FRENCH CAPTURE 1,800 AND ADVANCE ONE TO TWO MILES ALONG AILETTE

London Reports Taking of Allemant and Sancy, Also, in Flanking Operation on Chemin des Dames and between Vesle and Aisne Rivers—Drive Even Extends North of Aisne, It is Reported

London, Sept. 14.—(1.05 p. m.)—French troops launched another powerful drive on an 11 mile front on both sides of the Ailette river today, advancing from one to two miles within a few hours.

One division captured 1,000 prisoners and the total was quickly increased to 1,800. Two villages and a mountain were captured in the first dash.

The French thrust extended to the Aisne front and between the Aisne and Vesle rivers. Heavy pressure was directed against the German defenses of St. Gobain Massin, one of the defenses in the chain of defensive works on the southern end of the Hindenburg line.

French troops stormed their way into Allemant and Sancy and took Monte de Bessines.

The French forces reached the eastern edge of Vailly.

TEN YEARS GIVEN DEBS FOR DISLOYALTY

Going to Moundsville, W. Va., Penitentiary—Guiltless on Only One of Four Indictments.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 14.—Eugene V. Debs, three times Socialist candidate for the Presidency of the United States, was today sentenced to serve ten years in prison at Moundsville, W. Va., penitentiary, on each of three counts of an indictment issued against him, the sentences to be served concurrently.

Debs was found guilty of violation of the espionage act, the original indictment charging him with violation on ten counts. On motion of the government and through action by the court all but four of the counts were stricken out. He was Thursday found guilty by a jury on three counts and not guilty on one.

AMERICAN LINE IS AGAIN STRAIGHTENED.

According to information received early this afternoon the new American line runs past Tresauvaux, Goux en Woivre Wadonville en Woivre, Dillon, Hattonville, St. Benoiff, north of Dampoitte Wood and Jaunhy.

From that zone the fighting front runs to Norroy, not to Pagny, as was reported last night.

(Norroy is about 4 1/2 miles south of Pagny, but both are almost on the German frontier.)

WATERBURY FIRE CAUSES HEAVY DAMAGE

Waterbury, Sept. 14.—Fire of unknown origin broke out in a building owned by Michael J. McEvey, on Harrison Ave., here early this morning and threatened to spread to the Kingsbury hotel and the United States Employment Service.

The blaze was discovered at 4.30 o'clock by an inmate of the hotel and a telephone alarm preceded a bell alarm. The estimated damage is fixed at $200,000.

The fire started in the second floor, used as a warehouse by the Filley & Crane Company, furniture dealers and undertakers. It spread to the two upper floors occupied by the Lux Clock Company. The roof and the third and fourth floors, weighted with tons of machinery gave way.

BELLEAU WOOD NOW MARINE CORPS WOOD; FRENCH LAUD OUR MEN

General de Gouette Tells of 20 Days' Ceaseless Fighting by Americans—Youths Behaved Like Regulars—Tribute Issued in French Army Orders.

Paris, Sept. 14.—"I am proud to have command of such troops," is the glowing tribute contained in an order of the day issued to the 21st division of the American army, which has captured Belleau wood, (since re-named Marine Corps wood), and Vaux, from the Germans.

"In 20 days of incessant fighting," General de Gouette's order reads, "they advanced more than 25 miles."

"Such names as Torcy, Selguy, Seringes and Vesle will cast a glorious lustre on the military history of the United States. The youthful divisions in their baptism of fire, conducted themselves in a manner worthy of their warlike traditions and like regulars, displaying the greatest eagerness to smash the Boches."

ONE DEAD, ONE DYING, FOUR BADLY WOUNDED IN WILD WEST FIGHT WITH DENVER ROBBERS

Denver, Colo., Sept. 14.—One dead, one dying, four dangerously wounded is the casualty list today of a battle between police and bandits that extended over a 90-mile front throughout last night, all the way from Colorado Springs to Denver.

The larger part of the bandit army escaped and is believed to be hiding in the mountains west of Denver.

Dead: John W. Rowan, Colorado Springs, chief of detectives; dying: John D. Riley, Colorado Springs, officer; seriously wounded: Harry Lane and Herbert Cole, Denver, officers; two unidentified members of the gang of bandits.

Frank Lewis, chief of the outlaws, wanted in Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma and Colorado for murder, bank robberies and train hold-ups, and Eva de Morris, companion of Lewis Roy Sherill, sub-chief of the gang, were the prisoners taken.

The battle started on the streets of Colorado Springs at four o'clock yesterday afternoon. Officers had been advised to be on the lookout for a motoring party of robbers from Missouri and Kansas.

Robbers' Car Appears.

When the suspected car rolled up to a garage, a posse of officers stepped from hiding and approached the automobile. The bandits opened fire and sped out of the city. Posses in automobiles followed.

Some of the members of the bandit gang were surrounded in a canyon west of Denver. Sherill and Eva de Morris were arrested here, after a battle in which one of the outlaws was wounded and two officers suffered bullet wounds in their legs and arms.

Lewis escaped and came to the Denver rendezvous of the gang. This house was surrounded by officers and another battle opened.

Several of the companions of Lewis made their escape through the rear door of the robber rendezvous, while other members of the gang were engaging the officers at the front part of the house.

The house used by the gang in this city is in the aristocratic part of the Capitol Hill district.

Posses are in pursuit of the other members of the gang.

SEVEN BILLIONS MORE FOR ARMY

Will be Asked from Congress—46,000 More Soldiers Reach Other Side in Day.

Washington, Sept. 14.—"It was hot stuff!"

Smiling broadly General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, in these words today characterized the work of the American forces in the St. Mihiel salient. He gave the highest praise not alone to the troops engaged but to the personal staff of General Pershing the American commander. This staff initiated and planned the entire maneuver.

General March called attention to the fact that the German communication lines in which their general staff assembles their plans are now cut.

of the spirit of the entire American army. Their dash and fighting ability has enabled them, the moment they were thrown on their own initiative, to achieve even more than was expected of them.

General March announced that part of the 40th division, from Camp Kearney, California, has reached France. Another part of it is in England at the present time.

EMPLOYERS ACT

Will Treat Men as Old Employees on Ground Strike was against Government Award.

Bridgeport, Sept. 14.—President Wilson's official order to the striking machinists and tool makers in this city to return to work forthwith was received today by the officials of the machinists' union and immediately taken up in the executive session of the strike committee, which was still in session this afternoon. The overwhelming sentiment among the rank and file of the strikers assembled about machinists' headquarters was that the order should be at once obeyed and the men vote at the mass meeting on Monday afternoon to return to work Tuesday. Hundreds will not even wait until the meeting, but expressed their intention of going back on Monday realizing, as they stated, that the strike is broken.

Meanwhile the Manufacturers' Association, through Manager George S. Hawley, announced that the men would be taken back either Monday or Tuesday as "old employees" and not as new applicants for work, as the strikers feared. The manufacturers maintain the position they have held all along that the strike was not against them but against the government and its award. They will therefore consider the men in the same standing as they were before the strike, will pay them the usual rates of pay and in addition will follow out the terms of the award to the letter, regarding the retroactive features as to pay. Any and all benefits coming to the men who went out on strike will be paid, they losing, of course, payment for the time they have been out.

RAINBOW DIVISION LAUDED.

The 42nd Division—the Rainbow Division—made up of troops from every section of the United States, continues to win laurels. The latest tribute comes from General Maull, commanding the 21st French army. In it he declares that on the eve of the departure of the 42nd from his command he desired to pay tribute to their wonderful valor and ardor and to their assistance in breaking down the German offensive in the Champagne. General March remarked that everywhere this division has appeared in the fighting it has won commendation from the Allied commanders. This was typical

17 HURT IN STRATFORD TROLLEY CRASH

Bridgeport, Sept. 14.—Seventeen persons were injured, one of them probably fatally, when a Bridgeport bound trolley car crashed into a road roller near Washington bridge, Stratford today. The trolley car was speeding at a fast rate, according to passengers and passing motorists when it hit the road roller which was engaged in repairing the state road through Stratford. The most seriously injured is Abe Koenig, of 626 Pembroke Street, Bridgeport, who is now in the Bridgeport Hospital. Thomas Kreegan, of 636 Howard avenue, New Haven, is also in the hospital with severe injuries, but his recovery is looked for.

THEFTS DRINK CHAMPAGNE.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 14.—Champagne and burglary go hand in hand with thieves who entered W. W. Van Wormer's residence here. They ransacked the place from top to bottom in leisurely fashion, according to the evidence left behind. Van Wormer found empty champagne bottles and remnants of a cold lunch on the kitchen and dining tables. Almost everything of value was taken.

AMERICAN PRISONERS, 15,000; 70 VILLAGES CAPTURED, ALSO

Americans Now within Bombarding Distance of Outer Metz Forts—Petain Enters St. Mihiel with General Pershing and Secretary of War Baker

London, Sept. 14.—(12.47 p. m.)—The Americans captured at least 15,000 German prisoners in their drive southeast of Verdun and there are still many more to be counted, it was learned this afternoon.

The Germans have made another retirement of from one to two miles on a seven mile front north of St. Mihiel. This retreat was carried out between Bezonvaux and Chailillon, (in the district immediately south-east of Verdun).

French patrols are in touch with the enemy there.

General Pershing officially announced that the American front had been extended 12 miles, at some points, in the direction of Metz, from St. Mihiel.

The straight line distance between St. Mihiel and Metz is about 32 miles, but it is likely that since the war began the German have extended the fortifications of Metz a distance of 12 or 15 miles from the city.

ST. MIHIEL SUCCESS

BESTED EXPECTATIONS

Railways Captured Intact will Help the Allied Cause Considerably

WE CAN KEEP UP DRIVE

American Line Not Likely to be Greatly Altered as Yet—Metz Defenses Now within Range.

Washington, Sept. 14.—America's success at St. Mihiel was better than originally hoped for. So rapid was the advance of the United States' first army that the Germans were unable to carry out their regular program of destruction. The city is practically complete, houses being damaged only by the shell fire, latest advices say.

In addition, the railway line from Verdun, Commercy, Toul and Nancy has been re-opened to the Entente, while the railways which were within the zone of the attack were captured intact. This means far more, officials say today, than does the capture of prisoners and war supplies. It means that the present attack can be maintained just as long as General Pershing desires, while all needed munitions and supplies can be rushed to the front lines without depending too much on roads that may be rendered impassable by the rain. Both the Verdun, Commercy, Toul and Nancy railroad and the Thiaucourt-St. Mihiel road are being operated by American engineer troops. The latter road was the main artery for the German supply trains.

Pershing's Next Step. There was deep interest here today as to the next move of General Pershing's army. On the border, ten miles from Metz, they are in position to give the Germans plenty of work if the forward movement is to be continued. But, inasmuch as this advance was entirely a part of the big general program designed to keep the Germans on the run at every point of contact, there is a possibility that the American line will be held somewhere near where it now is. That is, of course, a question that General Foch, the Versailles War Council and General Pershing have decided and will be shown only by the events of the next 48 hours. However, the Metz defenses are now under fire and the town is close enough for successful air raids, which will not improve the German morale, officials say.

Reduction of the salient of St. Mihiel was the objective of the present advance. That was accomplished in a surprisingly short time.

BOYCOTT HUN HARDWARE. Hardware Age, the well known publication, has taken the initiative in a powerful propaganda against all German and Austrian made hardware.

W. E. Hibbard this morning brought to this office a printed folder in which are described the terrible atrocities perpetrated by the Germans in Belgium and northern France. These awful tales of murder of women and children are described in the pamphlet and it is because of the lack of humanity in the German soldiers that the publication has taken this stand to keep German and Austrian hardware out of the United States. At the end of each story in the pamphlet is the reminder that it is up to the buyer to stop it.

REAL STARS IN REEL PLAYS AT THE MOVIE THEATERS

Park Theater Circle Theater

Another episode of that shivery thriller "The Lion's Claw," will be one of the headliners on the triple feature bill at the Popular Playhouse tonight. Last Saturday this exciting serial had its first showing and it made a tremendous hit. Tonight the second episode will be shown.

On the same bill will be another two reel Keystone comedy in the class with the four which preceded it for the last four Saturdays. Those comedies are being received well in Manchester. They are the best in the market.

The Triangle feature in five acts will be "Marked Cards," a synopsis of which appeared in this column yesterday. It is the story of gamblers and society folks. Tomorrow evening's feature will be a Brady Made with Kitty Gordon playing the leading part. The name of the play is "Tinsel" and the advance notices speak highly of it.

How can a young girl know whether or not she will yield to temptation? Suppose she had led a particularly protected life and then, all at once, she finds out that the mother she had thought dead is still living and is noted for her wealth and her admirers. Her mother wants the girl to come and live with her, and the girl decides to do so, as in this way she will see life, meet men and learn for herself whether or not there is any of her mother's wild strain running in her veins.

Ruth Carmichael in the story "Tinsel" is the girl who makes this decision and sees life. She meets all the various types of men and has many experiences. But though she feels that she is practically going it alone her mother is really watching over her all the time, and at the crucial moment her mother comes to her aid.

"Tinsel" is a good picture. See it.

"Mister Jim" brings to his Cozy Circle tonight a renowned favorite of the screen. Miss Gladys Leslie, that charming blonde who takes an entirely different part than you have seen her in. She is a society girl. The name of the screen feature is "The Soap Girl." As the "soap girl" Miss Leslie is a charming debutante but her father is by no means a society man. He is gruff and hard hearted and refuses to be mixed up with the "bluffers." However, he would do anything in the world for his daughter so when she wants to get into society so she can marry her lover, the father sends a check to Mrs. Van Ruhl which immediately admits her to the circle. In the meantime, Gladys father makes use of her handsome face in advertising his soap. Her picture appears on all billboards, in all magazines and newspapers. Mrs. Van Ruhl bars Gladys out of society because of this fact. But, game Gladys plans to get back. She finds out that the original Van Ruhl sold rum to the Indians. Having been born with a gold spoon in her mouth Gladys buys a distillery and manufactures Van Ruhl rum. On each and every bottle is a picture of Mrs. Van Ruhl. The society lady is indignant. She is willing to give in to anything and Gladys gets into society and also gets her lover.

The seventeenth Episode of that ever more mysterious serial "The House of Hate" is shown tonight. Then there are two cracker jack comedies.

Tomorrow J. Stuart Blackton, producer of "big" things in the movies, presents Louise Huff in "Wild Youth." It's the story of the immutable law of the love of youth for youth. Other reels will be shown in conjunction.

YANKEE SOLDIERS WELL FED It Cannot Be Said That in Any Way Uncle Sam Stints His Fighting Men.

More than a billion pounds of meat a year and an equal amount of pure wheat flour are required for the American army bill of fare. That imposing total will increase rapidly as the United States enlarges its fighting forces in France and the divisions in training on this side of the Atlantic. Uncle Sam does not stint the quality or quantity of food for his husky fighting men. There is a bountiful supply of every essential foodstuff on a carefully balanced menu that provides more calories than the rations of any other army in the world. Twenty-seven standard articles figure in the list from which mess sergeants select material for the daily meals. They are beef, bacon, flour, baking powder, lard, sugar, milk, vinegar, pickles, salt, pepper, cinnamon, lard and lard substitutes, butter and oleomargarine, sirup and flavoring extracts. Even with this elaborate selection, and notwithstanding the mounting cost of food, the government finds it possible to give the boys in khaki all they can eat for the modest sum of 41 and a fraction cents a day. The soldiers get many articles of food, however, that are not included in the "standard" list. Supply sergeants are instructed to vary the diet by purchasing eggs, chickens, green vegetables and fresh fruit. This plan is followed in France as well as in the United States. Under favorable circumstances poultry and fresh vegetables and fruit are served in the front-line trenches. Uncle Sam believes that Napoleon was right when he said that "an army marches on its belly."—Thomas F. Logan

ULSTERITES GIVE FREELY TO FUND FOR WOUNDED

$181.36 Collected for Patriotic Fund—What North of Ireland Has Done in Present War.

Orange Hall was packed to the doors last night with Ulsterites and many interested in their work in the war. Four bands paraded around town advertising the rally and they drew many people who would not otherwise have attended. The bands took turns in playing selections in the hall and furnished plenty of music.

The first speaker on the program was Rev. J. S. Neill of St. Mary's church. Rev. Neill told the large audience what he knew of the Ulster cause and what the Ulstermen were doing to down Prussian militarism. William Rogers was chairman of the meeting and he introduced William C. Cheney as the next speaker. Mr. Cheney said that the Ulstermen were in the majority in town and told of their activities ever since he could remember.

Rev. John H. Johnston of Hartford was the principal speaker. He gave one of the finest addresses on the war that has been heard in town. He told of the lies that have been circulated in this country against Great Britain. The Germans have tried their hardest to make the United States a lifelong enemy of Britain and in individual cases they have succeeded fairly well. Rev. Johnston told what Britain has done on the 17 different fronts on which her men are fighting. He told of the vast army of men Britain has transported to and from the war by her fleets of ships. The work of the British battle fleet was described fully. Dr. Johnston also told of what Christianity has done in the war and what it has failed to accomplish.

THREE SAMMIES CAPTURE EIGHTEEN BOCHES EASILY

As Soon as Americans Appeared Up Went Hun Hands—One Yank Bags Six Germans.

With the American Army on the Lorraine Front, Sept. 14.—Eighteen German prisoners were brought in by Albert Hart of Brooklyn, and two of his pals. The Boches surrendered as soon as the Americans attacked north of the Regnyville (to the west of Pont a Mousson.)

The Huns came stumbling through the mud, over the rough ground, with upraised hands. Two of them fell into a shell hole but quickly scrambled to their feet with their eyes and mouths full of mud. Their comrades couldn't help laughing at their ludicrous appearance.

William Colbride of Detroit, brought in six Germans, including one little fellow who was so burdened with extra boots and clothing that he begged Colbride to make one of the other Huns help him to carry them.

the honor of doing the rear guard action. They fought to protect the retreating army and did noble work. As a result, however, many of their best troops were lost. They were forced to leave many behind and it is estimated there are 2,000 prisoners in Germany. Fifteen dollars will keep a man in these prison camps well fed every month. This amounts to $360,000 per year. Funds will be accepted gladly by the Ulstermen to keep their men in prison camps in good condition.

Orange Hall was temporarily closed during the night, but the town mayor refused to allow this, saying that the people would obey any order to stay indoors.

WHY DO MEN WEAR HATS?

Really, When You Come to Think of It, They Are of Little Use and Not Ornamental.

Men themselves do not know why they wear hats. Hats aren't ornamental. They do not keep off the rain. A man's hat is a legacy of tradition, brutalized in its descent from the age of adornment. Straw hats are the least awful.

The derby, the iron lid of common phraseology, is a tragedy, and the silk hat is useful only to lend dignity to men who otherwise might be undignified. This dignity is traditional rather than real. Bridgemoors, undertakers and members of congress need all the dignity they can command. So they keep the silk hat handy.

Spring, which brings the straw hat, is welcomed by men, since it removes the hideous necessity of wearing other sorts of hats. The straw hat rouses a dim memory in the blood of the days of garlands. It may be worn with a bright band. On the whole, it makes life a little easier for those who haven't the courage to go without hats at all.

Gives Simplified Premium.

"John, the Oysterman" (everyone who sells bivalves here is known as John), has hit upon a unique scheme to make his customers eat oysters out of season. To each customer who comes into his place he hands them an envelope, pay size, with an enclosure. Printed on the envelope is the following: "Simplified Coat Hanger. The most universally used coat hanger in the world. Made of the finest drawn steel wire by automatic machinery. Easy to attach wherever and whenever by ordinary usage." And when one opens the envelope they naturally expect to find something new to hang a coat thereon. They are not disappointed, but it is a surprise. Wrapped in a small piece of paper is "the simplified coat hanger." It is nothing more or less than a new one-inch wire nail.

Lard Substitute From Fish Oil.

By treating fish oil with hydrogen a chemist has produced an oil, and also a solid substance very much resembling lard, which is entirely tasteless and when used in pastry or bread produces most satisfactory results, according to a demonstrator employed by the bureau of fisheries. The new products to be placed on the market and it is the hope of the food administration that it will prove acceptable. Special value attaches to any process which, like the one referred to, makes available a fat obtained from sources heretofore unutilized.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

ST. MIHEL RESIDENTS KISS YANKEE SOLDIERS

Think First Man Who Entered City Captured It Single Handed

HUNS PREPARED TO LEAVE

Expected Attack So Drive All Able-Bodied Frenchmen Away With Them Beforehand.

With the American Army on the Lorraine Front, Sept. 13.—(Night)—Corporal Herman Boer, formerly an engineer working for the St. Francis hospital in San Francisco and now attached to the French engineer corps, was the first American to cross the Meuse river at St. Miheil when the American offensive rolled the Germans back in that sector.

Corporal Boer was with a Bridging Detachment that was preparing pontoons for the infantry.

People Kissed Him. "Those poor people in St. Miheil grabbed me and kissed me, shook hands and cheered," said Boer in describing his reception on the eastern bank of the Meuse. "They thought I had captured the town single handed."

"Everybody put on his best clothes and came out into the public square."

"Madame Duphot, wife of a butcher in the town, told me that the Germans had been prepared during the past week to evacuate the place."

"An officer stationed in this woman's home told her that the Germans were preparing to fall back because the Germans were told to launch an offensive."

Order to Keep Indoors.

On Thursday the townspeople were ordered to remain indoors from seven o'clock in the evening until noon Friday.

The German commander explained night, but the town mayor refused to allow this, saying that the people would obey any order to stay indoors.

Took Men Away.

At 5 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon all of the men between the ages of 18 and 45 were ordered to report to the German military authorities. They were told that they must go into Germany.

At eight o'clock on Wednesday night 100 French civilians were marched off northward but in the meantime the Americans had begun to attack, compelling the German flanks of the salient to contract in the direction of Vigneulles. This cut off the German retreat and the Germans as well as the French captives all fell into the hands of the Americans.

French youths, including a son of Mme. Duphot, began arriving within the American lines while I was there. They were members of the party that the Germans had started to deport.

MICE STEAL AND STORE GRAIN

Damage Done by Little Rodents is Cause of Considerable Loss to the Producer.

Little do people know about our native mice and their allies, as they are mainly nocturnal in their habits, and were it not for the discovery of their ruins in the leaf mold, their nests in the fields and the annoyance that they sometimes cause their existence would hardly be suspected, says W. I. Beecroft in the Boy Scouts' Magazine. The owl and the fox could tell us much about the prevalence and the ways of these little folk. As I have lived for a number of years in close proximity to the woods, I have had my share of mice about the premises. I have caught the white-footed or deer mouse the jumping mouse, the red-backed mouse and that measly little foreigner, the common house mouse, and, as if that were not enough, there are two or three species of shrew-mice and moles.

Once I had occasion to clean away rubbish that had collected in a corner near bags of grain. As I picked up an old shoe something in it rattled. I turned it upside down and a handful of grain fell out. A pickle bottle was half full of corn. From a roll of roofing paper a quantity of grain rolled out, and here and there I found little heads of corn and wheat. White-footed mice had supplied themselves well at my expense, but only they had carried off to parts unknown. I hastened to the store and purchased two small mousetraps. Mice are innocent and unobnoxious little creatures. In a short time peace and quiet reigned over my grain bags.

Great Game of War by Children

"Blind Man's Buff," "Prisoner's Base," "Drop the Handkerchief," and all the other delightful games we knew in our childhood would be cast aside, with a scolding leer by the modern day youngster were they suggested to him now as forms of recreation. The great game of war is the only game for them now. This picture shows America's future protectors, equipped with gas masks, and destroying the enemy's barbed wire entanglements.

71 Millions Burned in Year Total Covers Fire Loss in 210 Cities of Over 30,000 Population

During the fiscal year 1917 the 210 American cities estimated to have more than 30,000 inhabitants maintained 8,790 fire companies, with 40,141 employees, and 182 volunteer companies having 14,472 active members; the total number of stations was 3,082; and the equipment included 994 motor-propelled and 1,378 horse-drawn engines. A number of the smaller cities now rely entirely upon motor propelled apparatus. Sep-

RIGHT WILL WIN

Right must win whatever the cost; Right must win if the world is lost; And Right will win if we fight for it, If we summon the whole of our might for it.

Right will prevail. Cling to the thought with might and main, With body and soul and heart and brain, That Right must win, whatever the cost; When toll, wealth, life, in the scales are tossed. Right will prevail. Might is the weight of a cave man's fist; Right is a knight spurring into the lists; Justice his sword and right his spear; Brain alert and heart without fear; Right must prevail. Wealthy Wisconsin Maids Did Bit in Pea Canneries To Save the Great Crops

Wives and daughters of wealthy citizens in the Wisconsin pea-canning districts entered the canneries to aid labor situation. On Saturdays they lined up for their pay envelopes and received a minimum wage for their ten hours' work.

Forty per cent of the peas canned in the United States are put up in Wisconsin plants.

Earlier in the season pea packers expressed grave fears of a serious labor shortage and pointed to the food administration's request for all the peas possible.

George P. Hambrecht, labor commissioner, after a conference with Food Administrator Hoover, sent labor commission employees into all homes and obtained pledges from women in all walks of life to work in the canneries.

Two Additional Disks

To insure their identification officers and men of the American expeditionary forces and all civilian attachés are required in an order by General Pershing to wear two additional identification disks.

Timely Sayings.

A woman's idea of a good husband is one who isn't so fond of home that he won't be willing to leave it when she wants to take him somewhere. The world will always get along no matter who lives or dies, but every man should so try to live his life that he will at least be missed by a few after he is gone. The man who used to drown his sorrows in a saloon now goes out to work and forgets them.

Our Marines.

The marines are called the soldiers of the sea. They serve on the sea, on the land and in the air. They have an army form of organization, but are ordinarily assigned to warships and are used as landing parties when necessary. A large organization of them has been in the fiercest of the fighting in France. Enlistment is voluntary, and the examination of applicants is extremely rigid.

THE AMERICAN VICTORY.

A more fruitful 24 hours than that spent by General Pershing's victorious army yesterday has not been seen by the American forces since they really got into the big fight in France and Flanders.

This morning, it is announced, the forts of the German city of Metz are only four miles distant, just across the border, and the Americans are on the bank of the Moselle, a river General Julius Caesar was acquainted with.

Pershing may be said to have done just one thing. He brushed off from the military map the German salient whose apex was at St. Mihiel.

Metz, however, is still "so near and yet so far." It is one of southern Germany's strongest fortresses, almost comparable with Verdun, directly east of which it lies.

COAL SHORTAGE SOLVED BY U. S. BUREAU OF MINES

Washington, Sept. 14.—Owners of steam plants and their employees can save in the next year forty-five million tons of coal and solve the coal shortage problem.

Many guns and quantities of ammunition were taken by our forces, in addition to the thousands of prisoners.

WAR PLANT TAKEN OVER.

The President did no hemming or hawing in his action yesterday, putting a quietus on the machinists' strike in Bridgeport.

A more serious precedent, if precedent it establishes, is the taking over of the Smith & Wesson plant in Springfield, Mass.

"The Smith & Wesson Company of Springfield, Mass., engaged in the government work, has refused to accept mediation of the National War Labor Board and has flouted its rules of decision approved by President Wilson's proclamation.

"It is of the highest importance to secure the plans with reasonable rules and procedure for the settlement of industrial disputes.

The Bridgeport strikers, though they must "work or fight," are permitted to appeal from the War Labor Board's decision after they return to work.

Service will refuse to obtain employment for them in any other war industry anywhere, in the country, or in the War or Navy departments, on the railways, etc., etc.

THE TWO FAIRS.

For those who find it impossible to attend the State fair at Berlin, the fair at Rockville will be well worth seeing.

A fair that is a fair provides a clearing house of useful information on gardening, on poultry, pig and cattle raising, on canning, etc., etc.

Do you believe every voter, as a constituent of the two local Representatives and the Senator to be elected to the General Assembly, has a right to have his say as to how these State office-holders shall vote in the next legislature?

Now that many local buyers of Liberty bonds are coming to the point where their payments are nearly all in, it is necessary again to repeat the warning—Don't exchange your bonds for worthless securities paying high dividends.

There is one political candidate in town who, we'll bet a hat, will not only keep the votes he got at the primaries, but add a good share of those that went to a defeated rival.

FIVE-U. S. FLYERS GET BRITISH CROSSES

Burlington, Vt., Lieutenant is One-Quintet Downed 75 German Planes during August.

With the American Army in France, Sept. 14.—Five American aviators who brought down 75 German planes in August have been decorated with distinguished flying crosses by the British army for gallantry in action during the recent British drive.

The first Yankee flyers to win such honors are Lieutenant G. M. Vaughn, of Washington Ave., Brooklyn, Lieutenant L. A. Hamilton, 25 Beuel St., Burlington, Vermont; Lieutenant Merton I. Campbell, of Wakeman, O.; Lieutenants Thomas J. Herbert and James A. Keating, whose addresses are not given.

All five Americans in recent battles aided British tanks, infantry and artillery by flying low over the enemy and spraying the Boches with machine gun fire and dropping bombs, at great risk to themselves.

Lieutenant Campbell is mentioned for especially good work in defending American and British bombers over Bruges, on August 2, when he brought down two enemy planes. He also took part in an attack upon an enemy aerodrome at Verresnes with a flock of British-American planes which destroyed six enemy Fokkers within the aerodrome enclosure.

CANADA AND AMERICA MUST APPRECIATE WAR MORE KEENLY AND IGNORE PERSONAL CONSIDERATIONS, SAYS CALGARY EDITOR

London, Aug. 13. (by mail)—Canada and the United States must come to a keener appreciation of the fact that we are at war; put aside small personal considerations and buckle down to the task as have England and France.

This is the helpful message sent back home by J. H. Woods, editor of the Calgary Herald, chairman of the Canadian Overseas Newspaper Party. Mr. Woods and a score of other newspaper publishers from Canada have just completed a tour of the battlefields of France, the American and British fleets, the munitions works and other war bases throughout England, Scotland, Wales and Ireland.

"The thing that stands out pre-eminently," said Mr. Woods to the International News Service today, "is the tremendous extent of the military work going on everywhere. The British are driving at top speed on every hand. Financially and navally, Great Britain seems to have made a supreme effort.

We Don't Realize War.

"We in Canada and the United States do not realize what Great Britain is doing. We in Canada have been in the war for four years. We have the outward symbols of war in the wounded men—as you have not in the United States; but our civil population is miles behind in its realization of what war is. We have the outward symbols, and the United States will soon have them; but even this does not bring us to a full realization.

"If we only had it, it would stop our strikes and our riots. Almost every day we have strikes in Vancouver, riots in Toronto and the United States has troubles in its steel and other war activities. Most of the disputes seem to be over money recognition of a union, or some lesser opinion which does not amount to a tinker's damn.

"One thing that has impressed us is the extent and modesty of the American effort. The American soldiers in France are modest and quiet in their mental attitude. They realize that they are novices playing at a tremendous big game, but they are taking most willingly the lessons from the English and Canadian soldiers.

British Navy's Welcome.

"Great Britain appreciates this and gives praise on every hand. It is the same with regard to the American navy. The British navy has welcomed it warmly. The attitude of the American officers and men is perfect and the British officers are proud of the Americans.

"President Wilson did a very wise thing when, instead of attempting to keep his force separate from the start, he allowed his divisions to be brigaded throughout the land with the other nations. It was a generous thing to do, and it also gave the American soldiers a fine opportunity to catch the spirit of the other peoples.

"The Ministry of Information did a fine thing in bringing our party to this country to see the situation for themselves. It was a wise and valuable thing, and it is to be hoped that the same ministry will bring one or more parties of American publishers here at no distant date."

Canadians in Party.

OUR JR. FARMERS RUSH TO FILL OUT ENTRIES

Sixty of Them Already Pledge to Enter Exhibits in Vegetable and Canning Show Next Week.

At a meeting last evening of the committee in charge of the Vegetable and Canning Exhibition to be held in Cheney hall next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Secretary Cassell reported that over 60 members of the Junior Food Army had made entries. The Home Garden and Canned Food departments are not strongly represented as yet and it was decided to extend the time for returning entry blanks to Monday evening.

All local gardeners are urged to exhibit for it is desired to have the exhibition as complete a representation of what Manchester gardeners are producing as possible. Several local gardeners will make ornamental displays of vegetables and Secretary Cassell announced that Mr. Brandage of the Extension Service would visit the show and select the prize winning exhibits of the Junior Food Army for exhibition at the State Fair in Berlin.

Exhibits of pigs and chickens being raised by the Juniors will also be a feature.

All vegetables for display should be thoroughly cleaned and all canned products should be in glass-topped jars, labeled with the name of owner and also of the contents.

Articles to be exhibited should be brought to Cheney hall Tuesday between 9 a. m. and 9 p. m. or Wednesday morning before ten o'clock. Members of the committee will be there to receive and arrange the exhibits.

ITALIANS OUT TO RAISE $40,000 FOR RED CROSS

To Be Used in Italy in Combating Tuberculosis Among Soldiers—Chapters Well Organized.

Hartford, Sept. 14.—A campaign to raise $40,000 for the Italian Red Cross, to be used principally in the combatting of tuberculosis in Italy, will be conducted in this state during the last week in October, by the Italian Red Cross delegation for Connecticut. The campaign has been approved by the Connecticut State Council of Defense.

Under the direction of Dr. G. Formichella of Bridgeport, delegate for Connecticut of the Italian Red Cross, the campaign will be pressed throughout the entire state. Delegations of the Italian Red Cross are established in the larger cities of Connecticut, and in three of the latter, Bridgeport, Waterbury and Stamford, there are sub-committees. The campaign will be waged by these delegates and sub-committees, all of whom will be aided by the several war bureaus and the state delegation of the Italian Red Cross.

Many Tubercular Soldiers. In explaining that the larger part of the money raised would be used to combat the tuberculosis menace in Italy, Dr. Formichella said that this danger was caused principally by the presence in Italy of tubercular soldiers. The situation became so serious that the Italian Red Cross took up the matter and decided to provide hospitals to be devoted to tubercular patients. Each hospital is to be divided into ten pavilions, and each pavilion will contain thirty beds. It is planned, said Dr. Formichella, to have in one of the hospitals a Connecticut pavilion. The cost of this pavilion will be about $200,000 liras, or $40,000. So concerned is the American Red Cross at the tuberculosis peril in Italy that, according to Dr. Formichella, it has contributed to the Italian Red Cross $1,500,000.

Dr. Formichella said that the Italian Red Cross was better organized in Connecticut than in any other state. Members in this state number 2,000, seventy of whom are life members. Such membership is secured by payment of $20. Others belonging to the organization in Connecticut, are termed regular members. They pay $1 a year. One life member, Walter P. Lanham of Bridgeport, paid the organization $100, for which he is entitled to a bronze medal.

Organized in 1915. The Connecticut delegation of the Italian Red Cross has been active ever since its organization when Italy entered the war in 1915. The Bridgeport sub-committee was established November 21, 1915, and was the first of its kind in this state. Its president is M. C. Petrucci, and its membership is 1,200. The Waterbury and Stamford sub-committees have 300 members each. The president of the former is L. Lerz, and it was organized June 17, 1917. Dr. A. S. Sergi is president of the Stamford sub-committee, which was organized October 16, 1917.

Of the delegations of the Italian Red Cross in various Connecticut cities, the two largest are those of Hartford and New Haven. The head of the former is M. Riccio, consular agent. Rev. L. Quaglia, pastor of St. Michael's Church, New Haven, is head of the latter. The coming campaign will be the first on a large scale which the Italian Red Cross delegation for Connecticut has conducted. The organization, however, raised and expended about $4,000 liras or $16,000, since its organization in 1915. It sent an ambulance to the Italian front on March 26, 1916, that cost $1,500. About $200 worth of surgical dressing material has also been sent to Italy.

The moving pictures will show soldiers and sailors fighting at the front and war activities in camp and aboard ship. They will also show the war work being done in this country, especially the farmers' efforts to increase the food supply by improved methods of agriculture and stock raising. The boys' and girls' farm work and pig and poultry club results will also be filmed. Other government activities not directly connected with the war will be added to the war films. One picture of especial interest will show whole towns fighting the forest fires in the great woods of the Northwest. The raising, picking and ginning of cotton, the construction of difficult roads, the increased growth of wool which is one of the new and important war industries of this country, and the reclaiming of the desert lands of the western border states will also be filmed.

These moving pictures are a special additional feature of the big government exhibit. The main exhibit will be composed of models of army and navy equipment such as trench periscopes, ship models, and hand grenades, a huge display of food production and conservation, and material from the Committee on Public Information.

U-BOAT SHELLS SPANISH VESSEL. Madrid, Sept. 14.—Confirmation has been received here of the shelling of a Spanish ship, by a German U-boat, off the Canary Islands. It is understood the matter will be the chief question considered at Monday's cabinet meeting, at which King Alfonso will preside.

MORE GASOLINELESS SUNDAYS ARE COMING

At Least Two More, Says Garfield—Senators Lodge and Penrose Question His Figures.

Washington, Sept. 14.—The announcement of Fuel Administrator Garfield that there will be at least two more gasolineless Sundays served further to stimulate the desire of members of the Senate finance committee today to know all of the facts behind the Garfield orders.

Senator Lodge said he was not convinced of the accuracy of the figures awarded by Dr. Garfield to the Senate. Senator Penrose openly questioned the statement that on August 24 there were only 645,000 barrels of gasoline in storage on the Atlantic coast, 616,000 barrels of which were in tank steamers ready for shipment abroad.

All officials of the Fuel Administration who had anything to do with issuing the order or compiled the figures on which it was based have been invited to testify before the Senate committee on finance. Senator Penrose said he had two questions to put to Dr. Garfield. First he wished to know where and how the figures sent to the Senate were obtained and, second, he desired to ask whether the shortage in the East was due to "railroad transportation conditions," as has been claimed, or to lack of production resulting from orders issued by the Fuel Administration or the Interior Department.

HOW TO SEND FRUIT PITS AFTER CANS ARE FILLED

Hartford, Sept. 14.—As a result of numerous inquiries from all over Connecticut, Robert Scoville, the Federal Food Administrator for this State, recently wrote to Washington asking what arrangements had been made for collecting fruit pits for gas masks. Hundreds of patriotic people in Connecticut were saving the fruit pits, but did not know what to do with them.

The Canned and Dried Foods Division of the Food Administration today advised Mr. Scoville that the assistance of the Food Administration in collecting various fruit pits essential to the manufacture of gas masks had been requested by the Gas Defense Division of the United States Army. Mr. Scoville's letter from Washington continued in part as follows:

Householders, hotels and other consumers, who may be able to serve these pits, are being looked after by the Red Cross; and the Food Administration, through the state and county organizations, must lend the entire weight of its assistance to aid the Red Cross in securing every possible pit.

"We must also secure the cooperation of the commercial canners and packers. Will you communicate immediately with all canners and packers of your state, advising them to save and dry the following pits:

- a—Peach stones and seeds.
- b—Apricot pits.
- c—Prune pits.
- d—Plum pits.
- e—Olive pits.
- f—Date seeds.
- g—Cherry pits.

"The canners and packers are to communicate with Lieut. W. M. Jackson, Chemical Warfare Section, U. S. A., 19 W. 44th St., New York City, advising the quality they have available and securing shipping instructions for this product.

"We must also secure the cooperation of what the canners are doing and be able to indicate the extent of the service given by the Food Administration."

Mr. Scoville says that wherever arrangements for depositing the pits in barrels have not been made by merchants or other public spirited persons, housewives should take the pits to the nearest branch of the Red Cross.

The War Corner

Letters From Manchester Men on the Land and Sea

THE EVENING HERALD, eager to gather every bit of news of our soldier boys, wherever they may be, invites its readers to contribute personals, portions of letters, and any information about them they may possess. Such portions of letters as are personal or which may give information to the enemy, will, of course, not be published.

Mrs. Jennie Dowd of Birch street has received a letter from her brother, Ernest Powers, who is serving in the Canadian army overseas. Young Powers enlisted about five months ago and his folks were wondering where he was as they had not heard from him in a long time. His letter follows:

Dear Sister—
Just a few lines to let you know I have arrived safely overseas and am stationed in England. I am ready to fight for my country when needed and mean to do my bit. It is a fine place over here and the people use us fine. I will be able to tell you something about it if I return safely. Write to me often, as it gives us a little courage, when we hear from home. It makes a soldier feel like going over and getting the Kaiser, when he gets a letter from the folks he left at home. Remember me to Dad and tell him I will write to him soon; also my dear sisters, who are still in the good old U. S. A.

When a fellow gets over here he forgets some of the addresses he used to know. But never mind, we will all meet some day, when the war is over and the good old Stars and Stripes are floating over Berlin. I must draw to a close, as I have got to go on guard. My address is Sapper Ernest Powers, No. 2011505 C. E., Canadian Engineers, Army Postoffice, London, England.

Lieutenant Allan McLean, who left Manchester with Company G and has served in several outfits as a member of the Canadian army, since going to France, writes to his mother, Mrs. Joseph McLean of Church street, telling of his latest assignment to Headquarters Company, 144th Infantry, composed of Texas and Oklahoma troops. He says he has been trying to get back to his old outfit, Company G, and he is going to keep trying until he succeeds. Lieutenant McLean says he belongs to the "A. E. F. Traveling Circus." He assists in putting on the finishing touches to the new divisions as they arrive overseas. His letter follows:

August 11, 1918.

Dear Mother,—
I guess when you get this that you'll wonder what they're doing with me, and I wonder sometimes myself. I've about covered France from coast to coast but I'm still going and no signs of a regular berth. I belong now, to the "A. E. F. Traveling Circus." There's nearly a hundred of us and we take in the new divisions as they come over and put the finishing touches to their training. At the present time, I'm Division Trench Mortar instructor, and you'll remember it's nearly a year since I had a school course in that subject, which was only a short one, but those things aren't considered, and if you know anything about a subject they shove you on it and you can sink or swim. I had a three days' course at school on the new Browning Machine Rifle, and it sure is some gun. I reversed the shock springs on one, and got 750 shots a minute out of it, and it looks almost like an ordinary rifle, its weight being only 15 pounds, eight ounces.

I saw a couple of the boys from the old outfit the other day, but I haven't had a chance to visit them yet, although they are quite near me. I guess by the time you get this letter you'll know that there won't be very many left to visit. They sure got terribly shot to pieces, and I guess it will hit Manchester pretty hard, as well as all New England and especially Connecticut, as the regiment was the advanced assaulting unit for the division in the last big fight, but they put up the most wonderful scrap this war has seen yet, and they stand on the top rung of the Allied armies' ladder. They're the best fighting men in the world, the men from Connecticut, and the people back home may well be proud of them. I've tried to get back to the old outfit, and I'm going to keep trying until I succeed. That is my greatest ambition at present. This is going to be the extent of my letter this time. My new address is, Headquarters 144th Infantry. Another Texas and Oklahoma outfit.

Here's hoping that a stray letter of my mail following me around France will get to me about once a month.

Love to all,
Allan.

50,000 BOYS AND GIRLS HAD GARDENS IN STATE

Junior Food Army Cared for 450 Acres of Corn, 200 of Potatoes and 300 of Truck.

Hartford, Sept. 14.—When fifty thousand boys and girls are turned loose on a thousand acres of land to farm, something is bound to happen. What happened in Connecticut was that the Junior Food Army proved themselves a success. And anyone can see this for himself, who goes to the Berlin Fair which opens September 24.

The Junior Food Army in Connecticut has cared for 450 acres of corn, 200 acres of potatoes, and 300 acres of truck garden. In addition to increasing the farm crops, they have kept the food production pledge by raising 2000 pigs, 500 sheep and calves, and over 25,000 chickens through the pig, sheep and poultry clubs. It is computed that the production of all classes of farm crops has been twice as much per acre as the cost materially less per acre than by the grower and shipper.

Junior Food Army. The visible proof that this program is deserved by the young people of Connecticut will be seen at the Berlin Fair September 24 to 28. The Junior Food Army will have a big exhibit of their work under Mrs. Samuel Russell, Jr., of Hartford, who is chairman of the Junior Food Army Committee of the Connecticut State Council of Defense. The products competing for the $1,000 in premiums offered by the Connecticut State Agricultural Society will be seen at the Berlin Fair.

The food production and conservation section of the government war exhibit will also prove of great interest to everyone at this time when food is a vital national question. Not only will the Food Administration and Department of Agriculture run exhibits, but unusual examples of food conservation be figured. The utilization of edible but unfamiliar deep seas products such as whale, shark, sablesfish, drums, and skates will be sampled. The tanned skins of aquatic animals used for leather in the present emergency will be exhibited. The work of the weather bureau, in forecasting storms and floods and thus protecting agriculture, and the efforts of other bureaus whose work is not usually connected with agricultural efficiency in the public mind will be of interest. Moving pictures of America's win-the-war food production will be shown every day at the war exhibit.

MET HIS OWN MULE.

Kansas City, Sept. 14.—To nearly every U. S. fighter in France "Tobe" is just an onery ol' Missouri mule. But this doesn't apply to Private Victor Irmingier of the Marines, formerly a farmer near Avondale, Mo.

Irmingier was basking in the sun near an old stone wall in the war zone during a rest hour. His near slumber was disturbed by the terrible bray emanating from a noisy specimen of his home state's livestock.

There could be no mistake. Irmingier hurried to the other side of the wall and there discovered old Tobe to whom he had said goodbye back on the farm.

After Irmingier's enlistment an army mule buyer spied Tobe and inducted him into military service. The story of how the Marine and the mule discovered themselves both engaged in the business of beating the Hun was set forth in a letter from Irmingier to his relatives in Avondale.

Liquor Men Know That Prohibition Prohibits!

Liquor men have been saying rather persistently that while it may be possible to vote out the saloon, it is impossible to keep out booze.

But we may set it down for a fact that the wettest "dry" state is drier than the driest "wet" state.

If liquor is sold against the law in any community, or in any state, the liquor men are responsible for it and they should be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

The amazing thing is that they have the boldness to boast of their lawlessness and with unashamed faces to declare that no matter what the people say, they will continue to sell liquor.

But does prohibition work in practice?

If prohibition is not effective, then why is it that the liquor men are fighting it so strenuously, making every sacrifice in order to keep prohibition out of their cities and states and out of the constitutional law?

Why do they spend immense sums of money to oppose the prohibitionists—if it does not affect their business, very materially?

Why is it that liquor men are rapidly changing their plans so that instead of producing "shoots and booze," they are turning out boots and shoes?

If prohibition isn't effective why does every liquor journal devote most of its space to a discussion of the "menace of prohibition?"

IT'S BECAUSE THE LIQUOR MEN KNOW THAT PROHIBITION PROHIBITS.

MORE POLITICS.

The next real live political scrap in Manchester is scheduled for the fourth of October. That comes on Friday evening just before the annual town election. At this meeting the Republicans will name four delegates from this town to attend the Fourth Senatorial convention at which a candidate will be named for the Senate. In every town in the district the meeting for this purpose will be held on the same night. But the voters of the district have their eyes on Manchester. Here is where the fight will be settled as both candidates are from this town. Judge

Arnott and Selectman A. E. Bowers are the two rival candidates. It goes without saying that the man who is the representative of his own town will get the nomination in the district.

ABOUT TOWN

TONIGHT IN MANCHESTER. Seger, Swedish Benevolent Society Orange hall. Park Theater, "Marked Cards." Circle Theater, "The Soap Girl."

Lighting Up Time. Auto lamps should be lighted to-night at 7:34 o'clock. The sun rose at 5:29 a. m. The sun sets at 6:04 p. m.

George Griggs of the south end who has been suffering from blood poisoning in the hand has about recovered.

The Rockville fair takes place next week commencing on Tuesday. Wednesday of course will be the great day of the fair.

G. H. Waddell, clerk of the board of selectmen, is in New York on business for the town. He expects to remain in the big city over Sunday.

It was almost cool enough for a frost last night and early this morning. However, there was not frost enough in the low places to do any harm. The tobacco men continue to hustle in getting in the crop.

Tomorrow will be the third gasless Sunday. The lack of automobiles on the highways reminds people of the days before the introduction of the automobile. The greatest noise make on these gasless Sundays is the crowing rooster.

You'll wish you had made an entry of vegetables or canned goods when you see the exhibition of these products at Cheney hall next week. Don't say then that you have better at home. Just select the best from your garden or storeroom, fill out an entry blank and have your's on exhibition.

CHINAMAN PUZZLED.

Birch Street Laundryman Don't Know How Old He Is.

Ung Lung Yem, the Birch street laundryman, is in a quandary as to his age. He did not register Thursday, because he did not know whether he was 45 or 49 years old. He sought help from Postmaster Thomas J. Quish and the latter is endeavoring to straighten things out for the Chinaman. Ung has only some discharge papers to go by. These were received in 1894 from the U. S. Commissioner at St. Albans, Vt., when he was discharged after being accused of entering the country illegally. He believes his age is recorded there and Postmaster Quish sent a telegram to St. Albans, asking for the information. Last night, a return telegram was received, instructing Postmaster Quish to inquire at Rutland, Vt. Accordingly a telegram was sent to Rutland and Postmaster Quish is now waiting for a reply.

TO CLOSE SALESROOM.

O'Leary's bakery salesroom will be closed Sundays after tomorrow and will be open only on Tuesday and Saturday evenings. Mr. O'Leary has also decided to close his soda fountain and will remove it, using the space occupied by the fountain for a refrigerator delicatessen case which he intends to install in a few weeks. He believes there is a demand in town for a place where prepared foods can be purchased and that this branch can be carried on to advantage in connection with his bakery business. This department will not be ready, however, for several weeks.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE.

Balch & Brown, the north end druggists, had a few little readers distributed on the different pages of The Evening Herald for the past three days. The readers advertised leather cases to hold registration cards. That was all the advertising done by the firm.

From the time the paper was on the street and the rush has continued ever since, men have been buying these cases.

"This was the most wonderful answer to a little advertisement in my experience," said Edward Murphy, in charge of the store.

Canada's total trade for the first four months of 1918 suffered a loss of $198,812,079 over the corresponding period last year the figures being $782,748,065 and $901,560,144, respectively.—Ex.

NEW DRAFT INFORMATION FROM THE LOCAL BOARD

Questionnaires to be Sent Out Next Week—George Waddell Rejected—Our Chinaman Sent Back.

The questionnaires for the men who registered on Thursday have not yet arrived at the headquarters of our Selective Service board but they will be ready on time to be sent out next week. Meanwhile forty school teachers who volunteered for the work are busy at Wells' hall in East Hartford making duplicate sets of cards in readiness for the arrival of the questionnaires.

In an interview this morning with E. L. G. Hohenthal, head of the local draft board, The Evening Herald is able to give out all the latest news of interest to selectives.

As to new rulings concerning the student army, of so much interest to young high school graduates who intend entering college this year, Mr. Hohenthal says he has no official information. The boys must register just the same as anybody else and when their cases come up for decision it will be decided whether they may go to college or be sent into camp.

As to the number of men in this district who have yet to be called, it is announced that we have about 100 left. They will be sent before the end of this month or the first part of October with men chosen from those who registered Thursday as this time the work will be speeded up considerably and little time will elapse from the time a man is judged physically fit and the time he is sent to camp. In this connection it might be well to state that those farmers in this district whose induction was delayed so that they might harvest their crops, will have to go to camp in the next call.

George I. Dawson, a limited service man, was sent to Washington today and Daniel J. McCarthy, who registered on June 5, this year, also a limited service man, will also be sent to camp soon.

Our district board now has a soldier clerk, Charles H. Knoll. In the future the district boards will have clerks sent from the army.

A rather strange mode of procedure was followed last week when our men were sent to Camp Upton. Limited service men were taken as full service men after the local board had decided they were fit for the limited service. Why this was done is not known here.

Our patriotic Chinaman, who was sent to Camp Devens, was turned down by the doctors there and placed in the limited service class.

George H. Waddell, Manchester's town treasurer, has been turned down for service after a physical examination. This was an interesting case. The local board after looking up the law, decided that Waddell was exempt because of his office. The higher court overruled this and Waddell was asked to make an appeal. This he refused to do. He said that he wanted to take his chance with the next man, so he was passed over to the medical board which decided that he was physically disqualified for any service.

Louis Bunce and Henry Cowles, who asked to be placed in the deferred class, have had their request denied.

James W. Stevenson, employed by Cheney Brothers, was denied an application for deferred classification. He is a limited service man. Because of the illness of a superintendent at the mills, Stevenson was in charge and on this ground the application was made.

Mr. Hohenthal wants to emphasize this for those who registered or Thursday. When you get your questionnaire don't try to fill it out yourself. Go to the legal advisory board. A circular will be found with your questionnaire which will tell you where you can meet these advisors and when. Keep your registration cards with you. There is no excuse this time. If found without your blue card you may be sent to prison.

NURSES STILL NEEDED.

Washington, Sept. 14.—Emphatic denial that the American army has all the nurses it needs was made today by Brigadier General Charles Richard, acting Surgeon General.

Although the American Red Cross, the nurse reserve of the army, reports a total enrollment of more than 27,000 nurses, this does not represent the number of women available for active service. A total of 25,000 nurses must be obtained before the first of the year, General Richard declared.

The evil the army Medical Department fears is that nurses, believing that no longer there is urgent need for them, will cease enrolling.

McGOWAN A DEMOSTHENES IN LOCAL POLICE COURT

Sawed the Air With Gestures and Harrangued Officials Explaining His Side of Case.

John H. McGowan of North Main street was arrested by Officer Glenney last night upon the complaint of his wife and in court this morning he was found guilty of intoxication and breach of the peace.

McGowan has a wife and six children. Some of the children are grown up. He is employed in the shipyards at New London and according to his own statement in court he makes about $8 a day. He comes home occasionally and his wife told the judge that he came home drunk about every time.

Last night he came home drunker than ever. He kicked up a row with the family and struck his wife. She telephoned for Officer Glenney and when he got there McGowan had somewhat cooled down. The officer gave him to understand that if he continued to make trouble he would take him to the lock-up. After the officer had left the place McGowan started in to lick the family because they had sent for the policeman and once more the officer was sent for. This time the policeman did not waste any time on the man but took him in charge.

McGowan did not have a lawyer to represent him in court. The truth is that he did not need one. He certainly had the gift of gab and the language of the street. It was almost impossible for the court officials to refrain from laughing while he was telling his side of the story. He is somewhat of an orator and while he used his tongue well, he also used his arms in gesticulating.

The prosecutor reminded him that the judge was not deaf. Two tall-tale bottles, a half pint of gin and a half pint of whiskey on the desk which he said he bought in Williamantic was the cause of the row at home. He also had a revolver that was out of commission and with this he threatened to shoot his wife.

The judge imposed a fine of $5 on each count with the costs of the court and McGowan paid $15 on account and said that he would go back to New London at once.

VISITED BROWN 'U'.

Walter Hibbard of North Main street has returned from a trip to Providence, R. I. Hibbard is a prospective freshman in Brown University in Providence and he made the trip to get acquainted with his habitat for the next year. He was much impressed with the college. Two other local people will be freshmen at Brown this year. They are Miss Irene Crockett, S. M. H. S., '18 and Ernest McCormick, S. M. H. S., '17.

FRENCH BAND HERE.

The famous French Army band will play in Manchester Tuesday Sept. 17 at 11.30. The concert will be given in the Center Park. This afternoon a big committee was named by the War Bureau officials to take charge of the band. Alexis Tournaud is the chairman. The schools, mills and stores are asked to close for the hour that the band will be here.

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

The State Prohibitionists will formally announce their candidate for governor next Tuesday, Sept. 17 at a meeting which will be held in Hartford at the Olivet Baptist church. Capital avenue extension and Newton street. The candidate is Rev. Dr. John Newton Lackey. The nomination speech will be made by Truman J. Spencer, formerly of Manchester.

TRYON A SERGEANT.

H. Russell Tryon, who has been taking a Quartermaster Training Course at Camp Joseph E. Johnston, Florida, has been promoted from Corporal to Sergeant. Sergeant Tryon had the opportunity to go to Porto Rico as Q. M. Sergeant, but, as it meant for the duration of the war, he preferred to stay at Camp Johnston, with the possibility of soon getting over to France.

HIGH SCHOOL DANCE.

The Class of 1918 held a successful dance in the high school last night. A large crowd of the class members and invited friends were present. The Victor Orchestra furnished the music and dancing was enjoyed until 11:30. Many of the class members are going away within the next two weeks and this gave them their last "get together."
