LOCAL FOOD HEADS CALLED TOGETHER

State Director Scoville Summons Representatives of 168 Towns in State to Meet in Capitol 18th--To Outline Winter Food Program

Hartford, Sept. 10.—Following his return from the Washington conference of the State Food Administrators with Mr. Hoover last week, Connecticut Food Administrator Robert Scoville today called a meeting of all the local food directors and home economics directors in Connecticut. With few exceptions every one of the 168 towns in Connecticut has a local food director and a home economics director. They have been called to confer with Mr. Scoville in the hall of the House of Representatives, at the State Capitol, in this city, at eleven o'clock on the forenoon of Wednesday, September 18.

The winter program of the Food Administration, as outlined at Washington, will be explained to the local food directors, they will be given an opportunity to discuss any questions or problems arising in what questions particularly will be explained by Mr. Scoville.

To Watch Sugar Prices.

Upon receipt of a telegram from Washington today, Mr. Scoville announced that the new prices and profits on sugar would be closely scrutinized by the Food Administration. Beginning Monday sugar refineries were permitted to charge nine cents instead of 7.55 cents per pound for bulk granulated sugar and all this new profit will go to the producer, retail and wholesale profits remaining as before. Retailers who have been complaining of the small profit allowed in spite of the added labor in handling sugar in the small amounts required by the Food Administration's regulations, are to be given relief through a new rule, permitting the sale of one week's supply to a family on the usual basis of two pounds per person per month. This new rule abrogates the former regulations of two-pound sales in cities and five pound sales in the country.

NORSE CONSUL WILL BE OURS AT MOSCOW

Council General Poole Warns State Department of Danger to Americans in Russia.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The State Department today was notified that the Norwegian consul at Moscow has taken over the American consulate there. Consul General Poole under date of August 26, notified the Department that all Americans in territory controlled by the Bolsheviks were "in danger of reprisals" and that his work has been brought to a standstill. He directed his staff and all American civilians to proceed to Stockholm, but remained in Moscow himself to lend his support to his colleagues of the consular corps who were under arrest there.

19 GERMAN PLANES DOWNED BY BRITISH.

London, Sept. 10.—Nineteen German airplanes were shot down by British raiders last week, it was announced today by the Admiralty. Only four British machines are missing. During the week fourteen tons of bombs were dropped on Bruges and Ostend and the motor boat depot at Blankenberghe, (on the North Sea coast north of Bruges.)

U-Boat Reported Sunk East of Sandy Hook by Tanker; Navy Investigates

Washington, Sept. 10.—A report of a battle which lasted nearly an hour and in which a big oil tanker is said to have finally sunk one of the latest type of German submarines reached this city today. According to the report the fight took place some 350 miles east of Sandy Hook. The tanker was attacked by the submarine, but her captain outmaneuvered the underwater boat, forcing her to waste torpedoes. Afterward a battle between the two vessels took place and the captain of the tanker is understood to claim that his gun crews finally succeeded in making a direct hit on the submarine and sunk it. Officials at the Navy Department said they had a report of a fight, but "were endeavoring to get complete verification of the details of the encounter and that until they were received they would have nothing to make public." The identity and nationality of the tanker was withheld until a complete report could be received.

Portland, Augusta, Bangor, Etc., Won by Democrats by Small Margins

MILLIKEN'S PLURALITY

Cut to About 5,000 National Representatives

Augusta, Me., Sept. 10.—Republicans swept the state of Maine in yesterday's election. While his plurality of two years ago was cut in half Governor Milliken was re-elected with a margin of not less than 7,000 votes. It was another election in which Republican rural Maine met and overwhelmed Democratic urban Maine.

Portland, Republican two years ago, by 806 votes is Democratic this year by 585. Augusta, seat of the State government, Republican two years ago by 637, went for Bertrand G. McIntyre, the governor's Democratic opponent by 54. Down the list of Maine's 20 cities, with few exceptions, they lined up yesterday under the banner of Democracy. The Democrats swept Bangor, although they lost in the county of Penobscot.

URGE PRESIDENT TO SETTLE STRIKE

Mr. Wilson Asked to Write Head of Machinists That War Department will be Embarrassed.

Washington, Sept. 10.—President Wilson has been urged to use his influence to have the machinists' strike at Bridgeport, Conn., settled immediately. He has been asked to write a letter to the leader of the machinists, making it plain to him that continuation of the labor troubles will be a serious embarrassment to the War Department. It is believed he will do so shortly. Meanwhile it was learned today that unless the situation clears immediately the War Department may be compelled to commandeer certain of the Bridgeport plants.

BELGIANS BEGIN NEW DRIVE; GAIN MILE NEAR YPRES

The Belgians have captured the village of Pihkelm and advanced to a depth of over a mile in a new drive begun today. Much of the ground held by the Belgians is marsh land and flooded trenches. In this vicinity the Belgians captured a victory since they took over this swampy low ground. One hundred and forty German prisoners were captured.

The Belgian advance was carried out in the zone west of the famous Passchendaele ridge, the most strategic stretch of ground held by the Germans in Belgium and may be the first stroke in a new move to break the German hold on the North Sea coast. The Belgians advanced nearly two miles over a front of between three and four miles.

The thrust also enlarges the Allied hold on the Ypres sector and gives General Foch wider elbow room for striking both north and south of this battle famous city.

FARMERS OPPOSE WATER POWER BILL

Unjust to Soldiers and Sailors to Lease Natural Resources, Says Their Representatives.

Washington, Sept. 10.—"If the water power bill, already passed by the House, goes through, the Senate farmers' national headquarters, representing the bulk of the agriculturalists of the country, will bend every effort to persuade the President to veto the bill. This was indicated in a letter sent to President Wilson today by George P. Hampton, managing director of the organization. "We ask most earnestly," the letter runs, "that if by any chance the water power bill with the re-capture and the long term lease is passed by Congress, you will veto it. We feel it would be unjust to our soldiers and sailors to commit the government in any way to a policy of leasing the natural resources. The pending water power bill will make life harder for every returning soldier."

The bill provides that natural water power sites owned by the government may be leased to private individuals and corporations for development on long time leases.

SENATOR LEWIS SAFE.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Senator Lewis of Illinois, one of the passengers aboard the torpedoed Mount Vernon, "is well and safe," according to a cablegram received at his office today from Admiral Sims.

WORST OF WAR OVER, HE HOPES

Retreat in Face of Last German Offensive Due to Enemy's Superior Numbers—Proud of Army.

London, Sept. 10.—The Allied armies today are everywhere advancing, says Field Marshal Haig, the British commander-in-chief, in a special order of the day, which has just been issued to the British armies. It follows:

"One month has now passed since the British armies, having successfully withstood all attacks by the enemy, once more took the offensive in their turn.

"In that short space of time, by a series of brilliant and skilfully executed actions, our armies repeatedly defeated the German forces."

"What has happened on the British front has happened on the front of our Allies less than six months after the launching of the great German offensive which was to have cut the Allied front in two.

"The Allied armies are everywhere advancing victoriously side by side over the same battlefields on which, by courage and the steadfastness of their defense, they broke the enemy's assaults."

MEN OF 38-45 FOR INDUSTRY; 21-31 FOR ARMY, IF FIT

Questionnaires in New Draft Will Deal at First, It is Declared, Only with Registrants of Certain Ages to be Determined by President.

Boston, Sept. 10.—Questionnaires in the new draft will deal at first only with registrants within certain ages, to be prescribed by the president. Men between 38 and 45 will be drafted for industry. Those from 21 to 31, who have received deferred classification for industrial reasons will be placed in the army so far as possible, if physically qualified.

The first statement concerning mailing of questionnaires was contained in a telegram received in Boston today from Provost Marshal General Crowder at Washington.

The second statement, regarding older men being drafted for industry, was made at a banquet of delegates to the convention of the state branch of the American Federation of Labor at the Quincy House by President John F. Stevens of the Boston Central Labor Union, who is a member of the draft district appeal board for Massachusetts.

RIOTS IN VIENNA.

London, Sept. 10.—Riotous scenes were enacted in Vienna over the recent transfer of Austrians to Flanders, according to the Star's Zurich correspondent.

Thousands of angry women raided the railway stations, loudly protesting against the departure of the troops.

Throughout the Dual Empire the success of the allied armies on the western front has created a profound impression.

BONE "DRY" COUNTRY BY JULY 1 NEARER

Washington, Sept. 10.—The food bill, with the prohibition amendment making the country bone dry on July 1, next, passed by the Senate, was favorably reported this afternoon by the House committee on agriculture. The only important change made by the committee in the measure was one permitting the importation of Italian wines until May 1, as requested by the Italian Ambassador. As sent by the Senate to the House the bill would cause the importation of all alcoholic drinks to cease the instant the measure became effective.

BASE BALL PLAYERS THREATEN TO STRIKE

At 2.50 This Afternoon None of the Players Had Put In Appearance—Game Will Be Played.

Fenway Park Boston, Sept. 10.—Trouble between the players on the Boston American team and Chicago National team and the National Baseball commission threatened to stop the fifth World's Series game here this afternoon. At 2.50 neither team had appeared on the field and the game was scheduled to start at 2.30. There were players of both teams on the field in civilian clothes, however. They refused to put on their uniforms.

Representatives of the players in touch with members of the baseball commission and tried to make a readjustment of the division of the receipts. Ban Johnson of the American League said there would be no readjustment unless the teams went on the field immediately and if they did not do so the game would be called off and Boston awarded the series. The National Commission asked the men to go on the field but they refused.

Harry Hooper of the Red Sox, speaking for the players, said they had offered to give their share of the receipts to the Red Cross if the club owners would do the same. The players received no answer to this suggestion. At three o'clock announcement was made that the game would be played as soon as the players could get ready.

SCHIEDEMAN IS SLATED FOR GERMAN CABINET.

Amsterdam, Sept. 10.—Phillip Schiedeman, German socialist leader and Mathias Erzburger, leader of the Democratic wing of the Loyal party, are to enter the German cabinet, according to a prediction made by the Tageblatt of Leipzig, said a dispatch from a German source today.

At the same time the German newspaper stated that Count von Hertling the German Chancellor will soon resign.

FIRST APPEAL HEARING.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The War Labor Board today opened a hearing on the appeal of the Worthington Pump and Machinery Company, Cambridge, Mass., against the interpretation of an award made some weeks ago by the board in favor of employees of the concern. This is the first appeal in a group of about thirty in which awards and decisions in disputes between employers and employees concerning hours, wages, and working conditions have been made by the board.

MEN 32-36 FIRST.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The call for selective service men to fill the requisitions for October and November will fall upon the men between the ages of 32 and 36 years who will register on Thursday. This was announced at the office of Provost Marshal General Crowder today.

ALLIES GAIN MORE SLOWLY; DOUAI IS REPORTED BURNING

Germans Resist Stubbornly as Menace to Hindenburg Line Increases—Bastions of St. Quentin, La Fere and Laon Next Chief Objectives in Franco-British Offensive—Consolidate Advance Along Aisne

While both the French and British have gained more ground across wide stretches of the battle front, German resistance is apparently stiffening along the flanks of the Hindenburg line in an effort to prevent the Allies from completely turning this great chain of defensive positions before autumnal storms put an end to big scale operations. The positions captured by the British near Gouzeaucourt, opposite the Wotan switch, and newly won French ground south of the Ailette river both been under heavy German counter attacks during the past 24 hours. The Germans were repulsed everywhere.

Germans Merely on Defensive.

It is certain that the Germans have no hope of winning anything in these counter thrusts. They will be satisfied if they can stem the Allied advance before the whole Hindenburg line is smashed.

To the east of the Crozat canal the French are extending their positions in the direction of the La Fere-Laon defenses on the southern end of the Hindenburg line, capturing Giberercourt, a small town three miles from the Oise river.

It is important to note that the French are rapidly approaching the Oise river in this district, (south of St. Quentin) for the Germans have turned the stream and the canal which parallels it into a strong series of fortifications, hoping to prevent the Allies from crossing the river. It is believed they would compel the Germans to give up a great portion of their prepared line of defense.

Allies' Gains Below St. Quentin.

In that district the Allies have gained 36 miles since their offensive started 55 days ago. This is more remarkable in view of the fact that the first five weeks were given over to hammering the Germans on the Aisne-Marne front, before the Allies turned their attention to Picardy.

In the past 24 hours the Allies have made gains at various places on three fronts—Flanders, Picardy and the Aisne—and are steadily pushing their flanking movement against the Hindenburg line and the bastions of St. Quentin, La Fere and Laon.

The British have crept closer to Messines ridge on the Franco-Belgian frontier and are menacing this position from three sides.

Douai Burning.

Further south Douai is reported in flames. This is not remarkable in view of the fact that it is under the fire of British artillery.

At some points bad weather has set in, but rain storms have failed to check the advance.

Americans Firm on Aisne.

On the Aisne river front the Americans have stabilized their new line and from the established bases are extending their gains in the direction of Rheims. It is apparent, however, that General Foch is depending less upon frontal attacks in this region than upon his flanking movement to the west.

He hopes to compel the evacuation of a wide strip of German held ground in the Aisne and Rheims sectors by turning the Chemin des Dames.

French Report.

Paris, Sept. 10.—(1 p. m.)—French forces have extended their gains east of the Crozat (St. Quentin) Canal and repulsed two more strong German counter attacks in the region south of the Ailette river, the War Office announces today in the following communique.

"East of the Crozat canal the French took Giberercourt and progressed east of Essigny le Grand.

"South of the Ailette the French repulsed two German counter assaults in the sector of Nanteuil la Fosse.

"German raids in the Argonne forest, (between the Champagne district and Verdun) and in the Vosges mountains, (where the Americans are fighting), were repulsed."

French Take More Towns.

Paris, Sept. 10.—Pushing steadily forward toward St. Quentin, French troops have taken seven towns on an 18-mile front, from Etheillers to Remigny, the War Office announced last night.

The text of last night's statement follows:

"New progress has been made in spite of German resistance along the Hindenburg line.

"North of the Somme we have taken Etreillers, and Roupv.

"Beyond the Canal du Nord, (south of the Somme), we have taken Grand Seraucourt, Claesres, Montescourt, Lizerols and Remigny.

"Advance patrols have taken Hill 103, south of Contescourt station, Essigny-le-Grand, and Fort de Lies, including the wood to the northwest. Also north of the Oise we have captured Conliers and Farmrouge.

"South of the Oise we have captured the brick works and station at Servais. Elsewhere we have enlarged our positions, including north of Laffaux the region of Glennes, between the Vesle and the Aisne."

British Firm.

London, Sept. 10.—(11.35 a. m.)—A second enemy counter attack in the vicinity of Gouzeaucourt was completely repulsed last night by the British, the War Office announced today.

"The British line was advanced to the south of Havrincourt.

Progress was made during the night northwest of Neuva Chapelle. In Flanders the British advanced to the northwest of Armenteres.

MANCHESTER'S TRIBUTE TO A BRAVE CHAPLAIN

Nearly 1400 Persons Crowd Hall to Hear Canon Cabanel Speak HIS IMPRESSIVE STORY

Life in the Trenches Described by Priest Decorated Eight Times for Bravery Under Fire.

Manchester paid tribute to Canon Jules Cabanel, chaplain of the famous "Blue Devils" last night when the high school hall was so crowded with people that many turned back because they could not get in.

An Impressive Speaker. Canon Cabanel was the most impressive war speaker that has as yet spoken to a Manchester audience.

His peculiar French accent was so impressive that this audience of nearly 1400 persons was touched instantly and when the holy man spoke almost in a whisper there was not a stir in the hall.

Father Cabanel was introduced by Frank D. Cheney. Mr. Cheney said that great debts are often paid better if payment is not too hasty.

"Blue Devils" Chaplain. Father Cabanel was chaplain of one of the famous "Blue Devil" regiments. He has been in the war as chaplain of his regiment since the "show began."

There are many Protestants in his regiment and under his care. He invited them to join his soldiers in worship and establish a sacred union. They did so and this union will be kept forever.

Father Cabanel believes in ultimate victory for the Allies. He has seen many horrors of war. He cannot believe that God is with a people who call him their divine leader only to minute and destroy his churches and sacred altars the next.

A number of slides were shown. Almost all of them were photographs taken by the priest in France. They showed not so much the warfare but the life about the trenches and scenes of destruction after the war cloud had passed over.

screen first. He received much applause. The priest's pronunciation of the name Joffre was peculiar and amusing.

One day when the "Blue Devils" were in Alsace, a new batch of horses was brought in. One horse followed Father Cabanel wherever he went.

A picture was shown of the priest mounted on his horse. Another photo was shown of Father Cabanel in his gas mask.

Chapel Near Trenches. The devotedness of his troops was proven once when a chapel was built behind the lines.

Destroyed Graves. One day the Germans shelled the cemetery and the priest showed pictures of the destruction which was wrought.

German Newspapers. The priest could not give too much credit to the American ambulance corps.

Some beautiful pine trees covered with snow were shown on one slide. Later photographs were shown of these trees demolished by shell fire.

THE STAR AND STORY

Clara Kimball Young is the greatest emotional actress on the stage today. You saw her in "The Common Law", "The Price She Paid" and "The East-West Way."

That greatest of all emotional screen sirens, Clara Kimball Young, will be seen in the greatest of all French plays "Magda" at the Popular Playhouse tonight.

"Magda" is the great French play which caused so great a sensation on the speaking stage when Sarah Bernhardt played the leading role.

The climax in the story comes when Magda meets her girlhood betrayer in her father's home. From here events move rapidly to the big denouement in a way to keep the spectators breathless with interest.

Miss Young, the star of tonight's great feature, has a reputation in Manchester. Her first play "The Common Law," made a great hit and every one of her plays thereafter played to capacity houses.

Also tonight, you need not go to the Town hall to get the results of the republican primaries. You may sit down in the Popular Playhouse and see the play and as soon as the results are announced speedy messengers will bring the figures to the Park operator and they will be flashed on the screen.

As a fitting close to a very successful season, Laurel Park will have one of its biggest programs on Thursday night when a carnival fireworks and dancing will be among the numerous attractions.

The exhibition of fireworks, in charge of an expert, will be of a quality never surpassed in this section. The great variety of set and aerial pieces is one of the finest ever gotten together for a Laurel Park display.

So that the dancers will enjoy the evening to the utmost, Hatch's orchestra has been augmented for the occasion by the engagement of several additional high grade musicians.

AMUSEMENTS REAL STARS IN REEL PLAYS AT THE MOVIE THEATERS

With today the same as a town election and the streets filled with men talking about the deciding vote, the feature at the Cozy Circle tonight is most timely as it is called "The Deciding Kiss."

On the same bill will be a new release comedy and the Hearst Pathé, altogether as entertaining a bill as the amusement marts can produce.

"Mister Jim" as the movie fans now call, Manager Sullivan to designate him apart from John F., has Manchester's moods well classified now. Fresh from the breezy west and the different class of movie fans there, he had to study his field in the east before he could break into the big contracts with stars and film companies.

For tomorrow the program calls for a Metro feature called "The Only Road" a comedy and another episode of "A Lass of the Lumberlands" with darling Helen Holmes in the leading role.

On Thursday and Friday comes that daring expose of the profiteer, "Cheating the Public" the sensation of the present year.

BUDGET SYSTEM STILL IN SIGHT

Kenyon Resolved. May be Called Up Shortly WILSON FOR REFORM

Present System, Whereby '20 Independent Committees Supervise Appropriations Unsatisfactory—English System May be Followed.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Agitation for a national budget system was renewed in Congress today, following the discharge of the appropriations committee of the Senate from further consideration of the Kenyon budget system resolution.

Senator Kenyon gave notice today he would call his resolution up in the Senate at the earliest possible date. It provides for the appointment of a commission made up of Secretary of the Treasury, two other officials of the executive departments, three Representatives and three Senators, to formulate a system to be laid before Congress for approval.

President Wilson recommended such a system in his message at the opening of the present session of Congress and it has received the endorsement of practically all leaders in American public life. Under the present system appropriations are made by many congressional committees and no check is kept upon them except by the persons authorized to expend the funds. This year's appropriations of $24,000,000,000 were made by 29 different committees, each working independently.

Senator Kenyon and his supporters favor a budget system modeled after the English system, one of the salient features of which would be the appointment of a commissioner of accounting, at a high salary for a life tenure, who would audit all government accounts.

enemy from off points and pockets and in stabilizing the line. There is now much gossip among the troops that the war will be over before next summer. The men are in a buoyant mood.

AMERICANS STRENGTHEN AISNE GAINS

With the American Army on the Aisne Front, Sept. 10.—Franco-American forces are progressing slightly in the region of Revillon and Glennes, in the face of stubborn resistance that is increasing. The ravine heads before the Franco-American forces are thick with machine gun nests.

The Krupp batteries north of the Aisne are maintaining an incessant and harassing fire, but in spite of the general stiffening of the enemy's resistance the Franco-Americans have succeeded in rounding up a few additional prisoners.

American reconnaissance patrols are infiltrating north of Revillon toward the Petite Montagne plateau a dominating and strongly fortified enemy position, 163 metres high. This height dominates the south bank of the Aisne for several kilometers and is sprinkled plentifully with machine gun nests. Several watchful Krupp batteries opened up with drum fire on the approaching Americans, who located a number of strong points for counter fire by American artillery.

Indications are that the enemy is attempting to stand before the Americans on its present line as every American activity is answered with heavy bombardment. East of Villers-en-Prayeres American patrols are cleaning up everything south of the Aisne.

Overcast weather has prevented much activity on the part of the aviators.

Enemy Fears Negroes. With the American Army in France, Sept. 10.—American negro troops that recently occupied a sector in the Vosges have been engaged in several encounters and have done fine in all of them.

French civilians coming into our lines, assert that the Germans are greatly afraid of the negroes, as there is a report in the German ranks that the negroes cut off the ears of the captured.

In the Woerps plain the Germans have been heavily shelling towns near the Americans' front.

A German patrol of 20 men at tacked one of our outposts, but was driven off without casualties.

IDENTIFIED AFTER TWO YEARS

New York Police Refused to Be Baffled by Mystery of Skeleton Found in the River.

Identifying dead bodies is often extremely difficult. Of course, finger prints and photographs make identification fairly easy, and laundry marks are a great help; but very often the police have much less to work upon.

The New York police recently found a male skeleton, fully clothed, in the river. They succeeded in identifying it by means of a gold bridge in the upper jaw. They traced the dentist who had made the bridge, and he gave them the chart of the mouth, which corresponded with the teeth of the skeleton. They then found a watchman, who said that the man was known as "Sam." In the course of conversation he mentioned that "Sam" had an enlarged great toe joint on his left foot, and very often wore shoes with a hole cut over the big joint and a patch sewed over the hole.

At the mortuary the shoe was found just as the watchman had described it. Then the deceased's sister was traced, and she identified her brother by means of a handkerchief found in his pocket. It was afterward proved that the man fell into the river when he was drunk, and that he had been in the water about two years. This is one of the cleverest pieces of identifying work of recent years.

Old Rates of Interest. Five per cent interest on a loan would have been scoffed at by the men who had money to lend in medieval times. In the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries the usual rate seems to have been 20 per cent, and in the preceding centuries it was probably higher, says the London Chronicle. The rate of interest decreased with the increase of specie, with an occasional limitation by the state. Elizabeth reduced the rate by law to 10 per cent, James I to 8, and Charles II to 6. In ancient Rome, according to Niebuhr, the rate was 8-18 for a ten-month year—the equivalent of 10 per cent per annum.

MARKET LISTLESS MONEY STILL UNCERTAIN

U. S. Steel Common and Other Shares Irregular—Ralls Fairly Steady, with Exceptions—Quotations.

New York, Sept. 10.—With attention still centered on the money situation, there was a general decline at the start of business on the Stock Exchange today. Declines of from one to two points were suffered in nearly all the leading issues. There was renewed liquidation in many issues and stocks were offered in large blocks.

Steel Common sold down one point to 108 1-2 while Baldwin Locomotive dropped two points to 87 1-4 but soon rallied to 88 3-8. Union Pacific sold down 7-8 to 123 and American Steel Foundry dropped two points to 79 1-2.

There was another selling movement toward the end of the first hour, which carried prices down to a new low level for the day. U. S. Steel Common sold down to 107 3-4, but rallied to 108 3-8. Baldwin Locomotive sold at 87, showing a loss of over two points, and Marine Preferred declined to 99 1-4 against 101 1-4 at the close yesterday.

The railroad stocks generally showed a steady tone, although Union Pacific was under pressure for a time, declining over one point to 122 5-8, and Reading sold down over one point to 87. St. Paul yielded 3-4 to 52 1-4.

TRY DEBS SYMPATHIZERS BEFORE THEY DO DEBS?

Taking of Testimony Continues Today—Completed Jury Largely Farmers and Merchants—Rose Guilty of Contempt.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 10.—Taking of testimony will occupy the attention of the court in the trial of Eugene V. Debs here today. The empanelling of the jury was completed yesterday afternoon and the opening addresses of counsel for the defendant and the government were completed before adjournment of court.

The jury is composed largely of farmers and small business men of this vicinity.

The cases of Rose Pastor Stokes, now under sentence of ten years for violation of the espionage act, Mrs. Marguerite Prevy of Akron, Ohio, who furnished bond for Debs after his arrest on June 29, and five men sympathizers who were arrested on a charge of "riotous disorder" when they applauded loudly the utterances of Seymour Steadman, counsel for the defense, may be disposed of before the Debs case is resumed.

Fighting Fourth Liberty Loan Facts and Figures

BUYING BONDS IS NOW A HABIT WHERE THE MONEY COMES FROM

To buy a Liberty Bond has become a habit with the people of the United States, a growing habit and no one is complaining. This is proven by the figures.

On May 2, 1917, the First Liberty Loan was announced and the campaign began one month later. Two billion dollars in 3 1/2% bonds were offered and brought four and one half million subscribers. The subscriptions amounted in all to more than three billion dollars, of which only two billion were allotted. The outstanding feature of this first loan was the promptness with which it was arranged and conducted. Taking only two weeks to be formed and selling to four and one half million people where only 300,000 people were habitual purchasers of bonds, presents almost a miracle in finance.

The Second Liberty Loan, offered for sale Oct. 1, 1917 and closed Oct. 27, 1917, there were nine million subscribers and the amount subscribed was $4,617,532,000. Only $3,808,766,150 was allotted. The outstanding feature of this campaign was the important part which labor, fraternal organizations and the women of the country had in it.

The Third Liberty Loan campaign was inaugurated on April 6, 1918, the anniversary of the entrance of this country into the war. Three billion dollars were offered. About seventeen million people subscribed $4,170,109,650, all of which was allotted. This campaign was made notable by its wide distribution among the people and the large response made to it by the rural districts.

The latest loan, the Fighting Fourth, is to be placed on sale Sept. 28. The sale will close Oct. 19, a period of but three weeks. Within that time it will be necessary to sell a very much larger volume of bonds than was sold in any of the three preceding campaigns. The amount of bonds to be offered has not been officially announced but because of smaller demands being made upon us to finance our Allies not more than five billions may be offered.

However, it is certain that the amount offered for sale will mark the Fourth Loan as one of the greatest pieces of governmental financing that the world has ever known. If only five billion dollars of the Fourth Liberty Loan are offered for sale and are disposed of within three weeks, it will be the largest offering ever made by any government and subscribed to in so short a time.

The new loan is "The Fighting Fourth", a title that has been adopted for it by the Publicity Committee of the New England District. Our army in France has begun to take its stride and addition to the army from now on will show in a growing degree the practical forces with food for practically four months or exactly 116 days and a fraction is awaiting our soldiers and sailors and airmen.

THE SIX ISSUES OF LIBERTY BONDS

Three Liberty Loans and six issues of Liberty bonds, so easily understood by the financier, need a little explanation to those patriotic citizens who are just beginning to place their savings in Government bonds. The Government has sold three issues of bonds, the First Liberty Loan 3 1/2% bonds, the Second Liberty 4% bonds, and the Third Liberty loan 4 1/2% bonds. The first and second issues were made convertible into the third followed (on terms stated within). When the First 3 1/2% and Second 4% are converted into higher interest rate bonds the bonds received bear the appellation "First" or "Second" of the bonds converted and are like them in respect to due date and redemption conditions. Otherwise they are like the issues into which they are converted, that is, as to interest rates, issue dates, and conversion and tax exemption privileges.

Thus a First 4 means a 4% bond converted from a First 3 1/2%. In this way there are now six issues of Liberty bonds, three original and three converted issues.

CONVERSION OF LIBERTY BONDS

It is often asked by owners of Liberty Bonds if it is wise to convert their first and second issues into higher interest rate bonds. To them it should be said that the First 3 1/2% are completely tax exempt and consequently there is a demand for them by persons subject to high rates of additional taxes. This demand has caused them to sell higher in the market than the other issues. They therefore should not be converted, but persons with ordinary incomes will probably find it advantageous to sell them and purchase 4 1/2%. It would seem generally advantageous to exchange the 4s for 4 1/2%. This can be done only before Nov. 9, 1918. Most banks will attend to exchanges, sales and purchases.

HELP THE GOVERNMENT

Purchasers of Liberty Bonds who wish to help the Government to the fullest extent should keep the bonds which they have purchased, and when they buy additional bonds do so for the Government during loan offerings rather than in the open market, as the money paid for bonds purchased in the market does not go to the Government but simply to previous holders. On the other hand, those who must realize upon their investment can always do so at the market price.

THE MAINE ELECTION.

The cutting of Governor Carl E. Milliken's plurality of 13,000 two years ago to about 3,800 yesterday may be ascribed chiefly to national rather than state conditions.

The plurality of 3,800 is only estimated, for at this writing almost half the state still remains to be heard from.

Similarly, it seems certain that all four Representatives have been returned to Congress and that the Republicans also will control again both branches of the State legislature.

RAILWAY CONTROL.

The report of Director General McAdoo on the operation of the railroads during the seven months ending August 1 tells a significant story of what may be accomplished by the roads under unified control.

The war, with the need which it brought of swift transportation of drafted men to cantonments and Atlantic ports, alone has been reason enough for taking over the railroads.

But the Director General has found himself faced with the same problems that beset general managers and the Interstate Commerce Commission in the past.

The merging of passenger ticket offices, consolidation of orders for equipment of cars and locomotives, the re-routing so as to eliminate the use of unnecessary parallel lines, the cutting of executives' big salaries,—all these acts have been of comparatively secondary consequence.

Even though the government intends completely and permanently to systematize the country's railroads and introduce operation by electricity, government ownership is a serious mistake.

Government control is another matter. We have had that for years. Only it should have a unified control, not a control divided among forty odd state railway or public service commissions, the Interstate Commerce Commission, Congress and State legislatures.

FATHER CABANEL'S SPEECH.

The High School auditorium was crowded beyond its capacity last night, long before Chaplain Cabanel of the French Blue Devils appeared upon the stage.

It is a slight figure that clothes the gay and sturdy spirit of the brave soldier-pastor, but the lofty cause of church and country with which the priest has allied himself has imparted also a certain nobility of demeanor and gesture to him.

The pictures he showed, unusual though they were, would have lacked much without the speaker, who lived again in the scenes of his Blue Devils' operations.

The talk was easily the most remarkable which has been heard in town in connection with the war since the war began.

A year's residence in the State as a qualification for becoming a registered citizen, able to vote at the following town election, is something that ought to be changed by the next legislature.

We sincerely hope that the Jamestown, Kansas, Optimist, is not serious in its suggestion of coatless and pantless days.

Have you voted yet at the primaries? If you haven't and don't, you may be making practically a political nonentity of yourself.

There is only one State fair. It is held annually at Berlin, Connecticut. Don't let that name deter you from seeing a real fair, readers.

The Open Forum

FOREIGNERS' RALLY.

On Sunday afternoon, Oct. 6, will occur a public meeting or rally for the foreign people of this town. The meeting is for the purpose of explaining to the foreigners in their own languages, the aims and desires of the Americanization committee.

Speakers in Italian, Polish and Lithuanian will be present, and music by all nationalities will be furnished.

Cards will be distributed, on which each person will have an opportunity to express his choice of classes, interpreters being present to help those who are unable to understand.

In a rough way it may be called Registration night for the learning of English.

No meeting of this kind has ever been called before, nor for this special purpose, but the importance of such a meeting will be readily understood when one gives the subject careful thought, and every American in town should give his hearty support by extending the notice as far as possible among his foreign friends and urging them to be present.

The cause of Americanization can easily be killed by the lack of purposeful effort or interest on the part of the American people themselves—yet, who but the Americans should support the cause of Americanization? Can we expect the foreigner to push himself forward and do it all himself? If he did, many would soon be accusing him of being too forward.

Moreover, how could any foreigner unacquainted with the customs and ideals of America teach himself the meaning of Americanization? Too many Americans are saying, "I think it a good cause, and I would like to give it my heartiest support, but I do not feel that I can do anything this year." Now, if everyone feels the same way, who is going to support the cause? To be sure, almost everyone is unusually busy this year.

Government control is another matter. We have had that for years. Only it should have a unified control, not a control divided among forty odd state railway or public service commissions, the Interstate Commerce Commission, Congress and State legislatures.

There is no question that Uncle Sam will Americanize all his soldiers. All those thousands of foreign men and boys who are or soon will be in the service will know English and understand many of the ideals for which they are pledging their lives.

Many a foreign woman would gladly learn to speak English so that the bars could be let down, but she is timid and afraid, and no one has ever given her the personal encouragement. We Americans are guilty of neglect in this matter and it is time we realized it deeply enough to cause us to act.

It is only a little thing that is asked of us in this cause—just a few evenings of time, a little human kindness, with a big idea underneath it all.

Surely a cause so vital will not be lost for lack of American support. Thoughtful men and women will see that the small amount of effort asked will result in a good so vast and so invaluable as to be well worth the effort.

A meeting of the Americanization committee is called for this week, and every man and woman who is interested in the question is requested to be present and discuss it and register for work if possible.

The benefit will be mutual, and the American man and woman who goes into it with the right spirit will find himself or herself looking at life from a new angle and with a new appreciation of the "other side of the question."

GAINING, HAIG SAYS

Prisoners 75,000.

Field Marshal Haig added that the capture of 75,000 German prisoners and 750 guns in the course of four weeks' fighting showed the magnitude of the British achievement.

"Yet more than that has been done. Already we have pressed beyond our old battle lines of 1917. We have made a wide breach in the enemy's strongest defenses. In this glorious accomplishment all ranks and all arms of service in the British armies have borne their part in a most worthy and honorable manner.

The capture of 75,000 prisoners and 750 guns in the course of four weeks' fighting speaks for the magnitude of the achievement.

"My thanks are due to all ranks of the fighting forces for the indomitable spirit of offense and the boldness to attack and to all commanders and staff officers.

"To have commanded this splendid army, which, at the time of a grave crisis has so nobly done its duty, fills me with pride.

"We passed through many dark days together. Please God they never will return.

"The enemy has now spent his effort. I rely confidently upon each man to turn to advantage the opportunity which your skill, courage and resolution have created."

INVENTION WILL HELP RESTOR SIGHT

Nice, France, Sept. 10.—An invention is being perfected here, which, it is claimed, will restore sight to men blinded by the most serious wounds and accidents. The experiments are being conducted by a Polish foreign legionary named Kann. Work upon the apparatus is being watched with the keenest interest by Allied officials.

The perfection of the apparatus would be unusually timely, following upon the reports from German sources that the Huns are planning to use two new kinds of gas and which blind their victims.

FRENCH GENERALS LAUD U. S. OFFICERS

Latter Learned New Tricks of Warfare So Fast They Surprised Germans—What Commanders Say.

With the American Army on the Aisne Front, Sept. 10.—The adaptability and rapid grasp of modern strategy displayed by the American staff officers has amazed even the most optimistic French officers.

General Gouraud told your correspondent that he knew the American soldiers embodied the finest fighting qualities, for their spirit was the same as that of the Canadians, who have demonstrated their value in the fiercest battles.

Our Officers Learning Fast. "It remained to be seen," declared General Gouraud, "how the field work of the American staff officers would develop."

General Mangin, who examined the map of operations planned by the staff officers of the 32nd Division, and who did not suggest any changes for the battle of Juvigny, said:

"The Germans discounted the ability of the American staff officers. The enemy thought it would take a long time for the American corps staff to learn to handle thousands of men and to maintain liaison incessantly. Instead they have found the American staff officers are developed to the highest degree and are continually expanding and speeding up their operations."

Letters From Manchester Men on the Land and Sea

THE EVENING HERALD, eager to gather every bit of news of our soldier boys, wherever they may be, invites its readers to contribute personals, portions of letters, and any information about them they may possess. Such portions of letters as are personal or which may give information to the enemy, will, of course, not be published.

R. J. Hall of 53 Summit street has received a fine letter from his son, Corporal Leonard Hall of Company C, 30th Infantry, telling of his experience in the fifth German offensive of 1918. The letter was written under date of July 29 and gives a most interesting description of how his company extricated itself after being surrounded by a superior number of Huns. Corporal or Sergeant Hall, another letter having been received telling of his promotion to sergeant, says his "wanderlust for real experience" is well satisfied. His letter of July 29th follows:

Best of Dads:

Your letters have been coming right along, with cheer and encouragement to me, and now I have a little spare time and a pen for a change, I am tickled to be able to send you a few lines again. I trust you are very well, also mother, Ruth and the boys.

I am feeling great, although a little more rest will put me in even better condition still. Have had a very hard two weeks past, but am now out of the line and almost out of sound of the guns.

Well, your No. 2 boy had quite a little serious fun with the Boche, and so that you can chew on a little interesting detail until I come home and give you the complete narrative, here's for the story of what I know (minus the censor) of the fifth German offensive of 1918. First of all I don't think the Crown Prince knew we were on the job with the French in large numbers or he might have called "pass" and let Prince Rupprecht play his little piece against the British first.

Well, we were due to be relieved from our front line positions on Monday night, Sept. 15th. Sunday, at midnight, all the "big boys" for miles started in to throw shells and make as much noise as possible. The Hun had the advantage of artillery position, in that area, which enabled him to throw a flanking fire in addition to what was coming from ahead of us. Naturally our men were hit and quite a few lost through this and you can imagine what a night it was. We figured on a meeting with the Germans near dawn and they came across the river thinking from the intensity of the barrage, that we were all dead, and if you had seen their large packs and the spare boots on their backs you would have thought they had come to stay for a while. They thought they were, but German calculation sometimes is wrong.

Well, Pop, we fought in our position for four hours after they had surrounded us and when our small but desperate little bunch threw of everything but our guns and ammunition, and fixed bayonets, with the view of trying to fight through to our own men some way behind, we about said goodbye to folks home for a while. Well, with our wounded hanging around us the best way they could, we crept up a ravine and then "up and at them" and they wondered what had struck their rear and one guy comes down out of a tree, where he had a machine gun mounted, with his hands up and after sending a few "west" made a dash for where their officers were and they gave the password, "Kamerad," and their men soon did the same. Time we got back to our lines and counted "our bag" they still outnumbered us 6 to 1 and four officers.

Well, Pop, we soon had them back over the river and now they are eight miles behind where they were at first and still going.

They found 600 dead Germans around our position—what a smell, Wheel!

Well, Pop, I am very thankful for being spared so far and you may guess my wanderlust for "real experience" is well satisfied.

I can't hate the simple German even now. My experience continues good. May God bless you all. My love and regards to all.

Your affectionate boy,
Len.

E. R. Peterson, of the Supply Company of the 102nd Infantry, has written the following letter to Miss Marie Leander, of 98 Ridge street; August 5, 1918.

Dear Cousin:—

I received your letter of July 14th yesterday. I know I owed you a letter but it has practically impossible for us to send mail we have been so busy chasing and following "Heinie" and Fritz. I guess we covered about 40 or 50 kilometers in a few days.

You bet that our boys gave a good account of themselves. All the newspapers for July are full of news concerning us.

I see Art Johnson quite often. He is in the French Mortar Section and seems to like the work.

I showed him the pictures you sent, he was very much pleased to see them. It makes us feel pretty good to get letters from the people we know and pictures help to bring them closer.

We are in a rest camp now and are trying to get fit for another spell of field service. We have been fighting since the first of February.

Micky Cornell did not get to this front with us. Of course it came as an awful blow to his father but you must remember that this is war and many such sacrifices must be made.

It was no joke when we first came here about Germany getting across to the United States. It was possible then, but it is now impossible, due to the splendid reorganization of the Italians and the rapid accumulation of United States soldiers along the western front.

Those first few months that we spent here were anxious ones for both officers and men. We were only a handful of men then but due to good luck there was no drive started.

It is a well known fact now of what happened this spring when the Germans made their drive, of how their waves pressed the Allies back and back until it seemed as if they must

KEEP THE WEEDS DOWN ALL THROUGH HARVEST

Insects Nest in Weeds and Will Give You Trouble Next Spring If Not Destroyed.

Home gardeners are through planting and perhaps half through harvesting, meanwhile they've done a lot of canning and now they are exhibiting at the fairs but there is still one important factor that must not be overlooked. Weeds will do as much if not more damage in the fall than in the spring when they were crowding out the tender plants and in the summer when the weeds were exhausting the plant food and using the moisture that you were trying to conserve for the garden crops.

There is abundant incentive for keeping down the weeds in the spring, but the reasons for fall clearing are not quite so obvious. When corn and beans and tomatoes have attained their growth, why bother about the weeds; and after an early crop has been harvested, what difference does it make if the vacant area grows up to weeds? One good reason has already been mentioned in these columns; every weed that matures seed this fall will mean a regular regiment of little weeds that may outflank your garden next year.

A more important reason for eradicating weeds is the fact that they harbor insect pests. Some of the worse garden insects rely almost entirely on weeds and grasses for subsistence in late summer. Cut worms, for instance, lay their eggs on the basis of grass stems during July and August; the young caterpillars that hatch out live on the grass roots until fall, then go down deeper into the soil to spend the winter. The cutworms are then already for business before the cabbages, cauliflower and other plants can even get a fair start. Other insect eggs laid on weeds and grasses do not hatch until spring, but the young feed on weeds until the garden crops appear.

The friends of John J. Dowd of Maple street gathered at his home on Monday evening and presented him with a wrist watch, a fountain pen, a safety razor and a purse of money. He left yesterday for Pelham Bay.

RED SOX HAVE CUBS ON THE RUN; CLEAR WEATHER PREDICTED TODAY

Boston, Sept. 10.—The victorious Red Sox were ready to put the finishing touches to war time baseball today.

With three games to their credit and but one more victory necessary to clinch the world's title, the Bostonians are on their toes, while the Cubs realize that it is all over but the shouting.

Bright clear weather ruled and, with no prospect of rain, a capacity crowd at Fenway Park was promised. The first game yesterday drew 22,183 paid admissions to the turnstiles, but with the championship in sight for the Sox, today's crowd is expected to pass the 25,000 mark.

Claude Hendrix, the fog ball artist, is due to toss in today's pastime for the Cubs, who will make a last effort to stand off defeat. Manager Mitchell may cross up the experts by dragging Jim Vaughn for a third attempt, but as Hendrix has not had a fling at the enemy, he is the logical pitcher.

Samuel Jones, slim right hander, whose work helped to no small extent in winning the American league pennant for the Red Sox, will do the sharp shooting for Boston, according to the experts. Manager Barrow indicated this morning that Jones would be given his chance, but would make no positive statement.

With the end of the series in sight the players are still looking toward some re-arrangement of the division of receipts. The committee appointed by the members of the rival teams is waiting to put its case before the National Commission. A meeting of the commission is expected some time today and the players will be given a hearing.

Players Won't Get More.
Chairman Herrmann said yesterday that as arrangements for the division of receipts have been made and sanctioned by the various clubs of the two major leagues there is nothing to be done, and the wise ones are predicting that the players will have to be content with a share of $69,527.70, which is the players' share of the first four games.

Babe Ruth is the hero of the day around this man's town. The demon slugger of the Red Sox, ever a popular idol here, is doubtfully popular today, and if the Cubs send a right-hander to the mound, Ruth will undoubtedly appear in the lineup in left field. Ever since the world's series started in Chicago the fans have been waiting for this Ruth person to break up somebody's ball game, but Babe did not deliver until yesterday, when he came through with a vengeance.

Hurt, Ruth Still Starred.
A remarkable thing about Ruth's stellar performance with the bat and on the hurling top in yesterday's game was the fact that he pitched eight innings with the third finger of his pitching hand stiff and sore as the result of a friendly "rough and tumble" engaged in en route to Boston from the Windy City. The sprained digit was nearly twice its size and Ruth was unable to grip a bat firmly with it, much less the ball, yet he pitched a mighty sassy game of ball and hammered out the screeching triple which put Boston in the way of winning.

The probable lineup for today:

Lineup Today.
Boston. Hooper, rf. Shean, 2b. Strunk, cf. Ruth, lf. McInnis, 1b. Scott, ss. Thomas, 3b. Agnew, c. Jones, p.
Chicago. Flack, rf. Hollocher, ss. Mann, lf. Paskert, cf. Merkle, 1b. Deal, 2b. Killifer, c. Hendrix, p.

The umpires: O'Day at the plate, Hildebrand at first base, Klem at second base, Owens at third base.

CARPENTERS THREATEN A PATRIOTIC STRIKE

Cheney Mill Employees Say They Won't Work Unless Employees Invest in Thrift Stamps.

There was another threatened patriotic strike among Cheney Brothers' employees yesterday afternoon.

Some time ago, the employees in one of the weaving mill rooms refused to work until two of their number would agree to buy some Thrift stamps. Yesterday's trouble was at the carpenter shop. One of the men there claims to be a "conscientious objector," and also has refrained from buying stamps and bonds.

Yesterday afternoon, the men told the boss unless this fellow "came across" they would strike. Accordingly, after the paymaster came around, the other employees went to this man and asked him to buy some stamps and he refused. They then went to the boss and told him either this fellow or they would get through work. The boss told the men to go back to their work and he would take the matter up with Frank Cheney, jr.

The men were working this morning and so was the "conscientious objector," so it is assumed the latter has measured up to the requirements of the other employees.

DULL AT PRIMARIES.
Up to One o'clock Only 500 Men Had Voted—Expect Rush Tonight.

Political leaders on both sides, expected an enormous vote at the Republican primaries today but up to one o'clock but 500 men had cast their votes. There was no rush at all; rather the men came in steadily. Indications point to a lull this afternoon and a mighty rush after the mills are closed. Unlike the elections of years ago when the leaders could tell at all hours how the vote stood, nobody knows which way it will go today. The voters are what the politicians call "vest pocket voters"—that is—keeping their votes to themselves.

Attorney Raymond Johnson is the moderator at the town hall. The machine tenders are A. W. Greene, F. A. Sweet, James Ruddle and George Murdock. Joseph Wright is acting as checker.

AMERICANIZATION.

A general meeting of all persons interested in Americanization will be held tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in the High School building, first floor, opposite Supt. Verplanck's office.

It is earnestly requested that every man or woman, whether at liberty to take up active work, or not, who wishes to hear about the work, will plan to be present at this meeting.

Hitherto the work has been launched in this town by the Women's committee of the Council of Defense, but since that time a state appropriation has been voted, a state chairman has been appointed, and in the course of time, the matter will be pushed along broader lines.

Y. W. C. A. COURSES.

The Y. W. C. A. of New Haven has completed arrangements for conducting training courses for volunteer workers. These courses will be held under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. in Osborn hall of Yale University, beginning October 1. They include: Stenography and typewriting, practical nursing to be held at the Y. W. C. A. training course for speakers, motor driving and repairs, leadership in girls' clubs and patriotic leagues, lecture courses: Principles of public health, social morality and Americanization. It is understood that the volunteer workers will pay their own expenses, but the expenses will not be very high. If there are any local young women interested in these courses they may secure further information by writing to Miss Hull, Y. W. C. A., 568 Chapel street, New Haven, Telephone, Liberty 1230.
