

COMBINATION SALES ARE BANNED BY THE GOVERNMENT HEREAFTER

Requirement of Grocer That Would-be Buyer of Sugar Purchase Other Provisions, Too, Classed by Washington as Wasteful Practice—Text of New Order.

Hartford, Nov. 19.—As a result of the receipt, late Saturday night, of an important telegram from the United States food administration in Washington, the office of the State food administration in this city today promptly prepared to deal with Connecticut sugar profiteers, large and small. Nearly all of the many complaints received last week from people who felt they were being held up by the merchants refusing to sell two pounds of sugar unless the prospective purchaser also bought a certain amount of other foodstuffs, referred to small dealers, who did not seem to come within the purview of the federal food law because they were not doing an annual business of $100,000 or more a year, and therefore did not have to be licensed by Washington.

Wasteful Practice, Legally.
However, so many complaints poured in from all over the country concerning merchants who were selling sugar only to preferred customers, who were willing to buy other groceries, that the legal experts at Washington got busy with good results. They examined the law to the point that they became convinced that the practice of selling of unasked-for provisions, which might possibly spoil before they were consumed, actually constituted "a wasteful practice," such as was forbidden under the law.

The United States food administration office in this city has been keeping a careful record of all the details of the alleged hold-ups reported last week, and as directed in Saturday night's telegram, purposes immediately to begin the strict enforcement of the order against so-called combination sales of sugar except where corn meal is sold in the ratio of two to one with the much wanted sugar.

Order From Washington.
The official text of the telegraphic order from Washington is as follows: "On and after this date all combination sales food commodities are forbidden with exception stated below. Sale of one or more food commodities upon condition that purchaser shall buy one or more other food commodities from seller is regarded as combination sale within meaning this ruling. Combination sales frequently result in sale more foodstuffs than particular purchaser would ordinarily buy and are therefore determined to be wasteful practice within meaning of section four of food administration act of August tenth, nineteen seventeen. Exception, pending further notice and as wheat conservation measure, dealer may sell sugar in combination with corn meal at rate of one pound sugar with two of corn meal. No other combination will be permitted nor will any other ratio than that here stated be allowed. Dealer shall not sell either sugar or corn meal at price yielding him profit greater than he has normally enjoyed upon the particular commodity. Dealer is not required to make combination sale sugar and corn meal but may do so at his discretion. Active steps should be taken at once to enforce this decision."

265 SAVED.
Seattle, Wash., Nov. 19.—The 265 passengers of the steamship Mariposa, wrecked on Straight Island, off the Alaskan coast, are being brought here today on board the steamships Curacao and Ravelli. Removal of the passengers from the wrecked steamship was accomplished without the loss of a single life.

The Mariposa, one of the best known vessels in the Alaskan trade, is in danger of pounding to pieces, although efforts are being made to salvage her.

The reports that the Lenine forces have been victorious and that Petrograd is in flames do not hardly jibe.

MEN AT CAMP DEVENS NOW HAVE STEAM HEAT

Have Learned to March Like Vets. and Are Aiming Machine Guns.

SEVEN MANCHESTER MEN PROMOTED TO NON-COMS.

Y. M. C. A. Is Doing a Remarkable Work—Company A Has Tidy Home.

(By Corporal Louis R. Mann)

Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., Nov. 15.—Manchester boys in the 301st Machine Gun Battalion, Company A, at Camp Devens, are all smiles now. All because some warm vaporized water is emanating from the long-watched radiators. No more will they chatter their teeth, even though each man was deprived of one of his blankets yesterday. No more will they have to wait till the water pipes thaw before they can indulge in their early morning cleansing. No more will two of the boys have to bunk together so that the total amount of covering will be greater for each. Those are bygone experiences, chilly memories of the past. The long waited and promised warm water here has come.

Heretofore the boys from Manchester were compelled to bathe in waters that were suitable for seals, and for that reason it was quite a hardship to do the various contortions under molten snowflakes. Now the boys are willing to take a bath any time and do not have to be sent into the showers. Some of the men in the company who did not care to tamper with the showers, but were forced under by a squad detailed to wash them, now go around with a towel but without an escort or guard.

Besides steam heat and warm water, Manchester's representatives have other reasons for smiles. Some of them have been lucky and enterprising enough to be appointed non-commissioned officers. The men who gained these honors are Frank Naczkowski, sergeant; William Andrew, supply sergeant; Leland T. Wood, corporal; William J. McSweeney, corporal; Edward F. Ballsieper, corporal; Arthur J. Starkweather, corporal; and Louis R. Mann, corporal. Of the corporals, several of the men are acting sergeants.

The battalion now has a file and drum corps of its own and with eight weeks' experience the men of Company A can march like a troop of veterans. The drill periods do not last as long as they did formerly, as more time is being spent upon machine gun instruction. The men are learning to be rangefinders and some have been out with the officers using the guns on the firing range.

When the boys come in at night, and have finished with their evening meal, all sorts of diversions can be had. The men of the company have purchased a piano and Victrola, so that those who remain in the barracks at night can be amused with instrumental music, supplemented by some fine singers and a few clog dancers. The men who do leave the barracks invariably wend their way to the Y. M. C. A. building only a short distance away. Here they can read, write, chat before a cozy fireplace, smoke and listen to the various entertainments the Triangle workers are furnishing, which include boxing matches, moving pictures, instruction in French, and amateur and professional vaudeville acts. The Y. M. C. A. is doing a remarkable work, and Manchester is surely doing her bit once more for this organization which is so worthy of all financial aid that can be bestowed upon it. Were it not for the green triangle huts here at camp,

SHIP TONNAGE PRICE HALTS JAP.-U. S. NEGOTIATIONS.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Japan's reported flat refusal to accept the terms of the war trade board and the shipping board to exchange United States steel products for Japanese tonnage, has caused consternation here. Officials declared today that negotiations would be continued on their part and they are hopeful that an agreement can be reached.

Japan must rely upon the United States for its steel, it is declared. On the other hand, the United States is anxious to secure Japanese tonnage for trans-Atlantic trade. With these mutual desires, officials here declare that negotiations must go on.

TONNAGE PRICE A QUESTION.
The proposal of the United States was that Japan should have steel at the same price as the United States government. On the other hand, Japan was to sell a certain number of her vessels to the United States at $175 a ton, the price fixed by the shipping board for tonnage requisitioned from American shipowners. This price has been the sticking point in the agreement. Japan does not want to sell her ships at such a price, maintaining that she can secure as high as $300 a ton for them in the open market.

Officials here believe that the arrival of Viscount Ishii and the Japanese mission in Tokio may open the way for an agreement. The members of the Japanese mission are thoroughly informed of the shipping situation in this country, and also of the great demand for steel here. It is believed that Viscount Ishii will advise the Japanese government to accept the terms of the United States.

Officials here were frank to declare that if the negotiations failed, both Japan and the United States will suffer.

ALIENS OF ENEMY NATIONS FURTHER RESTRICTED BY PROCLAMATION OF PRESIDENT—ITS TEXT

Washington, Nov. 19.—President Wilson this afternoon extended the zones from which enemy aliens are barred as another step toward curbing the activities of German spies in this country. He issued a proclamation forbidding all enemy aliens from entering or being found within 100 yards of wharves, warehouses, elevators. Their entrance to or presence in the district is prohibited. The proclamation in full is as follows:

Whenever there is declared a war between the United States and any foreign nation or government or any invasion or predatory incursion is perpetrated, attempted or threatened against the territory of the United States by any foreign nation or government, and the President makes public proclamation of the event, all natives, citizens, denizens or subjects of the hostile nation or government, being of the age of twenty-one years and over, shall be considered as alien enemies. The President is authorized in any such event by his proclamation thereof or other public acts to direct the conduct to be observed on the part of the United States toward the aliens who become so liable; the manner and degree of the restraint to which they shall be subject, and in what cases, and upon what security their residence shall be permitted, etc.

SAYS NO MAN'S LAND IS U. S. TERRITORY

Correspondent Writes Germans Are Keeping Close to Their Own Trenches.

With the American Army in France, Nov. 19.—Increased activity by American patrols has resulted in No Man's Land practically becoming American territory.

The Germans no more are venturing near the Americans' barbed wire entanglements, but are remaining close to their own trenches. There have been no further rifle fire exchanges.

The weather on Sunday was cloudy, and towards night a slight rain set in. The artillery firing was normal.

American balloonists have picked the site for a training school. Several officers have been getting experience on the French and British front by observation from "sausage-queer" stories of freaks played by shells are coming from the front. One concerns an American who was sitting near a dugout when a German shell of small caliber whizzed over the trench and struck the butt of his rifle, passing on for 20 more yards before it exploded.

MIDDLE WEST GETS AFTER GERMAN SPIES

Writers in Chicago Hotels Belong to International Geneva Association.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Joseph W. Noth, alleged German spy, who is under arrest here, has made admissions, it was reported today that may lead to the arrest of numerous prominent Germans throughout the middle west. Noth, it is predicted, may face execution as a result of evidence gleaned from an investigation of his activities.

It is declared that he has admitted being a member of the German secret service for eight years. He is alleged to have been the head of the German spy system in the middle west after the departure of Baron Kurt von Reischwitz, former German consul at Chicago.

A new angle to the spy situation developed today when it was charged that waiters employed in many of Chicago's first class hotels, are alien spies. The charges are being investigated today by the Chicago Federation of Labor, which will report to the federal authorities.

The charges are made by Ben M. Parker, representing the waiters' union, who declares most of the servers employed in Chicago hotels are members of the International Geneva association, with headquarters at Dresden, Germany, and that the majority of them are Austrian and German subjects.

These men, Parker charges, take advantage of their positions to learn secrets discussed at banquets, where they serve, and report the information gained to the German espionage heads.

ORDERS STORM WARNINGS.
Washington, Nov. 19.—The Weather Bureau today ordered storm warnings displayed at Sandy Hook and New York.

GOMPERS' RE-ELECTION AS A. F. L. HEAD SURE

He Represents Majority Sentiment of Federation In Convention.

200 RESOLUTIONS.

Administration to Be Endorsed in One—Peace-War Sentiment. Harmony.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 19.—Re-election of Samuel Gompers as president of the American Federation of Labor and endorsement of the war policies laid down by himself and his associates on the executive council became a certainty today, as the annual convention entered its closing stages. Insurgent delegates, after looking over the situation during the past week, have been able to discover no prospects of success of any movement to overthrow the present ruling regime of the organization. They have found Mr. Gompers, backed by President Wilson, so firmly entrenched at the head of the federation, and his policies so closely in accord with the views of the majority, that they have decided all kicking over the traces must be deferred for another year.

War vs. Peace.
This does not mean that war and peace are not to be discussed by the convention, but that if it is the issue will be precipitated from the inside by those in control. The showdown will come about the middle of the week, when the executive council report, containing the war aims of American labor, is brought up for adoption or rejection. There is no doubt about the adoption of the report; the issue of the vote in favor of the war is the only matter of importance.

200 Resolutions.
The convention today began what promises to be a busy week. More than 200 resolutions are before the convention, demanding action. Up to today most of the time has been consumed by committee work in preparing various questions for submission to the convention proper, but beginning today there will be an uninterrupted transaction of business by the main body.

PENN. HARD COAL MAY GO UP SOME

Operators Ask Fuel Administration for Higher Price to Meet Wage Demands.

Washington, Nov. 19.—An advance in the price of anthracite coal was considered by Fuel Administrator Garfield today, with a view to averting any suspension in work among the great anthracite regions of Pennsylvania. Mine operators appeared before Administrator Garfield and asked that the price be increased to meet an advance in wages demanded by the miners.

GERMANY USING WOMEN IN ARMY?
Amsterdam, Nov. 19.—Women and young children have been pressed into service on the firing line by the Germans, according to travelers arriving from Belgium today. Children as young as 12 years are being used in the fire zone on the Yser front, and Belgian women are compelled to work on fortifications along the North Sea coast, it was declared.

GERMANY CLAIMS CAPTURE OF 1,100 ITALIANS; RUSSIAN ANTI-BOLSHEVIKI STRONGER

Army Marching on Petrograd—No Sign of Stable Government Left—Ambassador Francis Warns Americans—Maximalists Control In Moscow, Says U. S. Consul General.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Russia today is without any semblance of stable government. Half a dozen dispatches to the State department from American diplomats in Russia sketch a picture of unparalleled chaos.

Maximalists Control Moscow.
Consul General Summers at Moscow reports that the Maximalists are in control after a week of hard fighting. "They have taken over all in Moscow," he added.

Marching on Petrograd.
Stockholm, Nov. 19.—Contradictory reports as to the military situation at Petrograd were received today. One report was that an anti-Bolshevik army was marching on the city, while another stated that these forces had halted some miles south of the capital and their future operations were in doubt.

REFUGEES FLEEING FROM CITY OF JUAREZ

Pancho Villa's Forces Surround City—Three Bands of Villistas at Large.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 19.—Villista forces surround Juarez today and refugees are leaving the city, fearing early attack.

DUTCH INTERN U-BOAT.
Amsterdam, Nov. 19.—The German submarine which sank a Dutch lugger with the loss of one life had formerly been interned in Dutch waters, but was released last summer, according to De Amsterdammer today.

Invaders Stopped on Lower Piave—Battle Believed By London to Have Entered Final Stage—German War Office Also Announces the Capture of Two Fortified Mountains.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—The capture of another town in northern Italy, two fortified mountains and 1,100 Italian prisoners was announced by the German war office today.

Final Stage of Piave.
This opinion was based upon the following facts:—The Italian army under Meschant's command, from German and Austro-Hungarian armies.

Peril Still Great.
It is pointed out that, while the Italians have checked the advance of the Teutons, the peril remains acute. The invaders encountered stormy weather and swollen streams, which hindered the transport of their heavy guns and the necessary ammunition to the front, and the belief is widespread that it will be several days at least before it can be definitely known whether the Italians have planned a further retirement to the Adige valley.

RAILROADS TO STATE RATE VIEWS TODAY
War Board Prepared to Set Forth Roads' Opinions—Those at Hearing.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Behind closed doors the American railroads will state their position today on the demands of the railroad brotherhoods for increased wages.

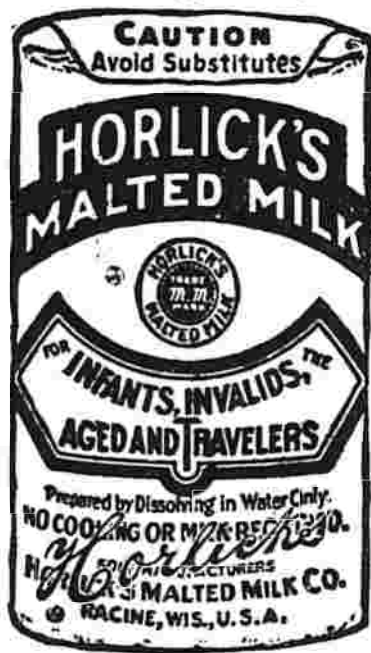

War Board Prepared to Set Forth Roads' Opinions—Those at Hearing.
Judge W. L. Chambers, of the United States board of mediation, went into conference with the members of the railroad war board. The war board was prepared to set forth the position of the railroads, relative to increased wages at the present time.

Present were Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern, chairman of the board; Samuel Rea, of the Pennsylvania; Hale Holden, of the Burlington; Howard Elliott, of the New Haven, and Julius Kruttschnitt of the Harriman system.

Watch How The Income Tax Affects You, Mister

The $40-a-week man or woman, married or single, must file a return under the War Revenue bill and pay the government a tax unless sufficient exemptions are scheduled and proved to offset the amount demanded. When the married man makes $40 he has broken into the bloated bondholder class. Forty dollars a week is $2,080 a year, and the bachelor or maid whose net income totals this amount must hand Uncle Sam 2 per cent. of $1,080, or $21.60. The married man is exempt from taxation on his $2,000, but must pay 2 per cent. on the extra $80, which is $1.60. In the foregoing calculations it is assumed that the bachelor owns no property and has no personal debts and that the married man is also property-less, debt-free and has no children. If the married man has even one child he escapes taxation, for the government allows $200 exemption for each child, which brings his income below the tax limit. If the bachelor owns property on which he pays more than $1,080 in mortgage, interest, taxes, water rents, etc., he will be tax free, as would be the married man whose similar debts exceeded $80 a year. Suppose a man makes $30 a week and his wife $10. In this case the family income is figured as a basis, and, if childless and without property or debts, the $1.60 will be deducted. Repairs, if you own rented property, and any gift to charity up to 15 per cent. of your income may also be scheduled in your claim for exemption, but in any case, if your gross income is $40, you must make a return to the collector of the internal revenue for this district.

EAGLES 18, WEST ENDS 0.

The Eagles of the north end defeated the West Ends at Hickey's grove yesterday afternoon by the overwhelming score of 18 to 0. In the first quarter the Eagles kicked to the West Ends who failed to run the ball more than five yards. Carlson, the West End fullback, made a long end run netting about ten yards. The West Ends next tried to penetrate the Eagles' line but met a stonewall. McLaughlin, the Eagle fullback, broke through the line for a 70 yard run, being stopped about one yard from the goal. McKee, the Eagle left halfback, rushed the ball over for the first touchdown. The ball had to be punted out and the Eagles failed to kick the goal. The Eagles again kicked to the West Ends, and they rushed the ball towards the Eagles' goal. Neither side scored in the second quarter. In the third quarter McKee, the Eagle left half, broke through the line for a fifty yard run for the second touchdown. The Eagles failed to make the kick. McLaughlin went through the line and crossed it but the referee brought the ball back on the two yard line. Brennan, a promising young halfback, tore through the line for the third touchdown. Price, Kott and Sperber did good work on the line, breaking up the interference and getting some good tackles. Scheutz and Skogland, the speedy tackles, did good work on the line. Custer and Donahue, the husky guards, held like a wall. Baboon, the big center had a hole made for the backfield every time. The Eagles and West Ends will probably play a preliminary game at Mount Nebo to the Major-Independents game.

NEW CANAAN POLICE AFTER FEINER ROBBERS.

New Canaan, Nov. 19.—Local police are today searching for four masked burglars who assaulted and robbed Mrs. Anna Feiner, 60, a wealthy widow on Ponus street. They tied Mrs. Feiner and her sister, Mrs. Kaiser, who was visiting her, to a bed with ropes, and ransacking the house escaped with $400 in cash, besides several hundred dollars worth of jewelry, diamonds and silverware. The telephone wires they cut. Mrs. Feiner had drawn the $400 from the bank Saturday to pay the interest on a mortgage. It was near midnight when the women were able to free themselves and go to the home of a neighbor where they notified the police. No one saw the burglars and the women were so frightened by their experience they were unable to give any description of the visitors.

Orange Hall Has New Janitor.

At their regular monthly meeting the members of the board of directors of the Orange Hall Corporation were surprised to receive the resignation of Thomas J. Hughes, janitor of the Orange Hall. Mr. Hughes, whose health has been poor for some time, has been feeling the work of looking after the hall to be too much of a strain in conjunction with his other duties. The board accepted his resignation with regret. Mr. Hughes has been janitor of the hall for about seven years and has proved himself very trustworthy and faithful, always performing his duties to the best interests of the corporation. In this he had a faithful helper in Mrs. Hughes. As a token of their appreciation the board voted that a substantial check be presented to each of them. The board hope that Mr. and Mrs. Hughes will be spared to spend many happy days in their new home on Lilly street.

Henry Tedford has been appointed janitor and has taken up his residence in the tenement in the rear of the hall.

JULES LALANGE.

Jules LaLange, died yesterday at the Hartford hospital where he had been for the past three weeks, suffering from a complication of diseases. He leaves two daughters, Mrs. William Goulette of this town, and Mrs. M. A. Bouvier of New York. The funeral will be held from his home on Main street tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Dr. C. E. Hesselgrave will officiate and interment will be in the East cemetery. Mr. LaLange was in France when the war broke out and last spring his daughter went to Paris and brought him back to Manchester. He was up till ten years ago a business man of this town.

SOCIALISM RISING AMONG GERMAN WORKERS.

New York, Nov. 19.—That the German working classes now stand more united than ever against Kaiser Wilhelm's political machine is indicated in a statement received by New York Socialist leaders direct from Germany. A paragraph of the statement says: "The German working classes are now behind the revolutionary Socialist faction. More and more protests come to the surface daily that the workmen stand behind the independent Socialist party, rather than back of the element led by Scheidemann and his friends."

WHAT'S WHAT AND WHO'S WHO IN MANCHESTER MOVIE HOUSES

AT THE PARK.

The big 9,000 feet film show rolls around again to the Popular Playhouse and whether you enjoy the thrills of a serial, the melodrama or the comedy; or if perchance, you are interested in travel scenes, tonight's program will give you all of these. In "The Seven Pearls", the serial, Lema and Harry are locked in a cellar which is flooded while the house overhead is burned. They drop from a balloon, get lost in a swamp and their destruction seems certain when

The five act feature tonight is called "Blind Man's Luck". Thrills—mystery—suspense, describes this photoplay. It tells an exciting story of twentieth century smugglers and

Besides this there will be a comedy and a novelty film. Tomorrow "The Idolators" comes here, heralded by columns of newspaper praise from Hartford where it played last week. This is a big feature but it will be presented at no advance in prices. Louise Glaum plays the leading role. It is a modern love story with an Egyptian setting.

On Wednesday and Thursday "One Hour", the talk of Manchester already, will be shown. It is a sequel to "Three Weeks" and is a pulsating photoplay with a heroine who dares and a youth who does. In short, "One Hour" is best described by saying it is Cupid's most intimate confession.

It was published on Saturday that the Keystone comedies were to be shown elsewhere than at the Park theater. This cannot be so as the Park has contracted for these best of all comedies for the next twelve months.

GETS "OLIVE OIL" FROM CANTALOUPE.

Rocky Ford, Colo., Nov. 19.—An American substitute for olive oil is believed to have been discovered here by D. V. Burrell, a truck gardener. Burrell has found that a clear, rich oil is in the seeds of cantaloupes, and has submitted a quantity of it to government chemists at Washington, who informed him that their experiments indicate a new table oil of the same color and texture as olive oil is apparent, without any refining process. The government chemists are continuing their experiments with the substance.

Photograph Frames.

For framing a single photograph for the wall, a novel idea is to place it in the upper part of a moderately large mat. When the picture is in sepia, the frame brown or gold. When the photograph is gray the mat should be also, with a gray or gold frame. A wide gray frame sometimes takes the place of a mat. The back board may be covered with a harmonious plain material; a wire easel may be bought for a trifle and attached to the back through a slit made just to fit its clamp. The back is included in the gimp binding at the sides and bottom; the top is left open for the insertion of the picture.

Regardless of what this season may be called, November has got to be given credit for being a grand month thus far.

AT THE CIRCLE.

Due to a mistake in shipping orders the management of the Circle is enabled to offer a better program tonight than was advertised. The management had scheduled and advertised "The Innocent Sinner." When the films were received this morning it was discovered that the film producers had sent the Leo Kids in "Two Little Imps." This picture is one of the best human interest stories on the Fox program and is sure to make a greater hit than the sure to make a greater hit than the night. The Leo Kids have made a hit in the movies. They take the leading role in "Jack and the Beanstalk" which will be shown at the Circle Thanksgiving Day. On the

The second of the series of pictures which R. A. Walsh is producing for William Fox will be presented at the Circle this evening. Mr. Walsh's first production was "The Honor System," which was shown at the Circle recently. "The Innocent Sinner" is the title of the picture which will be presented this evening and although only in six reels, Mr. Fox promises a production that is on par with "The Honor System." It has a story with many throats and shows how the human heart can forgive an innocent sinner—a girl who has been led into wrongness. Pearl White will also be seen on the same program in the 13th side of "The Fatal Ring."

Tomorrow afternoon and evening, and also Wednesday, Douglas Fairbanks will be seen in his latest Artcraft production, "The Man From Painted Post." This story was written by Mr. Fairbanks himself, assisted by his scenario staff. It is based on Jack Gregory's recent magazine story, "Silver Slippers." In staging this production the entire Fairbanks company traveled from California to the most picturesque spot in Wyoming, near Laramie, where a ranch of 160,000 acres, with 30,000 head of cattle, was secured as a background for this thrilling western story, dealing with the cattle rustling days. Never before has the inimitable "Doug" had a better opportunity to present to the best advantage not only his own individuality but his every talent as an actor as well.

Not satisfied with the ability of the ordinary cowboy obtainable for motion pictures, Douglas Fairbanks journeyed to Cheyenne prior to the production of this picture, where he signed up the winners of the great Western Rodeo meet. These champions are accorded ample opportunity to disclose their worth in "The Man From Painted Post," and present many thrilling situations of actual realism.

Possibly the drop in the number of victims of the U-boats for the past week is due to the fact that von Tirpitz admits that the submarines cannot win the war.

DE SAULLES' TRIAL

OPENS AT MINEOLA

Selection of Jury Begins This Morning—Defense, Emotional Insanity.

Mineola, L. I., Nov. 19.—With freedom, home and her son waiting on one side and possibly the electric chair on the other, Mrs. Bianca de Saullés today began the fight to free her husband, John (Jack) Longe de Saullés.

Her defense will be "lapse of responsibility," the outgrowth of emotional insanity, superinduced by mother love—a love for her four-year old son, Jack de Saullés, jr.

District Attorney Charles R. Weeks has plans for a "straightaway" prosecution. He will introduce sufficient witnesses to show that Mrs. de Saullés killed her former husband. This done, he will charge premeditation—that the defendant drove to the de Saullés' home armed with a revolver, determined to kill.

Choosing Jury Begins. The selection of the jury, from 150 takers, began shortly after court opened this morning.

It was apparent from the start that Attorney Weeks hoped to fill the jury box with men not to be swayed by emotion, men impervious to beautiful eyes, men who consider facts rather than circumstances.

Today's developments were insufficient to show whether or not Henry A. Uterhart, counsel for Mrs. de Saullés, would permit the defendant to tell the entire story leading up to and including the shooting of her divorced husband.

Mrs. de Saullés, formerly Bianca Errazuriz-Vegara, was a resident of Santiago, Chile, and scarcely 16 years old when she met "Jack" de Saullés, the famous Yale quarterback and baseball star.

De Saullés, madly in love with the girl whom he characterized as "the most beautiful girl in the world," followed her to Paris, where she had gone with her mother on a shopping trip.

Married in Paris. They were married in Paris on December 15, 1911. They returned to Chile for a time and later went to New York city. The arrival of a son seemed to increase the couple's devotion, and society was started when, in July, 1916, Mrs. de Saullés made application for a divorce.

When the decree was granted, the court permitted the mother to have the child seven months of the year and the father the remaining five. It was this arrangement, the defense will claim, which indirectly led up to the tragedy.

Conditions developed, it will be argued, that convinced the mother an attempt was being made to strangle the boy. And this contention will be the keynote of the defense.

Self-Defense. The claim of self-defense also may be used. If so, it will be based on the statement of Susanne Monaghan, Mrs. de Saullés' maid, who was with her on the night of the shooting.

The woman's oft-repeated statement is that de Saullés assumed a menacing pose when the mother tried for her child, and it appeared to her, the maid, as if he intended striking his former wife.

The defendant will be acquitted if he is credited with the following statement: If I fail to acquit this young woman, I will give up my license to practice law."

Mrs. de Saullés appeared very listless and did not talk with anyone, even her counsel, during the "preliminaries." Her brother and sister were reported to be in the courtroom, but did not make themselves known. Mrs. de Saullés' mother, who came from Chile with her children for the trial, was expected in the courtroom later in the day.

None of the relatives of de Saullés were present. The courtroom was only half filled when court opened, but there was a steady stream of spectators coming in.

SWEDISH GYMNASTS HOLD EXHIBITION AND SOCIAL

About 150 people attended the private social and dance given by the Swedish gymnastic club in Orange hall Saturday evening in honor of Professor Henrik Ling, the originator of the system of gymnastics used by the club. In the first part of the evening, an entertainment program was given, after which dancing was enjoyed and refreshments were served in the lower hall. The main hall was decorated with flags and the American colors, while the banquet room in the basement was decorated with palms, ferns and flowers. All who attended reported a most enjoyable time.

The entertainment program included addresses on the Ling system by W. B. Rogers and Dr. P. Nelson of Hartford, Mr. Rogers speaking of its use at Camp Devens; selections by the Tuxedo orchestra, vocal solos by Miss Rosalin Crawford and folk dancing by the Misses Eval Carlen, Eva Friberg and Helen Berggren.

In connection with the program, Walter Olson, instructor of the club, presented the prizes won by the four best athletes in the club at the fall meet. Thor Swantesson received a silver cup and silver medal for winning the most points in class A and Christian Swantesson received a bronze medal, as second prize. Class A included the heavier events, such as hammer throw, 16 pound shot put, discus and javelin throwing and 100 yards dash. For winning the most points in Class B, Henry Olson received a silver medal and Fritz Noren received a bronze medal for second prize. Class B included the lighter events, 100 yards dash, running high jump, running broad jump, 12 pound shot put and standing broad jump.

By concentrating greater attention upon the Americans the Germans are apparently trying to frighten our troops. They will find that it is only making them better soldiers.

WEAKNESS FOLLOWS

OPENING STRENGTH

Heavy Dealings in Liberty Bonds on New York Exchange—Quotations.

New York, Nov. 19.—A strong tone prevailed at the opening of the stock market today, gains of from fractions to over a point being made in the initial trading.

U. S. Steel was 3/4 higher at 92 1/2 and Bethlehem Steel B advanced over a point to 79 1/2. Baldwin was 1/4 up at 58 3/4.

Marine Preferred showed an opening gain of 1 1/2 to 93 3/4. General Motors was 1/4 at 88 3/4, while Chandler Motors gained 1 1/2 to 62 1/2.

The copper stocks were strong, American Smelting rising a point to 73 1/2 and Anaconda 1/2 to 55 1/2. Trading in the Liberty bonds continued active, the 3 1/2's selling up to 99.76, while the four's declined to a new low record of 96.

After the first 15 minutes the demand for stocks slackened, and during the rest of the forenoon prices sagged off with some issues under pronounced pressure and breaking to new low records.

Delaware and Hudson dropped from 93 1/2 to 89 1/2 and Pennsylvania sold down to 46 1/2.

Marine Preferred, after selling up to 94, dropped a point. Steel Common, after reacting to 92 1/2 was again in brisk demand, moving up to 93 1/4.

Dealing in Liberty Bonds was heavy, the four's selling down to a new low record of 97.70 and the 3 1/2's, after advancing to 99.80 dropped to 99.70.

Money loaning at four per cent. Clearing house statement: Exchanges, $538,086,276; balances, $87,391,111.

Cotton. Buying of a good character at the opening of the cotton market today caused advances of 25 to 38 points. Some selling orders came in after the call, but the demand continued good and prices were held at the initial levels.

ABOUT TOWN.

Rudolph Anderson defeated William Dalton in the final match of the pool tournament at the Recreation building Saturday night. Plans are being made for pool, bowling, card and checker tournaments for both the juniors and seniors, the men and women.

The master mechanics of this town have received word from the Building Trades Alliance stating that after January 1 union men will not be allowed to work on buildings on which non-union men are working. This will hit local plumbers hard.

J. T. Robertson received word today from W. H. Childs that the Oxford Soap Company will contribute $500 to the Y. M. C. A. War Fund.

At a meeting of the Salvation Army Sunday school yesterday it was decided to go ahead with its Christmas plans this year but instead of buying presents and candy for their own children the money will go toward buying Christmas presents for the war orphans in Europe.

THREE SAMMIES ABROAD DEAD.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Three deaths in the American expeditionary forces were reported to the War Department by General Pershing today. They were: Sergeant Carl G. Shew, coast artillery, killed by train November 15. Mrs. Nellie Shew, mother, 122 Gating Place, Brooklyn, N. Y. Private Marcellus S. Cobb, infantry, died November 10 of broncho-pneumonia. Mrs. Viola Cobb, mother, Beakland, Maine.

Private Howard E. Rawlings, headquarters company, died November 14, of broncho-pneumonia. Floyd Vader, friend, Warner, N. Y.

GENERAL MAUDE DEAD.

London, Nov. 19.—General Frederick S. Maude, who has been commander of the British troops in Mesopotamia, is dead, it was announced here today. He had been ill for some time.

General Maude was a brilliant soldier and was placed in command in Mesopotamia after the capture of General Townshend and his army at Kut-el-Amara by the Turks. General Maude was born in 1864 and entered the army in 1884. He served with distinction in the Boer war.

SUGAR AND SALT SHORT IN CITY OF NEW HAVEN

Many Prominent Grocery Concerns Haven't a Pound of Sugar.

New Haven, Nov. 19.—The shortage of sugar of all kinds has become a serious one in this city, and practically amounts to a famine. Hundreds of families have been unable to get a supply of any kind for two weeks. Many prominent grocery concerns are without a pound of sugar, and those who have managed to secure a supply have been quickly cleaned out by buyers. Molasses and syrups are also scarce, as they have been quickly bought up for use as substitutes. Local grocers say that it may be weeks before any sugar in quantities sufficient to supply the demand will reach the local markets. No reason is vouchsafed for the shortage.

Salt Short, Too. Following the shortage of sugar, salt is also in short supply. Dealers have a supply of salt, they are dealing it out only in bulk and in small lots. As a result of the shortage and the rush to buy, the prices have risen from a cent and a half a pound to as high as five cents per pound in many places. It is charged that many dealers have been emptying bag salt and selling it in bulk by the pound to customers. The average consumer is unable to get any definition as to the real cause of the shortage and is loath to believe the statement of retailers that overbuying is the reason.

THIEVES SHOT DEAD.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 19.—Two thieves, found carting away a quantity of cigars and tobacco from a local wholesale house early today, were shot and killed by two policemen in the chase that followed. A third robber was captured.

The police identified the dead men as "Cap" Gargetto and Joe Meun. E. P. Jennings was the man captured.

GET $3,600 FROM BANK.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 19.—Armed men entered the Liberty State Bank at Liberty, eight miles southeast of here this morning, locked the cashier in the vault and escaped in a motor car with $3,600.

Posses were immediately formed and a chase began. The bank's vault was blown open and robbed several years ago.

LIQUOR DEALERS BANKRUPT.

Hartford, Nov. 19.—One of the first echoes from the new liquor tax law in the state was noted here today, when Laughlin, Miller & Allara, Inc., wholesale liquor dealers of New Haven, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States court here. They have liabilities of $12,356.77, and assets of $13,600.87, of which $3,512 is due on open account.

D'ANNUNZIO MISSING.

Rome, Nov. 19.—Gabriele D'Annunzio, famous poet and playwright who is fighting in the Italian air corps, was today reported missing after a fight over the Piave front. D'Annunzio, sometimes known as the firebrand poet of Italy, was one of the pro-war leaders in Italy before than country entered the conflict, and has since seen brilliant service under his country's flag. The fighter often distinguished himself by brave deeds.

NEGROES RETURN SOUTH FOR COTTON PICKING

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 19.—The negro gives promise of solving the shifting labor demands of the United States.

Attracted by the unprecedented prosperity of the cotton farmer, thousands of negroes who deserted farms and went north a year ago, are returning to the south. His migration north was induced by the offer of big wages in munitions plants. But the northern employers are having a hard time holding the colored laborer because his relatives in the cotton belt are riding in automobiles and are free of debt.

HAERING ON CLASS RATES.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Commissioner Anderson of the Interstate commerce commission, will hold a hearing in Boston on November 31, on the proposal of the Boston & Maine railroad to increase class rates.

ALIMONY NOT INCOME.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Although the meaning of the income tax law, the Supreme Court decided today. Today's decision was in the case against Mrs. Katherine Gould, who declined to pay income tax on the alimony paid her by her former husband, Howard Gould. Her contention was upheld.

SUPREME COURT RECESS.

Washington, Nov. 19.—On completing its decisions today the Supreme Court announced it would take a recess from November 26, next Monday, until December 10.

BROUGHT ACROSS OCEAN, YOUTH GOES BACK AGAIN

Youth Is Not Yet 21 Years of Age But He Is Bound to Serve.

David Holland of Cottage street left this morning for a training camp in Canada. Holland is not yet 21 years of age. When the war broke out the youth was in England and he immediately enlisted but, after serving three months, his mother, who was in Canada at the time, went across and got him out of the army. He now has enlisted for the second time.

His mother did not hinder him from enlisting this time, but she was pretty well broken up as she bade him goodbye this morning. Holland's father and mother both live on Cottage street.

Samuel Hines of the south end, has enlisted in the Canadian army and is now at a training camp in Canada.

WANTED: AN ANTI-JOKER LAW. The public attention directed to section 209 of the war revenue law makes the present occasion timely for pressing a measure against so-called jokers generally.

A joker, for the information of any reader of this who doesn't know, is an addition made to a bill by its framers, more or less without the knowledge of the legislative assembly concerned, which tends to change the meaning and intent of the act.

THE KAISER'S "JUSTICE". The German emperor is said to have declared, in a speech delivered before one of his regiments on the plains of Tagliamento in Italy, "We are fighting for faithfulness, justice and truth, and it is these that will win."

The way in which the Kaiser uses moral sentiment in his appeals to his troops or his people is a travesty on the virtues. Any leader of public opinion in Germany who talks about justice, under a political system in which one man's vote is worth several times that of another man's vote, is doing the same thing.

But this does not mean that any committee or any part of a committee of the United States Senate or House of Representatives, may work in the dark and add to a bill—or, for that matter, take from a bill—an important clause, without the knowledge of their colleagues.

The section of the war revenue bill referred to should have been at least known in gist to all the members of the House. And it would be an excellent idea if every measure were published in brief synopsis—the Congressional Record, in its hopeless verbosity, is out of the question—for the perusal of every member before he gave his vote.

AUGUSTE RODIN. Auguste Rodin, who died in Paris on Saturday, was one of the greatest creative artists that France has given to the world. He wrote his name in stone, in more than one sense, and contributed a definite something to the progress of sculpture.

The story of his career is the usual one of educating a public in part away from the conventions of the past to different artistic ideals.

Robert Browning, who was equally unconventional in another of the fine arts, poetry, described Rodin's attitude, if the sculptor had any, in these words:

"Rodin found beauty and poetry in age-bound backs, in toil-wrung limbs and in faces failure-dimmed"—like Corot, Tryon or any other of the Barbizon school of painting.

"Is not the tree twisted, gnarled and half decayed as beautiful as a sapling?" he asked. "Nature," he said, "gives me in my model life and thought; the nostrils breathe, the heart beats, and feels, has pains and joys, ambitions, passions and emotions. These I must express."

"What makes my 'Thinker' think is that he thinks not only with his brain, with his knitted brow, his distended nostrils and compressed lips, but with every muscle of his arms, back and legs, with his clenched fists, and gripping toes."

The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York City has the largest collection of his works outside of the artist's own. Needless to say, the originals there, as well as the reproductions—especially the massive, striking "Thinker"—will become steadily more precious as the years go by.

LENINE, TROTSKY, KERENSKY. It is not surprising to learn that the Bolsheviks' forces are largely drawn from the Russian aristocracy. The latter, it appears, are providing the brains, and to them is due much of the preparedness for the clash with Kerensky which has made the revolt so far successful.

The Sun, of New York, told yesterday how Trotsky, whose real name is Braunstein, took refuge on New York's East Side from January to March of this year.

terday how Trotsky, whose real name is Braunstein, took refuge on New York's East Side from January to March of this year. It was on March 27 that he sailed from New York with the avowed purpose of undermining Kerensky. Like Lenin he has been accused repeatedly of pro-Germanism.

Lenine is called the leader of the anti-American sentiment of Russia. Last April he began a campaign in Petrograd in favor of Germany, and was sought by the revolutionists, but escaped. He is simply a Russian I. W. W., so to speak.

Kerensky has escaped, and if he lives many students of Russian affairs believe he will yet again dominate Russia. His chief fault has been that he has tried to make the moderates and extremists work together. His moderation and soft-heartedness was what led to the lack of discipline in the army and the attempted revolt of Korniloff, whom he spared and who, like Kaledines of Moscow, leader of the Cossacks, seems to be his strong supporter.

The Bolshevik still appear to be in complete control of the means of communication, or more news, and more favorable to Kerensky or his party, might be forthcoming.

Venice is the treasure house of Italy and the Italian army will fight desperately in its defense. It would be not only a national but a world calamity if this beautiful city were made a target for the German siege guns. Happily the German advance seems to have been checked just in time to save the city.

The mention by P. A. Vaile of the National Editorial Service of a "Ministry of Reconstruction" is decidedly timely. One would suppose that reconstruction required no preparation, to read some of our editorial pages.

Is Venice to be another Rheims? It doesn't look like it this morning.

ATLAS 7, EIGHTH DISTRICT 6. At Hickey's Grove on Saturday afternoon, the Atlas football team secured a one point margin over the Eighth District school team. In the first quarter both teams played evenly but in the second, McCarthy, fullback of the school team, threatened the Atlas goal but failed to cross the line until the third period.

Whether Villa is leading the rebels who captured Ojinaga makes little difference; it's certain that he's back of them.

SAMMIES HAVE LOTS OF COMPANY, ALL EXCEPT OFFICERS—FEMININE COMARADERIE—INSTANCES

(By a California Boy with the American Forces in France.) Somewhere in France, Oct. 28, (by mail).—A new word has been put into the English language. It is "mug," (verb, transitive). When an American has been kissed by a Frenchman now, he says he has been "mugged."

As the Frenchman who plants a kiss on the cheeks of the private is usually of the hirsute variety, he is tactfully avoided, if possible. A soldier is going down the street. He meets another who warns him that "an old guy down in the next block mugged me." It is a signal for a detour.

The only embarrassment to these excursions is the frankness with which the French ask questions. "Apres la Guerre," they ask, "Will you marry here?" This is a burning question just now with the mas and pas of the land, and the girls, or many of them, never miss an opportunity to signify they have no fiancé.

The French Girls. The French girls are the only ones left for company to the Americans now. Where I am stationed there are 100 nurses. Also there is indignation. Business is slack in the nursing line now, and the young ladies have some idle time on their hands. Once they were accustomed to see the surrounding country with a soldier as escort. Then came an order that they should not associate with enlisted men. So it devolved on the officers. And now comes an order from headquarters that they shall be seen outside any military post no more with any soldier of any rank.

One Experience. No American wants for attention. It comes voluntarily. The Frenchman, back from the war, or on leave, advertises for a dinner partner. The Parisian magazines are full of them. Or he may advertise for a young lady to send him written encouragement in the trenches. "Young sub-lieutenant" these "ads" will read. "Convalescent in the hospital, wants to correspond with young lady, chic, beautiful, delicate."—There is only one instance of where an American advertised. And then he didn't do it. His friends did it for a joke. His mail was so large for the next two weeks that the regimental post office couldn't handle it.

are nurses in my young life, when a hundred pairs of black eyes are twinkling everywhere I go. This twinkling has made me happy to be a private. For an officer is out of luck.

people, shows that neither the emperor nor his military clique cares anything about the truth.

Faithfulness means to Wilhelm faithfulness to him personally. Italy has sought and is seeking justice against the formerly encroaching map of Austria-Hungary, and the alliance with the latter and Germany was neither in word nor spirit binding.

Mr. Roosevelt's exhortation at Princeton, N. J., as reported in The Hartford Times, to smash Austria-Hungary, which with Turkey, he says, has been most conspicuous in making democracy unsafe, is the sort of firebrand utterance that is making the American people believe Mr. Roosevelt an unsafe leader of this democracy. When the Allies get through with Germany, democracy will be a lot more popular than it is now, and the weapon of commercial supremacy, not to say Russian and Chinese trade, which are bound to follow the flag of democracy, will do the rest. It may well be doubted whether the mass of the population of Austria-Hungary is fit for democracy, or will be until it has gone through the usual process of education.

Venice is the treasure house of Italy and the Italian army will fight desperately in its defense. It would be not only a national but a world calamity if this beautiful city were made a target for the German siege guns. Happily the German advance seems to have been checked just in time to save the city.

The mention by P. A. Vaile of the National Editorial Service of a "Ministry of Reconstruction" is decidedly timely. One would suppose that reconstruction required no preparation, to read some of our editorial pages.

Is Venice to be another Rheims? It doesn't look like it this morning.

ATLAS 7, EIGHTH DISTRICT 6. At Hickey's Grove on Saturday afternoon, the Atlas football team secured a one point margin over the Eighth District school team. In the first quarter both teams played evenly but in the second, McCarthy, fullback of the school team, threatened the Atlas goal but failed to cross the line until the third period.

THE ADMINISTRATION WANTS THE WAR WON

Methods Secondary Question, But Allies Must Be Unit.

COLONEL HOUSE'S DUTIES

Washington, Nov. 19.—The Administration wants the war against Germany won, regardless of methods adopted. This was the explanation given today by President Wilson's cablegram sent to Colonel E. M. House, approving the plan of a joint control and unity of action of the fighting forces.

All questions of detail are left to Colonel House. He will determine for himself what will be needed from the United States and will assure those responsible that this country will furnish men, supplies, money and everything else which may be required to present the strongest front to the enemy.

Needs From United States. Officials here still are more or less divided as to what is most needed from the United States. Many veteran army officers have been opposed to pouring a continuous stream of troops into France. They have argued that much more will be accomplished if the United States will move all supplies needed by the Allies. France has been admittedly embarrassed because it has been impossible for her to move large quantities of supplies, which are at Atlantic ports waiting ships to carry them. Italy also has suffered from this cause. It is now certain that the war council will decide whether there shall be a change of methods of the United States or whether present plans shall be adhered to.

The Air Program. It is also considered certain that the war council will assign to the United States an even greater portion of the air program than has been so far assumed. All information from the other side emphasizes that the war will be won in the air. American plants are now turning out aeroplane parts and some aeroplanes, but far less than will be needed. The reason for this has been adherence to the original plan of constructing only practice machines in this country and purchasing battle planes in England and France.

But with thousands of aviators rapidly approaching the final stages in their training it is believed that they will be furnished with machines constructed in this country, thus greatly increasing the number of fighting aeroplanes at the front.

War Council to Meet. The war council will probably meet some time next week. Colonel House will have the advice of General Tasker H. Bliss, chief of staff, in discussing the plans of action which will be set forth. It is considered likely here that one of the questions that will come up at least for discussion will be the necessity of the United States including Austria and possibly Turkey and Bulgaria in its list of active enemies.

TO DO RED CROSS WORK.

Miss Eva Pickup, day superintendent of the House of Mercy hospital in Pittsfield, Mass., spent the week end at her home on Adams street. Miss Pickup was promoted the first of the month from night superintendent to day superintendent and Thanksgiving morning in company with another nurse from the hospital, she is to leave for Red Cross work in a training camp in Georgia. Eight other nurses from the same hospital left for the same camp Saturday. Miss Pickup's position at the hospital will be held for her return after the war.

THROWN FROM MOTORCYCLE.

George Freeman, employed by Fred Woodhouse, met with an accident while riding his motorcycle in Coventry yesterday. He had had some trouble with his machine and was being towed down a hill by an automobile. His motorcycle skidded and he was thrown in the air, turning about three somersaults and landing on his elbow and side. He didn't feel much the worse for the job yesterday, but he is stiff and lame today, although able to do about his work in the store.

Charm in the service is half the delight of entertaining—and nothing better contributes the quiet efficiency of perfect service than a TEA CART.

There are tea tarts AND tea carts. You want to select YOURS where the quality standard is so high you CAN'T buy an inferior one. And you want a breadth of selection that allows you to choose Jacobean Oak, English Mahogany, American Walnut, or a specially decorated enameled Tea Cart. You may pay as little as $7.50, or as much as $37.50. A dozen $10.00 Carts offered this week for $7.50. See our south show window.

We can afford you all this latitude in selecting. Select one now for HER Christmas gift. With Rugs, Carpets and Decorations it is the same idea—the greatest choice of whatever is really GOOD.

TWO KINDS OF WEATHER.

Yesterday was like a day in early September and everybody took advantage of the warm sunshine by being out doors as much as possible. Automobiles passed through the main streets in endless procession, pedestrians thronged the sidewalk and the nearby fields and woods were dotted with strollers. Perhaps there will be another day like yesterday before real winter sets in but the chances are against it. A high wind last night brought a sudden change and this morning the mercury was well below the freezing point.

LOCALS LOSE SOCCER GAME.

The Manchester soccer football team lost to Hartford United in a close and interesting game at Charter Oak park yesterday afternoon by the score of 1 to 0. Between 3,000 and 4,000 people saw the game. Recruiting Sergeant Plumbolt played goal for the Uniteds and his clever work was responsible for the locals' failure to get the ball through the goal. Right after the game, Sergeant Plumbolt took occasion to talk to the fellows about enlisting. He was wounded in action and has a silver knee cap but this didn't stop him from

CALL ON ITALIANS TO AID IN RAISING RELIEF FUND

State Council of Defense Has Italian Message Read at Monster Meeting in Hartford.

Hartford, Nov. 19.—A message to the Italians of Connecticut from the Connecticut State Council of Defense, urging them to stand by the land of their birth and the land of their adoption at this time of crisis in Italy was read yesterday afternoon before a mass meeting of Italians in the Palace theater, Hartford. The meeting was held to raise a relief fund for the benefit of refugees driven from their homes in northern Italy by German invaders.

The message from the Council was in Italian. As translated, it read: "A message to the Italians of Connecticut from the Connecticut State Council of Defense: 'The land of your birth and the land of your adoption are fighting in a common cause, the cause of freedom and democracy.'

"The United States of America is rapidly marshalling all her tremendous resources in men, money and munitions to go to the aid of her sisters in Europe—Italy, France, Great Britain and the rest of the Allies.

"America will not think of peace until she can demand peace terms founded on victory and until the German war lords have been made helpless in their efforts to crush liberty and justice.

"Give your full, sincere support to the powers that are striving to bring victory to the Allies and freedom to the world.

"Your relatives and friends in Italy need encouragement, not discouragement. When you write to them, tell them what America is preparing to do to help them.

"The first soldiers of the United States have gone into battle on the firing line in Europe. They are but the vanguard of many hundreds of thousands who will follow. Some are in training here; others are already within sound of cannon fire. They will not return until they return victorious.

"All America is united in the task of sending millions of tons of munitions, food and other supplies to the war zone, and American warships are guarding the ships in which they are being transported. A fleet of airplanes greater than has ever before been dreamed of is being built and will soon be doing vital work in Europe.

"Stand by America and stand by Italy! Connecticut State Council of Defense."

Hartford, Connecticut, November 17, 1917.

HEALTH FOUND IN GARDEN.

Perspiration That Results Carries Away Noxious Elements, and Strength and Vigor Are Certain.

To the man who woos her earnestly nature offers a store of unexpected gifts. Our thousands of amateur gardeners who have put in the leisure hours in their little garden patches have begun to realize that one of the biggest rewards of their labors may not be the actual produce they will obtain, valuable as that may be, but in the less tangible results on their own bodily and spiritual welfare.

There is health in the soil of Mother Earth. The perspiration that results from your labors in carrying away noxious elements from your blood. Strength and vigor come from contact with the soil. In this kinship to the earth is found one reason that nearly all of our greatest men have been country-bred boys. It is why the farmer boys of today are stronger and more able than youths reared in cities. Do not be afraid if your hand acquires a few callouses or a brownish tint. A well-tanned hand is a more fitting subject for pride than a soft, white, useless hand. You may meet with some failures from not knowing the how and why of things, but there is a joy which cannot fail.

The miracle of planting a seed and seeing the growth, though a common thing, contains joy and food for the heart. Gardening not only brings nourishment for the body and food for the mind, but it expands the soul.—Milwaukee Journal.

The boys would not know what to do with themselves in the evening. Books, magazines, newspapers, writing materials, post office facilities are within a few minutes' reach of all the men in the camp, thanks to the places where welcome is to be had from the men with the red triangle on their sleeves.

Camp life for the Manchester boys has improved from the very beginning. The men have all helped to pull the stumps from the vicinity of their company buildings, have aided in building roads, and have taken a hand in everything towards improving the camp. They pride themselves on their new home and try to make it look better than their neighbor's residence.

Eight weeks ago the men left Manchester, and after their long march through the rainstorm the day they arrived, they gave the appearance of a new Coxe's army. But a lot can be accomplished in that time, and Company A has evolved itself into a fine organization, and all seem to be happy because they can help the government in the prosecution of the war to a successful end.

One of the largest buildings on the reservation, formerly used as a restaurant for the workmen and originally destined to be torn down with the completion of the camp, has been transformed into "The 76th Division Theater," under the supervision of Major Reginald Barlow, who, since the establishment of the cantonment, has been active in his endeavors to obtain the establishment of such a place of amusement for the men. The place has been provided with a stage capable of accommodating the largest of theatrical companies and provided with the necessary paraphernalia. The auditorium will seat 3,000 men.

The officers who were burned out last week from their quarters were busy in rummaging among the ruins of their former home for belongings. One of the most successful was Lieutenant Richard C. Hutchins of Worcester, who recovered a roll of $400 in bills which he had been unable to obtain from his room during the fire. Smaller sums of money were recovered by their owners as well as some of the pay checks supposed to have been burned. The clothing and uniforms of the officers were destroyed completely.

MAKE PLANS TO TRAIN MEN CRIPPLED IN WAR

Eugene, Ore., Nov. 19.—Re-education of men crippled in the war is a problem that the University of Oregon is preparing and one for which preparation already is being made. A committee of representatives of the departments of psychology and education has been appointed to make a careful study of the most practical methods of re-education and to make recommendations for the establishment of such courses of study as are deemed advisable. The special problem for the committee is to devise ways of educating men for new pursuits after they have been crippled in such a way as to make their former occupations impossible.

ANOTHER STABBING BOUT; THIS TIME AT CHRISTENING

Third in Two Weeks in Manchester—Injured Man at St. Francis Hospital.

As a result of one of those Polish christenings in Apel Place last night which nine times out of ten winds up in a row, Mecca Stets is at the St. Francis hospital in Hartford suffering from a stab wound in the cheek. The man who did the stabbing is John Preshevoiko and both men live in Keeney Court at the south end. The knife struck the fleshy part of the cheek below the left eye and took a glancing turn upwards, but fortunately for Stets, the eyeball was not injured. The man bled profusely and when he appeared before Officer Crocket he was in decidedly bad shape. He told the officer about the row and he was taken to Dr. Rice's office and later Dr. Rice and Burr gave the man attention and advised his removal to the hospital. The injured man was taken to the city in Holloran's ambulance.

Later the man who did the stabbing was found at his boarding place by Chief Gordon and taken to the lock-up for safe keeping. The row began after the men had been drinking and it appears that Stets attempted to put an end to the scrap when he was attacked.

The accused man was not put to plea in court this morning. The charge was simple assault but this charge will probably be changed as the man in the hospital is quite seriously injured. Attorney H. M. Burke appeared in court for Preshevoiko. The case was continued for a week and the prisoner was released on a bond of $500.

John Stayer was fined $5 and costs for intoxication. He was arrested late Saturday night by Officer Schendel at the south end as he was unable to take care of himself. He was given time to pay.

THREE TEAMS IN GRIDIRON CHAMP RACE

Pittsburgh Panthers, Ohio State and Penn Eleveens Loom Up.

New York, Nov. 19.—Three eleveners, representing three different sections of the country, are in a position today to lay claims to the national football title.

Glenn Warner's powerful Pittsburgh Panthers stand head and shoulders above practically every team playing on eastern schedules. The great Pitt team is after a record of three unbeaten years, and it appears that Warner's machine will steam-roll its way to the coveted goal.

In the South, the eleven of the Georgia Institute of Technology is the sensation of the year. Georgia Tech has beaten every team that has faced it this season and has won most of its games by overwhelming scores. Its 98 to 0 victory over Carlisle Saturday was the high point in a long string of one-sided scores and the victory strengthened Tech's claims to supremacy.

Ohio State Best in "West."

Ohio State, for two straight seasons champion of the western conference, is without a doubt the best eleven in the West, and should Coach Jack Wilce's men lay a claim to the football supremacy of the United States, as Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech have already done, there will be a fine little three-cornered argument which will be difficult to settle. The plan to match Pitt and Georgia Tech on a neutral gridiron to decide the supremacy between the two, straighten out the national title situation, and reap a harvest for the Red Cross is still alive and kicking, but there seems to be little chance of its going through.

The greatest surprise of the season featured the week-end battles Saturday, when Penn trampled Michigan into the dust on Franklin Field. Penn won glory, put Michigan on the short end of a score for the first time this season and raised Bob Fowell to an enviable place among the leading coaches of the country.

MEAN THIEF BREAKS BANK, STEALS CHILDREN'S CASH

While Henry Clayre and His Sister Were in Sunday School the House is Entered.

While Henry Clayre and his sister were at Sunday school yesterday, thieves broke into the Clayre home on Tolland Turnpike and stole $10 and some change that was in a savings bank. The brother and sister live alone in the house. The father and mother are both dead.

The thieves evidently knew the place well as they found the key to the house and later took a key and opened a shanty at the rear of the house where Henry Clayre has a little shop. Here they took a screw driver and went back to the house and with this were able to force open a small safe and from this take the money. The thieves even stole the change that the boy and girl had been putting in a dime savings bank.

When the young man returned from Sunday school he saw at once that somebody had ransacked the house and found immediately that his money was stolen. The thieves went all over the house in the search for something to carry away.

Young Clayre went to the home of Fred Krah who lives across the way and informed him of the loss. Chief Gordon was brought to the place by Mr. Krah and made a thorough investigation. The neighbors are angry over the theft from the boy and girl and will do all in their power to help find out who the thieves were. Chief Gordon was on the job today but has very little to work on.

HURT IN GAME.

Rockville Player Had to Be Treated By Local Doctor.

At the football game between the Independents and the Rovers of Rockville at Mt. Nebo yesterday afternoon, one of the Rockville players, McDonald by name, was badly injured in the last period. He was rendered unconscious and remained in a semi-conscious state until after his removal to the office of Dr. W. R. Tucker on Park street. McDonald's whole body was paralyzed. It seemed as if he was suffering from a dislocation of his neck but after the doctor worked on his neck awhile the paralysis disappeared and the young man was all right in a few minutes.

The Rovers won the game by the score of 16 to 6. This was the second time the Rovers had defeated the Independents this season. While the Rovers are heavier and more experienced, the locals admit that the visitors are a much better team than they. This is the Independents' first season, while the Rovers have been playing for several years.

WHITON J. HOUSE.

Whiton J. House died at his home on Linden street last night at the advanced age of 88 years. The immediate cause of his death was heart trouble. Mr. House was a native of Buckingham but left that place when a young man and came to Manchester to live. Later he bought a farm in Talcottville and lived there for over 30 years. About eleven years ago he sold his place in Talcottville and came back to Manchester to live. Since that time he has done very little active work. His wife died six years ago. Mr. House was a member of the Center church and was a regular attendant at the church services as long as his health would permit. He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. W. C. Crane with whom he lived and Mrs. W. S. Avery of Utah. The funeral will take place from his late home Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Dr. C. E. Hesselgrave will officiate. The burial will be in the East cemetery.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Frost of Boston were in town over the week end. They were recently married. Saturday evening about 30 of the young lady friends of Mrs. Frost gave her a linen shower at the home of her sister, Mrs. Leon Holmes, of Cambridge street. Mrs. Frost was Miss May Beebe before her marriage. The house was beautifully illuminated with numerous colored electric bulbs. The young people enjoyed a lunch and a social hour. Mr. and Mrs. Frost returned to Boston yesterday afternoon.

SOUTH METHODIST NOTES.

Mrs. John Humphries will lead the class meeting at 7:45 o'clock tomorrow evening.

The Ladies' Aid society will meet in the church parlor at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

The Probationers' class will meet at seven o'clock Thursday evening preceding the mid-week service, which will begin at 7:45 o'clock.

The Philathea class will hold a Thanksgiving social in the church at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening. Each member is asked to bring a donation for the box to be sent to the Providence Deaconess Home. Miss Gertrude Abbey will be at the church Friday evening and Saturday afternoon to receive donations. Miss Elizabeth Hall, deaconess at the South Methodist church for a number of years, is now assisting in the work at the Providence Deaconess Home.

A special opportunity will be given next Sunday for the reception of members on probation or by letters. Next Sunday has been set apart throughout the country as a day to receive contributions for Armenian and Syrian relief. Special invitations are to be sent to people of those countries in Manchester to attend next Sunday morning's service. The pastor would like to get the addresses of all young men, connected with this church in any way, who are now in the service.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

The members of the Ladies of St. Joseph society gave Mrs. John Gleason a birthday surprise party at her home on Main street Saturday evening. There were about 18 ladies present, including two invited guests, Mrs. Briggs of the South and Mrs. Edward Zimmerman of Russell street. Music, games and dancing were enjoyed and refreshments were served. Mrs. Gleason received a purse of gold as a reminder of the occasion.
