

CO. G. CYNOSURE OF ALL EYES AT BOSTON'S MONSTER PARADE

102nd Infantry Best in Line, All Say — Manchester's Representatives Make Themselves Known During Celebration — Complete Report of Doings by Herald Man With the Party

Manchester's soldiers in the Yankee Division know full well today what this town thinks of them. They learned this beyond any shadow of doubt in Boston yesterday.

For there was no mistaking the fervor of the townspeople's tribute and no question as to the appreciation of the brilliant and devoted service of the Company G men overseas.

The Tribute.

If at times any of the G boys have wondered whether their home town realized at its true value their military services, or merely took their sacrifices for granted and as part of the fortunes of war, such men need have misgivings no more. Manchester's part in the great celebration to the Yankee Division yesterday showed plainly that the town appreciates her soldier heroes at their true worth.

When a town of 18,000 like Manchester can send a special train with 200 representative citizens over 200 miles, entertain the soldiers, banquet them, produce the governor of the state and his staff in full uniform to commend them, and next day crowd a reviewing stand with such an assembly of enthusiasts and celebrators as to make the spot the center of attention, even on Boston's Commonwealth Avenue on parade day—it becomes perfectly clear to the soldiers that Manchester's welcome rings true.

A Great Stand.

Soldiers and spectators agree that the Manchester reviewing stand was one of the most remarkable along the whole five and one-half miles of the line of march. Carefully thought out plans in advance, and numerous excellent ideas on the part of the committee, resulted in placing the Manchester stand far in the lead of anything in that section of Commonwealth Avenue.

Ordinary decorations and the customary flags dotted the other stands. But the Manchester stand was a regular riot of color and enthusiasm. Flags were everywhere—flags in everybody's hands with Manchester pennants for good measure, flags on the front of the stand, on the sides and surmounting the big sign at the rear, and flags even in the big elm tree in front of the stand.

Cheering, snatches of patriotic songs, and volleys of chatter stamped the stand as the live aggregation on that street. Rolls of colored streamers made their appearance and soon the air was filled with them, making a network of red and blue color, with very pretty effect.

Band, 24 Pieces.

The Manchester stand was quickly selected by the Boston committee as the place for Stone's military band of 24 pieces. The music for that section of the avenue was therefore right in front of the Manchester stand. A song leader was assigned to the stand, song sheets were distributed, and a patriotic concert followed.

Opposite the Manchester stand was the broad east sidewalk of the avenue and fully 4,000 persons crowded this sidewalk, facing the Manchester stand and celebrators. It was a spot-light position for the big delegation from the Connecticut silk town.

The circumstances were sufficient to attract the attention of the Boston Globe to the extent of detailing a special report to get a "feature story" on Manchester's part in the celebration and an extended article on the civic spirit of the community and

Switzerland Threatened By Lenine

Geneva, April 26.—"Switzerland is not yet out of the danger of Bolshevism," said the Lausanne Gazette in commenting upon the revelation of Bolshevik propaganda in this country.

It is learned that Lenine's instructions to his agents were: "All Swiss federal authorities and the members of the military staff shall be captured and held as hostages. The banks, railways, factories and newspapers must be seized and placed under control."

SITUATION CLEARING RAPIDLY IS THE VIEW OF THE U. S. OFFICIALS

Washington, April 26.—The situation at the peace conference is "clearing rapidly" it was stated in advices reaching the White House from Paris today. The President's action in reference to Fiume, it was stated, is "meeting with indorsement everywhere."

Official Washington today believed that the crisis caused by President Wilson's refusal to sanction the disposition of Fiume to Italy would speedily pass and that the Italians would not withdraw from the peace conference.

Secretary of the Interior Lane, in a formal statement today endorsed President Wilson's attitude and asserted that the Fiume decision was but a question of "good judgment."

NATION IN FIVE DAYS SUBSCRIBES $650,000,000 TO THE VICTORY LOAN

Connecticut Wrests Lead from Bay State—Tank to Climb Mountain to Buffalo Bill's Grave.

Washington, April 26.—More than $650,000,000 is known to have been subscribed to the Victory Loan during the first five days of the campaign, it was announced at the Treasury department today. This is practically one seventh of the amount being sought. The figures announced today were based on incomplete returns from many of the federal reserve districts and officials pointed out that the actual total probably is much larger.

Cleveland District.

The Cleveland District reported unofficially today that it had sold $119,355,000. This was an advance of about $77,000,000 over its latest official report. In this district, 145 communities have been awarded honor flags, against 91 awarded at a corresponding stage of the Fourth Liberty Loan. Columbus and Toledo both expected to attain their quotas before the close of business today, it was stated. Enormous over-subscriptions still are being reported from Michigan and Iowa.

From Kansas City.

The Kansas City district reported a "slow but consistent" campaign. Oklahoma is leading the states in this district with Kansas running second. Oklahoma City already has exceeded its quota. The tank which plowed twelve miles up Pike's Peak to advertise the loan recently, will on Sunday climb up Lookout Mountain at Golden, Colorado, to the grave of the late Colonel William F. Cody, (Buffalo Bill). Scouts and plainmen will accompany the tank.

New England District.

Wide distribution of bonds is being obtained in the New England district, 45,252 persons having subscribed the $70,000,000 now in hand. Quotas have been passed by 105 communities.

Connecticut Leads.

Connecticut wrested the lead from Massachusetts with a day's total of $4,581,000, as compared with $3,730,000 for the Bay State, Connecticut's patriotic showing was $850,000 better than that of Massachusetts.

NAVY DEPT. TO PROBE.

London, April 26.—The United States Navy has asked Admiral Strauss, U. S. N., to investigate troubles at Inverness in which American sailors were said to be involved, it was learned today.

POLISH ARMY FIGHTS.

Lausanne, April 26.—General Haller's Polish army, which was recently transferred from France to Warsaw, is already in action against the Bolsheviks. Some of the troops aided in the capture of Vilna from the Russian Reds, it was announced by the Polish news bureau today.

S. N. E. T. EMPLOYEES GET INCREASE IN WAGE

Minimum of $10 and Maximum of $19 Given Operators.

SUBSCRIBERS TO PAY

Telephone Rental Rates to Be Increased to Meet Cost of Increase in Wages.

New Haven, April 26.—An increase in wages to all employees of the Southern New England Telephone Company and a corresponding increase of rates for telephones to subscribers, was announced today by the officers of the company. Notice of the increase has been posted in the various divisions of the company throughout the state.

While the announcement does not state the amount of increase, it is learned that the telephone operators are given a minimum wage of $10 a week and a maximum of $19, in accordance with the rates granted by the New England Telephone Company, following the recent strike outside of Connecticut. The present rate to operators is a $9 minimum and $16 maximum.

President James T. Moran, of the Southern New England Company stated that the total increase in wages would cost the company $435,000 per annum and that the details would be announced through the regular department channels to employees. The cost of the increase comes out of the revenue turned over to the government and will be met by an increase of service rates for rental of telephones inasmuch as there can be no change in the toll line rates that have been fixed by government order.

TRIES TO KISS HIS WIFE BUT SHOOTS HER INSTEAD

So Declares Banker Who Then Turns Revolver on Himself—Both Will Recover.

Cleveland, O., April 26.—Walter E. Edwards, teller in the Federal Reserve Bank here sought to prove his wife's devotion to him, with a pistol in hand at the Edwards home in East Cleveland early today.

He said he undertook to kiss her when the pistol accidentally exploded, a bullet penetrating her thigh. According to Edwards' six year old daughter, who was aroused by the shooting, Edwards soon after his wife fell to the floor turned the revolver on himself and fired a bullet into his chest.

Both are in a hospital. Their recovery is expected.

ITALIAN PROBLEM AT CONFERENCE HANGS FIRE; "BIG THREE" LISTENS TO DEMANDS OF LABOR

American and French Workers Visit Wilson—Lloyd George Receives Delegations from Small Nations Marshal Foch Makes Confidential Report

Paris, April 26.—The temporary sidetracking of the Adriatic problem, pending the return of Premier Orlando, if he does return, is expected to enable President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau to catch up with their routine work.

A number of delegations were received yesterday by President Wilson who listened to their various requests. Three of them, that presented claims for recognition of national aspirations came from Siam, Czecho-Slovakia and Kurdistan.

Labor's Demands.

Deep interest was taken in the visit of Frank Hayes, head of the United Mine workers of America, who presented the claims of that organization for increased wages and a shorter work day. In addition he outlined the general demands of labor in America.

President Wilson listened intently to all Mr. Hayes had to say and promised to give further consideration to all points.

Members of the Military Affairs committee of the American House of Representatives talked with the President about army matters.

They were assured that everything possible was being done to hasten the homeward movement of American troops.

Among the others who met the President was a delegation of French workers.

Lloyd George Busy.

Premier Lloyd George has also been busy receiving delegations from small nations and representatives of various organizations.

Premier Clemenceau attended a session of the French cabinet and received a confidential report from Marshal Foch on the occupation of the Rhineland.

Numerous Conferences.

Numerous conferences are being held between President Wilson and the American experts who accompany the peace delegates to Paris. The report of the economic experts from the United States is in the President's hands and he held a conference with Bernard M. Baruch, head of the American Industrial Board, concerning it. This report is now in form for insertion in the treaty.

"HOPE HE BURNS IN HELL" SHE SAYS AT SHOOTING

Wife Fires Four Shots at Husband in Chicago Courtroom—Glad She Did It.

Chicago, April 26.—Elmer J. Simpson is fighting for his life in a hospital here today, while his wife, who fired four shots, two of which took effect, at him yesterday, is held in the county jail awaiting the outcome of his injuries. She faces trial either for murder, if Simpson dies, or attempted murder if he lives. Mrs. Simpson shot her husband in Judge Brother's courtroom while the trial of her separate maintenance suit was in progress. After the shooting she declared she was glad she did it. She smiled as she was taken to jail.

"I hope he burns in Hell," was her wish for her husband. The marital troubles of the Simpsons had been in court several years, the husband seeking a divorce and the wife contending it.

WILSON STATEMENT WASNT A SURPRISE

Paris, April 26.—Premier Orlando, of Italy, applied for a visa of his passports for a trip to Rome 24 hours before President Wilson issued his statement on the disposition of Fiume, it was learned in French official circles today. In this connection it was pointed out today that the Italian declaration that the President's declaration came as a complete surprise to Premier Orlando was not borne out by the facts. It is understood the President informed Premier Orlando last Sunday, that, unless the signatory powers to the Pact of London reached a compromise, he would issue a public statement setting forth the position of the Americans.

GERMANY TO FIGHT TO LAST DITCH TO KEEP COLONIES, SAYS DR. BELL

POLAND'S FATE RESTS ON DANTZIG QUESTION

Smulski, Head of Poles in America Makes a Statement.

"WE DESIRE TO BE FREE"

If Conference Leaves Poland With Rail and Water Connection Under German Control Nation Will Be Ruined.

Washington, April 26.—The fate of Poland now depends on the final disposition of Dantzig, the ancient Polish seaport, by the peace conference, according to a statement today by John F. Smulski, President of the National Polish Department of America.

Will Wreck Nation.

"If Dantzig is allowed to remain in German hands, or even if it is internationalized, as has been proposed, Poland will become a weak, interior state, dependent on Germany for its economic existence," said Smulski. "It is in recognition of this situation that on Sunday more than three million Polish people throughout the United States will meet to pray and petition that the Polish claims be allowed."

"Peace of the World."

"It is not only for Poland they are asking, but for the peace of the world. Poland desires not only to be free, but to be a strong arm in the preservation of peace of mankind. If the peace conference leaves Poland with its rail and water connection with the friendly nations wholly in German control, the task of sustaining life and order will consume all of Poland's energy."

Colonization Methods.

Smulski pointed out that Dantzig was taken from Poland at the time of the first partition, and that the German population in Dantzig is there by reason of deliberate colonization by the government and the expatriation of the Poles.

"If these methods are to be considered as confirming title to stolen property, real peace and justice are far removed," Smulski asserted.

RECORD MARK.

New York, April 26.—The high tide homeward troop movements will be reached during the coming week according to announcement made here today.

In that time 56 transports and liners are expected to arrive with 94,449 soldiers. Thirty two of the vessels will dock here with 54,739 men. The rest will go to Boston, Philadelphia and other ports.

Big Three in Session Today —Treaty Nearly Finished —Watching for Next Move Italy Will Make—Secret Pacts Greatest Obstacles in Way of Framing Treaty.

Paris, April 26.—The Fiume problem was still hanging fire when the Big Three—President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau—met today to continue discussions of matters to be included in the treaty that will be presented to the Germans at Versailles next week.

Treaty About Completed.

Practically every detail of the treaty is now complete but it has not yet been definitely decided on what day the terms will be placed before the Germans. This will depend to some extent upon the developments in the Italian situation during the next 72 hours.

Watching Italy.

The American, British and French delegations are watching closely for the next move that Italy makes. Rome advices show that the deep-seated feeling prevails throughout Italy but it cannot be determined yet how far the demonstrations will influence official action. It is realized that the Italians are extremely temperamental and that the blowing off of steam may be followed by demands which will lead to a compromise satisfactory to both sides. At the same time it is pointed out that Italy is dependent upon the Allies, and chiefly the United States, for economic relief.

Big Three United.

In any event the three big powers—America, Great Britain and France—are lined up side by side and will present a solid front. This fact is emphasized in case Germany should try to quibble over the treaty or take advantage of the temporary deadlock caused by the withdrawal of the Italian delegates.

The greatest obstacle to equitable understandings has been the cropping out of secret agreements and pledges made during the course of the war. Later developments have made it impossible to stand by the terms of some of these treaties.

Pact of London.

(The most notable case of a "secret treaty" was the Pact of London, entered into between Great Britain, France and Italy. Italy is making territorial claims based upon this agreement, although it is admitted that Fiume is not included in the terms. Another secret pact involved Japan and China, the former country making economic and territorial claims based upon that agreement.)

A Jap Pact(?)

It is now reported that there was an agreement between Japan and Great Britain concerning China. No details are available but it bids fair to interfere with the settlement of the Shantung peninsula dispute.

Whether this reported agreement will effectually prevent the United States from enforcing its endorsement of the Chinese claims and thus preventing Japan from getting territory on the Shantung peninsula cannot be foreseen. No member of the American delegation would make any predictions in that direction today.

However, it is admitted that secret treaties continue to be the greatest menace towards the carrying out of President Wilson's 14 principles which the Americans insist shall be the foundation and backbone of the peace terms.

Germanies Arriving.

The advance guard of the German peace delegation that has already arrived at Versailles is devoting its time to preliminary matters. The Germans are arranging a telegraphic and courier service between Versailles, Berlin and Weimar so that the German government and the National Assembly can be kept in touch.

FOUR KILLED.

Two Auto Busses Collide at Camp Merritt, N. J.

Camp Merritt, N. J., April 26.—Four persons were killed near here last night when two auto busses collided, it was established today. It had been reported that seven persons were killed, one of them being a major in the army. The dead followed:

Mrs. Minnie Webb Petching, Tennesse, N. J.; Vincent Sully, Rutherford, N. J.; John F. Sully, father of Vincent and Private Elmer F. Epps, 12th Infantry.

Major H. E. Bunch, medical officer with the 16th Infantry was among the seriously injured.

stant communication with the envoys. The German delegates evidently hope to secure endorsement of the German assembly on every step they take. It was learned that the German delegates expect speedy action and will not attempt to debate at length.

Refer Terms to People. At the same time it was intimated that if the actual peace terms appear extremely hard, the German government probably will carry into effect the threat to refer the terms to the people and decide by popular vote whether they shall be accepted or rejected. It is unlikely, however, that the Allies would grant sufficient time for such action.

The allied and associated governments are growing more and more determined to insist upon immediate acceptance of the treaty. If the Germans refuse the armistice will be declared null and void and the armies will assume the initiative to compel acceptance.

ATHLETES SHIVER.

Philadelphia, April 26.—Cold weather greeted the track and field stars gathered here for the Penn Relays again today, when the annual games will be completed at Franklin Field under the auspices of Pennsylvania University. Some of the best track events of the meet were scheduled for the wind-up today.

Robert Le Gendre, star of Georgetown's athletes, is entered in the Pentathlon championship. Le Gendre won the title with the splendid score of 14 points and Johnny Bartels, of Penn, last year's champion, finished second. The Intercollegiate spring medley relay championship rests with Penn's "flying four" today. Davie, Haymond, Smith and Gustafson corraled the title.

"YD" SOLDIERS AWAIT DISCHARGE ON MONDAY

Camp Devens, April 26.—The Yankee division was in a state of impatience today for the beginning of demobilization Monday. The soldiers' appetites for home have been sharpened by the sight of home folks who cheered them along the route of the Boston parade. The division was all back in camp today.

U. S. INDUSTRIAL BOARD PLANNING TO DISBAND

Chairman Peek and His Associates Have Resigned—Say Further Conferences Will Be Useless.

Washington, April 26.—Indications today pointed to the early disbandment of the Industrial Board through the resignation of Chairman Peek and his associates.

It was being freely predicted that Chairman Peek will shortly make another appeal to Secretary Redfield to accept the resignations which are said to be before him on the ground that further conferences with the representatives of the railroad administration will be useless and the members of the board feel that "they are wasting their own time and beguiling industry with unwarranted hopes for a satisfactory adjustment."

Following the conference Thursday, Judge Lovett and Mr. Walters, who represented the Railway administration, sent a long telegram in code to Director General Hines. It should have been received by the director general at Los Angeles yesterday. No reply was expected before tomorrow and probably not before the early part of next week.

The reception accorded the ship as she came up the harbor was fully as enthusiastic as given any transport arriving here. The men went to Camp Devens immediately after debarking.

AVIATORS LOST.

Provincetown, Mass., April 26.—A score of boats, including five scout patrol boats along with a seaplane are today searching the waters of Cape Cod Bay for two officers and an electrician believed to be clinging to a seaplane which became disabled on a trip from Chatham to Boston. TENT TO ACCOMMODATE 50,000 PERSONS PLANNED

To Be Erected at Columbus, O., During Centenary Celebration of Methodist Episcopal.

Columbus, Ohio, April 26.—A tent city with the capacity of the largest United States Army cantonment and able to house the population of any one of several well known cities has been planned for erection for the entertainment of thousands of the visitors to the Methodist Centenary Celebration, the big exposition at Columbus, O., from June 20 to July 13, commemorating the Methodist church's entry into the mission field, for which a fund of $140,000,000 is being raised for world reconstruction.

The Centenary "Tent City," which will have all the conveniences and improvements found in the modern city, is being built to accommodate more than 50,000 persons and will have approximately the same population as Brockton, Mass., Erie, Pa., Covington, Ky., San Jose, Cal., Portland, Me., Elizabeth, N. J., Akron, O., Birmingham, Ala., Duluth, Minn., and other cities of similar size.

Thousands of Methodists and their friends who are planning to attend the Centenary celebration have signified their desire to "live in the open" during their visit to the exposition. To make this possible, celebration directors evolved the idea of building a tent city.

Chaplain S. L. Martin of the 148th Infantry Regiment, 37th Division, who recently returned from French and Belgian battlefields where he acted as spiritual adviser to Ohio boys in the Buckeye Division, is in charge of the construction work. He has more than 200 acres of park property at his disposal. Part of the Ohio State University campus will be used for tent city purposes.

It will require five hundred men three weeks to put up the tents. Each tent will be 16x16 feet in size and will require one and one half square rods of ground. In and around the "tent city" will be space for the parking of 40,000 automobiles. Army sanitary officers have been engaged to supervise the sanitation system. Emergency hospitals, fire fighting apparatus, comfort stations and everything that makes for the comfort of guests will be installed in the tent city. The grounds will be policed by 1,000 Boy Scouts.

The Centenary Celebration tent city will have information booths, ice cream and refreshment stands, branch post offices, telephone booths, everything in fact that goes to make up a modern city.

Chaplain Martin is not going to be caught napping should the influx of visitors who desire to live in the open, exceed present expectations. He has 5,000 extra tents in warehouses to be used in case necessity demands.

SERVIA ARMING.

Rome, April 26.—The Servians are calling three more classes of troops to the colors, said an Agram dispatch to the Idea Nazionale today. (Serbia is a part of the new state of Jugo-Slavia which is disputing with Italy for possession of Fiume.)

LIVE SHEEP RIDE IN ODD FELLOWS PARADE

Manchester's Encampment Degree Has Unique Float—Large Turn-out at Today's Demonstration.

Manchester was represented by upwards of 300 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs in the big state parade, held in Hartford today in observance of the 100th anniversary of Odd Fellowship. The members of King David lodge and Shepherd Encampment marched in a body, about 240 strong, but had separate floats while Sunset Rebekah lodge followed, with between 30 and 50 women in line and having a float of its own.

The Manchester section was headed by the Polish-American band of Hartford, with A. H. Simonsen as marshal of the division. The floats of the local lodges were among the prettiest in the parade. Shepherd Encampment float was unique. On this float stood Charles Warren, Grand Master a Hebrew shepherd, watching over a few live sheep. A rustic railing enclosed the group and the name, Shepherd Encampment, I. O. O. F., No. 7, also in rustic letters, formed an arch overhead. The whole was tastefully trimmed with hemlock boughs.

King David lodge's float represented a living room. On a couch lay a sick man and beside him were members of the visiting committee. At a table the wife and children sat and beside them was a Rebekah, bringing in a basket of fruit. This float was draped with red, white and blue bunting and on the sides were the words: "We visit the sick and relieve the distressed."

The Rebekahs had a pure white float, with one figure on it; also the different emblems of the order, such as the bee hive, crescent and stars.

The Odd Fellows wore white duck hats, in the shape of the Boy Scouts' hats and also wore a scarlet ribbon band on the arm, bearing the words, "King David Lodge, I. O. O. F." The Rebekahs wore white dresses, middy caps and sweaters and carried canes tied with pink and green ribbons.

Manchester's representatives left in two sections at one o'clock and at 1:07. They got off the trolley cars at the Hartford bridge, where they were met by the Polish-American band and escorted to the corner of Wetherfield Avenue and Willys street, forming there as the head of the second division.

Besides the spots described above, the Odd Fellows carried several new banners and flags in the parade. Charles Sweet had the honor of carrying the new lodge banner, which replaced the one burned with the House of Hale building several years ago. It was purchased recently at a cost of $100. Then there was the new service flag, with 5 stars, representing the members of the lodge who have served in the war in the service. This flag was carried by member, dressed in the United States Army uniform. A United States flag was carried by another member, dressed in sailor's big. Paul Robinson returned thanking the committee for service with the Cambridge officers, also was in the

TAGGING THE BASES

To an old cactus—
They said you were through, old timer.
They passed you the laugh, I know,
And they labelled you for the discards.
As a relic of long ago.
But I see you've come back, old timer.
Most as good as you were of yore,
Rival batters hit once, old timer.
While you are collecting four.
Cactus Cravath hammered out two doubles and two singles in five times at bat against the Giant pitchers.
Joe Jackson found Allan Sothorn for a double when it was most needed and Eddie Cicotte did the rest at St. Louis.
Catcher Perkins of the Athletics

two-based his mates to victory at Washington in another thirteen inning game.

Old Ray Fisher gave up a half dozen hits to the Cardinals and Cincinnati chalked up another victory over Branch Rickey's men.

Jim Vaughn's pitching enabled the Cubs to treat home fans to a slight that was easy on the eyes. One big inning, when the Cublets hit Cooper for five runs, settled the issue.

Moyer, who twirls a baseball for Lafayette college has today chalked up the first no-hit no-run game of the season. Syracuse "U" was his victim.

Hats off to Hank Gowdy, the first great ball player to enlist and welcome home.

John McGraw is flashing the "S. O. S." signal for pitchers the Phillies kept warm hammering the offerings of Smith and Dubuc while Watson held McGraw's chilled sluggers in check.

Ersk Mayer was hit freely by the Cubs, but kept the sits scattered. Stengle's triple and Southworth's timely single gave the Pirates the verdict.

Joe Jackson's homer with Collins on the bags was far from enough to trim the Browns, who trimmed the White Sox by driving Danforth to cover.

Tyrus Cobb is hitting 400 today after getting into Detroit's first game. Cobb's double, coupled with an error by Coveleskie, beat Cleveland.

The Reds knocked the spectacles off Lee Meadows and made it three straight over the Cardinals. Neale, Kopt, and Rariden were the heavy hitters.

Chalk up three more victories for the weather man.

SPECIAL MATCH.

In a special match for a $15 side bet Andy Anderson's Samosets trimmed the Centers, last night at the Center alleys. At the end of the first game the Centers were leading by 39 pins but the Samosets came back and won out by a total of 26 pins. T. Anderson rolled high single of 115 and A. Torrance high three string of 305. Following are the scores:

LOCAL SPORTS

Athletics in E. Hartford.

The Athletic Baseball Club will open the Fall season at the East Hartford field tomorrow afternoon and it is expected that a large delegation of local fans will accompany the team. Manager Gillette of the Fall outfit has engaged some of the fastest professional players in the state for tomorrow's game and he has accorded the local team a signal honor by inviting them to open his season. It will be remembered that the Athletics opened last year's season at the East Hartford field and lost out by a narrow margin against what really could be termed a big league outfit. The locals are out for tomorrow's game however and Manager Dowd announces that the batteries for the game are Stipples and Crockett. The Athletics are playing the Fisk Red Tops in Springfield today.

White Sox vs. New Britain Stars.

The local White Sox baseball team will meet the All Stars of New Britain at the Adams street grounds tomorrow afternoon at 3:15. The visitors have the reputation of being a speedy aggregation and their lineup includes a number of Hardware City stars well known in semi-professional circles. The locals are out to redeem the defeat of last week and a battle royal is promised. Dowd, former Athletic star will cover second base and P. Poust, the White Sox's reliable twirler has drawn the pitching assignment. Hartford bound cars stop at the grounds.

The Manchester soccer team and the famous Bridgeport Thistles will clash in the semi-finals at the Four Acre lot at the West side tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. The local team won out over the Thistles in their home town last Sunday by a score of 1 to 0 and a battle royal is promised tomorrow.

SOCCER CHAMPIONSHIP GAME.

The local soccer team will play the Bridgeport Thistle team tomorrow on the Pleasant street grounds at 3:15. This should be one of the fastest games ever played in town as the greatest exponents of the game in the state. George Denholm of Ansonia will referee the game and that is proof that the game will be played in fast time as he is one of the best referees in the country. The locals beat this team last Sunday in one of the fastest games ever played in the state, 1 goal to 0. The goal was scored with the last kick of the ball. The Bridgeport team have made several changes in their lineup as they are determined to win tomorrow's game.

The winners of this game will play the Bridgeport City in the final for the Budd Cup. The state chamionship also goes with this trophy so that both teams are determined to win tomorrow's game. The local team will be selected from the following: Martin, Little, Webb, Hamer, Hills, Watters, J. Johnson, Paton, T. Johnson, D. Vennard, L. Williams, J. Stevenson, S. Corder.

GIRLS AND BOYS BOWL; SOME GOOD SCORES MADE

Ribbon Mill and Main Office Have Two Teams Each—Metcalf Makes Statement. (Oh, of Course.)

The bowling enthusiasts of Cheney Brothers' Main Office and those of the Ribbon Mill held an enjoyable party at No. 1's alleys last evening. Each department was represented by two bowling teams, one composed of men and the other of the feminine gender. The bowlers obtained considerable enjoyment in hurling the balls down the alleys not to mention the numerous spheres that helped to polish the gutters.

In a previous contest the Ribbon Mill girls defeated the office pen pushers by 6 pins, but last evening a different result was tabulated. The office girls came back with a vengeance and when all had been said and done it was found that the Main Office had defeated their opponents by 116 pins, total pinfall. Olive (Billie) Williams of the Main Office had high single of 88 and Mrs. James McGonigal toppled the pins for high two string, 162.

The team of men from the Ribbon Mill were in good form and succeeded in defeating the men from the main office by 4 pins, total pinfall. Arthur Bendall of the office force scored high single of 106 and also high two string of 198.

During the evening light refreshments were served. Manager Metcalf of the Ribbon Mill team stated after the contests that his "chicken" bowlers were suffering from stage fright and before staging any future contests would take the "little dears" south for spring training.

The summary of last night's games follow:

GRAPPLERS READY.

Chicago, April 26.—Ed. (Strangler) Lewis and Wladek Zbysko have completed training today for their finish wrestling match here Monday night. Zbysko arrived from Mineral Wells, Texas, weighing 238 pounds while Lewis, who trained in Chicago, will weigh 232 pounds. Both claim to be in excellent condition.

BRENNAN, THIRD MAN.

New York, April 26.—Jim Brennan, of Newark, will referee the Leonard-Ritchie bout here Monday night, it was announced today. Both boxers agreed readily to promoter Dave Mackay's selection of the third man. Leonard said: "I'm perfectly satisfied. Anybody will do for me as I expect to win in a decisive manner. Furthermore, I know that Willie Ritchie is a gentleman both in and out of the ring."

"We haven't decided as yet whether we will protect ourselves at all times or whether it will be one of those clean breakoffs. But that's another detail, anyhow."

ACTRESS SEEKS DIVORCE.

New York, April 26.—Supreme court justice Clark today has under consideration the plea of Mrs. Thomas J. Carigan, known on the stage as Miss Mabel Talbot, for absolute divorce. She accuses her husband, now well known on the stage, of abandonment in a Manhattan hotel.

PLAN ENTERTAINMENT.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Second Congregational church will give an entertainment on Thursday evening, May 6, to raise funds for the improvement of the church kitchen. It will be called the Fiddler's Parade and there will be about twenty-five participants in the procession. Many will be dressed in special costumes and vocal and instrumental music will be introduced. A food sale will be held in connection with the entertainment.

FLEEING BUDAPEST.

Geneva, April 26.—Thousands of refugees are fleeing from Budapest, carrying such of their belongings as they can, according to advices from Vienna today, quoting Hungarian fugitives.

Five thousand women met at Budapest and protested against the Red government. Austrians who volunteered in the Hungarian communist army attempted to return home in disgust but were arrested at the frontier and disarmed. The announcement of the Rumanian offensive created enthusiasm even among the Hungarians and many Saxon officers who were in Hungary joined the Rumanians.

A GREAT EPOCH. The work of reconstruction upon which the world is now entering is the greatest task which humanity has ever undertaken.

A fire may do in a few minutes damage which it will take months to repair. Blight may in a single season ruin a forest which will take half a century to replace.

The physical devastation of Europe, of itself an enormous calamity, can be more quickly repaired than the effect of the shock upon international relations, national political organizations and individual habits.

Just now we are awaiting the peace terms and the signing of the agreement which will end the war between the Allies and the Central Powers, but it would be fatuous to assume that this treaty will permit the world to resume its old occupations in the old way.

Judging from the weather of the last two days there is still some hope for the ice men.

We trust that the people of Boston and vicinity have now had their eyes opened to the fact that Manchester, N. H., is not the only Manchester in New England.

DONATORS AND PRIZES FOR FIREMEN'S FAIR

Eighty-five Business Men and Firms Show Appreciation With Gifts to Fire Laddies.

If any business firm is not represented by a gift to the south end firemen at their coming fair, it is because the firemen do not know it. According to the list of prizes for the fair, 85 different business men and firms have shown their appreciation of what the fire laddies do by 'coming across' with a gift.

- Donators and Prizes. Little & McKinney, bag feed. George W. Strany, sack grain. J. C. Robinson, 15 pound ham.

- Packard's Drug Store, box cigars. Waranoke Inn, box cigars. J. H. Johnston, box cigars. Robert J. Donnelly, box cigars.

The presence of three hundred representative citizens of Manchester, the governor of the state, the governor's staff, a dinner, a musical program, informal addresses, intense with feeling, and every manifestation of hearts overflowing with gratitude—these were the offerings in behalf of the town of Manchester.

The reception was the scene of many joyful reunions, and as friends and relatives greeted one another for the first time since the overseas journey there were glistening eyes as well as warm hand clasps.

Governor Present. A stirring and fitting climax to the Welcome Home evening was the unexpected and unannounced appearance of Governor Marcus H. Holcomb and staff in full uniform.

The soldiers and their friends began to assemble in the reception hall at 6.30. Soon after seven o'clock a buffet luncheon was served. At 7.45, F. A. Verplanck announced that there would be a short program with informal addresses.

A FIRE INCIDENT. If some individual could get the receipt for the mixture that was passed around to the fire laddies after the fire of Thursday night, and manufacture a large quantity of the same after July 1st, his fortune would be made.

WALLS OF OLD PARKER HOUSE RING WITH MANCHESTER'S CHEERS

Big Dining Room Monopolized by Local Citizens and Returned Soldiers—Speeches of Prominent Local Men Arouse Enthusiasm—Governor and Staff in Uniform Add to Brilliance of Occasion—"Tom" Quish at the Piano.

The presence of three hundred representative citizens of Manchester, the governor of the state, the governor's staff, a dinner, a musical program, informal addresses, intense with feeling, and every manifestation of hearts overflowing with gratitude—these were the offerings in behalf of the town of Manchester.

The reception was the scene of many joyful reunions, and as friends and relatives greeted one another for the first time since the overseas journey there were glistening eyes as well as warm hand clasps.

Governor Present. A stirring and fitting climax to the Welcome Home evening was the unexpected and unannounced appearance of Governor Marcus H. Holcomb and staff in full uniform.

The soldiers and their friends began to assemble in the reception hall at 6.30. Soon after seven o'clock a buffet luncheon was served. At 7.45, F. A. Verplanck announced that there would be a short program with informal addresses.

Mr. Verplanck called for order. He said that in behalf of the people of Manchester and the War Bureau he welcomed the soldiers back. It was a proud moment for him to do this he said.

Perhaps the old mother is going to be afraid you'll get your feet damp. Maybe you know something about mud. I've heard there was some mud at Brest.

Continuing Mr. Verplanck said, "We people of Manchester have been anxious about you soldiers for a long time. First we were afraid the country would get in to the war and we were anxious about your taking part. When the draft came we were anxious again.

Gov. Holcomb. The next speaker was Governor Holcomb. All arose when he entered the room with his staff. Thomas J. Quish at the piano played "Hail to the Chief," and there was great applause.

Watkins Brothers Inc. "Assistant Home Makers" A Kitchen Triumph. Umm—the savory delight of good cooking. You know that everything is "done to a turn" and deliciously cooked on the New Perfection Stove.

contingent of the 26th division." Great applause followed the governor's address. In behalf of the soldiers and the people of Manchester Mr. Verplanck thanked the governor for the honor of his presence with staff.

Mr. Hohenthal. E. L. G. Hohenthal was called upon and said that His Excellency had brought to the gathering that which made it complete. He referred to his draft board experiences, and told of one draft of 250 men with 12 groups of brothers.

Private Lee, of Waterbury, then gave a selection showing dexterity with the bones. Dr. C. E. Hesselgrave. Mr. Verplanck said that a Waterbury soldier wrote home that Rev. Mr. Hesselgrave was a peach.

In closing the exercises, Chairman F. H. Anderson made brief announcements regarding the program for Friday and requested all present to sign a register to become part of the history of Manchester in the World War.

WAR RECORD OF ENGLISH WOMEN IS UNEXCELLED. That the women of Great Britain undoubtedly played a most important part in industry during the war is the opinion expressed by the Employers' Industrial Commission of the Department of Labor in a report made public upon its return to Washington on March 27.

A brief survey of conditions as they affected women in industry disclosed that there had been decided opposition on the part of the men to the wholesale employment of women in shops and factories at the beginning of the war.

On the same bill will be another episode of "The Lightning Raiders", a Big V Comedy in two reels and the famous Pathe News. Two shows, of course tonight, at 8.30 and 8.30.

PERFUME SPREES, SUBSTITUTED NOW AND THEN FOR HAIR TONIC OR EXTRACTS, BID FAIR TO BECOME QUITE POPULAR IN N. Y.

New York, April 25.—At least one chapter of New York's history—that part of history which is to have its birth July 1, 1919—will be written in perfume. Further, it will be highly scented, inasmuch as one of the most startling of Broadway's innovations will be the "perfume jag."

That's exactly it—the perfume drunk. Not that certain New Yorkers have never imbibed "the stuff that cheers and smells good," not by a great deal. Many of them have, and, according to predictions of those usually called upon to alleviate the awful results, the percentage of perfume drinkers will increase to a surprising extent when the bar, the brass rail and the cabaret become only memories.

And here is the secret. Perfume contains from eighty to ninety per cent alcohol. Only grain alcohol is used and the other ingredients necessary to produce that which is pleasing to the sense of smell have little or no effect upon the drinker.

Ergo, a dollar or so, a bottle of perfume, false hilarity, a head-splitting victim and—the doctor, and very probably the hospital.

New York physicians who have treated such cases readily testify to the fact that it is simply impossible to find a worse case of sickness and suffering than the one who has traveled the perfume route. As a very prominent specialist told the writer recently:

"They nearly die, and some of them do. In some instances they get alcoholic poisoning and nothing in the world can save them. In other instances, they suffer untold agonies, are nursed back to health, make solemn vows not to repeat the act and—then go right back to it again."

But gay Gotham will not confine itself to perfume. It is and will be too costly. The list of "viables with a kick" will include hair tonics, Jamaica ginger and extracts. To this list one may add paraffin and anything else in which the percentage of alcohol is high and can readily see how the "jags" are going to be obtained after the first half of the present calendar year.

The foregoing is neither guesswork nor the drawing of natural conclusions. Neither is it levity. On the contrary, the writer is practically quoting one of the best authorities in New York, Dr. Stephen P. Jewett, in charge of the psychopathic and alcoholic service at the Bellevue Hospital. Dr. Jewett has charge of hundreds of alcoholic cases every week and it is his opinion that the perfumes, hair tonic and extract drinkers will increase in large numbers after prohibition has arrived.

"Human nature and alcohol are a combination rather difficult to understand," said Dr. Jewett. "There is not one person in 10,000 who really drinks liquor because he or she likes the taste. On the contrary, practically every person who takes a drink does so because of the effect, or, more commonly speaking, the 'kick'."

"Particularly is this true of those who drink perfume, hair tonic or extracts. They find themselves in a position where they cannot get 'legitimate' liquor, where they wish to hide their practices from others or where the available liquor fails to have the desired effect. In either case they seek the substitutes mentioned."

"But right here permit me to correct a most decidedly erroneous impression. Stories have actually been written and many believe it that perfume drinking is acquired by wetting the lips with the fluid so as to perfume the breath. I do not believe there is more than one case in 10,000 in which perfume drinking has started in this manner. On the contrary, he or she who takes to the perfume habit does it because a more forceful 'kick' can be obtained, because their customary supply has been curtailed or because they do not wish others to know their addicts."

"Sociability is to blame for much of this drinking, of course. But the 'jag' or alcoholic drinker seeks the effect, the temporary warmth and the imaginary good feeling. One of the most astonishing features about liquor drinking is the fact that the man who really wishes to quit it is the old-timer who has probably drunk liquor for twenty years or more. He finally sees the danger, perhaps, not until death actually stares him in the face, but he eventually sees it, comes here to be cured and then remains cured.

"But with the young man it is quite different. In many instances he does not want to be cured. He wants a chance to rest up and recuperate from a debauch, or else is taking the 'cure' to please a fond parent or sweetheart. He usually quits for two or three weeks and then is back at it again. He has not yet learned his lesson, and his persistence may end in death. It often does. If not, then he continues drinking and stopping until human nature calls a halt. It is then he takes the cure, which, in this instance, is a real cure and he quits for good."

Dr. Jewett says that hair tonic is quite a common or well-known beverage. The majority of tonics contain 80 per cent alcohol and also tincture of capsicum. The former gives the "kick" and the latter "makes the innards feel warm and comfy." "That is," adds the doctor, "comfy for the time being. The aftermath is something different."

"Here is another peculiar fact," continued Dr. Jewett. "Before the war we averaged 800 alcoholic cases weekly. After the 'work or fight' law was passed and our cases dwindled down to approximately 250 weekly. But since the armistice was signed the average is again on a noticeable increase. This proves what idleness will do."

"Further, since the end of the war and especially since prohibition has become an assured fact, alcoholic convulsions are on the increase. I think this is explained in the inferior grades of intoxicants now sold. Some of these grades are the rankest of poisons, but many dealers know they will not be able to get any more and are selling most anything to get what money there is in the business. "But with all these facts, it is true that the number of women drinkers has greatly decreased of late. Why this is the case we are unable to determine."

"You believe, then, that the number of male drinkers has not decreased and that they, women as well as men, will invade the drug stores and groceries for their 'jags' in the future?" we asked of the doctor.

"They certainly will, in my opinion," replied Dr. Jewett. "It takes a long time for some people to learn their lessons. If any one, man or woman, goes to the extreme of drinking perfume, extracts or hair tonic, then it occurs to me he or she has not mastered his or her final lesson in the line of drinking. When a person knows by experience what such drinks will do to him and then deliberately 'flies at it,' there is but one conclusion to draw. He has not yet received the 'kick' he needs."

PRICES DURING WAR.

World-Wide Phenomenon of Rising Prices Accompanied by Increase of Money.

The U. S. Department of Labor, through the Information and Education Service, is issuing the results of a study of prices during the war and readjustment period made by the Division of Public Works and Construction Development. Discussing the world-wide phenomenon of rising prices accompanied by an increase of money, the report says:

"A study of the index figures of commodity prices in the United States and certain foreign countries shows that while prices have risen very considerably in this country through the war period, the rise in other countries has been greater. According to the figures of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the wholesale prices of all commodities in September, 1918, were 107 per cent over the average for the year 1913. This was the highest figure reached in this country. The price level in Canada, according to the Canadian Labor Department, reached the high point in November the price level then being 115 per cent over the 1913 figure. According to the figures of the London Economist, the price level in the United Kingdom was highest in the month of August, being at that time 133 per cent above the 1913 averages. Figures on the increase of prices in France are not available for any time later than June, 1918; however, the index figure as published by the Statistique Generale for the month of May showed an increase of 235 per cent over the 1913 price level. Not only do the countries nearer the scene of actual warfare show greater rises in the price level, but it is also true that in these countries the price began to rise at an earlier date than they did in the States.

"The general rise in commodity prices was accompanied in all these countries by a considerable increase in the amount of money in circulation and in the amount of bank deposits. In this country, the average amount of money in circulation per capita in the year 1913 was $34.65. This increased to $56.23, the figure for December 1, 1918, an increase of 62 per cent. There has been a slight decrease since that time, the figure for March 1 being $53.76, which is 55 per cent above the 1913 figure. During the same time, bank deposits in the United States have increased almost threefold. In European countries, during the war period, bank deposits more than doubled.

"Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University published about a month ago a monograph entitled 'The New Price Revolution' in which the facts concerning the increase of the amount of money and of credits were brought out, and the statement was put forward that this increase was responsible for the general rise in the price level. But Professor Fisher also pointed out that it is extremely unlikely that there will be a decrease of money and credits in either this country or European countries within the next few years, and that the price level will remain permanently high as compared with the prewar level."

EX-MAYOR NOBLE DEAD.

Rockville, April 25.—S. Tracy Noble, mayor of Rockville from 1914 to 1918 and one of the town's leading citizens, dropped dead of heart failure in the cellar of his home on Union street here this morning. Mr. Noble had apparently been enjoying the best of health and the news of his death came as a severe shock to his friends in this city. He was 70 years old.

WHAT HARTFORD CRITIC WROTE ABOUT MIDDLETON

Praised Highly When He Appeared in Capital City—To Sing Here on May 5.

Following is a criticism which appeared in The Hartford Times concerning Arthur Middleton who will sing on May 5 at our High school hall. Watkins Brothers are bringing the Grand Opera star here and all money over expenses which will be taken in at the door will be turned over to the local Welcome Home committee. Here is the criticism:

"There are male singers and male singers. Some of them are men and others are less easily classified. Arthur Middleton is pre-eminently a man, a virile, wholesome man, a man's man. Plagiarisms from the dressing table of milady are not in his line. He is a good fellow. It's always fair weather when Arthur Middleton sings; and he is listened to by many or he they disgracefully few, they all get together in the contagion of his big nature and become good fellows whether or no.

Mr. Middleton is not only a man, and a good fellow, which considering the fact that he belongs to the concert giving fraternity is saying a good deal, but he is more—much more. Arthur Middleton is an artist. He is an artist's artist, but his appeal is to anyone who enjoys singing. There is no refinement, no charm in the art of song, foreign to his artistry. As an example and object lesson to young singers and students of singing, better a day of Arthur Middleton than a cycle of all the operatic maestros and prima donnas possible to mention.

Mr. Middleton's performance last evening was up to his own mark, which statement, to persons ordinarily informed musically, tells the story. The singer's noble voice plastically reflected every mood of the constantly varying, highly diversified program. Diction, phrasing, nuance were all managed with consummate skill and finesse. Perfect art concealed art—which is not a bad definition of artistry. There was impressive range of dynamics, rhythmic sparkle brightened musically rhythmic notes. Lyric and dramatic values were held in line at justment. Classical music was delivered with the classic taste befitting its stately dignity. Modern things were touched with appropriate flexibility of style. Negro spirituals were sung in such manner as sharply to focus their ingenious piety and pathos, their whimsical and picturesque suggestiveness. From first to last Mr. Middleton's performance was a pleasure without alloy. And the passing wonder is that the price of admission or more important interests came between so many of the professed lovers and supporters of good music in this community and the enjoyment they might otherwise have had in the crowning musical event of the season.

"Mr. Saylor's accompaniments were the finished products of a past master of the art of accompanying. Their like has seldom been heard in these parts. Support so perfect, adjustment so exquisite is beyond all praise."

YOUR TREES IN MAY AND HOW TO CARE FOR THEM

Washington, April 25.—May is the month when the insects wake up, take a long stretch and get ready to attack your trees, says a bulletin from the American Forestry Association of Washington, D. C., which campaign for the planting of memorial trees for soldiers and sailors is nation-wide and which is registering all such trees. Here is timely tree advice from the association for May: 1. Plant evergreens during the first part of May; 2. Spray for all varieties of insects, those that chew, suck and bore; 3. Spray for fungous disease; 4. Commence cultivating and watering trees and shrubs; 5. Complete the removal of trees hopelessly infested with boring insects, such as the Hickory bark beetle, the two-lined chestnut borer, etc.; 6. Examine trees to see that they are free from eggs of the tussock moth, gypsy moth, etc., and from cocoons, such as those of the brown-tail moth, the bag worm, etc.

ABOUT TOWN

Della Ferra Brothers, the tailors who were recently wiped out by the big Ferris fire, have leased the basement of the Ferris building on the Oak street side for temporary quarters.

The mercury was again down to 26 this morning. From Green Hill it was seen that the hills of northern Connecticut and southern Massachusetts were white with snow this morning.

One wisecracker who was present at the fire of Thursday evening stated that it was the longest fire Manchester had ever had. The blaze he explained started on April 24th and lasted until April 25th.

Laurel Camp, Royal Neighbors of America, will give a public setback social in Tinker hall Monday evening. Six prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. Mrs. Edna Dwyer is chairman of the committee of arrangements.

The Swedish Scandia lodge will hold a class initiation at High school hall this evening. A large delegation from out of town organizations is expected and each lodge will bring a number of candidates. Over one hundred candidates will be initiated. A general social session and dance will follow the ceremonies.

The members of Company F of the local state guard will take part in the big parade in Hartford next Wednesday, April 30. The captain cordially invites all ex-members who wish to participate in the parade to meet at the company rooms Sunday morning at ten o'clock to be equipped.

Announcements have been received in town of the marriage of Miss Mary Antoinette Spencer of Toledo, O., to Lionel Ansley Foley, who returned recently from service in France. The bride has many friends in Manchester, being a daughter of Robert M. Spencer, a former resident of this town. The marriage took place in Toledo Monday, April 21.

The following persons have been appointed to act with the G. A. R. committee for making arrangements for Memorial day: Frank H. Anderson, John Jensen, E. L. G. Hohenthal, Howard Taylor, John T. Robertson, Frank M. Wolcott, Edward F. Taylor, Charles W. Holman. It was voted to have the first meeting Monday evening, April 28th in the Hall of Records at eight o'clock.

All day yesterday and again today a big automobile truck with three or four men, was busy carting to the dump all the rubbish that has accumulated at the north end of the town for the last year. It was clean-up week and apparently every householder took the opportunity to get rid of the tin cans, the old earthenware and such like, that found their way to the backyard. The clean-up week is carried on by the district and the expense is borne by the district.

COMPANY G MADE HIT AT BOSTON CELEBRATION

its record in war work. Cold-Ugh! Thursday forenoon came clear and cold, and with as spiteful a wind as only Boston could be guilty of on a parade day. True to schedule, for the review stand at 10 a. m. Chairman F. H. Anderson and his assistants arrived in time to see a gale rip off the fifty-foot sign "Manchester Welcomes You" and hurl it skyward. Nothing like having skilled artisans on one spot; forthwith came E. L. G. Hohenthal, seized hammer and spikes and went to work aided by David Husbands, David Landers and sundry volunteers.

For the next two hours the members of the delegation came in groups and pairs, the noise growing as the stand filled up. Each group of arrivals was greeted with a salutation from the reserved seats. Fur coats and rugs were freely used, and as the spectators were wrapped and tucked in for the occasion the scene suggested a stand for a Yale-Harvard football game.

Doughnuts! Shortly afternoon Major Atkinson, formerly of the Salvation Army in Manchester, made himself a very popular individual. He happened along with baskets full of doughnuts for the Boy Scouts. When he saw his old Manchester friends in the stand he stretched a point for the sake of Auld Lang syne and distributed the doughnuts to the delegation.

Color and Noise. By noon the stand was filled and the effect was remarkable. Not a square yard of the whole sixty-foot stand was without flag or pennant. Copies of the Victory Song Book were distributed and there was music without limit. Fred J. Bendall proceeded to use a good voice in the face of a harsh wind, and then about two hundred others felt safe in following suit. Thomas J. Quish was active in promoting the musical program.

Shortly before 1 o'clock two seaplanes hovered over the stand, having come from the naval air station at Chatham. Later one of these planes hovered over Major General Edwards when the parade started.

A Wild Crush. The two hundred Manchester people getting comfortably in the stand awaiting an unobstructed view of the parade had little idea of the scenes of turmoil in the heart of the city. A detachment of the Manchester committee which had to go back to the center of the city on business found this out to its sorrow. Briefly, Boston is not a large enough city to have the population of all New England emptied into it on the same day, and all going to see the same parade at the same hour. The result was, the streets were blocked, the subways were choked, and for a time motion seemed paralyzed. Transportation could not be had, taxis were stalled because they could not get through the streets, and to enter a subway crush was a fair way to become a hospital patient.

The police had a strenuous time and at the corner of Columbus avenue and Dartmouth street a Naval Reserve guard was shot and killed by a negro whom he pushed back of the lines. Two negroes were stabbed and the assailants were mobbed before being arrested. It is therefore apparent that the Manchester committee did some excellent planning in getting its delegation of 200 into position on time, comfortably seated and away from the great crush.

Manchester's Wounded. The very next division of the parade was of local interest and contained local men. It was made up of the wounded soldiers unable to walk and who rode in automobiles. Many Manchester faces were recognized. "There's Private Blanchard," called out a voice. "There's Roxie D'Amico," shouted another. Private LeRoy, of Burnside, was quickly located. The wounded men made an impressive sight, many of them wearing their decorations for bravery. Not a few were swathed in bandages, and some wore scarfs and great wraps to shut off the keen winds. Each car bore a Red Cross insignia from the radiator, and each car was "manned" at the wheel by a young woman driver with Red Cross arm band.

Liked Our Streamers. A fact plainly observed by all in the stand was that the occupants of the cars were quick to notice the animation and enthusiasm of the Manchester stand and they clearly liked it. They saluted and cheered in between and eagerly caught at the long lines of colored streamers tossed out to them. Plainly, the boys didn't mind being "fussed over" in such a demonstration which exhaled in warmth that of any other stand in sight.

In one car was a banner labeled, "Manchester—For Your Boy and Mine."

Many cars carried large bouquets, the gifts to the soldiers. A big gray car marked "U. S. A. Official Use Only," came into view with a grim reminder of the war—a load of spiders all carrying crutches. A long line of gray cars followed, filled with wounded men.

Each time a Manchester face was recognized among the wounded, a burst of cheering followed. There was continuous applause, band music and cheering while these autos were passing the Manchester stand.

"There's Private Richardson," called out a spectator. Private Shields was also recognized. At 1:58 the last auto containing wounded soldiers passed the Manchester stand.

More Local Men. Following Major General H. C. Hale and staff was a fine marching body. "Duke" Wilkie and Private Sonnicksen were recognized by friends and given a noisy welcome.

Each time the American flag appeared in sight those on the Manchester stand uncovered and gave the colors respectful attention.

Among the humorous sights in the parade were the mascots, in some instances blanketed and decorated canines, and in one case a shaggy, long-bearded nanny goat.

Mr. Hessegrave's Ovation. At 2:19 o'clock came a fine thrill for the Manchester stand, one that was distinctively all Manchester's own. Marching side by side past the stand came Rev. Dr. Charles E. Hessegrave and his secretary in overseas Y. M. C. A. work, Miss Cary. On its feet in an instant, the entire stand split the air with cheers.

Thrilling Scene. Of course the Manchester delegation was awaiting its own home boys, but in the meantime they could not fail to be deeply moved by the remarkable sight. Impressive and dramatic was the moment when there passed the Manchester stand the General whose name has been before the occupants, and before the whole country, ever since the war began, Colonel Edward L. Logan, commanding the 101st Regiment. Following the famous colonel, stretching across the broad Commonwealth avenue platoon front, and extending down the avenue as far as the eye could see, was a veritable moving forest of glistening bayonets. Acre after acre of moving tin helmets passed before the spectators, and the sturdy, dependable and self-reliant swing of the uniformed men, and the crisp, almost haughty demeanor and dignity of the commanding officers combined in making an inspiring scene.

The marching of the 101st Infantry Regiment was closely watched, but of course the local delegation was eagerly awaiting the approach of the 102nd Infantry and the boys from the old home town.

Co. G at Last. At 2:38 o'clock came the great moment of the whole Boston celebration—the arrival of Company G. It was then that they saw with their own eyes the depth of meaning and sincerity of the tribute which the 300 Manchester citizens, representing the 18,000 citizens of the town, had traveled over 100 miles to pay. A roar of cheering and enthusiasm fairly shook the stand at Company G's approach. Fathers, mothers, sisters, brothers and sweethearts set up their voices in accents of joy, of gratitude, and of thankfulness. Half a hundred names were shrieked at the same moment at as many soldiers when the Manchester heroes were opposite the Manchester stands. The military band played its most lusty notes, the big sign "Manchester Welcomes You" carried its message, and a perfect gale of red and blue streamers descended upon the soldiers. Then the band struck up the selection "Our Director" and two hundred Manchester voices sang with deepest feeling until the last of our soldier heroes of G company had passed the reviewing stand.

The Return. After the Manchester soldiers had passed the reviewing stand the delegation settled back in its seats to view the remainder of the parade. The majority of the delegation remained until the entire parade passed in front of the stand.

Then there was a hurrying back to the hotels, with a few hours left preparatory to the homeward journey.

The special train was drawn up at the South station and was in waiting at 8:45. At 9 o'clock sharp the train started.

The homeward trip was quietly made, although the soldiers enjoyed the numerous songfests in the head coach. The special train reached Manchester shortly before 12 o'clock.

The soldiers on all sides expressed themselves as delighted with the whole celebration and had many words of appreciation for the kindnesses extended, the thoughtfulness shown, and the infinite and painstaking care for their welfare evidenced by Chairman F. H. Anderson and his assistants. Automobiles and a special car awaited at Depot Square the arrival of the special train and by 12:15 o'clock the delegation was en route homeward and Manchester's part in the Boston celebration to the Yankee Division had passed into history.

GROCER DISAPPEARS

The Manchester Cash Grocery was closed yesterday by Deputy Sheriff John F. Sheridan. The business was carried on by William Ryan and Edward McVeigh in the Brink building on Main street. Both were young men who started in the business about three months ago and they have been having a very good trade. Last Monday Ryan went to Boston on what he said was a business trip but he has not been heard from since that time. Ryan handled the cash and paid the bills and it is understood that he took with him a roll of bills in which there was fully $1,500. The store was closed by one of the concern's creditors and Sheriff Sheridan is now in charge. He is taking an inventory of the stock and today sold practically all the perishable goods in the store. Both men worked hard in the store and they were assisted by Mrs. Ryan, who was Miss Sadie Gaskell, before her marriage. Mrs. Ryan is at present at her home and cannot account for her husband's actions.

VAUDEVILLE PERFORMER IN OPEN AIR STUNT

Rids Himself of Straightjacket While Suspended by His Heels.

Suspended by his feet and dangling thirty feet in mid-air; Percy Abbott of Abbott's Merry Wizard Company, escaped from a straight jacket in less than four minutes in front of the Park Theater last evening. A large crowd breathlessly witnessed the death defying performance. It was one of the most spectacular open air exhibitions ever presented in Manchester and those who saw the "stunt", marvelled at the coolness and courage of the intrepid magician from Australia.

It had been previously announced at the Park by Abbott, that he would attempt to get out of a straight jacket while suspended by his feet in mid air. The stunt sounded impossible, the news spread, and at seven o'clock last evening that section around the Park theater was jammed to suffocation. When Abbott appeared in the lobby, a howl went up from the younger element. "There he is". Where lives the kid who does not worship a hero?

The ankle straps were quickly adjusted on the performer's feet and the hemp which was to swing him in mid air was attached. In order to demonstrate that there was nothing in the nature of fake attached to the exhibition, he invited one of the bystanders to strap on the regulation straight jacket which he carried. No one cared to accept the invitation, for the hard pavement foreboded dire consequences should the rope break, and the recollections of being a party to the "stunt" would be far from being pleasant.

Abbott's assistant then strapped the "jacket" around the performer and at a signal the Australian wonder was swung thirty feet into the air. Just 4 minutes elapsed from the time of the signal to the completion of the stunt. A capacity house which followed the exhibition evidenced the impression the performer had made on the public.

"OH, BOY," HERE MONDAY.

"Oh, Boy," the smartest and most brilliant musical comedy success of the past twenty years, and the fourth of the series of New York Princess Theater musical comedies, will be presented by F. Ray Comstock and William Elliott, at the Park Theater for the night only on Monday.

"Oh, Boy," is the musical comedy success of many seasons. Its tremendous popularity is due to its delightful story as well as its dainty and colorful production and its music replete with lilting melodies.

In the special company which will appear here will be Zella Rameau, Francis Roeder, Emily Fitz Roy, Mattie Edwards, Daniel McNeill, Frank Lambert, Phil Branson, Henry Cooper, and a chorus whose charm and beauty are well worthy of special mention. "Oh, Boy" was an entire season in New York at the Princess Theater, and then continued its run at the Casino in New York.

A Queer Old Bird is The Pelican

Its bill holds more than its bellican. But at that, its heart is bigger than its bill. It is the only bird which shares its food with other and weaker fowl.

So the queer old pelican looms up handsome in Goodrich's eyes—eyes which see beauty that is more than skin deep.

Goodrich, it is true, makes Silvertown Cords the handsomest tires—the very Beau Brummel tires of smart cars.

Yet if clumsiness and ugliness would add one mile to their service, Goodrich would make them clumsy and ugly as the queer old pelican.

"Quality First," rules in the manufacture of Silvertowns; and they render quality service first and last.

Give your automobile the obvious grace and elegance of the Tires with the Twin Red Diamonds on the sidewall. Their mileage is sure.
