ABOUT TOWN.

Edward Agard is visiting with his parents on Garden street.

Miss Maud Perry will leave tomorrow for Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia.

The Hibernians have voted to change their place of meeting to Foresters' hall.

James Stevenson fell from a coal car in the South Manchester freight yards Wednesday and broke a rib.

The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Matchett, of South Main street, is ill with membranous croup.

The New England Southern Conference will convene at New London April 19th. Bishop Hamilton will preside.

The Ladies of the North Methodist church will hold a cake sale in connection with their sale of samples to morrow afternoon.

Mary Apet had the forefinger of her right hand crushed in a gear at the silk mills yesterday. She is employed in the winding department.

Supt. Adams of the local tramway returned yesterday from New York, where he was called on account of the serious illness of his aunt.

"The Widow McGinty" will be presented at Apet's opera house this evening by the young people of St. Bridget's church. A large attendance is assured.

William Johnson, of Starkweather street, has left the employ of Lydall & Foulds and secured a position in the freight office of the New Haven road at Hartford.

The many friends of J. D. Pickles will be pleased to learn that he is fast improving and was able to sit up yesterday. He is at the home of his daughter in Brooklyn.

The sewer assessment has been the sole topic of conversation at the north end since the publication of Tuesday's Herald. Even the war in the far East has been forced into second place.

J. H. Hale, of South Glastonbury, says that so far everything points to a record yield of peaches for the season of 1905 in this state. Wherever buds have been examined they have proved to be in fine condition.

Rev. C. S. Davis, of Stafford Springs, brother of Rev. W. F. Davis, of the South Methodist church, will resign the pastorate of the Stafford Springs church at the conference.

Tax Collector Richard W. Pitkin will be at the office of The Herald next Thursday for the collection of the town tax. This will be the only visit the collector will make to the north end and he will no doubt have a busy day.

Campbell Council, K. of C., will celebrate their fourth anniversary in Cheney hall May 1. It will consist of a supper, entertainment and dance. The court has purchased a piano and has installed it in its rooms in the Ferris block.

Charles H. Bissell has bought of Charles B. Andrus a building lot on Hollister street. Mr. Bissell has also added to his real estate holdings a building lot on the proposed Orchard street. He expects to build a house on this lot.

Ever Ready Circle of Kings' Daughters will hold a rummage sale next week Friday and Saturday. The sale will take place in the vacant store in the Patten & Brown building. Anyone having articles to contribute may notify Miss Florence Cowles.

Tickets for the concert at the North Methodist church next Monday night are on sale at Balch & Brown's, W. E. Grant's, W. E. Hibbard's and W. B. Cheney's. The concert should be well attended as it will doubtless be one of the musical treats of the season. It is given for the benefit of the church.

Michael Geehan and Harry Thompson were in court Wednesday morning for intoxication and breach of the peace. They were fined one dollar and costs on each count and in default of payment went to jail. Thompson's friends at the bakery paid his fine and he was released Wednesday night.

Thomas F. Feeney, of Pawtucket, R. I., has been engaged as manager of the Rockville ball nine. Mr. Feeney is highly recommended as a baseball manager of ability, having successfully conducted teams in Rhode Island, and at present acting as trainer of the Pawtucket High School nine. He will come to Rockville on April 15, and will be given authority to sign players and look after the details of the management of the game in that city.

See our window display of operettas at 25c. and 50c. at the Kandy Kitchen.

Beef, Iron and Wine, the good kind, containing beef, iron and the imported wine, made in our own laboratory every bottle guaranteed, 45c. John P. Smith, new Hartman block.

New Ideas Patterns 10c. For sale at the Kandy Kitchen.

Smith's Headache Wafers never fail. John P. Smith, new Hartman block.

Willie McConigal, of Union street, is sick with rheumatic fever.

Charles Landers, of Pittsfield, Mass., was in town yesterday visiting F. B. Clarke, of Main street.

J. H. Starkweather and his son Fred attended the ice men's convention at New Haven yesterday.

Jennie Maibiane, who is employed in the silk mills, caught her finger in a gear, badly lacerating it, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Henry Harrison, of Oakland street, has been seriously ill for the past week and on account of her advanced age her recovery is doubtful.

Miss Bessie Wilkinson, bookkeeper at the Palace Market is away on a vacation of two weeks and Miss Eva Elmer, of Wapping, is taking her place.

George Gee, who drives team for Jencks, while caring for his horses last evening was kicked in the face and had his jaw broken. Dr. Gillam attended him.

Park Boyce, of New Haven, called on his friends here today. He was formerly a resident of this town but for the past 10 years has been engaged in the tea business in New Haven.

The Macabees won the first sitting of the whist tournament with the Knights of Pythias last night by 24 points. The next sitting will be held Friday night in Knights of Pythias hall in the Spencer block.

An entertainment will be given in Grange hall, Wapping, this evening to defray the expenses of the graduating class of the Wapping high school. It will consist of reading, and vocal and instrumental selections. There are three members of the class, Marion Foster, Joseph Elmore and Ethel Tuttle.

The lecture by Rev. Ludwig Holmes will be given in the Swedish Lutheran church next Tuesday evening and the April quartet will give selections. The church parlors are being renovated. Mr. Anderson attended the meeting of the Hartford district of the Swedish Lutheran church in Stamford Wednesday.

Bests go on sale Saturday for the concert to be given in Cheney hall, March 22, by the Manchester Singing Society. There will undoubtedly be a large advance sale as the soloists, Mrs. Florence Crosby Cooke and C. Elmore Watkins, are favorites with Manchester audiences and the society has established a reputation for the excellence of its concerts.

In addition to Mr. L. R. Maxwell, the Tufts College Glee Club soloists this year are Messrs L. C. Powers, of Washington, D. C., and H. J. Savage, of Meriden, Conn. The former appears in Bullard's "Tick-Tack Too," the latter in Herbert's "I Can't do the Sum," from "Babes in Toyland." The club will make its annual visit to Cheney hall, Friday, April 14.

Clay pipe smoking is fast becoming fashionable among the younger element of the town. The other evening about a dozen young fellows stood in the neighborhood of the Manchester postoffice all smoking brand new clay pipes. They take great pride in coloring the pipes to a dark brown tint. The clay pipe habit is not the best one on earth but if the boys will smoke the pipes are preferable to the nasty smelling cigarette.

THE TRUTH ABOUT OUR ADVERTISEMENTS. When you read them it is not necessary to use an encyclopedia to translate them. Now for instance on Saturday, March 18th, we will sell the finest rib roast of beef that is on the market for 12 1/2 cts. lb., regular price 20 cts. Fancy legs of lamb 12 1/2 cts. lb. Strictly fresh eggs 23 cts. doz. That's plain enough, isn't it? Hiram A. Grant's Palace Market. Telephone 46-8.

GEORGE F. RICH, AGENT, 100 Main St., Corner Main and Park Sts., SOUTH MANCHESTER, CONN. TELEPHONES: Office 65-2. Residence 65-2.

AT A COURT OF PROBATE HELD AT Manchester, within and for the District of Manchester, on the 14th day of March, A. D. 1905.

Present OLIN R. WOOD, Esq., Judge. Estate of Edward L. Burnham, late of Manchester, in said district, deceased. The administrator having exhibited his administration account with said estate to this court for allowance it is ORDERED: That the 15th day of April, A. D. 1905, at 2 o'clock afternoon, at the Probate Office, in said Manchester, be and the same is assigned for a hearing on the allowance of said administration account with said estate, and this court directs the said administrator to give public notice to all persons interested therein to appear and be heard thereon by publishing a copy of this order in some newspaper having a circulation in said district, and by posting a copy of this order on the public square in the town where the deceased last dwelt, 8 days before said day of hearing and return made to this court.

OLIN R. WOOD, Judge.

THE Universal Market.

This is the place to come and select what you want in the meat lines as we handle nothing but the very best. If you are looking for an extra fine roast of beef or lamb, this is the market to come to. This is lamb, not what you get prizes with. Veal also. It's for the interest of all to know where they can get these things. THIS IS THE MARKET OF THE SQUARE DEAL.

The time has come when the housekeepers of this town should know these things and not pay any attention to these "flattering inducements" that you see offered in order to get your trade. You have been bamboozled long enough. Don't be paying for anything but what is worth paying for, and that is good things to eat.

Legislation will soon put a stop to these catch-penny prizes and it behooves you to be careful. So come to the market of the square deal. I use all just alike. If you want to see first class goods, come here this Friday or Saturday and look them over. Beef, lamb, veal, native dressed chicken and turkey of the finest. Vegetables of most all kinds, lettuce, celery, spinach and cauliflower. You will always find this place neat and clean and that is worth something. Come here and you don't have to think about prices. You only pay for your goods and they are good ones at that.

These people who have been sending out of town for their goods are not obliged to do that any more. If you want heavy steaks or heavy beef you can get them here just as good as at any market in America. My motto is honest weight, low prices, stamps, American policy.

THE MERRY SELL EATS WELL. L. J. O'DOWD, PROPRIETOR.

THE SEWER TAX.

The water isn't so awfully cold after the first plunge. That is the way the residents of the Manchester Sanitary & Sewer district feel now that they know the worst about their sewer assessments.

The officers of the district have done the only thing in their power in ordering the payment of the tax by the first of May, but the district may at a special meeting provide a way to lighten its burden by distributing it over a series of years.

The payment of this tax in a lump would be a great hardship to many. In some cases it would necessitate mortgaging their property; but by dividing it into installments nearly every one can meet the payments in due time without hardship.

SOME DAY A THEATER.

The time is not far distant when Manchester will support a good theater. At present theater-goers are obliged to go to Hartford to see a good performance.

The Hartford theaters are doing an immense business and it is often difficult to get seats for good plays or operas. They have a few such business that they do little toward catering to Manchester patronage.

Amusement goes will move in the line of least resistance. With the Hartford theaters crowded and transportation facilities limited they would prefer to remain at home provided the right kind of attractions were shown in the right kind of a theater.

LIVELY WAR NEWS.

There is plenty of war news these days and it is of the kind which most Americans like to read. The Japanese are conducting a wonderful campaign against Kuropatkin's army and are winning victory after victory.

STREET RAILWAYS.

Predictions That Consolidated Railway Will Absorb Tramway Are Premature.

As a consequence of the purchase of the Hartford street railway by the Consolidated Railway Company the prediction has been made in many quarters that the Tramway line will soon follow the Hartford lines into the Consolidated fold.

The transfer of the Tramway Company, if it ever occurs, is likely to be delayed for some time. The Tramway is a good investment and the holders of its stock are not anxious to sell.

The prevailing sentiment in Manchester is against the sale of the Tramway to the Consolidated. The patrons of the Tramway have had better service than the patrons of the Hartford street railway and so long as the present management controls the Tramway most people believe that the public will get better service than they would if the road were sold to the Consolidated.

THE SUMMER BOARDER.

Many Ways in Which Rural Communities Profit from City Guests.

As a class city boarders are willing to pay good prices, and the business of keeping summer boarders adds to the financial prosperity of about every industry and profession represented in the rural districts.

Manchester's City Government.

Our neighbors in Manchester are having trouble of their own, according to the Manchester Herald. Some of the good citizens there want city government. They feel that the town has outgrown its present system of government and that the time for a change has arrived.

ROCKVILLE JOURNAL SOLD.

Thomas S. Pratt, Veteran Newspaper Publisher, Retires from Business.

Thomas S. Pratt & Son, publishers of the Rockville Journal and general printers, have sold the Journal property to a new corporation known as The Journal Publishing Company and this week retired to engage in other business.

In the retirement of Thomas S. Pratt from the head of The Journal the Herald loses a good neighbor and its publisher a warm friend. Soon after Mr. Pratt took control of The Journal, some twenty-four years ago, he conceived the idea of establishing a paper in Manchester.

TALCOTTVILLE.

Fatal Accident at L. P. Talcott's Saw Mill.

Jacob Goldberg, a boy of 14 years, was accidentally killed at L. P. Talcott's saw mill in Talcottville last Tuesday afternoon, and Merrill Slater, who works for Talcott Brothers, had his right ankle broken and badly bruised.

TAKING ANOTHER NAME.

Nothing in the Law That Prohibits Making a Change.

"Custom has made it almost universal for all male persons to bear the names of their parents," said an attorney of the local court the other morning. "It seems natural that it should be so. Nevertheless there is nothing in the laws of this country prohibiting a man's taking another name, and no legal penalty is attached to his doing so."

"There is a way by which a man may change his name with the sanction of the law, and that is the only safe way. But the law requires him to assign some good reason for the change."

"When an adult applies for leave to change his name he must give his place of birth, residence, age and whether he is married or single and whether there are any judgments against him or outstanding commercial paper in the name which he seeks to abandon."

"The Village Parson."

"The Village Parson," a new drama, will be presented at the North Congregational church here on Wednesday evening by a well balanced company. The play has not only a well constructed plot, but is of intense human interest throughout. There are a great many powerful situations in the piece. In the first act, where a husband and wife separate, the scene becomes one of heartfelt interest and brings copious tears to the audience. The situation in act two is another strong scene in which little Myrtle, the blind child, does some very clever and earnest work, and holds the audience with close attention. The play represents a number of exciting climaxes which enthrall all present.

THE PARSON.

"The Village Parson" will be given with complete stage settings, the scenery being brought by the management. The company includes actors of recognized ability.

High School Notes.

The Boethia program yesterday consisted of three parts. The first part was a rival oratorical exhibition by Willard Rogers, Willard Hunt, Hattie Treat and Florence Shaw. The second part consisted of an exhibition by the "humanophone" in which eight girls took part. Each represented a note which was sounded at the player's touch.

The last number was the play "Burglars" by members of the freshman class and it was pronounced the best play ever given in the high school. The following took part: Chester Hills, Fred Sharpe, Mabel Moore, Ethel Gardner.

The officials of the indoor athletic meet Saturday the 26th, will be as follows: Referee and starter, W. F. Madden; judges Mr. Verplanck, M. Hartman and Elmore Watkins; timers, F. Geer, H. B. House and H. C. Little; scorer, F. Bidwell.

Funeral of Mrs. S. Kuhn.

The funeral of Mrs. S. Kuhn, an account of whose death was published in Tuesday's Herald, took place from her late home on Edward street yesterday afternoon. Rev. C. H. Barber officiated, and he was assisted by Rev. F. R. Waite, of Hartford, who was located at Talcottville for 14 years. A quartet from the North Congregational church, consisting of Mrs. H. L. Tillotson, Mrs. Sherman Mueller, A. L. Brown and J. H. Stannard sang. The bearers were three of Mrs. Kuhn's sons, George, Fred and John, and three of her sons-in-law, Frank Nichols, Sherman Smith and Andrew Apel. The burial was in Talcottville. At the grave a large number of Talcottville people assembled to pay their last respects to the deceased, who had lived so long among them.

BIRTHS.

A CHICAGO ALDERMAN OWES HIS ELECTION TO CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

"I can heartily and conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for affections of the throat and lungs," says Hon. John Shenick, 220 So. Peoria St., Chicago. "Two years ago during a political campaign I caught cold after being overheated, which irritated my throat and I was finally compelled to stop, as I could not speak aloud. In my extremity a friend advised me to use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I took two doses that afternoon and could not believe my senses when I found the next morning the inflammation had largely subsided. I took several doses that day, kept right on talking through the campaign, and I think this medicine that I won my seat in the Council. This remedy is for sale by Cheney's Drug Store and Balch & Brown's."

CARD OF THANKS.

The undersigned wish, through the columns of The Herald, to extend their thanks to the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted them during their recent bereavement. They wish especially to thank the singers at the funeral.

A Measuring Party.

The Ladies' Aid society of the North Congregational church have issued over 400 invitations to a "Measuring Party," which will take place at the home of Mrs. A. J. Straw next Tuesday evening. On the invitation the following verse, which explains the idea of the party, was printed:

A "Measuring Party" is given to you,
"This something novel as well as new."
The invitation is with the sack.
For use in bringing or sending back
Three cents for every foot you're tall,
Measure yourself on door or wall.
An extra cent for each inch give,
And thereby show how high you live.
With music and song, recitation and pleasure,
We will meet one and all at our Party of Measure.

The Coming of Spring.

The roads around town are getting into good condition and bicycles are appearing daily in increasing numbers. The macadam roads are dry and actually dusty. The snow is disappearing slowly and in open lots has entirely vanished. In the woods and other shady places it still remains. March has given us lovely weather so far and the absence of warm rains has avoided the freshets which were feared when the heavy body of snow melted. While conditions are favorable in town the country roads are in bad shape owing to mud holes and snow drifts. Another fortnight will bring spring in earnest. By that time the snow will be all gone and the ground fallow enough to permit planting in some places.

Prohibition Debate.

At the Prohibition Alliance meeting which will be held at the home of E. L. G. Hohenthal next Monday evening, March 20, an interesting debate will be given by four of its members. The parties participating will be Rev. Mr. Davis and John Winterbottom on the affirmative and two gentlemen from Hartford on the negative side. The subject to be debated is: Resolved, that the prohibition of the liquor traffic can be more readily accomplished by specific party, rather than by omni-partisan methods.

Dr. Vail's Funeral.

The funeral of Dr. E. J. Vail took place at his home yesterday afternoon and was attended by a large gathering of his neighbors and friends. Rev. S. W. Robbins, of Hartford, pastor of the Center church for twenty years, conducted the service. In accordance with the expressed wish of the doctor, who was a great lover of violin music Miss Ruth Wood played a violin solo. Mr. C. Elmore Watkins sang a solo and took part in a duet with Miss Wood. The burial was in the West cemetery.

ASIATIC TIGER PROVERBS.

- A tiger's meal—a clutinous repast.
- To face the tiger in his lair—great bravery.
- A winged tiger—cunning added to power and ability.
- After the Chinese the tigers—total devastation of a country.
- A tiger of wood—a harmless being with a dangerous exterior.
- To bring up a tiger and have him turn upon you—ingratitude.
- "Mingohoh," a man enter—a person with an unmanageable temper.
- A tiger with a broken back—rage and fury which are powerless.
- To let go the tail of a tiger—to avoid one danger and encounter another.
- To turn from a deer and meet a tiger—the danger of too much caution.
- Devoured by a tiger—said of a man who wishes to be concealed from his creditors.
- You must enter the tiger's den if you would secure a cub—what is worth having is not procured without risk and trouble.—Washington Post.

PAWBROKERS.

They Are, Says One of Them, the Soul of Generosity.

When a New York policeman recently borrowed jewelry of a pawnbroker on his best to wear to a "party," the story led to much comment. In the opinion of the pawnbroker most of the gossip was entirely uncalled for.

"People are making a tremendous fuss about that little deal," he said. "They seem to think it one of the wonders of the age for a pawnbroker to lend anything unless he gets big interest on it. Pawnbrokers are really the soul of generosity. I make loans every week. Of course I don't let things out indiscriminately. A fellow that can touch me for the use of an umbrella or a diamond ring for the night has to be pretty well known as a square chap who is not going to run off with the goods. There are a number of such men around in this part of town, and when they stand in need of some special convenience that I happen to be able to supply to them from my stock of unclaimed pledges I am glad to accommodate them. The stuff always comes back safe, accompanied by a little tip, so I don't lose anything by trusting my friends.

"I have one woman on my list of borrowers. She and her family have traded here for years. One day she pawned her opera glasses and never got them out, and since then whenever she has a chance to go to the play she asks for the loan of a pair of glasses. She is too good a customer to be refused a little favor like that, so of course get them. In the capacity of a public benefactor I have loaned overcoats, gloves, walking sticks, rings and about everything else known to the masculine get-up. Those loans are made to friends and reliable people only, and no gruffers need apply."—New York Post.

INAUGURATION BALLS.

The First Was Madison's, Saturday Evening, March 4, 1809.

Four hundred guests, as all the contemporaneous accounts agree, gathered at the first inauguration ball, which took place on the evening of Saturday, March 4, 1809, at Mr. Long's hotel, on Capitol Hill, in celebration of the accession to the presidency of James Madison. Each of the three presidents who had preceded him in office had been permitted to close the day of his inauguration by going early to bed. General Washington and John Adams had been inaugurated at temporary places, and Thomas Jefferson would have rebelled against a ceremony plainly modeled upon the customs of royalty, but when Madison's inauguration came the new federal city had been a visible fact for nine years and was determined to assert a right to enjoy itself. Even in doing so it followed a habit always hitherto associated with the celebration of the coronation of kings.

Royal customs were really the only ones the people knew, for every American in Washington over thirty-two years of age had been born the subject of a king, and the new order of things had not given birth to new ideas of how to manifest rejoicing. Moreover, the method chosen seems to have been an imitation of monarchical customs, they should reflect in extension that it is an instinct of man coequal with his feeling the sensation of pleasure to show his joy by dancing. So an official ball closed the day of Madison's inauguration and has closed the inauguration day of every president who has succeeded him—Gallard Hunt in Century.

Pious Parrots.

Parrots are such close observers and keen mimics that it would be surprising if birds in the households of clergy-men and ministers did not repeat sermons and phrases at proper times. Indeed, it would be as well not to hold family worship with a speaking parrot in the room. There was no harm in the bird that sang in good time and tune "There Is a Happy Land." But other feats of imitiveness might easily offend the sanctity of religion. A parrot of the name of the creed or scraps of prayer, as several have been known to do, especially at unseasonable moments, are apt to vex rather than amuse, though, of course, the birds do not mean to be irreverent. A bishop's parrot used to ejaculate "Let us pray," sometimes in devout tones, at other times mockingly.

Caring For Bronze.

The care of bronze ornaments becomes sometimes a little perplexing. It is, however, because of their previous wear of care. Nothing should ever be applied to bronze in the way of preparations. Simple, careful dusting is all that is needed. To remove the purple tinge that sometimes comes the little sweet oil may be gently rubbed upon the discolored portion; but, as a rule, the dusting will be found to be sufficient.

The Birds Interfere.

"You know," said the Rev. Mr. Goodman, "the Bible assures us that what ever we sow that shall we reap."

"Which proves," replied Subbus, "that the Bible isn't infallible. Suppose you sow garden seeds and your neighbor keeps chickens?"—Philadelphia Press.

Appearances.

Never be induced by external appearances in forming your judgment of a person's worth. This is an important rule, for many a noble spirit is covered by habiliments of poverty, while not infrequently a showy exterior conceals a villain of the basest kind.

The slander of some people is as great a recommendation as the praise of others.—Fielding.

A WASH GOODS STORY IN ONE CHAPTER...

THE BOYS' SUITINGS.

The boys—lively youngsters who have a right to play in the dirt and drive laundry maids to despair—have been carefully provided for this season. In fact, we will confide solely to the boys' little sisters are jealous that we have made an especial effort this year to provide material for suits such as boys who expect to be president some day should wear. We realize that a boy wants a roomy, light, comfortable suit and one that washes so well that his mother isn't tempted to keep shouting, "Keep off the grass."

Now then, boys, tell Mamma that we've got some Galateas, some made in this country, and others made across the big pond, at 15c and 35c a yard that are all right.

There is a colored cotton and linen mixture that any mother will feel glad to put the boy into, 27 inches wide, 19c a yard.

LINENS.

Brown linens, 36 inches wide, at 25c and 35c a yard.

Dark linens, just the thing for a boy's knockabout suit for a lively boy, 27 inches wide, 29c a yard.

Twilled brown linen in white, brown and red stripes, 27 inches wide, 25c a yard.

For dress-up suits for show occasions to help the boy look even more than usually attractive we want you to see the shrunk linens, white ground with dainty blue and black stripes, 27 inches wide, 50c a yard.

Then, too, we must not overlook the English piques, very dainty, very desirable for a nice suit after a boy has had his face washed, 42c and 50c a yard.

Moreover, we have complete assortments of figured dotted Swisses, dimities, lawns and batistes, all new patterns. Only 12c a yard.

We have searched every large market for the best boys' suitings. The best is none too good for your boy. Come here for the goods.

SANFORD M. BENTON, Town Clerk.

Sleeping in church. "Some men preach," said Sydney Smith, "as if they thought sin is to be taken out of a man as Eve was taken out of Adam, by casting him into a profound slumber." So at any rate thought not South, who, preaching one day at Whitehall, observed King Charles II. and several of his attendants asleep. Stopping down, he cried out to one of the delinquents "My lord, I am sorry to interrupt you, but if you snore so loud you will wake the king." His majesty thereupon awoke and, turning to his neighbor, remarked with his accustomed good nature: "This man must be made a bishop. Remind me on the next vacancy."
