

SPECULATION IN CANNED PRODUCTS WILL BE STOPPED BY GOVERNMENT

REGULATIONS FOR CANNERS PUT OUT

Hoover Issues Special Prohibitions Against Them—They Will Be Placed Under License November 1—All Packers of Peas, Corn, Tomatoes, Salmon and Sardines Included—The Order.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The government today acted to check speculation in canned goods. Special regulations were issued by Food Administrator Hoover to govern canners, who will be placed under license on November 1.

Right prohibition were promulgated against the sale of futures in canned peas, corn, tomatoes, salmon and sardines before February 1. This date may be changed later, if it is necessary to meet the needs of the war.

Under the following regulations: How Order Reads. The licensee shall not sell for future delivery any canned peas, canned corn, or canned tomatoes in excess of 75 per cent of the normal yield of such acreage as the licensee has already under contract or legal contract.

Other rules were issued requiring the canners this year to adjust their grades and sizes to more useful type of cans. The food administration announced that the government would compel the canners to sell at a reasonable margin of profit over cost price without regard to market or replacement values.

H. S. BIGELOW, PACIFIST, FOUND AT FLORENCE, KY.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Herbert S. Bigelow, chairman of the Ohio Constitutional Convention of 1912, ardent pacifist and Socialist, who was kidnapped by men in an automobile in front of a Newport, Ky., hall Sunday night, was found at Florence, Ky., today. Bigelow had been handcuffed, blindfolded, stripped of part of his clothing, beaten, whipped, his head covered with crude oil, spat upon and turned loose.

20 Autos Used. Florence is 15 miles southwest of Newport. Reports from there said about 20 automobiles of men participated in the whipping. It was said that Bigelow was threatened with death by his abductors, if he continued his policies, which have included free speech on war topics.

Bigelow was accompanied to Newport last night by Vernon J. Ross of Kansas City and Prof. E. J. Cantrell of Indianapolis. His friends were dazed by his sudden abduction. As the automobile in which he was a captive sped away Bigelow leaned out and called back to them: "I guess I am under arrest."

A few nights previous in Cincinnati Bigelow was stopped in the middle of an address by policemen.

SUSPECT SON-IN-LAW OF SWIFT IS PRO-GERMAN

Career of Count James Minotto Being Probed by Secret Service Agents.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Important evidence in the case of Count James Minotto, son-in-law of Louis F. Swift, multi-millionaire Chicago packer, who is at liberty here under bonds of $50,000, following his arrest by federal authorities, is to be taken in New York today, according to statements made by local immigration officials. Depositions of several persons who knew Count Minotto when he was an employee of the Guaranty Trust company in New York, it was said, are to be taken.

Although held on a technical charge of being in the United States in violation of the immigration laws, alleged pro-German activities are believed to be the real cause of the arrest of Count Minotto.

Count Minotto's arrest is said to have followed an investigation by department of justice and secret service agents, begun after the count had applied for a position in the intelligence department of the United States.

MANCHESTER HAS RAISED $1,251,100 FOR THE LOAN

All Who Subscribed. It was announced by R. La Motte Russell this afternoon, that Manchester had subscribed $1,251,100 to the second Liberty Loan. This is $121,100 over our maximum quota.

The last few hours before nine o'clock on Saturday night found the ladies' booth crowded with small subscribers who wanted to loan their money to Uncle Sam. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed all through the evening, especially when it was known that our maximum had been oversubscribed.

R. La Motte Russell, who was in charge of the local committee here, said this afternoon: "The small committee of volunteers in charge of the Liberty Loan campaign in Manchester surely could not have made the loan so great a success as it turned out to be were it not for the people who subscribed. The committee is taking no credit for the success of the campaign. That should go to those who made it possible. We thank the public for its generous co-operation."

"One can always depend on the fact that Manchester will keep up its reputation as 'The 100 Per Cent Plus Town' unsullied."

ONLY RED HEAD CLUB IN WORLD

Washington, Oct. 29.—The red-headed American gunner who fired the first shell delivered by General Pershing's men in the German trenches, lined up every other red-top in the expeditionary forces for honors. The Clemmer Red-Headed club of Spokane today wired Secretary of War Baker for his name, that he might be elected honorary member of "the only red-head club in the world."

The fiery-topped gunner's name did not come in the official dispatches. Mr. Baker's secretary wired to Spokane the suggestion that all red-headed men in the Pershing army be accepted in the club.

FOOD PLEDGE WEEK

Washington, Oct. 29.—"Food will win the war." This is the slogan of "Food Pledge" week, which opened today and which has for its object the enrollment of at least 15,000,000 of the 22,000,000 American housewives as members of the food administration. An army of more than 500,000 canvassers started today to visit housewives in cities, towns and villages to induce them to sign food administration pledge cards. In every home where a card is signed the canvassers will leave a window card.

INDICTMENT CHARGES MEANS WITH MURDER

State's Experts Claim Mrs. King Could Not Have Shot Herself.

ACCUSED IS CONFIDENT.

Has Prepared Long Statement in His Own Defense—Jury Being Called.

Concord, N. C., Oct. 29.—The mysterious death of Mrs. Maude A. King at Blackwelder Springs on the night of August 29, again claimed the center of the stage in North Carolina today, when Solicitor Hayden Clement sent a bill of indictment to the Cabarrus county grand jury, charging Gaston B. Means with the woman's murder.

The strength of the state's case is hung on circumstantial evidence, largely secured from experts, who claim that it would have been impossible for Mrs. King to have shot herself in the manner in which she was found.

Witnesses. The grand jury, with its chief, Captain Jones, pistol expert, Dr. Otto Schultze, medical expert, and Detectives Jones and Cuniffe, who claimed to have discovered evidence in Means' New York apartments indicating there was a plot afoot to murder Mrs. King.

The state will also offer the testimony of Charles Dry, a farmer living near the scene of the shooting, to refute statements made by Means concerning facts connected with the killing.

The defense so far has failed to show its hand, but has summoned many witnesses and has secured the services of another lawyer, Frank Armfield of Monroe, a criminologist. Counsel for the defense now number nine.

Means Confident. Means, after more than a month spent in jail was still blasé and confident today that he will be freed.

He has prepared a lengthy statement on his own case containing thousands of words, in which he tells of his relations with Mrs. King. He spent his entire time in jail here working on the case and has been in frequent consultation with his counsel.

A venire of 36 jurymen has been called, from which 18 will be selected for duty. Of the 18 12 will be necessary to return a true bill.

In the event of a true bill being returned Solicitor Clement will ask for an immediate trial, and it is reported that both sides will seek a change of venue on the ground that it will be impossible to get a jury in Cabarrus county which will pass fair and unbiased judgment.

Assistant District Attorney Dooling of New York and his party, returned last night from Charlotte and visited Blackwelder Springs, the scene of the shooting and a spectacular re-enactment of the tragedy was staged and several important points were gained by the experiment.

WESTERN FOOTBALL CHAMP PROSPECTS FEW.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Big ten football teams, reflecting today on the outcome of Michigan's battle with Nebraska Saturday, are grateful that the Wolverines have only one game scheduled with a conference eleven and therefore cannot figure in the conference championship.

Michigan cleaned up Nebraska in thorough style. There are four teams remaining that must be considered as championship prospects. Ohio State, last year's title holder, Minnesota, Illinois and Chicago are in the running.

SELECTMEN IN WRANGLE OVER VERY SICK WOMAN

Several Local Physicians Say Mrs. Schoneskie Should Be In Hospital.

HUSBAND OUT OF WORK

He Is Ill Also—Rogers and Weldon Say Town Should Not Pay Expenses.

The new combination in the board of selectmen met its first snag this afternoon when the authority of the new charity commissioner, Fred Shippee, was brought into question. A special meeting of the board was called this afternoon at the bidding of Victor Schoneskie of the north end. The meeting was the climax to wranglings which have been going on for the past few days.

Cause of Trouble. The cause of it all is the illness of Victor Schoneskie's wife, Mrs. Schoneskie has been ill for the past three months. She has been complaining of severe pains in her stomach. Mr. Schoneskie took his wife to Dr. Sharpe who gave her some medicine. As the condition of Mrs. Schoneskie did not improve she went to a doctor in Rockville. Still there was no improvement. Then another change in doctors was made. This time Mr. and Mrs. Schoneskie went to a doctor in Hartford.

Then Victor Schoneskie decided to take his wife to a Hartford specialist. He took her to Dr. D. F. Sullivan of Church street. After a thorough examination Dr. Sullivan said that Mrs. Schoneskie should be taken to the hospital immediately. He was certain that cancer had either set in or that Mrs. Schoneskie was suffering from appendicitis. Dr. Sharpe was again consulted and after making an examination he agreed with Dr. Sullivan. Dr. Holmes who also examined Mrs. Schoneskie believed that she should be taken to the hospital for an operation.

Husband Sick Also. Schoneskie was at loss what to do. He has been out of work for some time. He is sick himself and has a large family to support. He knew that hospital costs would be heavy. He decided to interview Arthur E. Bowers who he knew was a member of the board of selectmen. He went to Mr. Bowers and told him that he could not afford to send his wife to the hospital and that he wanted the town to stand the expense. Mr. Bowers told him that he should see Dr. Weldon who was both a doctor and member of the charity committee of the selectmen. Schoneskie got in touch with Dr. Weldon who said that he would be over and examine the woman the next day, which was last Thursday. Dr. Weldon did not show up. Mrs. Schoneskie had grown worse and she was in great pain. When Dr. Weldon failed to appear Mr. and Mrs. Schoneskie again went to see Selectman Bowers to get his advice. This time Mrs. Schoneskie was hardly able to get to Mr. Bowers' residence and was very sick while in his home. Mr. Bowers called Charity Commissioner Shippee to the phone and asked him to come to his home on Woodbridge street immediately. Mr. Shippee did so and when he saw Mrs. Schoneskie and realized the serious condition she was in he said that he could do nothing. "You are charity commissioner and you can take no action to prevent this woman from suffering?" asked Mr. Bowers.

Had to See Committee. "I'll have to see Rogers and Weldon first," said Shippee. Mr. Shippee left Mr. Bowers' home promising to confer with Dr. Weldon and take some action. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Schoneskie again went to the Bowers home and told Mr. Bowers that no action had been taken. Mr. Bowers stepped to the telephone and called up Charity Commissioner Shippee. He asked Mr. Shippee what

ALLIES WILL RE-ENFORCE ITALY: LONDON AND PARIS TO ACT SOON

FIVE AND ONE-HALF BILLIONS TOTAL NAMED BY GOVERNMENT FOR SECOND LIBERTY LOAN

Washington, Oct. 29.—Subscriptions to the second Liberty Loan probably will exceed five and a half billion dollars. Treasury officials expressed this belief early today, when a flood of messages began pouring in, telling of the avalanche of bond business in the closing hours that fairly swamped subscription agencies. Further unofficial returns giving more complete estimates of sales of bonds before midnight Saturday night, left no doubt that the five billion maximum had been obtained and possibly passed. Exact figures showing the amount of over-subscription probably will not be obtainable for several days.

Ninety per cent of the Mexican laborers at work on the construction of Camp Carney, San Diego, Cal., have bought $50 Liberty Bonds, according to private advices received by government officials here. Hundreds of Mexican laborers at the camp subscribed and a total of $200,000 was raised.

Stamford, Oct. 29.—Stamford's subscription to the second Liberty Loan, according to the official figures made public today is $2,840,500, which is $5,500 over the maximum for the city. There were first or second campaigns, treasury officials said. New York, Oct. 29.—The New York district's total subscription to the second Liberty Loan at ten o'clock this morning stood at $1,389,757,200, it was officially announced. Belated subscriptions are expected to bring the total well above the $1,500,000,000 maximum quota of the district.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels announced today that the returns from naval stations, navy yards and about 50 per cent of the ships, showed that $7,231,000 was subscribed to the second Liberty Loan by officers and enlisted men.

Saturday's sales will set up a new record for a city. There were

Washington, Oct. 29.—The Allies are going to Italy's aid. Thoroughly alarmed by the smashing advance of von Mackensen's forces, England and France are today acting to save the situation.

A dispatch from Paris early today said the cabinet, with the President presiding, sat until a late hour in consideration of the Italian problem. No announcement of any kind in advance will be made as to the nature of the steps the allies will take.

Belief was expressed by competent military authorities that Gen-his forces from Gorizia in order to save his army. The Italians are outnumbered four to one by von Mackensen's army. Had the Italian leader made a stand at Gorizia, it was pointed out, the Teutons would have been in a position to cut off a big part of the Italian army.

Italian Lines Shortened. By his evacuation of Gorizia and Cividale, the Italian leader has shortened his lines and is in a better position to check the onrushing Austro-German army.

Allied leaders, while frankly admitting that the situation on the Italian front is most serious, believe that Cadorna will be able to make a stand before von Mackensen can put a real force on the Italian plains. If he is able to check the Austro-Germans it is believed certain here that England and France will be able to rush assistance to him that will enable him to roll the invader back again.

Reports received today from Rome say that Cividale is in flames and that the enemy has left the ruined town and is pressing on toward Udine, nine miles away.

Lines Broken in Places. With Gorizia also in the hands of the enemy, the Italian line is practically broken from the Tolmino region to the sea.

Today's reports are that approximately 100,000 Italians and 700 guns are now in the hands of the enemy.

While the first and second Italian armies are in full retreat, the third is understood to be making a determined stand.

Udine is an important Italian base. It is believed here that General Cadorna had the defense of Udine in mind when the retreat began.

English Aid Ready? Washington, Oct. 29.—It is understood here that strong British and French reinforcements, composed chiefly of selected artillerymen, with guns of large caliber, have been sent to the aid of the Italians. Natural information as to what these reinforcements consist of is withheld, but it seemed certain today that it was to be a race between them and the Austro-German forces. If the new artillery reaches the prepared Italian positions in time to be mounted and thrown into action the situation will be saved.

Military experts of the Italian embassy say the chief encounter between the Italian forces and von Mackensen's is yet to come.

The trouble with the man who says he does his own thinking is that he wants to do all other men's thinking too.—Petersen Call.

SEC. OF WAR DISCOUNTS SUCCESSSES OF GERMAN-AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN ARMY

Looks For Another "Strategic Retreat" of Germans From Flanders and France—Teuton Progress About Riga Is Halted On Land—British Still Advance in Mesopotamia—Training of Sammies on French Front Satisfactory—"Certain Units in Trenches."

Washington, Oct. 29.—Admitting that important developments appear to be impending in all of the war theaters, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, in his weekly review of the situation, today expresses the utmost confidence in the ultimate outcome. He declares that the Germans are suffering severely. Most significant of all, however, is the secretary's comment on the seemingly sweeping victories of the Austro-German hordes under command of King Charles of Austria and Field Marshal von Mackensen, over the Italians. With the frank admission that "Italy is passing through a difficult moment," the secretary adds the following reassuring statement: "We must remember that in May, 1916, the Austrians attempted a similar onslaught. They had fine weather, a well chosen terrain, and above all, the far superior fighting ability of their armies to rely upon. At that time the Austrians won decided successes during the initial days of the fighting and pressed on to the edge of the Italian plain, only to be stopped and driven back."

In France and Flanders. Regarding the France-Flanders situation, he says: "The time has apparently come for another 'strategic retreat' of the enemy. It means that the Germans must again retire to a new entrenched and carefully prepared line if they intend to resist further in the west."

"But the battle of the Somme has but one wedge. Today we have the wedge of Flanders, and that of the Aisne is being outlined."

About Riga. "It is not probable that the Germans will undertake, for the time being, more than a strengthening of the positions now held in the Riga sector."

The retirement of the advanced enemy lines to a depth of fifteen miles in the region of the Dvina is reported. Engagements of some magnitude are noted along the Rumanian and Macedonian fronts, where artillery duels and raids are increasing in frequency. These, however, are not of more than local importance.

In Mesopotamia. "In Mesopotamia the British are continuing and consolidating their advance, driving enemy detachments out of important tactical points on the flanks, thus strengthening their whole line of defense."

"Rumors of an important move by the Turks, reinforced by certain picked German and Austrian units under the command of General Falkenhayn, which have repeatedly been reported throughout the Near East, have as yet failed to materialize."

"The training of our troops in France progresses steadily and favorably. Certain units have taken their places in the front line trenches under actual battle conditions."

UNIONTOWN AUTO RACE ON TODAY.

Uniontown, Pa., Oct. 29.—After two postponements an effort will be made this afternoon to run the autumn classic automobile race of 168 miles on the speedway here.

More than a score of the country's leading drivers will contest. Ralph Mulford in a Frontenac, is the favorite to win.

NEW HAVEN, $12,185,450.

New Haven, Oct. 29.—Final compilations of the local subscriptions to the second Liberty Loan in this city placed the total at $12,185,450, about $2,000,000 below the maximum, it was announced today.

Snow Storm Following Rains Bring Sammies Discomfort

Paris, Oct. 16 (by mail to New York).—Henri Saint Yves, the former marathon runner and now a dispatch bearer in the French army, has returned to Paris for a special 24-hour furlough, granted him because of a particularly perilous mission which he carried out in the course of his duties in the trenches in front of Saint Quentin.

While trying to carry orders from the advanced French trench line to a French machine gun crew which had established itself in a shell hole in the middle of "No Man's Land" half way between the opposing lines, Saint Yves was "spotted" by two German machine gun crews, also holding shell holes.

Fired on Runner.

They opened a cross fire on the former long distance runner and he dropped into the nearest shell hole, which was almost full of rain water. Saint Yves remained in the water with just his head above the surface to enable him to breathe, for five hours, or until after darkness. Then he crept out and made his way to the trench again.

In Hospital.

Saint Yves had to go to a hospital for ten days, however, as the shell hole water in which he had been immersed so long was "gassy" having assimilated the poisonous properties of the gas shells from both sides which had been rained down in "No Man's Land." Several hours after Saint Yves emerged from the shell hole the poisonous water got in its effect.

Saint Yves was wounded in the leg last May, but has entirely recovered from that and asserts he will be able to run as well as ever if the war ever ends and he gets back into civilian life.

Wants to Be Aviator.

The marathon runner has applied for a transfer to the aviation, and his superior officers have endorsed his request. He expects to be called to an aviation school to begin his training at any time. Saint Yves will try to be brevetted as a fighting pilot for flying in single-seater machines.

"I hear that poor old Tom Longboat has been killed with the Canadians up near Lens," said Saint Yves. "Well, Tom was a wonderful runner, but no man ever lived that can run as fast as the Boche bullets."

"Our sector at the front—opposite Saint Quentin, where the Germans retreated to the Hindenburg line—is supposed to be quiet all the time, but we had a little fight up there a few weeks ago that was pretty lively. I was assigned as a dispatch bearer, carrying messages from the colonel up to the line, because the German bombardment had ploughed up all the ground behind our first and second line of trenches and torn up the telegraph and telephone wires, and their artillery had also wrecked a lot of our wireless.

Close Shaves.

"I had several close shaves in crossing out in the open, with the German snipers potting at me from 1,600 meters away. A couple of big shells dropped pretty near me, too, but then you get used to shells, whereas machine guns and rifles always annoy you."

"Pretty soon I hope to be in the aviation service and after I get brevetted as a pilot and have some experience of flying at the front, I'm going to apply to be sent to America as an instructor for United States army aviators."

The wife and family of Saint Yves are now at Dieppe. Contrary to general belief, Saint Yves was never a waiter in a Paris cafe. Born in Itonen, he lived and worked there as a bicycle repair man prior to going to the United States eight years ago as a long distance runner.

BROWN'S VICTORY IS BIGGEST OF SEASON

Army, Navy and Dartmouth Eleven Candidates for Honors This Fall.

New York, Oct. 29.—Glenn Warner's Pittsburgh Panthers are a step nearer the eastern football championship today, but they have a wholesome respect for Pennsylvania, the team with which they are to meet in their state game.

Over-confidence was the cause of Pittsburgh's comparatively poor showing against Pennsylvania, and had it not been for the brilliant play of fullback McLaren, Pitt might have been beaten.

As the football race stands now it appears that Warner's team will be able to retain the laurels it claimed last fall, for the hardest part of Pitt schedule has been played.

In the camp of the Brunonians at Providence, there is a world of rejoicing today. The unexpected victory of Brown over Colgate was the biggest feature of the eastern football season to date. Brown is avenged for her defeat by Colgate in 1916, and Colgate's hopes of claiming football honors are blasted.

Army, Navy, Dartmouth. The Army and Navy eleven, with Dartmouth, are still looked upon as possible candidates for honors, but none of these teams will meet Pittsburgh, though an Army-Navy game is being looked forward to by football fans along the Atlantic seaboard.

With the last month of the football season at hand, and the coaches preparing for the final drive which will carry their teams through until the close of the season on Thanksgiving day, there was unusual activity in all of the eastern camps today.

Many teams, regardless of their chances of claiming any sort of championship, are being pointed for one big game.

REFORMATION OBSERVANCE.

On next Sunday at the Concordia Lutheran church the 400th anniversary of the Reformation will be observed. At 7.30 p. m. the Sunday school will celebrate with an elaborate program and on the Sunday following, Nov. 11, a great Reformation service will be held at which Pastor Stippich will preach. At 7.30 p. m. an illustrated lecture will be given by the pastor. The lecture has been prepared by Prof. Charles Jacobs of the Philadelphia Seminary and sixty beautifully colored slides illustrating the life of Dr. Martin Luther will be used in connection with the lecture.

ONE MORE WEEK ENDS LICENSE FOR A YEAR

Laws Concerning Liquor Traffic Which Were Amended By Last Legislature.

One week from today the saloons and barrooms in Manchester will close for at least one year. It has been ten years since Manchester has had a no license year and in that time many changes have been made in the laws governing the sale of liquor. E. L. G. Hohenthal, who as the legal representative of the prohibition party at the legislative hearings has kept close watch of temperance legislation, has prepared a summary of the acts of the last legislature which relate to the liquor traffic in this state. His report as made to the recent convention of the Sons of Temperance embodies the following summary:

Chapter 36 renews the authority of Grand Jurors to prosecute violations of law, of which, in some towns, they had been deprived.

Chapter 61 increases the penalty for certain violations by druggists.

Chapter 48 empowers the Judge of any Court any Justices of the Peace to issue search warrants in gambling cases.

Chapter 49 amends the law in certain cases for inebriated driver certain conditions for not less than 6 months nor more than 3 years, of a person convicted three times of intoxication.

Chapter 167 permits administrators of estates to continue the business of a licensed dealer.

Chapter 209 strengthens the law concerning pool rooms.

Chapter 260 closes saloons on Memorial Day, thus adding another day when Prohibition is the rule.

Chapters 263 and 322 undertook to amend the law by which the vote regarding sale of liquor became effective, and also requiring of addresses with the name of petitioners for a vote on the license question. Both of these measures were initiated by the liquor men.

The first sought to extend the time six months when such vote became effective. The final outcome was an agreement for one month, which was passed. Later another bill amending this chapter was passed, which ignored this provision. The result is that the law remains as it has been, viz, license expiring first Monday of the month succeeding the vote.

The requirement of addresses with signatures to a position remains in effect.

Chapter 346 permits any "resident" to remonstrate against granting a license.

Chapter 347 permits druggists to sell alcohol without prescription in quantities not over one quart.

Chapter 362 is commonly known as the "Iowa Abatement Law" and is one of the most drastic laws of that character enacted. It enables any citizen to begin proceedings against the property, as well as the owner, where vice and prostitution is being carried on, and by court order such property may be enjoined from being used for a year and the contents confiscated.

Chapter 370 limits the wholesale licenses to the present number, and if a town having voted no-license, returns to license, such wholesale licenses are limited to one for every 2,500 people.

Chapter 372 deals with the clubs. We believe these licenses should be entirely abolished, but could not convince the committee or the Legislature of that fact. However, the law limits very materially the issuing of such licenses, and may eventually lead to their entire abolishment.

House resolution No. 23 is perhaps the most important of all measures passed, as it proposes the amendment of the State Constitution for Prohibition. It passed by a substantial vote in the House, and must be passed by a two-thirds vote by both Houses next year. We must bend every energy this coming year to elect a Legislature to do that thing. We shall be face to face also with a National Amendment, we hope, for Congress will be called upon to act on a Federal Amendment in December. It has already passed the Senate with a six year proviso, which we hope will be eliminated by the House, in which it is believed the Senate will then concur.

AMUSEMENTS

WHAT'S WHAT AND WHO'S WHO IN MANCHESTER MOVIE HOUSES

AT THE PARK.

A 9,000 foot show for a ten cent admission is the attraction tonight at the Popular Playhouse. It is difficult to say which of the two features is the better as the advance notices speak highly of the five act Gold Rooster, "The Candy Girl" and of course Mollie King in "The Seven Pearls" is always good. Besides these two there will be a Pathe comedy and Novelty film.

The suspense in the first episode of "The Seven Pearls" is heightened in the second episode to be shown this evening. In this episode there is a most sensational duel between two men dressed in armor. The name of this character who from now on will be seen all through the serial.

For tomorrow Louis Glaum, probably the most popular actress playing regularly at the Park, will be shown in a new play called "Golden Rule Kate". It is a crook story in the red light district and the prisons. Miss Glaum has been described as the "female Bill Hart" and in this picture she lives up to her title.

On Wednesday and Thursday a "Four Square Picture", "The Sin Woman", will come to Manchester. It is in seven parts and is most sensational. It is a story of the sin woman from the days of the garden of Eden to the present day vampire with the baby stare. In her different characterizations, the audience will hate her, despise her, adore her and love her. Irene Fenwick, who plays the leading role in now Broadway success, "O. Boy". In one of the scenes she is tarred and feathered and this is said to be one of the most realistic scenes ever enacted before the camera.

The Park management announced last evening that despite the government tax on admissions which starts on November 1 there will be absolutely no advance in the admission prices at this theater except when real big features are shown. The usual admission will be charged the rest of the week. Mr. Sullivan will pay the government tax out of his own pocket.

AT THE CIRCLE.

"The Slave", a stirring drama of the problems and perils facing a working girl in the present day life, with Valdeska Surratt in the stellar role is the feature attraction at the Circle theater this evening. The story was written and directed by William Nigh who will be remembered as the star of "The Blue Streak", which was shown at the Circle a short time ago. Pearl White will also be seen on the same program this evening in the tenth episode of Pathe's "The Fatal Ring".

Tomorrow afternoon and evening and all Wednesday, Dustin Farnum comes to the Circle in William Fox's "The Name of This Spy". The name of this remarkable production is "The Spy", and it was written by George Bronson Howard, who probably knows more about the international situation than any other American writer. His story exposes a little known chapter in American diplomacy and intrigue.

Thousands of German spies are at this moment plotting against the peace and happiness of American homes and citizens. Here is a picture that reveals their vile methods with amazing frankness. There are ten thousand foreign enemy secret police lurking and scheming in the United States. Some claim American citizenship. Do you know your neighbor? Do you trust him? In time of war no man knows his neighbor. Heed the warning published broadcast in Europe: "Keep your mouth shut, the ears of the enemy are listening." The picture, "The Spy", was suggested by exposes appearing in the American press of the far reaching and effective methods of the German spy system.

We all deeply appreciate the fact that thousands of Americans of German birth or descent are giving the United States their undivided loyalty. This picture, of course, does not refer to them in any way. It is simply intended as an expose of a perilous situation existing in this country at the present time. After seeing this picture you will fully understand the situation that this country is in.

Clarence Koch was home on a thirty-six hour furlough from Camp Devens Saturday afternoon and Sunday. He says that the machine gun companies have dug a trench a mile long and from seven to twelve feet deep through a forest.

Miss Alice Rumohr of Wellesley college spent the week end with her parents.

Herbert Kunkhe of Camp Devens spent a thirty-six hour furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kunkhe.

Rev. F. P. Bachelor explained the new food conservation program last Sunday that is to go into effect this week. This week is food conservation week.

The road bridge was re-floored the top planks were placed so that the traffic runs with the line of planks instead of across and already they are beginning to show signs of wear and large splinters have been torn up by the autos.

The Intermediate C. E. society will hold a Halloween social next Tuesday evening. It will be held in Talcott hall and plenty of entertainment is promised to all who attend. It will be a masquerade.

There will be a special meeting of the Ladies' Home Missionary society in the church parlors next Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson and daughter, formerly of Avery street, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Mahar.

John G. Talcott gave an interesting and instructive account last Sunday evening of his visit in Columbus, Ohio, where he was chairman of the Connecticut delegates to a National Convention of Congregationalists.

A campaign for efficiency is to be waged in the local Intermediate C. E. society. Those who attended the convention in Manchester found that the plan for Christian Endeavors between now and 1920 is to make each union an individual society efficient and active.

Mrs. Clara Rivenburg is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. George Smith. She is recuperating from her recent severe illness.

Mrs. Edward Waterman has recovered from a severe illness.

ST. MARY'S NOTES.

The Girls' Friendly society will hold a Halloween party in the parish house Wednesday evening.

The Ladies' Guild will meet in the Guild room at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

ITALIAN DEFEATS UNSETTLE N. Y. EXCHANGE

Declines General at Opening Today. Rallies Later—Closing Quotations.

New York, Oct. 29.—The news of the rout of the Italian army caused declines of from one to three points at the opening of the stock market today.

Marine issues were unusually weak, at the start. Marine Preferred declined three points to 100 1/2, but after the first 15 minutes of trading rallied to 103. Atlantic Gulf and West Indies dropped 2 1/2 points to 103. Marine Common opened 1/2 higher at 30 1/2.

Steel Common sold off 1 1/2 to 105 1/2 and Bethlehem Steel B declined 1 1/2 to 84 1/2. Losses of more than one point were also sustained in Crucible, Baldwin and Republic Steel.

Copper stocks were weak, Utah falling 1 1/2 to 52 and Anaconda one point to 83 1/2. American Smelting declined 1 1/2 to 85 1/2.

The railroad stocks also suffered losses, Reading dropping one point to 74 and Canadian Pacific 1 1/2 to 143 1/2.

The weakness at the opening of the market abruptly turned into strength before the first 15 minutes. Marine Preferred further rallied to 105 1/2. Bethlehem Steel B rallied to above 85 and Steel Common sold above 106.

The vigorous buying which followed the opening declines was overcome within a short period and during the rest of the forenoon the market tone was heavy with pressure exerted against many stocks including many dividend paying railroads and a number of the leading specialties.

Marine Preferred reacted from 105 1/2 to 101 1/2, with a rally of about one point. Canadian Pacific was down over five points to 139 1/2 and Union Pacific over two points to 118 1/2.

Steel Common sold below 105, a loss of over two points and Bethlehem Steel B sold down to 83 1/2, a decline of 2 1/2.

General Electric, on renewed selling, fell 5 1/2 points to 129 1/2. Clearing house statement: Exchanges, $433,257,040; balances, $53,801,049. Money loaning at 4 per cent.

Cotton.

New York, Oct. 29.—The tenor of the war news from the Italian front caused heavy selling at the opening of the cotton market today, and on the call the tone was weak with prices down 18 to 31 points.

Action had been taken and Mr. Shippee had been told that the woman was at that moment at the clinic and Mr. Bowers told Mr. Shippee to send Dr. Burr to the Schoneskie home as quickly as possible.

Dr. Weldon's Statement. Dr. Weldon said: "Don't take that woman to the hospital until I have seen her."

Dr. Weldon had been notified of the case three days previous and had neglected to look into it, it was said. Mrs. Schoneskie is still at her home and this morning when a Herald reporter visited the house she was in terrible pain. It was plain that the woman was in need of medical assistance and four doctors had said she must go to the hospital for an operation.

Two Selectmen Confer. This morning Rogers, Weldon and Shippee held an informal consultation in Dr. Weldon's office. Victor Schoneskie was called. Each of the officials questioned him. Rogers told him that the town would not pay one cent for his sick wife until Schoneskie went to work. He threatened to have Victor thrown in jail for non-support.

At the Meeting. At the meeting this afternoon the matter came up for some spirited discussion.

The Rogers combination held that the woman should not be sent to the hospital unless her husband signed a paper that he would pay the expenses. The other members wanted the woman sent at once as they thought it was necessary.

The deadlock was broken by the motion of Selectman Aaron Johnson who moved that the matter be referred to Superintendent Shippee with power.

Whether or not the woman will go to the hospital today was not determined.

Highland Park

News reached this place today of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Hunter.

Mrs. Mabel Pratt, of Willington, is visiting with her sister, Mrs. E. M. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Alderman and twin daughters spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Alderman's father, George A. Reed, of Phoenixville.

Mrs. R. M. Stanley is visiting in Resindale, Mass., at her sister's, Mrs. I. R. Wheelock.

Clinton Nichols, of Hartford, spent yesterday afternoon with his brother, James N. Nichols.

The outside gang of Case Brothers is cutting a large second crop of hay.

W. J. T. Wilson and wife spent Sunday with friends in Rockville.

The employees of the Case mills subscribed between three and four thousand dollars to the Liberty Loan.

40 TONS OF HAY BURNED. About forty tons of meadow hay were burned yesterday afternoon.

DEFAMER OF FLAG. KNOCKED DOWN, DIES. Jersey City, N. J., Oct. 29.—As a result of his calling the uniform of a United States soldier a rag, an unidentified man is dead today and Edward Ganze is held on a charge of murder.

The dead man is said to have told the soldier he should be ashamed to wear the rags he wore. The soldier did not resent the insult by force, but Ganze, witnesses say, knocked the defamer down. His skull was fractured on the curbstone.

—and we will find that we have been blind, weak, afraid. God grant us now—today—the spirit of '76."

BRYAN TO HELP CHICAGO GO DRY.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—William Jennings Bryan will come to Chicago November 20 and 21 for two addresses to be delivered in behalf of the campaign to make Chicago dry, it was announced today.

Chicago club women at a "dry Chicago" breakfast today launched plans for an active campaign in support of petitions now being circulated, asking that the prohibition question be submitted to the voters at an election in April.

MAY SEND LETTERS C. O. D. DESPITE LAW

Washington, Oct. 29.—When the new three-cent postage law goes into effect on November 2, letters with insufficient postage will not be held up, but will be sent through to their destinations, it was announced today by the postoffice department.

When a letter reaches the post office of address the carrier will affix postage due stamps for the amount lacking. The law will be in effect from November 2.

$250,000 WORTH OF WHEAT GOES DOWN.

Detroit, Oct. 29.—Word reached here today that the wooden barge Abyssinia, which went ashore on Tecumseh Reef in Lake Erie on Friday near Buffalo, had sunk after breaking into pieces, and that 115,000 bushels of wheat owned by the Canadian government valued at $250,000 had gone down with the vessel.

No one was aboard the Abyssinia when she went to pieces, the crew having left when she struck the reef.

ONE DEAD, TWO HURT, IN NEW YORK ROBBERY.

New York, Oct. 29.—Samuel Regensburg is dead, another man and a woman are perhaps fatally injured as the result of a battle with burglars here early today.

Regensburg was shot when he encountered one of the intruders in his store. His brother, Harry Regensburg, and his wife, were shot when they rushed to the scene of the shooting. Hugh Davis, 21, a stenographer, was arrested and identified by Mrs. Regensburg as one of the burglars.

MICHAELIS' RESIGNATION.

Amsterdam, Oct. 29.—Chancellor Michaelis' resignation has been adopted, according to a report reaching here today.

Chancellor Michaelis handed his resignation to the Kaiser several days ago, according to a report which was cabled from Amsterdam. The Kaiser delayed action, and it had been reported that he would refuse to accept the resignation.

AFTER ENEMY ALIENS.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The government has decided upon drastic measures to keep alien enemies out of restricted territory. Orders were issued from the department of justice today for more rigid enforcement of the President's proclamation concerning barred zones.

Aliens violating are to be prosecuted to the limit.

COAL PROFITTEERS WILL FEEL LAW.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Attorney General Gregory today decided that the coal profiteers shall feel the strong arm of the law. Many specimen cases in which the public has been "gouged" by dealers have been laid before the department of justice for investigation, and instructions have been sent for vigorous prosecution of violators.

Fines not exceeding $5,000 and two years imprisonment await those who violate the fixed price law.

BRITISH FRONT ACTIVE AGAIN.

London, Oct. 29.—Increased raiding activity on the Belgian and British fronts in Flanders is reported in the official statement today issued by the war office.

The statement tells of a night raid opposite Warneton and of a successful repulse of enemy reconnoitering detachments.

Twenty-one men and a German post were captured north of Merchem by a Belgian party. Twenty-three Germans and a machine gun were captured in raids by Belgians north of Dixmude.

RED CROSS ACTS TO FEED U. S. CAPTIVES.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Declaring that Germany is not providing prisoners with sufficient food and clothing to keep them in good health, the Red Cross this afternoon announced the appropriation of $31,212 for the purchase of 75 tons of foodstuffs to feed Americans now held captive in Germany.

The food is to be forwarded to the Red Cross warehouse at Berne, Switzerland, where it will be held for shipment to American prisoners in Germany, as it is needed. About 100 seamen comprise the total number of Americans held prisoner. Twenty-five tons of food, enough to sustain them for three months, have already been sent to Berne, and 75 tons additional will insure their sustenance for another nine months.

SHECKARD ASS'T MANAGER?

New York, Oct. 29.—"Winter League" gossip circulated a story here today to the effect that Jimmy Sheckard may succeed Miller Huggins as manager of the Cardinals. It is said that President Branch Rickey will be the real manager, but wants some experienced man, like Sheckard, to act as his assistant.

BANNER CRADLE ROLL.

Local Church Has One of the Largest in United States.

As a result of a recent survey made by David Cook, Jr., managing editor of The Cradle Roll Superintendent, published by the Cook Publishing company of Elgin, Ill., the Cradle Roll department of the South Methodist Sunday school has been recognized as one of the 50 largest cradle roll departments of all denominations in the United States.

and Mrs. L. S. Burr, its superintendent has been appointed a member of a council or advisory board, to assist and make suggestions in carrying on this important work of the Sunday schools throughout the country.

The Cradle Roll department of the South Methodist Sunday school has 201 members enrolled at present. This is about the average enrollment, new babies being enrolled and some of the older ones being graduated into the kindergarten department each year.

For several years it has been recognized as one of the largest cradle roll departments in New England, but it was news to Mrs. Burr to learn it was one of the 50 largest in the country.

TOO MUCH MODESTY.

Manchester has done it again. That is it has done all that was asked of it and more. It was asked to subscribe a minimum of $667,000 and a maximum of $1,130,000 to the second Liberty Loan. It subscribed approximately a million and a quarter. Characteristically the task was accomplished without much ado. Manchester does things quietly but does them thoroughly. If there is a heavy load to lift, all hands put their shoulders under it and it moves. Then they go back to their work as if nothing had happened.

This town does not work for glory; still it should have credit in the outside world for what it does. It does not get the credit which belongs to it because it is running out of its class. Lists will be widely published showing what the cities of Connecticut did for the Liberty Loan. Manchester will not be mentioned in these lists because Manchester is only a town, although in every public cause Manchester gives more than half the cities in the state.

It is well to be modest, and Manchester is not looking for fulsome praise. But civic pride is one of the strongest stimulants of progress, and recognition of good work by the outside world encourages its continuance. The Herald earnestly hopes the residents of this community will some day cease to hide their light under a bushel, and obtain the credit which belongs to them by joining Connecticut's list of enterprising cities.

ROOSEVELT AND OLD AGE.

The 59th birthday anniversary of Mr. Roosevelt doubtless has caused many a man in the autumn of his life to wonder again at the record of achievement which America's most popular citizen has crowded into his majority.

Scientists tell us that the human creature has reached his present intellectual stature, which enables him to dominate the globe, because of the long "period of infancy" so-called, the 21 years more or less during which he is learning and before he becomes mature. Genius seems to be marked by this characteristic of an unusually long learning and growing period.

Old age is a mixture of qualities of physique, mind and character, and character perhaps most of all. Physicians say age is hardening of the arteries. And if there is any one quality that marks youth it is elasticity, of body, thought and temperament.

Old age is not a matter of years, any more than the content of a sermon is half an hour, because the discourse is 30 minutes long, or a fine picture five by ten feet, because that is the size of its canvass. We have all seen men of 60 who were older in spirit, body and mind than other men of 80. Old age is not alone hardening of the arteries, dimmed eyesight, dulled hearing, poor digestion, sleepless nights, etc. Many of these are only effects, anyhow.

Old age is a loss of hope, an increase in pessimism, a decrease in one's faith in the race and its destiny, more hard pride, a subjection to habit and the things of existence including the material selves which we carry around with us, a backward instead of a forward looking attitude, a self-centeredness, which prevents our living our lives in the lives of others, a lack of sympathy for suffering, of appreciation for the nobility of self-sacrifice, a loss of our sense of humor, a slurring of the little things of which existence is so largely composed, a forgetfulness of the fact that the world is "so full of a number of things" etc. as Stevenson put it once.

Mr. Roosevelt is remarkably young, considering the strain upon him that thirty years more or less have brought, because he has kept physically sound, because he has a sense of humor keen and alive, because his interests are as many as ever, because he has retained his fighting edge without bitterness, because—but why lengthen the list? "Teddy" is 59 years of youth, and most Americans who have followed his career hope he will round out the 100 years, and be useful and active during the entire 41, more or less, which should remain to him.

NEW WORDS OF THE WAR.

The French polli and particularly the British Tommy has invented scores or even hundreds of new words or re-applied old ones to express new conditions and ideas that have arisen in trench life etc. An industrious writer in The Sun, of New York, has compiled a considerable vocabulary of such words, which include not only slang, but terms that ought to remain good usage. Barrage is "concentrated fire on a sector of the enemy's line." The Kaiser is "Big Willie." A billet is a "house or other building behind the lines where soldiers are quartered." A Black Maria is a big shell, not a high explosive, that leaves a dense cloud of black smoke.

A man wounded enough to require a rest home says he has his "blightly." A sniper is a "body snatcher," otherwise known as a sharp shooter. French mountain troops are "blue devils." "Boche," a German, means literally a thick-head, from the French word "ca-boche." Canned beef is called "bully." A camion is a military truck. A cauliflower is a special shell with wire wings, meant to cut down barbed wire entanglements. "Cook's tour" is applied to a trip over a battle ground by newly-arrived soldiers under the guidance of officers. A ditty box is a navy term for a bag holding various odds and ends. A field kitchen is a "goulash kitchen." "Gone west" means killed. "Na pooh," nothing doing. "No man's land" is here defined as "the shell battered space between opposing trenches." "Over the top" means out of the trenches for attack.

The list might be extended indefinitely.

THE LUTHER ANNIVERSARY.

It is a significant fact that the 400th anniversary now being observed in America is the anniversary of that momentous day, October 31, 1517, when Martin Luther nailed his 95 theses to the door of the Castle church in Wittenberg. The other dates of his life, including those of his birth and death, are only incidental.

The celebration here yesterday at the Center Congregational church is one of many all over the country, the chief of which perhaps is the one to be held at Carnegie hall, New York, Wednesday evening.

A fact that is often slighted, in discussions of Luther's work, is that he fought originally against abuses in the Catholic church, not against doctrines. Many of these evils were corrected by the church itself in the counter reformation.

MAXIMUM, AND THEN SOME.

Manchester subscribed to more than a million and a quarter dollars' worth of the Second Liberty Loan bonds, or about one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars over its maximum. If there is a community in the state similarly circumstanced which did better we have yet to hear of it.

The proportion of the town's population of say 18,000, which possesses incomes sufficient to bring them within the class of the well-to-do, is very small. While it is true of Manchester, as of every manufacturing community, that its prosperity depends upon the demand for its products by a market widely scattered territorially, in no other sense does local capital represent a large part of the country.

Next to the big aggregate amount, the large number of subscribers here was the most satisfactory feature of the campaign.

American troops have been patted on the back by the French ever since they crossed the Atlantic, and now that some of them have gone to the first line trenches the London papers are jubilant. While we appreciate this kindly attitude toward our boys, we shall appreciate it more after our representatives have shown their skill and valor in actual warfare. That they will give a good account of themselves we are confident. But we will prize the words of praise more highly after they have been actually earned.

The longer Germany fights the more soldiers she seems to have. It is a mystery where they all come from, if her losses have been as heavy as we have been led to believe. Notwithstanding the powerful assaults now taking place on her western line she can spare a force large enough to roll back the entire Italian army.

The Austrians, Hungarians, etc. of the dual empire may be able to feed their hopes, now that an overwhelming force has been brought against the Italians, but their stomachs are likely to remain as empty as ever. And the chief battle lines remain on the broad Atlantic and the narrow strip of France and Flanders where the main armies still face each other. Good afternoon. Have you entered your suit for libel against The World yet?

Our apologies to Rockville. We got our figures regarding its Liberty Loan total from the correspondence of a Hartford morning paper. The correspondence didn't correspond, it seems, with the facts of the case.

Two bodies cannot be in the same place at the same time. This is the reason why the Boches will have to make room for our Sammies, including especially the red-headed Irishmen.

WILLIMANTIC MAN IS DEAD RESULT OF ODD ACCIDENT

John McNamara Was Lighting Tail Light When Struck by Auto Which Followed.

John McNamara of Willimantic is dead as a result of an auto accident which happened Saturday night just east of Manchester Green. The accident happened at just ten minutes past six.

McNamara and a friend named Albert Young were coming toward Manchester Green bound for Hartford. McNamara was driving the car, a Ford, and decided to get out just east of the Henry Robinson place which is the last house on the turnpike going from the Green. McNamara had discovered that his tail light was not lit and in lighting it met his death.

Car Was Following.

Oscar Arnurius of Ridge street was following in a heavier car. As the tail light was not lit he could not see the car in which McNamara was riding. When McNamara was lighting the end light another auto chanced to be going east. The lights from this car prevented Arnurius from seeing the McNamara car which had stopped. In turning to the right to give a clear road to the approaching car Arnurius struck McNamara.

Did Not Live Long.

McNamara did not die instantly, but shortly after Medical Examiner Tinker had been called. In the car with Arnurius was his brother-in-law, Watson Goodie. The Arnurius car was not traveling at a fast rate of speed as the damage to the McNamara car shows. The Ford was only dented slightly in the back. Young was seated in the Ford all the time and was not aware of the danger until he felt the blow against the car.

William Quish moved the body to Holloran's undertaking rooms with Dr. Tinker's permission. There the medical examiner made an examination of the body. Young had already sent for a Willimantic undertaker and Dr. Tinker ordered the body turned over to him when he came. Permission was received from the town clerk to remove the body to Willimantic when the undertaker arrived.

Arnurius in Court.

Oscar G. Arnurius, who was driving the car, was in court this morning although no warrant for his arrest had been issued.

In explaining the accident, Prosecuting Attorney Hathaway said that as far as he could learn it was one of those unfortunate accidents of the road that could not be avoided. Mr. Arnurius had exercised the best of care in the operation of the machine and was on the right side of the street when the accident took place. He therefore did not feel it incumbent upon himself as prosecuting attorney to issue a warrant. He said that Mr. Arnurius was a resident of this town and was a reliable citizen who could be depended upon to appear in court at any time in the future if the circumstances required it.

Attorney W. S. Hyde was in court representing Mr. Arnurius. Two men from Willimantic were also present representing the estate of the man who was killed.

20th ANNIVERSARY.

Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson of 50 Clinton street celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their wedding Saturday evening. They were assisted in the celebration by about 100 of their friends and relatives, out-of-town guests being present from Hartford, New Britain and Portland. A most enjoyable time was spent with music, singing and refreshments. As reminders of the occasion, the couple received a handsome silver set of five pieces, a silver dessert spoon and an electric table lamp. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have three sons and three daughters.

AT LAST! THE HERALD MEN WILL GET NAMES IN PRINT

Tired of Booming Other People the Typos and Scribes Will Woo Fame on the Alleys.

The employees of The Evening Herald have started a rumpus. The men complain that they have been putting the names of everyone in town in print with the exception of their own. Every day they set up names of people they do not know yet they never have a chance to set up their own names and see them printed. The reason for it, they have decided, is the fact that they never do anything for which their names should be printed.

The other day the men walked into the editor's office in a body and asked for suggestions. They told their troubles. They said they wanted to do something so that their names would appear in the paper that they were helping to publish.

Ye Ed Speaks.

"Well, men," said the editor, "I can't see any way out of it unless you form some sort of an athletic team and then print the scores in the paper. Why don't you form a football team and challenge any team of your weight to a game?"

"Ah, we don't want to get killed. We just want to see our names in the paper."

"Well, I've got it. Start a golf club and stage matches. That is the most healthful exercise that I know of."

"Gwan. We do enough walking after your copy without playing golf."

"How do you like tennis? Couldn't you build a court in the basement?"

"Yep. That's likely. The biggest open space in the basement measures two by four. C'mon fellows. We don't know anything better'n we do ourself's."

The "Devil" Appears.

As the men were leaving the office the "devil" piped, "Hy say, you fellows, why don't you bowl? I'll be pin boy."

"Good for you, Smiler. That's a good suggestion. Jim, you get the alleys for Wednesday night."

"How'll we choose teams?" "Let the married men bowl the single men."

As a Result Bowling Match.

As a result the Married men are going to bowl the Single men Wednesday night at the Brunswick alleys. The married men are safe. They have some experienced bowlers. But, the single men can't find enough of their kind in the office to make a team of five men.

Here's the Benedicts.

The married men have the McConigal Brothers, Jim and Bill, stars of the Outlaw League, on their side. These two bowlers have a reputation which should knock the pins over without the balls. Then the married men have the pick of the shop to make up the rest of the team. There is "Bill" Asimus, who bowls with his eyes shut and can't stop himself from getting strikes.

"Tom" Ferguson, who initiated one of the local alleys by getting the first strike on them, is also with the married men. Jones, the make-up man, is an experienced bowler. He has been practising of late in his own home with plates for balls and sticks of wood for pins. Then there's Browning, Hatch, Sutherland and Crosby to pick from. If that team doesn't make the single men look sick then none will.

Ha! The Bachelors.

The single men will use the Holmes Brothers, who are whizzers with their patented spit ball. And "Mac" McCabe is without doubt the best bowler in the whole shop. He has the stuff that makes the pins start to fall before he throws. The other men on the single team will be chosen from "Joe" McConigal, George Ferris, who has a pressing engagement with his tailor Wednesday night, and the junior Ferguson. The latter mentioned are all expert inexperienced bowlers with the exception of Ferris who is a star.

Some "Bone" Queries.

All sorts of queries are being put at the Herald office before Wednesday night comes. "What's the idea? Do you throw the ball or simply push it? If you don't hit any does it count? Do you try to pitch the ball through the bunch of sticks without knocking any of 'em down?" It is easy to see from these questions that many of the employees of The Evening Herald don't bowl very often. All hands are waiting patiently for Wednesday night. Side bets favor the married men 3-1.

Contrary to general belief, men do not look for a white horse when they see a redheaded girl.

As a matter of fact, they continue to look at the girl until she passes from view.—Capper's Weekly.

WILL YOU BUY A SHARE TO HELP OUR SOLDIERS?

A novel plan has been evolved by the officers of the local chapter of the Red Cross Society to bring in contributions for our allotment of 850 Christmas kits for our boys.

A table has been prepared of the different items which will go into each kit. Shares of $5 each will be issued and those wishing to help in the work may buy shares of either one of the items. For instance: If you think the boys need candy more than they do tobacco you may subscribe for a share of candy. If you think they need envelopes or a mirror or games you may subscribe to one of these without subscribing to the others. As the various items are subscribed the local committee will make the fact known.

Anyone wishing to subscribe a share should notify at once either Mrs. D. C. Y. Moore or C. Elmore Watkins.

The items and the shares necessary to subscribe them, follow:

Handkerchiefs,	$175,	35 shares
Writing Pads,	$50,	10 shares
Envelopes,	$25,	5 shares
Pencils,	$25,	5 shares

MANCHESTER UNITED.

Both Protestant and Catholic Churches to Help in Food Conservation.

On Thursday evening at the parish hall of the Center Congregational church, Robert Scoville, Food Administrator of Connecticut, will speak on "Food Conservation and What the Churches May Do to Assist in the State and National Movement." Local speakers, who participated in the work, will also be on the program.

Manchester is going to take an active part in this movement as was evidenced today when it was announced that every church in town, both Catholic and Protestant will send representatives to this meeting.

Knights of Columbus Army Clubhouse For Recreation Work For U. S. Soldiers

DIRECT INFORMATION FROM THE AYER CAMP

Local Committee Investigates Before Starting the K. of C. Y. M. C. A. Campaign

SPENT NIGHT WITH BOYS

Found Secretaries of Both Associations Enthusiastic Over Manchester's Campaign.

For the purpose of learning firsthand just what the Knights of Columbus and the Y. M. C. A. are accomplishing in their army recreation work for the soldiers, a committee visited the camp, Saturday and remained until Sunday evening. The committee visited the various clubhouses of the two organizations and saw for itself the soldiers engaged in the recreational, educational and athletic activities made possible by the Y. M. C. A. and the Knights of Columbus. Visits were also made to the headquarters of the two organizations, where the comprehensive and far-reaching program for army recreation work was gone over in detail with the respective field secretaries, and to complete the observation trip the committee spent the night at the camp, bunking in with the soldiers at Sanitary Train Ambulance Company No. 304, and breakfasting with them in the dining room of the mess hall in the morning.

The information thus secured will add to the knowledge already in the possession of Manchester people regarding the movement to raise a $2,000 fund for the Knights of Columbus and a $20,000 fund for the Y. M. C. A. and will tend to corroborate previous announcements as to the excellent work for the soldiers which is being done at the cantonments of the military forces of the United States.

The committee members who visited Camp Devens were Harry M. Durke, P. J. O'Leary and Fred H. Wall. They were accompanied by Photographer E. Martin Ogden and Paul Fitzgerald, who left today for Fort Slocum, N. Y., for volunteer service in the aviation corps.

For Soldiers' Welfare.
The Knights of Columbus headquarters are located near the principal entrance at Camp Devens, and this was the first place visited. The headquarters are under the charge of the general field secretary, Hon. John E. Dumphy, a graduate of the Catholic University of Washington, D. C., and he is assisted by Roger F. Keleher, a Georgetown man, and Attorney Eugene Sullivan, a graduate of Boston University. The post chaplain is the Rev. Thomas P. McGinn.

The K. of C. work is conducted in two immense structures known as "the headquarters" and the administration buildings. The headquarters building seats 1,600 men comfortably and many more in emergencies. Opposite the main entrance is a spacious stage for entertainments. At the rear of the stage are two great sliding doors, and when these are pushed back an altar for religious services is seen, and each morning mass is celebrated. Along the sides of the auditorium are long desks for the accommodation of soldiers who desire to write letters. Free stationery is furnished to the men and all letters written there are dropped into mail boxes and are taken to the post office without further trouble to the writers. The men are encouraged to write frequently to their friends, and every inducement and convenience is offered them for this purpose.

"I have seen the book with the list of German spies in the United States. It will be at Wittschaett's until tomorrow morning."

On the main floor is a library with an interesting collection of books, and in addition current literature and daily papers are at hand. The secretary's office and the quarters for the secretary's assistants are in the building. In a balcony above the main entrance a moving picture machine has been installed and the soldiers are treated to the latest films. Two pianos and a number of gramophones add to the entertainment features.

Harmony Prevails.
The Manchester men were shown every courtesy by General Camp Secretary Robbie. On all sides were evidences of the harmony between the Knights of Columbus and the Y. M. C. A. workers at the cantonment. At the K. of C. headquarters there was warm commendation for the activities and cooperative spirit of the Y. M. C. A. An indication of the generous and helpful spirit which prevails was found in the "Sunday Services" poster of the Y. M. C. A., which headed its list of announcements with a statement setting forth when and where the masses of the Roman Catholic services in the camp would be held. Speaking of the field masses, General Camp Secretary Robbie spoke of the large attendance and said: "It does my heart good to see those young men attending so strictly to their religious duties."

A Night in Camp.
Many of the Manchester soldiers at Camp Devens were home for a Sunday visit, but the Manchester visitors located several of those on duty. At Field Hospital 304 eleven make their headquarters, including Messrs. Chadwick, Heffron, O'Gorman, Segerdahl, Hackett, Leggett, Andrisio, Chamberlain, Shea, Darling and Steele, and they insisted upon the visitors from home remaining at their headquarters over night. The novelty of bunking with the soldiers in army blankets and on the iron cot beds, and of arising with the bugle, forming in line with a kit of tin eating utensils, to breakfast in the dining room of the mess hall had its pleasant features. There was no lack of appetite for the pineapple, scrambled eggs, white bread and coffee which constituted the breakfast.

Building Crowded.
The headquarters building was fairly alive with soldiers Saturday evening, hundreds of them being engaged in writing, others being occupied in the library, while long rows of them stood shoulder to shoulder awaiting their turns to approach the confessionals located at the rear of the stage.

There is a special entertainment nearly every night at the headquarters building. Wednesday last was observed as "Liberty Loan Day," and after hearing all about the loan the boys were treated to an entertainment by Alhambra Council, No. 88, K. of C., of Worcester, the largest K. of C. council in the world. The evening before, former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, of Boston, was present and gave an address. Of course all of these entertainments are open to all soldiers regardless of creed. The building is open at all times; there are no private meetings, and no society affairs behind closed doors; the quarters are for all of the soldiers all the time.

Besides the recreation features the headquarters gives special attention to educational advantages for the men, and has instruction given under its direction in English, French and mathematics. The administration building is a counterpart of the headquarters building excepting in size, being smaller. It is located a mile from the headquarters.

Y. M. C. A.'s Great Work.
The Manchester men were very cordially received at Y. M. C. A. headquarters by General Camp Secretary Kenneth Robbie. Admirably organized, efficiently conducted, and thoroughly determined to do all possible for the moral and physical welfare of the soldier, the Y. M. C. A. organization at Camp Devens is achieving results which are as wonderful as they are apparent. Before the Y. M. C. A. campaign to raise $20,000 in Manchester begins, which will be soon after the Knights of Columbus $2,000 drive, The Evening Herald will give a complete account of the remarkable success of the Y. M. C. A. work at Camp Devens.

SUGAR SITUATION IS NOW WELL IN HAND—SCOVILLE
State Food Administrator Says That Crisis Has Been Passed—His Statement.
"The sugar situation is now well in hand," said Robert Scoville, United States Food Administrator today at headquarters of the Committee of Food Supply of the State Council of Defence.
Mr. Scoville's statement follows: "There has been a panic and a run on the sugar bank, but it would seem that the crisis was passed. If the consumer will purchase only for immediate needs, there should be enough for all, and a new stock soon to arrive will be sold at a reasonable price. Only a few of the wholesalers seem to be trying to take advantage of the situation and to make unreasonable profits, and most of the dealers have tried to act in a public-spirited manner."
"It should be remembered that none of the wholesalers have paid more than the normal price for sugar as the refiners are working under an agreement with the United States Food Administration. After November 1 all of the wholesalers will be licensed. The whole incident shows how near we are to a food shortage and the purchase of 200,000,000 pounds of sugar in Louisiana indicates the intention of the food administration to care for our own people's needs."
"The necessity of conservation and the danger of hoarding are shown by the experience of the last few days."

FIREMEN ENTERTAIN.
Members of Hose & Ladder Company No. 1 and a number of invited friends spent a social time at the company's quarters on Pine street Saturday evening. About 75 or 80 men were present and they had a most enjoyable time. The bowling alleys were popular all through the evening, both duck pins and the big pins being bowled. Cards and pool also were enjoyed in the club room on the second floor. During the evening, a buffet lunch was served.

Russell Purnell came home from Wesleyan college for the week-end. Mrs. Thomas Hadden is visiting relatives in Gilbertville, Mass.

Harold Olds and Harold Beechler, students at Storrs College, were home over Sunday.

Miss Sarah Stevenson of Center street is visiting her sister Mrs. Thomas Totten of Springfield.

Mrs. E. A. Kyte of Stafford Springs is visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Babcock of Hamlin street.

Paul Fitzgerald, William Barron and Jules Modean, who recently enlisted in the aviation corps, were home over Sunday.

Miss Carrie Sauer of Pine street was the guest of Miss Ethel Woodward of Attaugan over the week end.

The Misses Ellen and Minnie Hadden have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kennedy of West Springfield, Mass.

The Misses Bella Caddell, Annie Verner, Jane Matthews and Lizzie Hadden spent the week end with friends at Three Rivers, Mass.

Fred Woodhouse of Eldridge street and Walter Snow of Cedar street were in Boston yesterday and today on a combined business and pleasure trip.

The usual number of soldiers and sailors was in town for the week end. Those at Camp Devens find that they can obtain leaves of absence much easier now that things have become settled at the camp.

The officials of the Manchester Country Club have offered a substantial reward for the arrest and conviction of the person or persons who insist in stealing the property of the club from the grounds on South Main street.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the South Methodist church will meet at three o'clock Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Clarence Taylor of West Center street. "The African Trail" will be the topic of the meeting.

Elizabeth Leary of New Haven, formerly a resident of this town, was visiting relatives for the week end in town. Miss Leary is now a stenographer employed in the offices of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad in New Haven.

A number of local men at Camp Devens were driven back to the camp last night at ten o'clock by Walter Olson in Clifford Cheney's touring car.

Traffic on Center street seemed to be heavier yesterday than any Sunday during the past season. A steady string of autos passed along the street from early in the morning until late in the night.

Local cars went off schedule Saturday night so far that it was impossible to reach Manchester between 8:30 and ten o'clock. Because of the large crowd assembled at City Hall to hear the singing and speeches all cars were forced to go straight up State street. This fooled many people who stood at the old station on Central Row for about two hours.

Rev. Harold S. Winship, of Coventry, now sergeant major at Camp Devens, attended church at the Center Sunday morning and was invited to the pulpit to make the closing prayer by Dr. Hesselgrave. He will speak at this church a week from next Sunday morning, opening the campaign for Y. M. C. A. funds for use in army camps.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hall of Niantic, formerly of Manchester, have announced the engagement of their daughter Mildred Agnes to Sergeant Sherman Gallamore of Fort Mills, Philippine Islands, formerly of Fort H. G. Wright, New York. The wedding will take place upon his return from the Philippines.

A number of the members of Daughters of Liberty, L. L. O. L., No. 125, went to Springfield Saturday and surprised Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kennedy who have recently moved there from this town. The visitors were entertained royally and a bounteous supper was served by the hostess.

Before leaving for home the visitors presented a gold signet ring to Mrs. Kennedy's son, Wm. C. Kennedy. Guests were also present from Lily True Blue, L. L. O. L., No. 168, of Hardwick, Mass.

"There are stormy times ahead for the United States, boy. You ought to give up all this nonsense and be getting ready."

FERRIS BROTHERS

ANOTHER VISITOR DRUNK.

Daniel Burke, who claimed East Glastonbury as his home, was dressed like a banker when he faced Judge Arnett in the police court this morning, charged with intoxication. He was arrested by Officer Morris late Saturday night at the corner of Oakland and Mill streets and was in danger of being run over by the trolley cars. Burke told the judge that he came to Manchester to see a friend and that he drank more than was good for him and eventually became lost and went to sleep at the side of the road.

The judge fined him five dollars and costs and Burke started for East Glastonbury for the money to pay the fine.

D. A. R. BUY BONDS.

The regular fall meeting of Orford Parish Chapter, D. A. R., was held Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank F. Spencer of North Main street. The program included an interesting paper on "Witchcraft in Connecticut", written and read by Mrs. Ida G. Bissell of East Hartford, a short talk on the Consumers' League by its secretary, Miss Mary C. Wells of Hartford, and solos by Miss Townsend.

Orford Parish Chapter has subscribed $1,050 to the Liberty Loan. The hostesses at Saturday's meeting were Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. C. E. Norton and Mrs. John Brown of Talcottville.

Probably the chief result of the German successes against Russia will be a German peace offer. The use made of the Roumanian army by Germany will be repeated.

DRAFTED MEN HOME.

The football team of the 301st Machine Gun Battalion at Camp Devens played in New Britain Saturday and a special train was run to the Hardware city for the accommodation of the soldiers. This gave most of the Manchester boys an opportunity to spend the week end at their homes in town. Among those who took advantage of the opportunity were Edward Balleseper, John Darling, Warren Keeney, John Fitzgerald, James Holloran, Francis Bray, Robert Curran, Harold Walsh, John Kerr, Thomas Muldoon and Howard Matchett.

INCREASE IN FARES.

Commencing on November 1 any railroad ticket for which the fare will be over 35 cents will be taxed eight per cent. This will increase the fare from here to New York by 23 cents and to Boston, 21 cents. It will take five cents extra to go to Waltham and the 1,000 mile tickets will cost $1.80 cents more. Any ticket bought before November 1 and used after that date, will be taxed.

Perhaps the nickname "Salvation Army" which the French have applied to the American expeditionary forces, isn't far from the mark.

Meriden Record.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wilson of New Haven were in town yesterday calling on relatives and friends.

Robert Modean of the Naval reserves spent the week end in town. He is engaged in transport duty.

August Brimley, of Maple street, was taken to St. Francis hospital today.

All the soldier boys who were in town over Sunday returned to Camp Devens at Ayer, Mass., last night.

Chester Wilson, who is training with the Naval Reserves at Pelham Bay Park, spent the week end at his home in town.

The regular meeting of the Manchester Builders' Association will be held in the Recreation building this evening at eight o'clock.

St. Joseph's Aid society of St. Bridget's church will hold a whist in the parish hall Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock.

Among the Manchester men home from Camp Devens for the week end was Edward Balleseper. Balleseper captained the contingent from this district which was the second batch to go to the camp.

There was trouble on the high tension wires between Hartford and Manchester about 12.30 Sunday morning and the auxiliary plant in the new mill engine room had to be started.

The Manchester Trust Company has notified all its subscribers to the 3 1/2 per cent Liberty Bonds that the bonds can be exchanged for the new four per cent bonds through the local bank. All that is necessary is to notify the Trust company to make the change.

Miss Nellie Annis of Hartford who was for many years a resident of this town is seriously ill with typhoid pneumonia. The word from the bedside yesterday afternoon was more encouraging than for several days as her temperature had gone down a little.

Miss Clara W. Larkin will be present at the rehearsal for guard work of the Woman's Benefit association of the Maccabees Wednesday evening and a full attendance is hoped for. The state rally will be held Tuesday, November 6, with Mystic Review in the Spencer building. There will be meetings at 10 and 2.30 o'clock and an open meeting in the evening to which the public will be invited.

"If I have never lived for my country, sir, perhaps that gives me a better right to die for her."
