

LIBERTY LOAN STARTS TODAY WITH RUSH, PARADES AND CELEBRATIONS ALL OVER NATION

Telegrams and Telephone Messages Pour Into Washington Early—Director Franklin Warns Against Over Optimism—New England District Eager to 'Finish the Job.'

Washington, April 21.—The Fifth Liberty Loan—the Victory Loan—drive started off today with a rush. The morning was still very young when telegrams and telephone messages started to pour in upon Treasury officials and each told of quotas attained or oversubscribed.

Although the formal opening of the campaign was not scheduled until today in many places the workers had been organized for a week and had been about securing subscriptions without waiting for any formal demonstration.

Mr. Parsons warned against over optimism. Reports from all over the country are too optimistic in regard to the loan and this feeling may do more to hinder the Treasury to have the bonds taken up by the people in order that the enormous surplus now crowding the banks may be released for industrial development.

At 11:30 a. m. the first bonds were placed on sale. Hundreds of Greater Boston Victory Loan workers assembled in front of the state house and as the clocks tolled the hour, they started the campaign with a rush.

Opening of Campaign. State officials took part in the opening of the campaign. Government officials headed a parade of Victory Loan workers and marched to victory area in Boston common.

The governor and Mayor Peters made stirring speeches in behalf of the loan. They urged early and plentiful subscriptions and the benefits of their aid.

Telephone Strike Is All Over; Greater Boston Normal Again

Boston, April 21.—Telephone service throughout all New England was completely restored this afternoon.

Following a meeting of striking telephone operators in Boston an announcement was made that the girls had ratified the terms of the settlement made at a conference yesterday.

Boston, April 21.—Defying the orders of Union leaders, striking telephone operators, repairmen and cable installers in this city refused to abide by a tentative settlement of the labor controversy and return to work today.

The principal demand which the operators asked to secure was that the maximum number of years that an operator would be required to work before receiving a maximum salary be reduced from seven to four years.

Inside men under the terms were given an increase of 50 cents per day and the men outside of Boston were advanced $2.25 cents per day.

Manchester Subscribes Total of $152,500 on the Opening Day.

Immediate Reports Desired of all Possible Buyers—Big Clean-Up the First Week.

Manchester's campaign in behalf of the Victory Liberty Loan opened with a decided rush today.

Shortly before press time this afternoon the Evening Herald ascertained that the total subscriptions up to that hour amounted to $152,500.

However, the committee is determined to leave nothing undone toward placing the bonds before every citizen in town and despite the strong opening sale the subscription of every person who can possibly buy a bond will be needed.

At present the headquarters of the Victory Liberty Loan committee is at the bank of the Manchester National Bank.

ers at a mass meeting in the Grand Opera House.

Previous to meeting, many strikers were outside the company's building in the business district.

Chief Henchman of President Ebert Grants an Interview.

Unrest Over Lack of Work Also Cause of Worry, Premier Declares.

Berlin, Via London, April 21.—Germany is in no danger of a successful Bolshevik counter revolution for a return of the former Kaiser to the throne, according to Premier Philipp Scheidemann in an exclusive interview granted today.

Unrest Over Lack of Food. The danger of a counter revolution is inconsequential in comparison with the unrest over lack of food and work, said the Premier.

The monarchist movement is insignificant. The ex-Kaiser is considered finally disposed of.

There are many kings, princes and dukes living in their former domains but none amount to more than private citizens.

The present form of government will not be succeeded by a more radical one so long as the Bolsheviks are in power.

Must Supply Food.

'WAR OF REVENGE' IF FRANCE TAKES ALSACE, PREDICTED

Dr. Gustave Stresemann, Head of Peoples Party So Declares.

WILL NEVER FORGET ALSACE WAS GERMAN

Peaceful Competition of German and French Best Means to Settle the Problem.

Berlin, April 21.—(Via London, April 21).—A "war of revenge" if France annexes Alsace was predicted today by Dr. Gustave Stresemann, president of the peoples party and a member of the national assembly.

"When Alsace was German it had a special position with its own legislature and the population certainly would not have become a mere French province," declared Stresemann.

"The German youth will never forget that Alsace was German and if annexed to France the German future will see a war of revenge. Peaceful competition of German and French culture is the best means to prevent tension which would otherwise prevail."

Dr. Stresemann, who is president of the German-American Trade Association, expressed the belief that financial arrangements between the German and Entente governments should be applicable to food only.

Raw Materials Needed. Payment for raw materials could be safest arranged between individual German and American firms, said he.

Mountaineer Threatens to 'Shoot Up' Court

State Troops on Guard at Court House in Virginia—Man Who Made Threat a "Bad Man."

Standardsville, Va., April 21.—This quiet little village was trembling today over the threat of Edgar Morris, mountaineer and alleged slayer of Magistrate Buford Sullivan, to swoop down upon the settlement and shoot up the court when it convenes this afternoon.

Edgar Morris is known here, said a court official, dismissing Morris' threat to shoot up the court, "and he is a man to be feared. If he sent word that he was coming to court today, it is a sure thing he will be here."

MUST SEND ENVOYS. Paris, April 21.—The German claim to send delegates of its authority to Versailles instead of boys with plenipotentiary powers at the beginning of an armistice maneuver, but the allies will not into the trap, the Petit Journal stated today.

The German have been warned by the big four that they must send messengers to Versailles but envoys empowered to act for the government.

FATE OF ROME IN THE MIDDLE EAST. SITUATION IS FRAGILE

CONGRESS TO CONVENE PROBABLY ON MAY 12

President Wilson Demands Decides to Call a Special Session.

TO RETURN ON ARIZONA

George Washington to be Sent Back With Troops—Established Water at Front.

Paris, April 21.—President Wilson has definitely decided to call a special session of the American Congress probably May 12, the summer being sent from France, it was learned today.

It is now virtually certain that the President will be unable to return home in person to appear before Congress with the peace treaty or ratification by the Senate.

The President may return to the United States on the battleship Arizona instead of the transport George Washington. He has ordered the George Washington to return to America with troops and in the meantime the Arizona will remain in port at Brest awaiting further orders.

To Take Back Troops. It was the President's original intention to keep the George Washington in port in the event circumstances should necessitate his speedy return to Washington.

NO OFFICIAL REPORTS OF YANKS ORDERED OUT

War Department Says There Are Very Few Americans in Italy at the Present.

Washington, April 21.—Reports that American troops had been ordered out of Italy because of the possibility of hostilities between the Italians and Jugoslavians in the event of the peace conference being unable to adjust the disputed over Piume, had not officially reached either the State or the War Department today.

War Department officials, however, were inclined to accept the report with reserve.

With the termination of the armistice, the 332nd regiment of the American Expeditionary Force will be only complete.

SPECIAL TRAIN FOR BOSTON VISITORS

To Be Provided for Manchester Friends of the Treaty Slath, Both Going and Returning.

To accommodate Manchester people who are to attend the parade and welcoming services in Boston next Friday, the Manchester War Bureau has engaged a special train which is scheduled to leave Manchester at 11:30 p. m. Friday forenoon and leave Boston at 7:30 a. m. Saturday forenoon.

NO SECRET AGREEMENT FOR U. S. AND FRANCE

Wilson Will Take No Action Toward Any Sort of "Alliance"

Paris, April 21.—President Wilson will not negotiate any secret agreement with France for the protection of the latter country in the event of a German attack nor will he take any action towards an "alliance" that will weaken the principle of the league of nations.

PUTS IT UP TO CONGRESS

If Proposal is Made to Him President Will Refer It—Everything to Be Done in Open.

Paris, April 21.—President Wilson will not negotiate any secret agreement with France for the protection of the latter country in the event of a German attack nor will he take any action towards an "alliance" that will weaken the principle of the league of nations.

President Wilson Not at Conference—Question Looms Up as Most Serious Obstacle New Threatened Amicable Relations of Big Four—'Pact of London' Brought Up.

Paris, April 21.—The Italian-Jugoslav dispute over Piume, which has already threatened to precipitate another armed clash in western Europe was taken up today by Premier Lloyd George, Premier Clemenceau and Premier Orlando.

as the most serious obstacle now threatening the amicable relations in the Big Four. Arguments of an acrimonious nature developed during the session on the subject of Piume, the Italian minister insisting on the ground that the 27,000 Italian residents of Piume had voted in favor of annexation of the port by Italy.

J. W. HALE IDENTIFIED WITH LOCAL PROJECTS

Prominent in Business, Real Estate and Banking Activities—General Tomorrow.

Funeral of Justus W. Hale, died Saturday afternoon and his death was briefly mentioned Saturday's Evening Herald, will be held from his home on Center street tomorrow afternoon at 2.30. Service will be conducted by G. G. Scrivener of the South Methodist church and the burial will be in the East cemetery. Although Hale was a member of the local Odd Fellows lodge, these ceremonies will not be an active part in the service.

Hale was born in Waterbury, Conn., Nov. 25, 1852. He received a liberal school education and graduated from Eastman's Business College in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., in 1871. He immediately accepted a position as reporter and cashier with Daniel W. Hale & Company of Springfield, Mass. He came to South Manchester in 1873 and formed a business partnership with G. M. Clark under the firm name of Clark & Hale. On April 1, 1876 he purchased Mr. Clark's interest and admitted

George F. Day, forming the partnership of Hale, Day & Company. In 1893 the firm purchased the stock of J. A. Armstrong, who was then conducting a dry goods business in the Orford hotel building on Main street. The following year the firm of Hale, Day & Company dissolved, J. W. Hale taking the dry goods end. In 1896 he formed a real estate partnership with C. E. House and Annie I. House and they built the first House & Hale block in which he had a large dry goods store. This block was burned 10 years ago and was replaced by the present House & Hale building.

In the meantime Miss House had died and in the readjustment of the real estate holdings Mr. Hale acquired a half interest, which he held at his death. Eight or nine years ago Mr. Hale bought J. A. Kemp's large dry goods store on Union street in Rockville and formed the firm of L. E. Hale & Company, with his son, Leroy E. Hale in active charge of the business. For a time the Manchester and Rockville stores were run together but subsequently they were divorced and the J. W. Hale Company was formed to take over the South Manchester store. The controlling interest in the stock was bought by Frank H. Anderson but Mr. Hale continued as a minority stockholder and president of the company. For the last two or three whom to conclude peace in Austria and Hungary. The Hungarian soviet government at Budapest is seemingly firmly established and unless the situation changes it is likely this government will be recognized and dealt with.

Austrian Situation. The situation in Austria is so obscure that it is impossible to forecast whether there will be a stable faction in control at Vienna by the time that the treaty for Austria has been drawn up.

This complication may seriously interfere with the President's plan to return home early next month.

NO BOLSHEVİK DANGER SAYS GERMAN PREMIER

idea can be kept out. But the Bolsheviki can only be held back if the Entente will adjust the questions of peace, food, the blockade and raw materials with toleration. It is a fact that the independent Socialists are increasing at numerous places at the expense of my party, which is a visible indication of the general uncertainty of German workers regarding the foreign political situation. It may become a real danger unless these things are promptly bettered, which depends upon the Entente as much as on ourselves. We are doing our best until our former enemies realize that it is to our common interest to stabilize German conditions.

Trying to Keep Order. "We are maintaining order so far as our weak military condition allows and we are doing our utmost to secure at least a small improvement in the feeding of the people who have broken down under the war blockade.

"We cannot procure sufficient work for the people nor, so long as the general under-feeding prevails, revise the desire to work which was formerly one of the leading characteristics of the German people. But we believe we can steer through all the dangers if there is bread and work.

LEIPZIG SOVIET DECLARES WAR ON GOVERNMENT.

Leipzig, Via Copenhagen, April 19.—The soldiers and workmen's council, (the soviet), has declared war against the government.

The foregoing dispatch does not make it plain whether the soviet declared war on the Central government headed by President Ebert or the government of the state of Saxony. Leipzig is in Saxony and as there have been grave disorders in that district for the past few days it is likely that the hostilities are directed against the local government.

PLEA FOR NURSES.

Washington, April 21.—An appeal from men of the Medical Corps in the service to care for the wounded was made by General M. W. Ireland to many men of the corps and to their discharge, the general stated, that if they advantage of their opportunity to serve there will be a shortage of nurses and wounded must be cared for.

Washington, April 21.—A subcommittee of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, a scientific body composed of civilians and army and navy officers is making a thorough study of the subject of civil aerial transport. A report, with specific recommendation looking to the development of civil transport through the air, is expected in the near future.

In England a Civil Transport Division has been created in the Air Service, with a prospective budget of $15,000,000. It is proposed to spend $10,000,000 of the British fund on research and experiment work. The remaining $5,000,000 is for the developing of aircraft for civil transport and for maintenance. Gen. Sykes has been appointed Controller General of Civil Aviation.

France in Line.
France is going forward along the same general lines, with Col. Leclerc, formerly in command of the aerial defenses of Paris, as Director of Civil Aeronautics. Already Col. Leclerc has perfected a preliminary project which contemplates the linking up of the principal cities and towns of France, with main stations probably every 150 miles.

Several leading American companies already are planning or actually manufacturing commercial planes, and will be ready to go ahead whenever the Government announces a definite policy and lays down the required rules and regulations.

Capt. Charles J. Glidden of the Air Service, stationed at Southern Field, Americus, Ga., says the work of aircraft during the war establishes its practicability for commercial uses and warrants the creation in this country of a complete aerial service connecting all cities and towns, for the transportation of persons, mail and merchandise, and before the close of 1920 this service will be in full operation, with extensions to all countries on this hemisphere.

Plan Trunk Lines.
In the United States, he says, trunk lines will be established across the country which will place every city and town within six hours from about twenty-four distributing points and, once created and in operation, our extensive coast line could be put under complete protection from any possible invasion. Thousands of college trained aviators in and out of the service are waiting to join in the operation of an aerial service.

Everybody directly and indirectly interested in aviation, he says, should attend the Atlantic City convention and exhibition in order to keep abreast with the times and become familiar with the development of aircraft for defense and commercial uses.

Capt. Glidden, is well known in automobile circles, being donor of the Glidden Trophy for touring. He took the automobile first twice around the world, occupying eight years on the tour, and while in the Government service personnel departments, secured in six months over 6,000 applications for aviators and balloon pilots.

CALL FOR BOOKS.

The Library directors are asked to make public another urgent call for books to be used for the Army of Occupation. Connecticut's quota is 20,000 volumes. There is great need of fresh, wholesome fiction, published within the year. New fiction comes out so fast, these days, that few care to give a place to it upon their shelves. What better use could be made of it than to pass it on to those who are longing to get home, but must wait for the establishment of peace and order?

The Manchester Public Library will gladly pass on such books and they may be left at the library or at Grant's drug store. Please send at least one book, and send it now!

ORDERED TO CEASE BRIBING CUSTOMERS.

Washington, April 19.—Berry Brothers, Inc., manufacturers of varnish and kindred products, and their manager Everett Hinckley of Boston, today were ordered by the Federal Trade Commission to cease "giving money and gratuities to customers and prospective customers in order to influence purchases. At the same time the commission dismissed the proceedings against William H. Kendrick, salesman for Berry Brothers, exonerating him for practicing unlawful methods in obtaining business. Berry Brothers, a Michigan corporation, was erroneously served in the proceedings, and as the alleged practices were committed without their knowledge, they were absolved, the commission stated.

The suicide rate of Germany was, before the war, the highest in the world—twenty one per 100,000 yearly.

W. H. CHILDS HAVING TROUBLE IN POLITICS

Manchester Man, Now Prominent in New York, Under Indictment for Conspiracy.

North end residents are interested in the case of William Hamlin Childs who is under indictment in New York on a conspiracy charge growing out of election expenses in the Mitchell campaign. Mr. Childs was formerly a prominent resident of Manchester. He passed his boyhood here and began his business career here as a dealer in grain. He built the elevator which stands just west of the Manchester passenger station and was the first to apply modern methods to the handling of grain. He was still a resident of Manchester when he became interested in the manufacture of Bon Ami. Subsequently he removed to New York where he developed the Bon Ami business, of which he is still the head, and also embarked in other important enterprises which have made him a wealthy man. He was a personal friend of Theodore Roosevelt, was active in the Progressive party and was a staunch supporter of Mayor Mitchell.

It was in connection with his services to the Fusion party, which ran Mitchell as an independent candidate against the present Mayor Hylan, that charges of conspiracy to violate the election law were brought against Mr. Childs. Three indictments were found against Mr. Childs more than a year ago and he was sent to the Tombs to await trial, but his attorneys secured a writ of habeas corpus and he remained at the prison only about 20 minutes. A higher court has now dismissed the writ of habeas corpus and Mr. Childs's attorneys have made a further appeal to the Court of Appeals.

In reply to the charges last year Mr. Childs said there was no attempt to conceal anything. Those who know Mr. Childs can readily believe this assertion. The very fact that he was associated with such men as Roosevelt and Mitchell in the effort to keep Tammany from gaining control of the city would indicate that he favored clean methods in politics. His well known business ability and integrity also discredit any charge that he was intentionally guilty of crooked work. Manchester people will watch with interest the progress of the case.

NEW YORK HAILS HEROES OF 332ND INFANTRY REGT.

The Only American Troops Engaged With Italian Army at the Piave Given Naisy Welcome.

New York, April 21.—New York gave a noisy reception today to the 332nd Infantry regiment, heroes of the Piave river fighting and the only American troops to be engaged with the Italian army.

The governors of three states, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania, reviewed the parade as the Ohio and Pennsylvania boys marched up Fifth Avenue. They were the first of the returning units from other states to march in parade in New York. Thousands of Italians and members of races composing the new Jugoslav nation lined Fifth Avenue and cheered the marchers.

A squad of New York motor cycle policemen led the way up Fifth Avenue. The regiment carrying full equipment left Washington Arch at 10 a. m., moving up a flag-bedecked thoroughfare, through the new Victory Arch to Central Park. Fine weather brought out a big crowd.

LOCAL VICTORY LOAN DRIVE'S FINE START

Trust company and will continue there until Tuesday night. Anybody who desires to buy a bond may do so at the bank. After Tuesday the headquarters will be at the war bureau. During the past few days the war bureau quarters were allowed to J. H. Quinn, who had need of them on account of the fire in the Ferris block. After Tuesday night, the quarters will again be occupied by the war workers, including the Victory Liberty Loan committee.

Appeal to Buyers.

Tomorrow the Manchester committee under the direction of Chairman R. LaMotte Russell will send out to the thousands of buyers of past issues of bonds an appeal regarding purchasing the new bonds. All buyers of the previous issues will be urged to subscribe at once to the new Victory bonds. The fact will be pointed out that it is again time to back the soldiers with something besides applause. The soldiers have done their part, and the stay-at-home citizens who have done their part in the past will feel in honor bound to keep faith with the men who bore the hardships and dangers.

House-to-House?
There were bright prospects today that if the townspeople will immediately notify the committee the amount of bonds they will subscribe for, that extremely laborious and monotonous task—the house-to-house canvass—may be dispensed with in this campaign.

As the town is so familiar with the way in which drives and campaigns are conducted, there is strong possibility that the subscribers will not wait to be sought out, which would inevitably follow if necessary. In event of the great majority of bond buyers making known to the committee within the next three days the amount of bonds they will buy, the chances are that the house-to-house canvass will not be needed. All that is necessary to insure dispensing with the cumbersome and irksome house-to-house visiting program is that every man, woman or child who can buy a bond will immediately notify the committee.

There is good chance of Manchester making a speedy clean-up. As a special trainload of workers will leave town Thursday for the Boston celebration, strong efforts will be made to have the greater part of the towns quota raised by that time. Many of the most active Victory Loan workers will go on the Boston trip, and there is a move to have the Victory Loan drive as near finished as possible before the start for Boston.

Middletown and Derby have already gone over the top and subscribed their full quotas. Manchester can do the same in record time if all who are going to buy bonds will notify the committee within the next three days.

HELPING THE TROLLEY LINES

The future of the electric street railway is problematical. This form of transportation originated scarcely 35 years ago and it was a paying proposition until within the last few years when it began to run behind. Now many electric roads are in the hands of the receivers and others are barely meeting expenses.

In the Connecticut legislature various methods are under consideration for the aid of the street railways in this state. The managers of the most important of these say they can no longer make both ends meet while shouldering the burden of taxation and highway improvement placed upon them by the state.

The Americanization movement is having its troubles. It went off half-cooked. It was not a war measure and its founders should have taken more time to consider.

The first non-stop airplane flight from Chicago to New York was made Saturday in six hours and fifty minutes. Captain E. F. White, an army aviator, who made the flight, told the New York reporters there was nothing remarkable about the trip.

The price of building materials is beginning to fall. The drop hasn't reached the consumer so you would notice it much but it has started back at the place of production and will soon filter through the jobber and retailer to the consumer.

Of course in this latitude there will be the snows of winter to contend with, but even this obstacle is not insurmountable. The state already is having good success in keeping its trunk lines open by the use of gasoline snow plows.

The most practical way to help the trolleys at the present time would be to relieve them of the expense of street paving. Whatever investment the state or city should make in paving the space occupied by the street railway would be equally advantageous to the coming automobile.

A BUSINESS REVOLUTION.
J. W. Hale, who was in the retail business in this town for nearly half a century, saw in that period many changes in business methods.

Mr. Hale lived to see a revolution in the local methods of merchandising. With weekly payments at the mills came shorter credits and an increase in cash purchases.

CART-TAIL PHILOSOPHY AMUSES LONDON

CROWD, ESPECIALLY WHEN SPEAKER COULD NOT EVEN PRONOUNCE WORD "BOLSHEVISM"

London (by mail).—Hyde Park on a pleasant Sunday afternoon is much like Boston Common or Union Square, New York, on a bright Saturday after the sweatshops have closed.

Soap-box and cart-tail orators are out in all their glory. They have a cosmopolitan crowd to talk to—English, for the most part; Canadians, Australians, Americans, Frenchmen, and a few Germans, carefully camouflaged as friendly aliens.

One moment you listen to a woman who ran for Parliament at the last election, but couldn't get anywhere near it. She wants to save you from the yawning gulf of politics.

She wears a fur coat. She is talking from a high yellow cart. She is talking well. Her audience consists of men and women, apparently in comfortable circumstances, with a large sprinkling of soldiers from various Allied services.

The woman has a platform with more planks in it than a California red-wood tree. She is against the Germans. She wants them all thrown out of England and out of the British army and navy.

She fears they are a grave menace to England. And she leans down toward the audience confidentially and says: "And I have records in my possession to show that in the United States the German menace is worse than it was before the war."

"Ow, Hi si, Lydy," yells a little British Tommy, with a gleam in his eye and four wound stripes on his arm. "You've got Germans on the brain."

The Lydy grips her throat. In an instant she comes back with a pointing finger. "You people right in front of me face a more serious situation from the Germans than before the war," she persists.

"Ow, but Lydy," presses the Tommy, "the bloomin', blinkin' war is over. Besides, th' Yanks made the Germans fight. They either had to fight or get out of America."

Once more the Lydy choked for a second. Then she says: "Britain and Germans. "But we can't stand for the Germans over here. And you just watch them in the United States!"

"I'm from America," announces a man with a soft, drawing voice, but very little aggressiveness; "we made the Germans get to work. I don't think you people over here understand our temperment. That's the main trouble. If you did you would see that the Germans in America are a cringing lot now."

EVERYTHING IS READY FOR BIG K. OF C. BALL

Eighteenth Annual Easter Ball of Campbell Council to be Held This Evening at Cheney Hall

Tonight's the night of the eighteenth annual Easter ball of Campbell Council, Knights of Columbus. The time is eight o'clock. The place is Cheney Hall. The girl, we need not mention. A host of beautiful girls will be there.

For eighteen years, it has been the custom of the local K. of C. to stage an elaborate concert and ball at Cheney Hall. Last year, however, proved an exception to the rule, for owing to the war and out of respect to its members who were in the service, it was decided not to hold the event.

At a meeting of the general ball committee which was held last Friday evening, the reports of the various committees evidenced the fact that although in its preliminary stages, the success of the ball was already assured.

Another subject of importance is the music. This is the first appearance of Hatch's orchestra in Manchester in four years. The announcement of a dance or concert coupled with the name of Hatch, is one that invariably creates widespread interest.

Campbell Council's membership of two hundred previous to the war was mostly of young men. During the war, over one third of its entire roster entered the military service. Those who stayed at home backed them up with Liberty Bonds.

The historic battle of Waterloo was begun and finished in eight hours.

Reaching Reforms In Labor? Forthcoming In English Conference

London (by mail).—While the labor situation has cleared somewhat, there are still serious problems to be confronted when Premier Lloyd George comes back to London and begins to take up internal questions with his colleagues in the Cabinet. There have been two labor crises in England since the armistice was signed and the whole country was threatened with paralysis if the triple alliance—the coal miners, transport workers and railway men—had plunged into a national strike. It is probable that the National Labor Conference, which was formed when the last crisis developed, will make recommendations for far-reaching labor reforms.

The original demands of the men were as follows:

Miners—Thirty per cent advance in wages; a six-hour day; nationalization of the mines.

Railway men—Eight-hour day and a forty-eight hour week; war advances to be converted into permanent wages; double time to be paid for Sunday duty and overtime; time and one-half for night work; twelve hours' rest between turns of duty; conditions on railways to be standardized; equal representation of the union on the railway managements.

Transport workers—Forty-four-hour week; 30 per cent wage increase in piece rates for dock and riverboat work.

Arguments Socialistic. Arguments which were formerly associated with the utterances of the soap-box Socialist orator have become part of the daily discussions of the nation. Demands and issues which would have been rank Socialistic five or ten years ago, have now become "rights."

One of the rights demanded by the miners is that every man at present employed in the mines shall be paid full wages if replaced by a demobilized soldier.

In many industries (aside from the railways) men are demanding representation upon the management boards and the right to inspect the accounts.

The big and powerful leaders of the unions have conceived a new platform of rights and they are fighting with brains very ably. Labor has become a strong factor in British politics too.

While the people have had some scares, they are confident that the Government, with the co-operation of the unions and the employers, will solve the problems so that England will see a bright period of prosperity ahead of her in the reconstruction days.

"VICTORY BLUE" THE PREVAILING COLOR IN EASTER PARADE

Pleasant Weather Saturday and Sunday Encouraged Clothes Display.

FLOWERS WERE PLENTY BUT LILIES WERE SCARCE

Merchants Report a Record Trade in Both Men's and Women's Wear.

Girls, Victory blue will be the favorite and predominating color in styles this season. At least it appeared to be the favorite color in Manchester's Easter parade. Practically all of the suits, dresses, capes and dolmans, which were displayed by local girls yesterday were of the new color, Victory Blue. There was a wide range of beautiful styles and materials distributed among the crowds that thronged the streets in the afternoon and may it be said that our Manchester girls looked prettier than ever before.

The crowded stores of the local merchants on Saturday gave evidence that local residents were in the purchasing mood and that they were going to celebrate the first real Easter since 1918 in an appropriate manner. It was close to midnight when many of the establishments closed their doors after one of the most prosperous pre-Easter periods in Manchester's business history.

In the dry goods stores were young misses and women waiting for that promised suit, cape, dolman or hat and woe to the clerk or saleslady who politely explained that the article or articles in particular were not yet ready. Midnight reports indicated that the capes were the biggest sellers among the younger element. The sale of dolmans—the combination coat and cape—was confined to those of more advanced ages.

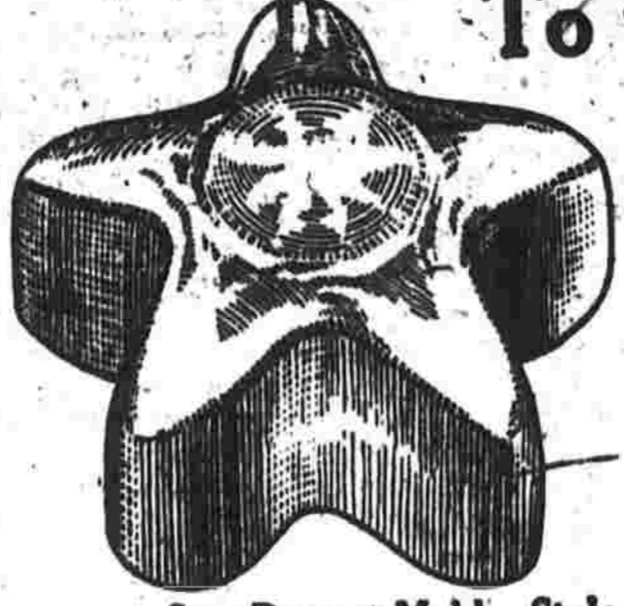

Local dealers in men's clothing and attire report an enormous business in the sale of suits. This is no doubt due to the fact that many of the discharged soldiers and sailors waited until last week before purchasing civilian clothes. Added to suits were the new shirt, stockings and shoes. Local shoe retailers also did a rushing business in both men's and women's footwear. The low shoe or pump was the biggest seller.

Milliners did a thriving business, as did the tailors. Even the kiddies were not forgotten and the stock of Easter eggs and Bunnies offered by local candy merchants was exhausted early Saturday evening.

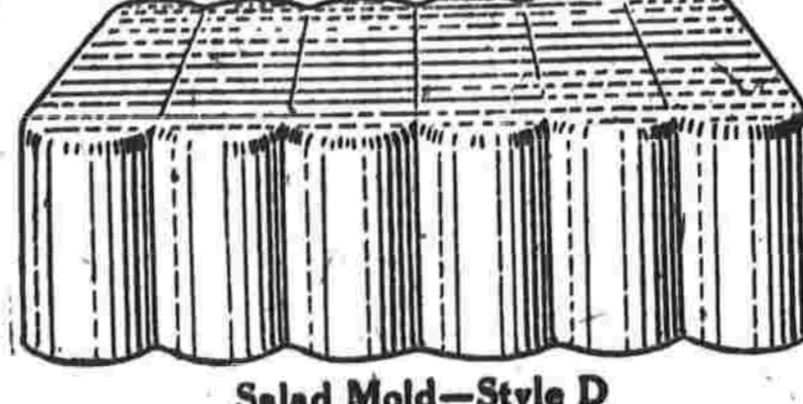

It was hard to decide who worked the hardest, the florists or the clothing merchants. There was an enormous sale of cut flowers and plants and a prominent florist stated last evening that he has been busy for the past two weeks preparing and filling orders. The corsage bouquets of course, were prominent among the sale. There were no Easter lilies sold. A few cold storage blooms could have been obtained at fancy prices, but the local men decided that they would use substitutes at lower prices. By doing so they reaped a harvest.

The Herald's weather forecast for Easter was eagerly scanned by thousands and it is safe to say that many retired with a prayer that the morrow might dawn bright and fair. Their prayer was granted for Manchester's Easter dawned clear and sunny. "The sun's out," was the early morning greeting in the household and Manchester's Easter parade started early.

The Easter services at all of our churches were largely attended and were marked by special music and sermons. The older persons gave strict attention to the sermons, but occasionally—and it's true—the younger folks could not resist the temptation to glance around and mentally compare their "togs" with those worn by others. The Fifth avenue demonstration started shortly after one o'clock and continued until late in the evening. The brother or beau came in for a share of admiration also with his new suit with the high cut hip effect and military style. The older folks wore more conservative clothes, but they were not by any means outshone by their younger brethren. Throughout the entire day there was nothing worn by local residents to indicate the unusual in style. Everyone seemed satisfied to adhere to the regu-

Note that Jiffy-Jell costs you 12 1/2 cents per package. And the trademark alone is worth 10 cents on these molds, if sent this week.

Send as many trademarks as you wish this week. Or, if you prefer, send grocer's sales slip, showing amount of purchase.

This offer is made to start new users—to show them what Jiffy-Jell means to them. But present users are welcome to accept it. Get Jiffy-Jell now, while this offer is open. Get what you need for some weeks. This is the time when fruity desserts are most needed.

Real-Fruit Desserts 12 1/2c Per Dinner

Note that Jiffy-Jell brings you a real-fruit dessert. All the fruit flavors are fruit-juice essences condensed. They come sealed in glass—a bottle in each package—so they keep their fruit-time freshness.

Mark how Jiffy-Jell differs from old-style gelatine desserts. Here you have true-fruit dainties, rich in condensed fruit juices. You get all the delights, all the healthfulness of fruit.

You simply add boiling water—no sugar, no acidity, no color. Then add the fruit-juice flavor from the vial. One package of Jiffy-Jell serves six people in mold form, or twelve, if you whip the jell—all for 12 1/2 cents.

For Salads use lime-fruit Jiffy-Jell. It makes a tart, green salad. Jiffy-Jell serves six people in mold form, or twelve, if you whip the jell in before cooling.

For Meat Loaf mix meat scraps into Lime Jiffy-Jell.

For Garnish on cold meats or roast lamb, use Mint Jiffy-Jell.

For Desserts try Loganberry and Pineapple—two of our finest flavors.

FIRE PREVENTION TALK AND BIG BAND CONCERT

Two Important Events This Week to Further Americanization Work in Town.

Two Americanization events of importance will be held in town this week. The first event will be held in Assembly Hall at the local High school tomorrow evening, when the postponed Americanization lecture—the third of the series—will take place. The second event which will be held on the following evening, Wednesday, will be the debut of the town's newest musical organization, "The American Band of Manchester."

Tomorrow evening's lecture promises to be one of unusual interest inasmuch as the subject on which the principal speakers will talk is that of "Fire Protection". L. N. Heebner, the master mind of Manchester's electrical systems, will give a talk and demonstration on the past and present history of the fire system in this town.

Mr. Heebner has gone to considerable trouble to install a complete fire alarm system on the platform of the hall. He will not only demonstrate to the audience how a fire alarm is operated, but will give any person in the hall an opportunity to "pull in" a fire alarm and see just what happens. Mr. Heebner will also have on display, some of the fire alarm boxes that were used in Manchester's "Ye olden Times."

In conjunction with Mr. Heebner's demonstration, Deputy Fire Chief E. H. Ramsden of Hartford will deliver a talk on fire prevention in general. Mr. Ramsden's talk will regard not only public buildings, but the home as well. He will describe the modern methods of fire prevention for common accidents that occur in the home such as overturning the lamp, disconnecting the gas, or other minor incidents. Both talks should not only be interesting, but instructive as well.

ter's new band should prove of equal interest. This is really the debut of the new band, which is a merger of the Italian Band and the Manchester Military Band. The band has wholly re-organized on a new basis, has drawn up a practical constitution and every member has agreed to stand by it and live up to his obligations while a member of the organization.

Previous rehearsals guarantee the rendering of an exceptionally brilliant concert. This concert will precede the dance. Refreshments will also be obtainable during the intermissions. Appreciation is a dominant factor in any new undertaking and it is trusted that local persons will furnish it by their attendance at Wednesday evening's concert.

Lovely and Ever-Varying Blouses

If it were not for ever varying blouses that lend the spice of variety to the latest fashions, we might finally grow tired of that manly of the American woman's wardrobe.

many others, that have characteristics that are just now demanded of blouses. They are patterned after the slip-over style, they button in the back, are long-sleeved, have round necks and are simply trimmed with beads and silk embroidery.

Thomas Prentice Says He Hopes to be Back Some Time in May

The following letter has been received at this office from Thomas Prentice, with Ambulance Co. No. 302 of the 301st Sanitary Train now at Kottenheim, Germany:

I have been a faithful reader of your paper, and have been getting it regularly since joining the A. E. F. forces.

Let me tell you first of all that I am proud to be in the employ of Uncle Sam, and would like to spend about two years in this war torn Verdun for about two weeks, and through the Argonne Forests, two weeks prior to signing the armistice.

ABOUT TOWN

The local schools will re-open tomorrow after a week's holiday recess.

Harry Seaman the local coal dealer, is driving a new Studebaker "six" touring car.

The town gang is now out in full force and the roads about town are being cleaned, graded and oiled.

David McCann of the Naval Reserve has been enjoying a short furlough at his home on High street.

Howard Murphy of the firm of Murphy Brothers is enjoying a short furlough at his home in town. Murphy is still stationed at Long Island.

A large number of the local boys who are members of the 26th division, which is now entrained at Camp Devens, spent the week end at their homes in town.

Thomas Conran who formerly conducted the confectionery establishment and bowling alleys in the Odd Fellows Block at the Center, is in town renewing acquaintances.

The Sub Alpine Club, a local organization composed of prominent Italian residents, held a dance at its hall on Eldridge street last evening. The Verdi orchestra furnished the music.

Murray Brothers' blacksmith shop at Highland Park has again re-opened. It will be remembered that this shop has been closed for some time owing to the fact that the Murray boys were in the service.

Matthew Curran has left the employ of Julius Jensen, the Spruce street grocer and is now with the Eldridge street market. Matt was in the employ of Mr. Jensen for over six years and is one of the best known grocery men in town.

Local housewives are eyeing with disfavor the machine which is oiling the town's highways. The oil not only sticks to the road, but to the shoes as well. In consequence housekeepers will find the broom a handy instrument until the mixture of oil and tar dries up.

Posters for the fifth (Victory) Liberty Loan have been widely distributed throughout the town by the committee in charge of publicity. The Manchester Trust Company has erected on the Maple street side of the building, a mammoth twenty four sheet board on which has been placed a Victory Loan sheet of the same size. This is one of the largest posters ever used in town for advertising a loan.

Bissell and Spruce street residents are complaining about the dogs which howl in this vicinity every evening, invariably during the sleeping hours. The canine quartet assembles every evening around eleven o'clock and renders a concert that lasts well into the small hours of the morning. The renditions are far from being harmonious and residents in this vicinity state that if the owners of the dogs do not tie them up, steps will be taken to have them do so.

Word has been received in town that John F. Newman, formerly of this town has arrived from overseas and is now at the home of his parents who are residing in Hartford. "Jackie" as he was familiarly known here was the second man to enlist in Company G, when the call came for Mexican border service. He went overseas with the "G" boys, and was wounded in action a few months after his arrival on French soil. Newman is a graduate of Yale Law School.

A special meeting of Court Manchester No. 107 Foresters of America, will be held in Foresters Hall this evening. Sixty candidates who were accepted during the membership drive which has been conducted by the local court during the past two months, will be initiated this evening. The degree work will be completed by the degree team from Court Shippe of Rockville. This team will be accompanied by a large delegation of Rockville Foresters. Arrangements for the entertainment will follow the usual custom.

Martin L. Gillman of Main street is out with a new Geo. Mc Gillman has driven a car of this make for the last half dozen years.

Paul Lambert of Columbia University spent the week end with his aunts, the Misses Anna and Clara Lambert of Oak Place.

Sergeant Thomas F. Conran, stationed at the Post Hospital at Schenectady, N. Y., is enjoying a seven days' furlough in town.

Stuart W. Finlay, returned to Yale yesterday, after spending the Easter holidays with his mother, Mrs. Katherine M. Finlay, of Park street.

Allie Ward of Talcottville who is well known in Manchester is at the Hartford hospital in a serious condition. He suffered a paralytic shock last Friday.

The Ladies' Aid society of the North Congregational church will give a supper in the church parlors on Tuesday evening, April 29. The public is cordially invited to attend.

West Side residents Sunday saw a war-like delegation on foot and armed with spears like the Crusaders of old. The delegation consisted of four local fishermen headed for Hillstown. A successful catch is reported.

Thomas O'Leary and his son, P. J. O'Leary, returned to their home in Waterbury today, after spending the week end with the elder Mr. O'Leary's brother, P. J. O'Leary of Pearl street.

Recreation Director Whiting returned Saturday from a trip during which he visited the recreation centers of several cities in Massachusetts. Among the places he visited were Brookline, Norwood and Lowell.

Miss Claudia Schmidt, who has been spending the Easter vacation with her mother, Mrs. Karoline Schmidt of Cedar street, returned yesterday to Springfield, where she is engaged as a teacher in the public schools of that city.

Miantonomoh Tribe of Red Men will hold an important meeting in Tinker hall at eight o'clock this evening. It is expected that about 25 Redskins will be down from Stafford and the meeting will be followed by "smoke weed" or a smoker.

The Manchester railroad station is receiving a fresh coat of paint. It is apparently getting it on the installment plan. The workmen were on the job last week and started the work and then left it for a time. They are coming back in the near future to finish the job.

The Walter Cowles property on Woodbridge street, including the two tenement house and a single cottage has been sold. Robert Cowles of Springfield, Mass., writes The Herald saying "I am pleased to say that this property has been sold as a direct result of the advertisement in The Herald."

One of the Hudson team's players caused a stir on Sunday by appearing on the White Socks' field resplendent in the new Hudson uniform. When the nine new uniforms make their appearance it will be an event in local baseball circles. Lang, the Hudson pitcher, is working hard and is rounding into excellent form.

"Jackie" Newman, who has just returned from overseas said that Tom Morrison of this town had not only the honor of being the first Connecticut man to be wounded in the war but he also had the honor of being the very last man injured. At the exact second that firing ceased an ambulance passed Morrison and ran over his foot.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mercer of West Center street, left this morning for a week's stay at Saratoga Springs, N. Y. Mr. Mercer's health has been poor of late and it is hoped that a week's stay at the Springs will prove beneficial. If there is no improvement in his condition within the week's time, he intends to remain for a longer period.

Frederick E. Hayes of Main street sent a message to his wife this morning that he had arrived at Hoboken, New Jersey, making the trip from Brest in just 7 days. He is now at Camp Mills and expects to be discharged in a short time. Mr. Hayes has been overseas for the last 14 months and was in the St. Mihiel and Argonne Forest drives. He is a member of the 35th Division, Co. B, 110th Engineers.

The first of May is approaching rapidly and up to this morning less than one hundred dog owners had secured the regular dog license. This time last year upwards of 250 licenses had been issued. It is well known that during the last year the dog warden has disposed of a large number of dogs but there is no disputing the fact that there are many dogs in town yet to be registered. A penalty of one dollar will be imposed upon every dog owner in town who fails to get his license before the first of May.

The annual ball of Campbell Council, K. of C. will be held at Cheney hall this evening. Hatch's orchestra will provide the music and an attractive souvenir program has been prepared. Lovers of dancing and good music will find this ball one of the best of the season.

The selectmen have not given up the hope of securing a favorable vote from the town backing them up in the proposition to buy an auto truck and loader for use of the highway department. There is no disputing the fact that much better work could be accomplished on the streets of the town if the town owned one of these machines. The matter will doubtless be brought up again at a special meeting at no distant date.

Harold Moore's cantata, "The Darkest Hour", was given as the principal part of a special Easter service in the South Methodist church last evening. It proved a most impressive service and was enjoyed by an audience which filled the church to capacity.

In an unusual manner, the cantata, "The Darkest Hour", presents the dramatic events in Christ's life, just preceding His crucifixion. Following its rendition, Rev. G. G. Scribner gave a short address on the message of Easter, having for his topic, "Consolation, Challenge, Conquest", and the service closed with the singing of Wilson's happy Easter anthem, "Christ, the Lord is Bidden Today."

In giving last night's musical, the South Methodist quartet was assisted by a number of local and Hartford singers. Robert Mercer, the church baritone soloist, had the heavy part of the cantata, singing the solos representing Jesus. The solos were of a difficult nature and he handled them most acceptably. Miss Ida Yudowitch and Miss Clara Victoria Selin, the church soprano, sang the "Narrator" and obligato solos, while N. C. Ingalls, the church tenor soloist, sang the solos representing Pilate and F. J. Bendall sang the words of Caiaphas, the High Priest. The Manchester Male quartet sang the male chorus parts, representing the Disciples.

Besides their solo parts, Mr. Ingalls and Miss Selin had a pretty tenor and soprano duet, with the full chorus joining in part of the selection.

The cantata closed with the singing of two verses of the hymn, "At the Name of Jesus," by Caroline M. Noel.

ROBERT FULTON.
 Robert Fulton, aged 50 years, died early this morning at his home, 21 Gorman Place. He had been ailing for some time. Mr. Fulton was born in Ireland. He came to this country 30 years ago and for the past eight years had lived in Manchester. He had been a member of Washington Loyal Orange lodge since coming to this town.

Besides his wife, Mr. Fulton is survived by five brothers, Samuel E. Fulton of this town, James of Gilbertville, Mass., Hugh of Three Rivers, Mass., and William and Thomas in Ireland.

The funeral will be held from his late home at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon and from St. Mary's Episcopal church at 2:30. Rev. J. S. Neill will be the officiating clergyman. The members of Washington Loyal Orange lodge will attend in a body and will have charge of the burial service in the East cemetery.

THOMAS J. LEE.
 Thomas J. Lee, a veteran of the Civil War, died at the Old Soldiers' Home in Noroton Saturday morning. His wife died about a month ago, having been burned to death while serving as a nurse in Hartford.

Mr. Lee had been a resident of Manchester for a good many years. He was an expert carpenter and was brought to Manchester by the late M. S. Chapman, to build his home on Forest street. Mr. Lee leaves one son, Robert Lee, who lives in Bonita, California and one daughter, Mrs. Leon Capen of Clinton street. He also is survived by a sister, Mrs. Flora Hill of Bennington, Vt., and a brother, Longo of Bellows Falls, Vt.

The funeral will be held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Capen of Clinton street, at four o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. G. G. Scribner of the South Methodist church will conduct the service. The burial will be in the East cemetery.

Houses constructed entirely of salt are a unique feature of some of the villages in Russian Poland.

MISCHIEVOUS BOYS STALL ALL EAST SIDE TROLLEYS

Throw Brake Chain Over High Tension Wires at East Hartford and All Cars Stop.

A couple of mischievous youngsters playing in East Hartford thought it great fun yesterday to throw a brake chain from a freight car, over the high tension trolley wire. As a result thousands of trolley car passengers walked. Cars were stalled for hours on all the east side lines. Cars on the Glastonbury, Springfield east side, Burnside, Rockville, Manchester and Stafford Springs lines did not turn a wheel. All over the lines men were sent out looking for the trouble.

Finally after several hours' search, the trolley men found a chain dangling from the wires at East Hartford. It was between two poles and no one knew how to take it down. Finally a long pole was procured which took another hour. After the chain was taken from the wire the cars started again.

The boys evidently tried to throw up the chain several times before they succeeded as on two occasions as it struck the high tension wire, the machines blew out at the power stations. Finally at 5.25 the chain hung on the wire and from then on until about 8 o'clock all traffic was tied up.

On Easter Sunday while the cars were just jammed with passengers, the act of the boys caused considerable trouble not only to the trolley company but to thousands of persons on pleasure trips.

"OH BOY!" TICKETS.
 The seat sale for "Oh Boy", the New York Princess Theater musical comedy success which comes to the Park Theater for one night Monday, April 28, will open tomorrow.

"Oh Boy" is the snappiest and smartest musical comedy of the season and ran on Broadway to record breaking business for fifteen months. The company which F. F. Comstock and William Elliott will send here is in keeping with the high standard of Princess Theater productions. In the cast will be such favorites as Zella Rameau, Francis Roeder, Emily Fitz Roy, Mattie Edwards, Daniel McNeill, Frank Lambert, Phil Branson, Henry Cooper and a chorus of unusual charm and beauty.

NATIONAL GINGHAM WEEK

The costuming possibilities of this sturdy fabric have been discovered anew by Fashion, and during the next six days will be featured in all corners of the country.

It is fitting that gingham should be formally recognized in this manner. Find us a summer fabric that is all-around more satisfactory. It is closer woven than voile, yet not so closely woven as linen. It takes dyes wonderfully, admitting of color treatments that gladden the eye. It is crisp yet soft. May be plaited, or draped. May be strictly tailored, or combined with ribbon and laces. May make a wholly practical morning dress, or a fetching afternoon frock.

Aside from dresses for women, gingham is also used for tots' and children's dresses—little boys' blouses—parasols—summer knitting bags—summer curtains and draperies—cushions—scarfs—and what not.
