75-100 DROWN WHEN EXCURSION STEAMER SINKS

Awful Tragedy in Illinois River Just After Midnight Last Night--About 500 Aboard Boat, When It Strikes Submerged Log--Dense Fog and Darkness Impede Rescue

Peoria, Ill., July 6.—Seventy-five to 100 persons perished when the river steamer Columbia sank eight miles from here according to estimates of county and boat officials at ten a. m. this morning. At that hour 33 bodies had been recovered, of which twenty-six had been identified. It was reported that approximately 80 others were still unaccounted for.

A submerged log which ripped a hole in the prow of the boat is believed to have caused it to sink. Police of Peoria and Pekin, scores of doctors and nurses, and hundreds of rescuers were engaged in recovering the bodies and in caring for the survivors. No accurate list of the survivors or the victims is yet available and the death toll may exceed 150 or may be less than that figure.

The Columbia, a huge flat-bottomed excursion boat, owned by the H. F. Mehl Company, had been chartered by the South Side Social Club of Pekin for a river outing. Four hundred and fifty members of the club were on board and an added hundred persons or more were picked up at Kingston Mines. The boat was returning from Al Procco Park when the tragedy occurred.

The known dead at seven o'clock this morning were:
The Dead.
Mrs. Mamie Holden, Bloomington.
Mrs. L. O. Herrin, Pekin.
Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wishart and three children, Pekin.
Mrs. Martin Richter, Pekin.
Mrs. John Keating, Pekin.
Mrs. Al O'Hara, Pekin.

Scores of bodies taken from the river have not been identified. Many passengers were seriously injured and were brought to hospitals here or taken to Pekin as fast as they were rescued.

At an early hour it had been definitely established that 150 persons had been rescued.

It is believed that scores who were not drowned, were crushed and maimed when the steamboat broke in two, the upper decks crashing down on the dance floor, where the greatest crowd was centered.

It is believed that the Columbia, defying her way along the river in a dense fog, steered a course too close to the shore and thus encountered the log. The boat, after striking the log, backed away and water poured in through the huge hole.

Hights Go Out.
The steamboat sank rapidly and horror was added to the scene when the lights of the boat went out, throwing the entire surroundings into inky darkness. Darkness and the dense fog seriously hampered the work of rescuing the victims.

Horror at the scene of the wreck was indescribable as the passengers, who, a few minutes before had been gayly dancing on the deck of the boat, were plunged into the water. Their screams and cries of terror were heard by persons far from the

RUSSIAN SITUATION THOUGHT OBJECT OF CABINET COUNCIL

Secretaries Lansing, Daniels and Baker and Admiral Benson Meet President in Special Conference This Afternoon--Military Intervention in Siberia Coming?

Washington, July 6.—President Wilson called a conference of Secretaries of State Lansing, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, Secretary of War Baker and Admiral William S. Benson, chief of operations of the navy, at 12.30 today for two o'clock this afternoon. No statement as to what the object of the conference was forthcoming from White House sources.

It was understood that the conference would thresh out the Russian situation. The President had had before him for several days the several reports received from Ambassador David R. Francis; that of the Versailles Military Council, which considered Russia in its relations to the military situation on the western front, and of Secretary Lansing dealing with the diplomatic outlook. It was generally accepted that the President had about reached a decision on the question and that the conference would consider that decision and its probable effect on the war.

Diplomatic circles were extremely expectant this afternoon. They have been looking to the President to act decisively on the important British and French ambassadors through the last three days.

AMERICA YET MAY INTERVENE IN RUSSIA

Or Contingent Intervention—15,000-20,000 Czecho-Slavs Now Hold Vladivostok—70,000-80,000 Now in Siberia.

America may be virtually compelled to join Great Britain, France and Japan and intervene in Russia, because of several new developments, the chief of which is the capture of Vladivostok by the Czecho-Slavs and the declaration of war which Finland is reported to have made against the Entente.

The Czecho-Slavs are the first anti-German body with any power that has offered a real nucleus for military operations since the Bolsheviks came into control. There 15,000-20,000 of them in the Russian port, guarding the huge supplies of munitions, etc., and 70,000-80,000 more scattered through Siberia.

Japan alone, however, of all the Allies has a force at hand that she can send at once into Siberia or Manchuria.

MOVIES EXEMPT FROM "WORK OR FIGHT" Fighting actors and other skilled persons necessary to the production and presentation of motion pictures are not affected by the "work or fight" order, according to a ruling issued today by Provost Marshal General Crowder.

WAIT FOR AMERICA BEFORE BIG OFFENSIVE

MANY NON-COMBATANTS

300,000 of Our Million Abroad Not Fighting--Many of Others Still Need More Training.

Washington, July 6.—No great Allied offensive will be launched against the Germans until the United States is represented in full force upon the Western front. The United States will give the Allies a preponderance of men and guns early in 1919.

BRIDGEPORT STRIKE HEARING ADJOURNED

To Be Resumed on July 15—Investigators for Each Side Appointed--Discrimination Charges Examined Today.

Bridgeport, July 6.—Upon presentation of statements by Attorneys for the employers that they could not possibly get the data required prepared before Friday, the hearings on the wage controversy in this city being conducted by Examiner H. S. Hannon, of the War Labor Board were adjourned today until Monday, July 15 at 10.30 a. m. At that time both sides promised to have everything ready and to proceed to a speedy settlement of the differences.

Following the argument on adjournment, Examiner Hannon appointed investigator C. H. Rice to act in conjunction with the manufacturers end and investigator T. A. Russell, to act with the employees.

Today's session was mainly taken up with the presentation of evidence of alleged discrimination against union men at the Remington Arms Company plant only yesterday. It came out in the demands of the polishers and buffers to be heard on an increase in wages and during it, Thomas M. Daley, who represented the polishers, stated that he and three other union men, who had joined the strike of polishers a year ago had applied for jobs yesterday. A rigid inquiry into the details was ordered.

MAYOR MITCHEL IS KILLED WHILE FLYING

Met Death at Louisiana Training Camp Early Today WAS EXPERT AIRMAN

Defeated as Mayor of New York He Devoted His Life to Military Service of His Country.

New York, July 6.—"If I die it doesn't matter when nor how. A man could not die more gloriously than for his country."

Former Mayor Mitchel made the foregoing statement to Borough President Frank L. Dowling, of Manhattan just before leaving for the air service.

It was in reply to the suggestion that his services might be larger in some other branch of war.

"He was what I call a game man in every sense," added Mr. Dowling in repeating the conversation today.

New Orleans, July 6.—John Purroy Mitchel, former mayor of New York, was instantly killed at 7.30 this morning while flying a machine at Gerstner aviation field.

Mayor Mitchel was stationed at San Diego and it was first reported he was killed there. Later it was learned that he had been transferred to the Louisiana field and that the accident occurred there early today.

According to one report received in New York Mayor Mitchel was forced to descend while flying yesterday because of trouble with his machine. It was stated that he took the same machine out again early today, it having been fixed. It was thought the machine collapsed.

Former Mayor Mitchel attended the officers' training camp at Plattsburg and was a major's commission. He sought to be sent to France as a major in the infantry but War Department rules at that time prevented that assignment. He was offered a commission in the aviation corps, but had to take the regular flying course the same as a cadet.

GERMANS INTENSIFY PREPARATIONS FOR NEW, BIG OFFENSIVE IN WEST

U. S. Chief of Staff, General March, So Declares; Allied Commanders Keep to "Nibbling" Method--Americans Smash Foe Raids on Picardy Front at Xivray in Vosges

Washington, July 6.—Delay in German endeavors on the western front is plainly preparatory to a heavy assault in force by the German high command, Chief of Staff General P. C. March said today.

Describing the existing situation along the entire western front the General said that it had resolved itself into a series of "nibbling" by the various Allied commanders with the Allies getting the advantage in each instance. No detailed figures were added by General March to those already made public.

On all fronts the situation was satisfactory. As for Russia General March said there was nothing he could say about it at this time.

Americans Smash Raids.
With the exception of a few small pitched battles precipitated by raiding parties and heavy fighting by the Germans on the Picardy front nothing of importance took place in the French theater of war during the night.

The development of strong German cannonading in the district between Villers-Bretonneux and the Ancre Valley, (opposite Amiens) indicated that the positions captured in storm attacks by Australians and Americans in the region of Hamel are under fire.

The German infantry tried three times to drive the Allied forces from their newly gained ground, and having failed, were compelled to fall back upon their artillery in an effort to demolish the Australian-American defenses.

London, July 6.—The German artillery developed great activity during the night in the sector of Villers-Bretonneux and in the Ancre Valley, (on the Picardy front), the war office announced today.

Paris, July 6.—An attempt by the Germans to raid the American sector in the Vosges mountains broke down, the French war office reported today.

Detachments of French troops penetrated the German lines in Champagne and in the Ramene sector, taking some prisoners.

"An attempted coup de main by the Germans against our positions at Chaume wood and against American-held sectors at Xivray and in the Vosges failed."

75-100 DROWN WHEN STEAMER SINKS

river. The entire scene was turned from gaiety and pleasure into a hideous nightmare of horror. Many Jump From Boat. Many men leaped into the water and swam ashore and women and children either leaped into the water or were jostled overboard by the panic stricken revelers. Others clung in terror to the foundered steamboat. News of the disaster flashed through the district and hundreds early today thronged the shores of the river, seeking their friends and relatives who were aboard the boat.

It is estimated that four hundred people were dancing on the center deck of the boat when she grounded. Water quickly poured over the decks and scores were trapped as they vainly tried to breast the torrents of water that poured down companionways and blocked the exits to the upper decks. Children were thrown far from the boat into the river and mothers frantically sought their children in the panic stricken throng. The band had just begun the strains of "Home Sweet Home" the final dance, when the boat grounded.

With the lights of the boat extinguished, lanterns of rescuers the shore and the headlights of automobiles that quickly gathered along the river cast a weird glare out of the tragic waters and afforded the only light available to aid the rescuers in their heart breaking task. A lack of row boats near the scene of the tragedy was another hampering factor. "But her skirt slipped from my fingers and I saw her carried beyond my reach. I struggled to reach her. I was crazed with fear for her. But I saw the rail give way. A score of persons fell into the water and then my wife was thrust over too.

"The panic was awful. The crew did the best it could, but it was powerless against the panic-stricken men and women. Many of the men also were apparently out of their senses. No Time to Prepare. "Women were carried past me in throngs. I tried to equip them as best I could do, but the time was all too brief. "Many of them must have been drowned without a chance to save themselves.

"When I saw that further effort was useless I leaped into the water. Behind me on the deck were many women and children, and to be caught there meant death, for the hurricane deck settled down over them like the lid of a huge coffin." "I don't believe many of the persons who were on the first two decks possibly have escaped," said Pauline Binzel, of Pekin, Ill., who escaped from the sinking pleasure craft. Passengers Tied Boat. "I was chatting with friends when we felt the boat rise out of the river, which was so clouded with fog that almost nothing could be seen ahead. There was a crash. For a moment nobody moved and then almost everybody rushed toward one side of the boat.

"The Columbia tilted and I was thrown into the water. When I came to the surface, a terrible scene was being enacted. People were swimming about, too dazed to know what direction to follow in the mist. Those Below Trapped. "Those on the two lower decks seemed to have been trapped. I swam about and then a man came to my aid. A portion of the boat remained above the water and there were other men behaving as heroes. Some were holding women in their arms and others were attempting to keep their heads above the river by grasping their clothing.

"The sound of the screams for help attracted attention on shore and row boats pushed off." From the nature of the catastrophe, it is expected that many bodies of trapped victims will be taken from the debris by divers and other workers now busy in the ghastly hunt for dead. DEMURRERS OF YALE STUDENTS SUSTAINED. New Haven, July 6.—Demurrers filed by counsel for the three Yale students charged with participating in the riot in this city some weeks ago were sustained in the common pleas court today. Two points raised by the counsel for the students were that the Mayor of the city in commanding them to disperse did not speak in a sufficiently loud tone to be heard by all the assembled students and that the sheriff and not the mayor, by law, is the authority to order crowds to disperse. The complaints against the students will be amended before their trial.

AMUSEMENTS

REAL STARS IN REEL PLAYS AT THE MOVIE THEATERS

Park Theater Circle Theater

Kitty Gordon will appear on the Popular Playhouse screen this evening in a World-Brady made special, "The Divine Sacrifice", a tremendous story of mother love in five intense acts. In addition to this feature attraction Mr. Sullivan will present Mutual re-issued de-luxe, "The Immigrant." Also a chapter of the Universal thriller "The Bull's Eye" with daring Eddie Polo and other screen novelties.

"The Divine Sacrifice" is an altogether unusual story of modern life, with the surprising complications which life brings. It is filled with interesting incidents and it is glowing with love of man for woman and of a mother for her child. You'll like this tremendous drama with its surprises, swift movement and splendid acting.

How a father sent his spendthrift son far from the glare of the "Great White Way" into nature's playgrounds the great woods, and how this son met the girl of his dreams and married her and reformed much to the astonishment of the "old man" is the story told by Triangle's latest release "Mlle Paulette" which will be shown tomorrow evening.

Triangle has made some corking good pictures lately and this one is no exception. Here is a picture that contains all the elements of perfect screen entertainments. Other reels will of course precede this feature. On Tuesday and Wednesday of next week comes Paramount's tremendous dramatization of A. H. Wood's famous Broadway success, "The Guilty Man." This is the picture that busted all attendance records at its initial showing at New York's wonderful "Rialto."

Harry Morey is one of the big men in photoplay—big physically, big hearted and big in his profession. His entire screen career has been with Vitagraph and it has been an artistic success from the day he was engaged by Albert E. Smith, Vitagraph's president. He is remembered especially for his forceful work, with Alice Joyce, in "Womanhood" and "Within the Law," and more recently with Corinne Griffith in "Who Goes There?" and with Gladys Leslie, in "His Own People."

SENATE BALKS AT LONGER SESSION

President Insists That It Follow House on Aswell Resolution

URGES WIRE CONTROL

Washington, July 6.—Discussion of the plan for recess and of the necessity for immediate passage of the resolution authorizing the President to take over the telephone and telegraph lines are precipitated in the Senate this afternoon, when Senator Overman of North Carolina, called attention to an old statute, enacted in 1866, under which he said the President already has authority to take over the lines of communications. President Wilson will insist that the Senate pass the Aswell resolution giving him power to take over the telegraph and telephone systems of the country before Congress recesses. This was made very plain in Administration circles today. Most of the important appropriation bills which have delayed the recess plan have been disposed of. One of them, the army bill, has been agreed upon by the conferees and it is believed the conference report will be adopted in a short time today. Two, the agricultural and District of Columbia bills, are still in conference. To provide funds for these purposes, a continuing resolution has already been adopted by the House and will be called up in the Senate today. It was before the Senate most of Friday afternoon, but a vote was delayed by filibustering tactics on the part of Senators advocating the $2.50 wheat price fixing amendment to the agricultural bill. Late in the afternoon Senator Martin withdrew the resolution, after having obtained unanimous consent for it to be called up at one o'clock this afternoon to be kept before the Senate until voted upon.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES MAKE GOOD RECORD

Cleaned up the Neighborhood Baseball—Good Prospects for Next Year in Both Basketball and Baseball

The local high school made it fifty fifty in athletics during the past year. The basketball team did not make a success of its season for the reason that it did not have good coaching. The baseball team, however, more than made up for the poor basketball season and won ten out of the thirteen games played. On the whole the season has been successful. The basketball players pride themselves on telling that they almost defeated Hartford High in a game in Hartford.

That game was without a doubt the best that has been played this past year. The score was 36-34 in Hartford's favor when the game ended. The local boys played perfect basketball and actually had Hartford scared so that during the last few minutes of the Hartford coach was rushing in substitutes galore. The team won three games during the season and lost seven. The games played were close. The game with Naugatuck was, perhaps the hardest one played. The locals lost that one by two points.

Basketball Prospects.

Next year the quintet will have a new manager. Robert McKay has done excellent work for the team the past year and he has trained Henry Smith to take his place in good shape. Smith has business ability and should be a capable manager. The team itself should be a great success. But one man is lost through graduation. That is Harold Krause, last year's excellent guard player. Krause is planning to return to school for a post graduate course and this will give him a chance to play his old position in all but league games.

"Bobbie" Crockett will be the captain again this coming season and his work of the past two years in this capacity will assure his success another year. Ballsieper will play the center position as usual. "Bob" Finnegan and Captain Crockett will without a doubt hold down the forward positions providing they remain up in their studies. This is a condition which every athlete in the school must look out for next year. Principal Knapp intends to be strict and claims he will not allow any pupil to play athletics who is below the line in studies. The other positions on the basketball team will be split between Glenney, Fred Finnegan, Lundin, and Krause if the latter returns for a post graduate course. To further aid the basketball team next year will be a new coach in the person of Recreation Director Whiting who has had thorough experience in basketball coaching. He will show the boys many plays and should help them win a large number of their games.

5 Winners at Baseball.

The baseball team has enjoyed one of the most successful seasons any local high school team ever passed through. They won ten of thirteen games and piled up a total of 139 runs against 60 of their opponents. The only teams which could beat the locals were Hartford High and Rosary High of Holyoke. The local boys were better than their Hartford opponents and should have defeated them. The break of the game however was not in their favor and they lost to Hartford 3-0. They lost to Rosary twice during the season. Both games were played poorly. Rosary did not have a better team than the locals but the S. M. H. S. players had an off week when they played the Holyoke lads. Had they played them a week earlier or later they would easily have defeated them.

The high school players started their season strong by winning three straight and not falling in each of the three games to score at least nineteen runs. Meriden High was the first victim by the score of 19-5. Enfield came next, suffering 19-2. Bristol fell still harder and was defeated 20-3. Then came the best game of the season and the locals lost to Hartford High 3-0. There were more local than Hartford rooters at that game and the game was played at Elizabeth Park in Hartford. Then the local players won four straight. They beat Winsted 21-5, Torrington 12-9. In the latter game "Bob" Finnegan got the longest hit of the season poling out the pill for four sacks over the left field fence on the Torrington grounds. Torrington spectators said that it was the longest hit they had ever seen on the grounds.

S. M. H. S. Baseball Team 1918. Seated in front, Capt. Glenney, First Row left to right, Bob Finnegan, Beechler, Knofla, McKay, Crockett, Back Row, Wright, Ballsieper, Manager Strant, Fox, Lynch.

The next game on the schedule was the greatest victory of the season. For the first time in seven years a local high school team defeated St. Thomas Seminary at baseball. Finnegan started the game but his arm gave out and Ballsieper finished pitching. For the first four innings "Bob" had the Seminarians guessing and the local sluggers got a good lead and when Ballsieper went into the box he kept the opponents on their batting toes and allowed them few advantages. The score was 9-4 in Manchester's favor. The next game was a farce and source of amusement for all who saw it. Thinking that Enfield High had not improved since early in the season the locals thought they would rest their pitchers and "Bob" McKay started. Enfield got a good start and Capt. Glenney had to come to the rescue. The locals pulled through by the score of 11-10. The high school lost the next two games to Rosary 9-4 and 6-0. Torrington put up a good game in town, going back defeated by the score of 5-4. The season was brought to a close when Winsted was defeated 9-0.

Ballsieper was the star of the season. With Finnegan out of the game because of a bad arm, "Paulie" stuck to the post and won nine out of his eleven games. Glenney worked in but one game and that was with Enfield High. Ballsieper was at his best in the St. Thomas game when he relieved "Bob" Finnegan.

A Team of Hitters.

The locals had a bunch of heavy hitters, with six men batting over .300. Lynch was the most consistent hitter on the team and Finne-gan, Knofla and Ballsieper did the heaviest hitting. The batting averages follow:

	AB.	H.	Av.
Lynch	58	22	.379
Crockett	47	17	.362
Finnegan	42	15	.357
Beechler	34	5	.357
Knofla	49	17	.345
Ballsieper	47	16	.340
McKay	47	14	.298
Wright	37	10	.270
Glenney	46	9	.195
Fox	44	6	.136

The lineup used throughout the season was Wright, catch, Finnegan or Ballsieper pitch, McKay, first base, Crockett, second base, Glenney, shortstop, Fox, third base, Knofla, left field, Ballsieper or Finnegan center field, Lynch right field, Beechler played the substitute position. Two players will be lost through graduation. Knofla and McKay left school with the Class of 1918. Their positions will be filled by lower classmen who are coming along strong. The manager next year will be Fred Finnegan. He has been assistant to this year's manager, Charles Strant.

The team has won the larger part of its games with little or no coaching. The boys were handicapped at the beginning of the season by the loss of the preceding year's coach Bobbie Cleveland. Next season Recreation Director Whiting will coach.

With practically the same teams and with better facilities and material to work with the high school should have good athletic teams during the season of 1918-19.

ATHLETICS TO MEET THREAT CITY PLAYERS.

The Athletics are looking for a good game at Mt. Nebo tomorrow afternoon, when they will play the first of a series of games with the American Thread Company team of Willimantic. Sipples and W. Crockett will form the Athletics' battery and "Bob" Crockett, a local high school player, will be seen in the outfield. "Bill" Scheldge, who has been playing left field for the Athletics for some time, has signed up with the Poli team for Sunday games during the rest of the season. He will continue to play Saturdays with the Athletics. In his first game with Poli's Fourth against the Fisk Red Tops, Scheldge secured one hit out of twice up. The Red Tops won 6 to 2.

Vikings vs. Hudsons.

The Hudsons will cross bats with the fast traveling Vikings of New Britain at the Pleasant street grounds Sunday at 3.15. The Vikings have defeated such teams as the Annex and Pioneers of New Britain. The Hudsons will have new men in the game Sunday. Custer, better known as the Home Run King, and Custafson, the speedy shortstop, who has been playing with the Eagles of Hartford. Lang, who has pitched nine out of the ten games, and has been defeated only once, will start the game Sunday and hopes to send the Vikings back with defeat. The following players will report at the Pleasant street grounds Viner, Red Wilkinson, A. Bennie, J. Bennie, Custer, Lane, Gustafson, Lang, Keating, Steiner, Noble.

WAR COMPELS CHANGES IN ATHLETICS' LINEUP.

The local Athletic baseball team has been hit hard again. "This time it has lost one of its most valuable players. Bill Scheldge will hereafter play with the Poli's of Hartford. He played his first game with that club Fourth of July in Springfield and out of two trips to the plate he got one two bagger. This is the second man to leave the Athletics to play with the Poli's. Pop

Edgar left earlier in the season and played excellent ball with the Hartford aggregation. He has since been taken into the National Army. The Athletics will play his position with the Poli's. "Bobbie" Crockett, a local high school star, is to be given a tryout with the Athletics in their next game which will be with Willimantic tomorrow. Crockett is a good ball player and should make good with the Athletics.

Scoreboard Reflections

"Lines to a Painter."
The shades of night were falling fast,
When down the city street there passed
A player with a grip.
No cheering sped him on his way,
For he had volunteered that day,
To paint a ship.
Cyril Slaprick came back from the minors and outpitched Ferdie Schupp. Schupp gave the Pirates ten passes and hit two batsmen, so the western trip of the McGraw men started according to form.

Ping Bodie "unconsciously" aided the Senators in beating the Yanks by a fumble which enabled Lavan to race home with the winning run.
A home run by Pitcher May of the Cardinals gave St. Louis the run needed to defeat the Cubs.
The Sixth City is first in the American league. Lee Fohl's Indians are on the war path.

TRIES FOR THREE YEARS TO JOIN ARMY—SUCCEEDS— LEAVES IN 30 MINUTES.

Pasadena, Cal., July 6.—Louis Deschamps is a Frenchman and a patriot.
Illness has kept Louis from the battle front for three and a half years, but he kept persevering and recently successfully passed a physical examination. Then, just thirty minutes before thirty-six draft men were to leave Pasadena for American Lake, Deschamps appeared before draft officials of Exemption Board No. 2.
"I've passed my examination," he shouted. "What are my chances for action?"
"Your chances are fine," was the answer, "if you can get ready in thirty minutes."

Deschamps chartered a high-powered automobile, closed up his business affairs in record time and was the second of the drafted men to board the train.

GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES

Goodrich would have met his needs with Hipress boots and waterproof garments, just as Goodrich met the need of the automobile for the right rubber tire.

Twenty-two years Goodrich has shaped the destiny of automobile tires, bringing them from crude, clumsy affairs, to the graceful GOODRICH SERVICE VALUE TIRES.

And all Goodrich inventions were directed toward one end, SERVICE VALUE to the user.

For Goodrich recognizes but one tire value; what a tire is worth to the motorist on his car and on the road, in comfort, economy, and long mileage.

Goodrich manufacture puts SERVICE VALUE in Goodrich Tires, both SILVERTOWN CORDS, and BLACK SAFETY TREADS, and Goodrich Test Car Fleets prove it is there.

AMERICA AND THE WAR'S END.

The important thing for the world war is, not that America had on July 4 a million men on the West front, but that during May and June a record of half a million transported monthly was reached.

With the almost certain knowledge that this record will continue to mount considerably, the end of the war is not so distant. At the same rate, the United States will have two millions by November 1, if not more.

The increase in the number of troops transported from month to month during 1917 and 1918 is extraordinary and shows clearly the increased grip which the nation has taken of the shipping problem. During May, 1917, only 1,718 went over. In June this had increased to 12,261; July, 12,998; August, 18,323; September, 32,533; October, 38,259; November, 23,916; December, 48,840; January, 1918, 46,776; February, 48,927; March, 83,811; April, 117,212; May, 244,345; June, 276,373 and 14,644 marines.

Those figures are eloquent of the accomplishments of the Emergency Fleet Corporation and the Navy.

FEWER TOWN DRUNKS.

When you read of what Seattle, Washington, and Kansas generally did with prohibition you aren't impressed quite so much as when cities and states near at home display its benefits.

Everywhere prohibition is tried arrests begin to decrease. The police courts, especially, find their duties dwindling, and in many small communities they actually have been closed along with the town jails and one more tax imposed by the few upon the public purse removed.

The Evening Herald has announced from time to time decreases in the number of arrests for intoxication and all that goes with it, including various street brawls included under "disturbances of the peace." During April, May and June there were only nine arrests for intoxication and most of these were of out-of-towners. For the same period last year there were 39 arrests, quite a difference.

Manchester doesn't want to become prudish and finically proper. A certain amount of freedom, with the restraints demanded by thrift for the war's prosecution, special war work, etc., is more precious now than ever. This never has been a noisy town, however, and it has been a remarkably respectable town, even under license.

But the chief thoroughfare is no place for a drunkard, with women and children passing by at all hours of the day and especially the evening. Prohibition has proved that it has very concrete benefits for the town, aside from satisfying the conscientious qualms of the rigid-minded.

BRITAIN AND DEMOCRACY.

Great Britain, with its many trappings of empire, including a king and emperor, is mistakenly thought of frequently by numbers of people as being far from a democracy. With the advent of Lloyd George, the most hated politician and statesman in the eyes of the nobility and wealthy that perhaps England ever had, the very reproach of subjection to Mammon is being abolished.

It was only common honesty, an honesty that broke through the barriers of English pride, for a prominent English lord to declare in a public speech on the Fourth that but for America and the American Revolution Britain today would not have Australia and Canada. It is well worth repeating that America made possible the British imperial democracy, by teaching the old country the lesson of representative government. "Taxation without representation is tyranny" has been echoing down the ages ever since it was pronounced, in action as well as words. The Revolution "did both good," said the speaker.

Lloyd George expressed himself almost as decidedly when he said in a telegram to General Pershing that did not get the publicity due it: "We join wholeheartedly in your Fourth of July celebration. From a once bitter memory we now know that the events to which you dedicate these rejoicings forced the British empire back to the path of freedom, from which, in a moment of evil counsel, it had departed. The entry of the United States army into this great struggle for human liberty on the side of right, with the allies, is sure proof that the mistakes and misunderstandings that formerly estranged our two countries are being transformed into genuine friendship in the fiery furnace of common sacrifice."

THE PUBLIC UTILITIES.

It is one thing for the government to take over the railways, the telegraph and telephone companies and the express concerns, in order to secure more efficient service for war purposes and cheaper service for the mass of the public, and quite another to seize them permanently, merely because they come under an abstract something called "public utilities."

So far as the railways are concerned, they would have been equally well off if the same measures had been taken while they were under private control as now under the government's. Freighters could have been given the right of way over passenger trains, the latter could have been reduced in number, rates generally could have been raised and the wages of employees along with them, expensive and unnecessary ticket offices in the large cities could have been consolidated and loans could have been made for needed equipment, including track, locomotives and cars. Unless the government intends a thorough overhauling of the country's railway system, the abolition of parallel lines and consolidation and co-ordination of existing ones, its present labors will be largely futile.

Unless it can improve the telegraph and telephone service similarly—something that may be strongly doubted—and reduce rates radically, the taking over of these lines also will be only a snatch at the problem.

The express companies already have been under regulation, and there is no doubt that they can be added to the Post Office Department and rates kept down, if not reduced, provided the government aims merely to run them at cost and not at a profit.

The nation has stood much regulation in the interest of better service for the war. But the government's stand, on the domestic side, is another matter.

If labor has forced the taking over of the wire lines, as it did that of the railways by the present administration, it will soon find what an empty victory it has obtained. Government ownership of the railways, unless followed up by a thoroughgoing development of the country's water powers and the electrifying of the roads will be only a stopgap. The roads have contributed little to the high cost of living, and the wire lines and express companies still less.

Food, coal, both for factories and home, building materials: These are the things that need cheapening. The packers, flour millers, coal operators, lumber kings, and in the cities rent profiteers control the utilities that are really public. The amount which the nation's millions spend directly in travel, for freight or the telegraph or even telephone is trivial by comparison.

During June the government advanced $3,000,000 more to the New York, New Haven & Hartford railway. That makes a total of $46,964,000. The road ought before long to have enough tools to work with and earn the interest on the loans.

How'd you like to be in Texas? Bituminous coal there is $4.20 a net ton for prepared sizes, maximum price.

The drowning season has begun. Drownings have been known, even in the Hockanum. Verbum sap.

WISCONSIN SUGAR FAMINE.

Madison, Wis., July 6.—Because there is less than one week's supply of sugar in the warehouse of the State and en route here, Wisconsin is facing an actual sugar famine. Rations of restaurants have been cut to three pounds for ninety meals, and stricter watch is being kept on the sale of sugar by dealers to all consumers.

VIRGINIAN SOUGHT HUNS, THOUGHT YET IN OWN STATE.

Camp Lee, Va., July 6.—"Where are the Germans?" asked a draftee from the mountains of Western Virginia. "I have been in this camp a week and I haven't seen a German yet. They told me I was coming here to fight Germans." When assured that he was still in his native State he replied that he "had traveled so long in getting here that he thought he was already in Europe."

JUNIOR FOOD ARMY SHOW.

The state exhibit of products of the Junior Food Army will constitute one of the exhibits at the State Fair at Berlin the latter part of December. It will make up one of the largest vegetable exhibits ever seen in Connecticut. The feature will be one of the most important ever undertaken by the society and is adopted at the solicitation of the State Council of Defense.

The food production division of the State Council of Defense is particularly desirous of recognizing the achievements of the junior farmers, and to that end has formulated a special premium list amounting to $1,000 in awards for the best exhibits. The Junior Food Army is a state-wide organization and embraces every junior farmer. All are recognized as members of the army and no special enrollment is necessary to qualify.

The exhibit will be in charge of Col. Charles M. Jarvis, president of the Connecticut State Agricultural Society.

The junior farmers will be delighted to hear of the action of the state to recognize their efforts to bring about increased food production and the result will be a fine added feature at the state fair. The Berlin fair has been selected as the place for the official exhibit because of the high standard of the fair.

STATE GUARD TRAINING CAMP OPENS TODAY.

Officers From Hartford and Vicinity To Take First Course.

The officers' training camp for the instruction of officers of the Connecticut State Guard at Niantic will open Saturday. The camp is to be known as Camp Locke, in honor of Capt. Arthur F. Locke of the One Hundred and Second U. S. Infantry, who was the first Connecticut National Guard officer killed this year.

The officers of the First Military district, consisting of Hartford and vicinity, will be the first to attend the camp, arriving Saturday afternoon. The school will last four days, during which the officers will be given intensive training.

The officers of each military district will attend each consecutive week during July and the first part of August. Officers of the Third district, consisting of New London and Windham counties, will attend from Saturday, Aug. 3, to Wednesday, Aug. 7.

LAUREL PARK.

Laurel park is one of the most delightful places in Connecticut to spend a summer afternoon and evening. It is the ideal spot for an outing or picnic. In the pavilion, which has one of the finest floors in the state, there is dancing Monday, Thursday and Saturday evenings. The Monday night sessions all being novel Keen-O prize contests in which twelve fine articles are awarded. There is a concert at the park every Sunday afternoon by the famous military band led by Conductor Charles P. Hatch. The latest and best moving pictures are shown every Sunday evening. For the past month the shows have been war benefits. Sunday evening, July 7, will be for the Red Cross, the net receipts to be turned over to Hartford chapter.

G. FOX & CO.'S MIDSUMMER SALE.

The mere announcement of G. Fox & Co.'s midsummer sale gives assurance to shoppers that Hartford's biggest and newest department store will offer a feast of attractive bargains during the next few days. Every department will participate and throughout the great store the strongest kind of inducements to buy will greet one at every turn. A faint idea of some of the remarkable values may be gained from the large advertisement in today's Herald.

FIND LATEST VARIETY OF CONSCIENTIOUS OBJECTOR.

Chicago, July 6.—Chicago has produced the latest variety of "conscientious objectors," and as result, John Taylor probably will not serve Uncle Sam overseas. John, who had been called for service, walked into a courtroom here and confessed to embezzling more than $3,000 from his employer during the last two years. He said he objected to going to the army with a black mark against him—so he confessed. He was held for the Grand Jury.

O. H. VERRILL NOMINATED.

Washington, July 6.—The President today nominated Charles H. Verrill, of Maine to be a member of the United States Employees' Compensation Commission.

ALL BUT SIX SAVED ON SUNKEN COVINGTON.

None of Missing Was of This State—Former Hamburg-American Liner Torpedoed and Sunk on July 1.

All of the officers and crew of the sunken army transport Covington, formerly the Hamburg-American liner Cincinnati, except six were saved. None of the six were of Connecticut. The boat was torpedoed and sunk on the night of July 1. The Covington was 608 feet long and 16,339 tonnage.

The official report of the sinking says: The Navy Department has received dispatches from Vice Admiral Sims stating that the United States steamer Covington was struck by a torpedo on the night of July 1 at 9.17 o'clock. The torpedo struck just forward of the engine room bulkhead, and the engine room and fire room were rapidly flooded.

With its motor power gone, the vessel was helpless, and, facing the possibility of the torpedoing of another ship in the convoy, the Covington was temporarily abandoned. This was done in excellent order, and the officers and crew were taken on board a destroyer. The submarine was not seen.

At daybreak the Captain, several officers, and a number of members of the crew returned to supervise salvaging operations. Another vessel and two tugs took the Covington in tow, in the effort to get her to port, but she was too badly damaged to keep afloat and sank.

All the officers and crew, except six, were taken to a French port, none of those landed being seriously injured.

SOUSA, AWARE OF DISLIKE FOR TEUTON NUMBERS, WRITING WEDDING MARCH.

Chicago, July 6.—Lieutenant John Philip Sousa, the "March King," is at work on a march which may become the American wedding march of the future. Because of the war there is a growing dislike to Wagner's "Lohengrin" march and works by Mendelssohn, so that the American number would fill a real need.

The new military spirit has inspired Sousa to compose a new series of marches which may prove his best since the famous ones of his earlier career.

Among his new works, says the Great Lakes Bulletin is the "Anchor and Star" march, which was dedicated to the navy. It is to be one of the most stirring of his compositions. "Sabers on Spurs" was written for the Third Hundred and Fifty-sixth Cavalry, which is now at Fort Riley, Tex. It is the first march officially written for the cavalry.

WOULD FIRE ON FATHER AND BROTHER IF GIVEN CHANCE TO JOIN ARMY.

Denver, Colo., July 6.—In making application for the privilege of fighting with the American army in France, Eugene Casper, twenty-two, told Denver recruiting officers he would not hesitate to fire against a certain unit of the German army, of which his father is captain and in which two of his brothers are fighting. Casper, who has been in the United States less than three years, has received only his first papers in naturalization. He will not be admitted to military service at once. He is a son of Captain Gustav Casper, of the German army. David Holzworth, a resident of Denver, former captain in the Kaiser's army, and an uncle of young Casper, has a son in the American army.

SECRETARY OF NAVY NOW RIDES IN AN AUTOMOBILE.

Washington, July 6.—The time-honored custom of Secretaries of the Navy driving to office in horse-drawn carriage became history recently when Secretary Daniels took his regular morning ride to his office in an automobile. The horse-drawn vehicle had been in use for years.

243 ARRESTED IN LISBON RIOT.

Paris, July 6.—Several persons are dead or wounded as a result of an outbreak of rioting in Lisbon, following a meeting of the Democratic and revolutionist parties, according to information from that city today. Arrests made number 243.

FOE HAS 3 MONTHS ONLY TO WIN.

London, July 6.—"The fateful hour of the war is here," said Chancellor of the Exchequer A. Bonar Law in addressing the Inter-Allied Parliament. He added: "If, after three months, our enemies have won no strategic object their campaign has failed."

The news comes that men's stiff collars are to go and that soft lawn or lace will be substituted. This is one of those uphill revolutions which most of us will believe in only after the event.—Waterbury Democrat.

WRECK OFF WATCH WILL BE TOTAL LOSS. Wreckers to Remove Cargo and Blow Up Hull.

The Clyde Liner Steamship Onondaga that struck on Middle Ground reef, less than a mile from Watch Hill, Friday night, will probably become a total loss.

The Clyde liner steamship Onondaga that struck on Middle Ground reef, less than a mile from Watch Hill, Friday night, will probably become a total loss. The vessel lies in about thirty-five feet of water, the masts and funnel above the surface plainly indicating her position. In addition to the crushed iron plates in the hull the superstructure is breaking up, leaving the main deck open in places. The water conditions at that place are such as will not permit of pontoon work by the wreckers, and it is impossible to patch the craft up sufficiently to allow pumping the ship free and then raising her with air pressure. This is the opinion of a representative of the T. A. Scott Wrecking company, which has taken charge of the Onondaga. Before abandoning hope of saving the ship a thorough examination will be made by expert divers.

It is believed, however, that the vessel cannot be saved and that the wreckers will remove as much of the cargo as is possible, as well as rigging and other materials, and then dynamite the wrecked steamer. This is necessary as the wreck is a menace to navigation, as many vessels of lighter draft pass safely over the Middle Ground.

THO' NEARLY BLIND, MAN SEES ECLIPSE; SINCE THEN HIS SIGHT IS IMPROVING.

Pasadena, July 6.—The happiest man in Southern California today is G. Frank Otis, a former astronomer. Despite the fact that he was practically blind, Otis, accompanied by a number of other astronomers, went to Selama, Colo., in the hope of viewing the recent eclipse of the sun. He was overjoyed when he was able to view the sun's corona during the eclipse. His sight has been gradually improving since that date.

There seems to be such a run of commencement addresses by the different members of the cabinet, that the vice president's addresses during the season have been put on spindle as unable to make room for—Midletown Press.

Well-Known Chautauqua Musical Quintette

The McKinnie Operatic Co.

The McKinnie Operatic Company is well-known in the Swarthmore Chautauqua towns. There is probably no other musical company that enters so wholeheartedly into their work. No other has given such complete satisfaction. Each member of the company is an artist. Many of the older Chautauqua towns will remember having heard the company before and can testify to their ability to give a good program. The members of the company are Burt McKinnie, baritone; Tekla Farn McKinnie, soprano; J. Allen Grubb, tenor; Adelaide Lewis, contralto, and Margaret Day, pianist.

WOMEN ON DRAFT BOARDS DO NOT PITY WAR BRIDES.

Tacoma, Wash., July 6.—War brides can't "pull the wool" over the eyes of the women members of Tacoma draft boards. The women of the boards have announced they are not inclined to listen to the pleas of war brides for their newly-wed husbands. One woman on a board said: "This is my answer to these war brides: You knew your government had called the men from twenty-one to thirty-one into the service. You took your chance when you married a man you knew would have to go. Now play the game."

CHAMPION JONAH MAN OF AMERICA IS CLAIM.

Los Angeles, July 6.—R. D. Jacobs, of Los Angeles, says he is the champion Jonah man of America. Here's why:

While instructing his wife in the use of a revolver Mrs. Jacobs accidentally shot her husband in the shoulder. While Jacobs was receiving treatment burglars entered his home and stripped the place. "The darned old thieves," yelled Jacobs, "took everything of mine except the revolver which caused all the trouble. Can you beat it?"

WEIGHS 288, BUT JOINS ARMY; FRIEND WEIGHS 192; WATERLOO, IA., July 6.—Black Hawk County has probably furnished the largest soldier in Iowa, if not in the United States. Strum despaired of entering the army, as he gained twenty pounds since being examined last January.

POTATO PEST IS ACTIVE.

Those who have been keeping close watch of growing potatoes in this locality report the appearance, during the past few days, of the green aphid or louse which feeds on the under side of the leaf and is likely to do much damage unless steps are taken at once to check it.

These sucking insects must be killed by contact poison. These are a permanent hiding enemy and are the submarines of your potatoes and tomatoes. For these rapidly-multiplying enemies you must spray with a fine mist on the under side of the leaves, using one cubic inch of soap and 1 1/2 teaspoonful of nicotine sulphate to one gallon of water. You can combine nicotine sulphate solution with pyrox or Bordeaux by omitting the soap.

Every owner of a potato patch should carefully examine his plants and spray on the first appearance of the aphids, better still, spray anyway.

BURGLARS AT WAPPING

The Congregational parsonage at Wapping was broken into last night and two purses which fortunately contained less than $10 were stolen.

It is believed that it was the work of boys. They gained an entrance through a dining room window standing on a five-gallon oil can to reach the window. They climbed over a sewing machine and went into the room of Fred Yerrington, who is visiting his brother-in-law, Rev. George D. Hamilton. They took Mr. Yerrington's clothes to another part of the house and ransacked the pockets and found the purse. From there they went back to the dining room and rifled the sideboard but evidently were scared away as they took nothing from the sideboard, but the purse belonging to Mrs. Hamilton. They did not go to the second story. Only last week burglars were at the Buckland grocery store but were scared away before they succeeded in doing any harm.

MAKING AMERICANS FROM FOREIGNERS

A Field in Which Women May Do Important Work at Home.

A business meeting of the Americanization committee will be held next Wednesday evening, July 10th, in the room opposite Mr. Verplanck's office on the first floor of the High School building. All members of the committee are urgently requested to be present and each teacher should bring a report of her class work. If any teacher is unable to be present, she should report to the chairman before the meeting.

It will be of interest to everyone considering the question of taking up work among foreign people to learn that the Danbury Normal school is offering a summer course for teachers of foreigners in charge of Samuel J. Brown of New York City. It is planned to organize a class of adult foreigners which will be used for demonstration of model lessons.

Almost nothing of this kind has ever been done in this state before, so this offers an exceptional opportunity for training in the line of instruction which is so much in demand at this time. The course will begin Tuesday, July 9, and continue for four weeks.

Further inquiries may be made to A. N. Potter, Field Agent for Evening Schools, Hartford.

An Important Work.

Howard Bradstreet, the new secretary of the Mayor's Americanization Committee of Hartford, expresses the opinion that this is an industrial problem and one of the largest before the country today. The newly arrived foreigner does not come in touch with American ideas easily for lack of opportunity and failure to understand the language, with the result that he has no opportunity to express the enthusiasm and patriotic ideal which as a rule he brings with him. The complete failure on the part of the Americans to understand the complicated situation in the east of Europe has added much to the tragedy of the situation, says Mr. Bradstreet.

There are no more loyal supporters of the Allies than the members of the subject races of Austria, and none for whom the Allied victory would mean so much. This is now more clearly seen upon the Belgian men have begun to leave to fight with France.

The people are here to be taught the English language, and the importance of the task is understood by many. It remains for us to go about the matter as a patriotic duty as great as any which confronts us today. It is time now for volunteers to begin to think about taking up the work this fall, and any such will be warmly welcomed at the meetings of the Americanization committee.

He is most ardent in stirring interest in the movements of the new party and is one of the most widely read men on the work which is to be accomplished by it in the state.

NOTED CRIMINAL

FACES LIFE IMPRISONMENT. New York, July 6.—James Reilly, 53, known to the underworld as "Gimpy Gippo", today faces a life term in the penitentiary on a charge of robbery.

Reilly was first convicted in 1882 on a charge of robbery. Following numerous other convictions he was recorded as an habitual criminal in 1910 when convicted for grand larceny. Under the law, this means that upon again being convicted of a crime, he automatically becomes subject to a life term.

ONE KILLED, SEVERAL HURT.

Grad, O., July 6.—One man, Thomas A. Tooney, was killed and several injured today when section No. 2, of the Barnum & Bailey circus train smashed into the rear end of a New York-Chicago Erie passenger train here in a heavy fog. Circus trainmen said that no flagman had been sent out from the passenger train to warn them.

The circus train was enroute from Youngstown to Warren, O.

CHAUTAQUA OPENS WEEK'S PROGRAM

McKinnic Operatic Company and Peter McQueen to Be Heard Tonight.

The Chautauqua crew with the tent and other paraphernalia arrived in town early this morning from Greenport, L. I., and were soon located on the level floor of the Main street baseball park. Everything was in readiness for the opening performance at 2.30 this afternoon. The evening performance will begin at eight o'clock. Tonight the McKinnic Operatic Company will give the last set of Il Trovatore and the comic opera, The Sleeping Queen. Peter McQueen, the veteran war correspondent, just from the front, will give an illustrated lecture with the best and most recent war pictures.

Harold Lawrence, the superintendent for the week, met the ticket committee last night and impressed them most favorably. The sale of season tickets had up to last night, amounted to something over $1,000 with several canvassers yet to hear from. The guarantors are held for $1,500. The time for the sale of season tickets has been extended until Monday night and it is expected by that time that the full amount of the guaranty will be raised. Season tickets have been placed on sale at the War Bureau, at Magnell's and Packard's drug stores at the south end, at Grant's and Balch & Brown's drug stores at the north end.

The entertainments covered by the season tickets at $2 would cost over $5 if attended singly at the door rates. The season tickets are transferable and can be used by some members of the family in the afternoon and by others in the evening.

Fun for the Juniors.

Yesterday a hide and seek game was held at the Recreation Center for children. Orders for ten junior tickets were hidden in the vicinity and the children were turned loose to find them. In an hour they were all rounded up. The successful searchers were Pearl McIntosh, John McIntosh, John Herts, Helen Eganer, Estelle Keith, Lillian Campbell, Julia McVey, Sylvia Anderson and Edwin Johnson, who found three. Young Johnson will give the tickets he does not need to his playmates. The Junior Chautauqua will meet every forenoon from nine to 11.30 and will be entertained by an experienced Chautauqua instructor. Later in the week they will give a little play prepared under her direction. Holders of Junior tickets not only have the privilege of attending the morning sessions but are also admitted to all the main performances. Junior tickets cost $1 each.

Word just received from James V. Munsie, who is with the Medical Corps in France, states that he is happy in his work and enjoying good health. Munsie went across three months and a half ago on the Covington, which was torpedoed in the war zone Monday night. He has been moving about considerably since arriving in France and at the time he wrote his last letter preparations were being made for a battle. He asked to be remembered to all his friends.

When a Man's Personal Liberty is Restricted

"The state entrusts you with liberty to kill; society trusts you with the liberty to steal; the state trusts you with liberty to murder," recently said Charles A. Windle, the eloquent defender of the saloon.

AND THIS STUFF GETS ACROSS WITH SOME AUDIENCES!

Now, if Mr. Windle had added: "And liquor furnishes you with the inclination," he would at least have put SOME truth into the entire statement. But let's see—

"The state entrusts you with the liberty to kill? Society trusts you with the liberty to steal? SINCE WHEN? Doesn't society distinctly PROHIBIT killing and stealing? Doesn't it organize a police force to PREVENT men from killing and stealing?

Let this illustrious preacher of "personal liberty" try to kill or steal in the presence of a big six-foot policeman and he'll find out what becomes of his grandiloquent statement that society trusts him with the LIBERTY to kill and to steal!

He'll have his face punched and his head clubbed and he'll find himself landed in jail,—if he INSISTS upon his "personal liberty"—and he'll remain there because he's proven that he's a dangerous citizen—too dangerous to exercise the "personal liberty" of which he boasts.

No—God and society say very distinctly regarding these and other matters—"THOU SHALT NOT"—and this is plain "PROHIBITION."

As far as possible every reasonable measure is taken to prevent men from committing crime. And when they disobey the very reasonable laws which are framed for the safe-guarding of men as a whole they are punished by both God and society.

When the state—by a vote of the people—declares that the saloon is a bad thing, and the saloon business is abolished, then every good citizen respects this law, even at inconvienience to himself.

If you believe that the traffic in Alcohol does more harm than good—help stop it!
