Grocers, Depot Square, Manchester

Manchester has already sent about 50 visitors to the Columbian Exposition. The South Manchester band made a short parade last Saturday night. H. R. Hale, the druggist, from Norwalk, was in town Wednesday to attend the funeral of his uncle, Nelson Hale. Warren Belcher was married last Wednesday morning to Miss Ora Randall of Hartford, at the bride's home. L. M. Heebner is putting in an electric annunciator at the Oxford hotel. Electric call bells in 70 rooms are connected with the annunciator board in the office. Mrs. Isabella Best McDonald will sail today, accompanied by her family, on the steamer Furnessia of the Anchor Line for Europe. She expects to return about the first of September. A special town meeting has been called to see what action the town will take regarding the purchase of land for the dumping of rubbish, that the highway may be kept clean; and also to see if the town will vote to buy land to enlarge the east cemetery.

Constable Brink arrested Mrs. Margaretha Shields, of South Manchester, for drunkenness Thursday. She was taken before Justice House, but failed to realize the dignity of the court. She was given ten days in jail for contempt of court, and was fined $7 and costs for drunkenness.

A meeting of all interested in the proposed improvements on Depot square will be held in Brown & Patten's hall next Thursday afternoon at three o'clock. Mr. Puffer will be present with plans and estimates for transforming the dusty square into a verdant park. There is no reason why the work should not be started at once as all objections on the part of the railroad company have been withdrawn.

The Manchester Wheel club have rented two large rooms in the Brown & Patten building, over Dr. Griswold's dental rooms, and are furnishing one as a reception room and the other as a billiard room. The rooms have toilet conveniences and are lighted by electricity. Not a few who are not wheelmen are joining in order that they may avail themselves of the privileges of the club rooms.

The employees of the New England railroad, connected with the Manchester station and this section of the road, are paid off with checks by Station Agent Tucker. Just now a gang of section men are at work raising the track between here and Talbotville and putting in new ties. Mr. Tucker's pay roll this week numbers 22 men, and embraces several noted names. There is Litchell, a Cleveland, and a Buchanan. The Italians in the gang, however, have no names, but are known as "Italian No. 29," "Italian No. 43," etc. In this way their checks are made out.

Memorial Day was the time selected by about 45 of the relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Griswold to surprise them at their home on Oakland street. They arrived about noon and brought with them material for a bountiful repast and the afternoon and evening were passed in a most enjoyable manner. Among those present from Hartford were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Russell, Mr. Clarence Joly, wife and family, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Broadhurst and son, and Mrs. Mary Lyman. From Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. Milo Russell, Mr. Merwin Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Watkins and others.

Nelson Hale, a bachelor, living just south of the Manchester line in Glastonbury, died last Tuesday of old age. He was 82 years old, and has for the last few years lived alone with a housekeeper. It will be remembered that he was, a year or so ago, the victim of an assault and robbery. He had been infirm for the past eight or ten years. Prior to that time he was frequently seen on the streets of South Manchester, and attended the South Methodist church regularly. He was the brother of the late Mrs. Abel Lewis and also of Mrs. Sears, wife of the president of the Collins company. He was the last of his generation. Rev. J. M. Talbot attended his funeral at his late residence Thursday afternoon.

The annual meeting of the eighth school district last Friday night was not so exciting as had been anticipated. But one ticket for district committee was in the field, and the old committee were unanimously re-elected. It consists of William B. Covill, Thomas F. Althin and F. P. Little. Whitmore Emmons was elected clerk and treasurer and S. W. Skinner, collector. The necessity of enlarging the school building, was discussed, and the matter finally referred to a special committee of five, consisting of George H. Hall, F. P. Little, J. J. Strickland, G. W. Cowles and John Johnson. This committee will report to a special school meeting. The sum of $100 was appropriated for the teaching of music. It was voted to pay the district clerk and the chairman of the committee, $25 each, for their services. The meeting adjourned at half past eight.

Beautiful printed dress muslins at 12 1/2 cts. per yard—Cheney's store.

Sewing machine oil and needles at Watkins Bros.

Mrs. Joseph Latham's house on Oakland street presents a very attractive appearance in its new coat of paint. Patrick H. Dougherty, the genial barber, was initiated into the Sons of Temperance last week.

John Young, of Manchester Green, has bought of G. W. Cowles the place known as the Gaskell property. Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Hall, and son Richard, with Miss Ella Clapp, left Tuesday for a few weeks' vacation at Snows Falls, Maine.

The ladies of the North Methodist church are planning for a strawberry festival about June 21st, on the lawn west of the church.

Mrs. Doctor Scott, who has been in Hartford since February, is again in town. She would be much pleased to see her many friends at her old home.

The selectmen are rebuilding the public sign posts in town. The old wooden posts are replaced by posts of granite, encased with wooden frames.

The Misses Leavitt, daughters of Rev. D. P. Leavitt, former pastor at the South Methodist church, have been visiting at E. C. Carter's.

Arnold P. Avery has been elected assistant secretary of the South Methodist Sunday school, to succeed Miss Ora Capen, resigned.

Cheney Brothers are making extensive repairs around the South school building. The lawn south of the building has been regraded and workmen are laying turf. When the work is completed the school yard will be one of the prettiest lawns in the village.

W. J. McCray, a brakeman switching in the freight yard last Monday, was caught between the deadwoods of the cars he was endeavoring to couple, and one of the bones of his arm was broken. Dr. Deoley attended him, and he was taken to a Boston hospital.

C. Tiffany, the jeweler, has just put on the road a handsome jeweler's cart, built expressly for him and fitted with compartments for a large stock of jewelry and plated ware. It will be driven by Charles Keeney, who has been on the road for Mr. Tiffany for the last seven years. He will cover the territory between Brook Brook and South Glastonbury, going east to Talbotville and Vermont. Mr. Keeney will carry a larger stock than heretofore.

Friday evening, June 2d, was a red letter evening with South Manchester Division Sons of Temperance. About 100 members had gathered to witness the performance of the initiation ceremony by a picked team from Manchester Division upon five candidates. The work was done in a very creditable manner and at its close a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered them. Refreshments were served after the adjournment. Another class will be ready for initiation next Friday, June 10th.

The Manchester Sewer District charter has passed both houses and has received the governor's signature. The next step for the district will be to hold a meeting and vote on the acceptance of the charter. If they accept the charter and elect officers in accordance with its provisions, work on the much needed sewer system can begin at once. The matter ought not to be allowed to lag, for with prompt action the sewers can be completed before cold weather.

The South Manchester temperance league have arranged to have Mr. W. H. Spear speak at Cheney hall tomorrow evening at 7.30. Mr. Spear was formerly with T. E. Murphy. Since leaving him he has been remarkably successful, having spoken at over 100 meetings and has secured over 45,000 pledge signers. He is said to be a most interesting and remarkable speaker. The members of the Murphy chorus are requested to occupy seats on the platform and lead the music.

Certain parties in South Windsor are still suspicious that the town accounts have not been properly kept. Their complaints have been so emphatic that Selectman Pease has engaged an expert accountant to make a thorough examination of Town Treasurer Vinton's books. It is proposed to examine his accounts for a period covering 22 years. At this rate it seems probable that a good share of the town's income will go to expert accountants and little will be left to be used in repairing the roads. Town Treasurer Vinton consents willingly to the inspection of his books.

Hartford's new coffee house, established as the outgrowth of the Murphy movement, was opened Monday and has been liberally patronized. It occupies the basement, first and second floors of the building formerly known as Williams' restaurant on Central Row. It provides a comfortable place where refreshments are served at low prices without the accompaniment of liquor. The movement to establish a temperance club in South Manchester, as a result of Mr. Murphy's work, seems to have fallen through. Nothing has been heard of it for several weeks.

NOTICE. The Justice of the Peace, Selectmen, Constables and Grand Jurors of the Town of Manchester, are hereby notified that the Town Hall in said town on Monday the 13th day of June next...

NOTICE. Notice is hereby given to all the legal voters of the Town of Manchester, that there will be a special Town Meeting held at the Town Hall, in said Town, Wednesday, June 14th, at Two o'clock p. m., to take action as follows:

AMATEUR THEATRICALS.

Members work of the Fidelity company in a "Celebrated Case."

The Fidelity Dramatic company gave the standard drama, "A Celebrated Case," in Cheney hall last Wednesday evening, and throughout the good attention they had made at their former performances. The only thing to criticize about the performance was the casting of the parts. The actors were competent, and all did well, but unfortunately the juvenile parts were given to those better adapted for mature characters, while the parts of mothers and grandmothers were given to young ladies. Mr. F. J. Tenney, in the leading role, confirmed the good opinion of his admirers. He has natural ability for the stage, and is steadily developing his talent by conscientious study. Miss C. C. Johnston, who has been heard with great pleasure many times, labored under great disadvantages in the role which she assumed. Her acting would have been far more acceptable in either the part of Duchess D'Aubert, or that of the college preceptor. Miss Bertha Stays made a graceful and charming Duchess, but appeared far too youthful for the mother of grown up children. Mr. Fred Stays acted the dual parts of the rapacious camp follower and a bogus count with marked ability. Miss Emma Keating made a pretty and lovable child. Mr. Abram Donnelly was the comicality of the company, and created much merriment in his part of Sergeant O'Rourke. The remaining parts were all well acted, and were it not for the unpardonable error in casting the parts, the entire performance would receive our hearty commendation. The Fidelity is the strongest combination of amateurs ever heard here, and is capable of doing better than it has done. We hope it may be heard again to better advantage. The audience was not large, the hall being about two-thirds full.

New Jury List.

The town officials met last Saturday afternoon and chose 36 jurors to represent Manchester in the various town and county courts for the present year. The following is the list of those chosen:

- William Monroe, Jasper A. Fitch, William C. Cheney, V. C. Carter, Orian Treat, Norman Loomis, Chas. E. Bano, Thomas F. Athin, George Hutchinson, Alvin L. Brown, Charles I. Balch, Robt. F. Bissell, William Foulds, George H. Howe, Wells W. Cheney, Willie J. Lyall, John A. Alford, Edward B. Manning, Frank Strandt, James B. Barron, John Cadman, Loren Davis, Henry W. Barrows, Loriston S. Emmons, D. C. Hall, Robert N. Stanley.

Principal Lyman Resigns.

Mr. C. S. Lyman, for the last four years principal of the North school, will resign his position at the close of this term. He has accepted the position of superintendent of public schools in Milbury, Oxford, and Dudley, three Massachusetts towns located just south of Worcester. He will have charge of 41 schools. The law of the State of Massachusetts provides that towns having a grand list of less than $3,000,000 may unite in employing a superintendent of public schools. The State contributes to his salary $1,200, and the towns are obliged to add at least $200 to this sum. Mr. Lyman's salary will be $1,500. When he came to Manchester the eighth district had never paid more than $1,000 to the principal. Mr. Lyman received $1,100 the first year, $1,200 for the two succeeding years, and $1,500 last year. His services have been of great value to the school, and the district officials as well as the town board deeply regret his removal. No movement has yet been made toward securing a successor.

A LOAF OF CAKE.

Story Written by a Girl of Eleven in a Manchester School.

In one of the school districts of this town, the teacher occasionally passes pictures to the pupils, requesting each to write a story suggested by the picture. The following is a story written by a girl of eleven years. The picture she had was a lady cutting a loaf of cake.

There were as many as a dozen girls trying for a premium on a loaf of cake. Maud Miller needed it more than any of the others, as her widowed mother had been very sick with "La Grippe" and they owed the Dr. ten dollars. The premium was ten dollars. Maud's mother had taught her how to make cake and now she deemed it wise to try for the money.

The fair was to be held June 8th. Maud had been practicing for nearly two weeks. Louise Almet could make nearly as nice cake as Maud.

Maud made the trial loaf the day before the fair, she had taken her last dollar to buy the materials for the cake. The hour arrived when Maud put on her best dress of white muslin with black dots pinned on a bunch of violets and went to the fair with a basket, all of the girls were assembled very soon a bell rung as a signal for the girls to put their cakes on the table. Mrs. Darcy was to judge she cut Louise's cake it looked very nice. Mrs. Darcy took a mouthful then another and another until she had eaten a whole piece. She then tasted of the other girls some was very good and some was not as one girl had left out the salt and another the soda. The girls all went home anxious to know whose cake was the best. A day or two later Maud received an envelope which contained the premium. She was very glad because her mother was worried about the money for Dr. Whittier Maud went to pay the bill and the Dr. only took five dollars saying "your mother needs the rest take it home to her" Maud thanked him and was glad because her mother had been wanting a new wrapper and some slippers. On her way home she went over to Fitch and Drake's and bought the things which pleased her mother very much.

DR. BRIGGS AND THE FUTURE.

He May Go to the Courts—What Dr. Parkhurst Says.

Rev. Dr. Briggs had a dozen invitations to preach after he returned from Washington, which goes to show that he is far from being an outcast with his churchmen. He is busy again with his duties in Union theological seminary, and so one believes that his suspension from the church will make any difference in his position in the seminary. He will go on teaching as before and the trustees and faculty of the seminary will sustain him now as in the past. It is not believed that he or his friends will at this time secede from the Presbyterian church, but will continue the fight within denominational lines. What step Dr. Briggs may take next it is impossible to say. He may, it is suggested, take the case into the courts and fight for his rights there. In his letter to Rev. Dr. Baker he says that he "reserves all rights," and in all the proceedings before the presbytery and assembly, it is noticeable that he has always taken the precaution to insist upon all legal points, and has taken exceptions in every matter decided against him. It is said that Dr. Briggs will continue to preach as well as to teach, although he cannot administer the sacraments.

Rev. Dr. Parkhurst says in an interview: "I do not know what Prof. Briggs contemplates doing, nor what action his immediate friends will take. I do not believe, however, that there will be an open split as yet, nor do I think that there will be any desertion from the ranks of the minority. On the other hand, I think that the liberal party will grow in strength and numbers the more openly the controversy is waged. From the point of view of logic, however, I do not see how a general split can be avoided. The lines have been clearly drawn now, and everyone must know on what side he stands."

THE WORLD'S FAIR.

Final Arrangements for the Sale of Tickets via the B. & O. R. R.

For the benefit of those desiring to attend the World's Fair, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad will sell Excursion tickets to Chicago and return, at all stations on its line, at low rates. Tickets will be on sale until November 1st, and will be valid for return journey until November 15th, 1893. They provide for a reduction of 50 per cent below regular rates. These tickets will be valid only for continuous journey. Tickets at higher rates will be sold that will permit holders to stop over at Baltimore, Washington, or any other point, going and returning.

Besides the opportunity of visiting Washington, a privilege afforded by no other route, courses via the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad will traverse the historic Potomac Valley, the theatre of the war between the States. At Cumberland they will be offered a choice of routes, via Pittsburgh, or across the Allegheny mountains, 3,000 feet above the level of the sea and via Deer Park and Oakland, the famous summer resorts. The scenery along the Baltimore & Ohio route is the most picturesque in America. Pullman accommodations may be reserved in advance of the journey. For rates and information apply to nearest B. & O. ticket Agent, or Chas. O. Small, General Passenger Agent, Baltimore, Md. Jun. 10, 4
