PEACE PARLEYS ARE SUSPENDED AGAIN; RUSSIA YET MAY FIGHT

Lenine, Bolshevik Premier, Says Demobilization of Army Must End and Preparations Made for Further Conflict—German Envoys Refuse to Change Meeting Place

The Russo-German peace conference at Brest-Litovsk has again been suspended because of the refusal of the German envoys to consent to a removal of the parley to neutral soil. The chief interest today centers upon the question of whether or not they will be resumed.

Nicholai Lenine, the Bolshevik Premier, has given out an interview in Petrograd indicating that the Bolsheviks are prepared to renew the fight against the Central powers unless Germany gives way to the Russian demands.

"We must end the demobilization of the army and prepare for further warfare," Lenine was quoted as saying. The German newspapers are attacking the peace terms announced by President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George, but information reaching Amsterdam indicates that the internal situation in Germany has reached a serious point and is filled with possibilities. The Amsterdam Tjld goes so far as to say that a collapse in Germany seems imminent.

Whether or not the negotiations amount to anything depends to a large extent upon the result of the Russo-German peace negotiations at Brest Litovsk.

Germany Nearer Collapse. The newspaper Tjld states that "Germany was never so near utter collapse since the beginning of the war," as a result of the hardships entailed by the war and the dissensions between the military heads and the moderates among the political parties.

Calously disregarding the sufferings arising from famine, the fuel shortage, the universal mourning for the dead and the unrest caused by the dislocation of industries, the junkers are still clamoring for annexations and indemnities, with veiled threats of a "military uprising against the political government," but on the other hand the Socialists and Clericals are becoming bolder in their demands for a moderate peace that will satisfy not only the Entente governments, but the masses of the belligerent nations.

Details of the mutiny of 25,000 German troops on the eastern front were received here today. These men had revolted against the order to remove them to the western front and several battles have occurred between them and loyal forces that were sent to punish them. In one fight 250 of the loyal soldiers were killed, while lesser numbers were killed in other skirmishes.

Russian Revolution's Effect. The success of the Russian revolution is having more and more influence daily upon the German people. An observer who has just reached Amsterdam after spending several weeks in Germany said today: "The German people are sick of war. In Berlin the Kaiser and von Hindenburg are loathed. It is a strange thing, but the war is more popular in Bavaria than Prussia, although Prussia has always been regarded as the cradle of the war spirit in Germany. The women are suffering terrible hardships and I will be surprised if they don't launch a revolution, unless the war comes to an end within the next few months."

The semi-official Cologne Gazette, in an evident attempt to bolster up the courage of the people, announces that "Russia is on the point of not only making a separate peace but of becoming an ally of Germany as well."

"Wilson's Clumsy Trap." This paper labels its comment upon President Wilson's war aims speech, "Wilson's clumsy trap." It argues along the militaristic line that "peace cannot come by intrigue and by creating confusion with rhetoric, but by decisive battles on the field." The Berlin Lokal Anzeiger also attacks Mr. Wilson's speech with great bitterness. Most of the German papers in their comment upon the Wilson declaration dwell upon the American executive's reference to Russia.

Women Peace Delegates. Copenhagen, Jan. 11.—For the first time in modern history a woman is taking part in a peace parley as one of the chief negotiators. She is Mme. Bithenko, a member of the Bolshevik delegation that is carrying on the conference with representatives of the Central Empires at Brest Litovsk.

Advices received here today said that the Germans at first protested against a woman at the parley, but Leon Trotsky, the Bolshevik foreign minister, stated that Mme. Bithenko was an accredited delegate and that her views were supported by the rest of the Russian negotiators.

It is now learned that three different sets of terms were delivered to the Russians by the Central powers. One contained the Turkish war aims, a second the Bulgarian terms and the third, the terms of Germany and Austria-Hungary.

At the same time it was announced that if the Central empires wished to present fresh proposals they would be considered without prejudice. The Turkish terms also were rejected, but it is reported that the Bulgarian terms were found favorable, although no official confirmation has yet been received here of the statement that Russia and Bulgaria have formally signed a separate treaty of peace.

Conflicting reports have been received as to the continuation of the conference at Brest Litovsk. One is to the effect that the Russians have consented to remain there, while another says the Germans have given in and agreed to remove the parley to neutral soil. If Sweden has been asked to mediate for peace, as was reported in Petrograd yesterday, the Swedish government has not yet made any announcement on the subject.

2 YAQUI DEAD, 9 CAPTURED.

Nogales, Ariz., Jan. 11.—Two Yaqui Indians are dead and nine are prisoners today as a result of a brush between United States troops and a band of allied ammunition runners on United States territory three miles from the international boundary line.

The American troops surprised the outlaws as they were headed toward Mexico with contraband arms and ammunition and halted them. The outlaws opened fire and the troops returned it.

One Yaqui was killed outright and another died of wounds. Nine of the bandits, of whom several were wounded, surrendered to the American soldiers. There were 12 men in the American patrol which participated in the engagement.

SENATE MAY KILL SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT

Washington, Jan. 11.—Whether the Susan B. Anthony amendment shall be submitted to the states for ratification today depends upon the Senate. Senator Jones, chairman of the woman suffrage committee, favors bringing the measure up for a vote within ten days or two weeks, but the suffragist politicians are urging caution. After the close vote in the House yesterday the prospect of the measure's passage in the Senate was very doubtful.

CREW OF SUNKEN DESTROYER JACOB JONES SAW TORPEDO COMING, BUT COULDN'T CHANGE COURSE TO AVOID IT; ESCAPED SWIMMING

Washington, Jan. 11.—The officers and crew of the destroyer Jacob Jones, sunk by a submarine on the afternoon of December 6, knew their impending fate but were unable to avert it. This was disclosed today in the report of Lieutenant Commander David Worth Bagley to the Navy department.

The torpedo was sighted when at a distance of half a mile ahead and Officer of the Deck S. F. Kalk, who afterwards died of exposure, took prompt measures to maneuver the ship so as to avoid being struck. The commanding officer realized, however, that the torpedo was too near to be escaped, and immediately an effort was made to launch life boats and save the lives of the crew.

Radio Equipment Unusable. As the radio antennae and main mast were carried away and electric power failed immediately, it was not possible to use the radio apparatus, Bagley reported. The gunnery officer, Lieutenant J. K. Richards, made every effort to get aft to secure the depth charges, but was unable to do so. Before the ship sank, three rafts were lost and another floated off when the destroyer went down. A small dory and two other small boats likewise floated clear. The motor boat was seaworthy, but its engine would not run. One of the small boats was damaged but was of use in getting men on to the rafts. The whaleboat was launched but was useless, owing to damage from the explosion.

All Ordered to Jump. As the ship settled, the commanding officer ran along the deck and ordered everybody to jump overboard. Most of the men who were not killed by the explosion got away from the ship and swimming at a considerable distance from the ship.

Eight minutes after being struck the destroyer sank stern first. About 15 minutes after the submarine came to the surface and picked up two survivors. At the time, only one was seen aboard. The submarine then submerged and was not seen again. Immediately after the sinking the commanding officer, who jumped overboard as the ship sank and was picked up by the motor dory, had the men made to get all survivors on the rafts and get the rafts and the boat together. He then began to make arrangements to reach the nearest land in the motor boat so as to get assistance for the survivors on the rafts. Lieutenant Richards gave orders to take charge of the survivors and keep the rafts together. The commanding officer, a navigating officer, Lieutenant Bagley, knew accurately the position of the ship when she sank and so knew the course to the nearest port. They therefore made the motor dory with four men assist. All the provisions and a kit from the motor boat were taken with the men on the rafts. A few emergency rations and a bucket of water. The rafts were pulled by oars, as the engine would not run.

After a very rough trip, during which it was necessary to steer by the stars and by the position of the wind, the boat was pulled up at 1 o'clock the next morning by a small patrol vessel. The other of the station was also rescued. The commanding officer, Lieutenant Bagley, and the other unrecognizable, were taken to the hospital at Hartford, Conn., and are recovering.

Devens, Court Ordered For Absence Xmas Without Leave

Camp Devens, Mass., Jan. 11.—One hundred and three members of the 304th Infantry, "Connecticut's Own," were found guilty at court martial of going home Christmas without leave and were sentenced today.

Although the majority of holiday fugitives in other organizations of the 76th division received three months at hard labor and forfeiture of pay, the offenders in Colonel J. S. Herrin's regiment got off with light fines, with the exception of Private Frank L. Dunne of Waterbury, who was sentenced to 20 days at hard labor.

Reduction One Punishment. The penalties meted out to the other Connecticut men who absented themselves without leave consisted of forfeiture of from four days to 20 days pay and first class private's rating. Drive Back Austro-Hungarians in Cavazocherina Sector—Official War Office Announcements.

Washington, Jan. 11.—America is prepared for an army of two million men in the field within a year, Secretary of War Baker strongly intimated before the Senate military affairs committee today.

The members of the committee were pursuing the investigation along the subject of adequate supply. Senator Chamberlain had remarked that there was a great deal of apprehension about America's supply.

"I am considerably worried over this matter," said Senator Weeks. "I can relieve you," said Secretary Baker.

"If we have an army of two million men in the field within a year, which is not unlikely, will we have sufficient powder for ourselves and our allies?" asked Senator Weeks.

"The program is adequate," answered Secretary Baker.

TEUTONS REPULSED IN ITALY.

Rome, Jan. 11.—Austro-German forces in the Cavazocherina sector were driven from their trenches by a bombardment from Italian trench mortars, the War office announced today.

The retreating troops were taken under the fire of the Italian machine guns and sustained considerable losses.

GARFIELD BEHIND WIGGIN.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The Fuel Administration will back regulations of Administrator A. H. Wiggin, of New York to the limit. This was made plain this afternoon by Fuel Administrator Garfield. If Wiggin wants to close the New York theaters entirely he has the authority to do so, for Dr. Garfield has given him carte blanche.

"Mr. Wiggin has the power even to shut down factories engaged in war work in order to supply domestic needs, if he sees fit," said Dr. Garfield.

DESERTERS OF TRAINING CAMP WERE HIGHWAYMEN

New York, Jan. 11.—Following a spirited revolver battle with detectives in Brooklyn early today, two men wearing the uniform of the National Army, and describing themselves as John Lenton, 21, of Torrington, Conn., and Wilbur Perry, are being held by the police today.

Lenton and Perry, after being confronted by several of their victims, are said to have confessed to several recent hold-ups. The pair admitted that they are deserters from Company D, of the Forty Ninth regiment, now located at Camp Merritt, near Tenafly, N. J.

Detectives trailed the men for nearly two miles before making a concerted effort to capture them. The soldiers opened fire with their service pistols, but after a brisk exchange of shots, none of which took effect, the men surrendered.

Camps Still in Need. "If it means they haven't as many as they need, he is accurate, if he means they haven't any, he is inaccurate," answered Secretary Baker. "If we had rushed artillery manufacturers from April 1, we could have supplied sufficient artillery for all of the men in camps. By the time we get what we now think we need, we will need more."

The Company G Smoke Fund took another jump toward the sky last night when a hat was passed around at a meeting of the Manchester City Club and in four minutes there was collected $31 to be used toward buying smokes for the soldiers from Manchester now overseas.

As has been fully explained before the fund is ultimately to be used for all the Manchester boys in France, regardless of whether they are in Company G or in any other unit.

There are a number of boys over there who tried to enlist in Company G but because of the company being filled up they were unable to do so.

The friends of these boys need not fear that they will be forgotten; in fact they have already been sent a carton of smokes. As soon as Manchester has a distributing center overseas besides Captain Bissell, the problem of distribution will be solved.

Until such time the fund will be known as the Company G Fund but proper allowance will be made in proportioning out shipments so that money enough will be set aside for the other Manchester boys in France to be used as soon as arrangements can be made for distribution.

Plans are rapidly being formulated for a dance to be run for the Smoke Fund in the near future in one of the halls in town.

Next Friday night will be Company G night at the Park Theater, the rental of the theater having been offered free by Manager John F. Sullivan.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The naval oil reserves in California would be taken over by the President under a bill introduced this afternoon by Senator Swanson, acting chairman of the naval affairs committee.

FREIGHT WEIGHT ON COTTON WOOLEN RAISED.

Washington, Jan. 11.—The Interstate Commerce commission today issued a tentative order justifying increases ranging from one cent to eight cents in the rate on cotton and woolen goods from New England mills to New York City and Brooklyn. The order will be argued by shippers and carriers and if not changed as a result of their presentations, will be made permanent.

STATES FOOD ARMY NOW READY FOR SUMMER

Food Supply Committee Expects Boys and Girls to Produce $500,000 Worth of Food.

Last year, the Junior Food Army of Connecticut produced several thousand dollars worth of food. During the coming year this army can produce at least half a million dollars worth, and what is more they are going to do it. Last year the organization was not complete and only a few boys and girls joined. During the coming year every boy and girl in Connecticut will be given an opportunity to join in the work and thus win one of the awards of merit which the Committee of Food Supply of the State Council of Defense and the Connecticut Agricultural College are planning to give those who do the proper amount of work.

Join the Army.

Every one of the 200,000 boys and girls in Connecticut will be given an opportunity to join the Food Army. Those who do and who sign up their pledge as a member will receive a button which will designate them as a member. Those who come through the season successfully will receive a further award upon completion of their work. Last year 175 girls received certificates of merit suitable for framing and signed by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb.

There are several ways in which a boy or girl can fill the requirements of the Junior Food Army. They can grow one-half acre of corn, one-eighth acre of potatoes, one-twentieth of an acre of garden vegetables, or care for a home garden, can fit jars of fruit or vegetables, keep a flock of ten hens, or a pig, save one hundred pounds of food, or take a course of twelve lessons in home economics.

The County Farm Bureaus are co-operating in this work as are the leaders of club work of the Connecticut Agricultural College, and the club work of the state is to be a part of the Junior Food Army.

Each boy or girl interested may enroll by signing the card which will be furnished soon. All enrollments must be approved by the parents or guardians. Upon receiving enrollment cards from the members the committee will have charge of the work and the boys or girls interested in the work will be able to take up the work.

EDUCATIONAL CLUB MEETING.

Supt. F. A. Verplanck gave a very interesting talk on Current Events at the last meeting of the Educational Club. He spoke on the passage of the Prohibition bill; the taking over of the railroads by the government; the possibilities of our water ways; the attitude of Sweden and the recent developments in the Russian situation.

Miss Elizabeth M. Bennett reported that between $500 and $600 had been received from the sale of Red Cross seals and a small amount from this was voted to inaugurate a health crusade among the town's children.

A letter was read from Miss Marjorie Cheney, now working among the orphans of France.

Mrs. Adeline Williams gave an interesting report of the mid-year meeting of the Connecticut Federation of Women's Clubs.

The arguments that cold cars will bring sickness will hardly hold good in those communities where they have been urged as a health measure.

MARKET LESS BULLISH; DECLINES ARE GENERAL

Steel, Coppers, Marines, Tobacco and Rails Loss Ground—Cotton is Firmer—Quotations.

New York, Jan. 11.—Stocks were in supply at concessions, at the opening of the stock market today, prices during the initial dealings selling down from fractions to over one point.

Steel Common was 1 1/4 lower at 94 1/2. Bethlehem Steel B sustained the same loss, selling at 76 1/2, and fractional declines were noted in the other steel shares.

Anaconda sold off 3/4 to 61 1/2, and Utah declined 3/4 to 80 1/2. Marine Preferred sold down to 86 1/2, a loss of 3/4.

American Tobacco dropped 2 1/2 points to 162 and American Telephone and Telegraph fell one point to 105. Mexican Petroleum was active and declined 1 1/2 to 84 1/2.

The railroad issues showed fractional losses. During the first hour Steel Common sold down to 93 1/2 and Marine Preferred down to 86 1/2, while Atlantic Gulf and West Indies fell over two points to 99 1/2. United Cigar stores, after moving up to 95 1/2, reacted one point. People's Gas moved up 1 1/2 to 44 1/2.

Clearing house statement: Exchanges, $532,681,298; balances, $40,747,555. Money loaning at 3 1/2 per cent. Cotton.

With the exception of January, which opened one point lower, the cotton market had a firm opening today with prices 26 to 34 points higher.

Offerings increased materially after the start, including much liquidation, and prices gave way sharply, selling only five or six points net higher at the end of the first twenty minutes.

A PLEASANT DAY

A warm, pleasant day like today is a godsend, coming as it does after nearly a month of incessant freezing temperature.

Therefore the springlike temperature of today has been doubly welcome. It loosens the bands which have bound many of our utilities in its paralyzing grasp.

This comment was written at ten o'clock this forenoon. If the weather changes before the paper comes out this afternoon, it will not be the fault of the writer; it will be only another illustration of the fickleness of the New England climate.

SENSELESS ENLIGHTENMENT

The report is true that the attorney general has ruled against permitting Michael Darfinkle of New Britain, who is serving a term of two to three years in State's prison for theft, to see his dying wife, represents a state of things that is unworthy of an enlightened commonwealth.

The law on which the attorney general bases his opinion is not made known, and of course he is only a public agent for Connecticut.

There is no reason in common sense why the man shouldn't be taken out of prison under guard for a few hours and brought to St. Francis Hospital, Hartford where his wife lies.

If Darfinkle had committed murder or manslaughter, there might be some excuse for refusing such a permit. As it is, the refusal is a worse penalty than the short term of imprisonment.

MADE-TO-ORDER OPINION.

The federal secret intelligence bureau has done another clever piece of work in getting and making public the actual confidential orders given by the Imperial German government to the press.

"The publication and discussion of the resolutions adopted in a strike meeting of the Leipzig Unions and of a telegram sent to the imperial chancellor are not permissible."

"There is no objection to the reprinting of the manifesto of the Independent Socialist Party in case it is adversely commented upon, even without irritating sharpness."

"For the present nothing may be published concerning the explosion which took place this morning at the Friedrichstrasse station in Berlin."

"It is not desired to discuss, or even to mention the German importations from abroad, especially from Holland."

"The printing and discussion of the article 'Terrible conditions in Warsaw for obtaining the necessities of life' in No. 133 of Napszod, of July 12, are not permissible."

"Petit Parisien informs us that five American divisions, numbering 125,000 men, may be expected in France in the autumn of 1917. It is urgently requested not to reproduce this information without some comment. We do not wish to underestimate the ability of America to accomplish things, but must not, on the other hand, over-estimate it. In order to bring a division over from America 75,000 tons must make the trip twice. Therefore, from the mere fact of lack of space, the transportation of such a body of troops within certain fixed time limits is impossible. Moreover, it is impossible to train these troops properly by autumn. These facts which have recently been discussed in the German war news can not be too strongly emphasized in the discussion of that French news."

WAR CURRICULA FOR GIRLS.

The girls' colleges, hardly less than the boys', have been touched by the spirit of the war, and college curricula now include many and various practical subjects.

The committee on Public Information says: "Girls' colleges, which before the war had strictly academic courses of study, with no courses in business or in domestic science, are reorganizing to meet the war emergency. From the reports of deans and presidents in 150 colleges and universities in the United States with women students, it is evident that war emergency courses in business, hygiene, social service in war time, and home economics, is the way in which colleges are exhibiting war preparedness. Usually the war courses are given in the time formerly devoted to recreation; no student is allowed to elect more than one, and no student can be enrolled unless her work is up to the regular standard."

"A list of typical war courses for women in and outside the regular curriculum, and taken from recent reports of the colleges to the women's war division of the Committee on Public Information, is: Land-line telegraphy, wireless telegraphy, automobile mechanics, nautical astronomy, navigation, elementary nursing, first aid, principles of war relief, draftsmanship, medical laboratory methods, map drawing, home economics (dietetics, conservation of food, training in cafeterias, and soup kitchens), industrial chemistry, farm management, surgical dressings, office routine (all business training for office work), and a course for teachers in occupational therapy."

Even the Bridgeport liquor dealers are going to cut their open hours to save fuel.

As the Willimantic Chronicle points out, the water in the streams is too low at present to permit intakes of coal. When spring comes, conditions will be reversed, and water power will be at its maximum.

Whether the cause of prohibition will be hurt by waiting until the next regular session of the State legislature, which will consist of representatives elected under instructions for or against license, is a matter of speculation. The Governor thinks not, and has refused to include action on the proposed amendment in the call for a special session. If the majority temper of the present legislature is to be judged by the vote of the state's federal representatives, the Governor is serving reform in putting off the vote.

Editor Evening Herald: I would like to correct an error in an item in Wednesday's Herald on British casualties. It was stated that Dewsbury, Yorkshire, was one fourth the size of Manchester. Dewsbury is much larger than this town, and is a town of importance, its woolen mills being known all over the world. Blankets and heavy cloths are the staple trade of the district, and mills and coal mines are found everywhere for miles round the town itself. The place referred to was one of the villages outside the town of Dewsbury, which has suffered heavily in proportion to its size in the war, but the lists of killed cover the town of Dewsbury and district.

The Open Forum

Dear Sir: It is with great pleasure that the boys of this camp read The Herald, and by so doing get an idea of what is going on in Manchester. And the boys from Manchester surely do appreciate what the Red Cross has done from our home town, but it kind of hurts them when they read in your columns the letters of thanks that come from a camp in Ohio and Manchester's own boys much nearer. And when the boys from Portland, Chester, Deep River and those small towns down the river receive packages from their home town Red Cross, it makes Manchester's boys feel as if Manchester had moved from Connecticut to Ohio.

N. Y. STATE BAR ASSN MEETS IN NEW YORK

Hon. Charles E. Hughes Calls Organization Together—Many Distinguished Speakers—Saturday Choate Day. New York, Jan. 11.—Honorable Charles E. Hughes this afternoon called to order what promises to be the most momentous session ever held by the New York State Bar Association, its forty-first annual meeting.

Mr. Hughes himself delivered the president's address at 2 o'clock. This evening the Right Honorable Sir Frederick Edwin Smith, K. C., M. P. of London, Attorney-General of Great Britain, will deliver the annual address, his subject, "Law, War and the Future."

Secretary of State Lansing, Ambassador Jusserand, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, Ambassador Count Macchi di Cellere, Ambassador Aimaro Sato, Ambassador Bakhtestoff, Ambassador E. de Cartier and the Duke of Devonshire, Governor-General of Canada, are attending the meetings in the Hotel Astor.

The Saturday afternoon session will be devoted to the memory of the late Joseph H. Choate.

Politicians who scoffed at the thought of the times changing have been converted since they learned of so many men volunteering to work without pay.—Toledo Blade.

The acid test is, will the voters of Connecticut back such action or will they vindicate their state against such a disgraceful notoriety. Our congressmen have been approached, of course, by the liquor interests. They have also heard pleas and requests, petitions continually from business associations, churches, temperance organizations, etc. They had to make their choice. They decided, as usual, to take chances with the boose element of the country. They doubtless assumed that the mass of voters would not know or notice how they voted. If they did, the temperance voters would soon forget, and being nominated again on their party tickets, the temperance voters could be whipped into line in the future as in the past to vote the "regular" ticket. One soon forgets, and it is easy to "move your party lever to the right as far as it will go until bell rings, then release the same." The liquor vote however while it has poor reason for its existence is blessed with a fine memory for its friends!

Our representatives have apparently learned nothing of the great temperance movement of the last few years. They have no vision or leadership on this moral and economical issue. The brewer's desire is the prophecy of their vote. Is it not high time after this disgrace, for our state to do some house-cleaning, cut off some of its dead chestnut wood and plant some live trees along Pennsylvania Avenue that leads to the Capitol?

For one, we feel deeply chagrined and humiliated to think that as matters now stand when the great victory of National Prohibition comes—as everyone knows that it will—and the history of its progress written, Connecticut will be at the foot of the list of 48 states. But as Napoleon's general said at Marengo, "one battle is lost, but there is time to gain another."

E. F. Studley.

GOVERNMENT CONTROL RUINS SMALL RAILROADS

Many Protest to Senate Interstate Commerce Committee—Bankruptcy Threatened, They Say.

considering of the bill now before Congress, providing for government control of the railroads, was confronted with a large number of protests from small railroads.

The smaller railroad systems' officials argue that the present plan of compensation will place them in bankruptcy. They declare that for them to accept the net earnings of the past three years as a basis for compensation would be suicidal. They assert that the years of the European war have been more disastrous for them than for the larger rail systems. While larger railroads can subsist under such a plan, they say the smaller ones would not be able to hold out and operate for any considerable length of time.

Another point made by the executives of the small railroad lines is that they do not constitute a part of the great freight carrying system. They maintain that the operation of their lines in many cases is merely a matter of local importance and does not bear on the national transportation system whatsoever. For these reasons they declare that exemption from government control would be only fair to them.

MARRIED MEN STAND SHELL SHOCK BEST

Boston, Jan. 11.—Draw near, mates and let this sock in: "Married men in the trenches stand shell shock much better than the unmarried. This commentary on shell shock, (and marriage?) is authoritative.

Captain John T. MacCurdy, of the Medical Officers' Reserve Corps, which has had long experience with cases of shell shock in war hospitals abroad, eased off the foregoing information at a meeting of the Massachusetts Society for Mental Hygiene in Lorimer Hall, in the course of a paper on "nervous and mental breakdown from war strain and shell shock."

CALL NEW BUSINESS ENTERPRISE DISCOURAGED

Investment Market... Unless McAdoo Order is Modified—U. S. Bureau Needed.

Washington, Jan. 11.—A strong demand for the creation of a federal body to give advice as to projected enterprises involving the expenditure of large sums is materializing.

New Enterprises Discouraged. The Council of National Defense recently issued a statement in which it was suggested that America refrain from making investments in extensive new enterprises for the period of the war.

Representatives have been made to Secretary McAdoo and to the Council of National Defense to the effect that the purpose of the cautions issued will be nullified unless some constructive suggestions accompany it.

BIG LEAGUE SCHEDULES OUTLINED NEXT WEEK

Johnson, Herrmann, Dreyfuss and Others to Meet at Dover Hall, Ga.—As to Transportation.

Chicago, Jan. 11.—Schedules of the American and National Leagues will be outlined next week in the seclusion of Dover Hall, Ga., the winter haunt of Sam Johnson, it was announced here today.

Johnson, Garry Herrmann, Barney Dreyfuss and Secretaries John Heydler of the National League and Walter Harridge of the American, will repair to Dover Hall to tinker with the 1918 playing program.

Consideration of transportation problems arising out of the war needs of the railroads is responsible for an augmented schedule board this year. In past seasons the framing of the schedules was left to Johnson and Dreyfuss, who are experts at dating up ball clubs.

The war having made great inroads in the ranks of Canadian players, the Americans have agreed to play exhibition matches among themselves. F. B. Alexander, Harold A. Throckmorton, W. M. Hall and Nathaniel W. Niles will furnish the exhibitions.

NEW AIRPLANE MOTOR IS BEST THAT'S MADE

Liberty Motor Can be Turned Out in Larger Quantity Than Any Other.

New York, Jan. 11.—The new Liberty motor, which is being used by the United States government in all aeroplanes, is the equal, if not superior to any foreign machine. This statement was made today by Major Jesse G. Vincent, who is here attending the convention of automotive engineers.

The Liberty motor was designated by Major Vincent and fifty associates, each of whom contributed the best point of his own particular style of motor to the construction of the new engine. The result, according to Major Vincent, has been the turning out of a motor equal in power, speed and dependability to any manufactured abroad, and superior in most of the possibilities of production because it can be turned out in quantities impossible for any other power to contemplate.

"This isn't brag," said Major Vincent. "Foreign powers have placed orders for large numbers of the new motors, proving that they recognize its superiority."

The Liberty motor develops better than 400 horsepower and weighs 800 pounds.

Probably the unfortunate nature of woman's selection in Christmas cigars has been somewhat exaggerated by the prominent humorists of the last three centuries, but it really is pretty bad.—Ohio State Journal.

Most people will be gratified at the decision of the coal miners to take but one day off for Christmas. Not so, however, with the school children.

SHOULD GIVE ONLY TO FUNDS HAVING PROPER SANCTION

Connecticut People Are Warned Not to Contribute to Unapproved Causes.

STATE DEFENSE COUNCIL GIVES OUT GOOD ADVICE.

Town Committees and War Bureaus to Know What Appeals Are Worthy and Have Approval of Either State or National Organizations—Federal Council's Resolution Calls for Action by State Body.

Citizens of Connecticut are warned by the Connecticut State Council of Defense that they should discontinue at once the practice of giving contributions to all sorts of war funds which are not recognized nationally or approved by the Defense Council in this state. Certain funds which are national in their scope will have the approval of the authorities at Washington, and other funds which are merely state-wide movements will be approved by the state council of defense. Chairmen of the council's committees in the various towns and cities and the war bureaus which have been organized will have knowledge at all times of the funds which have official sanction.

This warning against contributions for unauthorized purposes has been given by the state council because of a resolution which has been adopted by the Council of National Defense at Washington in order to check contributions for purposes that are not worthy. Regulation and centralization of appeals of this kind is advocated by the federal government, and a plan looking to that end is being put into effect in Connecticut.

The resolutions adopted by the Council of National Defense, and endorsed by the Connecticut State Council of Defense follows:

"Whereas, appeals are constantly being made throughout the country in behalf of innumerable war relief agencies; and

"Whereas, the benevolent energies of the country are being dissipated by such solicitations, and the flotation of government loans, as well as the collection of the war tax, are being retarded; and

"Whereas, the Council of National Defense believes that the regulation and centralization of such appeals would encourage the patriotic and philanthropic spirit of the country to a generous response by the assurance of the proper responsibility of those soliciting subscriptions, thus minimizing opportunities to exploit the benevolent impulses of the country; therefore be it

"Resolved, That the Council of National Defense requests each of the state councils of defense so to organize that it may assure itself of the worthiness of the objects in support of which appeals for assistance are made and of the integrity and financial responsibility of those making such appeals; and be it further

"Resolved, That the Council of National Defense requests that all campaigns for private aid be conducted in entire co-operation with the state councils of defense; and be it further

"Resolved, That the Council of National Defense urges the people of the country to contribute assistance, financial and otherwise, only to those persons and objects that are accredited and approved by the Council of Defense in each state; and be it further

"Resolved, That the Council of National Defense suggests that the state councils of defense approve appeals for financial aid only where it shall be understood that an accounting of the moneys received and spent shall be made public."

NURSES' NAMES WANTED

Efforts Being Made to Complete Connecticut Census.

The following is published at the request of the Connecticut Bureau of Military Census: "The State Nurses' Association, in line with the associations in other states and in conjunction with the Military Census Bureau of this state, is endeavoring to reach every registered graduate practical and Red Cross nurse in Connecticut who has not already filled out the blank sent out by the Census Bureau. The name and present address on a postal is all that is necessary, addressing it to Miss R. Inde Albaugh, secretary, care State Military Census State Library, Hartford. If any nurse has changed her address since March, 1917, Miss Albaugh would be glad to know of that also.

"The hospital and registries are especially asked to see that a list is sent in of those nurses who have left, with their present addresses, and those who have recently registered.

"Every one is urged to co-operate with the Connecticut Military Census Bureau, as it is essential that the census be as complete as possible."

Commander of Tanks in the Cambrai Region

Brig. Gen. H. J. Elles, D. S. O., is the man whose message, "The tank corps expects that every tank will do its damndest," sent the great fire-spitting monsters of steel crashing through the German lines at Cambrai. General Elles led the tanks on their rampage through the German lines when the British forces made remarkable gains without the aid of artillery preparation. He commanded the entire tank squadron in the advance on Cambrai.

POOLING BASEBALL PLAYERS WAR MEASURE.

New York, Jan. 11.—Though baseball men have made repeated denials that the clubs of the two major leagues are pooling players as a war measure, the consummation of the latest big player deal between the Pirates and Dodgers has strengthened the belief among fans today. The Pittsburgh-Brooklyn trade was the seventh big deal of the winter, and it is said more deals will be announced in the near future. Officials of the New York Giants have practically admitted that Boston is to get another player in the deal involving Herzog, Doyle and Barnes, and several clubs which have not been involved in trades are expected to trade or purchase players.

RED SOX GET McINNIS IN REPORT.

New York, Jan. 11.—Stuffy McInnis, the last member of Connie Mack's last season's team, is reported to be in the hands of the Boston Red Sox.

The news, it is said, comes from a man well posted in American League affairs, and the story goes that when Harry Frazee purchased Bush, Schang and Strunk he also bought McInnis. Connie Mack, however, insisted that the sale of the first basemen be kept quiet for a time.

General Dupont, New French Chief of Staff

General Dupont, who has been appointed chief of the major staff of the French army, General Dupont was born in Alsace in 1864. At the beginning of the war he commanded the Ninth French infantry regiment, which did valiant work in the Champagne battle. He also helped in the defense of Verdun, and was decorated for his work in repulsing the troops led by the crown prince of Germany.

Incidentally the British showed that it is not necessary to destroy a city in order to take it. And the "Turks" although not possessed of the full beauty of German Kultur seemed to have the same idea.—Chicago Evening Post.

BACK YARD FLOCKS OF WENS PLANNED FOR CONNECTICUT

Special Committee Appointed to Push New Movement to Aid the War.

EXPECT TO RAISE 80,000 MORE CHICKENS IN STATE

Estimated that a Thousand Extra Flocks of Ten Hens Each Can Be Started and Maintained in the Gardens of Each County—Connecticut State Council of Defense to Foster Campaign.

The back yard poultry movement received another impetus when the sub-committee on poultry of the Committee of Food Supply and Conservation decided at a recent meeting in Hartford to push this work in all parts of the state, in addition to what has already been done among school children and women by the Food Conservation Committee of the Woman's Committee, Connecticut division, Council of National Defense.

The sub-committee on poultry pointed out that at least 50 per cent of the poultrymen of the state have gone out of business and that a shortage of eggs and meat is likely to follow. As a possible means of meeting this shortage and for the additional purpose of conserving kitchen waste and other material unfit for human consumption a back yard flock of ten hens is advocated wherever it is possible to support it.

The possibilities in this movement, as pointed out by Prof. W. F. Kirkpatrick of the Connecticut Agricultural College, are decidedly important. He explains that a thousand flocks of ten hens may be easily added to the number in each county, thus adding 10,000 birds to the number there. Assuming a production of 125 eggs per hen, which is decidedly conservative for back yard flocks, a million and a quarter fresh eggs may easily be produced in each county and at a cost of from one-third to one-half the price these eggs would bring upon the market. This increase in food production is well worth while in these days when every bit counts.

The committee proposes by means of the farm bureaus and the local organizations of the Connecticut State Council of Defense to work with the Poultry Association and the Poultry Breeder's Association.

Another letter has been received from John Benson who is with Co. G, 102nd U. S. Infantry in France. The letter follows:

Dear Mother and family: Today is Sunday and rest day so I have an opportunity of writing.

Last week was a busy one for everyone at school and it was, go, from noon 'til night and we didn't get to bed 'til 12 o'clock.

Last week I received a batch of letters from camp and among them were three from home dated Nov. 4, 10th and 13th. Believe me it was good to receive the news from home that all was well and even though the mail was a month old it was read with interest.

Everything going well at school and I'm learning a lot of good stuff which may come in handy later on. It's drill, pick and shovel, hikes, lectures and study and Sunday comes as a relief.

It was good to receive letters from every one in the family and one from Mrs. Wood. I also received a note from camp saying a package has been received there from Mrs. Wood and they are going to forward same.

I miss being away from the boys but there is a good bunch here and we get along first rate. I hope to run over to camp on Christmas day or before then, and say hello. Passes are issued over Sunday and all I lack is car fare.

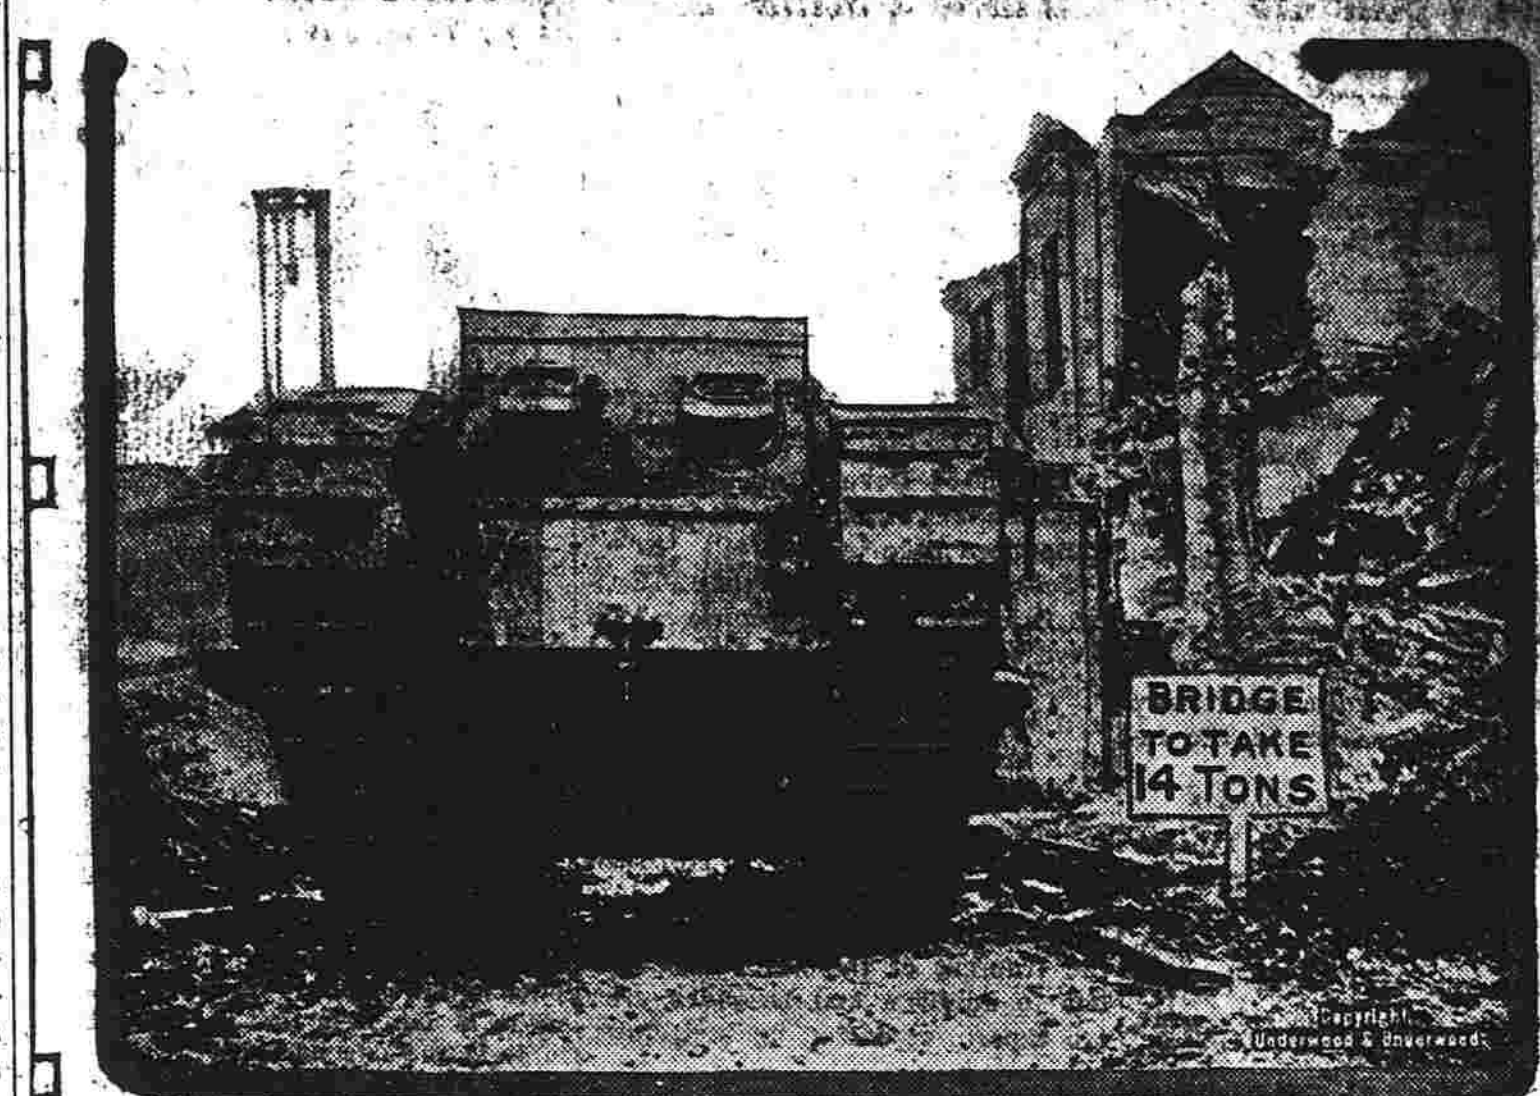

We are all looking for packages and a few of the fellows have received smoked, candy, fruit and other nice things.

It's very quiet here and most of the boys are either busy writing letters, reading or standing around the small fire in the barracks. One would smile if they could hear a conversation in the mess hall when a crowd of fellows gather 'round and discuss meals they have had, would like to have or are going to have. Believe me I've made up a lot of fine menus since I arrived here of stuff I will eat after the war. I honestly believe I'd give a week's pay for a home made apple pie.

Funny how a soldier always thinks of his stomach when away from home. Must bring this letter to a close now as I have others to write which will take up my afternoon.

But I would not care if I had some day that it was all over and the world at peace once more as this war game is no fun but some one must do it so I ever I get back I will tell you all some great old tales of how we prepared to fight the Kaiser. I would just like to have one good shot at him myself. I guess Christmas will be over by the time you get this letter. I would have sent you something only we have not got paid yet so you see it is over two months since we got any money. But there are better days coming so pack up your troubles in your old kit bag and smile, smile, smile.

BRITISH TANK RUMBLES INTO ACTION THROUGH THE STREETS OF A RUINED TOWN ON THE WEST FRONT

Rumbling and roaring as only a tank can, this British monster is waking the echoes amongst the solitude and desolation that once was a town. The tank is on its way to help beat back the Teuton and prevent him from leaving any more mementos, like this, of his work in France. In this British official photograph the commander of the tank and its driver can be seen watching the road through the tiny windows in the front of their machine.

THE EVENING HERALD, eager to gather every bit of news of our soldier boys, wherever they may be, invites its readers to contribute personals, portions of letters, and any information about them they may possess. Such portions of letters as are personal or which may give information to the enemy, will, of course, not be published.

INCOME TAX INSPECTOR EXPLAINS THE NEW LAW

E. G. Hellyar Is At South End Post Office to Advise Local Residents.

Failure to inquire as to your status under the income tax law may cost you money, according to Income Tax Inspector E. G. Hellyar, who is at the south end post office advising prospective taxpayers.

The government is just as anxious, he said, that no person overpay, as it is that none underpay his proper tax liability. Persons who under pay will be fined not exceeding $1,000 and imprisoned for not more than one year, while those who over pay will automatically suffer for their carelessness by paying more than was required of them.

The inspector is expected to advise all persons of their rights under the law and many Manchester people have found after talking their cases over that they were entitled to considerations that they had not figured on. Abatements and refundments are frowned upon by the government, and while it will not be impossible to get money back which was paid in excess of proper liability, persons should realize that such processes are slow and complicated and it is seldom that the money refunded or rebated repays for the trouble of getting it back.

Inspector Hellyar is hoping to get Manchester over the top on the income tax as in all other national activities and he considers that the best way to do this is to observe the following:

Learn what is expected of you, either through reading the law or through inquiries of an income tax officer or other informed persons.

Report on the blanks that will be furnished you clearly and in accordance with instructions on the blank itself.

Send in your blank as early as you can thus helping your government in collecting the tax.

Keep a record of what you report and memoranda as to how you arrived at your figures.

Remit check, money order or cash with your report, if possible, pinning envelope containing it to the last page of the blank.

If an income tax officer is in town when you make your report and pay, do your business with him.

Be sure you get all the

SOLDIERS' INSURANCE.

The local war bureau received from Washington yesterday a new ruling relative to the soldiers' privilege of increasing the amounts of their insurance. At the recent meeting in high school hall, it was announced that the amounts first applied for could not be increased at a later date. The new ruling gives the men of early enlistment up to February 12 to increase their insurance, if they so desire, and all the men have 120 days from the date of their enlistment to make such a change.
