London, Sept. 4.—Stories of fiendish atrocities by a band of Finnish rebels are told in the London Sketch by an Englishman who has just returned from Finland. "During March and April there were about 12,000 rebels at Tammerfors who were determined to kill every man, woman and child above eight years of age who did not belong to or join their creed," he said. "A farmer's whole family was nailed by hands and tongues to a table and left there until they died. A clergyman had his eyes gouged out and was then crucified to the wall of his church and the bible nailed to his chest. "I was several times arrested and prodded with bayonets by these fanatics. The government forces finally succeeded in seizing them and afterwards killed the fiends."

"Then you are satisfied with their performance?" asked the correspondent. "Yes, more than satisfied," emphatically replied the French General. "The troops displayed the same qualities of valor that the first and second divisions evinced when they fought as a part of my army on July 15th."

Talcottville

The local Drum Corps attended the thirty-third annual convention of the Connecticut Fifers and Drummers association held in Meriden last Saturday. The boys went after the prizes and they received what they were after, both for Corps work and for individual work.

There were twenty-eight Corps at the convention, the best in the state, and three out of the state. The convention opened at 10 o'clock Saturday and Mayor King gave the address of welcome to the Corps gathered in the square. Following his address a parade was held through the main streets of the city. The local Corps was about in the center of the line.

The local boys received a large, double handed silver cup for best appearance in the state. It is a beautiful cup and adds greatly to their already large collection. Samuel Rankin won a neat silver cup for second best bass drumming.

Although the war has depleted the ranks of all the organizations, it has been especially hard for the local Corps because they have lost 14 of their best men and cannot get men to take their places. At the convention a fine new service flag, the gift of John G. Talcott, was carried at the head of the Corps.

The local organization is to be congratulated for its successful work and splendid appearance. It certainly has achieved much in four years and has to show for its success, nine beautiful cups and several individual awards.

Albert Beebe, who is being trained as a mechanic at Newtonville, Mass., was home for the week end.

Winfred Kingsley of West Wickford, R. I., spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thorp.

James McNally left for Camp Devens with the draft quota today. William John Douglas and Albert Ward of this place and Frank Krupp of Burnside, Andrew Ferguson and Ernest Keeney of Manchester and Louis Langham of East Hartford spent the week end on a fishing trip.

Fred Thorp, Joseph Douglas, caught a fine three pound bass and Andrew Ferguson caught a still larger one weighing three and three-quarters pounds.

Preston Barnes of Paterson, N. J., is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Alec McKenna.

Miss Alice Talcott has been spending the week with her cousin in Montclair, N. J.

The Bible class and the Sunday evening services have been resumed in the local church.

Corporal Thomas McNally is home for the remainder of the week from his camp near Tobyhanna, Pa. He is glad to be home at this time as his brother leaves for camp Wednesday.

Mrs. Wilbur Smith and son are spending the week in Columbia.

John Lasky was arrested Monday evening by Constable Olin Beebe for driving a machine while under the influence of liquor. Dr. Bean of Rockville came upon the truck, which was veering from one side of the road to the other and stopped it opposite the home of William Templeton. He got Constable Beebe and the machine was driven to Rockville by Alfred Pitkin. One of the prisoners escaped at Windsor avenue but the other two were lodged in jail.

The driver was fined $7 and $50 for driving while intoxicated and costs of $13.90, amounting to $70.90, and his license was taken away from him.

Frank Smith is confined to his home by a slight illness.

A number of young people hiked to Manchester and back last evening and then had a frankfort roast in the old baseball field.

REAL STARS IN REEL PLAYS AT THE MOVIE THEATERS

Park Theater

Displayed before an audience that filled the Popular Playhouse, Elsie Ferguson's latest Artcraft picture, "The Lie," was presented last evening. The picture proved itself to be one of the best in which this popular cinema star ever has been seen in this city, and manifested its power and heart appeal instantly, so that it was most cordially received.

The story of "The Lie" is one that finds a ready echo in the hearts of most audiences, because it is filled with those human touches that appeal invincibly to the finer emotions. To make a supreme sacrifice to save the honor of another, is a trait as ennobling as it is rare in this practical selfish age, but when it is rewarded with ingratitude as in the case of "The Lie," its rarity is not to be wondered at.

Elsie Ferguson, who made her reputation here in "Barbary Sheep" which made her reputation here. She has a host of friends in Manchester; in fact, she is the only movie star that can be depended upon to bring out the crowds. Since her picture was made by the Artcraft Company there is little need to state that it was one of the best.

Tonight the picture will be shown again and another large attendance is expected.

It might be well to tell in advance of the great addition to the usual big Saturday bill which will be presented this Saturday at the Park. It will be a big Universal serial called, "The Lion's Claw," featuring Marie Walcamp. It is in 18 episodes and uses all the wild animals that you ever heard about, elephants, tigers, lions, and leopards. The scenes were taken in South America and the story tells of savages who steal a beautiful white girl and make her their queen. It is filled with thrills and wherever shown has "packed 'em in" for the 18 weeks. Be sure to see the opening chapters and you will have to see the remainder of the story.

Circle Theater

Harold Lockwood will be seen at the Circle this evening in a Metro special production "Lead Me Your Name." In pursuance of Mr. Lockwood's policy of choosing a new leading woman for each and every one of his pictures, he has selected Eileen Percy, formerly leading woman with Douglas Fairbanks to support him in this, his latest contribution to the screen.

"Lead Me Your Name" is a farce comedy and the story begins when the Earl of Gilgill is advised of the coming from Europe of his domineering wife, Sophronia, and to escape her he arranges to trade identities with his double, Warren Ellis, a second story man. The complications start with the arrival of Sophronia and are further developed when the Earl and his double meet the same girl. As the Earl is married and Ellis is single, the manner of each towards the girl is widely contrasted and general confusion results. The inevitable happy ending must come, of course, but you must see the plot worked out on the screen at the Circle this evening.

Other reels on the same program include a two reel Mutual special and a first run General comedy.

Tomorrow comes the picture of pictures, Lina Cavalieri, the famous international stage star and beauty, will be seen in her first screen production, "The Eternal Temptress." The picture has been released by Paramount and this should be sufficient guarantee of its merits. You must see this famous beauty, the rage of all Capital cities. A star whose talents demand admission prices ranging from five to fifty dollars. Her glorious beauty, her powerful dramatic power, and her gripping personality will enthrall you in this tremendous drama.

REVENUE BILL PROGRESSES.

Washington, Sept. 4.—The House hopes to get the revenue bill out of its way by the end of next week.

The slogan of "stand by the President," with a platform based upon the war achievements of a Democratic administration and a Democratic Congress, which Representative Ferris, of Oklahoma, chairman of the Democratic Congressional committee, dwelt upon in the House recently, will be taken up by the Democratic Congressmen in their respective districts, while the Senate is sawing away upon the revenue bill reported yesterday by the House ways and means committee.

SAYS WHOLE GERMAN FRONT IS ABOUT TO CRUMBLE.

Paris, Sept. 4.—That the entire German northern front as far as the Somme river, is about to crumble, is the prediction made by Henry Bidou, the well known French military commentator in his paper today.

WAR CORNER

Several letters have been received from Corporal Louis Mann, one time telegraph editor of the Evening Herald, who is now in France.

Mann was sent to Camp Devens just about a year ago and he has been in France about a month. He writes that he went over on the Justicia which was sunk by U-boats on its return trip.

It appears from the letters that Mann is attending an officers' training camp behind the lines, studying for a commission. Extracts from his letters follow:

"I can hear the big guns boom on the front so you see that I am getting some thrills. Aeroplanes fly over the camp and once we were told to scatter when a Hun appeared on the scene. Thus far I have witnessed U-boat and aerial attack and I must yet come into contact with gas in the infantry attack.

"From the talk here it looks as if Germany had reached her maximum as a fighting machine and from now on it is merely a question of time until the machine collapses. The climax of the war is near.

"If you think life in the U. S. reflects war time conditions, you should ride through England and France. One does not realize the sacrifices these people are making until he sees it. Words do not impress one with its magnitude.

"A fellow next me just said that the next war he goes into must be a union war—quit at 5 p. m. and none of this getting up at all hours of the night to dodge bombs.

—Louis Mann."

WAR WILL BE OVER THIS YEAR, SAYS LOCAL THEATRICAL MAN.

John F. Sullivan, Who Visited Present Battlefields in 1910, Follows the War News Closely.

Probably the most interested person in war news in Manchester is John F. Sullivan, the local theatrical magnate. At his home he has a large war map and countless papers which he looks over from day to day as he looks over the war maps published by the metropolitan papers. He reads every scrap of war news and knows the leading military experts as well as the leading stars and his own views on the high with messages containing his views of the war.

The war news is especially interesting to Mr. Sullivan because in 1910 he traveled over every inch of the country in France and Belgium where the armies are now fighting. He spent nearly a year in both countries taking short trips to all of the towns and cities and when a village is mentioned in the newspapers it means more to him than the average reader as he can see in his mind's eye just where the armies are battling.

"The war will be over before Jan. 1," said Mr. Sullivan last evening. "I am certain of this. I have studied the war all by myself for over four years and knowing the country, I have been predicting to a circle of friends retreats and advances which have actually come to pass.

"I predict that the Allies cannot reach Berlin because of the fortified positions which the Germans have made about every mile in their own country as I saw them before the war. But the Kaiser's armies will be so badly trounced before Christmas that an armistice will be declared before the Rhine is reached and a month afterwards, war will be over."

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE STILL SEES NO DEFEAT

Expects War to End When Allies Perceive They Will Lose More Than They Will Gain.

Amsterdam, Sept. 4.—"Germany is fighting an elastic defense battle and has no intention of being annihilated by the enemy," the German Crown Prince is quoted as saying in an interview published in the Tageblatt. "We speak openly of victory." The Crown Prince continues, "and our purpose is to hold our own and not permit ourselves to be vanquished by the enemy while fighting for our existence."

Although the Crown Prince admits that American is sending much material to the aid of the Allies, he claims that the Americans do not know what they are fighting for.

"We expect the conflict to terminate when the enemy perceives that he cannot win as much as he is bound to lose." The Crown Prince adds: "Doubtless the enemy assaults will continue for some time until the realization dawns upon him."

The Trade School - - Its Advantages

A Series of Articles Especially Written by Director James C. Tucker

"TUNING UP" THE POWER PLANT

ELECTRICAL DEPT.

Electrical phenomena has ever proven a source of great fascination to the youthful mind. The dry cell battery has made it possible for nearly every boy to perform startling little experiments and now and then an ambitious youngster has accumulated an amazing collection of electrical toys and amateur outfits which have served to feed the curious mind during its early development.

But there comes a time when if he makes a business of electrical work he must know the bigger possibilities of electrical power, and understand thoroughly the laws which govern it. This knowledge can be obtained only by careful study of electrical theory, and extensive practice and experience in the operation, maintenance and testing of real electrical machinery. Such is the work carried on in the electrical department at the South Manchester State Trade School.

The Electrical Course is particularly attractive to boys of high school grade or equivalent, and includes instruction and practice in the following:

Testing and Maintenance of Direct and Alternating Current Motors and Generators, Meters and Instruments, and of Transformers and Storage Batteries.

Operation, care and testing of gas engines, including power consumption and efficiency tests. Interior wiring in houses, stores and factories.

Installation, care and operation of electrical motors, generators, and switchboards.

Study of distribution systems. Locating and repairing defects in electrical equipment.

Theory and mathematics of Direct and Alternating Current electricity. The department is provided with complete power equipment, electrical machinery and auxiliary apparatus.

In addition to their regular shop practice, the boys of this department have made during the past year, seven electric light wiring installations, three of these including fixtures. They have built and installed a two panel switchboard and built several shop accessories in the department. They have recently installed a complete power distribution system for the new machine shop extension, including an additional panel to the distribution switchboard. Various alterations for the trade shops and many small repair jobs have been attended to by these young electricians. It is a frequent occurrence for somebody to telephone in for one of the boys to come to the house on some trouble job.

All this has furnished a most practical experience, which, coupled with methodical experiments, tests and research with electrical machinery, and a thorough study of the theory, should develop careful and intelligent electricians, thus filling a most pressing need of today.

A. A. Warren, head instructor of the electrical department, spent several years conducting electrical tests and developing electrical machinery with the General Electrical Company at Lynn, Mass. He is thoroughly equipped to handle this work and is intensely interested in the welfare of every boy in the department as well as every boy in the community.

GERMANY'S MORALE.

"Germany maintains her fighting spirit in the army and among the people through an extensive propaganda system, divided into seven departments: Press; lectures; vacations; correspondence; holiday and other celebrations; vices; religion."—An American army officer's official report.

This indictment, quoted by Carl Ackerman, former foreign correspondent of the United Press, is the most crushing we have seen published. How does Germany manipulate these agencies? In the usual way; by means of thorough-going organization.

It long has been known how she manipulated the press, but the way in which she has manipulated the other means is not so generally understood. She has paid lecturers, who deliver set speeches, edited by the government. She permits furloughs only to the absolutely loyal. She delivers mail en masse to her soldiers, if possible, just before an attack is contemplated. Celebrations she turns to her own account. Her pulpit is poisoned and her preachers gaged. "For those (soldiers) whose morals have broken down, organized houses are maintained in all large occupied cities under the protection of the army."

Here are some samples of civil morale: "In a single Berlin court 700 divorces announced in four months"; "an average of three hundred robberies in Berlin alone every twenty-four hours"; "an increase in suicides and murders"; "graft and thievery in the army and war industry."

48 IN THE SERVICE.

The service at the Swedish Lutheran Church next Sunday afternoon, in which a service flag with 48 stars will be dedicated, will have several unique features, not the least of which is the fact that the pastor's own son is one of two members who have made the supreme sacrifice.

Forty-eight in the service! That is a record which many a larger congregation might be proud to memorialize.

It will be a community service next Sunday and the local members of the State Guard, formerly the Home Guards, will attend in a body. It is only fitting and proper that the service should take a scope far broader than denominational lines prescribe and that the town's soldiers-to-be should dignify it. Manchester and the Guards are honoring themselves in honoring these 48 noble fellows who are going their bit.

MEXICO'S HYMN OF HATE.

President Carranza's address to the Mexican Congress reveals the same spite and suspicion as regards the United States that have characterized his utterances since he first gained notice as a public character. If, as he says, he has "met various critical situations with complete regard to national honor," it is to be regretted that honor as understood south of the Rio Grande is under no obligation to recognize civility and is unable to respond to disinterested friendship.

It is not solely because this attitude is false and needlessly hostile and insulting to the United States that it is subject to criticism. Mexico itself is the chief sufferer as the result of it. We can get along very well even if the Mexicans remain surly, but under such teachings as those of Gen. Carranza his people are losing capital, credit and commercial opportunities, and denying themselves the social, moral and industrial assistance which they need above all things to stabilize their Government and give them decent standing among nations.

Until Mexico shall be ruled by something else than a grudge, it must continue to be a bad neighbor. President Carranza appears to be hopeless, but there must be wiser and better men among his associates who know the truth and some day will be in a position to profit by it.—The World.

The Hartford Times, which we have read with interest for many years and which we shall continue to read so long as our eyes hold out, misses the point of the Herald's criticism when it justifies its use of miscellaneous "fillers" by citing instances in which the Herald has done that very thing. The point is that the Times, when obliged by the shortage of paper to reduce the size of its issue did it by reducing the size of its type to a degree which makes it hard to read instead of cutting out non-essential "fillers." The Herald on the other hand has reduced its size to the minimum with-out diminishing the legibility of its type. Unfortunately the demands upon our advertising space at the dulllest period of the year are not so extensive as to make it possible for us to do away with the space fillers on certain days. But if it came to a question of using six-point type they would be banished in short order.

A straw vote among 2,100 members of 33 State legislatures indicates that 31 of the states in question will ratify the federal constitutional prohibition amendment at the first opportunity. Better earlier than later.

"Bringing home the bacon" has a significance now that it has not possessed in years. The Center Flute Band brought home the bacon from Meriden in a way which we should like to see all of their fellow bands emulate.

FALL OF CAMBRAI AND DOUAI NEAR

General staff displayed exceptional ability in planning the operations which went through according to program."

When questioned about the German claim that some of the French tanks were disabled by enemy fire General Mangin said "certainly some of the tanks were hit, but that was to be expected, and I am more than satisfied with the performances of the tanks. They accomplished much more than was expected."

When questioned about the German claim that some of the French tanks were disabled by enemy fire General Mangin said "certainly some of the tanks were hit, but that was to be expected, and I am more than satisfied with the performances of the tanks. They accomplished much more than was expected."

Points to Map. Then General Mangin pointed to a map of his section of the battle front, showing every opposing enemy division.

"You see what the enemy thinks of the battle for the Juvigny plateau by the fact that he is putting his elite troops here and reinforcing them with his best divisions, the First Guards, Fourth Guards, Chasseurs, Jagers, dismounted guards and cavalry, as well as his best line divisions. The enemy regarded Juvigny as the 'cornerstone of the western front defense line, and it was the American troops that captured the place by storm. Yes, the Americans are wonderful attacking troops."

At the close of the interview the correspondent told General Mangin of remarks made by officers and men of the American unit, indicating they were proud to be a part of his army. "I am proud to have them in my army," the General replied with earnest enthusiasm.

NEW BOCHE GASES WILL CAUSE BLINDNESS.

Paris, Sept. 4.—Two new kinds of gases which will immediately cause blindness of victims, are now being planned by the Boches, according to information received here today. The new gases bring "tears" and affect sight.

It is understood that the Huns plan to launch the new gases on the western and Italian fronts.

Naturally the Allies are preparing counter measures with which to combat the new war horror of the Huns.

HOOVER SEES STATE FOOD HEADS.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Drafting a new program for national conservation of wheat and cereals, meat, sugar, flour, mill feeds and cotton seed products. Food Administrator Herbert C. Hoover and administrators and department executives from every state in the union were in conference here this afternoon.

Mr. Hoover outlined the results he had accomplished in Europe and further practices to be pursued.

WOULD LINK EAST AND WEST

Proposal to Make the American Expeditionary Force in China Practically a Student Army.

Under the agreement entered into between the powers and China following the Boxer uprising in 1900, the United States government was permitted to keep an expeditionary force of about 2,000 men in China, says Millard's Review. This force is stationed at Tientsin and Peking, about 1,500 men being stationed at the former place and the rest stationed as a legation guard in Peking. It has now been proposed to the American government at Washington that the regular army troops stationed at Tientsin be recalled to America for service in France and their places taken by a contingent of the same number of men who are now in training in America at the various cantonments under the provisions of the selective draft. The idea originated with Maj. Arthur Bassett, judge advocate of the army contingent at Tientsin, and formerly United States district attorney of China. Under the plan suggested by Major Bassett the contingent of regular army troops now in China should be returned to America and sent to France, as the men desire, and in their place the United States government should send out 1,500 men specially selected from the standpoint of education and training, who would be available upon their retirement from service in China to engage in trade or other activities in China and the far East. Major Bassett would select the new men for service in China largely from the great group of college graduates and students who have been drafted for service in France. He would bring these men to China and, in addition to their regular army drill, he would have them instructed in the Chinese language and in the customs, history and traditions of the country; and at stated intervals he would have them make trips into all parts of China for study and investigation. In short, these 1,500 men would receive a three years' college course on China, so that upon their retirement from the service they would be at liberty to engage in trade, missionary, educational or any other activity they desired in the far East, or if they desired to return home they would possess information regarding China that would be of the highest value to China. The plan has been approved by the American chamber of commerce and other organizations in China and has been commended to the state and war departments at Washington. It is also certain that this plan of a citizens' student army in China would be welcomed by China, for it would be of the greatest possible assistance in bringing about a better understanding and mutual interest between East and West, something very necessary if the future peace of the world is to be maintained.

CHINAMEN "FEED THE DEAD"

Religious Ceremony Faithfully Observed by Celestials, Wherever They May Be Living.

Chinamen still observe the religious ceremony of "feeding the dead." The food is intended as a propitiatory offering to the Chinese evil spirit. The offerings vary according to the habits and tastes of the occupants of the graves.

"At the grave of one," says an eye-witness of a feast, "his friend, after digging holes in the hard ground with his knife, stuck up two candles, and laid out several sets of chop-sticks and as many small cups, which he filled with wine; then he placed on the grave some bowls of rice, a package of cigarettes, and a small vessel of opium. Afterward he made several bows and genuflections, as if inviting his dead friend or the other party to set out."

"A number of fires were burning in the vicinity, and on these were placed pieces of paper with squares of imitation gold leaf pasted on them representing gold coin; other squares with silver foil represented silver coin; and smaller squares, punched full of holes, represented the brass 'cash,' which has a hole in the center. Some burned small pieces of paper, and some burned incense. The new but more common friends at a small cost. After the provisions had been displayed long enough to give the spirit enough to satisfy himself, they were carefully brought back to town."

Paper Scarce in Wartime.

During the War of the Revolution persons engaged in the manufacture of paper were exempted from conscription. As the war advanced the supply of paper for cartridges and wadding ran so low that the government advertised for it, and finally ordered the public to produce all they had, even sending files of soldiers to search for the indispensable article where there was any likelihood of finding it. In the garret of a house where Benjamin Franklin once had his printing office were found 2,500 copies of a sermon by a Philadelphia divine on "Defensive War." These were seized and used to make cartridges for the battle of Monmouth. The results of the battle showed conclusively that it was "a most striking discourse." During the Civil war common news paper sold for 25 cents per pound, and ten years later it sold for 10 cents per pound.

Taught That All Was Dream.

As far back as the fourth and third centuries B. C. Chuang Tzu, the brilliant Chinese mystic, taught that this life is really a dream. He said: "Those who dream of a banquet, awake to lamentation and sorrow. Those who dream of lamentation and sorrow wake to join the hunt. While they dream they do not know that they dream. Some even interpret the dream they are dreaming; and only when they wake do they know it was a dream. By-and-by comes the great awakening, and then we find that this life is really a great dream."

"Poets think they are awake now, and flatter themselves they know if they are really princes, or peasants, or Confucius and you are both dreamers; and I, who say you are dreamers, I am but a dream myself."

War at Close Range.

Margaret Deland, the New England novelist, writes from Paris: "Over in America we thought we knew something about the war and the conditions in France, but when you get here the difference is as the difference between studying the laws of electricity and being struck by lightning. I have been struck by lightning. The only way in which I can keep sane and steady is to look very, very closely at my own immediate little trivial, foolish job—writing or working in the canteen—for if I dare to lift my eyes to the black horizons, I lose my balance."

Good Suggestion.

Mrs. Bugg—Clarence, through your stupidity we are lost in this strange pantry and we don't know north from south or east from west.

Mr. Bugg—Let's step into this box of pills, dear; it says "Directions Inside."

LIKE SCENE FROM FAIRYLAND

Correspondent's Graphic Portraiture of Children Leaving Petrograd Cathedral After Services.

I was just crossing the snowy square in front of St. Isaac's, returning from the last mass before the midnight Easter service, when suddenly—were the gates of Fairyland flung open? Down the aisle of columns, out from among the dusky pillars of the great cathedral, in twos and threes—or sometimes alone, a voluminous shawled and aproned nyanya in the background—came figures—gravelly intent little figures, each carefully shielding his candle with tiny, cupped hands or twists of white paper, the yellow candle light flaring up into faces as cherubic as Reynolds' "Age of Innocence," but weighted with all the sweet solemnity of Miltonic angels; children bearing home sacred candles lighted at the altar of their own Lares and Penates. Out from among the inscrutable shadows and down the steps of the vast cathedral they flickered and floated in twos and threes; and still farther down the canyons of the dark streets, the spirit lights wavering and gleaming like myriad will-o'-the-wisps, phantom ships floating on a phantom tide. It reminded me of nothing so much as of that night of ancestor worship in the East, when lotus lanterns burning for the dead are set afloat on river and bay and far out to sea.—Olive Glibbreth in Harper's Magazine.

GIVEN A SURPRISE.

Instructor of Gymnastic Club Going Off to Camp.

Walter Olson, organizer and leader of the Swedish Gymnastic club, was given a surprise party at his home on Maple street last evening as a farewell previous to his departure for Camp Upton Friday. A pleasant time was spent with singing, and games and during the evening a wrist watch was given Mr. Olson. Light refreshments were served. Olson is first alternate for the quota of selectives to leave for Camp Upton Friday, but one of the regular selectives is sick and he may have to go in the other man's place.

About a week ago, the members of the boys' class of the Swedish Gymnastic club gave their leader a purse of $25 in gold. There are now only four of the boys left, all the other members of the club having enlisted or been taken in the draft. At one time, there were 45 members.

FLUTE BAND'S RECORD.

MEMORY THAT WILL LAST

French Gratitude to America is Deeply Engraved on the Hearts of Her People.

Kathleen Norris, writing in the Woman's Home Companion, gives an imaginary conversation with a young French girl describing the coming of the American soldiers to France as she is supposed to remember it: "And men—to stand beside our men—from America! I remember standing at the chateau gateway on a bright November afternoon and seeing them come up the road. Soldiers! We were used to soldiers! But these were different. Grandmère was with me, we had been here all the time. "They came along, in the streaming afternoon sunlight, and they smiled and waved at me. "They are the Americans!" grandmère said, and she began to cry softly. "God bless them, over and over. And that night, as you know, we had their officers at the chateau, and one of them told me he also had a daughter, not much younger than I, and that her name was Virginia."

"I don't know why—for, God knows, there were hard times, and dark times, ahead. But from that moment I felt—hope. Child that I was, I seemed to see, behind those marching men, the big and generous nation that was dedicating itself to their service, the women everywhere, with their sewing and cooking, saving and planning, their letters and their prayers—ab one in their work for an ideal beside which the comfort and the ease of this generation was as nothing!"

STRONG TONE TO MARKET AT THE OPENING TODAY

But After a Few Sales a Decline of One Point Was Reported on All Active Issues.

New York, Sept. 4.—There was a strong tone to the stock market at the opening today but after the initial sales the market showed a reactionary tendency and decline of around one point were reported in nearly all the active issues.

An exception to the general list was Texas Oil, which moved up two points to 159. United States Steel Common dropped from 115 1/2 to 115 1-8 and Baldwin Locomotive fell from 94 7-8 to 94 1-4. The selling of these issues was attributed to the tax measure presented to Congress yesterday. A few specialties were in demand, Studebaker moving up 1 1-4 to 44 3-4 and American Hide and Leather common rose 3-4 to 21 7-8. Some of the railroad stocks were in demand at the opening but soon reacted with the general list. Union Pacific after advancing 5-8 to 128 1-8, reacted to 127 3-4 and Southern Railway made a gain of 1 1/2 from which it yielded to 27 7-8.

For the first time since the upward movement started, Steel Common reacted more than one point, selling down in the late forenoon to 114 7-8. The oil stocks became active and strong, Texas Company moving up 7-8 to 158 7-8. Mexican Petroleum rallied to 103 5-8 and Sinclair Oil rose one point to 33 1-2. The railroad stocks after making moderate gains lost all these minor steel industrials sold off about one point. During the late forenoon the tone was heavy with a number of important issues in supply from strong sources.

New York, Sept. 4.—Clearing house statement: Exchanges, $877,345,767; balances, $85,023,337.

SAVE PEACH STONES.

With the establishment of a community peach basket at the Recreation Center the peach stone saving idea which has recently been suggested by the Food Administrator of Massachusetts is started in town. Without a doubt community peach baskets will be placed in many conspicuous positions around town before long.

The idea is to collect peach stones. It is claimed that 100 peach stones saved will save a soldier's life. Seems queer doesn't it? But here is how it is accomplished.

A peach stone contains more carbon than any other substance which can be found. From this carbon in the stone a carbonic gas is formed which is used in making gas masks for the soldiers. Although this gas has been manufactured and is being manufactured with chemicals, authorities say that a much better gas can be made through the use of peach stones. Throughout the state of Massachusetts where this idea originated there are community peach baskets. They are placed in big department stores, in Red Cross centers, railroad stations and at all the places where peach stones are liable to be collected, such as parks and restaurants.

The box at the Recreation Center is called the Peoples Peach Basket and already contains a number of stones. Many more will be established and when enough stones have been collected they will be sent where they will be of much value.

LOCAL BASEBALL SEASON TO CLOSE WITH SERIES

Three Games Between Athletics and White Sox and Then Ready For Football.

The baseball season will be practically closed in Manchester when the Athletics finish their series with the White Sox. The first game of a series of three will be played Sunday afternoon on the Adams street grounds. All receipts above expenses will go to the Overseas Smoke Fund. The second game will be played on Mt. Nebo and the third playing field will be decided by a flip of a coin. In the second and third games the receipts will be divided 60 per cent to the winner and 40 per cent to the loser.

The Athletics will use Walter Crockett, Sipples, Howard, Tedford, Kotsch, Wilson, Cole, R. Finnegan, R. Crockett, Dowd and Brennan. The White Sox will present Reid, Platt, Burns, P. Daoust, L. Daoust, Leggett, White, Warren, McAdams, Smith, Buckley and Kornae. The last game the Athletics played was in Jewett City Sunday. They won by the score of 5-4. The game was exciting all the way through but it was a rather poor exhibition of baseball. Sipples allowed but four hits while the Athletics pounded the Jewett City twirler for fourteen hits. The box score follows:

CHARACTER IN LAST WORDS

Final Remarks of Men of Eminence A Key to Thoughts That Dominated Them in Life.

The schoolmaster spoke in old Alexander Adam's last words, "It grows dark, boys; you may go;" the polished man of the world in Chesterfield's "Give Dayrolles a chair;" the philosopher in Hobbes', "I am going to take a great leap into obscurity;" the ascetic in Thoreau's "I leave the world without a regret;" the rebel in Peter Pindar's "Give me back my youth;" the poet in Keats' "I feel the flowers growing over my grave;" the actor in Quin's "I could wish this tragic scene was over, but I hope to go through it with becoming dignity;" the man of action in Cecil Rhodes' "So little done, so much to do;" the hero in Lawrence's "Don't give up the ship!" the wit in Palmerston's "Die, my dear doctor! that's the last thing I shall do;" the humorist in Doctor Samuel Garth's appeal to his fellow-physicians, "Dear gentlemen, let me die a natural death;" the believer in Sir Henry Havelock's (it is doubtful that Addison said it first) "Come, my son, and see how a Christian can die;" the skeptic in Thomas Paine's "I have no wish to believe on that subject;" the victorious warrior in Wolfe's "God be praised! I die happy;" the dictator in Napoleon's "Tete d'armee;" the anxious patriot in Pitt's "My country! how I love my country!" the stoic in Harriet Martineau's "I see no reason why the existence of Harriet Martineau should be prolonged;" the sophisticated villain in Titus Oates' "It is all the same in the end;" the plutocrat in Lorenzo de' Medici's "Not that I cannot part with that;" the benevolent man in Walter Scott's "God bless you all!" the martyr in Sir Henry Vane's "Ten thousand deaths for me ere I will stain the purity of my conscience."

INDIAN WORKED WITH BRAIN

Buck's Ingenious Explanation for Not Aiding Squaw to Carry Their Domestic Burden.

A group of people who were touring Alaska one summer were disgusted at the laziness of the buck Indians they saw in the villages and along the trail. One day when they were taking a side trip they came upon a couple of Indians who were evidently packing into the mountains to stay a while. The squaw was staggering under a tremendous burden. She lugged all of the bedding and provisions, and a papoose for good measure. The old buck was slumping along lazily ahead of her, smoking his pipe and looking down at the trail.

One member of the tourist party halted the Indians and when they stopped he inquired, somewhat out of patience: "See here, buck, how comes it that Nikawana is carrying all of the baggage and you are slouching along, enjoying your pipe? Why don't you take at least half of the load off your squaw, you big lazy Indian?" The buck stood silent as a sphinx for a few moments, then grunted to himself and, pointing his index finger to his forehead, he exclaimed in deep, guttural tones: "Eh, me all time think!"

Hash. War has not changed the American darter. A dusky cook of an American regiment now in France was being quizzed by an officer about the cleanliness of that free-for-all army product known as hash. "How do you make your hash?" dutifully inquired the officer. "We don't make it, boss," was the answer. "It just accumulates."

One of the most necessary articles of equipment in the modern household is the electric iron. There's a sturdy servent under the glittering coat of an electric iron, ready to turn the drudgery of your ironing day into comfort, smoothing out the wrinkles of one of the hardest tasks of the housewife. "The Way to Cool, Comfortable and Convenient Ironing—is the Electric Way."

A guaranteed iron for $4.35.

CHILDREN'S COATS FOR FALL AND WINTER

The situation in the woolen markets today is acute. The government has requisitioned a large part of the supply of wool as well as the services of the manufacturers, and there promises to be a shortage of garment materials later in the season.

However, we have received a part of our orders on Children's Coats and they are ready for prudent early buyers.

Won't you come in and look them over?

We honestly believe they will outwear two pairs, and undoubtedly more of the ordinary shoes and prove a big money saver.

A. L. BROWN & CO.

DEPOT SQUARE.

A SELF MADE WORKING MAN
Robert J. Smith, the candidate for representative on the republican ticket in this town, is a self made man. This term is often used but here is one time that it is literally true.

"Bob's" popularity in Manchester, which will carry him to victory at the primaries, is based on his game fight to make a success in this world under a heavy handicap. His struggles were crowned with success and the sheer will power to succeed combined with the brains to know how which put him atop his profession here, is material with which to build a mighty fine representative, his friends declare.

SINGLE TAX CLUB.

Annual Meeting to be Held at Recreation Building Tomorrow Evening.

The annual meeting of the Manchester Single Tax Club will be held tomorrow evening at the Recreation building. Officers for the year will be chosen and other important matters will be discussed. It is the intention of the officers to get every member out to the meeting.

It is the plan of the local club to again conduct the Open Forum which was so popular last winter. Speakers will be procured to speak on every reform question now being discussed. Heckling will be encouraged and in that way it is believed that the people will be educated to a better understanding of governments.

The local club members are interested in the Californian elections when Single Tax will come up this fall. There are 267,000 Single Taxers in California alone according to the last election returns and if the Single Taxers win it will mean a great victory. Then the theory will have its first big practical workout in the U. S.

A CORRECTION.

Yesterday's Herald stated that the Center Flute Band carried away all first prizes in the field day exercises of the Connecticut Fifers' and Drummers' Association. It is true that the band did carry away all prizes in its class. They contested in the exercises against two other flute bands while the Talcottville Fife and Drum corps contested against twelve corps in the fife and drum class. The Talcottville corps carried away all the first prizes in its class and the local band did the same in its particular class.

The War Bureau of Manchester has called a meeting of families and friends of Manchester men who are now in service in France, this evening at eight o'clock in the auditorium of the Recreation Center. The meeting is for the purpose of planning the sending of Christmas presents to the men in France. The only possible method of sending presents this year will be through the War Bureau arranging for their purchase in Paris, and forwarding them through Dr. Hesselgrave.

This will be the only meeting held, so it is important that some member of each family be present and ready to sign an order for the gifts to be sent.

TO DEDICATE SERVICE FLAG WITH 48 STARS

Swedish Lutheran Church to Hold Exercises on Sunday Afternoon—Two Golden Stars.

A patriotic service in connection with the raising of a service flag will be held at the Swedish Lutheran church on Church street at three o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 8. If the weather permits, the service will be held in front of the old and new churches, but if it should rain, the service will be held inside the church.

The Children's and Junior choruses of the church will lead in the singing of patriotic songs. Rev. O. Lundgren of Meriden will give an address on "The Service Flag." Professor S. G. Youngert of the theological seminary at Rock Island, Ill., will give the memorial address for the two young men, Ernest G. Anderson and Adolph Cornell, who have made the supreme sacrifice for their country on the battle field in France and Rev. Eric I. Lindh will speak about our duty to our men at the front. A platoon of men from Company F, State Guard, will be in attendance as an honorary guard.

Forty-eight Stars.
There are now forty-eight stars in the service flag of the Swedish Lutheran church and among them are two gold stars for Ernest G. Anderson and Adolph Cornell. The 48 stars on the service flag represent about eight per cent of the communicant members of the church.

As the service Sunday afternoon is not only for the church members, but also has a larger significance as a memorial service for two young soldiers from this community, the church extends a cordial invitation to the selectmen, War Bureau, Council of Defense, Red Cross, pastors, members of the families who have boys in service and all others to attend. The program will be in English.

WON'T SUPPORT WIFE.

Richard Lamprocht of West street told the judge in court this morning that he would go to jail for six months before he would pay his wife five dollars a week toward her support and that of his family. He was arrested upon complaint of his wife.

Lamprocht works in Hartford and earns in the neighborhood of $20 a week. For some time he has been in the habit of paying his wife $3 a week.

Judge Carney thought that $3 a week was little enough for him to pay his family and imposed a sentence of 60 days in jail for non-support but suspended execution of the jail sentence providing, however, that Lamprocht pay this amount to his wife each week. This he refused to do and he was taken to jail.

It is believed that after he has had a few days at Seams street he will do as the court recommended and pay his wife the required amount.

ORGANIZING LEAGUE.

SOLD PRIZE MINORCAS.

Edward M. Zimmerman of Russell street is not showing any of his black Minorcas at the Connecticut fair this year. He went to the fair Labor Day and succeeded in selling a pen of young Minorcas to a New York party for $50. A number of fanciers said he had "cold feet" and that's why he didn't send any birds to Charter Oak so Zimmerman is sending a pen of sixteen birds to the Syracuse State Fair Friday morning. The birds will remain there for a week and Zimmerman expects his birds to clean up all the prizes.
