TREATY, DOCUMENT OF HATRED DECLARES GERMANY'S PREMIER

Characterizes Terms as Ger- many's Death Sentence— To Present Counter Claims —Says Terms are Con- trary to Principles Enun- ciated by Wilson—"Will Fight to the Last."

Berlin, Via London, May 9.—Premier Philip Scheidemann announced today that the German peace envoys at Versailles have been instructed to present a reply to the allies, pointing out the divergences between the peace terms and President Wilson's fourteen principles and to try to start oral negotiations.

The German plenipotentiaries have been instructed, also, to request the reason for the "hard conditions" which are said here to be unacceptable to Germany.

"Pitilessly Abandoned." The terms as outlined at Versailles "pitilessly abandon Germany to the deepest fall in history," according to Premier Scheidemann. He declared that the terms are contrary especially to the fourth, fifth, seventh and eighth principles enunciated by President Wilson.

Will Fight to Last. "The German people will fight to the last in the struggle for peace and will use all their strength," said Herr Scheidemann.

"In the meanwhile the German delegates have been notified to tell the allied plenipotentiaries that Germany's counter claims will be presented within the fixed time—two weeks.

The German premier characterized the terms as "Germany's death sentence." He continued:

"We must discuss this document of hatred and madness with political sobriety. The mutilated German people are unable to take a heroic position but we hope that conditions will be so altered that she will be able to sign some terms."

Herr Scheidemann concluded by hoping for a satisfactory solution and stating "that it would be well to consider the treaty with good will."

The National Assembly will meet at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon to begin consideration of the treaty.

Konstantin Fehrenbach, president of the National Assembly, speaking in behalf of the various political parties said:

"Our President has rightly declared that the conditions are unacceptable."

"AMERICA CAN GO TO HELL"—LUDENDORFF.

London, May 9.—"If these are the peace terms then America can go to Hell," exclaimed General Ludendorff, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Daily Chronicle.

"MAKE PEACE WITH RUSSIA."

Berlin, Via Copenhagen and London, May 9.—"The only course now is to make peace with Russia and invite Russian soldiers into Germany," Herr Giebert, German minister of the Treasury declared today.

SEC. DANIELS STARTS HOME.

Brest, France, May 9.—Before sailing for home today Josephus Daniels, the American Secretary of the Navy, said he had "learned much on his European trip that will be of valuable assistance to the United States."

Mr. Daniels came from Plymouth, England, to Brest, on the private yacht Corsair.

He dwelt at length upon the close union of America and England, saying it had been fostered by the cordial relations of the navies of the two powers.

The funeral of the late Chauncey C. Holmes will be conducted at New Britain tomorrow afternoon by Harmony Lodge of Masons of which he was a member. Private prayers will be said at his home on Strickland street by Rev. E. F. Studley at one o'clock, prior to the removal of the body to New Britain.

Berlin Not In A Happy Mood

Berlin, via London, May 9.—Berlin is in a pessimistic mood over the treaty terms which have been received here from Versailles.

The conditions, it was stated in semi-official circles, "surpassed the worst anticipations."

Opinion differs over the tenor of the speech delivered by Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German delegation. It is felt here that the foreign minister was compelled to take a reserved position and could not make any definite pledges.

There was another meeting of the National Assembly peace committee this morning.

PLANS FOR MEMORIAL HOSPITAL MADE PUBLIC

Handsome Building With Model Arrangement and Equipment.

WILL ACCOMMODATE FORTY PATIENTS

To Have All the Conveniences of the Most Modern Hospitals—Location Sightly and Central.

The plans selected for Manchester's memorial hospital from several sets submitted by different architects are those prepared by Smith & Bassette of Hartford. The front elevation of the proposed structure is shown herewith and the description follows.

The preliminary plans had been so carefully thought out by the hospital committee aided by the cooperation of local physicians that all the architects who submitted plans commented upon the thorough ground work which had been laid for them. It will be seen from the accompanying elevation that the building is designed for practicality while at the same time it has graceful proportions. There are plenty of windows, and sun parlors at either end of two floors, an elevator, a fine operating room, wards for both men and women, a maternity ward and a number of rooms of varying size to meet the needs and preferences of patients.

The building is to stand on the highest point of the hill facing Main street across the old baseball lot. The entrance for visitors will be on this side of the building, approached by a drive and walk. The ground slopes to the rear giving a basement story on the west. A carriage porch in the center of the western front will receive carriages and ambulances bringing patients, who will be taken in on the basement level either directly to the elevator, or in case of accident, into a receiving or first aid room adjoining the elevator.

The east entrance on a level with the first floor is over an open tiled porch and through an ornamental stairway which leads into a tiled vestibule, opening to the right into the superintendent's office and to the left into the reception room. It communicates with a transverse corridor 50 feet long and nine feet wide connecting two wards, one at either end of the hospital. Each ward has 12 beds. The one at the north end will be for the exclusive use of men and at the south end for women. Opening from either ward is an enclosed veranda 12x36 which may be used for lounging rooms for convalescents or, in case of an epidemic, may be utilized as dormitories in connection with the wards. The space in the body of the first floor is occupied by the superintendent's office, nurses' and matrons' rooms, stock rooms and bath rooms. The elevator is directly opposite the main entrance and with its adjoining staircases communicates with all floors from the basement to the top of the building.

The private rooms are all on the second floor as well as the maternity ward. The latter is thoroughly equipped and has six beds. A baby ward adjoins it. There are four rooms 10x15 feet each, two 10x14 and four smaller rooms including a small children's ward and plenty of toilets and baths. The sun parlors are extended up through two stories at either end of the building. They will command a magnificent view of the Connecticut valley to the west and of the Bolton hills to the east. The chief feature of the third floor is a fine operating room at the north end. It receives a north light from a wall window 14 feet square and also from a large skylight overhead. The sterilizing and sterilizing rooms, together with the nurses' and doctors' washrooms, are located at either end of the operating room. On this floor also are located the nurses' living quarters. Ten nurses, a superintendent and an assistant superintendent can be accommodated.

Gov. Not At Capitol. Hartford May 9.—Because Governor Holcomb was not at his office in the Capitol today none of the 200 odd legislative matters passed in the last days of the session of the General Assembly which closed yesterday, was presented to him for signature or pocket veto.

Exercise Begin on June 14 With the Presentation of "Tamberlaine" on College Campus. New Haven, May 9.—The tentative program of Yale's commencement week was made public here today. The commencement exercises begin Saturday, June 14, with the presentation of the play "Tamberlaine" by the Yale Dramatic Association on the college campus, continuing through Friday, June 20, when the Yale-Harvard boat races will be held at New London.

On Sunday, June 15 President Hadley will deliver the Baccalaureate address to the graduating class. At five o'clock in the afternoon there will be commemorative exercises in Woolsey Hall for the Yale men who lost their lives in the world war. The annual meeting of Yale in China, will be held in the evening.

On Monday, June 16, the class day exercises will be held, also the luncheon of the Yale Law School alumni and of the Yale Corporation. The Glee and Mandolin Club concert, and the Selton Promenade will be held in the evening.

Alumni Day will be celebrated on Wednesday, with a general meeting of the alumni, class reunions and the annual Yale-Harvard commencement baseball game on Yale Field.

The commencement exercises will be held as usual on Wednesday, June 18, followed by the Alumni Luncheon and the president's reception. One day will intervene before the Yale-Harvard boat races, which have usually been held on Thursday, but this year will be on Friday, June 20, at New London.

MISSING TRANS-OCEAN FLYER SAFE; TWO OTHERS WAITING AT HALIFAX

Germany Not Beaten, Declares Speaker, She Is Only Checked

Amsterdam, May 9.—A defiant speech was delivered at Hamburg, Germany, today by Herr Stresemann, who addressed the Peoples' Party.

"We were not beaten, but only checked, owing to the lack of home support," Stresemann was quoted as saying.

"The most hopeful sign now is a break among the allies," he continued.

"Germany is morally worthy to have colonies despite lies in the British blue books. I am convinced that we shall have colonies once more."

"Germany will again be great because the world cannot do without our strength and products."

A resolution demanding the return of the colonies was carried after which the assemblage sang, "Deutschland uber Alles."

Trouble With Oil Pump Forced Her to Drop Into Water Near Tip of Cape Cod—Will Go on to Halifax as Soon as Pump is Re- paired.

Chatham, Mass., May 9.—United States seaplane N. C-4, missing since she was forced to abandon the first leg of the trans-Atlantic flight—Rockaway Beach, L. I., to Halifax Harbor, N. S.—was safe on the beach near the naval air station here today.

When the oil in one of her four motors became overheated late yesterday afternoon the giant plane slid down 2,000 feet into the water. The plane took the water at a point about 100 miles northeast of Race Point, the tip of Cape Cod.

The N. C-4 first experienced trouble with one of the oil pumps on the motor. The pump became "gummed up", naval officials explained. Then the oil in the motor became overheated. Oil ceased flowing freely through the motor and a bearing was burned out. Automobiles often experience the same trouble.

There has been much speculation as to what N. C-4 stands for. It means, naval Curtiss—the planes being a naval aircraft made by the Curtiss Company.

Tired and Hungry. Tired and hungry from a long night on the sea Lieutenant Commander A. C. Read, of Lyme, N. H., and his five men aboard the seaplane were undaunted by the mishap. Immediately after breakfast they began the work of repairing the disabled motor. They will fly back to Rockaway Beach for complete repairs on the motor.

Weather conditions favorable, they will try to "hop off" Rockaway Beach and attempt to catch up with their companions in the seaplanes N. C-1 and N.C-3, which completed the air voyage from Rockaway to Halifax without trouble.

Hopes to Catch Up. Lieutenant Commander Read said he hoped to catch up with the other two planes at Trepassy, N. F.

United States destroyers sent out to locate the missing seaplane did not succeed in finding her. The N. C-4 came into this harbor this morning. Radio operator Ensign H. C. Redd, of Cleveland, Ohio, said that his outfit was working perfectly.

Sailed All Night. Word came from the destroyer that they had tried all night to pick up the N. C-4 by wireless but could not get her wave length. Without seeing a light all night the N. C-4 held her course on the water for Chatham Harbor.

"Everyone aboard is tired and hungry but in A-1 condition," said an officer of the plane. "We are determined to cross the ocean and this motor trouble does not discourage us in the least."

2,000 Feet Up. The officer explained that the only trouble experienced by the N. C-4 was in one of her four motors. "We were travelling along about 3,000 feet up at the rate of about 75 miles an hour," he said, "when the oil in the motor became overheated. This put the whole work out of gear. We made temporary repairs but it was no use. When we got 100 miles off Cape Cod in the direction of Cape Sable we had to come down."

Sea Was Smooth. It was shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon when we landed. The sea was smooth and we had no trouble in making the water. We mapped out a course to the naval air station at Chatham and came along without much trouble."

N. C-4 was nicknamed "Nancy" by the naval flyers. She was first sighted at 5.14 this morning by coast guardmen at station No. 4. The plane was then a mile and a half off Chatham Bar. Slowly the plane came up to the beach.

WATKINS BROTHERS AND TRUST CO. TO MOVE UP TOWN

Buy Ferris Brothers' Entire Holdings, Including Brick Block.

HALE CO. TO DOUBLE STORE'S FLOOR SPACE

Bank to Build Dignified Structure for Its Own Use.

Real estate deals were closed late yesterday afternoon which will result in important building operations in the most active business section of Main street and will influence the trend of retail trade for many years to come. The operations will center around the corner of Main and Oak streets. The parties involved are Watkins Brothers, The J. W. Hale Company and the Manchester Trust Company and the results which will soon appear will be a three-story brick block 70 by 132 on the site of the present Ferris block, a new bank building for the sole use of the Manchester Trust Company next north of the Watkins block, and an addition to the House & Hale block 35 by 100 with two stories and basement for the occupancy of the J. W. Hale Company. All this will be brought about through the purchase of the Ferris property by Watkins Brothers and the Manchester Trust Company and of a tract 100 by 115 on Oak street from Harry M. Burke by the J. W. Hale Company. The last named property will eventually be turned over to Watkins Brothers for the further expansion of their business but it will be used at present for a site for the wooden building across the street now occupied by a restaurant which is to be moved to make way for the Hale addition.

It will be seen that these changes will bring to a permanent location about the corner of Oak street (two of our most important mercantile concerns and the bank. All three will have greatly enlarged quarters and will probably do a correspondingly increased business thus making this corner the shopping center of the town.

Deal Result of Fire. The deal was brought about by the fire which partially destroyed Ferris block last month and entirely wiped out a wooden business building in the rear of their block fronting on Oak street. The clean-up of Ferris Brothers' large stock of stoves, hardware and plumbing materials made possible by insurance and a fire sal- placed them in a position to reorganize their business or abandon it altogether, and necessity for the reconstruction after the fire offered an opportune time to remodel the structure at minimum expense. As Watkins Brothers have long been looking for larger quarters and a location farther up town they took advantage of the opportunity to buy out Ferris Brothers. Their only misgiving in making the purchase

PRES. WILSON CALLS NATION TO HELP LOAN

"Make It a Great Thank Offer- ing" He Says in Cablegram.

HIS APPEAL TO CITIZENS

"Sustain the Honor and Credit of Our Country and Pay Tribute to Valor and Sacrifices of Our Fight- ing Men."

Washington, May 9.—President Wilson today called upon the nation to make the Victory Loan a "great thank offering."

In a cablegram to Secretary of the Treasury Glass the President said: "Through you I appeal to my fellow citizens on the eve of the consummation of a victorious peace, to sustain the honor and credit of our country and to pay tribute to the valor and sacrifices of our fighting men by making this last liberty loan not only a financial success, for that it must be, but a great popular thank offering in which every American will share according to his ability."

OFFICIALS OPTIMISTIC. Washington, May 9.—With $1,700,000,000 to be raised by midnight tomorrow if the victory loan is to be put over, Treasury officials today showed more optimism than might ordinarily be expected in the face of what seemed to be a discouraging situation. They pointed to the fact that in all of the four preceding Liberty Loans there was a golden flood of dollars in the closing hours of the campaigns, and were counting upon around a billion to be subscribed tomorrow. This, with the average half billion today and with scores of subscriptions made with scores of subscriptions made, was expected to bring the total up to the $4,500,000,000 goal.

LATE BULLETIN SAYS PLANES WILL "HOP OFF" TOMORROW. Washington, May 9.—The N.C.-1 and N.C.-3 will "hop off" tomorrow for Trepassy, on the second leg of their trans-Atlantic flight, the Navy Department announced this afternoon. They will not wait at Halifax for the N.C.-4, which is to return to Rockaway for repairs, it was stated, but would have proceeded today had it not been necessary to replace four propellers.

According to the schedule the N.C.-1 and N.C.-3 are to wait at Trepassy, and it was believed that the repairs to the N.C.-4 would be completed in plenty of time to permit her to catch up with the other two and continue the flight overseas.

MESSAGE IN BOTTLE. New York, May 9.—A bottle containing what purported to be a message from the United States collier Cyclops, missing with all on board since she sailed from the West Indies two years ago, was found in Long Island Sound today and turned over to the Navy authorities. The message said the Cyclops was sinking but it did not give her location, leading navy authorities to believe it was a fake.

The message said the Cyclops was sinking but it did not give her location, leading navy authorities to believe it was a fake.

According to the schedule the N.C.-1 and N.C.-3 are to wait at Trepassy, and it was believed that the repairs to the N.C.-4 would be completed in plenty of time to permit her to catch up with the other two and continue the flight overseas.

MESSAGE IN BOTTLE. New York, May 9.—A bottle containing what purported to be a message from the United States collier Cyclops, missing with all on board since she sailed from the West Indies two years ago, was found in Long Island Sound today and

HERESS, A GERM CARRIER RUNS AWAY TO WED GOV.

Breaks Quarantine in California to Come to Washington—Health Department Worried.

Washington, May 9.—Reputed to be a diphtheria carrier, Miss Elizabeth Wrenmore, 17, hetress fiancée of Francis B. Harrison, Governor General of the Philippines was today causing the Health Department of the capital considerable worry.

Miss Wrenmore, according to a telegram purporting to come from the California State Board of Health, with her mother, had broken quarantine at Berkeley, and was on her way to Washington, to wed Governor Harrison.

Health officers today were posted at the union station with instructions to halt her in the event of her arrival here.

"If Miss Wrenmore is a diphtheria carrier, there is nothing for me to do but quarantine her," declared Dr. Fowler, chief health officer of the District.

STOCK MARKET

New York, May 9.—The action of the stock market was of a sensational character after the opening today, with many stocks up from two to more than 20 points. The greatest gain was in Texas Company, which opened with an advance of 20 1/2 points to 290 and made an additional gain to 292, or 22 1/2 points above yesterday's close. Atlantic Gulf advanced eight points in the first few minutes to 177.

The Marine issues moved up to new high levels for the movement, the Preferred advancing 2 1/2 to 120 1/2 which makes a new high record when the 10 per cent extra dividend is considered. The common stock advanced 7/8 to 47 1/2.

There was an urgent demand for Steel Common, based on the news of an open market for finished products, and that market leader rose nearly two points to 101 1/2, the highest price since the April dividend meeting. Central Leather made a gain of two points to 86 and American Sugar Refining rose 1 1/2 to 134 1/2.

The copper stocks were fractionally higher. There was urgent buying of many of the railroad stocks first 15 minutes selling at new high prices for the year and making new high records.

Price movements during the forenoon continued in an extremely sensational character. Violent advances were made in many issues and Texas Company sold up to 292, while at the shipping issues were in urgent demand, United Fruit advancing 12 points to 189, while Atlantic Gulf rose eight and one half points to 177 1/2. Marine Preferred made a gain of over two points, to 120 1/2. Central Leather moved up four points to 88 3/4.

REAL BROOM ROMANCE HAS BEEN DUG UP BY CHICAGOAN.

Chicago, Ill., May 9.—Mathematicians and statisticians aver that figures are romantic, and some people find it hard to believe, but an employee of the Chicago Public Library has evolved through research a positive romance of the broom.

The indispensable old household utensil with which mother swept the dust out of corners, cobwebs off the rafters, and chased Towser out of the kitchen, must now stand in the group of immortals, even as it stands in every clean kitchen.

Witchcraft is the basis of this book-worm's theme, and everyone knows that no self-respecting witch ever scudded across the face of the moon or forced Paddy Murphy to sign a pledge unless she rode on a broom.

There were good witches and bad witches here avert. Some were good to good people and bad to bad people, and they all rode on brooms. And the broom was originally called a besom in the days when honest-to-goodness witches fitted through the atmosphere.

Good witches invariably made their besoms from twigs of a shrub that abounds on the downs and commons of the British Isles, which for centuries has been called broom, and for which certain medicinal qualities were claimed.

Therefore, the ancient British housewife essayed a triple play by making her besom from the same broom twigs used by good witches. With it she kept her house clean, kept her household faithful and warded off evil spirits.

Cleanliness and benevolence, became unbreakably linked with the twigs used and in due time the utensil itself became known as a broom.

The name is today universal among English speaking people.

This young historian further maintains that the ancient and modern housewife have the same basic idea, because wherever you find brooms you find clean, healthful housemaids, and it all dates back to the Ancient and Honorable Order of Witches.

In the cities they are lodging to the lovely songs of the birds and the odor of freshly turned up earth, while in the country they are lodging for the white lights and the excitement of the crowd.

THE ITALIAN VIEW.

Rome, May 9.—Italian newspapers commenting upon the peace terms today expressed the belief that Germany would accept them.

The Corriere D'Italia criticizes the clause prohibiting a future alliance between Germany and Austria, because of the danger of a new Austrian empire threatening Italy.

STRIKE LEADERS IN PLOT TO MURDER, SAYS O'BRIEN

Evidence to be Presented Grand Jury in the Case of Men Responsible for Lawrence Outrages.

Lawrence, Mass., May 9.—That evidence against about a dozen of the strike leaders accused by a former member of the strike committee with being in a conspiracy to commit murder and to play other acts of violence will probably be presented to the Essex County Grand Jury which convenes next week in Newburyport, was stated today by City Marshal O'Brien as a result of the information secured through the grilling of the strike leaders for six hours last evening.

The Marshal says that John Daltua, the accused, gave the police startling testimony concerning the inflammatory speeches made at strike committee meetings by these leaders, preaching violence and murder. He said that, according to the story at a meeting of the strike leaders, held on Sunday, April 27, it was planned to create riots the next day and it was proposed to have some one kill the city marshal during the excitement. The significant part of the matter is that very serious disorders did occur on that Monday and an attempt was made, on the life of the City Marshal, several shots being fired at his automobile.

That some of the strikers were opposed to the conduct of the strike by out of town agitators and that there was considerable feeling against these non-resident members of the strike committee was also reported to the police.

The marshal says that the police have reason to believe that strikers themselves, who are opposed to these leaders, were the ones who planned the kidnaping of Nathan Kleinman and Anthony Capraro.

The strike leaders were grilled about the kidnaping and the alleged plot to create a reign of terror. The accused confronted the leaders and charged them in the presence of the police with ordering these disorders carried out.

Daltua says that while he was a member of the strike committee, he, himself, following orders, participated in act of violence.

It is alleged that the conspiracy also involved the assassination of Governor Coolidge because of his refusal to meet a strike committee that went to the state house several weeks ago.

WATKINS BROTHERS AND TRUST CO. TO MOVE UP TOWN

was the fear they would not have land enough in the rear for future expansion but this was cleared away through the purchase of the extra land by the J. W. Hale Company with the understanding that it would subsequently be sold to Watkins Brothers.

Tenants Seeking Locations.

C. Elmore Watkins, head of the store of Watkins Brothers, said this morning that they would begin the work of remodeling the Ferris corner as soon as the present tenants could be disposed of. J. H. Quinn & Co., who have a drug store on the corner, have the hardest nut to crack. They have been established there for a long term of years and have the largest drug and prescription trade in town. They carry a heavy stock. They held their store under a lease but a clause in the lease provided for its cancellation in case the building was damaged by fire. They are therefore now left at the mercy of the owners and, with every building on Main street packed full to overflowing with tenants, have no place to go. Mr. Watkins realizes the dilemma in which the drug company is placed and will extend to it every possible consideration during its efforts to find a new location.

Old Firm May Dissolve.

Ferris Brothers, who occupied the greater part of the ground floor, will remove what remains of their stock as soon as possible. The real estate and the business were held by the heirs of the late William S. Ferris. The estate will probably be distributed at this time and the active members of the firm may decide to reorganize and continue the business in a new location. The north store in the Ferris block was occupied by the Herald Printing Company as a branch office. This company has for the past year and a half sub-let a part of the store to the War Bureau. Since the fire the War Bureau has been temporarily located in the store of the J. W. Hale Company and as its activities are now drawing to a close not much concern will be felt as to its future location. The Herald Printing Company has no place in view.

Watkins Brothers' Plans.

Watkins Brothers' plans include the covering of a plot 70 feet on Main street and 132 feet on Oak street with a three story brick building with all the facilities for carrying on a large furniture business. Whether they will remodel the Ferris block or move it away and erect an entirely new building in its place they have not yet decided. In either event they will fill the entire Main street front and a part of the Oak street front with plate glass show windows. Should they rebuild the Ferris block they will retain their present building at the corner of Main and School streets for their undertaking department and for storage. Should they decide to move the Ferris block back they would sell the School street building and use the old Ferris block for storage.

Bank's New Home.

On the vacant lot next north of the Ferris block the Manchester Trust Company will build as soon as possible. R. LaMotte Russell said this forenoon that the bank had been doing business in cramped quarters and with imperfect facilities for the past two or three years and that it was now the intention of the directors to erect a model banking house to be used exclusively for a bank and to be large enough to meet the needs of the company for years to come. The lot has a frontage of 45 feet on Main street and a depth of 132 feet. Mr. Russell says that the new building will be of a dignified type of architecture and a credit to the town. Plans will be drawn at once and it is hoped the bank will be ready for occupancy by the first of January.

The Hale Addition.

The addition to the store of the J. W. Hale Company will extend back on Oak street 38 feet to the Circle theater and will extend south in L fashion, behind the store of C. E. House & Son 108 feet. This addition will be practically three stories high as the slope of the ground to the east will give a full story below the Main floor, and there will be one above it. It will give the J. W. Hale Company double its present floor space and permit the enlargement of various departments as well as the addition of new ones.

AUSTRIANS TO GET TREATY ON MONDAY.
Paris, May 9.—The peace terms will be handed to the Austrian envoys at the historic castle of St. Germaine on Monday, the Central News learned this afternoon.

MISSING TRANS-OCEAN FLYERS ARE SAFE

Lieutenant Commander Read said he was not sure that repairs on the motor could be completed today. He felt sure, however, that the N. C-4 would be able to take the air for the flight back to Rockaway Beach by tomorrow morning at the latest.

N. C-1 AND N. C-3 HELD UP BY WEATHER AT HALIFAX

Ended First Leg of Trip Last Evening—May Stay There Two or Three Days.

New York, May 9.—The United States naval seaplanes N.C-1 and N.C-3, which completed the first leg of the trans-Atlantic flight last night, will remain at Halifax for two or three days, awaiting the arrival of the damaged N.C-4, according to a statement given out by the government radio bureau here today. The N.C-4, it was said, will remain at Chatham, Mass., instead of returning to Rockaway Beach for repairs, and will continue on to Halifax as soon as her engine is in shape.

The crews of the N.C-1 and the N.C-3 remained aboard the United States cruiser Baltimore, their supply ship, all night. They retired early and were astir at daybreak this morning, eager to resume the flight.

The fuel tanks of both seaplanes were replenished, mechanics gave them a final looking over and everything was in readiness for the 460 mile trip to Trepassy. Commander Towers said the flight to Trepassy would require not more than seven hours if the seaplanes encountered the same weather prevailing here all the way.

Four American destroyers which had been stationed here, lifted anchors early today and set out to sea. Whether they were enroute to take up stations between here and Trepassy or had turned southward to assist in the search for the N.C-4 was not known.

BRITISH LABOR AGAINST TREATY.

London, May 9.—The peace treaty terms are not completely acceptable to British labor, according to a manifesto made public here today.

Objection is made to the separation of the Saar Valley from Germany, while it is asserted that there should be a plebiscite in German-Austria to allow the people to decide their own fate.

It is declared that the treaty does not conform entirely with labor's conception, but was evidently influenced "by capitalism and imperialism."

And now to pay--

The Glory of Evening Wraps

The glory of evening wraps has returned. Sumptuous is a good word to use in describing them; they combine the richness of costly brocades and velvets with the handsomest furs, and extravagance in furs is written into the history of this winter's fashions. But extravagance in furs is not recklessness; they have intrinsic value, like jewels or fine oriental rugs. The woman who owns good furs should cherish them, for it seems inevitable that they must advance in price. There is nothing in apparel that may be remodeled more successfully or that gives such a certain return in satisfaction upon the required investment as good furs.

Such a thing as a furless wrap is hardly to be found. In evening wraps ample fur collars are the rule, but there are gorgeous models in which wide borders of fur divide honors with regal fabrics in the body of the wrap. These wraps are full, voluminous, the style fitting the character of stuffs used for making them. A good example, not an extreme, but a handsome wrap, appears in the style shown in the picture above. Huge silver roses on a dark satin ground make the lovely brocade of which this capelle wrap is fashioned. Nothing could look better with it than the luxuriant collar of dark, glossy and long-haired fox fur that finishes it. This collar fairly invites its wearer to cuddle down into it and makes a beautiful background for the evening dress it reveals when thrown back from the shoulders.

The dress in this particular instance appears to be of black satin and black velvet, which is a happy choice to wear with a glorious wrap. One must know where to leave off in the use of color. Everything in the toilette pictured is commendable; the neatness of the collure and all the care of details which insures exquisite finish.

600 MOULDERS STRIKE.

Worcester, Mass., May 9.—Six hundred Worcester moulders employed in 14 Worcester foundries are out on strike today to secure a new wage scale of $5.80 for an eight hour day, retroactive to October 1.

This scale was the one decided upon by the War Labor Board to which the men submitted their grievances last fall. The foundry owners who have had no dealings with the War Labor Board, have refused to accept the decision of that board upon the advice of their attorneys.

The moulders are being led by Nicholas Smith, of Cincinnati, an international vice president.

GETS MEDAL OF HONOR.

New York, May 9.—Major General John F. O'Brien, formerly commander of the Twenty Seventh Division, announced today that he had just been officially informed by the Adjutant General of the Army that First Lieutenant William Bradford Turner, of Boston, who was killed in action near Ronsoy, France, September 27, 1918, has been awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. The medal is for "conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty," during the action in which he met his death.

CAR RUNS WILD.

New Haven, May 9.—According to information received here today a Courier touring car, Connecticut license No. 62,472, according to the State Automobile Register owned by Stephen Gerent, of West Rocky Hill, ran through the gates at the Hartford Turnpike crossing on the electric road at East Berlin late last night, smashing the gates and steps of car 3288, of the electric train leaving Berlin at 11.29 and due in Middletown at 11.55. So far as reported no one was injured.

ST. LOUIS "OVER TOP."

St. Louis, Mo., May 9.—The eighth federal reserve district including this city went over the top in the Victory Loan campaign today.

No figures have been given out as yet.

KILLED AT BORDER.

Laredo, Texas, May 9.—Immigration Inspector Charles Hopkins was killed and two other officers were seriously wounded early today in a battle between immigration and customs officials and a band of Mexican smugglers.

U. S. WILL NEED 500,000 MEN TO PROTECT FRANCE

This is if Germany Should Attack Her—But Terms of Peace Will Keep Her Powerless for a Generation.

Washington, May 9.—Should Germany recuperate sufficiently to launch another attack on France, the United States would have to have, in addition to the standing army now contemplated, an additional force of between 100,000 and 500,000 men to give France effective and speedy assistance.

This is the opinion expressed by officials here today in discussing President Wilson's proposal that the United States pledge herself to go to the aid of France if she is again attacked by the Huns.

But it is felt here that Germany has been so denuded of military power by the terms of peace that she will not be able to take the warpath again, at least for a generation. For that period, the proposed American army of 500,000 men, officials said, would be sufficient to carry out such a pledge to France.

DESERTION PLOT UNEARTHED.

London, May 9.—A plot for wholesale desertions from the British army was uncovered by Scotland Yard officers today.

Eight military camps are involved. Literature was found urging men to desert who had entered the service under the scheme inaugurated when Lord Derby was Secretary of War.

C-5 FINISHES TRIP.

Montuk Point, L. I., May 9.—The navy dirigible C-5, which left Cape May, N. J., under sealed orders last night, was in her hangar here today, having completed the 210 mile flight in five hours. Officers generally scouted the report that the balloon was to be started on a trans-Atlantic flight. They said she would have to be equipped with special tanks for such a journey.

TONIGHT WILL DECIDE.

New York, May 9.—The "eternal question" as to whether Marín Plestina, heavyweight wrestler, is good enough to go to the mat with Wiklak Zbyszko, "Strangler" Lewis or Joe Starcher, will be settled tonight at Madison Square Garden when Plestina meets Jack Taylor, the Canadian champion.

BACK TO THE KITCHEN MOVEMENT.

They tell a story of an old Irishman who died. He was laid out in his best togs in a handsome casket in the parlor or best room of his late home. Among the mourners was an old chum. As he passed the casket and looked down at the features of his departed friend he said: "Poor Mike! At last they let you come into the front room."
That illustrates a sort of reverse evolution that goes on in many American homes these days. As the husband and father grows older, there is a sort of "back to the kitchen" movement in progress. It works so slowly that the "old man" is hardly conscious of it. In his waking hours he is shunted from room to room until he reaches the kitchen, where he spends the last years of his life. As to sleeping, his bedroom is shifted from year to year and by the time his children are in the twenties he is sleeping in a little eight by ten bedroom.

This is so common an occurrence that it causes little or no comment. One may see it every day and almost everywhere.

Why is this thus?

AIRFLIGHT ENCOURAGING.

The first leg of the transatlantic air flight was covered yesterday without loss of life or serious mishap. Two out of three planes which left Rockaway yesterday forenoon arrived safely in Halifax in the early evening after a pleasant journey of nine hours, the distance covered being 525 miles. The third was ~~downed by engine trouble~~ about 100 miles north of Cape Cod but was able during the night to make its way back to Chatham Beach on the Cape without aid.

The day's experience was, on the whole, encouraging to the practice of aviation, for it proved that machines in good condition could be depended on to make a safe journey across a broad expanse of ocean and it proved what is more encouraging, that the naval planes will ride safely on the water if forced to come down. The two planes which reached Halifax last night arrived in good condition and started on the second leg today. With good luck they should be at the final American jumping off place tonight.

BUSINESS CONGESTION.

The Evening Herald has for several weeks been talking about new buildings for Main street and urging contractors to assemble their gangs of workmen to be ready for the big jobs which were to come. With the real estate developments made public today the tide is set in motion. So congested has been the business district that for some time it has been a three-in-a-bed proposition; one could not move without making a stir among the others. With Watkins Brothers coming up town and occupying a prominent block in the heart of the business district, the old tenants of the block are forced to find new locations. They are confronted by a line of fully occupied buildings with not even a hole in the wall which they can enter.

New business buildings on Main street are imperatively needed and from present indications they will be forthcoming in a hurry.

THE NEW HOSPITAL.

The picture and the description of the proposed Memorial Hospital which we present today show that the hospital committee have done their work well. The project was started as a memorial to Manchester's soldiers and sailors who lost their lives in the war. That is what the building will be, primarily. A bronze tablet bearing the roster of the heroic dead will be conspicuously placed in the vestibule. But when it comes to equipment or additions there may be other memorials established in remembrance of private individuals and even of children by those who have loved and lost and who know what a boon the hospital service is to mankind.

The new Manchester Memorial Hospital will be on a beautiful site, it will be homelike in its arrangements and will be perfect in its Newspapers are cautions in their comments on the peace treaty. Editors will have to give some time to the study of a document of 80,000 words before they can criticize it intelligently. The complete treaty would make about 70 columns in the Evening Herald.

THREE TRANSPORTS DOCK WITH 10,000 MORE MEN

Mongolia, Great Northern and Santa Cecilia—The Units Aboard.
New York, May 9.—Three transports, bringing about 10,000 men, arrived today. The arrivals with the units aboard were:
Mongolia—From St. Nazaire, April 28, with 4,065 men, including 53rd Field Artillery Brigade Headquarters, ten officers and 55 enlisted men; 107th Field Artillery Field and Staff, Headquarters, First and Second Battalion Headquarters, Headquarters and Supply Companies, Ordnance and Sanitary Detachments, Veterinary Units 7 and 8, Batteries A to F, inclusive, 38 officers and 1,568 enlisted men; 103rd Sanitary Train Headquarters, Headquarters Ambulance Section, Medical Sanitary Train, Ambulance Companies 109 to 112, inclusive, Headquarters Field Hospital section, Field Hospitals 109 to 112, inclusive, 17 officers and 855 enlisted men; 103rd Engineers Detachment, nine officers and 10 enlisted men; 28th Division Headquarters, three officers and four enlisted men; Fifth Salvage Company, two officers and 23 enlisted men; 11th Casual Company, Transportation Corps, Casual Companies Numbers 667, California; 668, Washington; 672, Iowa; 674, New Jersey; Special Casual Companies Numbers 669 and 673; sick and wounded, 48 officers and 32 enlisted men.

Great Northern—From Brest, May 2, with 2,971 men, including 158th Infantry, (less Third Battalion), 75 officers and 2,062 enlisted men; 63rd Infantry Brigade Headquarters, two officers and 21 enlisted men; Brest Convalescent Detachments numbers 225 to 230, inclusive, 750 enlisted men, all sick or wounded; 38 casual officers.

Santa Cecilia—From Bordeaux, April 27, with 2,002 men, including 307th Engineers Headquarters Company Sanitary and Ordnance Detachments, Companies B to F inclusive, 32 officers and 1,199 enlisted men; 325th Infantry First Battalion Headquarters, Companies A, B, and C, ten officers and 744 enlisted men; 35th Special Casual Company, 308th Bordeaux Convalescent Detachment, ten enlisted men, all sick or wounded.

The Great Northern docked in Hoboken with members of the famous 125th Regiment of the Thirty-second division after making a record breaking trip across the Atlantic and return. She left New York April 25 and returned exactly 13 days and 43 minutes later. She spent only six hours at Brest this trip, the shortest period of any transport in the war.

The 125th was engaged in some of the hardest fighting of the last six months of the war and had 3,400 replacements. It is made up mostly of Detroit men, former Michigan national guardsmen. They fought in Alsace, on the Vesle, at Juvigny and later in the Argonne.

ENCROACH 'ON GAME OF BURGLARS AND GET CAUGHT.

Springfield, Ill., May 9.—"Butting" in on a burglar's game cost Elmer W. Norris and Pete Rinkoff, of Collinsville, their freedom. Learning through newspapers George R. Hart, St. Louis, who was recently robbed of valuable property, was advertising for the return of some of the articles, they conceived the idea to send Hart a letter requesting him to mail $10 to an address and the papers would be returned. But then the tenacity of the law stretched forth. Hart mailed the money to the address after informing the Federal authorities, who were present when it was delivered. The two were taken into custody and confessed the scheme. They were held on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

The Oriental mind is a queer animal, and here we have China pretending that she can't understand why she should be the spoils of war simply because Japan helped lick Germany.

While there is life there is hope for everybody but the undertaker.

NO NEED FOR UNIFORMS FOR PARADE REHEARSAL

Soldiers and Sailors to Appear in Civilian Attire—As to Hats for the Parade.
In regard to our Welcome Home celebration an announcement recently made stated that at the rehearsal which is scheduled for Thursday evening, May 15th, two days prior to the parade, all who desired to participate should appear in full military uniform. Announcement was also made that in the parade of Saturday, the men should wear overseas hats.

It appears that the committee of five in charge of the plans of the Army and Navy club, wished the announcement to read that the parade rehearsal of Thursday evening will not be a dress affair. The men are asked to appear in civilian clothes, the rehearsal being arranged for the purpose of getting a line on the formation for Saturday's parade. Another matter of special importance is the fact that the parade will not be confined to overseas men. Every local man who has seen service, no matter what the nature, whether abroad or at home is requested to appear on Thursday evening.

The request that all appear on Thursday evening and that those who did not appear would be forced to parade in a "casual" company, was made because of the fact that the committee's time for "preparations" was limited. Consequently the formation of the various marching divisions would have to be perfected on the evening of the rehearsal. The divisions will be formed in accordance with the wishes of the men. Local soldiers and sailors who do not have their uniforms at the present time should communicate with Captain Phillip Cheney or Ensign Harry Maidment and a uniform will be furnished.

The parade will of course, be of a strict military nature. Those who do not have the overseas "hats," are requested to wear the campaign hat or the ones worn at the camps.

BALKAN COUNTRIES ARE NOW BEING CARED FOR BY AMERICAN RED CROSS.

Belgrade, Serbia, May 9.—There has been an American invasion of Jugo-Slav territory. In every city from Durazzo, in Albania, to Strumitz, in Serbia, and reaching from Belgrade to Zagreb, the jewel of Jugo-Slavia, American Red Cross officers, doctors and nurses and representatives of the Food Administration and of the Army, may be seen. All are engaged in the big task of feeding and clothing the people in the areas which have suffered most by the war. The United States has been likened to a beautiful mother caring for a flock of small children—the children being the many Balkan countries comprising what one day will be a greater Jugo-Slavia.

At a hundred points in Serbia, Montenegro, Albania, Bosnia, Herzegovina and Croatia the American Red Cross is giving the people a taste of American generosity. Food, clothing, shoes and medicine are being distributed to the destitute; American doctors and nurses are caring for the sick and wounded. By their work and their example these Americans are inculcating in the Slav new ideas of thrift, self-help, cleanliness and honesty, which must have a lasting influence.

The population of these countries is made up of Serbians, Croats, Mohammedans and many diverse races. The intense religious and party differences that have existed for years have been forgotten in a common enthusiasm for the liberty and freedom of Jugo-Slavia. The individual ambitions of the different Slav countries have been sacrificed in a desire to keep Italy from obtaining Dalmatia or any part of the Eastern Adriatic coast. The eyes of all are turned to President Wilson and America, whom they regard as the greatest sponsors for the unity and integrity of the Slavic nations.

AKRON, O., COPS STUMBLE ONTO "CUTE" BABY STILL.

Akron, Ohio, May 9.—Although not looking for it, local police ran onto the "cutest little still" in the cellar of the home of Lerlo Davis. They had suspected Davis of bootlegging and while making the search found the still in operation. They confiscated twenty gallons of 100 proof whiskey, one hundred pounds of raisins and a copper boiler containing about ten gallons of raisin pomace. Brandy was found ready for the market and all of the things that go to make up a "baby distillery" were in evidence.

AIRSHIP LETTER HOAX GIVES YANKS A LAUGH.
Atlanta, Ga., May 9.—Returning soldiers, full of joy at the thought of home-coming, loss no chance aboard ships to crack a joke or poke fun at the susceptibles. Captain Will Roberts came upon a lieutenant busily re-reading for the fiftieth time a batch of letters from a girl in Atlanta.

"Where'd you get all that mail?" asked Captain Roberts.

"Why, didn't you hear about the airplane that passed over the boat a few hours ago and dropped our mail on the deck?" said the lieutenant. "Go down to the purser and get yours."

Roberts spread the good news and the purser was besieged by dozens demanding letters that "came by airship."

Sharon, Pa., May 9.—Neither the New Testament nor his mother's picture, warded off the Hun bullet that pierced the heart of Private Alexander Patterson. Among the personal effects received by the family are a copy of the New Testament given by the Y. M. C. A. overseas, a photograph of his mother and a fountain pen, all damaged by one bullet.

Manchester Memorial Hospital

MANCHESTER'S NEW MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

ed. Attractive features on this floor are a large recreation room and a sewing room for the nurses.

Going back to the basement we find all the mechanics of the hospital. The boiler room and laundry are located in the north wing with the coal bins under the porch. At the other end of the basement are the kitchen and the nurses' and servants' dining rooms. There is also ample room for storage, an X-Ray and plaster cast room, toilets, etc.

The intention is to build the hospital of red brick with stone foundation and trimmings and slate roof. Safety from fire is insured by 12 inch brick partitions separating the wings from the central part of the building. The hallways and staircases are also protected by brick walls. The basement staircase and the elevator will be of fire proof construction.

The entire cost of the building is estimated at between $75,000 and $80,000. The equipment will cost approximately $20,000 more and $50,000 additional will be needed to guarantee expenses for two years, so it is felt that no less than $150,000 will be needed to warrant beginning construction. If the town shows it wants this hospital by its contributions the week of the drive, May 19 to May 26, the hospital will be built at once.

TAGGING THE BASES

Thanks to the generosity of a bewildered Giant crew, the Boston Braves hopped into the winning column for the first time this season.

The Pirates won their first home victory by walloping the Cards who were held to five hits by Hamilton. Bob Shaykey held the Athletics to one hit and Duffy Lewis, the world's series hero, sent Pratt in ahead of him by a circuit clout in the Yanks' two scores.

The Braves' victory was the first they have won on the Polo Grounds since September, 1917, and only the second victory they have won from New York since the same year.

Tommy Griffiths was the hero of the Dodgers' defeat of the Phillies. His double put McGee in a position to make the first score and his homer in the third gave the Dodgers their second and final run.

Griffiths has batted .440 in eleven games. In fifty times up he has landed 14 singles, five doubles, two triples and a homer, a total of 22 hits for a total of 34 bases.

The White Sox tightened their grip on first place when, in the eighth inning with Cleveland, Jackson's single, with runners on second and third clinched the game.

Barry's remarkable fielding held the spotlight in the Senators' shut out at the hands of the Red Sox.

Milan, of Washington, leaves the team tonight to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The high school baseball team will go to Hartford tomorrow to play the St. Thomas baseball team of that place. The Manchester nine has been practicing hard for this contest because St. Thomas has one of the best teams that they will play this season. Last year St. M. H. S. beat St. Thomas by the score of 9-5. The team is confident that it will be able to defeat its rivals again tomorrow.

St. Thomas is an unusually hard hitting team. It was the team's ability to hit the ball on the nose that gave them their overwhelming victory over Bristol High school last Saturday.

Glenny will do the twirling for Manchester and his skill in the box needs no introduction. Wright will do the receiving. Fox will be found at short stop and as he has filled this position before he will be able to do it justice. Turkington will cover first base. This is Turkington's first year with the team but he has played stellar ball in previous contests and shown his worth.

"Bobbie" Crockett will be on second where he has played the last three years. Beechler will cover third. This is a new position for Beechler but he has the ability to play third and he will no doubt cover it in A-1 style. Sandis will be in left field and the ball will have to be hit hard to get beyond him. Ballsieper will play center field and Lynch will cover right field and F. Finnegan, utility man.

With a line-up like this the high school ought to be able to give St. Thomas a hard battle.

Some of the caterpillars found in the region of the Darling river in Australia are over six inches in length.

SUNDAY GAMES.

Athletics Have Booked Three Exceptionally Fast Teams.

Manager Dowd of the Athletics announces that he has secured three of the fastest semi-professional baseball outfits in this state for local appearance. These three teams are; the Eagles of Hartford; the famous Elm City Colored Giants of New Haven and the crack New Britain Annex aggregation from the Hardware City. The games will be played at the Mt. Nebo grounds on Sunday afternoons. The first game will be played Sunday with the Eagles.

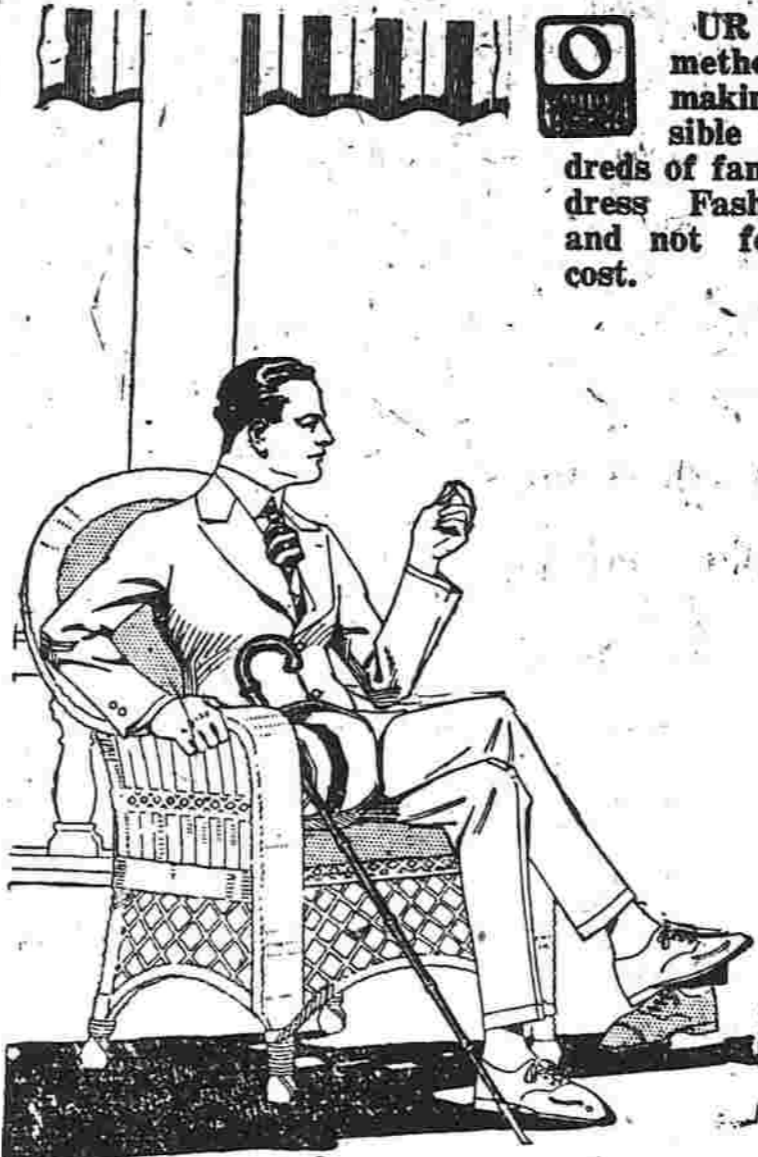

This Eagle team is composed of the cream of Hartford's semi-professional stars. Either "Dutch" Leonard or Fannon will pitch for the city team and Butler will catch. Sipples, Brennan or Warnock is scheduled for local mound duty with either Crockett or Lamprecht on the receiving end.

On Sunday the 18th, the Athletics will have for their rivals, the Elm City Colored Giants of New Haven considered to be one of the fastest colored teams in New England. Manager Dowd booked this outfit in response to the demands of local fans. The colored players are not only fast baseball players, but comedians as well and it is expected that attendance records will be shattered at this game.

The Athletic management also wishes to call attention to an announcement made by Manager Edwards of the Hudson's in this paper a few nights ago. Manager Edwards announced that his team would play the Annex team of New Britain at the West side playgrounds on Sunday, May 25th. Evidently the letter received by Edwards from the Annex management was intended for Manager Dowd of the Athletics as he has been negotiating for the appearance of the Hardware City ball tossers. Last evening he received a telegram notifying him of the error and he wishes to state that the New Britain Annex will play the Athletics on May 25th, instead of the Hudsons.

BOWLEGS ARE CAUSED BY DEARTH OF MILK.

Pittsburgh, May 9.—Bowlegs in growing children are caused by lack of milk. Walking at too early an age or too often has nothing to do with it. So declares County Agriculturist N. S. Grubbs. He says that scientific investigations show that all children should have milk, one quart a day at least, from the time they walk until they are full grown.

KING, QUEEN AND PRINCE OF WALES DELVING INTO HOUSING QUESTION, EACH PLANNING QUICK RESULTS THRU PERSONAL OBSERVATION

London, (by mail).—The royal family is taking its slumming seriously. From outward appearances, King George is going to get better houses for the working people or bust a gallus. In that endeavor his enthusiasm is all but exceeded by that of the heir-apparent, the Prince of Wales. And the widely heralded ambition of these two regal personages will have to get a hustle on if it is not to be outdone by the efforts of Queen Mary, who has gone into the by-ways of Bethnal Green, a slum district of London, and obtained first hand information of how a considerable number of British subjects really live.

Picture papers of wide circulation show separate excursions by the King, Queen, or the Prince inspecting cheerless rows of drab houses on some ill-kept street that might pass for Hogan's Alley, America, and chatting with a be-aproned housewife surrounded by a flock of kiddies or, possibly, bending over a wash-tub. And the royal person and the loyal British housewife then and there exchange amenities over living in a hovel where the bathroom consists of said wash-tub placed in the middle of the kitchen, where a cramped bedroom furnishes sleeping accommodations for four or more, where the kiddies' playground is the street and the backyard is too small and dark to permit grass to grow.

When there are large areas like that in every large city, when such conditions have been the subject of

But now the government has decided to compel each local community to solve its housing problem to the entire satisfaction of the state. A bill which soon will be law will require every local authority to prepare within three months a housing scheme, specifying the number and character of the houses, land to be acquired and the time within which the scheme is to be carried out. The State has power to act if the local authority is negligent. Provision will be made for granting financial assistance toward erection of houses to local authorities or public utility societies. Speculation in land sites is forbidden. Local authorities also will have power to acquire houses and alter or enlarge them. The State can help pay the cost of building working-class homes in any city if it chooses. It is officially estimated the State will have to bear an annual rent deficit on these houses of some $32,000,000.

Cottages for farm laborers are not to be neglected. Some $125,000,000 probably will be made available for this purpose during the next five years. Dr. Christopher Addison, President of the Local Government Board, which will be in charge of this housing programme, estimates that some 300,000 houses will be completed within two years. Various schemes for house-building are expected to swamp within a year the supply of materials and workmen available for such enterprises. Ninety local authorities already have submitted plans for houses and every encouragement is to be given, then so work can be started at once. Some 460 applications for sites have been received from various cities which will provide about 90,000 houses.

King Edward said twenty years ago: "There is no question at present of greater social importance than the housing of the working classes. We must sympathize with those who lament that greater progress has not been made in the solution of the difficulties which surround this question. . . . But one thing is certain—that the difficulties must be surmounted."

It may be remarked that this is the first time that a King of England has been so genuinely interested in the housing question and the first time that King George has so actively interested himself in a progressive social reform measure of such wide portent. And the frequent visits of the Prince of Wales, who sometimes has a neighborhood escort—a sort of chairman, as it were—and of Queen Mary and her daughter, into slumdom are without precedent in court life.

But it must be remembered that the present royal family is more democratic than any of its forebears.

YANKS IN ARCHANGEL PAY $7.50 FOR A SANDWICH.

Meysdale, Pa., May 9.—Lieutenant H. G. Collins, Medical Corps, United States Army, writing from Archangel, says:

"Everything the boys get here comes from the British, and mighty high figures they have to pay. We are equipped by the British from top to bottom, but Uncle Sam will have to pay the bill. I mention this to put you on your guard when you see magazines with pictures of our wonderful equipment such as I have seen published in magazines from the States. These pictures must have been posed for in some comfortable studio before Cook's expedition. Although our equipment is not beautiful in any way, it is quite comfortable for ordinary conditions, but for fighting it is too heavy and cumbersome."

Lieutenant Collins says it costs $7.50 for a sandwich and a cup of coffee and 60 kopeks for fare on a street car.

BEARDS IN UKRAINE O. K., BUT NOT IN CHICAGO PLANT.

Chicago, May 9.—Years ago, when Joe Bochna came out of the Ukraine, his chin was festooned with the first curling tendrils of maturity.

In that land where a man's spiritual progress is registered by the length of his beard Joe was looked upon as a promising youngster. The villagers allowed he would be a saint, that is, if the barbers did not get him. And in the Ukraine the barber is not.

Joe came to this country, where he groomed his beard until it grew and grew and grew, finally reaching a length where it made a practical napkin or bib. Then he went to work in the plant of the Westinghouse Electric Company.

He soon found the beard, so much admired in the Ukraine, did not make such a hit in this country. Two fellow employees caught him—clip, clip—Joe was as beardless as a schoolboy. Joseph Miller was accused, arrested, and is now at liberty under $5,000 bond.

Punching The Bag

Old Ping Bodie offered an alibi recently for left fielders that rings true and gives the average baseball bug some food for thought.

Ping was shifted at the time from left to center field by Manager Miller Huggins, of the Yankees, and he declared he was mighty glad of the change.

"What's the idea you're mighty glad to play center?" asked a scribe. "That's a cinch tuh answer," returned Ping with a grin. "Center field is easy on the eyes, like September Morn or something."

"Now, get me," continued the man who covers lots of ground sitting down; "what I mean to say is that in left field you are, always looking in to the sun and you get razzled-dazzled in the vision. Result, when you come in to take your turn at bat, you are out of luck if you happen to be the first man up, and even though you don't, things sometimes look hazy to you if the sun is strong. I figure that playing left field knocks about 25 to 30 per cent of an outfielder's hitting. I'm certain it's been that way with me, and I wouldn't be surprised if other players who have covered left field would tell you the same thing."

"Playing center field is different. You seldom have to look into the sun, and there's no hazy film in front of you when you're trying to see what's coming up to the plate."

Ping's argument is a sound one, to say the least. Even with smoked glasses to wear when the sun is burning down at its brightest the left fielder, unless he has an abnormal pair of "glims," must find things looking hazy after he has peeped into the eye of Old Sol a couple of times, only to be called on to romp into the bench, pick up a bat and face real jazzy pitching.

In swinging on a pitched ball the batter must meet it as nearly squarely as possible to get the best results. If he hits the ball on top he will knock it down to the infield or foul it off. If he hits a little under the point which should be the center of contact when bat meets ball, up she goes. But if he meets the ball squarely something is going to happen, and in this case it all depends on what kind of a pitched ball he is swinging at. If it is high, low, wide, or on the inside it takes a different direction, and judging it is part of the batter's art. That's why Ping's pointer is so logical, and when you figure that the average major league pitcher has a lot of steam on the pill you can imagine what chance a batter with two eyes full of sun glare has with a wingster who knows his business.

COMMERCIAL COURSES LEAD.

Over 500 Disabled Soldiers Will Become Efficient Business Men.

Washington, May 9.—Commercial education still holds one of the leading places among the disabled soldiers being reeducated by the Federal Board for Vocational Education. These courses embrace general office practice, stenography, typewriting, bookkeeping, cost accounting, general secretarial work, and the like, as well as some special courses in salesmanship, office management, etc. Most of these courses are being given in business colleges throughout the country, and wherever possible the disabled man is placed in an institution as near his home as possible, where he will become familiar with business conditions and business practices in that particular locality. These men are allowed a support fund of at least $65 a month while taking the courses, with allowance for their dependents, if any. All tuition fees and other incidental fees of whatever description are paid by the Federal Board, as well as transportation to and from the institution, and upon completion of the course the placement division of the Federal Board will have found employment for the men who have thus graduated and are ready to take one.

COMBINED AGES OF BRIDE AND BRIDEGROOM IS 52.

Cottonwood Falls, Kan., May 9.—The youngest married couple in the state in point of years, if not in the country, is the record claimed here for Harry C. Brown, of this city, and his bride, Alveta Beber, of Emporia. The combined ages of the two is less than thirty-two years.

Harry reached his sixteenth birthday a few weeks before he married. His bride is less than sixteen. When he went to the courthouse he was accompanied by his mother, who had given her consent to the marriage. The bride furnished a written statement from her guardian, Mrs. Esther Van Grundy, that she consented to the marriage.

EUROPEAN GIRLS WHO CHASE YANKS FOR HUSBANDS ARE SHORT ON U. S. GEOGRAPHY; SOME DUE FOR AWAKENING

New York, May 9.—What's going to happen when a Parisian "poulet" meets Cynthiana, Ky., or a London lass "lamps" Mankato, Minn., for the first time?

That's what some of the war welfare workers who have been meeting and consoling some war brides arriving here with or without their husbands from overseas want to know. In some cases, they frankly admit, there is going to be a disillusionment and the little Parisienne who married a Yankee after a short romance centering around a cafe is going to save enough francs to get back to mother. But in others the girls who came from big cities in foreign lands are going to settle down and make themselves right at home. The great majority of the soldiers who married French or English girls abroad come from small towns or farms in the West and Middle West.

Some of the brides have confessed frankly that they married "just for the trip." They wanted to see America and "hoped the marriage would turn out all right." Others said they were swept away by the tempestuous wooing of the Yankees.

Practically all the war brides are short on American geography. They know about as much about the relative location of New York and Kansas City as a Kansas City girl knows about the relative location of Paris and Belfort. And coupled with that they have just come from Europe, where it's only a hop, comparatively speaking, from one big town to another.

A French girl who married a Dallas, Tex., soldier and arrived in advance of her husband, wanted to know where she could get a taxi for Dallas. A young English girl from the same boat had $2, which she thought would pay her trolley fare to her husband's parents in San Francisco. A rosy faced Scotch girl wanted to know where she could get a ferry to Cuba.

The war brides are already up against mother-in-law. One Oregon mother-in-law telegraphed her returning son that under no consideration would she receive his new French bride. But like the majority of mothers-in-law, she gave in.

WOMEN FARMERS.

Miss Sprague Says Many Are Taking Special Courses This Year.

Storrs, Conn., May 9.—Women are becoming increasingly interested in agriculture, according to Miss M. Estelle Sprague, director of Home Economics at Connecticut Agricultural College, and to meet their demands courses in beekeeping, dairying, horticulture, poultry raising, etc., will be added to the summer schedule for women at the state college.

The courses for women will be arranged chiefly with the purpose of giving the high school teacher or home economics an opportunity to brush up on her work, although classes are open to all and some warm women are planning to enroll. In addition to the combination courses which include agricultural subjects, there will be courses in Home Management and Administration, Nutrition and Sewing. Two credit points toward graduation will be given for each completed course.

The summer courses for women will open July 7 and close August 15. Briefer courses will be offered in Home Nursing and School Lunches. The college is preparing a small booklet of information concerning the summer courses available to the women of the state.

CONDUCTORETTING IN FAR-OFF PHILIPPINES.

Not to be outdone in progressive-ness by their occidental neighbors, Filipino girls have recently walked right into well-paying jobs as "conductorettes" on the new auto-bus lines established at Manila to supplement the war-time shortage of street cars in that city. In spite of the initial shock conveyed to the conservative element of the island's people at the appearance of native girls in positions hitherto filled exclusively by men, information reaching the United States Department of Labor indicates that the experiment has been pronounced a marked success, the directors of the company having expressed themselves as being highly gratified with the results, and the girls, with their 40 pesos a month jingling in their pockets, being equally delighted.

In view of the great difficulty previously experienced in handling the passenger traffic, in Manila and other places the auto-bus innovation has been in the nature of a godsend, especially to that portion of the population dependent upon cheap transportation, and the enthusiastic reception which has greeted these mammoth cars as they go lumbering through the streets has not been lessened by the presence upon them of the trimly uniformed conductorettes, each equipped with an official whistle and with a collection box swung in a businesslike way from their shoulders.

There are at present 13 busses in operation on the various lines and this number is expected to increase to 50 within a few months' time. The type of car now in use carries about 30 passengers, but the new cars, it is said, will have a capacity of 60 people. Up to date between three and four million fares have been carried, averaging around a million a month or more.

As usual a large number of people who are living in comfort and luxury, expressed entire confidence in the ability and willingness of George to put up the money to bring the soldiers home.

TO GIVE TRUCKS TO STATES.

Army Equipment Valued at $45,000,000 Loaned for Use on Federal Aid Roads.

Washington, D. C., May 9.—More than $45,000,000 worth of motor trucks are about to be distributed by the Secretary of Agriculture through the Bureau of Public Roads to the State highway departments. These trucks have been declared surplus by the War Department and are being distributed to the States under the provisions of Section 7 of the Post Office Appropriation Bill. They must be used by the States on roads constructed in whole or in part by Federal aid, for which $200,000,000 in addition to the former appropriation was given to the States under the same bill. All that the States must do to acquire the use of these 20,000 trucks, which range in capacity from two to five tons, is to pay the loading and freight charges.

Of the 20,000 motor vehicles to be acquired practically free by the States, 11,000 are new and 9,000 are used, but all are declared to be in serviceable condition. The motors will be apportioned to States only upon request of the State highway departments on the basis of the requests received from the respective States, and in accordance with the apportionment provided in the Federal aid law approved in 1916. The requirements of the law are such that the Bureau of Public Roads can not distribute any trucks to counties or individuals.

SHOE SHINES FOR SOLDIERS IS FACT, NOT CATCH LINE.

New York, May 9.—Shoe shiners for soldiers may sound like a catch line on the order of "truly rural," but William J. Mulligan, chairman of the Knights of Columbus committee on war activities, found the shiners necessary for soldiers and sailors and marines sojourning in misty London—the town where a shine doesn't last long.

As professional shiners cost money, and as the war had reduced the number of professional shiners so that everybody couldn't be waited on, Mulligan had shoe-shining apparatus installed in the K. of C. Club in High Holborn, London. Now the boys emerge from the K. of C. quarters with their countenances reflected in the toes of their Munson army shoes.

SOLDIER GRINDS ORGAN; FATHER GATHERS COINS.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 9.—"I fight under Garibaldi long time ago. We save Italy, and then I come 'Merica. And when big war come over there, I sorry I can't fight. But, Pietro, my son, he go. He save Italy second time, Me and him. We pardners," said an old man proudly who was busy picking up coins under an apartment window on Spruce street. His son, wearing an American uniform with overseas chevrons, busily "ground out" on his old hurdy-gurdy the tune "Over There."

GREEK SHORTENS NAME.

Springfield, Ill., May 9.—Zaphyrades may be an easily pronounced name in Greek, whence it originated, but its owner, Dr. Stamatidis D. Zaphyrades, well-known physician here, finds the difficulty in warbling it off in the English language too complex. That's why he filed a petition in Circuit Court asking the right to change it to just plain "Zaph."

Circle Theater

Looking down at the business end of a revolver in the hand of a desperate criminal is one of the tense situations found in the super-thriller "Suspense," in which the beautiful little star, Mollie King, is appearing again tonight at the Circle theater.

"Suspense" tells the story of a daring girl who cleverly thwarts the plans of a dangerous gang of conspirators, and at the same time establishes the innocence of her father, who had been accused of the theft of certain papers entrusted to his care.

Of course, there is a beautiful romance interwoven throughout the story—what would any picture be without romance?—but the love element in "Suspense" is treated in a much different manner than in any other story you've ever read or seen in pictures; but that it all works out just as you would have it makes this probably the most delightful picture ever offered.

The many scenes and situations, though, that makes for real thrilling suspense are more tense than can possibly be conceived, and as yet will be held spellbound from the opening title to the final fadeout, you will understand why this remarkable production is called "Suspense"—it is truly, all and even more than this unusual title implies.

On the same bill will be a War Review and the famous Pathé News. Tomorrow "Beale Love" will be seen in "The Enchanted Barn" and on Sunday evening "Satan Junior" will be the headliner. Acting Manager "Doc" Sullivan takes pleasure in announcing that Tom Mix will be at the Circle on Monday in a screaming comedy called "Treat 'Em Rough."

Park Theater

Tonight there will be vaudeville and movies at the Popular Playhouse. The Moose Lodge is holding a benefit and will provide the vaudeville. There will be the best of local and out of town talent and several professional turns from Hartford. Tickets have been selling rapidly for this benefit for the past two weeks so a goodly attendance is assured.

The feature picture provided by John F. Sullivan for tonight's show will be a Goldwyn with Mae Marsh playing the star role. The name of the feature is "Hidden Fires."

"Hidden Fires" depicts the story of a hotel newsstand girl, who, because of her striking resemblance to a betrayed society girl, is induced to take the other's place at home and in society in order to spare the life of a mother who grieves for the daughter. Peggy Murray (Mae Marsh) becomes Louise Parks, and as such enjoys the mother's love and the riches that were showered upon the missing girl. Peggy shudders at the thought of deception and, to make amends, busies herself with work among the city's poor. On one of her visits to the sick in the slums Peggy's co-workers take her to the bedside of a once beautiful girl, whose face is now stained by suffering. Peggy is startled as she seems to see her own reflection in the bed. Peggy suspects the truth and soon learns the sufferer is the girl whose place she has taken.

Panic seizes Peggy. She rushes from the room and the following day returns with the man who had cast the other girl off. He has previously apologized for his behavior. To Peggy, thinking she is the girl who loves him. At the bedside Peggy shows him his duty, and when their marriage rights the wrong one the former society girl Peggy ends the deception. She returns to her newsstand and the other resumes her proper station without even the mother suspecting the change.

HERE'S SPRING FISH STORY.

Bangor, Me., May 9.—Inside of one day three salmon have been taken from the pool at the water works here, which is considered as a record salmon fishing for these waters. The lucky fishermen were Charles Bisset, who captured a sixteen-pound beauty; John Doan, an eighteen-pounder, and Michael Flannagan, one of seventeen pounds. Fish Warden Thomas E. Sullivan states that these three fish were the largest taken at the pool during the first of the season for sixteen years.

FINDS $200 IN "SPUDS."

Taylorville, Ill., May 9.—Purchasing a sack of seed potatoes from a merchant in Bay City, Mich., Mrs. Mike Rozanski found a pocketbook containing $200 when the sack arrived. She is endeavoring to get in communication with the owner.
