

AMERICANS ARE ON PICARDY FIELD; ENEMY STARTS NEW BOMBARDMENT

AMERICAN TROOPS IN FIRST LINE TRENCHES ON NORTH FRONT, FRANCE

Located Between Somme and Avre Rivers, Southeast of Amiens—French General Greets Arrival of Our Forces in Thick of Picardy Battle

With the American Army in Northern France, April 28.—(Noon) Americans are in the first line trenches.

The Americans are holding part of the battle front on the Picardy field and fighting alongside of the French. They were sent north from their original positions when the Picardy battle developed. They are evidently located between the Somme and Avre Rivers, (southeast of Amiens) as the French War Office recently reported a German attack against Franco-American positions in that zone after a severe bombardment.

French General's Order.
Following general order, signing at the place from which American troops moved to the battle front, has now reached the American forces.

"At the time when we see the first American troops leaving for the battle, officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers of French arms salute their brothers in arms whose bravery they have admired. They congratulate them, (the Americans) on being able to write in the battle of nations the first page of the history of the sons of the great republic who have come to fight on the soil of France for the triumph of Liberty. It is a page that will be glorious."

A struggle has been proceeding with great violence twenty miles north of the American positions.

It is now permitted to cable these facts, but it is inadvisable to state the number of our forces nor the date of their arrival nor the particular sector occupied by our men.

Infantry operations have been limited to patrol and outpost clashes in the darkness.

The guns generally open up their cannonades about 8.30 in the evening, continued to pound the trenches until day light. Then there is a lull, but they resume about 9.30 in the morning, continuing until late in the afternoon. Thus far there have been no gas attacks.

Boche Shells Near Hospitals.
The whole sector is decidedly different from those held by other American contingents.

Boche shells already have fallen within a few rods of our hospitals. The Americans entered the first line after a successful movement, followed by a few exercises in the rear. The final movement forward was preceded by a notable conference of officers around a certain old chateau which may take a place in American history when the censor permits publication of what occurred.

The weather was raw and misty today and the artillery fire was under normal because of bad visibility. As soon as the American artillery was ready, after reaching the new front, it opened up a lively fire against enemy batteries, roads and ammunition dumps thus becoming a part of the great curving present of fire, lighting up the country for miles and miles. All night and the following morning the guns have been shelling the Germans clinging to shell holes and poorly constructed trenches with considerable effectiveness, and it is believed that the enemy suffered many casualties.

FREE GERMAN CAPTIVES NEW DEMAND ON RUSSIA PLANNED BY GERMANY

State Department Learns Latter Will Soon Present Ultimatum—German Commission Soon to Cross Border to See That Demand is Enforced.

Washington, April 29.—Germany is about to serve an ultimatum on Russia, demanding the release at once of all able-bodied German prisoners of war. Failure to accept this latest demand is to be followed by the immediate capture of Petrograd by German troops. Advice to the State Department today, conveying this information, also stated that a German commission of 115 members now is about to leave Germany for Russia to enforce the ultimatum. The demands of the German provide:

1.—That all able bodied German prisoners of war shall be released immediately and permitted to return to Germany.
2.—That all German prisoners of war who are in ill health shall be allowed to remain in Russia under the care of neutral physicians.
3.—That Germany will release only such Russian prisoners of war who are invalided or incapable of military service.

MANY AMERICAN INDIANS NOW DEVOID OF HOMES.

Washington, April 29.—It has just developed that there are at present bands of Indians in this country actually without homes. Uncle Sam has not provided places for these original owners of the nation to live in.

When the Indian Appropriation bill was debated in the Senate Senator Thomas of Colorado, made a humorous allusion to an item for $20,000 for "lands for homeless Indians in California."

"I would vary this to read 'for the purchase of homeless Indians for lands in California,'" said Senator Thomas.

"In Nevada and I think in California and Oregon," replied Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, who had the bill in charge, "there are today and have been for forty or fifty years wandering bands of Indians, objects of pity and charity. They are homeless, as the bill states, and there will be no mistake in passing the appropriation."

"WORLD MAY TIRE OF YOU," WRITES VETERAN SUICIDE.

Memphis, Tenn., April 29.—"Don't try to live too long, or the world may get tired of you. As for me, I am tired of the world. I go without regret or fear." These were the words penned in a note found beside the lifeless body of D. W. Collier, seventy-eight, who had served as a lieutenant in the army of the Confederate States of America from 1861 to 1865. The veteran dressed carefully in his gray uniform, wrote his last word to a relative and then sent a bullet crashing through his brain.

AMBASSADOR TO RUSSIA SILENT ON NEW REVOLUTION.

Washington, April 29.—The State Department today was still in doubt about the counter-revolution reported to have broken out in Petrograd, having received a cablegram from Ambassador Francis dated Saturday in which he made no mention of the alleged revolt.

Paragould, Ark., April 29.—Tom West, a young farmer, expressed a desire that all American ships would be sunk and all American soldiers drowned before they could reach France to fight with the Allies. West made his wants known, and while there did not appear to be any immediate prospect that he would be able to aid the Kaiser in any way, it was thought by local authorities the country would be just as safe with him in jail.

FRENCH REPULSE FOE EAST OF AMIENS SAYS WAR REPORT

Drive Back Germans From Hangard Wood—Artillery Still Active

BIG GUN PRELUDE TO NEW ATTACK?

Front Between Lassigny and Noyon Sees Action Again—Foe Raid North of Grivesnes Yields No Results.

Paris, April 29.—German forces on the Picardy front renewed their attacks east of Amiens during the night, but were repulsed, the War Office stated today.

A number of assaults were delivered at Hangard Wood. In the sector of Villers-Bretonneux, (about nine miles east of Amiens), a heavy artillery duel is raging, while the big guns are active also on other parts of the front. The combat frequently attacked at Hangard Wood but were repulsed. "There was intense artillery activity at Villers-Bretonneux in the sector of Luce Rivulet and between Lassigny and Noyon. "An enemy raid north of Grivesnes was without result."

HOLLAND BACKS DOWN TO GERMANY IS REPORT

Traffic in Sand and Gravel Across Netherlands to be Renewed

DUTCH ARE UNEASY

Interned German Officers Make Break For Freedom, But are Captured By Dutch Cavalry.

London, Apr. 29.—Holland has surrendered to the German mailed fist, said a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily News today.

There was a deliberate creation of fear by German agents, as Germany evidently thought it necessary to prepare the public at home and in Entente countries for Holland's backdown.

Traffic in sand and gravel from Germany across Holland to Belgium, will soon be renewed. Also an economic agreement has been effected which results to Germany's trading advantages and will be of enormous value in the future. Holland will be compelled to supply finished goods for raw materials, despite the fact that the Dutch people heartily detest German methods.

A dispatch to the Daily Telegraph said that although Berlin believes the dispute settled the Dutch are uneasy.

Persons living near the German frontier are withdrawing their money from banks as a result of German troop movements. German officers interned at Waverford, Holland, hearing rumors that Berlin had forwarded an ultimatum to The Hague, broke camp and made for the German frontier, but were recaptured by Dutch cavalry.

NEW BOMBARDMENT BY FOE OVER 10-MILE FRONT BEGUN

Extends From Meteren in France to Voormezele in Belgium, Two Miles South of Ypres—British Report Says Fresh Attack on Loere Has Been Repulsed—Infantry Assaults Developing, in Wake of Big Gun Preparation

London, April 29.—The Germans renewed their drive in the Loere sector of the Flanders front Sunday afternoon, but were repulsed, the War Office announced today.

(Loere lies on high ground just west of Kemmel Hill in Belgium. It is between seven and eight miles southeast of Ypres. In the official report issued by the British War Office on Sunday night it was stated that a German attack was developing at Loere.)

The German assault at Loere broke down under the rifle and machine gun fire of the allied defenders.

This morning a violent bombardment developed all along the battle line from Meteren to Voormezele.

Infantry attacks are developing until it stretched over the whole fighting zone between Villers-Bretonneux and the Luce river. (Further south, on the southern flank of the German salient that juts along the Somme river toward Amiens the Germans opened a strong cannonade around Noyon.)

This artillery activity was indicative of an immediate renewal of infantry fighting on the Picardy front. Hindenburg Reinforces Line.

Von Hindenburg has been bringing up reinforcements on both battle fronts to replace the units shattered by the Allies.

In spite of further German gains on the Flanders front field of battle the highest confidence prevails in London and Paris that General Foch's strategy will prevail over the Germans.

The text of the official report follows: "The attack reported to be developing yesterday afternoon in the Loere sector was repulsed by our rifle and machine gun fire.

"A bombardment, in which gas shells and high explosives were used, began this morning on the whole front from Meteren to Voormezele. "Infantry attacks are developing. The hostile artillery was active during the night between the Scarpe river and Lens and between Givenchy and Nieppe Forest.

"We recovered a post near Festubert that had been captured by the Germans on April 26 along with fifty prisoners and three machine guns.

"South of Albert and near Neuville-Vitasse we raided German positions capturing some prisoners and four machine guns."

"Foe Attacks Southwest of Ypres. London, April 29.—While bombarding heavily along the greater part of the Picardy battle front, the Germans are again pressing their attacks northward along the section of the Flanders line lying immediately southwest of Ypres.

The German war office claims that the British have again retired their lines in the Ypres sector and, that, at some points, their positions are in the same places they were in the autumn of 1914.

The storm center of the latest fighting on the Flanders front is the district lying between Loere, (on the Franco-Belgian frontier) to the Zillebeke zone, immediately south of Ypres.

There the Germans lunged forward in a fierce assault against the British and French forces, occupying height positions around Westoutre.

The attacking columns withered away under the intense machine gun and artillery fire of the Allies.

At Voormezele. Following the flare up of fighting at Voormezele violent cannonading developed there.

(Voormezele lies in German hands for a while, but was recaptured by the Allied forces.)

Thick fog has been interfering with aerial observations. All day Sunday the big guns were raring east of Amiens, (particularly in the sector of Villers-Bretonneux, where a gigantic artillery duel developed. This duel was extended

"LONG LIVE ENTENTE" SHOUT OF SLAVONIANS

Big Demonstration in Southwestern Hungarian Town of Laibach—Procession Through Streets in Demonstration.

Amsterdam, April 29.—Strong anti-German demonstrations have broken out at Laibach, according to word received by the Berliner Lokal Anzeiger from its Vienna correspondent.

The Slavonians wrecked German casinos on a dshops, doing much damage.

There were processions through the streets. Those taking part wore the Slavonian colors, crying "long live the Entente" and "we refuse to fight for Germany."

Laibach is a city in southwestern Hungary. Austrian headquarters, (of the army arrayed against Italy), were formerly located there.

INFATUATED WITH KHAKI, MOTHERS DESERT BABIES.

Louisville, Ky., April 29.—Application to place fourteen little children in the Presbyterian Orphan's Home here brought to light the fact that seven mothers had become infatuated with men in uniform and left their homes, babies and husbands to go with them. The babies were rejected, as the rules of the orphanage require that children admitted must be bona fide orphans, and not children of parents who will not care for them.

The Boy Scouts started, out this morning bright and early to clean up the hill over in the Liberty Loan drive. They found that a large amount of trash had been scattered about that did not discourage them. They were polite, cheerful little fellows and it was hard to turn them down.

Those monster locomotives now hauling freight on this division make an inspiring sight as they sweep through Manchester at the head of long, heavily loaded freight trains. The heavy grades do not seem to trouble them a little bit. The locomotives are so tall that they have no smokestacks, the smoke issuing from a hole in the top of the front end of the boiler.

A forest fire burned over a big tract of woods near Hilliard's pond yesterday afternoon and evening. A number of boys worked until nine o'clock trying to put the fire out, but they were unable to conquer the flames altogether and the fire was still burning this morning. The rain today helped check the flames.

Walter Rau, who enlisted in the Naval Reserves and has been taking a special course at Columbia University, is enjoying a furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Rau of Chestnut street.

Sidney Cushman, of this town, is mentioned as an alternate in today's orders from the local draft board to go to Fort Slocum on Wednesday if for some reason one of the other men to go does not appear in time.

An odd sight for Manchester pedestrians was afforded near the Homestead Park section yesterday afternoon when they saw a Nanny goat and two little kids grazing in the woods near the railroad tracks.

Local boys are finishing the dismantling of the old power house off Center street. Yesterday they were tearing off the slate roofing. In the pool near the old power house the youngsters had constructed several rafts and were floating about in great glee.

The rain of this forenoon did not prevent a large gathering of people from attending the auction at the C. W. Cowles place on North School street. People came from all the surrounding vicinity in automobiles and teams to look over the material offered for sale. The sale started promptly and for the first hour or so the auctioneer sold the odds and ends that always accumulate about a place. There was displayed a lot of good farming tools and implements, household furniture that later met with ready offers. Robert M. Reid was the auctioneer.

He was met with a smile, but no action. He got the selectmen haled into court. The court ordered the flag flown at once in accordance with a State law ordering all schools to fly an American flag.

THEY WENT "A-SHOOTING," RETURNED WITH DESERTER. Rawlins, Wyo., April 29.—Victor T. Ward, of Grimes, Okla., is at the point of death in a hospital here as the result of a revolver battle with two deputy sheriffs who arrested him as a draft evader. When Government agents, who had trailed Ward for two weeks, reached this city the Oklahoma man fled to the hills, leaving word that "if Uncle Sam wants me to fight he will have to come a-shooting." The officers went "a-shooting" and brought Ward back from the hills on a stretcher.

AMUSEMENTS

WHAT'S WHAT AND WHO'S WHO IN MANCHESTER MOVIE HOUSES BY THEIR OWN PRESS AGENTS.

AT THE PARK.

Three bills are noticeable in this week's offerings at the Popular Playhouse tonight, tomorrow night and Wednesday. This evening the bill will start with a Lonesome Luke comedy which will put you in good humor for the entertainment that is to follow. Then Ruth Boland, the local favorite, will appear in another story of "The Price of Folly." These pictures, each telling a complete story, have made so tremendous an impression on the local movie fans that there are at least four hundred persons who come to the Park each Monday for no other reason than to see this picture. The five reel feature tonight will be a Pathe called "Loaded Dice" with Frank Keenan playing the leading role. It is a melodrama bristling with thrills, comedy and beautiful settings. Just as the title suggests it is a story of intrigue with a beautiful heart story woven into a maze of adventure and terse situations. Tomorrow the great No Advance show will be the attraction to lure throngs to the Popular Playhouse. There will be a Triangle comedy and a Triangle special feature called "Captain of His Soul." As an added attraction The Emerald Vaudeville Troupe, professionals, fresh from triumphs on the Poll circuit, will appear. This act is entitled "A Little Bit of Everything" and that just describes what you will see. There will be songs and dances and impersonations, character and straight work, illusions and sleight of hand, and a bit of everything generally seen on a full vaudeville bill in Hartford.

On Wednesday and Thursday a Goldwyn picture will be shown. Without either describing the star or the title, the name of the picture is sufficient to draw a capacity house.

MORMONS PLAN WORLD DRIVE WHEN WAR ENDS, IN CHARGE OF PASTOR. New York, April 29.—As the result of the tremendous slaughter of the men of this generation, the Mormon Church plans polygamy for all the world, according to Dr. E. L. Mills, of the board of home missions of the Methodist church.

He declared that reports from his semi-annual conference held in Salt Lake City recently suggest that they are only waiting for the end of the war to start out on their world campaign. An exhortation by Joseph F. Smith in his presidential address before the conference, that all widowers who are not too old should feel it their duty to marry again is considered by Dr. Mills as significant.

"Just as soon as the war is over," said Dr. Mills, "they are going to make a tremendous drive to spread polygamy all over Europe, because they realize, of course, that the tremendous surplus of women over men in all the belligerent countries will offer such an opportunity for their propaganda as they have never had before."

AT THE CIRCLE.

"Stolen Honor" a Fox feature with Virginia Pearson as the star, is the feature attraction at the Circle theater this evening. It is a thrilling society story of love and intrigue with the National capital for its locale. Other high class single reel comedies and dramas will also be presented on the same program. Tomorrow evening the Columbus Club of the Knights of Columbus will hold a mammoth benefit performance. This organization will have entire charge of the theater and also the program. The program consists of high class vaudeville and movies, the feature attraction on the picture program being "Rimrock Jones", a Paramount special with Wallace Reid as the star. Of all the "pipkin stories" that have been woven around the "wild and woolly" West, this is the greatest. For the vaudeville end the Columbus Club has secured the services of a number of high class artists from out-of-town and it promises an even better entertainment than their last one which was held at the Circle a short time ago.

On Wednesday evening, Jewel Carmen leading woman for William Farnum will be seen in one of her own specials, "The Kingdom of Love", an adaptation of the famous play of the same name which ran for one solid year in New York City. Thursday and Friday comes Douglas Fairbanks in the greatest picture ever made for him, "Headin' South."

On Saturday another triple feature program will be presented. Evert Overton will be seen in a Blue Ribbon special, "The Menace", William S. Hart is the star of an Ince production, "The Last Card", and the other is a big surprise, it will be announced before the end of the week. Sunday evening, George Beban will be seen in another one of his famous portrayals in the Paramount picture, "Tales of the Sierras Heart."

THEY WENT "A-SHOOTING," RETURNED WITH DESERTER. Rawlins, Wyo., April 29.—Victor T. Ward, of Grimes, Okla., is at the point of death in a hospital here as the result of a revolver battle with two deputy sheriffs who arrested him as a draft evader. When Government agents, who had trailed Ward for two weeks, reached this city the Oklahoma man fled to the hills, leaving word that "if Uncle Sam wants me to fight he will have to come a-shooting." The officers went "a-shooting" and brought Ward back from the hills on a stretcher.

MARKET TAKES AN UPWARD TURN

New Haven and Other Rails Up—U. S. Steel Common and Coppers Also Rise—Quotations.

New York, April 29.—The feature of the trading at the beginning of business on the stock market today was the scant offering of all classes of stocks. There was a moderate demand, which caused advances in the first few minutes on a small volume of business, but after that period the market was soon again in a waiting disposition, and some recessions were noted.

Steel Common opened half higher at 95 1/2 and reacted to 94 1/2. Inspiration also made a gain of half to 52 1/2 and small fractional gains were made in Anaconda and American Smelting. Distillers' became prominent, moving up 3/4 to 51 1/2, and Industrial Alcohol rose 1/2 to 124 1/2.

Some of the railroad stocks were established at moderately higher levels, Union Pacific making a gain of 1/2 to 114 1/2, Southern Railway, 3/4 to 21 and New Haven, 1/2 to 29.

Baldwin Locomotive yielded 3/4 at the opening at 80. Strength was shown throughout the forenoon. Steel Common rose 1/4 to 95 1/2. New Haven advanced 1 1/2 to 29 1/2. Corn Products was up 1/4 to 39 1/2. Distillers rose one point to 51 1/2. Inspiration Copper moved up 1/2 to 52 1/2.

Liberty Bonds were stronger, the 3 1/2's moving up to 99.24, and the 4's to 96.82. Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $392,548,771; balances, $46,950,800.

Cotton. Further heavy selling by Liverpool interests caused weakness in old crop positions at the opening of the cotton market today, but the new crops were sustained by continued and expected rains in the central and eastern belts. The whole opening range was 35 points lower to three points higher.

Liverpool afterwards switched over to the selling side and the market became strong, 40 to 43 points net higher.

OUR WOMEN'S COMMITTEE DISCUSSES CHILD WELFARE

Great Interest Being Shown in the Work Here—Those Who Know Tell What Manchester Needs.

Great interest was shown at the meeting called by the chairman of the Women's Committee, State Council of Defense, to consider the needs of Manchester in Child Welfare work as a war measure. A nation wide campaign is being inaugurated by the Children's Bureau in Washington, and the Council of Defense, to safeguard the little children of the country from any injury from the stress of war conditions.

In Our Town. The war has already caused more mothers to go into industry often leaving their babies improperly cared for; and also the high prices of food and especially milk are showing bad effects in under nourished children. Our increasing population of foreign born people makes a great field for child welfare instruction and assistance in our town. Already a wonderful work is being accomplished by Cheney Brothers' three visiting nurses and by Mrs. Ringrose, and the Infant Mortality statistics show great improvement in the health of the children.

Dr. Tinker Speaks. In the discussion of Manchester's needs, Dr. Tinker was the first to speak and gave a most interesting account of the excellent work of the milk station a few years ago, and expressed regret that it was abolished as he sees almost daily need of it still. He showed graphically the importance of the work done by visiting nurses in Manchester.

Need of Night Nurse. Mrs. Ringrose explained the town's need of a night nurse who could also be called Sundays, and said also that great good could be accomplished by the town's having a special babies' nurse. She believed there is need of a day nursery in Manchester where the babies of women working would get proper care, and at the same time mothers could receive instruction. It was seen that Mrs. Ringrose's work is handicapped by her having no means of conveyance for her many visits.

Austin Cheney Explains. Austin Cheney spoke as President of the Children's Aid Society of Connecticut, and brought out the danger of a Day Nursery's relieving young mothers of their responsibility too much. He said the Children's Aid Society, when necessary, pays mothers to care for their children, rather than encouraging them to leave them to go to work. He told of some towns having offered prizes of sums of money to the mothers whose babies showed the greatest improvement during a year, and of the drop in the death rate brought about by this method.

Dr. Sloan's Opinion. Dr. Sloan expressed the belief that a Day Nursery is the present need of the town, where each individual case can be followed up.

Miss Dorothy Platt gave an interesting account of the work by Cheney Brothers' nurses and urged the need of a Day Nursery, now that many mothers are in the mill and the babies suffering as a result.

Miss Moore, the Eighth District nurse, advocated establishing Public Health Centers in the schools. A committee of women of each district would co-operate with the nurse and teachers of that school in getting the mothers to bring their children to the school certain days. The doctors and visiting nurses would co-operate in holding baby clinics, and instruction could be given the mothers, and when necessary, milk formulas given. At the same time school girls could learn something of the care of babies.

Dr. Moore's Address. Dr. Moore of our Board of Health, approved of Miss Moore's suggestion as more practical than the Day Nursery, and suggested the desirability of our school nurses continuing their good work through the summer. He brought out the fact that there is far greater need of child welfare in the north end than in the south end of the town. He also explained the efforts of the Board of Health in getting fresher milk delivered. By the consumers not receiving the milk until towards noon each day it could be that morning's milk instead of twenty-four hours or more old.

The Need of Milk. Miss Buckley, the Ninth District nurse, urged the great need of children's being furnished milk, and brought out the fact that England and Italy have regulated the use of milk so that children may have all they need.

It was voted that the temporary chairman of the meeting, Mrs. William C. Cheney, appoint a committee of five to map out a plan for child welfare work which shortly will be submitted. Notes of the meeting were skillfully taken by three girl volunteers from the high school.

IGNORE TREATY OF BREST-LITOVSK

Russian Counter Revolutionists Said to Have Repudiated Agreement of Bolsheviki with Germany—Word From Finland.

Copenhagen, April 29.—Leaders of the counter revolution in Russia refuse to recognize the peace treaty effected between the Bolsheviki and the Central Powers at Brest Litovsk, says the newspaper Aftenbladet. The information was received from Finland and added that the counter-revolutionaries are demanding a new peace which would allow Estonia to continue under Russian rule.

Earlier advices also indicated that the Bolsheviki regime had been overturned. It was reported that former Czarvitch Alexis has already been named ruler of Russia and Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch had been appointed regent.

Those who are contributing more to the government through penalties than they would have through the payment of their proper tax cannot put forth any recognized claim to being super patriotic.—Ex.

OUR H. S. TEAM BEATS BRISTOL AT BASERALL

Finds Home Team Easy in Saturday's Game—Score 20 to 3.

"Nineteen runs, no less" seems to be the motto of the high school baseball team in this town. Saturday afternoon the team went to Bristol and brought home not only nineteen scalps this time but twenty. The score at the end of the game was 20 to 3. Bristol was squelched so badly that after the fifth inning the Bristol spectators were rooting for Manchester. The game was won on the good hitting of the locals and the good support given Ballsieper's good pitching. There were only two errors made by the locals and they could easily have been called scratch hits.

Three Wins So Far. This is the third game captured by the locals so far this season. The first game they defeated Meriden 19-5; the second they beat Enfield 19-2 and Saturday made their third. Ballsieper fanned ten of the Bristol men while his opponent Woodford struck out six of the local batters. The Manchester boys got fifteen clean bingles for a total of twenty-one bases. The trouble started for Bristol in the sixth inning. At the beginning of that inning the score stood 4-3 in the locals favor. "Gill" Wright started the mischief by getting a hit over second. Knofla followed with a clean swing to left. The Bristol pitcher struck out Finnegan and then passed "Bobbie" Crockett. Lynch followed with a clean hit bringing in two runs. Woodford the Bristol boxer threw wild and hit McKay. Glenney then got a hit to left center bringing in three runs. Ballsieper followed with another hit. The Bristol infield then went up in the air and made three errors in succession, batting for second time that inning. With the bases full, "Bob" Finnegan drove the ball to deep center for three bases. Crockett followed with a hit bringing in Finnegan and got caught going to second. Lynch flied and the inning ended with the score 15 to 3 the locals having scored eleven runs in one inning. There was nothing to the game after that except the excitement to make the score go over nineteen runs. The box score follows:

Next Saturday afternoon Gilbert High of Winsted will send its strong team to town. Last year this team was one of the two which defeated the locals. But this does not worry the Manchester boys and they are out to add another victory to their good start. The game will be played at Mt. Nebo and no doubt there will be a large crowd of supporters at the game.

MAN POWER DECIDING FACTOR, SAYS WAR DEPARTMENT IN WEEKLY REVIEW

Washington, April 29.—Declaring that the outcome of the present operation on the western front depends on man power and that the enemy is seeking a decision that will end the war, the weekly review of the War Department states that it is our imperative duty to provide replacement units for the armies in France. Very large quotas in addition to those already called to the colors, or already selected for service, will be required in the immediate future to fill the gaps.

While admitting that the series of crises up to the present have in a large measure favored the enemy, the review maintains that unity of command of the Allied forces has doomed to failure the intentions of the enemy to paralyze the independent will power of the British command and has extended the operation to the broader field of general engagements in which the Allied forces will be used interchangeably.

Thus, instead of the enemy being able to defeat the British army and then turn its full energy against the French, the Allies are now able to oppose their full united strength to the hostile attack.

Our own forces have taken part in the battle and are in action in the area east of Amiens. The review states modestly that during the various engagements which have raged in this area, they have acquitted themselves well.

The battle of Selcheprey, on the morning of April 21 is described briefly.

Following a heavy preliminary barrage, the enemy swept over our lines on a frontage of approximately three kilometers, a little more than two miles. Our men were driven out of the village but in the night the Germans evacuated the positions captured and we were able to reoccupy original front lines.

French War Cross Given To 122 Bay State Troops

With the American Army in France, April 28.—(7 p. m.)—While German heavy guns roared a short distance away, and the staccato of the snipers' fire cracked, 117 members of the 104th Infantry Regiment, Massachusetts National Guard, and five members of other Bay State regiments were awarded the Croix de Guerre today.

This honor, the first award to an American regiment ever made by a foreign government, went to the troops which withstood the first German attack in force, the raid of the 800 picked shock troops in the Apremont Wood sector, northwest of Toul, on April 10, 12 and 13.

Two chaplains included. The regiment formerly was the old Second and Eighth regiments of the National Guard. It had seen service on the Mexican border.

Two chaplains of the regiment were among those decorated: Rev. John S. DeWolfe, Catholic, and Rev. James J. Corbett, of Somerville, Mass. He fell over backwards in a dead faint just before the French general reached to pin the medal on his breast. He had left a cot to be present, but was overcome by the strain of battle and gave way through excitement and fatigue, but soon recovered.

In the line were gaps, showing the places for the dead and wounded whose valor was being remembered. Medals for the former are being forwarded to their relatives, while those for the wounded were distributed in the hospitals.

The regimental review was a striking spectacle, inspiring to all. "The Germans can never lick a gang like that, or lower that flag," said Private J. H. Gallagher. "My first thought as I stood in line there and the French General pinned my medal on me was what my mother would think."

The battle for which the decorations were awarded was the first important one of the war for the Americans and was followed about a week later by the battle of Selcheprey, Chaplain Des Valles, who is from New Bedford, and Chaplain Danker from Worcester, a manager, several captains and non-coms headed the long line of privates in the dramatic ceremony.

The Third Liberty Loan

Is your opportunity to prove the patriotism that is in your heart and on your lips.

Your opportunity to show yourself worthy of the heroism, the devotion, the self-renunciation of your soldiers and sailors.

Your opportunity to share, in some small degree, the sufferings of those who stand ready to make the supreme sacrifice for you.

All you can do is little enough. You simply lend your money. Do it, and be glad that you can do so much and sorry you can do no more.

NEW HAVEN ROAD GETS VERDICT

The New Haven road has at last received its verdict. It is awarded an increase in fares and freight rates but is bluntly told by the Interstate Commerce Commission that its huge outside investments will not be included in the capitalization on which the traveling public are to pay dividends. This is bad news to the shareholders, who have not received any dividends for the last four years and who have seen the market value of their stock fade to almost nothing. But at any rate it relieves the suspense and lets them know what they may expect in the future. If the road can dispose of its outside properties to advantage and confine its future activities to the railroad business its stock may in time resume dividends and increase in market value. It is believed that the rate increases granted will net the road about $6,000,000 a year. The shareholders are morally innocent of the reckless proceedings which put the road in its present plight. For years the property was conservatively managed. The railroad served one of the wealthiest and busiest sections of the United States and its future, judged by its past, seemed to be prosperous. The majority of its shareholders regarded its securities as sound as government bonds and trusted the directors implicitly. But according to the Interstate Commerce Commission, the directors of the road, beginning about 1903, entered upon a course of reckless and lawless mismanagement, so that now the New Haven is "everything a railroad ought not to be." For this the shareholders, while morally blameless are technically responsible, for they chose the directors. Therefore they must bear the brunt of the loss. New England, however, needs the railroad, in fact cannot get along without it. So the commission is going to advance rates to a point which will keep the road running. Freight rates will be increased between five and fifteen per cent and one way passenger fares to 2 1/2 cents a mile. Thus the public will share with the stockholders the burden imposed by past mismanagement.

MR. CREEL AGAIN.

If during the past fortnight there has been a better-advised government official, not excepting the President himself, than Chairman Creel of the Committee on Public Information, we don't know who he is. The prominence given to the utterances of the Associated Press at its dinner to General Manager Melville E. Stone overshadowed a resolution introduced by Senator Lodge at the request of the National Security League, which indicates the feeling of that organization. Here it is in full: Whereas it is evident that any information that may be issued by the Government to the American people must be absolutely correct, lest the confidence of the Nation be undermined and credence be finally denied to news from such sources, though reliable; and Whereas it is the inalienable right of the American people that such news as is given them be reliable in order that the administration be upheld through the unity of the people and the war prosecuted to a successful issue: Be it Resolved, That it is the sense of the executive committee of the National Security League that national safety requires that the Bureau of Public Information be under the direction of a committee of three or five men not holding any other public office, selected because of their high standing and experience and irrespective of political affiliations; and it urges on Congress the enactment of legislation to that end. Very truly, yours, S. Stanwood Menken. Mr. Menken is the League's President. On motion of Senator Lodge the resolution was referred to the Committee on Military Affairs. There is no question that the importance of the government's function in keeping the world informed regarding its affairs had not been seen up to the present war. The League's resolution probably will meet some opposition merely because it is the League's and Mr. Lodge's, but it should receive careful attention. It is the business of a bureau of public information primarily to be independent of all considerations, save that of presenting the truth, dispassionately and impersonally. The country already has too much matter from Washington that is colored and doctored to suit special purposes, if not special interests. The impassive attitude which every reporter should have is coming to be unknown, and the endeavor to be interesting is coming to mean distortion of the facts. The Associated Press has not been perfect either. It has been non-partisan in a political sense, but it is and long has been reactionary, rather than progressive, a partisanship of the worst sort. It ought not to be hard to constitute a public information bureau which would be above partisanship merely because it would content itself with a purely reportorial attitude and present the facts as they come out from day to day.

MANCHESTER'S NEW VILLAGE.

The fifty new houses which Cheney Brothers are putting up will constitute when occupied a new village in town. They ought to be completed by early next fall. No bigger contrast than these new houses with the stereotyped "factory houses" of many another manufacturing community could be imagined. There is no fifty-house row, by means of which expense could have been spared by making one partition do for two dwellings. Indeed there is no row at all. Each house not only stands by itself, but has an individuality of its own besides room to breathe. The fifty houses are of many sizes and styles, but all are simple and artistic. The streets and the spaces between them and the houses have been laid out in an attractive way, also. The landscape artist seems to have availed himself of the best ideas of the day. The new development ought to end the congestion from which the town has been suffering for a year or more, through lack of sufficient housing accommodations.

BRISBANE'S PARAGRAPHS.

Rumania, having made peace with Prussia, is "taxed"—which means robbed—two billions of dollars. The high cost of Prussian peace presents a problem, as does the high cost of living for families of small means. The German idea of robbery grows rapidly. Forty years ago Bismarck "taxed" France one billion dollars—five thousand million francs—thinking France wouldn't be able to pay the amount. Now the half starved little country of Rumania, already wasted by war, is taxed ten thousand million francs—twice the tax put on France.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION FOR THE PROSPEROUS OF THESE UNITED STATES:

If Prussia puts a fine of two billions on Rumania, a country not worth half as much as any one of a dozen States in this Union, what kind of a fine would Prussia put on the United States if allowed to win? And isn't the Liberty Bond a wise form of economy for the American citizen? "Suicide is confession," the police say. When a man accused of murder is found dead, it is understood that he committed the murder. In statesmanship, resignation is confession. Count Czernin, proved a liar by the French Government, resigns.

IT IS POSSIBLE THAT THE KAISER WAS WILLING, AS GERMAN NEWSPAPERS PUT IT, TO "LOSE THREE HUNDRED THOUSAND MEN" IN ORDER TO PROVE THAT PRUSSIA COULD BEAT ENGLAND—THE LAND OF HIS ESTEEMED GRANDMOTHER, QUEEN VICTORIA—IN A STANDUP FIGHT.

Mr. Gerard quotes the Kaiser as saying, "I shall stand no nonsense from the United States." This is quite true, for the United States will not ask the Kaiser to fight. Fighting, like flying, seems especially adapted to youth. A boy of seventeen, after his first battle and killing, could talk only of "souvenirs" collected, a belt labeled "Gott Mit Uns," new trench daggers, etc. "Believe me, I am anxious for the next fight," said he, anxious undoubtedly for more souvenirs. Happy, unconscious youth.

stand any nonsense. But it will ask him to stand some common sense and the men that are going abroad now represent that common sense and will endeavor to enforce it. . . . Such remarks by young American soldiers may not come up to your ideal of lofty, patriotic purpose. But, undoubtedly authentic, they will interest German statesmen wondering how big a fine they can collect from the United States "after victory."

One young soldier tells how he was at first connected with a machine gun, but found that he could do better with hand grenades. "After the barrage I seen two Germans cutting the wire with long snippers. I spun a couple o' grenades at 'em, and blew 'em both to hell. Me for hand grenades." The serious religious tone is lacking here, but this sort of personality multiplied by five millions and well armed will probably cut down the German estimate of a United States indemnity.

The Austrian Emperor Charles, squeaky little imitation of an All Highest says, "My cannon in the West is the last reply to Clemenceau's low accusations."

Clemenceau showed that the Austrian Emperor and his Minister, Czernin, are a couple of ordinary liars. The Emperor's reply recalls the school boy's answer to a truthful accusation, "I guess you're thinking about yourself."

"My cannon the only answer," says the Emperor. What is the difference between that and the burglar who says, "Squeal on me, and I will put a bullet in you?" There may be another answer to the Austrian Emperor. One that he doesn't expect—from his own people. A few more months of starvation and the mixed population of the dual monarchy will give Charles an answer that will take his mind off "my cannon in the West" suddenly.

The new Hartford weekly newspaper, the first issue of which appeared Saturday, has chosen a good name at least. It is called the Herald and is published in the interest of the 5,000 members of the colored race of Hartford and vicinity. Two Pittsburg men are the editors.

HIS "ARRIVAL" IN FRANCE.

It was with considerable interest that Sergeant Alexander Miller and members of his family read in a Hartford paper Saturday morning of his safe arrival in France. The Sergeant, at the time, was spending a short furlough in town with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Miller sr. of Ridge street. He has been training recruits at Camp Dix for some time past and wouldn't be surprised to be ordered overseas any time, but he has received no such orders as yet.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

The local branch of the W. C. T. U. will meet at its rooms in the Cairns building on Main street at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. After this meeting, the rooms will be closed for the summer. Since last fall, second hand garments have been sold there at most reasonable prices, the store being conducted with the idea of helping those who could not afford to pay the higher prices charged for new clothing and other necessary articles.

ATLAS WIN AND LOSE.

The Atlas baseball nine defeated the Blue Ribbons of this town Saturday at the Main street diamond by the score of 8 to 4. Taylor of the Blue Ribbons pitched a hitless game until the sixth. Singles in rapid succession in the seventh sewed up the game. Sunday the locals lost to the Federals of Rockville in Rockville by the score of 19 to 5. Clean hitting won the game. Blue Ribbons 1 0 1 0 1 1 0 0 —4 Atlas 0 1 0 0 1 2 4 x—8 Federals 0 0 0 0 0 0 2 3—5

FOR BRITISH RED CROSS.

Local Members of Daughters of Britain to Hold Benefit Performance. As explained in a letter in the Open Forum on Saturday, the Daughters of Britain, a local organization, have been working since the war began to make easier the lot of the wounded British soldiers in the great world conflict. The local organization now plans to hold a benefit performance at the Park theater on Friday evening, the receipts of which will be turned over to the British Red Cross. There will be movie features and also vaudeville numbers by local talent. The work has the endorsement of the local War Bureau and from the number of tickets already sold it is expected that the theater will be crowded by local residents who wish to help this most worthy cause.

LARGE CROWD WITNESSES GYMNASIUM CLUB EXHIBIT

About 500 Persons at Recreation Center at Benefit for Local Red Cross.

The work of the Swedish Gymnastic club was exhibited Saturday night at the Red Cross benefit in the Recreation building gymnasium. The "gym" was crowded. There were easily five hundred persons present. The running track was taxed and the entrances to the large hall were jammed. The exhibition consisted of setting up exercises, running and jumping events and various feats of athletic skill, done first by the girls of the club and then by the boys. All the work was done under the supervision of Walter Olson. Every feat performed showed careful training. Both classes paid strict attention to their work and obeyed the orders which were given in Swedish. The exhibition started at eight o'clock and was over shortly after nine o'clock. There was dancing from then until midnight. Ice cream and cake were served at the buffet lunch counter on the lower floor. The receipts of the evening were turned over to the local Red Cross chapter.

ENLISTS IN MEDICAL CORPS.

William Stevenson of Walker street, who has been employed in Cheney Brothers' main office, left Saturday afternoon to join the Medical Corps of the United States Army. He had to report in Hartford, but did not know where he was going from there. Before leaving work at the office, his fellow workers gave him a wrist watch.

THRIFT STAMP SALES.

Hartford, April 29.—Sales of war savings and thrift stamps in Connecticut now amount to more than $3,000,000, according to figures announced today at the office of the State Director of War Savings. Of this amount $2,881 has been sold through the medium of the various post offices, and the remainder through the banks.

Figures compiled by the State Director show that Connecticut's per capita sales are in excess of $2.25, placing this state in the lead among all the commonwealths of New England. Figures sent out from Washington show that Maine is second in per capita sales and New Hampshire third. Bridgeport is now leading the total sales of the larger cities, with a figure slightly in excess of $405,000.

DON'T WASTE SEEDS.

Careful Gardener Doesn't Crowd His Plants Together. People who buy more garden seeds than they need or sow seeds too thickly will be depriving someone else of seeds and may cause a scarcity, according to garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

It is easy to plant more seeds than is necessary when the assumption is that a few more or less will make no material difference. Later the extra plants have to be thinned out or, more often, are left to crowd together and produce an inferior crop. It is assumed that before purchasing the seeds, the garden plan has been carefully made and the actual amount required has been determined. If this is done there will be no occasion for waste. The most successful market gardeners figure very closely upon the amount of seed required. They buy the best obtainable and then plant only the required number to the hill or row.

WEIR-HALL.

Henry O. Weir, a farmer of South Main street, and Miss Helen Eula Hall of the south end, a stenographer, were married at the parsonage of the North Methodist church on Saturday. Rev. E. F. Studley officiated. The couple were unattended.

MASTER MASON DEGREE.

Manchester Masonic lodge held a special meeting in Odd Fellows' hall, Saturday night, when the Master Mason degree was conferred on one candidate. It was expected to have three candidates, but the others were unable to be present Saturday night and will take their degree at a later meeting. Visitors were present from Fayette lodge of Rockville and also from South Windsor. Following the degree work, a Hoover supper was served in the banquet room, covers being laid for about 125. Manchester lodge is having a busy time this year and at present has several candidates in the works.

NORTH METHODIST NOTES.

The congregation last evening was surprised and pleased to see Dr. LeVerne Holmes come in, he having come home on a short furlough. At the conclusion of the pastor's sermon he was given a Chautauqua salute, and the sermon having been on "Being Gassed," he was called forward to make some remarks on the use of gas and how the gas helmets were put on. He made a most interesting address and answered the different questions put to him. The Epworth League will hold its monthly business meeting on Tuesday evening in the church vestry. There will be the report from the entertainments recently given and the annual election of officers. A social will follow.

An invitation from the Young Men's Club of the South Methodist church was read Sunday, inviting the men of the church to unite with the club at their next meeting on Wednesday evening at which E. H. Gumbart will speak on "Belgium, and its People."

The W. F. M. S. will meet on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. Leon O. Holmes, 43 Cambridge street. The society will also have an address by Mrs. S. G. Barber on next Monday evening in the church to which the public is invited.

The Christian Endeavor society of the North Congregational church has extended an invitation to the Epworth League to join with them in their service next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The invitation has been cordially accepted.

"The Partnership Plan; Next Sunday; Don't Miss It!" appeared in large letters before the Sunday school yesterday. It will be explained next Sunday at the session of the school. "The Whole Tithes and its Excessive Blessings" will be the topic at the Thursday evening meeting this week.

LOCATING RELATIVES.

Buckland Woman Seeking Kin She Knew 28 Years Ago.

Mrs. Margaret Glode of Buckland is hoping that investigations, following the report that Arthur H. Glode had been wounded in France, will result in revealing to her the parents of the young man, whom she believes to be relatives she has heard nothing of in 28 years. Young Glode was reported to have been wounded on April 14 and, after reading the report in the newspapers, Mrs. Glode wrote to Washington, but received no encouragement, as the War Department gives information only to such persons as are designated by the soldiers. Mrs. Glode now has taken up the matter with the local War Bureau officials and a letter has been directed to the National Red Cross headquarters in Washington to see if the parents of the young man in question can be located through that source. Several weeks ago, John Glode,

SPECIAL BOWLING MATCH.

The "Neverwers" lived up to their name Friday night at the Center Alleys when they attempted to bowl the Oldtimers and they certainly Neverwere there. The Neverwers bowled in hard luck. Time and time again they would get perfect hits, but bad breaks, while the Oldtimers could hit them anywhere and get a spare break. Captain Stays thinks the credit of winning should go to him for his great rooting. He claimed that all the Neverwers' "Goats" were out a mile but anybody that saw the match would know that his rooting didn't amount to much for the Neverwers couldn't get the breaks. W. Montie was high roller of the night with high single of 112 and three string of 302.

92 CENTS AN HOUR.

That's What Ohio Factory Workers Earned in Their Gardens.

One large manufacturing concern in Ohio provided gardens for its employees in 1917, and required them to keep an accurate record of the time spent working the gardens and the value of the crop grown. At the end of the season the results showed that the gardeners had received 92 cents an hour for their spare time spent in the gardens. Another large manufacturing concern in Illinois plowed up a prize 40-acre alfalfa field and divided it into garden plots for the use of its employees. The results obtained from this garden plot far exceeded the expectations of both the company and its employees. Manufacturers all over the country are providing gardens for their employees this year, according to reports to the United States Department of Agriculture.

The War Corner

News from Manchester Men Who Are Serving Uncle Sam On Land and Sea

THE EVENING HERALD, eager to gather every bit of news of our soldier boys, wherever they may be, invites its readers to contribute personals, portions of letters, and any information about them they may possess. Such portions of letters as are personal or which may give information to the enemy, will, of course, not be published.

There was so much comment heard on the letter published on Saturday from Captain T. H. Ward who described aeroplane work on the battle front that his mother today submits another which is just as interesting. The letter follows: March 27.

Dear Mother: I have been away for two weeks and it has been the most interesting period since I have been over here. It was two weeks ago when Secretary Baker was here and I, together with others, did some formation flying for his benefit. The next day I was ordered to Paris in charge of 18 other officers to fly planes from there to the front. We practically flew across the whole width of France and passed over some wonderful country. When we reached the part of the country where we were last summer it was quite familiar and I did not need to use any map. While at the front I had the opportunity to cross the German lines for the first time. We were quite high and did not stay over long and were not encountered by the Boche. If we were we could have turned around and come back very quickly.

Saw some of my regiment while I was up there and they all look very fit.

When we returned to Paris, it was being bombarded by a long range gun that shoots around seventy miles. It did scarcely any material damage as it is of small caliber, but the moral effect was considerable for the moment, but that was soon overcome and the people did not become excited over it.

'Did I tell you that I received the box you sent. It was very late in arriving as it has been following me all over France. While up at the front I was quite close to the local boys but did not get a chance to see any of them. The Heralds come in bunches of five or six and I am able to keep in touch with things at home. It is becoming much warmer and the days are growing quite long. Some of the trees are blossoming out, so it begins to look as though spring has about arrived.

The Germans are now attempting their last and perhaps final offensive. They have superiority in numbers and have made some gains which had been expected but there does not seem to be any real danger that their efforts will accomplish very much and with an enormous sacrifice of men.

While writing this I have been ordered to take charge of a detail of officers and proceed with full flying equipment to Paris and assist in the defense of Paris. It is a unique experience and we will probably proceed at once.

Am feeling fine and have gained slightly during the past few months. I have not been on a vacation as yet although I have had one coming since December.

Am expecting to hear from you soon as it has been some time since I have heard from you. Will write again soon.

Love to all, Tom.

Mrs. Robert Tedford of Fern street has received the following letter from her son, Sergeant Walter Tedford of Company G, who has been attending a special training school in France: April 7, 1918

Dear Mother: A few lines to let you know that everything is going fine.

I haven't received any mail in some time on account of being at school, and away from the company. But when I do get it why, it will be all together.

It sure is a treat to be at school. I don't have any one to look after but myself and my studies. On the other hand, when I'm with my platoon, I, "and all sergeants," have to be a sort of a wet nurse to about 50 men, so it is a good rest to be here at school.

And talk about cats! Gee! I'll bet I have put on five pounds so far, and this is the end of the first week. My pants and coat hardly meet on me.

There is a dandy Y. M. C. A. here. One can buy most anything, and see moving pictures and all sorts of amusements.

And there are three or four "honest to goodness" American Y. W. C. A. girls or young ladies working in the Y. M. C. A.

I suppose you are having real nice weather at home now, but we are having a series of rainy days for over a week. Outside of that we have had dandy warm days.

I suppose Joe will soon have his "Colts" out for practice, if he can find any around at all that can play the old game. But I guess most of the good players have signed up for the "big series" with old "Bill, the Kaiser."

Well must close for now as I want to drop a line to Lizzie, so will write again soon, as ever, Walt.

Sergeant Tedford also has the following to say in a letter to his sister, Miss Alice Tedford: Dear Sister, I received all of your letters some time ago, but haven't had a chance to answer them until now. I haven't received any mail for about three weeks and it is fully as long since I've written. Gee! I owe so many letters, I guess I'll never get caught up with my correspondence. I expected to be on my way to Ireland to see the old folks, but I was sent to school. I may get my pass later.

Everything is going along fine. Nothing much new to write about, McCann is in the best of health, like myself.

Well, kid, must call this all for now. Will close, With love, Walt.

The following letter has been received by Miss Joan Richmond of Hawthorne street from Private William Shields, Co. G, 102nd. March 28.

Dear Friend: I suppose you have heard that Co. G was wiped out. We were in the firing line and are ready to go again. Three were wounded and I came out without a scratch. The shells make a whistling noise. We can tell about where they are going to land by the sound. We are all veterans now; all have been under fire. We saw a few airplanes fight while at the front line. We certainly could write a book of the lights and experiences since we have been here. A Waterbury paper had it that Co. G was wiped out at the front. Not so. We are in a first camp now and it is some camp. I would rather be at the front than in the camp. We are to return soon and we will show the Boche what we are made of before we get through with them. I was on patrol one night and went right up to the German barbed wire fence without being seen. If we had, "good night" for the bunch, but luck was with us. We had a few gas attacks but thanks to our gas masks we were not hurt.

We have just completed a four day hike and are tired, although the weather is fine. Army life is some life, especially with the real work and excitement. Will close. Hoping to hear from you soon, best regards to all the family.

Sincerely yours, William.

LOCAL GIRL IN NEWS.

Yesterday's edition of the Boston Sunday Advertiser and American contained without doubt the first picture ever printed in that paper of a local person. At the top of one column appeared the picture of Ensign Myrtle Turkington of this town who recently went to France to do Salvation Army work behind the lines. The picture accompanied a story headed "100 Salvation Army Lassies At the Front."

The larger part of the story was a letter written by Miss Turkington to her folks here. It told of the recent escape of Miss Turkington and other workers from injury during a German bombardment of the allied line near Toul. The party was forced to hide in a dugout for refuge.

In her letter Miss Turkington tells of cooking for the soldiers in Salvation Army huts and of sleeping in a tent. She tells of the soldiers singing and playing in a hut. The soldiers make a rush for the dugout when the gas comes and they never say anything.
