INTERMEYER PROTESTS PATRIOTISM; NEVER PRO-GERMAN, TELLS SENATE

Noted New York Lawyer Says
His Proposal to Dr. Albert
That Latter Invest in New York Papers Was Purely Business Matter—Innocent.

Washington, Dec. 17.—A complete denial that he had been pro-German at any time before the United States entered the war, or had aided German agents in their propaganda was made before the Senate propaganda investigating committee today by Samuel Untermyer, New York lawyer.

"There is not a shred of basis for either of these vague implications," Untermyer said.

Untermyer explained that his letter to Dr. Albert, financial agent of the German government in this country, proposing that he invest some money in the purchase of The Sun and Evening Sun of New York was purely a business proposition.

BIG NAVAL REVIEW IS POSTPONED.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The great naval review which was to have been held at New York next Monday has been indefinitely postponed, Secretary Daniels announced today. The returning dreadnaughts of the overseas fleet will not reach New York before next Tuesday, the Secretary said, and the date for the review probably will be announced Friday of this week.

BERLIN MAKES MERRY "TRYING TO FORGET"

"Deutschland ueber Allies" Played Still, as Troops
Come Back.

Most Remain Quite Cheerful and Well-Disciplined — Restaurants Crowded.

London, Dec. 17.—"Deutschland ueber Alles," (Germany over all), the favorite war tune of the Germans is being played continuously in Berlin as the troops arrive from the front, said a Berlin dispatch to the Daily Express today.

Every day Chancellor Ebert takes his place upon the rostrum opposite the French embassy and addresses the home coming soldiers. Bands play martial music and crowds cheer and wave handkerchiefs.

As the infantry, cavalry and artillery pass through the streets of the capital the regimental flags are crowned with laurel. The men wear wreaths of evergreen around their helmets and flowers upon their tunics. The guns are likewise decorated.

LOCAL SOLDIER YOUNGEST OFFICER IN BRITISH ARMY

Albert Stevenson But 15 When He Enlisted—Used His Brother's
Name to Get Into Army.

Manchester's youngest soldier, Albert Stevenson of Walker street, who enlisted in the Canadian army when he was only 15 years of age, has been made a sergeant and attached to the British Mission of statesmen sent to France to make peace terms with Germany. Sergeant Stevenson is 16 years old and is said to be the first boy of 16 to be promoted from private to sergeant in the British army and also the youngest to hold three stripes.

Sergeant Stevenson enlisted in the Canadian Army in Boston in October, 1917, using the name of his brother William to cover up his youthfulness. He was then only 15 years old. While training in Canada, he was offered the position of corporal, but refused to accept it on account of his age. He preferred to remain a private. He was soon sent overseas and was wounded with shrapnel in the battle of Ypres. A few months ago he was wounded again, that time with a bayonet. He was still in England as the result of this wound, when he was promoted to a sergeant and attached to the British mission going to France. Sergeant Stevenson will be 17 years old in February.

BELGIUM PROTESTS AGAINST DUTCH AID TO GERMANS.

Brussels, Dec. 17.—The Belgian government has protested to Holland against permitting Germans to retreat with material across Dutch soil, while Belgians were being interned at the frontier, it was learned from an authoritative source today. About 100,000 Germans were thus able to escape capture.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS IN 40 CITIES WILL COST $122,850,000

War Labor Policies Board Makes Inquiry to Find Out Chances of Employment for Returning Soldiers in Larger Municipalities.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Forty of the larger cities of the country are prepared to spend $122,850,000, in appropriations and bond issues, for public works and buildings, according to reports made public by the War Labor Policies board today. In response to inquiries from the board, which was anxious to know how much employment could be provided for returning soldiers and war workers, reports were made, showing that 12 cities in the eastern district were prepared to spend $46,543,500; 13 cities in the central district, $41,248,720; nine cities in the western district, $30,521,000 and six southern district cities, $4,537,000.

Among the cities and amounts reported were:

Boston, $8,400,000; Hoboken, N. J., $116,500; Buffalo, $6,000,000; Pittsburgh, $8,150,000; Philadelphia, $13,000,000; Syracuse, $2,362,000; Springfield, Mass., $4,015,000; Newark, N. J., $3,000,000; Worcester, $1,800,000; Manchester, N. H., $200,000; Cleveland, Ohio, $5,000,000.

BIG SHIPPING CONCERN FOR WIRELESS OWNERSHIP

Favors Government Possession of Stations in Interest of Country—
Head of House Committee Reads
It.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The International Mercantile Marine corporation, one of the leading merchant shipping concerns of the country, today endorsed government ownership of wireless stations in this country. In a telegram to Chairman Alexander of the House merchant marine committee, P. A. S. Franklin, president and general manager of the corporation, said:

"We are in favor of the provisions of House Bill No. 13,159 and strongly urge its passage as in the national interest. All radio stations on land should be taken over and permanently operated by the government."

Chairman Alexander, who said Mr. Franklin was chairman of the ship control committee of the United States Shipping Board, read the telegram to the committee before opponents to government ownership took the stand.

VATICAN RENOUNCES TEMPORAL POWERS

London News Hears So—Means Papacy is International, Rather Than Italian Government Supreme

London, Dec. 17.—The Roman question, involving the Vatican and the Italian government, has been satisfactorily settled, it is learned in Rome, according to a dispatch from that city to the Daily News today.

All papal claims to temporal power have been renounced, it was said. The Rome correspondent of the Daily News adds that the pontiff has requested President Wilson to notify the Allied peace representatives of the settlement, which implies the internationalization of the papacy rather than Italian predominance. President Wilson is reported to have consented.

An act of heroism is temporary while an act of charity is everlasting.

PRESIDENT INVITED TO VISIT VATICAN.

Paris, Dec. 17.—Formal invitation to the President Wilson today by the papal envoy, who came here for that purpose.

The envoy called upon the President at the Murat mansion. The Italian ambassador to the United States, Count di Celere, also called upon the President to arrange for his visit to Italy, which probably will not take place until the latter part of January.

The invitation was extended on behalf of Pope by Mgr. Cennetti, papal under secretary of state.

GOOD LEGAL REASON TO PUNISH KAISER

That Rests With Governments, Not Jurists, Says Lord Crewe.

London, Dec. 17.—(By British Wireless Press.) "Criminals can be put away where they will have no further chance of bringing mischief on the world or they can be executed," writes Lord Crewe in a letter published by the Westminster Gazette today.

Lord Crewe argues that when the people go beyond the lesser violators to the higher politicians and the ex-Kaiser himself there is no doubt that punishment must rest not with jurists, but with governments. These persons must be surrendered first and then punished by a executive act.

For that, says Lord Crewe, there is ample precedent.

The letter deals also with the distinction between crimes in connection with war and those outside any law that has been hitherto framed.

Lord Crewe says that the Belgian atrocities, ill treatment of prisoners and the murders of Captain Fryatt and Edith Cavell are acts that can be brought home to individual persons concerned in them and punishment can be inflicted.

DERNBURG SEES HOPE OF SAVING COLONIES

Interprets Fifth of Wilson's 14 Points as Permitting Germany to Keep Outlying Possessions.

Copenhagen, Dec. 17.—Dr Dornburg, formerly of the German government, interprets the fifth point of President Wilson's 14 principles as meaning that she will be allowed to keep her colonies, according to an interview printed in the Politiken today. Germany, according to Dr. Dornburg, will be a federated republic.

The fifth principle laid down by President Wilson follows:

"A free, open-minded and absolutely impartial adjustment of all colonial claims, based upon a strict observance of the principle that in determining all such questions of sovereignty the interests of the populations concerned must have equal weight with the equitable claims of the government whose title is to be determined."

TRANSPORT BRINGS 2,225 TROOPS

Mau in Today—Santa, With Small Quota, in Port
Last Night.

MANY SHIPS ARE DUE

Celtic With Over 2,000 and Henry
B. Mallory With About 1,500 are Expected Today.

New York, Dec. 17.—The United States transport Maui, carrying 64 American officers and 2,161 men arrived here today from Bordeaux.

The Maui was more than 24 hours behind her schedule.

Several additional transports with soldiers from Europe are due here today, but none was reported off Sandy Hook at an early hour.

The ships scheduled to arrive include: The Dochra from Bordeaux, with 34 civilians; El Sol from Verdun, with one man; Celtic from Liverpool, with 155 officers and 3,125 men; Rappahannock from France, with 15 men and the Henry B. Mallory from France, with 1,500 men.

MISS ADDAMS WON'T RUN FOR MAYOR.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Jane Addams of Hull House today characterized the suggestion that she become a candidate for mayor of Chicago at the spring election as "simply stupid."

"I cannot understand why such a silly suggestion was made," said Miss Addams. "It may be that some friends thought it might please me, but I can assure them they are greatly mistaken. I have absolutely no idea of entering such a contest as that for the office of Mayor of Chicago."

SCORE HURT AT RIOT OF ITALIAN LABOR.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—One laborer was seriously shot, a score of others injured and police called to quell two riots at a mass meeting held by union labor in honor of the official Italian labor mission to the United States at Hodcarriers' hall last night.

Dr. Albercio Molinari, a physician, who, the police say, started the disturbance shortly after the meeting got under way, was rescued from the crowd by Lieutenant Carlo Bezi, one of the famous D'Annunzio squadron.

BREAKS NECK IN FALL DOWN STAIRS.

New Britain, Dec. 17.—Joseph Pisty, 55, of Kensington, fell down stairs at 96 High street early today while calling on friends there and was discovered later dead with his neck broken.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to thank all of our neighbors and friends for the kindness shown and the sympathy expressed during the bereavement of our dear wife and mother. We wish also to thank those who contributed flowers.

WILSON MEETS MARSHAL FOCH; ALSO SEES PREMIER VENIZELOS

Hurley Talks Over Problem Shipping Board Has of Transporting Troops from Abroad—Officially Announced
President Will Christmas With Pershing—Still Acclaimed Everywhere He Goes by Cheering Parisian Crowds on Streets and in Stores.

Paris, Dec. 17.—President Wilson and Marshal Foch met today for the first time. Marshal Foch will make a brief and formal call upon the President at 5:30 this afternoon. The presence of the parlementaires at Treves, negotiating the prolongation of the armistice prevented the Marshal from calling upon the American executive at an earlier date.

Former Senator Henry F. Hollis, of New Hampshire, had an engagement to meet President Wilson in the afternoon.

Holds Official Conferences.

Paris, Dec. 17.—Rain fell here during the morning, threatening to mar the pleasure of the trip President Wilson had planned to the battlefields near Paris. It was typical Paris weather and the President did not mind it. Following breakfast he held several official conferences.

While passing the war-torn Carlier jewelry store, a great electric sign with the President's name was kept flashing.

Both President and Mrs. Wilson smiled broadly at these demonstrations.

While the President's carriage was passing the Cafe de Paris an American girl climbed out of an upper window and sang "Madelon" while clinging perilously to the window frame.

This was the signal for renewed bursts of cheering in that vicinity. The girl sang for half an hour after the carriage had passed.

Mrs. Wilson was greatly interested in the French dragoons. They were superbly mounted and carried lances with red and white pennants attached. They acted as the guard of honor to the party between Marins and the Rue Royal.

GERMANY MADE AUSTRIA DROP PEACE EFFORTS.

Copenhagen, Dec. 17.—Germany bullied Austria into dropping her efforts toward a separate peace, declared Count Czernin, former Austrian foreign minister, in a speech at Vienna, said advices from that city today.

Austria's separate peace movement was in opposition to the submarine war and to the conditions imposed upon Russia at Brest-Litovsk, it was said.

There is evidence that spreading propaganda in an effort to play upon the Allies.

PITCHER SHORE BECOMES AN ENSIGN.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 17.—Eric Shore, star pre-war portside pitcher of the Boston Red Sox, became an ensign in the United States navy today. He graduated with a class of 175 at the officers material school at Harvard University. Shore said he hopes to make a couple of tours on a battleship before he is placed on the reserve list.

ESSEX STORE ROBBED.

Essex, Conn., Dec. 17.—Burglars early today broke into the general store of Gordon L. Burrows in the center, by hurling a rock through the plate glass window of the door. They escaped with goods valued at between $700 and $1,000, consisting of cigars, neckties, underwear, knives, razors, watches, etc. Burglaries have been frequent in this section of late and business men are talking of hiring a watchman.

EX-KAISER SOON MAY RETURN TO GERMANY.

London, Dec. 17.—The ex-Kaiser of Germany is planning to return to Berlin, so a Rotterdam dispatch to the Daily News today indicates. It says the Dutch government will petition the German government to insure the safety of the former emperor on his trip to the German capital. The dispatch added that the ex-Kaiser may return soon.

FOR SALE: TWO

BASEBALL CLUBS

Boston Red Sox and New York Giants May Change Hands—Frazee Wants Latter Club.

New York, Dec. 17.—The probable sale of two major league ball clubs held the attention of baseball fans here today.

The clubs in question are the world's champion Boston Red Sox and the New York Giants.

Harry H. Frazee, president of the Boston club, has announced that he is willing to part with his baseball holdings for his own price.

He wants to withdraw from the American League and he also has his eye on a National League franchise—the New York Nationals, it is said.

A short time ago Frazee is said to have investigated the attitude of the owners of the Giants regarding a sale and while he received no definite answer, it is understood that President Hamstead intimated that the Giants could be bought, but at a high figure.

If Frazee gets "his price" for the Red Sox it is believed he will be able to swing the deal which will make him the boss of the Polo Grounds.

Tired of Baseball and Wants to Go to Home at Augusta, Ga.—15 Years Enough.

New York, Dec. 17.—Captain Ty Cobb, U. S. A., the Detroit baseball star, announced today that he is "tired of baseball," and intends to break away from it.

"I am going down to my home in Augusta, Ga.," declared the famous batsman, who has just returned from overseas service, "and rest up for several months. I intend to break away from baseball. I am tired of it. I've had fifteen years of it and I want to quit while I am still good."

"When I say this I naturally presume that the release that the managers gave us last fall, with its ten days' notice, is binding and that I have no strings on me now. I hope so at least."

BRITAIN'S GAS

ANY BADLY DAMAGED

As a result of the fire the city's supply of gas has been cut one third and a statement will be issued by the company asking that the supply be conserved. As James Cherry was passing the purifying building he heard an explosion followed by several lesser reports. The building immediately burst into flames. Later the roof fell in, damaging several of the purifying machines. The heat was so intense that iron beams buckled.

PEDDLED HANDBILLS;

IS ARRESTED.

New Britain, Dec. 17.—Max Grizduck, of Hartford, was fined $5 and costs in the police court today charged with peddling handbills in violation of a city ordinance. He with four other Russians were in this city peddling bills which were believed to be in the interest of the Bolsheviks. It developed that they were trying to interest local Russians in a plan to emigrate to their native country. The other men were discharged.

MANCHESTER IS SECOND HIGHEST IN BALL FUND

Local Residents Generous in Giving to Clark Griffith Athletic Organization—Model Bat Received.

P. H. Dougherty, chairman of the local Clark Griffith Ball and Bat Fund, today received word from Washington that through his efforts Manchester had reached second place in the list of big donations to the national fund.

C. H. Genslinger, the executive secretary of the fund wrote a personal letter to Mr. Dougherty acknowledging the receipt of $71 which was collected in town by Mr. Dougherty by raffling articles presented to the local fund by Corporal William Moore of Blauvelt street. A report is to be published by the national fund committee showing the amount of money collected in each town and city.

Mr. Dougherty said that he can manage to collect between fifty and a hundred dollars more for the fund he is certain the town will be in first place.

In yesterday's mail for Mr. Dougherty also came a baseball bat as a souvenir of the work he has done for the fund. It was a Louisville slugger model bearing Ty Cobb's signature. Mr. Dougherty immediately wrote back to Washington for two other model bats, a Speaker and a Jackson. When he gets them Mr. Dougherty plans to raffle off the three bats and the proceeds will go to help Manchester jump into first place.

Invest your Money wisely in Manchester property

The war is over and business will boom this coming year. Get in early (Now!) while there are some real bargains to be had. Building will start as soon as the season opens. It will cost more than before the war but wages and salaries are also higher than before the war, so figuratively speaking it will be as easy to build next year as it was in 1913-14.

I am, and have been, selling some very desirable home and investment property at prices that cannot be duplicated again. I mean by this, prices that were paid for property in 1913-14. The cost of building regulates the prices on real estate (so if wages keep high, and we think they will for a number of years) there will be an increase in the prices of property.

I offer for sale some very desirable single, double, three and four family houses, some with porches, some with lawns, some with swimming pools, some with tennis courts, some with all sorts of improvements. I have a lot in all parts of the town. I am not thinking of buying or selling any more real estate.

Fire Insurance

The South Manchester Fire District has about $40000. invested in motor fire apparatus. Do you know why? The answer is that FIRE is a very dangerous element and we should always be prepared to protect our property against it. Our fire department is very necessary but with all its efficiency losses will occur now and then. BUT REMEMBER THIS: A sure way to be protected from a fire loss is to have your property and goods insured in a reliable Fire Insurance Company. I write for some of the strongest companies and will guarantee prompt and satisfactory service.

Is your Furniture insured? Automobile, Liability, Property Damage and Collision Insurance, also Accident and Health with the Aetna of Hartford.

FOUR YEARS AGO TODAY I started in business in the Bank Building and I wish at this time to thank my many friends and clients for their patronage during that time and wish you all a Merry Xmas and a Prosperous New Year.

HOUSE TO DISCUSS
GOV'T OWNERSHIP

Some Democrats Like Republican Oppose Proposed Wire Control.

FIGHT IS ON

House Merchant Marine Committee to Consider Wireless Control Bill of Sims Again Tomorrow.

Washington, Dec. 16.—Indications are that government ownership will continue to loom large in the deliberations of the House this week. Resumption today by the House of its consideration of the $359,657,577 post office appropriation bill for the 1919-20 fiscal year is expected again to provoke debate on the proposal of Postmaster General Burleson for government purchase of the country's telegraph and telephone systems, as an auxiliary of the post office department.

Representative John A. Moon of Tennessee, chairman of the House Post Office committee, who is "steering" the appropriation bill, has already experienced bitter opposition on the floor of the House, as well as among both Democratic and Republican members of his committee, to the suggestion made by him at the instance of Burleson that telegraphic and telephonic communication be made an adjunct to the nation's mail service.

Texas Attacks Burleson.
The bitter attack made upon the Burleson plan by Representative Eugene Black of Texas, Burleson's home state, a Democratic member of Moon's committee, is regarded by Republican members also opposed to the plan as foreshadowing a lack of united support by the Democratic majority of what Moon has explained is distinctly an Administration measure. Opposition also developed among the opponents of government ownership to the provision for $2,185,000 for increased aeroplane mail service and for $1,000,000 for the maintenance of the motor truck mail service in the pending post office appropriation bill on the ground that these are but additional indications of the administration's plan for a general control of public utilities.

ship, as well as supporters of government ownership in the House, declare they are prepared to wage the stiffest kind of a fight for that principle in connection with pending legislation for it.

That both sides are massing their forces for a hot battle is conceded by leaders of each, and while there may be a lull during the Christmas holidays the contest for and against government ownership is expected to be waged with increasing bitterness right up to the close of the present short and final session of the 65th Congress at noon on March 4 next.

Wireless Control.
Government ownership of all wireless communication within the jurisdiction of the United States will again be considered tomorrow by the House merchant marine committee, when opponents of it will be afforded an opportunity to meet the arguments advanced last week by Secretary Daniels and other government officials in its favor. Another aspect of government ownership is involved in the probe of meat packing conditions in this country, which the House interstate commerce committee will start on Thursday when it takes up the bill providing for either federal ownership, control or supervision of the transportation and distribution of livestock or meat products which is now before it.

The bill was introduced by Representative Thetus W. Sims of Tennessee, chairman of the committee, after its preparation by the Federal Trade commission, with the sanction of President Wilson.

"HOME RUN" BAKER

OUT OF BASEBALL.
Baltimore, Dec. 16.—Word was received here today from Trappe, Md., home of J. Franklin Baker, that the famous "home run king" will not play professional baseball next season. Baker told friends that although he had received several flattering offers from different clubs for his services for 1919, he had decided to remain at his home with his family and attend to his farming interests.

The worst that can be said of a good many folks is that when the test came they were timid and shrank away when a word at the time from one who cared might have made them heroic. Fortitude sometimes is a matter of encouragement.—Ex.

AMERICAN RED CROSS XMAS ROLL
CALL IS FOR MEMBERS, NOT MONEY

Washington, D. C., Dec. 17.—To give every American an opportunity to carry out President Wilson's wish that every citizen become a member of the Red Cross, the 3,454 chapters of the American Red Cross have opened their Christmas roll call.

This roll call is to be unique among the war drives in that its purpose is to secure members and not to raise money. All the memberships in the Red Cross expire at the Christmas season, and the roll call is to secure the active membership that will perpetuate the Red Cross and enable it to cope with any problems of relief which may arise as an aftermath of war.

These members also constitute the Red Cross as a peace agency ready to give relief in pestilence, flood or disaster. They also will carry out the work of aiding our soldiers abroad and of facilitating their return to their own homes and help to complete the work of relief and rehabilitation undertaken in Europe.

The roll call, however, is designed to give the American people an opportunity for a small free-will offering and to endorse the remarkable work done for soldiers and civilians in the war. "A heart and a dollar," as the literature states, are to be all that is necessary.

Thousands of enrolling booths are to be provided, and women workers wearing Christmas roll call brassards and Christmas roll call caps are to assist those who wish to continue or obtain membership in answering the roll call.

There is, however, to be no active solicitation and no importunity for funds. Once anyone has paid his dollar and taken out his annual membership, he will be free from further request. The Red Cross has no wish to encourage generous persons to take out several memberships as many did in the former membership drive. The object is to enroll every one—man, woman and child—once in the family of "The Greatest Mother in the World."

The work to be carried on by the new membership is one to which 47,000,000 Americans, in a period of eleven months contributed $313,000,000 and manufactured goods worth $44,000,000, and contributed to military and civilian relief here and abroad. It was the organization which stimulated over 8,000,000 women to manufacture a total of 221,282,832 garments, hospital supplies and bandages.

It helped to mobilize an army of 18,000 nurses for war service, and operated many hospitals, dispensaries, asylums and food distribution agencies and canteens for the families of European soldiers, and for the sorry refugees driven from their homes by German incursions.

Through the home service and communication branches of this organization American people have done much to keep the American soldier and his family in close touch, and have seen to it that no family of a man in American uniform lacked for anything which was in the ability of the American people to supply. Its comforting hand stretched even into the prison camps of Germany, feeding and clothing and sustaining such of our men as were captured in the fighting or taken from merchant ships sunk by German submarines.

In a way, the roll call will be an unusual test of the effect of the printed word. In the absence of personal solicitation those in charge of the roll call are relying upon the information supplied by the newspapers and the appeal of advertisements, posters, decorations, moving pictures and the Red Cross symbol itself to draw every American both as a mark of humanity and as a token of thanksgiving for peace to enter into what President Wilson designated as "The Comradeship."

For tomorrow, Viola Dana is the star in a new masterpiece called "Flower of the Dusk." It is a sweet story of New England, fragrant with love—vibrant with tenderness, a story rare and touching. Many beautiful settings are used in this play.

On Thursday and Friday a big Artercraft is coming to town with a big star. Douglas Fairbanks, most popular of the big stars will be seen in his latest picture "Bound in Morocco."

The admirers of Mr. Fairbanks will find this photoplay one of the most delightful of the Fairbanks series. It is a novel theme handled with the greatest artistry, and splendidly directed. It is in every respect, an extraordinary picture attraction.

In this photoplay, Mr. Fairbanks portrays the role of an optimistic smiling and brave young American who has remarkable adventures in El Harib, a town on the edge of the Sahara Desert. He battles against big odds to save a girl from the clutches of a cruel despot and plays some wonderful pranks, all of which are bound to be of interest to even the most blasé theatergoer.

JOIN THE RED CROSS.
Manchester was one of the first three towns in the State to become identified with the Red Cross. The town entered the work under the leadership of Mrs. Frank W. Cheney in the days of Clara Barton, heroine of the Civil War relief. It now remains for Manchester to prove herself worthy of that past.

The local campaign plans were consummated at a supper in Cheney hall last evening, when the captains of the teams and their workers and the executive committee held a final conference.

The plans call for a drive similar to those of the various Liberty loans, except that there is no quota. The aim simply is to enroll as many men, women and young people as possible. The enrollment fee is a dollar, which pays for a year's membership.

We hope as many of the youngsters as possible will become members, if only for the good which the knowledge of identification with a cause of large charity like Red Cross work will do them. The number of magazine memberships is very limited, for Manchester as for every other town, but by passing the periodical around among friends every member ought to be able to read each copy of the monthly as it comes out.

We hope to see the American Red Cross designated by the government sooner or later as the official agency of relief for the nation as it was for America's troops and America's relief abroad. But whether this is done or not, much work of reconstruction in Europe remains.

EDUCATION FOR CITIZENSHIP

Courses in economics, sociology and municipal problems should be given every high school pupil, in the opinion of Dean Thomas M. Balliet of the school of pedagogy of New York university, who makes an interesting plea for more vital subjects. Civics, he declares, which is about the only subject representing education for citizenship which any of the high schools have—is confined to the teaching of the federal and state constitutions, and is wholly inadequate.

The tariff, income tax, inheritance tax, corporation control, banking system, public ownership, money standard and many other questions, he argues, have their basis in economics, which is therefore indispensable.

Similarly, the voter is called upon to express himself, he says, on prohibition, housing, woman suffrage, and many questions having to do with industrial labor, and sociology is demanded to give the prospective welder of the franchise a proper preparation.

The Springfield Republican thus condenses some of his views:

"In education for citizenship we must emphasize the duties which every citizen must discharge virtually every day of his life, and not merely teach him the duties of public officials, as we have done heretofore. One of the highest duties of citizenship is to do clear thinking on the vital questions which affect the public welfare, not only so that the citizen can vote intelligently upon them, but still more in order that he may help to create an intelligent sentiment that will deal wisely with them. "In a democracy the government is controlled by public opinion, and one of the highest functions of the educated man and woman, as citizens, is to contribute their share toward forming an enlightened public sentiment on questions of public policy. It is to the educated part of the population of any state that we must look for wise guidance."

Here, surely, are some things well worth thinking about.

What day would be complete, without an interview or letter of denunciation of Mr. Bursleson from Mr. Mackay?

Our boys who were in the service are getting back their old jobs as fast as they return. That is as it should be.

The French government has stepped in to prevent the Socialists of Paris from paying anything like omcial homage to Mr. Wilson. And Premier Clemenceau is a Socialist!

"Among the minor matters to be considered, as soon as things quiet down a little, is the future of the wrist watch," says the Hartford Times. We have been worrying about this, too.

The American Geographical Society is going to give Stefansson, the Arctic explorer, a medal for his discoveries. Anybody who took such risks as he of getting cold feet ought to be suitably rewarded surely.

The prohibition peak at Darien seems to have been clouded from sight temporarily by the smoke of more important (?) events. The General Assembly has been elected, but whether its members have elected where they are going to stand on the federal amendment question is problematical, more or less.

Editorial paragraphs

For every dollar given the Red Cross, a dollar and one cent was spent during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918, according to the annual report. This extraordinary accomplishment was made possible by the interest on the money given. Furthermore, only two cents out of every dollar appropriated for the purpose was required for the administration bureaus on this side of the water. Could the possibilities of organized charity be shown more signally?

Beginning January 21 telephone rates for long distance and toll calls will come down to a flat rate of 6 1/2 mills a mile, air mileage. Half the day rate for night service up to midnight and a quarter the day rate after that also have been fixed. Yesterday Mr. Bursleson repeated his declaration that all of the nation's telephone and telegraph lines can be acquired by the government without a dollar being taken from the Treasury, by applying to an amortization fund the money saved by government control during the next 25 years. The Postmaster General certainly is some Mr. Fixit.

OPENING GUN FIRED IN RED CROSS DRIVE

Inspiring Address at Cheney Hall.

DR. POWELL'S REMARKS

Tells His Experiences in the Western Front—Membership Campaign Starts Here Today.

"I've often wondered why Dante and Milton painted such a mild picture of hell. I wonder no more, for they had never seen it. I have seen hell. I saw it in the devastated fields of France. The hell of Dante and Milton was but a mid-summer night's dream compared to the war just ended."

So spoke Lyman P. Powell, D. D., L. L. D., President of Hobart College in an informal talk to the team captains and workers who gathered at Cheney Hall last evening to receive instructions for the big Red Cross Membership Drive which started today.

A Noted Speaker.
Dr. Powell is a speaker of international reputation. He has just returned to this country from France where he has been engaged in Red Cross work. He used no notes, nor did he have a set speech. His was a heart to heart talk, and his graphic description of the work of the American Red Cross on the other side, made a most decided impression and stirred the workers to a determination to work harder than they had ever worked before, to make this week's Xmas Roll Call a success.

Must Be Permanent.
"The Red Cross must be a permanent organization," said Dr. Powell. "It will never be mustered out of the service. Mothers have been so busy in the last four years that they could not accomplish the huge amount of labor that confronted them. So God created during this period a new mother, the greatest mother of them all, The Red Cross. On her shoulders has been placed the burden, and though at times the road has been steep and rough, and almost impossible obstacles had to be overcome, she has carried that burden, cheerfully, faithfully, and efficiently and the deeds of valor of the Red Cross nurses have amazed the civilized world."

"The Soldiers' Mother."

"The mission of the Red Cross was not alone confined to administering to the sick and wounded," continued the speaker. "Her greatest aim was to become a mother to the homesick soldier lad and to carry into all sections of the war that indefinable thing that is understood only in the homes. Many cases of shell shock and nervous breakdowns have been nothing but acute homesickness. We set out to eliminate this evil by tender care and homelike surroundings and we did our work so well that the name of the American Red Cross is sacred, not only with the Americans but among those of our Allies as well."

Soldiers Lonely.

Dr. Powell cited a case in a Paris hospital where a young lad, a boy in his "teens" was recuperating from a severe wound. His greatest pain did not come from the wound, but from a heart, lonely for companionship. He cut off the buttons of his coat at night in order to secure the companionship of the Red Cross nurse for a few hours each day. It was in little episodes such as the above that woman proved her worth, said Dr. Powell, and it was these little occurrences—small as they seemed—that won the confidence and admiration of the world. Many of these heart appealing incidents have never been put into print, smothered as they were by the stirring tales of patriotism, but they have been a dominant factor in maintaining the morale that was necessary for victory.

The Worth of Women.

The speaker then spoke of the worth of women in the great war. He said, "woman has become efficient during the great conflict. She has proved her efficiency in a manner that leaves no doubts as to her worth in the future. And whatever her part is in the future history of the world she must remember the Red Cross Spirit." He then told of other Red Cross activities and in concluding his summary he said when anything hard had to be done, it was turned over to the Red Cross and it was done.

Dr. Powell then gave his feelings an idea of the spirit and feeling which exists among the people of the Allies for the American people. "America is a word to conjure with in Europe," he said. "The Allies trust in and believe that we have no other purpose than to make the world free."

and the bravery of our troops will never be forgotten.

What a Belgian Said.

The speaker then told of a conversation he had had with a gentle woman of Belgium. "The enemy," meaning the Germans—she said, "would not let us run up our flag, so, we hoisted the flag that they did not dare order to be taken down, the American flag, the symbol of freedom, truth, love and all that is holy. This flag means much to us Belgians and it is respected as much as our own." These words said Dr. Powell were spoken by the Queen of the Belgians.

Bravery of Our Troops.

The bravery of the American troops also came in for a share of the speaker's praise. He said that it was not only Americans and descendants of the Mayflower pioneers who bore the brunt of Chateau Thierry and other famous battles but the sons of those who before the war had landed at Ellis Island. Some of these boys were of German descent, sons of the men whom the German war lord had counted on for future help. These men realizing that this monster was destroying the fatherland, offered their services to their foster parents and those who were to old to go, sent their sons in their place.

How Yankees Fight.

The speaker told an interview with a German prisoner who said that America could not accomplish anything against Germany with her forty years of military Kultur. When a German officer gave the command to advance his troops advanced and when he told them to halt, his orders were carried out with the same precision, said the prisoner. But when an American officer after he gives his orders to go over the top, tells his men to stop, they do not do this but go on and on, and on, and in many cases instead of using their bayonets they punched the Germans unmercifully with their fists. They found out after all, said Dr. Powell, that the American with his so called ungilded footstep could trim the German with his world famed goose step.

The speaker then related a few amusing anecdotes of trench life. He closed his address with an urgent appeal to the team workers, urging them to work as they had never worked before and to uphold Manchester's nation wide reputation of a one hundred percent plus town.

The Luncheon.

Preceding Doctor Powell's talk, a luncheon was served. The waitresses wore the regulation costume of the organization and were aided by the local Boy Scouts in full military regalia. During the differenced courses, community songs were sung under the leadership of Miss Washburn.

President C. Elmore Watkins of the local chapter spoke of the future work of the National Committee and said that a portion of the work would be allotted to the local chapter. The Home Service work will be continued as will also the foreign work. This will probably be the last call for funds as there will be no drive for funds next spring.

Campaign Outlined.

Samuel Crowell who will direct the work of the teams during this week's campaign, outlined the work to be done, and gave the workers their necessary instructions. "This is not a drive," said Chairman Crowell, "but a Christmas Roll Call. No quota has been set but we must strive to reach the 2,000 mark." Contrary to reports he said, that children would be allowed to join this year. No record will be given this year. The Roll Call button will take the place of a record.

St. Mary's bowling team will return match at the Center alleys this evening with the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad office force. A week ago last night, these teams bowled at the Wooster alleys in Hartford. The city aggregation won two out of three games, and were considered the winners of the match. After the third game, it was suggested that they bowl two more strings. The locals won both games, thus, giving them three out of the five strings. It was a most friendly contest and another good time, with plenty of jolly, is looked for tonight. The teams will line up as follows:

HOW A RED CROSS DOLLAR SAVED LIFE OF HIS SON

Romance Taken from an Incident During the Late World War.

"Goodbye, take her yourself," the old man quavered as he shook his boy's hand at the Indiana junction, then passed him on to Ma. The old lady put her lean arms around Jim's neck and wept. "Oh, cheer up, Ma," he said. He gave her a hug and kiss, hopped the train and was gone—"Over There."

Pa and Ma walked slowly down the village street—they had given their son. Ma stopped at the store. She wanted to do her bit. She bought some yarn and knitting needles. Pa stopped to look at a Red Cross poster, dug down into his jeans, fished out his wallet, unwound the string and took out a dollar bill. For Jim's sake he became a member of the American Red Cross.

It was an old dollar, worn and crayed at the edges—its crispness and long since died in activity. Presently its life was resurrected. It went singing on its way to Washington, alive, vigorous, almost crackling in revived crispness, and grew. Now Pa's old dollar was worth $1.03—the value of every dollar given to the American Red Cross.

Pa's dollar now found exercise and work. It went down to the Supply department and lo! and behold! its value had risen to $1.59—the value of every dollar there. It never slept. Every minute of the 24-hour day it kept laboring—in France, Italy, Palestine, Asia. It fed and clothed the homeless, healed the stricken, buried the dead and carried back home whatever of cheer could assuage the grief of those behind. It survived the perils of the U-boats and defied the German bombs that disturbed its work in the hospital behind the battle lines. It rose in all its glory from the debris and wreckage to mend the wounds and lend hope to the victims of frightfulness. "Carry On" was its slogan of mercy where death and disaster were sweeping the earth.

Pa's dollar was ever ready to go "Over the top." It went into No Man's Land to give first aid to the wounded. It stood behind the lines in the persons of the surgeons and nurses it had equipped and sent overseas. It was there when Jim fell—when the crumpled form of Pa's and Ma's boy was carried back. It saved Jim's life. When Jim opened his eyes Pa's dollar was smiling at him. "You are going to get well," the nurse said. "Thanks," said Jim. "won't you write mother?" She'll worry. And tell her—tell her the Red Cross saved me."

Pa's dollar got busy again. It didn't write—it cabled. Pa and Ma read it together.

"Pa" said Ma, as she wept. "The Red Cross saved Jim." "Yes, it's the truth," said Pa. "I've known folks that could make a dollar go a long way but we gotta take our hats off to the Red Cross. I reckon when the Christmas Roll Call is sounded there will be might few who won't answer, present."

CLEMENCEAU PUTS PEACE QUESTIONS FIRST

Understood to Have Suggested to Wilson That League of Nations and Disarmament Be Settled Later.

Paris, Dec. 16.—Premier Clemenceau is understood to have indicated a desire to President Wilson that peace questions be settled before debating the formation of a league of nations and disarmament. The sentiment expressed at the conference of the President and the Premier was of the friendliest characters, however.

President Wilson is satisfied that real progress has been made. The President and Colonel House conferred together at some length last night during which it is believed Premier Clemenceau's attitude was discussed. Belief is expressed that President Wilson is pressing Premier Lloyd George to come to Paris at the earliest possible moment in order to secure his attitude before the President meets Premier Orlando of Italy. The President is deeply concerned over the assassination of President Pass, of Portugal and expressed regret over the tragedy.

OUR COMMERCE CHAMBER PLANS TO RAISE $3,000

Members Deem it Our Duty to Help in Americanization Work—Impressed by Speech.

So impressed were the members of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce last evening by the speech of Harrison H. Wheaton, on "Americanization" at High school hall, that it was decided to raise $3,000 here to carry on the work. A committee will be appointed to raise the money in the town. Howell Cheney remarked when he made the suggestion: "This is everybody's job. It has been neglected. To be good Americans we must do our duty. It is the biggest proposition so far to be tackled by our Chamber of Commerce but we can do it."

Mr. Wheaton's Talk.

The speaker who is a member of the State Council of Defense has made a special study of his subject. He said that the war, through the draft, uncovered the fact that we had 33,000,000 foreigners in this country. Of this great number, 5,000,000 could not speak English and 2,000,000 can neither read nor write. This puts a big job up to the American people, said the speaker.

The industrial plants all over the United States are taking up this vital subject, said Mr. Wheaton. We must teach those five millions to speak English. We must mould all of those foreigners into one big nation. English is the language of the country and the foreigner must be taught American ideals. America must be the leader in everything that is good and this subject is a good thing, said the speaker.

In Dollars and Cents.

Then Mr. Wheaton spoke of the dollar and cents angle of the subject. He said that non-English speaking employees were a loss to industry. They could not understand orders, nor instructions on safety first. As a result they were injured and the industries have to suffer monetary loss.

Accidents Eliminated.

In the Ford plant in Detroit, the speaker said, a man was made to understand that there was a speaking English man in the plant and that the accident was eliminated.

employees. A school was established and the non-English employees were forced to attend. As a result 54 per cent of the accidents was eliminated. Also the production of these men was increased after they knew the English language.

Foreigners Exploited.

How the foreigners are being exploited in this country was then told by the speaker who said that over a million foreigners have booked passage for Europe and plan to leave as soon as ships are ready to carry them across. He said these people were misinformed as to conditions in Europe just to get their money and get them over there where labor is so much needed. It is up to us to induce them to stay and to buy property here. Before the war foreigners sent yearly to Europe about $250,000,000. This amount will be increased now that the war is over. This money should be kept here, said the speaker.

These facts and figures and a great deal more were given by Mr. Wheaton and those who were present were greatly impressed.

After the speaker concluded Mr. Cheney made the motion to raise $3,000 which was unanimously adopted. Afterwards a short business session was held when five directors for the Chamber were appointed. They are G. E. Keith, F. J. Bendall, Austin Cheney, C. W. Hildman and Edward F. Taylor.

REBEKAHS ELECT.

At the annual meeting of Sunset Rebekah lodge last evening, the following officers were elected: Noble Grand, Mrs. Etta M. Love-Vice Grand, Mrs. Minnie Hutton. Recording Secretary, Mrs. Emma L. Nettleton. Financial Secretary, Miss Mary B. Thompson.

Treasurer, Mrs. Nellie B. Lull. Trustees, Charles B. Norris, three years; Mrs. Nellie R. Trotter, two years; Mrs. Julia B. Hutt, one year.

These officers and the appointed officers will be installed January 6 by District Deputy President Miss Nellie Yare of Stafford Springs. Preceding the installation, supper will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Stefano Cavagnaro of 29 East Center street have just received a letter from their son, Private John L. Cavagnaro of Headquarters Company, 102nd Infantry, written at Gievres, France, under date of November 18. John reports that he is feeling fine and says he has sent some souvenirs, which he hopes will arrive in time for Christmas.
The souvenirs, he says, include a mantle cover, pillow top, Rosary, three handkerchiefs, pipe,
two books of post cards and some French money.

It will be remembered by Herald readers that both Private John L. Cavagnaro and his brother, Private Amedeo Joseph Cavagnaro, who are members of the same company, were gassed some time ago. John apparently has regained his health, but he says he has not heard from Joe in a long time. John closes his letter with best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all.

VARYING FARES HERE TO NEW YORK

Trains Via New Haven Cheaper and Quicker Than Via Waterbury.

The straight three cents a mile which prevails for railroad fare under government management discriminate against passengers for New York who take the through express leaving Manchester at 10.37.
This train runs to New York by way of Waterbury and Bridgeport and the mileage is greater that way than by the way of New Haven. Hence the fare to New York by this train is $4.15, while a ticket by way of
New Haven costs only $3.31.

There is a saving of time as well as of money by taking the New Haven route. By changing at Hartford to the New Haven train, the passenger leaving Manchester at 10.47 will be due in New York at 2.17 while if he goes through via Waterbury he will not be due in New York until 2.48.
Thus by changing at Hartford he saves 34 cents and 31 minutes. To many these savings overcome the disadvantage of changing cars. Others are willing to sacrifice the extra cash and time for the sake of going through from Manchester to New York without leaving the train.

ABOUT TOWN

A daughter has been born to Mr. and Mrs. John Oerman of Doane street.

The Ladies' Guild of St. Mary's church will meet at the church on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Every member is urged to attend this meeting.

A meeting of those interested in the British Day celebration has been called for next Friday night at the Recreation building at which time the expenses of the proposed celebration will be cleared up and the accounts settled.

Rudolph Fregin, son of Mrs. R. Fregin of Maple street, was given a pleasant birthday surprise party Saturday evening at the Thompson bungalow on Center street. Dancing and games were enjoyed and during the evening the friends gave Mr. Fregin a gold watch fob.

TO ELECT OFFICERS.

South Manchester Camp Modern Woodmen of America will hold its annual election of officers at the next meeting Dec. 19th. The initiation ceremony will also be conferred on a class of candidates after which light refreshments will be served.

The camp is in a flourishing condition and has started the winter's activities by adding 24 new members since the war ended. During the war the camp has kept up the insurance of 23 members in the service, and has also supported one war orphan in France.

"JACK" IS SOME BOWLER.

USE BUCKWHEAT COAL

WITH THE LARGER SIZES

As Advises State Fuel Administrator in a Circular Letter Today.

The following circular telling how to use No. 1 Buckwheat coal with large sizes has been sent out by the State Fuel Administrator:

"No. 1 Buckwheat," with a little care, can be burned successfully in connection with the larger sizes of Anthracite. When banking the fire for the night spread a small amount of Buckwheat over the top of the fire, being careful to leave a thin bright spot at the side or back of the fuel bed. In mild weather some Buckwheat may be used during the day. A bed of ashes should be carried on the grate to prevent the fine coal from running through into the ash pit. The amount of Buckwheat which can be successfully burned will depend upon the draft available and the care exercised in firing, but there should be little difficulty in using one shovelful of Buckwheat to four of the coarser coals.

Where the draft is strong it may be possible to burn a much larger proportion of the small fuel.

How to Burn Buckwheat.

1. Storage. Provide a place for buckwheat coal in your cellar, either a separate box or coal bin. Don't mix it with the larger size coal. Have a place for each size.

2. Day Mixture. Fire one shovelful of buckwheat to three or four of larger size.

3. Night Mixture. Use more buckwheat than large coal when banking fire at night. The buckwheat coal will keep well and will
