ITALY'S LINE STIFFENING; RETREAT HALTS--BRAZIL REPLIES TO POPE

ISOLATED NO MORE

Would Have Remained Apart
From Great Conflict If
Germany Hadn't Extended War to America--Alignment with Allies and United States Has Enabled Her to Speak Freely.

Rio Janeiro, Nov. 15.—Brazil would have remained apart from the conflict in Europe, despite sympathy in this country for the Entente cause, had Germany not extended her war to America, thereby preventing inter-trading between neutrals, says
Brazil's reply to Pope Benedict's peace note.

It continues:
"Brazil can no longer maintain her isolated attitude, and now, solid as she must be and really is with the nations on whose side she has ranged herself, she can speak as an independent."

IS STILL A MYSTERY YALE RUSSIAN TALKS

Prof. Petrunkevitch Says U. S.
Has Poor Knowledge
of Conditions.

NEITHER SIDE WANTS A SEPARATE PEACE

London, Nov. 15.—The real situation in Russia was still an unsolved mystery this afternoon.

Reports were less optimistic, however. One dispatch from Helsinki, by way of Stockholm, said that the Bolshevik forces south of Petrograd had recaptured Gatchina and that the troops loyal to Kerensky were in retreat, to prevent their capture.

Other advices reported big fires in Petrograd with much of the city looted.

Yale Teacher on Situation.
New Haven, Nov. 15.—Neither Kerensky or the Bolsheviks wishes a separate peace with Germany, but both wish a universal peace agreed to by the socialists of all countries, declared Prof. A. Petrunkevitch of Yale university in an interview here today.

Americans have a generally poor knowledge of the Russian political situation, he says. Kerensky is really a socialist, the socialists, who constitute 87 per cent of the Russian political parties. Neither of the allied groups desire a constitution-government like ours, he says.
Containing 13 per cent are those which establish a real constitution.

He was engaged in denouncing
the peace on Russia's part,
he declared. "Russia has no interest in making a separate peace, as we understand it. She may wish to arrange an immediate peace through concerted action of all nations, but she has no idea of accepting a so-called German peace."

Millions and wheatless days are being witnessed in restaurants all one manage to start a "tipless" day?

READ THIS READER, READ THIS NOISE; IT IS A TALE OF "THE HELL FIRE BOYS"

Washington, Nov. 15.—If His Satanic Majesty happened to drop around at the American University training camp today he would see the "Hell Fire Battalion" at work and might blush with envy.

On the War department records
the battalion is known as the "Gas and Flame Battalion of the 30th Regiment engineers." Throughout the army they are known as "the Hell Fire Boys." This name is literally true. A group of red-blooded Americans, most of them youths, are daily training in gas and flame fighting and learning how to make a literal inferno in return for German
"frightfulness."

Gas and Flame Fighting.
Gas and flame fighting is a new wrinkle in the American army, but the "Hell Fire Battalion" has taken to it as the duck takes to water.
It is a volunteer organization. Every man has offered his services. There is a general rush of engineers to get transfers to the battalion, for it offers more possibilities of adventure

Oversubscription of Town's Quota.

TOWN WAS WELL COVERED

The great drive for the Y. M. C. A. war fund will end in Manchester tonight, and at nine o'clock the workers will meet at the Recreation building to make their returns and hear the result.

Judging from the activity of the canvassers today the $20,000 required from this town will be comfortably over-subscribed. Supper will be served at nine o'clock and after all have satisfied their hunger
—and by that time they will be a hungry bunch—adjournment will be taken to the assembly hall on the same floor. There will be room there not only for the canvassers but also for the other workers who are specially interested in the result,
such as the volunteer stenographers, accountants and waitresses. Short speeches will be made by each of the team captains.

The weather has been perfect for the campaign and the canvassers, with the aid of automobiles have been able to cover the town thoroughly.

A Correction.
In the team totals printed yesterday Team No. 4, Captain Burke was,
by a typographical error, deprived of $1,000 of the credit due it. Its collection reported yesterday were $1,577.50, instead of $577.50.

The Herald clock used Tuesday and yesterday to show the amounts subscribed to the fund will not be used today as the team captains will make no report until this evening. It will, however, be used tomorrow to show the complete amount collected.

Dangers in Having Union and Non-

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 15.—Labor leaders attending the American Federation of Labor convention here are going to urge the administration, in the interest of more harmonious relations between workers and employers during the war, to take a positive stand against the "open shop" and insist upon the employment of union labor wherever possible on government work. They believe that such a decision is due

WALLINGFORD MAN PROBABLE U. S. FLYER

Paris, Oct. 15.—The American aviator who was shot down over France, and whose identity is unknown, is believed to be a Wallingford man, it is learned here today.

Protecting Bombardeers.

The American aviators protected photographers' machines and bombing squadrons, flying far inside the enemy's lines in company with the heavier and slower machines, and giving battle to any German fighting machines that appeared to interfere with the French formation. After doing their patrol work the fighting pilots were ordered to descend to within 150 feet of the earth and fire
two drums of machine gun bullets
among the German troops, and no matter where they were, in trenches,
in billets, or in villages and towns
behind their lines.

Wallingford Man's Escape.

Sub-Lieutenant Raoul Givas Luf-
berry of Wallingford, Conn., continued his winning streak in the Solissons sector by bagging two more German machines. One was a new two-seater of the albatross type and was "knocked down" by the American
"ace" in flames inside the French lines. The other machine Lufberry sent spinning to the ground, wrecked, inside its own lines. This carries to 14, official, the number of machines
Lufberry has destroyed, and ranks him with the leading quartet of French airmen.

CZAR'S RESTORATION DOUBTED.

London, Nov. 15.—Slight credence was given here today to an unconfirmed dispatch from Copenhagen
to the effect that the peasants of Siberia have proclaimed the independence of that country, have liberated
the former Russian Czar and have established him as their ruler. This information is attributed to a German source and was regarded as only one of the wild rumors that have filtered in.

Paris, Nov. 15.—With the stiffen-

Austro-German invaders, violent fighting has spread along the whole 140-mile front in the southwestern

Rome today. The Germans holding resting point on the Swiss frontier,

and to get behind the Italian lines,
but were repulsed after severe fighting.

ELEVATE THE YANKS IS HUGGINS' JOB

Midget Has Opportunity Before Him—Was Handicapped at St. Louis.

New York, Nov. 15.—Midget Miller Huggins left the Cardinals to join the Yankees after building up a team in St. Louis this year which bids fair to make a strong fight for the National League pennant in 1918.

The third-place Cards of the season just closed were elevated to that lofty position by Huggins after finishing the 1916 campaign in a tie with the Reds for last place. Some accomplishment on the part of Huggins? You said it!

And now the midget manager has taken the reins of a second division club in the American League, but those who know him best are predicting that the 1918 Yankees will bloom forth as pennant contenders right off the reel.

Huggins' Opportunity.
At least, Huggins should elevate the Yanks to a first division berth if given his head, and it is a practical certainty that he would never have signed a contract with the Yanks unless he was confident of his ability to do so.

aging and building up his team. After fourteen years as a major leaguer, during which time he was one of the greatest second basemen who ever wore a pair of spikes, and for five years past a manager who has always commanded respect, Huggins will break into American League ranks next summer with rival pilots casting a respectful weather eye at him. He is one of the most resourceful managers in the business, and with a club that will back up his judgment with cold cash and moral support, he faces the greatest opportunity of his life.

Huggins at St. Louis.
At St. Louis Hug was continually working under a handicap. Under the regime of the Brittons he was forced to make deals that he did not sanction, and when opportunities presented themselves it often happened that the owners of the club crossed Hug's experienced judgment.

It will be different in New York. Colonel Ruppert has already stated that Hug is to be in supreme command, and that the only requirement the club will place upon him will be that of maintaining strict discipline among the players, on and off the field. That Hug will keep discipline to the fore is a certainty, for he believes and demands that every ball player should give the club his best.

At least, Huggins should elevate the Yanks to a first division berth if given his head, and it is a practical certainty that he would never have signed a contract with the Yanks unless he was confident of his ability to do so.

all the time. Huggins believes he has the nucleus of a winning ball club in the Yankees as they stand today. Gilhooley and Marsons, not to mention Miller, are great outfielders. Wallie Pipp should reach the crest of his career as a first baseman next season, and Frank Baker is good for another year at least on the hot corner.

DRINKING ON THE MARCH. Quantico, Va., Nov. 15.—The drinking of water at frequent intervals while on long hikes is not recommended by U. S. Marines, stationed here.

While the average man should consume, according to medical authorities, from two to three quarts a day, troops on the march should drink this amount at regular periods and not sip a mouthful at a time, say the Marine officers.

In Haiti, the Philippines and other countries where the Marines have been compelled to hike long and hard, men who constantly sipped at their canteens were the first to become exhausted. On the contrary, the men who drank their fill every two or three hours and not between times, proved to be the best hikers.

Down in New York Tammany is going to claim that its past methods have been endorsed and that a return to them cannot be made any too quickly.

In the first match, No. 4 took two out of three games from No. 8, winning the first string by one pin and the third, by two pins, while they lost the middle string by only seven pins. Tom Rogers, rolling as sub for Joe Moore, was the high bowler with a single of 98 and a three string of 272.

In the second match, No. 7 took two of three strings from No. 3, the last game going to the winners by only three pins. Al Foy of No. 3 was high man in this match, making high single of 98, the same as Rogers in the other match, and securing a three string score of 283, which was 11 pins better than Rogers's score. COLUMBIA'S CHANCES WITH WESLEYAN SLIM

New York—Columbia's chances with Wesleyan Saturday look mighty slim today. Cochran, Rosen and Houlihan will be out of the game on account of "staininess." Practice was spirited and the soldier boys believe themselves sure winners.

Your Motor's Efficiency

You can judge the efficiency of your motor by its flexibility—the eagerness with which it "picks up," the steadiness and smoothness with which it turns over when throttled down.

SOCONY gets the full flexibility out of your car because it is absolutely pure, and every drop powerful.

More than that, SOCONY is always the same—every gallon like every other gallon. That means freedom from the motor troubles which result when today's gasoline doesn't mix with yesterday's carburetor adjustments.

THE DRAFT CLASSIFICATION.

The draft classification which the Evening Herald published yesterday is nothing if not thoroughgoing, within the age limits imposed. The latter are the same as at present, 21 to 31, but detailed distinctions are made regarding the sequence in which the 9,000,000 men affected by the second draft are to be drawn.

This is not the first time this newspaper has commented on such a classification. The need of one became evident during the course of the first draft, and doubtless many of the recommendations published in various newspapers and periodicals were used in the final classification adopted.

Aside from its exhaustiveness, the classification for the second draft is convenient in that, if the nation ever comes to it, which it will not do for many a decade, the plan can be adapted for men of greater or even less age—with modifications of course.

We are bound to say, also, that the placing in the fifth and last class of legislative, executive and judicial officers of the government, licensed pilots and similar important officials, is wise. So is the putting of heads of industrial concerns in the fourth class, though they might well be recruited last. All of these men are specialists, of high value in aiding the material output of the country and hence the war, and of correspondingly little use in actual service. Their higher intelligence, it is true, alters the case, and many of them have obtained commissions in one branch or another of the army. But speaking generally, they are of far more good at home.

The classification is not perfect. It is not perfect.

government might well have considered more fully various municipal employees. But experienced firemen and policemen are included in class 3, if physicians of municipal health boards are omitted.

The classification will provide a mechanism that will do much toward making the wheels of the second draft run more smoothly.

"SIBERIA RESTORES CZAR."

If there is one thing in which the various factions in Russia now fighting Kerensky could unite, it would be a second deposition party for the Emperor Nicholas. The announcement this morning in large type that Siberia has restored the Czar may be taken with many grains of salt. Siberia is a big country, and while the loyalty of the Cossacks to the former emperor might effect such a coup, there hardly has been time for it as yet. This, also, is conditional upon the Cossacks' having remained untouched by the revolution which dethroned Nicholas, and that is doubtful.

The war itself, even with Germany proceeding in a new attack about Riga, did not suffice to unite the Russians, but any considerable restoration of the Czar would do it speedily.

Siberia has been the hell of too many a revolutionist, as George Kennan showed plainly in his "Siberia and the Exile System", and banishment thereto has been too long and ugly a tradition for the radicals of any stamp to permit its use by the deposed emperor as a ladder back to power.

THE RAILWAY DILEMMA.

It is a dilemma chiefly for the government. If the Interstate commerce commission, which hardly can be supposed to act independently of government policy, grants the 15 per cent. freight rate increase, it will find it difficult to sidestep the demands of the railway brotherhood heads for a large advance in wages. The latter, as we announced yesterday, are to see the President at the White House now very shortly. On the other hand, if the four chiefs' demands are acceded to, the enlarged income from higher freight rates will be partly and in many instances entirely wiped out, with a greater deficit than at present to boot.

The conductors and brakemen on all the railroads of the country, according to a Washington dispatch which we published yesterday, want $100,000,000 more a year. Railway officials say that the increase amounts to 42 per cent. in addition to $60,000,000 due under the Adamson law, which provided for back pay from the first of the year.

It is needless to say that public sentiment will be even more completely against the brotherhoods now than it was before, if for no other reason than that the country is now at war.

These campaigns for war funds are doing a lot toward establishing friendly relations and forming acquaintances among the people of the town. In the first place, there are the workers, who get together every day to compare notes and turn in their reports. They cannot help becoming well acquainted with each other. Between meetings the canvassers are floating all over town, stopping at houses here and there and in many instances engaging in conversation with persons they have never met before. In the great majority of cases the canvassers are cordially welcomed and friendly relations are established which will always last. It all goes to show how much more pleasant life would be if people were more sociable.

The New York suffragists will find their political appetites not so sharp, now that they have the vote. That was the experience of the Colorado suffragists. "All that glitters is not gold." If the new voters turn out in any larger numbers a few years from now than the men are doing, we shall be very much surprised. The suffrage machine and anti-suffrage machine stages, however, still await us. No place like home.

Lost, strayed or stolen, somewhere in Ohio: The final vote on the license issue. A suitable reward if returned in time to remain news.

New York City isn't the only place where political results begin at home, much as the ousting of Mr. Mitchell is to be deplored.

The golden rule, whether Mr. Con-fucius' version or our own, seems to have been mislaid in Russia lately. Also Mr. Franklin's "a place for everything and everything in its place"—not to mention, a place for everybody and everybody in his place.

How can Mr. Wilson be lonely, with all those picketers about?

The proposed supreme inter-allied war council, which nearly brought on a cabinet crisis, had abated somewhat today, but the political situation is still threatening.

There may be remarkable developments before the end of the year," was the prediction made today by the parliamentary correspondent of the Chronicle. The crux of the situation as it existed today was this:

Situation Today. When Prime Minister Lloyd George made it known that a supreme war council was to be formed in Paris for "closer unity and better direction of operations on the western front," a number of newspapers at once began attacking the scheme. Details of the council and its real functions were unknown. In the absence of this information the press jumped at the conclusion that politics would play a big part in the formation of the council and fears were expressed that civilians, without military training, might try to dictate to the veteran officers now in charge of the British and French armies. These press attacks led to a declaration in Commons by the Premier, and now it is established that the council will not curtail the authority of the commanders and the general staffs of the British and French armies. All the council can do is to make recommendations, but it will keep in closer touch with military developments than the governments have been able to do in the past.

Debate Monday. The council will be debated in the House of Commons on Monday. There were reports that the British cabinet might fall before the storm is weathered, and the resignation of the French ministry seemed to strengthen these reports. In this respect the parliamentary correspondent of the Chronicle, who is usually well-informed, says: "The position is very similar to that existing a year ago when dis-appointment over the Roumanian collapse reacted very detrimentally upon the Asquith government. However, the British cabinet had no more responsibility for the Roumanian collapse than the present situation existing in Italy. Members find it difficult to harmonize the Premier's statement in Parliament yesterday with his recent speech in Paris. Where was the justification for the Paris utterance?"

The most encouraging war news in some time is the report of small losses to the submarines the last week. Only one British ship of more than 1,600 tons was sunk by mine or submarine, and only six vessels of smaller tonnage, including one fishing boat. While the submarine toll has been steadily decreasing for several weeks, this record is by far the smallest yet and indicates that the Allies are working effective measures to restrict the activities of the underwater craft.

The contrast between the patriotic men who are giving their valuable time to war work and the men who are giving up good paying jobs to enlist at soldiers' pay, on the one hand, and the striking mechanics who are demanding the highest pay and the easiest working conditions on the other hand is wide. One side represents patriotism and the highest generosity; the other heedlessness of the country's welfare and utter selfishness. We wish that some way could be devised to put the strikers in the trenches.

THE TIN-EAR RETREAT.

The shades of night were falling fast When down the railroad track there passed A motley crowd of weary guys, Counting the greasy railroad ties. "Why do you leave the gay white way?" A lonely hobo paused to say. "Why do you pull the heel and toe, With winny winds about to blow?" Then came the answer meek and grim, In chorus they replied to him, And this is what they sadly said: "The New York boxing game is dead."

Watch How The Income Tax Affects You, Mister

If your salary is $25 a week, you are exempt from taxation under the war revenue bill, if married. If single you will have to pay Uncle Sam a tax of 2 per cent on the amount you earn in excess of $1,000. As $25 per week is $1,300 a year, your tax will be 2 per cent of $300 or $6.

The war revenue tax is levied on "persons," not "men," and so before the first of March next, every single man or woman who makes $25 per week must appear at the office of the internal revenue collector in their district and make out a schedule.

If he or she owns real estate, an equity in a house, or is paying interest on any form of indebtedness, exemption may be claimed. For instance, if the $25 a week man owns an equity in a residence, paying $150 as interest on his mortgage, $100 in taxes and $50 more in water rents, he will not be required to pay the government any tax whatever.

In other words, his exemptions would cancel the amount of his tax. Where a man owns rented property he may even claim exemption for money spent on repairs.

It is a person's "net" income that must be figured in determining what amount is due the government. This means income from all sources, and Uncle Sam is going to be very sure that he gets what is coming to him. Hosts of collectors and deputies are on the job, and there is little in the way of taxable income that will escape their attention.

SAMMIES DRAW BLOOD OF BOCHES.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 15.—One German soldier was killed and two wounded when a mixed force of American and French soldiers ambushed a big detachment of German troops in No Man's Land. There were no American nor French casualties.

The allied force was evenly divided between Sammies and Pollus, and took up its position in shell craters about half way between the trenches. The German force was double that of the attackers. As the Germans came forward the allied soldiers kept quiet, and the Boches were allowed to pass the craters without a shot being fired.

After the Germans had passed the Americans and French opened fire upon the rear and flanks of the patrol.

A Glenwood or Crawford Heating Stove Is a Safe Investment Why Take A Chance?

When you start out to look for a stove you'll find that every dealer will claim their particular kind is The Best.

This you know cannot be true.

You've got to depend upon the reliability of the firm selling the stove and to a great extent upon the salesman showing you.

Extravagant claims and loud noise don't heat your house or save you fuel, though they do sell stoves oftentimes.

With the Glenwood or Crawford stove you can rely upon its doing the work the salesman demonstrating it to you claims for it, or your money back.

We could very easily buy a cheaper make of stove, but like furniture, rugs and other lines of merchandise we handle, we find in order to hold our customer's goodwill we are obliged to give them that which will give entire satisfaction.

AMUSEMENTS

WHAT'S WHAT AND WHO'S WHO IN MANCHESTER MOVIE HOUSES

AT THE PARK.

Just one thousand five hundred and fifty-two persons saw Charlie Chaplin yesterday at the Park theater. There were almost as many persons at the matinee as at the evening performance. It seemed as if every child in Manchester was crowded into the Park theater yesterday afternoon.

This afternoon there was another special showing of the comedian at 7 o'clock and this evening he will be shown again. At last night's performance many were turned away because they could not get in and Mr. Sullivan returned the admissions to many who got into the theater but when they got in, could not see the screen. The fact that this is the last Chaplin picture for a long time, seems to have brought many to the Park to see the famous comedian in his latest.

No one in the moving picture world seems to know when there will be another Chaplin picture. The Mutual Film company offered the comedian $1,000,000 for ten pictures. He wanted a million for eight so the contract was not made. This seems unfair on the comedian's side until the other side of the question is known. It is said on authority that the day the Mutual contracted to pay Chaplin $670,000 for twelve pictures, the company sold the European rights for $500,000, the Australian rights for $200,000 and the Canadian rights for $200,000. The company kept the United States rights and before Chaplin made one picture the Mutual company had made all of its expenses and what ever else was made was "velvet."

Besides Chaplin tonight, a five reeler "The Serpent's Tooth" will be shown and also an episode from "The Perils of a Girl Reporter." There are two shows tonight at 7:15

AT THE CIRCLE.

The Circle theater presents a picture this evening that has been acknowledged by exhibitors throughout the country to be one of the best attractions that is being booked this season. A picture that is going over big because of its ability to please a one hundred per cent. audience. It is the initial production of what is known as the Goldwyn corporation, an organization composed of the world's best authors and playwrights who take this means to present to the public a screen version of their stories in exactly the same spirit in which they are penned. Their first attempt, "Polly of the Circus", which will be shown at the Circle this evening, has culminated in a picture that has gained instant recognition in the moving picture world and is hailed as one of the most remarkable productions that has yet been produced.

Mae Marsh as "Polly" has created the greatest characterization of her entire screen career. Polly enters the story as a girl untamed, inured to the hurlyburly of the show and accustomed only to the ways of men and women who act and speak frankly. She emerges a woman, softened by contact with men and women of quieter ways, of education, of simpler life, and touched by love. All the other characters of Miss Mayo's story are faithfully portrayed such as, John Douglass, the minister, Big Jim, the boss canvasman, Toby, the clown and Barker, the proprietor of the show. The entire picture is most spectacular and a splendid love story runs throughout. The burning of the entire circus is one of the greatest feats ever attempted for a motion picture production.

Taken as a whole, "Polly of the Circus" is a picture that is sure to please the most exacting fan and there is no reason why it should not

"INFORMAL FOOTBALL?" "YES! READ WHAT IT IS"

It Isn't Varsity Game, Nor Inter-Class, of Course--It's AS Follows:

New York, Nov. 15.—Waddaya mean "informal football?" Ask Yale, Harvard and Princeton athletic officials, for they are the only ones who seem to know.

The rest of the football world has been wondering for some weeks what "informal football" meant and why it was coined. Is it a sort of camouflage, or what?

While the football public entertains a sneaking suspicion that informal football is a cautious term coined for the purpose of being used as an alibi by an informal team that takes a beating at the hands of another informal team.

Everyone knows that the major reasons of athletics in the "Big Three" are very, very particular about what goes into the athletic records. They usually spend thousands of dollars and worlds of time in preparing their varsity football teams for the big games each season, and they put forth every effort to bring home a victory in every game, which is well and good.

But in this year of war, with many of the bright stars of the gridiron mentors at the three universities mentioned decided that it was best to abandon football except for freshman teams. Later, when it became evident that sentiment was running strong for a resumption of the game everywhere, they called out candidates for "informal elevens."

"Informal" Teams. If Yale's informal eleven should meet Harvard's informal eleven and take a terrific beating, Yale could say that it was merely an "informal team," and not a real representative of Yale football, which would be truthful enough. But why camouflage a football team?

Every school in the country was hit hard by enlistments and the draft for the National Army. Other players were lost by graduation. But it would seem that what is fair for the boys is fair enough for the gander. Why should a few universities, reserving an early decision to abandon football, come back with informal football?

Varsity Game.

Why not announce that the original decision not to play varsity football had been canned, and that there would be a team in the field open for games with its old-time rivals as usual? Why not?

The public would be glad to see all the old-time grid-iron feuds renewed. It would rally to the support of the "Big Three" with even greater enthusiasm than before. What does a defeat amount to compared to the preservation of the greatest of college games?

Wapping

A whist and musical will be given in the Wapping hall Friday evening for the benefit of the Manchester branch of the Red Cross. It is expected that a number of Manchester people will be present.

Another room has been added to the Center School and Miss Ruth Ferguson of Manchester has been engaged to teach the second grade.

Pomona Grange met in the Wapping hall yesterday to confer the fifth degree.

The Literary club will hold its next meeting with Mrs. Hollis Chutch on November 21st.

James Preston has sold his farm to a Polish man who will take possession at once.

WASHINGTON ACTS TO PROTECT BORDER

Rampage of Francisco Villa Stirs War Department—Villa Has 6,000 Men.

Presidio, Texas, Nov. 15.—Francisco Villa, at the head of a force estimated at 6,000, is in possession of Ojinaga, across the Rio Grande from here today, following an all day attack. Federal troops under General Corlova have evacuated to the American side of the line, where they surrendered to American military authorities.

More than 300 federal soldiers, it is estimated, who fled from Ojinaga to the American side, have been rounded up by the United States forces and are at a detention camp here. Two hundred members of the federal garrison are said to be missing.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Elaborate preparations to protect the American border from Villista raids from Mexico were taken today. The War department has lodged supreme authority in the hands of the commanding general of the southern department and he had plenty of troops available for service.

Villa's success in taking Ojinaga is expected to be reflected in the flocking to his colors of thousands of malcontents. Whether, however, he can get sufficient munition to arm any additional troops is a question here. While he is known to have had quantities of cannon and munitions cached in the mountains, all of the reports received here have indicated that this was his sole supply.

Colonel Langhorne, commanding United States troops at Marfa, Texas, today sent reinforcements to the garrison here, after being notified of the threat made by the Villista bandits holding Ojinaga that they would raid the town. Presidio is guarded by only a small troop of cavalry and would be at the mercy of the bandits.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Pancho Villa is not leading the marauding bandits in northern Mexico, say officials of the Mexican embassy. They declared today that they have positive information that Villa is now in Durango, hiding in the hills and recuperating from a serious wound.

FRANK PINNEY IS INJURED WHILE ON HUNTING TRIP

Friend Aims at Partridge and Shot Hits Local Man—Presence of Mind Saves Him.

Frank Pinney of Walker street, the well known milk dealer, today went to St. Francis hospital, to have some shot taken from his body. He is not seriously injured but might have been but for his presence of mind while out hunting yesterday. Pinney, with a number of friends from Willimantic, were hunting yesterday in Andover. While in the woods, the local man became separated from his companions. Soon a shot was heard and Pinney felt the buckshot strike him. He dropped to the ground and another report rang out and the small shot cut the trees and leaves where he had been standing. Then he shouted and his companions ran up to him. It was found that Pinney had been struck in the hand, on the head and on his legs. Some of the shot had penetrated deeply but the most of them inflicted but slight wounds. The injured man was assisted to Manchester where Dr. Moore attended him and then advised him to go to a hospital to have the other shots taken from his body. The man who fired the shot saw a partridge and fired both barrels of his shotgun, not knowing that Pinney was in front of him.

KITS PAID FOR.

Manchester, As Usual, Contributed Generously For Presents for Soldiers.

The local Red Cross Chapter announced today that it had sent $58 Christmas kits to Red Cross headquarters for our soldiers and sailors. Manchester's quota was $15 but this town had to oversubscribe, as usual, so we sent $58. The total amount collected in town was $1,161.00. The total amount was $1,175 but Cheney Brothers gave the flags and other articles were purchased at wholesale prices, so the full amount did not have to be collected although 43 more kits than the quota were sent.

The ribbon mill office employees today shipped a Christmas box to Sergeant Allan McLean, who was one of their number just before he was called out with Company G. Following the merger of the First and Second Regiments into the 102nd regiment, Sergeant McLean was transferred to the headquarters company and he now is "somewhere in France."

"NED" WEBSTER ENLISTS.

Edward S. Webster of Hartford, basso in the South Methodist church quartet, has enlisted in the United States Army. He was not of age on Registration Day, but has since reached his majority and, not wishing to be taken in the second draft, decided to enlist. He had been considering the matter for some time and on Monday, suddenly making up his mind, quit his work and went to New Haven and enlisted. He had to report again in New Haven Tuesday and was sent from there to a training camp in the South.

LIBERTY LOAN BUYERS MAKE PROMPT PAYMENTS

Manchester Bank Sends $750,000 to Government—Many Subscribers to $1,251,500 Fund Have Paid in Full.

The Manchester Trust Company today transferred to the Federal Reserve bank $750,000 which it had collected on the second Liberty Loan. Manchester's contribution was $1,251,500 and the fact that so large a proportion of it has already been paid shows that a good many of the subscribers had ready money. The government does not require complete payment before January 15. The balance of the loan was raised by 50 subscribers, 18 per cent on November 15, which is today, 40 per cent December 15 and the remaining 40 per cent January 15. Subscribers had the privilege of paying all at once if they preferred and it is evident that many of the Manchester subscribers did so. The work of collecting and accounting for this large sum is done by the banks without any compensation whatever, as a part of their patriotic duty.

LOCAL M. D.'S HOLD A WHOOPING COUGH CLINIC

Dr. Murphy of Hartford Says Injection of Serum Was Valuable As Cure.

The Manchester Medical association held a special meeting in its parlors in the Tinker building last evening when the association was addressed by Dr. Walter Murphy of Hartford and there was a general discussion in regard to the value of the injection of serum in treating cases of whooping cough. It was the opinion of Dr. Murphy and the other physicians that the injection of serum was valuable both as a preventative and as a curative agent. There are now about 80 children of the Ninth school district excluded from school because of whooping cough and there are some at the north end, but not so many. It was suggested by the doctors at the meeting last night that parents use care in letting their children attend public resorts.

The meeting was attended by Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, as town health officer, Drs. W. R. Tinker and T. G. Sloan, as school physicians and F. A. Verplanck as superintendent of the Ninth district schools. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served.

PIANO RECITAL.

Miss Ethel Noble of East Hartford, a pupil of Miss Grace Adams, will give a piano recital in Miss Adams' studio in the Ferris block this evening. Miss Noble will be assisted by Miss Rosalind Crawford of Spruce street, who will appear in vocal solos. Admission to the recital is by invitation.
