SEN. JOHNSON RAPS LEAGUE IN A FIERY SPEECH IN SENATE

American Fathers and Mothers Want League But Do Not Want Sons and Grandsons to Fight All Over World to Compel Universal Peace.

"On the 11th day of November, America as no nation on earth ever had been before, was respected, revered and beloved. After six months of meddling and muddling in European and Asiatic controversies and contests over territory the end of the peace conference finds Italy detesting us, France secretly despising us, England using us and Japan bluffing us. They are willing and anxious that we should have our league of nations. We give out assets, both moral and material, and assume part of their liabilities. We do not need them as partners. They require us. They yield us nothing; they can yield us nothing; we give them everything."

Senator Hiram Johnson, California, in the Senate.

Washington, June 2.—"American fathers and American mothers want peace, and they want a League of Nations which will give them peace—ask any mother in Kansas, or Illinois, or California, if she is for peace, she will say 'yes' with all her heart," declared Senator Hiram Johnson, Progressive Republican, of California, in the Senate today.

Keynote of Speech.

But, he added, as he struck the keynote of this long-heralded attack—containing 15,000 words—upon the revised league of nations covenant, "ask her if she is willing that her sons and her grandsons shall go to Balkans, to China, to Korea, to Siberia, to Arabia, the Dalmatian coast, to compel peace—she will answer 'No.'"

Senator Johnson prefaced his address by once more calling up his resolution for the immediate submission of the complete, official text of the peace treaty to the Senate by the State Department. The resolution has remained unfinished business on the Senate calendar, and therefore a vehicle for frequent debate on the League covenant, since he recently introduced it.

The Central Idea.

"This league is written around the one central idea that the great Democracy of the United States shall guarantee, maintain, and preserve the British empire's boundaries, with its seething millions of discontented peoples; the increased territories of France, the vastly extended boundaries of Italy, throbbing with revolution and the rape of China by Japan," Senator Johnson asserted.

"It not only wrenches the American nation from its traditional policy, deals with its economic resources, embarks it upon a precarious and a perilous departure, but commands, apparently, for all time, its blood and its bones," he continued. "Neither the President has shown reasons for a single article or clause of the League Covenant, nor has any one of the Americans, presumably interested in its composition, disclosed to the American people anything at all respect to this document."

TAKES SNOOZE IN BARBER'S CHAIR; HIS THROAT OUT.

Napa, Cal., June 2.—James G. Maxwell, of this city, had the exciting experience of starting to snooze in the barber chair, when he was startled to find the barber cutting his throat.

He fought his way out of the chair and ran to the police station. The barber is under arrest and is believed to be mentally deranged.

It is declared the razor slipped. Nine stitches were required to close the wound.

SOME OF STATE'S FIRMS DISLOYAL SAYS O'MEARA

President of Connecticut Federation of Labor Scores Employees—Married Women Should Not Work.

Meriden, June 2.—"It is with considerable regret that I have to report to you that there are a large number of employers of labor in the state that have in the short time that has elapsed since the armistice was signed so far forgotten that for which this country entered the war, that they have degraded themselves that they have refused to put back on the job the young American boy that left the said job, and they have retained in his place either a woman or an unprincipled alien, that has become accustomed to working for a lower wage than what had been paid or would have been accepted by the American young man that vacated it when called to the colors in defense of his country," said Patrick F. O'Meara, President of the Connecticut Federation of Labor in discussing the subject of unemployment in his annual report to the annual convention of the federation held here today.

Mr. O'Meara also referred to the employment of married men and their wives in the same building and to nursery rooms maintained by employers that have invited married women into industry and which he said should be discouraged.

Mr. O'Meara said with reference to legislation that the labor interests were treated as in other states with about the same consideration that is general in assemblies of this nature. He declared that with the change in the date of the annual convention there would be ample time before election to get out and work for those who they were sure would benefit labor and defeat those candidates whose records of animosity showed were not helpful to the labor cause.

NO WIRE STRIKE.

Employees Who Were Discharged Will Be Reinstated.

Washington, June 2.—If any employees of the telephone company at Atlanta have been discharged because of union affiliations, orders will be at once issued for their reinstatement with full pay from the date of their discharge, and steps will be taken to discipline the supervisory telephone official who has been guilty of a violation of the order of October 8, 1918.

In making this announcement today Postmaster General Burleson said that no action will be taken by him, "until the facts are known."

"It may be asserted that dismissals have not been made in such numbers as stated in the press," he added.

CARS AGAIN RUNNING.

Winnipeg, Man., June 2.—Street cars will be operated here today for the first time since the general strike was called on May 15.

The street railway company made this announcement early today and at the same time municipal authorities announced that 15,000 armed troops are being held in readiness in the event of any effort to interfere with the service.

Municipal authorities say the next 24 hours will decide the fate of the strike.

BOSTON SCHOOL HEADS FIGHT TEACHERS' UNION.

Boston, Mass., June 2.—Accusing several masters of the Boston public schools of an effort to block the work of teachers to form a union, the latter are preparing to carry the fight to a finish.

It is charged that immediately after a meeting of the masters the latter got busy and started in to block the proposed proceedings.

Meetings of the teachers were called by some masters, while others talked to their teachers one at a time, according to the story told by the teachers. The masters, the leaders of the teachers' union, cautioned the teachers to go slow in the matter of forming a union and made it plain that they were hostile to the union.

ERZBERGER BEGS U. S. TO SOFTEN CONDITIONS BEFORE GERMANY SIGNS

To Accept Treaty Would Be Fatal He Declares.

PRESIDENT'S 14 POINTS BROKE HUNS WAR GRIP

Revolution in Germany Brought About by Wilson Message—Says Allies Are Not Standing by Those Principles.

Berlin, June 1.—(Via London, June 2).—"It was America's military intervention that brought victory to the Entente."

This declaration was made to your correspondent today by Dr. Matthias Erzberger, chairman of the German armistice commission.

Cause of German Revolution.

"The German revolution was essentially the result of the proclamation of President Wilson's fourteen points, which convinced the German people that they only had to smash the old military system to secure democracy in their own country and prove honest their efforts for friendship with the whole world," continued Dr. Erzberger.

"America ought now to intervene and bring about a diplomatic turn for a decided change in the peace negotiations. It is her duty, having laid the foundations of the negotiations upon President Wilson's program. Considering these facts Germany has strong claim to make known her position without any ambiguity before President Wilson and the American people."

What Germany Wants.

Dr. Erzberger again referred to the 14 principles, saying:

"German democracy demands from America primarily a clear answer to the question:

"Is the Versailles document an authenticated interpretation of President Wilson's fourteen points? America can only answer, no. Secondly, German democracy demands to know whether America entered the fight for a peace of right and conciliation or whether she fought only for a military victory. In this respect the interests of France and Belgium ought to receive America's special attention since they played the decisive part in the war by drawing America into it. The depriving of Germany of the unhampered use of her working productive strength necessary to enable her to reconstruct France and Belgium is the main reason why Germany rejects the peace and neither promises nor threats will move the German people to sign. In time America must know that the treaty is only a scrap of paper because it could not be fulfilled."

Must Accept But—

"If America tolerates such dishonest politics in her name, cloaked by the fourteen principles, Germany must momentarily accept, but German democracy should then confess it a policy of imperialistic outrage against a peace made defenseless by deceit."

"Democratic Germany directs its final appeal to Democratic America and it would be a tragic error if America believes that German declarations against the Versailles terms are only diplomatic maneuvers."

"Therefore I must repeat in the firmest way that Germany will not sign these terms because she cannot without striking herself out from the family of living nations."

"GOB" WOULD RE-EMBARK ON "SEA OF MATRIMONY."

Topeka, Kan., June 2.—J. C. Mohler, Secretary of Agriculture, has many questions to answer regarding Kansas crops. He can attend to that with considerable authority, having been in the game for years. However, with the crop of returning soldiers and sailors, he found a new job, Ernest H. Stephens, a sailor at Newport News, sent Mr. Mohler a $1 bill and asked him to find out if Mrs. S. Stephens, whom as Artie Ashcroft he married in 1918 here, has secured a divorce and remarried. The last he heard from her was in Topeka and she contemplated securing a divorce. Stephens himself desires to take another voyage on the sea of matrimony, but wants to know if he can do so safely.

AUSTRIA RECEIVES PEACE TERMS HAS ONE WEEK TO MAKE REPLY; TERMS SAME AS FOR GERMANY

In Some Parts Conditions Are Identical Except for Change in Name—Austria Left With Between Six and Seven Millions of Inhabitants—Summary of Terms.

Paris, June 2.—The conditions of peace of the allied and associated powers, with the exception of military, reparations, financial and certain boundary clauses, were handed to the Austrian plenipotentiaries at St. Germain today. These clauses which are not yet ready for presentation will be delivered as soon as possible, the Austrians in the meantime having the opportunity to begin work on the greater part of the treaty in an effort to facilitate a final decision.

The Austrian treaty follows exactly the same outline as the German and in many places is identical with it except for the change in name.

Specific Clauses Omitted.

Certain specific clauses which applied only to Germany, are, of course, omitted and certain new clauses included, especially as regards the new states created out of the former Austro-Hungarian empire and the protection of the rights of the racial, religious and linguistic minorities in Austria, Techocho Slovakia, Rumania and Serbo-Croat Slove state.

Austria is left by the treaty a state of from six millions or seven million people inhabiting a territory of between five thousand and six thousand square miles. She is required to recognize the complete independence of Hungary, Techocho Slovakia, and the Serbo-Croat Slove state, and to cede other territories which previously in union with her composed the empire of Austria-Hungary with its population of over fifty million people.

Must Accept League.

Austria agreed to accept the League of Nations covenant and the labor charter, to renounce all her extra European rights, to demobilize her whole naval and aerial forces, to admit the right of trial by the allied and associated powers of her nationals guilty of violating the law and customs of force and to accept detailed provisions similar to those of the German treaty as to economic relations and freedom of transit.

Same as German Treaty.

Of the following summary part one of the treaty containing the covenant of the League of Nations and part twelve, containing the labor convention, are admitted as being identical with corresponding sections of the German treaty. Part six, dealing with prisoners of war and graves, and part eleven, with aerial navigation, are also identical except for the substitution of names, and are likewise omitted. Part thirteen of the German treaty containing guarantees of execution is not paralleled in the Austrian treaty.

The Preamble.

The preamble is longer and more detailed than in the German summary and is as follows:

"Whereas, on the request of the former imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian government an armistice was granted to Austria-Hungary on November third, nineteen hundred and eighteen, by the principal allied and associated powers in order that a treaty of peace might be concluded, and

"Whereas, the allied and associated powers are equally desirous that the war in which certain among them were successively involved, directly or indirectly, against Austria, and which originated in the destruction of war against Serbia on July 28th, 1914, by the former imperial and royal Austro-Hungarian government, and in the hostilities conducted by Germany in alliance with Austria-Hungary should be replaced by a firm, just and durable peace, and

All Austrian War Criminals Must Be Tried, Says Treaty

London, June 2.—The trial of all Austrian war criminals before an inter-allied tribunal is one of the main terms of the treaty with Austria, according to the Daily Mail today. The other two are:

PRINT OF A BARE FOOT CLUE TO HANNA ROBBERY

Daughter-in-Law of Former Senator Loses $50,000 Worth of Jewelry.

Stockbridge, Mass., June 2.—The print of the bare foot of a man is the only clue in the daring robbery of more than $50,000 worth of jewelry from the dressing room of Mrs. Dan R. Hanna, in her home three miles from this town.

Two men are presumed to have made the mysterious night raid on Mrs. Hanna's collection of jewelry which was one of the finest of the many in this community of the wealthy.

While the fourth wife of Dan R. Hanna was sleeping in the room adjacent to the "barefoot" thief is believed to have climbed up over the roof that slopes down from the porch.

His confederate, in an automobile, is believed to have waited on the Interlake Road outside.

Dan Hanna is the son of the late Senator Mark Hanna. His wife is the divorced wife of John B. Warden, of Philadelphia.

READ READY TO HOP BACK IF SUPERIORS ORDER HIM

Says That Any Properly Constructed Machine Can Make the Atlantic Trip.

London, June 2.—Lieutenant Commander A. C. Read, skipper of the American Naval seaplane NC-4, who brought the first heavier than air machine across the Atlantic, declared today he is ready to set out on a return voyage to America if his superiors order it.

Lieutenant Commander Read; Commander J. H. Towers, of the NC-3 and Lieutenant Commander P. L. N. Bellinger, of the NC-1, who have been summoned to Paris, may be decorated by President Wilson, it was unofficially reported today.

"Our flight absolutely demonstrated that any machine properly constructed can make the trans-Atlantic voyage," said Lieutenant Commander Read. "From now on it will be merely a matter of improving the safety devices. I have given positively no thought to a flight back to America, but can do it if the American Navy orders it. I am not aware of the exact nature of the conference in Paris, but suggest he may desire information regarding the best means of controlling international flying."

The crew of the NC-4 have been lionized since their arrival from Plymouth. One of the first to congratulate Commander Read was Harry G. Hawker, who fell into the sea while trying to fly from Newfoundland to Great Britain in a land plane.

"CONVIOTS" NEEDED AT PRISON TWINE PLANT.

Topeka, Kan., June 2.—A second "S. O. S." call for help in the Kansas State Penitentiary to make binder twine for the harvest was sent out by State Manager James A. Kimball. He says unless Kansas has more lawbreakers in the next few months the twine plant at the state penitentiary at Lansing will not exceed $100,000 pounds of binding twine the same as last season. The plant should turn out 2,000,000 pounds, he says. Shortage of labor is the cause.

GIRL WON'T FLY.

London, June 2.—May Kinston, of Erdbeim, Pennsylvania, has been refused permission to make an attempt to fly across the Atlantic with Captain John Aloek, who is in Newfoundland, preparing to make the flight in a Vickers-Vimy bomber.

GERMANS ARE ALARMED AT SEPARATIST PLANS

New Rhine Republic Formed With Weisbaden as Capital—Movement Spreading.

Berlin, via London, June 2.—The German government is greatly alarmed over the Rhineland separatist movement which culminated in the proclamation of a Rhine Republic on Sunday with the capital at Weisbaden.

The secessionist movement among the German border states has become general. The latest communities to set up independent governments include Bavaria, East Prussia, West Prussia and Hanover, as well as the Rhineland.

Blames the British.

The separatist activities in Hanover have caused especial anxiety to the government as the royalists there recently celebrated the ex-King's birthday. The mayor of the city of Hanover blames the British for the Spartacist movement.

Baron von Wangenheim, a prominent royalist, is supporting the Duke of Cumberland or his son "for the next King". He is also urging self government after the British system.

The German government has appealed to the residents of Eastern Germany to support the counter peace proposals and to preserve order so as not to give the allies any cause for marching further into the country.

NO TRACES OF FLYER LOST SINCE THURSDAY

Canadian Ace Started for Mineola, N. Y., and Has Not Been Seen Since.

Tyringham, Mass., June 2.—Wild lands of the Berkshire Hills in this state and Connecticut were being searched today for traces of Captain Marshall R. James, Canadian ace, "lost" since Thursday morning when he climbed into a clear sky and headed southwestward in the sun for the flying field at Mineola, N. Y.

James had made a flight from Atlantic city to Saugus, near Boston, and on the return trip, via Via Mineola, lost his way, and flew across Massachusetts, landing in a big meadow here. Conditions for flying were perfect when the aviator again set forth, having got his bearings. Fearing that James may have made a forced landing in the tangle of hills, lakes and mountain fastnesses of the Berkshire Hills a wide search to be instituted today.

Captain James was a member of the Royal Air Force. He qualified as an "ace" by bringing down ten enemy planes. The aviator is 27 years old. His home is in Watford, Ontario.

Tragic Spectacle When Once Powerful Empire Hears Its Fate—Curse Called on Head of Francis Joseph Reaches Its Climax—Mobs of Curious Fill the Streets.

Paris, June 2.—With all of the sternness and formality that the occasion demanded, but with an undercurrent of cordiality entirely lacking when the Entente envoys met the Germans at Versailles, the peace terms were handed to the Austrian envoys at 12:36 o'clock this afternoon in the historic St. Germain palace.

Clemenceau Speaks.

Premier Clemenceau began his speech at 12:23 o'clock and it was significant to note that it was not marked by the same bitterness of tone he employed in addressing the Germans at Versailles. Although formal it was not couched in sharp language and he addressed the Austrians as:

"Delegates of the Austrian Republic."

The Premier explained, that while there would be additions to the treaty, they would be handed over as soon as possible.

The Premier spoke just 13 minutes. After M. Dutasta had delivered the terms at 12:36 o'clock, Dr. Renner arose, bowed and stood while reading the Austrian reply. This conduct was in contrast with that of Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German delegation, who remained seated while replying to M. Clemenceau at Versailles.

The inter-allied delegates numbered 67, Colonel E. M. House of the American delegation, being absent.

Paris, June 2.—The second act in the world's peace drama was staged at noon today when the peace terms of the allied and associated powers were presented to the Austrian delegates at St. Germain.

In a formal address, just before the treaty was handed to the Austrian envoys, Premier Clemenceau said the allies expected a reply within a week.

Tragic Spectacle.

The spectacle was a most tragic one, with the most virile nations in the world today recking the fate of the representatives of the skeleton of the once powerful Austrian empire which they must accept if they expect their country to continue to live.

The proceedings, which will make the Hapsburg rule in southern Europe hereafter simply a matter of history, were held in the ancient castle of St. Germain, where royal exiles during the days of the empire mourned the loss of the throne.

Curse Fulfilled.

The curse called down upon the head of Emperor Francis Joseph had reached its climax. It was tragic to note, also, that only a portion of the former dual empire was represented, as the Entente will not treat with the Hungarians until the soviet government at Budapest is stamped out.

Only the political, territorial and some of the military clauses are contained in the treaty. The experts have not yet agreed upon the financial measures.

The proceedings were staged in the main reception hall on the third floor of the castle which was formerly used as the throne room.

The hall has a high ceiling and the main scheme of the decorations is red and white. There are four chandeliers in the corners and a big open fireplace at the end of the hall.

Naturally, the attendance here was smaller than at Versailles because there were not so many countries warring on Austria as on Germany.

Those at Conference. Green baize covered tables were lined up and down the room. Premier Clemenceau had the most conspicuous seat. President Wilson sat upon the French Premier's right side and Premier Lloyd George upon M. Clemenceau's left side. Adjoining the President was Secretary of State Lansing, then Henry White and General Tasker H. Bliss. Next to Premier Lloyd George was A. J. Balfour, the British foreign secretary and A. Bonar Law. The French colonial envoys sat adjacent to the Americans and the British colonial delegates to the French were the Italians, who, with the Serbs, Jugoslavs and Poles, were probably the only delegations present actually holding any rancor.

Arrangements for the seating were parallel with those at Versailles when the terms were handed to the Boches. The Austrians were placed at the extreme end of the room, opposite Premier Clemenceau. Outside the streets had been roped off and were sternly guarded by French troops, fully armed. No one was allowed to pass unless he had the proper credentials.

Crowds of Curious Persons. The adjacent streets were filled with curious townspeople, watching with deep interest the passing of the envoys. Each motor car bearing a delegate, carried a flag showing his nationality. The car bearing President Wilson did not bear the Stars and Stripes but the President's own personal flag with a gold eagle against a blue background. An orderly sat on the first seat of the big black limousine in which Mr. Wilson travelled.

The French delegates were the first to arrive. Stephen Pichon, the foreign minister, greeted the envoys as they entered the castle. Shortly after noon the delegations headed by M. Clemenceau and accompanied by President Wilson entered the conference room and were escorted by a chief usher from the foreign office to their seats. This funny wore a huge gold linked chain, the badge of his office.

The seating arrangements had been made with punctilious regard for diplomatic usage. Delegates assigned to the seats closest to the Austrians came from the newest nations such as Czechoslovakia and Poland.

Austrians Announced. After a momentary wait the usher returned to the main threshold with the announcement: "Messieurs, les plenipotentiaires Autrichiens."

In through the main door filed the delegation headed by Dr. Renner, the Austrian Premier and the only delegate authorized to conclude the negotiations.

Dr. Renner is a huge bearded man with a great deal of individuality. Under a mask of Viennese gayety, Dr. Renner is said to conceal great cunning and an enormous capacity for work.

Pasha Slatin Present. Behind Dr. Renner came Prof. Lammarsch, looking like a venerable savant. The most picturesque member of the delegation was Rudolf Slatin, Pasha, British inspector general of the Soudan from 1900 to 1914. Once he was the idol of the British nation. He is a hard featured, bearded man. He looked neither to the right nor left as he made his way to his place. The other delegates and secretaries and interpreters were soon in their places.

Bows Exchanged. Then came an exchange of cold, courteous bows. In the brief pause that followed Dr. Renner and Slatin gazed curiously about the room scrutinizing the faces of the Allied delegates, the pictures and the statuary. Probably in the thoughts of all these crept a conception of the contrast represented in the mighty forces there at work.

At the foot of the table the Austrian envoys represented a nation that is crushed and helpless and is partly caught in the swirl of anarchy. At the head of the table sat the delegates representing the most powerful combination of nations the world has ever known: America, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan.

To Be Well Punished. The thought that was uppermost was that Austria will certainly be well punished for acting as the cat's paw of Prussia.

Premier Clemenceau was the first to address the meeting, gesticulating with a hand encased in a white kid glove. The speech was short and formal.

While M. Clemenceau was speaking Premier Lloyd George sat twirling his eyeglasses, in characteristic posture. The Austrians closely followed the words of the French Premier, especially Slatin, who tugged nervously at his ragged beard as he leaned forward watching the speaker.

As soon as M. Clemenceau had concluded Captain Manteau, the official interpreter, translated the address. The treaty had already been printed into a yellow backed volume and after the translation was completed General Dutasta, the secretary, grimly marched the length of the room and presented a copy to the Austrians.

SUMMARY OF TERMS HANDED TO AUSTRIA

"Whereas, the former Austro-Hungarian monarchy has now ceased to exist and has been replaced in Austria by a republican government, and,

"Whereas, the principal, allied and associated powers have already recognized that the Czechoslovak state, in which are incorporated certain portions of the said monarchy, is a free, independent and allied state, and,

"Whereas, the said powers have also recognized the Union of certain portions of the said monarchy with the territory of the Kingdom of Serbia as a free, independent and allied state, under the name of Serb-Croat-Slovene state, and,

"Whereas, it is necessary while restoring peace, to regulate the situation which has arisen from the dissolution of the said monarchy and the formation of the said states, and to establish the government of these countries on a firm foundation of justice and equity,

"For this purpose the high contracting parties; duly named,

"Who, having communicated their full powers found it good and due form have agreed as follows:

Republic of Austria. "From the coming into force of the present treaty the state of war will terminate.

"Austria is recognized as a new and independent state under the name of the Republic of Austria.

"From that moment, and subject to the provisions of this treaty, off-cial relations will exist between the allied and associated powers and the republic of Austria."

Outside of Europe, Austria renounces all rights, titles and privileges as to her own or her allies' territories to the allied and associated powers and undertakes to accept whatever measures are taken by the principal allied powers in relation thereto.

The clauses as to Egypt, Morocco, China and Siam, are similar, after the necessary modifications, to those of the German treaty except that especially in the case of China, there is not need for so great detail. The provisions as to Liberia are not included owing to the fact that Austria was not at war with Liberia.

EMPLOYEES TO SHARE SAVINGS BY NEW SYSTEM.

North Adams, Mass., June 2.—Representatives of the employees and the management of the Windsor Print Works in this city have voted favorably upon the adoption of a so-called "man to man system" whereby employees will share equally with the company in savings resulting from the adoption of new methods for lessening the cost of production. The new system is to be given a three months' trial at the local factory.

THIRTEENTH INNING GIVES HARD FIGHT GAME TO RED TOPS

Chicopee Falls Nine Scores Through Will Throw and Wins 4-3.

CLEAN GAME IS PLAYED

Fast Massachusetts Team Has to Fight Every Minute for Victory Over Athletics.

The Fisk Red Tops of Chicopee Falls, champions of Western Massachusetts, defeated the Athletics by a score of 4 to 3 in a 13-inning game at the Mount Nebo baseball grounds yesterday afternoon. But there was no easy victory. The record-breaking crowd which witnessed the furiously and cleanly fought exhibition will testify to this. With the score 3 to 2 in the eighth inning, apparent victory was turned into what later culminated in a defeat when Peterson, the Athletic center gardener, allowed the ball to wriggle through his glove, thereby letting in a Red Top tally which tied the score.

Undismayed by the error of their team-mate, the locals settled down for an extra-inning game, determined to pole out the hit or hits which would mean a run and a victory over the fastest aggregation of ball tossers that has visited Manchester in years. The tenth inning came with no results. The eleventh and twelfth innings brought forth naught by goose eggs. Then came the fatal thirteenth and the wild throw by “Sammy” Kotsch which resulted in a defeat.

It happened in this way. Johnson of the Red Tops, former “Big Leaguer,” faced Freddy Warnock in the first of the thirteenth. He selected one of Freddie's banders and smashed out a hot liner to Kotsch at second. “Sammy” made a wonderful stop but in his eagerness to nail the runner at first he shaded the brilliancy of the play by a wild throw. The ball sailed over Brennan's head and the runner advanced to second.

The next batter up grounded to Warnock, who threw third in an effort to catch Johnson who left second with the hit. Johnson seeing-sawed between bases, the ball being relayed between Wilson and Kotsch. Kotsch again duplicated his earlier performance and threw the ball wild. The ball went into the crowd—Johnson scored and the Red Tops left the field with the victory.

Warnock Plays 100 Per Cent. Warnock pitched great ball. Throughout the entire thirteen innings he was never in danger and appeared not the least discouraged by his team mates' errors. He held the much vaunted Bay Staters to seven hits, and six Red Top sluggers fanned the ozone. The fielding of Wilson and Sipples at their respective positions also featured.

“Pete” Woods, brother of Smokey Joe of Red Sox fame, who occupied the mound for the Red Tops, proved to be an apt pupil of his brother and gave Warnock a close run for high honors. He had ten strike-outs to his credit and held the locals to eight hits. Beatty, Smith and Whaling featured for the visitors.

The Athletic management is endeavoring to have one of the largest and most prominent organizations in town back the local team and if present plans materialize several new faces will be seen in the line-up. Manchester then will have a team which will be well able to hold its own again any semi-professional team in New England. The box score of yesterday's game follows:

ANNEX PLAYERS PICK ANOTHER DEFEAT HERE

New Britain Nine Fines White Sox Two Hits to Hold 5-3 Tells the Story.

The White Sox sent the Annex team of New Britain home yesterday afternoon with another defeat. After having been defeated by the Athletic team last Sunday, the Hardware City aggregation secured a game with the White Sox, determined to trim at least one Manchester team. But they were doomed to disappointment for Daoust of the locals was at his best and allowed but seven hits. When the tally was checked up at the end of the ninth, the score stood 3 to 2 in favor of the White Sox.

Spectacular plays were in abundance. These are a usual occurrence at the Adams street grounds and the large crowd which turned out yesterday in anticipation of more “grand stand” exhibitions was not disappointed. For the locals, L. Daoust and Kornsa featured, the former getting a double and a home run out of four trips to the plate, and the latter connecting for a single and a triple. Kornsa sent the sphere sailing out into the woods and the New Britain center fielder, in attempting to field the ball, ran plump into a tree.

“Dodger” Dowd was forced to doff his cap to the plaudits of the crowd in the seventh, after he had speared a line drive, turning a complete somersault and coming up with the ball in his glove. He against featured with another brilliant play in the ninth. Campbell featured for the visitors at third accepting ten chances without an error. Daoust was credited with eight strike-outs, while his opposer had none. The box score of the game follows:

DAOUST HAD THREAD CITY PLAYERS ALL SNARED UP

White Sox Won Memorial Day Game in Willsimouth by Score of 5-2.

The White Sox team defeated the American Thread Mill team of Willsimouth by a score of 5 to 2 in the latter city on Decoration Day. Daoust held the Thread City hitters well in hand throughout the entire game and was never in danger. He was given perfect support by his team mates who also aided him by hammering the offerings of the Mill team twirler to all corners of the lot. The local pitcher allowed the opposing team but two hits. L. Daoust also featured with his hitting, connecting safely for three hits out of five times at bat. The box score of the game follows:

Park Theater

Carlyle Blackwell is up against a unique proposition in “Hit or Miss”, the new World Picture in which he is co-starred with Evelyn Greeley. Mr. Blackwell appears in the role of J. Butterfield Conroy, better known to his many friends as “Butts”. “Butts” meets and falls in love with Mary Bruce MacDowell, played by Evelyn Greeley, and when he follows her to the scientific colony of bug hunters where she is staying with her uncle, he gets into a poker game and loses all his money. He is then hired in his regular capacity of press agent by Frank Morrison, an old friend of his, who has also followed Mary to the colony. Morrison hires “Butts” for the purpose of making it appear that he, Morrison, is a famous scientist. In this way Morrison hopes to make an impression on Mary's uncle and further his suit for her hand.

As “Butts” gets more and more in love with Mary, it is evident that the situation is a decidedly difficult one for him. Shall he be true to what he considers his duty to Morrison, or shall he go ahead and try to win Mary for himself?

The working out of this unique situation is filled with fun of the sort for which the Blackwell-Greeley productions have become noted. In fact “Hit or Miss” is one of the very best of the series that Mr. Blackwell and Miss Greeley have ever made. It will be shown tonight at the Park theater.

You owe it to yourself to see this picture, because it will make you happy. There's no doubt about it because this is one of the funniest and most delightful pictures of the entire season.

Also on the bill will be another episode of “The Lure of the Circus” with Eddie Polo playing the star part and a comedy. Tomorrow W. S. Hart makes his bow to a Park audience after an absence of over two years. His picture, which is an Artcraft is called “The Poppy Girl's Husband.”

THE JEWS IN POLAND.

By publicly requesting that President Wilson appoint a board of inquiry to investigate the treatment that Jews are receiving in his country Ignace Paderewski has again rendered Poland a signal service and given further evidence that he is not only a patriot but a statesman of extraordinary perception. Statements which have made up in persistency what they may have lacked in authority or authenticity have been circulating about the country to the effect that unspeakable persecution of the Jews was taking place in the new born Poland. The world has been shocked to learn that the nation which had itself just thrown off the yoke was playing the oppressor against thousands of its citizens and public sympathy toward the infant republic was rapidly cooling.

But now Paderewski, speaking as the Polish Premier, makes an impassioned denial and appeals for that thing which no pogrom practicing government would, or could, tolerate—unlimited publicity. The misstatements which have so aroused the Jews in this country, have affected the Premier profoundly, he says, and he boldly asserts "I and my colleagues have nothing to conceal." All news from Poland, he asserts, is colored by enemy agents and he declares that we are being made the victims of Bolshevik propaganda.

Paderewski admits the execution of several Jews, military leaders of Bolshevik forces who were captured in battle and given a fair trial before their death. But he states that when it came to distributing food among the 23,000,000 famished stock-inhabitants of his land the Jews "had equal consideration with the other elements of the population." Paderewski openly charges that the leadership and brains of the Bolshevik movement are largely furnished by Jews and says, "It is the penalty Eastern Europe is paying for the mistreatment of Jews in Russia in the past."

There should be a commission to make the investigation which the great Pole requests but there is little reason why it should be, as he suggests, appointed by President Wilson and composed entirely of Americans. This would seem to be a task for an international mission as it presents a question of the good standing of a newly formed government in the family of nations. Through such allied action Poland would not only have a chance to clear herself of what she claims is a monstrous slander but the Jews could at the same time lay their case before the world.

If people are as proud of their ancestors a hundred years hence as the sons and the daughters of the American Revolution are now, what an immense society will be that formed by the sons and daughters of the World War!

We are relieved to note that the cost of the operation of the Siberian railway is not to be borne by the United States alone, but is to be shared by the allies. Government control of the railroads in this country is about all the extravagance of this nature we can stand. Running a railroad in Siberia would surely bankrupt us.

If Germany will make an honest effort to comply with the peace terms and it then proves that they make demands which it is impossible to fulfill it will be time for that country to ask and for the allies to grant a modification of the terms. Germany's reputation for honesty is not of the best at the present time and evidences of good faith must be forthcoming before the long suffering and now victorious allies will feel disposed to offer any concessions.

GLEANINGS FROM STATE PAPERS.

A number of cottages at the Willimantic campground are already occupied and the social activities of that wooded resort fill half a column in the Willimantic Chronicle.

The Arpeco Fibre Company of Amesbury, Mass., has established a branch factory at Hop River in the buildings of the Tolland Leather Board Company and is manufacturing a fiber board for use in shoes. The material is in demand and the plant is running two shifts, 24 hours a day. The mill is the heaviest shipper at the Hop River station.

A correspondent of the Bristol Press, commenting on the slogan "A Bigger and Better Bristol," says that Bristol is bound to grow bigger but questions whether it is better, when old residents are turned out of their homes by outside people.

A steamer service between New London and Block Island has been announced for this summer. Since the old Block Island was taken off there has been no service on this route, once so popular with residents of Hartford and vicinity. A new schedule will be followed which will add to the convenience of passengers from this direction. The old Block Island used to leave New London at 9.30 and passengers from Manchester had to leave home soon after daylight to connect with it. The new boat will leave New London at 1.30 p. m. and will leave Block Island on the return trip at 8.30 in the morning. Now if the railroads will arrange their trains to connect with the boat the popularity of Block Island as a summer resort will be not only restored but increased.

In a new Bridgeport housing plant a central heating station will be used to heat 324 dwellings. It is estimated that 1,200 tons of coal, mostly bituminous will do the work, a little more than four tons a year per dwelling.

RIBBLESDALE, ON HONEYMOON.

London, June 2.—Mrs. Ava Willing Astor, first wife of Colonel John Jacob Astor, Titanic victim and mother of Vincent Astor, and Lord Ribblesdale, who were married Saturday, are spending their honeymoon at Lord Ribblesdale's country home in Lancashire, it was learned today.

Mrs. Astor was a famous Philadelphia beauty before her marriage to John Jacob Astor in 1891. She obtained a divorce in 1909. Colonel Astor then married Miss Madeline Force, who was returning from Europe with him when the Titanic went down.

SIX TRANSPORTS IN.

New York, June 2.—Six transports with a total of 10,361 soldiers were scheduled to arrive in New York harbor today.

The Graf Waldersee with 4,337 troops and the Canada, with 1,792 were the first to arrive. The Waldersee brought the 319th Infantry complete, 142nd Infantry Medical Detachment, third battalion headquarters and Companies I, K, L and M, the 305th Engineer Train, casual units and 43 nurses. On the Canada were the 51st and 55th Base Hospital, the 23rd Evacuation Hospital and casual units.

POCAHONTAS ARRIVES.

Newport News, Va., June 2.—A total of 11,937 men arrived here aboard the transports Finland, Nazemond and Pocahontas yesterday. The Finland brought the 143rd Infantry complete, Texas and Oklahoma men of the Thirty-sixth Division and other units. The Nazemond brought the 317th Infantry, complete, most of them Virginians and two batteries of the 315th Field Artillery.

SAYS BOSTON IS SLOW; WOMEN POOR DRESSERS.

Boston, June 2.—Boston is too slow, its women are poor dressers and inexperienced, and the populace in general is phlegmatic, too negative, mate up of slow thinkers, Mrs. Mary E. T. Chapin told the New England convention of the International New Thought Alliance.

"In comparison with other cities of the country," she said, "Boston is slow, lacking in animation and is making no advancement."

COURT CONFISCATES CAR IN LIQUOR CASE.

Richmond, Va., June 2.—Judge Richardson of Hustings Court, has held that J. L. Ricker, of Augusta, Ga., cannot recover an automobile confiscated in a liquor case here several months ago. Ricker represented that he has a vendor's lien on the car.

MINERS AND TRUCKLOAD OF DYNAMITE TAKE TUMBLE.

Fottsville, Pa., June 2.—A dozen miners went over an embankment near here seated on a truckload of dynamite and are still living to tell the story. Why the dynamite failed to explode cannot be explained. Nearly all the men were severely bruised.

GERMANY DECLARES HER EXCLUSION FROM LEAGUE IS DEATH SENTENCE

Says She Cannot Carry Out Peace Terms — Stands Aghast at "Violence" of Her Enemies—Full Text of Counter-proposals.

The text of the German counter proposals, dated May 29 and addressed to Premier Clemenceau, president of the peace conference, was made public by the State Department as follows: "Mr. President—I have the honor to transmit to you herewith the observations of the German delegation on the draft treaty of peace. We came to Versailles in the expectation of receiving a peace proposal based on the agreed principles. We were firmly resolved to do everything in our power with a view to fulfilling our obligations which we had undertaken. We hoped for the peace of justice which had been promised us. We were aghast when we read in documents the demands made upon us, the victorious violence of our enemies. The more deeply we penetrate into the spirit of this treaty, the more convinced we become of the impossibility of carrying it out. The exactions of this treaty are more than the German people can bear.

"With a view to the re-establishment of the Polish State we must renounce indisputably German territory—nearly the whole of the Province of West Prussia, which is preponderantly German; of Pomerania; Danzig, which is German to the core; we must let that ancient Hanse town be transformed into a free State under Polish suzerainty. We must agree that East Prussia shall be amputated from the body of the state, condemned to a linguistic death, and robbed of its northern portion, including Memel, which is purely German. We must renounce Upper Silesia for the benefit of Poland and Czechoslovakia, although it has been in close political connection with Germany for more than 750 years, is inseparably German in its life and form, the very fountain of industrial life throughout East Germany.

"Preponderantly German circles (Kreis) must be ceded to Belgium, without sufficient guarantees that that plebiscite, which is only to take place afterward, will be independent. The purely German district of the Saar must be detached from our Empire, and the way must be paved for its subsequent annexation to France, although we owe her debts in coal only, not in men.

"For fifteen years Rhenish territory must be occupied. After those fifteen years the Allies have power to refuse the restoration of the country; in the interval the Allies can take every measure to sever the economic and moral links with the mother country, and finally to misrepresent the wishes of the indigenous population.

"Perpetual Slave Labor." "Although the exaction of the cost of the war has been expressly renounced, yet Germany, thus cut in pieces and weakened, must declare herself ready in principle to bear all the war expenses of her enemies, which would exceed many times over the total amount of German State and private assets.

"Meanwhile her enemies demand, in excess of the agreed conditions, reparation for damage suffered by their civil population, and in this connection Germany must also go bail for her allies. The sum to be paid is to be fixed by the Allies unilaterally, and to admit of subsequent modification and increase. No limit is fixed, save the capacity of the German people for payment, determined not by their standard of life, but solely by their capacity to meet the demands of their enemies by their labor. The German people would thus be condemned to perpetual slave labor.

"In spite of the exorbitant demands, the reconstruction of our economic life is at the same time rendered impossible. We must surrender our merchant fleet. We are to renounce all foreign securities. We are to hand over to our enemies our property in all German enterprises abroad, even in the countries of our allies. Even after the conclusion of peace the enemy States are to have the right of confiscating all German property. No German trader in their countries will be protected from these war measures. We must completely renounce our colonies, and not even German missionaries shall have the right to follow their calling therein. We must thus renounce the realization of all our aims in the spheres of politics, economics, and ideas.

"Even in internal affairs we are to give up the right to self-determination. The International Reparation Commission receives dictatorial powers over the whole life of our people in economic and cultural matters. Its authority extends far beyond that which the Empire, the German Federal Council, and the Reichstag combined ever possessed within the territory of the Empire. This commission has unlimited control over the economic life of the State, of communities, and of individuals. Furthermore, the entire educational and sanitary system depends on it. It can keep the whole German people in mental thrall. In order to increase the payments due, by the thrall, the commission can hamper measures for the social protection of the German worker.

"In other spheres also Germany's sovereignty is abolished. Her chief waterways are subjected to international administration; she must construct in her territory such canals and such railways as her enemies wish; she must agree to treaties, the contents of which are unknown to her, to be concluded by her enemies with the new States on the east, even when they concern her own functions. The German people is excluded from the League of Nations, to which is entrusted all work of common interest to the world.

"Thus must a whole people sign the decree for its own proscription, nay, its own death sentence.

"Germany knows that she must make sacrifices in order to attain peace. Germany knows that she has, by agreement, undertaken to make these sacrifices, and will go in this matter to the utmost limits of her capacity.

An impartial commission should have the right to investigate on its own responsibility the archives of all the belligerent countries and all the persons who took an important part in the war.

"Nothing short of confidence that the question of guilt will be examined dispassionately can cleave the peoples lately at war with each other in the proper frame of mind for the formation of the League of Nations.

"These are only the most important among the proposals which we have to make. As regards other great sacrifices, and also as regards the details, the delegation refers to the accompanying memorandum and the annex thereto.

"Urges Oral Exchanges.

"The time allowed us for the preparation of this memorandum was so short that it was impossible to treat all the questions exhaustively. A fruitful and illuminating negotiation could only take place by means of oral discussion. This treaty of peace is to be the greatest achievement of its kind in all history. There is no precedent for the conduct of such comprehensive negotiations by an exchange of written notes only. The feeling of the peoples who have made such immense sacrifices makes them demand that their fate should be decided by an open, unreserved exchange of ideas on the principles: 'Quite on a covenant of peace upon which arrived at, after which there shall be no private international understandings of any kind, but diplomacy shall proceed always frankly in the public view.'

"Germany is to put her signature to the treaty laid before her and carry it out. Even in her need, justice for her is too sacred a thing to allow her to stoop to achieve conditions which she cannot undertake to carry out. Treaties of peace signed by the great powers have, it is true, in the history of the last decades, again and again proclaimed the right of the stronger. But each of these treaties of peace has been a factor in originating and prolonging the world war. Whenever in this war the victor has spoken to the vanquished, at Brest-Litovsk and Bucharest, his words were but the seeds of future discord. The lofty aims which our adversaries first set before themselves in their conduct of the war, the new era of an assured peace of justice, demand a treaty instinct with a different spirit. Only the cooperation of a nations, a co-operation of hands and spirits, can build up a durable peace. We also under no delusions regarding the strength of the hatred and bitterness which this war has engendered, and yet the forces which are at work for a union of mankind are stronger now than ever they were before. The historic task of the Peace Conference of Versailles is to bring about this union.

"Accept, Mr. President, the expression of my distinguished consideration."

THIS BURGLAR CAN'T WORK WHEN "LICKERED UP."

San Francisco, June 2.—A fellow can't drink and get away with burglary. I was drunk when caught. A man can't drink during working hours and expect to work right.

That is the philosophy expressed by James Nolan, former convict, now in custody after he was alleged to have robbed several homes in the residential section of the city. Nolan was discovered at work twice he eluded the police. A man was set, however, and the unsuspecting burglar walked into it.

Circle Theater

A very convincing crook play will be shown at the Circle theater tonight. It is called "The Girl With No Regrets", and has Peggy Hyland as its star. Miss Hyland as Signa Herrick, orphaned, goes to live with her sister. She soon learns that her sister has married a crook and has taken to thieving with him. Of course, Signa runs away from them, and finally she obtains a position as secretary in a wealthy man's home. While the wealthy man is falling in love with her, her crooked brother-in-law decides to rob the house, which is known to contain a valuable collection of gems.

It is an awkward situation when, as the wealthy sweetheart is placing an engagement ring on her finger, two burglars are watching him from behind portieres. A mirror apprises the wealthy man of his danger, and the desperate fight that follows results in the overpowering of the crooks.

The wealthy man's half-brother and his wife scorn Signa because they fear she will disturb their own plans for getting the wealthy man's money. But their accusations against Signa amount to nothing beside the love of the wealthy man and the confession of Signa's sister that she and her husband are thieves, but that Signa is entirely innocent.

The play is beautifully photographed and the direction by Harry Millarde is excellent. The acting of Miss Hyland marks another triumph for this talented and versatile star.

On the same bill will be another chapter of "The Man of Might" and a comedy.

This same program will be shown again tomorrow with a Sunshine comedy and Pathe News added.

The big feature Thursday will be "And the Children Pay."

OH, BOSTON! WHY HAVE YOU NOT CONFESSED IT?

Boston, June 2.—There are dozens of fashionable women residents of the Back Bay who "have not touched water to their bodies for the past ten years", and as a result are the pictures of physical health. So asserts Dr. Charles E. Page, physician, author of health books and advocate of the non-bath doctrine.

EIGHTH DISTRICT PUPIL WINS $10 ESSAY PRIZE

Miriam Welles Honored by Society of Colonial Dames for Literary Effort.

The awards in the annual prize contest in essay writing carried on by the Connecticut Society of the Colonial Dames of America have just been announced and the first prize of $10 is awarded to Miriam Welles of the eighth grade in the Eighth District.

The contest was open to all the grammar schools of the state and this year there were 364 contestants. The subject of Miss Welles' essay was "Washington's Career before the Revolution".

This is not the first time the honor has been won by pupils of the Eighth District. In 1914 it was awarded to Ernest Williams and in 1915 to Olive McMenemy.

Among the other awards this year was a certificate of "Honorable Mention" to David Williams.

The record of the school in these composition contests is highly creditable to both teachers and pupils.

ICE PRICES GO UP.

Local ice dealers announce an increase in the prices of ice to patrons in this town, effective today. Families and stores using less than 300 pounds at a delivery will pay 80 cents a hundred pounds. Stores taking over 300 pounds and less than 800 at a delivery will pay 70 cents and those taking over 800 pounds at one delivery will pay 60 cents a hundred pounds.

What little local ice still remains in town is being held for an emergency later in the season and practically all the ice delivered from now on will be imported in cars. This accounts for the rise in prices.

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTORS

Leon O. Holmes and Franklin B. Bendeson, both popular local young men, have gone into business for themselves. The former was connected with the electrical department at Cheney Brothers for the past ten years and the latter in the same department for the past seven years. Both are specialists in their lines. Under the firm name of Holmes and Bendeson the young men have started an electrical contractor's business.

Views From the Front.

A large audience at the Center church last evening listened with intense interest to the illustrated talk by Dr. Hesselgrave on the work of the 26th division in France. The pictures shown with the aid of the stereopticon were taken by Dr. Hesselgrave himself and gave those who saw them an intimate knowledge of the conditions under which our men lived and fought over there.

They showed where young Cornell was killed and buried, the scene of the shell explosion which resulted in the death of Rev. Dr. Voorhees of Hartford, and many views of Manchester boys in trenches and billets. They also showed the roads over which our men traveled and the country and towns in which they fought.

CARD OF THANKS.

Although late, I wish the eminent members of the south end fire department to feel that I appreciate the prompt work they performed on Memorial Day at the fire adjoining the Circle theater. This promptness saved the theater and I give heart-felt thanks to every fireman who so nobly performed his duty. (Signed) "Doc" P. F. Sullivan.

LET THE "DRY" LAW STAND FATHER MCGURK HOPES TO BUILD SCHOOL SOON

Plans for St. James Parochial School - Call for Up-to-date Building With Auditorium and Kindergarten.

Architect's plans and drawings for the proposed St. James Parochial school and auditorium which are now in the hands of Rev. William J. McGurk, pastor of St. James Roman Catholic church, promise for Manchester in the not far distant future, an educational institution that will be on par with any of the town's most prominent and imposing structures.

This building which will be of brick construction, will have a frontage on Park street of 76 feet, and will extend 126 feet to the rear. In connection with the main building there will be constructed in the rear an addition to be known as the St. James Auditorium. The size of this building will be 40-62 feet.

Both structures will adhere to modern construction lines, will be fire-proof and will contain all the latest modern conveniences for the safety and comfort of pupils, teachers and visitors. Numerous well placed windows give evidence that special attention is to be paid to lighting facilities and ventilation.

Further evidence of this feature is demonstrated by the proposed construction of two large area-ways in the front of the main building. In the rear of the main building and the addition there will be a children's playground. Ample room for the latter is almost a certainty now that a 19 foot porch line on Park street is practically guaranteed.

Build Auditorium First. According to the plans of Father McGurk the ground for the auditorium will be broken very soon. The main building will not be erected until after the completion of the former. Father McGurk states that he cannot tell just when ground will be broken for the school proper, but it is safe to assume that the time is not far distant.

The auditorium when completed will be one story high and will have a seating capacity of about 450. A spacious stage will be erected in this building with scenery and up-to-date lighting effects. There will be cloak rooms, lavatories and other comforts and conveniences. In this building will be held the fairs, entertainments, meetings and all other social functions in connection with the parish. A refreshment room 27x62 feet, will be situated in the basement of the auditorium.

The school building will be of two stories. The main entrance facing Park street; the girls' entrance facing Church street and the boys' entrance on the opposite side, facing west. There will be eight class rooms, four on the first floor and four on the second floor. Large, roomy and airy corridors will run east and west, north and south, both on the main and second floors, dividing off the class rooms.

Plans for Kindergarten. A kindergarten is also proposed for the basement of the main building. Here the kiddies will learn the fundamental principles of the "three R's". McGurk is well pleased with the plans which were prepared by Whitton and McMahon of Hartford.

NO WORD FROM SON. Parents of Robert J. McKinney Are Wondering Why He Has Not Come Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McKinney of 113 Spruce street are wondering what has become of their son, Robert J. McKinney, and of $30, which was sent to him at Hoboken, N. J., last Thursday on his arrival from overseas. "Bob" McKinney has been with the Naval Aviation Construction Unit at Queenstown, Ireland, for nearly a year. He wrote some time ago that he was coming home about Decoration Day and last Thursday his parents received a telegram from Hoboken, N. J., stating that "Bob" had arrived there the Friday before and that he wanted $30 with which to come home. The money was sent by telegram, and that has been the last heard from "Bob" or the money either.

The telegraph operator says that if McKinney had not received the money it would have been returned to the office so the War Bureau officials, through whom the money was sent, are waiting to see if the money is returned to the telegraph office.

NO ST. JOSEPH'S DANCE. Notwithstanding reports that have been circulated elsewhere it is announced that the members of St. Joseph's Aid will not give a dance this evening and have never intended to do so.

WOMAN SHAKES LAD OUT OF PERFECTLY GOOD NAP

Little Fellow Just Wanted to Rest on Sidewalk But Grown Ups Wouldn't Let Him.

A youngster, sitting sound asleep on the Birch street sidewalk Saturday afternoon caused much consternation among the residents of that vicinity and attracted a large crowd. The young lad was evidently "falling in" from excessive exercise and sitting down by the iron fence which surrounds the property of Charles E. House, he soon dozed off.

All efforts to arouse the lad were useless and it was thought that his condition might be of a serious nature.

A bystander suggested a doctor and a call was sent in for Medical Examiner Tinker. In the meantime a woman who had arrived on the scene approached the reclining figure with an air of authority and grasping the boy, shook him roughly.

The treatment she administered would have aroused Rip Van Winkle and needless to say the little lad on the sidewalk came to life.

He asked around him in a sort of semi-conscious manner, gave vent to his disapproval of being awakened, and then went waddling down Birch street toward home. Dr. Tinker was informed that his services were not required as the tiny tot had received his impuncta bed.

But for a Short Time There Was All the Mystery of a Triple Murder.

Pedestrians on Main street were much excited for a short time Saturday evening, when one of the clerks in the City lunch room rushed out with a short club and began to hammer on the sidewalk. This is the usual method of summoning a policeman and it had the desired effect for in about two minutes Officer William Glenny appeared on the scene. He stepped into a waiting auto and was whisked away into the darkness.

Then the rumors started. At first there was a murder on Cooper street. This was changed to a fight, then a robbery, followed by numerous other suppositions. It finally leaked out that the patrolman had been summoned to apprehend a drunk who was creating a disturbance on Summer street.

POLICE CHANGE BEATS. The members of the police force changed their beats last evening. William Fitzgerald goes from the West side to the North end; John Crockett from Spruce street to the West end; Michael Fitzgerald from the North end to the Center; Patrolman McSweney from the center to Main; William Glenny from Main to Spruce. Captain Campbell still covers the South end beat.

SMART NEW DRESSES FOR LITTLE CHILDREN

These attractive little dresses are distinctively childish and girlish. They have not the appearance of having been cut down from dresses designed for older persons. Each one is a charmingly youthful model, embellished with tasteful and thoroughly appropriate trimmings. These dresses are made as well as the handsomest costumes designed by dressmakers. And their designs are prettier, newer and more desirable than any home dressmaker could furnish. Yet their prices are in every instance less than you could have dress of equal quality made for at home.
