VOL. 13. NO. 51.

MANCHESTER, CONN., SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1894.

TWO CENTS

Time for Straw Hats!

We bought too many Straw Hats this spring. The season has been so backward we are fearful we cannot dispose of them at regular prices. We have therefore marked them down to prices that are bound to sell them.

A good plain or fancy braided hat of white straw with black silk ribbon for 50 cents. Sold last year for $1.

Featherweight hats of jointed straw—the lightest made—75 cents. The city price is $1.25.

There is nothing more elegant than our stiff brimmed Panama at $1.50. Every correctly dressed gentleman should have one. Last year they sold at $2 and we couldn't get enough of them.

A 15-cent silk hat cord given to every purchaser of a hat who mentions this advertisement.

At the Manchester Ladies' Store

People are often heard to say "Why I did not know you kept so and so. I have just bought it in Hartford at the same price. I might as well stay at home with my money." Now if we would remember this, when we are sure of doing as well, we could soon boast of better accommodations in our stores. We mean to carry a good class of goods and quote honest living prices. Will the people give us a fair trial by calling on us oftener?

ABOUT TOWN.

The South Manchester W. C. T. U. will meet next Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock.

The ladies will give a supper at the North Congregational church Wednesday evening, June 13. Supper and ice cream will each be 15 cents.

The friends of Leo Magnell gave him a birthday surprise party last Wednesday evening. Music, games and a collation made the evening pass quickly.

The teachers of the eighth district school have presented an essay chair to Principal Lillie as a token of their esteem and appreciation of his services.

Wm. E. Keith will graduate from the school for christian workers at Springfield next Tuesday. The commencement exercises will be held in Hope church.

The partnership existing between Hale, Day & Co. and S. Purnell, owners of the Boston store in the hotel block, has been dissolved by mutual consent, Hale, Day & Co. taking the interest of Mr. Purnell.

Wm. A. Naylor Jr., Thomas Trotter, Ezekiel Benson, Mrs. Carrie Dutton and Mrs. Jennie Anderson have been appointed a committee by South Manchester Division, S. of T., to arrange for their annual outing.

Mr. James Holden, of Syracuse, N. Y., was married to Miss Isabella Morgan at the residence of the bride's mother on Prospect street Thursday afternoon, Rev. Thomas Simms performing the ceremony. After a short wedding trip they will reside in Syracuse.

W. H. Cheney's Sons have contracted with Joseph Albiston for his entire crop of fruit this summer, consisting of about 8,000 quarts of strawberries, raspberries, currants, cherries and gooseberries. This is the choicest fruit grown and everyone should look for it.

A company of the friends of the Manchester Sons of Temperance were well entertained in Morton's hall Wednesday evening. A program of readings and music was well carried out, and at its close strawberries and cream and ice cream and cake were served.

The Manchester Wheel club and its friends, to the number of 75, had a pleasant social gathering at the club rooms Tuesday evening. Among them were a number of ladies, who contributed several musical and literary selections to the program. A supper followed the entertainment.

Frank Goetz has put in a machine for making Yankee doughnuts of the best quality. He already has a trade of about 4,000 Yankee doughnuts a day and to still further introduce them he proposes for the first three days of next week to distribute samples from his carts free.

The new Manchester Green road is now completed and open to public travel. The road bed is in good condition and presents a far better track for carriage or bicycle than the old road to the Green. The new highway connects the east end of Hudson street with Woodbridge street near the Bryant place. It avoids the cars and has no steep grades.

Real estate business has not been very active for the past month. Louis Kaminski has sold to August Kiesman a small farm on Garden street. Ralph Cheney and R. O. Cheney have sold to Robert McIlvane the McKee homestead in Buckland. George H. Gould, trustee for Andrew M. Spencer, has sold to William Bradley, the poet, for $275, eight acres of land on the Billstown road.

Henry Trotter will go to Boston today as delegate of Star of the East, R. B. P., No. 13, of South Manchester, to the annual meeting of the grand chapter in that city. He will also attend the annual meeting of the supreme grand lodge of Orangemen to be held in Boston beginning next Tuesday. Mr. Trotter will be absent about a week.

Rev. Mr. Barber's boy, Lawrence, who is sick with scarlet fever, is doing well. He has been confined to the bed all the time thus far, but is having less fever each day and is probably out of danger. The other members of the family are all well. Mr. Barber will not be able to enter the house until all danger of contagion is over. He went to Burrville yesterday to address a Sunday school convention.

In the superior court this week Joseph W. Allen, of this place, charged with burglary, was allowed to plead guilty to a charge of theft and was sentenced to jail for six months, and to pay a fine of $100 and costs. Hans Hansen, charged with burglary, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to state prison for one year. Charles Brunotte, against whom there were two counts for keeping open his barber shop on Sunday, pleaded guilty on one count and was fined $1 and costs.

TRAMWAY COMPANY ORGANIZED.

M. S. Chapman of This Place President—Manchester Line to Be Built at Once—East Hartford Selectmen Approve the Layout—Stock May Still Be Bought.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Hartford, Manchester and Rockville Tramway company was held at the office of M. S. Chapman in Hartford Wednesday. The holders of stock represented at the meeting were Wm. H. Prescott and E. Stevens Henry, of Rockville, H. J. Wickham, L. B. Plimpton and C. H. Wickham, of Hartford, E. C. Hilliard and M. S. Chapman, of Manchester, Elisha Morgan, R. W. Day, A. D. Mayo and N. D. Bell, of Springfield, G. Henry Whitcomb, of Worcester, and W. Murray Crane, of Dalton, Mass.

A board of directors was elected consisting of Wm. H. Prescott, H. J. Wickham, E. S. Henry, L. B. Plimpton, Elisha Morgan, R. W. Day, E. C. Hilliard, G. H. Whitcomb and M. S. Chapman.

A directors' meeting elected M. S. Chapman president and C. H. Wickham secretary and treasurer.

It was the unanimous decision that the Manchester connection be built at once, and the whole line to Rockville to soon follow.

Offers from various parties to build the road were read. One thoroughly reliable firm agreed to build the entire line within one year and furnish the capital, if desired, on favorable terms, but the stockholders will probably build and control the road, all feeling that if outside parties were so willing to take the risk there must be something in it for them.

The final surveys are now completed to Love Lane and the selectmen of East Hartford went over the portion of the line lying in that town Thursday and approved the layout. A final hearing will be held on that section on next Monday at three o'clock at Wells hall.

It has been represented that there was no stock for Manchester people, but there is not the slightest ground for such a statement. The subscription list is still open and any citizen of Manchester will be gladly recorded as a stockholder.

FRANCIS CHURCH COLLECTION.

Some religious bodies of town have been in the habit of soliciting funds through children. This has opened an opportunity for fraud which has been practiced during the past week. Parties representing themselves as collectors of money for the Center Congregational church have beguiled good hearted, innocent people to contribute toward that church. The pastor desires to state that no such persons have been authorized by his church and sincerely hopes that neither now nor hereafter money be contributed to children or strangers claiming to represent his church.

ALL SORTS.

Dwight Spencer's new house at the corner of North Main and Union streets was raised this week—Miss Julia M. Stevens, for a long time employed by the J. T. Robertson Co., has resigned—Miss Rose Tregoning, from Attleboro, Mass., is visiting at E. T. Hale's—The crickets make themselves heard at mid-day, a sure sign of summer—Dr. J. C. Taylor has just received a fine operating chair from New York—The Epworth League of the North Methodist church will have a business meeting Monday evening—Edward A. Nichols, formerly of this place, has entered the employ of Case Brothers and is running their Chaplin mill—G. O. Nichols has left the Mather factory and has gone to work for Case Brothers at Highland Park—The young people of the Swedish Lutheran church will give a concert and sell refreshments at Cheney hall Tuesday evening.

Mrs. John Chambers died Tuesday night from the effect of a paralytic shock. She was 67 years old and leaves a husband and a large family of grown up children. Six of her sons were bearers at her funeral Thursday afternoon. Rev. J. A. Biddle officiated. The interment was at the Center cemetery.

The South Manchesters and the Rockvilles will play ball on the Mount Nebo grounds this afternoon at half past three. Both teams will have their strongest men in the field and an exciting game may be expected. All persons attending the game are requested to enter the ground by the Mount Nebo avenue gate and to refrain from damage to fences or adjoining fields, as the use of the ground has been allowed only on condition that adjacent property is not injured.

Drake Post-Vote of Thanks.

At the regular meeting of Drake Post, G. A. R., held June 5, 1894, the Post passed a vote of thanks to Company G for acting as escort, to the quartette who sang, to the clergy, the citizens, committee and to all who assisted in the exercises of Memorial day.

They wish especially to thank the ladies who provided flowers.

Per order, DRAKE-POST.

CHENEY-BRAINARD WEDDING.

Brilliant Audience Witnessed the Ceremony at the Pearl Street Church, Hartford.

"All the world loves a lover." Perhaps that is the reason why a wedding is always attractive. The ceremony is doubly pleasing when it is performed amid music and flowers and a concourse of elegantly dressed friends.

All these accessories were present at the marriage of Major Charles Cheney of this place and Miss Mary Brainard, daughter of Mayop Leverett Brainard, of Hartford, which took place at the Pearl street Congregational church in Hartford Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Invitations had been liberally distributed among Mr. Cheney's associates in the silk mills and among his South Manchester acquaintances. These were quite generally accepted and the South Manchester guests, including of course the numerous relatives of Mr. Cheney, formed a considerable part of the thousand persons who witnessed the ceremony. The reception which followed was limited to the relatives and intimate friends of the contracting parties, but they were also present at the marriage ceremony at the church, and their beautiful evening costumes imparted a brilliancy to the assembly which was much enjoyed by those who were present in street dress.

The large church was brightly illuminated and the chancel end was profusely decorated with palms and ferns and red flowers. Delicate festoons of flowers and smilax extended to the front of the galleries on either side. The ushers were Horace Bushnell Cheney, J. Davenport Cheney, Howell Cheney, brothers of the groom, Knight Dexter Cheney Jr. and William C. Cheney, cousins of the groom, William E. A. Bulkeley, cousin of the bride, Arthur L. Shipman, Henry S. Robinson, John H. Buck, of Hartford, and Quintard Peters, of Atlanta, Ga.

While the guests were assembling B. W. Loveland, the church organist, played several enjoyable selections. Soon after eight the doors were closed, to be re-opened a moment later for the entrance of the bridal procession. During the brief interval the pastor of the church, Rev. DeLoon, appeared at the altar from a side door accompanied by the groom and his best man, Mr. Frank Cheney Jr. Then the organ burst forth with the strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin and the bridal procession moved slowly up the aisle. First came the ten ushers, walking in pairs; they were followed by ten bridesmaids all in white and each bearing a bouquet of red roses. Then came the bride attired in a white satin gown with train and veil. She wore orange blossoms in her hair and carried a huge bouquet of white roses. She was escorted by her father.

The bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Morgan Brainard, sister of the bride, Miss Emily Cheney, sister of the groom, Miss Sally T. Bulkeley of Hartford and Miss Edith W. Sterling, of East Orange, N. J., cousins of the bride, Miss Florence K. Buck, Miss Bessie R. Burnell, Miss Bertha P. Dennis, Miss Mary D. Shipman, Miss Mary Bulkeley and Miss Elizabeth C. Matson.

At the altar the ushers and bridesmaids formed a double semicircle facing the clergyman and the groom stepped down to meet the bride. The ceremony was performed according to the Episcopal ritual. The subdued strains of "Traumerei" accompanied the voice of the clergyman. After the final blessing had been pronounced the bride and groom led the procession down the aisle to the music of Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

On their return from their wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Cheney will reside temporarily at the house of his father. Later in the summer they will begin housekeeping in the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Arthur Cheney.

Funeral of Charles Hayes. There was a large attendance at the funeral of Charles A. Hayes Wednesday afternoon. Orford lodge, A. O. U. W., sent a delegation of about 30 members with A. L. Geer as marshal. They also contributed a floral piece representing the badge of the order. The bearers were James M. Burke, Fred Behrend, T. Hahn, Fritz Brink, Fred E. Boughton and August Lindell. Rev. J. S. Wadsworth conducted the service at the house. The body was buried in the Buckland cemetery with the ritual of the United Workmen. The family of the deceased will receive $2,000 from the order.

Building and Loan Association. There will be a sale of money and a meeting of the board of directors of the Manchester Building and Loan Association at the store of C. Tiffany, Tuesday evening, June 12, at 7.30.

Dr. Parkhurst has gone to Europe on a vacation of ten weeks. Though absent from New York he will not be forgotten. The police investigation now in progress as a result of his labors is bringing out facts which make life very uncomfortable for the officers of the police department.

President Cleveland's family have gone to Buzzard's Bay for the summer. The President will join them the last of June.

Parisians are intensely fond of canaries and other pet birds. It is estimated, figuring on the amount spent for bird food at the regular stores, that there are fully 100,000 pets in the city, or one to every twentieth individual, including babies.

The average density of population per acre in London is 57.7 and the average death rate is 23.2 per thousand. In some parts of Whitechapel, in the tenement region, the density of population is about 3,000 per acre, and the death rate is 41.4 per thousand.

It is said that so much farm land in England has lately been allowed to lapse from cultivation that wild animals, which ten years ago were in danger of extinction, are now flourishing and increasing. The badger and the otter, for instance, are reported to be thriving greatly on agricultural depression.

The success of the Manchester Ship Canal has stirred up English merchants and manufacturers to the projection of all sorts of canal schemes. Birmingham wants a ship canal connecting it with the Bristol Channel. And now Wakefield and the country thereabouts is talking of a ship canal to River Humber.

There was great joy among the vegetarians in Germany last year over the fact that a vegetarian won the annual walking match from Berlin to Friedrichshagen. The same vegetarian pedestrian was in the race this year, and it was generally expected that he would win the match again. But he was badly beaten by a "meat-eater."

South District Meeting.

Ninety-three voters cast their ballots at the annual meeting of the eighth school district last Tuesday evening. There was but one ticket for district committee in the field. It bore the names of two of the old committee—W. B. Covill, chairman, and T. P. Aitkin. A. L. Brown's name was substituted for that of P. F. Little, who has moved out of town. Dr. G. M. Griswold was moderator. Whitmore Emmons was re-elected clerk and treasurer and S. W. Skinner collector. After hearing the report of the district committee and treasurer, the meeting, upon motion of C. W. Cowles, voted to lay a five mill tax on the list of 1894, payable March 15, 1895.

It was voted to extend the water main a distance of 880 feet on Hollister street and put in one fire hydrant on that street.

The salaries of the chairman of the district committee and of the treasurer were fixed at $50 a year. The meeting was harmonious and adjourned at an early hour.

CHILDREN'S DAY SERVICES.

Children's day will be observed at the Center church tomorrow by all-day services for the children. At 10.45 the pastor will preach an object sermon. At five o'clock a concert will be given by the children of the Sunday school. The church will be trimmed with flowers and made musical with the songs of canary birds.

The regular service and Sunday school at the South Methodist church tomorrow will be omitted and the day will be given up to the children. At eleven a. m. a program will be given by the Sunday school. In the evening at six o'clock Rev. Mr. Wadsworth will preach an appropriate sermon. The church will, as usual, be handsomely decorated.

At the North Congregational church there will be recitations and singing by the children at the morning service. The Sunday school will make the day a "rally" Sunday and it is expected the attendance will be the largest in the history of the school.

At the North Methodist church the pastor will preach an appropriate sermon for Children's day at eleven a. m., text, Proverbs VIII, 17. The evening concert at seven o'clock will be in the interest of the Educational Society of the Methodist church. The decorations of the church will be under the supervision of the young ladies from the Sunday school classes of Miss Josephine Gleason and Mrs. Tregeakis.

Protect your correspondence with opaque envelopes—white with blue lining. In stock at Herald Printery. Milk tickets that will wear at Herald Printery.

WAPPING.

Death of Mrs. Arthur Skinner—High School Graduation. Rev. Mr. English, of Scantic gave an interesting lecture on Turkey, last Sunday evening in the Congregational church. He was a missionary in that country for five years.

Children's day will be observed in both the churches next Sunday, with a children's concert in the evening.

The wife of Arthur Skinner, the blind broom maker, died recently in Colorado Springs of consumption. He with his three children will come east to live.

Patrons received .034 per space for April cream.

J. E. Collins is acting as juror in Hartford.

The hall was crowded Wednesday evening at the graduating exercises of the high school. A class of six, four young ladies and two gentlemen, delivered original essays, which showed faithful study on their part during the course. Especially to be noticed were the efforts of the two young men, Edward Sullivan, whose subject was "Farming as a Profession," and Edward Dwyer, "Electricity." An orchestra of four parts, Lillie Wetherell, pianist, Romeo Whaples, violinist; Charles Townsend, cornet and Bradford Grant with a double bass viol, gave excellent music for the occasion. Rev. Mr. Adams of the Methodist church presented the diplomas to the graduating class in a very pleasant manner. Much credit is due the teacher, Miss Lola Merriman for the standing that the school has in this community and for her faithful intelligent work in its behalf through the two years that she has been principal. It is earnestly hoped that her services may be secured for another year.

TALCOTTVILLE.

The Talcottville Juniors played a nine from Vernon on the Talcottville grounds Thursday afternoon. The score was 17 to 15 in favor of the Juniors.

The school closed for the summer vacation yesterday afternoon. The children entertained their parents and friends in the afternoon at the school by music, dialogues and recitations.

The Talcottville-Rockville combination ball nine will play the South Manchester on the Mt. Nebo grounds this afternoon. A large crowd from this place will attend the game.

Mrs. Burnham, of Hartford, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. S. S. Talcott, met with a serious accident last Thursday night. She fell down stairs breaking both arms, one in two places, and cutting her head badly. Dr. Rockwell, of Rockville, is attending her.

E. H. Talcott and wife, of Torrington, have been visiting relatives in town this week.

August Trainley and family expect to leave for Germany next week.

Children's Day will be observed here tomorrow with an appropriate sermon by the pastor, the baptism of children, and in the evening there will be a special children's service entitled "Summer Blossoms" by George F. Rosche & Co. The musical program for the choir will be as follows:

Voluntary, Offertoire A flat, E. Read
Anthem, Te Deum E flat, D. Buck
Postlude B flat, Batiste

EVENING.

Voluntary, Grand Choeur in D, Guilman
Anthem, The Strain Upraise, D. Buck
Choir, Jubilate Deo, Schubert
Solo, Consider the Lilies, Toplibert

Mrs. Geo. Goodrich, Wagner
Postlude, Tannhauser March, Wagner
The evening service will begin at seven o'clock.

A FAMOUS INSTITUTION.

The Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y.

[From The Boston Herald.]
What can be accomplished by judicious enterprise, when backed up by ability and professional skill, is shown by the magnificent buildings of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo. This model sanitarium furnishes one of the sights of Buffalo, not alone for its architectural beauty, but on account of the world-wide fame of Dr. Ray V. Pierce, who established the Institution many years ago, and is today its managing director and president. A beautiful five-story building situated on Main street, the principal business street of Buffalo, the Invalids' Hotel can well be said to surpass any institution of its kind in the country.

Sixteen physicians form the medical staff of this institution, who devote their time to the patients in the building, and to correspondence by letter with patients who consult them from all over the United States. Each physician or surgeon is chosen for his skill and proficiency in curing one class of chronic disease. Thus the patient has for his physician an experienced specialist who is thoroughly familiar with the case. A material aid to the medical treatment are the machines for giving "mechanical movements," or massage, electrical apparatus, Turkish baths, etc., with which the Hotel is thoroughly equipped. Lave and airy rooms, parlors, reading rooms, elevator, and many other conveniences make this

A PLEASANT REMEDIAL HOME, and far different from the private hospitals as commonly known. The World's Dispensary Medical Association, of which Dr. Pierce is President, is the owner of the Invalids' Hotel, and the large laboratory, called the World's Dispensary, as well. Standing on the same lot, which runs through to the next street back in the huge laboratory, six stories in height, which furnishes ample room for manufacturing Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, Dr. Pierce's Extract of Smart-Weed, or Water Pepper. These are proprietary remedies which have been sold for over a quarter of a century all over the United States, from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Carloads of these medicines are shipped every day from Buffalo to points East, West and South. An idea of the extensive business carried on by this Association can be gained by what is said of it by the post office authorities at Washington, D. C., who report that this one firm spends annually in stamps more than all the banks and newspapers of Buffalo combined, or over $100,000. The mail matter amounts to from 30,000 to 40,000 pieces daily. The first story of the World's Dispensary building is occupied by the shipping department; the second floor is devoted to the large newspaper advertising and the mailing; third floor, printing room and bindery; fourth floor, drug mills and paper warehouses; fifth floor, bottling, wrapping and packing department; on the sixth floor is one of

THE BEST-PLANNED LABORATORIES in the country, in charge of a thoroughly-scientific chemist, formerly of the Harvard medical school laboratory. In fact, the equipment, the machinery, and the system with which these large institutions are equipped, and the marvelous manner in which everything works along as though by clockwork, would well repay a visit to Buffalo.

THE SUGAR-CURED CONGRESS. Tune—"The Old Oaken Bucket."

How dear to our hearts is our Democratic Congress.

As hopeless inaction presents it to view:
The bill of poor Wilson, the deep tangled tariff,
And every mad pledge that their lunacy knew.

The widespread deception, the mills that closed by it,
The work of free silver where great Grover fell,
They've busted our country, no use to deny it,
And damn the Congress that busted as well.

This G. Cleveland Congress,
This Queen Lilly Congress,
This willow tree Congress,
We all love so well.

Their moss-covered pledges we no longer treasure,
For often at noon when out hunting a job
We find that instead of the corn they had promised,
How arduous we've cussed 'em with lips overflowing.

With sulphurous blessings as great swear words fell,
The emblems of hunger, free trade and free silver,
Arising in sorrow the workingman's knell.

This bank-breaking Congress,
This mill-closing Congress,
This starvation Congress,
We all love so well.

How sweet from their eloquent lips to receive
This Fifty-third Congress,
This Democrat Congress,
This sugar-cured Congress
We wish was in—well.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

"Cursed tariff protection no longer uphold."
We listened—and voted our dinner pails empty,
The factories silent, the furnaces cold,
And now far removed from our lost situations,
The fear of regret doth intrusively swell,
We yearn for Republican Administration,
And sigh for the Congress that served us so well.

This Fifty-third Congress,
This Democrat Congress,
This sugar-cured Congress
We wish was in—well.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]

PAST MASTERS' NIGHT.

Noteworthy Work at Manchester Lodge to be Followed by a Collation.

The regular communication of Manchester lodge, F. and A. M., at Masonic hall next Tuesday evening will be a notable event. The third degree will be conferred upon a well-known professional man. The officers of the lodge have arranged to make this occasion a reunion of the old members. Manchester lodge has been established nearly 70 years and it has several members who have been masons half a century. All the positions will be filled by past masters of Manchester lodge. Among them will be Past Master Henry Gardner, from Bridgeport, Past Master R. L. D. Perry, from Hartford, and Past Master William A. Bushnell, from Norwich. A complete list of the officers with their positions is given herewith.

Worshipful Master, James McCormick.
Senior Warden, Frank W. Haven.
Junior Warden, James W. Fitch.
Treasurer, James W. Cheney.
Secretary, Rodolph D. L. Perry.
Senior Deacon, William Bushnell.
Junior Deacon, DeWitt C. Hall.
Senior Steward, Aaron Cook Jr.
Junior Steward, Henry Gardner.
Chaplain, George W. Ferris.
Marshal, Albert J. Spencer.
Tyler, George M. Barber.
South Gate, Charles W. Strong.
West Gate, Edward S. Brainard.
East Gate, John D. Henderson.

Special music will be provided by the Masonic quintette. A collation will be served in the lower hall at the close of the lodge work.

Close of the Eighth District School.

The eighth district school closed its year's work yesterday. When the school reopens in the fall the annex will be ready for use and for the first time in five years the school will have all the room it needs. The brick work of the annex is now completed up to the second story and there is no doubt that the addition will be ready for occupancy when the school reopens.

In spite of the crowded condition of the building the past year the teachers have done very satisfactory work. In nearly all the rooms yesterday there were special exercises to celebrate the close of the term, though in none of them was there an elaborate exhibition.

In room 8, taught by Principal Lillie, the following program was given:

Song, School
Speech on the Flag, Willie Ferguson
Meaning of the Colors of the Flag, Several girls Composition, "Yellowstone Park," Charlie Lillie
Instrumental Music, Jennie Hubbard
Great Men and Women, dialogue by several boys and girls
Song, School
Composition, "Statue of Liberty," Mary Covill
Recitation, The Polish Boy, Mary Shearer
Violin Solo, Martha Brunotte
Composition, "Botany," Katie Ferguson
Song, Good Bye, School
Transposition The Painter of Seville, Fred Wall
Composition, "Braddock's Defeat," Julia McShean

Instrumental Music, Myrtle Wood
Class History, Mary Toohy
Class Prophecy, Mary Shearer
Song, Good Bye, School.
Brief addresses commending the work of the teachers and pupils were made by W. B. Covill, chairman of the district committee, and by R. P. Bissell, secretary of the school board.
All the teachers in the eighth district have been re-engaged for next year. Principal Lillie is considering a higher offer but the committee hope to secure his consent to remain in Manchester.

GLASTONBURY

Miss Long, who has been spending the winter with Mrs. C. G. Rankin, has gone to Warehouse Point for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvah B. Payne have returned from their wedding trip. They were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. M.
Keene over Sunday.

Numerous complaints of the ravages of out worms come from the farmers
this spring. They seem to attack garden plants with impartiality and they are especially fond of the tender young tobacco plants.

Deacon Isaac Broadhead is critically ill with stoppage of the bowels. Dr.
Richards is in constant attendance and Dr. Storrs, of Hartford, has been called in consultation. At latest reports there was no material change in his condition
and it was thought he had slight chances of recovery.

The Glastonburys will play the Company Ks of Hartford at base ball on the Naubuc grounds Saturday afternoon.
The Ks are a good team of gentlemanly young fellows and a good game is looked for.

An addition of fourteen feet is to be built to the north end of the steamboat wharf house at once and the platforms will be enlarged to correspond with the house. This will afford better facilities for handling and storing freight, which at certain seasons, is landed here in large quantities. F. W. Dean will build the new addition.

Children's Day at Congregational Church.
Children's Day will be observed by special services at the Congregational church next Sunday. At the morning service the exercises will be devoted especially to the children. Several children will be baptized and two classes,
graduating from the primary, department, will be received into the Sunday school with appropriate ceremonies.

In the evening there will be a special musical service under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor society. It is expected that the choir of the Pearl street church, Hartford, under the leadership of B. W. Loveland, will render several selections, and Rev. Mr. Barstow will address the young people on "Looking out upon Life."

Rain Stops Saturday's Ball Game at Burn side.

Rain put an end to the ball game between the Glastonburys and the Burn-sides on the Burnside grounds at the end of the third inning last Saturday afternoon. A steady downpour drove the boys to shelter and most of them sought refuge in a passing car just in time to escape a perfect deluge. The score at the end of the third inning stood 4 to 0 in Glastonbury's favor. As less than five innings were played, it was no game
as the two sides will meet again on the same grounds at a date to be agreed upon.

Graduating Exercises at Glastonbury Academy.

For the first time in many years,
there will be graduating exercises at the close of the term at the Glastonbury academy. The graduating class this year numbers four—Harry Spafard,
George Bartholomew, Miss Lottie Spafard
and Miss Sadie Goodrich. The exercises will be held on Friday of next week and a pleasing program is in preparation. It includes essays by the members of the graduating class, music and exercises by the other members of the school. Further particulars will be given next week.

Death of Mrs. Charles Buckland.
Mrs. Ann Eliza Buckland, wife of Captain Charles Buckland and mother of C. Edward Buckland, died last Saturday morning. She had been in feeble health for a long time but it was not until very recently that her disease took a dangerous form. Her death is attributed to cancer of the stomach. She was 63 years of age. She was a daughter of the late Captain Chauncy Gaines and was fourth in a family of eight children. Three brothers and a sister survive her—Chauncy F., Woodbridge
H., and Ellery C. Gaines, and Mrs. H.
A. Smith. Mrs. Buckland was a woman of many excellent qualities and her tireless devotion to her husband in his long illness doubtless hastened her own end.

Her funeral took place Monday afternoon at three o'clock, Rev. John Barstow attending. Appropriate musical selections were sung by a quartet consisting of Mrs. W. F. Talcott, Mrs. O. R.
Morgan, Messrs. Barstow and Bartholomew.
The bearers were E. H. Andrews,
C. N. Carter, Otis Talcott and Frederick
Welles. The interment took place at St.
James's cemetery.

A BAD TEMPER

—generally accompanies a torpid liver and indigestion. An in-door life often brings on this condition; there follows anemia, or lack of blood, frequently another worse effect—that of Dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the restorative tonic and liver invigorator which will positively cure
just such cases.

Mrs. F. A. Orr, of Corbett, Baltimore Co., Md.,
writes: "Physicians pronounced my case acute indigestion. If it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery
and Pleasant Pellets I firmly believe I would have been in my grave,
for nothing did me any good until I began tak-

followed an attack of Pneumonia. We cannot

afternoon and evening.

Odd Fellows' Memorial Day.
Next Sunday will be observed by the members of Elm Lodge as Memorial day. They will assemble at the hall at 8.30 p. m. and march to the St. James cemetery, where the graves of their deceased brothers will be strewn with flowers. They will then counter-march to the Congregational church, where Brother J. H. Hutchins, of Weobamet liver an address. The members of Ivy Lodge have been invited to attend in a body and the public are cordially invited to be present.

HE COMMITTED SUICIDE!

The Cause and Its Lesson.

Why did he commit suicide? Oh! for the same reason that thousands of others are on the verge of the same sin, or in immediate danger of insanity, paralysis, idiocy or some other equally unfortunate result of nervous affection. He knew he was afflicted with a nervous disorder, but was careless, apparently indifferent to the outcome; or he may have lessened his chances for recovery by treating with physicians who had little or no knowledge of such affections, or by deluging himself with worthless so-called remedies. His case was a sad one, but no worse than that of any other nervous sufferer, who has nervous or sick headache, biliousness, dizziness, irritability,
melancholy, falling memory, hot flashes,
fainting, sleeplessness, nervous dyspepsia, sexual debility, epilepsy, etc. The same or similar consequences are likely to result to any one who has any of the above advance symptoms of an awful end. Do not hesitate in getting rid of them by intelligent treatment. Dr. Franklin Miles, the celebrated specialist, has studied nervous diseases over 20 years, and has discovered the only reliable remedy for them. Thousands of voluntary testimonials prove the virtues of Dr.
Miles' Restorative Nerve.

Alonso Barker, of Clinton, N. Y., writes: "I was so afflicted with extreme nervousness that I was on the verge of insanity. My hands trembled so that I could scarcely feed myself. I used twelve bottles of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve, and was cured. It is with pleasure I recommend this wonderful remedy for nervous troubles."

"I had been a great sufferer from chronic headache until I began, about four months ago,
to use Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Pills,
since which time I have not had a headache.
Several of my friends are using Dr. Miles' Remedies, and find them, as I did, to be more than you claim for them."—Mrs. Mary Kister, Los Angeles, Cal.

W. H. Capwell, editor Tribune, Plymouth, Pa., writes: "My wife was cured of sick headache of many years' standing by the use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve. She has recommended it to her friends, and they all praise it highly."

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct

AFRAID OF THE MINNET.

The Gallantry of Senator Dubois Makes Him the Bait of Funmakers.

Senator Dubois is frightfully annoyed
by a story which has gained currency in the press throughout the country that he would be one of the society men who will shortly dance the minnet at a fashionable charity entertainment in this city. It all originated in a little pleas-

"Of course you have heard of the

Of course the rudimentary instincts of gallantry—and Mr. Dubois is a gallant gentleman—dictated a ready assent to the proposition.

"Why, I should be charmed," said the senator, with one of his most winking smiles.

The matter passed with that, and the senator thought no more of it until a

The senator tried to laugh it off, but as fate would have it a designing news-

that day on the senator has had a daily installment of the story thrust under his nose in every newspaper he has taken in his hands.

"If that story gets out to Idaho," exclaimed the senator in comical despair
the other day, "I shall be ruined!"

At last accounts he had left the city to weather out the storm at the home of

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

GOWNS THAT ARE CONSPICUOUS IN THE SUMMER OUTFIT.

Embroidered silks and muslins—The Rage
For White Tulle—Graduation Dresses.
Organdie, Batiste and Muslin Gowns.
Black and White a Stylish Combination.

The weekly budget of Parisian fashions contains nothing new or startling in its freshness except perhaps the information that lace is to be superseded by embroidered silk or muslin, especially for evening dresses, and that there is a "perfect rage for white tulle." Every second woman has either bonnet strings or a vest of tulle. The tendency in sleeves is toward an increase in size
rather than any diminution, five yards of silk being the re-ferred quantity for the latest "butterfly sleeve." A band of insertion or jetted trimming divides the wings of this artistic arrangement.
Modified versions of the bishop sleeves
are to be worn again.

Green, as usual, is the favorite color of this season. To form a pretty background for all the new shades which blossom out, royal blue and green is a favorite combination in English fashions. Black, however, is fully as desirable as it has been for months past. The high priests of Parisian modes have decreed that black used alone or in combination with white or gray shall be the most fashionable color of the season.

Tiny checks of black and white silk, crepon, crape cloths and grenadines are equally popular. The newest thing in materials is "tussah silk," which is a revival of one of the delights of our grandmothers. It is very dainty in texture, combining the lightness of muslin
with the tenacity of silk, and is patterned in a variety of brocade designs.

Dimity, organdie, batiste and muslin dresses form a conspicuous part of the summer outfit, and pure white muslin
is the accepted material for graduation
dresses, which are made with high neck waists, full sleeves and trimmed with lace insertion. The skirts may be made double or single, and white satin or noire ribbon is used for belt, neck, collar and bows on the shoulders. Enterprising insertion in a stylish trimming
for wisps muslin gowns.

A dainty design, whether it be for muslin plain, dotted or flowered, is thus described by a writer in the New York Sun: The skirt is slightly gored in front and at the side, full and plain at the back and trimmed with a ruffle of the same or white net. An organdie finely striped and dotted with pink is pretty made in this way, with a bodice of white silk muslin full into a pink satin belt, which has a full basque of net at

WITH AN UNDERSKIRT—VERY CHIC.

tached. A plaited piece of the stripe edged with a frill of net forms a half yoke and bertha effect over the shoulders and is caught together both back and front with a band and rosette bows
of pink satin ribbon, which also forms
the neck band. The full balloon sleeves are of the stripe.

Another pretty model described for a pale pink crepon or thin silk has a plain full skirt trimmed at the bottom with a narrow ruche of the same edged with black satin ribbon. The bodice is plain, full into a black satin belt,
which is fastened with a rhinestone buckle. The frill which forms the yoke is of black figured net, and to give the gown a more dressy appearance a sash
of the same net would be a pretty addition. The black satin collar has a buckle to match the belt.

An effective design for a foulard silk
is made with an underskirt trimmed with a wide band of lace and one of the draped overskirts so much more popular in Paris than in New York. Another model may be easily copied and is especially pretty for taffeta silk. The waist is made of plain silk and is covered with some of the new guipure lace, which is interwoven with threads of gold and colored silk. It is tight fitting, but forms a jacket effect in front when it is finished, with a cord to match.
The vest, bow and sash are of soft silk of the same color as the waist, and the balloon sleeves are like the skirt.

Remedy For Corns.

A paragraph is going the rounds to the effect that linseed oil is a sure remedy for both hard and soft corns. If they are indurated and very painful, the relief it gives in a short time is most grateful. Bind on a piece of soft rag saturated with the linseed oil and continue to dampen it with the oil every night and morning until the corn can be removed easily and without pain.

WALL DECORATION.

APPROPRIATE METHODS OF INTERIOR MURAL ORNAMENTATION.

Desirable New Patterns in Both Hand and Machine Made Wall Papers—Pearl Leathers and Genuine Silks—Pleasing Specialties Among the Stamped Papers.

Decorator and Furnisher says: Nothing is more barbarous in interior decoration than covering wall space with an all over wall paper pattern, leaving the frieze and ceiling devoid of ornament. This method is pursued by those who know nothing of decorative art and have never made a study of decorative requirements of an interior. The ceiling of an interior, not being required to support furniture or pictures, and being always in evidence, is naturally the spot where the finest decorative effects should obtain, and the frieze for this reason also requires decorative treatment. In fact, the real principle of decorating an interior is to start with a plainly tinted dado, increasing the effects of form and color as we approach the frieze, culminating our greatest effects in the frieze, cove and border of ceiling panel, and allowing the decorative wave to die off at the center of the ceiling. This is the most appropriate, classic and altogether desirable method of interior mural decoration.

New patterns in both hand and machine goods, therefore, as a rule, present at least three harmonious diversifications of same—for wall hanging, frieze and ceiling. There are real leathers which mean exactly what the term implies. They are made of finely granulated macerated leather, with a backing of paper, on which are printed magnificent designs in lacquer and gold. They are extremely suitable for dining rooms, halls and libraries. Genuine silks are another specialty in wall decorations. These are composed of a satin surface backed with paper, the whole being embossed with magnificent Louis XVI and renaissance effects, the intervals of the ground being printed in turquoise blue, golden maize, pearl, heliotrope, old pink, etc.

For those to whom such productions might prove too costly, there is manufactured a line of pressed papers in which the effects of the real silk are reproduced.

There are also special stamped papers which reproduce the effects of glazed tiles printed in blues, reds and browns. Blended friezes are a new thing in pressed papers, and many beautiful examples of this kind of decoration are shown. Some of the pressed papers are colored to imitate flock papers. There are rich renaissance designs in walnut leather colorings that would be very suitable for the decoration of dining rooms. Their white pressed papers are similar to lignum and suchlike fabrics. Some of the papers are not to be distinguished from real ivory carving or real silks, and while admiring the wonderful beauty of the goods we are shown others equally beautiful of a totally different character.

There are papers reproducing the effects of metal ceilings, glittering in all the hues of burnished lacquer, and papers in tile effects.

To meet the demands for a striped goods which is essentially refined and suitable for bedroom decorations, there is produced a line of colored mica stripes of varying widths. But a most beautiful stripe in wall paper is a pattern whereby the silk stripes are reproduced, tied in a crushed manner at intervals with delicate bouquets of flowers. Striped goods, with bold floral friezes and ceilings to match, are much in evidence. Watteau effects, with garlands of flowers in the frieze, make beautiful decorations. In fact, the garland as a motive has pretty much everything its own way in modern decoration, and such motives are interspersed with all over floral stencilings, embroidery and lace effects, floral medallions in the heraldic style and papers of the empire order, re-surfaced with empire decorations.

Tulle made gowns are more popular than ever for morning wear on the coast, for traveling and church.

CLEANING BOOTS AND SHOES.

Directions Worthy of Trial—Patent Leather Boots—A Good Polish.

A well stocked, blacking brush box should always be kept on hand, and this should contain the best of blacking, together with three good brushes. One of the brushes should be quite hard to effectually rid the boots of all mud and dirt, another should be soft in order to insure the successful application of the blacking, and the third should be classed in the happy medium, so as to give a satisfactory polish and "shine." Each should have its own distinct mission to perform, and their uses must never be confounded, says a correspondent of The Household, who also gives the following advice: The blacking, if liquid, should be kept well corked, and after all traces of mud have been removed from the boots should be applied to the brush by means of a sponge, which is tied to a stick, and from thence to the leather. This having been accomplished, the boots should be well polished with the regulation brush and a firm, vigorous hand. Much more delicacy of treatment is required in cleaning ladies' boots, except when they are the stout common sense ones used for walking or skating, great care always being taken to avoid soiling the lining of the boots.

An excellent polish for general purposes is made from the following ingredients: Mix 4 ounces of ivory black with 4 ounces of treacle in an earthen jar, to which add an ounce of sulphuric acid, stirring the mixture all the while. Then pour in 2 teaspoonfuls of olive oil, and after this has been thoroughly incorporated add by degrees 1½ pints of white wine vinegar.

Another polish which is more suited to ladies' fine boots is made by mixing equal proportions of sweet oil, treacle and vinegar with an ounce of lamp-black and applying with a sponge.

Patent leather boots require entirely different treatment. They should first be wiped with a damp sponge and afterward with a soft, dry cloth. The sponge may be moistened with either water or milk, but the latter should not be used too often. Occasionally a little oil might be applied with very good effect, but blacking should never be used except upon the edges of the soles.

The New French Waists.

Pongee silk shirt waists of the natural ecru shade are imported by the best modistes to wear with blazer suits in the summer. According to Harper's Bazar, these are made in the simplest manner, with fullness gathered at the neck and waist in front and back and are mounted on a fitted and boned lining of silk. A box plait two inches wide is down the front, with a row of brier stitching done in navy blue silk near each edge and holding buttonholes for three pearl buttons, which are regular shirt buttons. A turned down collar of the pongee doubled has a single row of stitching and is mounted on a neckband so wide that three buttons are required to fasten it. The bishop sleeves, nearly a yard wide, are very long and have a fitted lining, to which they are taken up in a plait at the elbow to give them the proper length. They are gathered to straight cuffs of pongee four inches deep when doubled, brier stitched in a single row and fastened by three buttons. The edge of the waist goes inside the dress skirt. A navy blue necktie and a ribbon belt, with a pearl buckle, complete the waist or wearing with blue sacking or serge suits. For those who prefer washable materials for similar shirt waists madras ginghams and linen batiste are used in the ecru pongee color, which is sometimes called "linen color" in the shops.

The New Parasols.

The newest and daintiest parasols have handles of mother of pearl richly cut and chased. The very elegant ones have whole handles of pearl, but the less expensive ones have a handle mounted with a short length, and the knob takes the form of the fruit of the passion flower. Smoked pearl is quite as fashionable as the white. Pink and green crystal balls and the dumbbell shapes in china are other fancy mountings, and three cannon balls of china supersede the one ball of last year. The prettiest trimming for a satin parasol is cream antique point lace put on with the plain edge against the edge of the covers and the points standing.

Costume in Fancy Crepon.

A dress in fancy crepon, recently illustrated in the New York Herald, was of havana brown and turquoise blue. The full skirt was finished with a plaiting around the edge and trimmed with three straps of havana satin ribbon down each side. The bodice was covered with havana mousseline de soie, with bands of the crepon. The full upper sleeve was of crepon, with rosettes and twists of the mousseline, which also formed the ruffled gauntlets. To be worn with this costume was a large hat in fancy straw trimmed with cream lace, roses and narrow black velvet.

STAMP COLLECTING MANIA.

Men of Rank Who Are Collectors and Some Valuable Stocks in England.

Some remarkable particulars respecting this peculiar form of the madness of crowds is given in The British Fortnightly by Mr. W. Roberts. In England the craze has some very distinguished patrons. The president and vice president of the Philatelic society respectively are the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha and the Duke of York, while its ordinary list of members includes one prince and two earls. In London last season no less than from £15,000 to £20,000 worth of stamps were sold by three or four auctioneers. One hundred and nine members of the society have in their possession no fewer than $25,000 stamps.

The value of one collection was placed at £10,000, a second at £6,000, two at £5,000, two at £4,000, eight at amounts varying from £1,200 to £3,000 each and ten at £1,000 each. The estimated value of collections of members of the society resident out of Great Britain is placed at £100,000, a total which cannot include the enormous collection of Herr Philip von Ferrary of Paris, which in itself is certainly not worth less than £100,000.

The Tapping collection, in the British museum, is supposed to rank second to that of Herr Ferrary and is said to be worth £60,000. The czar of Russia has a fine collection, valued at about £30,000. Of individual stamps the most valuable are the 1 penny and 2 penny "Post-office, Mauritius," of the first issue, which appeared in September, 1847, and which have changed hands at £880. A British Guiana stamp comes next at £250. A Sandwich Island specimen is said to be worth £300. As regards English stamps, the penny black, with the initials "V. R." in the corner, is the most valuable. Twenty years ago it was appraised at £2; now it will fetch five times that amount. It seems that the mania of stamp collecting originated in Belgium and reached England some time in the late fifties. Mr. Roberts thinks that the dozen or so of rarities in stamps will soon be absorbed by public institutions, and mediocrity becoming the bane of collections the craze will gradually die out.

LOOK AT YOUR $2 NOTES.

Well Executed and Dangerous Counterfeit Now in Circulation.

There is a new $2 counterfeit bill in circulation.

It is of series 1891, check letter B; J. Fount Tillman, register; D. N. Morgan, treasurer; McPherson portrait.

The note is a trifle smaller than the genuine and is printed on very soft flimsy paper. The numbering is poor, both as to formation and color, being almost brown or chocolate instead of carmine.

The seal is about one-sixteenth of an inch smaller than the genuine and is a dull, dark, faded red instead of a bright pink.

In the portrait of McPherson the hair and whiskers are almost wholly represented by solid black color, with the exception of a few scabby lines above the forehead; instead of having a neatly brushed appearance. In the counterfeit also the whiskers are trimmed evenly all round, showing the white collar below, while in the genuine a small part of the white collar and the coat collar are hid by the whiskers, which are unevenly trimmed.

Two points of a second star can be distinctly seen in the left shoulder strap on the genuine, but in the counterfeit this appears as the white border of the shoulder strap.

The small words "two" which appear in two places in the figure 2, lower right hand corner on the face of the genuine, are not to be found on the counterfeit.

The lathe work on the face of this counterfeit is well executed, but on the back of the note it is much broken and disconnected.

The letter o in the word "two," lower right corner back of the note, is poorly formed.

The distributed silk to be found in the genuine paper is represented in this counterfeit by splitting the paper and tracing the irregular creases of same with red ink.

Taking the note as a whole, it is a very dangerous counterfeit.—Exchange.

Mr. Gladstone Improving.

All reports regarding Mr. Gladstone are most favorable, and there is no reason to doubt that he will be among his friends again within a month with his sight almost restored. I learn that the operation was performed according to a practice which has been in vogue only a few months, and which has proved almost invariably successful. It has been found better not to destroy completely all sensation in the eyeball by means of cocaine, as has been the custom for nearly 10 years until recently. Careful observation shows that the process of healing is more rapid and there is less danger of inflammation if the nerves are only partially deadened with cocaine. The patient realizes that the operator is manipulating the eyeball and even feels the puncture of the tiny lancet, but not sufficiently to suffer any real pain. As a matter of fact, the operation in Mr. Gladstone's case was quite painless.—London Letter.

Stoves Not Desired on Storage.

Many of the storage warehouse companies in the city have this season inaugurated a new plan in regard to taking stoves for storage during the summer and are refusing to store them unless the fee is paid in advance or they are stored with other articles. The reason for the step is that many of the companies have had valueless stoves left on their hands by the owners, who replaced them with new ones in the fall. The stove then had to be kept for a long while, and if the owner refused to take it away it was sold for old metal at a low price, so that the total loss to the company was considerable. A few companies in the city take stoves of all kinds on storage as formerly, but even those doing so complain that the business is attended by a loss.—Boston Transcript.

PLUMPNESS VS EMACIATION.

What makes the difference?

It is a question of food and its digestion. Many people think we must eat fats and oils to become fleshy. This is a serious mistake. We should eat starch foods. If we cannot digest well-cooked starch foods use pre-digested starch food—PASKOLA. Paskola will not only be absorbed at once by the most delicate, but it will create an appetite for other food. An increase in flesh and strength will follow its use. Mr. C. H. Butler, a druggist of Oswego, N. Y., says: "A young lady just in reports a gain of five pounds after the use of two small bottles of Paskola."

CONGRESSMAN FIELDER'S SALARY.

It Goes to the Widow of the Man He Succeeded—His Dead Friend's Daughter.

The house ought to pass a resolution excepting Congressman Fielder of New Jersey from the operation of the law which deducts the pay of the members who are absent. If anything is taken from Mr. Fielder's salary, it will not come out of his pockets, but will diminish the income of the widow of ex-Congressman McDonald, whom Mr. Fielder succeeded in congress. When Mr. Fielder was nominated and elected, he voluntarily offered to turn over to Mrs. McDonald the entire salary which her husband would have received, less the amount necessary to pay his hotel expenses in Washington. This agreement he has religiously kept. Out of Mr. Fielder's $10,000 salary for his two years' term, Mrs. McDonald will receive between $7,000 and $8,000.

There is an interesting story connected with this incident. On the day upon which Mr. McDonald died a daughter was born to him. Mr. Fielder's name is George; his wife's name is Eleanor. The little daughter of his dead friend is named Georgine Eleanor McDonald.—Boston Advertiser.

A Sprouting Easel.

An easel in the parlor of Edson H. Pierce's residence on San Joaquin street, between Worth and Anderson, has sprouted. Four thrifty little shoots, each a few inches long, have forced their way through plain, varnish and gilding and are growing as if very ambitious to reproduce their kind. Mrs. Pierce expects to raise quite a crop of little easels this season. The easel was purchased from an old man last winter, who said he brought it from the mountains. The piece of sprouting furniture, if a parlor ornament can be designated as an article of furniture, is about 6 feet high, and the uprights are 1½ inches thick. All four of the sprouts are on the same upright—the one to the left as the spectator faces the easel. The largest, which grows at the top, is 2½ inches long and of the thickness of a lead pencil. The three others vary from a half to 1½ inches in length, and are proportionately thick.—Stockton (Cal.) Mail.

Good Value in an Old Carpet.

A very much worn and sadly dilapidated carpet covered the floor of the cashier's office in the mint. A new one involved the expenditure of perhaps $75, and for weeks Superintendent Townsend has endeavored to secure permission from the department at Washington to buy one. The mass of red tape and the difficulty of obtaining money for any purpose balked him, but he pegged away patiently and a day or two ago had the satisfaction of gaining permission to buy the needed carpet, which cost him a little more than $70. The wretched old covering was burned. The ashes were refined, and they yielded $400 of gold.—Philadelphia Record.

Strawberries.

We have made contract with Mr. Albiston for his entire crop of FRUIT this summer, consisting of about 5,000 quarts of the Finest Strawberries raised, also about 1,500 quarts of Red and Black Raspberries, about 1,000 quarts of Currants and some Gooseberries and Cherries.

Look Out for this Fruit.

The demand for it is great. Everybody wants it. Festivals supplied in quantities. There will be few peaches this year, so make up with Strawberries, etc.
