17 BOMBS FOUND IN POST OFFICE

(Special to The Evening Herald.)
New York, April 30.—It was announced today that seventeen bombs addressed to the most prominent men of the nation, were this afternoon found in the post office.

SEISMOGRAPH WARNING OF 'QUAKE' IS RECEIVED

Instrument Recorded Tremblings of Unusual Intensity Early Today.

IS 4,000 MILES AWAY

Cleveland Expert Says It is South and Under Water—First Disturbance Lasted Four Hours.
Washington, April 30.—An earthquake of unusual intensity, apparently about four thousand miles from Washington, was recorded on the Georgetown University seismograph at 3:55 a. m. and continued until seven o'clock, the maximum intensity being recorded from 4:17 until 4:20 o'clock. It was impossible to tell the direction from Washington of the 'quake, it was stated.

SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS P. S. C. RULING ON RATES

New York Companies Not Allowed to Increase Charges to the Public as Planned.

Albany, N. Y., April 30.—Supreme Court Justice Ruddy today upheld the contention of the Public Service Commission, second district, that increased rates by the New York Telephone Company and the Western Union Telegraph Company and proposed increased rates by the New York Telephone Company were illegal and unlawful, and issued injunction orders preventing enforcement of the increases which were ordered by the Postmaster General. Justice Ruddy's injunction order today restrains the New York Telephone Company from putting into effect tomorrow increased charges throughout the state for local exchange telephone service. These increases ranged from 25 cents to $2.00 per month in different parts of the state except in New York and Buffalo.

BATTLE FLAGS OF 102ND PLACED IN THE CAPITOL

Hartford, April 30.—With the colors of the 102nd Infantry flying and amid the applause of thousands of Hartford residents and visitors from all over the state, the boys of the Yankee Division, escorted by the State Guard, Governor's Foot Guard, Putnam Phalanx and Spanish War Veterans, marched through the principal streets of the city today. The climax of the celebration was reached on the south lawn of the state capitol facing the state library. After the 102nd had passed in review it was drawn up in a hollow square supported by the escort. Then eight national and regimental flags were presented to Governor Holcomb. The presentation speeches were made by Colonel Potts and Colonel Goodwin. Governor Holcomb replied to both addresses and then led the party into the capitol where the flags were placed in cases with battle emblems of other wars. The main body of the 102nd from Camp Devens were an hour late in arriving so the ceremonies in front of the capitol did not take place until nearly two o'clock.

EXAMINING CREDENTIALS OF GERMAN DELEGATES

Paris, April 30.—With the arrival at Versailles of the remaining members of the German peace delegation, headed by Foreign Secretary von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the allied credentials commission today began verifying the credentials of members of the German mission.

SOLDIERS' CRIMES PUT UP TO THE EX-KAISER

London, April 30.—The former Kaiser of Germany will be placed on trial not as the author of war crimes, but as the instigator of them, the Evening Standard understands. All the crimes committed by the German soldiers during the war will be attributed to the one-time Emperor, this paper believes.

TENNESSEE IS LAUNCHED; BIGGEST FIGHTING SHIP

Takes the Water at Brooklyn Navy Yard Today—65,000 Spectators Present.

New York, April 30.—The battle ship Tennessee, the world's largest fighting ship, was successfully launched at the Brooklyn Navy Yard at 9:45 a. m. today. The giant super-dreadnaught left the ways as gracefully as a swan, gained momentum as she glided downward and dipped into the East River with a tremendous splash to the rearing of hundreds of whistles from harbor craft and the cheers of 65,000 spectators.

BARK ASHORE.

Captain Confused by Lights Runs Vessel Ashore.

Scituate, Mass., April 30.—Her captain confused by the lights on the government proving ground, which he mistook for Minot's Light, the Norwegian bark Professor Kaugh, went ashore early today on Cox's Rocks, Sand Hills. The ship's steel plates were badly sprung when she struck. The bark is leaking freely. Two tugs are standing by, and an attempt will be made to float the Kaugh at high tide.

LOUISVILLE IN.

Cruiser Docks at Hoboken With 2,388 Men From France.

New York, April 30.—Bringing 2,388 men from France the cruiser Louisville docked at Hoboken today and was followed up the harbor half an hour later by the liner Regina d'Italia, with 1,819 returning troops. The Louisville brought nearly 2,000 more men of the Seventy-seventh division, mostly from New York City and the second battalion of the 162nd Infantry, 41st division. Seventy-four war brides and a number of casuals were also on board.

FATHER DEMANDS PROBE.

Provincetown, Mass., April 30.—Clinton N. Howard, of Rochester, N. Y., chautauqua lecturer and father of Ensign John G. Howard, one of three aviators missing after their seaplane fell into Cape Cod Bay, was brought to be on his way to Washington today to demand an inquiry by the Navy department. For several days the father patrolled the beach with the coast guardsmen but failed to find any trace of the "lost" aviators.

HOP ACROSS OCEAN MAY START TODAY

St. Johns, N. F., April 30.—In all probability the start of the trans-Atlantic flight will be made from here this afternoon. Captain Raynham piloting the Martinsyde Aeroplane, which was the last to arrive here, announced just before noon that he will make the start at 3 p. m. Harry Hawker, pilot of the Sopwith bi-plane, said he would follow Raynham about an hour later.

EUROPE FEARS BLOODY DISTURBANCES IN 5 COUNTRIES TOMORROW—MAY DAY

Organized Labor in Italy, Germany, Belgium, Austria and Hungary to Stage Demonstrations.

Paris, April 30.—The gravest apprehensions are felt throughout Europe today regarding the possibility of bloody disturbances tomorrow—May day. Never in the history of organized labor has May day been charged with such dire possibilities of conflict. From Italy, Germany, Belgium, Austria and Hungary reports have been flowing into Paris during the past week foreshadowing monster demonstrations by the working classes who claim to have been more sorely stricken in all respects by the war than any other class.

ITALY SQUARELY BACK OF PREMIER ORLANDO

Chamber of Deputies Registers Special Vote of Confidence in Him.

Rome, April 30.—Premier Orlando's speech was a complete answer to President Wilson and other allied statesmen who oppose Italian claims to Fiume, said the Tribuna, and other Italian newspapers today. Opposition by the Intransigent socialists, represented by a group of forty deputies, to the Prime Minister's demand that Fiume become a part of Italy, was expected. But it is believed here that the overwhelming support given the government by the Chamber of Deputies will convince President Wilson that the Italian people are firmly backing Orlando and that he will be forced to give ground.

STREET CROWDS EXCITED

"Our Claims Are Based on Right and Justice and Should Be Accepted," Says Premier. The chamber registered a vote of confidence in Premier Orlando and the government 380 to 50 after several hours of speech making in which supporters of the government claim for Fiume were loudly applauded, while the radical wing of the Socialist party remaining silent. The vote was on motion of former Premier Luzzati, who had previously addressed the Chamber. Luzzati moved that the Chamber of Deputies, the protector of the dignity and the interpreter of the will of the Italian people, declares itself solidly with the government and affirms its full confidence that it will maintain the supreme rights of Italy as indispensable conditions for a just and durable peace.

LABOR'S DEMANDS

Briefly stated these demands are as follows: Eight hour day with a week end rest for all workers, a minimum wage averaging fifty cents per hour, cost of living bonuses, which were awarded to meet inflated war prices to be made permanent wage increases and admission of all workers to the right to retire on state pensions after 20 years spent in some useful branches of labor.

76TH DISCHARGED.

Gradually All the Soldiers at Devens Will Be Sent Home. Camp Devens, Mass., April 30.—The discharge of men of the 76th Division began today when 500 members of the 302nd Field Artillery were paid off and left for their homes. Along with them went 900 members of casual companies of the division. Tomorrow 700 will return to civil life. The next day the Fourteenth Engineers will go. Composed of men from all sections of Maine, the 303rd Field Artillery Seventy Sixth Division, will be demobilized tomorrow. The colors of the outfit were today turned over to Adjutant General George McPherson, representing Governor Carl E. Milliken.

SHANTUNG MAY GO BACK TO JAPAN; BIG THREE TACKLES PROBLEM AGAIN

Report That Japan is to Demolish Forts and Allow Chinese to Control Peninsula—Japanese Delegates Firm in Their Demands and Refuse to Back Down—Conciliatory Action by U. S. Relieved a Serious Situation, It is Thought.

Paris, April 30.—The Japanese will retain their rights in the Shantung peninsula. That is the only result that can be seen from the conferences on the Chino-Japanese dispute over Kiao Chau.

It is understood that a decision has been reached to insert a clause in the treaty for renunciation of Germany's rights in the Shantung peninsula and that they revert to Japan. (Germany had a 99 year lease on Kiao Chau, which lies on the apex of the Shantung Peninsula.)

GERMANY'S DELEGATION ARRIVES IN VERSAILLES

Headed by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, New Foreign Secretary.

IS A TYPICAL JUNKER

Trembles Violently as French Prefect Greet Him and His Party—Big Crowd at Station.

Versailles, April 30.—Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, German foreign secretary and other members of the German peace delegation, arrived here last night. The German peace mission is practically now complete. The station was thronged when Brockdorff-Rantzau stepped from the train, a tall, thin figure with the harsh features of a typical Prussian junker. He started when photographers set off magnesium flashes and stood bareheaded while the Prefect Cahiel said very cordily: "In the name of the department of the Seine and Oise and the government of the republic, I have the mission to salute the German delegation in the name of Colonel Henry, head of the allied military mission, which will be attached to you." Rantzau formally thanked the prefect for the courteous arrangements for the delegation and for the importance of his position, holding his hat in his hand, and trembling violently. The party then drove off silently to their hotels.

BELGIANS DISSATISFIED WITH PEACE CONFERENCE

Their Claims Put Off or Refused—Various Reasons For Their Complaints Given Out. Paris, April 29.—The Belgian delegates to the peace conference are profoundly dissatisfied with the results attained thus far with respect to Belgium. Today they reaffirmed their claims to the larger part of the indemnity Germany will be required to pay, totalling $25,000,000. The original award gives Belgium $5,000,000,000 of this sum. The Belgian delegates declared that there are 800,000 unemployed in Belgium and that while the country is flooded with manufactured articles there are no plants to give their own people employment.

WON'T GIVE UP SON.

"Handsome Jack" Geraghty Will Fight Wife's Petition. Boston, April 30.—"I will fight to the last ditch. Never will I consent to give up my boy, Jack." So declared "Handsome Jack" Geraghty, who, in 1912, eloped with Julia Estelle French, Newport heiress, and created a sensation in society circles. Geraghty's determination to "fight to the last ditch," is the result of news reaching him today that his wife has filed with the clerk of the superior court at Newport, R. I., a petition for separate maintenance. Geraghty-up to a few weeks ago, has been in the United States Navy as chief machinist's mate.

NEW BILLS OF LADING.

Washington, April 30.—The use of uniform bills of lading, in both domestic and export commerce, by all the carriers of the country was ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission today. The order, said to be one of the most sweeping ever issued by the commission, becomes effective not later than August 8th. The action was the result of an investigation following numerous complaints growing out of misinterpretation of the varied forms of bills of lading now in use.

TO SELL STEEL STOCKS.

Washington, April 30.—The surplus steel stocks of the War Department, a total of 605,235 tons, are to be sold to the highest bidder or bidders, it was announced today. The decision to put the steel on the market in this manner was reached, it was explained, at a conference on representatives of the American Board of Scrap Iron Dealers, and of the large steel companies, with officials of the Department. Bids will be received for any part or for all of the surplus stock.

Firm in Demands.

The Japanese delegates in conference with President Wilson and others displayed iron clad insistence on Tokyo that Germany's rights in the Shantung peninsula must absolutely be transferred to Japan without any delay.

The Big Three—President Wilson, Premier Lloyd George and Premier Clemenceau—met again today and the Chino-Japanese situation was given further consideration.

Japan is promising to relinquish eventually any rights she may have acquired in the Shantung peninsula to China. It is possible, however, that this phase of the situation will be passed upon by the League of Nations.

AMERICAN WOMEN GET FOREIGN DECORATIONS

Alice Lord O'Brien, of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mary Frances Semans, of Uniontown, Pa., Honored.

WASHINGTON, APRIL 30.—Two American women have received foreign decorations in recognition of their work in Europe while attached to the American Red Cross, the National Headquarters here was advised today.

They are Miss Alice Lord O'Brien, who served 14 months in the canteen service and was director of the Hotel Tulleries one of the Red Cross enlisted men's hostels in Paris and Miss Mary Frances Semans of the hospital but service assigned to Chaumont. Miss O'Brien received the Medaille de La Reconnaissance Francaise, one of the highest honors the French government can confer on women for war work. Miss Semans was one of four to receive a decoration from the Queen of Belgium at the reception tendered King Albert and his consort by General Pershing. Miss O'Brien's home is at Buffalo, N. Y. Miss Semans lives in Uniontown, Pa.

NEW YORK STRIKE

New York, April 30.—About 1,100 freight handlers, or only 10 per cent of those ordered to quit work today, responded to the strike order of the International Longshoremen and freight handlers association according to reports received at the office of the regional director of railroads. It was said that no railroads would be experienced through the congestion of perishable commodities.

EVERYBODY IN HARTFORD.

Traffic Facilities Taxed to the Utmost Conveying Crowds to City.

It would seem from the appearance of the trolleys that most of Manchester's population went to Hartford today to witness the big parade in honor of the 101st Machine Gun Battalion and the 102nd Infantry of the 26th Division.

A bunch of the High school pupils walked out this morning, but there were some who stayed on the job until the "powers that be" decided to excuse them about five minutes before ten and extra cars were sent down for these pupils.

UNLICENSED JUNK DEALER PAYS FINE.

John Stabolo, a junk dealer from Hartford, came to Manchester yesterday and neglected to take out the necessary license.

NUDE POSTERS BARRED.

Beaver Falls, Pa., April 30.—Young ladies who forget to dress before having their pictures taken or who sit for paintings sans clothing and sash blush will cease to appear before the masculine eye of this borough via the billboard route.

Park Theater

The most sensational story of Chinese underworld life ever shown on the screen will be seen at the Park again tonight when "The Midnight Patrol," Select Pictures' great special attraction produced by Thomas H. Ince, is shown.

At the time the story begins Wu Fang, a notorious leader of the Chinese district of a big western city, is plotting with Jim Murdock, a corrupt politician, to receive a shipment of opium.

In order to keep Shannon out of the way on the night the shipment of opium is expected, Murdock tells him that they have captured Patsy and will harm her unless Shannon keeps out of the way.

Leaving word with an assistant to bring help if he is not back within a certain time, Shannon and Ross descend through a secret entrance and surprise Wu Fang and his gang.

SOME MORE DELAY.

St. Johns, N. F., April 30.—It is extremely doubtful if the two British flyers, Hawker and Raynham, will start the flight across the Atlantic today.

WANTS TO QUIT LIQUOR.

Sandusky, Ohio, April 29.—Claiming that his friends "run true to form," Frank Haddock, laborer, has warned Sandusky saloonkeepers not to sell him any more liquor.

FIREMEN'S FAIR DRAWS GENEROUS CROWD

Receipts of Opening Night Highly Satisfactory—Tonight's Entertainment.

If the people turn out and spend as freely each night as they did at the opening of the firemen's fair in Cheney hall last night, it is a safe bet that the firemen will be rewarded with a good bunch of money at the end of the week.

Frank Cheney Jr., president of the South Manchester fire district, opened the fair with a short address of welcome. Mr. Cheney spoke of the good work being done by the firemen, calling attention to the fact that it was volunteer service and urging the people to show their appreciation by giving the firemen generous support in their endeavor to make some money.

Following Mr. Cheney's address, the newly organized American band of Manchester gave a pleasing concert program. The selections by the band were interspersed with songs by Robert Hitt, a tenor singer from Springfield.

Tonight's entertainment will be furnished by Clements, the magician, who will perform some of the latest tricks known to his profession, and by Dalton and Clune, two local comedians, who will appear in a snappy musical act.

WILLARD - DEMPSEY FIGHT IS STILL WITHOUT HOME

Nothing Doing in Maryland—Ohio, Colorado, Idaho and New Jersey Left.

New York, April 30.—The Willard Dempsey fight is still homeless today. Promoter Tex Rickard has received word from Maryland to the effect that the bout will not be welcome in Maryland and the hopes of Cumberland boosters have been wrecked on a gubernatorial reef.

"I have left two exceptionally good offers under consideration, yet, with perhaps a half dozen others to consider carefully," said Rickard today, "and I am not in the least put out. The Cumberland people were willing enough and I was willing to listen to their proposition, but, of course, it is out of the question now. "I know of two spots where the big fight can be held and will be welcome," continued the promoter, with a broad smile, "and the only question with me is 'which is the better?'"

Rickard said that he will take several more days to consider the selection of a site but gave no hint as to what part of the country appeals to him most.

It is known, however, that Ohio, Colorado, Idaho and New Jersey are still in the running. Rickard is said to be holding off as long as possible to await the fate of boxing bills in several more states, and by the end of the week, he will probably make his announcement.

Should every other site prove unavailable the fight can still go to New Jersey, where promoters are vying with each other in making handsome offers. Rickard, however, would prefer to stage the battle some place where ten or 12 round bouts are permitted.

"JOE" McLEAN DIRECTING MINSTRELS IN FRANCE

Group of 51 Giving Entertainment for Soldiers—Soldier Tells Queen "Hurry Up Kid."

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McLean of 15 Church street have received from their son, Lieutenant Allan R. McLean, a letter in which he tells them that since returning from his furlough in Scotland he has been made entertainment officer of his Battalion. In his new appointment, he is to manage and direct a minstrel troupe, which travels around to the different towns, giving entertainments for the soldiers. There are 21 men in the troupe and they give a performance every afternoon and evening.

Lieutenant McLean also speaks of meeting one of the bandmen of the 202nd in Paris lately and he heard from this bandmen all about the boys of the 26th Division and when they would leave for home. He regrets very much that he cannot come back with the boys of the 26th and have a part in the big parade with them. But he says "Never mind; I'll blow in all by myself any time from three months to a year from now."

Lieutenant McLean enlisted in Company G at the time of the Mexican trouble and later went overseas with the company. After reaching France, he was transferred to another company and then was sent to an officers' training school. He is now with Company A, 143rd Infantry, 36th Division.

With his letter, Lieutenant McLean sent a copy of The Arrow Head, the official paper of the 36th Division. The paper is dated March 28 and an article in it tells how the First Battalion theatrical troupe, of which Lieutenant Allan R. McLean is director, had announced that it was preparing to put on a melodrama and expected to be ready to perform in about six weeks.

Royalty at Football Game.

In the little paper there is an account of a football game, played by the boys of the 36th Division before a crowd of 25,000 rooters. Among the guests at the game were General Pershing and the King and Queen of Belgium. Queen Elizabeth made a request that the teams be grouped for a picture, and then followed an amusing incident, as told in the paper. The account reads: "There was a complete silence while Queen Elizabeth took the photographs of the two elevens in their mud-stained uniforms, silhouetted against the background of interested soldiers, who had swarmed from the sides of the natural amphitheater and the two grandstands.

"Everything was still when the Queen set her camera for a second snapshot. Her care in adjusting the machine aroused the ire of some buck in the background, who disliked the idea of standing in the rain and mud longer than necessary.

"Hurry up, kid", he said, "it's cold here."

"The Queen smiled and hurried up."

HELMET RACE SPURS MANCHESTER WORKERS

Local Victory Bond Sales Jump Forward Through Trophy Contest.

OVER HALF-MILLION MARK

But a Long Way Yet From Town's Quota—Last Quarter Million Comes Hard—Every Dollar Needed.

The contest for prizes in the form of German helmets has greatly stimulated the Manchester Victory bond campaign. The sales today show that there is the sharpest kind of rivalry among the workers and the totals indicate marked increase in the amount of bonds sold.

Need Every Dollar. Notwithstanding the new vigor which marks the local campaign since the German helmet contest began, it is evident that every dollar's worth of bonds which can be bought by Manchester citizens should be subscribed for if the town is to meet its quota.

With general cooperation on the part of the townspeople, it will be possible to subscribe the community's share of the loan this week, but this cannot be done if citizens hold back and keep putting off their purchase of bonds.

Duty, Not Patriotism. Buying Liberty Bonds is not to be considered optional, but obligatory. Any citizen—male, female, or child—any trustee, firm, corporation, or organization—enjoying the protection of the Constitution and of the Flag of the United States, who does not buy and keep Liberty Bonds to his full ability is plainly not doing his duty.

The cessation of hostilities on November 11, 1918, did not end the war. Until a just and lasting peace should have been signed, it was necessary to maintain at great cost a large army in Europe. The obligations imposed upon the United States, in common with other Allies, by the treaty of peace at Versailles, will call for the maintenance of troops abroad in large number to insure that terms of the peace shall be carried out by the Central powers.

$98,000 Netted Today. The new life injected into the campaign is evidenced by the fact that today's bond sales reached the substantial total of $98,000. This is an excellent day's showing. The contestants for the helmets are resorting to every strategy known to energetic bond salesmanship, and there will be one grand race on the home stretch.

Relic Train Coming. Chairman R. LaMotte Russell announced today preliminary plans for a visit of the famous German relic train which is to come to Manchester bearing a splendid assortment of the war things which our soldiers captured from Fritz.

The train will be here Saturday afternoon, and the local committee will give full details in the press Thursday concerning arrangements for the visit. In all probability this will be the last special train of relics to be brought to Manchester, and no doubt there will be thousands of people on hand to view the trophies.

SUMMER SESSION AT NORMAL SCHOOL.

The State Board of Education is arranging a course for evening school teachers and those who contemplate teaching English to non-English-speaking adults whether in public or private schools. This course of thirty hours will be given at the New Britain Normal School during the month of July, opening July 8 and closing August 7.

The course is to be in charge of Mr. Samuel J. Brown of New York City, who has been notably successful in dealing with the problems connected with schools for foreigners who are at first unable to read and write the English language.

A course similar to that which is planned for the New Britain Normal School was given last summer at the Danbury Normal School. It is said by those in charge, that this summer the scope of the work will be more comprehensive including lectures, conferences, demonstration lessons with adult foreigners as pupils, and opportunities for practice teaching under competent supervision.

Tuition and the use of books are free. The course is open to anyone in the state who is interested in the teaching of English to foreigners.

Circle Theater

If you were an heir to twenty millions of dollars, which legacy would be lost to you if you married against the wishes of your family, would you take a long chance and marry "on the quiet?" This is the problem that Agnes Colt was called upon to solve in the new Paramount photocomedy, "On the Quiet", starring John Barrymore, the celebrated comedian, which will be displayed at the Circle theater tonight.

It all happened thus; Agnes Colt is bequeathed twenty millions of dollars by her father, she to receive that sum on condition that she marry some man who will be acceptable to her brother Horace, executor of the late Mr. Colt's will. Contrary to her brother's wishes or knowledge she weds Robert Ridway, a rather wild young man, "on the quiet." Ridway returns to Yale, from which he had been previously expelled for improper conduct, with the understanding that if he completed his course without scandal, his marriage with Agnes might come to pass.

But a man of Ridway's exuberant temperament, such a probation is torture, and when he kicks over the traces, one durned development after another, each more diverting than the other, follows. When Horace finds his sister on Ridway's yacht, he believes the family name will be tarnished unless Ridway espouses Agnes and he demands that their wedding take place instantly. Ridway agrees provided his bride enters into possession of her inheritance and this is agreed to. So they are married a second time and all are happy. The supporting cast is an excellent one.

There will also be shown a two reel Sunshine comedy tonight. Tomorrow and Thursday Elsie Ferguson, the star with the local reputation, will be shown in her latest Artercraft, "His Parisian Wife."

That's what Fordson owners throuout the United States tell you when you ask them about the success of the Fordson on their farms.

Plowing, harrowing, drilling, harvesting, threshing, ensilage cutting, silo filling, hauling to market, cutting wood, running a pump—no matter what the "job, draw-bar or belt-work, the Fordson is ready to do it at a moment's notice and to continue with the job until it's done.

Designed and Built Under Practical Conditions by Mr. Ford

For years Mr. Ford and his engineering experts tested the Fordson under actual farming conditions on Mr. Ford's own farm and in every farming district throughout the country; and when, under all conditions, it had made good in their hands, it was released for the farmers of America.

That's why the Fordson made good with its owners right from the start. The first man who bought a Fordson bought a tried, tested, successful machine.

Light, Economical, Powerful, Durable

Weights only 2700 pounds. Is economical both to buy and to operate; two and one-quarter gallons of kerosene per acre plowed is a fair average. The Fordson will pull two 14-inch bottoms under the hardest conditions, delivering 1800 pounds draw-bar pull at plowing speed, 2500 pounds on low gear, and will handle all belt machines within its rating of 20 to 22 h. p. at the pulley. Simple, rugged, accessible, with few parts, built of the toughest steel that science has produced—the Fordson makes a profitable, lasting investment.

Look in and see the Fordson now.

ACTS OF HEROISM ARE CITED
BY CARNEGIE HERO FUND BOARD

Pittsburg, Pa., April 29.—At the Spring meeting of the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission, held in Room 2,307 Oliver Building, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon, fifteen acts of heroism were recognized. In two cases silver medals were awarded; in thirteen cases bronze medals. Six of the heroes lost their lives, and to the dependents of two of these pensions aggregating $1,620 a year were granted; to the dependents of three of the others who lost their lives the sum of $1,500 was granted to be applied as the Commission may sanction. In addition to these money grants in nine cases awards aggregating $8,500 were made for other worthy purposes. Payments in the pension cases will not be made until the beneficiaries' plans for the use of the awards have been approved by the Commission.

FRANCES B. HOLSTEIN,

1111 West Stoughton st., Urbana, Ill. Bronze medal—Miss Holstein, aged twenty-four, child's nurse, saved Benjamin W. Soper, aged forty-six, clergyman, from death from snakebite, Coconut Grove, Fla., February 19, 1918. Soper stepped on a rattlesnake in a jungle and the snake struck him, its fangs entering his left leg on the outside four inches above the ankle. A man then killed the snake. A tourniquet was at once applied to Soper's leg, cuts were made over the wound, causing a flow of blood, and Miss Holstein, after Soper had protested, sucked the venom from the wound for about five minutes. Soper became very ill and was disabled four weeks. Miss Holstein was not affected.

THEODORE MILLER,

Angola, N. Y. Bronze medal—Miller, aged forty-three, crossing watchman, saved Francis J. Anselmo, aged four, from being killed by a train, Angola, N. Y., August 12, 1917. Francis ran toward a track on which an express train was approaching at a speed of fifty miles an hour. Miller, who has but one arm, realized Francis would not get across the track. He stooped under the crossing gate and ran twenty feet to him from the opposite side of the track, reaching him on the track, when the train was about eighty-five feet from them. Miller grasped Francis and then tripped and fell outside of the rail of the track, his feet being across the rail. He rolled clear of the track barely in time to escape the train, which passed him at undiminished speed. Neither was seriously injured.

ALBERT J. SCHRIER,

Hays, Allegheny County, Pa. Bronze medal—Schrier, aged thirty-two, structural iron worker's apprentice, saved Michael J. Farier, aged forty-five, structural iron worker, from drowning, Kansas City, Kan., December 10, 1915. Farier fell from a bridge into the Kansas river a hundred and twenty-five feet from the bank, where the water was six feet deep. Schrier, who was heavily dressed, jumped thirty-five feet from the bridge into the river, swam fifteen feet to Farier, grasped him at his chest with one hand and swam fifty feet with him toward the pier of another bridge further down stream. Farier then jerked away from Schrier and went under the surface momentarily. Schrier swam a few feet to Farier, grasped him as before and swam ninety feet further with him toward the pier. Farier again jerked away from him and went under the surface, and Schrier swam toward the pier. He then saw Farier at the surface fifteen feet from him, swam to him without resting, grasped him as before, and swam with him toward the pier. A man extended a plank to them and drew them to the pier. Unknown to Schrier, Farier had broken his left arm and hip in falling, but he recovered.

ELIZABETH M. WASCOE,

839 Seventh Ave., West Homestead, Pa. Bronze medal—Mrs. Wascoe, aged thirty-two, housewife, saved Virginia M. Deegan, aged three, from being killed by a street car, West Homestead, Pa., August 26, 1917. Virginia ran onto a track ahead of a street car that was running fifteen miles an hour. Mrs. Wascoe ran twenty-seven feet to her and threw her off the track, but the car struck Mrs. Wascoe. She was cut and bruised, her leg was sprained, and she was totally disabled for a month. Virginia was uninjured.

DANIEL VUNOVITCH,

Box 321, Midland, Pa. Bronze medal—Vunovitch, aged thirty-eight, cupola foreman, saved Amidi Castelli, aged twenty-two, cupola charger, from suffocation, Midland, Pa., January 19, 1916. Castelli fell into a cupola that had just been recharged. Fire had been burning in it thirty minutes, and it was filled with smoke and contained carbon monoxide and carbon dioxide. Vunovitch entered the cupola through an opening in the side and descended a ladder twelve feet to the top of the charge. He groped for Castelli but failed to find him. He was unable to breathe and climbed the ladder for air. Although warned that he might lose his life, Vunovitch descended the ladder again. Castelli then grasped Vunovitch around the neck and got on his back, and Vunovitch climbed the ladder with Castelli. Castelli was semi-conscious but recovered.

WILLIAM E. TENNER,

Amblerburg, W. Va. Bronze medal—Tanner, aged fifty-four, farmer, saved Virginia B. Taylor, aged twelve, from being killed by a train, Amblerburg, W. Va., August 18, 1917. Virginia fell on a track on which a freight train was approaching. Tanner went six feet to her, and while standing a foot from the rail he leaned over and grasped her shoulders. The train was fifteen to twenty feet from them and running at a speed of twelve to fifteen miles an hour. Tanner drew Virginia toward him, but the pilot of the locomotive brushed her legs off the track and struck her left forearm, fracturing her wrist. The locomotive struck Tanner's forehead, but he was not seriously injured. Virginia recovered from her injuries.

JAMES M. ABEL,

R. D. 5, Dayton, Tenn. Bronze medal—Abel, aged twenty-two, salesman, rescued Malinda J. Bertha M. and Lennie A. Patton, aged forty-two, eighteen and five, respectively, from a runaway, Dayton, Tenn., August 28, 1915. Mrs.

Patton and her daughters were driving in a buggy when the horse became panic-stricken and ran along the street, plunging, kicking and rearing. Several men ran into the street to stop the horse, but they ran from it as it reached them. A hundred feet farther on Abel sprang from the curb, grasped a line close to the bit with one hand, and ran along with the horse, being partially dragged. Using both hands, he grasped the other line, jerked the lines and stopped the horse thirty feet beyond the place he had reached it. None was injured.

JAMES H. DAVIS,

Belmont, La. Bronze medal—Davis, aged twenty-eight, farmer, attempted to save T. Stanford Granberry, Jr., and Fletcher Granberry, aged sixteen and eight, respectively, schoolboys, from drowning, Bonami, La., March 26, 1914. While Stanford and Fletcher were wading through the flood water of Palmetto Creek, they were swept from the road by the current. Stanford caught hold of a submerged fence ten feet from the road, where the water was nine and a half feet deep, and supported Fletcher. Davis, who was dressed, waded on the road toward the boys, the current carried him past them to a log which had lodged in a bush. He clung to the log for nearly an hour and then attempted to swim to high ground, but the current carried him down stream. He swam a hundred and fifty feet, caught hold of a drifting log, and clung to the log until it lodged in bushes. He then swam a hundred feet to a sapling, rested, and swam a hundred feet farther to a knoll. He remained on the knoll in water nearly to his shoulders for three hours and was then rescued by men in a boat. He then lost consciousness and suffered from exposure but recovered in two days.

WILLIAM M. PICKETT,

Vivian, La. Bronze medal—Pickett, aged twenty-nine, farmer, saved Fletcher Granberry and attempted to save T. Stanford Granberry, Jr., from drowning, Bonami, La., March 26, 1914. Pickett took off his clothing and waded on the road eight feet behind Davis. The current washed him off his feet, and he swam to a tree at the fence to which Stanford clung. He then made his way along the fence to the boys and took Fletcher on his back. He attempted several times to take hold of Stanford, but went under the surface. He realized he could not handle both boys at once and then took Fletcher along the fence to the tree. Stanford in the meantime lost his hold on the fence and was drowned. Later Pickett, suffering from the cold, swam three hundred and seventy-five feet to high ground, Fletcher was taken from the tree by men in a boat. (See case of James H. Davis.)

MARY E. SMITH (deceased),

(Mother) Mrs. Ava Koberstine, 249 Mechanic St., Camden, N. J. Bronze medal to the mother—Miss Smith, aged fifteen, factory hand, died attempting to save Anna M. Miskelley, aged sixteen, from drowning, Camden, N. J., August 9, 1918. Miss Miskelley, while wading in an inlet of the Delaware river fifteen feet from the bank, stepped into water fifteen feet deep. Miss Smith waded to her and grasped her hand, but she too got into deep water. Both girls, neither of whom could swim, sank and rose to the surface several times and then sank and were drowned.

JOHN BARANWSKI (deceased),

(Father) 720 North Wyoming Street, Hazleton, Pa. Bronze medal—Baranwski, aged eighteen, diver, died attempting to save Anthony J. Zlotnik, aged sixteen, jig runner, from drowning, Hazleton, Pa., July 21, 1918. While Zlotnik and Baranwski were bathing in a pond, Zlotnik stepped into water seven feet deep twelve feet from the bank. Baranwski took a step or two toward Zlotnik and took hold of his hand. Baranwski then either lost his footing or was pulled into deep water by Zlotnik. Neither could swim. They sank together, rose to the surface and became separated and sank again. Zlotnik was rescued by another boy, but Baranwski was drowned.

MANUEL J. ROMERO (deceased),

(Father) 521 Dolhonde St., Gretna, La. Bronze medal—Romero, aged sixteen, mail messenger, died attempting to save Salvador Martina, aged twelve, from drowning, Harvey, La., August 21, 1917. Salvador and two other boys fell from a boat, which capsized in Harvey's Canal thirty-three feet from the nearest bank, where the water was seven feet deep.

One of the boys swam to wadable water and one got on the boat and paddled it away. Salvador was left alone and could not swim. Romero, who was dressed, waded twenty-five feet and swam twenty feet to a point where Salvador had disappeared under the surface. He then began feeling under the surface for Salvador and Salvador grasped him. They sank together several times and were drowned.

GASTON REEDY BUFORD (deceased),

(Widow) 923 Main St., Franklin, Tenn. Bronze medal to the widow and death benefits at the rate of $50 a month, with $5 a month additional on account of each of two children—Buford, aged forty-two, clergyman, died attempting to save an indeterminate person or persons from being shot, Atlanta Ga., February 17, 1817. A man who had recently been discharged from an insane hospital armed himself with two revolvers and surreptitiously entered a house in which were his wife and two other women. He shot two of the women, one fatally. Buford was walking on a street nearby with his wife. They heard several shots and also screaming and a woman's voice calling: "Help! Murder!" Buford told his wife that he would give help, but he was unarmed, and his wife pleaded with him not to go. He disregarded her warning that he might be killed and ran to the house and entered it. The assassin shot and killed Buford and came out to the street and shot at two other men. Another man then shot and killed him.

GEORGE W. ALLRED (deceased),

(Mother) Cook Place, Tenn. Silver medal—Allred, aged sixteen, laborer, died attempting to save Albert D. Young, aged seventeen, laborer, from drowning, Glenobey, Tenn., July 11, 1915. A young man took Young on his back and attempted to swim across the east fork of the Obey river with him. When they were eight feet from the bank and in water eight feet deep Young grasped his companion about the neck tightly with both hands and they became distressed. Allred swam about fifty feet to them and grasped Young's arm. Young then released his hold on his companion and grasped Allred around the neck or upper part of his body with both hands, and they sank. They bobbed up and drew down two or three times and then sank and were drowned. Young's companion swam to wadable water.

ARTHUR E. FITCH (deceased),

(Widow) Suite 311 Riverbank Court, Cambridge, Mass. (Mother) Care of Mrs. George Smith, Ledgewood Terrace, Malden, Mass. Silver medal to the widow and death benefits at the rate of $50 a month, also death benefits to the mother at the rate of $25 a month—Fitch, aged fifty-two, bank cashier, died attempting to save Ruth F. Oakes, aged sixty-five, from being killed by a train, Medford, Mass., November 19, 1918. Mrs. Oakes, who was somewhat deaf, began walking across a track on which a passenger train was approaching at a speed of forty-five miles an hour. When the train was about seventy-five feet from her Fitch ran ten feet to her, reaching her as she was stepping between the rails. He took hold of her hand and attempted to take her off the track, but she resisted him, and they were struck by the train and killed.

TO LIVE LONG AND

PROSPER, "DON'T WORRY." Chicago, April 30.—How to live long and prosper is easy, according to Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, who just celebrated her ninety-seventh birthday here.

"Take life easy—don't worry—be moderate—eat three full meals a day—drink tea, no coffee and keep smiling and laugh boisterously once in a while," says Mrs. Williams.

She practices just what she preaches—does this kindly, smiling grandmother, who added: "I feel just as well today as I did fifty years ago."

DISCOURAGE BOLSHEVISM.

St. Louis, Mo., April 30.—St. Louisans are urged, in a resolution passed by the Chamber of Commerce, to discourage any movement of Bolshevism. Copies of the resolution have been mailed to various organizations in other cities.

"MEANEST DAD ON EARTH."

Aurora, Ill., April 30.—Steve Tomczyk, this city, thought his wife was unkind when she awoke him at 2 o'clock in the morning to walk the floor with their sick baby. The mother had been up all night to get even with his wife he snatched the baby. She called the police and Steve was fined $10 and costs.

WEDDING OF ROYALTY AND COMMONER IN LONDON TODAY REQUIRES TRIPLE CEREMONY TO MAKE CONTRACT BINDING

London, April 30.—Although today for the first time a bride, the former Miss Elizabeth Asquith—now Princess Antoinette Bibesco—can justly claim to be the most married woman in England. It took three ceremonies today to make her the wife of Prince Bibesco of Rumania.

Another interesting feature of the wedding was the fact that this is the second marriage of royalty and commoner which has taken place this year; the other one being the marriage of "Princess Pat" to Commander Alexander Ramsay. The three ceremonies at the wedding today of Miss Asquith and Prince Bibesco were necessary on account of the different nationalities and religions of the contracting parties. The first was at the Greek church, where the young couple were united with all the pomp and ceremony of the groom's religion. Following that, an adjournment was taken to St. Margaret's, Westminster, where bishops of the Church of England set their seal upon the union. Lastly, there came a trip to the Rumanian Legation where the civil ceremony, according to the laws of that country, was hurriedly gone through. At this point it was, apparently, decided that Miss Asquith was indeed married and no further ceremonies were deemed necessary.

The principal ceremony was, of course, that at St. Margaret's. Bridesmaids selected from society's ranks supported the bride, who also had two of her young kinsmen to act as pages. She was given away by her father, the former Prime Minister. The church was packed with representatives of the bluest blood of England and a big crowd awaited the reception and departure of the bride and groom outside the building.

The wedding has been commented upon as a happy union of two bright minds. Both are literary and artistic and have much in common. As Miss Asquith, the bride, was recognized as the pioneer of a new social order. She shattered all precedents when, as a young and unmarried woman, at the outbreak of the war she joined various charitable committees and took hold in such a manner that her administrative ability was quickly recognized and she was given control of most important committees.

She has been a most prolific writer of playlets and has appeared in plays of her own composition on several occasions supported by some of the leading actors of the British stage. In addition to the writing of plays and then acting in them, the former Miss Asquith has a deep knowledge of French poetry, of Bakst decoration and of modern art and is recognized as an authority on these subjects. During the war, among her many charitable activities, she organized a series of poets' readings and by this means gained large sums for her various organizations.

The groom, Prince Antoine Bibesco, is counselor to the Rumanian Legation. He is the grandson of the late reigning Prince of Rumania, being the direct descendant of George Demetrius Bibesco, who was Sovereign Prince of Wallachia, 1842-1848, before the incorporation of that country into the Kingdom of Rumania.

Prince Bibesco was born and educated in Paris. He is very wealthy, being the owner of large oil fields in Rumania. At an early age he took up the pursuit of letters and wrote a number of plays. In 1909 Madame Refane appeared in one of his plays, "Jacques Abran," and another of his compositions, "La Jaloux," was performed at the Theater Antoine, Paris.

Following the honeymoon, it is expected that the young couple, the Prince is forty years of age, while his bride is twenty-two, will divide their time for the next few years between London, where the Prince has already secured a residence, and Paris, in which city he owns a charming house.

THREE MAN LEAGUE.

Good Scores Rolled in Opening Games Last Night.

The new three man bowling league at the Recreation Center got under way Monday night and some good scores were rolled. There were five scores of better than one hundred. Walter Walsh leading with a single of 111.

Total pinfall for the season will count in this league. In the first match last night, the American Eagles defeated the Has Beens by 31 pins. There was nothing to the second match, as only one man showed up for the Comers. He was Joe Petitjean and he made a score of 245 against 858 by the Blue Pigeons. According to the rules of the league, no "dummy" score is allowed for absentees, as has been the case in other leagues, so it is up to each team to have all its men on the job, or lose. The summary follows:

American Eagles.

MEN'S FRIENDSHIP CLUB.

Reds Take Three Games, Blacks One, As Usual.

At the weekly session of the Men's Friendship club at No. 1's bowling alleys Monday night, the usual program was carried out, the Reds winning three games and the Blacks one. The first two games were one-sided, but the Blacks braced up considerably in the third game and the Reds won by only six pins. In the last game, the Blacks managed to squeak through on the winning side, with a scant margin of three pins. G. E. Ferris, who substituted for his father on the Reds, was the high roller while he stayed in the race. He bowled the first three games, with a single of 105 and a three string of 293. David Dynes, who took Ferris's place in the last game, was the high roller in that game, with a score of 92.

In total pinfall for the four games last night, the Reds led the Blacks by 55 pins. For the season, the Reds are leading by a grand total of 228.

Below is given the summary of last night's games:

Punching The Bag

Baseball bugs aroud the big league circuits are interested in the efforts of some twenty-five players who changed uniforms this spring.

Trades and sales during the winter months resulted in placing many familiar faces in new surroundings, and the efforts of these players to make good will be watched closely.

Veteran baseball managers will tell you that a change of clubs works wonders for the average player. New scenery always inspires an athlete to renewed efforts. Perhaps the club he has been playing with has palled on him. Perhaps he disliked some of the conditions under which he was forced to play. Perhaps he had outgrown his usefulness as a member of some one team. But put a new uniform on him and give him a slap on the back. Boy, howdy; he'll dig up remnants from the ole pepper barrel that he didn't even suspect were there.

Out of the many deals made during the recent winter in which thoroughly seasoned major league stars changed places, there are a few that stand out as deals of particular interest to the fan who enjoys making a study of individual players.

Take Ed Konechy for instance. Ed was a holdout with the Boston Braves, and many a critic remarked that the Braves wouldn't lose much if Koney failed to come to time. In other words, Koney was labeled as a "has-wizzer." But as a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers the baseball fan may expect to see Koney come back. Lee Magee, who made his comeback with the Reds, should also have a better year than he did in 1918. He is popular with Dodger fans and that means a great deal.

Then there is the case of Ray Caldwell. For years Caldwell hung on with the Yankees, always just good enough to be offered a contract, but always an in-and-out. With the Red Sox Caldwell may play the best ball of his major league career. Who knows? Larry Gardner, veteran of many a world's championship, old as a player, but still capable, found a hearty welcome awaiting him in Cleveland. The fans in the Forest City were more than glad to have Gardner come to the Fohlmens. Likewise, Boston fans were glad when Ed Barrow got Oscar Vitt from Detroit. Vitt, they figured, would make the Sox infield and they will help Vitt make good. No question about that.

Duffy Lewis, coming from Boston to the Yanks, has begun his major league career all over again. Duffy is highly popular in New York, and he is the kingpin of the Yank outfield. Likewise, Ernie Shore made a new start this year for playing with the Yanks is to Shore's liking.

The Reds have two veteran players in the lineup this year who had practically worn out their welcome wearing other uniforms. One is Jake Daubert—a battered piece of scenery in Brooklyn; an interesting star in Cincinnati, and Bill Radiden, who first gained fame with the Old Braves and later starred for the Giants.

The case of Hal Chase flashes up as a most interesting one. Hal couldn't have played with Cincinnati again after the unfavorable publicity that arose from the charges preferred against him. Chase was and is far from through. But there is a chance that he will play better ball for McGraw than he did for Matty.

MIDDLETON'S MEMORY.

A musical memory like Arthur Middleton's is not often found, as is instanced by the fact that he sings more than fifty oratorios without notes.

Says Mr. Middleton: "As a youngster it was easy for me to commit to memory whether it was a song or a poem for the Friday afternoon entertainments. You know out in Iowa we always had 'big doings' in school Friday afternoons and every pupil had to recite a piece or sing a song inasmuch as I could do both, I was always called to 'double'. It was no trouble to learn a recitation overnight and it is the same way with me now when it comes to committing the numbers of a song recital or a new role at the opera. I guess I am what is known as a 'quick study' but once I have a role or a song or an oratorio I can recall it at any time, for instance I know oratorios in which I have appeared, but twice,—yet I can recall them, word and music, without the least trouble though I have not had occasion to use them in years."

Middleton will sing at our High School on the evening of May 3. Seats are on sale at Watkins Brothers. The proceeds over the expenses will go to the local Welcome Home Fund.

For some of us
the war will never be over

MAYBE you'll be going to the country in a few weeks to see the green of the new leaves, and maybe, too, you've got tickets for a corking show tonight, where there will be lights and colors and gay costumes and a happy crowd.

Well — perhaps the war is over for you.

But for some of us —

Can YOU rest or work or play or live until you've finished the work we started — before the light went out?

See it through! It's a big American job. Unless you finish it up in the old American way the battles we fought over here will have been won in vain.

ABOUT TOWN

Catherine Sheridan has been placed by the Connecticut Business College with the Fuller Brush Co. at Hartford.

Memorial Lodge No. 38 Knights of Pythias will hold a public whist in its lodge rooms in Brown hall, Wednesday evening May 14.

Mrs. John G. Trotter of Main street, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Hartford hospital a week ago last Saturday, is getting along nicely and probably will be able to return home next Sunday or Monday.

Word has been received by friends in town that First Sgt. J. H. Russell of the 15th Engineers, has arrived at Camp Upton. After a flying visit to this place, he will proceed with his regiment to Ohio for discharge. Sgt. Russell reports a long rough trip across.

Dr. F. A. Sweet, president of the Eighth School and Utilities district, reports that during clean up week at the north end fifteen big auto truck loads of old tin cans and such rubbish were carted to the public dumps. This is more than last year and is accounted for by the large quantity of canned goods used by the people during the war times.

About thirty friends of Clifford Beebe gave him a pleasant surprise at the home of his sister last evening. It was Mr. Beebe's twenty third birthday anniversary. He was the recipient of many useful gifts. The evening was spent in playing games, singing and dancing. Light refreshments were served during the evening.

Rev. J. I. Bartholomew, Executive Secretary of the Methodist Episcopal Centenary Movement in Boston Area, will speak at the South Methodist church Monday evening, May 4. Dr. Bartholomew is speaking in behalf of the Centenary, which plans to enlist 53,000 young people in Christian service and to raise a minimum of $105,000,000 for war reconstruction and for home and foreign missions.

The Grand Army committee, and the citizens' committee appointed by the Grand Army to make arrangements for the observance of Memorial day, will meet at the Hall of Records Thursday night, when representatives of the different military organizations in town, such as the Sons of Veterans, the United Spanish American War Veterans and the War Bureau, representing the world war soldiers, will meet with the committee.

Rev. C. M. Calderwood and wife of Lee, Mass., have been in town the past two days calling on friends. They drove home in Mr. Calderwood's automobile today.

Tomorrow will be the last day that the town tax can be paid and save interest money. Tax Collector Howe will be on the job all day today and tomorrow to meet the property owners.

The town clerk's office will be open this evening and again tomorrow evening for the accommodation of those dog owners who have yet neglected to take out their dog license. After tomorrow it will cost one dollar extra.

Manchester poultrymen are reporting some exceptionally good hatches this spring. For instance one Main street man set two hens on 26 eggs and every egg produced a chicken. "Talk about hens laying well," said another Manchester man on Easter Sunday my 45 hens laid 43 eggs.

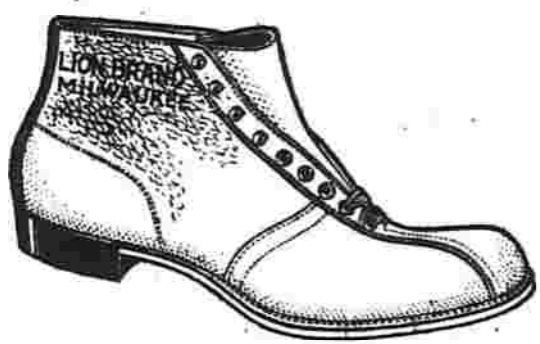

South Manchester Tent of Maccabees held an interesting meeting in Ferris hall Monday evening. Several instructive talks were given, with P. Touhey of Manchester Tent, No. 2, giving the feature address in which he presented a past commander's jewel to Michael Dougherty.

There was a general exodus of Manchester people for Hartford this forenoon to see the big parade in the city. Extra trolley cars were put on to accommodate the crowds and the fifteen minute schedule was started at nine o'clock from the south end. On one trip to Hartford four cars were needed to carry the passengers.

Following is the summer schedule for the use of the swimming pool at the Recreation Center: Ladies, Tuesdays from 7.30 to 9.30, Wednesdays, 7.30 to 9.30, Thursdays, 8.15 to 9 o'clock, Fridays, 7.30 to 9.30; men, Mondays, 7.30 to 9.30, Wednesdays, 8.30 to 9.30, Saturdays, 3.30 to 5 p. m. and 7.30 to 9.30.

The Epworth League of the North Methodist church will hold a May Basket party at the home of the Misses Lydall at Lydallville on the evening of May 7. Each lady is to bring a basket of lunch and they will be auctioned off to the highest bidder. The party plan to leave Depot Square on the seven thirty car and will walk from the Green over. A small fee will be charged for ice cream.

The court between the Barnard, Franklin and Recreation Center building is fast becoming a beauty spot. Under the direction of an expert landscape gardener, small ornamental trees and shrubs are being planted in artistic designs along the wall at the south of the court and also the wall forming the north side of the plaza, which runs between the Barnard and Franklin buildings. The ground within the court has been regraded as is the ground surrounding the buildings.
