

Miss Catherine Olmstead, a Grade 2 teacher at the Coventry Grammar School, will also travel in Europe.

California will be the destination of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Winters and Mrs. Lotti Roy and her family. Winters teaches social studies, Mrs. Winters teaches reading and Mrs. Roy, English. Mrs. Teresa Hidgewan, an English teacher, will travel to her home state of Montana.

Post - graduate work at the University of Connecticut will be undertaken by Mrs. Carol Rose of the business department, working toward a master of education degree, Mrs. Ruth Blake and William Taylor, toward master of arts degree in English, Angelo Geamundo for master of music education degree, and George Coon for further study in History.

Bradford Wright is attending Trinity College for a masters degree in English. Raymond DuCharme of the social studies department will be working for a master of arts degree in guidance.

Anthony Terrano is studying at Fairfield University for a master of science degree; Mrs. Elizabeth Motycka, Southern Connecticut State College for a master of library science degree; Mrs. Patricia Smith, Wesleyan University for a master of arts degree in mathematics; Joseph DeLucia, Boston College under a National Science Foundation grant working in the field of radiation biology; Charles Regan, Boston College under a grant to work in guidance; Richard Pellegrino, the University of Connecticut, for master's degree in history, and Harry Cunha, attending an IBM workshop at Buckley High School in Hartford.

Mrs. Francis Wade, chorus director, attended a reception at the White House in Washington for delegates to the American Symphony Conference, where Mrs. Johnson presided.

Frank Sgrosso is doing work on his doctorate degree at the University of Connecticut, and plans to attend Syracuse University to finish his study.

The high school library club, Sodalitas Libraria, has purchased an oil painting by Peter Rembetey, a junior at Southern Connecticut State College. Rembetey is recognized as a sculptor and creator of jewelry as well as a painter. The painting is hung in the school library.

Coventry High School students may pick up report cards through Wednesday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., at the school office, reports Principal Milton A. Wilde. After that date, cards will be mailed.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Trask and their daughter, Carolyn, departed this week for Europe on the first international 4-H members exchange program.

Trask, of Ripley Hill Rd., is a state 4-H specialist, leader of the state 4-H international program and chairman of the 4-H Foundation's International Program Committee. He and Mrs. Trask will be group leaders for the summer, guiding the twenty-four tour members on a 10-day tour of France, Belgium, Germany and Luxembourg later in the summer.

Carolyn is one of three Connecticut 4-H members who are participating in the exchange program. She will stay during the first six weeks abroad with an Irish host family, and will join her parents for the European tour before returning to this country in late August.

The Whirlaway Square Dance Club is sponsoring a benefit dance Sunday at the Coventry High School gym from 8 to 11 p.m.

Dick Tutey and Jack O'Leary will be callers. Proceeds will be used for high school band uniforms. Soft-soled shoes that won't leave marks must be worn.

Mrs. James A. Martin, Rt. 44A, last night was awarded a letter of recognition by the Hospital Council of Greater Hartford for participating in a refresher program for nurses at Hartford Hospital. She attended a series of ten sessions, both lectures and demonstrations, on current methods of medication and treatment.

Mule Memorial

MULESHOE, Tex. (AP) — A four-day celebration starting today honors the beast which helped name and build this West Texas community.

A lifesize fiberglass statue on the Maine Street will be dedicated Saturday.

Muleshoe began 80 years ago as a cluster of buildings around railroad shipping pens on the old Muleshoe Ranch, so named because of its distinctive brand.

The National Mule Memorial Association, organized by the late Dr. J. B. Barnett of Martin, Tex., collected money nationwide for the memorial "dedicated to the memory of all mules who had such an important role in the pioneering of America."

Iona Cited for Hiring Handicapped

William H. Sleith, second from left, president of the Iona Mfg. Co., accepts a certificate of appreciation from Cyrus G. Fiandora, secretary of the Governor's Commission on Employment of the Handicapped. Standing between the two is James DeRocco, chairman of the local committee on employment of the handicapped, and at left is Frederick F. Kania, its secretary. Iona was cited for being a pioneer in the hiring of the mentally retarded and the physically handicapped, and for proving that those employes are outstanding workers, when placed in the type of jobs they can do. At a recent seminar at Yale University, sponsored by the Governor's Committee, and the first of its kind ever held in the United States, Iona was hailed as a leader in the field of hiring the handicapped, and its experiences, as outlined by Sleith, were made the basis for future efforts, throughout the state. School Building Plans Approved

Town meeting items went off in due form Wednesday, with acceptance of the proposed 12-room elementary school on a site located in the northern part of the town. The school building committee is authorized to engage an architect, get preliminary sketches, secure an option on a site, and report by Nov. 15. Enough money to carry on this opening business was appropriated.

Several other matters on the agenda were also taken care of. Robert A. Price was again elected a member of the Rham High School board of education, for a three year term. Selectmen were authorized to enter into agreement with the state highway commissioner concerning state aid road funds.

Water Precious

Water is still a very precious element in this area and its use is guarded jealously. Grass, flowers, all kinds of vegetation are suffering. Wells are looked into and judged as to depth of water, but no cases of going dry have been reported as yet. The area had to endure this sort of thing for three years, and can only hope the saying, "three times and out," will do work as far as next year is concerned.

Church Services

Communion services are scheduled Sunday for the Hebron and Gilead Congregational churches. The sermon for the day will be "In The Strength Of The Lord," the Rev. John N. Cross, pastor, occupying both pulpits.

Services at St. Peter's Episcopal Church Sunday will be: Holy Communion, 8 a.m.; morning prayer and sermon, 10 a.m. the Rev. Gordon W. Wesman, rector, officiating.

4-H Camp

The Tolland County Extension Service has announced 4-H camp dates this year are: Aug. 1-6 and Aug. 8-13 for junior camp, and Aug. 29 to Sept. 3 for senior camp. The camps are planned to add to the depth of the overall 4-H program as the youngsters learn to live, work and play together.

All 4-H'ers 9 to 14 years old by July 1 of this year, are eligible to attend. Senior campers must be 14 or over by July 1. They will attend jointly with Windham County teens. Cost for a six-day week at junior camp is $16.; $17 for senior camp. Mary Drew of Hebron, will be camp nurse.

Two boys 14 or over will be needed for kitchen helpers each week of camp. Those interested may write to the County 4-H Camp Committee, Tolland County Extension Service, Box 480, Rockville. Kitchen helpers do not have to pay camp fees and may take part in many activities.

'Project Simplex'

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture is starting a special effort to find simpler and more economical ways to give even better service in its farm programs.

Mrs. Mary Koelsch, Tolland county office manager for ASCS, and her staff attended a state-wide meeting of ASCS employes in Brooklyn, Connecticut, where state executive director Theodore Litwin reviewed the objectives of "Project Simplex." Its aim is to improve and intensify the good work already done, and be of better help to farmers. Mr. Litwin said, "We must keep asking ourselves what this work is costing, how we can make it cost less and at the same time be of more help."

Must Be Doing Something New

It seems to be a popular thing with the present tenant of the White House, and with those columnists and commentators who happen to approve most heartily the brand of foreign military action he has been showing the world, to question any domestic difference of opinion over the President's policy, as a brand of something near disloyalty, which is lending comfort to the enemy.

There is something of an attempt to allege that this is a new development in the behavior of some Americans, rather than a new kind of policy or a new kind of circumstance for American policy in the world.

It might be a more mature judgment that the American uncertainty, the American division of opinion of today reflects no particular change in the American people, but rather a change in the nature of the crisis, and a change in the nature of the leadership which is dealing with the crisis.

There was no such division, no such unrest, no such uneasy questioning, at home, in World War II, or in the Korean action, or in the Cuban crisis.

Perhaps another way to look at the same question—is it the situation and the leadership which have changed, or is it we Americans who have become suddenly different—is to move the inquiry over to New Zealand, and notice that the people of New Zealand, too, seem to have an attitude toward Vietnam which is distinctly different from all their attitudes in previous appeals for their military and diplomatic support.

New Zealand is, at the moment, getting ready to fly a battery of 120 men and four field guns to Vietnam. The decision to make this first contribution to what the United States has long been hoping to make a multi-nation cause in Vietnam has been taken only after bitter political controversy in New Zealand, and is still subject to cancellation, with the Prime Minister on record that it would be called off immediately if North Vietnam should agree to receive a peace mission from the British Commonwealth nations.

The arguments which have been going on in New Zealand have not been unfamiliar. The government itself is on record supporting American policy in Vietnam. The opposition fears that the United States is fighting a losing battle against a movement which has popular support. It charges that the bombing of North Vietnam is both brutal and foolish.

And it argues that New Zealand itself would retain some influence for an eventual compromise peace if it didn't commit itself by sending a small but symbolic military unit to the war.

Something of the same arguments, and the same division of public and political opinion, took place in Australia, when that nation finally did get around to sending 500 troops to Vietnam.

When New Zealand and Australia, as often the first two volunteers, are thus slow and reluctant to get into Vietnam, the conclusion has to be that, whatever it is, we Americans must be doing something different.

And that is also why there is an unparalleled difference of opinion, an unparalleled disquiet with the decisions of the White House leadership, here at home.

The American people have not changed.

They still retain some slight ability to evaluate their own wars, and their own leadership.

Heresy, Or Sanity?

It certainly was a maverick group of four Republican Congressmen who went over to France and came back with a series of judgments and recommendations apparently straying to the established experts of the State Department, as well as momentarily disconcerting, one can guess, to all the experts in the field of public opinion.

These four Republican innocents, who are not even members of the House Foreign Relations Committee, and who therefore can't be forgiven their heresy if it weren't so extreme, came back with all kinds of wild ideas.

The four Congressmen, Paul Findley of Illinois, Alexander Pirnie of New York, Hastings Keith of Massachusetts and James D. Martin of Alabama, brought back, for one instance, the conclusion that France was already a nuclear power and that, therefore, since France was an old friend and ally, we might as well share our nuclear knowledge with France.

These four neophytes in the expertise of foreign policy also dared recommend that the United States show a little gentle deference to others in shaping decisions for NATO policy in Europe.

They also wanted us to stop trying to monopolize the arms market in Europe.

Worst of all, however, they boldly proclaimed that President de Gaulle is not, after all, "a lonely anachronism," which is the way most American comment and policy likes to classify him, but, instead, "actually rides powerful currents of opinion which flow throughout all of Western Europe."

And far from having President de Gaulle come to President Johnson and apologize for all the error of his ways, these four rash Republicans would have President Johnson do the gracious thing, and journey to Paris to patch up the trouble between leaders and nations.

All this, if judged by the normal standards and attitudes where President de Gaulle is concerned, is heresy, rank heresy. That seems to mean, in our times, that it may be something close to common sense and sanity, after all.

Our Couturier

It does none of us any harm to confess, now and then, that we enjoy reading about how the other half lives, and our fancy has just been captured by the way the distinguished socialites of Paris display their status, these days, by having themselves accompanied to various social events by the couturiers, no less, who have designed the dresses or gowns they are wearing.

Shall we dare confess that we would like to live like that, some of the time?

We would really like to have on hand, to accompany us into some of our more glamorous moments, the designer who should be given public credit for a pair of overalls we wear on very special occasions.

One of the specialties we would like to have him take credit for, and be on hand with needle and thread to tack up a bit now and then when it threatens to spread a little too high, is a very fancy split in the right leg, which starts down at the ankle, and keeps mounting toward the knee.

The overalls of this particular designer are also distinguished by a certain generous embonpoint around the midsection, which is an admirable device for a designer who believes in combining the ultimate in freedom of movement with a certain reticent conservatism of style.

Yes, we would like to have the designer with us, when we wear his overalls to various occasions and functions, like the annual Poison Ivy Cotillion, the Stable Research Benefit Shuffle, or the Blackberry Patch Festival. But the name of the designer has, we discover, been obscured by somebody's carelessness at a functional Art Exhibit we gave the other day, a novel demonstration of oil painting being applied to the side of an old garage. This was one of the brighter occasions of the season, and it was too bad somebody spilled something carelessly allover the overall label.

The "Long, Hot Summer"

We can expect this coming weeks to present a stiff challenge to law enforcement. Predictions are prevalent throughout the country for a "long, hot summer" which will be anticipated increases of disturbances and violent crimes.

We would hope the prognosticators of these ominous conditions are wrong; we would hope that a record-breaking summer of strife and lawlessness can be averted. But in addition to the annual seasonal increase of summertime crime—crimes of passion and violence —we can also expect difficulties and violations connected with protest marches and demonstrations occurring across the Nation.

Law enforcement officials know from experience that carelessness by the individual citizen is one factor in crime causation, especially during the summer. The relaxed atmosphere and carefree living are conducive to enjoyment and pleasure, but they also provide the criminal more opportunities to strike.

Each summer, countless Americans unwittingly conduct "open houses" for thieves. They depart for vacation sites without providing proper protection of their homes while away. On return, they are aghast to find their dwellings ransacked and valuable property stolen. A few simple precautionary measures to secure the premises and leave them with an "occupied" appearance often discourage and prevent burglaries.

Crimes against property, however, are only a minor part of the problem. Far more appalling are the vicious attacks on defenseless children by sexual deviates and the murders, rapes and aggravated assaults which register sharp rises during the summer. The intensity and frequency of these violations haunt every community. Law enforcement is still searching for effective preventive action against them, and certainly, negligence and public indifference do not lessen the burden.

Summer is also the season of the hitchhiker and wanderer. The motorist who stops and opens his car door to a stranger may be asking for a death ride for himself and his family. Many times, the innocent-looking young man on the roadside is a trigger-happy or knife-wielding killer. For safety's sake, drivers should exercise that part of valor considered best—discretion—and pass up hitchhikers.

Just how "long and hot" the summer will be depends on how well law enforcement and the public combine efforts to contain seasonal outbreaks. Let us hope that jointly we can make it so "hot" for all lawbreakers that the summer will be one they will "long" remember. — JOHN EDGAR HOOVER, DIRECTOR, IN FBI LAW ENFORCEMENT BULLETIN FOR JULY.

BALLINACLASKET, COUNTY CORK, ERIE: Oil Painting By Nora Addy Drake, Now On Exhibition At Shady Glen

Jimmy Breslin

What Shortage?

NEW YORK, July 2—Yesterday, with all the other sportsmen, I was fishing off the Java St. dock, which juts out over the splendor and sparkle of the waters of Greenpoint, Brooklyn. The day was bright and clear, the beer cold, the conversation exhilarating. The fishing would have been fine, too, except the Standard Oil tankers kept chewing up the water and chasing the few carp and stray sandsharks which were down there in the oil somewhere. There are, you see, no German brown trout in Greenpoint.

I was down at the docks fishing because I had to be here time to collect my thoughts. In the morning paper, I had suffered a horrible attack on my reputation. Walter W. Smith of Wire Mill Road, Stamford, Conn., wrote that I was encountering a temporary shortage of arsenists and hoodlums. Now I have been accused of an awful lot of things in my life and I've never said a word about them because they were true. But I'm not going to stand still for this charge. Jimmy Breslin never ran out of hoodlums in his whole life and anybody who says he has is not telling the truth. Sure, I'm a bit weak on arsonists lately. Because Marvin The Torch is on his honeymoon. But don't you dare say I'm shy on hoodlums.

"I got to love them," Willie, a fellow fishing with me, said.

"Love who?"

"Love the guys who took the jewelery store for $250,000 this morning. Right on Madison Ave., in the middle of the whole city. Beautiful. Do you know what happens up in the can when the guys hear it on the headset, tonight? The joint goes crazy. They all jump around and start cheering. It's like somebody hit a home run at the ball park. Then everybody starts makin' believe they was in on it. You know, one guy yells, 'I side shotgun' and then another guy yells, 'That's all right, I'm in the back right with the money.' Everybody starts yellin' for the part they want. It's a lot of fun. We used to talk for three weeks on how we done a job."

Willie is a well-built guy of 46 who, police records show, has two things wrong with him. He likes other people's money, and he can't run very fast. Because of this, he has had several long layoffs from his business, which is stealing. He laughs about these things, however.

"I murdered them the last time," he was saying yesterday.

"Where?"

"In Greenhaven. They thought they were making me do three years. Well, I done only one. I was asleep for the other two. If there's one thing I know how to do, it's stay asleep in jail so I won't know I'm there."

The newspaper we had spread out on the dock was the one which carried the astounding overstatement of Smith's after making his attack. Smith went on to say that this man George Weiss has done a very good job of running the New York Mets baseball team. Red Smith said that in the newspaper. He said that right under where he said Jimmy Breslin was suffering from a shortage of hoodlums.

Next to me, Willie mumbles while he fishes. "I got it rolling," he says. "I got the car rolling and they come runnin' out of the jewelry store and jump in on the fly and away we go. With the whole jewelry store in the back seat."

At the end of the day, there was no German brown trout and the sun splotches on Willie's chest looked like measles. Willie had to hurry because he had to be at the parole officer's by 4 p.m. He was going to tell the parole officer that he had been out looking for work all day. Which was partly true. Willie had gone out in the morning and found a fire hydrant busting in the laxicab strike.

At home, there was, among the bills, a postcard from Marvin The Torch. The postcard was a work of art, a big color picture of a volcano exploding. "Be back day after 4th," Marvin wrote. "Save water."

And this Red Smith, he writes for the New York Tribune newspaper, he's so smart, he puts down that Jimmy Breslin is suffering from no hoodlums or arsonists. It shows what he knows.

A Thought for Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

There is a kind of busyness which is itself an attempt to escape or not to be able to face up to the realities of life. And sometimes through work and labor the limits of the abundant life can be forgotten.

This points to more, however, than the shallow methods of having a good time or of the desire for fun and entertainment — often called recreation — sometimes justified as a means for being able to work more effectively.

One of the most informed writings I've read along this line the other day was saying that this can be another way that we flee from God. Often we are tempted to seek ways and do things that might promise to lead us into the abundance of life, only to find that such restlessness can grow out of an attempt to escape from God.

But there is a place of quiet rest, in trusting God's Spirit and His power and at this place we are all invited to stand.

Reflections

Poor Relations

By Phineas Fiske

It is July again.

Winter's bare austerity is now all but forgotten.

Even spring, that so short a time ago was fresh on nature's face, is slipping into a tanned, torrid summer.

But, while summer has traditionally brought a cessation in political activity, this season seems an exception.

Manchester is, indeed, experiencing a significant change in its political life, a shift toward greater and greater activity the year round.

While the goals toward which the town's political factions may aspire is laudable, the shift has brought with it some new discomforts.

One of the community's discomforts has had its genesis elsewhere.

Considerable new federal legislation has been enacted recently, designed to encourage communities with a constructive bent to initiate programs of their own; in response, would some federal funds to finance all or part of the cost.

The aim of the legislation has been admirable — to eliminate the causes of poverty and distress, to inspire improvements in park and recreation facilities that strengthen both body and soul.

As Manchester has eyed those federal funds, however, the writer has gained the distinct impression that a project to benefit the poorest ones is quite unhealthy for those who must govern.

For it seems that it is the money that comes first to their minds, not the need.

Last April, for example, Manchester's mayor was quoted as saying that the town should make haste in preparing a park and recreation plan, in order to qualify for federal conservation funds.

Once the plan was prepared, said the mayor, "we can use our political forces to get our share of the available funds."

"I have always hoped to funnel some of the federal money available to the state back into Manchester."

Then, at a subsequent meeting last month, he added that, "The crux of our problem is to get our teeth into programming and to find out how to get our hands on the available state and federal funds."

Perhaps the mayor's concern with obtaining a share of the tax money that Manchester residents have paid is realistic and admirable.

Perhaps it grows from sincere convictions, which required only some long-distance stimulation from Washington to be revived.

Judging by the number of complaints about the condition of the present recreational equipment, voiced at the same meeting last month, the stimulation came none too soon.

But, although it may be that a community such as Manchester must be drafted into the federal partnership before it can respond to local needs, it might at least sign up with some dignity tempering its newfound diligence.

It might, for example, give the appearance of acting at least as much from established need as financial hunger.

It might, too, find a way to express its enthusiasm without losing its manifest humility.

* * *

There was once a time, we all wish to believe, when a community of men could meet their own problems in their own way.

Men soon came to realize that their problems had grown larger, or that they had always been bigger than they thought.

Gradually, in response, the focus of action has migrated from its source to higher and higher levels of government.

The course now is charted; we are to be partners in, not minders of, our fate.

It can be, we hope, at least an equal partnership.

Barges Blocked On Elbe River, Permits Needed

came up to Schnackenburg on the northern border. Erhard's spokesman said that the crews had obviously been specially instructed to make a test case.

West Germany is continuing to use the old type of permits, which it views as underlining the obligation of the Big Four victors in World War II — the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union — to bring about German reunification.

"Naturally, we have the right to determine which papers Soviet zone barges may use in our waters," Von Hase said.

The spokesman pointed out that the Western powers deplored the new arrangements introduced by East Germany and notified the Soviet Union they will continue to hold the Russians responsible for the regular movement of barges through East Germany.

The chief concern of the Western powers is West Berlin. Barges account for 36 per cent of West Berlin's imports.

The U.S. Embassy issued this statement:

"The United States government wishes to emphasize that traffic on inland waterways which link the Federal Republic of Germany and East Germany, and access to Berlin by water, are matters which fall within Allied rights and responsibilities arising out of the joint occupation of Germany."

Similar statements were prepared in the British and French embassies following diplomatic representations. An American Embassy spokesman said:

"There was once a time, we all wish to believe, when a community of men could meet their own problems in their own way.

Men soon came to realize that their problems had grown larger, or that they had always been bigger than they thought.

Gradually, in response, the focus of action has migrated from its source to higher and higher levels of government.

The course now is charted; we are to be partners in, not minders of, our fate.

It can be, we hope, at least an equal partnership.

Police Arrests

A youth was arrested by the police after being found locked inside the Hallmark Pharmacy on W. Middle Tpke. last night at 10.

Michael R. Matthews, 18, of West Hartford was charged by police with breaking and entering without permission and will appear in Manchester Session of Circuit Court 12 on July 19. Bond was set at $500.

Matthews was heard in the cellar by the clerk as he locked the store at closing. He left the door locked and called the police.

Omar B. Chapman, 36, of East Hartford was arrested by police on a warrant charging him with breach of peace in connection with an assault on a waitress at a local donut shop on June 25. Police picked up Chapman early at noon at a Center St. drive-in restaurant. Court appearance is set for July 19.

Emil Plitt, 60, of 801 Main St. was charged with failure to obey a traffic light yesterday morning at Main and Pearl Sts. He is scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12 on July 12.

Naval Officer Took Pen Name To Be Critical

training officer at Pearl Harbor for submarine skippers.

The book, which was published by Doubleday & Co. in 1963, Davis has acted as his own publicist, using the Hawaii Office. He cornered local newspapermen outside his submarine base office, pressing for reviews of his work.

But he never did let on that he was the author.

A Doubleday spokesman said the publisher knew the author's true identity but that he forbade his name to be used.

"Evidently," the spokesman added, "he thought he'd get in trouble with somebody in the Navy. Now that he's out, we're free to say we knew it was him."

A publisher's note in front of the book describes it as "a novel of the deadly undersea struggle between the Soviet Union and United States." The book, it says, was "based on fact."

It adds: "A pseudonym has been used to veil the authorship of this story which has been written as if it were the account of a defected Russian submarine officer."

Herdic Sponsors Division Races

A local portion of the fourth annual Ford Motor Model Motoring Championships will be held at Jim Herdic's Craft & Hobby Center at the Green.

The competition will begin on Wednesday at 7 p.m. and is open to all boys and girls regardless of age. There will be weekly prizes and a grand prize for the local winners. From here the store winner will compete in the state and regional finals. The national championship will be carried on nationwide television with the winner receiving a Ford Mustang.

The O'Briens were married June 7, 1930, at Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

DEDUCTIONS CURTAILED

LONDON — Businessmen in England can no longer deduct business lunches, dinners and other entertainment, taxing authorities have ruled. But reasonable expenses incurred in entertaining overseas buyers are still deductible.

What Is a Beatnik?

Provincetown Has Trouble Finding Right Definition

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — There may not be a legal definition of a beatnik, but residents of this resort town on the tip of Cape Cod have no trouble finding words to describe the type.

The problem of a legal definition arose after residents submitted a "ban the beatnik" petition to town officials.

"Everyone knows you can't ban beatniks," said Town Clerk William McCaffrey, "unless they break the law. Besides, what is a beatnik?"

Town selectment tabled the petition on the ground that there is no legal definition of beatnik.

The petition was the townsfolk's response to a growing influx each summer of persons they label "beat."

Evelyn Best of the weekly Provincetown Advocate says the beatnik migration increases in size each summer.

"The crowd," she says, "comes down with practically nothing and manages to survive without working or bathing."

Provincetown has become the "summer village," she says, for many inhabitants of New York's Greenwich Village. Others say the beatniks come from Boston.

McCaffrey says there aren't many beatniks compared to the thousands of paying tourists who swell the summer population, "but in a little town like this, when it gets congested, and with the narrow streets, if you see the same coon 15 times in one day, you go away with the impression the town is full of them."

SEARS ROEBUCK AND CO.

WATER DAMAGE SALE

Tuesday's Rainstorm Flooded our Lower Level. A lot of Merchandise got wet. Everything is drastically reduced. Come early and take advantage of these tremendous savings! Quantities Limited.

"Flashy Storm Floods Sears"

Reprinted from Wednesday's Herald

The small Parkade catastrophe occurred about midway through the storm when employes in the basement offices at Sears, Roebuck & Co. noticed a thin stream of reddish-brown liquid oozing innocently into the main corridor from the unoccupied office of store manager James DeRocco.

Before employes even had time to worry about the intrusion, the dirty trickle swelled into an enormous gushing of water — as one employe put it "it started to engulf us like a waterfall" — and abruptly the scene transformed itself into one of confusion, with everyone trying his best to scramble out of the way of the onrushing mudbath and at the same time trying to rescue valuable papers and equipment.

According to assistant manager Albert Incerpi who was almost caught in the initial flow, the source of the inundation was a deep trench situated at the front of the store, carved out for use in the neighboring construction project, apparently the torrent of water falling onto the parking lot in front of the store streamed toward the ditch and built up enough pressure to push itself into the building through a temporary opening.

This sluggish combination of mud and rainwater then flooded a stockroom separating the office from the store wall until it reached a height where it could enter the manager's office.

Although the damage done will probably be measured in thousands of dollars since the muddy water ranged over the entire floor, lapping against a large amount of merchandise, the most memorable portions of the incident would probably be the individual events that were intertwined with the general excitement and furor.

There was a couple register somewhere on the floor that shot out a shower of sparks with a customer's change. (The electric outlets were close to the water line.)

A telephone operator stayed with her apparatus as the floor she reportedly had to be carried out by male members of the staff.

One of the more than a dozen men present into service in mopping up lost his balance on the slippery floor and injured his foot.

After an intensive mopping-up operation last night which lasted until almost midnight, Sears opened for business as usual this morning.

The Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., Manchester, was in charge of arrangements.

People In The News

MARIE COLLIER

LONDON (AP) — A 34-year-old Australian soprano was nervous today about singing for fans who paid to hear Maria Callas. But soprano Marie Collier's confidence was bolstered by a surprise invitation to sing at Milan's famed La Scala Opera House.

Miss Collier was called in to replace the ailing Miss Callas in three performances of "Tosca" beginning tonight at Covent Garden, her first rehearsal was Thursday, and her agent brought along Francesco Siciliani, director of La Scala.

At the end of the second act Siciliani went backstage and told the stand-in singer: "I never knew anybody like you existed. You must come to La Scala. I am offering you a contract on what I have heard."

Miss Callas collapsed during a performance of "Norma" in Paris last month, and extreme fatigue was blamed. The Royal Opera announced Wednesday that the singer's doctors had decided it would be impossible for her to sing four performances of "Tosca" in 10 days. Reports from Paris said she has low blood pressure.

SAMMY DAVIS

NEW YORK (AP) — An onstage injury suffered by Sammy Davis, star of the Broadway hit musical "Golden Boy," has shut the show until Monday. It will miss four performances.

Davis, 39, was hurt during a rumble scene in the first act on Wednesday night. An understudy had to finish the performance. Thursday night's show was canceled.

Davis was nursing painful but not serious chest injuries. A spokesman said X-rays showed no broken ribs.

THE BURTONS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor and her husband, Richard Burton, are in Hollywood for the filming of the Broadway play, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Wolf?"

But they got off the train Thursday in Pomona, 30 miles from their destination. Burton candidly told newsmen the reason: "To avoid you people."

In addition to a dozen reporters and photographers, two black limousines from MGM met the Burtons at Pomona. One was for the actor and actress and one for their baggage.

HARRIET SLATER

LONDON (AP) — Harriet Slater, 81, a Labor member of the House of Commons, tripped as she left the chamber Thursday and fell flat.

The House burst into laughter and not a man got up to give Mrs. Slater a hand.

"So far as this bunch is concerned," she said, "the age of chivalry is stone cold dead."

GEN. MARK CLARK

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Gen. Mark W. Clark, 69, former United Nations commander in Korea, stepped down Thursday after 11 years as president of the Citadel, state military college in Charleston, S.C.

Clark was succeeded by Gen. Hugh Pate Harris, who retired last March as commanding general of the U.S. Continental Army Command.

Engaged

The engagement of Miss Deborah R. Villams of Rockville to John J. Plossey of South Windsor has been announced by her mother, Mrs. Margaret Gill of 10 White St., Rockville. She is also the daughter of the late Milton E. Williams.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Plossey of 92 Mark Dr., South Windsor.

Miss Williams is a graduate of Rockville High School and is attending Creative School of Hairdressing, Hartford. Mr. Plossey attended Manchester High School and served three years in the Armed Forces in Europe. He is employed by Balch Motor Sales, East Windsor Hill.

The wedding is planned for Sept. 18.

Ellington Youth Killed in Crash

An Ellington youth was killed last night when the automobile in which he was riding smashed into the rear of a truck turning off Rt. 3. The driver of the car was also hospitalized.

Edward Harding, 17, of Green St., Crystal Lake, Ellington, died about 2:30 this morning in St. Francis Hospital, Hartford, of head injuries suffered in the accident.

John W. Beverage, 18, of Stafford Springs, the driver, received a broken arm in the collision. He is reported as resting fairly comfortably at Rockville Hospital.

The accident occurred, according to state police, when the Beverage car struck the rear of a truck that had crossed the highway from the opposite side to turn into a driveway.

The truck, driven by Daniel Moonis, 38, Crystal Lake Rd., Tolland, had been proceeding south on Rt. 30 before turning across the highway into a drive. The Beverage car, northbound on Rt. 30, struck the right rear of the truck as it was pulling out of the road, police report. Loomis was uninjured.

Harding was taken to the Rockville Hospital after the accident and later transferred to St. Francis Hospital.

The accident is still under investigation by State Trooper Fred Holcombe of Stafford.

Harding was born in Hartford on Jan. 9, 1948, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Harding. He was a junior at Ellington High School.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Donald, of Tolland; and three sisters, Mrs. Donald Mills, Ellington, and Mrs. James Prentiss and Mrs. Anthony DeSimone, both of Tolland.

The funeral will be at 9:15 a.m. Monday at the Burke Funeral Home, 76 Prospect St., Rockville, with a Mass of requiem at St. Luke's Church in Ellington at 10. Burial will be in Ellington Center Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Sunday from 7 to 9 p.m.

Events In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., urged President Johnson today not to change duties on safety pins.

The Tariff Commission recently reported that major producers of safety pins could adjust to lower tariffs by increasing imports of pins or by making other products. Two commissioners said in a minority report that reduced duties would lead to depressed profits and unemployment.

Ribicoff wrote the President that lowering of the duties would eliminate the pin industry, centered in the Naugatuck Valley of Connecticut.

He said the commission's majority report "ignores the fact that an industry consists of operating plants and employing workers, not just corporate profits. The men and machines that make safety pins in the Naugatuck Valley would be idled. The pin industry, as a domestic industry, would be eliminated. That is what the Tariff Commission really says."

WASHINGTON (AP)—John S. Monagan, D-Conn., says he agrees with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's criticism of the confusion at the last Republican presidential convention.

Monagan told the House that "the delegate is gradually becoming a mere incident to the phenomenon of the convention and losing all identity, while television cameramen and producers are creating issues, influencing the convention, and controlling the image in the national consciousness."

But Monagan was not trying to be partisan about it. He said, "I must admit that ours was more of a mess than the Republican one."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., who presided over a Senate Commerce Committee hearing on problems of the bankrupt New Haven Railroad in March, now sees a possibility of their solution at state levels.

Last week the Housing and Home Finance Agency, which administers the Mass Transportation Act, granted $1 million to New York and Connecticut for a 12-18 month project toward saving New Haven commuter services in the New York metropolitan area. The states are putting up $750,000 each.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new federal commission with the aim of ending job discrimination on account of race, religion, sex or national origin is open for business today.

Its chairman, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., said Thursday the emphasis would be on persuasion and conciliation, rather than "persecution."

The commission's legal existence began at midnight last night, and its task is conceded to be enormously complex.

In the course of a news conference Thursday, Roosevelt said he did not intend to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for mayor of New York City, saying he thought he could do more good as chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The colors of the historic 1st Cavalry Division have returned to the United States from the Far East after 22 years and two wars.

Those colors haven't been home since the vanguard of the division left the United States in May 1943 to fight the Japanese in the Pacific.

The 1st Cavalry's flag — decorated with streamers for distinguished service in World War II and Korea — will be handed to the Army's newest type "armobile" division in a ceremony Saturday at Fort Benning, Ga.

Thus, the Airmobile Division — designed to ride to battle aboard a fleet of more than 400 helicopters — will inherit a a tradition dating back to the horse soldiers of Robert E. Lee and George Armstrong Custer.

At the same time, the colors of the 2nd Infantry Division will be transferred to Korea, to replace those of the 1st Cavalry. There will be no shift in manpower.

Although called cavalry, the 1st has been essentially an infantry division for nearly a quarter of a century.

Luci, 18 Today, Planning Quiet Evening Party

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luci Johnson turns 18 today and plans to have her birthday cake during a quiet evening party at the White House.

A few friends were invited to join the festivities, described as "nothing elaborate."

President and Mrs. Johnson plan to mark Luci's birthday during the day. Two weeks ago they gave their younger daughter a combination birthday-graduation dinner at the Georgetown Visitation Convent, a green-shuttered stone mansion adjoining the National Cathedral School for Girls here.

A working girl during the summer months, Luci got permission to stay away today from her part-time job as optometric technician in the office of Dr. Robert Rinskin.

Come September, Luci will begin classes at the Georgetown University School of Nursing here. She plans to take a five-year course and pick up a bachelor of science degree as well as the credentials of a registered nurse.

Luci, a lively, fun loving girl who recently joked that the sight of a book puts her to sleep, has had a whirlwind youthful beaus since moving into the White House. Among those she has dated are Jack Olsen, a former University of Wisconsin student, and Paul Beal, a medical student at Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg, Md. Recently she has been escorted to some affairs by Gene Caulfield, a Washington student.

Her birthday coincides with the 10th anniversary of her father's heart attack, from which doctors say he has fully recovered.

DEATH TOLL

HARTFORD (AP)—The death toll on Connecticut's highways for the first six months of 1965 reached a five-year high the State Safety Commission said Thursday.

Some 196 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents from Jan. 1 through June 30, the commission said. The figure was the highest since 1959 when accidents killed 207 persons in the first half of the year.

In 1964, 149 persons were killed in highway accidents during company's gates was continuing on a 24-hour basis.

Defends Department

HARTFORD (AP)—The State Highway Department "is absolutely in control and on top" of its finances, its assistant director of administration said Thursday.

Assistant Director Nicholas Wayne replied to Republican charges of "loose operations" in the department.

State Rep. Ralph L. Earle, R-North Haven, made the charge Wednesday after he said members of the Finance Advisory Committee were asked over the phone to approve a transfer of funds.

Earle, a member of the committee, said the funds were needed to pay Highway Department employes today.

Wayne said today that he last minute request was necessary because of the department's complex cost accounting system.

He said highway department salaries often come from several different appropriations, and each employe's time sheet consequently must go through the complicated accounting process.

Alpert Claim Denied

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. Appeals Court has upheld a decision by Federal Judge Robert P. Anderson denying payments of $295,000 to George Alpert, former chief executive officer of the bankrupt New Haven Railroad.

The court ruled Thursday that the Boston lawyer would have to wait in line with other creditors for whatever contract money he has coming.

Alpert is seeking deferred compensation payments of $295,000 under his individual contract with the New Haven. Alpert was chief executive of the railroad from 1956 until 1961.

His contract with the New Haven called for a $60,000 annual salary and deferred compensation payments of $25,000 annually for 12 years after his employment ends.

THIM CHIEF JUDGE

HARTFORD (AP) — John R. Thim has been officially appointed chief judge of the Superior Court.

Thim was named formally Thursday after Associate Justice John P. Cotter of the State Supreme Court of Errors was sworn in as administrator of Connecticut's Judicial Department.

Cotter also named Samuel Googel chief judge of the common Pleas Court and Jay H. Rubinow as chief judge of Circuit Court.

UNIVERSITY GETS GRANT

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — The University of Bridgeport reported today the receipt of an $81,000 grant from the State Department of Labor's Bureau of Employment Security to train counselor aides and youth advisors "to help salvage disadvantaged youth."

Dr. Harold W. See, dean of the College of Education, said 70 persons selected by the Connecticut State Employment Service will participate in the eight-week program beginning July 6.

BOY ON BIKE KILLED

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — John Blanchard, 9, of Bridgeport was killed Thursday when hit by a car while riding his bicycle in front of Saint Andrew's school and church on Anton Street.

Police listed the fatality as the 11th traffic death in city streets this year.

Police said the car was operated by Mrs. Nancy Bassel, 31, of Bridgeport.

The boy was the foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Orestes Ferrer of 122 Vincellette Street.

Sidewalk Bids Asked by Town

Contractors have been invited by the town to submit unit price bids for construction of new Sidewalks and for sidewalk reconstruction.

The bids will be opened July 16 at 11 a.m. in the Municipal Building.

The town has earmarked $40,600 for such sidewalk work this year. Officials plan to do about 30,000 square feet of reconstruction work and, depending on prices received, up to 1,500 running feet of new walks.

The bids to be opened July 16 will be quoted in terms of square feet of various kinds of construction.

8 False Alarms Reported in June

Eight false alarms were reported in June by the Town Fire Department. Two were made by box and six by telephone. In the past usually no more than one or two by telephone were reported in one month.

At least two vehicles and a complementing number of firemen are needed for each report, says William C. Mason, fire chief. This means unnecessary expense to the town and takes away from the department's ability to stop a real fire because some of its equipment and men are chasing a false alarm.

The total of 26 real fires includes 1 building fire, 8 brush or grass fires, 7 car and equipment fires, and 5 other non-building fires. There were 2 rescue calls.

Staff Member

The Rev. Willard A. Legg arrived in Manchester yesterday to begin his duties with South Methodist Church. He will take the responsibility for visitations and membership at the church. Formerly of Worcester, Mass., The Rev. Mr. Legg, his wife and three children, are in temporary quarters near South Church.

bers of the "gallopin' grandmas" range in age from 36 to 65, but she admits not all are grandmothers.

"There are only three or four who are grandmothers, but the rest are elderly ladies of the riding club."

Mrs. Easley says the grandmas have never had an accident in the four years riding to the rodeo on the freeway. "It is the only way to get to Yoncalla, and it is safe."

"Motorists have always been considerate and we carry a red flag to alert them."

The freeway is Interstate 5, the route that carries traffic from the California to the Washington border through the state.

"Lots of times people stop and offer us coffee or cold drinks," Mrs. Easley said.

The grandmas arrive at Yoncalla late in the afternoon and camp at the rodeo grounds with other members of the riding club.

Saturday the entire riding club will be in the Yoncalla Rodeo parade.

Public Defenders Take Oath Today

The first attorney assigned for a definite period as a public defender in Circuit Court 12 was sworn in Friday. His oath of office ceremony in the Glastonbury court this morning matched similar ceremonies in each of the other 17 circuit courts in Connecticut.

Connecticut thus marked it said as the first state in the nation to provide public defenders on a permanent and systematic basis in every one of its courts hearing criminal cases.

The public defender program was established on this new basis by the recent passing of Public Act 178 in the State Legislature which requires each circuit court to appoint an attorney in the district to a term of one year in the service of defendants in criminal cases who cannot afford to hire counsel. The court in each instance decides which cases merit the assignment of a public defender.

Twenty-two lawyers had signed attorneys to this duty on a case-to-case basis. Twenty-two ever attorneys were qualified or willing to provide the singing and robbing of a 51-year-old man. The incident occurred in the home.

The three Superior Court Judges who sit in the board said they agreed with the sentencing judge, who had commented:

"We ought to serve notice upon those who may be contemplating like crimes that they may be expected to be visited with a pretty heavy penalty."

Delegates from throughout the state returned to it in 1776 to sign the Articles of Confederation.

Other delegates came in 1787 to draft the Constitution.

Eventually the seat of government moved elsewhere. The city purchased the building for $70,000 in 1824.

In 1824 the Marquis de Lafayette returned to the United States and a reception and other activities were held at the old State House. Following the visit, interest in restoring it as a shrine grew. Today it is part of Independence National Historical Park, maintained by the government.

Alumni Groups Meet Tuesday

The second rehearsal for the Manchester High School alumni choral and jazz groups will be held Tuesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the high school.

Robert H. Hagstrom, high school music head, invites additional participants. In particular, he said, there is a need for trombone players in the jazz band and bass, tenor, and alto voices in the choral group.

At the first rehearsal last Monday, Vater said there were alumni from as far back as the Class of 1935. The groups are rehearsing for a possible alumni concert at the late summer or

Dien Bien Phu Targets Struck By U.S. Planes

The weather was reported good and visibility 10 miles.

A short time later 16 U.S. Air Force planes and three support craft struck the Dien Bien Phu airfield, 3 miles north of the Barracks area, the spokesmen said.

Twelve buildings were reported destroyed at the field, he said, five others were damaged and the center of the runway was cratered with bombs.

Thirty-four tons of 750-pound bombs along with Bullpup missiles and 2.75-inch rockets were used in the attack, which also lasted 30 minutes, the spokesmen said.

The Viet Cong fired 20 to 25 mortar shells into the Soc Trang airfield south of Saigon Thursday night, but U.S. helicopters there were hurriedly flown to another field. Damage was minor.

Another air strike today took 30 Navy Skyhawks and Crusaders 40 miles southeast of Hanoi, the closest yet to the North Vietnamese capital since air raids on the Communist North began Feb. 7, the spokesman said. The raiders attacked the Nam Dinh oil storage tanks, described as one of the biggest petroleum tank farms in North Viet Nam.

Pilots reported flames from the storage tanks shot more than 200 feet into the air from all compounds and approximately eight large tanks were destroyed, the spokesmen said. They reported secondary explosions were observed for as long as 35 minutes after the first bombs hit.

Heavy antiaircraft fire was encountered, pilots reported, but no enemy planes were sighted and all planes returned safely to the carrier Oriskany, the spokesman said. Six tons of 250-pound bombs were reported dropped, along with Bullpup missiles.

A U.S. mission spokesman announced that 320,000 leaflets were dropped over North Viet Nam summarizing results of U.S. and South Vietnamese air raids from Feb. 7 to April 30.

The leaflets said the air raids would continue over North Viet Nam "violently and unceasingly" until "Communist North Viet Nam and Communist China cease their invasion of South Viet Nam."

They also warned North Vietnamese civilians to stay away from all military installations, bridges and other targets.

The leaflets said that 35 South Vietnamese and American planes and 20 pilots were lost in these raids. They said that in 89 raids flown by 2,788 planes during the period, 1,383 tons of bombs were dropped and hundreds of tons of rockets.

The leaflets said these targets in North Viet Nam were destroyed or damaged:

Thirty military bases, 127 antiaircraft gun positions, 34 barracks, 17 military convoys, 17 trains carrying war material, 1 airbase (at Dong Hoi, 2, naval bases (at Hanoi Ha and Hon Gay), 5 ferry landings, 20 radar stations, 1 radio station, 2 airfield control towers, 33 naval craft and 1 gasoline depot.

Appeal Refused

HARTFORD (AP)—The State Board of Sentence Review has refused to reduce the prison sentence of a 21-year-old Hartford man convicted of robbery with violence.

William B. Hathaway, was one of nine State Prison inmates whose appeals for reductions were refused Thursday.

Hathaway had been given a five to 10-year sentence after

Methodical Grelle Nips Ex-Oregon Mate

Wins 5,000 Meter Run Minus Jazy

HELSINSKI, Finland (AP) — Jim Grelle from Oregon, has parlayed French dynamo Michael Jazy's absence and the form failure of Olympic chamuion Peter Snell into an American coup in the 1,500 meter run — highlight of the World Track and Field Games.

With Jazy, world record holder at the mile, two miles and 3,000 meters, on the sidelines and Snell unable to mount the pace that made him the world's premier middle distance runner a year ago, the methodical Grelle nipped former Oregon teammate Dyrol Burleson in Thursday's 1,500. Snell finished a distant fifth in the comparatively slow race.

Grelle, outsprinting Burleson after the pair caught pacesetter John Davies, Snell's New Zealand countryman with 200 meters to go, was clocked in 3:40.8. Burleson finished in 3:41.4.

The victory gave the American six firsts in the Games.

BASEBALL HEROES

BATTING — Glenn Beckert, Cubs, drove in four runs with a pair of homers, only his second and third of the season, as Chicago defeated National League leading Los Angeles 6-5.

PITCHING — Ray Culp, Phillies, checked Milwaukee 2-1 on three hits as the Philadelphia won its fifth straight game and moved into fourth place in the National League.

The SCOREBOARD

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE

Surviving a bit or wildness in the second inning, Mark Schardt went on to pitch a no-hitter last night as Nassiff's bested Green Manor, 9-2, at Mt. Nebo. The winners scored every time at bat, a four-run fourth inning providing the big push.

Pete Herdic carried away hitting honors, getting three of the winners' hits, including a triple. Wally Irish collected a double for Nassiff's.

Nassiff's ....111 411 x—9-10-0
Green Manor .020 000 x—3- 0-2

Schardt and Kaslauskas; Murphy and Kusmickas.

ALUMNI LEAGUE

Taking an 8-0 lead in the first inning, Bantly Oil marched off to a 13-5 victory over A. & I. last night at the West Side Oval. Tom Rea took control on the hill, limiting the losers to hit two hits.

Ken Ough proved the hitting star, coming up with three hits including a double. Ray Lehdon scored three of the winner's runs and threw in a double. Gordy Palmer and Don Denley were the only losers to hit safely.

Bantly .....801 22x—13-6-1
A & I. .....011 020— 5-2-4

Rea and Ough; Grysh, Ostrout and Palmer.

CHURCH SOFTBALL

Continuing to run the score, Liberty Mutual exploded to beat Colonial Board, 27-6, last night at Charter Oak Park. Dick Lepiniex and Bill Bell paced the winners with four hits apiece while Terry McCarthy and Bob Cowley had three and Joe Gallagher and Tony Gugliemo had two.

Barry McCormick paced the losers with a fourth inning homer. Ray Biloti, and George Dickson also had two hits for Colonial.

Colonial ....000 212 0— 5 10 5

Bellm and DeCosti; DeCarli and Dickson.

ALUMNI JUNIORS

Opening and closing with a run, the Red Sox needed only one hit to defeat the Yankees, 2-0, last night at Charter Oak Park. Bob Sherman hurled the victory, limiting the losers to three singles.

Second Straight Tennis Title

Wimbledon Title Gained by Stolle

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Roy Emerson crushed fellow Australian Fred Stolle 6-2, 6-4, 6-4 today and won the Wimbledon tennis championship for the second straight year.

It was a repeat of the 1964 final when Emerson whipped his Davis Cup teammate in four sets. It was the third consecutive year in which Stolle was the runner-up.

The United States was shut out of both the men's and women's singles finals. Defending champion Maria Bueno of Brazil will meet Margaret Smith of Australia for the women's title Saturday.

Moriarty's	1	7	.125

Unloading 12 runs in sixth inning, the Walnut Barbers had little trouble with Moriarty's last night at Mt. Nebo, winning 20-3. Dave White, Bill Viot and Joe Tavernite all homered for the winners. White and Viot each had three hits while Tavernite and Tom Anaskiewicz had two hits.

Jim Breen had a perfect night for Moriarty's, collecting a homer in his four hits and driving in four runs. Carl Carlson and Bruce Wiot also had two hits.

Moriarty's Up Edge, Homers Pace Victory

Front-running Moriarty's put some daylight between themselves and Valco last night, beating the Hartford Orioles, 11-3, under the lights at Dillon Stadium. Moriarty's are now 8-3 in Hartford Twilight League play, a game and a half in front of Valco (6-4).

The game and a half edge looms large, indeed. Valco and Moriarty's meet head on July 6 at Dillon Stadium. Valco has already beaten the local entry twice this season.

Pat Mistretta picked up the win for the locals, his fourth of the season. He allowed only six hits.

Moriarty's opened with a four-run first inning and continued to score every time up, except in the fifth inning. Bob Carlson and Jim Moriarty both had homers for the winners, Carlson's coming with two men on base.

Moe Morhardt was the only Moriarty batter to get more than one hit, collecting two sharp singles. Moriarty's spread their 11 hits down through nine batters.

The Orioles threatened in the final two innings. In the sixth, Bud Riley put them on the scoreboard with a two-run homer that sailed completely out of the park. They added another in the seventh.

Koufax, Drysdale 'Unbeatable'

Mets Cause Trouble For Cincinnati Club

By EARL YOST

SHEA STADIUM—It's funny how one club can cause another a lot of trouble, like the last place New York Mets. The men of Casey Stengel up and defeated Cincinnati yesterday, 5-1, winning two of the three-game set. And the perennial last-place National League occupants have won four of the last five meetings with the Rhinelanders and stand six and seven for the season.

The Mets have never won a season series from the Redlegs but New York has been tougher than hardened glue against the flag-conscious Reds. Last year the Reds won 11 of 19 meetings and several of the losses came during the final two weeks of the season when the Reds battled the Cards and Phils to the wire, losing out by just one game.

It's a safe bet whenever Sandy Koufax or Don Drysdale take the mound for Los Angeles against the New York Mets that the Dodgers will win. Lifetime, the Dodgers have won 56 of 66 games to date—in four seasons—against the Mets. Of this winning total, Koufax shows a dozen wins against nary a loss. Drysdale has notched 16 of 18 wins. The pair has thus accounted for 28 of the Dodger's 56 wins, or exactly one-half.

Oddities are a dime a dozen throughout a season at Shea Stadium. One yesterday was a pair of unassisted doubleplays, one each by the catcher—Chris Cannizzaro—the first baseman —Ed Kranepool, both of the Mets.

First class demonstration of how not to play the outfield was given by rightfielder Johnny Lewis of the Mets. The rookie misplayed a single into a triple and then watched a lazy fly ball drop near his shoetops for a base hit. He also hit safely in three times to prove his presence in the starting lineup.

Hal Goodnough, goodwill ambassador of the Mets, was on hand to welcome the baseball members of the press around Shea Stadium to protests of interest, i.e. the dressing room, hospitality room, etc.

Ron Swoboda has been earning quite a reputation as a "butcher" in the outfield, a fellow who has trouble making defensive plays, but he came up with two eye-poppers against the Reds. Twice he robbed enemy batters out of extra base hits with great running grabs.

Yogi Berra, happy to be a coach and not an every-day player with the Mets, had a 13 handicap as a golfer. "It's too low," Yogi told one, adding, "I wish that I could play offener. Next to baseball, I love golf." Berra will be wearing a New York Yankee uniform again July 31 in the annual Old Timers Day game at Yankee Stadium. "I'm not mad at those guys," he added.

"Lifeblood of any organization is the scouting," George Weiss, general manager of the Mets reported when quieted as to how long it would be before the Mets would be a bonafide flag threat.

"Two players on one club make a big difference. Take Pittsburgh, for example," George Weiss said. "Without Bill Mazeroski and Roberto Clemente, they had trouble winning. Once they got back in action the Pirates started winning."

Joey Jay, Connecticut's gift to Cincinnati, was not only moaning the fact he had to be bypassed from the regular pitching rotation but also his inability to get on base. "I haven't got a base hit this season and I've only been in base once, via a walk," he reported.

THE Herald Angle

By EARL YOST
Sports Editor

Hitting Not Everything

SHEA STADIUM—It's hard to figure out baseball. For example, the Cincinnati Reds, who lead the National League in singles, doubles, triples and home runs, plus runs batted in, yet trail the Los Angeles Dodgers by two games.

These are the same Redlegs who missed by one game of tying and by two games of winning the 1964 National League pennant.

Handsome Dick Sisler, in his first year as full-time manager of the Reds, supplied the main reason why he also is only second best at the moment. Speaking before yesterday's 5-1 loss with the always troublesome New York Mets, Sisler said, "Our pitchers have issued 114 more bases on balls than the Dodger staff has given up."

Complete Reversal

"This is a complete reversal of last year," the husky field boss said across the luncheon table.

Going into yesterday's encounter the Reds' league-leading offense consisted of 674 singles, 120 doubles, 27 triples, 83 home runs and 359 runs batted in.

On the debit side, the Cincinnati staff has issued 285 free tickets in 75 games, an average of 4.64 per game.

Cincinnati's lineup is sprinkled with some fine hitters, although only two — Gordy Coleman and Don Pavletich have over the .300 mark. The latter boasts a .321 average and Pavletich at .333.

The club's two Big Berthas, Frank Robinson and Vada Pinson are flirting with the .300 mark. The one-time punch sports .298 (Robinson) and .298 (Pinson) averages. Third baseman Deron Johnson is at .283, leftfielder Tommy Harper at .281, and second baseman Pete Rose .288. All better than average marks.

Walk Leader

Walk-wise, the Redlegs' newest mound sensation, Sammy Ellis leads the pack, having been charged with 55 in 138 innings. Ellis who has started 17 games, most on the club, has also copped the greatest number of decisions, 10 so far and eight of the club's 22 complete games.

Biggest disappointment for the Reds has been Jim O'Toole, a 17-game winner a year ago. The smiling Irishman of '64 has been shelled and frowning his pitcher to date, showing but one win in eight decisions.

"O'Toole has lost his confidence," Sisler said. "He must regain it if he's going to help and be a big winner again. He was so anxious to have another big year that he reported early for spring training and I think he was throwing too hard too soon and hurt his arm. His slider is not breaking in on the batters like a year ago.

"What impressed about Ellis," the manager said, "is that he can get the good hitters out. He's a lot like Jim Maloney, when he's (Ellis) right, no one hits him."

Maloney, who started yesterday against the Mets, has copped eight of 11 decisions. He leads the Reds in strikeouts with 108 and his 2.56 earned run average is the best on the club.

State Interest

Connecticut interest in the Redlegs is spotlighted on Joey Jay, the hulking former Little League out of Rockfall, who was the scheduled Cincinnati starting pitcher. Jay has a hotkneecap right elbow and was scratched from the regular rotation.

When Jay was visited before play started, he was stretched out on the rubbing table in the training room adjacent to the visiting team's dressing quarters.

"We open a big series in Cincinnati against Los Angeles starting Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday," Sisler said, "and I want Jay to be ready to pitch then. I hope he's ready by then. He always does good against the Dodgers. Last time he faced them he had a shutout until one of the later innings and we won, 6-1.

"Jay, who has appeared in 17 games, 13 as a starter, has completed only three and boasts a six and two won-lost log.

"Jay has had elbow trouble before, even when he's won 20 games," Sisler said. "However, he never has been serious."

The Reds need Jay and they also must find a way to beat the Mets if they are to win the flag. The Mets have won five of the last three games in New York and four of the last five against the Redlegs.

Junior Bowlers In Regional Play

Two teams of junior bowlers from this area have qualified to bowl in the National Duckpin Junior Tournament to be held in Wheaton, Md. July 10.

These teams earned this right by finishing first in the Regional Tournament and then competing in the State Tournament. They will be scheduled to meet at the Holiday Lanes Thursday, July 8 at 5:30 a.m. and be transported by car to Hamden where they will meet the four other teams who have also won in their division. They will leave Hamden by bus at 9 a.m. and return to Hamden on Sunday, July 11 at approximately 7 p.m. This is an all-expense, free trip sponsored by the Connecticut Bowling Operators' Association.

While in Washington, the group will go on a tour which will include the Wells Fargo, Arlington, Kennedy and Unknown Soldier Graves, the Washington Monument and the U.S. Capitol building. A victory banquet will be held Friday which will include all the bowlers in the tournament from all over the country.

The two teams:

Bantam Boys—Sparmakers—Jay Huntington, Tom Stebbins, Bill Keenn, Bob McAllister, Douglas Scruton.

HOMERS

American League

Lopez 8, Repp 7, Yankees; Blefary 1, Orioles; Wagner 13, Indians; Mantle 12, Senators.

National League

Kranepool 7, Mets; Beckert (3) 5, Cubs.

Bob Schmidt, No. 3 catcher with the New York Yankees, played with the San Francisco Giants, Cincinnati Reds and Washington Senators.

The Day's Sports Digest

DECATHLON CHAMP

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Bill Toomey, 26-year-old Los Angeles schoolteacher, came from behind Thursday night to win the National AAU Decathlon Championship, as the early leader, Russ Hodge, lost valuable points when he injured himself in the pole vault.

Toomey, who competes for the Southern California Striders, finished the two-night, six-event grind with a score of 7,764 and Hodge, from the Santa Clara, Calif., Youth Village was second 7,682.

YOUTH VS. EXPERIENCE

FAIRFIELD (AP)—It's youth against experience today as Donna Leary, 22, meets veteran Jean Zalko in the 36-hole finals of the Connecticut State Women's Golf Association championship.

SIGNS WITH PATS

BOSTON (AP)—Jon Morris, the East's starting offensive center in the American Football League All - Star Game, has signed for his second season with the Boston Patriots.

Morris missed by one vote winning all-AFL center honors as a rookie last year in the league's coaches balloting.

BAXTER LEADING

CHICAGO (AP)—Rex Baxter, a philosophical Texan, hoped to "get some good golf" today on his second pro golf triumph in seven years as the $70,000 Western Open went into the second round.

The 29-year-old Baxter, an NCAA champion for the University of Houston in 1957, shot a five-under-par 66 at Tam O'Shanter Thursday for a one-stroke lead.

Second was Chi Chi Rodriguez, the defending champion, who shot 67.

WANTS BIG ONE

NORTHFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Kathy Cornelius wants to win the big one again and then settle down to the life of a housewife and mother.

"I won't play more than 10 tournaments next year," said the 32-year-old touring veteran from Rancho Santa Fe, Calif., after taking a one-stroke lead in the first round of the Women's National Open Golf championship Thursday.

Low Point for RSox In Defeat to Detroit

BOSTON (AP)—Red Sox fortunes have reached a point where the latest defeat was administered by a pitcher with a lifetime ERA of 5.03 and a game losing streak. Boston could have had Detroit's Orlando Pena last week, too.

The ex-Kansas City starter had the Sox in relief 3-1 Thursday. He was picked up on waivers a week ago.

The winning ninth inning Tiger rally opened when notorious slow-footed Norm Cash beat out a bunt single toward third and ended when his pinch runner, Gates Brown, scored from third as pinchhitter Gates Brown grounded into a fielder's choice (11).

Brown's great speed down the line helped a Red Sox foul for a double play which would have gotten them out of the situation unscathed.

Boston right-hander Earl Wilson could sue for poor support. He pitched a seven-hitter, allowed Tiger home run bats, walked only two and struck out six — working well enough to win.

But his mates mustered only six safeties off starter Mickey Lolich and Pena. The latter had worked only twice in relief for Boston's Bill Monbouquette, 9-8.

Pena allowed only one hit out of reach of the seven he faced. Tony Conigliaro opened the bottom of the ninth with a double to left center. Al Kaline may have made a gamesaving play — the quick retrieve and clothesline throw prevented the speedy Conigliaro from getting a daylight triple. Conigliaro got to third on a sacrifice and a wild throw by catcher Bob Tillman bounced out to end the game.

Tillman's opposite-field single to right in the seventh had tied the game 1-1. scoring Felipe Alou, who had walked and moved up on Lee Thomas' safety.

Detroit scored in the third, when Don Wert doubled and hit the right field line. Conigliaro was unable to retrieve the three to second he fumbled the ball, just long enough to insure Wert's safety. Thomas, playing left due to Sox injuries, got his glove on Gates's line single but couldn't hold it.

The run scored as shortstop Dick Ricciardi committed an error on Dick McAuliffe's grounder although the latter was given an RBI on the play.

And to add to mounting Sox woes, catcher Russ Nixon was hospitalized with virus pneumonia and is expected to be there for at least a week.

Still Owns Only One Line in Record Books

Smith in Comeback

NEW YORK (AP) — Hal Smith has caught the 567th game of his major league career and he still has only one line in the record books:

"Lost National League in passed balls, 17, 1957."

Forced to quit baseball because of a heart condition, Smith was pressed into service by the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday for the first time in more than three years and caught eight innings in the Pirates' 7-6 loss to the St. Louis Cardinals.

For the first seven innings Smith, who was yanked off the coaching lines because of injuries to the entire Pirate catching corps of Del Crandall, Jim Pagliaroni and Ossie Virgil, played little more than a game of catch as Bob Veale checked the Cardinals on three hits.

But now it was 10:26 and Smith's rusty 34-year-old legs were going to get a quick refresher course as the Cardinals put together a four-run rally that tied the score.

After Bill White led off the eighth with a single, Smith began darting around the plate as Veale hit a wild streak and walked Phil Gagliano and Dick Groat. There was a brief respite as Mike Shannon and Curt Flood went out, but then it started all over again.

Ken Boyer was hit by a pitch, filling the bases before the count went to 3 and 2 on Carl Warwick. Smith squatted and then started running toward the backstop as Veale uncorked a fourth ball wild pitch, and Gagliano and Groat raced across the plate.

Smith put the mask back on, and had just sat down on his haunches when Bob Uecker was hit by a pitch. But at last manager Harry Walker called for a new pitcher and Don Schwall came on. Smith warmed him up, then darted around as Schwall walked Bob Skinner.

Smith was getting a little tired, but so was Walker and he immediately pulled Schwall and tried Frank Curpin. Smith warmed him up, then squatted.

Jim McCarver was the batter, 10:55 was the time and strike three was the call.

Smith trudged to the dugout.

The 1-2 teams in the National League Thursday tramped back to the dugout, the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers after a 6-5 loss to the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati following a 5-1 loss to the New York Mets. In the only other game scheduled, Philadelphia moved into fourth place with a 2-1 victory over Milwaukee.

CUBS-DODGERS—

Glenn Beckert, who had hit only one previous homer for the Cubs, supplied the fireworks against the Dodgers. He put Chicago ahead 1-0 with a homer in the fourth inning off Johnny Podres and hit a three-run shot in the seventh that wrapped it up. Reliever Lindy McDaniel got the victory.

* * *

METS-REDS—

Ed Kranepool hit a two-run homer and Ron Swoboda slammed a two-run triple in support of Al Jackson's seven-hit pitching as the Mets defeated the Reds, Jim Maloney, who pitched 10 nerve-jangling innings and lost to New York earlier in the season, gave up six hits this time in six innings and now is 8-4. Jackson is 4-10.

* * *

PHILS-BRAVES—

Ray Culp, 5-4, checked the Braves on three hits and scored the winning run in the eighth inning on a single and then came around on a bunt, a grounder and Johnny Callison's sac fly. Winning pitcher was Ken Johnson, now 6-4, who allowed just six hits.

For the Man with Everything Try a Trotter Just $50,000

NEW YORK —(NEA)— For the man who has everything, except a race horse, the Harness Racing Institute has published a 24-page pamphlet which satisfactorily explains how to go broke or get rich in a hurry.

Entitled "Get a Horse," the booklet is an answer to numerous inquiries from people who seek information on owning a trotter or pacer." It outlines their prior planning in such an underwhelming manner that generally good, uh, horse sense.

The book suggests that prospective owners be prepared to spend from $50 to $50,000 for a standard-bred, and not be amazed of sudden costs regardless of price. Public auctions are a good market; more than 20 million dollars are laid each year. Yearlings average between $4,500 and $6,000.

The brochure indicates luck has much to do with it. Bean Acton, who proved to be a great pacing mare, cost $2,600 as a yearling and earned $358,063. Duke Rodney, purchased for $7,000, won over $627,000 in five years.

The cost of racing and training, naturally, varies. Training and racing expenses can't cracks runs between $2,500 to $4,000 per year. At big tracks it can be as much as $50,000.

Equipment is another major expense. Sulkies start at $400, jog carts at $375, harnesses at $185. Feed for a year is about $500 to $700. Shoeing runs about $250 to $350 annually. A vet's preventive care costs about $200. And on and on from stable shekels to silver bucks.

Balanced against the costs are of course, the hoped-for earnings. Purses are mushrooming — total winnings for Harness Racing tracks this year are $50,000,000. Last year 15 horses won more than $100,000 each and another 18 had earnings between $50,000 and $100,000.

And that ain't hay.

Blefary Shows 'Respect' for Financial Support on College Bill

Yanks Pay More Ways Than One

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Yankees are putting Curt Blefary through college and Blefary's putting the Yankees through a wringer.

Blefary, signed by the Yankees as a hot outfield prospect in 1962 but lost to Baltimore on waivers a year later, continued to haunt his former employers Thursday night, belting a home run and triple in the Orioles' 4-3 victory over New York.

The 21-year-old rookie, a native of Brooklyn, has clubbed five homers, driven in 11 runs and compiled a .375 average in nine games against New York this season. What's more, when he finishes with Yankee pitching he'll hit Yankee management for the unpaid bill on his college education.

The Yankees gave Curt a $20,000 bonus when they signed him off New York's Wagner College campus and agreed to pick up the tab when he returned to school. He has a year to go but will attend classes only during the off-season. So, the Yankees will be paying the bill for another two years.

The Orioles' victory kept them 3½ games behind first-place Cleveland one-half game in front of fifth-place Detroit. The Indians trimmed Washington 7-2 and the Tigers slipped Boston 2-1 in the only other AL action.

* * *

INDIANS-SENATORS—

Leon Wagner's two-run homer, two doubles by Chuck Hinton and three singles by Max Alvis backed the five-hit pitching of Sonny Siebert as the Indians increased their league lead to a full game over idle Minnesota. Siebert, who was 0-1 while boasting his record to 9-3. Ken McMullen homered for the Senators.

* * *

TIGERS-RED SOX—

Gates Brown beat the relay to first on what would have been an inning-ending double play grounder as George Thomas scored the winning run for Detroit in the ninth. Norm Cash started the rally with a bunt single and Brown, running for Cash, reached third on Don Wert's single.

Sesame Seeds, Black-eyed Peas

Gary Kroll Number One Nut With Oddball Loaded Mets

NEW YORK —(NEA)— There has been no nuttier nine in all of baseball lore than the New York Mets. If baseball's turn for its oddballs is flakes, Hancock and Cox are the blizzard of the major leagues.

The flakes tumble around the Mets lineup like uncontrolled dandruff.

"There's 40-year-old Yogi Berra, for example, although many of the flaky stories about him are provincial corn. There was the time, they say, when a burglar broke into Berra's home. When Yogi saw the damage, he is supposed to have said: "This is more serious than I thought; the window's broken on both sides."

Its never really, of course.

What he said was, "This is more serious than I thought; they took my conie books." But never mind.

Actually, the biggest fleke on the Mets is not Yogi. It's pitcher Gary Kroll. He's 6 foot 6.

Out in Orbit

Despite his height, Kroll is a down-to-earth sort — except when it comes to eating and then he's way out in orbit.

Kroll is a health food nut. Sesame seeds send him. His idea of a pleasant afternoon is a platter of black-eyed peas and a celeria counter to read.

Take his typical breakfast as illustration:

A spoonful of cottage cheese on lettuce. A hamburger. Some hard, sharp cheese. Bread, probably pumpernickel, with margarine — butter is high in cholesterol. Corn. For juice, squeezed celery and carrot.

"It puts hair on your chest," he says.

Living Proof

It also puts it on your head. Kroll is living proof. He gets a haircut every two or three months to keep the dogcatcher away. Much of the time his hair looks as if he just sat through a Boris Karloff movie.

"I once went six months without a haircut," he says. Then he bought a guitar and very promptly found a new one of the Rolling Stones. But could he be a singer? "I only know six songs and one of them is the Star Spangled Banner."

Kroll, 24, is a Mormon boy from Culver City, Calif. He is single and thinks that baseball comes before matrimony.

"I'd like to get married, some day," he admits. "But I suppose that means I've got to go out and find a girl."

That's the kind of reasoning Mets are made of.

Wallett, Judge.

Area Weather

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) — Warm, dry weather today will give way to warm and more humid conditions Saturday along with a chance of scattered showers, the U.S. Weather Bureau said today.

High pressure centered over Southern New England this morning will give the Northeast another day of warm, dry weather and milder conditions tonight but Saturday this high pressure system will be slipping off into the Atlantic, the bureau said.

This will allow southerly winds to import more humid air northward into Connecticut. With the increase in moisture over the area tomorrow, the chances of showers will rise.

A cold front situated across the western Great Lakes region southward into the Plains states this morning will move eastward into New England by Saturday evening the bureau said. This cold front will help to increase the chances of showers in the area Saturday afternoon and Sunday and return drier and cooler air Sunday.

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) — Five day forecast:

Temperatures in Connecticut Saturday through Wednesday are expected to be below normal. Turning cool Sunday, followed by a warming trend in the middle of the week.

Some normal, high and low temperatures are Hartford, 84 and 61; New Haven, 79 and 63; and Bridgeport, 81 and 63.

Precipitation may total less than one-quarter of an inch occurring as showers Saturday.

Events In World

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Vatican informants say if Pope Paul VI does go to the U.N. General Assembly, it probably won't be before early next year.

They pointed out that the pontiff will be busy with the final session of the Vatican Ecumenical Council from Sept. 14 to about Dec. 8. The next General Assembly session opens Sept. 21 and is expected to run until the end of January with time out for Christmas.

Msgr. Alberto Giovannetti, the Vatican observer at the United Nations, said in New York Thursday that the Pope is considering the visit and "there is a possibility it will happen during the 20th session of the General Assembly."

Msgr. Giovannetti talked for 30 minutes with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and said they discussed the possibility of a visit. It would be the first papal visit to the Americas.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia is resurrecting its Borneo States a project aimed at resettling people defeating Communist guerrillas on the Malayan mainland — mostly ethnic Chinese — and villagers in protected centers.

The government announced the project after a daring raid last Sunday night by a terrorist squad in the Borneo State of Sarawak. The raiders were said to have included local Communists linked with Indonesia's "crush Malaysia" campaign.

SPOLETO, Italy (AP) — Poet Ezra Pound gave his first public reading in years Thursday night, speaking in a frail voice while seated in a theater box.

Pound was part of a poetry program at composer Gian Carlo Menotti's annual festival of two worlds. He read 16 poems, most from his own works. They included works by Robert Lowell, Marianne Moore, the 4th century Chinese Tao Yuan Ming, and Pound's translations from Dante.

The bearded, wavy-haired poet received a 10-minute ovation.

He had been indicted in his native United States on treason charges for broadcasting in Fascist Italy during World War II. He insisted he committed no betrayal. He was termed mentally incompetent to defend himself and was never tried.

BERLIN (AP) — A streetcar crashed into another one that had stopped to discharge passengers today during the morning rush hour. Police said 30 persons — most of them schoolchildren — were hurt but the injuries were not serious.

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Suinderji Ramji, 50, a peddler, burned himself to death amid hundreds of people Thursday to protest profiteering by grocers.

Ramji had announced he would commit suicide publicly if grocers didn't stop overcharging. He poured kerosene on his clothes and set fire to them. He died soon after being taken to a hospital.

National Guard On Standby Duty At Jazz Festival

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — To get Frank Sinatra is to have the world on a string.

That was the theme sung by the promoters today as the Newport Jazz Festival — buttressed by a 45,000 advance ticket sale for its seven performances and protected by National Guardsmen on standby alert — riffed into the second swinging round of its 12th season.

A meager gathering of 8,500 sprinkled through the 12,000-seat arena at Connell Highway at Thursday night's session, but producer George T. Wein wasn't worried about the final outcome of the four-day festival.

Frank Sinatra is scheduled to sing Sunday, and so great is his drawing power that people who want a ticket for the Sinatra concert must also buy a ticket for at least one other performance.

The result: "The largest advance ticket sale in history," said Wein.

The guardsmen were on alert in case of a repetition of the 1960 riot that rocked the festival. Gov. John H. Chafee has promised an "adequate" number of guardsmen would be available to put down a disturbance.

All went smoothly if not quietly opening night during a program aimed at the folk-singer fan and featuring Muddy Waters, Pete Seeger and Memphis Slim. Dizzy Gillespie, now noted as a folk singer, was also on the program.

Tonight's session features Thelonious Monk, Art Blakey, John Coltrane, Miles Davis and Carmen McRae. The afternoon session will headline Cecil Taylor, Paul Bley, Archie Shepp and the Jazz Composers' Guild Orchestra.

DELAYED TWIN

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — The Rose Freight handler Lawrence Martin, 24, gave birth to a baby about five minutes before an ambulance arrived to take her to the hospital. At the hospital a short time later, Martin was flabbergasted when the doctor came out and told her she had twins. Both were born to his 18-year-old wife, Willa.

About Town

The Rev. John D. Hughes of St. Mary's Episcopal Church will conduct services Sunday from 8:15 to 8:30 a.m. on radio station WDRC. The program is sponsored by the Manchester Ministerial Association.

Members of Memorial Lodge, Knights of Pythias, and Memorial Temple, Pythian Sisters, will meet tonight at 8 at Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., to pay respects to Raymond A. Gamble, a member.

William Avery, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Avery, 100 Lydall St., and William Finnegan, son of Mrs. James Finnegan, 87 North St., have finished the training for paratroopers and are now stationed with the 82nd Airborne Division, Fort Lee, Va.

Engaged

The engagement of Miss Marilee Turecki Furchi to Karl Rudy Kehler, both of Manchester, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Furchi of 105 Oak St.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl J. Kehler of 79 Constance Dr.

Miss Furchi is a 1961 honor graduate of Manchester High School. She received a B.S. degree with high distinction from Simons College last month where she was named to The Academy for outstanding scholastic achievement. She is a candidate for a M.S. degree at Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y.

Mr. Kehler was salutatorian of the class of 1961 of Manchester High School. He completed his undergraduate studies at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is a candidate for a M.S. degree in electrical engineering at MIT. He is a member of Phi Beta Epsilon social fraternity, Eta Kappa Nu, national electrical engineering honorary fraternity, Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honorary fraternity, and is an associate member of the Society of Sigma Xi.

A summer 1966 wedding is planned.

Driver to Face Stop Sign Count

Mrs. Roberta K. Seavey of Marlborough was traveling west on W. Center St. with her children, Pamela T. Scott 6, Linda 4, and Kimberly J. Auguste Brault, 56, of 1 Walnut St. was traveling south on Cooper St. and approached the stop sign at W. Center St. when, according to police, he failed to yield to traffic having right of way on W. Center St. and was struck by Mrs. Seavey.

Although both cars had to be towed from the scene there were no serious injuries. Police charged Brault with failure to obey a traffic sign. He will appear in Manchester Session of Circuit Court 13 on July 19.

Mayor Francis Mahoney, center, on behalf of the town, accepts the key to the new $7,500 Camp Kennedy shelter from Salvatore Filloramo, chairman of the Contractors' Division of the Chamber of Commerce, as Andrew Ansaldi, chairman of the shelter's building committee, looks on. The dedication ceremonies were witnessed last night by about 200 town officials, campers, their parents, camp staff, and other interested people. (Herald photo by Pinto.)

Shelter Dedicated, Gets Immediate Use

The new $7,500 permanent shelter at Manchester's Camp Kennedy was dedicated twice last night, first by words, then by action.

The words came at ceremonies, witnessed by about 200 town officials, campers, their parents, camp staff and interested townspeople, when the key and ownership of the shelter passed from the Contractors' Division of the Chamber of Commerce to the town of Manchester.

The action came at the close of the ceremonies when seven bicyclists from Camp WaWa Segowea of Canaan, on a trip to Cape Cod, spread their sleeping bags on the floor at the shelter and slept there over night.

Permission to camp overnight had been granted by Park and Rec Supt. Horace Murphy, with an assist by the office girls of the Chamber. The girls had followed through on a plea for a site, made by the campers' counselors.

The shelter, which was donated to the town for year-round use, was built under the leadership of Salvatore Filloramo, chairman of the Contractor's Division, and Andrew Ansaldi, chairman of the building committee.

Contributions of funds, materials and labor were received from approximately 50 local and area residents and companies.

In addition to the shelter itself, two permanent, east-iron outdoor charcoal grills, with the bases imbedded in concrete, have been supplied. The grills, certain to be utilized to their fullest extent, drew much favorable comment from all.

The dedication ceremonies opened with the invocation, given by the Rev. George F. Neatrand, pastor of St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Murphey, who was chairman of the event, then introduced Filloramo, who presented the keys to Mayor Francis Mahoney, who accepted them on behalf of the town.

Filloramo, who had spent countless hours and effort during construction of the shelter, said, "This getting up to speak is the hardest job of all." He warmly thanked "all those who helped so effortlessly to complete this project," and expressed the hope that the shelter will be used by Manchester's youth, the year round.

Mahoney, in accepting the key, said, "This key represents not only an instrument used to open the door of this building, but it also has a far greater meaning. It opens further the door to a new world, new hope, and new strength for a brighter future for those who will be directly affected."

He praised the Chamber "for making one of your greatest contributions to Manchester," and added, "This shelter is a living memorial to your organization."

Mahoney singled out the 80 volunteer counselors for praise, saying, "They work through the hot summer months, give up opportunities for paid employment, for vacations and for many other things that young people normally like to do."

He concluded, "God bless each one of you for the wonderful work you are doing. We think you are great and we love you for it."

Following Mahoney's words, the benediction was given by the Rt. Rev. John J. O'Brien, principal of St. James' School.

The formal dedication concluded with a flag ceremony, conducted by Boy Scout Troop 47 of the South Methodist Church, and by the newly formed Troop 360, comprised of retarded youths from the Bunce School.

The boys were led by Robert VonDeck, scoutmaster for both troops.

The Flag Ceremony took place at a new 30-foot flag pole, installed in concrete on Monday to replace the one broken by vandals over the weekend.

Following the dedication, Mike Gates and his five-man combo played for dancing, and the teen-age volunteers and their guests blended their voices in a songfest.

Camp Kennedy will open on Tuesday morning for its second summer of operation, with three sessions of two weeks each. The camp will close on Aug. 13.

Funds Shift On Agenda

The board of directors will be asked Tuesday to shift $48,300 from one account to another to pay for planning a major sanitary relief sewer to run from the Green to Hartford Rd.

The money will be taken from funds earmarked for diverting sewage from the hospital area and will pay Anderson-Nichols of Boston, an engineering firm, for plans and specifications for the trunk sewer and for supervising construction of it. The entire project is expected to cost about $300,000.

The money will have to be restored later when it is needed.

The directors will also be asked to waive the bidding requirement for work on the Porter-Howard water pumping station. If the transfer is approved, the work will go to R.I.P. Industries of Providence, R.I. The firm will install mixing tanks, a motor, and proportioning devices to permit automatic operation of the station. The cost of the work is $5,222.

The two items of business were added to the agenda for the board meeting scheduled for 8 p.m. in the hearing room of the Municipal Building.

Still other additions concern giving Acting Manager Irving Aronson authority to apply to the State Board of Education for a school aid building grant, and decisions on dispositions of streets recommended by the Town Planning Commission.

Viet Cong Continue Attacks on Airfields

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)—The Communist Viet Cong continued for the third day today their latest series of mortar attacks on American-Vietnamese airfields. They shelled the base at Can Tho, South Viet Nam's third largest city.

U.S. military spokesmen said the guerrillas first fired 20 to 30 rounds into the edge of the field. They hit several outposts 3,000 yards from the field with about 40 rounds several hours later.

No casualties or damage resulted from either attack, the spokesmen said.

Government troops countered with mortar fire of their own and warplanes were sent to the area 80 miles southwest of Saigon to engage the guerrillas under the glare of flares.

A small government force searched the area after dawn, but did not find any guerrillas, the spokesmen said.

The Viet Cong began their mortar attacks Thursday against Da Nang airbase, killing one American, wounding two others and causing an estimated $5 million in damage.

Soc Trang airfield 100 miles southeast of Saigon, was the Viet Cong target Thursday night. Four helicopters were flown quickly to another field and damage was described as minor.

In other action Friday, three South Korean soldiers were wounded when a electrically detonated Viet Cong mine blew up a truck near Di An, the Korean base camp north of Saigon, a Korean military spokesman said.

The Korean soldiers are part of a contingent of about 2,500 serving in noncombat roles.

South Korean President Chung Hee Park's Cabinet decided in Seoul to send a combat division and supporting units, totaling as many as 15,000 to South Viet Nam.

Weekend Weather

WINDSOR LOCKS (AP) The U.S. weather bureau promised some shower activity for Connecticut today but said it will be followed by dryer weather tomorrow.

"Like so many shower situations in the past," the forecaster said, "the rain resulting from the showers today will be generally light and spotty and do very little in lessening the drought conditions. Drier air will be back over Connecticut tomorrow and the resulting fair weather will likely continue into the first of the week."

A cold front is expected through Southern New England later today with high pressure following in behind the front Sunday.

NEA Backs LBJ's Corps Of Teachers

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson told wildly cheering teachers Friday that he will propose "within a few days" a national teachers corps to work with teachers in city slums and depressed rural areas.

The President flew from Washington to address the 100th annual convention of the National Education Association, then went on by plane to spend the holidays at the LBJ Ranch in Texas.

Some 7,000 delegates beamed and applauded as Johnson said:

"In the next few days I will propose a national teachers corps to enlist thousands of dedicated Americans to work alongside local teachers in city slums and areas of rural poverty."

The group would be the education equivalent of the Peace Corps.

The President said he also would work toward "a program of fellowships for elementary and secondary school teachers so they can refresh their knowledge and improve their abilities."

Both programs require congressional approval.

Johnson further told the closing NEA session:

"I have directed the commissioner of education to pay special attention, in reviewing desegregation plans, to guard against any pattern of teacher dismissals based on race or national origin."

Johnson also said a program to help Negro teachers displaced by the desegregation of Negro schools is under way.

The President said this included special provisions for reemployment through the United States Employment Service and a training program under the Manpower Development and Training Act which would help displaced Negro teachers to increase their skills.

Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League termed Johnson's call for a national teachers corps an excellent proposal.

But, added Young, "I don't think we should assume that all Southern Negro schoolteachers are inferior and need fellowships. Thousands do a splendid job and must have an opportunity right where they are."

Young said, however, the plan would benefit deprived children, and termed it a "wise investment that could deal a tremendous blow to the dropout problem at a cost vastly saving in human lives and dollars."

"Next year," the President told the schoolers, "I intend to offer more new proposals to improve the education of all Americans. And we are not going to stop until every child in this land can have all the education,

Sunken Galleon Reveals Treasure

MELBOURNE, Fla. (AP) — A new find of sunken Spanish treasure — perhaps history's greatest — has been announced here by a company which is making its fortune within sight of the Florida coast.

The Real 8 Corp., put on display Friday massive chunks of raw silver which it said it had dug from the wreck of a Spanish galleon 36 miles south of Cape Kennedy.

The discovery is expected to "far exceed" the 21.4 million which was salvaged last year from a sunken treasure ship near the Fort Pierce inlet, according to Harry Cannon of the corporation.

Real 8 showed reporters 3,000 pounds of silver bullion in ingots weighing between 60 and 100 pounds, two big clusters of silver pieces of eight and a few gold doubloons.

The new find, like the first, is believed to have come from one of 10 ships in a treasure fleet bound for Spain which was blown ashore by a hurricane in 1715.

The company laid the second find was buried four feet beneath the ocean floor in 25 feet of water about 1,000 feet offshore.

The discovery was brought up

Short Skirt Important to Derby Flier

EL CAJON, Calif. (AP) — Seventy-six planes all manned by women — take off today in the 1966 version of the Powder Puff Derby, a contest for fun and prizes that will cover three and one-half days hence in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Time checks are the big factor in choosing the winner.

So the copilot of last year's winning twosome, Mary Aitkins of Wichita, Kan., plans to wear tennis shoes.

"My main duty," Mrs. Aitkens said, "is to run like a gazelle to the clock at each stop."

Her figures tennis shoes will give her better traction.

Her pilot, Mary Ann Noah, explained that the pair won the 1964 race from Fresno, Calif., to Atlantic City, N.J., despite skirt trouble.

It seems Mrs. Aitkins' standard-length skirt got caught in the door during one leg of the flight, and the ruffles don't permit opening of the doors once the propeller is turning.

"That skirt cost us about a

Erroneous Alarm On Assassination Quickly Quelled

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's arrival here Friday touched off a wild five minutes when it was thought that the chief executive's life was being threatened.

Soon after the President arrived at Kennedy Airport, an alarm went out for a man "armed and considered dangerous" in connection with a threat on Johnson's life.

Police extracted the alarm minutes later.

The official police version:

An overzealous police officer had mistakenly mentioned the threat on the President's life in what was supposed to be an alarm for a stolen car.

The man being sought in connection with the car theft, identified as John Gunnison, who has several aliases, did write a threatening letter to President Johnson a month ago, police said.

Gunnison recently has been reported on the West Coast or in Las Vegas.

Police said that Gunnison, a printer with a New York background, had stolen the car here and that it was not natural to issue an alarm for his arrest. The math was in updating the threat against Johnson.

Luci Receives First Catholic Communion

Luci became 18 Friday and was baptized as a Catholic in a private rite at St. Mathew's Cathedral, attended by the President and Mrs. Johnson, her older sister Lynda, 21, and a few close friends.

Luci has been "headed in this direction a long time," one of her friends said, "so it had nothing to do with her boy friends." Some of the boys she has dated have been Catholics, including Paul Reis, whose school pin she wore for a time. He was one of the guests at the baptism.

The Rev. James Montgomery has been instructing Luci in the Catholic religion since September. She had been an Episcopalian like her mother and sister. President Johnson is a member of the Disciples of Christ, also known as the Christian Church.

Father Montgomery, who is assistant director of Catholic Charities in Washington, performed the baptismal rite, and was to celebrate the Mass today on the occasion of her first communion.

The Mass, also a private affair, was set at St. Ann's Infant and Maternity Home, a charitable institution just across the District of Columbia line in Hyattsville, Md.

The home's modernistic chapel is on the second floor and is lined with stained glass windows depicting the life of the Sisters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, the order which operates the home. Father Montgomery is the home's chaplain and resides nearby.

The religious rites were in contrast to a gay birthday party

Navy Imports Workers for Repair on Sub

GROTON (AP)—Workers from the Naval Shipyards in Portsmouth, N. H., have been brought into the area as the strike against the Electric Boat Division of General Dynamics Corp. enters its third day.

The U.S. Navy announced Friday night that it brought in the men to work on the U.S.S. Tinosa, a diesel submarine undrydock at the U.S. Submarine Base about four miles from Electric Boat.

"The submarine is urgently needed for fleet operations," the Navy said. The action, it said, was taken with the "concurrence of Metal Trades Union representatives and Electric Boat management."

Work on the Dace, the Navy said, had been assigned Electric Boat under contract. Work was halted by the strike.

It was not known how many workers would be brought in by the Navy. Some 40 men arrived in New London Friday.

An Electric Boat spokesman said the company "concurred with the Navy decision to terminate the contract in view of the union's refusal to supply manpower to complete the job."

Top union officials are in Washington for mediation sessions and were not immediately available for comment.

Talks are scheduled to resume today.

The strike has halted construction of six Polaris ballistic missile and three attack submarines at Electric Boat, one of the nation's leading builders of submarines.

More than 12,000 men have been idled by the walkout, which began with the expiration of a three-year contract.

NEW BRITAIN (AP) — A 19-year-old New Britain package store owner was held up for the third time within three years Friday night and robbed of about $50.

Det. Robert Walsh said two men entered the package store, asked for beer, began punching

In Independance, Mo. 4th to Be on the 5th

NEW YORK (AP) — What are six American Communities named Independence doing on Independence Day? Planned activities range from nothing special to a "whingdinger."

At Independence, Mo., the city best known resident, former President Harry S. Truman, will be the main speaker at the annual July 4 observance — which this year will be held on the 5th.

The program, at the Truman Library, will begin with a concert by the American Legion Band of Greater Kansas City.

Independence, Mo. — population about 61,000 —county seat of Jackson County, was named by President Andrew Jackson.

At Independence, Kan., in the southeast part of the state, the city — population 11,750 —will mark its 90th Fourth of July celebration.

Alf M. Landon, 1936 Republican presidential candidate, resided in the Kansas community until he became government.

The Independence Day festivities include all-day fun at Riverside Park — all programs to be held Monday.

R. W. Wright, one of the incorporators of the town in 1867, named the city for his hometown of Independence, Iowa.

Independence, Iowa, reports no special Fourth plans — at least no parade. They will hold trotting horse races on Sunday.

The town — population 5,468 — was laid out in late June 1847; the historical society says it apparently was named Independence because it was founded so near to July 4.

In Kentucky, the village of Independence population about 350 — was incorporated in 1842. Its name, they says, was selected for "patriotic reasons."

The little town along Route 17 plans no special July 4 celebration this year; none have been held for many years.

'63 Holiday Worst Ever; 504 Killed

CHICAGO (AP)—Generally favorable weather abetted by release from the daily tedium sent millions of motorists onto the highways today and pleas from safety experts for careful driving.

The National Safety Council, continually alerting motorists and authorities to the need for caution, re-echoed an earlier plea that the extended Independence Day holiday might pull more traffic deaths than ever before in the holiday record books. The summer holiday also is dangerous for boaters and swimmers.

The council said that in the 78 hours, starting at 6 p.m. Friday and ending at midnight Monday, (local time), the deaths from traffic accidents could exceed the 1963 Fourth of July figures when there were 204 dead — a record for a three-day observance of the holiday.

In the early hours of the tabulating, there were 31 deaths in traffic accidents.

The council reckoned that in the period covered by its tabulation, motorists would log about nine billion miles.

Extreme caution again was urged by the council. The safety group forecast that between 470 and 570 persons might lose their lives in holiday traffic accidents.

In a corresponding 78-hour period not involving a holiday, the council tabulated 436 traffic deaths.

The record for any three-day holiday was 609, set at Christmas time in 1955.

The recent Memorial Day weekend, another three-day observance, posted a traffic toll of 474 — a record for any three-day Memorial Weekend.

To obtain a comparative figure, The Associated Press counted traffic fatalities for a non-holiday period from 6 p.m. June 18 to midnight Monday, June 21 and there were 365 fatalities.

The council said that the expanding Interstate highway network will help keep down the number of traffic deaths. The interstate system now totals about 19,000 miles. The system of divided multilane roads with limited access almost eliminates head-on collisions and such accidents as occur at stop signs.

Kennedys Arrive At Hyannisport

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) —Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children, John Jr. and Caroline, arrived here Friday for a six week visit.

With Mrs. Kennedy and the children were Stephen Smith, a brother-in-law of the late president, Smith's children and Mary Kennedy, daughter of Sen. and Mrs. Robert Kennedy, D-NY.

Sen. and Mrs. Kennedy and the rest of their family are expected at the family compound Monday. They are completing a boat trip through the rapids of the Yampa and Green rivers of Colorado and Utah.

Other members of the family are to arrive during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Sargent Shriver and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lawford are expected today. Sen. and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., are already here.

Lupton Leading Move To Defeat Convention

HARTFORD (AP)—A statewide organization headed by John M. Lupton is being formed to persuade the public to vote "no" on the recommendations that will come out of the constitutional convention that convened Thursday.

Lupton, executive director of the Connecticut Republican Citizens Committee, confirmed reports that he will serve as executive director of the Committee of One Thousand to Preserve Constitutional Principles, Inc.

The chief aim of this organization, Lupton said, is to preserve the unit system of representation in the Connecticut Houses of Representatives.

Since the primary goal of the constitutional convention is to rewrite the constitution to abolish this system, the Committee of One Thousand is working to defeat the product of the convention when it is offered to the people at a referendum Dec. 14, he said.

Lupton described the work of the organization as a delaying tactic. There is a good chance, he said, that Congress will approve the Dirksen amendment, which would permit state legislatures to have representation in one chamber determined on bases other than population.

"The best action, in our opinion," Lupton said, "is to postpone any action that would freeze into the state constitution a reapportionment plan that throws out the unit representation system."

If opponents of the unit system succeed in removing references to it from the state constitution, Lupton said, "we don't
