French in Fortress of Metz—Longwy is at Junction of France, Belgium and Luxembourg—Americans Also in Briey—Pershing's Report.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The American army, continuing its advance into territory evacuated by the vanquished German armies, last night entered the historic French fortress of Longwy, situated at the junction of the boundaries of France, Belgium and Luxembourg. General Pershing reported in his communique for the evening of November 18, issued today by the War Department.

On the left the American army of occupation has crossed the Belgian frontier, the communique stated.

The text of the communique follows:

"The third American army continued its advance today into the territory evacuated by the enemy. On the left, crossing the Belgian frontier, our troops occupied Vitry and by evening had reached Etalle and St. Leger.

"Between the Chiers and the Moselle they passed through Sivecourt and the important railway centers of Longwy and Conflans. At the close of the day they entered the historic French fortress of Longwy, situated at the junction of the boundaries of France, Belgium and Luxembourg.

"Further south they occupied Anche-le-Roman and the town of Briey, the center of the great iron district of Lorraine."

French enter Metz.

Paris, Nov. 18.—French troops entered the German fortress at Metz today.

The French were led by Marshal Pétain and were received with the greatest enthusiasm.

The French were compelled to give up Metz in 1871 at the conclusion of the Franco-Prussian war.

SGT. THOMAS HICKEY DEAD FROM WOUNDS IN BATTLE

Father Receives Telegram Announcing the Sad News—Lived in Manchester All of His Life.

Thomas Hickey of Oakland street received a telegram last night from the War Department at Washington, which stated that his son, Sergeant Thomas Hickey, Jr., of Headquarters Company, 182nd Infantry, had died from wounds received on October 24. The date of his death was not given; nor any other details.

Sergeant Thomas Hickey enlisted in the army on July 25, 1917. When the First and Second Regiments merged at New Haven Hickey was placed in headquarters company. He went overseas at the same time as did the G boys.

Sergeant Hickey was born and had lived all his life on Oakland street this town. He was employed in the Oakland Paper Mill. He had a brother, Edward J., now training to be an aviator. His uncle is Colonel John Hickey.

GLORIOUS FINISH AND GENEROUS FUND IN MANCHESTER'S UNITED WAR DRIVE

"Over the Top" With $81,502.74 Collected—Cheney Brothers Donate $20,000—Great Patriotic Demonstration at Final Meeting of Workers—Speeches and Luncheon Wind Up Great Campaign.

The cooperation of the firm, as Chairman Nicholson of the Industrial Union pointed out, the company lent its factories and organization without stint, including the time and efforts of 125 to 150 persons.

A Great Finish.

Seldom has the high pitch of enthusiasm shown last evening been reached at a local gathering. The occasion was the meeting of the workers in the big united war drive of the seven organizations, the Y. M. C. A., the K. of C., the Salvation Army, the U. W. O. A., the Jewish Welfare Board, the Library Association and the Community Fund.

The luncheon and reports were given in the gymnasium of the recreation building, and the occasion was characterized by the intense enthusiasm and jubilant demeanor of the large assembly.

The Victory Note.

Undertone of the merry chaff and noisy demonstration was a happy joyful note—the note of victory. This note, of course, was not possible in previous war drives, but the success of the Allied armies, aided substantially by American arms, makes it a reality, and it was a happy, thankful, noisy band of citizens who celebrated last evening the success of the United War Work drive.

The exuberance of the assembly found expression in patriotic songs, frequent applause and cheers, loud accompaniments with tableware on the various tables, and volleys of paper balls made from the wrappings of the famous doughnuts. From commencement to the end the enthusiasm was unabated.

Cheney Brothers, $20,000.

Prolonged cheering followed the announcement by Chairman Taylor that Cheney Brothers' gift was $20,000. In addition to this was the

COAL PRICES GO UP ONE DOLLAR A TON

Consumers More Concerned About the Supply than the Price.

TOWN'S QUOTA UNFILLED

Breakdown of Distribution System Brings about Radical Changes—Emergency Coal Coming.

Beginning tomorrow the price of all domestic sizes of anthracite coal will be increased one dollar a ton. This increase is ordered by the Fuel and Power Administration as a result of an increase of wages at the mines which went into effect Nov. 1. The new price in Manchester will be $12.65 a ton for egg, stove and chestnut sizes and $11.45 a ton for pea size. On delivery of two tons or more the price will be 25 cents a ton less.

In Manchester a great many people are just now concerned more about the delivery of coal than about the price. The government has not sent to Manchester the quantity of coal which it promised and the town is now suffering, though not below its quota. The figure has been repeatedly brought to the attention of the state administrator and he in turn has pled with the United States Anthracite Committee for relief but with only partial success. The government's schedule for distribution have been growing more and more disorganized. Finally the fuel administrators of New England and Eastern states went to Washington with their complaints last week.

The new Fuel Administrator, Charles E. Hoeselgrave, in Y. M. C. A. work in France, was greeted with round after round of cheers.

The responses of the speakers were excellent, and the flames of wit were greatly enjoyed—notably the most rejoicer to the toastmaster turned by Mr. W. B. Cheney.

Cheers for France.

One of the biggest demonstrations of the evening came when Father McDermott, in introducing John Tourne, captain of Team No. 9, referring to him as a captain hard to beat, and descendant of a country hard to conquer, and then presenting to him as the gift of the team the flag of France.

Instantly the assembly rose to its feet with loud cheers for France. The orchestra struck up "Marsellaise" and all remained standing and singing the song which has been the rallying ballad of France during long, troublous years.

Two chief contestants, Nov. 2 and 4, led by Captain R. O. Cheney, Jr., and Dr. Edward G. Dolan, exchanged mutual congratulations.

War's End None Too Soon, Says Cardinal Mercier—How Dutch Received Kaiser

With the First Army on the Western Front, Nov. 18.—Buckingham Palace, London, today received a dispatch from Brussels, Belgium, which stated that the Kaiser had been received in Holland by a small crowd gathered about the station. Some of the people cheered and the former ruler was escorted to the Kaiser's train.

The ex-Kaiser appeared nervous, but forced a smile while talking to the Dutch officials.

General von Plessen, who was a member of the German suite, was one of the most depressed members of the party. He looked very old and gray and there was a mark over his left eye. The general evidently lacked sleep and appeared very self-conscious. His sword had been taken from him at the Dutch frontier as had the swords of the other members of the party. There was a few quick introductions to the Dutch officials and then the party was off. The train bearing the German party was filled with baggage of all descriptions.

Fourth of Five on Commission to Peace Conference "Dark Horse"—Taft and Root Mentioned—Makeup Not Yet Officially Announced—Senators Approve President's Decision to Attend—What Some of Them Say.

Washington, Nov. 18.—It has been decided that the United States will be represented by five commissioners in the peace negotiations at Versailles. The official announcement of the makeup of the delegation will be made in the very near future. During the last 48 hours there have been a number of changes in the proposed personnel.

Today the line-up was as follows:

"President Wilson, who will head the American delegation, but who will not remain through the entire conference, although voting on all questions arising through a proxy; Colonel E. M. House, Secretary of State Robert Lansing; Secretary of War Newton D. Baker;

NEW GERMAN FEDERATION BELIEF STIRS ENGLAND

Lord Robert Cecil and Other Statesmen Prolong Interview—Kaiser, Who Never Formally Abdicated, Back of It.

London, Nov. 18.—That the Germans are plotting to form a federal republic with a population of 94,000,000 and with the ex-Kaiser at the head of it is the opinion of Lord Robert Cecil and other prominent British statesmen. This view is widely circulated in the press with big headlines today.

The plan, it is said, is to unite the German population of Germany, Austria, Holland, Switzerland and Sweden, thus moving the needle for another war.

A German imperial revolution for this purpose is reported to be being planned in Holland, Switzerland and Sweden.

The former Kaiser is said to be behind Chancellor Bethmann's proposed plan to form a federal republic with a population of 94,000,000 and with the ex-Kaiser at the head of it.

Utah Senator Introduces Resolution, Also Wants Information Concerning Federal Housing, Including Names Report.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The War Department is called upon to give to the Senate the names of all officers of the army who have purchased supplies for the fighting forces from firms with which they have business connections, in a resolution drawn today by Senator King of Utah.

Another resolution prepared by the Utah senator for introduction Thursday calls for all information relating to the federal housing program. The resolution asks how many of the appropriations made by Congress for housing remains unexpended, how much has been spent and what is the present status of the housing program.

It may be a momentous event in its results, the President's going to the peace conference, which is announced this morning.

But with Premier Lloyd George of Britain and Clemenceau of France, upon whose urging the President in part acts, the President can exert a tremendous influence toward a just and wise peace.

It is very interesting, the fact that these three men, who represent for better or worse the most democratic elements in their respective countries, should be in power just at this time.

Clemenceau is a Socialist, but a Socialist tempered by the experience of practical affairs. He is a Frenchman of the French, but he also is a man of broad foresight and human sympathy.

His presence at the outbreak is the dynamic energy and ability in the difficult office of chancellor of the exchequer were too much for his energies.

Another Victory Drive
The United War Work campaign in town was remarkable in many respects in which, in the nature of the case, other similar drives were not.

Editor, The Evening Herald:
I may be addressing the wrong place but it certainly is the only one that would pay attention to a letter like this.

Saturday night's auction sale was quite a success. Now while we are at it why not raise some more money the same way?

Instead of the reported surplus of about 33 per cent, the record was more like 26 per cent. The town was expected to raise $60,000. It actually raised $11,027.74.

This money was given outright, with no strings attached and with no dividends accruing in the future from it for the contributors, as in the case of Liberty bond subscribers.

PRESIDENT ON PEACE CONFERENCE TRIP TO FIGHT FOR INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE

Washington, Nov. 19.—President Wilson goes to Europe to fight for his league of nations plan. That is one reason why the chief executive will break all precedents to go across the Atlantic early next month.

A statement issued yesterday by the White House, however, says: "The President expects to sail for France immediately after the opening of the regular session of Congress, for the purpose of taking part in the discussion and settlement of the main features of the treaty of peace."

The names of the delegates will be presently announced. He will, of course, be accompanied by delegates who will sit as the representatives of the United States throughout the sessions of the formal peace conference, but his presence at the outset is necessary in order to obviate the manifest disadvantages of discussion by cable in determining the greater outlines of the final treaty about which he must necessarily be consulted.

These plans include, in addition to his "world federation idea," the reconstruction of the map of a good part of the world along racial lines. There are two sharply opposing elements that are today very gravely threatening the success of the peace conference.

Insidious Propaganda.
This propaganda is of the most insidious sort. The suggestion spread throughout the world, that since the armistice terms is so far as they touch on occupation of German territory west of the Rhine are not modified it will "make for the spread of Bolshevism," is a typical German lie although fathered by no less a personage than Dr. Solf, the German foreign secretary.

The Starvation Plot.
The other typical bit of German propaganda, the changes on which are being worked in every possible way, is that Germany actually faces starvation and needs an early and complete peace. This is also a complete fabrication.

The Vengeance Sentiment.
Lined up on the other side is the "unforgivable" element in the country that have suffered the most severely through German atrocities.

Tens of thousands of Belgians who remained in occupied territory lined the roads waving flags, cheering the passersby and showering the soldiers with flowers.

GET IRON CROSS, BUT NOT FROM THE KAISER.
 Ralph Goodsell, twenty-three, now with the Intelligence Department in France, is the first Kansas City man to get the Iron Cross.
 No, he didn't win it, he captured it. Also a letter from Kaiser Bill to a Captain Slatt. Ralph captured the captain who wore the cross and had the letter in his pocket.
 Then he packed up the trophies and sent them to his mother.

COMPLETE RECORD, UP TO DATE OF ALL OF LOCAL CASUALTIES

Of 1,216 Manchester Men in the Service, Six Per Cent, or 72 Were Casualties—Seven Killed, 18 Died of Disease, Mostly Influenza—39 Wounded and But One Missing—Complete List of Names.

According to the records at the local War Bureau, Manchester had 72 casualties in the World War. It is not claimed that these records include all of Manchester's casualties, as reports and letters are still being received of boys that have been killed or wounded. Others are liable to come in during the next month or two, as some of the official telegrams about the boys have come as late as two months after the casualty occurred.

Seven Were Killed.
 Of the casualties recorded at the War Bureau, seven were killed in action, three died of wounds received in action, two died at sea, one died as the result of an accident, one was drowned, 19 died of disease and 39 were wounded or gassed. Being gassed counts the same as being wounded and was often generally reported as such on the official telegrams; later letters would be received from the boys saying they had been gassed and were wearing a wound stripe.

First Boys Wounded.
 Sergeant Edwin Titus and Private Thomas Morrison have the distinction of being the first two Manchester men reported wounded in the great conflict. They were both reported severely wounded February 16, 1918. Private Morrison was reported missing in action on July 23 and severely wounded on August 22, 1918. "Four reports were received about William St. Martin. He was reported severely wounded April 28, 1918; wounded July, 1918; missing in action August 10 and wounded severely October 26, 1918.

One Man Decorated.
 Sergeant Herbert Ratenburg was reported severely wounded July 22, 1918; gassed, August 25; was cited for bravery during the fighting between July 18-25 and received the Distinguished Service Cross October 26, 1918.

Only Six Per Cent.
 Manchester people deeply regret that there should be as many as 72 casualties from this town, but with an Honor Roll of 1,216 names it is considered extremely fortunate that the casualty list is no larger. Seventy-two casualties out of 1,216 means less than six per cent. Of the 72 casualties less than half, or 32, were deaths. Disease claimed 18 of the deaths and a big majority of the 18 resulted from pneumonia, following the Spanish influenza.

But One Missing.
 It is considered a fine showing for the Manchester men that only one actually is missing. Several were reported missing, but later reports showed they were wounded but had not been located at the time the telegrams were sent out. One man, Private David Johnson, was reported missing and no further report has ever been received about him. His mother, Mrs. Christina Johnson, who formerly lived at 132 Cooper street is now living in Illinois. Private Robert J. Smith was reported missing since September 26, but a letter was received from him under date of October 7.

List of Casualties.
 The complete list of casualties, as recorded at the War Bureau, is printed below:

- Killed in Action.
- Private Orazio Alessio, Co. C, 139th Inf., Aug. 7, 1918.
