

SHIPPING BOARD OFFICIALS DECIDE TO RESIGN ON MAY 1

Headed by Director General
Pietz, Eight Administra-
tives Will Leave Philadelphia Offices—Did Great Work During the World War—All Going Back to Business Again.

Washington, April 28.—Eight administrative officials of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation retire from the Philadelphia home offices on May 1,
it was announced here today. They are Charles Pietz, Director General
and General Manager who returns to Chicago where he is president of the Link Belt Company, of Philadelphia and Chicago; Howard Conley,
Vice President in charge of administration who returns to Boston,
where he is President of the Walworth Manufacturing Company; Admiral H. H. Rousseau, head of shipyard plants division; Charles F. Wallace, assistant to the Director General Daniel H. Cox, of the ship construction division; Gordon Wilson,
General Auditor; R. W. Leatherbee,
head of the Industrial Relations Division; and M. D. Ferris, head of the contract division.

Director General Pietz came to the Fleet Corporation in the fall of 1917.
Under his administration as Vice President and General Manager, no
less than during his term as Director General, upon the retirement of Charles M. Schwab, the organization was rapidly expanded to cover all
the needs of a remarkable situation.

MASSACHUSETTS BOARD REPORTS ON BIG STRIKE

Recommends That Lawrence Strikers
Go Back to Work and Use Shop Committees.

Boston, April 28.—The State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration today filed with Governor Coolidge the report of its investigation
of the Lawrence strike. The report will probably not be made public until it is read by Governor Coolidge.
It contains these recommendations:
That the strikers return to work.
That the mill owners take the strikers back as fast as working conditions will allow.

That the strikers and mill owners
adjust their differences through
shop committees.
The report does not attempt to
place the responsibility for the continuance of the strike.
Strikers delegated shop committees several days ago but the mill
men refused to receive them. As a result the strikers, it is said, refused
to give the committee complete authority to settle the strike.
Both strikers and mill owners
therefore are reported to be opposed
to the settlement by a shop committee.

SCHOOL ON FIRE

Stamford, April 28.—Students
formed a bucket brigade here today
when the Stamford Military Academy building caught fire through a defective chimney. The boys checked
the fire until the arrival of the firemen. The damage was small.

BANK ROBBED

New York, April 28.—Two armed
robbers today held up the brokerage
office of Charles Fishback, dealer in Russian exchange and escaped with about $13,000 in cash and between $6,000 and $7,000 in Liberty
Bonds.

WEATHER IMPROVES

St. Johns, N. F., April 28.—The weather has improved to such an extent that the trans-Atlantic airplane flight may be started tomorrow. Both Harry G. Hawker and Captain F. P.
Raynham planned tryout flights this afternoon.

"Wild Man" War Hero

New York, April 28.—"Amok, the untamed head-hunter of the Ignor-rote Wilds—yes, madam, he collects skulls—human skull—L—s"—the little dusky man who delighted the crowds at Coney Island, is one of the heroes of the war, it was learned
today. "Amok" was drafted when
the United States got into the war.
He volunteered to carry messages
through a heavy barrage while the 306th Infantry was advancing in the Argonne, and was officially cited for bravery. Now "Amok," who never tipped the Coney crowds to the fact that he was a high school graduate,
is going back to the Philippines to teach school.

EX-KAISER WILL BE TRIED FOR HIS CRIMES; HOLLAND TO BE ASKED TO SURRENDER HIM

PRESIDENT TO BACK CHINA AGAINST JAPS, IS REPORTED

Paris, April 28.—In addition to demands for amendments to the League of Nations' constitution the Japanese were expected to press
their claims for Kiao-Chau in the plenary session of the peace conference this afternoon.
President Wilson, it was understood, would support the Chinese

delegates who are opposing Japanese claims for Chinese territory.
(Kiao-Chau is on the Chinese Shantung peninsula.)
The Japanese are now openly threatening to follow the action of the Italians in withdrawing if their demands are rejected.
The Italian situation remains
grave. French socialists are now

criticizing President Wilson for not protesting earlier against "rampant
imperialism" in the conference, adding that "the President has not grasped all of the European problems."
A six thousand word summary of the peace treaty which Germany
must sign was made public on Saturday.

Washington Makes Known Text of Articles Regarding Penalties to be Considered Today at Conference— Persons Guilty of Military Offenses Also to be Given Trial.

Washington, April 28.—The ex-Kaiser will be tried for his supreme
offense against criminal law.
This became officially known to-
day when the State Department
made public the text of proposed articles regarding penalties which will be considered at today's session of the peace conference at Paris.

Must Surrender Kaiser.
The articles provide that the Netherlands be requested to surrender the ex-Kaiser and that his trial
be by a court composed of five
judges, one to be appointed by each
of the five great powers.

Following are the proposed articles to be considered:
"Article 1—The allied and associated powers publicly arraign William II., of Hohenzollern, former German Emperor, not for an offense
against criminal law, but for a supreme offense against international
morality and the sanctity of treaties.

"A special tribunal will be constituted to try the accused, thereby
assuring him the guaranteed essential of the right of defense. It will be composed of five judges, one appointed by each of the following five
powers: United States of America,
Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

To Fix Punishment.
"In its decision the tribunal will
be guided by the highest motives of international policy with a view to vindicting the solemn obligations
of international undertakings, and
the validity of international moral-
ity. It will be its duty to fix the punishment which it considers
should be imposed.
"The allied and associated powers will address a request to the government of The Netherlands for the surrender to them of the ex-Emperor in order that he may be put
on trial.

Military Offenses.
"Article two—The German government, not having insured the punishment of the persons accused of having exercised acts in violation of the laws and customs of law, such persons will be brought before military tribunals by the allied and associated powers and if found guilty,
sentenced to the punishment laid
down by military law.
"The German government shall
hand over to the allied and associated powers, or to such one of them as shall so request, all persons
accused of having committed an act
in violation of the laws and customs of war, who are specified either
by name or by rank, office or employment which they held under the German authorities.

"Article Three—Persons guilty of
criminal acts against the nationals
of one of the allied and associated powers will be brought before the military tribunal of that power.
Criminal Acts.
"Persons guilty of criminal acts
against the nationals of more than
one of the allied and associated powers, will be brought before military tribunals composed of members of the military tribunals of the powers
concerned.
"In every case the accused will be entitled to name his own counsel.
"ARTICLE FOUR—The German
government undertakes to furnish
all documents and information of every kind, the production of which may be considered necessary to insure the full knowledge of the incriminating acts, the discovery of the just appreciation of the responsibility."

lender and the debtor to the creditor. Be frugal and free." (Benja-

LEAGUE WITH A MILLION MEMBERS FORMED TO SAVE EX-KAISER'S LIFE

Germans Organize to Protect Wilhelm from Vengeance of Allies—Aims of the Or- ganization Explained.

Berlin, April 6.—(By mail).—To save the Kaiser from the vengeance
of the Entente on the one hand and
the wrath of anti-monarchical Germans on the other, is the ostensible
object of a new German organization boasting a country-wide following and a membership exceeding one million. These champions of the Kaiser's personal welfare are doing business under the firm name of
"League of German Men and Women
for the Protection of the Personal Liberty and Life of William II." with headquarters at Goerlitz, Silesia, and branches in all principal cities, of which Berlin, of course, is the most important.

Henry Declines.
Although the league professes a
strictly non-political aim it offered
the protectorship to Prince Henry,
of Prussia, the Kaiser's brother.
Prince Henry, however, graciously
declined the honor and suggested Hindenburg for the distinction, but
accepted a membership in the league
for the distinction, but accepted a membership in the league for which
he enclosed the regular fee of 25
cents.

This, I learned today, from Lieutenant Walter Rohde, manager of the Berlin branch.
"Can you give me the names of
some of your most distinguished members?" I asked.

Names On Roll.
Lieutenant Rohde scanned his membership roll.
"As a matter of fact I don't see any exceptionally well known persons on my list. For instance, I have no record of Ludendorff. The biggest men on my list are Field Marshal General von Wrayth, surgeon General Hering, and Colonel von Witzleben. These men are, of course, well known in Germany, but
in America, I don't think their names
would mean anything."

I requested Lieutenant Rohde to outline the league's program. He replied:
"Our aim is to prevent the trial
of William II in an entente court of justice on the charge of being responsible for the war."

BELIEVE AIRMEN LOST

Chatham, Mass., April 28.—That Lieutenant John S. Buchanan and his two comrades, who were lost in Massachusetts Bay when a disabled
engine forced them to land their ses-
plane in a raging storm between Plymouth and Provincetown, are dead, is the belief of the authorities
at the naval air station today.
"There is a chance, that I hope
eventuates, that some coastwise
steamer picked up the stranded
fliers," said Lieutenant Commander Eaton.

Wing sections, badly smashed,
and struts torn off the disabled machine by the heavy seas were found
scattered along the beaches by coast
guardsmen.

BOYS CHEER AT DEVENS AS THEY ARE DISCHARGED

Officers Figure on Mastering Out Over 8,000 a Day—Getting Their Final Pay.

Camp Devens, Mass., April 28.—
From all sections of this cantonment today a mighty cheer came from the men of the Yankee Division, the occasion being the return
to civil life of many of them.

No sooner had the buglers started in on reveille than the men began singing, "You've got to get up you've got to get up, you've got to get up this morning."
Singing and cheering, the men of the 104th Infantry marched to the finance officer to receive their final
pay. There were double lines along the roadway leading to that dignitary's office.

Secretaries of the "Y" and the Knights of Columbus were on hand
with envelopes and cigarettes. Jitney drivers congregated in groups
and as fast as the men were paid off
they were engaged. Long lines of machines were filled in no time with men and speed laws were broken to get the latter to the Ayer depot in time for the various trains.

Major General McCain, Camp
Commander, was on hand early and
watched the men being paid off.
Everything was carried out in clock-like precision. The officers figured on discharging 8,600 and
the way they went about the work
it appeared more than that number
would be demobilized before sundown.

TOWN'S TOTAL $448,500 IN VICTORY LOAN DRIVE

Manchester has added $38,000 to its total for the Victory loan. The figures, therefore, stand today at $448,500.

Now that all of the workers are
home again, business will hum again
and from now on the total is expected to go up in leaps and bounds.

SEAMEN SAVED

Coast Guardsmen Take Them On Burning Barge.

Boston April 28.—Coast guard-
men from the Point Allerton station
rescued five seamen from the burning coal barge Occoaro in President Roads today.

Flames were shooting up from
the bow to the stern of the boat as
the coast guardsmen took off the Occoaro's crew. Meanwhile a call
had been sent to Boston and a fireboat steamed down the harbor. The fire on the Occoaro was extinguished, but not before $7,000 worth of damage had been done.

The Occoaro, a brand new craft,
on her maiden voyage, was valued
at $90,000 and her cargo of hard coal at $20,000. Explosion of an oil tank is believed to have started
the fire.

TEN YEAR OLD BRAINS IN 45,000 OF OUR MEN

Startling Figures Disclosed by Psychological Tests Made in War.

OFFICERS' LOW MENTALITY

7,784 Men Discharged Because of Tests—Some Fell Below the Men- tal Age of a Four Year Old Child.

Washington, April 28.—Psychological tests applied between April 27 and November 30, 1918, revealed a total of 45,653 men in the United States army under ten years
"mental age". In other words that number had minds of the average
child of less than ten years of age.
And a few fell below the mental age
of four.

This somewhat startling fact was revealed today by Major R. M.
Yeakes, U. S. A., in an address before the National Academy of Science, which is holding a three day
session in Washington.

Some Figures.
Of 45,653 men, Major Yeakes disclosed, 4,744 were found to have a
"mental age" below seven years,
7,782 between 7 and 8 years, 14,
566 between 8 and 9 years and 18,581 between 9 and 10 years.

"It is extremely improbable," Major Yeakes observed, "that many of these individuals were worth
what it cost the government to maintain, equip and train them for military service."

Low Grade Intelligence.
During the same seven months,
Major Yeakes said, 7,784 men were reported for discharge by psychological examiners because of mental inferiority. The recommendations
for assignment to labor battalions
because of low grade intelligence
totalled 9,871, or approximately 6
per cent of the number of men examined. There were 8,331 recommendations for assignment to development battalions for observation
and preliminary training to discover
ways of using the men in the army.

After preliminary trial in four cantonments, psychological examinations were extended by the War
department to the entire army, Major Yeakes explained, excepting only field
and general officers. The work was organized finally in thirty five army
training camps, and a grand total of 1,728,000 men had been subjected to the examinations prior to January 1, 1919, it was stated. Of this number about 41,000 were commissioned officers.

The ratings were classified in five
divisions—A, B, C, D and E.
Officers' Low Rating.
"Commissioned officers usually
possess and obviously should possess
A or B intelligence," said Major Yeakes. "Many excellent non-commissioned officers rate C intelligence,
but in the main this group is composed of men with C-plus or B ratings."

FEAR THAT RED GUARDS WILL OVERRUN BAVARIA

Government Planes Fly Over Munich Dropping Pamphlets Promising People Aid.

Berlin, April 27.—(Via London, April 28.)—Unless reinforcements
of Prussian troops are sent into Bavaria the Red Guards probably will overrun the whole country, according to information received here to-
day. The government is having difficulty in collecting reliable troops.

Refugees from Munich now say
that food is plentiful and that the Red Guards are confident of victory.
Government airplanes flew over Munich on Saturday, dropping
pamphlets promising the people aid.

FAMOUS SPIRITUALIST DIES IN HUB HOSPITAL

Miss Pepper Whose Seances Caused Sensation for Last 15 Years, Passes Away.

Boston, April 28.—Miss May S.
Pepper Vanderbilt, the spiritualistic
medium, whose seances during the last 15 years excited much discussion, is dead at a hospital here.

At the time of her marriage in 1907 to E. Ward Vanderbilt, of New York, she was pastor of the First Spiritualist Church of Brooklyn and Bishop of the Spiritualistic Cult of that city.

Six months after her marriage to Mr. Vanderbilt annulment proceedings were started by his daughter,
Miss Mithra Vanderbilt on the ground that he was incapable of making a contract of marriage owing to his advanced age. It was brought out at the trial that the aged man had been influenced by legends represented as coming to him from "little bright eyes" the
medium's "spirit control."

POLICEMEN INJURED

Lawrence Strikers Hurl Stones at Officers.

Lawrence, Mass., April 28.—The opening of the thirteenth week of the local textile strike was again
marked by violence this morning
when two police officers were struck
and injured by stones. The trouble
occurred in the tenement house district at the corner of Elm and Jackson street. Patrolman John Mahoney was hit by a large stone in the shoulder and was also cut on the hand. Mounted Officer John Lynch,
of Lowell, jumped from his horse
and chased the alleged assailant in-
to a house. While he was in pursuit, he was struck in the forehead
with a brick and knocked to the ground with a severe cut.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS PLAN UP TODAY; ITALIANS HAVE NO REPRESENTATION

To Be Decided How to Pre- vent Future Wars—Italian Situation Still Tense—An- alysis of the Covenant.

Paris, April 28.—Whether the League of Nations plan, as finally amended, is acceptable to the nations
of the world as the supreme weapon
to prevent future wars was the chief
problem confronting the plenary session of the peace conference when
it assembled here this afternoon.

Before the meeting opened the Japanese delegation announced its intention of pressing an amendment
to the preamble declaring for equality of member states. The Japanese denied emphatically that the acceptance of such an amendment would endanger Asiatic immigration laws
of the United States.

Italy Not Represented.
Italy was not represented at the
plenary session, all of the members
of the delegation having gone to Rome to consult with parliament regarding the Flume situation.

The plenary session today was the first to be held since the amended
constitution of the League of Nations was finally drafted after being approved by 13 powers.

What Japs Will Do.
In view of the withdrawal of the Italians from the conference and the covert threats of the Japanese there was keen interest felt over the next steps of the Nipponese delegates in
the event their proposals were rejected. The Japanese indicated that they intended to make a strong fight
against Article No. 21, which especially exempted the Monroe doctrine
from the operations of the League.

However, officials generally anticipated that the section pertaining to the Monroe doctrine would be allowed to stand inasmuch as President Wilson made a special fight for
it and insisted that it was necessary
to meet public opinion in the United States.

Situation Still Tense.
Public interest was equally divided between the developments in the plenary session and the situation in Rome. The Italian situation continues tense and word was eagerly
awaited as to the next step of the Italian government.

President Wilson was scheduled
to address the plenary session, explaining that the League of Nations covenant is not the constitution of
a "super-state", but is a solemn
agreement between the sovereign
states, consenting to a limitation of their complete freedom of action on certain points for the greatest good
of the world at large.

League of Powers.
Recognizing that a single generation cannot bind its successors by written words, the commission planned the creation of a League of Powers for self perpetuation, with the
free consent of the member states;
along the principle of the greatest
good for the greatest number.

In analyzing the League's workings the proponents of the Society
of Powers declared they had deliberately rejected the armaments proposal.

LEAGUE OF NATION'S PLAN IS UP AT CONFERENCE

gram from the future action of the League because they considered it necessary to leave free the hands of statesmen in the future so as to allow the league, as a living organism, to discover the best lines of development.

Analysis of Text.

Article one points out the way to enemy powers to secure members and compelling their endorsement of the league while the charter members are forced to join hands, all assuming equal obligations.

Articles two to seven inclusive create the assembly bringing the league into operation and leaving the several states to decide how their respective delegations shall be composed. In addition, they provide that decisions must be unanimous excepting in certain specified cases. This is designed to protect the sovereign states from being bound by the legislation of their fellows. The assembly, which is the supreme organ of the league, consists of representatives of members of the League. The council is much smaller, including representatives of all the great powers, and representatives of four others, who shall make recommendations on action that may be deemed necessary. A meeting must be held at least once a year for that purpose.

Limitation of Armaments.

Articles eight to seventeen, inclusive, are designed to secure limitation of armaments. Furthermore they provide that no two states shall go to war until a peaceful settlement is sought. Provision is made for machinery to bring about a peaceful settlement and concerted action for any breach of agreement is sanctioned.

It is explained that the commission voted down the French proposal for a League of Nations general staff because it was felt that an exchange of information would satisfy all. If authority to make inspections had been given it was feared that resentment might result.

As to Self Protection.

It is emphasized that the members of the League must make their own arrangements for self protection against force suddenly concentrated against them. Also they have the right to make defense alliances so long as they are purely defensive.

Articles eighteen to 21 provide that all treaties shall be public and shall be liable to revision as the instance of the assembly in accordance with the terms of the covenant.

All existing treaties must be registered with the league in order to be valid.

Officials declared that the exemption of the Monroe doctrine, while just, did not carry with it any added power. It was agreed that this cannot be invoked to limit the action of the League of Nations which has world wide jurisdiction.

Ruling Colonies.

Articles 22 to 25 cover the ordinary peace time activities of the League and provide for the mandatory system of ruling colonies and other territories, which for various reasons, were incapable of self government.

Included in this section is provision for the amelioration of working conditions for men and women.

Article 24 enlarges the sphere of usefulness of the secretariat of the League. It lays the foundation for building up a vast structure for peaceful international co-operation.

PILFERED FROM GARAGE; SPENT CASH IN HARTFORD

"Doc" Shea After Day of Rejoicing Pays Penalty With Sixty Days.

Frank Shea, a characteristic and familiar figure about town and better known as "Doc" was arrested in a State street saloon in Hartford Saturday by the police of that city on a charge of having stolen a sum of money from a well known local business man. The arrest was made by the Hartford department at the request of Patrolman Michael Fitzgerald who had been detailed by Chief of Police Samuel S. Gordon of the local force to investigate the case. The prisoner was immediately turned over to Patrolman Fitzgerald, who brought him to town to await a hearing which was held this morning.

The investigation started Friday evening when George Smith, manager of the Park Garage on Bissell street informed Patrolman John Crockett that a sum of money had been stolen from his safe during the day. The developments of Patrolman Crockett's investigation brought out the fact that "Doc" had been hanging around the garage for a considerable length of time during the day and had disappeared almost as mysteriously as he had appeared.

Further suspicion was cast upon "Doc" when it was found that he had spent a considerable sum of money at Murphy's candy store in the Park building and had later taken a Hartford bound trolley. Crockett reported the result of his investigations to his superior officer who ordered Patrolman Fitzgerald to locate and arrest Shea, as Crockett was scheduled for out of town duty in the morning.

Fitzgerald found his man in a State street saloon and notified the Hartford headquarters that he held a warrant for a suspicious character who was within their jurisdiction. A member of the city force was sent out and after arresting Shea, he turned him over to the local patrolman.

Later on Shea admitted to Mr. Smith that he had stolen the money and that he had gone to Hartford and spent most of it. He bought a new pair of shoes, got his hair cut, and drank a few beers in the city and then returned home. In police court this morning the judge gave him 60 days in jail. Shea has been in the local court several times before.

ATLAS' FLYING START.

The Atlas started in fine style Saturday trimming the Talcottville town team 7-3. Symonds allowed only three hits. He also demonstrated that a pitcher could wield the willow, polling out a triple in the fifth. Henry's fielding in the outfield was a feature.

Sunday the Atlas trounced Rockville Federals 15 to 4. Cervini held them to four scattered hits. A large crowd witnessed the encounter.

The scores:
Atlas . . . 0 0 1 2 0 2 1 1 0-7
Talcottville 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 2-3
Atlas . . . 4 0 0 2 0 4 3 1 1-15
Federals . . . 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 3-4

OLONETS CAPTURED.

Helmsfords, April 27.—(Via London) April 28.—The capture of Olonets by White Guard troops is a serious blow to the Bolsheviks for the Finns are now only 35 miles from the Petrograd-Murmansk railroad. If this is severed the Bolshevik army operating against the British on the Murmansk route will be cut off from its base.

FOREST FIRES RAGED ALL DAY SUNDAY

Fire Warden Kept Busy With Calls For Help.

Forest fires were raging all about Manchester yesterday afternoon and evening. One fire started near Dr. Tinker's property in Bolton and was burning rapidly toward the Manchester town line. The fire got beyond the control of the men out there, so a call for help was sent to Fire Warden J. Watson Goslee of Manchester. Mr. Goslee got in touch with Deputy Fire Warden Finley, who went out with a gang of men, but still the fire kept spreading and another call was sent in to Mr. Goslee in the evening. This time, he called James Foley, deputy of the north end. Foley got one of his auto trucks and six men and Mr. Goslee went along with them and fought the fire until midnight. It is estimated that upwards of 100 acres of land were burned over during the fire.

One in Hilltown. Another fire broke out near Arthur Manning's place in Hilltown and Mr. Goslee was called upon for help. He got Deputy Fire Warden Jacob Lipp of that district to go out with a gang of men and they finally succeeded in putting out the fire, after it had burned over between 75 and 100 acres of land. It was mostly brush land and no great damage was done. Fortunately, the men were able to get the fire under control before it reached a lot of cord wood, owned by Mr. Manning. During its progress, it burned through a nice grove of white pines.

It was rumored about town that a third fire was burning in Glastonbury, just over the town line, but Fire Warden Goslee received no official report on the matter and an investigation by a Herald man brought the information that some of the farmers had been burning over some land purposely, both on Saturday afternoon and yesterday. There was no forest fire there, however.

RECTOR RESIGNS.

Stamford, April 28.—Rev. Charles Morris Addison, rector of St. John's Episcopal Church here for 22 years, has resigned and will devote his time to literary work. St. John's Church is now one of the largest Episcopal churches in the state.

PASTOR DEAD.

Stamford, April 28.—Rev. William T. Swinnerton, a native of Nunceaton, England, died here today of cerebral hemorrhage. He was born June 7, 1849 and came to this country when 21 years old. He was graduated in Andover Seminary and at various times was pastor of Congregational churches on Cape Cod, at Morrisville, Vt., Cambridge, Mass., Plainfield, Vermont, North Stamford and Stamford.

POISON PEN CASE.

Waterbury, April 28.—Although local police denied any information, it is understood that John Turovich, who was brought here Saturday from Coleman, N. Y., is being held on the charge of having written the threatening letter to the Scoville Manufacturing Company, which excited this city several weeks ago. Turovich was arraigned in city court today and his case continued under bonds of $5,000.

"LOST BATTALION" HOME.

Arrive on Transport America and Get Neat Ovation.

New York, April 28.—The "lost battalion", comprising companies of the 308th Infantry which were surrounded for five days by the Germans in Argonne Forest but refused to surrender, came home today aboard the transport America, which landed 7,042 troops, including 960 sick and wounded.

The units aboard the America included the 154th Infantry brigade headquarters, 308th Infantry, 307th Infantry Headquarters Companies, A to E inclusive of the 307th and the 307th Machine Gun and Supply companies, all New York draft organizations.

JUDGE WONDERS WHAT HAS GOT INTO NEW YORK BOY.

"What has got into the New York boy?" asked Judge Malone in General sessions yesterday when William Walters, eighteen, of No. 417 East 68th Street, was arraigned on a charge of murder in the first degree. Other judges recently have asked similar questions because of many crimes by youthful offenders.

Walter, who is small for his age, was remanded to the Toms without bail after a plea of not guilty had been entered for him. It is charged that he shot and killed Leo Rubin, a grocer, at No. 312 East 70th Street on March 29.

Assistant District Attorney Sullivan told the judge that Walters wanted money to take his girl to a show, so he entered Rubin's store with a pistol, drove out all customers and backed Rubin toward the rear of the place. As Walters started toward the cash drawer the grocer grappled with him. Then the youth fired several times, said Mr. Sullivan.

He escaped and was not arrested until he returned to the scene of the crime.

Judge Malone assigned Robert E. Manley to defend Walters.

LOCAL SPORTS

ATHLETICS DEFEAT POLLS.

The local Athletic baseball club defeated the crack Poll aggregation by a score of 14 to 9 before a record breaking crowd at Poll's Field in East Hartford yesterday afternoon. It was the opening game of the season for both clubs. Although the game was characterized at times by costly errors and exhibitions of loose playing, there was enough baseball sensationalism injected to make it an interesting one. Local fans returned home jubilant with the news and in a very brief space of time local sportsworld knew that the Athletics had trimmed Manager Gillette's pet.

The twirling of Sipples, the crack moundsman of the local team, was the decided feature of the game. For five innings he held the Poll stars at his mercy and the much vaunted sluggers upon whom Manager Gillette places so much reliance, whiffed the ozone three times and dejectedly returned to the players' bench. When Sipples retired at the end of the fifth inning because of a sore arm and was replaced by Brennan, the score stood 9 to 3 in favor of the locals.

The Poll batsmen wreaked vengeance on Brennan in the sixth by clouting the ball to all corners of the lot and even Ray Porteus who replaced him in the same inning failed to stop the onrush of the hickory wielders. Freddy Warnock pitched the remaining innings of the game and held Hartford's pride to one run. Crockett played a steady game behind the bat as did the other members of the local team in their respective positions.

HUDSONS 6-SOAPMAKERS 5.

The Hudsons defeated the J. B. Williams soap makers on the four acre lot Sunday afternoon 6-5. The batteries for the Hudsons were McCann and Leggett and for the soap makers Buckley and Lucy. The soap makers went to bat and the first five men up struck out. McCann's curves and speed were too much for them. In the fifth inning with the game well in hand, the Hudsons changed around a little. Lang went into the box and a few substitutes were placed in the field. H. Gustafson of the Hudsons hit a home run with three men on bases but according to ground rules was allowed only a two base hit. The Hudsons were credited with 9 hits and the soap makers with 4. Wilkinson, regular catcher of the Hudsons, was unable to play on account of illness but Leggett made a very satisfactory substitute.

The Hudsons wish to get games with fast out of town teams. Challenges should be addressed to J. C. Edwards, 108 High street, South Manchester.

NEW BOWLING LEAGUE.

The new three man bowling league was formally organized at the Recreation Center last night and will start its season Monday night. For the present, games will be rolled on Monday, Tuesday and Friday nights but, when the combination league finishes its schedule, the new league games will be rolled on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights. Two matches will be rolled each night, the first one starting at 7.45 o'clock.

It was decided last night to have total pinfall for the season count. Three medals will be put up for the winning team; also medals for the individual high single and the individual high average for the season. The schedule for the new league will be announced next week.

Teams 2 and 3, tied for first place in Division D of the Combination bowling league at the Recreation Center, will bowl at 7.30 next Wednesday night. At 8.30 the same evening, the winning teams of Division A and B will roll.

S. M. HIGH SCHOOL 9-LOOMIS INSTITUTE 1.

The high school baseball team went down to defeat before the Loomis Institute nine Saturday afternoon to the tune of 9-1. From the score one would think that it was a one-sided game, which was not true. In all but one inning the playing was sirtight. Crockett started off with a single but got no farther than second. In the second inning Wright doubled to left field but could not advance. In the same inning Flogg, the Loomis catcher, knocked out a home run.

In the sixth inning the Loomis team opened up on Balleseper's delivery and obtained five hits in succession.

In the seventh inning Glenney substituted for Balleseper as pitcher and held Loomis scoreless for the rest of the game.

In the eighth inning the Manchester started a rally but were unable to cross the plate more than once. Dame Fortune seemed to be against the local team in this game. It has had only two practices at Mt. Nebo and practically no batting practice, because the weather would not permit it.

"Rabbit" Finnegan was out of the game because of academic difficulties and Balleseper, who is in best form in hot weather, had to pitch.

Turkington, who is a new man in the game, played a remarkable game at first base, getting two hits and the same number of assists.

TAGGING THE BASES

A glance over the damage of tag-majors for the last few days indicates that the weather man always has two strikes on 'em.

Twenty four thousand bugs saw the White Sox manhandle the Tigers with Williams pitching. Joe Jackson's homer was the feature.

The Reds are making rival clubs swallow a lot of heat dust. By trimming Earl Hamilton of the Pirates they won their fifth straight game.

Sam Jones is bad with the Kal-homine daubers union. Sam worked on Sunday and applied a gleaming coat of "K" to the Senators while the Red Sox out maneuvered three Washington pitchers.

TONY BASS SENT FROM JAIL TO MIDDLETOWN.

Well Known Local Barber Adjudged Insane.

The question, "What has become of Tony Bass?" is answered by the announcement that last week the former local barber was committed to the State Hospital for the Insane in Middletown, having been adjudged insane after a period of observation which has been conducted by state experts. Many had been wondering why his case had not come up during the March term of the Superior Court and his recent commitment to the Middletown institution now eliminates all local curiosity as to his disposal.

The barber's arrest in town some months ago caused a sensation because of the nature of the charge. It was one of the most delicate cases in local police history and required a long period of careful investigation on the part of the police department before an arrest could be made. After sufficient evidence had been secured however, he was taken into custody by Chief of Police Samuel G. Gordon and brought before the local court to answer the charge of having had improper relations with a local female under 16 years of age.

At the local hearing he pleaded not guilty to the charge brought against him and was bound over to the March term of the Superior court under bonds of $1,000. He was unable to raise the money and was taken to the Seams street jail to await trial. Here he was placed under observation and adjudged insane. In the event of his recovery it is possible that he may be brought before a future session of the Superior Court for a trial.

YANK WAS CYNICAL, BUT EVIDENTLY TRUTHFUL.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—That officers can be rather cynical while flirting with danger on the western front in France is proven in a story of the world war told by Captain Elmer E. Hagler, Springfield's war hero, who has just returned from "over there," in an address before the Optimists' Club here.

"We were rushed abroad from this country really half trained," he said. "Our destination was Chateau Thierry. The Germans had made their big spring offensive and were pushing forward. Our allies were crying for aid and we had been sent to the rescue.

"Our outfit had been assigned to a French command. On taking an inventory of the complement we found we had an extra battalion. It was disclosed when all the other units had been placed and this one remained unassigned. No one seemed to know where it belonged. Both the American and French commanders could give no explanation. It was left to shift for itself momentarily. During this period the officers of the battalion began arguing with one another about its location. But no solution could be found. During the heat of the debate a tall, angular looking major flopped down on a stone seat to rest. Turning disgustedly to a brother officer he blurted out:

"Say, call up the Germans—they probably know more about where we belong than anybody else."

BUTTER FAT RECORD TO BE GAILY CELEBRATED.

Salem, Ore., April 23.—An Oregon Jersey jubilee in celebration of the world's record butter fat production which has been made by Oregon cows will be held in this state during the latter part of May, according to a decision reached at a recent meeting of the Oregon Jersey Club.

This jubilee probably will extend over four or five days, and may be held between May 15 and 25. Following a one day's session in Portland, the plan is to spend the remainder of the session in an automobile trip inspecting the herds of blooded Jersey stock throughout the Willamette Valley.

CORRESPONDENCE WEDDING, AS "BRIDE" WAS TOO OLD.

Urbana, Ohio, April 23.—She lived in St. Paris, Champaign county, Ohio. He lived in Herald, Ga. The story does not say where the matrimonial bureau was located. At any rate, he corresponded with her and descriptions were all that could be desired. After exchanging numerous epistles, he sent her a watch, and followed closely after the watch. He registered at the village hotel, and put a neat bundle of shekles in the village bank. Then—ah, then—he went to see her. But—one thing had been overlooked—her age.

CREDIT FOR THE JACKIES

The returning sailors are getting much less attention than the returning soldiers. It must be admitted that most of them had an easier time than the soldiers and that the casualties among them were few. Nevertheless they are as much entitled to credit in enlisting as any men in the service. Nobody could tell when the war started how much fighting the navy would have to do. The fact that the German fleet was kept bottled up saved the ships of the Allies from disastrous naval engagements. But the American jackies were there with the goods and ready for anything that might happen. Although they escaped gun fire they spent many tedious months cruising in stormy waters and longing for something to happen that would give them a little excitement. Their will to defend their country at any personal sacrifice was as strong as that of the soldiers. The nation appreciates this but because the men do not return home in large bodies, their welcome is tame compared to that of the soldiers.

HOTELS AND BOOZE

Big hotel men of New York, who have been filled with gloom at the prospect of prohibition, are beginning to take hope from the experiences of some of their hotel brethren who are already in dry territory. It is reported that hotel proprietors who have been experimenting with various innovations enforced by prohibitory conditions have had astonishing success. Tea and dance parlors, soft drink grills and even the plebeian soda fountain are some of the innovations which are being tested and with unexpected success. It is already certain that the coming summer will bring the greatest automobile patronage on record. During the war it was not the thing to go on automobile tours but now everybody is making up for lost time.

The use of intoxicants has been waning for some months, owing to the rapidly increasing prices of spirituous drinks. Hotel men admit that it will be much easier for their patrons to turn to temperance drinks now than it would have been before the restrictions caused by the war were in force.

Some of the richest young men in the United States fought through the war side by side with laborers. Lieutenant Vincent Astor sat at his desk in the office of the Astor Estate Saturday for the first time in nearly two years. He passed several hours there gaining a new grasp on the affairs of his great properties. He returned to this country on one of the German U-boats which was brought here to aid in arousing interest in the Victory loan. One of the crew said of Lieutenant Astor, "he is a real sailor and what's more, he is a real watch officer. He knows the game and does his work as if he didn't have a nickel. I was with him on his four hours on and eight off and I know him."

Now that Ellihu Root has been retained by the brewers it is suggested that instead of Hire's Root Beer it should read Beer Hire's Root.

Samuel Gompers, the labor leader, is the latest to join the ranks of critics of Postmaster General Burleson. He declares Burleson is an autocrat who creates resentment among the employees of all the departments he controls.

KILLS 125 BOBCATS AND 200 COYOTES IN 3 YEARS.

North Yakima, Wash., April 23.—With a record of 125 bobcats, and 200 coyotes to the credit of W. B. Gunnoe, a Government trapper operating in the mountains and valleys of this region, it is estimated by ranchers that he has saved them 24,000 head of sheep and 80,000 game birds in the past three years. Basing their estimate on the known destructiveness of these wild pests, the money value of the stock saved is computed by them at $240,000. The fur of the beasts killed or trapped by Gunnoe was worth $18,000.

MAN HELD BY TURKS FOR SIX YEARS, IS HERE

Present at New York Conference—To Tell His Thrilling Story.

New York, April 23.—Special reconstruction, a covenant of nations and religious unity for the world are being discussed at the eleventh annual convention and congress of the Bahais in a five-day session at the McAlpin hotel, which opened Saturday afternoon. Delegates from all parts of the world were present at the opening event, the Feast of the Rizwan, which took place Saturday evening, when a thousand followers of Abdul Baha's new faith of world unity sat down at the opening banquet.

One of the most important delegates to the convention is Mirza Ahmad Sorab, former secretary of the Persian Legation at Washington, who had been detained by the Turks for six years with Abdul Baha at Haifa, Syria, and just liberated by General Allenby, through whose assistance he attends the congress. Sir David Balfour, hearing of Abdul Baha's plight, cabled to General Allenby to have him released with all his followers.

Many speakers will be heard during the two daily sessions of the congress, and there will be a musical program each evening. A general invitation to the public has been issued.

The present war, the downfall of the German empire and the covenant of peace were all foretold sixty years ago by Baha'ollah, father of Abdul Baha, and founder of the Bahai movement. The tablets upon which he wrote these prophecies are now in the British Museum.

During the six years in which Abdul Baha Abbas and his followers were bottled up in Syria they were continually at work on social reconstruction problems. The papers used in the writing on such matters were buried that they might escape the eyes of the Turks and Huns. And now, for the first time in six years, these papers have been taken from their hiding place and are being produced and read during the present sessions.

The foresight of the world's welfare, as shown in many of these papers, is nothing short of marvelous. For instance, a League of Nations idea has been carefully and exhaustively treated, together with suggestions for practical application of the plan.

Other papers would obviate Bolshevism, would establish closer ties throughout the world, would erase religious and racial prejudices and also would adjust many labor troubles through a closer relationship between labor and capital. Many delegates and others in attendance at the early sessions were surprised to learn for the first time that the British since General Allenby's triumphal march through Palestine, have made Haifa the political capital and, in turn, will make that city not only a greater seaport but a wonderful commercial center. Haifa is the gateway to Palestine and Persia to the West.

LOVE AND MARRIAGE END GIRL'S DRAB WAR EXPERIENCE

Atlanta, Ga., April 23.—After sensational escapes from Russia and great suffering from hunger and exposure Miss Jennie Shafer, safe in Atlanta, has just been married to Abraham Edelstein, New York representative of an Atlanta firm, at the Shari'at Israel Synagogue, the bride's uncle, Rabbi Geffen, performing the ceremony. Miss Shafer was in Kovna at the time of the first German occupation in 1915. When the Russians were about to recapture Kavana the inhabitants were forced to leave under shell fire from both sides. Miss Shafer's mother died from exposure and exhaustion. Miss Shafer traveled on foot forty miles to Smagon, thence across Siberia to Harbin, being a year on the way. In Harbin she found a home at the Jewish Sheltering Arms for three years, finally locating her uncle, Rabbi Geffen, in Atlanta, who sent for her at once. Miss Shafer came immediately to Atlanta via Vladivostok, Yokohama and Seattle. Her marriage to Edelstein followed a brief and romantic courtship.

TRACK STARS TO MEET.

New York, April 23.—Joie Ray, Jack Sellers and Homer Baker, ranking stars of the indoor track, will meet in a match race tonight at the Thirteenth Regiment Armory, Brooklyn, over the 1,000 yard route. The race, which is one of the most attractive indoor events ever scheduled in the Greater city, will be the feature event of an athletic meet under the auspices of "A" Company of the Thirteenth Regiment.

HIGH POWERED WIRELESS STATION HERE POSSIBLE

Town Has Mechanical and Electricals to Construct It and Operators to Work It.

The formation of the Manchester Radio Association at the local State Trade School forecasts the future possibility of a high powered wireless station for Manchester that will have a sending and receiving capacity of 3,000 miles. If this project is accomplished, it is understood that the state will pay for maintenance expenses as it is the purpose of the local trade school director to establish a radio class. The South Manchester institution will be the first in the state to establish this course as a part of its routine.

The idea emanated from the fact that during the war many of our young men took a special course in radio telegraphy at the local Trade School. Some of these students entered the service soon after and found that the knowledge they had obtained was instrumental in securing for them good positions as operators in the signal and radio branch of the army and navy. Taking into consideration the government's acknowledgement of a special training of this nature, it is thought that the introduction of a permanent study of radio work would be a valuable acquisition to the present courses offered. The demand for wireless operators at the present time exceeds the supply.

At present the local association is composed of 25 members and it is hoped that this membership will soon be increased to 50. Many of the present members are former "special course" students and have received additional experience by reason of service in the army or navy. The work of installing the apparatus will be done entirely by members of this association and Director Tucker has offered them the use of the electrical department of the school. The wireless outfit will be erected on the roof of the Trade school.

In the erection of the plant much of the material will be constructed by association members, thereby giving beginners an opportunity to obtain a thorough knowledge of wireless apparatus construction.

The officers of the new association are: John Reinartz, president; Elmer Anderson, vice president; Charles Barrett, treasurer; Edwin Darling, secretary.

LOYAL LOCAL ITALIANS PROTEST WILSON'S ATTITUDE

At a special meeting yesterday afternoon, Giuseppe Lodge, No. 907, Sons of Italy, voted unanimously against the action of President Wilson in the Fiume question. The lodge also sent a telegram to the Most Venerable Lodge, Sons of Italy, asking that each and every lodge in the United States take similar action, that the generous and noble American people may know the right and justice of the Italian cause and the aspirations of the Italians, who have been under the tyranny of a foreign government for several centuries. This action also is asked by the local lodge for the safety of the future, as one member of the lodge said today.

Besides the action in regard to President Wilson's action in the Fiume question, the local lodge of the Sons of Italy voted to purchase a $200 Victory Loan bond and each member of the lodge subscribed individually for a bond, for $100.00 or more.

LAUNCH CAPSIZES.

Fourteen Sailors Dumped Into Water—Mystery As to Details.

New York, April 23.—A launch carrying 14 sailors to the battleship Nevada capsized in the Hudson river early today just as it reached the warship's side. It was reported that several of the men were drowned, one report reaching land that only one sailor was rescued. A police launch put out to the Nevada but was unable to get any information. Navy authorities declined to make any statement until a full report of the accident was received.

AMBASSADOR PAGE MAKES STATEMENT

London, April 23.—Thomas Nelson Page, who is reported to have resigned as American Ambassador to Italy, took that step some time before the Italian crisis developed over Fiume in the peace conference. It was learned at the American embassy today.

It is rather ridiculous for Italian news sources to attempt to capitalize Mr. Page's resignation in connection with the present situation, said Edward Bell, secretary to the American Embassy. Mr. Page is said to be on his way from Rome to Paris to see President Wilson.

HEROES OF SEDAN ARRIVE ON TRANSPORT

Pretoria Arrives One Day Ahead of Schedule—Units Aboard Transport.

Boston, April 23.—Brigadier General William M. Fessett, commanding the first United States Army Corps and troops of the 42nd (Rainbow) division, heroes of Sedan, the last city taken by American troops before the armistice was signed, arrived in Boston today aboard the transport Pretoria.

Beating her schedule by a full day, the unexpected arrival of the Pretoria caused a hurried change to be made in plans for her reception. City and state welcoming committees as well as friends and relatives of the doughboys were notified by telephone late last night that the Pretoria had wirelessed the navy yard of her record run from Brest.

The fleet of welcoming boats went down the harbor this forenoon and gave the returning soldiers a noisy welcome.

Units aboard the Pretoria are the 140th Machine Gun Battalion complete, the 150th Machine Gun Battalion Company complete, including Company A, or Appleton, Wis., 117th Mobile Ordnance Repair Shop, Sales Commissary Unit No. 19, eight signal corps photo sections, evacuation hospital No. 7, headquarters detachment and headquarters troop first army corps scattered, first army corps headquarters scattered, ordnance casualty company 32, Pennsylvania, detachment headquarters, 42nd Division detachments of the 157th and 168th infantry, 149th and 151st Field Artillery, 117th Engineers and 41 casual officers. There were 2,126 soldiers aboard the Pretoria.

SAMUEL GOMPERS HURT IN TAXICAB ACCIDENT

Two Ribs Fractured and Hip Strained—Street Car Collides With His Auto.

New York, April 23.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, who was badly hurt in a collision between a taxi and street car yesterday, was subjected to an X-ray examination today to determine whether he suffered internal injuries.

Two of the labor leader's ribs were fractured and his right hip strained. He is 69 years old and has been in ill health for some time. Because of these facts it is feared he may have a very slow recovery, though attending surgeons said today they expect no serious developments. Scores of telegrams carrying messages of sympathy from all over the United States were received at Gompers' hotel today.

LEONARD AND RITCHIE SET FOR FIGHT TONIGHT

Estimated That Gate Receipts Will Total $50,000—To Battle in Newark, N. J.

New York, April 23.—Benny Leonard and Willie Ritchie were on edge today for their eighth tilt before the Newark Sportmen's Club tonight.

The bout will mark the second meeting between the lightweight champions and the former king of the 133-pound division and boxing fans in this section of the country are all steamed up over it. As a result there will be not a square foot of standing room in the First Regiment Armory when the bell calls the rivals from their corners and it is estimated that the gate will reach $50,000.

Both boxers are trained to the perfection point for the bout and although Ritchie has a host of admirers, Leonard is a favorite to win, being backed by many of his followers at 3 to 1. Some of the sports are offering even money that Leonard knocks Ritchie out.

The question of supremacy between the two, will, or should, be definitely settled as a result of tonight's meeting. Ritchie was given a popular verdict after their four round bout in San Francisco and holds a shade so far. Leonard is eager to wipe out the stain of that bout and hopes to do it decisively.

LEAGUE COVENANT TEXT IS GIVEN OUT TODAY

"Annex" Published for First Time—Separate Article for Monroe Doctrine—A Summary.

Washington, April 23.—The revised covenant of the League of Nations, as it will be presented at Paris today to the peace conference in plenary session, has been made public by the state department. Its essential features, including important amendments designed to meet criticisms in the United States of the original draft, already has been disclosed through an official summary issued two weeks ago, when the revision was completed.

Attached to the text, however, is the hitherto unpublished "annex" referred to in the covenant, in which are named the thirty-one states, including the self-governing British dominions, which are to be the original members of the League of Nations, and thirteen states to be invited to accede to the covenant. The original members are all the nations which declared war on Germany, and in addition the new states of Czechoslovakia and Poland. Those invited to become members, by acceding to the covenant are the three Scandinavian countries, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Spain and Persia, and the American republics of Argentina, Chile, Colombia, Paraguay, Salvador and Venezuela.

Mexico was not represented in the conference of neutrals at Paris, and, as was expected, does not appear in the list. Provision is made in the covenant, however, for the admission to the league of any full self-governing country which will give required guarantees, upon a two-thirds vote of the assembly, composed of representatives of the member nations.

As in the original document, the covenant provides that the league shall act through an assembly in which each state shall have one vote and not more than three delegates, and a council, comprising for the present one representative of each of the five great powers and each of four other powers to be selected from time to time by the assembly. Members of each class represented on the council may be increased by unanimous consent of the council and a majority of the assembly.

Publication of the text discloses that the official summary quoted verbatim the new article recognizing the Monroe doctrine. It provides that nothing in the covenant shall be deemed "to affect the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe doctrine for securing the maintenance of peace." This was the amendment for which President Wilson made a successful fight at the same time the Japanese delegation to the peace conference sought vainly to have a race equality provision inserted in the covenant.

Changes suggested in criticisms in the United States Senate and provisions for the withdrawal of a member nation upon two years' notice after fulfillment of the league obligations, exempt domestic questions from the league's jurisdiction, provide that mandatories over German colonies or former Ottoman dominions shall be given only to nations willing to accept them, leave it to member states to decide what armed forces, if any, it will contribute to the force required by the league to enforce its mandates and make it clear that member states individually will pass upon proposed limitations upon their armaments.

With modifications, the new draft includes all the provisions for the submission to the council of international disputes, for inviting non-member nations to accept the obligations of members for the purpose of adjusting disputes and for breaking economic relations or the use of armed force in dealing with a state which has broken the covenant and thereby committed "an act of war against the league."

Except in certain specified instances, unanimous agreement is required for all decisions. In the provisions for the settlement of disputes, it is set forth that the votes must be unanimous, excepting the representatives of the parties to the dispute.

Geneva, Switzerland, is named as the seat of the league, where the secretary-general will maintain headquarters and where the council and assembly will meet at stated intervals, unless some other place of meeting is designated.

Park Theater

The big "Oh Boy" company reached town this morning and created quite some comment. There are thirty five with the show not counting the stage men and the business managers. A dress rehearsal was held this afternoon, the scenery was set and everything is in readiness for tonight. It would be advisable for all to get their tickets immediately after work this evening or before seven o'clock as there will be little chance of getting a seat after that hour.

The book of "Oh Boy" is bubbling with cheerfulness and revolves around George Budd, a quiet, easy going young man who has married Lou Ellen Carter without telling her parents. Unknown to George Budd, his friend Jim Marvin, invites a number of pretty girls to celebrate a polo victory, and they enter Budd's apartment by the fire-escape, unannounced, and hide in an adjoining room when Budd enters from his Quaker Aunt, who is his guardian and as the aunt is averse to his marrying, the bride is about to go to the home of her parents when Jim and the girls dash in on the scene. George prevails on the merry party to go to another room while he escorts his bride of but a few hours to her home.

As soon as George and his bride have left the room Jackie Sampson, an actress who plays the part of "Modesty" in the morality play "Experience" dashes in the open window. Here she meets Jim Marvin and tells him she was with a party in a restaurant and during a mix-up over the delivery of a speech by an unknown gentleman nick-named "Toodles", hit an officer in the eye. Jim Marvin insists that she stay in Budd's apartment for the night and even introduces her to the battered policeman as Mrs. Budd. The following morning in trying to straighten out the situation, George introduces Jackie Sampson to his Quaker aunt as Mrs. Budd. The arrival of the bride's father and mother and the aunt result in some unusual and amusing situations, but George Budd is a resourceful man and smooths them all out and everything ends happily.

The score contains eighteen popular musical hits, among which are: "You Never Knew About Me," "A Package of Seeds," "An Old-Fashioned Wife," "A Pal Like You," "Till The Clouds Roll By," "A Little Bit of Ribbon," "The First Day of May," "Rolled Into One," "Oh, Daddy, Please!" "Words Are Not Needed" and "Nesting Time in Flat-bush."

Circle Theater

The Circle Theater will be no place for a modest man tonight when Manager "Jim" will show George Walsh in his latest picture "I'll Say So". It is by no means unusual for a motion picture to show a wedding—in fact it is rather unusual if there is no wedding some place during the action. "But for a handsome hero to deliberately marry his beautiful leading lady dressed only in his—well, his B. V. D.'s sounds rather shocking.

Of course George Walsh has a perfectly good excuse for his disregard of the conventions. If you had been kidnapped by a couple of German spies and they had taken your girl and were forcing her to marry one of their kind. If you were able to escape in the aforesaid negligee condition you would marry her yourself no matter what you had on—and so does George.

"I'll Say So" tells the story of the patriotic American who volunteers but is rejected by the navy and then, because he cannot stay out of it, works up a little private war of his own upon a couple of German spies, whom he discovers at work. How he does this is developed with many surprises in the typical Welsh way.

The fifth episode of "The Man of Might" and a brand new comedy will be on the same bill.

Because of "Oh, Boy" at the Park tonight there will be another showing of George Walsh tomorrow with a two reel Sunshine comedy and the Pathe News added.

TIGHT SKIRTS, MOTORMEN, MIRRORS AND—TROUBLE.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 23.—The little safety mirrors on cars of the Los Angeles Railway Company have been attacked by the fair sex of the city, and already a number of protests against the mirrors have been lodged with officials of the company. Fashion, which has decreed the tight skirt, is the real cause of the complaint, and the women declare they are embarrassed by the stare of the motormen as they climb aboard the cars.

On the other hand, officials of the railway company have filed a counter complaint, charging that the tight skirts cause undue delay of the cars. In addition, they say the motormen merely do their duty in watching the mirrors, to make certain passengers are on the cars before starting.

ROBERT E. LEE WINS FORD AUTO BY READY WIT.

Knoxville, Tenn., April 23.—General Robert E. Lee's namesake, a lad of Jonesboro, Washington County, has won an auto from Henry Ford because of the lad's wit.

Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison last year stopped at the Lee home while on a motor trip. Ford asked the boy to let him help saw wood.

"Yes, sir; you can help me, but this sun won't let you help me long," the lad said.

After a while Ford stopped sawing and exclaimed: "It's no exercise, boy. Did you know you were sawing wood with Henry Ford?" "No," replied the boy, "but did you know that you were sawing wood with Robert E. Lee?" Ford laughed. Lee now has a new car from that Detroit factory.

"TEX" STILL WAITING.

New York, April 23.—"Tex" Rickard fresh from a trip to Cumberland, Md., will await the decision of Governor Harrington, of Maryland, before naming the site of the Willard-Dempsey bout, he let it be known today.

Maryland's chief executive has promised to hand down a decision regarding the staging of the bout at Cumberland sometime during the day, and it is believed that Rickard may choose that city if assured there will be no interference with the bout.

MERCHANTS OF ORIENT SOON LEARN VALUE OF ADVERTISING EVEN TO MAKING USE OF SPACE OUTSIDE OF THEIR ESTABLISHMENTS

New York, April 28.—The American traveler in the Orient a number of years ago was confronted at every turn by signs and banners inscribed with characters quite beyond his comprehension; today he finds numerous posters and advertising signs in English. While this may be a cause of joy to the advertising man or to the bewildered tourist, it is grief to the soul of the artist, and an irritation to the precise mind of the grammarian.

To one of artistic temperament a street criss-crossed with lines from which hang silk and cotton banners of every hue, inscribed with fantastic characters—the old method of advertising in Japan—is infinitely more pleasing and interesting than the blatant mention of corn removers and patent medicines in brutal English, with crude attempts at Anglicized illustrations.

The English employed in these signs cannot always be taken in at a glance. One needs to pause and ponder, for example, before one can reach the conclusion that a poster reading, "Icy-hot bottles, warm as the love of God," indicates that thermos bottles are for sale in the little Korean shop. One's curiosity is greatly piqued by the announcement, above a rickety flight of steps in Tokio, that "ladies may have fits up our back stairs." It is quite disappointing to find that the mysterious establishment is merely a ladies' tailor shop! Were it not for the familiar red and white stripes with which a certain Japanese barber has decorated his door trims, one would scarcely realize that the starting word "Babil" is intended to lure one in for a shave.

Sometimes the signs are painstaking in detail, as in the case of Zee Pao Sung, a Japanese who proclaims himself an expert in "hair dressing, shampooing, corns, feet and nail-cutting." Equally detailed but somewhat confusing is the sign of that all-round man of Malaysia, Chak Yan Po, which reads: "Dentist Filling Artificial Eyes and Commission Agent."

Sometimes the American tourist the signs speak clearly of home. "American Dental Parlor," even though painted above the door of a curious little house in Okayama, Japan, has a decidedly homelike sound, while no one could possibly mistake

the enormous advertisement of Christmas cards and calendars proudly displayed above a little stall on the Motomachi, a street in Kobe famous for its attractive shops.

An interesting combination of native and foreign advertising is found over the entrance to a bookstore on the Motomachi in Kobe. Long, narrow strips of paper covered with the quaint brush strokes of the Japanese sign painter flutter in the wind, while above them a substantial signboard announces in bold, straightforward English letters: "Books, Magazines and Newspapers."

It would seem, judging from a snapshot taken in a street in Nanking, China, that the Chinese take it for granted that the American or English father will want to get beer for himself at the same time that he buys milk for his baby. The two signs, "Pao Yaen Milk Depot" and "Ashal Beer" both appear on one small building.

But there are some things in the Orient which, speak plainly to the American mind, English or no English. Who would fail to recognize that long row of thrilling pictures, Japanese though they be in conception and execution, for moving picture posters? And even if it were not for the pictures, the groups of wistful children around the closed ticket window peering into the gloom of the doorway would surely remind any real American of similar groups at home. These Japanese movie posters, while as melodramatic in conception as our own, are much less crude in execution, some of them being very artistic in their color scheme.

Not to be overlooked among the American agencies which have gained a foothold in the Orient is the American Christian Church. It is expected that the influence of Christian ideals in the East will be greatly increased by the Methodist Centenary movement which is raising $165,000,000 to build more schools, hospitals, orphanages and churches all over the world.

USED TREES AS RADIO TOWERS DURING WAR

Washington, April 28.—Discovery that every tree is a potential wireless tower was announced today by Major General Squier, Chief Signal Officer of the Army, revealing another war secret and telling the story of how, while hostilities were on ashore and afloat, the American army with a string of stations using treetops as antennae, read messages from ships at sea and the principal radio stations.

General Squier made his disclosure in a paper read before the Physical Society of America, meeting at the United States Bureau of Standards. Afterward he took the scientists out into the woods near the Bureau and demonstrated a portable field laboratory erected there for experiments in development of the discovery. He showed how Nature's wireless tower was nothing more than a tall tree, preferably eucalyptus, with a small wire netting spread below and an insulated wire hang from a spike driven near the top.

The paper, which discussed the phenomenon in technical detail, described how the General began experiments in 1904 with a view to using growing trees as antennae, his attention having been attracted to the subject by the discovery during army manoeuvres at Camp Atascadero, California, that telegraph and telephone buzzers, inoperative with ordinary grounding because of the dry season and unusual character of the soil, became operative when connected with the trunk or roots of a tree.

Like the underground wireless developed for the navy by James H. Rogers, the tree top radio has been used with perfect results so far only in receiving, but also has been used successfully for transmission over short distances. Radio telephonic messages have been received through trees, transmitted by them into Washington, and there transferred to the wire system.

"From the moment an acorn is planted in fertile soil," said General Squier, "it becomes a 'detector' and a 'receiver' of electro-magnetic waves and the marvelous properties of this receiver through agencies at present entirely unknown to us, are such as to vitalize the acorn and to produce in time the giant oak. In the power of mutifying plant cells, it may, indeed, be called an incomparable 'amplifier.'"

"From this angle of view, we may consider that trees have been pieces of electrical apparatus from their beginning and with their manifold chains of living cells are absorbers, conductors and radiators of the long electro-magnetic waves as used in the radio art.

"For our present purpose we may consider, therefore, a growing tree as a highly organized piece of living earth to be used in the same manner as we now use the earth as a universal conductor for telephony and telegraphy and other electrical purposes."

FIRST MEMORIAL TREE IN HONOR OF ROOSEVELT WILL BE PLANTED MAY 2

Washington, April 28.—The first memorial trees planted by a Country Church Community Center will be placed next Friday in honor of Theodore Roosevelt at Sharon, Iowa, the American Forestry Association announced today. The report of the date was made by the Rev. Edward Roberts to Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the Forestry Association, and Rev. Roberts said that a two-day program had been outlined.

"Roosevelt Day will be May 2," writes Rev. Roberts, "because the present country life movement began with the report of the Commission on Country Life appointed by Colonel Roosevelt. This I believe is an added reason for country churches participating in the memorial feature."

"The Sharon Country Church Community Center is doing a great work and setting a fine example," said Mr. Pack today. "We hear a great deal of getting the people back to the land, particularly the soldier. Forward to the land, they say, and if there were more Sharon community centers they would go in a hurry. The methods there under the direction of Rev. Edward Roberts are well worth study."

"There is always something going on and something to look forward to at this community center. They have directors of domestic science, recreation, public information, children's play and in fact nothing that tends to better living conditions is overlooked. Holidays are very special occasions, but they do not wait for holidays at Sharon. The tree planting there is the first of similar plantings all over the country."

FRED ROBINSON IS BACK FROM OVERSEAS SERVICE

Fred Robinson, formerly employed as a janitor at the High school building, reported at the War Bureau Saturday. Robinson returned home Thursday after eight months' active service with the Canadian Engineers in France, Germany and Belgium.

He enlisted in the Canadian army after one of the big British rallies and after training for a time in Canada was sent overseas. He went over the top on the first night of his arrival at the front and was engaged in some of the hardest fighting from then until the armistice was signed.

At the time of the signing of the armistice, Robinson was in No Man's Land building bridges. He had not enjoyed a change of clothes in five weeks and officers and men alike were afflicted with cooties. After the signing of the armistice, his command began its triumphal march into Germany. The regiment hiked all the way to Cologne, a distance of 300 miles, making it in a month's time.

While on such a strenuous march, the men had no time for changing their clothes or taking baths. When they marched into Cologne, Robinson said that he had discarded his underclothing, having only his trousers and blouse left.

Fighting the Cooties. Robinson further stated that the cooties surely made life miserable for the soldiers. It is generally known that cooties always work into the inside of the garments. Robinson said that they foisted the cooties for a time by turning their shirt inside out on retiring at night, thus giving the pests a job to work back into the inside again. Another method was to hang the shirts out in the night frost and while the cooties were stiff with cold, some of them could be shaken off. At other times the soldiers would take a candle and burn the cooties which were in the seams of the shirts. The shirts were finally burned and they had to go without them.

Of a company of 53 men, Robinson was one of three to be mustered out. He escaped himself without a scratch, but the other two had been wounded. Of the others, many were buried on foreign soil, others were sent back on "bad blighties", while some are still in the service. Robinson said that he had a fine time in Germany. After a lengthy stay in Cologne, his command marched into Belgium where they spent a month. He said that he saw many beautiful towns and cities, but none looked so good to him as Manchester.

HUGH TORRANCE RETURNS IN SERVICE SINCE 1915

Fought Nearly Four Years With Famous Canadian Black Watch—Was Wounded Twice.

Among the discharged local soldiers to come home during the past week is Hugh Y. Torrance, who has been serving with the Canadian Black Watch since August, 1915. Torrance was wounded twice, but has fully recovered from the wounds and, as he said yesterday, is now a fit as a fiddle. He is a small man, but gained more than 14 pounds while away and now feels as well if not better than he ever did in his life.

Hugh Torrance is one of five brothers who have taken part in the war. He was the first to go. Two more of the brothers, James who saw service in France and Andrew, who served in this country, have been discharged. George, who is in the Medical Corps, is still in service, being stationed on Long Island. He was home yesterday on a furlough. The fifth brother, William, is now somewhere in France.

Hugh trained for a time in Canada, then spent several months in England before being sent across to France. He received his first wounds on June 27, 1916, just before the British started their big push of July 1. At that time, he was wounded in the thigh and he lost the knee with shrapnel and was laid up for a long while. After recovering he was returned to active service and was again wounded on August 8, 1918. That time, a bullet just grazed the top of his head. His tin derby deflected the bullet in such a way that it did not give a bad wound. Hugh said, in speaking to a friend, that had he been two inches taller he would now be pushing up the daisies in France.

In all of his travels through Europe, and he went with the British Army of Occupation as far as Cologne, he did not meet a single Manchester man. And the strange part of his experience is that a Manchester man, Robert Massey of the north end, served in the same battalion with him and was discharged only a short time ago. Hugh was in Company C and Massey in Company D. Fred Robinson, who returned last week also was in the same division with Torrance.

While Hugh was in Cologne, his brother "Bill" was in Coblenz, but he did not know it until just as he was about to leave. In the same way, just as he was about to leave Belgium, on the way back, Hugh learned that his brother had been only a few miles from him there. Had he known in time, the brothers could have arranged to meet each other on either occasion.

FIREMEN'S FAIR STARTS TUESDAY NIGHT

End of Weeks' Preparation Results in Attractive Program.

Tomorrow evening will see the opening of one of Manchester's biggest annual events, the firemen's fair. In previous years this was usually held at the old Armory on Wells street, but as the famous old building has been converted into a garage the fair will be held this year in Cheney hall. It will run the entire week, closing on Saturday evening, when the awarding of prizes will take place. There will also be a special matinee on Saturday. A special program to be announced during the week will be presented at that time.

Every member of the various committees which have been appointed for particular departments of the fair, has been working at top speed to make this year's event bigger and better than ever before. Local interest has been aroused to a high pitch of enthusiasm and the various committees have found it a comparatively easy task to secure co-operation. Tickets for both fair and prizes have sold like hot cakes and it is reported that there has been no person who has been approached who has refused to contribute in some way or other.

That the business men of the town appreciate the work done by the local firemen in the past month is evidenced by the fact that every business firm in the town is represented by a gift to the fair. Not only business men and firms alone have contributed, but private individuals, and in consequence the firemen are enabled to offer a wonderful variety of handsome premiums at this year's event.

The Week's Attractions. A street demonstration will of course precede the opening of the fair tomorrow evening. The big five day event will then be formally opened by Frank Cheney, Jr., who is president of the South Manchester fire district. Mr. Cheney will deliver the address of welcome. There will be vaudeville and specialties every evening in conjunction with dancing. The banner evening or Firemen's night, will be Friday evening, when there will be a large representation from the Hartford, New Britain, Rockville and East Hartford fire departments.

Following is a schedule of the events for the Firemen's Fair: Tuesday evening, opening address by Frank Cheney, Jr., concert by the new American band and dancing; Wednesday evening, Clements the mystifier in up-to-date magic; Dalton and Clune in a new and original musical act and dancing; Thursday evening, Quish and Durkin in a rapid fire conglomeration of mirth and merriment, and dancing; Friday evening, Firemen's night, representations from out of town departments; John Conlon, the boy wonder in popular songs, also dancing. Saturday matinee, special program to be announced later. Saturday evening, awarding of prizes and dancing.

FIREMEN DON'T DRINK. An incident of the fire Thursday night, which was told in jocular fashion in Saturday's Herald, has, we are told, caused some resentment among the firemen. For the life of us we cannot see how anything we said should make the firemen unhappy, but if we said what we shouldn't, we apologize.

The item said that a benevolent citizen appeared after the blaze with some sweet cider which he passed around to the perspiring workers and it was intimated that the cider proved to have "some kick." In what respect this reflected upon the firemen we fail to see. It was not related that the thirsty firemen were unfavorably influenced by a drink of cider. It should go without saying that the South Manchester fire department is made up of men who do not indulge in stimulants.

POLICE COURT

Four Cases Provide a Busy Monday Morning Session.

The William Hutton non-support case occupied upwards of an hour in the police court this morning. It was continued from last Friday morning to give Mr. Hutton time to secure counsel. This morning he had Attorney McDonald of Hartford to represent him. Hutton's contention was that he ought to have the right to visit with his children if he was going to support them and his lawyer laid stress on this point. He had up to some time in the early part of this month been contributing $10 a month for the support of his wife and children but since then he has stopped payments and he told the court that it was for the purpose of finding out if it were not possible to get his rights by law that he stopped. Mr. and Mrs. Hutton have been living apart for some time. They have separated three different times. Mr. Hutton leaving his family to shift for themselves, and he going to a hotel to live.

Hutton has been in court several times on a non-support charge. He now says that he is willing to pay the family ten dollars a week if he is allowed to see his children. He said that he wanted to take the two older ones to Sunday school and have the privilege of being with them occasionally. He wanted to buy them clothes and other little things they needed. Judge Arnott informed Hutton that he thought he had that privilege now.

Prosecuting Attorney Hathaway scored Hutton for his past actions and his behavior in leaving his family when his youngest child was but a few months old. The prosecutor blamed the trouble on Hutton's love of money.

Judge Arnott believed that Hutton should have the right to see his children but whether he did or not he was going to see that he gave them proper support. He thought that it could be arranged to have Hutton see his children and upon his counsel agreeing to pay the money that is due the family and continue to pay the ten dollars a week he would continue the case for 30 days.

Three other cases were before the court, two for intoxication and one for theft. The first was that of William Carr who was arrested by Officer Crockett Saturday night. Carr was very drunk and could not take care of himself. He was given a jail sentence of 30 days and the judge suspended execution of judgment and months. Carr will have to pay the placed him on probation for six costs of the court.

Charles Hopner pleaded guilty to intoxication. He was arrested by Chief Gordon Saturday afternoon. He asked for an opportunity to make good and the judge gave him a 30 day jail sentence but suspended execution of judgment and placed him in the charge of the probation officer.

The theft case is described in another column.
