On that day MacLure with three other aviators, was protecting our photographing planes on the Toul front. The planes passing through a bank of clouds. When the three others emerged, MacLure was missing. As there had been no anti-aircraft fire, it is believed MacLure met with an accident to his machine and was forced to land behind the enemy lines.

Sensational Surprise Sprung at Close of Our Selectmen's Meeting

TWO PROMINENT CITIZENS ARE BEHIND THE ORDER

Judge H. O. Bowers and J. T. Robertson Use By-Law as Grounds. Arnott's Bill Also Causes Much Discussion at Meeting.

The fiscal year of the town's business came to an end last night; not in a setting of calm and peaceful clouds of cigar smoke but with fireworks popping around.

All the business had been cleared up when the form of Deputy Sheriff John Sheridan was seen passing through the door into the town clerk's office. He beckoned Town Treasurer Waddell to come into the office with him. There he served an injunction on Waddell forbidding him to pay Dr. T. H. Weldon, a member of the board of selectmen, the amount of $100. The injunction was served at the request of Herbert J. Bowers and John T. Robertson. They take as their ground the by-law which forbids a member of the board of selectmen in any business or profession from accepting money from the town in payment for services rendered.

The By-Law.
Section 19. No selectman of the Town of Manchester shall receive for his own use, directly or indirectly from the treasury of the town any payment, commission or compensation for services rendered or for materials, goods or merchandise sold to said town or persons dependent on said town or for the town's use unless he be the lowest bidder by a contract awarded after open competition; provided that nothing herein shall be so construed to prevent the payment of salaries as such to said selectmen. The violation of any provision of this section shall be punishable by imprisonment of not more than one year or a fine of not more than $300 or both.

Other Doctor's Bills.
The salaries paid the other doctors for services rendered appear in the town bills which are printed in another column of today's Herald. Dr. Weldon's total bill for services rendered and for vital statistics amounts to $220.75. Dr. N. A. Burr's bill is higher. It is $255. Dr. Burr has been up to this year the regular town doctor and has been called in on many more cases than the other doctors to attend the town poor. The total cost of medical attention and vital statistics is $586.25.

Other doctors have bills which are very low. Doctor Weldon said at the meeting last night that no doctor could charge exorbitant prices. He said that there were set fees to go by and in every case he had charged the regular fees. Dr. Moore's bill for attention and vital statistics is $37.75. Dr. Moore is chairman of the board of health and is called in on a number of cases. Dr. Weldon is a member of the charity committee of the selectmen and, no doubt, for this reason obtained a number of extra calls. Dr. Sloan charged but $2.50 for his attention to town poor. Dr. Rice $31.25, and Dr. Tinker $39.

Payments Postponed.
When the injunction had been subject to change. The bill is subject to change by both the House and the Senate. However, by studying the authoritative sketch of the bill which your correspondent is able to present today, the average citizen may gain a fair idea of the amount of war expense he will be required to bear during the next twelve months.

Indications today were that the McAdoo plan will be adopted by the committee without radical change. Under this plan war profits would be taxed at 80 per cent, with the average profits of the three years, 1911, 1912 and 1913 taken as the basis of computation. Excess profit levies however, would run from 10 to 60 per cent with the exemptions remaining as at present. The Kitchen scheme would make these taxes 30 to 80 per cent. In addition, there would be a normal profits tax of 18 per cent on undistributed profits and 12 per cent on profits distributed.

The Amount of Yield.
Treasury experts say the McAdoo scheme would yield $2,800,000,000 as against $2,500,000,000 to be returned by the Kitchen plan. Some members favored compromise, but the majority seemed to be leaning toward the McAdoo plan without change.

The bill as it now stands is the most stupendous piece of revenue legislation ever put before any Congress. It requires the payment in taxes of $2,700,000,000 more than the total outstanding currency. To prevent the chaotic condition that would result if an attempt were made to pay all these taxes on one day or in one month, an installment system of payment will be provided in the bill. The Treasury Department wishes installment payment made mandatory. The committee had favored payment in installments on March 15, June 15, and September 15, with a 1-9 per cent reduction for full payment on the first date.

Tobacco Growers Taking Help Away from Makers of Munitions, Korper Says

It is reported that certain Connecticut tobacco growers are hiring men away from essential government industries at excessively high wages.

Complaints have been lodged with the Federal Director of Labor, through the U. S. Employment Service, and this morning Federal Director Leo A. Korper confirmed the report. He stated that he was in possession of the names of some of the offenders, and that he was contemplating immediate action to check what is plainly a violation of the order of the United States Government, and also distinctly as unpatriotic act of serious damage to the war production program.

Tobacco Called Non-Essential.
Federal Director Korper stated further that it should be clearly understood when the government made the ruling that farmers are reckoned as in essential industry, tobacco growers were not included, as tobacco growing is not reckoned as farming or food growing, or in any way an essential industry under the Government ruling.

TENTATIVE REVENUE BILL DRAFTED; HEAVY TAX ON 2ND CLASS LUXURIES

Sur-Taxes Run from Three Per Cent. on Income Increments of $5,000-$7,500 to 75 Per Cent. on Those over Five Millions--Tea, Coffee and Cocoa May Have to Provide Considerable Share of Total

Washington, Aug. 16--After two months of work the $8,000,000,000 war revenue bill was practically completed by the House ways and means committee today. One lone important decision remained to be made--whether the committee shall accept the McAdoo profits taxation plan or cling to the Kitchen system. Upon this a score of minor decisions naturally hinge.

As the bill stands today it will bring in, the committee admits, half a billion dollars less than the $8,000,000,000 minimum insisted upon by Secretary McAdoo, according to Treasury Actuary McCoy. Dr. Adams, another Treasury expert, however, asserted, that no matter which profits plan is finally adopted, the return from the bill as now written must far exceed the required amount. To be on the safe side the committee probably will accept the lower figures.

Subject to Change.
The bill is subject to change by both the House and the Senate. However, by studying the authoritative sketch of the bill which your correspondent is able to present today, the average citizen may gain a fair idea of the amount of war expense he will be required to bear during the next twelve months.

Indications today were that the McAdoo plan will be adopted by the committee without radical change. made to pay all these taxes on one day or in one month, an installment system of payment will be provided in the bill. The Treasury Department wishes installment payment made mandatory. The committee had favored payment in installments on March 15, June 15, and September 15, with a 1-9 per cent reduction for full payment on the first date.

May Tax Teas Etc.
After a summing up that will be undertaken when the profits tax question is finally decided the committee then will turn to special taxes, such as those on breweries, oleo-margarine plants, theaters, etc., and to liquor taxes to make up the balance. In an extremity it is authoritatively stated, the committee may turn to the tariff to make up part of the deficit. It is certain that if any new import duties are levied that they will be only on tea, coffee and cocoa. The liquor taxes will be taken up last. They will be more than doubled--possibly tripled. The committee does not wish to attack them until the last minute however, for any announcement of increased taxes would result in a rush to withdraw liquor from bond and the government would lose half a billion dollars in taxes in a very few days.

No Sales Tax.
The proposal for a one per cent sales tax to apply generally does not appear in the bill. This tax would have yielded $2,000,000,000, but would have been extremely difficult of collection. The bill will be made to yield the required amount without it.

The principal burdens will be borne, as the President desires, by excess profits, incomes and luxuries. The committee has decided that the normal tax on the first $4,000 of taxable income shall be five per cent, with the existing exemptions still in force. The normal tax on incomes above $4,000, will be 10 per cent with the following sur-taxes:
Sur-Taxes.
Three per cent on proportion of income between $5,000 and $7,500.
Six per cent between $7,500 and $10,000.
Ten per cent between $10,000 and $15,000.
Fifteen per cent between $15,000 and $20,000.
Twenty per cent between $20,000 and $30,000.

BRAZILIAN SHIP IS TORPEDOED

An Atlantic Port, Aug. 16--The 1,288 ton Brazilian motor ship Madragdo, was torpedoed and then sunk by shell fire from an enemy submarine south of this port yesterday, according to 22 members of the crew who reached here this noon.

The survivors were rescued from life boats in which they abandoned the motor ship by the Norwegian steamship Pounton from Port Antonio, Jamaica.

The men were without provisions or adequate clothing and only the timely arrival of the Pounton saved their lives.

OTHER THAN CLASS 1 MEN MAY BE CALLED IN NEW DRAFT LAW

Men of Deferred Classes Can be Taken, Explains Crowder--"Only Way to Whip Germany is by Our Whole Strength", He Says.

Washington, Aug. 16--Passage of the new man power bill, extending the draft ages to 18 to 45, will not preclude the possibility of invasion of the deferred classes. Chief of Staff March informed the Military Affairs Committee of the House this afternoon.

It is not beyond the range of probability that this conference will have to authorize the invasion of other classes in order to carry the "work through," said General March. "No congressional action is required to permit the government to take men of the deferred classes and for this reason General March's statement was interpreted in some quarters as meaning that the draft ages might again be broadened.

"The United States is going to see this thing through," declared General March, at one of the hearings. "Every one will have hardships. No man can go into war without hardships. The way we can win is to put the greatest number of men over there that we can."

"The only way that Germany can be whipped is by going into this thing with the whole strength of the United States," he added. "Then America has got to put enough men over there to whip Germany," Senator Kirby asked. "That is it in a nutshell."

Germans Lack Metals.

With the British Army on the Picardy Front, Aug. 16--"Metal ghoulies, have become common in Germany. Graves are pillaged for precious metals. Lead is stripped from coffins. Jewelry is ripped from bodies. The seriousness of the German metal shortage has brought about precarious pursuits.

The shortage of metal is shown by the conditions of the villages recaptured by the British in their recent drive. Officers report that vaults in the cemetery at Mezieres have been broken into and the lead stripped from the coffins. Prisoners admit taking jewelry from the bodies.

THREE LIEUTENANTS SCORE.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Vesle Front, Aug. 15--(10 p. m.)--Three American lieutenants of the flying corps scored in the air this afternoon and brought down German planes. They are Lieutenant Harold Buckley of Springfield, Mass., Lieutenant Edward P. Curtis, of Rochester, N. Y., and Lieutenant Charles Glavatt, Port Royal, Va. Each of these shot down his German opponent in the Vesle region. In addition Lieutenant John Mitchell of Manchester, Mass., is believed to have shot down a German plane in an encounter.

BRITISH MOVE AHEAD NORTH OF SOMME; TAKE TWO TOWNS

Lines East of Morlancourt Extended Across Ancre--Sharp Local Fighting North of Albert--French Push Nearer Roye; Re-occupy Old First Lines at Points; Still Strike at Lassigny--1,520,000 Germans Killed Since War Began Up to Mid-June

London, Aug. 16--British forces again advanced north of the Somme river during the night, extending their lines east of Morlancourt and crossing to the left bank of the Ancre, the War Office reported at noon.

Fresh progress was scored between Beaumont-sur-Ancre, Puisieux and Aumont, (Miraumont?) The scene of the British advance was on the ground over which the Germans began their retreat on Wednesday, giving up the salient which bulged into the British front north of Albert. British patrols that crossed the Ancre river advanced to the Thiepval Wood.

Canadians Take Two Villages.
London, Aug. 16--The villages of Damery and Parvillers, in the district northwest of Roye, have been captured by Canadians, the British War Office announced last night. A further advance has been made by the British southeast of Proyart.

North of Albert, where the Germans began retreating on Wednesday, British patrols are keeping in close touch with the German lines, and sharp local fighting throughout the night. Active on the Ypres front.

The text of the War Office report follows:
War Office Report.
"By a successful local operation carried out by us on the right of the (Picardy) battle front, Canadian troops made progress in the neighborhood of Damery and Parvillers, capturing both villages.

"Our line southeast of Proyart was pushed forward a short distance. Prisoners were captured by us in these operations. "North of Albert, patrols have been maintaining close touch with the enemy throughout Thursday and local fighting took place at a number of points.

"Our patrols have been active throughout Thursday in the Vieux Berquin sector and made further progress southeast of the village, taking some prisoners. Successful raids were carried out by us northwest of Locon. Casualties were inflicted upon the enemy in raids, and two machine guns were brought back to our lines. "Hostile artillery has been active on the Ypres-Kemmel front."

British Supplementary Report.
The War Office report today says: "We advanced our lines slightly northeast of Morlancourt during the night.

"Our patrols crossed the Ancre river to the left bank reaching Thiepval Forest after local fighting. "British patrols progressed between Beaumont sur Ancre, Puisieux and Aumont.

"The hostile artillery was active between La Basse Canal and Ypres and south of the Somme river."

French and Lassigny.
Paris, Aug. 16--(12.20 p. m.)--The French are "nibbling" their way through Thiescourt Massif, endeavoring to envelop Lassigny from Beval, said a dispatch from the Reuters correspondent on the French front today. The Thiescourt Massif commands both Noyon and Lassigny.

1,520,000 Germans Killed.
Paris, Aug. 16--Up to mid-June 1,520,000 German soldiers had been killed, it was semi-officially estimated here today.

PRESIDENT GOLFS; HAD GOOD NIGHT'S REST.

Magnolia, Mass., Aug. 16--President Wilson started in the day with his favorite pastime, golf, going to the links at an early hour, according to his custom, in order to play undisturbed. He arose at seven, saying that he had had the best night's rest he had enjoyed for months and immediately after breakfast motored to a nearby golf course with Dr. Grayson and Colonel B. M. Evans. The motions of the President is being watched.

W. H. BURKE, NEW CHIEF OF SOUTH END FIREMEN

Elected by Vote of 41 to 19 at Annual Meeting Last Night

"POLITICS", SAYS ATWOOD

Result of Election Comes as Complete Surprise—Few Knew Contest Was Expected—Other Changes Made.

A surprise was sprung at the annual meeting of the South Manchester firemen last evening when William H. Burke, for several years foreman of Hose & Ladder Company No. 4 and for the past year first assistant chief, was elected chief of the department over Chief O. J. Atwood, who had been at the head of the department since its organization 20 years ago. Few knew that Mr. Burke was a candidate for the position and, as only routine business was scheduled, there were but 60 voters at the meeting, which was held at No. 4's quarters on School street. The office for chief was the only one on which there was a contest. N. B. Richards nominated O. J. Atwood and Patrick McNeary named W. H. Burke and the latter won by a vote of 41 to 19.

"Case of Politics"

As stated above, O. J. Atwood has been chief of the department since its organization and was one of the organizers. He is an expert mechanic, having been employed as an engineer for many years at the old mill engine room and is familiar with all the apparatus of the south end department. When interviewed as to the outcome of last night's election, Mr. Atwood said today that it evidently was a case of politics and since politics had crept into the office he was glad to get out.

New Chief Popular.

W. H. Burke, the new chief, is popular with the firemen and should make a good chief. He has worked hard for the interest of the department since it was organized. When the department was first organized, there were five companies and Burke was a member of No. 5. Later this company was merged with No. 4. Several years ago, Mr. Burke was elected foreman of No. 4, succeeding W. C. Cheney and a year ago he was made first assistant chief of the department.

Another Change Made.

There was another change in officers last evening. F. E. Watkins, who has served as secretary since the department's organization 20 years ago, declined a re-election and O. F. Toop, an ex-foreman of Orford Hose Company No. 3 was elected to the position. Frank Cheney, Jr., who has been the department's president since its organization, was re-elected and the remaining officers also were re-elected as follows: E. L. G. Henthall, treasurer; L. N. Heebner, superintendent of the fire alarm system; William Taylor, collector; R. E. Carney and W. J. Crockett, auditors.

George H. Howe, who has been second assistant chief, was moved up to first assistant chief and Lieutenant Thomas Bennisson of Hose Ladder No. 1, was made second assistant chief.

Frank Cheney, Jr. presided at the meeting and Secretary F. E. Watkins acted as clerk. In his report, President Cheney told of the progress being made on the installation of the improved fire alarm system, for which an appropriation was made last year, and said he expected the work would be finished before winter. The new switch board and repeater have been installed in the addition to No. 1's headquarters and the boxes for the underground cables have arrived and some of them are installed. The outside work, however, remains to be done. When completed, South Manchester will have one of the most up-to-date fire alarm systems in the country.

Little Needed.

President Cheney reported that the property of the district was in fine shape and that about all that would be necessary to purchase during the coming year would be a few feet of hose. He told of a plan to have standard couplings for all fire departments. While this would mean a big expense, the local department has secured a coupling that can be connected with any hose, thus making it possible for South Manchester department to work in conjunction with the Hartford or other nearby departments in cases of emergencies. Superintendent L. N. Heebner also gave a report on the progress being made in the installation of the new fire alarm system.

Few Fires Occurred.

According to Chief Atwood's report, South Manchester was extremely fortunate in the way of fires last year and the department made a record in keeping down losses from fire. During the year, there were 19 alarms, 15 still alarms and four blazes. The total amount of the property endangered was $245,000 and the loss was only $840.

As the district's indebtedness is small, no tax was voted and the treasurer was empowered to borrow not to exceed $21,500 for general expenses during the coming year and to meet any outstanding bills. A complete financial statement follows:

Treasurer's Report.

Treasurer Emil L. G. Henthall submitted his annual report of the district's finances. The report was approved by the meeting and is as follows:

CONDENSED TELEGRAPH

Unofficial estimates in London more than double the official ones regarding Germans captured in the present drive.

An estimated 2,398,845 effectives will be ready for training when the new draft bill passes.

The Allied forces have penetrated 100 miles south of Archangel. Additions to them are arriving at the Russian port.

The present average production of automatic pistols of Colt's in Hartford is 1,500 daily.

The packers are now paying appreciably less for their steers, and retail prices should come down, too, the federal Food Administration believes.

BECOME EDUCATED TO SOUND

Meanings That Would Be Unnoticed by Ordinary Man Picked Up by the Trained Ear.

The head barber called one of his barbers over to him and said: "You'd better hone that razor before you use it again."

"How'd you know his razor needed honing?" he was asked.

"I could tell by the sound of it as he drew it over the man's nose. I understand here working and tell how every razor in this shop is working by the sound as the barbers shave their customers."

The Guachos of South America have very acute powers of hearing. They count the units when the galloping of horses or cattle is heard a long time before they can be seen, and by their count the Guachos can tell just how many cattle or horses there are in the herd, or if it is a party of mounted men, how many are mounted and whether they are driving horses or cattle before them. The Guachos can also tell by the thunder of hoofs whether a stampede is caused by Indians or threatening weather.

The majority of locomotive engineers can tell when a storm is approaching by the sound of their engine.

There are 2,500 telegraph wires all clattering at once in an office on Congress street, yet each operator sits at his own instrument, and reads what it says unmindful of the confusion all around him. To the uninitiated it sounds more like a machine shop; but the trained ear of the telegrapher reads it as easily as the musician reads his notes.

A freight trainman riding on top can tell by the sound when there's a flat wheel in his train, and when he does hear it he "goes over the top" after it, in order to set the car out at the first siding to prevent ruining the wheels.

ALIVE TO HIS SHORTCOMINGS

Count Leo Tolstoy in his youth laid down a large number of rules for his own guidance, says Every Week. The first one was this: "Fill up everything which you have set yourself." And the second was: "Regard feminine society as an inevitable evil of social life, and, in so far as you can, avoid it."

His failure to heed his own warnings filled the pages of his diary with a gloomy record of shortcomings:

"March 8th. Yesterday it was late before I opened my eyes, but eventually I got the better of myself. Then I wrote (hurriedly and without reflection) a letter to Nikolinka, and also one, in the stupid form which I have now adopted, to the office (self-delusion). My gymnastics I did carelessly, and with too little balancing of myself against my strength. This falling I shall term in general presumption. At gymnastics I showed off (boastfulness). Also I tried to impart to Kobylin my candid opinion of myself (petty vanity); I went to Volkonsky's without first finishing what I had to do (lack of continuity); I gorged myself upon sweets; sat up too late; and I told several falsehoods."

AMUSEMENTS

REAL STARS IN REEL PLAYS AT THE MOVIE THEATERS

Park Theater Circle Theater

Just for good measure John F. Sullivan is going to spring a surprise on the patrons of the Popular Playhouse this evening by giving a Special Big feature at no advance in prices.

First there will be shown a first-run comedy and then the famous Current Events which gives all the news of the world in motion pictures.

After that with the orchestra playing a score synchronized with the picture, will be shown a big special film which cost just three times the sum paid for an ordinary feature. This is called "Hell's Crater," a synopsis of which follows:

Bill Gordon was once an honest business man, but his lust for gold has made him the money king of the west. His chief assistant is Cherry Maurice whose "simplicity" has made him many a dollar.

Jim Shamrick comes out of the desert, where he has been for two years. He immediately goes to the saloon where Bill learns that he has a belt of gold. Cherry proceeds to get Jim drunk. Later he is robbed and thrown out.

The next evening, he forces Cherry to go with him, telling her that she took his gold and now she is going back into the desert to dig it out for him.

After Jim's departure Bill gets a letter from Rose, Jim's sister. Bill replies that Jim is delirious and needs her care. In her dancing garb, Cherry is forced to walk through the desert, to the edge of "Hell's Crater," a stretch of God forsaken land that only one man dared enter.

Meanwhile Rose arrives, and having no money is forced to work to get a return ticket, but Bill falls in love with her and with him she promises to make amendments.

When Jim is ready to return to town, Cherry refuses to go, but as he rides away alone she runs screaming after him and they go into the desert together.

Tomorrow comes a big Triangle feature called "His Enemy, the Law" and another chapter of "Boy Scouts to the Rescue" the chapter play which is so interesting to the youngsters of the town.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday comes the film that everybody is talking about. All the walls in the town are covered with flaming posters, the newspapers are carrying publicity and the movie fans are getting all ready for that mammoth feature of the present year "To Hell With the Kaiser." Be sure to see this great feature. It is the biggest and best ever brought to a town of this size.

DRIVER IGNORES WARNING, COLLIDES WITH TROLLEY

Did Not Make Detour and Is Stalled on Hockanum River Bridge—Woman Injured.

Rollin F. Parson, of Thompsonville, disobeyed the warning on Center street to make a detour and not attempt to make a passage through by way of Laurel Park and as a result got into a position which might have proved much more serious than it did.

The driver reached the Hockanum river bridge. He tried to back around at the bridge and got on the trolley tracks. His engine stalled when his automobile was on the tracks. Motorman Thrasher came around the corner on McLean hill and could not stop his car before it struck the Parson automobile.

The car crashed into the auto and smashed the two rear wheels and stove in the back.

Mrs. Parson, who was riding in the car, was injured. She was brought to Dr. Moore's office and given attention. Her injuries were found to be minor. She suffered a strained back. The automobile was badly damaged.

This is the first real accident of this kind, although many have been threatened. Autoists persist in going through this road and it is practically impassable.

Tonight is Universal night at the Circle. The management will present an entire Universal program headed by a smashing Western production just released by a new company. The entire program is brand new as the company that produces these features have just started to release their product. Consequently Circle patrons will have the opportunity of seeing this evening, a new, novel and distinct brand of photoplays.

Tomorrow comes again the good old Vitagraph program headed by a Blue Ribbon Special, "The Little Runaway" with Gladys Leslie supported by an all star Vitagraph cast headed by Edward Earle.

The picture tells a fascinating story of a little Irish lassie who runs away to America to catch a thief and who returns, the bride of the Irish Lord who owns her native village. The production is brimful of good wholesome Irish humor and the locale of the play is laid and produced in the Emerald Isle.

Other attractions on the same program tomorrow are: "The House of Hate, a Big V comedy and a Broncho Billy Western special. On Sunday evening Vivian Martin will be seen in a Paramount production, "A Petticoat Plot." There never was a story with a more charming star, a more tender, appealing story, and a more steady grip of suspense than this. You will like this story of a little incident that happened at Cape Cod.

The big event for the coming week is the arcaic Western special production, "The Tiger Man" with William S. Hart. This production will be shown on Thursday and Friday.

The following letters remain at the Manchester Post Office unclaimed.

MEETING OF MINISTERS.

In view of the great interest awakened by the gathering of ministers at Hartford last September on the invitation of the Pastoral Union and the Hartford Seminary Foundation, to discuss questions of life and thought brought upon the church by the great convulsion of the World War, another similar gathering has been arranged to meet this year in the Chapel of the Theological Seminary at Hartford on Monday and Tuesday, September sixteenth and seventeenth.

The meetings will begin on Monday morning and continue until Tuesday afternoon.

They will be under the leadership of President William Douglas Mackenzie of the Seminary, and will be open to ministers of all denominations within the region of Central and Northern Connecticut and north along the Connecticut valley as far as Northampton.

The general topic for discussion will be "The Meaning of the Ministry, Its Special Task for Today."

The last word Mr. and Mrs. William H. Soon the chimney began falling and the boys thought other shelter more to be desired.
Rev. Frank K. Abbott will again give a lecture on "Mohammedanism," illustrated with stereopticon views, at the Bolton Hall Sunday evening.

IRREGULARITY

Marine Preferred Rises, Then Reacts
Point and Half-Steel Common
Less Buoyant—Quotations.

New York, Aug. 16.—There was an irregular tone to the stock market during the first 15 minutes today, but at the end of that period few issues showed any material change from yesterday's close.
Marine Preferred attracted attention, because of a continued demand, although after the close yesterday the stock was offered on the street as low as 99 1/2. Much disappointment was expressed because no announcement was made after the directors' meeting. Several large buying orders were in at the outset, causing a rise of 7-8 to 101 1-2, but as soon as these orders were filled the price reacted to 100.
Steel Common rose 5-8 to 111 1-2 and sagged to 111 1-8. American Hide & Leather Preferred rose to 87 1-4, but quickly dropped one point. American Sumatra Tobacco was heavy, falling 2 1-2 points to 126.
Trading in the general list was very quiet for the greater part of the forenoon, with most of the prominent issues declining from fractions to one point.
Clearing house statement: Exchanges, $582,453,150; balances, $57,028,092.

Seventy per cent between $1,000,000 and $5,000,000.
Seventy-five per cent on all exceeding $5,000,000.

Inheritance Taxes.
The scale of inheritance taxes agreed upon will give a heavy yield, but Representative Rainey, ranking Democrat on the committee, announced today he would make a fight on the floor to have those estates of over $1,000,000 radically increased. There is an original exemption of $50,000; and the taxes thereafter follow:
Six per cent on proportion of inheritance between $50,000 and $150,000.
Nine per cent between $150,000 and $250,000.
Twelve per cent between $250,000 and $500,000.

Thirty-five per cent between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000.
Forty per cent above $10,000,000.

State Taxes Duplications?
These estate taxes may seriously interfere with similar state taxes and it will probably necessitate a revision of state laws so that the federal tax may be taken out before the state tax is calculated.
Luxuries are recognized in the bill as being of two sorts, one by its very nature such as electric fans, jewelry, photographs, thermos bottles, tapestries, pianos, etc., and the other by its cost. The out-and-out luxuries are taxed at a rate of 10 per cent. On platinum jewelry there is an additional tax of one per cent and each sale must be registered. On cosmetics there is a one cent tax for each 10 cents of the selling price or fraction thereof.
Taxes of 20 per cent on the amount of selling price exceeding the following maximum figures are levies on the following luxuries of the second class:
Men's and women's suits and coats in excess of $50.
Women's dresses ready made, $40.
Women's hats, $25.
Men's hats $5 and caps $2.
Men's and women's shoes, $10.
Neck ties, $2.
Men's silk hose, $1, women's $2.
Men's shirts $3, and pajamas $3.
Fancy vests $5.
Smoking jackets, bathrobes, $10.

Firearms are taxed at a rate of 25 per cent and cartridges at 10 per cent. Bowie knives, dirks, brass knuckles, etc., pay 1,000 per cent.
Automobiles and motorcycles bear a manufacturer's tax of ten per cent and wagons, trailers and tractors of five per cent.
The following are the federal license taxes to be assessed against auto owners:
Auto Taxes.
Less than 25 horse power, $10.
Twenty-three to 25 horsepower, $22.

Thirty-one to 40 horsepower, $30.
Over 40 horsepower, $50.
In addition the owner of a gas car must pay a two cent tax on every gallon of gasoline. Electric cars pay $5 per horsepower and 50 cents for each 100 pounds of weight. Motorcycles pay a flat $5 license tax.
A license tax of $10 must be paid for each retail establishment doing a business of more of more than $2,000 a year and a similar tax applies against professional men. Wholesale businesses in excess of $200,000 a year must pay $25.
The tobacco taxes are practically double the present rates. They follow:
Tobacco Taxes.
Cigars, weight three pounds per 1,000, $2 a thousand.
Cigars, weight more than three pounds per 1,000, and selling at less than four cents, $5 a thousand.
Cigars, retailing between four and seven cents, $10, between seven and 15 cents, $15, between 15 and 20 cents, $20; over 20 cents, $30.

Life insurance policy holders pay nine cents for each $100, except in group insurance, where groups not exceeding 25 pay four cents for each $100. Marine, fire, casualty and inland insurance is taxed at one cent on each $1, while for industrial policies for $500 or less the rate is 40 per cent of the first weekly or monthly premium.
The tax rate on oil pipe lines is 4 1/2 per cent on freight, three per cent on passenger and Pullman tickets 3 per cent.
Capital stock is taxed at a rate of $1 on each $1,000 of value. The stamp taxes have not yet been considered, but the likelihood is they will be doubled.
The question of equalizing taxes on telephone calls and telegrams remains to be decided by the tax on leased wires, aside from newspaper wires, is 10 per cent.
A 20 per cent tax is levied on club dues and admission tickets, with a one cent rate on all admissions under seven cents. Taxes on movie films are five per cent on rentals, in lieu of 1/4 per cent on each linear foot and 1/2 cent per foot on each foot of developed film.
In addition to his other burdens the wealthy man has had the tax on his yacht doubled.
The revenue bill probably will be reported to the House about the end of next week.

Oh, how much labor and expense are lavished on a gochiso (entertainment) to make it nice to look at! That is all sheer waste and luxury and is to be condemned! Frivolities has kindly put in the power of every Japanese to live in the most economical manner, so the Japanese dinner is a blasphemous abuse of providential beneficence. It is an anachronistic relic of feudalism, reminiscent of the morbid tastes of the idle, luxurious overlords! A monstrous fact is that these customs are not going out of fashion.—Exchange.

Japanese Dinner Entertainments. Far From Satisfying the Requirements of the Inner Man.
In the matter of eating it is agreed that the Japanese cuisine is not of the richest in nutritive culture. It is not inexpensive; Japanese dinners are elaborate in preparation, artistic in presentation, but for satisfying the inner man are far inferior to European or even Chinese cooking. The chief characteristic of a purely Japanese dinner is to please the eye, not the palate or stomach. It is a national joke that one must eat a meal before going to or after returning from a Japanese dinner.

The proposed inter-allyed labor conference in London, at which President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor will probably be present, is interesting. It is a thin fellow got the socks because the old soldier thought he would need them most. The thin fellow got the little old soldier went back home to knit another pair of socks for another young soldier.
He drew a parcel from under his coat and opening it displayed a pair of almost perfectly knitted socks. "They ain't much for my country," he spoke aloud, "but they will help some young fellow to fight better. These don't look like a soldier's socks, but I like much for a soldier to give, but I knitted them myself and I bought the yarn out of my pension money."

ORDER EMERGING IN RUSSIA.

General Otani has sailed for Vladivostok to take charge of the Japanese contingent of the Allied army of intervention in Russia. The situation at Archangel, where an Allied force of at least several hundred, including American marines, is busy, has cleared completely. The Czech-Slovak forces are gaining recruits daily and now number, it is estimated, 300,000. Their leaders are thoroughly in sympathy with the Allies, particularly the United States, and the head of their government council, their premier, has been spending several weeks in America.

All these facts show beyond peradventure how the political wind is blowing in Russia. The rapid actual disintegration of the Bolshevik regime in European Russia and the gradual breaking up of the Bolshevik soviets even in Asiatic Russia, are still plainer indications of the dawn, for they represent the temper of the Russian people.

The vacillating, treacherous policy of Lenin and Trotsky, who have sought only their own power, buttressed by that of Germany, is reaping its just fruits. Yesterday another German official of some importance was reported assassinated, and the Bolshevik leaders themselves have been harassed repeatedly. Their flight from Moscow long had been expected.

The Bolsheviks already have provided plenty of cause for open war with our chief allies. Their violent invasion of consulates, which rank by universal international consent as the territory of the nation in question, alone would have sufficed. Their arrest of consuls-general and their staffs—British and French—not to mention foreigners of the two nations has been a worse outrage still. Russian public sentiment in favor of America—for such a thing exists among even large numbers of the illiterates—alone seems to have enabled Consul General Poole to obtain a safe conduct from Moscow. These foreigners are to be held as hostages, the Bolsheviks announce, because of the Allied invasion of Archangel.

As America's first preparatory step toward intervention Russia is to be filled with moving pictures, telling the truth about America, which movies of the German propaganda agents have done so much to besmirch.

But the real rallying point for Russia's rehabilitation is the Czech-Slovaks and their Slav followers. Here is a nation without a country—for they come mostly from the dual empire—integral and united. The Bolsheviks blundered badly when they halted, the Czech-Slovaks' march across Siberia en route to the western front.

"CENTRAL" IS "CENTRAL."
Only the telephone companies and the newspapers know how much "central" does that the public has no right to expect it to do. If the community in general did know, it would realize that there is good reason for Central's sometimes doing things it should not have done or not doing things it should. The only wonder is its sins of commission and omission are not more numerous.

The time of day is only one of a score of typical questions which the subscriber feels a right to ask. The Southern New England Company alone, now requesting patrons to omit this interrogation, receives the request 30,000 times a day. The extra demands made by the war makes conservation of the operator's time and the company's facilities imperative.

We wonder whether the average subscriber knows that every telephone exchange makes it a point to answer emergency calls such as those in case of fire or immediate medical aid, giving these the right of way. We wonder whether he knows of the innumerable questions regarding baseball scores, the war situation and its fact any matter of current moment that are asked as a matter of course and cheerfully answered—without extra expense.

The telephone companies ought to prepare a special edition of the Telephone Review some month and circulate it widely among patrons. Perhaps the latter then would appreciate just how much the companies are doing that isn't nominated in the bond.

A DEFECTIVE LAW.

The legal test which will probably result from the injunction served last night to prevent the town treasurer from paying Dr. Weldon's bill for professional services should result in throwing into the discard the law under which the action is brought. Under the special act known as "An Act Amending an Act, Amending an Act, Amending an Act," etc., etc., by which the affairs of this town are governed, it is provided that "No selectman of the Town of Manchester shall receive for his own use, directly or indirectly, from the treasury of the town any payment, commission or compensation for services rendered, or for materials, goods or merchandise sold to said town, or to persons dependent upon said town, or for the town's use, unless he be the lowest bidder upon a contract awarded after open competition."

This law is not practicable and we believe has worked to the detriment of the town's interests. In the first place it has kept off the board of selectmen citizens who would have made the best kind of officials. The town is a large buyer in certain lines and some of our most successful business men sell to the town. As selectmen they would lose this trade. In many instances it would be impracticable for them to submit bids in open competition. For example a doctor called to attend a town patient who had met with an accident could not submit a bid before attending him. Yet if the doctor chanced to be a selectman he would render himself liable to a fine and imprisonment if he charged the town for such a service. And if the undertaker happened to be a selectman he could not collect for burying a town corpse unless he was the lowest bidder for the job.

The law has been violated over and over since it was passed. Its violation has been no wrong because in practically every instance the violation has been in the interest of the town.

As to the merits or demerits of the present case we are not posted and therefore express no opinion. If the bill is exorbitant the board of selectmen have a right to refuse to pay it. Under the present law they have no legal right to pay it. But we think a much better law for the protection of the town treasury could be passed than the one under which this injunction has been framed.

TO RE-EDUCATE THE MAIMED.
Our boys across the Atlantic who come back maimed in various ways will find a practical welcome awaiting them everywhere in Connecticut. They will be sure of being provided not only the means of earning good livings again, but the re-education of hand and arm and foot that may be demanded. That means Manchester, as well as Hartford and Bridgeport, Waterbury and New Haven.

The State defense council has sent three representatives to Canada to study what the Dominion has done in this respect. F. J. Trinder, director of vocational training of the State board of education; Charles D. Hine, also of the board, and N. S. Light, State supervisor of schools, are this week visiting some of the most capable centers of Canadian reconstruction work and studying methods of training, trades used, etc.

One of the by-products of the work of our maimed men, once established, will be, we hope, to put manual labor on a higher plane. As the Springfield Republican said a day or two ago, editorially, the professional man who makes his thousand a year is said to be "on a salary," while the machinist and other skilled artisans who get their five to eight dollars a day are paid "wages." Of course, the professional worker has a wider variety of occupational interests, his work is often more pleasant and his surroundings and environment are more desirable, but the last condition at least is of the employee's own making to a large extent.

Our soldiers' prestige will remain after their return. Unless we miss our guess, they will dignify many a task which by absurd custom would not dignify them.

We are prejudiced about our garden. In spite of the fact we digged in the bud, literally speaking, our potatoes are the best we have seen and still flourishing. Our lot-

GERMANY PLANS ATTACK ON MURMAN RAILWAY; RUSSIA NEW BATTLE GROUND

Allies and Enemy Sure to Clash Next Month—Latter Trying to Seize Oil Fields of Trans-Caucasia—British in Persia as Well as at Archangel—Russians Themselves Ral-lying against Bolsheviks to Allied Cause

London, Aug. 16.—Germany is planning an offensive against the Murman railway, in Russia, next month, in the hope of being able to establish a submarine base in the Petcheuga district, indications today show.

At the same time the Germans are endeavoring to seize Russian oil fields from the Armenians in trans-Caucasia and forcibly take over shipping on the Caspian Sea.

Already British troops have arrived at Baku from Bagdad and are co-operating in the defense of the Baku oil district. They are operating under General Dokuhejeff.

There is a considerable force of British troops in northwestern Persia, but they are hampered by lack of lines of communication. They may be assisted by the fact that the new premier of the country is pro-ally.

Three Allied movements southward from the Murman coast were planned.

The first detachment was to approach Cheserskaya, but Bolshevik troops, officered by Germans, hurried up to check the Allied advance. Another Bolshevik force was sent to Onega to hold up the Allied advance southward from Archangel. So far no progress has been reported on the part of the third Allied detachment, which was dispatched up the Dvina valley to take Katlas Junction.

General Alexiff, former chief of staff of the Russian armies and General Denckin, with their anti-Bolshevik forces, are encamped north of the Caspian and their power is steadily growing in the Ur Mountain district.

Russia in War Again.
Russia promises to become a gigantic battle field, with the Allies advancing from three sides to drive out the Germans and to wipe out pro-German influence.

Already the campaign to save Russia for herself is under way, with Allied troops on the Murman coast in northern European Russia; at Vladivostok (in Eastern Siberia) and at Baku, (in trans-Caucasia.)

The Allies are giving support to the Czech-Slovak and to the patriotic Russian forces that are hostile to the pro-German Bolsheviks.

It was recently reported that German troops were advancing on Petcheuga indicating that they would be used in an effort to prevent the southward march of the Allies from the Murman coast.

Enemy in Petrograd?

It is stated on good authority that there are already thousands of German officers and men in Petrograd, and some estimates put the number at 100,000. This latter figure, however, evidently includes Austro-Hungarians as well as Germans.

Germany aspires to control the northern seas with her submarines, operating from a base on the coast of Russia. According to the cablegram the Germans planned to establish a base in the region of Petcheuga, but this may have been an error in transmission for Pethora. The Petehora is a river which flows into the Arctic ocean east of Archangel.

The numerous islands at its mouth afford excellent opportunities for a U-boat base.

tuce has been so plentiful that the chickens have gotten rather more than the outer leaves. Oud beans are only now succumbing to the weeds. But, granting this and the fact that the weather has been more comfortable for work than for growing things, we think the town's gardens as a whole, potatoes excepted, have done well. The result is due to good seeds, bought mostly in town good fertilizer, also purchased here, and good care. Home gardens ought to be a permanent institution here, war or no war.

view with your correspondent. He declared that despite the change in the military situation since the Americans went into the struggle at Chateau Thierry, the military party is still in the saddle in Germany. At the same time he predicted that the German armies will assume the defensive on shorter battle lines which will enable them to offer stiffer resistance.

"The Germans may appeal for peace, when still far from beaten, as attempts of this sort have already been seen in the news from Holland," says the informant.

"If peace overtures were accepted now the German military party would only prepare for a new war pleading that they were beaten this time by America's intervention, but predicting victory 'the next time' against France and Britain alone.

"The situation shows that Germany can be decisively beaten, but the decisive beating still remains to be administered.

"We still require sacrifices without which all the heroic sacrifices hitherto would be in vain."

As regards the military situation it was stated that the Allies must maintain the initiative until a coup de grace is possible. This will be a difficult job, it was declared, but a necessary one.

TAKE PHOTOGRAPHS AT NIGHT
Handicaps of Fog and Darkness Have Been Overcome by Development of New Process.

Neither fog nor darkness handicaps the supereyes of the war department signal corps cameras, according to Edward Hungerford, who describes the remarkable progress of wartime aerial photography in Everbold's. He gives some interesting examples:

"I have seen a photograph of a waning moon over Rome—taken by the new process. It is the first time ture of the moon that I have ever seen, although I formerly attempted the thing myself. Most of the moonlight pictures that one sees are 'fakes,' made by photographing the sun in various unusual and artistic phases. But this was real. One could see the tiny pools of water standing in the uneven places of the flagging, the flickering street lamps at the corner. A picture whose reality almost makes it uncanny. And the photographer who took the picture in the rain was arrested by a gendarme as being mentally upsooned. He was only released when he took a picture of the Hottentot at the police station and proved beyond a question that he could make good portraits by artificial light.

"I have seen photographs made by this new process from the front row of a theater balcony during the progress of the play; others made in church during vesper and illumined scenery by the candles upon the high altar. The process is very new and it is very wonderful. Moreover, it is essential as adaptation to night operations, both from airplanes and from the ground."

"THIS IS WAR! SEND US MEN IN KHAKI AND TRAINED NURSES—NOT THOSE SOUVENIR HUNTERS AND ECCENTRIC WOMEN," HE SAYS

Paris, July 18. (By mail)—"It should be stopped at once." The American officer who obviously cannot be named brought his fist down on the table. "Do they think in the United States that this war is some sort of a world's fair or religious revival?"

"In the Civil War, Sherman on his march through Georgia and Lee at Richmond didn't have a ragtag and bobtail army piffing at their heels trying to save the souls of their soldiers or engaged in war sightseeing."

"Why, then, in the name of (censored), are all these rubber-neck wagon commissions from every State Legislature in the country coming over? Why is every religious organization and fraternal society, from the Shaking Quakers to the Red Eagles, sending over joy-ride parties?"

Money Wasted.

"The generous American public is wasting hundreds of thousands of valuable dollars financing the trips of the members of these fraternal orders and religious organizations and other long-haired souvenir hunters."

"This is not the time to satisfy curiosity. We want no males over here, whether they be fifteen or seventy years old, unless they are in khaki. And we don't want khaki slacker, either."

"Send us over freckle-faced trained nurses who won't vomit at the sight of blood, but for the love of Mike deliver us from those eccentric females who strut around Paris with spiked trench canes, trench boots, khaki shirts, Sam Browne belts and other paraphernalia."

Sturdy Nurses Wanted.

"Send us over freckle-faced trained nurses who won't vomit at the sight of blood, but for the love of Mike deliver us from those eccentric females who strut around Paris with spiked trench canes, trench boots, khaki shirts, Sam Browne belts and other paraphernalia."

"The doughboys cheer the girls with the red-lined caps, but what they say about these wild women who try to mother them wouldn't bear repetition. I have it on the authority of one of the best known consular officers in France that an American woman arrived within the last six months and announced that she had come over to feed the starving aviators. They ought to make all these soul savers pass through Ellis Island before they get aboard ship."

A Dancer's Commission.

"Damn it man, we're at war. Here I read a cable from America today that the Dancing Masters' Association at its Chicago convention announced plans for sending over a dancing masters' unit to instruct the American soldiers in the 'trench trot,' the 'camouflage waltz' and the 'cantonment canter.'"

"If that unit ever gets to France it will be murdered in cold blood. Don't think I am jesting. I am speaking God's own truth. That sort of thing is heart-sickening. It has the worst sort of effect on the morale of our boys."

"Another organization, not the Red Cross, has had a lecture on political economy over here. The press department of the organization makes proud mention of the fact. What in blazes do our lads in the trenches care about political economy?"

Front for Fighters.

"I have heard our boys talking about these things. Their disgust knows no bounds. The privilege of being at the front should be confined to fighters and to fighters only."

"These Cook's tourists, these joy-riding sightseers, these morbid sensation seekers should be canned, bottled and preserved and put in the cellars in America. We don't want them over here. The doughboys jeer at these commissions in black clothes and the embusques in khaki who nibble around at their heels or endeavor to patronize them when they come on leave to Paris."

AS THE ARMY WANTS THINGS

"We want no males over here, whether they be fifteen or seventy years old, unless they are in khaki. And we don't want khaki slacker, either."

"Send us over freckle-faced trained nurses who won't vomit at the sight of blood, but for the love of Mike deliver us from those eccentric females who strut around Paris with spiked trench canes, trench boots, khaki shirts, Sam Browne belts and other paraphernalia."

U. S. War Knowledge.

"I found a good deal of ignorance of the scale on which Great Britain had been fighting and supporting the war and naturally of the details of our warfare. Most Americans had failed to value the many fronts—on three continents—on which our armies have been engaged; the vast numbers of our armies which were raised before conscription was established, or the extent of our sacrifices. I supplied them with concise information on each of these subjects and on our methods of feeding our troops, supplying them with ammunition, etc., and caring for the wounded. Many audiences were amazed at the facts I gave them, and it would have been well worth coming to America for this purpose alone."

"Recently all Europe laughed at the photograph reproduced in the press, of an American Congressman in a special anti-submarine sure-boat life saving suit. He had proudly posed, in a Paris photograph gallery for the picture."

"Keep these publicity seekers away from us. The doughboy is proud to be at the front. That privilege, for which he is willing to sacrifice his life, shouldn't be cheapened by allowing every Tom, Dick and Katie to come over for a few weeks, then to go back to boast for the rest of their natural lives about the terrible things they saw in the war zone."

"The fighting zone is for fighting men."

served Chairman Taylor who was unaware of the action, proceeded to pass out the doctor's bills for the approval of the selectmen. Selectman Rogers moved that all payment of doctor's bills be laid aside until the next meeting and he moved that the meeting be held Saturday night at eight o'clock. "This caused some comment." Chairman Taylor could not see that the injunction restrained the treasurer from paying the other doctors but Rogers was of the opinion that in order to obtain legal advice it would be better to leave this matter until Saturday night. There was no serious objection to this and it was so voted.

OUR CONSCIENCE, WILL AND BOUNDLESS ENERGY ARE ENLISTED IN WAR, SAYS SCOTCH CLERGYMAN

After traveling more than 20,000 miles and delivering 119 addresses in every part of the United States, Sir George Adam Smith, the Scottish clergyman who has been making a tour of the country under the auspices of the National Committee on the Churches and the Moral Aims of the War, reported to the Bureau of Information of the British War Mission this week in New York that the American people everywhere are fully aroused and heart and soul in the war.

"From a very wide experience in all parts of the country and among all classes," says Sir George, "I am sure that the conscience, the heart, the will and all the boundless energies of the United States are thoroughly and intelligently enlisted in the war. This is as true of the more German centers as of the rest of the country. I had nowhere a more cordial reception for my message than in St. Louis, Cincinnati and Milwaukee and among men with German names. My chairmen and other speakers were frequently men of German descent."

Here Since March.

Sir George's report was given out today, on the eve of his return to Scotland. He came to America last March on the invitation of the National Committee and of the Department of Information of the British Foreign Office.

"The mission with which I was charged," says Sir George, "was twofold—to enforce the moral aims common to the Allies and to tell the part which Great Britain has taken in the war."

"The line which I followed with regard to these closely related subjects was to remind my audiences of the suddenness of the call to war which came to our people and at the same time its moral clearness and emphasis, and to assure them that the conscience with which we had originally acclaimed that signal call was today, if possible, stronger than ever. Our ethical convictions found their materials not only in the a piece for making up town meeting calls. Previous counsels have charged five dollars. Selectman Rogers said he had the authority to deduct five dollars from each of the calls and did so. When there was any question about any item in the bill Selectman Rogers was ready and willing to give a reason for its seemingly high charge.

Routine Matters.

Rev. C. T. McCann was present at the earlier part of the meeting to settle the business regarding the Fourth of July celebration. A vote of thanks was given the colored chorus which sang in the evening. It was voted to pay the Salvation Army band $70 for its services. This was the same as was paid the Italian band.

The board was advised that it was time to inspect the walks laid by the J. C. Connors Co., and the highway committee was instructed to do so.

W. P. Bristol, manager of the Connecticut Company, told the selectmen that he had inspected the poles and sidewalks on East Center street and had found that there was but one place where the sidewalk was defective, as a result of the Connecticut Company poles. This will be replaced.

The police commissioners asked that the board give them more information regarding the complaints of citizens about autos speeding in town and the selectmen will reply telling them Dr. Moore registered the complaint. They could not think of any other complainants at the time.

The building inspector reported permits to the amount of $450 during the first fifteen days of the month.

At the request of Cheney Brothers Charles Crockett was named special constable to take the place of Michael Fitzgerald who resigns to become a regular policeman on the local force.

Town Engineer Bowen had his map of the East cemetery at the meeting. The map is very accurate and 95 per cent finished. The number of lots shown is 1733, single graves 476, a total of 2259. There are about 50 lots which are not shown because of lack of information.

STATE C. OF C. DIRECTORS FAVOR WAR CHEST SCHEME

Decide on New London as Scene of the Annual Meeting in October.

The directors of the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce held an important meeting at the Hartford Club Wednesday afternoon.

Director Charles E. House was obliged to keep a business appointment in New York city and Arthur E. Bowers represented the Manchester Chamber of Commerce at this meeting.

New London was selected for the annual meeting of the State Chamber of Commerce and it was voted to hold a two days session in October. The dinner will be served on the roof garden of Mr. Munsey's Mohican Hotel and the Mohican will be headquarters for the 1919 convention. The submarine base, shipyards and other government activities will furnish supreme attractions for the visitors.

A War Chest report was read by President Jones, who advised that the Connecticut State Council of Defense be notified that the State Chamber of Commerce approves of a recommendation by them that every community in the state adopt the War Chest plan. President Jones' recommendation was adopted. The State Council of Defense will act upon the War Chest proposition next Monday, August 19th.

Referendum No. 25 relating to taxation was unanimously approved. Americanization of the foreign-born citizens of Connecticut and a revision of our educational methods and laws was strongly urged, and President Jones was instructed to appoint a committee to make recommendations to the State Board of Education and to the incoming legislature.

Restriction of deliveries of merchandise was recommended.

Curtalement of more or less useless Christmas gifts was approved. War stamps and useful gifts were advised.

Before and After.

My brother has just reached France. On being moved from one village to another he wished to thank the kind old Frenchwoman with whom he had been billeted and thought he was saying, "We thank you for your kindness to us while we were here." The girls standing near laughed so heartily that he repeated his sentence later to an interpreter and found that he had said, "before we were here."—Exchange.

Spain is Buying Planos.

The American government is buying mules and blankets in Spain and paying for them with planos made in the United States, according to George W. Pound, manager of the National Piano Manufacturers' association, in calling attention to one of the striking developments at the present time in this country's export trade.

"As is the case with neutrals generally," Mr. Pound said, "much of Spain's population is produced largely by the war, and the demand for pianos has persisted in spite of the fact that the prices of all musical instruments in Spain have doubled and trebled since the war began."

Mr. Pound said that the American manufacturers were thereby offered an unusual opportunity to help the government pay the war bills as well as to meet the foreign demand for our goods. In this connection, Mr. Pound said, piano manufacturers can only export their pianos through government license.

New Generator Finds Favor.

An acetylene generator supplying fuel for propelling motorboats is the device of a Norwegian captain and is reported to be in great demand, although the average cost is 21 cents per horse power hour. The gas given off as water is dropped upon calcium carbide, is led to the carburetor, where it is purified and fed to the motor. Though this apparatus is adapted only for the ordinary gasoline motor a modification is being worked out that is expected to serve for engines designed to burn kerosene.

"Tacking Down Edges of Flight."

Things were stirring along the front. Miles away we could hear the battery heavies thundering and drumming and once in a while we detected the hammering staccato of a machine gun tacking down the loose edges of a fight that will never be recorded in history, with the earnestness and briskness of a man laying a carpet in a hurry.—Irvin S. Cobb in the Saturday Evening Post.

Much Lumber Wasted.

It is estimated that American lumbermen, accustomed to a wealth of material, waste two-thirds of it; and that by utilizing all parts of the tree the long-leaf pine industry would yield daily 40 tons of paper, 2,000 tons of rosin; 300,000 gallons of turpentine and great quantities of ethyl alcohol.

IS AN ANCIENT CUSTOM

No One Knows Who Originated the "Round Robin."

Long in Use on Shipboard for Determining Each Sailor's Watch—Often Employed in the Form of a Petition.

That watch kept on board ship at night, while lying at anchor, is called the anchor watch. Generally speaking it consists of one officer and one seaman, whose duties are to watch out for the safety of the ship, see that the anchor light is kept burning brightly, and take care that the vessel does not drag her anchor. If there are eight hours of darkness to be covered and eight men constitute the crew, these men are required to watch one hour each. If there be more or less men the question arises who is to go on watch first or last, or perhaps, who is to "lay over" until the next day.

It thus becomes necessary to ascertain who is to go on duty at a certain hour and each man must know when his turn comes. Arrangement for this is made by forming a "round robin," or putting it in another way, by "chalking for watches," which is accomplished in such a way that each sailor has the time for keeping his watch determined by lot, one not being favored more than another. The thing is decided in this way:

One man draws a large circle on the lid of a chest, or, if that is not convenient, the deck. The circle is subdivided into as many divisions as there are men; and each man makes his mark in one of the spaces. This may be a cross, a circle, a triangle, or any other sign that will suffice to identify him.

During the time the sailors are placing their marks within the division of the circle, one of their number is detained outside on deck and kept in ignorance of the identity of any author of any mark. When all have made their marks the round robin is complete. The man who was on deck is now called, someone else having made a mark for him. This man now proceeds to erase the marks, one by one. The owners of the marks are numbered from number one up, in succession, as he erases them, and their numbers are chalked up on the sides of the berths; those above number ten lying over until the next night. As the man who erases the marks does not know who made this or that, he cannot show any partiality.

The round robin is sometimes put to other use when the crew of a vessel at sea wish to present a grievance in the form of a petition to the captain. Their complaint is made out in writing, and the signature put in the form of a round robin, which prevents the writer of the document from being singled out and treated, as a ring-leader, with undue severity. A famous case in example of similar use of the round robin in the army within recent times was the "Roosevelt Round Robin" during the Spanish war.

Where the custom originated no one knows.

Spain is Buying Planos.

The American government is buying mules and blankets in Spain and paying for them with planos made in the United States, according to George W. Pound, manager of the National Piano Manufacturers' association, in calling attention to one of the striking developments at the present time in this country's export trade.

"As is the case with neutrals generally," Mr. Pound said, "much of Spain's population is produced largely by the war, and the demand for pianos has persisted in spite of the fact that the prices of all musical instruments in Spain have doubled and trebled since the war began."

Mr. Pound said that the American manufacturers were thereby offered an unusual opportunity to help the government pay the war bills as well as to meet the foreign demand for our goods. In this connection, Mr. Pound said, piano manufacturers can only export their pianos through government license.

THE WAR CORNER

Letters From Manchester
Men on the Land and Sea

THE EVENING HERALD, eager to gather every bit of news of our soldier boys, wherever they may be, invites its readers to contribute personals, portions of letters, and any information about them they may possess. Such portions of letters as are personal or which may give information to the enemy, will, of course, not be published.

At the last meeting of the Ulster Club, held at Orange Hall, the following letter was read by the secretary, Mrs. Nellie Knox. The club also voted to send $50 to the Prisoners of War fund.

The Rectory, Portadown, County Armaugh, Ireland, July.

Dear Mrs. Knox:—

Many, many thanks for your letter and liberal check for £5 enclosed, which I duly received. I hope you will not think I have done wrong, in that I have given this money to the Prisoners of War fund to send them food. My reasons for doing so is that this is by far the most needed Ulster fund to help now. We had hardly an Ulster man a prisoner until this year. In July '16 in the Ulster Division's great charge, they had made up their minds that there would be no surrender and every man fought it out till he died. We had not a single Portadown man taken prisoner, while over 300 were killed or wounded in that historic charge.

This year, however, the Ulster division was right in the center of the first great German attack at Cambrai, where there were ten to one, and some 2,000 of our Ulster men were taken prisoners. They would starve in German prison camps unless we sent them food, and what sort of Ulster men and women would we be, if we let one of our men go hungry while we have plenty?

It cost £3 a month to feed our men, and the parcels reach them all right through the Red Cross. We are all doing our dead level best to help this fund now and raised about £350 last month in Portadown, and every church is joining in with the monthly collections.

We all feel that this is the Ulster Fund that needs our help most of all now, so I would like you to mention this to your club and get their help. To my great pleasure I have also got a donation from Washington L. O. L. No. 117 and will write them when I get their receipt.

With best of good wishes to you and your club, I remain

Yours ever faithfully,
L. M. Moeran. (Canon)

Then the Fight Started.

Three men emerged from a Sixth avenue wet goods establishment last night. They were apparently the best of friends. One said: "Well, Doyle, I'm glad we are all Irish. But let me tell you, the best men come from Limerick." Doyle said he didn't know about that. "I'm from Kerry." And immediately a fight started. The third man declared he was from Kilkenny. "And no Kilkenny man stood by when there was any fighting to be done, begorra." And when the three were pulled apart by three cops they were a sight to behold. It was hard to tell from the appearance of the three which county in Ireland produced the best men.—New York Times.

MRS. MCCARTHY'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. John McCarthy was largely attended at 9 o'clock from St. Bridget's Church. The bearers were William Damery, William Claffey, John Devaney, Fred Quebec, of Hartford and John Gill and Joseph Chantier of this town. Mrs. McCarthy was a member of the Maccaees and that order marched to her home in a body and also went to the cemetery in a body. St. Joseph's aid of St. Bridget's church also marched in a body. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. The church was crowded with friends and relatives which showed how highly esteemed Mrs. McCarthy was. The burial was in St. Bridget's cemetery.

BENNIE'S MARRIED.

Don't Know Wife's Last Name But What's That Between Friends?

Bennie Haskell could not remain a widower for over two weeks. He went to New York, "looked 'em over," didn't find any to his liking and came back to Manchester. He met Lena on the street day before yesterday, liked her looks right off the bat and asked her to marry him. She said "Sure" with a twinkle in her eye and now Bennie is a married man again.

"What's her name?" he was asked.
"Lena."
"Lena what?"
"Oh," said Bennie, "I don't know."

It's a fact. Manchester's junk dealer is married again and he does not know his wife's last name. He actually went to New York to get another wife to replace the one who died a short while ago and found that there were none in the great metropolis to equal the girls right here in Manchester.

ITALIAN MOTHER'S MEETING.

Another meeting for Italian mothers of young children will be held at the Health Center on Main street, at the Open Air School, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Miss Buckley will again give some kind of demonstration, and will gladly consult with the mothers about their children and answer any questions about the care of the babies. A doctor will make a regular call at four o'clock, and give professional advice in cases where needed.

Our fruit sundaes with marshmallow are very popular. Knofia Brothers.—Adv.
