MAIN STREET LINES ADOPTED TROLLEY SERVICE WAY OFF.

Selectmen Decide That Projected Lay-Out Will Stand.

The selectmen have decided to stick to their guns in regard to the projected street lines on Main street and as a result have ordered the street boundaries established and recorded by the town clerk. Maps of the street from the railroad crossing at the North end to Charter Oak street at the south end, which were exhibited at the recent hearing, are declared to be official and will also be put on record at the town clerk's office. So far as the selectmen are concerned this ends the matter. If any of the property owners are not satisfied with their action they may take recourse in law the same as any aggrieved party in a controversy. The selectmen will notify by circular the various property owners on the street of the board's decision.

While the above announcement will prove of an interesting nature to many residents about town, the action of the board was generally expected by the majority of property holders along the street. At the hearing the chief objection came from residents north of Middle Turnpike, where the street will be uniformly 60 feet wide. The greatest cut comes in front of the Adams, Vibberts and Carter properties. Here the cut at its widest point is about seven feet and brings the street line well beyond the line of shade trees which stand within the sidewalk.

South of Middle Turnpike the established layout makes the street taper from 60 to about 50 feet in the neighborhood of Flower street. Beyond, the east line was established some years ago and here the street again widens for a short distance. South of the Center Main street attains its greatest width, 123 feet, and at Charter Oak street tapers to about 62 feet. No objections were entered at the hearing to the proposed lines south of the Center.

At the hearing Judge Bowers appeared for the Adams and Vibberts interests. His contention was to the effect that the selectmen's powers were limited to the reestablishment of old boundaries and the determination of uncertain boundaries. As the original lines, which determined the highway as a thirty rod road, were hopelessly lost many years ago Judge Bowers's contention, logically carried out, meant that the board had no power in the matter. This contention evidently was not allowed by the board. While the board is yet silent on the subject the inference is generally taken that nothing more than what has already been done, viz., the declaration and recording of the boundaries, will be undertaken for a long time to come. Eventually should curbs and stone walks be desired by the residents, the curbs and walks will probably be laid according to the established boundaries.

Remember we are making molasses, kisses, peanut brittle and various other candy. Kandy Kitchen.

Complainants Voice a Variety of Reasons for the Trouble.

The service on the local trolley lines has certainly been pretty raw for the past week or ten days and the people are justly kicking. Some days the cars have been off time even in the forenoon, and after four o'clock in the afternoon they have been anywhere from ten minutes to a half hour late. Several causes are given for so much delay in the traffic. One is that there is too much freight being handled on the lines. Another is that the little bob-tailed cars on the Rockville line can not make the schedule time. Early this week several of the three-quarter cars were put on that line, but that did not seem to relieve the situation.

GRAVEL ROAD FOR BOLTON.

State to Improve Four Thousand Feet of Road Including "Nigger Hill."

It will be good news to Manchester people to learn that "Nigger Hill" in Bolton is to receive attention from Road Commissioner Macdonald. It is one of the worst pieces of road for automobiles in this neighborhood. The hill is steep and uneven and at the bottom very sandy. The road commissioner has decided to build 4,000 feet of gravel road in the town of Bolton, which will take in the famous "Nigger Hill." Bids for the work will be opened in the road commissioner's office next Friday afternoon at two o'clock. The hill will be cut down several feet and the low spots in the road filled in. The road is well traveled by automobile tourists.

Kicked by Horse, Seriously Ill.

Clarence A. Hodge, teamster for Judson Nettleton, was kicked by a horse early Wednesday morning and is in a very serious condition. This noon it was feared he would not recover. Mr. Hodge went to the barn Wednesday morning to feed the horses and just as he was about to enter the stall one of the horses that he drives kicked him in the stomach. Dr. Sharpe was called at once and has been in attendance two and three times every day since the accident occurred. Dr. Sharpe has called another physician in consultation and an operation will probably be necessary. Mr. Hodge has been employed by Mr. Nettleton for a number of years and lives on Parker street.

Broke Knee Cap.

Ernest Baker, a carpenter employed on the building of the Barr Nursery store house, fell from the scaffolding this forenoon and injured the cap of his knee. He is a stranger here and Dr. Higgins, who was called to attend him, advised his removal to the Hartford hospital. He was taken to the city on the noon train.

DE STEPANIS BOUND OVER.

Principals in the Oak Street affray Must go Before Superior Court for Trial.

After an all day's session Wednesday Judge Arnott found probable cause in the case of Vincenzo and Raphael De Stepani, charged with assaulting, with intent to kill, John Cosano on the night of September 28, and bound them over to the December term of the superior court under $5000 bonds each. It was after 9.30 when court opened and two minor cases were first disposed of, after which the De Stepani brothers were put on trial.

It was necessarily a slow procedure as the services of an interpreter were required. When Joseph Sardella was asked to act Cosano said, "I don't want him. He offered me $100 to keep still." Mr. Sardella was accepted as an interpreter, however, but his work was not satisfactory to Attorneys Quinn and Bowers, counsel for the defense, nor to Judge Arnott and at 10.25 an adjournment was taken to obtain another interpreter. Chief Sheridan succeeded in getting James V. Farrand and the hearing was resumed at 11.15. The case dragged on for two hours more and at 1.20 p. m. another adjournment was taken for lunch.

Up to this time only the state's witnesses had been introduced and when the afternoon session opened at three o'clock two more witnesses were on hand, but they were not used. Prosecuting Attorney Burke began immediately on summing up the case, after which Attorneys Quinn and Bowers gave their arguments and Mr. Burke closed with his rebuttal. The defendants' counsel made strong pleas for their clients and asked the judge in case of a bind over, to make the bond, while heavy enough for the protection of the state, light enough for the defendants to obtain bondsmen and secure their freedom until the opening of the superior court in December. Mr. Burke insisted on a bond of $5,000 each and Judge Arnott followed the recommendation of the prosecutor and fixed the bonds accordingly.

The story of the affray, as gathered from the evidence introduced by the state was practically the same as told in last Friday's Herald. Vincenzo De Stepani and John Cosano had trouble over a card game in Johnson's saloon on the night of Saturday, September 25. The following Tuesday night these two men and Vincenzo's brother, Raphael, were in the same saloon but they did not speak to each other. Cosano left the saloon about ten minutes of eleven and just as he got outside he saw two men walking slowly ahead of him. He did not recognize them at first but as he was about to pass one of them said, "You say nothing to me? Come on I want to kill you." With that the man, claimed by Cosano to be Vincenzo, whipped out a revolver. Cosano seized him by the arms and in the struggle which followed the former received a bullet wound under the left arm. Cosano said two shots were fired and that the first one hit him. He also claimed that Raphael beat him over the head with a club.

Dr. Gillam testified as to having attended the injured man and said that in addition to the bullet wound under the arm Cosano had a scalp wound on the left side of the forehead and also a number of bruises on the back of the head. Cosano's shirt, showing the bullet holes and the blood stains, were exhibited and the man's shirt was taken off and the position of the wound was shown to the court.

Officer Glenney testified as to the arrest. He heard the report of the revolver and, when he reached the men, found Vincenzo and Cosano clinched. Just before he came upon them he saw Raphael in the act of throwing something over the fence near Hollister's coal yard and the revolver was afterwards found there.

The evidence which would tend to show the intent of the assault was that given by Joe Rossi. He was playing cards with Vincenzo and Cosano on the previous Saturday night and left the saloon with them. He saw them go up Oak street, one on either side of the road. Raphael, who had been playing pool, afterwards came out and asked for his brother. Rossi said he didn't know, it wasn't any of his business but he thought Vincenzo had gone home. Rossi, Raphael and some other fellows started up Oak street and had not gone far when Raphael heard his brother talking loudly. He ran on and met Vincenzo. Cosano had then gone home. Rossi said that when they reached the house where Vincenzo and Raphael lived, the latter went into the house and quickly returned, saying, "Let's go after him," but Vincenzo said "No, I'll get him some other time."

In the early evening of September 28 Rossi met Vincenzo in Sardella's store and the latter told him he ought to have a bullet in his head for not telling his brother the Saturday night before that he, Vincenzo, had gone home with Cosano.

In summing up the case Prosecuting Attorney Burke said that in his opinion the state had introduced enough evidence to show the intent of the defendants and claimed that he had further evidence to strengthen that opinion. On the other hand the defendants' counsel argued that the assault was more of a drunken brawl than anything else. Vincenzo and Cosano had grappled with each other and in the struggle the revolver was discharged and Cosano was wounded. It was not a serious wound and in all probability the man would be all right in a few weeks. They also said that it was probable that Raphael had taken the part of a peacemaker and had tried to separate the other two men. His action in throwing away the revolver as soon as he got it, they thought, would show that he wanted to put it where neither of them could get it again. Even if assisting his brother in the fight, he was doing no more than any man would do.

Judge Arnott however found probable cause and bound the men over to the superior court.

Farming a Profession.

Farming is no longer a go-as-you-please business. Farming has experienced a great revolution. Methods that were in vogue a century ago, or even a generation ago, have been superseded by newer and better methods. While farming has not progressed as rapidly as the so-called trades and professions, nevertheless it has steadily advanced, and the progress that has been made is sure and permanent.

Farming is fast becoming a business of specialties. General farming, so-called, is fast passing away. The most progressive agriculturists of the present decade are men who are devoting their chief attention to some one special line of endeavor, or to endeavors that are closely akin to each other. This is an age of specialization, and the desire to become specialists has invaded the province of agriculture. It cannot be denied that farm conditions are steadily and rapidly improving under the influence of specialization.

With specialization has come organization. Organization is one of the watch-words of the new agriculture. Farmers are organizing all along the line and by so doing they are taking advanced positions in line with the other professions and trades. In short, farming is a profession in the broadest sense of the term. It is no longer a makeshift for earning a livelihood. The progressive farmers of this generation—and we have legions of them and their ranks are daily increasing—are totally unlike their forefathers in methods, temperament, and business acumen. In no sense do we disparage the noble attainments of our fathers. They bore themselves honorably in their day and generation. Times have changed, however, and methods have changed in consequence. A farmer nowadays must live in daily touch with the outside world. He must familiarize himself with transportation, commerce, trade conditions and legislation. In short, he must be a business man. Farming is, indeed, a business—a profession. Never before has agriculture demanded the same high order of intelligence that it does today. Young men need not migrate to the cities in search of a forum in which to display their intellectual attainments. The farm of the twentieth century is both a school and a forum where intellect is cultivated and brain power is put to its test. Farming is not only a profession, but more and more it is demanding the exercise of professional instincts and attainments. The more we study the subject the more convinced we become that the farmer of the present day must be a scientist, a financier, a commercialist, and an organizer.—Connecticut Farmer.

THE PARSONS THEATER.

"The Round-Up."

"The Round-Up," which is appearing at the Parsons Theater all this week, is demonstrating that a Western play, even when accompanied with a tremendous amount of gun play, can be made something more than a melodrama of the type that has become more or less connected with one's impression of the drama of the plains. The remarkable scenic effects, as well as the realistic battle scene and the round-up itself, are made the results and not the cause of the dramatic action of the plot. There will be three more performances of the play before it closes its successful engagement in this city.

"The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary."

L. S. Sire will present May Robson in Anne Warner's delightful comedy, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," at the Parsons Theater next Monday and Tuesday evenings. For the past two seasons Miss Robson has appeared in this comedy in every large city from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, and the critics have endorsed it as one of the cleverest and best comedies seen on the stage in years. The play is filled with breezy and delightful dialogue. The part of Aunt Mary, as portrayed by Miss Robson, is a delightful piece of work. The seat sale opens tomorrow.

SELECTMEN ORGANIZE.

Meeting Held Tuesday Evening When Officials for Ensuing Year Were Chosen.

The newly elected board of selectmen met and organized at the Hall of Records Tuesday evening. The full board consisting of the following were present: Horace B. Cheney, John M. Williams, William E. Alvord, Arthur E. Keeney, Samuel E. Dart, republicans and Clinton W. Cowles and Thomas F. Harrington, democrats. The board chose the same officers as last year, viz. H. B. Cheney, chairman, and John M. Williams, secretary.

W. E. Alvord, C. W. Cowles and J. M. Williams were appointed members of the joint board of selectmen and school visitors. W. Leroy Ulrich was reappointed road superintendent at a salary of $110 a month, an increase of $10 a month over last year. J. S. Risley was reappointed charity superintendent at a salary of $50 per month, this being the same as last year. J. F. Sheridan was reappointed chief of police at the same salary as in the past. F. A. Verplanck, Thomas Gray, William Gleason, T. J. Smith and J. Clement Bushnell were appointed truant officers. Secretary Williams was instructed to keep a docket of unfinished business. This method was followed by the secretary last year and is done in order to keep track of work ordered done by the board.

Chairman Cheney was authorized to negotiate a loan for the purpose of meeting accrued bills, which will be approved and ordered paid at the first public meeting of the board. The board decided to hold its first public meeting Monday evening, October 11 at eight p. m. in the Hall of Records. The board decided to call a special town meeting for Tuesday, November 2, for the purpose of voting on the acceptance or rejection of the amended act concerning the nomination of candidates for public office, and the number, powers and duties of town officers. The amendment was passed by the last Legislature and contained a referendum clause, necessitating the approval of the act by the voters before it can become law. Section 28 of the amended act provides that the special town meeting shall be called at nine o'clock in the forenoon and close at eight o'clock in the evening. The vote will be taken in the regular form of an election, a ballot box being provided for the purpose. The ballots will read, "Yes" and "No," those voting "Yes" favoring the adoption of the amendment and those voting "No" being opposed.

POLICE COURT.

James Harrison, who was arrested Tuesday forenoon by Chief Sheridan, was found guilty of intoxication in the police court Wednesday morning. He was fined $5 with the costs, amounting to $11.32, and was given two weeks in which to pay.

James O'Connell, who has been before the local court a number of times, was in court again Wednesday morning, charged with intoxication and breach of the peace. Officer Madden received a complaint about O'Connell early Tuesday evening and, accompanied by Probation Officer Goslee, went to his home in the Day block on Charter Oak street. O'Connell was found in an intoxicated condition and as the officers approached the house they heard him using abusive language to his wife. When Probation Officer Goslee tried to reason with him he talked back, saying that he wasn't an old woman and wasn't going to tell all he did. He also abused Officer Madden and at last it was decided to lock him up.

O'Connell was put on probation on August 13 with a jail sentence of 30 days hanging over him. Judge Arnott revoked the suspension of judgment in that case and on the new charges gave O'Connell, 15 days more for intoxication and fined him $5 for breach of the peace.

HEROIC TREATMENT.

Several of the London suffragettes, committed to jail for breach of the peace, won their freedom from custody by refusing to take any food. So determined were they to acquire the honors of martyrdom for the cause, that there was every reason to believe they would stick to the starvation plan to the bitter end, and so they were preferred discharged, as the authorities were unwilling to have any association with the self murder of their fair prisoners. Now a disciplinary plan has been adopted, and it is said to work well. The prison doctor at Birmingham fed two of the would-be martyrs with a stomach pump. After one or two "meals" served up in this way, the ladies were more than content to fall back on the more conventional practice of deglutition.—Stamford Advocate.

MORE WORK FOR ASSESSORS.

Amendments to Tax Laws Will Make Considerable Extra Labor For the Board.

Following Monday's election the board of assessors, composed of Messrs. Vibberts, Johnson and Albiston, held a preliminary meeting for organization. H. L. Vibberts was chosen chairman and clerk and then the assessors fell to discussing the question of the new assessment. Section 2322 of the general statutes, which covers and defines real estate liable to taxation, was amended by the last Legislature through the efforts of Tax Commissioner Corbin and the amendment makes it obligatory upon owners of property liable to taxation in making their lists to list separately dwelling houses and buildings, and the land upon which the structures stand. The law requires that the houses and other buildings be listed at their present true and actual valuation. Land and separate lots, except house lots, shall be listed at their average present and actual valuation by the acre.

The above mentioned changes in the tax law will of necessity add to the labors of the assessors, but owing to the shortness of time, caused by the late adjournment of the Legislature, the tax commissioner has ruled that the letter of the law will not be enforced this year. Next year the assessors will have plenty of time to give the matter full consideration and property will be more closely scrutinized. To make clear to property owners the full meaning of the change in the law it must be explained that the old law allowing two full acres of land to be listed with a dwelling has been repealed so that now the house and other buildings, if such there be, must be valued separately by the owner or agent. Then a value must be placed upon the lot upon which the buildings rest. Building lots must be valued as building lots and other property is allowed to go in by the acre. Under the old scheme houses of equal value were listed the same regardless of their location. Now, however, while the houses may be valued as of old, the land upon which they are situated must be figured at its actual value. The new lists are itemized according to the recent amendment.

From now until Friday, October 15, the assessors will spend a good portion of their time about town looking over new buildings and remodeled structures. The first session of the board will occur Friday, October 15, at the Hall of Records and will be continued from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. until Friday, October 22. The second session of the board will begin Monday, October 25, and last until Monday, November 1, inclusive, from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m. daily.

The board requests that all who can will appear during the day sessions. The evening sessions are designed especially for those who are unable to appear during the day. Piano owners are urged to list same in order to avoid the ten per cent addition. All property must be bounded as under the old rule. Another change in the taxing laws requires that non-residents file lists, made out and sworn to either personally or by agents legally qualified. The penalty for failure in this matter is ten per cent additional, the same as with resident property owners. The assessors also call to the attention of resident property owners that lists will be accepted only from them or legally appointed agents. The official notice of the assessors appears in this issue of The Herald.

HEARST AND TAMMANY AGAIN.
The majority night in Greater New York may now be declared as on and for the next three weeks and a half the muck rakers and mud slingers will be taxed to exhaustion in an endeavor to dig up new epithets to apply to the opposing candidates and their backers. Judge William J. Gaynor, whose candidacy has been endorsed by Tammany, naturally advances into the fire zone first. The New York Sun, far famed for cutting satire and bitter invective, has already shot its initial bolt and from now on will without doubt keep up a galling fire. W. K. Hearst, who was beaten four years ago by McClellan and Tammany, has again been nominated for the position. Hearst claims to be unwilling to run again and indicates that if Gaynor will only refute Tammany he will lend him his unequalled support. Gaynor has not given any sign that he will repudiate the Fourteenth Street organization and it is doubtful whether Hearst expected him to. The head of the yellow journal syndicate has promised to give his answer today as to whether he will again accept a nomination. From present indications he probably will not refuse. It would be unnatural for Hearst not to be opposed to Tammany and as Gaynor will no doubt stick to the Tiger a three cornered fight may be expected at least. It will be difficult for Hearst to marshal the command that he had four years ago when his campaign was started much earlier in the season. From present indications things look pretty good for Gaynor and Tammany.

A FAKED STORY.
According to dispatches from Washington there will be no further joint National Guard and Regular Army maneuvers if the officials of the war department have their way. The reasons for this decision were said to be based upon the results of the recent mimic war in Massachusetts. It was claimed that the men in the held were compelled to undergo altogether too many hardships and that they have since suffered severely from illness caused by exposure and lack of food when it was needed. The dispatches caused considerable wonderment among residents of this section of the state for the results alluded to by the war department correspondents were unknown hereabouts. While the men came home tired and more or less stiff and sore from their unwonted exercise in the field so serious complaints were heard from any of the enlisted men. General Leonard Wood, who had charge of the maneuvers, comes out with a strong statement contradicting the story from Washington and tending to show that the men were not ill-used or made sick as a result of the week's campaign. The general's statement, seems to be borne out by the facts as observed from here and his prompt action in nailing a fake story at the start off will doubtless tend towards silencing other slanderers of the army.

FINED FOR ASSAULT.

Buckland Farmer Punished for Fighting With His Hired Man.

Louis Polat of Buckland was in court this morning charged with assaulting Timothy Foley Jr. last Tuesday. According to Foley's story he asked Polat for some money that was coming to him, they had some words about the matter and Polat then gave him a beating. He exhibited two badly blackened eyes as proof of the punishment he had received. Polat pleaded not guilty and afterwards gave his side of the story. He said they had trouble over some money which Foley asked for, and that the latter called him names and then pitched on him. He tried to get away but Foley seized him by the collar. He pushed him away several times but did not strike him. Ezra Irish, who works for Polat and who saw the mixup, told about the same story. He said the men were quarreling and about the same time their dogs got into a fight. He did not think the men were doing any harm to each other so he turned his attention to the dogs. By the time he had separated the dogs the men were having a good fight and he had to separate them. He said Foley was the aggressor and was trying to hit Polat and the latter was striking Foley to keep him off. Prosecuting Attorney Burke thought Foley's face was enough evidence that he was the assaulted man and Deputy Judge Mills found Polat guilty and fined him $5 and costs, which were paid.

A BIG SUCCESS.

Hibernian Fair Nightly Attracts Large Crowds and Provides a Bushel of Fun for All Hands.

The Hibernian fair, which opened in the Armory Tuesday evening, has been largely attended each night and from all indications will be a big success. A varied program was given last evening and was greatly enjoyed by those present. LeRoy & Appleton, who have appeared here on previous occasions, gave a number of sensational acrobatic feats, Arthur E. Keating favored with tenor solos, and Mahoney and Grazel gave a Jewish comedy, entitled, "The New Bartender." Weiman Brothers were the whole thing on the opening night when they gave an amusing comedy, entitled, "A Night in a Chinese Laundry." They wore costumes to represent a Chinaman, negro, German, Irishman, Jew, Swede, a hobo and policeman, and sang solos, quintet and chorus numbers, and played on a great variety of instruments. Wednesday evening C. Sherman Ripley, the magician, entertained the people with sleight-of-hand tricks and J. Kenna Lawson appeared in songs and monologues. Tonight the program will be furnished by the Home Quartet, consisting of George H. Veitch, Edward F. Taylor, Ben N. Parker and Fred J. Bendall. They will give a musical sketch entitled, "The Reunion." The program each evening has been followed by dancing. This will be the order tonight, but tomorrow night there will be no stage entertainment. Dancing, however, will be enjoyed all the evening and the fair will close with the awarding of the prizes.

MUSHROOMS GALORE.

Hunters of the Toothsome Fungi Have Been Enjoying Themselves to the Limit Lately.

Lovers of the variety of fungus or mushroom known to naturalists by the high sounding title of "Agaricus Campestris" have been unusually successful hereabouts during the past few days. The close cropped pastures and fields in and around town have been fairly white with the high priced and often scarce edible and the wise ones who can tell by the weather just when the fungus is most apt to be pushing its brownish white head through the short grass, have been on their jobs from the start. It takes an early start too, if you are going to get your share of mushrooms, for, like the early bird, the mushroom hunter is up betimes and away to the fields. Baskets and stiff wide mouthed paper bags are the favorite receptacles for gathering mushrooms. This is because the fungus is of a fragile nature and would be easily broken or mashed if subjected to pressure. One of the favorite places among south end people for gathering mushrooms is the golf grounds to the east of Summit street. Last Saturday and Sunday were just about the finest kind of growing days for mushrooms and it is no exaggeration to say that bushels of them were picked up in the lots about town. One man, who makes a practice of following the hunt regularly each year, says that this has been an especially good season for mushrooms. He was willing to bet dollars to doughnuts that more than ten bushels were gathered on the golf grounds Saturday and Sunday. Usually the mushrooms are to be found in short grass pastures, but this year they appear to be everywhere. Some people have been lucky enough to pick up a quart or two on their lawns before breakfast. People who make a fad of fungus hunting profess fondness for a half dozen varieties. Some of these strange forms grow in the woods and are carefully shunned by the ordinary gatherer of mushrooms. The puffball, which is usually kicked to pieces by the collector of field mushrooms, is also eaten by some people, who declare it to be a delicacy. The variety commonly collected is easily distinguished by the regular hunter and may be identified by amateurs from the following characteristics: It possesses a brownish white covering which is readily peeled and when removed discloses a clean white under surface. It has a short thick stem which may also be peeled. From the juncture of the stem and cap, pink gills radiate towards the edge of the cap. That is, the gills are pink in the young mushroom, but as it grows older and larger the gills turn brown and eventually grow black. The young mushrooms, which grow in a night, are the only kind really worth gathering. The older ones are apt to be wormy. Mushrooms frequently grow to a diameter of several inches, but the button size is the most desirable.

OFFICERS ELECTED.

High School Girls Plan for Gym. Work and Basket Ball.

The members of the girls' athletic association of the South Manchester high school have elected the following officers: President, Miss Marion Hall; vice president, Miss Hazel Gould; secretary, Miss Marion Richmond and treasurer, Miss Emma Rau. The girls formed this association last year as a physical culture class and under the instruction of Miss Nellie B. Walter, teacher of gymnastics in the Ninth district schools, spent one afternoon a week in the gymnasium doing athletic exercises. The girls also had a basketball team but played no teams outside of the local high school. This year practically the same program will be carried out but it is hoped that the basketball team will be allowed to play teams from other schools. Bristol high has a girls' basketball team and if possible games will be arranged with this. Captain Olson of the South Manchester high school basketball team will call out the team for light practice a week from next Thursday. The Boethia program at the high school this afternoon was arranged by Miss Burns, instructor of modern language, and was as follows: Reading, Miss Ruth Nichols; violin solo, Miss Hazel Trotter; monologue, "A Trip to a Store," Miss Jennie B. Wind; piano solo, Miss Ethel Ward and dialogue, Edward Ballsieper and Max Taylor. At the high school senior exercises yesterday afternoon, Miss Gertrude Duogan spoke on "The Training of the Will" and Philip H. Carney on "Henry Hudson."

ROBBERY AT HIGHLAND PARK.

Youthful Burglars, it is Thought, Pull Off a Job at B. S. Carrier's Store.

On opening his store yesterday morning B. S. Carrier, postmaster and proprietor of the general store at Highland Park, discovered that the place had been entered during the night by burglars, youthful burglars if appearances go for anything. The thieves took so far as has yet been discovered, a liberal supply of cigars, four pairs of shoes and thirty cents from the cash drawer. They went out the way they came in, down the cellar stairs and through a cellar window. Mr. Carrier notified the police who made an investigation. No clue other than the belief that the job was pulled off by boys, has been discovered. The post office department was not touched so the burglars will not have to worry about "Uncle Sam" getting after them. The postoffice at Highland Park has been robbed on an average once a year for the past eight years.

How Pittsburg and Detroit Teams Size Up In Coming Series For the World's Championship.

By TOMMY CLARK.
WITH the baseball pennant races in the National and American leagues completed, it is but natural that the fans should turn their attention to the coming series between the Detroit and Pittsburg teams for the world's championship, to start Oct. 8 in Pittsburg. The chances are that the baseball world will see the first really hard fought series of games since such a contest has become the classic event of the diamond.

FRED CLARKE, MANAGER OF THE PITTSBURG TEAM.

1907 and 1908 the Cubs practically walked away with the championship over the Detroit Tigers. It was too one sided to be interesting.

When Pittsburg and Detroit meet the betting should be even money and take your pick. If the Cubs could have won in the National league the betting would have favored Chance's men. But Pittsburg plays a different game of ball and is not rated as high as the Cubs, even though they beat them out this year. The speculative element is firmly convinced that the Tigers stand a better chance of winning from Pittsburg than they would from the Cubs.

Pittsburg has a great batting team, and it was due mostly to the Pirates' great slugging ability that the team managed to win this year's flag. Detroit is also strong with the stick. So it will be a case of slugger against slugger when the two teams clash.

Do not understand, however, that Pittsburg and Detroit are entirely lacking in science. That would be impossible. There is a player on the Detroit team and one on the Pirates who are absolutely the best base runners in the world. The men referred to are Ty Cobb and Hans Wagner. As individuals they have no superiors—in fact, they have no equals.

Where the Tigers and Pirates lack in science is in their inability to formulate and execute a daring or clever play at the moment when it will count. In their games with the Cubs the Tigers met so many sudden surprises that interfered with their base running that they were completely rattled and quickly went to pieces.

Personally I am of the opinion that Pittsburg will defeat Detroit for the world's championship, and that opinion is based on the weakness of the Tigers in both the pitching and catching departments. It is almost certain that the fight will be decided by Wagner, Leach and Clarke or Cobb, Crawford and McIntyre. The pitchers will not cut nearly such an important figure as did Brown, Reulbach and Overall in the Cub-Tiger series.

Primarily the Pirates and Tigers are both made up of sluggers, and no pitcher can stand before them long. The records show that Pittsburg is the heavy hitting club of the National league, while the Tigers are far in the lead in that department in the American league. Of the regular men each team has two .300 hitters. Cobb and Crawford are in advance of that mark for Detroit, and Wagner and Clarke are the leaders for Pittsburg.

As hitters there is little to choose between Wagner and Cobb. They both are wonders. In a pinch Cobb is the better man. Players still talk of the time when Wagner had a chance to win the world's championship from Boston, but luggerously struck out with the bases full. Both Cobb and Wagner are whirlwinds on the bases. In the field they uphold the respective departments of their teams. Cobb keeps the Tiger outfield keyed up to a high pitch, while Wagner is the center of attraction around which the infield of the Pirates revolves. Take either of these men out and the team on which they play would have no chance of winning even a league pennant.

The question that is worrying Clarke, the cold calculating, and Jennings, the smiling enthusiast, is pitching. Vic Willis and Howard Camnitz are the men on whom the Pirates must depend, and they will be opposed by George Mullin and Summers of Detroit. Wild Bill Donovan has not shown his old form this season. The second selection of pitchers will be Willets and Donovan for Detroit and Maddox and Lelfield or Adams for Pittsburg. There is not a pitcher in this entire list who is the equal of either Brown, Mathewson, Reulbach, Wiltsie or Overall. Jennings and Clarke are fully aware of this fact.

It has been frequently asserted that in the outfield Detroit is stronger than Pittsburg, while the Pirates are stronger in the infield. I do not agree with that view. Pittsburg is stronger in both the infield and the outfield. While Cobb is in a class by himself and will make Wilson of Pittsburg look like an amateur, McIntyre and Crawford cannot compare with Clarke and Leach. Tommy Leach is one of the best outfielders in the National league and a great hitter under fire.

Sam Crawford will outlast Leach the year around, but Tommy is a marvel in a pinch.

Byrne, Wagner, Miller and Abstein are far superior to Morlarity, Bush, Delehanty and Jones in the infield. Morlarity is a very fast infielder and is a wonderfully quick thinker. He may put it on Byrne; but, taking the infield as a whole, the Pirates are stronger.

The one point of weakness, however, that will do more to cripple the Tigers than any other is in the catching department. Jennings has tried for three years to get a star catcher, but every time he has failed, and Schmidt is still the best he can produce. Schmidt is nothing like as good a catcher as Gibson. He is not nearly so good a thrower, and his judgment on base running is inferior. In the series with the Cubs the Tigers were swept off their feet by the reckless way in which the Chicago crowd fitted around the bags. Wagner, Leach, Clarke and Byrne are all fast men, and it is likely that the same trouble will be encountered this time.

The Pirates will also have their troubles with base stealing, and Gibson will have to keep his eyes peeled. Detroit has the best base stealing club in either league.

World's Championship Records.

The post season series of baseball games, now known as the "world's champion series," really had their inception in October, 1884, when contests were arranged between the Providence club, the National league champions and the Metropolitan club of New York, the American association champions. No series was played in 1891. In 1892 the National league season was divided into two parts, Boston winning the first half and Cleveland the second. In the play-off Boston won. There were no games in 1893, and in 1894 a new series was inaugurated—the Temple cup series—for contests between the two leading clubs in the National league. This series continued up to 1898, when it was discontinued, and no further post season championship games were held until 1903, when the National and American league winners—Pittsburg and Boston—met. In 1904 no games were played, but in 1905 they were resumed under the auspices of the national commission, under whose supervision they have since been held. The following is the record up to date:

POSSIBILITIES IN FORWARD PASS

Authorities May Have to Restrict Developments in Play.

RADICAL CHANGES PREDICTED.

Coaches Have Begun to Master Intricacies of the Important Play—New Rules Make Games Fairer—Variegated Football a 1909 Necessity.

Coaches, expert judges and many others who have been following closely the modern trend of football are unanimous in their belief that this season will witness some radical changes in the use of the forward pass and that the perfecting of this play will either revolutionize the game or will cause the introduction of some radically new rules. This conclusion is based on the fact that last year was the first since the coming of the forward pass that coaches have really sized and worked out the possibilities of this play. When the forward pass was first legalized eastern coaches were almost unanimous in their opinion that the play had no future beyond its use as an occasional trick play. As a result the new offense was almost totally disregarded, and during the first two years there were not a few championship games in which the play was used no more than once in a single half. So risky was it considered that coaches refused to try it in any formation until they had seen it successfully operated by some other team.

Another evidence of this spirit was that until last year the forward pass was operated by only one player. But during the past season there was an awakening to its possibilities. Coaches endeavored to have at least two men who could throw the ball, with the result that the offense was greatly varied. This variation is certain to be widely extended this fall, for now the tendency will be to employ at least four men in handling the forward pass. And in this connection it may be stated that, other things being equal, any team that has a combination of good running backs, all of whom can operate the forward pass in a variety of plays, will have an offense that will raise havoc with pretty nearly any defense.

KEACHIE MOLL, UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN STAR QUARTERBACK.

[Great things are expected of Keachie Moll, Wisconsin's sensational quarterback and drop kicker, this season. Moll proved himself one of the best quarterbacks in the west last year. In fact, his kicking was the feature of many of the Badgers' games. Coach Barry says he has improved over his 1905 form and he will surely figure prominently in Wisconsin's games this season.]

The perfection of this sort of a forward passing game is bound to bring about a condition of affairs similar to that which first resulted in the legalizing of the play. The forward pass was made legal in order to weaken the defensive side of the game, which had grown too strong. When this condition becomes a reality the football rules committee will have another problem on its hands. And if the signs are read aright the time is not far distant when they will be confronted once more with the situation of three years ago. A. A. Stagg, coach of the University of Chicago and a member of the rules committee, has already gone on record as of the opinion that the working out of new possibilities with the forward pass will ultimately result in some new rules that will restrict the play in question.

Although the changes in the rules under which the game will be played this fall are not very radical compared with some of previous years, they are nevertheless of extreme importance. The following are the important changes in the 1909 rules:

First.—The value of a goal from field, whether a place or a drop kick, is reduced from 4 to 3 points.

Second.—The side having a kickoff has the option of making the kick, as under the old rules, or putting the ball down for a scrimmage on its twenty-five yard line.

Third.—In case an end rush of the offense side stands more than one foot back of the line of scrimmage, but less than a yard back, he is not eligible to receive a forward pass.

HEARST WILL FIGHT GAYNOR.

Declares That Tammany Hall Must Be Defeated.

JUDGE TAKES NOMINATION

When He Fails to Make Any Declaration of Opposition to Murphy or Criticism of McClellan Administration Hearst Arraigns the Ticket Headed by Gaynor as "an Atrocious Array of Dirty and Damaged Political Rags and Remnants."

New York, Oct. 8.—William R. Hearst has come out openly in a declaration that he will fight the Tammany Hall ticket headed by Supreme Court Justice William J. Gaynor as candidate for mayor.

Justice Gaynor accepted the Democratic and other nominations for mayor at his home in Brooklyn, and in his speech of acceptance he failed to denounce Tammany Hall or the things Tammany Hall stands for or to criticize the administration of Mayor McClellan.

Gay Hearst Will Surely Run. Inasmuch as Mr. Hearst had announced that unless Justice Gaynor uttered such a denunciation in his speech of acceptance he (Hearst) would run for mayor on an independent ticket, the tone of the acceptance means that there will be three tickets in the field.

Hearst's followers are jubilant and say he will surely run for mayor and defeat Justice Gaynor. Mr. Hearst said in reply to a petition presented by the committee of the Independence League and Citizens' party asking him to accept the nomination: "I must say to you that my objection to Justice Gaynor is that he has allied himself with the most atrocious array of dirty and damaged rags and remnants on the political bargain counter of Tammany Hall. It is our duty to defeat this ticket."

Silent as to Tammany.

Justice Gaynor did not mention Tammany Hall in his speech of acceptance. Instead he criticized in his biting way the fusion managers who turned him down because he would not pledge himself to refuse a Tammany nomination. He said that the fusionists instead of picking a non-partisan candidate for mayor endorsed the money collector and treasurer of the Republican organization. He also pledged himself to serve the full four year term if elected.

Before the arrival of the notification committee at Justice Gaynor's house he had been fully advised of Mr. Hearst's threat to run as an independent candidate unless there should be a practical cutting away from Tammany in the Gaynor speech of acceptance. The tone of Justice Gaynor's first public announcement since his nomination, therefore, is in the nature of a defiance to Mr. Hearst and the forces that have been working for Mr. Hearst's nomination.

Full Ticket to Be Named.

Independence League leaders say that the Hearst "Citizens' ticket" will be headed by Mr. Hearst himself, with either John J. Hopper or Allan Robinson, head of the allied real estate interests, for comptroller and John Purroy Mitchell for president of the board of aldermen.

Charles S. Whitman will be endorsed for district attorney, and other candidates on the Republican-fusion ticket will be named. A complete straight local ticket will be put up in Brooklyn, as the Hearst men mean to do all they can to defeat the Woodruff ticket.

WALTER PULTZER TO FIGHT FOR ESTATE

He Has Father's Old Will Leaving Him Entire Fortune.

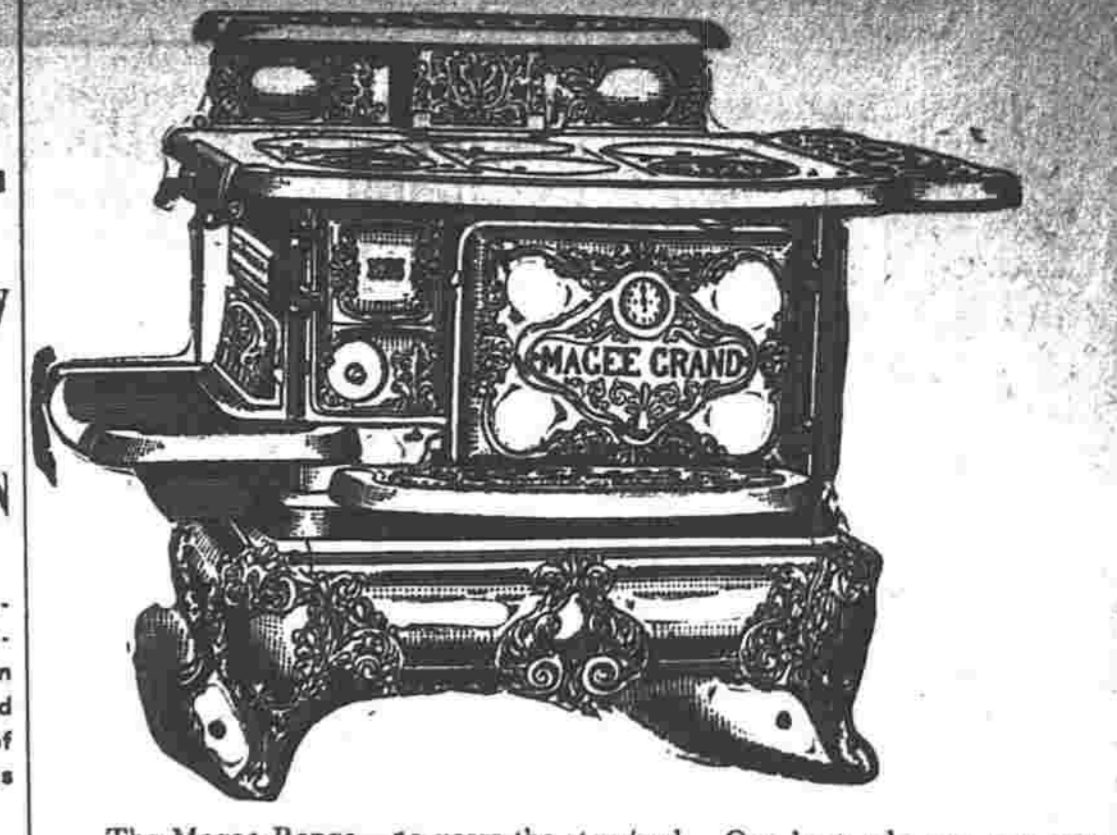

New York, Oct. 8.—Walter Pultzer, author and magazine writer, who possesses an old will of his father's, in which the millionaire publisher leaves him practically his entire estate, will fight for the fortune of the elder Pultzer, who killed himself in Vienna.

A contest will probably be made in the surrogate's court here, and the will that was filed in Vienna will also be attacked. Under the Vienna will Walter Pultzer is cut off with $30,000.

"I am in communication with the Vienna authorities," he said, "and have already made arrangements to take possession of the assets in this city. It is certain that my father left more than $1,000,000. Regarding the two natural children who are left annuities of $2,500 each I know nothing.

"There is under the laws of the Austrian empire a provision that a parent may not devise less than one-half of his estate to his heirs-at-law. The Vienna will of Mr. Pultzer seems to have been in violation of this law. This will probably be one of the grounds on which we will begin the contest."

PEARY RELIES ON ESKIMOS' WORD

Boatswain Tells Gist of Charges Against Cook.

ROUTE MARKED ON MAP.

Etukishuk and Ahwulah Reported as Telling Commander That They Made Only a Two Days' Journey Toward the North and Then Camped—After Waiting Two More Days They Turned Westward and Never Went Near the Pole.

New York, Oct. 8.—The gist of the charges made by Commander Robert E. Peary against Dr. Frederick A. Cook in his statement to be published next week is disclosed by Boatswain John Murphy of Peary's ship Roosevelt, who was left at Etah in charge of the stores.

Murphy says that Peary closely questioned Etukishuk and Ahwulah, the two Eskimos who had accompanied Cook, and that they pointed out on charts Cook's route, showing that it led only a little way from the starting point.

"Commander Peary talks Eskimo like a native," says Murphy, "and he cross examined the two native companions of Cook carefully.

"They said Cook made a two days' journey toward the north and then camped. At the end of the first day he had cached a heavy gun. At the end of the second day he ordered one of the huskies to go back and get that gun.

Never Got Farther North.
"Dr. Cook waited two days for the man to come up with the gun, and then the three men turned westward, and that was as far north as they ever got.

"The commander has the charts marked by the Eskimos. An Eskimo knows as much about a chart or map as a passed mariner, and they carefully marked off Cook's route."

"Dr. Cook is quoted as saying that I would not take him into the hut at Etah," says Murphy. "I took him in, and he stayed there five days, wearing my clothes. When he left he shook hands with me and said, 'Murphy, as long as I live I will never forget you for your kindness to me.' Peary might have been back, with the news of his discovery, two weeks before Cook, according to Murphy.

Stayed to Hunt Musk Oxen.
"All the commanders," says Murphy, "went back to his ship, off Cape Codd, and he made a written statement that he had reached the pole on April 6 of this year. All of the men on the expedition signed the document. This is buried under a cairn of stones on Cape Columbia, and that paper will prove that Commander Peary made the announcement of his success as soon as he got back to his ship."

Peary's Outfit on Exhibition.
The New York public today had a chance to form some definite idea of what Commander Peary went through on his dash to the north pole, for an entire wing of the Museum of Natural History was turned into a "Peary section," where the articles and implements the explorer took with him were on view.

The post of honor was given to the sledge which Peary took over the ice from Cape Sheridan to the pole and back. It is a very strong looking affair, built of many pieces of tough hickory bound together with strips of walrus hide. It is fifteen feet long.

Furs of many kinds adorn the walls, and stuffed polar bears, musk oxen and other animals, the skins of which were brought back by the discoverer, stand around in likable attitudes. There are skulls, too, of caribou, walrus and many strange animals. In all more than 600 specimens are shown.

There is clothing worn by Peary and his men and by the Eskimos, together with all sorts and conditions of hunting weapons and scientific instruments.

GEN. GREELY CREDITS BOTH.

Arctic Explorer Sees No Reason to Doubt Either Cook or Peary.

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 8.—In an interview in this city General A. W. Greely, the arctic explorer, expressed the opinion, based on what has been published up to this time, that both Cook and Peary reached the pole.

None of the objections yet raised to Cook's narrative seemed to General Greely to be fatal, and the alleged discrepancies appeared to him to be susceptible of reasonable explanation.

"You may say," he stated, "that I can see no present reason for doubting that both men reached the pole or for holding that it was impossible for Cook to do so with such equipment as he claims to have had."

WIRELESS AT 3,500 MILES.

The Buford has the most powerful wireless equipment of any vessel in the Pacific.

HERESY CHARGE ON PRESBYTERY

New York Ministers to Be Accused Before Synod.

ENTIRE BODY IS INVOLVED

Sharp Theological Controversy Precipitated by the Admission to the Pulpit of Three Candidates From Union Seminary Who Refuse to Subscribe to Orthodox Views as to Story of Garden of Eden, the Immaculate Conception and the Miracles.

New York, Oct. 8.—One of the sharpest theological controversies since the trial of the Rev. Dr. Charles A. Briggs of Union seminary on charges of heresy has developed from the action of the New York presbytery in granting permission for the ordination of the Rev. Archibald Black, one of three candidates for the pulpit who upon examination refused to subscribe to orthodox views expressed on cardinal Scriptural doctrines, such as the story of the Garden of Eden, the immaculate conception and the miracles.

The direct consequence will be the placing on trial of the New York presbytery before the synod of New York, which will hold its annual meeting in Johnstown, N. Y., on Oct. 19, 20 and 21, and the outcome of this proceeding may be a decision prohibiting the presbytery from licensing any more graduates of Union Theological seminary, from which Mr. Black and George A. Fitch and John E. Steen, the other candidates accused of heterodoxy, came up for examination.

Protest Made by Six Clergymen.
This situation has been brought about by a protest made by the Rev. Dr. Walter D. Buchanan, the Rev. Frederick E. Shearer, the Rev. George L. Scheurer, the Rev. Dr. John Fox, the Rev. Dr. Daniel S. Gregory and the Rev. Dr. Henry B. Elliott.

Church law demands that every protest be registered on the books of the clerk of the presbytery. More direct action will be taken when the synod meets, and the complaint presented to that body at its regular meeting must be accorded a hearing, according to the government of the church.

Synod May Revoke Presbytery.
The synod has the authority to revoke the presbytery or to take any other step it pleases. The dissenters will be present in force to support their side in the controversy, and proceedings in a profound manner will be taken up in the affairs of the Presbyterian church in this city.

A commission will be appointed by the synod to hear the case, and the action will be much in the nature of a civil court proceeding. It might be decided by the vote of the whole synod, which is made up of delegates, clerical and lay, from every presbytery in New York and New England.

Should the decision prove unsatisfactory to the complainants they will still have recourse to the general assembly, which will meet in Atlantic City next May.

CHICAGO CUTS CITY SALARIES

Cannot Pay Present Rate and All Must Accept Reductions.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—A cut of 10 per cent in salaries of all officials and employees of this city, from Mayor Busse's $18,000 down to the lowliest laborer has been agreed upon by the mayor and department heads for next year.

This measure was made necessary by the fact that Chicago has no money enough to maintain the payroll at its normal level. The payroll last year approximated $15,000,000.

PRINCES SUE FOR MARJORIE GOULD

Scions of Austrian and Russian Royalty Coming.

FATHER AVERSE TO MATCH

But He Will Leave It to His Daughter to Decide, and Prince Francis Joseph of Braganza and Prince Romanowski of Russia Will Visit New York and Try to Win the Hand of the Young Heiress to Many Millions, Whom They Met in Europe.

New York, Oct. 8.—Two princes of royal blood, one a kinsman of the Russian czar, the other backed by the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, have opened formal negotiations with George Gould as suitors for the hand of his daughter Marjorie.

One is Francis Joseph, brother of Prince Miguel of Braganza, who recently married Miss Anita Stewart. The other is Prince Alexander Georgievitch Romanowski, who is also Duke of Leuchtenberg. Both are preparing to visit America to lay their hearts and titles at the feet of the young heiress, whom they met on her recent trip abroad.

George Gould averse to match. George Gould, it is understood, received the overtures of the rival nobles with courtesy, but no word of encouragement is known to have been given by him. The recurrent troubles of his sister, the former Countess de Castellane, now Princess de Sagan, could not help but make him refuse his consent without absolute assurance of his daughter's future happiness. But, after all, he will leave it to Miss Marjorie to decide.

A representative of Prince Francis Joseph of Braganza made the formal application to Mr. Gould while the family was in that city last month preparing to return to New York.

The Prince de Sagan was also appealed to, and he agreed to undertake the matter in behalf of the young prince. But his wife, the former Anna Gould, protested. She said she did not want De Sagan to interfere in a matter which might lead to trouble. So De Sagan withdrew, and Baron de Berille, a well known French aristocrat, undertook the negotiations.

Emperor Favors Prince's Suit.
He wrote to Mr. Gould asking an appointment for an interview, and before the Goulds sailed for Europe before the Goulds sailed for Europe, Emperor Francis, who is the godfather of the young man.

Mr. Gould inquired about the settlement that might be expected, and the baron replied that the best thing was for the young people to meet and see if they were congenial; the settlement could be discussed later. The prince is now arranging to make a trip to the United States.

Russian Enters as Suitor.

Prince Francis was greatly encouraged until the news came to him that Prince Romanowski, duke of Leuchtenberg and blood relative of the czar, was in the lists. The latter has announced that he will arrive in New York Oct. 19.

When Miss Gould was at the Hotel Ritz, Prince Romanowski was always a welcome visitor and was often a dinner guest. Miss Gould made several automobile excursions with him, and the prince is very hopeful of taking back to Russia a fortune far greater than that won by Prince Miguel of Braganza for Austria.

Prince Romanowski is only twenty-eight years old and decidedly good looking. On the male side he descends from the famous French house of Beauharnais, to which the first husband of the Empress Josephine belonged.

Should Miss Gould marry him she would have other titles besides those of princess and duchess, for her suitor is imperial highness, royal highness and serene highness.

MISS ROOSEVELT'S GRIT.

Her Cool Handling of Automobile Problems a Serious Accident.

New York, Oct. 8.—Miss Gladys Roosevelt, a relative of the former president, showed her courage and skill at Sayville, N. Y., in narrowly averting a fatal automobile accident.

A bicycle ridden by an elderly man which was going down the road straight ahead of her suddenly turned squarely across the path. Instantly Miss Roosevelt threw her steering wheel over, just missing the rear wheel of the bicycle. The rider, thoroughly frightened, lost control of his wheel and was thrown over the handle bars to the curb, where for a moment he lay half stunned.

Mrs. John E. Roosevelt, Miss Gladys' mother, ran to aid him, but found he was unharmed.

MRS. PANKHURST COMING.

English Suffragettes Give Their Leader an Enthusiastic Sendoff.

London, Oct. 8.—There was a big suffragette demonstration at Albert hall to bid farewell to Mrs. Pankhurst on her departure for America and to protest against the compulsory feeding of the arrested suffragettes who attempted to starve themselves at Birmingham.

Donations were invited to complete the proposed campaign fund of $250,000, which lacked $70,000. Within ten minutes $15,000 was raised.

A resolution was adopted warning the government that continued repression would rouse women to a more determined rebellion.

WOMEN BESIEGE BALMORAL.

Detectives Busy Fending Off Suffragettes From Asquith and the King.

London, Oct. 8.—A delegation of suffragettes has pursued Prime Minister Asquith to Balmoral, Scotland, where he was summoned lately by the king.

They are staying in the neighboring village and will not hesitate to invade the royal castle to persecute Mr. Asquith if the chance offers.

The precincts are being closely guarded by detectives and the king's servants.

BRYAN'S DAUGHTER AIMS FOR CONGRESS

Ruth Bryan Leavitt Seeks Nomination In Colorado.

Denver, Oct. 8.—Ruth Bryan Leavitt, the recently divorced daughter of William J. Bryan, has formally announced her candidacy for the nomination for congress from the First district of Colorado. She has dreams of making the nation's legislative halls, where her father once sat, ring with her melodious voice.

Former Senator Patterson has given his promise that if the Democratic party of the state shall nominate a woman for congress he will use his influence for her. Mr. Bryan has given his consent.

Mrs. Leavitt is president of the Jane Jefferson club. All is said to be harmony in the club, but there are some members who say that, while Mrs. Leavitt would make a splendid congresswoman and it would be "just lovely" for her father's sake, there are other women to be considered.

Mrs. Leavitt got a divorce from her artist husband three months ago after a brief trial of married life.

BOY BRIDEGROOM HELD.

He is Charged With Swearing That 70-Year-Old Bride Was Only 36.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 8.—Charles P. Goddard, a junior in the Yale Law school, was bound over to the superior court in Hartford on the charge of perjury.

Goddard is twenty-one. He was recently married to wealthy Mrs. Lucinda Treat of Hartford. In giving the age of his bride, who is seventy years old, Goddard swore that she was only thirty-six, and it was on this misrepresentation of her age that the prosecution is based.

Mrs. Treat took a fancy to young Goddard because he had pluck enough to go from house to house in Hartford selling household goods to earn money enough to pay his way through Yale Law school.

WON'T CONVICT LIQUOR MEN.

Move to Have the Superior Court Removed From Nantucket.

Nantucket, Mass., Oct. 8.—Because no jury can be secured in Nantucket to return a conviction in liquor cases a movement has been begun to have the superior court removed from the county.

The latest unsuccessful attempt of the government to obtain a conviction came when the defendants in four liquor cases were acquitted. Judge Fessenden then refused to hear any more of the cases.

The present session of the superior court has been the longest ever held in this county, due to a crusade of Nantucket against liquor selling by drug stores, kitchen barrooms and other illegal traffickers.

The machinists have been working night and day on the repairs, but it will probably be Monday or Tuesday before the job is completed. They expect to finish today turning down a larger shaft to replace the broken one, but it will take a day and a half or more to install the shaft and belting.
