President and Members of His Cabinet Speak Today in Interest of New Loan of Three Billions—Big Cities Hold Parades and Fly National Colors Today; First War Anniversary

Baltimore, April 6.—The birthplace of the Star Spangled Banner stood ready to give President Wilson a welcome befitting in enthusiasm the launching of America's third Liberty loan campaign. Not since Civil War days has Baltimore been the host of so many soldiers. Twelve thousand of them, National Army troops of the 79th Division, reached here, hiking from Camp Meade, to pass in review before their commander in chief, President Wilson, at 2 o'clock.

Baltimore has a martial appearance. Every available park space in the city was covered with canvas, sheltering the khaki clad regiments who marched here to add a military aspect to the formal opening of the third national campaign for dollars to whip the Kaiser.

The President was scheduled to arrive about 2 o'clock. President Wilson's speech tonight at the Fifth Regiment armory, where he was nominated for the President in 1912, was the all-absorbing topic of speculation.

"Bombing airplanes" soared over the city, which was checked with Liberty loan booths with soldiers and sailors who started the sale drive.

Big Subscriptions.
The Manufacturers' Trust Company of Brooklyn took $3,000,000 in Liberty Bonds and the Pacific Bank, of New York, $1,500,000.

Big subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan by large corporations with home offices in New York featured the early drive today. Business firms taking large blocks of the loan announced subscriptions as follows:

The Bernhard-Scholle Company made an initial subscription of $1,000,000 on behalf of the company and its clients.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company applied for $10,500,000 of which $500,000 is to apply to the San Francisco District.

The New York Life Insurance Company subscribed for $15,000,000 worth of the new bonds, $3,500,000 of which will be allotted to federal reserve centers outside of New York.

At Boston.
Boston, April 6.—Boston celebrated the opening of the third Liberty Loan and the first anniversary of the war today with an all-American pageant, the greatest parade in the city's history. There were close to 80,000 persons in line. Boston's greatest parade to this time was the preparedness parade of May 27, 1916, when 45,000 were in line.

The marchers got away shortly after noon and the tramping hosts will be passing the reviewing stand until after 7 o'clock tonight. Under ideal weather conditions, close to one million spectators from all parts of New England saw the magnificent pageant.

The features of the great parade included the following:
British war tank Britannia, battle-scarred veteran of the war, propelling its 20-ton weight over the route half an hour ahead of the line.

Seventy five bands.
Twenty two divisions in line.
More than 1,500 wives and mothers of boys "over there" forming one section, each woman carrying a service flag.
More than 1,000 Red Cross workers in uniform.
Women's division, fifth in line, representing a total of 70 organizations.
Sixty French ambulance drivers, back from the war, wearing their steel helmets and gas masks.
One military division composed of the Massachusetts state guard.

Already Exceed Allotments.
Washington, April 6.—The race for the honor of being the first city to report an over-subscription of its third Liberty loan quota resulted in apparently a dead heat. At just 9:03 telephone calls were received at the Treasury from seven places which had gone over their allotment.
Far Rockaway, N. Y., with a quota of $339,152, reported subscriptions of $1,050,550; Twin Valley, N. Y., quota $2,300, reported $4,400,000; N. Y., quota $25,100, reported $47,000; Bernardsville, N. J., quota $116,900, reported $221,850; Pompton Lakes, N. J., quota $81,900, reported $101,500, and Cranford, N. J., quota $134,200, reported $220,000.

The largest over-subscription reported was from Lynn, Mass., Representative Phelan telephoning Secretary McAdoo that more than $3,000,000 had been subscribed.
White Sulphur Springs was the first to report an over-subscription but the report was made twenty minutes before the campaign actually opened.

Green County, Arkansas, has wired Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo that the country's apportionment of the third Liberty Loan had been fully subscribed. The telegram closed with a statement that the people were ready for the fourth loan.

Outlook Bright, Washington Thinks
Washington, April 6.—Under the auspices of a great enemy drive, the American spirit and determination to win the war is advancing today in one mighty demonstration on the opening of the third Liberty loan campaign for $3,000,000,000.

The capital is blazoned from end to end with an array of posters, and already subscriptions to the loan are being flashed into the Treasury Department, where the Liberty loan "General Staff" is directing the national celebration.

Treasury Dept. Confident.
The war anniversary and the third Liberty loan have taken the European war is no less the cause for the continuous display of holiday celebration than the beginning of the loan drive itself. Confidence is being expressed by Treasury officials and bankers at the quick response which the people have made to the loan, and while today is a half-holiday in most cities, and a full legal holiday in St. Louis, where Vice President Marshall is speaking, the spirit of sacrifice and eager patriotism is evident and there is little doubt expressed as to the possibilities for a generous over-subscription.

At Washington flags and bunting are unfurled in the sunlight and almost every door knob is hung with the red, white and blue Liberty bell hangers, with the slogan warning the reader to "ring me again."

President in Baltimore.
President Wilson is heading a distinguished delegation en route for Baltimore, where the opening of the loan will have his personal direction.

How Liberty Loan Being Launched Today

Lynn, Mass., was the first town to ring the Liberty bell today, reporting over subscription of its quota at 9 o'clock.
The New York financial district responded early, ten and fifteen million dollar subscriptions being reported.
Notable opening shots:
President Wilson in Baltimore, Vice President Marshall in St. Louis, Secretary McAdoo in Philadelphia, Secretary of the Navy Daniels in Cleveland.
Millions of Liberty bells distributed in New York.

Treasury Department already has reports of many subscriptions which will not be made public until Monday.
Cannon boom ten thousand soldiers and sailors parade in Chicago.
Seven cities reported over-subscription of quota at 9:03 a. m.
Eighty thousand parade in Boston.
Twenty-eight in the first half hour parade in New York.

TWO NEW ASSISTANT SECRETARIES OF WAR NOMINATED BY PRESIDENT—THEY ARE

Washington, April 6.—Edward R. Stettinius and Frederick F. Keppel were today nominated by President Wilson for appointment as second and third assistant secretaries of war, respectively. The new posts were created by a recent act of Congress. Stettinius has been holding the post of Surveyor General.

Whether the posts will be continued and a successor named or whether he will be named to the duties of the two offices is not stated.
Keppel is a confidential clerk of Secretary of War Woodrow Wilson. He has held the position of Surveyor General.

ITALY PREPARED FOR NEW ATTACK

Positions Along Piave River Strengthened in Expectation of New Advance by Austro-Hungarians.
Rome, April 6.—Italy is now prepared to meet any offensive operations that the Austro-German armies may undertake. During the lull in the fighting the Italian positions along the Piave river and on the Asiago Plateau and the mountains flanking the plateau have been strengthened. The Italian forces have been reorganized and reinforced and the spirit of the troops was never better.

The Italian military authorities are convinced that the Teutonic armies plan a renewal of their offensive, but it is not known just when it will come.
Interest in the Picardy battle is keen among the civilian population and the troops. Having seen the British and French in action against the Austro-German armies in Italy, the Italians are confident that the fighting will result in an overwhelming victory for the Allies.

NEW HAVEN CELEBRATES.

New Haven, April 6.—Featured by fine weather and a monster parade this city inaugurates its third Liberty loan campaign today. Celebrations of a similar character marked the opening of the big drive in other cities and towns of the state. The Yale reserve officers training corps and naval training unit joined in the parade here. Confidence was rampant everywhere that the quotas of the principal cities and of the state itself, an aggregate of $33,040,000 would be over-subscribed in short order.

SYRIAN ALIEN SENTENCED.

New Britain, April 6.—Because when he was asked to buy thrift stamps to aid in winning the War Daniel Isaac, a Syrian, according to witnesses, said:
"D—this country," "To H— with this country," and declared that Germany would "lick" the U. S. A. he was sent to jail for six months on a technical charge of breach of the peace, in the police court today. Isaac had been a resident here for four years and although he professed to be a Christian, witnesses said he swore by Allah.

MANCHESTER WELCOMES ITS CAMP DEVENS BOYS

Thousands Line Main Street to Cheer 301st Machine Gun Battalion
TOWN IN HOLIDAY DRESS

Biggest Demonstration Since G Boys Came Back From the Mexican Border.

Manchester aflutter with flags; Manchester hoarse from cheering; Manchester happy and proud and just flowing over with patriotism, today welcomed right royally its own soldier boys from Camp Devens in what was surely the biggest demonstration seen here since our Co. G boys came back from the Mexican border.

Main Street Crowded.
Crowded does not explain clearly enough the condition of Main street when the bugle sounded the advance at the Recreation Center in the south end. Main street was jammed. A solid mass of laughing, cheering humanity stopped traffic on both sidewalks. Dense as the throngs were at the start of the line of march, this crowd was small compared with the thousands who gathered on to the laws of the Center church. The roof of the Odd Fellows block was lined with watchers. Looking south from the Center it was an inspiring sight. Traffic had been stopped or shunted into side streets and the marchers had a clear path, but as they passed, the crowds rushed from the sidewalks and crowded in to the streets giving the marchers just barely enough room to get through.

DEVENS BOYS CHEERED.

From the south end clear to Depot Square the Camp Devens boys were cheered lustily. It seemed marvelous to many that these same boys only a short time ago were clerks and mechanics who knew absolutely nothing about military tactics. Erect and bronzed the boys marched like veterans. A staccato command by an

1,300 POLES STRIKE AT TERRYVILLE.

Terryville, April 6.—About 1300 employees of the 1,500 employed at the Eagle Lock Company's plant are on strike today asking for an advance in wages of from 10 to 25 per cent. The strike began yesterday when several hundred employees left work. They were joined today by several hundred more. All on strike are Poles.

Some Features Of Big Fight

London, April 6.—Never in the world's history has there been such concentration of men and guns as in the mighty battle of Picardy. In a single engagement against the French the Germans used nearly 200,000 men, while the number of guns in action is now estimated at approximately 30,000 on both sides. Counting the active fighters, the reinforcements and reserves, it is estimated that there are close to 3,000,000 men on the 90-mile front.

Features of Situation.
British improved positions at Hangard.
Costly German attacks continued from Somme to point south of Alette.

German gains slightly at Dernacourt.
German gain southwest of Albert wiped out by brilliant British counter attack.

French recaptured important ground.
This is the seventeenth day of the battle.

German losses continue tremendous.
General Foch, the generalissimo of the Allied forces, announced that Shells Rheims Again.

Amsterdam, April 6.—German artillery is again shelling Rheims Cathedral, one of the most famous sacred edifices in Europe. In explanation the German war office said that the bombardment "was in retaliation for the shelling of German shelters in Laon."

Big Gun Still Makes Talk.
Paris, April 6.—French military experts continue to speculate on the nature of the long range German gun that has been bombarding Paris from the forest of St. Gobain. One expressed the belief today that the monster is mounted upon a railway truck and that it is shunted into a tunnel after each shot so that French armies would not be able to drop bombs upon the emplacement. French artillery is only 11 miles from the German front in the St. Gobain sector and the opinion is advanced that the long distance gun which German prisoners claimed to have exploded recently was destroyed by French cannon.

Surround "Manchester Redoubt."

London, April 6.—Some of the fighting in the Picardy battle has taken place in mist so thick that the soldiers had great difficulty in telling friends from enemies. At one section of the British front known as Manchester Redoubt, because it was held by Manchester troops a patrol that had gone out to reconnoiter got lost and when the men returned they found the redoubt surrounded by Germans.

Allies Better Fighters.

Paris, April 6.—The superior fighting quality of the Allied soldiers is shown by the result of the fighting in the Castel-Moreuil sector of the Picardy battle front. The Petit Parisien stated today that 11 German divisions were used in the attacks on that zone, supported by heavy artillery fire, but were repulsed by three French divisions. The German objective was Ailly, on the Clermont-Amiens railroad, but they were unable to make any headway.

BRITISH ADVANCE IN HANGARD SECTOR; FOES' ASSAULTS FAIL

Ally's Counter Attacks Gain Some Ground—Amiens, German Objective, Still Nine Miles Distant — Fighting North of Somme Continues—Re-capture of Alette by British Aids in Defense of Albert

London, April 6.—Counter-attacks in the Hangard sector of the Picardy battle front, the British have improved their positions, the war office announced today.

(Hangard lies about ten miles southeast of Amiens, the German objective and is on the Luce Rivulet.)

North of the Somme river fighting continued along the whole front to a point just south of Alette, the official report said.

(Alette is about 12 miles north of Albert and was recently recaptured from the Germans by the British.)

German Fail South of Alette.
The struggle on the front south of Alette continued until late evening, but attained no further success than his futile efforts during the morning.

The Germans efforts cost them heavily.

"North of the Somme river fighting on the whole front to the district south of Alette continued until a late hour in the evening," said the official announcement.

The enemy constantly attacked but with no further success than he did in the morning. The British improved their positions in the neighborhood of Hangard by counter-attacks.

German Gains Negligible.
London, April 6.—Temporarily ceasing their attacks at the apex of the salient the Germans concentrated their greatest pressure at points to the north and south, according to advices received from the front today.

The fighting continues with unabated fury and, while the Germans have made a few trifling gains, the advances have been made at such cost as to render them negligible.

Field Marshal Haig reported today that the Germans had begun to attack southwest of Albert, which upheld the prediction that they would attempt a pincer movement against Amiens by striking against this base city from the northeast and southeast.

The Germans already were assaulting the French lines southeast of Amiens in an attempt to cut the Amiens-Clermont railway, but were repulsed in both zones of fighting.

British Report.
"Since dawn on Friday morning the Germans have been delivering heavy attacks north and south of Dernacourt, southeast of Albert and in the region of Moyenville," the war office stated. "At Dernacourt and southwest of Albert they succeeded in getting a footing in some advanced lines. In the Albert sector the British front was quickly restored by a counter-attack. In the district of Meaulle there has been some infantry fighting but the enemy gained no advantage. The British lines were heavily shelled in the Beaumont-Hamel sector. The British attacked in the region of Gommecourt and captured 120 prisoners."

On the French section of the front the Germans were fought to a complete standstill and were unable to renew the battle in the zone north of Montdidier, which was the scene of much bloody fighting on the previous day.

French Report.
"French troops, by means of vigorous counter attacks, have succeeded in improving their positions at a number of points," said the communique issued by the French war office on Friday night.

In the regions of Mailey Mainval and Cantigny, French forces carried out a brilliant counter move and captured the outskirts of the latter place.

The German war office claimed no gains in its official statement on Friday night.

German Report.
The official German report spoke of only artillery activity and "local" engagements. Strong French counter-attacks failed, the statement added. Mention was made of some artillery activity on the yet to be seen.

South of Luce Rivulet the German front is now between eight and nine miles from Amiens.

(The French war office stated that the French lines had been recaptured to a point west of Castel. Castel is about nine miles southeast of Amiens.)

600,000 Teutons Engaged.
The gallantry of the British and French armies in withstanding the smashing blows of the German soldiers has won the admiration of the whole world. Hindenburg continues to throw fresh troops into the battle, and it is estimated that approximately 600,000 men were actively engaged in the combats that have been fought during the past 48 hours. This estimate, of course, does not include the reserves held behind the lines.

The fighting has taken place along 30 miles of the 80-mile Picardy front.

The lull that developed at the point of the German salient south of the Somme river was regarded as only temporary and it was expected to be resumed any hour.

Official reports of the fighting have been late in coming in, due to the fluctuating course of the struggle.

More British Reports.
(The British war office now issues three official communications daily. The one put out shortly before noon usually covers the operations of the preceding day. The statement issued early in the evening relates to the fighting of the preceding night. The third report, given out at night brings the official news of the struggle up to the morning of the day which it is issued.)

EAST HADDAM FIRST OVER TOP IN 1918

Hartford, April 6.—Before the third Liberty loan campaign was fairly under way today the Committee for Hartford, Middletown and East Haddam counties were notified that East Haddam had gone handover-hand "over the top," having exceeded its assigned quota of $84,000 by about 50 per cent. E. W. Hason, chairman of the East Haddam committee, reported subscriptions amounting to $48,758 this morning.

SUNDAY IN THE CHURCHES

CANTATA TO BE SUNG BY SO. METHODIST CHOIR

"Olivet to Calvary" Recalls Last Day's of Our Saviour's Life

TOMORROW EVENING AT 7

Regular Choir to be Enlarged—Complete Program of the Various Themes.

The principal topic of discussion among local church folks this week is the cantata "From Olivet to Calvary" which will be sung tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock at the South Methodist church by an enlarged choir and well known soloists.

"Olivet to Calvary" recalls simply and reverently the scenes which mark the last few days of the Saviour's life on earth, and some of the suggestions reflected thereby. The rejoicing of the multitude with hosannas and psalms, the view of Jerusalem from the steep of Olivet, the lament over the beautiful city, the scene in the temple, and the lonely walk back over the mountain at night, form the chief features of the first part.

Part II opens with the supper of the Passover, at which Jesus washes His disciples' feet, and gives to his friends the new commandment of love for one another as the sign of true discipleship. From this the scene passes to the infinite pathos of the Garden of Gethsemane, the sudden appearance of the hostile crowd, Jesus forsaken by his disciples. His utter loneliness among ruthless foes, the tumult before Pilate in the Judgment Hall, the Passage of the Cross, the tragic program and the names of those taking part, follow:

- Organ Prelude, "Cortege Funebre." Dubois
- Hymn.
- Prayer.
- Scripture.
- Cantata, "From Olivet to Calvary."

- Part I.
- 1—On the way to Jerusalem.
- 2—Before Jerusalem.
- 3—In the Temple.
- 4—The Mount of Olives.
- Part II.
- 5—A New Commandment.
- 6—Gethsemane.
- 7—Betrayed and Forsaken.
- 8—Before Pilate.
- 9—The March to Calvary.
- 10—Calvary.

officer and like one man the lines shifted or reformed.

The local police in front, the Home Guard Companies and the Boy Scouts all marched well and came in for a generous share of the cheers.

Decorations Everywhere. All along Main street and especially in the south end flags and bunting were everywhere. At Oak street a rope had been strung across Main street and on it hung the flags of all Allies, Japan, Belgium, England, France and Old Glory. All of the business blocks were draped to the roof with bunting and flags.

The Line of March. The parade went across town on Main street to Depot Square and there Marshal Austin Cheney, who led the parade, swung around and countermarched back again to the south end. The parade disbanded at the point whence the parade started. After that the Devens boys were allowed to go to their homes or stroll about the town.

Machine Gun Demonstration. After the parade a machine gun was mounted on a truck and at different points along Main street, a squad of the Devens boys showed how the gun is worked. As the crowds gathered, Boy Scouts sold tickets for tonight's big minstrel show and dance at Cheney hall. From present indication the hall will be hardly big enough to accommodate all who will try to attend the show tonight. It may be remembered that the receipts from this minstrel show go to our boys fund at Camp Devens so that if you don't care to attend, show that you are backing the Manchester boys by buying a ticket.

The Boys Arrive. At half past twelve today sixty of the soldier boys from Devens arrived at the railroad station. They came in from Putnam on the noon train. This contingent was due to arrive on the 10.45 train but they missed connections at Putnam and had to wait for the noon train. This discouraged the men somewhat for they were all eager to get to Manchester as quickly as possible. All were in the best of spirits when they arrived however and it was evident that they had a good time coming down on the train.

A large crowd was present at the station. It was not generally known when the men would arrive or a much larger crowd would have been present to welcome them.

Welcoming Committee. A committee of the Home Guardsmen was present as was a committee from the local Defense Council. The National Army men piled off the train in true army fashion and formed in the square where the roll was called showing all men present. It was originally planned to have the soldiers march to Cheney Hall where dinner would be served. It was a streak of good luck that made the men lose the train at Putnam for by

WHAT'S WHAT AND WHO'S WHO IN MANCHESTER MOVIE HOUSES BY THEIR OWN PRESS AGENTS.

AT THE PARK.

"The best and biggest Saturday night bill ever offered in Manchester" is the way John F. Sullivan, speaks of tonight's offering at the Popular Playhouse. And when you see the pictures you will agree with him.

The great and only Billy West, Chaplin's greatest rival, will be shown in a new two reeler that will keep you giggling for a half hour.

Then there will be an L-Ko comedy that will get all the rest of the laughs if there are any left in the audience.

Then will come a thriller, Eddie Polo in the greatest chapter yet in that master serial, "The Bull's Eye." There will be two reels of this, packed full of pep and punch. The regular movie fans who are following the story of this serial already number a fairly good sized audience for the Park.

Last but not least, will come a picture of war torn Belgium. The picture tells the story of a Belgian refugee brought to America by wealthy Americans who find her half crazed by the destruction of her home and the loss of her friends and relatives. Adoree is her name and she is brought to America by the Americans. There her childish ways and her sweet winsomeness arouse a desire in the heart of the man for a child of his own. His wife promises that the deepest desire of his heart will be fulfilled when he returns from a necessary trip of several months duration to Cuba. While he is gone a child is born to Adoree and Adoree is induced to part with it as the American woman promises that she will care for the infant tenderly. When the man returns from Cuba, Adoree's child is presented to him as his own. The rest will surprise you tonight. "Laws Outlaw" will be the feature tomorrow night.

Excitement Intense at Collinsville and East St. Louis—Dead Man Praeger Before Death Said Head of Miners' Union Had Threatened Him with Violence.

Collinsville, Ill., April 6.—William R. Trautman, of East St. Louis, first assistant Attorney General of Illinois and Colonel Claude E. Eriman of Effingham, Ill., representatives of the Adjutant General's office at Springfield, have arrived here and are in charge of the investigation of the lynching of Robert P. Praeger, alleged German enemy alien and draft evader, by a mob near Collinsville early yesterday morning.

Developments of the day included: Governor Lowden threatened to place Madison County under martial law if necessary, to stop mob violence.

Governor Lowden of E SHRDU Mayor Holz of Edwardsville, charged that the mob intended to tar and feather alleged pro-Germans there today as a part of the Liberty loan celebration.

A "proclamation" issued by Praeger just before he was hanged charged Jim Faranow, president of the Maryville Miners' Union, with threatening him with mob violence. Mayor Siegel of Collinsville, sent an open letter to United States Senator Overman urging more stringent laws against disloyalty.

Thousands View Body. While state and county authorities were putting the wheels in motion to bring about the arrest of the mob leaders, thousands of persons flocked to the undertaking establishment of Vincent Haer in Collinsville to view the body of Praeger.

In Edwardsville, the county seat, Mayor Hotz, in a speech at a Liberty loan meeting declared that he knew personally of an organization that intended to tar and feather certain alleged pro-Germans during a big Liberty loan celebration to be held there this morning. He declared he would swear in fifty deputies to try to maintain order and urged the citizens not to participate in any mob violence.

AT THE CIRCLE.

If you feel a little blue, and can't smile, and feel the world's all wrong, just drop into the Circle this evening and see Harry Morey and Gladys Leslie in the Vitagraph Blue Ribbon masterpiece, "His Own People", a comedy drama of Irish life in 6 acts. It is one of those radiant, rollicking comedy dramas of old Ireland, a play of many delights that takes you to a village of the Emerald Isle, entertains you with a stirring drama, the prettiest of romances, and joyous situations in which figure geese, the inevitable Irish pig and "Patsy" the fuzzy faced wonder dog. The director has caught the spirit of the play, and he must have been an Irishman, because the characters and settings are wonderful. The story is that of a pretty colleen who led a forgemaster a gay chase, until he showed an interest in the lady of the castle, and then she—well you want to be surprised and delighted by the picture itself.

Other reels to be shown this evening are the thirteenth episode of "Vengeance and the Woman," a Vitagraph comedy and a special edition of the "Hearst-Pathé." Tomorrow evening, Vivian Martin will be seen in a Paramount play, "The Sunset Trail," a stirring story of the great West in its palmy days. A Charlie Chaplin special and the Screen Review are also included in tomorrow evening's program.

On Monday and Tuesday of the coming week the management will present George Walsh in a tremendous seven act military drama, "The Pride of New York," the best picture that George Walsh has ever done. The stunts out-Walsh—Walsh and the battle scenes are among the best ever staged by Fox.

ILLINOIS GOVERNOR THREATENS MARTIAL LAW AFTER LYNCHING

Excitement Intense at Collinsville and East St. Louis—Dead Man Praeger Before Death Said Head of Miners' Union Had Threatened Him with Violence.

Collinsville, Ill., April 6.—William R. Trautman, of East St. Louis, first assistant Attorney General of Illinois and Colonel Claude E. Eriman of Effingham, Ill., representatives of the Adjutant General's office at Springfield, have arrived here and are in charge of the investigation of the lynching of Robert P. Praeger, alleged German enemy alien and draft evader, by a mob near Collinsville early yesterday morning.

Developments of the day included: Governor Lowden threatened to place Madison County under martial law if necessary, to stop mob violence.

Governor Lowden of E SHRDU Mayor Holz of Edwardsville, charged that the mob intended to tar and feather alleged pro-Germans there today as a part of the Liberty loan celebration.

A "proclamation" issued by Praeger just before he was hanged charged Jim Faranow, president of the Maryville Miners' Union, with threatening him with mob violence. Mayor Siegel of Collinsville, sent an open letter to United States Senator Overman urging more stringent laws against disloyalty.

Thousands View Body. While state and county authorities were putting the wheels in motion to bring about the arrest of the mob leaders, thousands of persons flocked to the undertaking establishment of Vincent Haer in Collinsville to view the body of Praeger.

INTERMOUNTAIN FOOD CONSERVATION SHOW OPENS AT DENVER, COL.

Colorado Manufacturers' Association Finances Exposition, First of Its Kind in West—Woman's Part in Food Providing Shown.

Denver, Col., April 6.—Financed by the Colorado Manufacturers' Association, supervised by a government agent, and sponsored by every women's club in the State, the Intermountain Food Conservation exposition opened here today in the municipal auditorium.

The call for the exposition which is the first of its kind to be held in the West, says in part:
"The women of the nation are to recreate, as well as control, all of the food markets; and, therefore, as an economic sequence, the women of America must solve the problems of conservation, transportation and consumption.

"The Government, even in the stress of war, recognizes a legitimate limit in the conservation of foods.
But it circumscribes food production only by the abilities, opportunities and inclinations of those who produce the foods."
The exposition will continue until April 13.

Lieutenant Harold Farnham, of the Royal Inniskilling Fusiliers, a well-known battalion commander, is also reported missing.

ARBOR DAY 19TH GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS

Bird Day as Usual on Same Date—Schools to Observe
It
THE PROCLAMATION

Teachers Asked to "Impress" Upon Children Wanton Destruction of Song Birds and Eggs a Crime.

Governor Holcomb today issued the annual proclamation of Arbor and Bird Day. The date this year will be April 19.

This is the proclamation:
Our statutes provide that the Governor shall annually appoint an arbor and bird day to be observed in the schools. In compliance therewith I hereby designate Friday, the nineteenth day of April, 1918, as

ARBOR AND BIRD DAY
on which day the teachers will read this proclamation to their scholars and impress upon them that the wanton destruction of song birds and of their eggs is a crime, and that the planting and preservation of trees benefits them and succeeding generations, and materially adds to the beauties of their state, which is now one of the most attractive states in the Union.

Given under my hand and seal of the State at the Capitol, in Hartford, this sixth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-second.

"SAVE THE BABIES" CAMPAIGN BEGINS SUNDAY; ALL "KIDDIES" OF SCHOOL AGE TO BE WEIGHED

Washington, April 6.—"Save the babies!"

This is the object of a great drive to be launched tomorrow, the first anniversary of America's participation in the world war. The campaign will be waged under the direction of the child welfare department of the woman's committee, Council of National Defense. Dr. Jester B. Peix-otto, executive chairman of the department, and Miss Julia Lathrop, head of the bureau, have arranged a programme which, if generally carried out, will go far, they believe, to decrease infant mortality and to improve the health of children throughout the country. The drive will be known as "The Children's Year."

Some of the first things to be undertaken are to be a general weighing and measuring of all children under school age, a drive for public or private funds for public health nurses, and the securing of volunteers, to be called Home Health Volunteers, who will be able to assist the nurses in matters that do not require professional training. At the end of the weighing and measuring period, June 6, a baby week may be held in the different States. A sort of almanac for the entire year will be issued from time to time, with further suggestions.

Dr. Peixotto urges every woman interested in child welfare to acquaint herself with this programme through her local committee, and to take an active part in it. If given support it should be easy, according to the conclusions reached at the children's bureau, to prevent the death of 100,000 children under five years of age in the coming year.

"If every woman will put her shoulder to the wheel, 'Children's Year' is an assured success," said
Miss Lathrop today.

SCOPE OF MARKET DEMAND BROADENS

Steel Common Sells Up—Atlantic
Gulf & West Indies Gains over Three Points—U. S. Bonds Unchanged—Quotations.

New York, April 6.—The stock market opened today with a display of pronounced buying of many issues, which caused advances around one point in the active issues. Most interest was attached to the accumulation of "Distillers' Securities, which rose one point to 42 1/2. Marine Preferred made a gain of 1 1/2 to 92 and Mexican Petroleum advanced 1 1/2 to 94 1/2. U. S. Steel Common was 1/2 higher at 90 1/2.
Only a few of the railroad stocks were traded in, with Reading the only active one, moving up 1/2 to 81 1/2.

Minor steel industries made fractional gains with the exception of Baldwin Locomotive, which moved up 1/4 to 76. Texas Company showed a gain of 1/2 to 145 1/2.

Liberty 3 1/2 were traded in at 98 7/8.

During the day many investments were made in the Liberty loan, and the market covering of shorts was broadened. Common, which sold up to 31 3/4. Corn Products was in demand, moving up to 37 3/8, and Marine Preferred advanced over two points to 94.

The market closed strong today;
government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds strong.

Cotton.

Considering the many rains in the southwest last night, the cotton market had a very steady opening this morning, first prices selling at advances of 3 to 17 points. A good deal of the strength was due to covering but some of it was attributed to buying by trade interests.

WANTON WASTE MAY LOSE THE WAR

Food Administration Office Says Connecticut Homes Are Hurting Cause.

Hartford.—Letters received from Connecticut soldiers now fighting in France frequently contain such a passage as, "They don't seem to have any too much to eat over here." In discussing the food situation in France and Italy one of the officials of the Federal Food Administration for Connecticut recently exclaimed:

"I simply can't understand why so many careless people and wanton wasters in this and other states will not stop to consider what their failure to conserve and to follow the Food Administration's suggestions may mean to this country. Can't they understand that the United States and the Allies are at the height of a titanic contest on the result of which depends the very existence of business here in Connecticut and the very existence of our own homes?"

Wheat Wantonly Wasted.

"At the very moment when garbage pails containing portions of loaves of wheat bread and large chunks of meat are being removed from some Connecticut homes it is by no means improbable that a boy from that very home or perhaps from the next house would appreciate those very foodstuffs, wheat and meat. There is no doubt but that the French and Italian civilian population are in actual want for such things as are thoughtlessly wasted and thrown away in this country. Men, of course, are necessary to win the war, and the greater thousands will decide the issue, but it will be the thousands who are fed and whose supplies continue to reach them from the rear."

NEW FOOD RULES FOR BAKERS AND OTHERS

Hartford.—Among the latest regulations promulgated by the Federal Food Administration for Connecticut are briefly the following:

All licensed bakers (all must be licensed if they use three or more barrels of flour per month) must make their Victory bread and rolls on and after April 14 "75-25," or not more than three-quarters wheat and at least one-quarter cereal substitutes. A standard system of periodic inspection is being devised to keep a close check on commercial bakers.

Hotels, restaurants and all public eating places must hereafter limit their purchases of wheat flour to six pounds for every 90 meals served. This forces them to conform to the limitations so urgently suggested to all householders, that each individual should cut his normal consumption of wheat in one-half and use not more than one and one-half pounds of wheat per week.

This allowance takes an accounting of all the available wheat in the country until the next harvest.

In addition to observing wheatless
Mondays and Wednesdays, public eating places must not serve more than two ounces of wheat flour to any one guest at any one meal either in the form of breadstuffs, macaroni, crackers, pastry, pies, cakes or wheat breakfast cereals.

Bakers and grocers are urged to reduce the volume of Victory bread sold by taking advantage of the Food Administration's permission to bake and sell the three-quarter pound loaf of bread.

Potatoes are no longer a substitute to be sold with wheat flour.

Chickens weighing two pounds or less and roosters may be killed and sold under the Food Administration's regulations, and any unlicensed dealer who cares to ignore the wise administration of the Food Administration may daunt his entire poultry yard if he carries to run counter to the administration's warning that from now until May 1 is the period during which egg-laying should be encouraged.

FILL ALL REFRIGERATOR CARS.

Hartford.—The Federal Food Administration for Connecticut is calling attention to the advice it has given to all shippers of eggs that they load refrigerator cars to the maximum so far as is consonant with safe carriage, the carload minimum being 24,000 pounds.
As to a report in circulation that refrigerator cars are plentiful, the Food Administration points out that the heavy production of perishables will create an unusual demand for refrigerator cars, which in all cases should be loaded by the shippers as heavily as possible without serious risk to the contents.

HOW TO TELL A CHICKEN.

Hartford.—So many inquiries have been made of the Food Administration as to how to tell a rooster from a pullet that the Food Administration tells to all inquirers this story as related by a Maine spinster:

"You ask how we may tell roosters from pullets. Well, about the best method is the one advanced by a neighbor, who said: 'Mix some meal and water, and when the chickens are a few days old drop a little in front of them.
If he eats it it's a rooster; if she eats
it's a pullet.'"

Ansonia, April 6.—An Italian known only to the police as "Mike", was shot and instantly killed by Sal-vatore Battì, his chum and roommate in the hallway of the house where they lodged together at 31 Powe street, in the Italian colony late last night. The body of the murdered man was found in the hallway of the house by the man with whom they roomed. Battì fled, after the shooting and had not been captured up to this noon. Coroner Mix accompanied by Detective Tittle and Gianelli, of New Haven, came here this forenoon and with detective Urbano, of the local force, began an investigation of the murder.

The Conquerors

AIL The Conquerors of the Road Hail the tires that triumphed in the bitterest struggle ever staged between roads and tires, a conflict of 4,178,744 tire miles. Hail Goodrich Tested Tires.

Hear the story of a good fight well won.
One year ago Goodrich, challenging the roads of America to a test of strength, sent forth six Test Car Fleets to battle America's roads in every region of the country.

GOODRICH TESTED TIRES

The roads did their worst. East, west, north and south, as the Test Car Fleets whirled from state to state, the teeth of the road gnawed at Goodrich Tires.

But the tires conquered with phenomenal mileage that doubled Goodrich's pride. From that test covering millions of miles, the Test Car Fleets came back with a new tire standard, the TESTED of Goodrich Tested Tires.

Tested Tires mean certainty of service, proved service, and that means a lot to a tire user.
It means long life in a tire, and dependability on the road, for no hidden weakness could conceal itself in that year long test of Goodrich's Test Car Fleets.

SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, proved themselves masters of the road. The spiral-wrapped, cable-cord tire body, and the tough, close-clutch, cross-banded black safety tread defied the rough going.

Under light and heavy cars they proved themselves not for one car or one driver, or one road, but all cars, all drivers,
all roads.

Reap the benefits of this nation-wide victory of Goodrich Tires, the sure mileage and dependability of a proven tire service, by demanding tires that won the title, "America's Tested Tires."

A WORD TO CONTRIBUTORS.

In the activities of the many organizations and committees connected with war work the newspapers are called upon to print a mass of literature which taxes their columns to the limit. While The Evening Herald is ready and glad to help along any good cause we trust each contributor will remember that he is only one of many who are daily asking for space and will state his case as concisely as possible. Furthermore, please write on only one side of the paper and so facilitate the work of both the editor and the printer.

SUFFRAGE EDUCATION.

The Connecticut suffragists are keeping hard at their work, in spite of opposition, indifference on the part of masculines because of stronger interest in the war, and other obstacles. Leaders of the party admit that most of the rank and file are likely to enroll in the Republican or Democratic party, with the Socialists making a better showing in certain large cities than we should like to have them.

It is difficult to see what the women have to gain from getting the vote, except holding the balance of power. That is of course a very important exception, if the opportunity is used, but any class sufficiently well organized and numerous enough can attain its ends in a similar way. The American Federation of Labor is said to oppose political activities by its members, yet it has come to be a factor in every election, because of its strength and influence. And not merely in every election, but between elections, in initiating or supporting legislation favorable to it.

We clip from an announcement which has reached this office from the Connecticut Woman's Suffrage Association:

"Mrs. Nancy Schoonmaker, citizenship chairman for the C. W. S. A., will begin this week a six weeks' course of citizenship lectures for the women of New Haven and vicinity. She will hold two classes a day, giving her lectures one day a week in each town for six successive weeks. 'Never before,' said Miss Ludington, 'has a more concentrated effort been made to educate a large body of prospective voters. We hope by these citizenship courses for women to reach every woman of the state, no matter what her suffrage beliefs may be, because everyone realizes now that suffrage for women is inevitable. All women want to be prepared for citizenship. What we are doing in New Haven county will soon be carried to every part of the state.'"

THE HARTFORD AUTO SHOW.

The automobile show in the State armory at the capital has most of the merits of a successful exhibit and few of its defects. It has provided prospective buyers with the opportunity of comparing at one time many of the representative makes of car and of the different types of each make. It has advertised the cars as nothing else perhaps could. And finally it has made for co-operation among the dealers.

Beauty keeps close step with utility in the new models, and pleasure cars and trucks alike show a vast improvement over a year ago, especially perhaps the latter. The war has compelled many a factory to curtail its production of pleasure cars and turn to more practical production, and the development of commercial vehicles of many kinds during this first year of the war has been wonderful. To the delivery car, such as the merchant uses, have been added "trailers" and trucks of new types, power and size. Before long state highway commissions will have to set a limit upon the weight of some of these trucks, if improved roads are to stand up under them.

Prices have been kept down, as a rule, within reasonable limits. The Hartford automobile show has had considerably more than a local interest and benefit.

A YEAR OF WAR.

It is not a very reputable showing that the Democratic administration has made during this first year of war, which ended yesterday. In spite of the loyal support of the Republicans in both the Senate and House, a support tendered often when most needed owing to temporary opposition from various Democrats in Congress, the record is by no means what it should have been. Congress, it is true, has done well, but some of the executive departments, and especially certain bureaus subordinate to them, have been slow in pushing the preparedness program.

Secretary Daniels of the Navy, in spite of the great work he has performed in creating a navy, himself has been open to serious criticism because of many unnecessary accidents at sea with accompanying losses of life and of naval vessels of one sort or another. Secretary Baker, who has been most under fire, much of it unjust, has made the mistakes and exhibited the defects which must be expected of a civilian suddenly placed in high governmental position with the duties of which he is not familiar.

The same trouble has been experienced with Fuel Administrator Garfield in a less degree, while the creation of a Food Administration has been attended with some unavoidable friction at the outset. Mr. McAdoo hardly has had time to show what he can do as yet, but certain reforms, like the universal way bill, indicate what may be expected of him.

The accomplishments of the administration we published yesterday.

"Lemons bring out the hidden beauty," reads an interesting "ad" in a contemporary. Let us hear no more about beauty being skin deep.

The mob which lynched one Praeger of Collinsville, Ill., ought to be held as strictly to task as a white mob lynching a negro. There are laws covering disloyalty and they should be used.

The last of the British Rothschilds is dead in London, says a dispatch of yesterday. He is Alfred de Rothschild and he leaves an estate of only $7,500,000. Most of the money goes to Lord and Lady Carnarvon, who were interested with him in art. Art, not finance, was his chief interest.

The Liberty bond poster, drawn by Clifford Beebe, is a credit to the young amateur. The subject is well-chosen and well-executed. If that poster doesn't stir the town to buy bonds, we don't know what poster will. Mr. Beebe has studied under Flag of Hartford, who is a relative of the well known illustrator, James Montgomery Flagg.

The warning against danger of forest fires which State Forester W. O. Filley has issued, is timely. It is a queer neglect of common conservation to let our fast diminishing woods burn up. We need them for more purposes than one. In many states good for nothings have been known to set fires in order to draw the high pay given for quick work in putting them out. That sort of n'er do well ought to get the limit of the law.

A Manchester audience has rarely been more stirred than were the five hundred people who heard Miss Frazer talk yesterday afternoon on Women in War Work. Nothing could be more impressive and inspiring than the account given in her clear, simple style of the way England has gathered her strength and arisen to meet this world crisis with the shoulder of every woman and child set firmly to the wheel. With their army of three years ago practically wiped out and their immense new army suffering heavy losses continually, a vast home army, greatly strengthened by England's loyal women, has arisen to carry on to the end and save England and the world for Democracy just as surely as if they were fighting on the firing line.

MISS FRASER THRILLS MANCHESTER AUDIENCE

Tells Us What English Women Are Doing in the Great World War

MILLIONS OF WOMEN HELP

Taking Men's Places in All Kinds of War Work—Extracts From Speech.

The only thing regrettable about Miss Helen Fraser's lecture at the high school hall yesterday was the fact that it was given in the afternoon when fewer people had the opportunity of hearing this brilliant woman. Without a doubt, Miss Fraser is the best speaker of her sex who has talked to Manchester people since the war broke out and there are those who say she is even better than themself-speakers the town has been fortunate to hear. Miss Fraser is a very inspiring talker. It is evident that she has learned a number of American methods on the platform in her last few months in this country. Her actions during her talk were rather mannish. She shoved her hands in her pockets, pulled them out again to make a gesture in true American style.

Auspices, Women's Committee.

The meeting yesterday afternoon which was held under the auspices of the Women's committee of the Connecticut Council of Defense was opened by F. A. Verplanck. Mr. Verplanck explained the third Liberty Loan. He then turned the meeting over to Rev. J. S. Neill of St. Mary's church. Rev. Neill contrasted the treatment of the prisoners on the part of the British during the Revolution and the treatment given prisoners by Germany during this war. He said that his great grandfather had been captured by the British during the revolution while out in the Hudson river. He had his six months' old son with him. The British took both the father and child. When the war was over both were returned to their people none the worse for their experience. In this war the Germans never return prisoners who are fit for service of any kind. The children they capture are sent into Germany to be brought up as Germans and never returned.

Miss Fraser Introduced.

Miss Fraser then was introduced. In order to show why the women in England must work, Miss Fraser told of what the men were doing in giving up their all to go and fight. Since the war started Great Britain has put into war seven millions of men. Between five and a half and six millions of these have come from the British Isles alone. That is, one person in every eight is now in the service. This would be America's condition if we put an army of twelve millions into the field. This is more readily understood if we say that the scarcity of man power all over England is the same as if we had taken 1,250 men out of Manchester. All England is the same. One man in every eight persons is away on duty. In France conditions are still worse where one man in every six persons is in the service.

How England Went to War.

How England went into war was carefully explained by Miss Fraser. The fact that England was the last of the European powers to declare war on Germany was emphasized. She told of the conditions in the army which the Kaiser called the little contemptible army. There are but seven hundred of these "contemptibles" left. They had a hard fight and the retreat they took part in is called the historic retreat. A new army was raised. The casualties among the British the first year of the war were a half million. The old army has perished. The first women given a chance in the war were the nurses. But the war soon outgrew England's supply of nurses. In ten days after the war started twenty three hospitals were ready. Now England can take care of eight hundred thousand wounded men. There are hundreds of stories of the brave work of the many nurses England has sent out all over the world.

What Women Are Doing.

There is a restaurant in the London station, run and supported by women. Every man in uniform is given a free meal. Last year the women gave away ten million meals. Men are so scarce in England, women must do the work. There are over a million and a quarter women taking the places of men in the industries alone. Over a million women are making munitions. Tens of thousands of women are working on ships. One shipyard has increased its laboring men from 4,000 to 15,000 and of this number 3,000 are women. The English navy has been doubled since the war broke out and women are doing the larger part of the work on these ships. Today in England 450 times the number of guns are made than in the first year of the war. The women make large numbers of the pieces. The women can make an aeroplane alone. In a fortnight the English make as many shells as they did in the whole first year they fought. Girls are working in the munition factories among poisonous gasses and acids without the least bit of hesitation. Some of these girls turn yellow from the acids that are used. But they do not mind. They are familiarly known as the "canary girls." The aristocracy works with the working girl in these factories. The telephone girls are brave. Never once has a telephone operator deserted her post during an air raid. Women drive motor cars and ambulances. The women have formed a Women's Army Auxiliary Corps. Women are recruited for this just as the men are for the army. They enlist for the duration of the war. Their pay is thirty seven cents per day. Last year the women of England saved enough fats from their tables to make eighteen million nitro-glycerine shells.

The Ration System.

The ration system in England was explained. The meat allowance is one pound a week. There is very little cheese. Two ounces of butter or oleomargarine are allowed at a time. Cream cannot be used at all. Wheat and meat are needed. The same is true of France and Italy. The morale of the army is easier to keep up when the fighting men know that the people at home have been cut down in their rations. Australia and New Zealand have lots of grain and meats but it cannot be obtained because there are no ships to get it. America had only seven merchant ships when she entered the war. The United States can furnish the Allies with the necessary food products and it will. No grain is used for spirits or beer in England. This has brought about an enormous saving.

Luxuries Curtailed.

Some people say that by saving money one will ruin trade. This is not so. For two years not a piano, has been made in England. All the piano shops are now making aeroplanes. The cotton bandages used in France are used all over again after having been thoroughly sterilized. The cotton is used to make ammunition.

"We cannot afford an inconclusive peace. That would be a German victory and we are not going to finish this war with a German victory. Every citizen of the country we are going on because we know our enemy. The Germans here in America who have not been in their own country for years can not realize any more than it is easy for you to do it just what the feeling is in Germany. They believe that the state is always right. Ours is a democracy. Are you willing to pay the price of democracy? The price of democracy is responsibility on the part of every citizen and we women behind our men are going to give them all that we can," Miss Fraser concluded.

Miss Fraser's book, "Women in the War", was on sale after the lecture. The hall was decorated with the flags of our allies and the poster for the Third Liberty Loan.

There ought to be no confusion between the Liberty Loan allotments of the town of Manchester and of the different communities composing it. The government has even distinguished between the north and south ends of this community, because there is a separate post office at "Manchester" and "South Manchester." In yesterday's editorial we referred of course to the total allotment of Manchester, rather than the town of Manchester, which includes Bolton, Buckland, etc.

$250 DOLLARS SENT ALREADY.

Miss Ednah P. Cheney sent today a check for $250 for the help of the refugee children in Paris. The money was collected in Manchester. Miss Cheney will continue to send checks as the money is collected.

Besides the names already published, the following have contributed to this worthy cause:

- Miss Esther Brainard $5.00
- Miss Helen Chapman $25.00
- Kings' Daughters $5.00
- Mrs. W. S. Hyde, Jr. $10.00
- Alexis Tournaud $10.00
- North Methodist church $5.00

MANY PUPILS ENROLLED IN JUNIOR RED CROSS.

Boston, April 6.—More than thirty per cent of the total pupil population of New England, or 374,197 school children, are to date enrolled in the Junior Red Cross. The Boston diverse parochial schools lead with over sixty per cent.

Manchester Twenty Five Years Ago

Culled from The Herald Files.

Thomas E. Murphy's eloquence as a temperance reformer captured Manchester. He made his first public appearance in the town in Cheney hall before a men's meeting. The hall was crowded to the limit. It was the opening meeting of a very successful temperance campaign.

Henry Curtis and Miss Florence Hensley were married at the residence of E. T. Hale by Rev. John McVay.

Howarth's popular Hibernica was booked for a return engagement at Apell's opera house.

The Manchester Light & Power company had received its certificate of incorporation.

The Odd Fellows were planning a special visit to Charter Oak Lodge of Hartford. A special train was scheduled to run from Manchester and return. "Blue Jeans" was the attraction at the Hartford opera house and many people not Odd Fellows took advantage of the special train.

In two years of its existence the Manchester Building & Loan Association had loaned $24,000 and had calls for $6,000 more.

An express war that was affecting the patrons of Manchester was on between the American and United States Express companies.

William Hall was building the foundation for a new house on Mill street.

William Reinch who had been employed by B. C. Apell in the undertaking business had gone to Southington to take a similar position.

Robert Palmer was preparing plans for a new grandstand at Woodland Park.

W. L. P. McCaw of Livingstone, Montana, was home on a visit.

Grant Bros. sold their Buckland store to Keeney & Williams.

Rev. Dr. J. W. Cooper of New Britain was planning to build a residence at Buckland. The house was to be built on the commanding site overlooking that part of the town.

The home gardener should prepare early to combat plant diseases and insect pests which are practically certain to appear in his garden and which if not fought effectively will interfere seriously with yields or even destroy the crops. Provision to combat these foes of garden vegetables is of equal importance with other phases of gardening and under no circumstances should be neglected. The wise gardener does not wait for the appearance of insects and diseases, but takes steps against them by spraying his plants at reasonable intervals, or by other protective measures, from early spring until his crops have been harvested.

Simple methods of protecting plants from the larger eating insects are to pick them by hand or to knock them with a stick into a pan containing water on which a thin film of kerosene is floating. Insects collected by hand should be destroyed promptly. Some young plants may be protected by setting over them wooden frames covered with netting, wire mesh, or muslin.

If the home gardener finds it necessary to adopt other than these simplest methods he should secure early in the season the necessary implements and materials in his anti-insect campaign. He may need a substantial hand sprayer and concentrated solutions for spraying on the plants after dilution with water. Every effort should be made this year to prevent waste of these chemical materials. Where a soap emulsion would be sufficient it should be preferred. Gardeners who obtain a supply of chemicals too great for their needs can help by supplying the surplus to a neighbor.

Diseases and Insects Grouped. The diseases which affect garden plants may be divided into two groups, parasitic and constitutional diseases. The parasitic maladies, such as the blights, are caused by fungi or germs, and usually may be prevented or controlled by spraying with Bordeaux mixture. Little is known, however, of the so-called constitutional diseases, and little can be done to prevent their ravages. If some malady which does not yield to treatment with Bordeaux mixture manifests itself on isolated plants in the garden, it may be well to pull up these plants and burn them. The insects which attack garden plants may be divided into two groups—those which eat or chew the foliage or fruit, and those which suck the plant juices. Eating insects may be killed usually by spraying poisonous solutions or dusting powders on the plants which they attack. Arsenate of lead is the poison in most general use for this purpose. This substance is poisonous to persons as well as to insects and must be used with care. It should not be applied to vegetables that are to be used soon. All vegetables should be washed carefully before they are eaten, regardless of whether they have been sprayed.

Most of the garden plants may be safeguarded against disease and at the same time protected from attack by certain eating insects by spraying at intervals of two weeks with a combination of Bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead. Sucking insects, such as plant-lice, or "aphis," can not be killed by poisoning the surface of the leaves and fruit, since they feed by puncturing the plants and extracting the internal juices. Poisons which will kill by contact or substances which envelop and smother the pests are, therefore, employed against the sucking insects. The principal remedies of this sort are nicotine-sulphate solutions, fish-oil and other soap solutions, and kerosene-soap emulsion.

Gardeners desiring additional information in regard to insects affecting vegetable gardens should apply direct to the Bureau of Entomology, United States Department of Agriculture, or to the horticultural specialists of the Department, but it should be understood that there is no publication covering the entire subject. Farmers' Bulletin 856, "Control of Diseases and Insect Enemies of the Home Vegetable Garden," treats of many plant foes and will be sent free upon application to the Department. Specimens of insects, with some account of food plants and ravages, if sent with inquiries, are of great value, wherever there is any doubt as to the name or character of the insect.

The gardener should remember that many plant diseases and insects exist in the garden from year to year. At the end of the growing season, therefore, the garden should be carefully cleaned of rubbish and the stems of plants, leaves, and other remnants. Prompt burning of the rubbish is sure to destroy many disease spores and many insects which may be present.

HOW DEAN GAY HANDLES IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

Hartford, April 6.—Information concerning the importance of the work being done by Dean Gay and the War Trade Board in limiting imports and exports to absolute necessities in order to release tonnage for war purposes has been received from official sources by the Connecticut State Council of Defense, and was given out by the Council to Connecticut newspapers today.

Mr. Gay's problem is to permit the importation of only bare necessities, and it is said officially that he is carrying on his work in the face of considerable pressure from business interests.

There has been considerable speculation as to the reason why the list of imports which must be received has not been published, and the answer is declared to be found in the fact that it is being withheld in order that publication may not result in running up prices and in profiteering. In order to secure imports, the receiver and not the shipper must show the necessity for the products.

An Illustration. To make this plain, the following illustration is given: Suppose, for instance, that a firm wanted to import Swiss watches and they were a necessity, Gay would not put the watches on an embargo list but, as long as there was a stock in America, he would tell the firm which wanted to import them that it could not get a ship for that particular importation at the particular time, but might get a ship later, when the supply of watches in this country was exhausted. If a corner in the market resulted, and the price of watches went too high, Mr. Gay's business would be to let enough watches in to break the market and to force prices down. This same situation would apply to imports of any nature.

SPEEDERS GIVE "PHONEY" NAMES TO AVOID FINES.

Portland, Ore., April 6.—Portland is out $2,800 because the City Magistrate has relied upon "honor" of speeders who have been brought before him, and has permitted them to pay their fines on the installment plan. The culprits, it appears, have given "phony" names in court, and after paying their first dollar down have gone on their way rejoicing.

CLEVELAND ALSO PLANS A MONSTER CELEBRATION.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 6.—Cleveland, in line with other cities throughout the country, today will hold a great patriotic celebration in commemoration of the first anniversary of the entrance of America into the world war. In addition to the anniversary, the start of the Third Liberty Loan campaign will be made a feature of the day's celebration and before night it is expected that Cleveland will have subscribed a great part of her allotment in the loan.

PRESIDENT IS INVITED TO ATTEND CENTENNIAL.

Springfield, Ill., April 6.—President Wilson has been invited to attend the Illinois Centennial Celebration here next October. A monster pageant will feature the celebration.

SPECIAL BOWLING MATCH.

Crows Handily Defeat the Robins at Center Alleys.

In a special match at the Center alleys last night the Robins and Crows from the Spinning Mill League tried their luck on knocking down the pins. The Crows being the larger birds, managed to pick the Robins to pieces. Saidella got high single of the evening with 104, while H. Nelson got a high three string of 272. The match was for total pin-fall. The first game went to the Crows by 10 pins, while the Robins picked their feathers and got mad and took the second game by 28 pins, giving them a lead of 18 pins. Then the third game got under way and the Crows that were not bowling perched themselves on the rafters and started crowing at the Robins and some of the Robins being young birds, could not stand the "gaff" and the result was that they fell down badly and lost the last game by 28 pins, giving the Crows the match by 10 pins.

17 MORE TORRINGTON WOUNDED ANNOUNCED.

Torrington, April 6.—The names of the additional seventeen local men of the 102nd Regiment who were seriously wounded in France, as reported to relatives here by the War Department were ascertained Friday by a canvass among the relatives and are as follows:

Privates Luigi Berli, John Fitzgerald, George Nebhan, Leon Martin, Giovanni Vavalary, Victor A. Haig, Victor J. Russi, Lorenzo Alziate, Stephen M. Marfak, Leon Beclere, Corporal Emil H. Kormann, Sergeant Stephen J. Palick, Cooks Joseph Buzinsky and Frank Dezinisky and Mechanic Paul J. Cravatt. Private James Williams, of Ansonia, who enlisted in the local company, was also among the seriously wounded and John Pirpak was reported slightly wounded.

NEW ALLIED OFFENSIVE EXPECTED BY GERMANY.

Amsterdam, April 6.—German military experts see signs of an immediate Anglo-French-American counter-offensive in the Picardy battle on a big scale, according to advices from Berlin today. Baron von Ardenne, one of the foremost writers on military affairs in Germany, states that General Foch's new mobile army will play the most important part. (The German writer means to indicate the allied army of maneuver as separate from the Allied troops that were on the battle line when the engagement commenced.)

With the prospect that it will be impossible to get all there promises to be a general rush for the water wagons to keep down the dust during the coming summer.—Ex.

GEORGIA TO CELEBRATE LOAN DRIVE OPENING

Preparations Made on Largest Scale Yet—Tomorrow Local Observances are Planned All Over State.

Atlanta, Ga., April 6.—Preparations for handling the Third Liberty Loan issue in the Sixth Federal Reserve District are being handled on the largest scale undertaken in any of the campaigns. A whole floor in the Chamber of Commerce building has been taken over by the committee, and a large force of clerks and stenographers is hard at work in preparation for the big drive which will begin tomorrow. A great celebration to be held simultaneously in every city and town in the district is planned for Sunday. It is expected to press the third bond issue largely in the rural sections as it is recognized that the Southern farmers are more prosperous than ever before and need only to be informed about the bond investment to arouse their interest.

MILK GOATS TO BE WET NURSES TO LAMB ORPHANS.

Heppner, Ore., April 6.—Mexican milk goats will be "wet nurses" for motherless lambs in Morrow County this year, according to Frank Roberts, who has gone below the Rio Grande to buy a hundred "Mex. cows." It is figured out by stockmen that goat's milk in original packages will be more successful than condensed milk fed from bottles, and will save human labor.

MANY WOMEN WILL WORK ON FARMS THIS SUMMER

Half of Connecticut's Farmers Say They Will Employ Women This Year.

Hartford, April 6.—Many women will be working on the farms of Connecticut this summer because of the active steps being taken to organize a Woman's Land Army in this state. The Committee on Women's Activities of the Connecticut State Council of Defense, has investigated the possibility of placing the women on the farms to meet the present labor shortage and is now developing the organization plans.

The investigation work was assigned to sub-committee, the Committee on Food Production and the organization work now falls to an Executive Committee recently formed. Mrs. E. G. H. Schenk, of Wilton is the Connecticut representative of the Woman's Land Army of America and is serving in the capacity of chairman of the newly created executive committee.

Other members. The other members are: Leo A. Korper, state director of department of labor; Allen B. Lincoln, assistant director department of labor; David Elder, special field representative of department of labor; Miss M. Estelle Sprague, chairman of food conservation and Mrs. Joseph W. Alsop, chairman of food production. The Woman's Land Army of Connecticut, will work in complete co-operation and under the direction of the Committee on Food Supply and Conservation of the State Council of Defense, the Department of Labor and the County Farm Bureaus.

Half Will Use Women. In sounding the farmers to see whether they would use women or not five hundred letters in questionnaire form were sent out by the investigating committee. The answers were approximately as follows: Fifty per cent would use women if necessary, twenty-five per cent would not use women and twenty-five per cent did not answer. An educational campaign regarding the Woman's Land Army was conducted at meetings of the Connecticut Pomological Society, the Connecticut Vegetable and Fruit Growers association and the various dairy associations. The problem of financing the movement has not been solved but certain societies and individuals have promised to help in this direction.

MAKING PATRIOTS OUT OF LIQUOR MEN

It's funny to hear a liquor man try to make a noise like a "patriot"—it sounds like a cross between a squeal and a snarl!

The liquor men's "patriotism" is just another bit of "camouflage"—intended to cover up the real cussedness of the saloon.

YOU KNOW—

That the saloon is the breeding place of vice and crime; that it harbors and encourages the white slave traffic; shelters crooks and gamblers; is the birth-place of rotten politics; causes disease and death; is the enemy of peace and order; causes the most degrading poverty; wrecks more homes than any other institution; fills jails, almshouses, and insane asylums; and sends men to the scaffold and the electric chair.

TO QUOTE FROM ROBERT G. INGERSOLL:

"It brings shame, not honor; terror, not safety; despair, not hope; misery, not happiness; and with the malevolence of a fiend it calmly surveys its frightful desolation, and unsatisfied with havoc, it poisons felicity, kills peace, ruins morals, blights confidence, slays reputation and wipes out national honor; then curses the world and laughs at its ruin. It does all that and more. It murders the soul, it is the sum of all villainies, the father of all crime, the mother of all abominations, the devil's best friend and man's worst enemy."

AND FROM MARTIN LUTHER:

"Whoever first brewed beer has prepared a pest for Germany. I have prayed to God that he would destroy the whole brewing industry. I have often pronounced a curse on the brewer. All Germany could live on the barley that is spoiled and turned into a curse by the brewer."

AND THEODORE ROOSEVELT:

"The friends of the saloonkeepers denounce their opponents for not treating the saloon business like any other. The best answer to this is that the business is not like any other business and that the actions of the saloonkeepers themselves conclusively prove this to be the case. The business tends to produce criminality in the population at large and law breaking among the saloonkeepers themselves. When the liquor men are allowed to do as they wish, they are sure to debauch, not only the body social, but the body politic also."

And here's some live testimony—right up to date from the liquor men themselves:

"Bonfort's Wine and Spirit Circular" of New York is one of the best-known liquor journals of the country. Here is its evidence:

"The modern saloon has been getting worse instead of better. It has been dragged in the gutter; it has been made the cat's paw for other forms of vice; it has succumbed to the viciousness of gambling and it has allowed itself to become allied with the social evil."

P. H. Nolan of New York, chairman of a committee of the National Liquor Dealers' Association, had this to say about the brewers in an address delivered in Kansas City: "The average brewer in a mad desire for wealth is careless of public sentiment. He has no respect for law, regulation, or public decency. He buys a church window for $100 and then assumes a sanctimonious attitude. His business is to corrupt public officials that he may thrive. The brewers of the United States are a menace to society."

And what more need one say about this selected bunch of "patriots"?

The best way to make real patriots of the liquor men is to vote "dry".

If you believe that the traffic in Alcohol does more harm than good—help stop it!

ABOUT TOWN

Joseph Cushing of Washington, D. C., is spending the week end with his family on Maple street.

There was a beautiful display of Northern Lights between half past nine and ten o'clock last night.

William Freeburn of Laurel street has returned to his work in the ribbon mill after a severe attack of the grip.

Miss Ada Porter of the south end will sing at the morning service at the North Methodist church tomorrow morning.

Elwood S. Ela and Leland Hays will represent the Evening Herald at the state newspaper men's rally at New Haven tonight.

John Spillane, superintendent at the Connecticut Sumatra Tobacco Company's plant at Buckland, is nursing a broken rib. He tripped and fell the early part of the week and later discovered that he had fractured a rib.

The Home Guard benefit at the Park Theater last night was a great success. About twelve hundred tickets were sold for the entertainment. It is estimated that fully five hundred people were turned away when the S. R. O. sign was hung out.

Confirmation League of Swedish Lutheran church held its postponed monthly meeting and social in the church basement last evening. A program was given and during the social hour refreshments were served. The April meeting will be held Friday evening, April 26.

Some of the property owners on Washington street have applied to the directors of the Eighth School and Utilities District for a sewer on the street. Accordingly a hearing will be given them in the directors' room at the old school next Monday evening at eight o'clock.

Hiram Gilbert of West Hartford drifted into town at an early hour this morning. He was so drunk he did not know where he belonged so Officer Crockett placed him under arrest. In court this morning he admitted that he had been out on a spree. He had worked all day and in the evening he had met some of his old friends and they had several drinks together. He evidently got so intoxicated that he did not care where he went and took the wrong car and landed at the center on the last car out of Hartford. He was fined $5 with costs and as he did not have any money with him he was allowed time to pay his fine.

MANCHESTER'S LIBERTY LOAN CAMPAIGN IS ON

Women's Committee Hard at Work—Manchester Trust Co. to Help Small Bond Buyers.

Manchester's Third Liberty Loan campaign is on. The Women's committee took possession of the booth at the War Bureau this morning and the different members have been scouting around all day. At ten o'clock this morning, one of the women reported that she had already secured 15 bond holders.

President R. LaMotte Russell of The Manchester Trust Company announced this morning that the trust company would again accommodate the small bond buyers by conducting a weekly payment plan like in the First and Second Liberty Loan campaigns. The payments will run for a period of 25 weeks; those taking a $50 bond paying two dollars a week and those taking a $100 bond paying four dollars a week.

The F. W. Woolworth Company today purchased $500,000 worth of bonds. They will divide this among their five hundred or more stores throughout the United States. The local store was notified today that they have been allotted $200 of the sum.

$50 IN PRIZES OFFERED OUR FLYING SQUADRON

Mrs. Thomas L. Cheney Makes Announcement at Liberty Loan Saleswomen Meeting Last Evening.

The Women's Liberty Loan Committee held a meeting in the Recreation building last night to get instructions in salesmanship from R. LaMotte Russell. Mr. Russell told the women the way to approach people in order to induce them to buy Liberty bonds.

At the meeting Mrs. Thomas L. Cheney announced that she would give two prizes during the campaign for Liberty Bonds. The prizes will amount to $50. One of $25 will be given to the woman obtaining the largest number of subscribers. The other $25 will be given to the woman obtaining the largest amount in subscriptions.

Those women who are to take part in this contest are members of the Flying Squadron of Liberty Bond Saleswomen. Volunteers are wanted for this squadron. All the women who are willing to take a part in the work should register at the War Bureau not later than Monday.

SIX MEN FROM HERE.

New Induction Draft Order Touches Manchester Lightly.

The special induction order issued to draft boards yesterday strikes this draft district for six or seven men. This order calls for men skilled in automobile or machine work who will be sent to school in Boston. The men must have had at least an eighth grade education. Any local man with these qualifications may file his application at Wells hall, East Hartford. Half of these men, or three, will leave here on April 15 and the other four on May 1. Since there will be so few they will be examined at Wells hall and not at the Recreation building here.

Save Your Eyes

A graduate optometrist should fit your eyes to glasses. All optometrists are registered, but few are graduates, think in over. My So. Manchester office open every night except Saturday from 6.30 to 9.00 p. m. At Optical Dept. G. Fox & Co., Hartford during the day.

Chairman Hohenthal also announces today that 113 industrial claims have been returned to the local board from the district board. Two applications for exemption on the ground of dependents have been denied. Of the 113 industrial claims 22 are Class 1 men. These will be examined next Thursday afternoon at Wells hall, not the Recreation building here. As most of these men work in Hartford factories it is easier for them to come to East Hartford on their way from their shops. The examination will be held at 3 o'clock and the notices to these men were sent out today.

OUR SMOKE FUND.

Six More Dollars and $500 Mark Will Be Reached.

Previously Acknowledged.. $486.66
Sunset Rebekah 7.00
W. E. Happeny 1.00
Total $494.66

The money for the smokes to be sent overseas to our boys now approaches the five hundred dollar mark.

Another shipment of tobacco has been ordered sent to the local fellows "over there" and it will soon be on the way.

A number of persons have asked how this tobacco could be sent when all other parcels have been stopped. For their benefit it is explained that the tobacco sent by the Manchester Overseas Fund committee is shipped either by ocean freight at a minimum cost or free of charge on the United States transports.

The R. J. Reynolds Company of Winston-Salem, N. C., sells the tobacco right from the bonded warehouses by special arrangements with the Internal Revenue department at Washington, free of tax duty. In this way the tobacco can be bought much cheaper than any wholesale house can afford to sell it.

The R. J. Reynolds Company is sending over tobacco for the New Britain War Bureau and also for The Hartford Times Smoke Fund.

A son has been born to C. J. Woodhouse, of Spruce street.

The Connecticut Sumatra Tobacco Company at Buckland expects to grow 350 acres of shade grown this coming summer. This is 25 acres more than last year. In addition to this the company expects to raise 40 acres of corn and potatoes and five acres of vegetables. The men are busy now getting the tobacco beds in shape.

Be An American

Every ounce of patriotic energy within the boundaries of the country is enlisted in the sale of these bonds.

BUY A BOND!

WHY A BUICK?

THAT'S THE QUESTION

What does the VALVE-IN-HEAD Buick motor mean to you; have you studied its manifold advantages? Do you understand why it is more economical in GASOLINE CONSUMPTION than any other type? Do you know from what cause its wonderful power is realized? Do you fully appreciate what it means to buy product from a company who has continuously for fourteen years manufactured it; who has held tenaciously to first principles and who has given the Valve-in-Head Motor the touches of perfection, gained through these years of experience in its development? In your mind, what is it that has created for the Buick Motor Company the most wonderful demand ever experienced by any motor manufacturing company? Would you believe that three out of every four prospective automobile purchasers are said, first, to seek a Buick? Do you know that many must be disappointed, as the supply does not equal the demand? It is almost impossible to secure immediate deliveries, yet thousands patiently await deliveries. Do you realize that the sum total of all your questions can be simply, yet truthfully, answered by telling you that—

"WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT—BUICK WILL BUILD THEM"
