

OFFICE DESKS -

WATKINS BROS.

We have received some very nice Roll Top Desks and will sell them at the following low prices: $16, $18, $22 and $25.

Handsome Chairs

in Oak and Curley Birch, some with leather seats, others upholstered in plush and some finished in wood. Prices from $2.85 to $4.75 each.

Couches and Lounges

at low prices. Couches as low as $6.75. Lounges, in carpet, at $8.75. Good value.

A Few Book-Cases

to be sold as follows:

- $17.00 book-case, glass door, $0.50
$16.00 " " " " " " $8.75
$8.50 " " " " " " $5.75

WATKINS BROS.

Henry Kohn & Sons,

360 Main Street, Hartford, Leading Jewelers of Connecticut

FALL STOCK NOW COMPLETE.

DIAMONDS, WATCHES, JEWELRY, SILVERWARE, CLOCKS, BRIC-A-BRAC, CUT GLASSWARE, STATUARY.

Two Floors.

Bargains in Underwear.

THIS IS UNDERWEAR SEASON AND WE HAVE ALL KINDS.

Elegant Fleece Lined Underwear, 50 cents. White or Gray Wool, 50 cents. Wright's Celebrated Fleece Lined Health Underwear, 75 cents. Wright's Celebrated Fleece Lined Health Underwear, Double Breast and Double Back, $1.00. Winsted Hosiery Company's Fine Goods, 75 cents and $1.00. The well known Glastonbury Camel's Hair, $1.00 and $1.25. The well known Glastonbury Camel's Hair, Double Breast and Double Back, $1.50.

C. E. HOUSE, 241 Main St.

STRONG POINTS

BOX CALF SHOES

They are waterproof. They are handsome shoes. They will take a brilliant polish. They have invisible cork soles. They look well in pleasant weather. They feel well in wet weather.

The Price is $4.00 a Pair. A.L. Brown & Co.,

DEPOT SQUARE.

For $150.00

We furnish four rooms complete. Kitchen, Dining Room, Chamber and Parlor.

THE ATKINSON FURNISHING CO. BOSTON, MASS.

Installation System at Cash Prices. FREE DELIVERY. FREE FARES.

MISS M. E. ANDREWS, Visiting Nurse

MRS. FRANCES M. WEST'S Main St., South Manchester.

Miss Andrews will visit the sick in South Manchester free of charge. She will also in cases of emergency stay for a day or two as regular nurse for a moderate compensation.

Democratic Caucus.

A Democratic Caucus will be held at the Town Hall, Thursday Evening, October 30, for the nomination of a Justice of the Peace.

The Hunting Season Is Here.

You will want to take advantage of it.

You will want a Gun,

A Hunting Coat,

A Set of Cleaning Tools,

An Assortment of

Loaded Shells.

You will find all of these and more at the

THE ORFORD Hardware Store

F. T. BLISH.

WE KEEP ALL KINDS

of stationery for all purposes. We try to be honest in every transaction—we want people to know just what they are buying here—and just what it is worth. We quote a few prices which may be of interest to you: A box of paper and envelopes regular size five cents worth 10 cents. A good box of paper and envelopes regular size ten cents worth fifteen cents. A better box for twenty cents. A still better one for twenty five cents. All of the above and much more just received at our store. We want your trade, and we are going to give you a special price for this week.

ROSE'S

WHY IS IT

that we sell so many Remnants of Cloth and Dress Goods? Because, that in the first place our price is always very low, and secondly, we always have a good assortment to select from.

Cocoa 20 cents per box. Richardson & Robin's Plum Pudding, 7 cents per can. Although it is worth a great deal more than this, but let it go.

Dr. Price & Foss's Extracts retail at 25 cents per bottle. Our price 15 cents. The Royal Pekin Blend Tea pleases everybody. Put up in beautiful Chinese Cartons containing a quarter of a pound for 15 cents. This Tea is perfectly blended so as to bring out the true properties of this delightful beverage.

You never will find a better Cotton Batting for 10 cents than our last arrival.

J. E. MORTON

ABOUT TOWN.

The silk mills will be closed Saturday afternoon to allow employees to attend the parade in Hartford.

Owing to the illness of Miss Keating, the organist, the last mass at St. Bridget's church Sunday was a low mass.

South Manchester Division, Sons of Temperance, will initiate several candidates Friday evening after which a hallo-w-e-n social will be enjoyed.

James Harrison, who lost his bicycle rather mysteriously last week, found it a few days ago in a patch of woods near the road, a short distance from William Keish's house.

A delegation from Taber Chapter, Epworth League, attended the annual convention of the Norwich District League at Stafford Springs yesterday. The party drove up in a bus owing to inconvenient railroad facilities.

George Y. Young, a merchant of Rockville, was elected Grand Worthy Patriarch of the Grand Division, Sons of Temperance, at its recent annual session in East Haven. Dr. F. A. Sweet and Emil L. G. Bohenthal represented the local divisions.

The quarterly conference will be held in the vestry of the North Methodist church this evening, with Presiding Elder Bates, of Norwich, in the chair. A love feast, the reception of members and the administering of the Lord's Supper will take place at 10.30 in the church next Sunday.

The "Swan" football team, who flaunted a challenge before Hartford county to engage in a game of football of any style, have failed to come to time, now that Buckland has prepared to play them. The "Swans" have stirred up a hornet's nest for they now find the Bucklands clamoring for a game.

As Dennis Mahoney was driving on Miner street yesterday afternoon his horse took fright at a long freight train. A cloud of smoke was blown into the animal's face and it turned around suddenly and started to run. Mahoney was thrown out and the carriage was left behind with a broken wheel while the horse ran down Depot square, where it was caught. The driver was not injured but the horse was cut on the back feet.

The Mission Band social which is to be at the parlors of the North Congregational church on Friday evening at 7.45 promises to be an exceptionally pleasant and instructive entertainment. There will be music, readings, and recitations, and a good time will be enjoyed. The members and their friends have been solicited to bring their own supper and there will be some nominal admission fee will be charged.

The Republicans of Highland Park had fine weather for their demonstration last evening. The McKinley marching battalion started from the Armory shortly before eight o'clock, and led by the South Manchester band marched to Highland Park amid a profuse display of red fire. At Highland Park there was a fine exhibition of fire works and a McKinley flag was unfurled opposite the post office. Addresses were made by local speakers, from the veranda of the Highland Park store.

The prohibitionists will have a mass meeting in the town hall Friday evening, October 30, at eight o'clock. Rev. James I. Bartholomew of Stafford, Springs who addressed the recent outdoor mass meeting at the south end will deliver an address. The speaker on that occasion delivered an excellent address and those who heard him will no doubt be pleased to hear him on the wider phase of the question. Mr. Bartholomew was announced to speak here last Friday evening but was unable to come.

There are many doctors in this township and good doctors too, but there are very few nurses. This being the case, it is a fortunate thing that those who are unable to pay for a nurse can most easily obtain one. Miss Andrews, successor to Miss Rorick, as visiting nurse, is in South Manchester for this very purpose, to visit, to nurse, to befriend those who are sick and in trouble, without money and without price. She can be found at the house of Mrs. Frances M. West, on Main St., South Manchester.

Students of drawing and painting are invited to look at the advertisement of the Hartford Art Society in another column. Unusual advantages are offered there at remarkably low prices, and under such arrangements of time as can be suited to everybody's opportunities. If you wish seriously to give your whole time to the work you can do it there, or you can spend the few hours at your disposal. Beside the free class on Wednesday evenings there are also several free scholarships for other classes in drawing and painting. Apply soon at the studio in Wadsworth Atheneum on Thursday or Saturday mornings.

A debating society was organized in the ninth room of the eighth district school Monday afternoon and the following officers were chosen: President, William Campbell vice-president, Agusta Hartman; secretary, Miss Stone; treasurer, F. A. Lillie. The first debate will take place next Friday. The question to be argued is that statesman-killing campaign issue. "Resolved, that the free and unlimited coinage of silver would be detrimental to the prosperity of the country." The affirmative side is defended by Willie Robertson and Ned Barber, and the negative by Willie Campbell and Gustie Hartman.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Balch, of Oakland street, Monday night.

Miss Georgia Maune, of Chestnut street, returned Monday from a week's visit to friends in Willimantic.

Teutonia lodge, D. O. H., will give their first dance this season at Apel's opera house next Saturday night.

The East Hartford democratic club will attend the free silver rally at the Armory this evening, coming out on a special car.

The republican town committee have made arrangements to receive election returns both by telephone and telegraph at Cheney hall next Tuesday night.

Thomas Young, of Manchester Green, will leave today for St. Johns, N. B., where he has accepted a position as foreman in a knitting mill.

All liquor licenses in town will expire next Saturday night and the only sellers who will be able to secure a renewal will be the druggists.

The South Manchester athletic association football team will go to Willimantic Saturday to play a return game with the high school eleven of that city.

Messrs. Hawley & De Roche, who opened a fish market in Spencer's block three weeks ago, suspended business last evening and will sell their stock preparatory to leaving town.

Peter Adams, the oldest son of Dr. F. B. Adams, was taken suddenly ill Monday. Dr. Whiton was summoned and found the illness due to the effect of excessive cigarette smoking on the lungs.

Papers were prepared by two members of the high school on the financial condition and read at the meeting of the Boethia Monday afternoon, and this will end the debate on that topic in the school. As the subject in discussion was such a broad one the decision of the judges was reserved.

Mrs. George Prutting, who conducted two successful dancing classes at Orford hall last season, is about forming juvenile and adult classes for this season. Juvenile classes will meet at Orford hall Wednesday afternoons and adult classes Wednesday evenings.

In a little over a month Caspar Hartlein, the murderer of Louisa Trebbe, will pay the penalty of his crime. The rope with which he is to hang has been selected and tested. Fears of a collapse which were entertained after his sentence have been banished by his complete recovery to health.

Two hundred and twenty-three new voters have been made this fall and 248 names have been stricken from the list on account of death or removal, leaving 1,000 names on the list.

It is conceded that a large majority of the newly made voters are republicans.

When Mrs. Hewitt Coburn Jr., of Manchester Green arrived home from New York Monday night with her husband she discovered that diamonds, valued at $500, which she had worn to the Broadway theater, had been lost. Mr. Coburn telegraphed to New York and a search for the jewelry is being made.

James Johnston, the Hartford expert football player, and Robert McIlvane, of Buckland, will go to Paterson Saturday to play with the Taftvilles against the True Blues, of Paterson, who hold the cup for the American championship in association football. Both players have signed with the Taftville club for the season.

Charles Wilson was sent to jail for thirty days for vagrancy by Judge Bowers Monday morning. Complaint was made against him by Mrs. Emma Keish, who testified that Wilson annoyed her by entering her house through the windows at night and appropriating the most convenient bed without even taking off his shoes.

While Charles Lillie, son of F. A. Lillie, was playing football yesterday afternoon in the lot in the rear of J. J. Strickland's barn, he fell and injured his left ankle. He was taken to Mr. Strickland's house and Dr. Dole was sent for. It was found that the bone was partially fractured.

The tramway cars were delayed in East Hartford Monday afternoon by a heavy branch which fell from one of the large elm trees in Main street, directly across the track. The limb was as large as a man's body and heavy enough to have crushed in the roof of a car had it fallen on one. These trees are old and decayed and are a constant menace to persons passing through the street.

Silver Meeting Tonight.

The free silver democrats are not by any means satisfied with the outcome of their political meeting addressed by Judge Blydenburg. Their cause did not have a fair presentation, and with the idea of placing it in a better light before the voters of Manchester, they have secured two more speakers, who will be at the Armory this evening. The first speaker will be H. S. Cummings, of Stamford, law partner of Hon. Samuel Fessenden and candidate for secretary of state. He will be succeeded by Mrs. E. Sheldon Tillinghast, said to be a young woman of remarkable eloquence and a master of the financial question. She particularly requests the advocates of the gold standard to be present and interrogate her after the regular address, and asks on account of her sex. She is placed last on the program in order that the republicans may hear her at the close of the republican caucus. The meeting will begin at eight o'clock.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Girl Five Years Old Whose Clothing Caught from a Bonfire.

The five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Perrett, of Trotter street, died Sunday afternoon from burns received the day before in a sad accident in which she was the unfortunate victim. She and her two older brothers started a fire in the garden near the house shortly after dinner Saturday. The wind was blowing quite hard and it is probable that a burning ember from the fire was lifted by the breeze and lodged upon her dress unseen by her playmates.

One of her brothers noticed the flames on the little girl's clothing and attempted to extinguish them but she became excited and ran towards the house, shrieking with pain. Mrs. Perrett and a neighbor tried to remove the burning garments and failing in this endeavored to put out the flames. Just at this time Mrs. Strickland's grocery team. After a futile effort to smother the flames with his coat he left the little one in the hands of Wilbur Merryman, who had hastened from the tramway office to the scene, and drove speedily to Dr. Bradley's office. The doctor arrived soon after the burning clothing had been removed from the child. He found the back and sides of her body fearfully scorched and the flesh on one arm reduced to a crisp. As much as possible was done for the sufferer but she was beyond recovery. The left side of the face was badly scarred and directly over the heart there was a large burn.

The shock and injuries received were too great for one so young. At 6.30 Sunday morning she relapsed into an unconscious state and at 1.45 she died.

The funeral took place from the residence of Mr. Perrett at three o'clock yesterday afternoon under the charge of the Salvation Army, the deceased being a member of the Junior League. The bearers were six ladies, members of the Army and the band, proceeded to the hall, where services were held, and then marched to the Center cemetery, where the interment took place. Ensign Parsons officiated.

A SNEAK THIEF.

Registered at Cowles Hotel and Stole From Boarders.

A stranger registered at Cowles's hotel about 4.30 Saturday afternoon and disappeared an hour later with clothing to the value of $40 which he took from two of the boarders. He signed his name "Fred Roberts, Springfield, Mass.," and was assigned to room 6.

Superintendent of Police Thomas J. Bell, who is a ticket agent at the hall, went up to his room for his trunk and found it missing. He examined his wardrobe and discovered that a suit of clothes was also gone. About the same time James J. Moriarty, the present ticket agent, found that a pair of new trousers was missing from his room. The thief had tried a coat and vest but found they did not fit him so he threw them on the floor and disappeared, leaving his old clothes, a gray coat and vest, in Mr. Bell's room.

At 5.25 that evening a young man approached Baggage-master McKervey at the railroad station and asked several questions about the connections made by the Talcottville trolley cars and if he could take the 5.30 car for Talcottville, stop and see a friend there and walk to Vernon in time to catch the 5.49 train for Rockville. When Mr. McKervey heard of the theft he suspected the stranger who had asked so many questions and he consulted Landlord Allen. The description tallied exactly with the one Mr. Allen had of the transient. Investigation proved that a ticket good between Talcottville and Rockville had been taken up on the 5.49 train which does not often occur on that train. The Rockville police have been notified and believe they have a clue.

A tour of the Hartford pawnshops by Constables Campbell and Smith failed to bring to light any of the stolen property. The thief who was so hard on the ticket agents is a young fellow about 30 years old, of medium height, would weigh nearly 150 pounds, has a round face, wears a light mustache and Mr. Bell's suit of clothes.

HARTFORD'S SOUND MONEY PARADE.

Manchester's Delegation May Reach 700 Men.

It now looks as if the Manchester delegation to the great sound money parade in Hartford Saturday will include 700 hundred men. The marching battalion will be uniformed in gold-colored caps and will carry silk flags. They will be accompanied by the South Manchester military band, the South Manchester fire and drum band and the Talcottville drum corps. They will go and return by special train leaving South Manchester at one o'clock and leaving Hartford at 6.30. The train will stop at Manchester and Buckland. The fare for the round trip will be 25 cents and excursion tickets will be accepted on the evening trains out of Hartford.

A democratic caucus will be held at the town hall tomorrow evening to nominate justices of the peace.

Croup Quietly Cured.

Mountain Glen, Ark.—Our children were suffering with croup when we received a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It afforded almost instant relief.—F. A. Thornton. This celebrated remedy is for sale by W. H. Cheney and Chas. H. Rose.

CHENEY'S STORE.

Ladies' Navy Mackintoshes

We have some new garments in this line in one and two capes. Our qualities at $2.90 and $4.75 are specials.

Try our styles in ROYAL WORCESTER CORSETS. You will find them perfect fitting and handsomely made. Lots of other popular makes if you don't care for these.

Remnants, Dress Goods at Half-price.

YOU ARE AWARE that rough effects in DRESS GOODS are very popular this season. Come and see the special number in black and navy that we are selling at 75 cents a yard.

No Better Bargains in

Blankets and Comfortables

than you will find at our store. Come and see.

FINE STATIONERY

in all the leading makes such as Crane's, Marcus Ward's and others. Try us for nice stationery.

FLOOR MATTING at special prices.

OIL CLOTHS

in all widths and qualities. Our prices way down.

Butterick's Patterns.

FALL HATS.

All the latest styles of soft and stiff hats. New goods direct from the factory.

Prices Never so Low.

We have taken into account the dull times and have marked these goods away down. Call and examine them.

No matter what size of head we can fit you to a hat that will be becoming out of our fine new stock. You will find prices to suit you as well as the fit. The best styles of soft and stiff hats from

$1.25 to $3.00.

Some very pretty Golf Caps. New patterns. Price 50 cents. A good Golf Cap for the boys, 25 cents.

CHENEY'S STORE.

Office, Herald building, Main and Hilliard streets, Manchester. Branch office, store of F. W. Mills, Park Building, South Manchester.

The Bristol high school football eleven has been disbanded at the request of the parents of the players.

The committee of Rockville's common council, appointed to consider the application of the Rockville & Ellington Street Railway company for permission to lay tracks in the city, has reported in favor of granting the desired right on certain conditions.

The republican rally which was in progress when The Herald went to press last Friday evening proved as great a success as had been anticipated.

The republican caucus at the town hall this evening promises to exceed in attendance and interest any sessions ever held in this town.

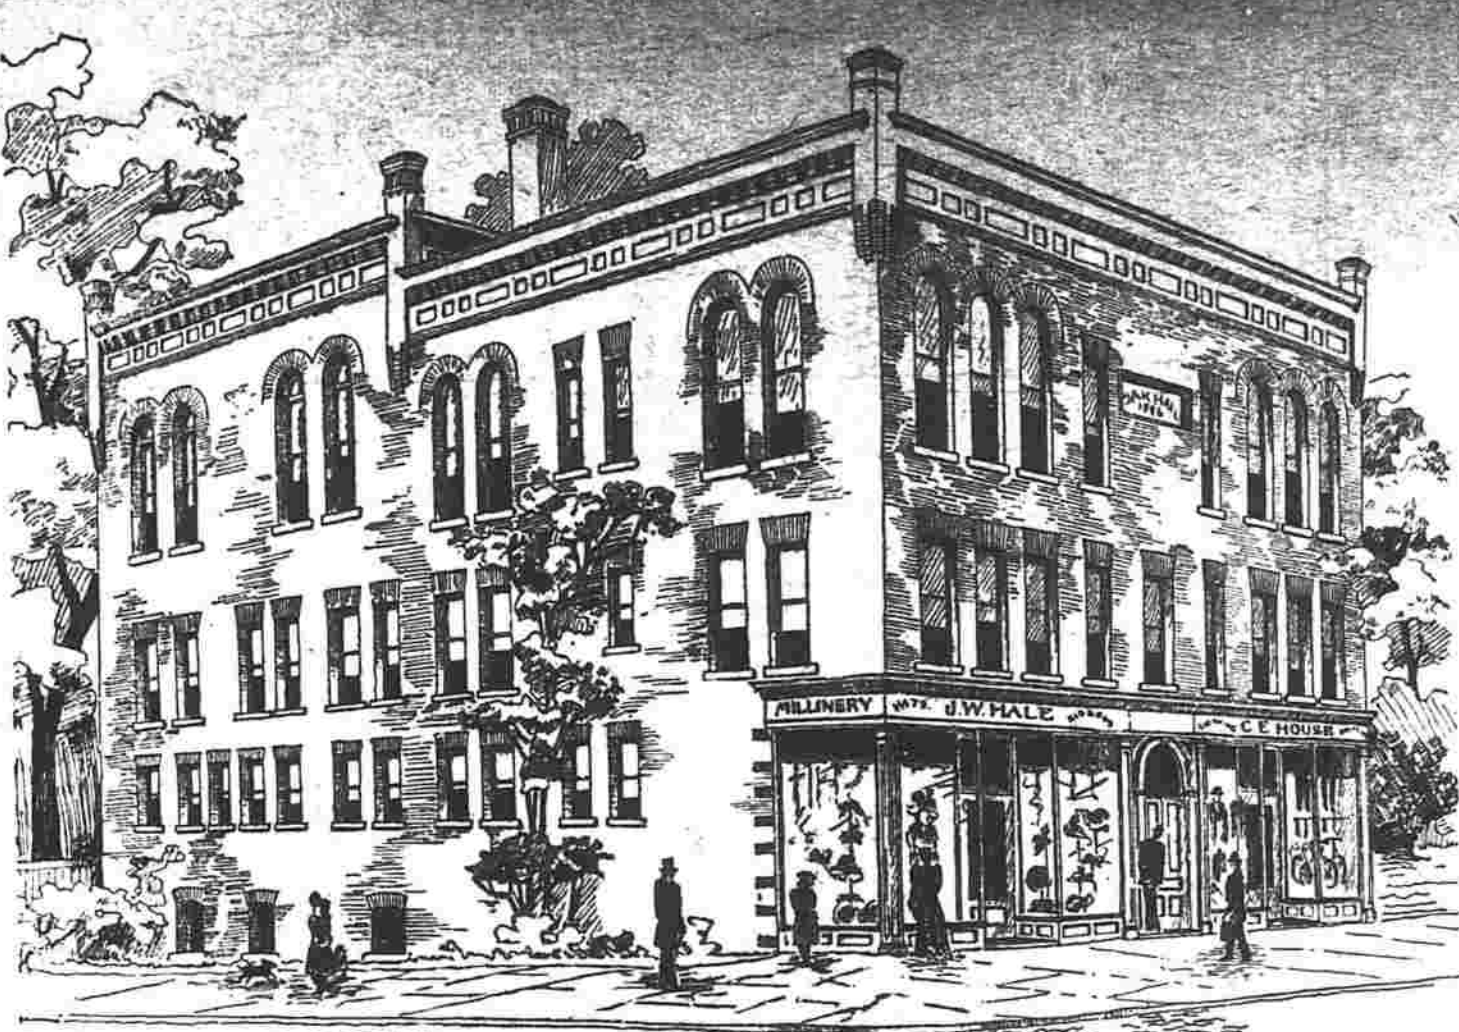

NEW TEAM A HUMMER.

Victory by a large score rewarded the efforts of the South Manchester athletic association football team in the game Saturday afternoon against the Willimantic high school eleven.

Stories of noted gamblers were in order, when the following was told of the late Charley Perkins: Charley was playing seven up with a friend who knew him very well, and Charley was not playing the squarest game in the world.

Spades were trumps, and Perkins was the dealer, when his friend, reaching across the table suddenly, grabbed his right hand and, turning it over, exposed the ace and deuce of spades, which he was holding out in his capacious palm.

"Single handed and alone," said the brown-eyed girl, who has a mild mania for stock phrases.

HOUSE & HALL'S NEW BUILDING.

South Manchester's New Block. We take pleasure in presenting to the readers of The Herald this morning a picture of the new block now in process of construction by the Oak Hall Building company, a joint stock company including the heirs of E. M. House, and J. W. Hale, proprietor of the Boeton store.

He picked the ball from his opponent's grasp before the down was made and rushed 40 yards to the line, making a fourth touchdown. The ball was in a difficult position to punt and the goal was missed; score 20 to 0.

Following is the line-up: Willimantic H.S. Positions Manchester A.A. Young right-end-left Vetch right-tackle-left Brainerd right-tackle-left Nelson* center Watkins left-half-back-right Bilson* right-half-back-right Moriarty* quarterback Spencer left-end-right Spencer left-half-back-right Alden left-half-back-right Alden full-back Montgomery.

Our cheese stock is now complete. We offer the nicest American Full Cream Cheese ever placed on our counter.

Our purchases of this year's canned goods are beginning to arrive. Have placed on sale two rare bargains viz: Fine yellow peaches packed in heavy syrup and large cans—two cans for 25 cents.

Not Alone. "I never saw any one more skillful at driving a horse single handed than Willy Nilly," said the auburn haired girl.

is occupied by Mr. Hale for his dry goods and millinery business and the south store by C. E. House, clothing and Columbia bicycles.

AN AWFUL OBJECT LESSON. But it Failed to Have Exactly the Effect Desired. The stereopticon has become an important factor in political campaign work.

THE MUSIC OF NIAGARA. A Musician Hears the Harmonies and the Rhythm of the Mighty Cataract. Eugene Thayer, the well known organist, has published an analysis of the music of Niagara falls.

CHEESE... Our cheese stock is now complete. We offer the nicest American Full Cream Cheese ever placed on our counter.

the banquet room will be a kitchen 8 ft. by 12 ft., with sink, range and lockers for dishes. The plans for this floor were prepared under the direction of King David Lodge and, it is believed, leave nothing to be desired in the way of conveniences.

SCHOOL SHOES. Now is the time when the children have got to be well shod. It is the principal thing in a child's make up.

SOME POINTERS FOR WEDDING GIFTS. BRIC-A-BRAC from the following Potteries: Doulton, Delft, Bottenbach, Dresden, George Jones, La Louviere, Alderly, Bonn, etc., etc.

Ladies! Attention! WHEN YOU COME TO HARTFORD DON'T FAIL TO VISIT GEARY'S CLOAK STORE.

AUTUMN IS HERE FALL GOODS CONSTANTLY ARRIVING

For canning we have peaches, pears, plums, tomatoes etc. A large stock of Lightning and Mason Jars. We have just received a new line of glass-ware, goblets and tumblers in various designs.

WELCH & WARD Successors to A. Hartman. 50 No. Main St., Manchester.

BOSTON SHOE STORE L. M. HARTER

THE Mellen & Hewes Co. 255 Main St., Hartford, Conn.

THE NATIONAL W. C. T. U. Plans For the Next Annual Gathering at St. Louis.

FOR SALE. Double Tenement House, consisting of 14 rooms on Charter Oak street, opposite Haling Brothers' store, belonging to estate of Calista Hale.

FOR SALE. A cosy home on North Elm street. Six room house, new. Good lot of young fruit trees, cheap.

SHOES REPAIRED. Roots and Shoes neatly and promptly repaired at reasonable prices.

Window Glass. If you don't replace your broken windows, you are liable to catch cold and be obliged to buy a bottle of AYER'S LICORIC COUGH BALSAM.

Cheney's Drug Store. Munyon's Homoeopathic Home Remedies. Easy to take. Specifics for all common ills. We carry a full line.

DOUBLE DUTY DOLLAR no political significance in this, but it is of the greatest importance to the economical dresser. Here's the opportunity for the thrifty shopper that has been longing for one of Cooper's tailor made suits.

J. F. Sheridan & Bro., COAL DELIVERED PROMPTLY AT REASONABLE PRICES.

OLAF NYSTROM CUSTOM TAILOR Full line samples of all goods, First class workmanship at reasonable prices. Trial order solicited.

THOMAS J. SCOTT, UNDERTAKER, 207 Main Street, Purnell Building, South Manchester.

Don't pay a Botch to Spoil Your Watch. Watch Cleaned - $1 New Mainspring - $1

Don't pay a Botch to Spoil Your Watch. Watch Cleaned - $1 New Mainspring - $1

FOR SALE. Double Tenement House, consisting of 14 rooms on Charter Oak street, opposite Haling Brothers' store, belonging to estate of Calista Hale.

20 1/2 lbs. GRANULATED SUGAR, $1.00

FLOUR

Cheney's Surprise, $4.75 bbl. Strickland's Best, 4.75 bbl.

LARD

7c. per lb. 16 lbs. $1.00.

PORK

7c. per lb. 16 lbs. $1.00.

LOWEST PRICES FOR STRICTLY FIRST CLASS GOODS.

C. D. Strickland & Son. FINE GROCERS.

GO TO A. H. SKINNER'S

when in want of Gloves and Mittens, soft pliable wool wearing goods from the lightest to extra heavy weight.

A LARGE STOCK OF HATS and CAPS

The new NICHOLS are for men. The B-STON TOE for ladies are the latest style in fine footwear, can show a good line from.

$1.25 to $3.50.

The Best is the Cheapest.

The Beauty is the cheapest because it is the best of leather made, perfect safety, no odor, no snags, and cuts on by cent per hour to run. Buy the best. For sale by

A. H. SKINNER.

Commercial Printing.

First National Bank HARTFORD, CONN.

Capital, $650,000. Surplus, $130,000.

NOTEHEADS, LETTERHEADS, BILLHEADS, STATEMENTS, and ENVELOPES

Always in stock and orders filled at short notice.

No Extra Charge for Padding.

Herald Printery.

Assessors' Notice.

The inhabitants of the Town of Manchester liable to pay taxes, are hereby notified and required to return to the Assessors on or before the first day of November next a list of the property owned by them on the first day of 1906, and we will meet them at the following places for receiving their lists, viz:

Cheney Brothers' Hall, October 9, 10 and 12, from 9 a m until 4 p m.

Store of H. S. Keeney, Buckland, October 16, from 9 a m until 12 m.

Woodbridge Hall, Manchester Green, October 10, from 1 p m until 4 p m.

of Manchester News Co., in Rose Block, October 17, 19 and 20, from 9 a m until 4 p m.

Town Hall, October 24, 27 and 28, from 9 a m until 4 p m.

Persons neglecting to attend to their lists on or before the first day of November, will have 10 per cent. added to same.

All owners of bicycles will see the necessity of making a list of same and saving the additional 10 per cent. thereby.

Persons making out their lists will be obliged to make oath to and sign the same.

Blanks can be obtained of the Assessor, Town Clerk and at the several Post Offices in town.

GEO. W. HOWELL, THOMAS J. SMITH, Assessors. Manchester, Conn., Oct. 8, 1906.

THE BERLIN IRON BRIDGE COMPANY of East Berlin, Conn., One Furnish You a Good Corrugated Steel Roof

For a 20 cent per square foot.

NOTEHEADS, LETTERHEADS, BILLHEADS, STATEMENTS, and ENVELOPES

Always in stock and orders filled at short notice.

No Extra Charge for Padding.

Herald Printery.

Assessors' Notice.

Assessors' Notice.

The inhabitants of the Town of Manchester liable to pay taxes, are hereby notified and required to return to the Assessors on or before the first day of November next a list of the property owned by them on the first day of 1906, and we will meet them at the following places for receiving their lists, viz:

Cheney Brothers' Hall, October 9, 10 and 12, from 9 a m until 4 p m.

Store of H. S. Keeney, Buckland, October 16, from 9 a m until 12 m.

Woodbridge Hall, Manchester Green, October 10, from 1 p m until 4 p m.

of Manchester News Co., in Rose Block, October 17, 19 and 20, from 9 a m until 4 p m.

Town Hall, October 24, 27 and 28, from 9 a m until 4 p m.

Persons neglecting to attend to their lists on or before the first day of November, will have 10 per cent. added to same.

All owners of bicycles will see the necessity of making a list of same and saving the additional 10 per cent. thereby.

Persons making out their lists will be obliged to make oath to and sign the same.

Blanks can be obtained of the Assessor, Town Clerk and at the several Post Offices in town.

GEO. W. HOWELL, THOMAS J. SMITH, Assessors. Manchester, Conn., Oct. 8, 1906.

THE BERLIN IRON BRIDGE COMPANY of East Berlin, Conn., One Furnish You a Good Corrugated Steel Roof

For a 20 cent per square foot.

ELECTION IN NEW YORK.

The Good Natured Crowds That Gather to Hear the Returns.

By 10 o'clock Madison square and upper Broadway are thronged and noisy. A searchlight on the tapering tower of the Madison Square Garden swings its beam north and south, east or west, with the varying reports, according to an advertised code of signaling. Now and then the light is thrown down and reveals the stirring thousands of men and women that stand in the plaza, all gazing with upturned faces upon the bulletins displayed at Fifth avenue and Twenty-third street.

The cars plow lanes through the shadowy masses, with urgently clangorous gongs, but the horse cars are simply swallowed up, the people dodging from under the noses of the horses as they wade slowly along, only to close in behind the cars. An inarticulate murmur of satisfaction or discontent and noise of shuffling feet follow the display of each new bulletin, swelling loud and louder as later and more certain messages are spread upon the huge placard.

The crowd is a good natured one and patronizes liberally the "extra" boys, the peddlers of toy brooms and tiny feathered roosters to be pinned to coat, or buys peanuts, candy and cheap cigars from itinerant vendors. To hundreds in it the contest may be a matter of serious personal importance, but though there is plenty of badinage, one hears little acid discussion and witness no rowdiness. As soon as it becomes apparent which side has won arrive those strange companies of youths who seem preserved from year to year for this single appearance. They are fashionably attired and look like college students, but are not, and whence they come and whether they go between times is an unsolved mystery. Blowing tin horns in impious disharmony, waving brooms over their shoulders, symbolic of the "clean sweep," trailing behind a leader in single file or by twos, they dive into the masses of people, wind in and out and round about, singing some campaign song, or shouting in chorus a partisan slogan.

It is stark midnight before the bulletins cease, and the people begin to pack the street cars or troop homeward affrighted through the moonlit avenues and crossways. "Election Day in New York," by Ernest J. Ingersoll, in Century.

BISHOP WHIPPLE MARRIES.

He Is Seventy-four Years Old—His Bride a Young Widow. One of the most interesting personalities in the northwest is the Rev. Henry B. Whipple, bishop of Minnesota, who was married recently to Mrs. Evangeline Simpson at St. Bartholomew's church,

BISHOP WHIPPLE.

New York. Although 74 years old he is as active and as enthusiastic as a man of 40. He was appointed bishop in 1889. On horseback he rode from 3,000 to 4,000 miles a year on his missionary visits among the Sioux Indians.

When the Sioux Indians rose in 1862, Bishop Whipple intervened in their behalf with President Lincoln. In 1888 he preached the sermon at the opening of the pan-Anglican council in Westminster abbey.

His wife is about 35 years old. Her first husband, Michael Simpson, was a millionaire cotton manufacturer in Massachusetts.—New York World.

Wheat Growing in Her Eye.

Three months ago the 7-year-old daughter of Abram Cain, near Sweetser, Ind., got some wheat in her eyes while playing with other children in a granary. No serious inconvenience resulted and the matter was forgotten. A week ago one of the eyes began to inflame and became unbearably painful. The parents, in examining the swollen eye, discovered what was to all appearances a green silver protruding from the corner of the eye. In attempting to remove the substance it broke off. The operation was repeated every day, with the same result, the supposed silver breaking off each time. Dr. Forrest, who was sent for, found a grain of wheat lodged in the corner of the eye with a sprout on it half an inch in length. The sprout was what the parents had been pinching off every day as it grew, thinking it a green silver or splint. The eye is getting well.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

A $100,000 Mausoleum.

Judge Gottfried Krueger, a rich brewer of Newark, N. J., has ordered a mausoleum to be put up on his plot in Fairmount cemetery, and a contract with Joseph O. Schwald was filed in the county clerk's office. The cost of the monument is to be $100,000, and, according to the contract, it is to be finished May 1. Architect Steinhilber says $84,000 is to be paid for the mason work alone.

Windfall for the Kaiser.

Documents recently unearthed in the royal archives prove the emperor of Germany to be owner of the Schloss-Platz, Schloessstrasse, which includes almost the entire Lustgarten. The property was claimed by the city of Berlin, and the question of ownership has given rise to much litigation. The documents just found, however, put an end to all dispute and give to the kaiser a colossal fortune.

British Naval Activity.

In addition to the torpedo boat destroyer Daring, which is about to reinforce the British North American squadron, it is further announced that during the coming winter the battleship Requin, 14 guns, 14,500 tons and 12,000 horsepower, and the cruiser Flora, 10 guns, 4,800 tons and 8,000 horsepower, will join the squadron. The reinforcements in garrison at Halifax are also to be brought up to their full war strength. These measures are the cause of much comment.—New York Sun.

WINTER IS COMING

And I am prepared with the largest and most desirable line of seasonable goods, Robes, Blankets, etc., to be found in Hartford. There never was a time when a little money would go so far, and my customers know that it always went a little further than anywhere else.

A JOB LOT OF HARNESS

I am offering at less than cost to close them out, custom made harness of the best material and workmanship at lowest possible prices. Trunks, traveling bags, Veterinary Medicines, everything that you want in this line, and that will save you more than fifty per cent.

WILLIAM BROWN, 182 Main Street, Hartford, Conn.

"BUT WHY YOU DO DOT?"

CARL DUNDER TALKS.

HE TELLS THE SERGEANT ABOUT A LUMP OF GOLD.

Then He Receives Some Very Excellent Advice From His Friend, the Fat Policeman, and Goes Home Full of Sorrow. Not All Is Gold That Glitters.

The fat police sergeant stood in the door of the station house watching a goat which was hungrily devouring an old Harrison hat which some one had kicked into the street, when Mr. Dunder came around the corner and cheerily called out:

"Hello, sergeant! I shant happened to come around dis vhay, and I guess I shopt a minute to see if you vas all right."

"I thought you had gone back to Germany," said the sergeant as he continued to watch the goat.

"Back to Sherman! I doan' see why I should go back to Sherman. Notings vas two times alike in dis country, but I get used to dot. It vas a nice day, sergeant."

"Y-e-a. Have you had a guardian appointed yet?"

"Why should I haf some guardians?" replied Mr. Dunder with considerable spirit. "If you believe I doan' know how to take care of myself you vas mistaken. A good vvhile ago, when I vas greenhorns, somebody can shwindle me, but I like to see 'em try it on now. If you vas my friend you doan' shpeak like dot to me."

"Then nothing has happened?" queried the sergeant as the goat worried down his third piece of hat.

"Notings has happened. Dot is, nobody has tried some gungames on me. If he did, he vas a dead man in two minutes. Shant one man come along?"

"Oh, a man came along, did he?"

"I said a man came along. Vvas dot somethings to make you shmile? Sergeant, I doan' know dot vvas you lookt to me. Vvas I a boy? Doan' I look like some bean?"

"Mr. Dunder," said the sergeant as the goat got away with the last remnant of hat and looked hopefully around for an old boot, "we will go inside. Now, then, what have you got to say to me?"

"Notings."

"Yes, you have. A man came along. What did he want?"

"He doan' vant notings. He vas a poor, unfortunate man, but he doan' beg of me."

"I see. You are a great friend of the poor, Mr. Dunder. He called on you and—what?"

"Vhell, he came in my place and said vvas I Carl Dunder. I vvas. Dot vas all right. He shant like to gaze on me because he reads of me in der papers. I can't help it if he like to gaze on me, can I? He look so pale and seek dot I pity him."

"Of course. Go on."

"I ask him if he doan' half some seekness, and he cries like a child. By and by he says dot his house in Buffalo gets on fire when he vvas away and his wife and children burn oop. His wife vas a blond, and his children vas angels, and he feels so bad dot he doan' care to live no more."

"Poor man!" sighed the sergeant. "How much money did you give him?"

"I doan' gif him two cents. Dot vas too bad, but I can' gif him no money. He knows dot, and so he doan' ask me. Vhen dot house burns oop, it burns all der shewelry mit it. Dot shewelry melts altogether in one lump, you know, and he hunts around and finds dot lump."

"Exactly, Mr. Dunder. He had the lump with him?"

"Yes."

"And he wants to raise money on it?"

alley," replied the sergeant as he gave it a heave through the open window.

"But why you do dot? Let me pick him oop quick!"

"Mr. Dunder," said the sergeant as he laid a detaining hand on him, "I can buy you all the brass you want at $1 a pound. I feel sorry for you."

"How vvas I sorry for you? Do you believe dot man vvas a shwindler?"

"Of course I do. You have plenty of water at the house, haven't you?"

"Vvas has dot wasser got to do mit him? How you know dot man vvas some shwindler?"

"When you go home, Mr. Dunder, draw a tub of water, put 10 pounds of cornmeal into it, and then soak your head for 24 hours. If you can't soak it off your neck, get somebody to knock it off with a club."

"Sergeant, vvas—vvas I taken in again?" gasped Mr. Dunder as he got so weak in the knees that he had to sit down.

"Yes, you have been played again. That fellow knew you to be the biggest sucker in the state. Which idiot asylum had you rather go to?"

"So—so I vvas beat?"

The sergeant lifted him to his feet and led him to the door and dropped him off the step. Then he pointed down the street and said:

"If you think you can't find your way home, I'll send a small boy with you or write your address on a card."

"Don—den she vvas brass?" murmured Mr. Dunder.

"Yes, she vas brass!" replied the sergeant. "Go home, Mr. Dunder, and be sure and have the water hot and put in plenty of bran."

And Mr. Dunder crept away, with his feet dragging and his back humped, and he turned the corner and vanished from sight without once looking back.

M. QUAD.

In Luck.

"Dear me! Why don't they teach shens to sing? It is so beautiful!"

He—You don't know your luck. I have read the libretto.—Indianapolis Journal.

A Labored Explanation.

Two young husbands were comparing notes on infantile woe.

"That kid of mine," said one, "never seems to holler except when I'm at home."

"Then," said the other, "I suppose he doan't commence until the early morning hours. Now, our baby yells at any and all times. I wish to thunder there was some way of stopping him."

Then the third young husband chimed in the best he could. He stammered.

"A-a-at our ho-ho-ho," he laboriously remarked, "we h-have just g-gug-gug-gug a f-fresh p-pair of"—

"What! Twins?" yelled both the other young husbands.

"N-n-no, not t-twins—g-goric. P-p-paragoric. P-p-nts the bub-bub-baby right to w-walk out the g-gold. This method will not do in the summer, for the smoke hangs in the drifts."

These hardships are but a few which the miner has to deal with. In the winter the cold is so intense that it can be borne only by the hardiest. In the summer the sun beats steadily for 2 1/2 months, never setting, but swinging around in a circle. During this time the heat becomes intense. The first warm rays which melt the snow from the hillsides bring the flora peculiar to that region in all the glory of its magnificence. In the wake of the flowers come the humming birds to sip their fragrance. Mr. Conklin thought the rooster had best leave out about the hamming birds, for fear the readers would accuse him of provarication, but asserted it was true. He also said he used to wonder where all the geese and ducks went on their trip north, but he is now ready to swear that each individual one goes to the Yukon river country.

THE GOLD OF ALASKA.

THE FIELDS ARE REMARKABLY RICH, BUT ALMOST INACCESSIBLE.

Experiences of a Denver Man—Perils of Mining in the Land of the Midnight Sun—The Gold Seeker Is Surrounded by Many Dangers and Inconveniences.

There is a man in Denver who, after braving the perils of a trip to the gold-fields of Alaska, avers that he does not care for any more Alaskan gold if he has to go there and dig for it. This personage is John T. Conklin, who, with his wife, has just returned from the Yukon river district, to which there has been such a mad race by gold seekers for the past two years. The fact that Mrs. Conklin accompanied him on his trip adds interest to the story which he has to tell of his experiences in the land of the midnight sun.

Mr. and Mrs. Conklin went to Alaska last spring via Juneau. There are two routes to the goldfields—that via Juneau, and via the mouth of the Yukon to St. Michaels. The former is the shorter. From Juneau the route is by pack over the coast range to the headwaters of the Yukon, 24 miles from the Pacific coast. Singularly, though the stream has its origin so close to the sea, it is 4,000 miles to the mouth of the river, which in volume is mightier than the Mississippi.

After the headwaters are reached there is still a 80 mile tramp to take the prospector on the 1,000 mile trip to the gold diggings. When deep water is reached, the miner must chop down a few trees, saw out some planks, build a boat and launch it in the stream. He must have with him enough provisions for the trip, with the exception of fresh meat, for he can find plenty of game if he is good enough shot to kill it.

When the boat is finished, the real perils of the trip have just commenced. First he comes to Miles canyon, which takes a skillful navigator, then the White Horse rapids are likely to make trouble, as well as Five Finger rapids, and when he comes to Thirty Mile Bad river there is a current six to ten miles strong in a river filled with rocks which seem to lure the boats to destruction. Mr. Conklin says that they found no one to bury at this point during the past season, but an array of wrecked boats told of disaster, and in previous years scores of bodies have been found below this point and along the rocky shores. It takes a good river man to make the trip without mishap.

But if the fortune hunter is lucky and gets down to Circle City, which is the largest and best of the camps, he has distanced the man who traveled by steamer up the river some time, for the trip takes a month by steamer. But the trip is not ended at Circle City, so named because it is on the arctic circle. The diggings are all 20 to 40 miles off the river, along the streams which flow into it.

Gold was first discovered on Stewart river, which is destined some day to be the great camp of the region. When first discovered the gold was found on the river bars. It began to play out, and when gold was discovered at Thirty Mile and later at Circle City the men left Stewart river. It has since been learned that there is more gold in the smaller gulches than in the river bars, and now the miners are turning back to Stewart river to investigate the gulches of its tributaries.

The most productive gold diggings are in the gravel banks along the smaller streams which branch out in every direction, frozen in winter, but filled with melted snow and ice when the 2 1/2 months of summer set. The miner digs down through the frozen gravel, and when he reaches the gold he beats down the gravel, and when he strikes the dirt he shovels it out, builds a fire around it to thaw it out or spreads it out in the sun. This gold is coarse, as it is called—that is, it is in nuggets, sometimes as large as the thumb nail.

It has been found lately that mining can be carried on in winter in many places, for the frost does not go beyond a certain depth. They dig down through, drift around under the frozen gravel, and when they find pay dirt, they build a fire and sit outside the mine until the fire is out. Then they shovel out the dirt, pile it up and let it lay until spring to wash out the gold. This method will not do in the summer, for the smoke hangs in the drifts.

These hardships are but a few which the miner has to deal with. In the winter the cold is so intense that it can be borne only by the hardiest. In the summer the sun beats steadily for 2 1/2 months, never setting, but swinging around in a circle. During this time the heat becomes intense. The first warm rays which melt the snow from the hillsides bring the flora peculiar to that region in all the glory of its magnificence. In the wake of the flowers come the humming birds to sip their fragrance. Mr. Conklin thought the rooster had best leave out about the hamming birds, for fear the readers would accuse him of provarication, but asserted it was true. He also said he used to wonder where all the geese and ducks went on their trip north, but he is now ready to swear that each individual one goes to the Yukon river country.

Mr. Conklin is of the opinion that the region is destined to be the most famous gold producer the world has ever had, but the hardships to be encountered are likely to keep many away. Miners are coming away every year with gold to the extent of from a few hundred dollars' worth to as high as $60,000, the latter amount being rare. He would not advise any one to go to that country unless he is prepared to spend not less than three years, and with sufficient money to grub stake himself until he has found his claim and can produce some gold. There is plenty of gold there, but it takes time to get at it.—Rocky Mountain News.

Gold Found in Arkansas.

Within the past few weeks a number of miners from abroad have arrived at Hot Springs and are busy prospecting for gold in the mountains adjacent to that city. Rich finds are reported, six miles northeast, and the mining fever is becoming intense. The woods are full of prospectors.

A Cord of Made.

"Tommy, do you know what a string instrument is?"

"Yes, Tom. A hand organ with a money tied to it."—Baltimore Gazette.

Some Potatoes.

A Carterville young lady who recently visited in Piquette county, brings back a marvelous story as to the size of sweet potatoes that grow in that section. "Why, they are so large," she says, "that the people here can eat them up with a chopax."—Carterville (Ga.) News.

PURE, STRONG, RELIABLE.

In the result arrived at by Chemical Analysis of

BOSS'S

Economy, Health and Satisfaction. Results strong and reliable.

E. B. BOSS & CO.

Purifana.

To make the cure of any disease complete and permanent, the purifying, correcting and building-up process must begin and end in the Stomach.

92% of all sickness is caused by a wrong Stomach. Purifana makes the Heart right, the Lungs right, the Liver right, the Blood right, the Kidneys right, the Nerves right, the Health right, because it makes the Stomach right.

The Purifana treatment consists of one bottle of Purifana Tablets, and one bottle of Purifana Tablets, all in one package. Price $1.00.

NEW RELIGIOUS BAND

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH INVITES THE SALVATION ARMY.

Will Put in the Field a Band of Uniformed Soldiers—Meeting Held in New York to Discuss the Matter—The Officers Already Appointed.

The Protestant Episcopal church of the United States is about to organize an army of uniformed evangelists, who will be under military discipline and compete with the Salvation Army and American Volunteers in the field of Christian work among the poor. This important project was decided on at a meeting of prominent clergymen from different parts of the country held in the Church Missions House, Fourth avenue and Forty-second street, New York.

The matter came up for consideration some time ago before the Parochial Missions society. A committee of this representative body was appointed to investigate the army project. Representative clergymen examining the Salvation Army methods as well as those of the church army of England, and a meeting was called to hear its report. Bishop Satterlee presided. The report was read and recommended the adoption of the scheme. After some discussion the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the Parochial Missions Society of the United States will undertake the cautious supervision of the church army as a distinct department of its work for one year; that for this purpose a committee of four shall be appointed, which shall be responsible for the absolute control of the work until such time as a suitable clerical head shall be appointed by the society, with whom suitable committees shall act as an advisory board; that the following suggestion of the special committee reporting on the matter of the church army be adopted as the basis of the executive committee—namely, that there shall be an issue of $100,000 military equipment, each under the own military director, and that these military directors shall have the absolute control of a clerical head, aided by the church army committee of the Parochial Missions society.

The matter of designating the clergymen to serve on a military committee was recognized as a delicate task, as it was well known that the statement would be sure to draw forth much opposition from certain quarters. Bishop Satterlee was spared this disagreeable duty, however, by the offer of several volunteers, and the committee was finally made up as follows:

Rev. Dr. E. A. Bradley, vicar of St. Agnes' chapel, and Rev. Dr. E. Walpole Warren, rector of St. James' church, New York; Rev. W. B. Bodine, rector of the Church of Our Saviour, Philadelphia, and Rev. Newton Perkins, secretary of the church building commission, also of New York. They will be known as the Church Army committee, and will at once proceed to perfect the details of the organization.

The plans will include the best features of the Salvation Army and of the Church Army of England, from which the former organization sprang. Uniformed corps of trained evangelists, under military discipline, will be stationed in different cities. These men will preach in the streets and be aided by bands of music. The work ultimately will include the erection of laborers'

FREE LECTURES ON HOUSEKEEPING.

Miss Maria to Give Weekly Talks at Cheney Hall. A course of six free lectures on good housekeeping will be given at Cheney Hall Wednesday afternoons at three o'clock, beginning next Wednesday, by Miss Maria Parlos, the well known authority on domestic economy.

Local Players Win at Golf. The Orford Golf club gave a tournament on the Center street grounds Saturday in which 35 players took part, among them visitors from Hartford and Springfield.

Local Hoodlums Again. As the Willimantic football players were strolling up North Main street Saturday evening awaiting the train for home one of the boys was struck on the head by an over-ripe apple thrown from a dark alley leading off the street.

THE WIDDER WHARTON. I was overtaken by a man on horseback, who informed me that there had been an accident in the town by which a man had been killed, and that he was then on his way to break the sad news to the widow.

"What you drivin' at?" asked the woman as she gave him a sharp looking over. "We are here today and gone tomorrow," he continued. "We cometh up as a flower and are cut down."

"Who's goin' tomorrow?" she demanded. "If you think I am, you've made a mistake. Whar's the matter with you, stranger—got cramps or sunthin'?"

"Mrs. Wharton, I am the bearer of news." "Waal, what is it?" "It's bad news."

"Let'er come and don't be beatin all around the bush; is taxes goin to be higher?" "No—not that."

"Not to give our lands back to the Injuns?" "No." "Judgment day comin purty soon?" "No, Widder Wharton, we know not what a day may bring forth."

"We are a wife in the mornin and a widder at night, and sich is life." "Who's the widder?" "Mrs. Wharton, our husbands go forth—go forth at the rising of the sun, and—"

AN EXTRAVAGANT HABIT.

The White Haired Veteran and His Great Passion For Whittling. The white haired veteran had a very shame faced look when his wife came up to where he was sitting in front of the general store.

"I was too late, wa'n't I," she exclaimed in a tone of discouragement. Taking a pine shingle from under her shawl, she threw it down and said, "I've driv cattle, an I've plowed land, but keepin track of a man is wuss'n anything I ever tried yet."

"I knowed ye wouldn't think. When a man gits into the way of whittlin, he jes' quits doin ev'rythin else, seems ter me. Soon's he once tastes the joys of whittlin he's satisfied ter go ahead. I put that shingle out on the porch an tol yer exactly whar 'twas. An yet ye come an' whout it."

"It does seem kinder ongrateful in me," he answered. "Tain't the ongratitude as moves me. Ye don't think I hurried down here with that shingle owin ter a fear that ye'd git ongrateful, do ye? I knowed what was goin ter happen. I knowed that ef ye didn't hev nothin else handy ye'd do what ye did before, regardless of expense."

Mr. Outspoken—If you were not so large, Miss Maudlin, I would ask you to dance. Miss Maudlin—I may look laffe, Mr. Outspoken, but I assure you I should feel small enough if I did dance with you.—Collier's Weekly.

Struck It Right. "Yes," said the reader of hats, "I can tell the moment I look at a hat what kind of man the wearer was, how old, whether tall or short, and other characteristics. Oh, it's so rich, I don't know how I came by this theory."

"How do you know?" "By unmistakable signs. The brim is turned up in the back. That comes from often sleeping in haymows or under trees. It is pulled down in front to shade the face from inspection."

"I guess so, old boy," said the host of the occasion. "That's my hat, and when I was on my walking tour this summer I did nearly all you mention. Try another."—Detroit Free Press.

Mrs. Prutting's Dancing Classes. Mrs. Prutting, of Hartford, will give the first lesson of the regular school term to her scholars at Orford Hall South Manchester, Wednesday, Nov. 4.

THE WISE BACHELOR.

What He Has to Say About Men, Women and Children. It would be a good deal more sensible if the men had chaperons. A man never believes that the girl he is going to marry could ever grow as fat as her mother.

When a woman's first baby is 4 months old, she isn't happy till she takes it to a photographer and has its picture taken sitting on a hair rug with all its clothes off. A girl can't be in love and have a bad cold in the head at the same time.

When a man says that nobody cares whether he lives or dies, he isn't advertising himself very well. A woman loves a man better for sometimes hurting her feelings.

When a girl admits that she has a corn, she says she must quit wearing such loose shoes. No matter how poor a stick he is, a woman always thinks her husband is an undiscovered genius.

What He Wanted. The old gentleman looked at the youth rather sharply over the top of his glasses. "I gather from your remarks," he said, "that you would like to be my son-in-law."

Seemed to Remind Him. "Speaking of that yellow old humbug, Li Hung Chang." "By George, I'm glad you spoke of him. If he were here, he would probably ask me: 'How about that letter your wife gave you the other day? Have you mailed it yet?'"

He-Miss Lucelia, I love you madly. Will you be mine? She—This really is so sudden, Mr. Bitsis. I must have time to think it over before I answer you.

An Awkward Addendum. "So both your sisters have married," said the man who puts his foot in it, "and you are the only one left? Excuse me," he hastened to add. "I should have said the only one remaining."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Convenient Phrase. "Who are the deserving poor?" "The poor that those who speak of them never find."—Detroit News.

A ROMAN POMPEII.

ANCIENT CITY UNEARTHED IN NORTHERN WILDS. Professor Alfred Eldridge Explores the Unknown Northern Forests and Returns With Some Remarkable Relics of a Prehistoric Inhabitation.

In the midst of wild Alaska territory, previously unmarked by footprints of modern civilization, an American Pompeii has been discovered by Professor Alfred Eldridge of Montreal. Professor Eldridge left his home in the Canadian city to explore unknown Alaska over four years ago and was thought to have been lost and destroyed by savages in the great northern forests.

When a woman tells you some gossip about another woman, she always begins by saying, "Isn't it awful how she has got herself talked about?" When a woman gets an idea she must be economical, she hunts around and finds an old skirt to rip up.

Before a man is 25 he spends most of his time trying to make the girls think he is a devil of a fellow. After that he spends most of it trying to make them think he isn't. The woman who fusses and scolds and elaps the children for an hour before Sunday school time is often the same one who sits in the parlor all the evening with the blinds up and plays hymns on the melodeon.—New York Press.

He-Miss Lucelia, I love you madly. Will you be mine? She—This really is so sudden, Mr. Bitsis. I must have time to think it over before I answer you.

An Awkward Addendum. "So both your sisters have married," said the man who puts his foot in it, "and you are the only one left? Excuse me," he hastened to add. "I should have said the only one remaining."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Convenient Phrase. "Who are the deserving poor?" "The poor that those who speak of them never find."—Detroit News.

A Complete Success. "Who are the deserving poor?" "The poor that those who speak of them never find."—Detroit News.

A VALUABLE PRESCRIPTION. Editor Morrison of the Worthington Ind., Sun writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for constipation and sick headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal."

THE WISE BACHELOR.

What He Has to Say About Men, Women and Children. It would be a good deal more sensible if the men had chaperons. A man never believes that the girl he is going to marry could ever grow as fat as her mother.

When a woman's first baby is 4 months old, she isn't happy till she takes it to a photographer and has its picture taken sitting on a hair rug with all its clothes off. A girl can't be in love and have a bad cold in the head at the same time.

When a man says that nobody cares whether he lives or dies, he isn't advertising himself very well. A woman loves a man better for sometimes hurting her feelings.

When a girl admits that she has a corn, she says she must quit wearing such loose shoes. No matter how poor a stick he is, a woman always thinks her husband is an undiscovered genius.

What He Wanted. The old gentleman looked at the youth rather sharply over the top of his glasses. "I gather from your remarks," he said, "that you would like to be my son-in-law."

Seemed to Remind Him. "Speaking of that yellow old humbug, Li Hung Chang." "By George, I'm glad you spoke of him. If he were here, he would probably ask me: 'How about that letter your wife gave you the other day? Have you mailed it yet?'"

He-Miss Lucelia, I love you madly. Will you be mine? She—This really is so sudden, Mr. Bitsis. I must have time to think it over before I answer you.

An Awkward Addendum. "So both your sisters have married," said the man who puts his foot in it, "and you are the only one left? Excuse me," he hastened to add. "I should have said the only one remaining."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Convenient Phrase. "Who are the deserving poor?" "The poor that those who speak of them never find."—Detroit News.

A ROMAN POMPEII.

ANCIENT CITY UNEARTHED IN NORTHERN WILDS. Professor Alfred Eldridge Explores the Unknown Northern Forests and Returns With Some Remarkable Relics of a Prehistoric Inhabitation.

In the midst of wild Alaska territory, previously unmarked by footprints of modern civilization, an American Pompeii has been discovered by Professor Alfred Eldridge of Montreal. Professor Eldridge left his home in the Canadian city to explore unknown Alaska over four years ago and was thought to have been lost and destroyed by savages in the great northern forests.

When a woman tells you some gossip about another woman, she always begins by saying, "Isn't it awful how she has got herself talked about?" When a woman gets an idea she must be economical, she hunts around and finds an old skirt to rip up.

Before a man is 25 he spends most of his time trying to make the girls think he is a devil of a fellow. After that he spends most of it trying to make them think he isn't. The woman who fusses and scolds and elaps the children for an hour before Sunday school time is often the same one who sits in the parlor all the evening with the blinds up and plays hymns on the melodeon.—New York Press.

What He Wanted. The old gentleman looked at the youth rather sharply over the top of his glasses. "I gather from your remarks," he said, "that you would like to be my son-in-law."

Seemed to Remind Him. "Speaking of that yellow old humbug, Li Hung Chang." "By George, I'm glad you spoke of him. If he were here, he would probably ask me: 'How about that letter your wife gave you the other day? Have you mailed it yet?'"

He-Miss Lucelia, I love you madly. Will you be mine? She—This really is so sudden, Mr. Bitsis. I must have time to think it over before I answer you.

An Awkward Addendum. "So both your sisters have married," said the man who puts his foot in it, "and you are the only one left? Excuse me," he hastened to add. "I should have said the only one remaining."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Convenient Phrase. "Who are the deserving poor?" "The poor that those who speak of them never find."—Detroit News.