CENTRALIZE GOVERNMENT'S WAR WORK, URGES U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE; WAR PREPARATIONS OTHERWISE THREATENED WITH UTTER FAILURE

Washington, Jan. 16.—The first serious protest against "those methods" characterizing features of the war preparations made its appearance today. It comes from the United States Chamber of Commerce and specifically points out that the newest plans announced by the government are tending to decentralize war efforts.

An adequate central control is demanded, and the board of directors of the chamber make it very plain that they intend to carry their protest to Congress. Strong emphasis is put on the seriousness of the situation, and it is pointed out that the fate of the war may depend on concerted action by all government departments.

The report to the chamber, which was unanimously approved, was prepared after an investigation lasting since last June, by a committee made up of Wadill Catchings, chairman, President of the Sloss-Sheffield Iron Steel Company; John H. Fahey, Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company; Lewis A. Pierson, chairman of the board of the Irving National Bank; and Harry A. Wheeler, vice-president of the Union Trust Company.

Centralize Responsibility.
"Failure of the Nation to be guided by the fundamental principle that centralized responsibility, and control is needed for the success of any enterprise," says the statement, "will bring about unintentional interference with vitally important programs such as that in connection with shipbuilding; there will be production beyond our capacity of consumption; the government's war-time industrial program will be hampered; the result will be a national disaster."

needed new facilities; collateral programs, such as the housing of employees, will be neglected; distribution of essential materials, such as coal, will not be where most needed in connection with the war; vast quantities of material and labor will be used in unnecessary activities; and in general there will be the atmosphere of confusion which comes from inability to secure prompt decision.

Lack of Harmony Not New.
The report reviews the various steps taken in its investigation and shows that at all times there has been opposition to concerted action in certain government departments. Appointment of the War Industries board is declared to have been a much needed step in the right direction, but that body is powerless.

After referring to the demands of capital and industry generally to have authority centralized; to the naming of the war council, and to the taking over the railroads the report continues:
"No statutory authority has been asked for the War Industries board nor has the Council of National Defense been given by statute authority power to do more than investigate and report. The numerous scattered and independent activities in connection with the procurement of war supplies and material have not been brought under one control, nor has any agency been constituted and made responsible for directing the government's war-time industrial activities."

"Your committee believes that the failure to be guided by the fundamental principle that centralized responsibility and control is needed for the success of any enterprise, will bring about unintentional interference with vitally important programs such as that in connection with shipbuilding; there will be production beyond our capacity of consumption; the government's war-time industrial program will be hampered; the result will be a national disaster."

SEC. DANIELS COMMENTS TWO OF ALCEDO CREW

P. J. Quinn, Coxswain, and W. J. Bellatty, First Class Yeoman on Submarine Victim.

Washington, Jan. 16.—For heroism displayed at the time the U. S. S. Alcedo was sunk by a German submarine on November 5, Patrick A. Quinn, Coxswain; William J. Bellatty, yeoman of the first class, and George A. Collier, fireman second class, have been commended by Secretary Daniels, the Navy department announced today.

Quinn rescued Ensign William F. Harrison, who lay unconscious on a skylight of the sinking ship, and Bellatty saved Richard W. Rudolph, pharmacist's mate, from drowning. Bellatty also saved the muster roll and other valuable papers. When the torpedo exploded, Collier stopped the main engine and raised the safety valve on the main boiler, although the water in the engine room at that time was nearly to his waist.

MACK TO HEAD

BOSTON RED SOX?

New York, Jan. 16.—A persistent rumor that Connie Mack will soon become manager of the Boston Red Sox gained strength in baseball circles here today. It is said that Jack Barry will be unable to leave the service and that President Frazee of the Boston club is angling for the veteran Athletic's manager. Though Frazee is said to have denied the report, baseball men here consider it quite possible in the face of many unexpected deals that have been made during the winter.

FUNSTON CAMP BANK

MONEY FOUND?

Camp Funston, Kas., Jan. 16.—Reports were current here today that money stolen from the army bank on Friday night by Captain Whisler was found in Whisler's quarters this morning on a secret shelf. Captain Whisler is reported to have taken $25,000.

URGES BAY STATE LEGISLATURE TO BUY B. & M. R. R. SYSTEM

Attorney General of Massachusetts Says That It Only Way to Protect Unpaid Interest of $225,000 on $5,000,000 Bonds Owned and Resume Freight Rate Discrimination Favoring New York City Over Boston.

Boston, Jan. 18.—Attorney General Henry C. Atwill today advised the state of Massachusetts to get ready to buy and operate the Boston & Maine railroad system.

Such a step may become imperatively necessary for the state to protect the $5,000,000 of Boston & Maine bonds that it holds and the $225,000 of unpaid interest that is due. Mr. Atwill declared in his annual report to the legislature today.

Attorney General Atwill declared that public ownership of the Boston & Maine would remove the freight rate discrimination that now exists in favor of New York and that it would develop the port of Boston. The Attorney General declared that a permanent receivership for the Boston & Maine seems inevitable. In that event the state ought to go in and bid on the property at the price realized will be sufficient to guarantee the state a complete return on its unsecured $5,000,000 of Boston & Maine bonds, Mr. Atwill said.

Mr. Atwill also declared that if any relief is to be given the street railways it should be by a reduction in taxes rather than by an increase in fares. He declared that the state should have representatives upon the boards of directors and that all profits in excess of a reasonable amount should be turned into the state treasury.

SECURITY POLICE HUNTING FOR ESTHER STRICKLAND

No Word from Pretty Girl
Who was Carried Away
Monday
AS TO ABDUCTOR

Italian Rovioli Was Employed by Victim's Father—Middletown and Hartford Help in Search.

Portland, Conn., Jan. 16.—No trace up to this forenoon had been found of Esther, 17 years old daughter of Frederick G. Strickland, who disappeared on Monday afternoon and who is believed to have been spirited away by Sylvester Rovioli, an Italian employee in the felspar quarry owned by Mr. Strickland. The quarry is not far from the Strickland home in the Rose Hill district.

Police of Middletown, Hartford and other cities in the state are on the lookout for Rovioli's Ford touring car, carrying a Connecticut license number 15,079, in which he drove away with Miss Strickland. Girl Not Heard From.

Miss Strickland was one of the prettiest girls in the local high school, and, with other girl companions, boarded Rovioli's car in town to go to her home. Rovioli, who had been employed for two years by Mr. Strickland, was unmarried and owned the Ford car. He had been in the habit of taking the girls in the neighborhood from the high school to their homes, about two miles from town. After leaving the other girls at their homes Monday he rode away in the direction of Glastonbury and Hartford with Miss Strickland. Neither has been seen since.

The Strickland family are confident that Rovioli took the girl away forcibly and turned her over to a gang of "white slaves." Mr. and Mrs. Strickland are frantic with anxiety for the safety of their daughter.

EVERYTHING READY FOR WAR CONVENTION

Meeting in Capitol Thursday and Friday Representative of Whole State

BEEKMAN CAN'T COME

R. I. Governor Informs Committee Today—Messrs. Cheney, Landers, Russell and Deville to Speak.

Hartford, Jan. 16.—"In order that they may hear reports of the work already done, and take account together as to future procedure," so runs the message issued by Governor Holcomb, under chapter 44 of the Public Acts, 1917, for the meeting in this city tomorrow and Friday of a big war convention of appointed delegates from all the 168 towns in Connecticut.

The governor stated that although the anniversary of the entry of the United States into the war was not yet past, "we are but launched on a great undertaking which will become the duty of Connecticut to perform, in furnishing men, arms and money for the war and for the prosecution. In my opinion," said the governor, "it will be well for us, at this time, to confer and plan and means." The convention will open promptly at six o'clock tomorrow forenoon in the House of Representatives State Capitol, and thereafter will move from all the various war activities, including the time of the convention, over to the State Armory, and to, instruction in the armory.

PAPERS TO EXTRADITE MRS. AINSWORTH SIGNED

Governor Holcomb Authorizes Bay State Police Captain to Take Her from Madison.

Hartford, Jan. 16.—Governor Holcomb today signed extradition papers authorizing a captain of the Massachusetts State police to take Mrs. Jennie May Eaton Ainsworth, held at Madison, N. H., county, Mass., where she is wanted for abandoning her insane daughter's illegitimate month-old baby in Brookline.

Mrs. Ainsworth, who was tried in 1913 for the alleged poisoning of her former husband, Rear Admiral Joseph Giles Eaton, U. S. N., admits abandoning the baby, who died, but expresses no regret, because she says she did it to save her insane daughter, June, from disgrace.

June is the wife of Ralph P. Keyes, a Dorchester, Mass., bank clerk, who has sued for divorce, claiming that the infant was not his daughter. Keyes says he has not lived with his wife during the past year and during that time she was in the Taunton, Mass., insane asylum.

TO TAKE WOMAN HOME.

Madison, Jan. 16.—Captain William H. Proctor, a Massachusetts police officer, armed with a warrant and extradition for Mrs. Jennie May Eaton Ainsworth, was expected to arrive here today to take Mrs. Ainsworth to Massachusetts to face trial for abandonment of Woodrow Wilson Keyes, the son born last August to her insane daughter, June Keyes.

Officer Proctor this forenoon visited the office of Governor Marcus H. Holcomb in Hartford and secured his signature to the extradition papers signed by Governor McCall of Massachusetts.

Keeper for Crazy Daughter.
Arrangements were made today by the town to provide a keeper for the insane daughter, June Keyes, who is confined in a barred room in the second story of the little home, Eleanor, the little daughter of June Keyes, who was, for some time a member of the household of Mrs. Ainsworth, has been taken in charge by a neighboring family. If Mrs. Ainsworth is able to secure bail following her arraignment in Massachusetts she will return to take charge of her daughter, June. If not, however, the daughter will be committed to an insane retreat by the town authorities.

LOWLY SPUD IS GIVEN NICHE IN HALL OF FAME.

New York, Jan. 16.—And now the lowly "spud" is to find itself exalted to the Hall of Fame. Along with the other immortals, such as pork, wheat, beef and sugar, the Food Administration has decreed that the eternal green scotchbean shall repose on the same shelf.
Meatless Tuesdays, wheatless Wednesdays, lightless nights, fireless cookers and heatless radiators must make way for the Irish potato. A day is to be set apart in each week when citizens will be expected to buy and eat an increased amount of potatoes.
The campaign in the name of that is force in England, where the scarcity of potatoes has necessitated a "potatoes day" and the people are urged to substitute other vegetables.

TWO CAILLAUX TELEGRAMS FROM COUNT BERNSTORFF MADE PUBLIC

BILL MAKES HALF MILLION 21-YEAR OLDS DRAFTABLE

Washington, Jan. 16.—The Senate military affairs committee has suspended its investigation into the program of army legislation prepared by the War department, as well as the Chamberlain bill to establish a department of munitions. Among the most important of the war development measures are the resolution to make all young men who have attained the age of 21 since registration day—June 5—eligible to the draft and the bill authorizing the change of draft basis. Under the former measure, the nation's fighting strength can be increased by 500,000 men. Under the latter, much of the dissatisfaction over unequal quotas apportioned to the various states will be eliminated.

The committee still has several phases of army affairs to investigate, but it is determined to make use of information obtained up to the present time as an argument for the legislation most pressing needed. It is expected that many of the measures will be laid before the Senate with a recommendation of early passage within the next few days.

Three New Measures.
Meanwhile the Senate commerce committee, proffering by the information it obtained in its shipping investigation, prepared three important measures to strengthen the shipbuilding administration. One of the acts would empower the Shipping board to take over transportation necessary to carry workmen to ship $50,000,000 to meet the expenses of building centers. Another provides requisitioning houses to shelter workmen in such centers. The third authorizes the president to declare military zones about shipyards to prevent any interference with the carrying out of the shipping program.

Compulsory Food Saving.
The Administration prepared to throw its whole-hearted support to the Pomerene-Lever bill, prepared by the Food Administration, to carry compulsory food conservation into every home. Stubborn fighting, rivalling that over the first food control bill passed last summer, was promised over the measure because of its ultra-revolutionary character. The bill, however, is receiving strong backing from the element in Congress which believes that halfway measures will not longer suffice to guarantee America an adequate food supply.

The period of investigation on the railroad situation also neared an end today, and indications were that the re-drafting of the bill to carry out the ideas of the committees having it in charge would begin at an early date.

STATE DEPT. DATA CLINCHING

Wires, Sent on Feb. 4, 1915,
to German Foreign Office Show Former Premier was as Bitter Against French Government Then as Now
—Statement by German
Office Also Given Out

Washington, Jan. 16.—Two telegrams dealing directly with former Premier Caillaux and sent by former Ambassador Count von Bernstorff to the German government were made public by the State department today. It was as a result of these telegrams, copies of which were furnished the French government by Secretary of State Lansing, that the arrest of the French former premier took place a day or so ago.

The two telegrams were sent by Bernstorff to the German foreign office on February 4, 1915. Their tone indicates that Caillaux was bitterly opposed to the French government, and in the first of them Bernstorff declares that he, (Caillaux), "speaks contemptuously of the French government."

Bernstorff also assures the German government in this telegram that Caillaux "sees through the policy of England perfectly," and also that he sees in the war now the struggle of England for existence. Statement Also Given Out.
The department, in addition to the telegrams also made public a statement by the German foreign office on June 6, 1916. This latter statement is most significant inasmuch as it apparently was designed for the protection of Caillaux from German newspaper criticism. It says: "For political reasons it is urgently requested that nothing be written about the French former prime minister Caillaux, and that his name be not mentioned under any circumstances."

The statement, as made public by the State department today, is as follows:
"The Department of State communicates to the press the following telegrams sent by Count von Bernstorff to his government on February 4, 1915:
"England Struggling for Existence."
"No. 178. Buenos Ayres telegrams the following: No. 12. Caillaux has left Buenos Ayres after a short stay and is going direct to France evidently on account of the (group undecipherable), scandal which he regards as a personal attack upon himself. He speaks contemptuously of the President and the rest of the French government with the exception of Briand. He sees through the policy of England perfectly. He does not anticipate the complete overthrow of France. He sees in the war now a struggle for existence on the part of England. Although he spoke much of the 'indiscipline and clumsy policy' of the Wilhelmstrasse and professed to believe in German atrocities, he has in essentials hardly changed his political orientation. Caillaux welcomed indirect overtures from me, but emphasized the extreme caution which he is obliged to show as the French government he said, had him watched even here. He warns us against the excessive praise bestowed upon him by our papers, especially the Neue Freie Presse, and desired on the other hand that Mediterranean and Morocco agreements should be adversely criticized. Our praise injures his position in France. Caillaux's reception here was cool. His report about Briand had nothing new. On his return"

SUPPOSED BOMB FOUND NEAR U. S. BATTLESHIP

"This is a 25 Second Explosion Bomb" Words Written
On It
DRY DOCK MENACED

Object Turned Over to Agents of Department of Justice, Which Starts Investigation.

An Atlantic Port, Jan. 16.—A supposed bomb was found today in a dry dock at a United States naval station in which one of the largest United States battleships was docked.

The supposed bomb was about six inches long and shaped like a telephone receiver. A fuse was attached to it. Written on the side in German were the words:
"This is a 25 second explosion bomb."

It was found by one of the crew on one of the top steps of the stairway leading down to the bottom of the drydock.

The supposed bomb was at once turned over to the Department of Justice and agents started a thorough investigation. From its position in the drydock the supposed bomb was immediately opposite the side of a monster warship.

HALF MILLION LOSS IN BROOKLYN FIRE

New York, Jan. 16.—More than half a million dollars damage has been done by a fire which is sweeping the Robinson warehouse at the foot of Congress street, Brooklyn. The building was filled with food supplies awaiting shipment to France by the government.

FORMER STAR ATHLETE KILLED.

Littleton, Colo., Jan. 16.—William H. Caley, lawyer and well-known in state politics was killed in a mine accident at Santa Fe, Colo., according to word received here today. Caley was formerly prominent in athletics at the University of Colorado and star football player at the University of Michigan.

BACKACHE IS DISCOURAGING

But Not So Bad If You Know How to Reach the Cause.

Nothing more discouraging than a constant backache. Lame when you awaken, pains pierce you when you bend or lift. It's hard to work or to rest. Backache often indicates bad kidney and calls for prompt treatment. The best recommended remedy is Doan's Kidney Pills. Profit by this South Manchester resident's experience:

Wm. J. Herron, painter, 61 Hamlin St., says: "Some years ago I had an attack of kidney trouble. The doctor said it came from inhaling turpentine fumes. My kidneys were disordered and the constant, sharp pains in my back were troublesome. One box of Doan's Kidney Pills cured the attack. At times now when my kidneys start to give me trouble I use Doan's and a few doses give me relief."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Herron had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

BRITISHERS WORRIED.

Almost Every Manchester Man is Eligible for War.

Local Britishers are planning to bid their families and friends good bye and hot foot it for the nearest British Canadian Recruiting station. The majority of the eligibles think that they have no claim for exemption. They feel that if Great Britain is out for 500,000 men in this country that few men will be able to get by the foreign draft. They prefer to enlist than to be drafted into service and the enlistment stations should do a good business from now on.

There are 433 eligibles in town and a card index of every man has been compiled. The War Bureau has been overworked by Britishers who were anxious to find out if their names were in the index. The index is not at the War Bureau and these men cannot find out whether they are eligible or not until the members of the recruiting mission strike town. Every Britisher married or single between the ages of 18 and 45 may count himself among the eligibles.

C. OF C. MEETING.

Income Tax and Fuel Situation to Be Discussed.

The January meeting of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Recreation building next Monday evening, January 21 at eight o'clock. At this meeting several very interesting matters are to come up for discussion, among them being the income tax that is just now the subject of much talk.

President Arthur E. Bowers has invited Edwin P. Hellyar, the income tax inspector, to address the meeting and he has promised to be present and to give the meeting all the information necessary on this subject. At the close of his talk he will answer all questions put to him in relation to the income tax.

Among the other live subjects to come up for discussion will be the fuel situation, thrift stamps and home gardens for 1918. These subjects will be brought to the front by the men of the committees having them in charge. The meeting ought to be well attended.

The coming McKinley dinner at Waterbury promises to be interesting in many ways. Not a few of the upstate politicians are wondering whether John T. King will be on hand and how he will be greeted by the big leaders from other countries.—Bridgeport Post.

NEW GIRLS' LEAGUE.

Another College Bowling Organization Formed in Town.

A second bowling league has been organized for the women at the Recreation Center. Like the first, it will be a college league, college names having been chosen for the teams. The second league, however, has made its organization an entirely feminine affair, choosing the names of girls' colleges. This new league will alternate with the first in bowling on Monday evenings and will open its season next Monday evening, January 21.

The teams and lineups follow:

Smith—
Edna Crockett.
Mildred Russell.
Helen Gould.
Margaret Paterson.
Wellesley—
Laura Mathiason.
Sylvia Sankey.
Catherine McCarthy.
Margheretta A. Scott.
Mt. Holyoke—

ALFRED H. PARSONS.

Word has been received in town of the death of Alfred H. Parsons of Bay Ridge, Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Parsons was 65 years old and was well known by many Manchester people, having been married to a daughter of the late Samuel Treat, who lived in the brick house now located in the rear of the Johnson block on Main street.

He was born in England and came to this country sixty years ago. He was well known in Bay Ridge and South Brooklyn, and was also prominent in the hat business. In 1913, when Mr. Parsons was living at Long Beach, L. I., and owned extensive property there, including a confectionery business, he was appointed a police magistrate by the board of trustees of the town. He was the first magistrate for the village. At the time of his death Mr. Parsons was president of the Parsons Brothers Hat Company and several other hat companies. He is survived by his widow, Susan A.; five sons, Clinton, Herbert, Alfred Jr., Robert and Harold, and a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Bene.

Thirteen states formed the Union; thirteen states, honest with themselves and the foundation, could save it from the menace of Federal encroachment by constitutional amendment on state prerogatives.—New York World.

AT THE PARK.

"Better Than 'A Daughter of the Gods.'" That is the verdict of the New York critics on "Sirens of the Sea" which will be shown tonight at the Popular Playhouse. This picture beautiful cost $500,000 to film and there are over 1,000 persons, mostly girls, in the cast. It took six months to complete this picture and all of the scenes were taken on an island in the south Pacific ocean.

The story concerns a baby girl washed on the shore of a strange island in the Pacific, following a terrific storm. She is discovered by Haji, an old beach comber, and his wife, wealthy Americans residing, for diplomatic reasons, on the island. Grown to beautiful girlhood, she is placed by her foster-parents in the fashionable seminary for girls located on the island and attended by students from the States. The girls soon seaweed and ukeleles in a particularly festive party on the beach one day, and they are sighted, by Gerald Waldron, wealthy young American, cruising in foreign waters to escape ennui, accompanied by his friend Hardy Royce. Believing the maidens to have escaped from some enchanted land, the young men steer their launch in their midst as they swim out to them.

A strong attachment follows between Sybil, the island girl and Gerald. Royce too, is deeply interested in the young woman, which adds to the discomfort of Julie, a beautiful and unscrupulous young student from Texas. She tells Gerald on Sybil's eighteenth birthday, after she has gone to seek the services of Haji, to tell the fortunes of her guests, that a mystery surrounds the birth of Sybil. Sybil has been followed by Hardy and when she repulses his advances, she jumps over a cliff into the ocean. Then—but come around early tonight and you will see what happens.

"The Life of Thomas Edison" did not appear last evening because of a mix-up on the railroad. The film was shipped but never reached Manchester.

On Thursday evening Mr. Sullivan will give away two tickets to a share of the week's profits.

AT THE CIRCLE.

Just think down in Arizona there are people who have never had a chance to see a moving picture show. And just think again the excellent picture shows that the Cozy Circle Theatre is presenting to the public of Manchester each week. If the people in Arizona had the opportunity to see such extraordinary pictures don't you think that they would brave slippery sidewalks and bad weather to enjoy The Circle shows. You bet they would.

Supposing they could see a sprightly little star like Madge Kennedy or a cracker jack comedian like Vic Moore or a Paramount Pictograph with all the interesting subjects and the comical Bray cartoons. The Circle is entertaining two thirds of the public of the City of Manchester and sending them home with that glad you came feeling and the management intends to make this a banner year in the annals of photo plays with such attractions as "The Bar Sinister" Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Wm. Hart, Clara Kimble, Du Barry, The Barrier, The Lone Wolf, Cleopatra; in fact all the big ones worth seeing and you will be able to see them at a five and let five price, 15 cents. Thursday the Circle Theatre will present the only Jap, Sessue Hayakawa in his great success, "The Call of the East." The comedy attraction specially engaged for this day will be Mack Sennett's "Mill Fed Vamp." It is just as good as "Roaring Lions and Wedding Bells" and perhaps a wee mite better. On Friday only Jack Pickford will appear in "The Varmint." Saturday will be Blue Ribbon Vitagraph Day. On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week the extraordinary out of the ordinary picture production, "The Bar Sinister" will be shown. Never in the history of pictures has any photo production been presented to equal this wonderful picture. Don't fail to arrange your engagements so you won't let this one slip by. It's Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

COMMUTERS COMPLAINING

Commuters between this town and Hartford were further antagonized last night when the South Manchester and Rockville cars were stopped from running "express to Burnside" and were run for the accommodation of the Burnside people. The Burnside "trippers" were taken off yesterday because of the lack of help to run them. As a result the local cars had to carry Burnside passengers. This made the cars on the South Manchester and Rockville overcrowded and brought the commuters to town later than ever. This, according to the commuters, makes conditions worse and they have been crying for an improvement in the service.

MARKET LIVERS UP, BUYING MORE ACTIVE

Steels, Coppers, Marines, Some Rails and Liberty Bonds Features on Exchange—Quotations.

New York, Jan. 16.—There was a strong tone to the stock market at the opening today, with prices during the initial trading showing upturns from fractions to more than one point.

Steel Common rose one point to 91 and Crucible Steel scored an equal advance to 56 1/2. Bethlehem Steel rose 1/2 to 74 1/2.

Marine Preferred, after selling ex-three per cent dividend, advanced to 89 1/2, an upturn of 1 1/2. Atlantic Gulf rose one point to 39 and Marine Common 1/2 to 22 1/2.

Union Pacific made an opening advance of one point to 112, and fractional gains were scored in Reading and New York Central.

Mexican Petroleum was active, advancing 2 1/2 to 85 1/2, while General Motors acted contrary to the general run of the market and fell two points to 110.

Copper shares were strong, American Smelting advancing one point to 80 and Anaconda 1/2 to 61 1/2.

Liberty 4 1/2 rose to 96.20, while the 3 1/2's sold at 98.52.

The most important feature of the forenoon trading was the continued scant supply of stocks even at the higher prices which had been established in the initial dealings.

Marine Preferred continued active ranging around 90. Mexican Petroleum moved up three points to 86 3/8 and American Smelting rose one point to 80 1/4.

The Liberty 4 1/2's sold down to a new low record of 96.12.

British And U. S. Labor Alike For No Annexation

Washington, Jan. 16.—Organized labor in the United States endorses to a very complete extent British labor's renunciation of all idea of annexations. The attention of British labor was called to sections of the message of greeting cabled by President Samuel Gompers to W. A. Appleton, secretary of the British Federation of Labor Unions.

"The people of Germany must establish democracy within their own domain and make opportunity for international relations that life may be secure and that the people of all countries may live their own lives and seek out their own salvation; and unless this has been accomplished by the German people themselves the allied democracies in this struggle must crush militarism and autocracy and bring a new freedom to the whole world, the people of Germany included. Until these essentials are accomplished an international labor conference with the representatives of the workers of all countries included, is prejudicial to a lasting peace."

With military domination in Germany certain, carrying with it severe repressive measures against all liberals, especially the labor leaders who have advocated persistently and consistently a peace without annexations or indemnities, the British labor policy was announced at this time equally for the effect it will have in Russia and Germany. It is not expected that it will be published in Germany or even referred to there.

But it is certain to be printed very fully in Sweden, where the labor movement is very strong, and in all of the neutral countries adjacent to Germany. And the effect will be felt as the military strangle hold on German liberalism is lightened.

RESTAURANTS AND WHEAT.

More than eight hundred replies have come in already, to the State food administration's offices, from hotels, clubs and restaurants, in answer to a questionnaire regarding the use of wheat. That is, half of the sixteen hundred concerns written to have responded.

Bridgeport has sent back 150 replies, Hartford 125 and New Haven about 100.

The encouraging feature of the answers is that not one protests or shows any unwillingness to comply with the "meatless Tuesdays," "wheatless Wednesdays," and "porkless Saturdays."

The various eating places have not saved as much white flour as it was hoped they would, but this has been due largely to the fact that corn flour has been held up en route. A much better showing is expected soon.

MR. PERKINS AT WESLEYAN.

The message which George W. Perkins, the chairman of the board of directors of the International Harvester corporation and former chairman of the Progressive national committee, brought to Wesleyan on Monday night must have been a little astonishing to the undergraduates who were not familiar with the latest Mr. Perkins. But the evolution of the man for many years has been in the direction of a more thorough-going democracy.

Individualism is dead in this country, or at least dying; that was the chief burden of the speaker's address. He might well have said that state's rights, the cardinal principle of the Democratic party, was dead because it represented merely a larger type of individualism. The freedom of the business man to do as he pleases is being seriously challenged, said Mr. Perkins.

Service to the public is the keynote of the future, he declared. "A reconstruction period is at hand that is international in its scope. We must let the dead past bury its dead, and not look backward, but forward."

"A fair percentage of the profits to capital, and a fair percentage to labor" was the kind of profit-sharing that was demanded now. "This can only be brought about when the corporation makes public its business. Open books will accomplish much more than open shops."

The address was delivered under the George Slocum Bennett foundation.

BOLO PASHA, ADVENTURER.

The full story of the career of Bolo Pasha, international intriguer for Germany, may never be known, but many chapters of the story appeared yesterday that told as extraordinary a tale of an adventurer's doings, as one would want to read. They covered a meteoric rise to fortune from nothing in Costa Rica.

For the man who partly carried out wholesale attempts at bribing the French press, was no novice in ways that are dark and mysterious. A master of the "glad hand," smooth-looking and smoothly groomed always, with an air of confidence about him that seems to have hypnotized those with whom he came into contact, Bolo Pasha easily persuaded Costa Ricans that he was the representative of the large French commercial houses which he claimed to be and obtained unlimited credit.

He bought one store after another, built up the business and then sold it at a handsome profit. With this money he bought a fine farm in the suburbs of Cartago—this was in 1896—and furnished it in a princely way. As a matter of fact he didn't really buy the farm, but only made a deposit upon it, but that wasn't found out until afterward.

Then followed the highest kind of high living, while Bolo entertained, mostly on credit, friends of both sexes.

He retained the confidence of his creditors up to the very last, and no interference was made, when he informed them that he had to go to France on a business trip. His estate remained behind, and doubtless seemed ample security. When, however, er, they seized upon it, they found out the disagreeable truth that the original owner still had good title to it.

He didn't go to France, but left on a south-bound steamer at Colon, Panama, to appear later as an adventurer on a larger scale.

SAFEGUARDING THE PRESS.

The power which the government already possesses and has exercised through the post office department, over the press of the country, would be enhanced many times if the control of distribution of print paper passed into its hands. A free press would, in fact, be a thing of the past. Such control might result in a fairer distribution and in fairer prices for the paper, but the power over public opinion which it would mean would vitiate any other advantage.

The Senate voted down last night the resolution of Senator Smith of Arizona by the narrow margin of 36 to 32, but he announced he would continue his efforts to have the government take over the print paper industry.

Senator Jones of Washington offered an amendment, limiting newspapers to sixteen pages, the change to take effect thirty days from the approval of the resolution, and that was turned down by a vote of 53 to 4.

Such a resolution as this is beneath the dignity of the Senate, which is supposed to be above the legislative tinkering that has so often made the House, or at least many a representative in the House, a laughing-stock among the intelligent.

There are evils enough in the publishing business, and publishers themselves aren't the last to realize the fact. Newspapers, however prosperous, only too often appear to have no settled principles, when their particular pocket-books are endangered. The truth is suppressed, the government and various individuals attacked, popular causes left to languish, and the news and advertising columns not kept clean.

But Germany itself hasn't ventured to assume wholesale control in such fashion of the press.

The government may, however, properly safeguard the forests which are vanishing before the publisher's scythe only too rapidly. So far as the United States is concerned, such a move would come rather late, but Canada still can act in time to save its timber.

The Hartford Courant is still declaiming about the narrow-mindedness of the prohibition advocates. Why, neighbor, you're about ten years behind the times. Prohibition has spread fast in spite of the lack of tolerance of its advocates, because of the common sense for which it stands, including wheat-saving, man-saving and so forth. This is 1918, friend.

Perhaps the run on sugar made by the public in the last few months also has been due to some clever work by pro-Germans, pro-Germans "higher-up."

THIS GERMAN WOULD STARVE KAISER TO DEATH

Baltimore, Jan. 16.—Peter Becht, 55 years old and married, is one German who has no love for the Kaiser.

"I served in the German army three years," said Becht today. "I would not kill the Kaiser, I would put him in a cage and starve him to death as he is causing Germany to be starved now."

Becht displayed two broken thumbs as evidence that he has no love for Hohenzollernism. He said the Kaiser struck him with a sword while reviewing German cavalry, because evidently did not like the way he, (Becht), held his thumbs on the reins.

Becht told his story at a local registration station, when he showed first naturalization papers to clear himself of classification as an enemy alien.

WELLING WANTS TO MEET LEONARD

New York, Jan. 16.—Joe Welling, Chicago lightweight, is today pressing his claims for a bout with Benny Leonard, following his one-sided victory over Shamus O'Brien in ten rounds last night. Welling was an easy winner and simply toyed with his opponent in a ten-round out.

TRIES TO KILL LENIN BOLSHIEV "PREMIER."

Amsterdam, Jan. 16.—The attempted assassination of Premier Lenin of Russia was reported in a dispatch received here today from Petrograd. The would-be assassin fired four shots at the Bolsheviki leader, but all went wide of their mark. No other details were given.

Advices received here yesterday from Stockholm said Lenin was at a sanitarium in Finland.

CO. G SMOKE FUND.

Nearing $200 Mark—Pictures of Co. G at Park Benefit.

Previously acknowledged	174.00
Louis S. Carter	3.00
Edward F. McCarthy	1.50

The Company G Smoke Fund is rapidly approaching the $200 mark and it is expected that after Friday night, which will be Company G Night at the Park Theater, the total amount received will be well over the $200, which is a very good showing for the Fund which will be just two weeks old on that date.

A crowded house is expected for Friday night at the Park Theater and arrangements have been made by John F. Sullivan to put on a program that will set a mark for all others to shoot at.

PICTURES OF CO. G.

Chief among the pictures to be shown, and especially one that should appeal to every wife, parent, brother or sister or sweetheart of any of our Manchester boys now in France, will be the last pictures ever taken of Company G, on American soil.

The pictures now every member of Company G that left town last spring, the Company G that the smoke fund was started for originally, and many close-up views of the officers are shown.

Included in this film are views of what was formerly old Troop B, now Company B of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion. There are a number of Manchester boys in this troop, now in France and the picture shows them also, before they left for over there.

THE BLACK WATCH.

The famous Black Watch, the remnants of which came to Hartford last fall on a recruiting mission will be shown. It will be remembered that the Black Watch was a part of England's "Contemptible little army" as the Huns were pleased to style the first British expeditionary force landed in France in 1914.

Of the 400 officers that went over with the "Contemptibles" only 12 survived the retreat from Mons. Of the 12,000 men, only 2,334 were left.

The men from the Black Watch, shown in this picture went through the retreat from Mons, and are veterans in every sense of the word.

DESTRUCTION SURVIVOR IN OCEAN, BUT STILL JESTS

New York, Jan. 16.—This one was brought here by a survivor of the destroyer Jacob Jones, sunk by a German submarine.

The destroyer had gone down and one of the seamen was battling the waves. Looking up he spied his commander, Lieutenant Commander Worth Bagley. Spitting out a mouthful of salt water he grinned and called out:

"Say Cap'n, where do we go from here?"

$10,500 STOLEN FROM CHICAGO EDISON CO.

Chicago, Jan. 16.—The Chicago police today are mystified by the theft of $10,500 stolen from a safe in a branch office of the Commonwealth Edison company. The money was in bills of large denomination.

John J. Houlihan, a book-keeper, who was one of the few persons said to have known the combination of the safe and declared to be the only one who carried a key to it, was taken to police headquarters and questioned but later was released.

GIANTS LINE-UP COMPLETE, SAYS MCGRAW

New York, Jan. 16.—Manager John McGraw, of the Giants, who today is on his way to Havana for a vacation, said before leaving New York that he has all of his players lined up for the coming season.

"The players are all satisfied," said McGraw, "and there will be no hold-outs. With Doyle back and Barnes added to the pitching staff I am satisfied that the New York club will be in the race from the start."

12-ROUND DRAW IS UNPOPULAR

Boston, Jan. 16.—Batling Levensky and Bill Brennan are unpopular with the boxing fans here today after their 12-round draw last night. There was very little fighting and the crowd voiced its disapproval.

BUY A FIG.

This Will Help Boys and Girls to get Thrift Stamps.

How are the boys and girls of Hartford County going to raise money to buy Thrift Stamps? Each boy or girl who has a place to keep a pig for a few months can earn a substantial sum by working fifteen minutes a day. Harold A. Brundage, County Club Leader said today that one corner in a tobacco barn, an old shed, or any other building in which a pen can be made would be suitable to keep a "porker." According to Mr. Brundage, this offers an opportunity to do a patriotic duty by increasing the pork supply and will help the boys or girls who are doing the work.

There are eighty pigs available to be distributed in Hartford County. The price of these pigs is $8 each and up, depending upon the age. To those who have no means of getting a pig to the farm, a small charge will be made for delivery.

For further information write or telephone Harold A. Brundage, County Club Leader, 450 Asylum street, Hartford. He is carrying on the work in co-operation with the Hartford County League and Farm Bureau.

TEN CENT STAMPS.

School Children Need Not Have 25 Cents to Start Saving Now.

Hartford, Jan. 16.—In order to expedite the sale of thrift stamps and war savings certificates among the school children of the state, the state director of the Connecticut war savings committee has ruled that postal savings stamps may be used for the purchase of thrift stamps.

The statement was made in some quarters that the sum of 25 cents was too large an amount to expect the smaller school children to accumulate at once. In order to overcome this difficulty the child can, at any post office, purchase one postal savings stamp for ten cents. This is attached to a U. S. postal savings card. Spaces for stamps are provided, and when the card is filled, with the addition of ten cents, secure four 25 cent thrift stamps attached to a thrift card.

$500,000 BY FEB. 1.

That is the Slogan of the State's War Savings Committee.

Hartford, Jan. 16.—"Five hundred thousand war savers in Connecticut before February 1" is the slogan which has been suggested at the office of the State Director of the Connecticut War Savings committee to indicate the mark at which this state aims in the war savings campaign, now in progress.

To assist in the plans of the state director many of the forces in the state which have made past campaigns successful have been enlisted, and already success is predicted. After the 500,000 mark is passed an attempt will be made to increase the number to at least 800,000 with the ultimate hope of enlisting a million savers. Assisting in the project are all the forces of the Connecticut State Council of Defense, women's organizations, schools, factories, fraternal societies, and other factors.

Connecticut's total allotment which this state is expected to raise by the sale of thrift stamps and war savings certificates by January 1, 1919, is $26,000,000, an average of almost $25 per capita. The task is a tremendous one, but those in charge predict success.

ODD ANT-EATER.

Washington, Jan. 16.—"Jimmy, the ant-eater," mascot of the U. S. Marines in France, just won't eat ants.

He'll eat anything but ants although once in a while the cook slips it over on him by camouflaging insects in scraps of bread. Of course Jimmy thinks he's eating raisin bread—but what's the difference.

Jimmy became attached to the Marines at Vera Cruz, more than two years ago, and since then has led an adventuresome life. When the sea-soldiers went overseas he went along.

He greatly puzzles the French polli with his choice of foods. He eats all the scraps—even cigar and cigarette butts don't go amiss. In short, he eats anything and everything but ants.

REV. W. H. BATH PREACHES SPLENDID SERMON AT SOUTH METHODIST CHURCH

PRAISE FOR MANCHESTER.

Rev. W. H. Bath of the South Methodist church preached a strong patriotic sermon Sunday morning, taking for his subject "Bible Patriots." So many favorable comments were heard about the sermon that Mr. Bath, on request, has prepared the following brief synopsis for publication in The Evening Herald.

Patriotism is instinctive. It is found in the most unexpected places. Love of country in frigid climes has often been commented upon. And the Ethiopian has a proverb that God made the sands and the desert of Africa, while only angels made the rest of the world. If any American loves not our flag, its colors betokening the nearness of divinity to our dust, the purity of our national ideals, the human cost to establish and maintain them, the reason is not far to seek. The undertaker's wagon has driven up to the door of that man's life and carried away his soul.

But patriotism is not national egotism. A true patriot in one land is in good repute in every other. Because he loves his own France, America opens wide its arms to receive Gen. Joffre. All the world loves a patriot. Like charity, patriotism begins at home but does not confine itself there. Real love of country grows up into love of humanity. Therefore America can wrest Cuba and the Philippines from the exploiting hand of the tyrant and set them up in housekeeping for themselves. And therefore America is willing at great cost to fight in a war for democracy and not ask one cent of indemnity or one foot of land in return.

There is a prophetic element in patriotism. Foretelling future events was not the chief function of the ancient prophets. They knew their times and spoke of living issues. They were essentially preachers of righteousness who summoned individual and nation to godly living. We need the voice of the prophet. Fuel is short. Will it be a mark of patriotism to close our churches and keep our saloons running? There is something hypocritical in those who contend for this. The church will close her doors if that be necessary for human welfare and the progress of the kingdom of God in the earth. The church is always a school of patriotism. But the church will resist any such move until those institutions that are maintained purely for commercial reasons, sometimes to the prostitution of the Lord's Day and good government and true patriotism, have first been required to close their doors. Two institutions this republic can never afford to let run on short time—the public school and the free church.

In this connection, some of the reports from England and France are not reassuring. German submarines and German bullets are not the most dangerous foes our boys must face. It is a much more serious thing to lose the soul than merely to lose the life. Dr. Joseph Fort Newton confesses his shame and humiliation at the conduct of our drunken soldiers in London. And those who are returning from the other side are telling how many of our boys who never knew the taste of intoxicants at home are falling into the evil habit in France. Cannot a government that protects its soldiers from vice and drink at home do the same abroad?

There is also a sacrificial element in true patriotism. It is more in evidence in America now than for many a day. A real change in the mood of America has been developing the past two years. Many a life that found its being's end and aim in mere pleasure is now giving its time and talent in service for the boys in camp and trench. At the same time there are those who are not at all conforming to the suggestions of the food administrator. If they are not traitors, they certainly are not patriots. The sentiment of Robert Burns might well express the purpose of every loyal American:

"I mind it well, in early date,
When I was beardless, young and blate,
And first could thresh the barn,
Ev'n then a wish (I mind its power)
A wish that to my latest hour
Shall strongly heave my breast,
That I for poor old Scotland's sake,
Some useful plan, or book could make,
Or sing a song at least."

"Don't throw rice—save food and help win the war." But it is a pity to abandon so time-honored a bridal custom merely because of a world conflict. Why not a substitute, warranted to contain no calories, of an artificial war-rice?—New York Evening Post.

Farm Bureau News Lauds Food Fair Recently Held and Reasons.

The current issue of The Farm Bureau News contains the following notice of the Manchester Food fair which should be of interest to those who made the affair so great a success:

Manchester's Food Fair.

Much credit for the success of the Food Fair in South Manchester is due to the very able committee of men and women who arranged the Fair which was held December 4, 5 and 6 in Cheney Hall, South Manchester. One of the first Community Fairs to be held in the interests of Food Conservation in Connecticut, it was noteworthy:

1. For the posters with their crisp, short phrases, effective in color and lettering, which caught the eye and lingered in the memory.

2. For the exhibits themselves which were definitely planned to put forward the One Big Idea of each exhibit, whether it was meat, sugar, fat or wheat conservation, or the best foods for children. Not shown, but they were all ready to be tasted, and the sceptic who doubted the palatability of a meat substitute, was converted in short order by a generous serving, and was also given a chance to copy the recipe for the dish he liked. The good housewives of South Manchester will have little difficulty in Hooverizing their families after the eloquent witness of the Food Fair to Food Conservation menus.

3. For the exhibits of home garden products, the hive of bees busily working to overcome the shortage of sugar, and the electric grist mill which ground grains "while you waited," some of the corn meal being used at a demonstration of "War Time Economics" presented on the first evening.

4. For the arrangements by which information upon Food Conservation was gotten over to large audiences through the talks and demonstrations by specialists, which were given at stated times during the afternoon and evening of each day in a large hall above the rooms where the exhibits were placed.

5. For the "follow-up" work which the Committee plans to do in the preparation of a cook-book containing recipes for all the dishes exhibited, as well as those recipes contributed by the Swedish, Polish, Italian, and Jewish housekeepers of South Manchester.

SUGGESTIONS FOR WOMEN UNTRAINED IN BUSINESS AND IN RELIEF WORK

Never before was the scope of vocational opportunity for women so wide, nor the chances for even untrained women to earn money so many and varied. The advice of authorities on women in industry, however, is to the effect that adequate training is essential for efficiency today, and the war has brought into existence many sources of instruction for women desirous of training for industry.

The type of woman, her mental and physical ability, will determine largely her wage-earning power. For the woman of fair education the various lines of clerical work offer a fruitful field. The United States Civil Service possibly presents the most favorable opportunity for this class as the service of female clerks for the Government is in demand. There is need in most of the large cities for intelligent women to fill clerical positions, taking the place of men who have gone to war.

Banks Use Women. Banks are opening their doors to women clerks, and offices and commercial houses require women in their filing divisions, for statistical work, the operation of tabulating machines, secretarial work, etc. The railroad offices throughout the country employ women as ticket agents, freight clerks and in other clerical positions formerly filled by men. In many cities the demand for telephone operators is larger than the supply.

On the Farms. For the woman in the country the farm offers an opportunity for service. Women in New York and New Jersey last summer demonstrated their ability to perform mutually profitable work in the market gardens, orchards and even in the grain fields. At the beginning of the season the farmers treated with scepticism feminine offers of service; but before its close the women had become a valuable agricultural asset in the farming sections of those states.

For the city woman whose physical ability is her chief resource in bread winning, the factories offer many positions, although again it is the trained woman who is most in demand. Many of the women throughout the country are employed in the lighter forms of labor, and they are in demand as car cleaners, in which latter service they have proven themselves highly satisfactory. The policeman is also appearing while occasionally a woman is to be seen driving a delivery wagon. Statistics from the city of Detroit show that within recent months the increase in woman service employed in factories and workshops is almost three times greater than that of men.

In reply to the question: "What can women do other than knitting, conserving food and giving voluntary service to the Red Cross?"

Four Minute Speakers. There is a large field of usefulness for the woman who wishes to serve her country, in Americanizing men, women and children of foreign birth in this country, and every large city yields women's relief committees which are in need of workers. Good volunteer war work can also be accomplished by arousing interest in the nation's war loans—its Liberty Bonds and its War Savings Certificates and Thrift Stamps. Any woman with a gift for public speaking may become a "Four Minute Speaker."

Civilian relief for families whose men have gone to war offers a large field for patriotic volunteer service. Financial aid may be provided, positions be found for women dependents and practical service may be rendered mothers who are compelled to work in the absence of their husbands. Child welfare work is a primary insurance of the country's welfare.

Nurse Crippled Men. The soldiers returning from battle will shortly offer an extensive field for relief work of patriotic American women. Thousands of crippled men must be reconstructed and re-educated. Volunteer lay workers can do much for the physical comfort of convalescents by giving massage, by helping the lame to walk, the deaf to hear and the blind to see, by reading, by entertaining and by performing other duties to help men who have given themselves to the nation's cause.

For the patriotic American woman who wishes to do other work than knitting, conserving food and working through the Red Cross, the following organizations and others of kindred nature will yield ample information for relief work. National Americanization Committee, 29 West Street; National League for Woman Service, 105 West 40th Street; National Security League, 31 Pine Street, and National Civic Federation, 105 West 40th Street, all of New York City; National Society D. A. R., Washington, D. C. and Special Aid Society for American reparations, 601 Boylston Street, Boston.

In every state in the Union may be found units of the Woman's Committee of the Council of National Defense. These organizations have information concerning every phase of the war work being done by women. Red Cross associations are in thirteen districts.

EVEN ANNEXATIONISTS IN GERMANY ARE SPLIT

One Party Avowedly, Another Indirectly for Territorial Addition

WAR VERSUS PEACE

Admiral von Tirpitz Says England and America are Pushing Peace Propaganda—Opposes Peace.

Amsterdam, Jan. 16.—Germany's internal crisis is far from being settled. Advices received here today show that a new split has developed over the Brest-Litovsk conference. The supreme military command and the government are at loggerheads over annexations. A dispatch quoting the Leipzig Volks Zeitung says: "Of course the controversy is not one between annexationists and non-annexationists, for both sides agree that annexations ought to be made. The struggle is how the annexations are to be attained. The supreme army command insists on the removal of the German frontiers to the eastward on the plea of the necessity of making them secure, while apparently the government would like to secure this object by a roundabout way, that is to say, by the creation of German vassal states.

"It is a controversy between adherents of avowed annexation on the one hand and of disguised annexation on the other." Hertling Delays Speech. Chancellor von Hertling will make his delayed speech to the Reichstag Main Committee in a few days, according to the Cologne Volks Zeitung. The paper states that it has not yet been decided just how far the Chancellor will go in replying to the speeches of President Wilson and Lloyd George on war aims. Admiral von Tirpitz, according to dispatches received here today, addressed a big meeting of the German Patriots' League in Berlin yesterday, urging against any peace move at this time. "We have arrived at the most critical period of the war, von Tirpitz is quoted as saying. "England and America have begun a concerted peace offensive. If we would conserve our world position we must not take a renunciatory peace because England is now ready to demand it. At this critical time we place our faith in the Kaiser, Hindenburg and Ludendorff."

THE STENOTYPE.

The Fastest Writing Machine in the World.

There will be a demonstration of the Stenotype a shorthand writing machine at the rooms of the Connecticut Business College in the Odd Fellows' building on Thursday evening, January 17, at 7 o'clock. Mr. Howard Heitman of New York City will take dictation and read back his notes. The notes of the stenotypes are so clear that the dictation can be read backward as easy as forward. This demonstration will be open to any interested person and a large number should take advantage of this opportunity to see one of the most up-to-date methods of taking notes from dictation.

The Connecticut Business College is conducting a day and evening school in the Odd Fellows' building. Regular courses are offered in shorthand and bookkeeping or those wishing to specialize in any one subject can do so. adv 9112

BALTIMORE SPY CENTER FOR U. S. PRO-GERMANS?

Fate of Walter Sporrman is up to Attorney General Gregory Now

WOMAN IN CASE FOUND

Miss May Stoop His Fiancee—She'll Renounce Him, if He's a Traitor, She Says.

Baltimore, Jan. 16.—The fate of Walter Sporrman, alleged German super-spy, rests today in the hands of Attorney General Gregory. Sporrman is in the city jail here. He will be held here until deputy United States Attorney Latane has collected all of the evidence, which appears to incriminate Sporrman as the leader of a band of German plotters against the United States. He will then report to Gregory, who will decide on what charge Sporrman will be tried.

The mysterious woman in the case is known today. She is Miss May Stoop, a pretty brunette, of 22 or 23 years, the fiancee of Sporrman. When she was located in the Raleigh Hotel in Washington by federal authorities, who have been working on the case, Miss Stoop said: "I suppose I am the mysterious woman referred to. I have been engaged to Walter for quite a while and I believe him to be innocent. If it is proven otherwise then, of course, I shall renounce him."

"On account of his being a German I was opposed to his being employed at the camps," Miss Stoop said. "I told him so several times while we were discussing stories in the newspapers about spies and plots, but he said he liked the employment. "I am an American girl through and through, first and last and all of the time. I would not do a thing against my country and I would never speak to him again if he was a spy."

Five other arrests are imminent today. Two of the men now held under surveillance are prominent citizens, but they are said not to be residents of Baltimore.

Spy Principals Scattered. Federal authorities claim that much of the evidence of a great spy ring in the United States is located in this city, but that the prominent parties to the plot are distributed through the United States. Sporrman spent a quiet night at the city jail. The seriousness of the offense with which he is charged, he knows, takes it philosophically and seems inclined to believe that he will be dealt with leniently.

Marius Asch, who was taken into custody here yesterday, is looked on by the authorities as the biggest asset in the case. Asch, who is an affable sort of a man, is said to be strongly American and has been unpopular with alien enemies here because he has displayed no friendship for the cause of the Fatherland. It developed today that the apprehension of Asch followed voluntary information which he gave to the authorities. Brother Probably Innocent. Frederick H. C. Sporrman, brother of the accused man, has been placed in the city jail. While it is not generally believed he is an accomplice in the case, nevertheless

State Trade Shop Notes

The boys and girls of the State Trade School have aroused considerable enthusiasm in the War Savings campaign. Each department has organized a War Savings club. A large chart with a "thermometer" indicator for each department has been erected in the corridor to display the results. Counts are obtained by dividing the number of cents contributed in each department by their membership.

The Electrical club with a membership of thirteen is in the lead at present writing with 164 points and an investment of $21.48 including the purchase of four War Savings Stamps. The Machinist club with a membership of twenty-three is a close second having 161 points, an investment of $36.86 including eight War Savings Stamps.

A total of $62.19 has been invested by the Trade School members not including any instructors or assistants. Jack Sanderson, a recent graduate of the Carpentry department, made a short visit to the Trade school Monday afternoon. Sanderson enlisted in the Army Ordnance Detachment and is located at the U. S. Proving Grounds, Aberdeen, Maryland. Jack is more than pleased that his training as a carpenter gives him distinction in his service for Uncle Sam. He is working with his hammer and saw while college men, bank clerks, lawyers and other professionals are doing the heavy work of unloading cars, digging trenches, etc.

Joseph Saimond, Anthony Mozgaj and Lillian Tack, who have recently graduated from the Textile department of the State Trade School, have taken good positions at the local silk mills and are working at their trade.

There is opportunity for enrollments in all departments of the evening trade school. Conscripted men due for the second and third drafts should take advantage of the opportunity to improve themselves for service in the Army by attending some one of the classes in Machine, Toolmaking, Carpentry, Electrical Practice, Drafting, Textile Work or Radio Transmission.

CZARINA INSANE.

Paris, Jan. 16.—Information has reached Geneva, according to a dispatch from there today, that the former Czarina of Russia has gone insane. Her daughter Tatiana, who was reported to have started for the United States, is nursing her mother and has never left Tobolsk, Siberia, where the Romanoff family is being held. The former Czar is declared to have become very moody and does not talk to anyone.

DANIEL WILLARD LEAVES U. S. DEFENSE COUNCIL. Washington, Jan. 16.—Daniel Willard, one of the most prominent big business men that have assisted the government in preparing for war, has severed all connection with the Council of National Defense, it was learned today. His resignation as chairman of the advisory committee of the Council was announced some time ago, but announcement of it was withheld at the request of the President. President Wilson has now, however, accepted the resignation. BIGGEST SALE OF RACE HORSES ON RECORD. Lexington, Ky., Jan. 16.—In what is declared to have been the largest sale of racing stock ever held, 137 horses belonging to James W. Corrigan of Cleveland, Ohio, were sold here for $227,775. The stallion, Ultim, bought by U. S. Miller of New York for $26,000, brought the highest price. Emil Herz of New York bought the mare Marian Hood for $17,000. Where the Best Glasses are Made

OPEN EVERY DAY FROM 3 P. M. TO 8.30 P. M.

If you are suffering from eye strain, headaches or nervousness you can gain nothing by neglecting your eyes. In most cases the trouble will rapidly grow worse. Good sight is too valuable for your success and comfort to run the slightest risk of impairing it.

As an eyesight specialist I examine eyes, design, make, and fit glasses at reasonable charges. The experience I have had, the care taken in every step, from the initial examination to the glasses fitted to your eyes make my service highly satisfactory.

Have you see the deep curve "COHAL" lenses, they are nearly twice as deep as the regular Toric, they are made like the eye itself giving the same wide field of vision.

This wonderful lens is sold only in my office and cannot be bought elsewhere. I do my own lens grinding in So. Manchester. Will appreciate an opportunity to serve you which will mean better and more comfortable vision and glasses for you.

A telegram received from Newport, R. I., this morning stated that the condition of Moses Dougan, who has been ill with pneumonia at the Naval Station, is very unfavorable. Monday, Sailor Dougan was reported to be out of danger, but his condition has changed since then. His brother, Thomas G. Dougan, has been at his bedside for several days.

DISCONTINUES HERALD.

Daniel Miller, of Spencer Street Angry Because of Red Cross Story.

Daniel Miller, of Spencer street, stopped his Herald yesterday but at the same time asked where he might invest two dollars in the Red Cross. He stopped taking the paper because during the recent Red Cross campaign an article appeared in these columns saying that Miller's father refused to join the Red Cross and said things about the government that at this time are not particularly appropriate.

As a result of the article federal agents were notified of the incident and the Miller's then blamed The Herald for their troubles.

MANCHESTER NOW HAS 512 ON ITS HONOR ROLL

Our Boys Are Scattered All Over the Face of the Earth

MOST CHOSE THE ARMY

Interesting Statistics Gathered From A Study of List of Manchester Boys in Service.

Manchester's new honor roll which is now in the hands of the printer records 512 enlistments of local boys. The new roll is interesting. There are several characteristic points worthy of mention. Of the 512 enrolled seven of them are women. These women are acting as nurses, some of them in Canada. The navy is not as popular as the army among Manchester men. However it must be taken into consideration that there were no men drafted for the navy while a large number were drafted into the army service.

Army Has 428.

The navy has 81 Manchester men and the army 428. There are now 83 men doing duty at Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass. This honor roll, of course, does not include the fifteen per cent quota which will go to Devens February 15. In the navy the Naval Reserves is the most popular branch. The National Army has more men than any other one branch of the army service. Of these 512 Manchester people in the service there are 132 now doing duty overseas. Fifteen men of the list have chosen the aviation as their work. One man died in the service. That was Llewellyn Bissell.

All Over the World.

These 512 people are spread all over the face of the globe. John E. Barnabee is on a horse transport of the British Expeditionary Forces. David Bertoff is an armed guard in Brooklyn and is stationed at the City Park Barracks. There are a number in the naval reserves and stationed on the Great Lakes. These men expect to be trained on the ocean rather than on an inland lake. Ernest Brown is with the U. S. engineers and is stationed at Fort Sill, Oklahoma. "Bobbie" Cleveland is at Lake Charles in Louisiana. However far apart Manchester men may drift they are always sure to meet another Manchester man.

When one local man was sent to Fort Slocum, the first day he was in mess line he was surprised to have a Manchester man dish out his stew. Those who joined the aviation corps and were sent to different parts of the states finally all drifted together at San Antonio, Texas. The men in the Naval Reserves are being constantly changed. Every time they are transferred they fall in with men from their own home town.

One peculiar coincidence happened in France. When the companies which were formerly Troops B and L were sent across to France they landed with no thoughts of ever seeing any more Manchester people. When Co. G arrived in France they were stationed only twelve miles away from the former companies which contained many Manchester boys. It did not take long for the news to travel and whenever the fellows in both companies were on leave they hiked the full twelve miles to see the other boys from Manchester. When Thomas Ward who was the first Manchester boy to reach the trenches with the American forces landed with Pershing's men he says the first man he met on French soil was from Manchester and was serving on an American transport. Manchester men are everywhere.

Odd Addresses.

The honor roll discloses some peculiar addresses. Perhaps the most peculiar of all is that of Bert Deere, formerly a local barber. He gets his mail as follows: Bert Deere, No. 3105219, Co. D, 8d C. O. R., C. E. F., c-o, C. P. O., London, Eng.

It would be safer to use two envelopes for this address than one. Charlie Hall gets his mail in care of Mrs. Magge, 233 Edgeware Road, Paddington, London, England. Thomas Tedford is far from the Germans in France although he is very much in the service. He is stationed in the Schofield Barracks, Hawaiian Islands. He is in Troop F of the 4th cavalry.

All these 512 people have left Manchester. They are spread as far apart around the world as though they were shaded. They have left their positions, their families and loved ones in Manchester, Connecticut, with but one purpose—to beat the Kaiser and to win the war for Uncle Sam.

LOCAL BOYS IN TEXAS.

Ernest Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brown and his brother Ralph, who enlisted in the aviation division are now enjoying warm, sunny days in camp at San Antonio, Texas. Ernest is serving on a post office detail at the camp. He writes it is sad to see the great number of packages coming to camp by mail so insecurely packed that all marks of identification have been lost. Because of the carelessness of senders many gifts for the soldier boys never reach their destination. Ralph Brown has no special detail as yet but has applied for a position in the ground officers' corps, men who have to do surveying and compute angles and altitudes.

Allen Balch, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Balch, who enlisted with the Brown brothers, is in the motorcycle battalion at the same camp.

A SNAKE STORY.

Motormen and conductors on the Rockville lines were surprised the other morning when a four foot black snake was found on top of one of the cars. It is supposed that when the car was going under Brown's bridge that the snake was shaken from its winter nest and then stuck to one of the cold iron trolley poles. It did not take long for the story to spread and each and every one of the men believed the story with the exception of "Jack" Shea of the Green line. "Jack" says he is from Missouri and as yet the snake hasn't been brought around.

FORESTERS INSTALL.

At the meeting of Court Manchester, Foresters of America, in Foresters' hall last evening, the newly elected officers for the ensuing term were installed by Deputy Grand Chief Ranger John F. Limerick of Court Nutmeg. The reports of the officers for the past year were read and showed the court to be in a most prosperous condition. Court Manchester holds Liberty bonds to the amount of $6,000. The meeting was followed by a social session and entertainment program under the direction of Past Chief Ranger John Jensen.

NOT REQUIRED.

The local war bureau received word from Washington this morning that the so-called Washington Number of enlisted men was no longer required. Relatives, who have been trying to secure the number, therefore, need bother no more about it.
