AMERICA'S NAVY MUST EQUAL ANY FLEET ON EARTH—BRITTON

Member of House Naval Affairs Committee Astonished at Proposed Abandonment of Building Program—Program Used as Big Stick at Conference, He Says.

Washington, May 31.—"America must take her stand, if not as mistress, at least as the equal of any power on earth, on the sea as well as on the land," said Representative Fred A. Britton, of the House Naval Affairs Committee, in a statement to your correspondent today.

At the same time he said he was "astonished when Secretary Daniels informed the committee that the year building program which was used so successfully as a big stick to drive the nations of the world to a league of nations, was to be abandoned."

Britton gave notice that he would propose any move to cut down the fleet and enlisted personnel of the navy and that he would not stand for the placing in reserve of battleships that cost the taxpayers hundreds of millions.

"We want first class navy," he said. "The indiscriminate slashing of appropriations may sound fine in this day of heavy taxation," Britton observed, "but the people of the country will insist upon a first class navy. I shall always contend that the peeling of the seas shall never again be left alone to England."

Statement in Full.

Representative Britton's statement follows:

"I was astonished when Secretary Daniels informed the committee that the three year building program was used so successfully as a big stick to drive the nations of the world into the League of Nations, was to be abandoned, now that the covenant of the League is an assured success, not so much because of my confidence in the navy to maintain itself, but because of what the Secretary said recently in London, that our navy should be, incomparably the greatest in the world, and this after the league covenant had been announced.

Used for Peace Purposes.

"This, of course, led naval enthusiasts to believe that the proposed three year program was to remain in effect, and that America was to go ahead as the predominant naval power of the world, not for military purposes but for peace purposes and the protection of our vastly increasing commerce on the high seas.

"I am quite sure that the American public will not countenance a slashing of naval appropriations merely in the interest of economy, but that the highest efficiency in this arm of our national defense from now on, must be maintained irrespective of what the government does with a national army.

Millions Wasted.

"I, for one, will not stand for the placing in reserve of battleships that cost the taxpayers of the country millions of dollars, when they will rot away and become obsolete without action.

"I will oppose any attempt on the part of the administration to cut down the officers and enlisted personnel to such a point that the principal ships of the navy cannot be operated in maneuvers and training on the high seas just as is done by every first class naval power on earth.

A Safeguard for Peace.

"I believe that a navy, known by the world to be an excellent fighting condition is a greater safeguard for peace than a large navy in reserve under skeleton crews, partially trained personnel and unfit for immediate action.

"The practice of economy and the indiscriminate slashing of appropriations may sound fine in this day of heavy taxation but the people of the

NC-4 REACHES ENGLAND ON FINAL LEG OF TRIP

Comes Soaring from Clouds at Plymouth at 2.23 This Afternoon.

END OF HISTORIC FLIGHT

Despite Drizzling Rain Great Crowds Collect on Harbor Front to Greet Brave Commander.

Washington, May 31.—Commander Read, in the NC-4, has arrived at Plymouth, England, finishing the fifth and final lap of her overseas flight, according to a radio message intercepted at the Bar Harbor Naval Radio Station and relayed to the Navy Department.

Scene at Landing.

Plymouth, Eng., May 31.—The American naval seaplane NC-4 commanded by Lieutenant Commander Albert Cushing Read, U. S. N., today successfully completed the historic first trans-Atlantic flight.

The NC-4 came soaring down through the clouds early this afternoon and was greeted by salutes from the warships in the harbor.

It was 2.23 o'clock when the great seaplane was first sighted off the harbor, skimming through the gray cloud rack off the coast.

The seaplane had spent the night at Ferrol, Spain, leaving on the final leg of the momentous journey at 7.27 o'clock.

Despite a drizzle of rain a great crowd collected on the harbor front to watch for the arrival of the intrepid American air crew.

There was great rejoicing among the crew of the United States cruiser Aroostook in the harbor here over the fact that the honors for the first trans-Atlantic flight went to the United States Navy.

The mayor and representatives of the town council went to Mayflower Pier to extend official welcome to the American flyers.

WATERBURY MAN IS HELD FOR MURDER OF CHINAMAN

Confesses to Police—Crime Was Mitted in Newark, N. J., on May 20.

Bridgeport, May 31.—Raymond Papinian, 19 year old, formerly of Waterbury, was arrested here last night for the murder of Wuong Gat, a laundryman, in Newark, N. J., on May 20. He confessed, the police say, and was taken to Newark today without extradition papers. In the confession, according to the police, he implicated two other men and a woman, whose arrest is expected soon.

The quartet, according to the story, got admission to the laundry by a pretext on the night of May 20 and demanded the Chinaman's money. "Failing to get it, they beat him to death. They then searched the place and took away several bundles of laundry. Papinian is said to have been traced by some of this plunder that he gave to his brother.

AGE AND YOUTH UNITED IN MEMORIAL TRIBUTE TO OUR SOLDIER DEAD

Impressive Scene as Heroes of Three Wars March Through Town.

REV. E. L. LINDH TELLS OF AMERICAN IDEALISM

Declares Same American Spirit Has Been Upheld by Men of '61, '93 and '17—Touches Future Obligations.

There was the contrast of age and youth in the appearance of Manchester's veterans of three wars as they marched yesterday afternoon in a parade which although not spectacular, was most impressive. It was a procession appropriate, thoroughly in keeping with the day and the new veterans joined with the old veterans in honoring the memory of the men who have lost their lives during the nation's grim struggles.

The Old Guard Reduced.

The Grand Army vets were in autos, the majority of them being unable to stand the strain of a hike. Even the famous "Old Guard" of five, which has been the feature of our Memorial Day parades, was yesterday cut down to two. But they still retained keen memories of the days when Sherman marched to the sea, and when Lee surrendered at Appomattox Court House.

The Spanish War Veterans, some in their uniforms, marched with as sprightly a step as they did when they departed in '98 to support America's answer to the challenge of Spain. They recalled the days of San Juan Hill and the victory of Dewey at Manila Bay.

Next came a small representation of the Army and Navy club, whose roster is composed of the World War veterans, the heroes of Verdun, Selcheprey, Chemines des Dames and many other now famous battles. They were the boys who helped to make the world a decent place to live in.

And as they marched up the street with a firm military step and swiftness, their young faces tanned by French winds and still flushed with the pride of victory, the old timers commented on their appearance and were heard to say, "Those lads have been trained."

At the conclusion of the exercises at Cheney Hall no time was lost in the formation and shortly after three o'clock Marshal Jensen's command to march, was repeated along the line. Headed by the Marshal and his aides, the Memorial parade passed up Hartford Road to Main street, thence toward the Center. As the procession passed the South End, office of the Evening Herald the formation was as follows: Marshal Jensen and his aides; Sergeant John Pentland, Sergeant Herbert Ingham, Sergeant Samuel B. Gaylord, Corporal Walter Hall, and Chief Quartermaster L. Lester Hohenthal.

The citizen's committee and board of selectmen were next in line and were followed by the Manchester American Band which headed the local Home Guards, commanded by Captain Ogden. Behind the Home Guards marched the Spanish War veterans, music being furnished for this contingent by the Center Flute Band. The Manchester Flute Band which followed the Spanish War veterans headed the Army and Navy Club's representation with Captain Philip Cheney commanding. The Boy Scouts with St. Patrick's Pipe Band in the lead, completed the first division of the parade.

THE HEROES OF THE DAY

The Salvation Army Band led the second division of the parade and was followed by groups of school children from the 2nd, 8th and 9th school districts. Next in line came the Six City Band which furnished the music for Frank Cheney Company, No. 14, Sons of Veterans. The heroes of the day, Drake Post No. 4, Grand Army of the Republic, followed in automobiles. The local clergy were also in vanguard as guests of the Grand Army unit.

There have been no disorders. The employees of the Toronto Street Railways Company will hold a meeting tonight. It is not thought that they will join the strike as their agreement with the company does not expire until the middle of next month.

The strike leaders declare that the movement has not yet reached its full force, but will continue to grow. Trades that are continuing to work will be called out one by one, it was said. There has not been much inconvenience to the public, and the city is calm.

FIRST RIOTING IN CANADA'S BIG STRIKE, REPORTED

Movement Spreading All Over Dominion—Wires Down.

RAILROAD MEN SEND WARNING TO OFFICIALS

Situation in Winnipeg and Toronto Not Serious—Returned Soldiers Aiding the Government.

Ottawa, Ont., May 31.—The first rioting in connection with the general strike now widespread throughout Canada was reported here today from Lethbridge, Alberta.

Wires Broken Down.

Due to interrupted wire communications, the government is ignorant of the seriousness of the situation. Lethbridge is the center of several mining camps in which strikes now predominate and where thousands of aliens are employed. It is reported that returning soldiers are assisting in the restoration of order.

The Winnipeg situation is reported improving and the city is assuming normal conditions.

Efforts are being made to induce the railway brotherhoods, which have opposed the general strike, to bring about arbitration and it is believed the plan will prove successful.

The Toronto situation is not considered serious as none of the public utilities are affected.

Railroads Send Warning.

Montreal, May 31.—Warning that the railroad employees in Canada may soon be affected by the general strikes spreading throughout the dominion was today sent to Premier Borden. The following communication was sent to the Premier:

"We, the executive board of Division No. 4, Railway Employees Department representing some 35,000 railway employees in the mechanical departments of all Canadian railways and negotiating on wages and working conditions with the Canadian War Board, having established the precedent of collective bargaining last year which has proved so successful in maintaining harmony on Canadian Railways, do insist that pressure be brought to bear on the different employers of labor involved, to accept this method of procedure and are amazed that such a state of chaos should be necessary to accomplish such a generally recognized method. Our members are very restless owing to the situation that has been created as our members are about to become involved. Kindly reply what steps your government are taking to cope with situation."

STRIKES UP IN TORONTO CHECK BUILDING PLANS

235 Factories Tied Up by General Walkout—No Disorders Reported So Far.

Toronto, Ont., May 31.—Two hundred and thirty-five factories and building projects have been tied up by the general strike which began here yesterday.

In answer to threats of the employees of the Canadian Northern Railway to strike, the company issued an appeal to the men to remain at work in the interests of the public.

POP WILL RECEIVE IRISH AMERICAN DELEGATES

Geneva, May 31.—Pope Benedict XV has decided to receive the Irish American delegates against the advice of the allies, said a dispatch from Turin today.

The Irish American delegates are Frank P. Walsh, of Kansas City, Edward Dunne, former Governor of Illinois, and Michael J. Ryan, of Philadelphia. They went to Paris to promote the cause of the Irish republic.

ALLIES THINK COUNTER PROPOSALS OF TEUTON ENVOYS ARE INSULTING

Clericals Not Responsible For Cessionist Movement

Berlin, Via London, May 31.—Charges that the Centre Party, (Clericals) were responsible for the secessionist movement in the Rhineland, (Rhineland Province) were denied today in a statement signed by all of the members of the party in the national assembly. In addition to disavowing responsibility the movement was denounced.

The Berlin government had been advised that the centrists were sponsoring the movement and that it was being engineered by members of the center party who were "inspired from France."

Most of the leaders, it was declared were industrial magnates who hoped to escape the burdens of reparation payments by separation from the empire.

The socialists are reported to be opposing the movement and some of the leaders threaten a general strike if a new republic is set up in the Rhineland.

"WE DEMAND NEUTRAL INVESTIGATION" SAYS GERMANY'S NEW "COVERING NOTE"

10,000 FEDERAL TROOPS ON WAY TO CHIHUAHUA

Start from Mexico City to Stamp Out Revolutionary Activities.

U. S. TROOPS AT BORDER

If Mexicans Make Good Their Boast to Step on U. S. Soil There Will Be Trouble.

El Paso, Texas, May 31.—Ten thousand federal troops are enroute today from Mexico City to Chihuahua City to defend that place against an attack by Villistas who are reported to be concentrating nearby, according to a statement by Consul General Andres G. Garcia, at Juarez. The advance guard of these troops have reached Santa Rosalia and will proceed to Chihuahua City as soon as repairs to the railroad are completed.

To Stamp Out Revolution.

Garcia declared these troops will be used to stamp out revolutionary activities in northern Mexico and asserted that Chihuahua is not in danger from the rebel troops.

Francisco Villa, it is declared, is in personal command of the troops gathered near Chihuahua City.

Revolutionists Meet.

Leaders of 14 revolutionary factions are to meet today at the camp of General Carrera in Nuevo Leon, to unite on a leader for the combined rebel forces to take the field against Carranza. General Felipe Angeles, the Villista chieftain, is regarded as the probable choice, while it is reported Villa will be appointed second in command. This meeting is expected, also to agree upon Dr. Vasquez Gomez as the revolutionary candidate for president.

U. S. Troops Watching.

Although the threat of Mexican federal troops to march across United States soil on their way to attack Villistas is reported from Nogales to have been nothing more than a boast, United States forces concentrating at danger points in anticipation of any invasion by the Mexicans.

The Eighth Cavalry in the Big Bend District, has been reinforced by the First Squadron of the Fifth Cavalry, under Major Frank, from Fort Bliss.

WIRE TIEUP THREATENS IF GERMANS ARE REFUSED

400,000 Commercial Telegraphers and Telephone Operators Issue an Ultimatum.

Chicago, May 31.—Unless the terms of an ultimatum served today upon officials of the American Telephone and Telegraph and other companies at Atlanta, Ga., are complied with by Monday 400,000 commercial telegraphers and telephone operators will go on strike at three o'clock next Monday afternoon.

This announcement was made here today by J. F. Campbell, secretary-treasurer of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America upon receipt of word from S. J. Koenekamp, president of the organization that the ultimatum had been delivered at Atlanta.

The ultimatum demands that about 100 girl telephone operators at Atlanta who recently were discharged because they affiliated with the union be reinstated by Monday noon.

CRESCENT TRIM WILSON

The local Crescent A. C. defeated the Wiltons of Hartford by a score of 24 to 6 at the main street ball grounds yesterday afternoon. The game of the scores will suggest was a one sided affair. Lefty Sherman, the Crescent twirler had the lion's share of the visiting batsmen and one juvenile expressed it "he had them fanning the crowd." The Crescent would like to meet the White Sox of Hudson, Wis. at Green, W. Parkington.

Big Fives' Reply Will be in Nature of Sharp Rebuke— Americans Say Rejection of Treaty Will Bring About the Worst Possible Condi- tion in Germany.

Paris, May 31.—The allies intend to stand by the peace terms already announced in spite of the protests and requests of the Germans in their various notes. It was learned today that the big five have already decided that the German counter proposals are nothing more than insulting.

To Be Rebuked for Bargaining.

In the reply the Germans will be sharply rebuked for their endeavor to "bargain" on the principles of peace.

The only modifications that will be made affect the economic terms in order to facilitate Germany's payment of reparations. The original terms must be accepted or rejected. Despite his strenuous Memorial Day President Wilson arose this morning at 7 o'clock, and, after attending to his mail and a few conferences was at work upon the suggestions for the allied note which will soon be presented to the Germans.

Secret Reports From Germany

Secret reports from Germany indicate that strong pressure is being brought to bear on Bavaria and the Rhine districts in favor of signing the treaty, although this is opposed by the Junkers and by Dr. Matthias Erzberger leader of the Centrist party and head of the German armistice commission.

What Rejection Would Mean.

American officials who have been in Germany declare that rejection of the treaty would bring about the worst possible condition in that country. That would mean absolute starvation and it is not possible that armed resistance as the country is in no condition to renew the war. Germany could be brought to her knees by economic pressure within a fortnight. The only thing they could hope to achieve by rejection of the treaty will be a re-arrangement of the terms for the payment of reparations.

What Note Says.

Germany realized that she must make sacrifices to achieve peace and "will go to the uttermost limits territorially" says the note. The Teutons claim they will stand unreservedly upon the fourteen principles enunciated by President Wilson.

The note renounces sovereignty of Alsace-Lorraine, but asks for a plebiscite. Further it cedes most of the Prussian province of Posen to Poland.

This cession of Posen would give the Poles free access to the Baltic Sea, the note points out.

The note covers a great deal of the ground included in the original communication containing the counter peace proposals, especially in the matter of indemnity and the suggestion for the pooling of resources.

(Germany offered to pay 100,000,000,000 gold marks indemnity, (about $25,000,000,000), the first installment to be handed over by May 1, 1920. The remainder was to be paid in annual installments the size depending upon the amount of Germany's income.)

Will Restore Belgium.

Germany, says the note, is ready to place her entire economic strength at the task of restoring Belgium and northern France, making up for the production of the French coal mines that were ruined by the German army.

The Germans offer to deliver 20,000,000 tons of coal annually for five years and 3,000,000 tons annually in the next eight years.

Build Ships for Allies.

The note also pledges Germany to build merchant ships in German yards for the allies during a certain term of years that may be specified later. The Germans offer to make compensation for the river craft destroyed in France and Belgium. They also consider the ceding of part of the German industries, especially coal mines as a means of fulfilling their obligations.

A plea is inserted for "equal rights for the labor world."

The note concludes by saying that the "principle of right is too sacred for the Germans to understand to accept the terms that they cannot fulfill."

The Hudson A. C. will have for their opponents at the West Side grounds tomorrow afternoon, the Pioneers of New Britain. The game will be called at 7:15.

AGE AND YOUTH UNITE IN MEMORIAL TRIBUTE

The parade passed up to the Center, thence east to Huntington street, and counter-marched to the Park entrance on West Center street. The Marshal and his aides, together with the Citizen's Committee and the selectmen lined up on the north side of Center street while the American Band marched into the roped enclosure. The entire parade then lined up from the entrance to the Center, the various bands following the American Band into the enclosure.

The Grand Army men reviewed the line-up from their cars and alighted at the entrance, passing into the park and taking up positions near the various companies then passed into the park. The monument was encircled by the Grand Army men, Spanish War Veterans, World War veterans and the Sons of Veterans. The decoration service of Drake Post No. 4, G. A. R., was preceded by a selection by the Salvation Army Band and a prayer by Adjutant Bartlett of the local corps.

After a brief address by Commander Keeney in which he touched upon the memory of Manchester men who had given their lives during the grim struggle of '61, the bronze figure in uniform which commemorates our boys in blue was decorated with large wreaths. The Sons of Veterans also distributed floral pieces at the base of the monument. At the conclusion of this service the American Band swung into the strains of "America," and the words were sung by the entire assemblage.

Hardly had the strains of Sir Francis Key's immortal ballad died away, when Bugler Von Deck of the Salvation Army band sounded "taps." The call was repeated in an echo effect by Bugler Smith of the corps. Rev. P. J. O. Cornell pronounced the benediction and the Grand Army men, together with the parading delegations and the general public, passed slowly out of the grounds.

In Cheney Hall.

Yesterday's Memorial Day exercises in Cheney hall were most impressive. The mingling of the veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars, added a new interest to the gathering, young Hans J. Jensen gave one of the best recitations of Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech ever given by a schoolboy in Manchester and Rev. Eric I. Lindh delivered an eloquent address on the subject of "The Mantle of the Fathers," in which he outlined in a masterly way the continuity of ideals that has run through the life of the nation and yet has worked out such wonderful changes. An abstract of his address will be found elsewhere in these columns.

The stage was banked with laurel, while across the front of the stage were hung the wreaths which later were taken to the Soldier's monument in the Center Park. The side walls of the hall were draped with clusters of flags.

Shortly after two o'clock, Miss Carrie Lull, who presided at the organ, struck up a march and the Civil War veterans filed into the hall. The audience arose as the veterans entered. They were followed by the Sons of Veterans, the Spanish-American war veterans, World War veterans, Boy Scouts and selectmen. The selectmen and Commander M. H. Keeney and Comrade George Scheldel took seats with the clergymen on the stage. Behind them was grouped the Girls' Glee club of the High school.

The Civil War veterans and those following them occupied seats in the front of the hall. Opposite them was a large body of school children. The rear half of the hall was occupied by citizens and the gallery was partly filled. It had been planned to reserve the gallery for the World War veterans, but instead, they marched in with the other veterans.

Commander M. H. Keeney of Drake Post, G. A. R., conducted a short service which concluded with a salute to the dead. This was followed by a selection, "Memorial Day," by the Glee club, under the direction of Miss Marion Washburn, after which Rev. Richard Peters of the North Congregational church offered prayer.

Following the prayer, Commander Keeney made a short address of welcome and then called on Miss Eunice Case of South Windsor, former soprano soloist in the South Methodist church, who effectively sang, "Christ in Flanders," by Stevens. Hans J. Jensen then gave his recitation of Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech and the Glee club sang another selection entitled, "Cover Them Over With Beautiful Flowers," by E. F. Stewart.

Rev. Eric I. Lindh then gave his address and after the singing of the Star Spangled Banner by the Glee club and audience the services came to a close with the pronouncing of the benediction by Rev. G. G. Scrivener of the South Methodist church.

Rev. Lindh's Address.

An abstract of Rev. Lindh's address on "The Mantle of the Fathers" follows:

President Wilson in his recent address before the French Academy of Moral and Political Science (May 10) calls attention to the fact that while Americans are popularly held to be absorbed in material pursuits, they are nevertheless truly and profoundly idealistic. Unparalleled material prosperity has indeed been ours, yet we have developed systems of popular government and popular education, established free churches in a free state, and given unequalled opportunities for individual initiative and ingenuity. Those who say we are but materialists are blind to deeper facts and forces, the more fundamental aspects of our common American life, and but proclaim their own inability to see beneath the external form to the underlying motive and mainpring of all our striving and our toil.

Our revolutionary forefathers embodied the various theories and ideas surging in the life of the colonies in the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, and established the first great experiment in popular government. Two great issues, among others, were before them, that of democracy and that of state sovereignty. Was this to be a government truly of the people? Then what about slavery? Was this to be a nation of sovereign states? Then what about such state sovereignty? Or was it merely a federation, to be dissolved at will by any entering colony? Our forefathers did not answer these questions; they handed them over to posterity. They established a government of the people, for the people, by the people; but they kept slavery. They fused the thirteen colonies into what seemed a nation, but they postponed the question whether we were a nation or a mere federation. And this was the burden they left for you veterans of the days of '61. The race question in the form of slavery our forefathers evaded; the question of state rights they evaded, and both because they did not know just how to settle them. And so seventy years later you men of '61 were called upon by President Lincoln to help him settle the unfinished tasks of the American Revolution. The democracy that had retained bodily slavery must rid itself of the anomaly, and become a consistent democracy. The theory of a mere federation of states, each in its own right sovereign and independent, must be settled once for all, and one way or the other. And so you came forth from town and farm and city to answer Father Abraham's call, and prove that this was in truth not a federation but a great and mighty nation, and that no part of it could withdraw or secede. And you were to settle too the doubt that this could be a democracy when it actually maintained slavery, the selling of men, women and children as mere property. And slavery was overthrown, the black man became free, and we became a true democracy, a true nation.

The Negro Question.

But did you settle these issues for all time? Is there no race question today? Are there no unabsorbed elements in our land, not heathen and organically one with the rest? The principle of continuity is surely seen here if anywhere. The race question of the days of '76 our forefathers evaded, and you in '61 thought you settled it once and for all. Yet today, in a new form it is with us still. For all through the South it is a burning issue, and to my mind is one of the great issues of our times. That aspect of the question know as slavery is a thing of the past, but new aspects have since the Civil War come to the front. And he talks superficially indeed who says that the issue is no longer a live one in American life. The problem of the black men in America is indeed a problem—his increasing numbers, his political life, our economic life, the moral aspects of justice to a downtrodden race, the race antagonism of the South and the equally strong race prejudice of the North; have we solved it? No. This issue comes down to us from the fathers, their mantle fell on your shoulders, and worthily you assumed it.

Americanization.

We have now the problem of "Americanization" before us, a problem of assimilation of the divergent types that now make up our many nations. When you went forth to fight the battle of freedom in '61 this country was composed of two races; chiefly, the white and the black. The white stock was quite homogeneous racially, derived mainly from the British Isles, Holland, Sweden, and Germany. Today we come from all parts of the globe, and all elements of the human race are here. And they must all be absorbed. Our many-sided modern race question now is complex, and we must all be on the job. "Americanization" is the word of the hour, and country will insist upon a first class navy properly manned with sufficient officers to insure the safety of our commerce and our honor in every part of the globe, and any attempt to curtail the efficiency of the fleet in the interest of economy will be met with national disapproval. Must Look to Future.

AMERICAN NAVY MUST EQUAL ANY ON EARTH

"I hope that our entrance into the League of Nations will not be used as a subterfuge for economy in the navy because no one can now tell just what part we are to play in the future domination of world peace and I shall always contend that the policing of the seas shall never again be left alone to England but that we must share equally in this honor and expense, gun for gun, man for man, ship for ship, with the greatest naval power on earth.

"The claim that England is the undisputed mistress of the sea should forever be like water that has passed by the mill and America must take her stand, if not as mistress, at least the equal of any power on earth on the sea as well on the land."

USED BOAT TO CATCH THIEF.

Stamford, May 31.—Local policemen resorted to a powerboat here early this morning to catch an alleged chicken thief. The latter, George Tucker, by name, and residing here, pursued by the police, leaped into Long Island sound and waved his hand merrily at the bluecoats as he swam toward an island half a mile away. While one of the officers watched Tucker in the water, another requisitioned a power boat and its operator and presently the dripping Tucker was lying in the bottom of the boat handcuffed. His condition was such today that he was sent to the Stamford hospital.

A LACK OF SPORTSMANSHIP.

When Harry G. Hawker, speaking before an audience of Americans and Englishmen last Wednesday, tried to belittle the achievements of the American flyers who have succeeded in crossing the Atlantic he not only proved himself false to the genuine spirit of sportsmanship which usually characterizes his countrymen but he affronted thousands in this country who had been prompt to praise his pluck in starting, sincerely sad at the news of his failure and genuinely overjoyed at his marvelous rescue.

Yesterday Hawker issued a public apology in which he tries to cover the clear and unmistakable import of his words by saying he has been misunderstood. He says that his remarks were intended for those who were criticizing his government for not furnishing a patrol of battleships along his route.

Hawker made a bold attempt but had he succeeded he could hardly have won greater acclamation from the American public. Nevertheless it is beyond question that if air flights to Europe are ever undertaken for any practical purpose the route and method first followed will be that of the ungracious Hawker.

The new Republican Congress will find plenty to do in straightening out the war tangles, but it should not permit the pressure of new business to place in the background investigation and correction of extravagances, begun as war necessities and continued as graft.

The Hog Island navy yard, the building and equipment of which has been the cause of much criticism, has at last begun to show what it can do. It is a great plant and now that it is getting into full operation is producing remarkable results.

HAYS TRAPS BETTER THAN DRIVES TO CATCH WOLVES.

Independence, Mo., May 31.—One good trap, well baited and well located, will catch more wolves than all the wolf drives that can be organized. C. W. Turner, a farmer near here, makes the claim and backs it up with the following: He has caught nine wolves and sold their skins after collecting the bounty, and also sold two to fur dealers and eight foxes—all since the first of January.

CROWDS PLACE FLOWERS ON GRAVES OF SOLDIERS

Cemeteries Thronged With Those Who Wish to Honor Dead—Many Flower Laden Autos.

Thursday evening, the East cemetery was thronged with people who had gone there for the purpose of making the last resting place of their loved ones attractive for Memorial day. Scores of automobiles were in the cemetery and, in whatever direction one looked cars were seen laden with flowers.

In past years, most of this work used to be done on Memorial day, but in recent years the people flock to the cemetery the night before. Those who were there Thursday night say they never saw so many people in the place before.

With the Civil War veterans, however, the decorating of the graves of their deceased comrades was done yesterday morning. Different details were delegates to the various cemeteries about town. In the West cemetery, Commander M. H. Keeney and Comrade John Loomis did the decorating.

The United Spanish American War veterans also decorated the graves of their deceased comrades and also the graves of men who gave their lives in the World War.

MISS BESSIE ANDERSON, WAR NURSE, HOME SOON

Manchester Girl Who Saw Service in Active Sectors Arrives on Transport.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. John M. Anderson of Elbridge street that their daughter Bessie has arrived from overseas and is expected home very soon. Miss Anderson has been overseas for about eight months and was connected with a United States hospital unit of the American Expeditionary Forces as a nurse.

HAWKER SAYS HE WAS MISUNDERSTOOD HERE

Flyer Asserts He Had No Intention of Criticizing "Attempt" of Americans.

London, May 31.—Harry G. Hawker, in an interview in "The Evening Globe," regarding American press comments on the speech he made at a luncheon to newspapermen Wednesday, said: "The Americans misunderstood my point. I was not criticizing their attempt. It is impossible to compare the two flights. We did not wish to have battleships supplied by the government along the route."

"My remarks were intended for those who were criticizing the government for not supplying them. I wish the Americans the very best of luck. Their flights have been beautifully organized jobs from beginning to end."

DENMARK WANTS 50 MILLIONS.

Copenhagen, May 31.—Denmark is demanding $50,000,000 damages from Germany for shipping sunk by German submarines during the war, it was learned today.

AUTO ACCIDENT.

Man Seriously Injured at Norwalk When Car Hits Pole.

Norwalk, May 31.—A seven passenger Packard touring car owned by the Stamford Auto Service Company of 235 Amsterdam Avenue, New York City, struck a telephone pole at the foot of Westport Avenue hill, "Mortuary Turn," on the New York-Boston Post Road last night, with the result that Samuel Klarr, of New York City, was thrown through the windshield, landing in front of the auto. His eyeglasses were left hanging on the broken shield. He was taken to the hospital quite badly injured. The other four passengers disappeared without paying the driver. The car was badly wrecked. No arrests were made.

LABOR LEGISLATION TAKEN UP BY SENATE

Program to Have Wide Scope—Nation-wide Eight Hour Day Plan.

Washington, May 31.—Labor legislation will shortly take much of the attention of the Senate.

Senator Kenyon, Progressive Republican, of Iowa, newly named chairman of the Senate Committee on Education and Labor, was planning today to carry through the Senate a program of labor legislation which will have wide scope.

One of the first labor questions which will be dealt with is that of making a nation-wide eight hour day by Congressional legislation. A bill providing for an eight hour day already has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Moses of New Hampshire and referred to the committee on education and labor. It is proposed soon to begin consideration of this bill.

THOMAS-GUOYOT AHEAD IN INDIANAPOLIS RACE

Drivers of Mallot Car Lead at Start of 500-Mile Automobile Contest.

Motor Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind., May 31.—Rene Thomas and his team mate, Albert Guoyot, both driving Mallot cars, flashed past the wire at 11:01 o'clock this morning on the start of the 500 mile automobile race at the Indianapolis motor speedway, side by side. They were closely followed by Howard Wilcox and Ralph de Palma. The balance of the field was scattered behind the four leaders.

Earl Cooper, driving a Stutz, was in the lead at the end of the first lap, having made the two and a half mile course in 1:45:45, an average speed of 85.19 miles an hour. Cliff Durant was the first driver to pull into the pits, stopping because of a loose hood after finishing eight laps. Ora Haibe pulled into the pits at the end of the ninth lap to replace a spark plug.

RADICALS CAN'T SUCCEED HERE SAYS PINCHOT.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 31.—Uncle Sam will turn his back on the Bolshevik stranger should he try to make a home for himself in this country, declared Gifford Pinchot to the National Reform Association here. "Patriots are too numerous in the U. S. A. to permit these radicals to get ahead," he said. "The men spreading this propaganda are not Americans, either by birth or naturalization, but foreigners who came to this country to escape oppression in their own lands."

"DOCUMENT OF HATE."

Berlin, Via London, May 31.—The independent socialists are clamoring for the publication of "the documents of hate," which, they claim, will show the German captains of industry and the bankers were aides of Ludendorff and how they guided the policy of the former Emperor.

ATLAS A. C. VICTORIOUS.

The local Atlas A. C. returned home with a victory last evening having defeated the fast All Stars of Windsor Locks by a 7 to 5 score, in the latter town yesterday afternoon. The All Star twirler pitched an excellent game fanning twelve of the Atlas batsmen. Cervini the Atlas moundsman captured high honors by holding the Windsor Locks team to hits and retiring 18 men. This afternoon the Atlas are playing the West Ends at the Main street ball grounds and tomorrow afternoon at the same grounds will meet the Pleasant of Hartford. The score of yesterday afternoon's game follows. Batteries: Atlas A. C. Cervini and Able; All Stars, Watts and Connor.

PRESIDENT C. L. PACK TO RECEIVE WAR GARDEN POOLS USED BY CAMP DIX BOYS.

New Brunswick, N. J., May 31.—The most famous "garden tools" in the world, marked with brass tags so all the world may know what the Camp Dix boys used in the country's first and biggest army war garden, will be presented to the State Agricultural College here the second week in June by Charles Lathrop Pack, of Lakewood, the president of the National War Garden Commission of Washington.

There will be a big celebration, for the date is the time of meeting of boys' and girls' clubs of the state and hundreds from all over the state will see the machinery of the most famous war garden in the United States.

The presentation will be by Mr. Pack to William H. Demarest, president of Rutgers College, and to Jacob G. Lipman, dean and director of the State Agricultural Experiment Station. After serving its purpose at Camp Dix the equipment was turned back to the National War Garden Commission by Major General Hugh L. Scott and Lieutenant Colonel Carl A. Hardigg, sub-depot quartermaster.

To transport the machinery three army trucks were used. On the fifty-mile trip to New Brunswick these trucks attracted much attention. The Camp Dix War Garden marked an epoch in war-making history. It was the first farming operation on a large scale by the United States Army and showed what could be done in using land adjacent to army camps. In 1918 the crop value was more than $25,000 through labor of men physically unfit for overseas duty. Big plans were underway for a bigger work at all the camps when the armistice was signed.

JUST DISCHARGED, TWIN BROTHERS RE-ENLIST.

San Francisco, May 31.—The lure of the army has won out. Jesse H. Bruce and Robert H. Bruce, twin brothers, who received their discharges when they arrived from overseas with the 363rd, "San Francisco's Own," recently re-enlisted for service with the Army of Occupation.

The twins, who look exactly alike, requested Colonel John H. Gardner, recruiting officer, to see that they were placed in the same unit. "We have never been parted," the Bruce told the Colonel. "We enlisted together and we want to remain together when we get to Germany."

The Colonel assured them that their request would be granted. The "twin heroes" left for Camp Meade, Md., en route overseas.

SHIPPING $5 MILLION POUNDS OF SPUDS EAST.

Portland, Ore., May 31.—Twenty-five million pounds of potatoes have left here for the Chicago market. The huge tonnage of murrheys were contracted for by the government for the purposes of dehydration in Oregon, Washington and British Columbia. But Major Frank Tingley, commanding the Quartermaster Corps, Northwest Division, thought to "dump" such an amount on this market would lessen the value of the spuds. So he sold them in the East, and thereby put across the biggest potato deal ever made in the United States.

He also recently sold 5,000,000 pounds of prunes to French interests. A remaining 5,000,000 remains in cold storage here.

SAVANNAH TO DEVELOP MUNICIPAL TERMINAL.

Savannah, Ga., May 31.—The city of Savannah has taken an option on 1,600 acres of the Deptford plantation tract east of the incorporation, with 2,500 feet frontage on the Savannah river, with a view to developing a municipally-owned and operated terminal and wharves. The plan involves about $200,000 initial consideration, which will be covered by the city bond issue if the people favor the development. The plan of operation of wharves and terminals will be along the lines of the enormous municipal wharves and terminals on the Pacific coast, and will involve an early outlay of around $5,000,000, with the ultimate expenditure far beyond that figure. The plan includes partial payment of the cost of building the wharves and terminals from the proceeds of sales of the extensive back property for industrial and factory sites.

SOLDIER SAVES $2,200 IN FOUR YEARS' SERVICE.

San Francisco, May 31.—The ability of an enlisted man to save money during his army service was displayed here when Sergeant James B. Ross, discharged from the Seventeenth Recruit Company, Fort McDowell, visited Colonel John H. Gardner and showed a treasury check for $2,200, the savings of his last four years' service. Sergeant Ross has seen more than twenty-eight years' service. After a short visit to relatives in New York City he intends to re-enlist.

$20,000 AMERICANS RETURNED DURING MAY.

Washington, May 31.—During May 320,000 American soldiers returned from France, Secretary Baker informed Secretary Daniels in a letter today praising the work of the Navy Department. This movement created a record for the transportation of troops in either direction, the secretary stated.

WED TWO SOLDIERS, BUT "SHE JUST DIDN'T THINK."

Cleveland, Ohio, May 31.—Mrs. Minnie Heitch, alleged soldier-love profiteer, who is charged with having collected the government allowance as the dependent wife of both William Heitch and Ralph Cottrell, told the presiding municipal court judge here when arraigned on a warrant for bigamy that she "just didn't think." She said she married Cottrell under the erroneous impression that Heitch, her true husband, had obtained a divorce prior to her marriage to Cottrell. The first marriage was in 1915. The wedding in which Cottrell was a principal was shortly before he entered the service. She will face the Grand Jury.

TIRED OF BEING DEAD, HE WANTS THE STORY DENIED.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 31.—"I'm tired of being dead and would like the newspapers to print the fact that I'm still alive," declared Private Oscar Burns, Company L, One Hundred and Ninth Infantry, in a voice that sounded anything but ghostly. "I've been reported dead three times, once since I got home more than a month ago. I was wounded, but am all right now, and I'm good and tired of having to deny these reports that I am a dead one, for I'm not."

NEW IDEA IN SUICIDE.

Steubenville, Ohio, May 31.—Alexander Wyes, thirty-two, sought a novel method of committing suicide. He leaped his leather belt about the post of the iron bed, put his head through the loop, twisted his body several times until the belt had tightened about his neck, then laid down in bed and strangled to death.

NOW COMES THE BELLHOP AS VICTIM OF HOLDUP.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 31.—The fortunes that bellhops and other hotel attaches frequently amass now bring their names upon the list of prospects for burglars. "They robbed me," Lee Thomas, bellboy in a local hotel told the police. "They called for ice water," the youth continued, "and when I entered the room with the water one of the guests grabbed me while the other searched my pockets. After they robbed me of my tips, $14, they threw me into their bathtub."

REPORTED RICH STRIKE STARTS RUSH OF OLD-TIMERS TO ALASKA.

Portland, Ore., May 31.—Old time miners of the Northwest are making toward Portland Canal, extreme southern part of Alaska, where a rich strike has been reported. The exodus of prospectors brings to mind the famous rich strikes of the early days. Hundreds of men are leaving on every boat for Alaska, via the Inside Passage, taking their chances on staking some rich ground. The strike was made, say reports, on old diggings on the Alaska side of the Alaska-British Columbia boundary. The ground is quartz formation. Practically all promising claims have been staked.

MARRIES BROTHER'S WIDOW.

Topeka, Kan., May 31.—An unusual feature developed at the marriage license desk in the Probate Judge's office here when Ernest D. Day, thirty-two, of this city, secured a license to wed Mrs. Katie Day, twenty-one, also of Topeka. Mrs. Day was the widow of his brother. This is said to be the first time such a thing has occurred here. It is prohibited by law in some states and some countries.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOYS STUDY HOME TOWN AS PART OF COURSE.

St. Johnsbury, Vt., May 31.—The boys in the eighth grade of the public schools are studying the town at a regular part of the year's course using as a text book one prepared by Superintendent W. H. Young. The book not only takes up the history of the town, but a survey of its principal industries, an account of how the town and village are governed, with a sketch of its institutions and some of its most distinguished citizens, both living and dead.

WOMEN "MOTORMEN" NEXT.

Providence, R. I., May 31.—Glenn conductors and possibly girl motorists may be operating street cars in this city, according to reports from street car men. "They will get tired sitting around the carhouses waiting for trips," is the comment of the car men, while women leaders say the project is feasible and argue that since they believe that women make better chauffeurs than men, they can and will operate street cars. Railway officials refuse to discuss the question and say it is only a rumor.

SUITOR'S FRACTURED LEG COULDN'T STOP WEDDING.

Manhattan, Kan., May 31.—It takes more than a broken leg to stop a wedding, though it may delay on a day. John Edmondson and his fiancée were speeding to a minister's home when the taxicab they were in was struck by a street car. John was thrown out and his leg broken. The minister and the bride-to-be called at the hospital next day and John was made happy. The nurse and doctors were witnesses.

Circle Theater

Youth takes you by the hand and leads you into the enchanted realm of the circus, when you go to see "The Old Maid's Baby," starring Baby Marie Osborne, which will be shown at the Circle theater tonight. It is a circus story—and much more than that—with clowns, bareback riders, ladies in spangles and everything that makes the big show what it is. Baby Marie plays Tiny, the daughter of the clown, and the "pachute princess," who lose their lives while performing the "big act."

The child is adopted by her mother's prim, "highbrow," old maid sister. And here another phase of this intensely dramatic story begins—the precocious child of the circus is caught in between the cross play of love, ambition and selfish intrigue of grown-ups. The story is developed with amazing originality and craftsmanship, and contains, near the end, a big pathetic and appealing moment which will stir the heart of the most hardened on-looker. Baby Marie here does probably the most conspicuously fine dramatic work of her big career.

With this picture on the same bill tonight will be another episode of "The Lightning Raiders," the Pathe News and a two reel Big Y comedy. Tomorrow, evening the feature will be "Silent Strength," featuring Harry Morey. It is a story where the star has to play a double role. Its locale is in the Rocky mountains and it is a thriller.

Park Theater

"Johnny on the Spot" the clever Metro comedy-drama which will be one of the features at the Park tonight and in which Hale Hamilton, the brilliant young actor will be seen, is a play which cannot be equalled for its spontaneous and infectious humor and irresistible romance.

The story is that of a young man who has an aversion to rushing through life in a frenzied manner, (as he puts it) but who, on the contrary, believes that by waiting for what he desires it will, in the course of time, come to him. Love however, is the only thing that comes and with it a train of demands—including that he rescue the girl he loves from the hands of schemers and villains. That this cannot be done in the slow and lax manner in which he has been in the habit of conducting his affairs suddenly dawns on him and, like a flash of lightning, he changes from a slow, easy-going dreamer into a galvanic and red-blooded young dynamo who believes that he is capable of cramming two into two minutes what the average man gets into two days. The change is miraculous and his achievements upset his erstwhile philosophy of life. From now on he intends to be Johnny-on-the-spot.

And that's not all. There will also be on the same bill the last chapters of "The Brass Bullet," the first chapters of the greatest serial ever shown "The Red Glove." Here is a thumb nail sketch of the plot: A story of love and adventure in the oil lands of the West before the picturesque quality of the traditional West wore off. Two companions seek "The Pool of Lost Souls," a huge oil deposit, the secret of whose location is hidden in an old red glove in the adobe hut of Tia Juana, a half demented native woman who is heiress of the native chieftain of a vanished people. Billie, the heroine, befriends Tia Juana and learns the secret. It later develops that she is an heiress, but the villain proves that there is a cloud on her title and Billie, with the help of a young engineer, fights not only for "The Pool," but for her own unsullied name.

SOLDIER BOOZE COSTLY.

San Francisco, May 31.—To furnish whiskey for a party of two soldiers cost Michael Prebelle, of Sausalito, his job, his savings of two years, forced him to spend three months in the county jail and caused him to apply to the police for a bed recently. Prebelle worked for two years for John Lyson, a farmer. "I saved $155 and then two soldiers got me to buy them some whiskey. I was arrested and given 190 days in jail. I came to this city on my last dollar," said Prebelle.

U. S. S. CHESTER RETURNS.

Boston, May 31.—After two years of foreign duty with a record said to be second to none of her class in the navy, the scout cruiser U. S. S. Chester is back again at the Charlestown Navy Yard. The Chester has conveyed 425 vessels, losing only one, and her log shows more than 70,000 miles up to the end of the war in November last.

EXPECTED SUNDAY

Excitement at Training Camp Pending Willard's Arrival.

Toledo, Ohio, May 31.—All is excitement here pending the arrival of Jess Willard to begin training for the big bout July 4. The champion is expected Sunday evening or Monday morning. Even threat of a street car strike did not serve to take the minds of the people off the coming of Willard. "Every one wants to get a look at the big fellow and decide whether he is all that his advance guard has cracked him up to be. With the arrival of Willard it is probable that the referee question may be settled. Tex Rickard will give Willard and Dempsey a chance to agree before stepping in. Dave Fitzgerald, New Haven, Conn., today appeared to have the inside track. Fitzgerald will arrive here at the same time Willard does."

SWAT THE FLY, GAS THE SKATEERS—HEALTH ADVICE.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 31.—Gas the skateers, oil the roaches, gas the bedbug, but swat the fly. This is the advice handed out by Director of the Department of Health Krusep to every housewife.

Dr. Krusev also gives hints on a few other insects. For the moth he recommends a hermetically sealed chest; for the ant, run the busy little ones to their lair, hold their noses and pour benzine down their throats, and for the human is recommended a stiff brush, hot water and soap.

The following directions are given for the extermination of various types of pests: Mosquitoes—Burning pyrethrum powder or sulphur will stupefy. They then fall to the floor and can be burned with the sweepings.

Roaches—Coal oil is one of the best agents for destruction of roaches and their eggs. It should be sprayed freely with a machine oil can into cracks and crevices.

Flies—Keep garbage cans covered tightly. Distribute fly paper freely.

Moths—Thoroughly brush clothes, pack in large paper bags or boxes and paste strips of paper over edges, making airtight.

Bedbugs—Destroy them by spraying their hiding places with a solution of corrosive sublimate (one ounce to a pint of alcohol).

Fleas—Human fleas and dog fleas are family household pests. Use hot water and soap with a stiff scrub brush, very effective in destroying pests which hide in crevices.

WAR ROMANCE EXPLODES; WIFE WAS MARRIED WOMAN.

Portland, Me., May 31.—Joseph P. Chase, a chief boatswain's mate in the Naval Reserve, who sent his bride to Portsmouth, N. H., to his parents, is due for a big surprise when he arrives home on one of Uncle Sam's submarine chasers. The newlywed bride of Chief Chase was Margaret Plummer, of Plymouth, England, who proved shortly after his arrival in Portsmouth to be a married woman with two children. While the Portsmouth navy man is on the Atlantic coming home, the bride is also on the ocean in the opposite direction bound for England, having been deported by the immigration officials of this port.

BOMB FOUND ON FRONT PORCH WAS OVERALLS.

San Francisco, May 31.—Mrs. Nora O'Connor, of Oakland, thought someone had placed a bomb on her front porch one evening recently when she saw a mysterious package lying there. Running out of the back door she summoned neighbors, who in turn called a policeman. The policeman sent for detectives and by this time a crowd of nearly two hundred persons had gathered in front of the house and were surveying the mysterious package from a distance. The detectives decided to call William Kyle, police department bomb expert. Kyle picked up the package and opened it. It contained a pair of old overalls.

ROTTERDAM ARRIVES.

New York, May 31.—Bringing the first of 10,000 soldiers expected to arrive at this port during the day, the Rotterdam docked at Hoboken early today. The Rotterdam brought the 178th Infantry Brigade headquarters, 89th Division headquarters, 214th Motor Supply Train, 206th Sanitary Train, 16th Salvage Unit and 75 casual officers.

LONDON BOBBIES MAY STRIKE.

SERIOUS CHARGE.

Complaint Made That Wounded Soldiers Are Not Taken Care Of.

Washington, May 31.—Charges that wounded and disabled soldiers are without hospital facilities in Chicago, while the Treasury Department delays the completion of the Speedway hospital, were made before the House Committee on Military Affairs today by Senator Sherman of Illinois and Dr. John Dill Robertson, health commissioner of Chicago. Congressional action to make the Treasury Department take action and complete the speedway project was urged by both Senator Sherman and Dr. Robertson. They stated that the appropriation for the speedway hospital has been made but that the Treasury Department has failed to act.

BOLTON

Charles A. Lee Jr., met with a narrow escape from serious injury Wednesday morning while in the woods chopping. A tree that he was felling had a long dead branch high in the air that Mr. Lee failed to notice. As the tree fell the sharp end of the branch gave Mr. Lee a wound on his face hitting him with such force as to knock him over and cut a gash that required five stitches to close.

TAGGING THE BASES

Two additional defeats at the hands of the Yankees ran the Senators' losing streak up to ten straight.

The morning Yankee victory was scored at the expense of Walt Johnson, who was sent into the game in the ninth to hold down the Yankees while the Senators could get the winning run.

Glan fans are smiling at Ferdie Schupp who went to the rescue of Poll Perritt in the third inning of the morning game and easily demonstrated he had rounded into mid-season form.

Cobb helped himself to two doubles and a triple during the afternoon defeat of the Browns.

The Cubs' star twirlers, Douglas and Alexander, were easy for the Cards in the holiday double bill.

The Red Sox got three runs during their afternoon defeat at the hands of the Athletics and Ruth batted them all in.

The White Sox not only walloped the Indians both games but drew the largest matinee crowd of the season.

More Jim for the Reds. The Pirates took them for both encounters.

YANK CHANGES SO SISTER.

DOES NOT KNOW HIM. Jerseyville, Ill., May 31.—In four years Scott Wood, returned soldier, had so changed his own sister did not recognize him. And in turn he did not recognize his sister.

Wood had just arrived in Jerseyville from French service. He was hurrying toward home. Two grown girls passed him.

"That soldier looks like your brother," one of the girls said to the other as they passed him. "They ran after him."

"What's your name?" asked one. "Scott Wood," replied the soldier. "Then I'm your sister," exclaimed one of the girls.

The recognition that followed was mutual. Wood left Jerseyville four years ago, when he enlisted in the army. His sister was but a little tot then. He has just been discharged from the service and had not been home since leaving. In his years of army service Wood has grown to a tall, broad-shouldered man and has changed considerably in appearance.

STUDENTS STILL DISCUSS "MORNING GLORIES" VISIT.

Cambridge, Mass., May 31.—Harvard students are still discussing their glimpse of the first three "morning glories" of spring that "blossomed" so suddenly and radiantly in Harvard Square.

The "glories" were of the eternal feminine. They were "rubies" all the way from Arlington Heights and came down to Cambridge by auto for an ice cream. Each had on a tight fitting pair of overalls, and their appearance made a decided sensation.

The soda fountain which they visited soon resembled a rural town on a busy afternoon, and the girls, refusing to let one admirer get ahead, started their gyrer for down on the farm.

TWO TRAINMEN HURT.

Eric, Pa., May 31.—Two trainmen were hurt, one passenger injured and a large number badly shaken, as when the engine and baggage car of a fast Chicago-New York train on the Nickel Plate Road hit two passenger cars were derailed near here early this morning.

The injured were taken to the hospital and the passenger was transferred to a New York hospital.

Manchester seems to be more timid about resuming building activities than neighboring towns. The writer on a motor trip through East Hartford, Glastonbury and Portland to East Hampton saw numerous dwellings in process of construction.

The Manchester Trust Company is now in a position to make deliveries on full paid subscriptions to the Fifth Victory Loan. Subscribers are requested to call for their bonds as soon as convenient, bringing the receipts for their payments with them.

MISS MARY PALMER HURT BY AUTO ON N.-MAIN ST.

Car Driven by Frank F. Spencer Strikes Her as She is About to Board Trolley.

Miss Mary Palmer of Oakland street was knocked down and badly bruised by an automobile driven by Frank F. Spencer last evening at the corner of Oakland and North Main street. Miss Palmer was hurried to the office of Dr. F. H. Whitton in Mr. Spencer's car and later taken to her home. Dr. Whitton found upon examination that Miss Palmer was not seriously hurt although she complained of severe pains about the back and shoulders. It was found that no bones were broken. Her face was bruised and she was bleeding from the nose and from a cut about the chin. This morning she was reported as resting comfortably.

Says He Had Right of Way. Miss Palmer had been down town visiting with Mrs. James Palmer of Hudson street and had gone to the corner of Oakland street to take a car home. It was about half past eight in the evening and just as she was about to cross the street to take the car Mr. Spencer drove across the railroad crossing in his automobile and in swinging around the corner car ran into Miss Palmer.

Mrs. James Palmer was so upset by the accident that she was completely unsteady and has been forced to go to bed. Mr. Spencer says that the car did not stop and that he had the right of way. He did not see the woman waiting for the car and he says Miss Palmer stepped from the sidewalk in front of him.

PROMPT FIREMEN PUT OUT DANGEROUS BLAZE IN BUSINESS SECTION

Confine Flames to Kitchen of South End Restaurant.

FIRE STARTED IN RANGE

New Special Fire Police Quickly Establish Fire Lines—Restaurant Closed When Alarm Sounds.

With the recent series of fires at the south end still fresh in mind, the business section of that part of the town was again startled by a conflagration yesterday afternoon, but prompt work by the firemen soon put an end to all fears. Shortly after four o'clock, just as Commander M. H. Keeney was conducting the Drake Post Memorial exercises in the Center park, an alarm was rung in from Box 44 at Main and Oak street for a fire in the kitchen of the South Manchester Restaurant in the frame building between the House & Hale Block and the Circle theater on Oak street, and the crowds rushed in that direction.

Companies 3 and 4 arrived at the hydrant at Main and Oak streets by the time the fire whistle had sounded its second alarm. No. 2 followed shortly afterwards. The interior of the kitchen was a mass of flames by the time the water was turned on, but streams were directed from the east and west sides of the building through the windows and the fire was quickly subdued. The firemen did their work so quickly and efficiently that the fire did not get into any other part of the building and did not even break through the ceiling.

Just how the fire started is not known, but it is thought to have started from the kitchen range. The restaurant had been closed all the afternoon, a sign on the door announcing that it would be opened at five o'clock. Eugene Alleritto, who has been conducting the restaurant, was on Main street at the time of the fire, having been watching the Memorial Day parade, which had passed along a few minutes before.

The building in which the fire occurred was owned by House & Hale until recently, when it was purchased by F. H. Anderson, who is to have it moved to the north side of Oak street to make room for an addition to the Hale store. A few days ago, Mr. Anderson bought the lease from Mr. Alleritto and the latter was planning to close out his business. Mr. Alleritto lives in the tenement above the restaurant.

Special Fire Police. The special fire police also did good work at the fire yesterday afternoon. They had their fire lines strung out just as quickly as the other firemen had their hose lines connected up and the crowd was kept back, giving the firemen room for action.

UNDER CHIEF OF POLICE

The fire police are under the supervision of the chief of police and not under the fire chief as has been stated.

Chief Gordon had a conference with the fire police recently and informed them of their duties. At a fire, the fire chief will notify the chief of police when the danger is over and then it will be up to the chief of police to tell the special fire police when they shall go off duty.

VETERAN STILL ACTIVE

Some of our Grand Army veterans are still active despite their advanced age. Yesterday afternoon at the Center, a member of the organization climbed a step ladder with comparative ease, mounted the bronze pedestal and placed wreaths on the head of the monumental figure.

WAR TO DEFEND LIBERTY SAYS SUPT. VERPLANCK

Declares Men of '61 and World War Soldiers Were Inspired by the Same Spirit.

Memorial Day exercises for the seventh and eighth grades and the High School were held Thursday afternoon in the High School hall.

The hall was filled to its capacity. At 2:10 the veterans of the Civil War were escorted to places of honor on the stage by Superintendent Verplanck. The whole room stood at attention during this ceremony.

The program opened by the school singing "O Columbia the Gem of the Ocean." Following this was an address by F. A. Verplanck. Mr. Verplanck spoke about what the Stars and Stripes stand for today. He said that when he was a boy there were three million slaves in this country and that the boys of '61 were the defenders of liberty, just as the boys that went to France in this last war were the defenders of liberty.

Next there was a recitation by Miss Hazel Johnson, "The Meaning of the Flag." The expression that Miss Johnson put into this recitation certainly gave each individual a better understanding of what the flag stands for.

This was followed by a recitation by Miss Phyllis Newcomb, "Lincoln, the Great Commoner." Miss Newcomb gave an excellent description of Lincoln's association with the people. Then the seventh and eighth grades sang, "Tenting Tonight on the Old Camp Ground." Following this was the recitation, "Chickamauga," by George Dougherty. This was one of the best recitations of the whole program and certainly the applause proved it. Carter Harris recited "Sheridan's Ride." This was followed by the entire school singing, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp." Miss Hickory's class of the seventh grade girls recited in unison Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech.

"Memorial Hymn" by the Girls' Glee Club of the high school followed this and received much applause. Eleanor Rogers, a seventh grade girl recited a poem, "Memorial Day." Then three eight grade boys recited "Peace." Each boy recited a stanza, and then they all recited one in unison. This made a hit with the audience and was given hearty applause.

The Girls' Glee Club sang "Cover Them Over With Flowers." "Your Flag and My Flag" was recited in unison by Miss McCarthy's room of seventh grade girls. The expression that the youngsters put into this poem showed careful training.

Following this eighth grade girls gave a flag drill accompanied by a song. Miss Cotter's room of seventh grade boys recited in unison "My Native Land."

Veterans Salute.

Next was the "Salute to the Flag" and as Mr. Verplanck said, was the most solemn ceremony of the whole program. When Mr. Verplanck gave the order, "attention," the whole room, even the veterans of '61, stood at attention and while saluting the flag repeated these words: "I pledge allegiance to my flag and to the republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible with liberty and justice for all."

The Star-Spangled Banner was then sung by the audience. This finished one of the best Memorial Day programs that there has been in several years. The music was under the direction of Miss Washburn.

AUTOMOBILES CRASH

Two out-of-town automobiles came together just north of the Main street railroad crossing last evening shortly after five o'clock, but fortunately none of the occupants were hurt. Both parties were strangers in Manchester. One of the cars was owned by J. C. Chapman of Mansfield, R. I., and the other by J. C. Tobin of Rockville.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Ferns and Mr. and Mrs. George Gregory of Springfield spent the holiday with relatives in town.

SHOWS SIGNS OF WEAR BEFORE POLICE COURT

Jack Farrell Comes Out of Fight Second Bout—Yagant Gets Sixty Days.

Two police court cases were tried on the holiday to settle offenses that were committed the night before. Jack Farrell appeared in court and at first sight he looked as though he had been run through a stone crusher or had been in an automobile accident. This was not true. There had been a fight the night before and the other fellow got the best of Jack. The charge against Farrell was just plain every day intoxication. But, it is said, this was only the technical part of the court proceedings. Farrell pleaded guilty and as Judge Carney said he thought he had been punished severely for his spree he continued the case for two weeks.

Not a Burglar.

Michael Golznack who turned out to be nothing more than a vagrant was sent to jail for sixty days. He is the fellow who at first was thought to be a burglar. He wanted to sleep and chose the cellar-way of one of the stores on Main street. He was picked up by Officer Glenny Thursday night. He could speak very little English and did not seem to take any interest in the court proceedings. Golznack claimed to come from New Hartford.

The City of GOODRICH Akron, Ohio. Fakir Magic Fools the Eye It's amusing to see a fakir take a pole and line, and hook a fish out of the air; but you don't buy that kind of fish.
