ALLIES DRIVE FOE NEARER BORDER; SENATE AND PRESS AGAINST PEACE

GERMANY ACCEDES TO PEACE TERMS OF PRESIDENT WILSON

Official Reply Reaches White House Today—Chief Executive Conferring with Secretary Lansing and Colonel House on Response—Senate Considers Resolution, Rejecting Proposal—American, British and French Press Seems Unanimous against Acceptance

SENATE REJECTS IT; BRITISH OPPOSE IT
Washington, Oct. 14.—Rejection of the German proposal for an armistice was again demanded in the Senate today by both Republican and Democratic Senators.
Senator Thomas presented a resolution demanding the acceptance of all peace principles laid down by statements of Allies as well as those enunciated by President Wilson. The temper of the Senate was plainly for the adoption of such a resolution, but Thomas asked that it be referred to the Senate committee on foreign affairs for consideration. Senator Lodge said acceptance now would mean loss of the war.

OFFICIAL TEXT OF ENEMY'S REPLY
In reply to the questions of the President of the United States the German Government hereby declares:
The German Government has accepted the terms laid down by President Wilson in his address on January the eighth and in his subsequent addresses on the foundation of a permanent peace of justice. Consequently, its object in entering into discussions would be only to agree upon practical details of the application of these terms. The Britain Asks Guarantees.

Great Britain will not consider any suggestions for an armistice unless military and naval guarantees are given sufficient to prevent Germany from renewing the struggle. It was reported from a high source this afternoon.
Foreign Secretary A. J. Balfour conferred with Premier Lloyd-George today. Chancellor A. Bonar Law in his opening address at the convening of parliament tomorrow will avoid any statement on peace, pending developments.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Senator Ashurst, of Arizona, after a 15-minute conference with the President at the White House this afternoon, declared that the country may rest assured that the President will act in no way to weaken the military situation in Europe.
Washington, Oct. 14.—President Wilson began preparation of the reply of the United States to Germany's latest peace proposals at 11.30 today. For more than an hour before the chief executive, Secretary of State Robert Lansing, Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels and Colonel E. M. House, the president's unofficial adviser, discussed the situation brought about by Germany's apparent acceptance of America's peace plans.

It was understood that an agreement was reached as to the next move. The conference discussed the unofficial text as the official note was not delivered to Secretary Lansing until he had returned to the State department, at 11.55 p. m. However, Charge Frederick Oederlin, of the Swiss Legation, assured Secretary Lansing over the telephone that the official note in no way differed from the unofficial document.
Not the slightest intimation was forthcoming as to the position taken by the President. The Cabinet of Stork very frankly explained that only the President was in a position to speak in the matter. They said that any unofficial intimation or announcement might very seriously complicate a situation that was fraught with the most serious possibilities.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Secretary of State Lansing, Secretary of War Baker and Colonel E. M. House went into conference with President Wilson in the President's study in the White House at ten o'clock. It was generally understood that the German reply to the President's note was under discussion.

MANCHESTER'S HONOR ROLL

MANCHESTER PLANS GALA DAY, ITALIAN TROOPS AND PARADE

Great Demonstration Here Thursday—Battle Planes, Bands, and General Outpouring of Citizens—Liberty Bond Drive Jumps Forward With a Whoop—"Unconditional Surrender Club" Formed Here

At a special meeting of Liberty Bond committee workers today, plans were completed for a rousing demonstration in Manchester on Thursday. According to present plans it will be a day of thrills for the population, and a big percentage of the town will undoubtedly turn out.
Among the spectacular features will be the official visit of upwards of one hundred soldiers who have become the pride of all Italy because of their heroic fighting against the Austrians in the famous engagements in the Alps and at Piave river. The visiting heroes were attached to powerful corps of the Italian army, the Bersagliere corps, the Alpine corps, and the Granatiere corps. They correspond to the "Blue Devils" of the French army in valor and achievement. The demonstration Thursday will be in connection with the town's part in the Fighting Fourth Liberty Loan.

Big Parade Probable.
While the details have not all been worked out at this writing, it is probable that there will be a monster parade and gala day in general as a patriotic demonstration on the part of the town in honor of its distinguished guests.
An attendance similar to the concert which greeted the famous French band last month at its visit at the Center park is anticipated.

Battleplanes Same Day.
Another feature of the program for Thursday will be the visit of four battleplanes which are to set out from the field at Mineola, L. I., on that day in the interests of the Liberty Loan campaign. This will be the first exhibition of importance in which Manchester citizens will have the opportunity of seeing battleplanes close at hand, and an immense crowd is sure to turn out for the occasion.
Canvass at Cheney Mills. This town has already subscribed heavily for Liberty Bonds and the community is making strenuous efforts to go well beyond the million mark. There is a spirited canvass in progress in the Cheney silk mills at the present time. Every man in the factory plant will be canvassed. There is the keenest competition among the various departments, and the result of each day's canvass is recorded on a mammoth bulletin board on Forest street, between the mills. Every employee's name appears upon a card, with notations as to his bond subscription.

The house-to-house canvass was this place, and now that the Cheney mills canvass, the canvass in all the other factories in town, and the patriotic demonstration for Thursday are all progressing favorably, there is every indication of a whirlwind finish for Manchester in the Fighting Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

Putting Mill Canvass Over.
An excellent organization is doing most effective work in the matter of putting the canvass across at the Cheney Brothers mills. When it is remembered that the payroll includes upwards of 5,000 names, it will be seen that a thorough canvass of the plant is no easy task.
The workers have organized with a live, energetic captain in every department. Each captain has authority to choose his own workers, and is of course responsible for the success of the canvass in his department. Each day the departments are marked according to their percentages, and the figures are the exact measure of the patriotism of that particular department. As a result, each department, feeling that it is as patriotic as the next one, is taking the attitude: "Beat us, will they? Well, I guess we'll show 'em whether they will or not."

BRITISH CLOSING IN ON DOUAI; PUSH UP NEARER VALENCIENNES

Turkey is Asking For Peace; Luxembourg For Protection

Washington, Oct. 14.—Turkey through the Spanish ambassador, has asked President Wilson to use his efforts to restore peace between it and the Entente allies. The note was delivered to Secretary Lansing at noon today by the Spanish ambassador. It is brief and stated that Turkey accepts as a basis for peace the program laid down by the President in his address to Congress on January 8 and his subsequent declarations on the subject.
The Turkish appeal is for a general peace conference and was delivered by the Charge d'affaires of Turkey in Madrid to the Spanish minister of foreign affairs. The latter transmitted it to Ambassador Riano in this city and the latter today delivered it to the Secretary of State.

Luxembourg's Appeal.
Amsterdam, Oct. 14.—Luxembourg has appealed to President Wilson to protect its national rights and demands the evacuation of its territory by Germany, said a dispatch received here today.
Luxembourg is an independent Grand Duchy on the western frontier of Germany. It was over-run at the same time as Belgium.

LAON-LA FERRE SALIENT SMASHED

French Victory Makes German Stand behind Oise River Almost Impossible—6,500 Civilians Freed in German Base—Nish, Former Serb Capital, Taken—Official Reports

Spectacular Allied victories on both the western and Balkan battle fronts marked the opening of the new week.
Following the capture of Laon and La Ferre by the French, the British have advanced north and south of Douai in their "pocketing" movement and it is believed they are in the outskirts of this great German base and that the fall of the city will come within 36 hours.

Two Salients Crushed.
Two German salients have been crushed by these victories on the Western front. The French made a remarkable advance 12 miles east of Laon, reaching Camp De Sissonnes, the southern boundary of which is more than six miles north of the Aisne river.
The smashing of the Laon-La Ferre salient by the French makes it impossible for the Germans to make a stand behind the Oise river, as they had evidently planned to do.

British near Valenciennes.
On the front northeast and east of Cambrai, the Germans made tremendous efforts on Sunday to hold up the British advance towards Valenciennes. All were unsuccessful. After violent bombardment the Germans attacked around Hesperes, but were completely repulsed.
(Hesperes is only five miles from the Valenciennes-Metz railway, one of the chief arteries of communication behind the German lines.)
The Americans are meeting with stubborn resistance on both sides of the Meuse river, but their progress in this zone will be materially assisted by the French gains further west.

French Still Gain.
Since the Franco-American offensive began in the Champagne district the French have advanced a maximum of 20 miles, reaching Blancy on the Aisne northeast of Rheims.
According to late reports the French are approaching Rothal, an important German concentration point on the north bank of the Aisne river east of Blancy.
(Numerous roads converge at Rothal and it lies on the Mosieres railway. It is a position of vast strategic importance.)

Turkey Cut Off.
Turkey has now been cut off from her German allies in Europe. The Serbians have captured Nish, the former capital of Serbia, severing the Orient railway, the only direct line of communication between Constantinople and the Central empire.

1,000 BELIEVED DEAD IN FIRES IN WISCONSIN AND MINNESOTA

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 14.—The forest fires which have taken a death toll in northern Minnesota and Wisconsin estimated at over 1,000 persons and rendered homeless 40,000 people, of which 15,000 are completely destitute, are abating today and being controlled.
In the Moose Lake district alone fatalities are estimated at 400, while in other devastated sections figures bring the total to more than 1,000. Property loss is roughly placed at $100,000,000.

Nearly 200 bodies have already been brought to this city, which has been the objective of thousands of fleeing refugees. Rescue parties and companies of home guards, fighting the flames, report that charred bodies are strewn along the roads leading through the devastated region.
14 Towns Destroyed.
The ruin in the wake of the five distinct fires which were raging in the two states includes the total destruction of 14 towns, among them Clouquet, Brookston, Brevator, Gorina, Adolph, Thompson, Arnold, Moose Lake, Kettle River, Twig and Rice Lake. In the ashes of these towns many bodies have been reported found.
The area burned by flames is estimated at 80 by 100 miles and through this region Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow of St. Paul, in charge of rescue and relief work, has ordered motor truck companies to search for bodies. The general has also ordered hundreds of coffins shipped to Moose Lake, from which point he is directing operations.

Duluth Refuge Point.
Duluth is the refuge today of thousands of homeless persons. Hundreds came during the night by trains and automobiles, while hundreds of others, forced to abandon their autos and wagons on the road, came into the city on foot. Most of the refugees are women and children.
Duluth itself is believed safe from destruction, although several buildings were destroyed. Property in the vicinity is placed at many hundred thousands of dollars. The wind which was driving the fire toward the city has died down and the fire is under control. Superior is also reported out of danger. The shipyards of this city were earlier threatened.

Details of the horrors accompanying the hurricane-like flames which drove thousands from their homes are told by the refugees. Stories of women throwing themselves into lakes and rivers en route to escape the fire are related. Many of those who escape are seeking other members of their families from whom they became separated in the confusion.

NEW ENGLAND TO HUSTLE TO GET ITS LOAN QUOTA

Six Remaining Days Until End of Drive—Officials Urge Workers to Redouble Efforts.

Boston, Oct. 14.—A showing of only $17,044,000 was reported today for the thirteenth day of the "Fighting Fourth" Liberty loan from the New England federal reserve bank. Today's total was more than two and one-half million dollars, less than the $19,695,000 of the previous day. New England loan officials were surprised at the showing made by the district on Saturday "Liberty Day."
New England has raised but $286,300,000 of its $500,000,000 quota—and its time is more than two-thirds gone.
Unprecedented effort and a tremendous response must be forthcoming if New England is to raise the remaining $213,700,000 in the six remaining days before October 19 when the drive ends.

New York, Oct. 14.—The second federal reserve district, which includes Greater New York, swung into the last week of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign today with a total of $469,220,450 in subscriptions up to ten o'clock this morning. This represented a gain of $86,946,300 over Saturday's final figures announced at Liberty Loan headquarters.

STAMFORD BARS ALL PUBLIC GATHERINGS
Stamford, Conn., Oct. 14.—The city health board today ordered sessions of public and private schools discontinued, prohibited church services and church meetings, public funerals of influenza or pneumonia victims, visits by sick committees of lodges, boy scout meetings and all other public assemblies and ordered all theaters closed as a precaution against the spread of Spanish influenza.

GERMANY ACCEDES TO PEACE TERMS

An appointment was made for Frederic Oedrelin, the Swiss Charge, to deliver the official text of the note to the State Department at 11:15 to-day.

London, Oct. 14.—The British press regards the German answer to President Wilson's peace note with deep suspicion.

"The whole German note is bogus," said the Daily Mail today. "The Germans have not yet set their house in order. They have not yet beheaded their king, as the English did in 1649 and the French in 1793. An armistice would cheat the Allies of their present military supremacy. There is no need for a mixed commission for Germany to evacuate; only an order from the Kaiser is required."

The Post took the attitude that the German note was designed to create discord among the Allies.

Italian Premier Objects

Rome, Oct. 14.—"We must not allow the beaten enemy to slich from us the victory we have gained at the cost of so much blood," declared Premier Orlando in discussing Germany's reply to President Wilson's peace note.

The premier added that adequate guarantees are necessary from Germany.

Austrian Press Suspicious

London, Oct. 14.—Austrian newspapers accuse Germany of trying to save herself at the expense of her allies in making peace overtures to America, said a Geneva dispatch to the Daily Express today. In view of this situation, the Austrian papers point out, Austria-Hungary and Turkey are justified in seeking a separate peace through America.

DR. JOSEPHINE KABLE HEAD OF EMERGENCY HOSPITAL

Physician from Roxbury, Mass., to Take Charge Days—Pomfret Nurse in Charge Nights.

Manchester's Emergency Hospital has now five graduate nurses, a dietitian and a night and day superintendent. Besides, the day superintendent is a woman physician.

Today Dr. Josephine Kable of the New England Women's Hospital of Roxbury, Mass., and Miss Margaret McKenna of the Pomfret hospital arrived in town. The first named will be day superintendent and the last named, night superintendent.

A new nurse has been added to the staff at the hospital. She is Miss Moran, the school nurse of the Ninth school district. Also Miss Caroline Hunt, domestic science teacher in the Ninth district is now the hospital dietitian.

Two new orderlies also volunteered and Joseph Ferguson.

Again the officials of the Red Cross Chapter here urge local women to keep up the work at the Red Cross rooms. It seems that because of the epidemic the women have deserted the rooms and given up much of the work just when it is needed most.

There is generous praise given to Miss Marion Tinker by the Red Cross officials. Miss Tinker is visiting the homes of the sick and taking care of the families. This is considered the hardest job of all and Miss Tinker is working from early morning until late at night.

TROLLEYS COLLIDE

Slippery rails cause smashup at Love Lane—Conductor Injured. Slippery rails caused a smashup on the trolley lines and a delay in traffic this morning. Joseph Robb, a conductor was bruised about the legs and body and was taken to his home. He was not seriously injured. One car had smashed fender and the other had its vestibule caved in.

A Hartford car was trying to stop for passengers at the Love Lane junction. Behind it another car was coming from Manchester. The motorman of the second car put on the brakes but the leaves on the rails caused the wheels to slide and the car crashed together.

HAS PRINCE-MAX RESIGNED, ALSO?

Resignation Near, Authorities in Holland Report—Possible Successors

TWO MENTIONED

Another Rumor Says Kaiser Contemplates Abdicating in Favor of Crown Prince's Eldest Son.

London, Oct. 14.—It was reported in authoritative circles in Holland today that the resignation of Prince Max of Baden, the German Chancellor, is imminent, said a Rotterdam dispatch to the Telegraph today.

Philip Scheidemann, the majority Socialist leader, and Foreign Secretary Solff were spoken as possible successors to Prince Max.

The Kaiser, said the same dispatch, is suffering from fits of mental depression verging on disorder. It was reported that he contemplates abdicating in favor of his grandson.

Prince Maximilian of Baden succeeded Count von Hertling as German chancellor on October 3. On the following Saturday he addressed the Reichstag and made overtures for an armistice, addressing his note to the United States.

If Dr. Scheidemann or Secretary Solff were selected to succeed Prince Max the move would evidently be intended by Germany to show that the government is swinging more and more towards democracy. This would be in line with the action of Prince Max in eliminating the word "Imperial" in characterizing the German government in his note of Friday.

Scheidemann was recently taken into the German cabinet as minister without portfolio. Secretary Solff has political leanings so broad that they are said to verge on Socialism.

The grandson referred to in the Rotterdam cable is evidently Prince William, the eldest son of the Crown Prince.

THE FIRST PLUNGE

While Germany's reply to the President falls far from being a satisfactory rejoinder and cannot of itself be taken as a signal for the end of hostilities, it is an important step in the direction of the surrender which is bound to come eventually. Up to this time all utterances have issued from the "Imperial German Government" and have been framed in terms of arrogance. Now for the first time the "Imperial" is left out and the Kaiser and his god are not mentioned. On the contrary there is seemingly a humble compliance with the peace terms laid down by President Wilson.

It is natural that with the recollection of Germany's many acts of duplicity and treachery this sudden change of front should be viewed with suspicion and its acceptance held in abeyance until proofs of its sincerity and genuineness are forthcoming. We have reason to believe that this period will be brief. Germany with her foes closing in on her territory from all sides and with her resources rapidly approaching exhaustion has taken the first plunge into the chilling waters of humility. This done, the rest of the surrender will be easier. The step has weakened Germany's morale and has strengthened that of the Allies.

We all feel that Germany should be punished for its barbarities, and not a few would be glad to see the punishment of the same kind that she has inflicted upon their own. But this is a better way than the destruction of German property and German lives. Heavy re-compense is due Belgium, France and the rest of the Allies for the loss which Germany has forced upon them. To pay this loss Germany must live and must retain the facilities for earning the money and performing the services due her creditors.

Until we have further assurances of Germany's complete submission and readiness to make all the reparation within its power we must wage the war with ever increasing vigor.

GERMANY'S PEACE

Germany's answer to the President, the unofficial text of which was published yesterday, goes as far as a proud government not surrendering unconditionally and immediately might be expected to go. The note appears on its face to declare Germany's submission and acceptance of Mr. Wilson's 14 propositions.

There are two difficulties, however, in the way of agreement and consideration of peace. The first springs from the authority of those who make the offer; the second lies in the question of the right of an enemy, still occupying French and Belgian and Italian territory, to negotiate. "A mixed commission for making the necessary arrangements concerning the evacuation," whose appointment is asked, is an impertinence. As if evacuation, especially of belligerents' soil, were to be made a matter for negotiation!

Prince Max of Baden is the creature of the Kaiser, whether the majority of the Reichstag favor the terms as outlined or not. The Kaiser is beginning to be swayed in some degree now by the fear of a possible revolt and also by the fear of being deprived by his victorious opponents of his throne. But there is no real public opinion in Germany and the Reichstag is far even from being representative, without going into the question of its power, which is moral chiefly. Consequently, it is impossible even to ascertain what "the German people" want, except that they do want peace.

There is no mention of the terms being the Kaiser's, as well as those of "the German Government and of the German people." The Kaiser, who possesses the real power and is the maker of the government and can be the unmaker of the Reichstag, is completely out of the picture. But he remains the deus ex machina, nevertheless. The absence is conspicuous and one thinks of the "save the dynasty" which a prominent German statesman, faithful to the Hohenzollerns, urged.

The German government may "declare itself ready" to comply with the President's propositions regarding evacuation, but the best evidence of its readiness is evacuation itself, of France, Belgium, Italy and the stolen Russian provinces (not to mention Serbia and Roumania). There is nothing to discuss, so far as a complete return to the previous territorial status quo, the least Germany can do, is concerned. If Germany is "ready" to accept the President's propositions, it is ready also to right the wrong done to France in 1871, as the President asks, which naturally would mean evacuation also of Alsace and Lorraine. France will demand nothing less than that, and not as part of the present negotiations, either.

"No discussion without previous evacuation" must be insisted upon, whether complete surrender is demanded or not.

U. S. "RECONSTRUCTION." The expected fight between the administration and the public service interests under war control seems about to begin. "Reconstruction" is the name given to the return or partial return of industry to a peace status, and two resolutions are pending in the Senate, providing for reconstruction appointees. Senator Weeks would have Congress appoint a bi-partisan committee, composed equally of "Democrats" and "Republicans." Senator Overman would have a commission, to be appointed by the President.

The railroads, presumably the telephone and telegraph system of the country, the government ship yards and mercantile marine, etc., etc., are especially in question. To what extent the Food and Fuel administrations are concerned, if at all, is uncertain still. Meanwhile Chairman Bernard Baruch of the War Industries board is going ahead with his investigation of cotton prices.

One thing seems certain, namely that the nation's rank and file of citizenship will not countenance any considerable loosening of the government's control over producers or manufacturers of the prime necessities. To break up the Food and Fuel administrations utterly; to abolish the power of price control of cotton, wool, leather and grain; various building materials would be criminally retrogressive and reactionary. This question of the cost of living is one, as we have repeatedly pointed out, that concerns every large or small employer of labor, and corporations will not go on paying premiums to manipulators of the necessities in the shape of higher wages to help. The thing has gone too far already.

The cost of living must determine the government's policy toward the railroads and every other public service facility under war time regulation. We are glad to see The Sun, of New York, coming out boldly for lower cotton prices and cheaper pork. It is said editorially yesterday: "Taking dollar corn as one unit of value to be considered, hogs should sell to the packers, experts say, for ten cents a pound. Response to the market formula is not prompt, however. In Chicago recently, with corn selling below $1.15 a bushel, there was a 'keen demand' in the market for hogs at from $18.10 to $18.60 instead of $11.50 a hundred pounds."

Elsewhere The Sun showed that the price of cotton per pound has more than trebled in the last four years and more than doubled in the last two, while the average annual production of the last four years has dropped from the average of the previous four years by 3,739,750 bales. The production of 1918, partly estimated, is in fact lower than in any year of the last eight years except 1917 and less than 200,000 bales more than in 1917.

We believe agriculture in every one of its branches is the most truly creative, the most laborious on the average and the most essential industry there is. Next to it comes manufacturing, for the operation of mines and oil wells is not in itself creative at all, but the reverse. But industries should receive proportionate rewards, so far as the cost of living of the mass of the nation will permit.

LIQUOR LICENSES. It is doubtful whether all the saloon men in Manchester who had licenses a year ago will apply for them this fall. It will be necessary for those who take out licenses this year to pay the full year's fee of $750 although the government order now provides that the sale of liquor throughout the country must cease the first of next July until after the war and during demobilization. The law in this state provides for no refund if for any reason the license does not continue in business throughout the entire year. The fact that beer is soon to be eliminated from the list of beverages, and the high prices already prevailing for spirituous liquors will have an important bearing on the volume of trade which a saloon keeper may expect during the eight months he will be permitted to sell. Then too the absence from town of hundreds of men who have been more or less frequenters of bar rooms will have to be reckoned with.

In view of all these conditions we should not be surprised if the number of license applications in Manchester this year were reduced fifty per cent. County commissioners throughout the state are anticipating a large reduction in revenue from liquor licenses.

It has not been proved that the town is "wet" or "dry." As this paper's report of the election declared, 226 voters did not vote on the license question at all, evidently because they didn't know how to operate the voting machines. We can't believe the sale of whiskey, or even beer, will be what it once was.

The Evening Herald will be as glad as any industry in town to see an end of Spanish influenza. A crippled mechanical department has resulted in typographical errors that practically were unavoidable. These columns, of course, have suffered their share of the mistakes.

The sympathy of every man in Manchester with a spark of public spirit will go out to George H. Miller of Cheney Brothers, who has been so active in giving of his time and thought and labor to the town.

Hartford's Liberty loan subscriptions still mount. The city is proving itself worthy of its position as the capital.

COLLEGE "FRATS" SUSPEND OPERATIONS OWING TO WAR

Cleveland, Oct. 14.—Fraternal life at colleges in Cleveland, as it existed prior to the war, is virtually a thing of the past, and will remain practically at a standstill for the duration of the war, according to officers of the Western Reserve University and Case School of Applied Science here. As a result of the establishment of student army units at the schools, 21 fraternities at the two schools will either greatly curtail or entirely suspend activities for the duration of the war.

This situation is brought about by the establishing of barracks at the schools, with the governmental requirement that students live at the barracks, thereby taking away the source of income of the Greek letter societies. The military life of the students, it was pointed out, will leave very little time for social activities at the chapter houses, also.

STAD OLD EVANSTON NOW HAS SUNDAY MOVIE SHOWS

Evanston, Oct. 14.—Down where the coals are hottest, his Satanic Majesty chortles and chuckles with glee, for a mighty stronghold has fallen before the onslaught of his hosts.

Evanston—Evanston the demure, the devout, the heretofore nearly divine—has fallen. Seeing the profits accruing to the pockets of wicked (Chicago movie owners, partly because Evanston has kept the Sabbath movieless, a city ordinance has been passed permitting the films to flicker seven days in the week. No wonder down where the coals are hottest Satan chortles with glee.

ATLAS STRONG FINISH.

The Atlas baseball team put the finishing touch on its baseball season in fine order yesterday, defeating the Cubs at the Adams street field, 7-1. "Johnnie" Wallett's twirling was of high order for the Atlas. Orr of the Cubs featured with two of their four hits. Robb batted well for the Atlas. Next Sunday the Atlas will meet the well known Crimsons A. C. football eleven at the Four Acre. The Atlas will practice tonight at the Main street field and all members are requested to be there. Yesterday's score: Atlas 102 010 300—7 7 0 Cubs 000 000 010—1 4 2 Batteries: Atlas, Wallett and Stowe; Cubs, Kornae and Orr.

MARRIED TO DODGE BILL.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Nick Becker made a mistake. Some time ago he owed his landlady a $9 bill for board and room. He didn't like to pay it. So he married her to avoid judgment. He did. She told a judge here he refused to support her. Now he's in the Bridewell.

The easiest way for a German to obtain a cessation of hostilities from Foch is to be taken prisoner.—New York Sun.

APPEAL TO THE GERMAN PEOPLE.

By Franz Sigel. Son of the German Revolutionist. Bulgaria's surrender breaks the line of the Central Powers and converts our unshakable faith in final victory for democracy into a certainty of its early attainment.

At this fateful moment in the history of the German people, I, as an American citizen of German race, feel impelled to raise my voice and appeal to the democratic and liberty-loving elements of the German people to make a determined effort to rid themselves of the rulers who have enslaved them, and who are tormenting the rest of the world.

The masses in Germany should listen eagerly to a voice which comes from among the ranks of German-Americans. In the past we have defended what was good in the German people at the risk of our reputation for loyalty to our own Republic, the United States of America.

We could take this risk because by word and deed we have been faithful to the ideals of the American people. We have always felt sure that the love of liberty and justice has not died out of the hearts of Germans and that when the time comes we can rely upon this sentiment in their breasts to exert itself. While particularly condemning the Hohenzollerns as the authors of the world crime we did not lose faith in the men of German blood nor did our President, however much the Junker newspapers and statesmen have misrepresented him.

We know that the Junker leaders and press have persistently described President Wilson as a hypocrite. That false cry has totally deceived many Germans. Is it not time they should open their ears to better and wiser councils? Many of them know in their hearts that President Wilson has an irreproachable record in the annals of democracy. He is our voice, the voice of the common people of our Republic, including those of German extraction.

Our people desire a just and democratic peace, not a compromise with Prussian militarism. If the German people will listen to our President they will be listening to us, if they trust him, they will be trusting us. We do not desire the annihilation of Germany. What we do desire is that the German masses shall take political power into their own hands and establish a government which shall be responsible only to themselves. Only with such a German government can the United States deal, and thus pave the way for an early, honorable and lasting peace.

If the German do not wish to meet the fate of an utterly defeated and discredited people, this is the time for them to awake and seize the opportunity given to them. This is the critical hour of German liberty. The Hohenzollerns and Hapsburgs must pass into history; they and their Junkers must have no part in the free Germany of the future. The days following 1815 and 1848, days of promises unfulfilled and hopes of popular free government killed and crushed under the heel of militarism and Kaiserism must not be repeated.

In appealing to the German people, we German-Americans act from motives of self-interest as well as out of sympathy for our racial brothers, for if the German government remains autocratic, militarism and compulsion will endanger free institutions throughout the world. The moment the common people rise and seize the reins of government, they will have laid a secure foundation for peace and rehabilitation of their own honor and good name.

WAR PROFITEER BRAGGED ABOUT PROFITS AND GOT RINGING SLAP IN FACE.

Savannah, Ga.—Profiteering and bragging about it received a setback on a train from Jacksonville to Savannah recently when a prosperous, well-dressed diamond-bedecked man said loudly to his seatmate: "I hope the war lasts three years longer. I am making more money than I ever made before in my life. This war is my meat."

A woman sitting in the next seat arose, walked to the man's seat and slapped his face with as much force as she could muster.

"That is for my boy that was killed in France."

Before he could recover from his astonishment she had landed a similar smack on the other side of his countenance.

"That is for my other son who is in France fighting the Huns. I just want you to know what I think of you and your kind," she remarked as she walked back to her seat.

WINTER YOUR BEES OUTDOORS.

Last winter seventy-five per cent. of the bees in New England, New York and Pennsylvania were killed. This is obviously a tremendous loss to an important food producing industry, and, according to Lloyd R. Watson of the state college at Storrs, such losses can be almost wholly avoided by proper and effectual methods of winter management. Prof. Watson concedes that successful wintering constitutes one of the beekeeper's chief problems, but he maintains that simple and well established principles enable the apiarist to carry his bees thru from the close of one honey season to the beginning of the next.

In cold weather the inmates of the hive form themselves into a more or less compact, spherical cluster, the temperature of the interior of which normally ranges from forty-nine to fifty-seven degrees. Between these two temperatures the bees are very quiet, they consume very little honey, and they are in a semidormant condition. When the temperature falls below forty-nine, the bees eat more honey, the digestion of which raises the temperature again, but in so doing their intestines become filled with feces. This makes the bees restless, they move about, break up the cluster and after a time they may develop dysentery and die. Hives in which bees have died from this malady are always spotted and stained inside over the frames and combs. On the other hand, if the temperature of the cluster rises too high, then again the bees invariably gorge themselves with honey, become

In the morning Osgood is a railroad town, in the afternoon Yorkshire enjoys an open depot, and in the meantime the agent acts as a shuttle between the two, riding a speeder between his jobs.

Osgood deserved the railroad station—look at what they showed the Railroad Commissioner.

This town has more church people than Yorkshire; it has 212 population, 16 more people than Yorkshire; it's got a tile mill, and then, too, it has a town hall and a movie. The opposition could not make a showing like that and Osgood is still a station on the circus man's line.

FORTUNE HUNTERS DIGGING FOR NEGRO MINER'S WEALTH.

Murphys, Cal.—History has it that in the early days a negro named "Buster," who mined on the San Antonio creek, had a vast amount of gold dust—a bake oven full of the precious metal—and he buried it. Later the negro died without divulging the whereabouts of his wealth. Many people have in years past gone to the scene of Buster's cabin and looked for the treasure.

Divining rods and all known schemes have been resorted to, but without avail. Now comes David Baritini, of Murphys, and Donald Kasper, of Fair Oaks, and they have joined in a further search for the gold. Both are confident that they have the "inside track" and will find their fortunes, and they are daily working in great faith as to the ultimate success of their undertaking. To this date they are assiduously digging away without results.

Heroes of Science.

We may not be disposed to spend much admiration on the American volunteer who consents to be inoculated with trench fever through the medium of the vermin taken from the bodies of men, but these men assumed a risk more or less dangerous than that of the soldier who volunteers to go over the top in a patrol raid and it is hoped from the experiment made with these volunteers that thousands of lives may be saved and an immeasurable amount of suffering prevented. Science has its heroes as well as has war.—Galveston Tribune.

So Dear of Him!

She was very pretty, but not especially endowed with brains. Her escort had explained that the man behind the catcher was the umpire. "What does he do?" she asked. "He calls balls and strikes, and tells whether or not a man is safe at the plate." "Oh, I see. He is there to warn the batsmen when he sees the pitcher is going to hit him with the ball. How sweetly thoughtful that is!"

Fishermen along the Atlantic coast from Florida north have begun taking sharks suitable for food purposes, and smoking the meat. This product is reported to be coming into the market and finding ready sale.

LETTER FROM LOCAL BOY RECEIVED BY HIS PARENTS

Harold Irish Reported Missing When Tampa Is Sunk Wrote Before Accident.

The news of the sinking of the Tampa is still fresh in the minds of newspaper readers and it is like a void from the dead to receive a letter from Harold B. Irish, who was reported missing and who has not been heard of since the tragedy.

The letter follows: Sept. 15, 1918.

Dear Mother, Just a few lines to let you know that you and Dad are in my mind. I write you as often as I can.

Mother, do you remember the tall fellow in the picture I sent you when I was in New York? He is in the hospital over here.

There is not very much news to write that will not concern the war. I would write you more than one sheet of paper if we were allowed.

You spoke about not getting the whole of my allotment. I will enquire about it as soon as I can.

How is Dad and yourself and all? I hope you and all are well and in the best of health.

LAYING HENS NEED GRIT

Ground feeds are necessary for most efficient feeding in poultry. Hopper feeding saves labor and furnishes the necessary supplementary feed at all times.

Limestone grit or oyster shell is also necessary for laying hens. A laying hen requires large quantities of shellmaking material.

Chickens raised on range can be produced much more economically than those kept closely confined around the farm buildings.

Have you seen any of my friends lately? If you see any of them give them my best regards.

I always remain Your loving son, Harold B. Irish.

P. S. Please give this to The Evening Herald of Manchester, Harold.

NEW YORK FUEL ADMINISTRATOR ISSUES LIST OF DON'T'S TO HELP SAVING OF COAL

Remembering New York's plight last winter, when a coal famine caused great suffering and inconvenience in the Greater City, the New York State Fuel Administrator, DeLoss W. Cooke, has issued a list of "don'ts" for users of coal which may be applied to anyone's household anywhere in the United States.

The list, which has been scattered broadcast over the State, is as follows:

Don't fail to clean furnace before starting fire.

Don't build a fire until you have to.

Don't build a fire larger than is necessary.

Don't fail to make check-draft damper in smoke pipe do its work.

Don't neglect keeping fresh water in your steam-heater boiler.

Don't fail to keep kitchen coal range clean.

Don't keep your house at over 68 degrees.

Don't leave your draft open at night.

Don't open your windows and try to heat all out of doors.

Don't keep fire going on pleasant days.

Don't sit in north room when the sun heats the south side.

Don't think its fur coat weather when the thermometer is 45 to 50.

Don't waste hot water—it takes coal to make it.

Don't forget that one gas jet will raise the temperature of a room 5 degrees.

Don't fail to put up storm doors and windows.

Don't fail to sift your ashes.

Don't burn coal when wood is available.

Don't fail to wrap your pipes with asbestos.

Don't fail to keep rooms moist—they heat easier.

Don't forget that moist air retains heat.

Don't forget that dry air causes colds and catarrh.

Don't light up the house until well after sundown.

Don't waste gas—it is made from coal—and REMEMBER the hand that shakes the grate saves the coal.

POLISH COLLEGE STUDENTS ARE UNDER SURVEILLANCE.

Students in the Polish universities have been so open and fearless in their anti-German demonstrations that it has become necessary to place them under surveillance.

While some of their performances savor of the traditional pranks of the college Freshman, the patriotic motive behind them has caused the Germans to regard them with deep gravity.

After the Brest-Litovsk treaty they hung streamers of crape from their dormitory windows.

Edward Sedar has bought several acres of land of Leroy Strong. He will raise tobacco next year and build a three acre shed.

Fertilizer is now being sold by the different agents at a great increase in cost over last year.

Thane Grant, who is stationed in New Haven is home on a short furlough.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Zinsler of Jacksonville, Fla., are spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. John Maloney.

Harold Snow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Snow, entertained his young friends one afternoon recently, the occasion being his sixth birthday.

A teachers' training class has been formed at the South Windsor Congregational church under the instruction of the pastor, Rev. Norman McLeod.

The local Red Cross apportionment for supplies is: 40 sheets, 90 bath towels, 150 hand towels, 125 handkerchiefs and 6 napkins.

Marcus Tuttle is ill at his home with Spanish influenza.

J. E. Lathrop has purchased a seven passenger Winton limousine.

The Center school will not open this week, there being several cases of influenza among the children.

Our state department has made a fitting reply to the German government on the shotgun question.

TEXAS WOMAN SHERIFF CAN HANDLE LAWBREAKERS.

Coleman, Texas, Oct. 14.—Mrs. John R. Bannister is the new sheriff of Coleman county.

She says that when she buckles on her six-shooter and goes out to make an arrest the offender had better make peaceful surrender if he knows what is good for him. It is not meant by this that Mrs. Bannister is a woman of the rough man type—on the contrary she is unassuming, quiet and prepossessing in looks.

The sum and substance of it is that she belongs to a stock of westerners that does not know what fear is when it comes to fulfilling what she believes to be her official duty.

Mrs. Bannister's husband, Captain Bannister, who died recently, was sheriff of Coleman county for many years. His wife assisted him in his work in many ways and is said to be thoroughly familiar with the details of the office.

It was but natural that she should be elevated to the vacant position, her friends say.

EPIDEMIC IS IN ENGLAND SAYS RETURNED SOLDIER
Brought There from Australia the English Say—Local Man Sent Back Because of His Age.
William Drysdale of the Canadian Engineers, stationed at Toronto, Canada, arrived in town yesterday for a few days' visit with his family on Cottage street.
Mr. Drysdale left here last May to join his regiment in Canada having been ordered there after a voluntary enlistment. He is 45 years of age and is a seasoned veteran having seen service in the English Army and also with the United States Forces in the Philippines, previous to his last re-enlistment.
Drysdale has been overseas with the regiment to which he is now attached, and his company is now "somewhere in France." On his arrival in England Mr. Drysdale was notified that he could not go along with his comrades as he was above the age for active service. He was then sent back to Canada and is now in the Limited Service, and on his return will be stationed in Toronto with Headquarters at the Y. M. C. A.
Mr. Drysdale praises the work of the Salvation Army abroad and has interviewed many crippled soldiers in London, England, who claim that the work of the Salvationists is equal to that of the American Red Cross. He also says that the epidemic is raging in England and that some claim it was brought there by a regiment from Australia.
The Kaiser, who declared he would stand no nonsense from America, is finding out that the Americans are not going to stand any nonsense from him.—Baltimore American.

EPIDEMIC AT STANDSTILL FOR THE PAST TWO DAYS
Neither Increase Nor Decrease in Number of Cases Reported by Local Doctors.
Word from Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, head of the local health board, says that the influenza epidemic here remains at a standstill. There was neither an increase nor a decrease over Saturday and Sunday in the number of cases reported by local physicians. Dr. Moore continues to be optimistic about the epidemic here and continues to warn the residents not to become panic stricken because of the number of funerals on some days. He says that in proportion to the number of inhabitants and the number of sick persons, our death rate is very small.
At the emergency hospital things are running smoothly. There is still need for volunteers. During the night everything was quiet and no deaths occurred.
Today Miss Dorothy Platt will be in charge and she will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth McCarty, a graduate nurse; Miss Blanche Wiggins, Miss Jane Crockett, Mrs. C. D. Cheney and Miss Elizabeth Bayne. Joseph Halliday will be the orderly. The surgical dressings workers of the Red Cross are busy making masks which are provided for the hospital and also given out by Miss Tinker to members of the families on whom she calls where any members are sick. These will be provided to volunteer workers.

OBITUARY
JOSEPH MAGUIRE.
Joseph Maguire, son of the late Michael Maguire, died in New York yesterday afternoon of pneumonia. He was taken ill with the influenza a week ago yesterday. ALLEGED PRO GERMAN HAS NOW LEFT JOB
Could Not Stand Jibes of Fellow Employees at Silk Mills So Leaves.
About a month ago there was an employee at Cheney Brothers' carpenter shop who was said to be pro-German. At any rate, he didn't subscribe to the Liberty Loans or other war work and even refused to buy Thrift stamps. He claimed he couldn't afford to. Finally the other employees refused to work unless he "came across." The boss told the men to go back to their work and he would have a talk with one of the heads of the firm. The next day, the alleged pro-German was at work as usual and everything seemed to go along all right until the next time there was a chance to buy some Thrift stamps. The men again got after the fellow and he didn't know any better than to tell them that he did finally buy some Thrift stamps the other time but had to go to the postoffice to redeem them as he was so "near broke." This was too much for the other men and they made life so miserable for the "slacker" that he at last quit work and it is said he has left town.

MOTHER DEAD, FATHER ILL TWO CHILDREN NEGLECTED
Pathetic Case Discovered by Local Red Cross Chapter—Husband in a Hartford Hospital.
The local Red Cross workers brought to light a most pathetic case on Saturday after Mrs. Nicholas Marchuk of Allen Place had been taken to the new emergency hospital suffering from pneumonia. Mrs. Marchuk was a Russian and her husband was taken to the Hartford hospital several weeks ago suffering from typhoid fever. While he was away she was taken sick. A friend tried for several days to get a doctor but not knowing much English and because of the fact that the local physicians were all out on calls, he could not find any when he went to the offices. All this while the unfortunate woman was getting worse.
Finally the friend appealed to a policeman and made known his trouble. The Red Cross investigated and had Mrs. Marchuk taken at once to the hospital where she died early yesterday morning.
When the home workers visited the house they found an infant that had been neglected for at least two or three days. Someone had given it a bottle of milk and that was all the food it had had. Another child about four years old was better able to take care of itself and had lived somehow or other by eating what it found about the house. The children were washed and dressed and are now in good hands.
The husband is seriously ill in Hartford and knows nothing of the death of his wife and the plight of his children. He will be notified as soon as he is able to bear the shock.

In all the influenza cases where pneumonia develops, the doctors often prescribe musterole to help the patient. This is a sort of mustard plaster. Since the Spanish influenza made its appearance in this country, there was so great a demand for musterole that the entire supply of the factory was sold out. In some parts of the state one cannot buy even camphor any more because of the demand for this as an old fashioned preventative.

He had lived in Manchester for the last two years, coming here from Hartford. He is survived by his mother and brother who live on Woodbridge street.

Steve Luckus, of North street, aged 29 years, died yesterday morning of pneumonia. He is survived by his wife and one child. The funeral will be held from St. Bridget's church at nine o'clock tomorrow morning, with burial in St. Bridget's cemetery.

MANCHESTER WINS
The Manchester football team, formerly the Majors, composed of the cream of the town's gridmen, defeated the fast Corinthian team of Hartford by a score of 24-6 in the first big football contest of the season at the old Main street ball grounds yesterday afternoon. The contest was staged before a large crowd and was fast and exciting and both teams pulled off many fast plays. The pass work of the local team was perfect and they went through and executed signals in a remarkable manner. Brennan started for the locals with a sixty-five yard punt. Altogether the game and attendance was a success and a goodly sum was realized for the overseas smoke fund.
