LOCAL MAN IN SERIOUS CONDITION AFTER ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE TODAY

Michael Wabrek Shoots Himself in Head and Chest While Temporarily Deranged at Edgewood Inn This Morning—Fired Seven Bullets at Himself But Only Two Took Effect.

Michael Wabrek twenty-eight years of age, a hands at the Edgewood Inn on the part of the Manchester Memorial Hospital with two 32 caliber bullets in his chest as the result of his attempt to take his own life at the inn this morning. It is said that the man was alone in a room at the inn and called for a room. He was called down to the inn shortly after 10 o'clock and when he came down he was seen to go into the barroom and shoot himself. The bullet entered through the right temple and lodged in the left side. The bullet went into his left chest passes its mark and lodges near his left lungs. Under the muscles of his back. There is not much hope will out for Wabrek's recovery according to a statement given a reporter for The Herald by Dr. Martin this afternoon.

About 6:30 o'clock this morning Walter Donaghy, who is in charge of the Edgewood Inn, which is a boarding house for men employed by Cheney Brothers, was alarmed by the sound of shooting coming from an upstairs room. He went up to investigate and found that the shooting was going on in the room occupied by Wabrek. When he got in the door of the room he found Wabrek sitting on the side of his bed twirling the pistol around and making attempts to pull the trigger. Wabrek's face was covered with blood from the wound in his temple and he appeared to be frothing at the mouth.

Chief Gordon knocked the pistol from his hand and asked him why he was trying to shoot himself. Wabrek replied that "they were after him" intimating that he thought some one had been chasing him.

Chief Gordon decided that the best thing to do with the injured man was to bring him to the hospital, so he was half lifted and carried to the police car outside and the chief rushed with the injured man to the Manchester Memorial Hospital where Dr. Martin was called to attend him.

The pistol used by Wabrek was a seven shooter, 32 caliber, and all of the cartridges had been exploded. There are three bullets in the chamber, so that seven shots have come into the wall and ceiling of the room. After the shooting Chief Gordon went back to the room and found a chamber in which he had a chance to knock the pistol out of Wabrek's hand when the pistol pulled the trigger but the hammer fell on an empty cartridge.

Wabrek who has been estranged from his wife for a year or more has been acting despondent for several days. He came to this city from Hartford to seek medical treatment and the doctor who attended him at the Edgewood Inn this morning recently had his nerves weakened to such a state that he thought that some men were pursuing him. Wabrek's condition is said to be worse than he first realized when the doctor telephoned for the police. However, before he could, in connection with the police, get Wabrek walked out of the office and disappeared.

HILLIARD COMPANY TO BUILD BYE HOUSE

Manchester Construction Co. Gets Contract to Start Work On New Structure May 15.

The Manchester Construction Company has been awarded the contract to build a new dye house for the E. I. Hilliard Company in Buckland and the work will be started on May 15. The new structure is to be a one-story affair, 65 feet by 125 feet, with concrete foundations and brick construction. The roof will be construction of graved and slag. The plans for the new building were drawn by Charles T. Main, a Boston, Mass. architect. The E. K. Hilliard Company has had under advisement the enlarging of the Buckland plant for some time on account of the crowded conditions at its dyehouse. The new structure is expected to give the firm ample room to take care of all its needs for some time to come. The Manchester Construction Company will also erect the dye house under the contract for the Hilliard Company.

FIND STEELE'S TOURING CAR ABANDONED NEAR OUTSKIRTS OF PROVIDENCE LAST NIGHT

William M. Steele of No. 463 Center street, Manchester, Conn., early this morning for Providence, R. I., to recover his Essex touring car which was stolen from in front of his home last night. He reached Providence at 7 o'clock yesterday morning by automobile and found his car in the care of Mr. Steele's car a Providence police officer. Deputy Sheriff Allen L. Frink, of Providence, who arrested the thief last evening by Chief Sargent to function of a police patrol car. Frink and Allen, Mr. Steele was engaged in a couple of sidetracks. Yesterday afternoon he forgot to take their exit when they changed the Ford for the Essex. When Deputy Sheriff Frink arrived he was given permission to take the car back home and then it was up to Mr. Steele to wait for morning to see what details came in the evening when Chief Gordon notified him of his discovery on the outskirts of Providence.

In both cases, at the Frink place and at Mr. Steele's garage, the thieves had gained access by breaking open the lock on the garage doors.

Ralph Cone of East Center street reported to the local police that someone had attempted to force an entrance to his garage but they were either scared away or changed their minds as to the style of car they would like to steal.

George Graziadio reported to the police that some time between last Sunday night and early Monday morning the lock on the gasoline tank at his Depot Square filling station was broken but no gasoline was taken. The tank was filled on Saturday.

SUMMIT ST. LINE CASE PUT OVER UNTIL MAY 7

Selectmen Invite All Property Owners Affected by Street Line Survey to Have Day in Court—James Trotter Will Be Asked to Attend Also.

The Summit street building line case was again postponed last night by selectmen at a meeting of the board of selectmen held on Monday, those being well represented at a meeting at which James Trotter, together with the property owners on the five and twenty Trotter of Hartford, came to the selectmen's office to see if the property owners on Summit street had any chance of being heard on the matter, which they thought they had not when a meeting was held a few weeks ago.

The Summit street building line case was again postponed last night by selectmen at a meeting at which James Trotter, together with the property owners on the five and twenty Trotter of Hartford, came to the selectmen's office to see if the property owners on Summit street had any chance of being heard on the matter, which they thought they had not when a meeting was held a few weeks ago.

To [illegible] the property owners on Summit street had been notified by the selectmen to be present at the meeting last night, but it was found that only a few had been so notified. It was the opinion of the property owners present that all those who had property on the street should be notified and invited to the meeting so that they might come together with the property owners on the five and twenty Trotter of Hartford and have a hearing together. It was the opinion of the property owners on Summit street that if they had been notified they would not slip a second time as they had thought they had done a few weeks ago when they thought they had been notified.

The selectmen have invited James Trotter to be present at the next meeting of the board of selectmen and on May 7 the board will give a hearing to all those who may wish to be present and have a hearing together with the property owners on the five and twenty Trotter of Hartford.

James Trotter, who was present at the meeting last night, said that he was willing to do anything he could to help the matter along and that he would be willing to be present at the next meeting of the board of selectmen and would try to have the property owners on the five and twenty Trotter of Hartford present at the meeting.

Paget's description of a perfect woman's foot is great, breadth and fullness of instep, a well-marked great toe, a long second toe projecting a little beyond the great toe, and a very small little toe. Many artists declare a foot, that has worn a shoe is deformed, and so, most they wish to make a study of the feet, they go to the shoes of Italy, where the peasant women have never worn shoe.

Peasant women entice barrows with a basket slung on either side pass by on their way to market. These simple points live their lives centuries ago hands of a line of ancestors have believe them, and the changing styles from one season to another worries them not a bit.

MISREPRESENTATION CHARGED OF CONDITIONS IN PALESTINE

(The New Palestine, March 30.)

On March 25 there appeared under the copyright of the Associated Press in The New York Times an abbreviated report of statements made by the editor of The London Daily Express, Lord Beaverbrook. He sent to London the statements arrived at by him after a brief visit in Palestine. The impressions of Lord Beaverbrook are given whose credibility, without comment, although they are supported by the facts. The facts should be known to every responsible editor and commentator on public affairs.

For instance, Lord Beaverbrook is quoted as saying that it is difficult to find a Jew in Palestine. This is said of that city which is least populated of the towns of Jewish and whose resident Jewish residents in every sphere are the cream of Jewry, second to none in social and intellectual attainments. Beaverbrook is quoted as saying that "the sad little Jewish merchants are being kept alive by foreign aliens." A responsible newspaper would be very careful in spreading a report of this character, if any, unless it had carried out first making an inquiry. At this time an effort is being made in the United States for the Nathan Hayesod, which depends for its success upon the truth of statements made by Zionist leaders, who have been asserting that the situation in Palestine was not unfavorable, that work is progressing and that reliance is placed upon American Jewry for continuance of support. And yet these conclusions of Lord Beaverbrook are circulated throughout the world by the Associated Press without making any effort to verify or ascertain whether there is any truth in statements. A casual knowledge of conditions in Palestine would lead to a different conclusion. It is generally known that in a town of over fifty Jewish colonies, Palestine that are not supported by subventions and gifts, and that are thriving in spite of great difficulties, that the settlements in Jewish Israel, which have been recently begun by the Zionist organization, are making headway; that there are coming into Palestine from 600 to 1,000 new settlers every month; that new settlers are not, as stated, being starved every week. An industry at the Keren Hayesod office would have obtained a financial statement of the moneys that are being wendingly forwarded to Palestine. Although the unemployed are not as much as needed, they are in health, an appreciable sum and not in misery in any sense of the word as bankruptcy of the office. An inquiry at the Zionist office would have produced an array of facts that would absolutely discredit the statements of Lord Beaverbrook from corroboration in any immaterial and unbiased person.

Furthermore, if there was any inclination to affix the lie to the statement from the Zionist organization in effect for the assertions of Lord Beaverbrook, all that was necessary to make the story credible upon the American public would have been to mention the fact that Lord Beaverbrook is an outspoken opponent of the Jewish national home and of Zionism.

A second instance this week of the Associated Press, this time of a cabling from Jerusalem and dated February 26, purports to be a preliminary report of the Anglo-Saxon Jerusalem, Ashbon D. Carew. A summary of this report appears in The New Palestine of March 26. It is a discovery in the American government. The report has 64 pages and deals with the commercial resources of Palestine with particular reference to American trade, to aid in the promotion of which the report is especially designed. It is a comprehensive review of the situation in Palestine; it is fair in its treatment of the situation in Palestine. We challenge the Associated Press to prove that there is anything in the report of Colonel Southard which justifies making it appear as if he is responsible for certain personal opinions as expressed by the correspondent of the Associated Press. As a matter of fact, this correspondence as it appears in The New York Evening Post on March 28, fairly shows that the writer has interwoven his own opinions with the remarks of the American consul, and has carefully made it appear as if the conclusions of Mr. Southard are identical with his conclusions. In the whole, the report of the consul can consult in a favorable one. It elaborates his view of Palestine as a great future trade center. He says, "With increased opportunities assured, Palestine will demand the trade of some millions of people in northern Arabia, of the wonderful grain district south of Damascus and Bagdad as the Hauran; and of other parts of southern Syria that are tributary to Lebanons from the Syrian port of Beirut, which includes Damascus and its rich caravan trade, extending even further into the district of the Euphrates." It is a document to which no exception can be taken.

The correspondent says that the number of Hebrews who have come to settle in Palestine from the United States is relatively small, and then tries to make it appear as if the reason for the number of Jews of American origin going to Palestine being small is the fact that those particular callings for which Hebrews throughout all times have shown a special predilection—clothing manufacture, merchandising, banking and money changing—are singularly lacking in the Holy Land. Then he says on his own account, forgetting that he has said that American Jews in Palestine are few in number and obviously not knowing of Lord Beaverbrook's discovery that there are no Jews in Jerusalem, that the main streets of Jerusalem and Jaffa are resplendent with tall centers in the East Side of New York.

Looking Backward

Local News Taken From The Nine of Twenty Five Years Ago.

Henry E. Thompson in sending by his renewal subscription, to the South Manchester News for twenty years, from Daytona, Florida, writes that the weather there is delightful, that they are all enjoying good health and that the Tuscan Orange is overflowing with the right juice for a wee bit of something to take for colds. March gives that same fair weather now for the past few days in which April seems to have changed positions with March.

James Hall of Cooper Street has arrived from Carles Anderson in the war with Spain in the entire of the merchantman "Buena Ventura" by the Yukon gold taxi. It was a blank shot from Wells Arm, Alaska, about 300 miles, then Dawson City on the down the Rae from the mainland banks of Middle Lake. They were 10 days in a boat and waiting for ice to cross upstream so they expect to be home in a week. They are in excellent health. There are 1000 people at that place. There are 3 feet of snow.

Silk Sox Show Up Well Sunday When Schieldge Gives Colts Work-Out

Art Johnson's Condition Surprises and Enthuses Local Fans—Peterson and McAdams Out For Utility Catchers – Many Local Boys Try For Positions.

The first real workout of the Manchester baseball team was held at Mt. Nebo Sunday afternoon before a small audience of "the faithful" who journeyed to the mount to get a glimpse of those who are to care for Manchester's baseball interests this coming season. The day could hardly be called ideal for the warming up process as a strong wind blew across the diamond, causing great swirls of dust to arise which caused the players to work under difficulties at times. Nevertheless all the players present snapped into the program with a zip and zest which caused many favorable and flattering comments from the spectators.

The new players, Coach Halback and Zielke, came in for considerable attention, but it seemed that "Art" Johnson, slab artist par excellence a few seasons ago, was the chief center of interest and the most talked about player in the field. It was among the first on the field and went into the box to serve them up to the batters. There was much speculation among the fans as to the condition of Art's arm as he occasionally breezed over the plate with smoke on it. It was not until Johnson went to the sidelines and started serving them up to "Punk" Lamprecht that the fans began to open their eyes and wonder about Art's comeback. The way he steamed 'em over with both fast ones and those with a kink in them was a delight to Art's admirers. He worked fast with "Punk" for a lengthy period and the last one he threw had as much smoke on it as the first. Johnson gave no evidence of a sore arm. That tell-tale rubbing of the shoulder which was in evidence the early part of last season was missing, and Johnson seemed to be in splendid condition. His many local friends are rooting for him to come back as he is a valuable asset to a ball team when he is right, because he is a walloper of the barrelhead as well as a pitcher, his safe hits coming timely and often.

The regulars of last season, Wilson, Dwyer, Lamprecht, Sippel, Kotsch and Massey were on hand and in their relative positions, all playing the old time gap and thoroughness in their work. The strangers in the Manchester lineup were Zielke at first, Halbach at second and Goeb in left field. Zielke is a neat first baseman and covers the bag with the style of a finished player, as far as semi-pro ball players go. He is no Buck Freeman, but he is undoubtedly an improvement over any player who has covered first base for Manchester in past seasons. Halbach looked impressive at second and scooped them up in fine style. Goeb, who was secured for left field in place of Conklin, gobbled up flies in the outer garden. He is fleet of foot and a splendid judge of fly balls and although he is an whirlwind as a slugger he seems to be a fixture in the local ivy of gardeners. He comes here with the reputation of being a former Eastern Leaguer. As far as that goes, it might as well be said that there were two former Eastern Leaguers on the field, for "Pop" Edgar, the venerable hero of many battles at Nebo, was trying out for a berth on the Hartford team at the same time as did Goeb. The latter played with Hartford a little longer than "Pop" but he was long enough to be classed as a regular. "Pop" did not look bad at all, stinging the ball on the nose while at bat and pulling down flies in the field with the same grace that always characterized his work.

There were many candidates out for practice, some who come out every year, with the regularity of the season. There are those who are bound to be disappointed in securing a berth but it seems certain that a utility outfielder will be carried along as well as a second string catcher. It is probable, if Johnson can come back to his previous good form that he will be used as utility man in the outfield. There were a large number of flyballs in the outer garden last Sunday including, Ballsieper, Dwyer, Wappoek, Edgar and the three probable regulars, Goeb, Sippel and Kotsch. Freddy Warnock looked good in very good, in that he hit the ball hard at the bat and crowded the sphere from the air in style fashion.

"Cap" Peterson and Sam McAdams, catchers, were out for practice, and whether one of these men will be retained as relief backstop is as yet uncertain.

Sammy Massey's appearance in uniform gave much food for speculation. With Halbach appointed coach and placing himself at second he thinks he is indeed a problem. If Sammy's duties at the North End Community Club interfere with his baseball opportunities, it can hardly be expected that he will be assigned to a position. But if he is free to play when the club needs his services it is another matter. If Halbach is more valuable than Massey at a position which was popped by a number of men at the grounds Sunday it is a question. There is room for argument there, both pro and con. Massey has played nice baseball in Manchester for a good many years and there are many who will be interested to note his attempt to perform in a new uniform with equal success as a ball player, and there is justice in the new adage that "familiarity breeds contempt." The writer is an admirer of Sammy as a ball player, and is in justice to the new comer bound to say that he did not shine over the diamond as did the veteran.

Nebo Sunday, it appears that Manchester is to be represented by a fast club this coming season. There was certainly enough material out from which to mold a ball team and with the regulars of last year as a nucleus, a splendid start has already been made.

Big league sport writers always feature a comparison of the major league clubs at the beginning of the season. These writers have followed the "big boys" day in and day out for years and can give a good impression of the relative strength of the teams "on paper." Be that as it may, it is indeed a foolhardy undertaking for one to sum up the merits of a semi pro club "on paper", though there are those who try it. Whether or not Manchester will be represented by as fast a club as played the New Departure team on Clarkin field last year, remains to be seen.

Those who reported for practice Sunday were Lamprecht, Myers, Atwood, Peterson, Thornton, Johnson, Zielke, Halbach, Massey, Dwyer, Wilson, Sippel, Edgar, Kotsch, Warnock, L. Daoust, P. Daoust, Ballsieper and Edgar. Bill Patton, pitcher, was not present.

Miss Patee's Comets Win Third Straight Game

Play Stellar Ball in 8th Grade League and Defeat Miss Munson's Protegees 2-0.

Miss Patee's Comets defeated Miss Munson's Blazers at Mt. Nebo last Friday evening, shutting them out by a score of 2 0. The Comets played a classy game all the way through, making but one error and pulling some real big league plays. The playing of LaCoss, Gravino and Dowe stood out weak and were over that of the others in the game. Excellent pitching for the Blazers struck out eleven men. The name was the third straight victory for the Comets and the first victory in the league games. The box score:

SAINTS TO PRACTICE SATURDAY

The St. Marys Y. M. C. baseball team will hold its first practice Saturday afternoon on the Main street grounds about two o'clock and all former members and prospective members of the team are requested to put in an appearance so that as fast a team as last year's champs can be given a good start for the coming season.

There will also be a special meeting of the whole club next Monday evening in the headquarters on Myrtle street when the town championship cup, won last year by the Saints in the fall tournament, will be presented. Following this meeting there will be a baseball conference and final plans for the coming season will be decided on. A manager and captain will be chosen and in a ways and means committee whose business it will be to raise funds for equipping the team with uniforms and accessories will be organized. The Saints expect to have just as successful a season this year as last.

Sporting Notes

Art Seelert, former high school twirler, who was taken to Waterbury for a try-out by Herman Bronkie, was released last week and is back at his home in Hillstown again.

Local fans can get the big league results every night at the Hasler Shop on Pearl street, as Mr. Barstow, who runs the shop, grabs the latest news right out of the air every evening and pastes the results on the window.

Last Saturday's weather was such as to bring out all the available baseball talent and impediments in the town. Every varsity lot in the town limits seemed to be staging some sort of an attraction. The big game of the day was at Mt. Nebo where the South Manchester High School team was playing the New Britain High outfit.

The big wrestling, boxing and swimming tournament, which is due to take place next Saturday evening in the School Street Rec. promises to draw a large crowd. "Cowboy George" Bidwell, of the North End, who is town champion middleweight wrestler, has a number of backers who say that he will cop the state wrestling championship.

Monster Athletic Tournament Slated for Next Saturday at Recreation Center

Wrestling, Boxing, Swimming and Fancy Diving on Schedule Open to Registered A. A. U. Men—Wrestling Trials to Start at 2 p. m. in Afternoon—Middleweight Championship to Be Decided.

Next Saturday in the School street Recreation Center, the first boxing, wrestling, swimming and boxing tournament of the season under A. A. U. rules will be staged. The wrestling matches, for the Connecticut State Wrestling Championship 160 pound and lightweight will start at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, and the elimination matches will be over the floor that time so as to allow the finals to be started at 7 o'clock and last until 10 o'clock unless decided earlier than the time limit.

The boxing matches which will be closed to Bridgeport and South Manchester athletes will be run off in five classes. The classes will consist of the following weight units: 112, 118, 126, 135 and 145 pounds. Two pounds extra will be conceded in the boxing matches.

Swimming matches between one mile Race and South Manchester and scores from Bridgeport and South Manchester have also been carried on the schedules, and there will be three races in each of these two matches, fifty yards, 100 yards race and 200 yards relay.

In addition to this program there will also be exhibitions of fancy diving by local and out-of-town athletes.

Director Walter Olson who is managing the tourney, says that he has plenty of time left on receiving entries and Thursday, April 26 will be the last date on which any entries can be accepted. To date he has received nearly twenty entries for different events and it is expected that by Thursday this number will be doubled.

Every athlete who enters must certify that he is a registered amateur according to the laws of the A. A. U. of the United States.

Manchester Loses First Game of Spring Finals

St. George's Sons Hang Crepe On Local Soccer Team in Bridgeport Last Sunday by Score of 2-1.

The Manchester soccer team again was shoehorn by fate from taking the first game for the place soccer cup in the Spring finals last Sunday in Bridgeport and in cutting one game to the East Side Sons of St. George team by a score of 2-1. During the game Sweeney of the Bridgeport outfit, fell and broke his ankle in the ankle, leaving a lot of gloom on an otherwise brilliant finish for the St. George team.

Manchester started the game fast and in spite of some brilliant passing, did not succeed in getting three goals needed to pass through the Sons in accordance with sensational work of Holland, the Bridgeport goalie.

Bridgeport scored the goal in the first half when after several fast passes Kilroy got the ball in and, taken aback by "cool of the Manchester goal, had booted it through for a score.

In the second half Pratt got the ball right at the source of the whistle and after a wonderful run down the field he put it through the bars for Manchester's first and only score.

Bridgeport at this point depended on a defense that proved impregnable to all Manchester attacks. Time after time the Silk Town players brought the ball down the field only to run up against this doughty defense and see the ball booted out of the Bridgeport danger zone. With fourteen minutes to go, Rosvan got a lucky kick past Mulholland, the ball taking a bad bounce and going through for a score. The second game of the series will be played next Sunday on the Adams street grounds. If a third game is necessary it will be played on a neutral field. The summary:

Manchester.		Bridgeport.
Mulholland	Goal	Pollari
Gowans	Right Back	Mason
Smith	Left Back	Butterworth
Farrell	Right Halfback	Wagner
Hamilton	Center Halfback	Mathews
Magee	Outside Right	Stravelley
Beebop	Inside Right	Kilroy
Lindsay	Center	Ellam

Goals—Kilroy, Blasom, Pratt. Referee, Miller, of New Haven.

Pirates Open Season Sunday With Victory

Defeat Fast St. Mary's Team of New Britain in Hardware City by Score of 3-0.

The Pirates defeated the St. Mary's of New Britain Sunday afternoon in that city by a score of 3 to 0. Sherman's two-base hit into deep left field put the game on ice for the locals, two runs crossing the plate as a result of the smash.

Jaylowski, who pitched a good game up to the seventh inning, allowing two scattered hits, was marked on account of a sore arm, with Hamlin replacing him. The Pirates got right after Hamlin, Barrett getting on with a single. Smith poled out one over Graves, beat Barrett advancing to third. Armstrong struck out, Smith taking second. Sherman then let a two bagger receive his attention, the eighth inning Peterson scored the third and last run of the game. Hamlin, Polaski wiped with Daly. The score:

In this, what the little things mean, is a chart of revaluations coffee loss may be cited. Two quarts a day make 730 quarts a year. In 50 stores this would be 36,500 quarts, 243,000 cupfuls. At a cents a cup the loss totals $17,150 retail value. Simple because not enough attention is given to small quantities of coffee wasted.—From the Waldorf Window.

Silk Town Students Meet Defeat in Opening Game With New Britain

Locals Outplayed Hardware City Chaps But Could Not Hit in Pinches—Carney Pitches Good Ball.

The South Manchester High School baseball team opened its 1923 season with a defeat. The story of the game reads just like those of last year's games, the locals outhit their rivals and outplayed them in every department except scoring. Carney pitched good ball for the Silk Town students but the Hardware City lads got to him in the pinches.

The New Britain team put on Carney in the third inning for two singles, a two bagger and a three bagger, setting four runs. Again in the fifth inning two singles for New Britain yielded two more runs and in the eighth inning a free pass and a single brought home more runs.

South Manchester did not score until the eighth inning when Carney and Carlson walked and were sent home on Thornton's triple to left. In the final frame South Manchester scored three more runs but the lead was too great to overcome and they had to be satisfied with the best the local team could do on the diamond.

CHINA HAS OLDEST JOURNAL

Peking Newspaper Has Been in Existence for Something More Than Ten Centuries.

Two-thirds of the population of China can read and write, according to a recent census, which has been carried out by the Chinese government. Since the overwhelming majority of the people are illiterate, the paper which is published in Peking, the capital of the republic, is read by a very small number of persons. It is, however, the oldest journal in the world, for it has been published without a break for 1,300 years. Its circulation is, of course, very limited, and it is not to be compared with the great dailies of the world. The paper is printed on a hand press, and the type is set by hand. The office force consists of a few men who are paid a very small wage. The paper is published in the form of a pamphlet, and is issued every fortnight. Its contents are made up of extracts from the official gazettes, and of such other matter as the editor may think fit to insert. The paper is sold at a cent and a half a copy, and it is said that it does not pay its way. It is supported by the government, which, it is alleged, uses it for purposes of propaganda.

Miss Maude E. Tryon, of The News staff, who writes the ever popular "Chirpings For Mindy," which appear in each issue of The News, is spending two weeks in Atlanta, Ga. She writes that the southern city is a great place to be at this time of the year and she is anxious to stay as long as she can. However, she expects to be back "chirping" by the end of the week.

PRESENT PASTOR WITH CAR

St. James Parish Hall was crowded with many members of the parish last Friday evening when Rev. William P. Heidy, the pastor, was presented with a new Hudson coach, the gift of the parishioners. The presentation speech was made by Patrick J. Hutchinson, who was a member of the committee who arranged donations from the members of the parish and friends for the gift. Father Heidy was taken completely by surprise but managed to express his thanks and appreciation in no uncertain way. About two weeks ago, the committee decided to make the presentation and work to secure the necessary funds. Little trouble was encountered in raising the necessary amount, Father Heidy, who succeeded Rev. F. J. McGrath as pastor of St. Jame's, is very popular with his parishioners.

DR. DWYER'S RECITAL WILL FILL H. S. HALL

Former Local Boy to Be Greeted by Big Outpouring of Friends Next Thursday Evening.

It is safe to say that the Assembly Hall of the South Manchester High School will be crowded next Thursday evening on the occasion of the first appearance of Dr. George L. Dwyer, of Boston, a former local boy and high school graduate, who will give a concert on that evening assisted by Miss McGuinness, soprano, of Worcester, Mass.

Dr. Dwyer is the son of Mrs. Mary E. Dwyer of North Main street and after graduating from the South Manchester High School, he attended Danbury Normal School and taught school in this state. He then entered Harvard Dental School and after graduating he located in Boston, giving considerable time to voice culture. As a result of his work he is recognized now as one of the leading tenors in the Hub. Recently some of his local friends, who have followed his successful career with interest, prevailed upon him to come to his home town for a concert recital and the arrangements for Thursday evening's entertainment were put under way.

The following program has been arranged for the concert:

1. Canzonetta ..... Sibella
   Amarilli ..... Caccini
   O Sleep, Why Dost Thou Leave Me ..... Handel
2. Lascia Ch'io Pianga, from Rinaldo ..... Handel

MORRIS ELMAN SELLS OUT

The dry goods and ladies garment store which has been under the proprietorship of Morris Elman in the Johnson block on Main street for the past eight years has been sold by Mr. Elman to L. A. Fradin of Hartford. The new owners will take possession tomorrow morning.

The business was started in 1911 by Kleiman and Elman. Mr. Kleiman sold out his interest to Bernard Elman, a brother of the late owner and the business was then conducted under the name of Elman Brothers. Several years ago Mr. Elman took over the entire place and under his management it has been improved and enlarged until today it is recognized as one of the busy places on Main street. Mr. Elman retires from the department store business to give more attention to his real estate interests.

REA LESTATE SALES

Robert J. Smith reports the following sales made through his office recently.

E. J. Holl has sold a six room house on Florence street to Samuel and Debora Stevenson.

R. O. Cheney et al has sold a building lot on Center street to M. Myrtle Fryer of Wells street.

Arthur Hultman has bought a building lot on Russell street from Ade Neuschless of Rockville.

Harry Whittle has bought a building lot on the corner of Spruce and Pearl streets from I. A. Brink Estate.

Ernest C. Borst has bought a building lot from R. O. Cheney et al on Center street.

R. A. Hunt has sold his bungalow on Eldridge street to John W. Sutherland and wife.

Margaret Fryer has bought a building lot on Center street from R. O. Cheney et al.

Julius Finkbein has sold a modern flat at Ridge and Cedar streets to George and Elizabeth Brennan.

Elizabeth Vennart has sold a four-family house on Lilly street to John and Elizabeth Miner. The new owners have bought the property for an investment.

Metro Kazebl has bought two building lots on Center street from R. O. Cheney et al.

CHIMNEY CLEANING.

Frank D'Amico and Paul J. Clune have formed a partnership and are now ready to clean chimneys and flues. Mr. Clune has had an extensive experience in this work throughout the state for the past two years and his work has been highly recommended. With Mr. D'Amico they feel there is need of a lot of this work right here at home and they are now ready for business. With the price of coal which was used here during the past winter they say there is hardly a chimney in town which does not need attention right now. They have the endorsement of Chief O. J. Atwood, of the South Manchester Fire Department who views the cleaning of chimneys as an important factor in fire prevention. This is fire prevention week and the chief is heartily in favor of the work which these young men are launching. It is said that about eighty-five per cent. of the fires in town during the past year were chimney fires. Over 90 per cent. of the fires in town during the past winter were caused by chimney fires. A telephone call to 737 will receive prompt attention. —Adv.

OBITUARY

MRS. CATHERINE MINER

Mrs. Catherine Miner, widow of the Oliver Miner of No. 23 Laurel street died last Friday evening after a short illness. The funeral was held yesterday morning from her late home and burial was at St. James Cemetery. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. James F. Hickey, who also lives at No. 23 Laurel street. Mrs. Miner had been a resident of South Manchester for a number of years and was very well known in this town. For a woman of her advanced age she was very active, until a short time before her last illness, both physically and mentally.

ADOLPH GULL.

Adolph Gull, of No. 23 Maple street, one of the oldest Swedish residents of South Manchester died at his home last Saturday night following a long illness. The funeral took place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home and burial was at the East Cemetery. Rev. P. J. O Cornell officiated at the services. Mr. Gull came to this country from Sweden when a younger man and had lived in Manchester practically all of the time ever since. Besides his wife he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Alfred Fahlman, and Mrs. Arvid Weimbs, both of South Manchester and one son, Gustave who resides at home.

CHARLES BEHNFIELD

Charles Behnfield, for a number of years engaged in the contracting business died early Sunday morning at the Manchester Memorial Hospital from pneumonia contracted by blood poisoning. The funeral was held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late home and burial was at the East Cemetery. Rev. Joseph Cooper, pastor of the South Methodist church officiated at the services in the house and later at the cemetery. Besides his wife, one son, Yale of New York City, one sister, Mrs. Herman Schaff of Hartford, Mrs. Henry Beckman, of New Jersey and Mrs. Arthur Funk, of New Haven.

The injury which caused blood poisoning to set in, to be followed later by pneumonia was sustained by Mr. Behnfield about a week ago, while he was at work on a contract to build a two-family house for William Runde on Walnut street. He cut his left hand on a rusty nail but did not pay much attention to the injury until it became seriously infected. When it was seen that blood poisoning had set in, he was removed to the Memorial hospital but the poisoning had got a good start through his system, so that when he was stricken with pneumonia, there was not much chance for his recovery. He died about 3 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. Behnfield was a carpenter by trade but in later years he gave up contracting to enter the real estate development field, specializing in shore property in Rhode Island. This year he decided to go back into the contracting business and was at work on one of his first jobs when he was stricken. In the old days he was one of the best ball players in Manchester, playing first base with the South Manchester team from 1894 until 1902 part of which time he also played with Bristol of the Connecticut State League.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to hereby express our sincere and heartfelt thanks to the many kind neighbors and friends who offered sympathy and condolence during our recent bereavement. We would thank in an especial manner the foremen and loomfixers in the velvet department of the silk mills and those who contributed the beautiful flowers.

SELECTMEN FAVOR ARMSTRONG GIFT

Clerk Waddell Tells Board How Dump Keeper Built Home For Himself From Scraps of Lumber—Suggests That He Be Given Deed For Land Upon Which It Stands.

The selectmen at the weekly meeting of the board last night took up a suggestion of Clerk George H. Waddell that William Armstrong, who for a number of years has had charge of the Woodland street dump, be given the plot of town land upon which he has built a house to live in. The proposition will be put before a town meeting when one is called in the near future.

It will be remembered that Armstrong last winter then say they were hard pressed for money and by the hardest kind of economy he finally accumulated enough to build himself a decent house and not only that but he sent for his wife who was living in Ireland to come here and live with him. Today the home is a fairly comfortable one and Mr. Waddell thought that the town should recognize Mr. Armstrong's industrious endeavors and give him a deed to the land which is a portion of the town property. The suggestion was favorably received by the board and will be taken up at the next town meeting.

COMMERCE CHAMBER DELEGATES PROGRAM

Those Who Attend Annual Meeting at New York to Be Given Trip to West Point.

O. F. Toop, secretary of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce, received from Washington today details of the program arranged at the United States Military Academy at West Point in connection with the visit to be paid to the government's great school for army officers by delegates to the Eleventh Annual Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in New York, May 7-11. The trip up the Hudson on the Steamship Washington Irving, chartered by the New York Reception Committee, and visit to the Point will be made on May 11 as the concluding feature of the National Chamber meeting.

Brigadier General Avery D. Andrews has been named chairman of the special committee of arrangements for the West Point trip and accommodations have been provided for 5,000 visitors. The steamer leaves New York at 10 a. m., giving the delegates from all over the United States a chance to see the historic river at its best in Spring. Luncheon will be served aboard to make the full afternoon available for the special exercises at the Point arranged by the superintendent of the academy, Brigadier General Fred W. Sladen, under authority of Secretary Weeks. The academy is the hub of military educational work of the government and from it have been graduated in the past men like Grant, Sherman, Lee, Jackson, Hancock, Thomas, Meade, Hooker and Pershing in both American armies. The World War brought many new agencies of battle into use and developed many new methods of leadership and command. Today, under officers who served in France with Pershing, the youngsters, hand picked for their physical and mental qualifications, who compose the cadet corps, are being instructed in up-to-date military science in a fashion to insure that American armies of the future will have competent leaders.

Just how this is being done it is the purpose of the program arranged by General Sladen for his guests on May 11 to show. The afternoon will be a cross section of academy life. Beginning with half an hour of horsemanship exercises in the riding hall soon after the Washington Irving docks with her thousands of visitors, the program will run through to 4 o'clock covering many phases of soldier education in its most modern sense.

A half hour of calisthenics with massed commands follows the riding hall work, then a demonstration of field signal communications and a turn with the 12-inch coast defense mortars. Signal drill with pyrotechnics, rockets, flares and lights used for night battle communication, come next, then the cadets take to horse and gun limber for field artillery and cavalry drill and review.

Special weapons of modern infantry, machine guns, trench mortars, hand grenades, automatic rifles and the 37 mm. "infantry cannon" to rout out enemy machine gun nests will be demonstrated by cadet detachments, followed by a glimpse of mass athletics designed to make every man graduated from the institution physically qualified to lead and direct the physical training and the sports of the men he will handle.

The West Point cadet corps is generally accepted as the finest drilled infantry unit in the world. For years the corps has aroused national enthusiasm when it made its only public appearance on parade at the inauguration of presidents in Washington. The battalion, then, a close order infantry drill at full regimental strength of twelve companies will be held, followed by that most picturesque of military ceremonies, parade and colors, with which the day at the Point will close. The steamer leaves West Point about 5 p. m. on the return trip, docking in New York at 7:30 in time for dinner and night trains for home.

George E. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Rogers of Garden street is spending a few days in town. He is a student at Tufts College Medford, Mass.

After Housecleaning

When the home has been thoroughly cleaned what a change a few new pieces or a new suite of furniture would make! Those who have refurnished, as well as those furnishing for the first time, will find our displays a big help in making selections.

The bedroom can be refurnished for $112.50. This small amount buys a handsome three piece suite, consisting of a full size, bow-foot bed, a dresser, and chiffonier of combination walnut with turned legs; drawers fitted with old silver pulls.

Or what a change $189 will make in the living room. A three piece Karpen overstuffed suite, roll arm style, with spring edge and cushions can be had for this amount. Suite consists of davenport, arm chair, and wing chair covered with attractive tapestry.

And for the dining room—one of these eight piece suites of combination walnut, finished dull! These suites are especially handsome with panels overlaid with figured burl walnut and drawers fitted with old silver pulls. The pieces, which have straight, square legs are: round table, buffet, arm chair and five side chairs, ... $202.50

Willow Arm Chairs, natural finish with cushions covered with delightful cretonnes $8.75.

Combination mahogany Four Post Beds in either full or twin sizes for only $26.55.
