$110,386,000 NEW ENGLAND'S TOTAL AMOUNT SUBSCRIBED TO LOAN—FIGURES

Aggregate of Twelve Federal Reserve Districts Now $1,161,510,050 — Arkansas Third State to Complete Minimum Quota, Following Iowa and Oregon

Boston, April 19.—New England subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan have now reached $110,386,000. The day was one of the best yet for New England, for the total subscriptions were $10,177,000, of which amount Massachusetts contributed $5,993,000. Maine and New Hampshire, which have been leaders in filling their quotas from the point of view of percentage, were among the lowest of the New England states in actual subscriptions credited for the day, with $16,000, and $803,000 respectively. Vermont reported only $181,000 for the day. Rhode Island and Connecticut were both over the million mark, the former with $1,057,000 and the latter with $1,057,000.

Subscriptions in the New England states are now as follows:

Maine	$ 6,941,000
New Hampshire	4,925,000
Vermont	2,874,000
Rhode Island	10,756,000
Connecticut	17,103,000
Massachusetts	67,787,000
National Aggregate.

Washington, April 19.—Actual subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan, as indicated by the five per cent initial payments in the twelve federal reserve districts, are now $1,161,510,050, the Treasury Department announced today.

Arkansas Finished. The Treasury Department announced today that Arkansas is the third state to have completely subscribed its minimum quota. With a population largely rural, the success of the campaign in this state, following the successors in Iowa and Oregon, has given ample evidence of the unqualified support that the farmers are giving the loan, treasury officials said. Arkansas' quota was $15,351,350.

Southern Indiana, in the St. Louis Federal Reserve district has oversubscribed its quota with nearly $11,000,000, an excess of 15 per cent of its allotment. Individual subscriptions are approximately 36,000.

Mississippi reported a total of $6,516,700 or 92 per cent of its quota. Many counties have not yet reported.

Kentucky Near Quota. Kentucky is nearing its quota with sales of $14,169,000, a percentage of 89. It is rated fourth in the St. Louis Federal Reserve district.

Some southern Illinois counties have made record sales during the past few hours. Brown county, with a population quota of 11,779, has sold bonds to 1,327 individuals. Franklin county, with a quota of 1,945, population, has sold bonds to 1,758. Macoupin county has a population quota of 3,801 and reported 3,144 subscribers. In St. Clair county, where the population is largely of German origin, more than 7,000 persons have bought bonds in 8,000 families.

Missouri's Showing. Missouri, outside of St. Louis and Kansas City, has subscribed $16,787,100, with a percentage of 80 of its quota. Tennessee reported aggregate sales of $6,000,000, which is 62 per cent of its quota. The city of St. Louis has subscribed 45 per cent of its quota, reporting almost $18,000,000 taken. Butte, Montana, has staged a spectacular cam-

Cheney Employees Paying Up for First Loan With Bonus—Standing of Prize Contestants.

Manchester has gone over the top but its workers are keeping up the good work for the Liberty Loan and today $28,000 was added to our grand total raising yesterday's high water mark to $548,250. The Federal Reserve bank is calling for assistance to raise New England's quota and it is up to the towns that have the money to help the towns which are unable to raise their quotas.

The Flying Squadron added $22,800 and raised its grand total to $197,150. The women will keep on working until May 4, the very last second if necessary to help New England raise its quota.

At the Mills. At the mills at noon today the second hand rested at $16,600 which added to the $100,000 already raised makes the grand total $116,600 for Cheney's employees. The employees are paying off the six weeks' installments still remaining from the first loan with the bonus they received this week and in one department alone this morning, $4,400 worth of bonds were delivered to persons who had paid up the full amount. In other departments the bonds were being delivered in the same proportion.

Cheney Brothers announced today that if the second bonds were paid up by May 1 they would not charge any interest and the bond holders could keep the interest coupon themselves.

The Prize Contest. With only two days to go in their prize contest, the members of the Women's Liberty Loan Flying Squadron are scouring the town in search for new bond subscribers. As previously reported, Mrs. Thomas Cheney has put up two prizes of $25, and two of $15, for the women securing the greatest amount in bond subscriptions and similar amounts for the ones getting the largest number of subscribers.

Up to last night, Miss Hazel Trotter was leading in the amount subscribed, having sold $42,700 worth

GOVERNOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION URGING SUPPORT FOR LOAN

"Critical Hour of the War"—"Time For us to Gather Up All Our Courage to Make Every Effort and to Overcome Every Obstacle."

Hartford, April 19.—Governor Marcus H. Holcomb, in a proclamation issued this morning, urges each person in Connecticut, "by savings and sacrifices to share in the Third Liberty Loan, to the end that our cause may prevail and a righteous peace be established." In the proclamation the Governor says: "It is the critical hour of the war," and again he says, "It is a time for us to gather up all our courage to make every effort and to overcome every obstacle."

The proclamation follows:

A Proclamation.
Today our Government is asking us to subscribe for the Third Liberty Loan. It is the critical hour of the war. The world waits as the forces of a conscienceless autocracy are hurled against the armies of Free Peoples.

Belgium and Serbia have been stricken. Their sufferings no one can tell. France, England and Italy, wearied by years of cruel war, are fighting with a spirit born of the high cause to which they have pledged their allegiance. They look to us for help and we demand that we give them our aid. It is time for us to gather up all our courage to make every effort and to overcome every obstacle.

ships, we must provide the means for us to furnish the means for us to do those things. Our generous support will give strength to our country, cheer to our allies, and discomfort to the enemy.

Now, therefore, I hereby call upon the people of this Commonwealth to respond to this call of our Government, earnestly urging each person by savings and sacrifices to share in this loan, to the end that our cause may prevail and a righteous peace be established.

MARCUS H. HOLCOMB, Governor.
By His Excellency's Command, Frederick L. Perry, Secretary.

BOSTON CELEBRATES ITS PATRIOTS' DAY

Boston, April 19.—With an inspiring parade of United States military and naval forces—15,000 strong—through its historic streets, Boston today held one of the most impressive celebrations of Patriots' Day in its history.

Added interest was given the celebration by the presence of Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Josephus Daniels as guests of the city.

It was a great day from the start and even the weather man caught the spirit.

Incidentally the parade and the presence of Secretary Daniels gave a tremendous impetus to the drive for the Liberty Loan.

Train Ahead of Time. The day's program started with a bang at 6:45 when the head of the navy arrived at the Back Bay station from New Haven six minutes ahead of time.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Daniels and Lieutenant Commander A. F. Carter, personal aide to Admiral Benson.

The party was met by Mayor and Mrs. Andrew J. Peters and army aid navy officers.

After greetings had been exchanged the party motored to the Copley Plaza, where breakfast was served. Secretary Daniels and Mayor Peters are old friends and their greeting was very cordial.

Patriotism and Religion One. "Patriotism and religion are one and inseparable," was the message Secretary Daniels brought to the students of Boston University, when he spoke at patriotic exercises, which included the presentation to the school of a book containing photographs and biographies of all students and graduates in the nation's service.

ITALY REINFORCES ALLIES ON WEST FRONT; AMONG RESERVES

Italian Embassy Refuses, However, to Tell How Strong Force Is—Italians to be Equipped and Munitioned by Allies—All Wales, 18-45, Drafted.

Washington, April 19.—Italian first line troops in large numbers constitute a part of the Allied reserves formed by the Supreme War Council at Versailles, according to an official statement made at the Italian Embassy today. Officials refused to indicate the number of these troops and what portion of them are already in France. Such information, it was explained at the Embassy, cannot be made public at this time. There was much satisfaction displayed, however, over the fact that the Entente was to have material assistance from Italy.

It was explained that Italy at the present time is rich in man power. What it has lacked in the past has been equipment and munitions. These now are being supplied by the Entente. The Italian government has called to the colors all males between 18 and 45 and has thousands of effectives awaiting orders. Because of the nature of the Italian battle front, only a small portion of the Italian army can be utilized in the present campaign.

METHODISTS AGAINST GERMAN PUBLICATIONS

New Britain Conference Asks Publishing Company to Stop Issuing Books in the German Language.

New Britain, April 19.—The New York East Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church today voted to recommend to the Book Publishing Company that all books being printed in the German language be eliminated and that the number of those published in other foreign languages be reduced. District Superintendent Richardson said he had had a number of publications of the Germans and that they were very favorable to German victories. He had recently attended a meeting of the Home Missionary society and the consensus of opinion there was that the society stop giving money to churches in need unless at least one service in English was conducted.

Dr. H. A. Bateyes, speaking on the same subject, said that he thought it was time that "we all become one hundred per cent American."

At the opening of the conference Bishop Luther B. Wilson announced that the war news looked more favorable this morning and his remark was greeted with loud applause. The conference opened by the singing of one verse of "America."

Lester O. Schreiber of Middlefield, Conn., and Max H. Beyer of New York were admitted to the conference, the smallest number admitted in years.

The laymen's association opened their annual meeting today with 300 delegates in attendance and the session will continue tomorrow.

Enemy Attacks Break on Flanders Front; French Bombarding Enemy East of Amiens

German Assaults on North and South Ends of French Flanders Battle Front Repulsed with Heavy Casualties, British Official Report Says—Attempt to Take Kemmel Ridge, West of Messines Ridge, Fails—Rheims Once Seat of Beautiful Cathedral, Mass of Smoking Ruins—100,000 Shells Thrown at City

Enemy Everywhere Repulsed.

Paris, April 19.—French artillery carried out a heavy bombardment of German positions near Amiens during the night, destroying a number of machine gun emplacements the war office announced today.

The number of German prisoners in French hands now totals 650, including 20 officers. "A somewhat violent bombardment occurred at different points in the Castel-Mally-Raineval sector throughout the night," the official communique said.

"The French destroyed a number of machine gun nests from which the Germans had been firing on Thursday.

"The German prisoners in our hands now number 650, including 20 officers.

For the French launched a successful attack on the German positions near Amiens (Verdun front).

British Gain.

The British attacks on the Thennes-Mally-Raineval front, where important gains were made at the apex of the German salient, the French opened another intense bombardment destroying a number of German machine gun nests which had been giving the poilus much trouble. The scene of fighting in this district is from eight to nine miles southeast of Amiens on a vital part of the battle line.

German Attacks Vain.

London, April 19.—Swinging their pressure to the southern flank of the Lys salient the Germans have vainly attacked French positions in a desperate effort to widen the ridge. The assaults in this district have been forecast by growing intensity of the artillery firing between Locon and Robecq.

Farther south they reached the dominating heights overlooking the Avre river.

It was evident from the developments of the past 24 hours that General Foch was waiting until the French forces reached the hard pressed British positions on the Flanders front before striking against the Germans on the Picardy plains.

French Capture 500. The French captured over five hundred prisoners and some machine guns and have materially strengthened their lines as well as extended them.

The major part of Senecat Wood is now in French hands and the pressure still continues.

The Germans admit they have been checked in their Flanders drive. The official reports by the German war office on Thursday night said that "the situation is unchanged."

The Germans, however, refused to admit any loss in the Amiens sector, claiming that French attacks around Moreuil broke down.

The repulse of the German attacks on the southern end of the Flanders front, (between La Basse Canal and St. Venant) was accompanied by extreme losses by the Teutons.

(St. Venant lies about ten miles north of La Basse Canal between Nieppe Forest and Merville.)

Not alone were the attacking German columns repulsed, but they lost over 200 prisoners as well.

In the afternoon the Germans renewed their attacks against Kemmel ridge, in Belgium, but were unable to make any progress. Kemmel ridge, which is a dominating height of much military importance, is firmly in the hands of the British.

"The check of the Germans all along the line shows that the French reinforcements that went northward from Picardy to Flanders were in great force and the true importance of their transfer is now being seen.

The Germans employed huge forces in an effort to break into the British position at Bethune. Upwards of 150,000 men were used. The divisions lunged forward in hard-driven attacks, but found the British defensive works a granite wall through which they could not break.

With the American Army in France, April 19.—German military authorities have become increasingly hostile to the pro-German propaganda.

This is shown by a quotation from a German bulletin. It says in part: "Baron von Geyl, general commanding the seventh German army corps in Munster, offers 3,000 marks to the person who first succeeds in implicating any English or American agent guilty of inciting disturbances or revolution in this district, in such manner as may be condemned by the courts."

The foregoing is the first indication that the German authorities have come to fear an actual revolution. It is true that there have been labor troubles in Germany, but the German government claimed they were without any political significance.

Two Factors at Work.

There are two elements in the situation:

1—The effect of the Russian revolution and the spread of Bolshevism influence.

2—The utterances of President Wilson which were intended to open the eyes of the German people to the fact that they were being held in a state of subjection by their military masters.

A wall of secrecy surrounds Germany and the true situation existing in the empire today is unknown to the outside world. "However, as the German authorities have begun to take steps against a possible uprising there is every reason to believe that unrest has begun to manifest itself.

BRITISH MAN POWER BILL HAS PASSED

Field Marshal French Goes to Dublin to Inspect Situation—Irish Oppose Conscription—Still Ugly.

London, April 19.—The Man Power bill, extending military conscription to Ireland is today a law, and it is expected that the government will carry its provisions without any delay.

It took the bill just ten days to pass through all of the parliamentary stages and to receive royal assent, despite the fact that it is one of the most important that has received the attention of the two houses in years.

Considerable hostility against the Irish draft clause has developed in some parts of Ireland.

Field Marshal French, commander-in-chief of the home forces, has gone to Dublin with his staff to make a personal inspection of the situation.

Improving East Center Street. The town road workers, under the direction of Superintendent John Digney, are improving the north roadway of East Center street east of the terminus of the concrete walk. The section of the street adjoining the improved walk was macadamized last year but to the east the road as far as the place where the two highways unite was left unimproved. In spite of the bad conditions of this section many automobilists going west take the north roadway to avoid east bound traffic. It is for their benefit that the temporary improvement is now being made. Eventually the entire north roadway will be macadamized and one way traffic will be established, greatly to the benefit of all concerned.

NEW ENGLAND LOAN SHOWS UP WELL

paign. Silver Bow county, at the end of three days oversubscribed its quota of $2,141,000 and is now trying for $5,000,000.

New England reports 260 towns and communities over-subscribed with 200 honor flags already awarded. Quincy, Mass., has subscribed its quota.

New York Behind. New York, April 19.—With the Liberty Loan slump continuing, New York's total reached $331,500,000. To meet the $500,000,000 quota, New York must subscribe $36,000,000 daily and the local and district committees plan the most energetic measures to pull New York out of the slump.

Washington, April 19.—Responding to the Treasury Department's warning of disappointing results in the third Liberty Loan campaign, the entire 12 federal reserve districts brushed away the gloom and poured a golden stream of $136,811,650 into the nation's war chest in one day, swelling the loan total to $1,089,734,900, the latest official count. The day's bond sales exceeded the daily amount required for the minimum quota of $3,000,000,000 and loan directors have appealed to every district to bend their efforts in maintaining the daily over-subscription record throughout the campaign.

Many States Approach Quotas. Many states in the mid-west are reporting high percentages of their quotas subscribed, and Treasury officials expect several of them to go over the top together. Indiana has joined the states now over-subscribed, and Arkansas, Missouri, Kentucky, Mississippi and Tennessee are nearing their quotas.

The St. Louis district is leading all with 71 per cent of its quota subscribed. Dallas, Texas, is second, with 42 per cent to its credit, and the Chicago district has reported 40 per cent, winning third place. The Minneapolis district moved up from tenth place to fourth place today, with $40,000,000 subscribed. Minneapolis is 38 per cent subscribed. With two fifths of the campaign passed, the national total is 36 per cent complete, and still behind a few points.

New England's Record. New England is showing the greatest amount of individual subscriptions. The down-east states have pursued a thorough campaign to the very doors of the homes, and aided by the compactness of the district, with smaller areas, the individual bond purchasers now total 142,711.

The district added 24,000 Liberty Bond investors in a single day. New England has added to its glory 245 communities reporting over-subscription. San Francisco has telegraphed the loan directors that 50,700 individual subscribers have been mobilized, and 307 towns and counties of the district have won their honor flags. The Atlanta district, which is in last place, is making ready for a drive which it has promised will carry its total beyond the allotment.

Foreign Born Rally. The foreign-born population is rallying to the loan in every city. A group of Italians, Bohemians, Poles, Lithuanians, orthodox Jews, and German born residents are working in Baltimore for an allotment which they set for themselves at $1,250,000. Cleveland, Ohio, has a cosmopolitan committee representing thirty-one nationalities which has pledged a large subscription. Twenty-nine nationalities in Chicago have banded together and in the first few days rounded up $5,000,000 for the loans.

The news of the President's proclamation declaring Friday, April 26, as 'Liberty Day' has set in motion all the spectacular features of the drive. The day will be memorable in American history, as every city, town and hamlet will bedeck itself in the national colors and in great patriotic demonstrations, held under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, the nation will stand to a man and renew its pledges of loyalty and financial support to the common cause.

CANADIAN CONSCRIPTION RESOLUTION TODAY. Ottawa, Ont., April 19.—Because Sir Wilfrid Laurier asked for a postponement of debate on the new conscription act, as he was not ready to discuss it, Premier Borden did not move the resolution putting into effect the Order in Council, giving authority to call out all military classes at last night's session of Parliament, but will do so today. The government hopes to issue the proclamation calling out men from 20 to 23 years old Saturday. The men will have ten days to report.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WAR RALLY MEETING.

Any member of the Chamber of Commerce who needs extra tickets for the War Rally next Monday night at High School hall can obtain them at the War Bureau by calling in person or by telephoning 489. Tickets will be reserved for those who telephone as long as the supply lasts. It is expected that the families of members will be well represented at this Victory Rally. The ladies of Manchester will be deeply interested in the portrayal of "Woman's Part in the War" by Miss Hannah Bailey of Hartford, who comes here with a fine reputation as an elocutionist and orator.

Rev. William A. Keefe of Plainfield, has probably made more patriotic speeches during the past year in Connecticut than any other resident of the state. He is in great demand. City after city has called for him to come again; and he has responded again and again. He seems never to tire in this patriotic work. He is one of the most valued members of the Connecticut State Council of Defense and never fails to attend the weekly meetings and special meetings at the Capitol.

All who wish to hear these speakers are advised to secure their tickets at once. First come is first served.

AMUSEMENTS

WHAT'S WHAT AND WHO'S WHO IN MANCHESTER MOVIE HOUSES BY THEIR OWN PRESS AGENTS.

AT THE PARK.

Before announcing tonight's program it might be well to state that Elsie Ferguson again filled the Popular Playhouse last night. She is the coming queen of the movie-critics says, and she has a local reputation second to but one, Charlie Chaplin. Realizing this, John F. Sullivan dispatched a telegram to Boston last night in which he signed up Miss Ferguson for every picture that appears in for the next twelve months.

Tonight the Italian band of 20 pieces will hold hold a benefit. The first part of the program will be a concert of classical and popular selections. The latter part of the program will consist of a regular bill of movie pictures headed by Big Bill Russell in "New York Luck". In this play you will see how a Rube conquers the big city; a railroad collision; inside stuff about the movies and a thrilling battle in an elevator shaft. The story told is a simple one of a boy from the country on his journey to New York in search of wealth. Big Bill Russell, the great two handed fighter, conquers the roughs of New York and eventually wins the hand of an heiress and all ends happily.

Tomorrow a big Brady-Made, "Whims of Society" will be the headline. Then there will be the great Billy West in "The Chief Cook" and another smashing chapter of "The Bull's Eye".

On Sunday "The American Husband" will be the feature and then—O Boy! it is a pleasure to announce this—another brand new musical comedy is coming to the Popular Playhouse. Nat Farnum, "The Jocund Joy Juggler" with his Doll Dancers and Bon Ton Girlies in a show that "is different" will be in town, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Arrange your dates so that you will be free for the three evenings. A huge publicity campaign is being planned to fittingly introduce this Boston troupe to the Manchester theater-goers.

Chairman David Husband of the local Citizens committee announced this afternoon that he is planning for a farewell entertainment for our boys who are to leave in the draft next week. As soon as the plans are completed they will be announced. The farewell dinner will be served at Cheney hall next Wednesday evening at 6.30.

AT THE CIRCLE.

A corking good story—brimming with heart interest, wonderful acting by the star, excellent direction and support and a finely mounted photoplay go toward making the "Cook of Canyon Camp" with George Heban, the best production in which the famous character actor has ever appeared. This picture was shown at the Circle last evening and will also be shown again this evening. Heban's recitation of French and Italian characters are nothing short of marvelous, and he has the faculty of getting one's attention at the start and holding it throughout the play, regardless of its nature, a rare accomplishment among screen actors. His portrayal of the French cook in the picture that is to be shown this evening is perhaps the best thing he has ever done. Throughout the picture he has inserted those famous "bits" of Heban pathos and humor and the story can't be beat.

Entirely in a class by itself is the Sanshine comedy, "Are Married Policemen Safe," which is also shown on the same program this evening. It is another one of Henry Lehmann's masterpieces. It ranks among the best comedy releases of the season. The Hearst-Pathé depicts many events of important interest both "over there" and "over here."

Tomorrow the management will present a mammoth triple program, without exception the greatest and best ever offered in this town. Here are the attractions scheduled for presentation tomorrow. William S. Hart in the first of the Hart series of pictures by Thomas Ince, "Dakota Dan." Earl Williams in a Vitagraph Blue Ribbon feature, "In the Balance" an adaptation of E. Phillips Oppenheim's famous novel, "The Hillman." The end of "Vengeance and the Woman," a Big V comedy and the Hearst-Pathé. Charlie Chaplin will be shown in the afternoon for the kids. Mischievous Ann Pennington will be seen on the Circle screen Sunday evening.

FOCH STRIKES.

The declaration of General Maunier, a member of the British general staff, that the battle raging on the French-Flanders front is another Waterloo, with Blucher not yet arrived, is no longer precisely true. Blucher has arrived. Foch has sent aid, and the British line is no longer even wavering. The German advance has been halted at least for the time being, about Arras and also south of Hazebrouck, to which the attack was shifted yesterday. Even Berlin makes no claim of progress.

The Germans' efforts Thursday were directed toward the ten-mile front between Givenchy and Robecq, where they tried to cross the La Bassée Canal and bend apart the salient which protects Bethune, an important railway town, the capture of which would help menace British transportation as well as aid in the controlling of Hazebrouck, a still more important railroad center.

The French have been steadily hammering away about Arras, and yesterday to the east of the town they pushed their lines to the banks of the Scarpe.

It is probable that the Germans have the men to sacrifice to another slaughter, if ultimate victory is to be achieved. It appears to have been a part of the single Allied strategy to wait until the foe is exhausted and has used up most of his reserves before undertaking a general counter attack. The British have been hammered for ten days steadily, but the turn of the French will come, if it has not already. Foch obviously would have been foolish to detach any considerable part of his forces, until he had made sure of the safety to Arras, which is almost as near the German front as is Hazebrouck.

The steady advance of the Germans has had one good result, if it has helped to awaken Americans to what The Sun, of New York, calls a "fool's Paradise."

TOWN COMPLETES LOAN QUOTA.

If every town in Connecticut had subscribed for the third Liberty Loan bonds as Manchester has done, the state wouldn't be tagging along at the bottom of the six New England commonwealths with 32 per cent of its total finished. In eleven days the town has exceeded its total of about $19,000—that comprises the entire town of Manchester, including Bolton, Buckland, etc.—by about $1,000. Not content with this, the committee, headed by R. LaMotte Russell, is going ahead to make the total a round million or nearly twice as much as the town's share.

Many a community and town and city will have to do the same thing, if the national loan is to succeed. There will always be a certain percentage of towns which are either unable or disinclined to do their share, just as there will always be a few law-breakers, a few slackers, a few people who don't pay their honest debts, a few railroads which don't deliver your freight and don't pay for it, and all the rest of their ilk. If it weren't for these weaklings or unfortunates or scoundrels there would be little need of law or prisons or charitable institutions. The majority is constantly working for such a minority.

Let's make the town's share a million!

CALIFORNIA AND SINGLE TAX.

Henry George's dream of a single tax on property, increments of value created by the growth of population being returned to the people, may be a definite state try-out for the first time in the history of the world. The Single Taxer of California are trying to have a referendum on the question submitted to the voters; thousands of whose signatures they already have obtained. The propaganda undertaken is so thoroughgoing that a huge so-called "People's Anti Single Tax League" has been organized, with branches in many parts of the state.

How seriously the propaganda is taken by persons of the property may be judged from quotations which we make from a letter, written by the secretary at Los Angeles to a citizen there:

Do you know there is grave danger of a Single Tax law being adopted at the next general election, unless our property owners get up to a serious situation?

Do you also know that the Single Taxers have a fund said to be in excess of $100,000 with which they are extending their propaganda throughout the State of California?

The Single Taxers have raised a cry of "Open California's Twenty Million Idle Acres to Raising Food, Mines and Oil Wells to Use—Feed and Equip the Allies, Win the War."

The letter says also that the Single Taxers claim they can carry the state by switching only 70,000 voters of the last election.

It will be interesting if the Single Tax spark, kept alive largely by Joseph Pels' gift of $1,000,000, should yet flame into fire.

FOR JUDGE OF PROBATE.

The unanimity with which Labor Commissioner William S. Hyde has been accepted by the voters of this town for the office of judge of probate is a warm tribute to our fellow townsman. The office is an important one and the incumbent, if he does his work satisfactorily, has a life job. Mr. Hyde has a clean political record and is the best vote-getter in Manchester. He is well qualified for the office of judge of probate. He is a college graduate and a reputable member of the bar. A life long resident of Manchester, he is familiar with local affairs and has a wide personal acquaintance among his townspeople. All these accomplishments preeminently fit him for the position to which he has been chosen. We believe he will administer the office with dignity and tact and prove a worthy successor to Judge Olin R. Wood, who has so long served the district as a model judge.

FROM DEVILS LAKE.

Rex Beach, president of the Authors League, has gotten a most sincere reply to his letter protesting against the proposed some rates of the Post Office Department. The response comes all the way from the Devils Lake Journal, North Dakota, the editor of which tells Mr. Beach that: "If our congressmen and their duty by their constituents, the only change that will be made in the law will be to put more 'teeth' into it, making Second-Class mail pay cost of handling."

"The zone system is the salvation of the country paper," declares our Devil's Lake contemporary in his concluding caption, and continues:

Every country newspaper in the United States should oppose your scheme of repeal, not that they haven't sense enough to do it. They will follow the lead of the big city papers and magazines of the East and howl about the great injustice of the increase, as you so thrillingly put it, blissfully unconscious of the fact that by doing so they are assisting the chief agents of the mail order houses in stealing away their trade.

Another point. I want any paper that comes into my territory from St. Paul, Chicago and New York to pay well for the privilege, at least let it pay cost. I have to pay freight on my paper, which comes to me before it is printed, and I then distribute it to delivery platters by mail, and I object to the Easterner getting his paper, just because it is printed, into my people's hands free or nearly so.

If our Devils Lake, N. D., contemporary will remember that the publication business of America is concentrated quite largely in New York City, he will begin to see the injustice of the huge increases proposed in second class mail rates for periodicals. It is well to recall further that paper is still high and that the subscriber is bound to pay for the government's new tax. Some of the very best magazines of the country have not paid expenses for many years.

A Liberty Day will be necessary, if the third loan is to be boosted properly. The President has named April 26.

News that the Oxford Soap Company is soon to receive a large shipment of spar is welcome. No more danger of a lay-off for a while at least.

"WOUNDED 'IS TIMES, BUT DON'T WORRY," SAYS SON.

Freepost, L. I., April 19.—"I have been hit by shrapnel and got thirteen wounds—the head, both arms, body and right leg. Outside of that I am O. K., so don't worry." Such is the word received here from Corporal Arthur C. Trayer, of Co. D, 164th Infantry, Rainbow Division, by his father.

WHY LETTERS ARE SLOW FROM MEN IN FRANCE

Dr. Hesselgrave Says Writing Facilities Are Poor and Censors Hold Mail

TELLS OF HIS WORK AMONG HOME MEN

His Canteen Praised—A 15 Mile Walk—Had Not Been Arrested as German Spy.

A continuation of Dr. Hesselgrave's long letter to the War Bureau, a section of which was printed yesterday, tells of the difficulty of finding time to write home and urges his friends to be patient if they do not hear from him often.

Some of the letters he has written have been penned with great difficulty in his dugout close up to the front. He writes: "There are various considerations which might well give us pause in our correspondence. In the first place there is no use of my writing when I should be working, unless the writing is more important than the work. The fact of it is that if I do not work there is nothing to write about, and if I work, in many cases, the writing is precluded by the fact that I am too busy and too driven by the problems that must be solved on the field to give much attention to advising others of those problems and difficulties, or the accomplishments that are finally obtained."

"Now the problems here are so pressing and the means of their solution are so scanty that it necessitates continuous and profligate efforts on my part to bring any kind of order out of the chaos that surrounds me. Besides, I must think out my own plans, which I have been doing largely at night, and then secure their execution by day."

As I have already written you, I have been with the Manchester and Hartford fellows, running a hut, visiting the boys in their difficulties and taking care of their needs and obligations. As I have already written Mr. Miller, I have had to do this work not only on my own responsibility but without proper lists, addresses, etc., which I understand are complete in the files of the War Bureau.

Why Mails Are Slow.

"Again, I must call your attention to the fact that the methods of communication are slow and confused and the limitations are very unusual. Sometimes letters which have to be censored are delayed for days before an officer hands them in and then for a part of the time when I have been at the front there has been no American post office open and all communications to America therefore had to be delayed. Even after letters have been censored they sometimes lie in the post office for some time before they are transmitted to the large centers. All of these things are of necessity a part of war conditions. It is impossible to hear promptly."

"Add to these difficulties the fact that it is almost impossible to obtain clerical and stenographic help except by some personal influence, and you have a serious situation confronting anyone who tries to work here and at the same time give any description of what he is doing, and keep the people informed at home of the progress of his work, or the needs of our men."

A friend in need. "I have been extremely fortunate in securing the services of Miss Cary, as I have already written you, in spite of the fact that she works long hours and sometimes under trying conditions. She has been extremely kind in coming to my assistance by taking dictation of both letters to you and others in Manchester, as well as to some of the boys, whom I am trying to serve, and this she has done so far entirely without adequate compensation. I hope the time is not far distant when I can make some proper arrangement with her for at least a portion of her time. She is deeply interested in our work, and has added me a good deal in the development of our plans."

"Now in spite of these limitations and difficulties I think a good deal has already been done, and certainly I am getting more fully conversant with the problems we have to solve and the methods by which they can be handled. During these few weeks I have collected from the fellows new and additional insurance to the amount of nearly $100,000. A good share of this would not have been cared for had it not been for my efforts. I have come into touch with nearly all of the Manchester men in France, and a very large group of the Hartford boys, as well as young men from the surrounding towns.

Running a Canteen.

"During this time I have had charge of a canteen and hut with their urgent problems of securing supplies and many difficulties the way of transportation to overcome. The boys tell me (and I do not think they would exaggerate), and the officers support them in their assertions, that we have the best canteen they have had since they came to France and this in spite of the fact that we have been in the active area of military operations, whereas up to the time I came with them, they were in a training camp far back of the lines, where many of the difficulties we have had to meet were non-existent. A part of the time we have been under fire and naturally the nervous strain has been somewhat increased."

"I have been living in a dugout several feet under ground, and the living conditions have been somewhat trying. Some days I have walked as far as 15 miles in order to make visits to some of the men, and secure information as well as minister to their needs. There is almost a total lack of transport except by chance in the section in which we have been operating. I have tried conscientiously to meet the difficulties as they arose, and overcome them, without paying much attention to the expense. It has been necessary for me to come to Paris two or three times in order to bring about the proper conditions here, and at the same time look after some of the needs of our men."

Not Arrested as Spy.

"If you see 'Bill' Asimus of the Herald, you might tell him to announce in the paper if he so desires, that I have not so far been in prison, arrested as a German spy; that I have not stolen a horse or taken a vacation in Italy. There are several other things which I have not done that I might dilate upon, but think perhaps this will be sufficient for a newspaper 'Governorment.' I have been very close to the German lines but have made no capture so far except a Boche helmet taken from the old Chateau de Quincy from which I was driven in 1917. Seriously, however, my well and strong and less great satisfaction in the work I am trying to do, and so far as I can see, there is a splendid response among the men to my efforts."

The Open Forum

The Manchester Chapter of the Red Cross is calling for more workers in every branch of the service. While the Liberty Loan drive is taking the time of many women who would otherwise be available, there must be hundreds of others who could devote a few hours each week to this great work.

Never since our country entered the war has the need of supplies of all kinds been greater than at present. Thousands of the civilian population of France and Belgium are fleeing from their homes in the districts newly overrun by the German armies, while wounded soldiers in ever increasing numbers are pouring into the hospitals.

"It is the opportunity and duty of every woman in Manchester to do what she can toward alleviating this suffering by giving as much time as she is able to Red Cross work, either in the sewing and knitting department, or in making surgical dressings for which there is such an urgent call."

Can not that reign of terror, "spring house" cleaning, be abated somewhat, and a little of the energy ordinarily spent in scrubbing-out of the way corners of the house, be turned to helping the soldiers, sons and brothers, perhaps—who are fighting to keep our homes safe?

Editor, The Evening Herald: "Isn't it too bad that even a war like the present can't rouse some of us from our apathy and the rut into which we seem hopelessly to have fallen. As one critic said, some of us will never know there is a war until the fighting is in our own door-

LABOR SHORTAGE MAY CAUSE SALMON FAMINE

Astoria, Ore., April 12.—Some of the salmon canneries on the lower Columbia will have to close down next year if a report made to the industrial and commercial survey class of the University of Oregon is correct. University students have been looking over the situation, and they figure that the labor shortage will be so acute next season that the canneries will not be able to hire enough hands.

During the past season some of the canneries had to pay as much as sixty cents an hour to their hands, with double time for overtime. Payrolls at some of the larger canneries ran from one to three million dollars for the season.

ANOTHER HUN SLAP BY CHANGE OF STREET NAMES

Portland, Ore., April 12.—Here's another German defeat. City officials announced that names of six streets in an addition laid out by a German will be changed.

Karl street will be changed to Pershing, Rhone to Joffre, Frederick to Haig, Rhine to Foch, Frankfurt to Albert (for the King of Belgium), and Bismarck to Emanuel (for the King of Italy).

YOUTHFUL ELOPERS ARE HELD BY POLICEMAN, BUT "BRIDEGROOM" ESCAPES

Knoxville, Tenn., April 12.—Unable to find a justice of the peace in Faber, Ky., the last one having been drafted, and claiming that there was no person there to tie the knot, a boy of fifteen and a girl of fourteen came here to wed.

A message from the wedding bride's mamma best the loveless couple to this city and when they arrived the police kindly took them in tow.

On the way to the police station the little girl wailed that she was hungry. The officer took the pair to a nearby restaurant. Once there they were eating, the officer turned his back. When he turned around only the girl was there. "My 'hubby' had 'sloped' again."

War Corner

Mrs. Emma Teggert of 123 Wells street has received another letter from her brother, Private Clarence Wetherell of Company G. With the letter, came two pictures, taken behind the lines in France and showing the boys in their dugouts.

wounded. Among the great British and two Italian soldiers Private Wetherell also sent in the letter some violet which were picked on March 10. The letter follows: March 21, 1918.

Dear Sister: I am writing to keep up my pledge of writing once a week. I sent you a few pictures we had taken a short time ago in a place behind the lines. We had one crack at the Boches any way. It is no picnic. Did you see any French soldiers over there yet? I am getting along pretty good with the French lingo. Sam Pratt writes to me quite often but I can't find out where he is. I may run across him some day. This place is a very old town. I will tell you about it some day. Well, I think that is all. My love to all. From your brother, Clarence.

BOGUS JUDGE DIES.

Little Rock, Ark., April 12.—W. H. White, a negro who became wealthy through issuing bogus divorce decrees to disgruntled negro couples, is dead. The fake "judge" was apprehended and tried before a white judge, who sentenced him to two years in the penitentiary. Two hours after White was placed behind prison bars he died of heart disease. He had in the course of many years issued hundreds of bogus divorce decrees to unsuspecting members of his race, causing them to become bigamists.

WESTERN CATTLE ARRIVES TO RESTOCK CONNECTICUT

Prof. Garrigus Went as Far as Kansas City to Procure the Choicest Stock.

The first of five carloads of cattle being brought into the State by the live stock department of the Committee of Food Supply of the Connecticut State Council of Defense, arrived at Lyman's Viaduct today where they were unloaded and removed to the farms of John Hankl and A. C. Carrier. The remaining carloads are now on the way from Kansas City where they were secured by Prof. H. L. Garrigus of the Connecticut Agricultural College, who is purchasing the cattle. The shipment as secured by Prof. Garrigus consists of grade Herefords and grade Shorthorns and contains feeding steers to be fattened for market and breeding heifers to be used as stock cattle.

The other cars of cattle yet to arrive will be taken by F. A. Griswold of Rocky Hill, Albert Norton of Berlin, Earl Dunkley of Middletown, Lawrence Raymond of Hadlyme, F. S. Chapman of Old Saybrook, and several other farmers who have agreed to take small lots.

Brought for Farmers. The cattle which are being brought in are a part of the plan of the live stock committee to increase the number of beef cattle in the State. The State Council of Defense at a recent meeting, allowed this committee $5,000 to be used as a purchasing fund for the securing of cattle in the Chicago and other western markets. This money was allowed them with the understanding that the cattle be insured while the property of the State and that a sufficiently high price would be charged for them to cover the expense of bringing them in, so that the State would not lose by the transaction and the fund returned intact when necessity for this method of importing livestock seems past.

Was in Wreck.

Prof. Garrigus, who purchased the cattle, found it necessary to go to Kansas City from Chicago, not finding the quality of cattle desired in the latter market. While on the trip west to secure them, Prof. Garrigus was in a wreck.

STATE DEFENSE COUNCIL TELLS WHAT'S NOT NEEDED

Gives Full Text of Resolutions Passed by War Industries Board—What It Means.

Hartford, April 19.—Under the title of "Unnecessary Improvements," the War Industries Board of the Council of National Defense has issued a bulletin containing the copy of a resolution which it recently passed setting forth the necessity for elimination of capital expenditures on either public or private "undertakings not essential to and not contributing either directly or indirectly to the winning of the war." The resolution was received from the Connecticut State Council of Defense.

This federal action is in line with a warning given to the people of Connecticut some months ago by the Connecticut State Council of Defense that non-essential industry was discouraged and that some federal action in the matter might be anticipated.

Text of Resolution. The text of the resolution passed by the War Industries Board follows: "Whereas it has come to the notice of this board that new industrial corporations are being organized in different sections of the United States, for the erection of industrial plants which cannot be utilized in the prosecution of the war; and Whereas plans are being considered by certain states, counties, cities and towns for the construction of public buildings and other improvements which will not contribute toward winning the war; and

"Whereas the carrying forward of these activities will involve the utilization of labor, materials and capital, urgently required for war purposes:

"Now, therefore, be it resolved by the War Industries Board, that in the public interest, all new undertakings not essential to and not contributing either directly or indirectly toward winning the war, which involve the utilization of labor, material and capital required in the production, supply or distribution of direct or indirect war needs, will be discouraged, notwithstanding they may be of local importance and of a character which should in normal times meet with every encouragement.

"Be it further resolved that in fairness to those interested therein, notice is hereby given that this board will withhold from such projects, priority assistance, without which new construction of the character mentioned will frequently be found impracticable, and that this notice shall be given wide publicity, that all parties interested in such undertakings may be fully apprised of the attention and delay to which they will be subjected and embark upon them at their peril."

FILM THRILLER CAUSES YOUTH TO "GET IN GAME." Petersburg, Ind., April 19.—Mimicking film thrillers came near causing the death of one movie devotee here. Denver Robling, sixteen, farmer's son, had been to a motion picture theater. He was stirred by the hair-breadth escapes of the hero and on the way home opportunity offered for a race with a fast train. He didn't make it. One horse of his team was killed, the other badly hurt, the wagon was demolished and Robling was injured. The boy recently dropped from a beam of the railroad bridge over the tracks, after on to the top of a speeding train. And he's not the least bit discouraged.

COURT DEFINES POSSIBLE PERSECUTION OF GERMANS. Huntington, W. Va., April 19.—In his charge to the Grand Jury here Federal Judge Benjamin F. Keller warned against the persecution of Germans or those who have relatives in enemy countries. "Don't confuse the natural sympathy for the hardships and sufferings of near relatives in enemy countries with treasonable designs against the Government," he said.

Resolutions of Middletown, chairman of the committee after receiving a frank telegram telling of his purchasing agent's predicament forwarded duplicate orders in time to make possible the consummation of the deal.

SOMANHIS EVENTS. April Number Now On Sale—Best Number Yet.

The pupils of the high school yesterday issued the April number of Somanhis Events. Without a doubt this is the best number of Somanhis that has been published since its birth two years ago this month. For literary value the paper is far ahead of any before published. Every department has improved. It cannot be compared with the graduation numbers which are published in June for they are of a different style.

A feature of the quarter's publication is a full page photo of the high school. This picture was taken by Ernest Williams the staff photographer. It is worth the price of the paper to have this picture alone. An honor roll of the school is published containing the names of forty four persons connected with the high school in the service.

Margaret Porter a member of the Class of '20 has written an enlightening article entitled "Going to School in Austria." Miss Porter has attended school in that country, and is able to tell an interesting story. A most welcome article appears in the Alumni department by Tom Quish entitled "Indoor Sports—Now and Then." This is a typical Quish article. Sherwood G. Bowers, '16 has a most interesting letter on life at Dartmouth College. Miss Hannah Moriarty's exchange department is original and clever. The athletics department contains the baseball schedule and a short review of the basketball season.

The school notes written by Miss Mary Quinn are as witty and snappy as ever. The jokes gathered about the school by Miss Barbara Lord are better than ever. The paper this quarter should be well liked by the Alumni members of the school. It will be sold at tonight's high school entertainment.

It has been shown, though it may not be for long, that some points along the western lines were not as well prepared to stop the drive as it was thought—E.

Field Marshals of Big Leagues

talent, never hesitates to respect them.

The answer is Pat Moran, who built himself a niche in the Hall of Fame when he took a team of cast-offs and misfits in Philadelphia and piloted it to a championship in 1915.

Moran is made out of the kind of stuff that counts, and he is not the sort who lets big disappointments sweep aside his determination to win pennants.

When President Baker sold Grover Alexander and Bill Killifer to the Cubs last winter Philadelphia fans said goodbye to Philly pennant hopes. Not so with Moran.

"The club owners have a right to do what they want to do with players," said Patrick, "and though the loss of our star battery is not going to help a lot, we'll be in there giving 'em all a battle for the pennant."

This is the spirit which has enabled Moran to win success as a manager, and it will keep him up there among the ranking managers of the big show.

Moran is a capable, all-around baseball man. He isn't talkative and he is not the kind who makes himself felt, and he ranks as one of the most capable managers who have graduated from player ranks to a pilotship.

Moran is a veteran catcher and in his day was one of the greatest and smartest backstops in the business. He played with Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia and he topped the record for catching in the National League in 1905, while with Boston.

His transfer to the Phillies came about because of the fact that the Cubs had Johnny Kling and Jimmy Archer, and it was the luckiest thing that ever happened to him. When he succeeded Red Dooin as manager of the Phillies he got the chance he had been waiting for throughout his baseball career and he has made good.

Moran believes that catchers make successful managers, not because he starred as a catcher, but because the average catcher on a big league club is the most important cog in the line-up at critical moments. He said at one time that he would not be surprised to see the day when every big league club would be managed by a veteran catcher.

MARKET IS STRONG WITH METALS LEADING

U. S. Steel Common Sells Up, Also Anaconda Copper — Reading Strongest of Rails—Baldwin Locomotive at 80.

New York, April 19.—The stock market opened strong today with a pronounced crossing of speculative interest evident all through the list. Steel Common moved up one point to 95 1/2 and Marine Preferred selling ex-dividend of five per cent. was one point net higher at 89 1/2.

Anaconda ex-dividend of 2 per cent. sold at 64 1/2, a gain of 1/2. There was vigorous demand for American Ice, which moved up 1 1/2 to 26 1/2. Industrial Alcohol opened 1 point higher at 127 1/2 and Distillers' Securities sold at 48 1/2 at the start, a gain of 1/2, from which it declined to 47 1/2.

Upturns of around one point were made in nearly all the steel industrials. The copper stocks were also strong, with Utah moving up to 1 1/2 to 80.

The market tone was strong, although the forenoon profit taking was on so large a scale in a number of issues as to overcome the demand and cause some recessions. There was continued accumulation of Steel Common which sold up to 95 1/2 and all the other steel industrials, also showed a strong tone. There was persistent buying of Baldwin Locomotives, which moved up nearly two points to 80. Reading was the strongest of the railroad issues, selling up 1 1/2 to 81 1/2.

Sinclair Oil moved up one point to 29 1/2 and American Linsseed was one point higher at 34 1/2. Texas Company rose three points to 148 1/2.

Cotton.

The cotton market was quiet and steady in the early trading today, although first prices were 10 to 50 points net lower. The weakness was chiefly in old crop positions. Trade later became very active, and the market unsettled, declining 25 to 35 points on the new crop positions from the highest figures after the opening, due to further pressure from Liverpool and liquidation here.

The five large packers do not handle to exceed one-third of the total meat production of the United States.

MANAGER HUGGINS AFTER MORE PITCHERS

Head of Yankees Dissatisfied—Not the Only Manager Whose Twirlers Have Fallen Down.

New York, April 19.—Miller Huggins, midget manager of the Yankees, is far from satisfied with the team as it stands today. After seeing his club in three games at Washington, Huggins left the team on a mysterious mission, and it is said here he is in the market for pitchers.

The loss of pitcher Bob Shawkey was a severe blow to the local American leaguers, and Huggins, it is said, will attempt to land one, or possibly two more experienced pitchers.

Huggins' dissatisfaction over the showing of his pitchers, may become contagious, for with the first week of the season just closing the box scores show that the pitchers have been hit hard in most of the games played to date.

Baseball men here attribute the heavy hitting to too short a training season for the slabmen this year.

The Dutch must, indeed, be angry with us if they will accept none of our grain. Sure the Germans wouldn't have refused that.—Portland Press.

GERMAN BORN BROTHERS CLOSE IMMENSE STORE TO BATTLE FOR COUNTRY.

Chicago, April 19.—When the lights were put out the other night in the four-story apartment store of Moeller Brothers, here, the curtain went down on the first act of a stirring drama of patriotism.

The Moeller Brothers, John P. and Earl S., have offered up the million-dollar business as a sacrifice on the altar of loyalty to the nation in which their father and grandfather, both German born, made their fortunes. Stock and buildings have been sold and the brothers now are awaiting daily the call to report for service in Uncle Sam's army.

For forty years the Moellers, grandfather, father and sons, have been building up the business, until last year its transactions totaled more than $1,000,000. Three and a half years ago the father died and the sons took up the business, which at the time of its liquidation had over 150 employees.

"KNOWS KAISER PERSONALLY."

Carlisle, Pa., April 19.—Emil Young, who says he is personally acquainted with the Kaiser, was detained by the Federal authorities because he could show no naturalization papers. He asserted he had served in the German army.

STATE OFFICERS KICK ON GERMAN-MADE PENCILS.

Columbus, Ohio, April 19.—Officials in state offices here object to using pencils made in Germany, and the purchasing department is at a loss as to what to do with a supply of such pencils bought before the war started. The boiler inspection division of the industrial commission made requisition for pencils and when they received some "made-in-Germany" goods, they returned them with the remark that members of the division were too patriotic to use the German-made goods.

It has been suggested that employees of the State House use the pencils in signing for Liberty Bonds, so as to do Germany as much harm as possible with them, and then burn them up.

BATTLE OF LEXINGTON ANNIVERSARY TODAY

This is the anniversary of the Battle of Lexington, the first engagement of the Revolutionary War that won the United States her independence. The day finds American troops fighting for the first time upon European soil, but now they are fighting for the liberty of the entire world. It is a significant fact also that the day finds the Americans at the scene of the greatest battle in the world's history.

THREE IN AUTO KILLED BY TRAIN.

Lima, Ohio, April 18.—William Slagle, his wife and son, Gaylord, of van Wert, Ohio, were killed instantly late last night when the automobile in which they were riding, was struck by a freight train at a crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad near van Wert. The accident occurred when the automobile engine stalled on the tracks.

HIPPÓDROME GYMNASTS FALL; BADLY HURT.

New York, April 19.—Axel Mirano, trapeze artist, was probably fatally injured and his partner, Eugene Flon, was painfully hurt in the Hippodrome here when at the height of their daredevil airplane-trapeze act the King-pin of the whirling shaft broke and hurled them to the floor. Mirano suffered a fractured skull and it is also feared his neck was broken.

NINE AMERICANS KILLED AT TAMPIOCO, MEXICO

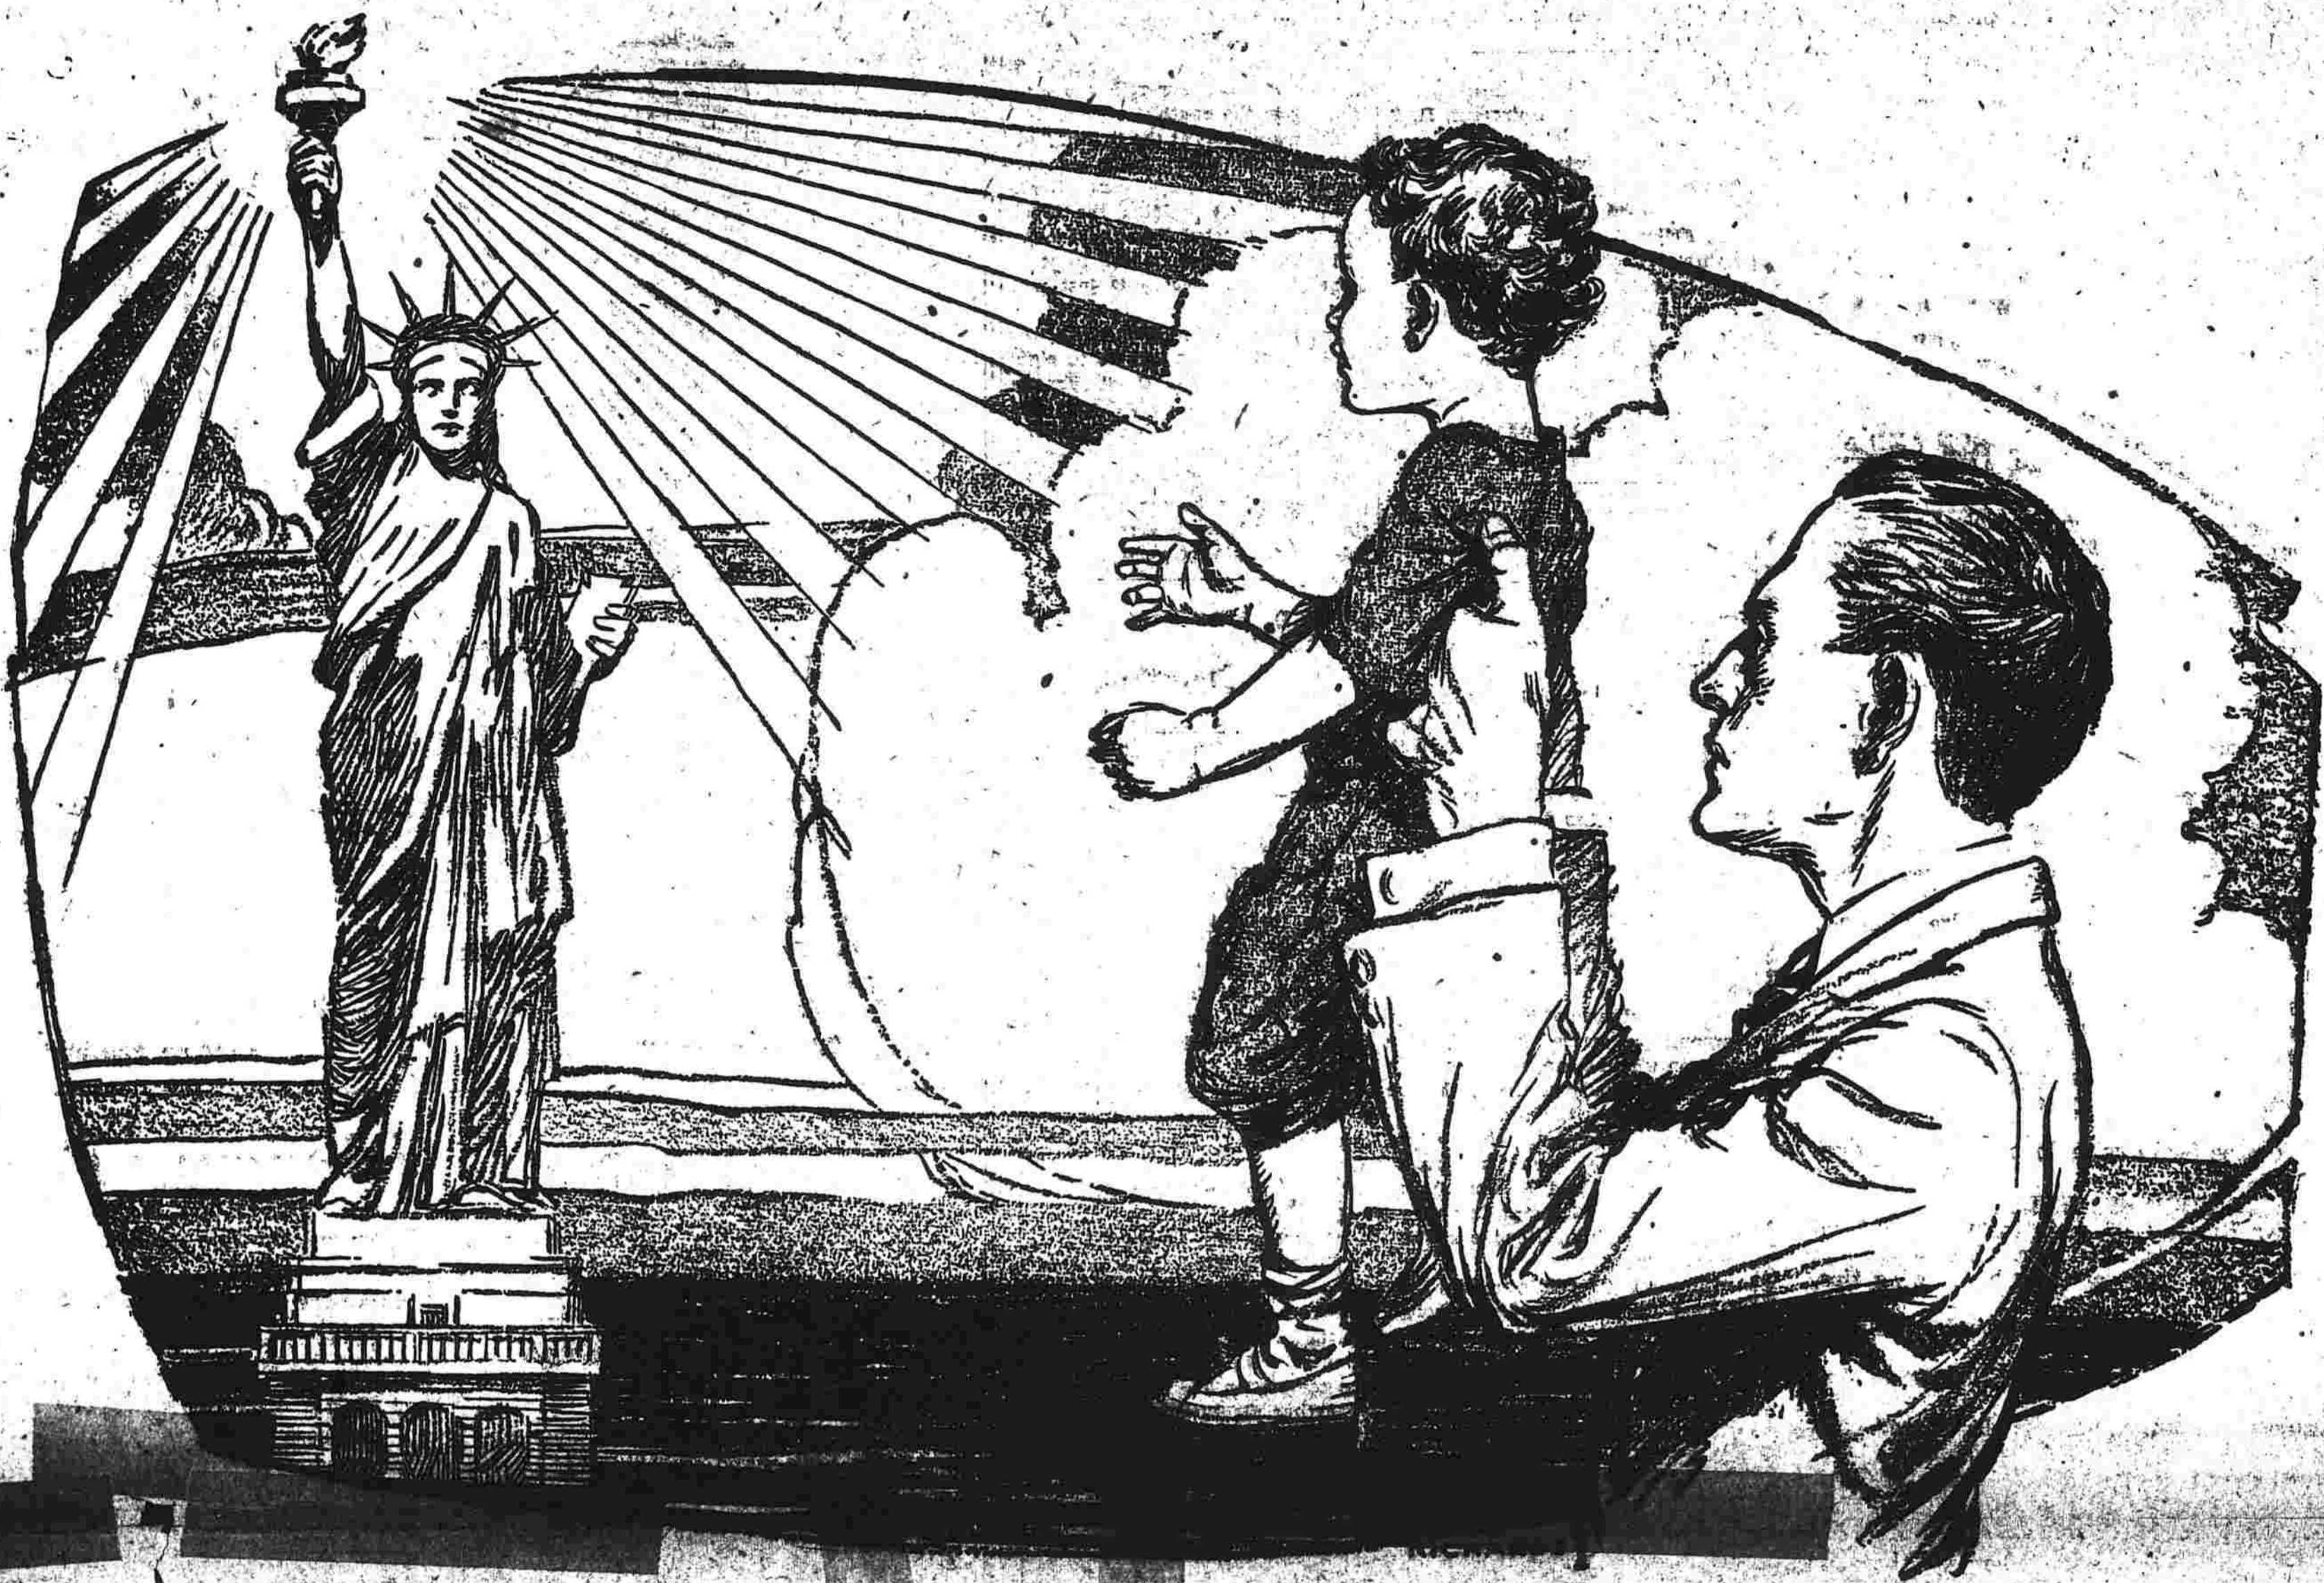

New Orleans, April 19.—Nine Americans were killed in Tampico, Mexico, on April 5 and 6, according to Captain F. M. Sadler, who has just returned from Tampico. He said there are many Germans in Tampico and their dislike for Americans is very evident. Mexican workers also show a keen dislike for Americans, he said.

U. S. AVIATORS STARTLE THROUGHS AT WASHINGTON.

Washington, April 19.—American aviators, flying over Washington in recent weeks have amazed spectators by their daring. British and Italian aviators up to that time had given the city so many thrills that it was thought that the limit had been reached. The American flyers, however, have performed all the stunts of the foreigners, and have added more. One of them, from a height of several thousand feet over the White House, did the loop, the spiral loop and the nose dive in such rapid succession that pedestrians on the streets below gasped.

PRESIDENT SIGNS WOMAN SPY BILL.

Washington, April 19.—President Wilson has signed the woman spy bill, it was announced today, designed to cope with the activities of female agents of Germany. It applies to all enemy aliens and the wives of interred German subjects. To put the law into effect the President at the same time signed a proclamation. It is intimated that this will exclude female subjects of Germany from the district of Columbia and the various military zones into which unnaturalized Germans must not go.

Give Your Little Ones An Interest In the Future

THEY are your hold on the future, and America is fighting to make their future safe. They are too little to realize this now,—but some day they must learn to reverence the traditions of America, and understand the great cause for which the men of their fathers' day gave their lives.

Be ready to put into their hands bonds of their government. They will be for them inspiring evidence that their fathers planned, sacrificed, and invested for their future. Liberty Bonds will mean more to them than money. They will make them proud of fathers who in America's day of great need proved themselves true American Patriots.

Invest in Liberty Bonds for your little ones.

Sergeant and Mrs. Charles A. Robbins of Camp Dix, N. J., are in town for a few days. They will return to New Jersey Tuesday.

R. W. Tinker JA, local agent for the Buick car, has delivered to Mrs. T. L. Cheney an attractive runabout, finished in gray.

Everett Anthony, who formerly lived on Hollister street and who recently moved to Hartford, has enlisted in the Merchant Marine service.

William Munsie of the U. S. S. Mt. Vernon, who arrived home Tuesday night on what he supposed was going to be an eight days' furlough, has been called back to duty.

Joseph Madden of the Medical Corps, who has been training at Camp Hancock and Barton Brown, who has been training at Camp Gordon, are enjoying furloughs at their homes in town.

Thomas F. Conran, who joined the Medical Corps at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., has been seriously ill with double pneumonia, but is reported to be recovering. He was taken ill three days after his arrival in camp.

William E. Hibbard, treasurer of the Eighth School and Utilities district, yesterday received a check from the town for $333.00, the amount of the corporation tax paid by the residents of the district, to the state.

Ernest Turkington, who has been employed as a chauffeur by Perrett & Glenney but was planning to leave their employ tomorrow night and go to work for the Winchester Arms company in New Haven, Monday, has been called to appear before the draft examining board in East Hartford next Thursday and leave for Camp Upton, Friday.

Every seat in the High School Assembly hall will doubtless be taken at the War Rally to be held under the auspices of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce next Monday evening. President A. E. Bowers has succeeded in securing for that occasion two public speakers of note throughout the state. Both speakers are exceptionally well versed in the work and both are good speakers.

Mrs. Alva Woodward, formerly Miss Carrie Sauer, of Pine street, was given a miscellaneous shower in Room 2 at the Recreation Center last night by about 20 of her girl friends from the ribbon mill office and the South Methodist school. Mrs. Woodward received gifts of china, cut glass, pictures and linen. A pleasant time was spent with games and during the evening refreshments were served. Mrs. Woodward's husband is training with the Aviation Corps in Texas.

Now that the Republicans have nominated William S. Hyde for the office of judge of probate there is some talk among the prominent Democrats of having his name endorsed or else make no nomination. One Democrat told a Herald man the other evening that if there was a man named by the Democrats to oppose Mr. Hyde, the latter would get a large vote from the Democratic party. If there is but one candidate for the position the election which is to come on May 8, will be of little consequence. Mr. Hyde is sure to be elected.

W. E. Hibbard is one of the men who believe that it is good business to keep chickens. He keeps them and he makes it pay the year round. He has 35 hens and he claims that it costs him 25 cents a day to feed them, and that he has averaged $1 day in the receipts from his eggs for the six months in the year. If he did not get a single egg during the other half of the year he would still be to the good. He keeps chickens that are two and three years old and he says that it is like every other kind of business it must be attended to in order to get good results. He urges every person to keep chickens.

Farmers and home gardeners have been busy this week getting the land ready for cultivation.

Word has been received of the late arrival overseas of Fred Corbett, who formerly made his home with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Snow of Pine street. Young Corbett enlisted in the U. S. Cavalry last summer and has been training in the South.

The main shaft at the Orford Soap factory broke down yesterday and caused a partial shut-down. Workmen were busy welding the break and it is expected that the factory will be able to resume full force by Monday. The concern is just now very busy.

Frank C. Strant of Main street who has been ill for the last six or eight months, was taken to St. Francis hospital yesterday afternoon for treatment. He has been growing weaker during the last month and it was decided to take him to some institution where he could have constant care. There is very little hope held out for his recovery.

HYDE FOR PROBATE JUDGE GETS UNANIMOUS VOTE

Nominated by Republican Caucus in Three-Minute Session—His Election Sure.

"It gives me very great pride

"To nominate William S. Hyde."

So chanted Judge H. O. Bowers at the opening of the judge of probate caucus last night.

"I second the nomination," promptly added John M. Shewry.

"Are there any further nominations?" asked chairman A. E. Bowers.

Then after a few seconds of silence, "Those in favor of this nomination say aye." There was a chorus of ayes.

"Those opposed say no."

Dead silence.

"I declare him nominated."

Without waiting for a motion to be taken, the hundred voters present hurried out of the hall. The caucus had been in session just three minutes. The only preliminaries to the nomination had been the election of Arthur E. Bowers chairman and N. B. Richards secretary and the reading of the short call for the caucus.

Labor Commissioner William S. Hyde, who thus received the unanimous nomination of the Republican party for the important office of judge of probate, stood at the entrance of the hall as the voters fled out and received the congratulations of his friends.

The election of Mr. Hyde at the special election May 8 is assured, as the other parties will make no nominations for the position.

REMARKABLY FAST WORK.

On Tuesday morning the local Red Cross chapter received an order to supply 750 comfort kits and the same number of "housewives". By Thursday evening the entire order had been cut out of cloth and had been distributed and already the finished kits and "housewives" are coming into headquarters. These are still to be filled with the articles. This remarkably fast work by the local chapter was made possible by the wonderful co-operation of the various Red Cross auxiliaries in Manchester.

TO SEW FOR RED CROSS.

The house which is situated in the rear of St. Bridget's church has been renovated and will be newly furnished by the women of the parish. This house was formerly the home of the sexton of the church. The ladies will now use it as a permanent Red Cross meeting place. Weekly meetings will be held at which the ladies will sew for the Red Cross and do other kinds of war work. Wholes will be held at the house for the benefit of the war work of the parish.

H. S. DANCE TONIGHT.

A large crowd is expected at the entertainment and dance in the high school tonight. This entertainment is for the benefit of the high school athletic association. An excellent program has been arranged largely under the direction of Mrs. Halsted Dorey. It will consist of patriotic charades and tableaux of our allies. Robert Doeliner will play the violin, Tom Quish and F. A. Verplanck will speak and dancing will be enjoyed after the entertainment. John F. Sullivan of the Park Theater has kindly loaned his new spotlight for use at the entertainment.
