PHOTOGRAPHERS DISCUSS HOW TO AID GOVERNMENT

War-Time Convention at Baltimore Today—Five States and District of Columbia Represented.

Baltimore, March 19.—The third annual convention of the Middle Atlantic States Photographers' Association met here today. Delegates from Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, Maryland, West Virginia and the District of Columbia are in attendance. The convention is in every sense a strictly war-time convention. President Diehl, in an interview, stated: "We are having a war-time convention because we feel that it is our duty as good, patriotic and loyal Americans. Our convention is a forerunner as to the kind of meetings other associations of photographers will hold throughout the coming year. You must remember that the government is in need of men who are versed in the art of handling a camera, and it is our duty to help the government in every way possible to get the men. Many of our boys have nobly responded to the call of the colors, and we are ready to make further sacrifices to help the country win the war."

Albany, N. Y., March 19.—In an effort to make possible Sunday baseball, nearly five hundred enthusiasts from all over the state came here today to appear before the codes committee of the Senate and Assembly in behalf of the Lawson-Kiernan Bill. Opponents of the measure legalizing the great national sport on Sunday were also active and had a number of speakers on hand. The bill would permit games to be played on Sunday after two p. m.

AMUSEMENTS

WHAT'S WHAT AND WHO'S WHO IN MANCHESTER MOVIE HOUSES BY THEIR OWN PRESS AGENTS.

AT THE PARK.

Today is Triangle Day at the Popular Playhouse. John F. Sullivan believes in variety. He knows from experience that a picture that will please one may not please another so he has adopted a policy which he believes will please all. Every day in the week there is another film company entertaining at the Park. One day it will be Goldwyn, next Triangle, then Brady Made, then World, then Perfection and so on. Some theaters are up to one concern but old fashioned theaters are still as good as it is to have a picture is popular it is very easy to drop it from the program and substitute another.

AT THE CIRCLE.

Moving picture lovers who remember "The Bar Sinister" with pleasure—which means pretty well everyone who saw it—will be glad to hear that seven reel, "The Sign Invisible," which is being presented at the Circle this evening and also tomorrow afternoon and evening, is the work of the same director, Edgar Lewis, and that the leading parts are played by the same actors who had so much to do with the popularity of the former success. The picture has a mighty punch and a powerful moral, but the latter doesn't strike one until the play is over, so dominant is the power of the plot. The story tells what happened to an embittered young surgeon who visits a far Canadian trading post to forget his troubles and perhaps avoid a drunkard's grave. His former religious faith has been shattered by the Almighty's failure to spare the lives of several of his surgical patients and especially by the death of his mother. By the time he reaches the trading station presided over by Lou Baribeau he is ready for any sort of devilment. There he is first sheltered by the clergyman's daughter, but later cast out of her father's home because of his atheistic utterances. In one Monahan, "the toughest river boss that ever hit the north," meets a mentor in inquiry second only to the vicious Factor himself. His advent at the post saloon and hotel is marked by his insult to and thrashing by Lono Deer, a mighty hunter much beloved by the community. The picture will be screened at 8.10. Other reels will be shown in conjunction.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP.

Middletown and Winsted Teams to Battle at Our Armory. Manchester basketball fans are to have the privilege of seeing a good fast game of their favorite sport staged at the Armory either next Wednesday night or the following Wednesday night. The game will be between Middletown and the Golden Rods of Winsted, who are tied in a series of games for the state championship and they have chosen the Armory as a neutral floor on which to play the rubber. Manchester lovers of this sport are familiar with the brand of basketball put up by Middletown and Winsted, as the teams from those cities used to play here against G. The lineups have not been made public yet, but it is known that "Danny" Ahern, McGonochie and Salmonson are still playing with Middletown. Ahern and McGonochie are veterans at the game, but are still as good as the younger players. The Winsted rooters are planning to come down to the game in a special train and Middletown will send a large delegation by trolley.

Well, if we don't have anything else, we'll have a lot of speed this year." That was the way George Stallings summarized the 1918 Braves as they went out for a practice session today.

Known All Over State. Mr. Cowles was not only well known in Manchester, but his acquaintance extended to all the surrounding towns and throughout the state.

During the last ten years, however, Mr. Cowles had gradually let go of his responsibilities, and scarcely appeared in public. He kept close to his office which was in his home on North School street.

During the Civil War in 1861 until March 1863 he served as sutler's clerk in Virginia and Maryland. He was in the engagement at Antietam. He was then appointed headquarter during the Civil War in 1862 until he held that position until he retired in 1864.

New York, March 19.—Federal officials declared today that more arrests probably will be made in the German spy plot brought to light yesterday by the arrest of two beautiful women and two titled claiming men who have been associating with them.

Mme. Despina Davidovitch Storch, the beautiful Turkish woman who claims French citizenship because of a marriage to a young French army officer, is declared to be the leader of the group arrested yesterday.

Mme. Elizabeth Nix, wife of a German army officer, Mme. Storch and Baron Henry De Beville were being held at Ellis Island today to await deportation to France.

Madison, Wis., March 19.—The political eyes of the nation today are watching Wisconsin's special Senatorial primary election. Because of the loyalty issue at stake it is regarded as the most important primary election in the history of the state.

PRESS, TRADE, GOVERNMENT.
Certain present-day currents of public sentiment and tendencies in government make not altogether unpropitious the question of the relation among what the United States Census calls "trade," a free and militant press and the public.

The press would cut its own throat if it carried out to its ultimate extreme the Communist doctrine of the abolition of all private profits, which is involved in the principle of government ownership of all public resources and means of production.

A government-owned press is not a free press, not a press critical of activities of government or of the officials who execute the laws.

sees the fundamental power, for as a citizen he determines what government he shall have. It is true, also, that he decides what his press shall be, because he is alike the patron of retail trade and as subscriber the real power behind the press.

Thus the electorate, the mass of voters, while it has both press and government theoretically at its mercy, is unwise if it grants too much power to either. The creative and critical functions are part of the constitution of every human and of every collection of humans in a society.

DISCOVERING OUR MAN POWER.
We clip this advertisement, quoted in part, from a New York newspaper:

"An automobile manufacturer reluctantly hired a man 59 years old at $20 a week—and raised him to $6,000 a year before five months had passed. This manufacturer was one of the formerly humorous employers with the rule: 'Hire no man past 45.'"

The discovery of America's man power has only begun. Not perhaps since early Colonial days has the capacity of men, and even of women and children, been seen more clearly.

The notion ought to be spread to the four corners of the globe that age in years has little to do with agedness, any more than summer is limited by the arbitrary dates within which it is enclosed.

The work of Austin C. Dunham, like that of Dean Wright of Yale, was finished, and both men earned their rest. Mr. Dunham died at St. Petersburg, Fla., on Sunday night. For thirty years he was head of the Hartford Electric Light Company, director in several insurance companies, etc., and he shared his success by his philanthropies.

It is about time for an Allied offensive on the West front surely. We hope the possibility, if there is one, will become an actuality.

Mayor Hylan can hardly hope that New York will own its public utilities for some time to come, although the subways will revert to the city soon or later.

The Pope's efforts to persuade Germany not to raid open cities have been futile thus far. Doesn't His Holiness know that Christianity is merely a sort of convenient garb for the Prussians, like Wilhelm's Divine Right obsession?

The left corner "ear" of the Willamette Chronicle is filled up with this: "Our Sentiments. Fixing prices is about as futile as sweeping back the ocean."

WAR RISK INSURANCE.
Washington, D. C., March 19.—The importance of taking out War Risk Insurance cannot be too strongly impressed upon the minds of enlisted men, say Marine Corps officials here, who cite the following death to substantiate their statements:

Private Andrew Jensen, stationed in Cuba, took out $10,000 worth of War Risk Insurance on the morning of February 8, 1918, in favor of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Jensen, 2018 Grande avenue, Everett, Washington. He died at 7.15 p. m., the same day.

IN OLDEN DAYS

Labor Was Dear Here Then, Two Shillings a Day.

E. T. Ferris, of Oak street, who has been laid up for the past two weeks or more as the result of a fall, was able to be down town yesterday and today.

In the paragraph mentioned, it was stated that in 1680 there were twenty-six towns in the state, with twenty-one churches. Every town maintained its own poor, but there was seldom any want, because labor was dear, being from two shillings and sixpence a day for a laborer and because provisions were cheap.

STATE EXPECTS EVERY BOY TO DO HIS DUTY—HOLCOMB

Our Governor Appeals to Connecticut Boys to Enroll in the Working Reserve.

Hartford, March 19—Governor Marcus H. Holcomb today appealed to the boys of Connecticut to make their summer vacation count in the winning of the war by enrolling in the United States Boys' Working Reserve. Boys between the ages of 16 and 21 are being enrolled this week for war emergency work, principally on the farms, and schools, Y. M. C. A.'s and other institutions are acting as enrolling agencies.

The Governor's letter follows: TO THE BOYS OF CONNECTICUT: "There is a shortage of labor all over our country because of men being withdrawn from their regular occupations by the duties of war. The shortage in Connecticut is particularly acute on account of the increased demand for workers in munition factories. You, and you only, can fill the gaps. You can serve best in agricultural occupations by enrolling in the United States Boys' Working Reserve.

"We Must Help Ourselves."

"The State of Connecticut must not depend upon others for anything that can be produced within its borders. It is not putting it too strongly to say that every able-bodied boy who spends his summer in idleness or pleasure seeking is a slacker, and unworthy of the name American. There will be times when you'll be weary and lame, but when you are, think of the older brothers in France fighting to preserve your country and its ideals for you, and then go back to your work with a smile on your face, a song on your lips and determination in your heart. The eyes of this grand old Commonwealth are upon you; Connecticut expects every boy to do his duty. You are needed now in the ranks of the United States Boys' Working Reserve.

OUR LITHUANIANS OBJECT TO NEWSPAPER ARTICLE

Give Workers' Council Side in Controversy—Are Not in Favor of German Socialists.

A spokesman representing thirty Herald readers, all local Lithuanians, has asked this paper to give the side of the Lithuanians Workers' Council in a controversy between that council and the National Lithuanian Council as reported in this paper some days ago. The article in question under a Washington date line, said that the Lithuanian National Council stated that the Workers' Council "is controlled by men only recently under suspicion of the government because of utterances against the Grant Law and conduct of the war."

The article further said that the Workers' Council was the mouthpiece of German socialists and that "it is trying to instill its insidious doctrines in the minds of 700,000 Lithuanians in this country."

The statement further asserted that there is evidence to support the assertion that Lenine and Trotzky, "who pocketed their thirty pieces of silver for the betrayal of a nation," prior to their departure for the United States, were liberally supplied with funds by persons who are now backing the Workers' Council and "who, no doubt, secretly approve the ruin the two Bolshevik leaders have wrought."

Now our local Lithuanians who believe in the Workers' Council state that this is a tissue of falsehoods and they ask in all fairness that The Herald print the following conclusions duly endorsed at the Chicago convention of the Lithuanian Workers' Council of America at its recent convention in Chicago:

1. That the so-called "independence" which is to be imposed on Lithuania by the Kaiser and his supporters is but a loathsome means of enslaving Lithuania.
2. That the landrat of Lithuania is not expressive of the will of the Lithuanian people and in deciding the future of Lithuania has violated the right of the Lithuanian people to self-determination.
3. That Bishop Karevicius of Kovno who went to negotiate with the German government behind the back of the people about the creation of "Christian-conservative monarchy in Lithuania" has acted as a traitor of the Lithuanian freedom.
4. That those of the American Lithuanian clericals and reactionaries who approve of the treason committed by Bishop Karevicius are serving the cause of the enemies of the Local Sailor Boys Write Home

Mr. and Mrs. Aristide J. Jobert, who moved recently from Hackmatack street into their new home on 187 Maple street, have received some interesting letters from their sons, Arthur and Maurice, who enlisted in the navy April 16, 1918. The brothers were together in the service for some time, but now Arthur is on the U. S. S. Missouri and Maurice is on the U. S. S. Raleigh. Their letters follow:

Dear Parents,

Just a few lines to tell you that I have received the valise and the contents all O. K. and before saying any more I want to thank you for it. It's a good one and the cake and candy went pretty good as it's more candy than what I've eaten for quite a while. One of my shipmates said that the cake was good; the only trouble with it was that you did not send enough of it.

Have you yet received any allotment? If not let me know as it's high time that you did and I will try and see what I can do.

Say, Dad, you spoke about moving into the new house all right, but you didn't say which apartment you were going to occupy. I see where I'll have a new home to go to next time I get leave. When do you expect to move in?

Enclosed, you will find my brother Maurice's last letter to you which mother asked me for. I have not heard from him since the last time he wrote to you during the month of January.

The weather down here is pretty nice compared with what it is as stated in your last letter. It's just like spring down here.

I will close now, hoping that this will find you well and happy.

Love from your son,
Arthur.

Feb. 11, 1918

Dear Parents,

Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and getting along nicely.

I am late in writing to you, because we have been — and we are just getting back. It certainly was rough weather all the time we were out.

Well, how is everything at home? Well I hope.

Have you heard any more from my brother, Maurice? You can be sure that he is on the U. S. S. Raleigh all right.

Mother, I wish that you would send me a good sized valise as it will come in handy for keeping some of my outfit. If you cannot send me a valise send me a suit case of ordinary size.

I suppose dad is still working hard on the new house this year or are you thinking of moving into it?

Some time ago I met a young lad from Rockville and one from East Hartford. The Rockville lad has been transferred but the other lad has not, so we have become shipmates.

Well, this is all for this time, so I will say good night.

Love from your son,
Arthur.

Jan. 22, 1918.

Dear Father and Mother,

I am feeling well and I hope this letter finds you all the same. How is everybody getting along, any way? I have not heard from you for a long time, as I am many miles from home. How is Arthur getting along? Tell him to write once in a while.

I have made out an allotment to you for $15 a month to help you out a bit. I have some money saved up to send you as soon as I can.

Remember when I joined the navy I weighed only 119 pounds and now I weigh 145 pounds, so you see I am going up all the time. I have almost a year in now. It will be one year April 16. I cannot write very often as I am always out at sea, but I will write to you every time I get in port, so don't worry about me.

How is cousin Ruot getting along; also my god-mother and her family, and Mr. Stevenson. Tell them, if you see or hear from them, that I will write to them soon. This is about all for this time, so goodbye.

From your loving son,
Maurice Jobert.

P. S. Just received your letter today; also the package O. K. This is the first mail I have received from you since I left the U. S. and, believe me, I was worried about you, but I was glad when I saw your picture. But I can see in your face that you are worrying. You ask me to tell you where I am stationed, but that is a thing I cannot tell you. I am sorry, but it can't be helped. I am serving on board the U. S. Raleigh as a fireman. Believe me, she is some, some, and there is a good bunch of sailors on her.

Dear Brother Marcel,

How are you getting along, any way? Don't worry about me. I am feeling fine and hope you are all the same. Be good to father and mother, won't you?

Maurice Jobert.

The following letter has been received from Reuben W. Bronke, who is at the U. S. Naval Training Station at Newport, R. I.:

My dear —

Was pleased and also surprised to hear from you. Ma explained why you didn't write.

What makes you think the Navy is different than what I expected? There is very little difference. I have it pretty much the same as I had surmised. The only thing I wish is that you were here. Navy life is a great life, if you do not weaken. One fellow in shack No. 1, died of pneumonia.

I have been a laborer all this week; have used pick and shovel, building a foundation for a drill hall.

I will write you a parody I want you to publish in The Herald and have my name signed and then send The Herald to me.

What a sailor does:

In the morning at 5.00 a. m. reveille blows and everyone "hits the deck." We have till 5.30 a. m. to bathe, and carry our cots out. Muster is called at 6.00, at 7.00 we all "fall in" for chow. We then have till 8.00 to get ready for drill or detail work, which is finished at 1.30. At 12.00 m. we fall in for chow and then at 1.15 we again "fall in" for detail work, or drill, which is finished at 3.30. We then have till 5.00 p. m. to wash our clothes, sew our buttons on, etc. At 5.00 p. m. we fall in for chow, and as soon as we are through eating we have a song or two. Then at 7.00 p. m. muster is again called. After muster we can either attend shows or amuse ourselves in some other way.

Your brother,
Reuben.

WAR TIME PROBLEMS OF FARMERS DISCUSSED.

Peoria, Ill., March 19.—The annual convention of the Illinois Agricultural Association opened here today. The meeting is considered one of the most important in the history of the organization. War time problems affecting the farmers of the State were the chief issues before the convention which will continue throughout tomorrow.

SWITZERLAND NOW FEARS INVASION BY THE ARMIES OF GERMANY AND AUSTRO-HUNGARY

The massing of large bodies of German and Austro-Hungarian troops along the Swiss frontier has caused Switzerland to fear that Hindenburg intends to invade its territory in the effort to turn the French right flank. The illustration shows Swiss mountaineer troops on the path to the Devilschenspitze on the frontier, and, at the left, an officer of the Swiss army wearing the recently adopted steel helmet.

Get Your Old Clothes Ready for the Belgians

The drive organized by the Belgian Relief Commission and handled by the American Red Cross, to provide clothing for the destitute people of Belgium and Northern France has laid a new and special emphasis on the conditions obtaining in those occupied territories. Little or nothing in the way of clothing is left.

#7 to Sole Shoes.

Last year in Belgium it cost seven dollars to have a pair of shoes re-soled. The Commission for Relief has been solving them with sections of discarded material stamped to fit the various sizes. Tens of thousands of pairs of shoes were produced in this way. Not only are shoes needed but scrap leather with which to repair shoes to be given, as well as those being worn over there, should be sent.

Ships Will be Safe.

The Commission for Relief has safe conduct for its ships and the absolute assurance, through its representatives in Brussels, that the clothing will be delivered only to those for whom it is intended. The Germans, it is said, have never at any time seized the personal apparel of individuals.

To meet the situation this week should see not less than 5,000 tons of clothing collected in the United States and on its way to the Commission warehouses. One third of every shipment will go to the people of the North of France, down close behind the German lines, two thirds will go to Belgium.

Local Chapter's Work.

The local Red Men's chapter is sending a circular to each family in town today telling just what garments are needed and what are not. This circular has a representation of the Belgian flag on the reverse for window display in case the family has clothing to contribute.

The automobile collection will commence Thursday of this week at the south end and finishing Monday the 25th at the north end.

THE DAILY GRIND

By Reimette Lovewell of The Vigilantes

There's a new glory about it—the same old morning-till-night-to-pay-the-rent drudgery!

At the sight of a service flag chins instinctively lift, shoulders square. The soldier comes out in the man beyond draft age when he starts down town in the morning. He wears no uniform, no insignia on cap band, no brassard. He does the same work he did before the war, but—bless him—he does it better, better because of the boys overseas, better because America must win. His bit is a colorless task, but, by such, is Democracy being made safe for the world.

AGAINST BOND SALES.

Defense Council Disapproves Idea of Competing with Liberty Bonds.

Hartford, March 19.—In the interests of war finances the Connecticut State Council of Defense, has recorded its disapproval of the public sale of certain forms of securities in small denominations. This action will apply to the war period and will discourage corporations from starting financial campaigns that might run counter to interests of the national government in securing the financial aid needed to successfully prosecute the war.

The vote as taken by the State Council at a recent meeting, was as follows: "Voted, That it is the judgment of this council that corporations shall not, during the present emergency, issue for public sale securities (other than stock) in denominations less than $500."

If ships are going to win the war they must be built before the war has been decided.—Ex.

BRITISH TANK GOING INTO ACTION THROUGH A FRENCH VILLAGE DESTROYED BY TEUTON SHELLS

The French village through which it is passing has received a considerable amount of attention from the gunners, but that doesn't bother the tank in the least as it lumbers into action. The Boche guns will make the tank their objective as soon as the Teuton air scouts report its presence.

WHERE AMERICAN TROOPS ARE NOW FACING THE ENEMY

The pictures above show sections on the Chemin des Dames front in the Aisne sector which is now being held by Uncle Sam's soldier boys. At the left is the entrance of the captured German fortress of Malunsson, and at the right French troops clearing a trench captured from the Germans and now being occupied by American troops.

PLANT—PLANT—PLANT.

By Hapsburg Liebe of The Vigilantes. There are few families in our average cities who can't swat the Kaiser this coming spring and summer with a vegetable garden of greater or lesser proportions.

Have your ground broken deep. Don't plant, if you can help yourself, the same crop in the same place you had it last year.

Plant early in spite of your fear of the frost. If frost gets your early planting, plant again and immediately afterward.

Put garden peas in double rows about fifteen inches apart. Chick-wire three or four feet high, staked at each end and in the middle of the average row.

Put garden peas in double rows about fifteen inches apart. Chick-wire three or four feet high, staked at each end and in the middle of the average row.

The oak scatters its acorns but it cannot tend to them afterwards, hence few acorns grow.

A garden must be planned in advance and the kinds of crops selected that will do best in this soil and climate.

Plant sweet corn at different times, which will give you green corn until frost.

Tomatoes need not have sticks, but the fruit should be kept off the ground with straw, or even old newspapers, as contact with the ground causes rotting.

Both potatoes and corn are hard on the land. But if the land is sufficiently rich it will produce both corn and potatoes in one year.

Don't let a crust form around your young sweet potato plants. When the first autumn frost falls on the vines, cut them off under the ground before the sunlight gets to them.

A dust mulch around plants is applied in very dry weather. Watering is better, however, but it should be done only in the evening.

Finally, plant, plant, and plant and sweat the Kaiser! If you have nowhere else, plant your flower beds and show your colors.

WISCONSIN TO NAME A SENATOR TODAY

Primary Election to Choose Nominee to Replace Late Wm. Hasting—Three Candidates—Who They Are.

Milwaukee, March 19.—Wisconsin today is holding a primary election to choose candidates for the special election, April 2, to elect a successor to Paul O. Husting, deceased Senator who was killed last fall by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of his brother.

There are three Republican candidates: Congressman Irvin Lenroot, selected by party caucus to make the race; former Governor Francis E. McGovern, defeated in the caucus; but refusing to abide by its decision; and James Thompson, running as a LaFollette candidate, but with the elimination of much of the support of that faction by his avowed intention to support the administration in its war programme.

The Democratic candidates are Charles E. Davies, who resigned a position with the Federal Trade Commission to make the race, and Charles W. McCarthy, former member of the Hoover Food Board.

Milwaukee is voting for candidates for a full city ticket and for county supervisors. Six propositions for limiting the personnel of the city council are before the voters of which the two receiving the highest vote will be placed before the voters for a final choice at the April election.

FRENCH WAR CROSS GIVEN TWO OFFICERS

Buffalo and Council Bluffs Men Win Award on West Front—Artillery Still Heavy.

With the American Army in France, March 17.—(Delayed)—Major William J. Donovan, of Buffalo and Lieutenant Colonel Matthew A. Tinley of Council Bluffs, Iowa, both connected with infantry units on the Luneville front, have been awarded the French war cross and have been cited for bravery in French army orders.

Major Donovan "showed brilliant military qualities notably on the seventh and eighth of March during violent bombardments and gave a remarkable example of bravery and presence of mind."

Lieutenant Colonel Tinley, "during a violent bombardment and enemy attack, directed with coolness and calmness defensive operations, and thanks to the brilliant way in which the orders were given before and during the fight, succeeded in keeping the lines intact, despite the efforts of the enemy who was aided by powerful artillery."

Artillery Still Booming. Heavy artillery firing continued on Saturday, the Germans using some of their biggest projectiles.

Details of the raid which the Germans made on Saturday morning are now at hand. The attack was made against the Americans' right wing in the Toul sector after a violent bombardment. Only a few Germans were able to enter the American lines, however.

The Germans have been using gas shells lavishly on the sectors east of Luneville and north of Toul. Hundreds of these shells have been thrown into the American position northwest of Toul.

PELLS OF HOW EUROPE IS WRECKED BY WAR. Springfield, Ill., March 19.—How Europe has been wrecked by war was told here today by Miss May Boyle O'Reilly in an address before the Mid-Day Luncheon Club.

While in Washington recently a number of men asked me in what manner Austria-Hungary might be influenced to sever her relations with Germany. My reply was that this was a most difficult undertaking.

"Is Austria-Hungary Bridge To Peace?" Question Is Timely

While in Washington recently a number of men asked me in what manner Austria-Hungary might be influenced to sever her relations with Germany. My reply was that this was a most difficult undertaking.

"I believe that the words of President Wilson would meet with better response from the populations of the Central Empires if in some manner it would be possible to convey to them the assurance that in the final adjustment of things in Europe they would be safeguarded against the very evils this war is being fought for."

The man to whom I spoke smiled. "That is not so easy," he said, after he had turned the thought over in his mind.

I agreed with him. Such an undertaking at present is next to being impossible. There is the danger that words to that effect would be misunderstood by everybody.

The simplest things are often the hardest to do. This is a case of that sort.

A number of Austro-Hungarian statesmen, among them Count Czernin, Baron Burián and Count Tisza, have assured me, time and again, that the Austro-Hungarian government and people did not wish to annex so much as a foot of their enemies' territory.

There is no reason to believe that the Austro-Hungarian government would depart from its non-annexationist programme even if it could afford to do that.

The rivalry between the German and Hungarian elements in the monarchy is proverbial. In the past these two races have been engaged in a struggle, bitter at times, to occupy the same position of eminence.

PELLS OF HOW EUROPE IS WRECKED BY WAR.

Springfield, Ill., March 19.—How Europe has been wrecked by war was told here today by Miss May Boyle O'Reilly in an address before the Mid-Day Luncheon Club.

the East and South it is Hungary that has all authority.

During the last itself this rivalry has been much in evidence. The North Slav and South Slav question fanned the glowing embers into lusty flames.

The statement in Vienna, in order to solve the Slav question once and for all time, decided to give the North Slavs—that is the Bohemians, Poles and Ruthenians—an absolute autonomy.

To the Bohemians, Poles and Ruthenians that was a strong appeal, though the latter raised violent objection at one time to passing this under Polish dominion.

Another proposal was made. Instead of a tripartite Austria-Hungary-North Slav State there was to be a fourth member in the federation—a South Slav State.

The Slovaks, Slovenes and Croats were willing that this be done. The scheme of government was to be the same as in the case of the North Slavs of Austria.

Again the Hungarians defeated the Austrians. The men in Budapest feared that the new scheme would actually aggravate the condition likely if the first plan was carried out.

What I have mentioned here shows that the political wheels in the monarchy have not stood still during the war.

Because of the delay in the arrival of pipe for the furnaces in the 32 houses the Lynch Construction company is building for Cheney Brothers on the West street tract, it has been necessary to lay off about 20 carpenters, who have gone as far as they can until the pipe work has been installed in the partitions.

Mr. Holl is optimistic concerning real estate in Manchester and plans to go right ahead with his building operations here.

MATCH RACE.

Local Boys Do the Mile in Twenty.

Owing to counter attractions, there was not a very large crowd out to see the one mile roller skating race at the Armory last night but those who were present saw a fine exhibition of speed on rollers. The contestants were "Ty" Wiganowski and "Dick" Edgar, two local youths about 16 or 17 years of age, and they were pretty well matched. There were 21 laps to the mile and up to the 18th lap, "Little Pop", as Edgar is called because he is brother to "Pop" Edgar, the well known baseball player, led by about a quarter of a lap. Then he made a skip in turning one of the corners. Wiganowski then shot ahead and was able to keep the lead, crossing the line a few seconds ahead of Edgar. He made the mile in two minutes and twenty seconds, which is unusually fast, considering the number of laps there were to the mile.

FELL INTO CELLAR.

Edward Gardner, a plumber employed by Ferris Brothers, fell into the cellar from the first floor of one of the new houses being erected on the west side by Contractor Schreiber, yesterday. He suffered from a shock but Dr. Burr who was called, said that he would be back to work again in a few days as no bones had been broken.

Gardner who boards at the Edgewood Inn, formerly known as the Men's Hotel, was taken to the Inn after his fall.

COUNTRY CLUB HAS PLEASANT IN-DOOR MEET

Supper, Humorous Playlet and Dancing Camouflage the Annual Business Meeting.

The Manchester Country Club had a most enjoyable party at the Recreation Center last night. It was attended by about 100 members of the club, including both sexes. The gymnasium floor of the building was set apart for their use for the evening. In the club rooms at the east end of the building supper was served on the cafeteria plan. The guests helped themselves from a central table and then formed congenial groups at small tables.

After supper they all assembled in the gymnasium where a playlet was given by a dozen members of the club who displayed marked histrionic ability and wore some remarkable costumes. The cast included Mrs. R. V. Treat, Mrs. Walter Scott, Mrs. William C. Cheney, Miss Emily Cheney, Miss Mary O. Chapman, Miss Mary Bell Cheney and Messrs. Frank D. Cheney, R. J. Motte Russell, W. C. Cheney, F. H. Anderson, Frank Cheney Jr., and F. J. Bendall. The skit contained many local hits and cleverly satirized some features of the several "drives" in which the participants in the play were active.

At the annual business meeting, H. G. Cheney was re-elected president and F. H. Anderson vice-president. Vacancies in the board of governors were filled by the election of Austin Cheney and F. A. Verplanck.

This spring will see the grounds in good condition and the club well organized. An effort will be made to secure about 40 new members in this and adjoining towns.

A social hour with dancing and floor games rounded out the evening.

HIBERNIANS HONOR DAY AND AID UNCLE SAM, TOO

Last Night's Dance Well Attended—Receipts Will Be Invested in War Savings Stamps.

Old Irish melodies and modern dances blended well last night. This combination was offered at the annual A. O. H. ball which was held in the high school hall. The melodies were played by a local orchestra of six pieces and the dances were enjoyed by a crowd of about two hundred and fifty.

As announced yesterday, the evening's dance was started at 7.30 promptly with a concert program of two numbers by the orchestra. Although the fact that the dance would start early was well advertised, the guests did not arrive until later in the evening. The dancing started at 8 o'clock. It ended promptly at eleven o'clock. The dance numbers were well selected. The hits of the evening were the fox trot, "Till the Clouds Roll By", and the one step "Chu Chin Chinaman."

There was an intermission of about fifteen minutes at ten o'clock. No refreshments were served. The majority of the dancers left the hall and "dined" at the nearby soda fountains.

The second floor of the high school building was used as a cloak room and signs were placed at the different entrances to that effect. The biology laboratory on the third floor was labelled "Smoke Room" and judging from the hazy atmosphere therein, the room was being used for that purpose.

The receipts of the evening, which were large, will be used entirely for the purchase of war savings stamps.

REBEKAH'S WHIST.

St. Patrick's Social Last Night Was Largely Attended.

The Rebekahs were favored with a large attendance at the St. Patrick's whist social given by them in Odd Fellows' hall, last evening. Twenty-three tables were filled with players and all report a most enjoyable time. At the conclusion of the games, prizes were awarded, after which refreshments were served.

The prizes were won as follows: Ladies: Mrs. Henry Smith, first; Mrs. F. M. Balch, second; Mrs. R. Templeton, consolation. Gentlemen: C. K. Smith, first; A. W. Hollister, second; James Johnston, consolation.

More Than One Might Expect

A visit now to most Coat and Suit shops brings out striking facts. Tailoring, as it was before the war called the mantillors, can only be had at the highest prices. Just the right interpretation of the slender silhouette is hard to find. Colors show the effect of a shortage in dyes. Fabrics that are really all-wool are rare.

It is good to know, in the face of this situation, that the Woolltex Tailors have had the foresight and resources to minimize war conditions.

Stunning Woolltex Coats and Suits tailored on the newest authentic slender lines are available today. Every one, irrespective of price, has that exceptional quality of fabric, tailoring and finish which has made Woolltex noteworthy in all seasons. This is more than one might expect these days at $25 to $75.

The New Spring DRESSES

ARE EXTREMELY PLEASING

The slender silhouette still dominates, but this is sometimes relieved by pleasing effects of sash and girdle together with tunics, pleated or gathered, long or short, occasionally displaying the use of side drapes.

Materials favored are taffetas, foulards, serges, gabardines and jerseys in blue, gray, tan and other Spring shades. Plaids and mystic designs appear in many of the silks. Combinations of color and fabric are very prominently displayed.

PRICES $9.98 TO $35.00

THE FAVORED SPRING STYLES

In New WAISTS

These are the garments which have already won their way to popular favor and which will be greatly desired for wear this season with the one button suit-jacket, and separate skirt.

They are in dressy, tailored and semi-tailored styles bedecked with low flat collars, and long peplums. Fashioned with satin, crepe de chine, sheer silk crepe and lace trimmed cotton in flesh, white, plain colors and contrasting shades.

PRICES 99c. TO $8.98.
