Estimate Conservative

Minneapolis District Optimistic—St. Louis District Maintains Lead—Oklahoma Jumps From Four Millions to Ten Millions in Single Day—West Begins to Shine

Washington, April 16.—An increase of $114,853,450 in subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan revealed by the figures for yesterday, was reported by the Treasury Department today.

The Far West and Middle West are showing brilliantly in their efforts. The San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank reported today that all the states in the district will reach their quotas by the end of the month.

Oklahoma is making rapid strides, jumping from $3,000,000 to $10,000,000 in a single day. Tulsa, Okla., subscribed $4,000,000.

Washington, April 16.—Unofficial estimates on the third Liberty Loan campaign indicate that the first billion has been scored today. One third of the drive has been spent, and the remaining twenty days must fire a continuous barrage of bonds into the treasury to win the over-subscription.

Two days have elapsed since these figures were sent, and they showed an increase of $573,451,600 over the day preceding. The Minneapolis Federal Reserve district is yet to be counted, and basing progress on a conservative ratio, the loan campaign stands today at approximately $1,000,000,000.

Enthusiasm is the answer in every telegram to the treasury. The Minneapolis district has reported unprecedented individual interest in the loan, especially from the German speaking residents in many sections of the district.

Farmers Do Well. The rural sections continue to pour out their dollars for the war chest. Reports from local committees from the Southwest, the Middle Western corn belt and from the sections that stretch away towards the Rockies, all comment on the great percentage of farmers who have come out to buy bonds.

Secretary Baker left for Washington immediately to present the latest word of the battle to President Wilson. Until he has completed his mission it is not expected that he will discuss his trip over seas.

Secretary Baker went abroad ostensibly to inspect the American forces in France and England. It was emphasized in the official announcement of his departure that his mission "was entirely of a military character."

U. S. Novices Tell Stories Of First Fights with Boches

With the American Army in France, April 15.—(6 p. m.) That Austrian soldiers are on the western front was indicated by information secured by American troops taken in an action on the eastern bank of the Meuse river, near St. Mihiel, yesterday.

When the Germans attacked they attempted to trick the Americans by posing as friends in the darkness and confusion.

They sounded the gas alarm in English and then attacked the squads of Americans in the trenches, while they were putting on their masks. The Americans were quick to discover the deception and avenged it with wholesale slaughter.

Your correspondent today secured an interview from a victorious American, who had taken part in the fight. His shoes, uniform, gas mask and bayonet were stained with blood—a grim reminder of the encounter. But he was eager to mix it again. The private, who was from Indiana, told the following story:

"Right after the barrage I saw two Germans with long snippers cutting the wire. I span two grenades at them and I guess they are both in hell now. I never had much time to get to the trench. I had to go to work in a coal mine. I kind of got to grenades right away. I had been assigned to an automatic gun, but can do more with grenades any old time. I sure popped them in fast. The fellows kept feeding them to me quick as I could lob them over. I used the spitball on the first one that got the two Fritzies."

Something From Mother.

The Indian is 24 years old. A mail clerk handed him a wooden box plastered with stamps.

"That's from my mother," exclaimed the doughboy with a happy plum in his eyes. "She sends things to me regularly. I know just what to make two boxes of chocolates and some tobacco. They are sure to come after that fight."

A private from New York, who was in the action, was another who distinguished himself.

New Yorker's Story.

"I was in a bayonet exchange with a German, when some Hun whipped me from behind on the helmet with his rifle butt. I was 'out' for a time and was left for dead. Later I came to and helped bag a couple of prisoners. They said they had come from the Russian front. Some of the Austrians said they did not want to fight, the prisoners continued, but were shot if they would not enter. The prisoners were hungry. "They told us that all they could get to eat was bread and water, the bread as black as a stove. It was our first scrap and the enemy certainly showed himself yellow."

"Seeing several of our platoon wounded made us fight like demons, I never thought of myself."

The Americans showed true consideration. There was one instance when a corporal from Massachusetts got in a tight fix, but a fellow corporal from Chicago ran to his aid and helped him out.

A 27 year old private from Pennsylvania, who had been a coal miner before joining the army, told of killing two Germans.

"I shot one and bayoneted the other," he said. "The Germans kept chattering in French and English in the dark, yelling 'cease firing' and 'gas.' But their trick did not work. I said to myself while those guys are preening about gas I'm going to get in some good ticks. "I had hunted for years and was a good shot. Well, I let fly at one and plucked him right in the bean just as he was going to stab one of our fellows. The other German came running at me, but I ran him through with the bayonet."

"How does it feel to kill your first man? I did not mind it when I thought what the Germans had done to women and children."

"Pretty soon when I got a chance I captured two prisoners. I asked my platoon mate for a match, and he said he would give me one if I brought in another prisoner. I got one and he was a big guy, too—six feet, four inches. He had been wounded in the leg."

"Them guys won't stand up and fight at all. They are all right in a crowd, but they quit cold when it's man to man."

"The bunch had some of our fellows prisoners when our boys gave the word for a rush and got away with it. I don't want any medals; all I want is some more Germans."

"This young doughboy was born in Italy."

Another American private, who was a courier, characterized the affair as "some tall old scrapper in which our fellows did them up brown."

"I'm seventeen and used to work as a mess boy at Fort Benjamin Harrison," said the soldier. "I wanted to see the fun over here, so I joined up. This was my first innng and I wasn't scared a bit. You ought to have seen us."

"The German bodies could be seen thick out in No Man's Land when the smoke cleared away."

A private thus described another phase of the fight:

"You ought to have seen us harvest in the souvenirs. I got a belt and scabbard with the words 'Gott Mit Uns' on the buckle. A lot of us got new trench daggers that the Germans had been carrying. Some got rifles and pistols as well. It was my first battle and I sure am anxious for another."

SWEDISH PEOPLE RALLY TO HELP LIBERTY LOAN

High School Hall Crowded
Last Evening With Local Residents

SOME ELOQUENT SPEECHES

Local and Out of Town Orators Explain in Swedish Language Just What Loan Means.

High school hall was crowded last night when the Swedish people of the town gathered in a mass meeting to arouse interest in the Third Liberty Loan. The principal speaker of the evening was the Rev. Eric I. Lindh of the Center Congregational church. Mr. Lindh spoke largely in Swedish. He took two subjects, food and liberty bonds. He told the meeting that in the great, store houses of the country there was food enough for eight months. The supply is getting low and the whole world could not be fed but a few months on what is in the house. The whole world is on the verge of starvation.

Why We Must Save!
The reason the housewives are asked to save food is to make them independent of the storehouses. The more food that is saved the less must be taken from the storehouse. Fully twenty per cent of the food sent to Europe is sunk by submarines. England has plenty of wheat in India, but she cannot get it because of the ship shortage.

The Liberty Bond.
Mr. Lindh then spoke on the Liberty Bond sales. He said that the annual income of the United States is fifty billion dollars. When Uncle Sam went into the war he figured the first year would cost nineteen billion dollars. If it lasted two years he figured it would cost fifty billion dollars. This money must come from the people of the United States.

Instead of spending nineteen billion dollars in the first year Uncle Sam...

Germany is carrying on the war from the money she extracted from Belgium and the other small nations she has conquered. If she should win this war every man, woman and child in the country would suffer from taxation. To prevent this every man, woman and child in Manchester must invest his money in Liberty bonds.

Rev. Hultime's Speech.
The Rev. Hultime of Hartford was introduced. He said that he was Swedish by birth but American by choice. He said that Sweden was the fatherland of the Swedish people but America was their Bondland. All of them were Americans now and since America was in the war they must stand by her and give their money to her to fight. Those people who have just been in the country a short while came here to earn a living and to die here. They should buy bonds. He assured the audience that the bonds were a perfectly safe and good investment. He told them to show that they were 100 per cent Americans and buy bonds.

Banker Speaks.
R. LaMotte Russell spoke on the bonds and the methods by which they could be bought and paid for. He illustrated the meaning of the bonds through the Bond poster entitled "Halt the Hun!" He said that the Hun must be stopped. The only way he could be stopped was by the army and navy supplied by America. These must be furnished by the money of the American people through the purchase of Liberty bonds.

Mr. Russell said that the Swedish people failed to show much enthusiasm over the sales of the past two series of bonds but it was evident that their enthusiasm had been aroused and they would make an excellent showing in the sale of the third series.

Mr. Bergren of the Swedish Lutheran church sang "Keep the Home Fires Burning." He was well received and was greatly applauded after singing excellently.

The Rev. P. J. O. Cornell spoke on the service flag which has been raised at the Swedish church. He told of its significance to the church and the families whose boys it represented. Chorus singing by the junior chorus of the Swedish church was enjoyed between the speeches.

Lacking any information to the contrary, the inference is that inasmuch as our unsinkable ship has reached the other side it didn't encounter any submarines or icebergs.—Ex.

Y. M. C. A. WORKER PRAISES DR. HESSELGRAVE IN NOTE

Miss Cary Tells Manchester War Bureau What a Stranger Thinks of Local Pastor's Work.

Miss Anna Cary, secretary to the Y. M. C. A. treasurer in Paris, who occasionally does work for Dr. Hesselgrave when he comes in from the danger zone to make his report at the Paris headquarters, writes an unsolicited letter to the War Bureau of Manchester an extract of which follows:

"Our field secretaries are the really hard workers in the organization over here, according to my way of thinking, and it is a pleasure for me to be able to help them when they come in, tired, discouraged and anxious to secure help from an American stenographer. You can have no possible idea of the strain under which these men labor. It seems to me that we have about the finest of America's men over here in the Y. M. C. A., and the best of them are putting their very life into this work, going without comforts, sometimes proper nourishment, and enduring in every way the hardships of the soldier's life inaction, just that they may serve and help the boys from home.

"I am at present the Treasurer's secretary here in Paris, and so come in contact with practically all the men from the field. All reports coming from the field where Dr. Hesselgrave is located speak in the highest terms of praise of Doctor's work, and I can assure you heartily that he is one of the best men over here, and is throwing his whole energies into this work. It is more of a pleasure for me to help him than some of the other men, for the reason that he has already seen some of the young men with whom I worked at home, and some who came from my home town. For this reason perhaps I have watched his work more closely than that of others, and because you are so far from the field of his work, and so absolutely unable to judge of conditions under which the Doctor is laboring, I hope you may be glad to receive a word from a stranger, who voices the opinion of many workers over here in telling you that he is one of the best, and the Manchester boys will receive more personal attention and help than practically any others."

ARRIVED SAFELY OVERSEAS.

Mrs. Robert J. Hall of 53 Summit street has received a cablegram stating that her son, Leonard R. Hall, who had been training as a motor mechanic in the Aviation Section at Camp Hancock, Augusta, Ga., had arrived safely overseas. Another son, Charlie Hall, has been serving for some time in the Royal Flying Corps of the British Expeditionary Force. He was wounded in an air battle during the winter, but has recovered and gone back to duty again.

Talcottville

Miss Clementine Bachelor is on the road to recovery after being confined to her bed for nearly a month by a complication of diseases. She is now able to be up and about her home.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Talcott and son have returned from Summerville, S. C., where Mrs. Talcott and her son have been spending the winter.

Gardener Talcott of Waterbury spent Sunday with M. H. Talcott and family.

Ernest Smith has recovered from a painful injury which he received last Wednesday evening. He misjudged the distance from a step down to the ground and when he stepped down he injured a ligament in his right leg and was unable to walk for a few days.

The Manchester Christian Endeavor Union will hold its spring meeting in the local church Friday evening. An interesting program has been arranged. The two principal speakers will be Rev. Percy E. Thomas of Rockville, and Merritt J. Horkins of Seymour. On account of this meeting the regular Thursday evening meeting will be omitted this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Britton of Hartford spent Sunday at their home here.

MIKE LOSSES TEMPER—HITS COP—ARRESTED—THEN FINDS AUTO GONE.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 16.—Michael O'Boyle was cranking his automobile when Patrolman Prehus came along and, to make conversation, asked him what he was doing. O'Boyle had cranked long enough to have ragged his temper and responded by throwing a package at Prehus, who took him to the station for disorderly conduct. O'Boyle paid bail and then went back to get the machine, only to find that some one had taken a hand in the argument and had stolen the car. And O'Boyle, besides all this hard luck, has to stand trial for his failure to be pleasant with the "cop," when the latter tried to be friendly with him.

With the dull and cloudy days the weather man appears to have been doing his best to nullify the daylight saving effort.—Ex.

Charles E. Bunce of Hartford Road is seriously ill with pneumonia. Lucius Pinney of Prospect street pulled an 18 inch carrot from his garden the other day.

In the window at the War Bureau are some souvenirs sent home by Lieutenant G. W. Cheney of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion, now in France.

Mrs. George McRobbie, of Holl street, received a card today stating that her nephew, Raymond Joyner, had left his training camp in Florida and had arrived safely overseas.

Private Paul D. Carter of the Medical Corps at Fort Slocum is enjoying a 48 hour furlough with relatives in town. He will return to the fort tonight or tomorrow morning.

Miss Mildred Leeberg entertains the girls of the ribbon mill manufacturing office at her home on Griswold street last evening. Games music and singing helped to round out a most enjoyable evening.

Complaints are coming in to this office of a man in a blue uniform resembling somewhat the uniform worn by the Salvation Army officers, going around Manchester soliciting funds for an orphan asylum. The War Bureau knows nothing of the solicitor and warns the local residents against him.

While playing with some other children this morning the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Coleman of Florence street got a pebble lodged in her nose. The child was taken to Dr. Weldon's office put under ether and the stone was removed.

NOVELTY INTRODUCED.

Song Leaders at Movie Houses Arouse Enthusiasm.

A novelty in the way of patriotic rallies was introduced at the local movie houses last night. Besides the regular four minute speakers scheduled to talk on the Liberty Loan there were chorus leaders at the houses to lead in singing patriotic songs. These singers have been secured and scheduled by F. J. Benda chairman of the local Liberty Chorus.

Thomas J. Quish led at the Park last night and "Bob" Veitch started the singing at the Circle. Both audiences "caught on" to the idea quickly and put enthusiasm and "pep" into the singing. This plan will be carried out every night and tonight the same leaders will have charge at the theaters.

New Parody.

A new song dedicated to the Third Liberty Loan has been written to the tune of "Over There", George M. Cohan's $10,000 song. It is entitled "Over Here" and the chorus runs: Over Here, Over Here, buy a bond, buy a bond over here. Show our cash is back-ing, our cash is back-ing.

The Blue and Kha-ki ev'ry where So pre-pare! Save your spare! Send the word, send the word, we are there. We are buy-ing, We all are buy-ing. And we all will buy till its o-ver Over There.

CYRIL MOSHER IN ARMY.

Rev. and Mrs. Gibson C. Mosher of East Greenwich, R. I., formerly of this town have received word from their son, Cyril, who is now a sergeant in France. Mosher has already been "over the top" and when his parents heard from him he was ready to make another trip. He expected to be sent to the first line trenches soon and no doubt is now in the trenches. The Rev. Mr. Mosher was pastor of the North M. E. Church in town for some time. Cyril was a member of the class of 1916 and was in the local high school.

HERZOG SIGNS WITH BRAVES.

Philadelphia, April 16.—Charley Herzog, who has been a holdout, today signed a contract with the Boston Nationals and was ready to appear in the Braves line-up at second base. Herzog arrived here late last night from New York.

LOCAL 2 YEAR OLD CHILD DROPS 2 STORIES; UNHURT

Little Marion Troth Falls Out of Window—Escapes Without a Scratch.

Marion, the two-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Troth of Charter Oak street had a miraculous escape from death last evening. Mrs. Troth had just undressed the child to put it to bed and stepped into another room for a moment.

While she was gone the little girl climbed to the window, which was open, lost her balance and fell to the ground, two stories below. When the child was picked up it was thought she was dead.

A hurry call was sent for Dr. T. H. Weldon, but before the doctor arrived, the child was breathing easily and when he examined her he could find no bone broken and apparently she had suffered no other serious injury.

About an hour after the accident, the child was sleeping as though nothing had happened and she seemed all right today.

JOINT WHIST SOCIAL.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs the Hosts Last Evening.

The joint social held by the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in Odd Fellows' Hall last night was a pronounced success. Whist was the feature of the evening's entertainment and 18 tables were filled with players. At the conclusion of the whist, a Hoover lunch was served. All declared the social to be one of the best times they had had in years and it is likely more of such times will be arranged in the future.

The whist prizes were awarded as follows:

Ladies: Mrs. George Kuhney, first, crocheted neck piece; Mrs. Emma Dowd, set of knitting needles; Mrs. William Harrison, consolation, clay dog.

Gentlemen: John D. Henderson, first, box cigars; Andrew Swanson, second, French briar pipe; Miss Florence Snow, consolation, corn cob pipe.

LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN.

But One Candidate So Far Mentioned For Position.

It is unusual for Manchester voters to be called together in a special caucus. For this reason the gathering in the Town hall Thursday evening will not be a very large one judging by the sentiment that is being expressed by prominent Republicans. The Republicans of Manchester have their minds made up as to who the candidate for judge of probate will be. But they will take no chances and will be there in sufficient numbers to nominate the man of their choice. William S. Hyde is the only candidate now in the field. In fact his name is the only one now seriously mentioned for the position. And as a nomination by the Republicans is equivalent to an election Mr. Hyde will without doubt be our next judge of probate.

The special election will take place on Wednesday, May 8. So far there has not been a sign among the democrats that they intend to put a candidate in the field.

PLEASANTLY SURPRISED.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Jackson of Walnut street were pleasantly surprised Saturday evening by about 40 of their friends who called to assist them in celebrating their sixteenth wedding anniversary. The guests brought along a supply of good things to eat and also numerous gifts as reminders of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson have five children, two boys and three girls. For 25 years, Mr. Jackson was employed as a weaver in Cheney Brothers' silk mills, but for the past two years he has been engaged as a local agent for the Prudential Insurance company.

POSTS CAUSING TROUBLE.

New Traffic Rules Bending Auto Fenders and Mudguards.

The traffic rule which forces automobile drivers to back their car to the curb on Main street has been the cause of a good many broken fenders and bent hitching posts. Two or three of the iron posts along the street have been bent and a dozen or so of auto owners have found the have bent mudguards. One auto backed into the curb in front of an iron hitching post the other day and the post ripped a hole in the top of the machine.

Yesterday Stewart Dillon backed his big touring car to the curb in front of the Orford Hotel. In so doing the landing stone which is an extra large one and has been in front of the hotel for many years was moved.

The extra rim and tire on the rear of the car caught the stone and the driver was backing in and pushed it out of the way. Neither rim nor tire were damaged.

"THE STARS AND STRIPES." Robert Veitch yesterday received from Otto F. Sonnison who is with the Quartermaster's corps of the 26th division a copy of the "Stars and Stripes". This is the official organ of the American Expeditionary forces and looks like a regular eight page newspaper. The paper is edited by American soldiers and they do the writing. The front page con-
