PRESIDENT OF W. U. SAYS WIRE STRIKE DID NOT SUCCEED

Big Cities Report That Few Operators Have Quit Their Keys.

ALL POSTAL OPERATORS IN HARTFORD ARE OUT

Few Out in Boston But Many Stop Working in Washington—Conflicting Reports Made.

New York, June 11.—Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, told Postmaster General Burleson over the long distance telephone shortly before noon today that the strike of telegraphers was "a fizzle."

"We have received reports from all seven divisions of our system," said Carlton, "and everywhere traffic is clear."

EARLY REPORTS.

Chicago, June 11.—The first general strike of telegraph operators in the United States since 1907 began at 8 a. m. today. Responding to the call of S. J. Konenkamp, international president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, Western Union and Postal operators throughout the entire nation quit their keys.

How extensive the strike is will not be known until more accurate reports of the number of men who walked out begin to come in from the cities affected by the strike. At present it is impossible to state definitely how many men are out.

40,000 to Quit.

President Konenkamp, of the telegraphers, estimates the number who will respond to the strike call at between 40,000 and 70,000. Officials of the telegraph companies declare the number will be much smaller asserting that sufficient operators will remain at work to permit operation of the telegraph systems with little interruption.

Although the strike was set for 8 o'clock this morning, the night forces of the Western Union and Postal companies at Omaha, Neb., quit their posts at midnight. Practically every employee of the night shift, both men and women, walked out, according to reports reaching here.

Cable Offices Also.

Besides the telegraph systems of the Western Union and Postal, the strike will include the cables, the union officials asserting they hope in this way to bring the trouble directly to the attention of President Wilson. The American Telegraph and Telephone Company, union officials state, also will be affected.

Union members in Chicago, it has been decided, will adopt a plan of peaceful picketing.

Although no strike of railroad telegraphers has been called, it is understood that officials of the railway operators' union have instructed their men to refuse to handle commercial messages.

A Test of Strength.

The walkout this morning is regarded by union officials as a test of strength. If sufficient operators join, in the strike to seriously cripple the telegraph companies, the operators believe it will demonstrate the power of their organization and ultimately force recognition of their union, which is the principal issue of the controversy.

For the present press association and broker operators are not involved in the strike although President Konenkamp has intimated that broker men may be called out later. The International News Service, Universal Service and United Press Associations, it is stated, are operating under contract with their operators and hence are not affected.

Practically the entire operating force of the Postal Telegraph Company went on strike here this morning in accordance with the strike issued by the Commercial Telegraphers' Union, according to reports received after seven o'clock. At the Western Union offices the percentage of men going on strike was smaller. At the Postal, although enough operators walked out, it was reported

SENATOR SAYS HE STARTED TREATY PROBE MARCH 6.

"On March 6, last, I began an investigation to find out what interest in or connection with the league of nations the great international bankers of New York had."

"I learned that they were all deeply interested in the league and were working for it. I became convinced that it in this country, they were supporting the league not through an ultra-patriotic motive, but for private reasons."

"I am perfectly willing to give the results of my investigation."

"By questioning these gentlemen there will be no difficulty about establishing the fact of their possession of the peace treaty. The difficulty will come in showing their interest in it. But I mean to lay a foundation for developing that."

Statement by Senator Borah, Progressive Republican, of Idaho.

to handicap seriously the operating department of the company.

Result Not Known.

President Konenkamp issued a statement at 8 o'clock today in which he declared the full effect of the strike probably will not be known for a few days.

"The strike will increase in force throughout the week," he said. "The telegraph workers have been forced to make a test of strength because no other avenue of adjustment is open to them. It is only when the strength lies on the side of the workers that arbitration is pointed to as the way out. We are confident that the result will be in our favor."

Konenkamp said it was impossible for him to estimate now the number of men out but discredited reports that the Western Union is "running one hundred per cent."

In New York.

New York, June 11.—Union telegraph operators left their keys at Western Union offices all over New York as the nation-wide wire strike went into effect today, and it was reported that the Postal system was being similarly affected.

It was impossible early in the day to obtain any estimate of the number of men who quit work. Headquarters of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union was waiting full reports before making any statement and wire company officials asserted that the places of the strikers would be filled later in the day and business carried on as usual.

"Don't Be a Scab."

Union pickets, wearing placards reading: "Don't Be a Scab" patrolled in front of the main offices and branches of the telegraph companies. A number of men, understood to be private detectives hired by the company were also on patrol before the Walker street office of the Western Union, but thus far no trouble has been reported.

Pickets appeared before the main office of the Postal at 235 Broadway two hours before the strike order became effective. Some of the union operators who left the Postal building declared that a whistle was blown at 6 o'clock and that practically the men then on duty walked out, leaving less than a dozen at work.

Few Out in Boston.

Boston, June 11.—A strike of union telegraph operators was called here today. Thirty five men and women pickets were counted outside the main Western Union office here. Leaders of Local No. 4, Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America said that before night the strike would be more far reaching than company officials anticipated. Western Union and Postal Officials reported that business was moving along normally and that only a few of their employees went out on strike.

ALL OUT AT CAPITOL.

Washington, June 11.—Practically all commercial telegraphers in Washington who are members of the union responded to the strike call today. All the Postal telegraph offices, which are strongly organized practically the entire force, walked out. Officials of the company declined to say, however, how many were on strike.

"Our regular force is at work," was the statement issued from the Western Union offices. However, there were crowds of telegraphers

WILSON SUGGESTS THAT BIG POWERS SPEED UP IN WORK

Otherwise Bolshevism Will Triumph Over Law and Order, He Says.

ANSWER READY FRIDAY; ONE WEEK TO ACCEPT

German Delegates Allowed to Take Amended Treaty to Weimar to Discuss It.

Paris, June 11.—The complete rejoinder of the Allies to the German counter proposals will be handed to Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, head of the German peace delegation on Friday.

The Big Four for this morning practically completed the economic conditions and made material progress toward completing the clauses relating to the League of Nations and the left bank of the Rhine. It is planned to allow the German delegation to proceed to Weimar and present the amended treaty for consideration by the German national assembly. Germany will then be required to signify within a week, whether she accepts or rejects, the treaty.

Wilson Wants Speed.

Clemenceau and Lloyd George are generally accepting President Wilson's suggestions in dealing with the German counter claims. The President has sharply rebuked the adamant attitude of both, declaring: "Unless there is the speediest action immediately, it is useless to continue. Bolshevism will triumph over law and order."

His declaration was followed by immediate concessions, making possible an early agreement.

FIRST OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE.

Paris, June 11.—In the first official communique issued by the League of Nations, every nation member of the League is called upon to supply the Secretary General with full information regarding the political, economical, financial and social matters essential to the league. The communique, issued following a meeting of the organization committee yesterday afternoon also announced that a number of eminent international jurists will be invited to give advice on the constitution of a permanent court of international justice.

TO ALLOW DR. CARL MUCK TO RETURN TO GERMANY

Former Leader of Boston Symphony Orchestra to be Released from Internment.

Washington, June 11.—Dr. Carl Muck, former leader of the Boston Symphony Orchestra is to be released from internment in the very near future and allowed to return to Germany, Department of Justice officials stated today. Muck was interned as a dangerous enemy alien soon after the entry of America into the war. He has applied for repatriation, it was stated, and his release from Fort Oglethorpe is expected probably before the end of the week.

Others who will be released and allowed to return to Germany are Dr. Richard Goldschmidt, who was recently released on parole and Otto Bertling, interned following his dissemination of German propaganda in New York.

FIGHTING IN MUNICH.

Copenhagen, June 11.—Fighting has broken out in Munich as a result of the labor unrest caused by the summary execution of the communist leader Levine, according to advices from Berlin today.

The situation has suddenly become more serious and further strikes are threatened.

The position of Premier Scheffemann and Defense Minister Noske has become critical.

ROOT HAS A COPY OF TREATY; GOT IT FROM H. P. DAVISON; NEVER SHOWN TO ANY OTHER

Turkish Peace Envoys to Object To Greek Occupation of Smyrna

Paris, June 11.—Turkish peace delegates, who are enroute for France on the French warship Democracy will concede the Allies' right to occupy Thrace, but will object to the Greek occupation of Smyrna, it was understood here today. The Ottoman envoys are reported to be preparing to shift the responsibility for Turkey's entrance into the war upon the young Turks.

U. S. DRY MISSIONARIES KEPT OUT OF BRITAIN

Nevertheless American Anti- Saloon League Opens London Office.

TO HAVE 40 SPEAKERS

Will Lecture All Over Europe—Ad- vertising Posters Are Already Being Distributed.

London, June 11.—That a number of American temperance lecturers who are preparing to come here for an "international dry campaign" were refused passports at the request of the British government was reported here today.

Nevertheless the anti-saloon league of America has already started work in Great Britain. William E. Johnson, organizing secretary of the league, has already taken a suite of offices in Fleet street and as evidence that he expects a long fight ahead of him has leased them for 23 years.

To Have 40 Speakers.

Mr. Johnson stated that a band of 40 lecturers will start for this country at the earliest possible moment for the purpose of spreading the glad tidings. They will confine their attention to Great Britain but will work all over Europe. Literature, charts and advertising posters are already in the course of preparation and a big campaign will be instituted—as soon as the lecturers are permitted to leave the United States.

At the same time, it is said, a body of selected speakers will be sent from England to the United States for the purpose of studying conditions there and to gather data for their use in the campaign here.

Has Plenty of Funds.

The society has apparently plenty of funds and expects the hearty cooperation of the British and foreign temperance bodies on this side of the Atlantic.

It is evident that the American "drys" are going to make a strenuous effort to convert Great Britain to their cause. Whether the representations which led the American government to refuse passports to temperance workers came officially from the British government or were unofficial is not positively known.

SENATOR SPOONER DEAD.

New York, June 11.—John C. Spooner, for 16 years United States Senator from Wisconsin and since his retirement in 1907, a member of a New York law firm, died early today of apoplexy, after an illness of several weeks. His body will be sent to Madison, Wis., Thursday or Friday for burial.

Spooner was 76 years old at the time of his death. During his term at Washington he was known as the consulting attorney of the Senate and was called by William H. Taft, "the greatest parliamentary debater of his day."

NEW DATE FOR REPLY.

Berlin, June 11.—Germany probably will send her final reply to the Allies on June 19 or 20. In spite of solemn protests it is now growing clear that her answer will be "yes."

Leak Testimony Begins Before Senate Committee—J. P. Morgan, Davison and Vanderlip on Hand—Root Has Had Copy Several Weeks—Declares He Has Right to It—Given Him by Red Cross Official.

Washington, June 11.—J. P. Morgan, and Henry P. Davison, of the Morgan banking house, appeared today before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee when it resumed its probe of Senator Borah's charges that copies of the peace treaty had fallen into the possession of certain American financier interests before the Senate had access to the voluminous document.

Elihu Root, former Senator, and Secretary of State, entered the committee room almost immediately after Morgan and Davison arrived.

Root's appearance revived the report that it was he who recently placed a copy of the peace treaty in Senator Lodge's hands in New York City. It was stated that he had volunteered to testify before the committee.

Frank A. Vanderlip former President of the National City Bank, of New York City, showed up just before Senator Lodge, as chairman of the committee, opened the hearing. Lodge began by reading a telegram from Jacob P. Schiff, of Kuhn, Loeb and Company, in which he "begged to be excused" from appearing before the committee.

Former Senator Root was the first witness called. Senator Lodge explained that Root had "volunteered to appear as a witness," and "had to take an early train back to New York."

Before the hearing began Root chatted with Morgan and Davison as the three sat together on a big leather lounge on the "side lines."

Root Has Copy.

Elihu Root, admitted having a copy of the treaty.

"The publication of the purpose of this committee to inquire into the possession of copies of the draft treaty with Germany led me to feel that it was proper for me to come here and give the committee certain knowledge which I have," Root said. "I have a copy of that treaty and have it for several weeks. It was sent to me by Mr. Henry P. Davison of the Red Cross," he continued.

"I stand upon my right to have it. I deny that any one can question that right. I assert the entire propriety of my having it and his giving it to me. He had it because of its connections with the Red Cross. He had it in Paris and brought it away with him."

"It was not a secret document in any sense of the word. It had been published in substance in our country. The League of Nations part had been published in full and the labor part also," he continued.

"The paper was presented to the German delegates early in May and they almost immediately made it public in full and it thereupon became public property. There are always two parties to diplomatic negotiations and either party can make the matter public. The German government had the entire right to make this paper public and it is public. I rather resent that I have not the right to have the treaty and to use it as I intend to use it."

"I feel competent to say to the Committee that the relations of the Red Cross to the revision of International Relations were such that Mr. Davison's possession of that paper was no idle curiosity, but was the duty of a man who has abandoned his business and conferred an inestimable benefit upon the good name of the American people."

"Not 'Stolen Goods.'"

At this point Senator Knox interrupted:

"Mr. Root, I gather that you want to be understood that you are not in possession of stolen goods probably secured by bribery as had been suggested on the floor of the Senate."

"I repeat any such suggestion and I wish to indicate that the possession of such knowledge is legitimate," replied Mr. Root.

"Did you find anything in the treaty which was not substantially as in the summary?" asked Senator Williams.

"I didn't compare the labor articles, but I found nothing. The only thing I compared with the summary was the little part which related to the terms with Germany."

Senator Hitchcock stated that the investigation had been brought about by charges which indicated that possession of the treaty was for private purposes and I want you to know that it was to that I referred when I made my statement about stolen goods and bribery," Hitchcock said.

"I want to say that the statement about bribery and corruption was made with reference to the copy of the treaty I had," interjected Senator Lodge.

"I consider the Red Cross had a legitimate interest," said Senator Hitchcock.

"I was not connected with the Red Cross when I received the treaty," Root explained.

"What is the name of your law firm?" asked Senator Borah.

"I am not a member of any law firm, but there is a firm of which my son is the head," said Root.

Knows of No Other Copy.

"Do you know of other copies of the treaty?" asked Senator Johnson.

"I do not," answered Root.

"Do you think any damage has been done by the printing of the treaty in the Congressional Record," asked Senator Brandegee.

"Not unless that it has drawn the attention of the Senate from more important things," answered Root.

"Do you know anything more important?" asked Borah.

Shown to Root Only.

"No," answered Root. Root said he did not believe it was incumbent upon the President to send the treaty to the Senate. Henry P. Davison, the next witness, said the copy of the treaty which was brought to this country has never been read by any man in this country, except Senator Root and himself.

The Chronicle office was destroyed and the Union Jack was torn up. The trouble centered about the National Assembly building.

It had previously been reported that the outbreaks of the Egyptian nationalists had been quelled following the arrival of General Allenby, in Cairo.

IN CLEVELAND. Cleveland, O., June 11.—Reports conflicted today on the success of the telegraphers' strike here.

The union leaders declared that fifty men had responded to the strike call and their ranks would be augmented.

Officials of the three companies—Western Union, Postal, and American Telephone and Telegraph Company—were emphatic that not a man had failed to report for duty today.

Approximately 250 operators are employed in Cleveland by the three companies affected.

IN HARTFORD. Hartford, June 11.—Every telegrapher in the employ of the local Postal office walked out at eight o'clock this morning. The Western Union was not so badly affected, two or three men remaining on duty.

EIGHTH DISTRICT WILL CONSIDER HOSE HOUSE

Annual Meeting Tomorrow Night at New School Building Take Up Important Matters.

The annual meeting of the voters of the Eighth School and Utilities District will be held in the assembly hall of the new school building tomorrow evening. The meeting ought to be very well attended as there are many important matters to come up for discussion and it is very likely that appropriations for the new hose house and for fire apparatus will be made.

TROOPS JOIN CASTRO. Washington, June 11.—An additional force of three thousand government troops has joined General Castro-Chihuahua, according to advices reaching the State Department today with the resumption of telegraphic communication with the Mexican city. At last reports Villa was 67 miles from the city.

Railroad communications from Chihuahua has not been resumed, it was stated.

STOCK MARKET. New York, June 11.—The stock market showed a steady tone generally at the opening today, although price movements were irregular. There was little variation, however, after the first few minutes.

U. S. Steel Common yielded one point to 107 1/2 and after rallying to 108 1/2, yielded again to below 108. Bath Steel dropped 1/4 from 89. Studebaker sold off 2 1/2 to 105 1/2 and General Motors declined 2 1/2 to 22 1/2. Marine Common rose 3/4 to 52 1/2 and then declined to 52 1/4. Tobacco Products advanced two points to 105 1/2 and then declined to 104. United Cigars opened 2 1/2 points to a new high of 144, followed by a reaction to 143.

COLOR WAS REMOVED. Mr. Jones keeps pigeons, and Mr. Brown, next-door, tries to keep pigeons—quite a different state of affairs. Mr. Brown is constantly losing birds, while Mr. Jones is constantly suspected of finding them. The other morning Mr. Brown with a smile and a sly pounce, approached the youthful son and help of Mr. Jones.

"Willie," began Brown, holding up the coin, "did daddy find a bird yesterday?" "And was it a blue bird with some white feathers in its wing?" "Dunno," responded Willie, pocketing the sixpence. "You can't tell their color when they're in a pie!"—London Tit-Bits.

Personal Inclination. "Adam said he ate the apple because Eve tempted him." "Nonsense! Temptation had nothing to do with it. If it had been a green persimmon or an orange, no persuasion would have induced him to touch it."

Improving the Quality. Howell—Is your daughter's piano playing improving? Powell—Yes, the doctor says that she isn't strong enough to play as many hours a day as she has been playing.

The manufacture of pulp has been started in various parts of Japan and it is expected that within a few years home production will be sufficient to meet the demands. About 800,000 tons of pulp was consumed in 1918.

THE VICTORY GIRL

By MORTENSE CALDWELL

Ed Holburn rose from his chair and stood looking out. Apparently he was in deep thought, but he really was beginning to become very angry. With a little start he turned to the girl on the sofa calmly humming a popular air.

"Peggy Starr, I wouldn't believe you would be so unaccommodating without saying a word from the patriotic point of view. It certainly wouldn't hurt you to help me out by just doing such a little thing as that."

"I've told you, I wouldn't be in that parade and I mean it. Why, Ed, do you think for a minute I would go riding all about the streets of this city mounted on an old wagon, and having every eye on the street corners looking me in the face. Well, I guess not," she ended with finality.

"Well, there's a good many girls that are going to be in it that are in even better society than you are, and they don't see anything the matter with it."

"It doesn't make the slightest difference to me what anybody else does. Ed, so please let the matter drop. And if you would go along now it would be very nice of you, as I have a good many things to do this evening."

Ed noticed the chill note in her voice and took his hat without another word. The moment he had left the room, Peggy jumped up to go after him. With great effort she held herself back, but she continued to think of what she had said. She knew she had hurt Ed's feelings and it bothered her more than she cared to admit. Still thinking how mean she had acted, she was interrupted by the ringing of the telephone.

"Hello," said the voice of her chum, Helen Whitman. "Peggy, have you been asked to be in the parade next Monday?"

"Yes, but I'm not going to do it," replied Peggy slowly.

"You're not? Why, Peg, I thought of course you were. Why, the idea, everybody is going to do something for that."

"Well, I for one, will be the laughing stock for nobody. If you want to be dressed up like a wax doll and set in a chariot for everyone to gaze at, you can, but I'm not going to."

"Some people give the boys a hearty welcome when they come home," came from Helen sarcastically as she replaced the receiver on the hook. After shutting off, Peggy got up with tears in her eyes. She had been looking at the celebration from her own standpoint, never giving a thought to whom it was really for. Quickly she took up the telephone and got the chairman of the committee on the line. "Mr. Wood? Well, this is Margaret Starr on Woodstead street. I understand you need somebody for a role in the parade. If it is convenient for you I will stop at your office on my way downtown."

The next day Peggy Starr started on a little visit to a neighboring city and when Ed called that evening he heard Miss Starr would return Monday.

Of course, Ed firmly believed she had gone away in order not to be asked about the parade. With a little shrug of the shoulders he turned and went to his office. Twice between Friday evening and Monday morning he called her up via telephone, only to hear she had not returned and there was no message.

At last Monday came, the day of the great parade. The sun rose over the New England hills in the distance with alarming rapidity, and by ten o'clock the parade had formed in line. The floats were many and elaborate, but one in particular attracted much attention. The automobile was made into a modern chariot, with American flags covering the whole outside. Inside, the chariot was pure white, and on one end a high platform. One figure stood on this platform, "Columbia" by name, and at her feet sat two brave lads, one in blue and one in khaki. As the float moved slowly about the streets and "Columbia" stood holding her torch majestically above her head, everyone was thrilled. At last the route was covered and scores of people were crowding about the beautiful float. "Columbia" stepped from her platform where the radiant Ed was awaiting her.

"Peggy, is it really you doing this?" "Why, of course, it is I. Don't I look natural?" "But where have you been these last three days?" "Ed, you made me feel so ashamed the other day, I had to go somewhere, so I went down to Lancaster. I thought you'd be glad."

"Glad! Why I'm so glad I could cry, PEGGY. You certainly are one of those Victory Girls."

"But, Ed, the greatest victory I've had is the one over myself. I have learned a good lesson and my pride will be better for it." With a happy sigh she laid her hand in Ed's.

Florid Language in Treaty. The language employed in treaties is usually of the most formal character, but occasionally, when treaties are concluded with eastern powers, a more florid style is used. At any rate, according to a correspondent, a treaty between Great Britain and Persia begins: "Praise be to God the All-Perfect and All-Sufficient. These happy leaves are a necessary pledge from the thornless garden of concord, and tied by the hands of the plenipotentiaries of the two great states in the form of a definite treaty in which the articles of friendship and amity are blended."

HAG STRONG FOR MILK. HARTFORD, June 11.—During Sir Douglas Haig's numerous moves immediately before November he was accompanied everywhere by a couple of Jersey cows, writes a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian.

Whenever the Commander-in-Chief's train moved the cows were put aboard a lorry and followed slowly after the train, and when the stopping place was reached were turned out on any available bit of grass-land. And so Sir Douglas always had fresh milk for breakfast.

SKELLS MURDER TRIAL. Lawrence, Mass., June 11.—District Attorney Henry G. Wells, at the opening of today's session of court in the trial of Mrs. Bessie (Skells) Lungren, charged with causing the death of Florence M. Gay, by poison, called the Commonwealth's second witness, Miss Edith Winslow, trained nurse, who attended Miss Gay the last day of her life.

At the beginning of the third day of the trial Mrs. Lungren seemed weak under the strain.

OIL STOVE EXPLODES

Alarm is Sent in But Firemen Find Burning Stove Outside.

The South end had a near fire yesterday noon. An oil stove in the house of Nathan Shapalro caught fire and Nathan ran to Box 63 at Oak and Norman streets and turned in an alarm. Only one blast sounded and most people forgot all about it, thinking the crossing of wires or some such accident had caused the fire whistle to toot. Companies 3 and 4 responded to the alarm, however, but before they got there John Hanney had rushed into the house and thrown the burning stove outside. A little water soon put an end to the trouble, and but slight damage was done. Center Hose Company was just about to leave its house when it learned the fire was all out and ran its truck back into the house house.

GRADUATE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION FUND FOR HARVARD Cambridge, Mass., June 11.—Following receipt of official confirmation of the $500,000 appropriation by the Rockefeller Educational Foundation, the Harvard General Education Board definitely announced its intentions to raise $1,500,000 additional for the endowment of a Graduate School of Education, a school unique among the institutions of the country.

It will rank with the university's schools of medicine, law, divinity and engineering.

The Harvard Corporation heartily approved the suggestion that the new fund be named for President Emeritus Charles W. Eliot.

Two main purposes are embraced in the plan for the new school, these being: The solution of study, experiment and investigation of the many and varied problems of education, and the training of leaders for the schools. Ample equipment for research work, including a laboratory and a school, with an adequate staff of specialists, is included in the purchasing powers of the endowment fund.

DOWD SAYS FANS MUST COME ACROSS OR LOSE ATHLETIC GAMES HERE

Will Have to Go on Road Or Play Second Class
Teams.

IN IVORYTON SATURDAY

Athletics Meet Comstock-Cheney
Nine on $10,000 Diamond—Play
Here Sunday.

The Athletics will play on the best ball field in the state Saturday when they meet the crack Comstock-Cheney team on their $10,000 field in Ivoryton. The Comstock-Cheney team is one of the fastest teams in the state and the Athletics are fortunate in being one of about ten Connecticut teams able to obtain a booking with this club, as it plays mostly New York and New Jersey teams. "Bobby" Peterson, the veteran pitcher, who held the Ridgefield, New Jersey team hitless last Saturday will no doubt oppose the Athletics. Manager Dowd of the Athletics will endeavor to bring this team to Manchester. The manager of the Comstock-Cheney team at first stated that he would want $125 to come to Manchester for a Sunday game, but in view of the Athletics playing on their field he believes that he will be able to come here for a smaller amount.

The Athletics will not play in New Haven next Sunday, on account of playing out of town Saturday, but will be seen here against either the Nutmegs of New Haven or the Hendee Indians of Springfield, which team represents the Hendee Mfg. Co. That the Athletics may be forced to play cheaper teams in Manchester, or else Manchester fans may be deprived of the pleasure of seeing the Athletics play here, may be gleaned from the following statement made by Manager Dowd to a Herald reporter.

"The officers of the Athletic team, Mr. Liggett, Mr. Tedford and myself, are doing everything in our power to give Manchester the best there is in baseball, but we must receive better support than we have in the past or we will be obliged to play cheaper teams in Manchester or else play the majority of our games on the road Sundays against these strong teams. The fact that Manchester has a team which is able to compete with the best teams in Connecticut and Western Massachusetts, teams which in many instances are backed by million dollar corporations, is due to the Athletic club and the untiring efforts of Mr. Tedford, who was forced to give up the management of the team this year, because of his increasing business but, who still retains an interest in the team. Mr. Tedford has faced obstacles which no other man in Manchester would have faced in building up the Athletic team, and the Athletics are known today as one of the strongest teams in New England, being a member of the New England Base Ball Managers' Association, comprising twenty of the fastest teams in New England.

"We are not in the game for monetary reasons, but it is inconsistent for anyone to ask us to bring the best ball teams in Connecticut and Western Massachusetts here when we do not take in enough to meet expenses, and I think it is only fair to the baseball public of Manchester to know that we have about reached the end of the rope in bringing these good teams to Manchester unless we receive better support in the future. Perhaps few people realize that it costs us between $70 and $80 to play these teams in Manchester. We have tried to put baseball on a sound footing in Manchester this year, believing that a town of approximately 18,000 people should at least have good semi pro ball, but our efforts have not been appreciated and we may be forced to play our games on the road Sundays against the teams we are capable of playing, or else play the amateur teams of Hartford County. We are bringing just as fast teams here as appear on Poli Field where the price of admission is 50 cents, and it depends upon the people as to the class of baseball they shall see in town in the future and not upon the Athletic management."

MEXICAN CUSTOMS BARRED IN JAIL IN MISSOURI

Junction City, Mo., June 11.—When a bunch of fourteen Mexicans, working on a railroad, were arrested and taken to jail the city officials had no idea that Mexican customs would be transported to this town, so far away from the border. A short time after the arrest a crowd of Mexican woman and children bearing fruit, tobacco and food, went to the jail and wanted to feed the prisoners.

The police were mystified until an interpreter explained that the custom in Mexico was when a man was arrested for his relatives to provide the food. The "hombres" held the same plan prevailed here.

However, the city provides each man in jail with two meals a day, so with two big meals from the city and what their relatives brought the Mexicans lived high during their incarceration.

AIR JOY RIDE AT 101

Wabash, Ind., June 11.—Jack Higgins, one hundred and one years old, of this city, is thought to be the oldest man that has ever taken a ride in an airship. He was taken up among the clouds by Pilot Hollingsworth, of a Wabash aeroplane transportation company, and appreciated the ride very much.

RACE FOR GOLF TITLE IS ON AT WEST NEWTON

Mike Brady Leading—Hoffner Second and Hazen, Teller, Burn and Bowdoin Tied for Third Place.

West Newton, Mass., June 11.—With Mike Brady, Massachusetts Open Golf Champion, leading the field, the final 36 holes of the 72 holes medal play in the national open championship was begun over the Brae Burn Country Club links today.

Brady was two strokes better than Charles Moffner, the young professional from Philmont Club, Philadelphia, the Massachusetts man having a total of 143 for the Monday and Tuesday rounds. Walter Hagen, Oakland Hills, Louis Teller, Brae Burn, and G. L. Bowden, Commonwealth, were all tied for third place with a total of 151 for the first two rounds.

With fair skies, a cool breeze and the turf firm it was a grand day for golf—grand for players and spectators alike. A huge gallery was on hand when H. C. Lagerblade, of Youngstown, drove out the first ball, and the final race for the national golf title was on.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Yanks, by defeating Detroit, won their second game from Bernie Boland since 1915.

Herb Thormahlen, the boy wonder from Jersey City, not only won his fifth straight game of the season but let the Tigers down with three hits.

The Pirates combed the combined deliveries of Pfeffer, Cheney and Marmax for 14 solid swats.

Roth's triple in the seventh with the bases intoxicated gave the White Sox a clean victory over the Red Sox.

It seemed like Federal League days to Benny Kauff. The blushing violet made five trips to the plate, drew a walk, a single, two doubles and a triple.

Benton had the Reds whipped until the eighth when he exhausted his wind while running the paths. McGraw yanked Rube at the right moment and sent in Dubuc who immediately checked the Red rally.

The Cubs fell heir to a batting fit in the first inning, scoring five runs which were enough to put the game on ice with the Phillies.

Umpire Nallin held the spotlight during a mob scene staged by the fans at the Indian-Senator games. He ousted Manager Griffith who protested a close decision. Then came the pop bottles, cushions and a "bunch of five" from an irate fan.

The Cards won their seventh straight while defeating the Braves. It was Gowdy day and Hank received a wrist watch and flowers.

Cicotte won his eleventh game of the season and his seventh straight while setting down the Red Sox.

Circle Theater

They say faint heart never won fair lady, but Bryant Washburn in "The Gypsy Trail" proves conclusively that all such adages are susceptible to refutation. In this new Paramount picture, his first starring vehicle for Paramount, Mr. Washburn plays the part of a devoted lover, lacking those striking and picturesque qualities that appeal sometimes to the heart of a maid.

But he has sterling qualities, not the least of which is his fidelity. He tries proposals of various sorts, but in each instance he fails to move the heart of the girl who thinks she is romantic, who is after all quite commonplace and conventional.

There enters a young vagabond of the Irish temperament, who almost carries off the princess to his castle. However, marriage is hardly in his scheme of life and he balks at the altar which would literally be a "halter" to his roving disposition. Then he rides away—and the faithful swain in a spirit of heroic self-sacrifice, goes to bring him back to the girl who is apparently eating her heart out for love of the nomad.

But when he comes back, bump-tuous and self-confident, she experiences a change of heart, realizes the true worth of her first lover and repudiates the man who elects to follow "the gypsy trail". So faint heart wins fair lady in the end—and isn't quite sure at that, how he did it. "The Gypsy Trail" will be shown at the Circle theater tonight. Wanda Hawley supports the star.

A Sunshine comedy is on the same bill. Tomorrow and Friday comes the big feature of the week, "Once to Every Man."

Park Theater

Dealing with the war in a highly dramatic manner, "The False Faces", Thomas H. Ince's superb Paramount-Artercraft special picture starring Henry B. Walthall, was shown at the Park last evening and scored an instant success. It will be the feature again tonight at the Popular Playhouse.

"The Lone Wolf", a novel written by Mr. Vance, was widely read and its central character, Michael Lanyard, a French crook with the genius of Sherlock Holmes and daring of D'Artagnan, became highly popular. Lanyard is the central figure of "The False Faces", and in this story he is seen as a reformed man, bent on revenge against a Hun spy who has brought Lanyard's wife and child to death in Belgium.

Lanyard is attached to the cause of the Allies as a secret agent, and he is introduced as he creeps across No Man's Land into the French lines with information of value regarding the Hun operations. He boards a steamship for New York, and on board this vessel he meets with several remarkable adventures, in which a German U-boat figures largely. How he gains his revenge and wins the love of a brave woman who falls into the meshes of a coterie of Hun spies, forms a thrilling narrative.

The picture was directed by Irvin V. Willat under the personal supervision of Mr. Ince, and the photoplay was done by Edwin Willat. Mr. Walthall is finely supported by talented screen players, among whom are Mary Anderson, Lon Chaney, Milton Ross, Garry McGarry and others.

Tomorrow's show will be a six reel feature "The Eleventh Commandment" a comedy and the famous Ford Weekly. This Weekly shows all of the cities of the U. S. and if you see them all it will be just as if you had made a personal trip to everyone of them.

POPULATION OF BRITISH ISLES SHOWS DECREASE.

London, June 11.—The population of the British Isles continues to fall. The chief reason is the high cost of living.

Birth statistics for England and Wales for the first quarter of 1919 show 144,920 arrivals into the world while 181,922 persons died during the same period, leaving a net loss in population of 47,002. During the last quarter of 1918, deaths exceeded births by 90,130.

The first quarter of 1918 showed an increase of 24,030 births over deaths, while for the same period of 1917 it was 14,810 and for 1916 51,982.

Influenza, affecting all persons of low vitality, accounted for 20 per cent of the deaths of the last quarter.

COUNTRESS TO FLY.

London, June 11.—England's Chinese countess was among the first to take advantage of permission for civilian flying.

She is Countess Hoay Stoker, daughter of the Rockefeller of China, whose husband is an officer in the British Army.

FORD AND HIS "FLIVVER."

If Henry Ford had stuck to the manufacture of motor cars his name would have been illustrious in history. But like many other men who have acquired great wealth, and the power which goes with it, he has gone into fields where his ability is less conspicuous and where his failures have been so noteworthy that they will, in a measure, cloud his fame. But whatever may have been the futility of his efforts to end the war or win a place in the United States Senate, he certainly made a success of the automobile business and in that achievement won a place not only as the leader in the motor car industry, but as a public benefactor with few equals in the world's history.

We well recall seeing, some 15 years ago, at the Madison Square Garden Automobile show, a four-cylinder Ford car to sell for $500. It was the sensation of that year's show. Up to that year the four-cylinder car had not been manufactured to any extent. "One-lungers" and "two-lungers" had been the prevailing types. The four-cylinder car was beginning to come on the market but the price was up around $2,000. It was hard to believe that a four-cylinder car which would amount to anything could be produced to sell for $500.

But the inventor had hit the popular need and had developed an engine of remarkable simplicity and efficiency. As soon as the public found that the little Ford car would really run and give good service the demand for it increased rapidly. Other manufacturers of motor cars developed the four-cylinder car, increasing its size, its power and installing it in heavier and more elegant bodies. But the little Ford came out year after year with few changes and without the addition of the needless luxuries which characterized its rivals. For years it was ridiculed, but it kept plugging along doing its daily work and giving full value for every dollar it cost.

It would be impossible to say how many of Mr. Ford's "flivvers" are in use today, but common observation would indicate that they outnumber several fold all the other makes put together. Their sturdiness, their economy and their utility compel recognition even from those who once laughed at them. Not only the thousands who could not afford a higher priced car are using the Ford. It is getting to be the practice of many business and professional men to tie up to the Ford for their personal use in short runs around home. It no longer makes a man feel cheap to be seen in one of these humble cars for he is satisfied that he is using common sense in getting good service at the minimum cost.

Henry Ford has done far more to make the automobile useful and popular than any other individual and he has conferred upon the world one of its greatest blessings.

HOW DO YOU KNOW?

Mr. Bryan is willing to admit that on matters of diplomacy the President may know more than other people but that is as far as he will go. "On the question of the saloon," declares the Great Commoner, "a mother with a drunken son knows more than he does." Here we have the worthy Mr. Bryan going off on one of those illogical tangents that so betwixt the thoughts of many reformers and well meaning persons generally. It may be true that the mother with a drunken son knows more about the saloon than the President, and it may not be true. The unhappy circumstance pictured by Mr. Bryan has very little to do with it except perhaps to insure that the mother will vote on the right side of the question when she has the opportunity.

But we often find it argued, as in this case, that the person who has had an intimate and personal experience knows more about the matter than anyone else possibly can. But such is not the case. Our returned soldiers are aware that they, in the thick of the fight, really knew less about the battle than the general several miles behind the line. No one thinks it necessary to fall out of a balloon to have a thorough understanding of ballistics and likewise one need not have been a drunkard, or even had a drunken son, to think intelligently on the liquor question.

But it is in the world of art and not of politics that we most often meet this common error of judgment. Painters, dramatists and poets frequently resent the hostile criticism of those who lack the talent to improve on their work, or even duplicate it. Yet such judgment may be fair, just and intelligent. How often do we hear such an opinion met with the retort, "You couldn't do any better yourself, could you?"

Yet we all pass judgment many times a day, and sound judgment at that, on things which we could not construct ourselves and which we can not even tell how to improve. We know that they are good or bad and that is all there is to it. We read a poem and say—"How poor that is"; we start a story and soon turn the page to something else. Yet we may not be able to compose a single line of verse and would be helpless if told to write a story. We sit down at table and we know that somehow Mary's biscuits are not quiet up to standard—though perhaps we do not give voice to this judgment—or, more often, we say—"Ah, that pie crust is perfect. It could not be improved? But if it came to giving a demonstration of our own prowess in the culinary department we should cut a sorry figure indeed.

And so it goes; in politics, in art, in literature, and in the thousand common things of every-day we find things that are good or bad because we find them so, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred we are right.

An after effect of the influenza epidemic last fall is seen this month in the later than usual commencement exercises in schools and colleges.

The threatened strike of telegraph operators all over the country, does not affect Manchester. Messages now are sent to Packard's drug store by telephone being received at Hartford.

At the North end the operators are working as usual today. They said that the strike does not call operators in the railroad stations as they are needed to keep the trains running.

DEATH ENDS DIME NOVEL CAREER OF FARM LAD.

Champaign, Ill., June 11.—Death wrote finis on the dime novel career of Gus Penman, son of a wealthy farmer here. Arrested for the murder of Harold Shaw in April, 1916, Penman was incarcerated in jail. Convicted he was sentenced to life imprisonment. But a flaw brought a new trial and a change of venue. Taken to Kankakee he escaped with three companions before the second trial. Search proved unavailing. He wandered over the face of the earth on an outcast. After a trip to Norway on a freighter, Penman came back to America. He enlisted in the army at Memphis, Tenn., as "Private Joseph Barnes, of Baltimore." The War Department has just announced the death of Private Joseph Barnes at Camp Humphrey from influenza. Photographs and information that accompanied the announcement disclosed the boy's identity here. The Shaw murder occurred near Philo, Ill., where it was charged Penman buried the body after the crime.

WOMAN, 85, COMES FROM INDIA TO ATTEND MEETING.

Boston, June 11.—Although eighty-five years of age, Mrs. Lois Lee Parker, widow of the late Bishop Edward W. Parker, of India, came all the way from that country alone to attend the jubilee of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of which she was one of the founders. Mrs. Parker has been in missionary work in India sixty-one years and is the sole survivor of that small group of women who started the missionary movement half a century ago.

BASE DRUM, SETTING HEN AND FAN STOLEN.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11.—Burglars broke into the Savoy Theater and walked off with five electric fans and the bass drum. They also took with them a setting hen and her seventeen eggs from a barn in the rear of the theater.

McADOO AND VANDERLIP TO SPEAK FOR SUFFS

Will Stamp State to Boost $100,000 Educational Fund of Connecticut Suffragists.

Former Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo and Frank A. Vanderlip who has just resigned as president of the National City Bank, New York, have joined the force of speakers who are helping the state-wide fund campaign that is being conducted from June 9 to June 16 to raise by public subscriptions in Connecticut $100,000 for an educational program to help to better prepare the 350,000 women for voting age in the state for the ballot, Mrs. Samuel Russell, Jr., the State Campaign Chairman, announced.

Both Mr. McAdoo and Mr. Vanderlip sent word they are deeply interested in the campaign, and are coming to Connecticut on the earliest dates their engagements permit.

Mr. McAdoo will speak in Bridgeport on Monday, June 16, at 5 o'clock. The meeting will be in the ball-room of the Stratfield Hotel.

Mr. Vanderlip will speak in Hartford at Foot Guard Hall.

As previous engagements prevent his coming to Hartford prior to June 16, it is thought a fitting climax to the campaign to have him speak on Wednesday evening, June 18.

The first Campaign Teas at which reports of subscriptions obtained by the volunteer workers were made were held throughout the state Tuesday (June 10), and speakers were heard at a number of meetings. Dr. Allan MacRossie, twice Red Cross Commissioner to Europe, spoke at the campaign headquarters in New Haven, and Captain Frank Hanscom, chaplain with the American Expeditionary Forces, spoke in Hartford.

Early reports from the workers indicate that the men are subscribing as generously as the women, Mrs. Russell said.

"Some of our workers are having amusing experiences with men who are supposed to be conservatives," Mrs. Russell said. "They offer reasons why women don't need the ballot, but admit the need for citizenship work now that the ballot is on the way and wind up by subscribing just as freely as those who have always been pronounced suffragists."

HOOSIER BIDDIES LAY EGGS FOR RICH UNLS.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 11.—Hoosier hens probably are supplying Germans, that is, the remaining disguised aristocratic classes, with egg sandwiches which are probably costing from fifty to seventy-five cents per egg. Indiana eggs are being shipped to New York and thence to Switzerland, and there is no doubt that some of them eventually reach Germany, according to Stanley Wyckoff, former Federal Food Administration of Marion County, Indiana.

HOW DID HE COUNT 'EM?

London, June 11.—The record of John Dawson, the American expert, who killed 25,000,000 flies at Cleveland, Ohio, is surpassed by that of Ernest Watson, of Tunbridge Wells. Mr. Watson claims to have destroyed in twelve months on various fighting fronts over 400,000,000 flies with an invention of his own. Thus an Englishman at present has the record for fly killing. By how do the experts count their victims?

WED TWICE TO BE LEGAL.

Belleville, Ill., June 11.—It took a second wedding ceremony to make Thomas J. Goodman, thirty-nine, and Miss Mary Dunn, twenty-five, legally man and wife in Illinois. Marying Miss Dunn in Missouri a few months after he was divorced in Illinois, Goodman and his wife lived in that State for several years. A child was born. Recently he decided to return to Illinois. The law in that State requires a year shall elapse before parties remarry, so in order to make the nuptial knot valid the second ceremony was recently performed here.

AIRPLANE MAIL TIME SAVER.

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—Sixteen hours are saved Kansas City merchants and bankers who send their mail to New York by airplane, according to Rayless Steele, postmaster of Kansas City. The aerial mail sack is closed at the local post office at 5 o'clock in the evening, is sent to Chicago by airplane, arriving there the next morning. It leaves Chicago by airplane at 9:30 and arrives at Cleveland at 1 o'clock. Transferred there to fast mail trains, it is delivered early the next morning in New York and other Eastern States.

ASKS WIFE FOR FIFTEEN CENTS; REFUSED DIVORCED.

Whiting, Ind., June 11.—Joe Pardine, of Whiting, asked his wife for fifteen cents with which to purchase cigarettes. She refused, saying she had given him fifteen cents out of his last pay for the same purpose. At another time he needed the services of a physician, but his wife refused to give him $3. He borrowed it from a fellow worker and that night she took it from his pockets. Now he is asking for a divorce.

TEXT OF RESOLUTION PRESENTED BY KNOX

Would By League of Nations From Peace Treaty—Suggests Aid to Europe in Time of War.

Below is the text of the resolution presented by Senator Knox of Pennsylvania after consultation with Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. Its purpose is to separate the League of Nations covenant from the treaty of peace.

Whereas, The Congress of the United States, in declaring, pursuant to its exclusive authority under the Constitution, the existence of a state of war between the United States and the Imperial German Government, solemnly affirmed that the Imperial Government has committed repeated acts of war against the Government and the people of the United States, that a state of war had been thrust upon them by that Government, and thereupon formally pledged the whole military and naval resources of the country to bring the conflict to a successful termination; and

Whereas, The Senate of the United States, being a coequal part of the treaty-making power of this Government and therefore coequally responsible for any treaty of peace negotiated at Versailles, by which it is proposed to end our victorious war, and is gravely impressed by the fact that its provisions appear calculated to force upon us undesirable and far-reaching covenants inimical to our free institutions under the penalty that failing to accept these we shall continue in a state of war while our colleagues shall be at peace and enjoying its blessings; that it is proposed to make us parties to a League of Nations under a plan as to which the people of the United States have neither time to examine and consider nor opportunity to express regarding it a matured and deliberate judgment, whereas the treaty may be so easily drawn as to permit the making of immediate peace, leaving the question of the establishment of a League of Nations for later determination; and that the treaty as drawn contains principles, guarantees, and undertakings of a nature that legitimate and national aspirations, oppressive of weak nations and peoples, and destructive of human progress and liberty; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate of the United States, that it will regard as fully adequate for our national needs and as completely responsive to the duties and obligations we owe to our co-belligerents and to humanity a peace treaty which shall assure to the United States and its people the attainment of those ends for which we entered the war, and that it will look with disfavor upon any treaty proposal going beyond these ends.

2. That since the people of the United States have themselves determined and provided in their Constitution the only ways in which the Constitution may be amended, and since amendment by treaty stipulation is not one of the methods which the people have so prescribed, the treaty-making power of the United States has no authority to make a treaty which in effect amends the Constitution of the United States, and the Senate of the United States cannot advise and consent to any treaty provision which would have such effect.

3. That the Senate advises, in accordance with its constitutional right and duty, that the great, paramount, if not sole, duty of the Peace Conference is quickly to bring all the belligerents a full and complete peace; that, to this end, the treaty shall be so drawn as to permit any party to observe without prejudice to itself, for future separate and full consideration by its people the question of any League of Nations; that neither such an article nor the exercise of the rights reserved thereunder, whether at the time of signature or at any other time, shall affect the substance of the obligations of Germany, and its co-belligerents under the treaty, nor the validity of signature and ratification on their behalf; and that any indispensable participation by the United States in matters covered by the League covenant shall, pending the entry of the United States into the League, be accomplished through diplomatic commissions which shall be created with full power in the premises.

4. That this resolution indicates and gives notice of the limits of the present obligations against the United States in which the Senate of the United States is now prepared to acquiesce by consenting to the ratification of a treaty embodying peace conditions that may be found otherwise acceptable to its judgment, and that the adoption by the Peace Conference of the foregoing reasonable limitations and positions will facilitate the early acceptance of the treaty of peace by the Senate of the United States, will in no wise interfere with the League of Nations, as between those countries prepared to ratify the treaty without further consideration, and will afford such a measure of respect for the wishes of a great people as cannot fall more firmly to cement the friendship already existing between ourselves and our co-belligerents.

5. That, finally, it shall be the declared policy of our Government, in order to meet fully and fairly our obligations to ourselves and to the world, that the freedom and peace of Europe being again threatened by any power or combination of powers, the United States will regard such a situation with grave concern as a menace to its own peace and freedom, will consult with other powers affected with a view to devising means for the removal of such menace, and will, the necessity arising in the future, carry out the same complete accord and co-operation with our chief co-belligerents for the defense of civilization.

"RIP ROARING DRUNK MONTELLA BEATS DAILY NIPPER."

London, June 11.—It is because England has become such a meat-eating nation, meat being eaten at least twice daily, not counting bacon for breakfast, that the birthrate has declined steadily during the past fifty years, according to Dr. Josiah Oldfield. Meat eating, he says, produces sterility, and the nation should eat more fruits and nuts. Countries like Bulgaria, Rumania and Serbia, where meat is not a national dietary, have high and increasing birthrates statistics show.

Dr. Oldfield also surprised folks by saying it was better to get "rip roaring drunk" once a month than to be a daily "nipper", for the latter induce sterility.

He advises against eating eggs from Iowa overtaxed with egg-producing foods, such as fish, blood and meat, saying eggs from fowls fed naturally on grain and vegetables were more healthy.

OHIO FARMERS ALL "HET UP" AT AIRPLANE NOISES.

Sandusky, Ohio, June 11.—Farmers hereabouts are all "het up" on the new Cleveland-Chicago air mail service goes right over their farms without so much as asking permission. "And, believe it or not as you like, their live stock has been rendered highly nervous because of the loud whirr of the propellers and the sharp explosions of the motors on the airplanes. Old Dobbin has become more skittish than he has been since the day he first saw an automobile. And an innocent little lamb became so excited that it ran through a screen door, losing all of its wool. Postmaster Ryan suggested ear muffers and told the complaining farmers that that didn't work to tell it to Burleson."

ANOTHER PHENOMENON DUE TO END NEXT JULY.

Cambridge, Mass., June 11.—Thirst is a "purely local phenomenon," according to Dr. W. B. Cannon, of Harvard. And that's not all. Listen: "The pre-eminent factor is the relative drying of the mucosa of the mouth and pharynx. This may result from excessive use of the passage for breathing, as in prolonged speaking or singing, or may be caused by deficient salivary secretion."

Dr. Cannon says the latter condition represents true thirst, dependent on the fact that the salivary glands which keep the buccal and pharyngeal mucosa moist require water for their action.

GRADS IN UNIFORM DRESS.

Waterloo, Ia., June 11.—The girl graduates of the Waterloo High School are not worrying about the expense of their graduation dresses. The girls voted to adopt a uniform dress, of Jack Tar model, costing about $5.50. The plan was adopted four years ago and has been both pleasing to the eye, for the girls are all dressed alike, and profitable to the pocketbooks as well.

TWIN BEDS ENDORSED.

Frankfort, Ky., June 11.—Twin beds received the emphatic endorsement of the Kentucky Court of Appeals when Judge Settle wrote his opinion in the divorce case of Emma Burton against Alfred Burton. The Court ruled that he was not entitled to a divorce on the grounds of abandonment because the couple occupied twin beds.

TO MOTORISTS AND TRUCK OWNERS WHO HAVE WONDERED WHAT THE TROUBLE WAS WITH THEIR MOTORS:—

Many have bought new machine, but results were not what they anticipated. The new machine lacked the "pep" and energy that it should have, and you finally came to the conclusion that it was the gasoline, smiled (sometimes) and made the best of it. But now you can smile ALL THE TIME. Just fill your tank once with

The attention of the selectmen has been called to the unsanitary, unsightly and dangerous conditions that now exist in the rear of many of the town's prominent business establishments along Main street at the South end. The complainant stated that many of these rear sections were in an intolerable condition and that refuse and discarded material was scattered all over the premises instead of being in cages, bins or boxes. A few days ago a prominent citizen complained about the condition of Main street on Sunday, stating that this thoroughfare was literally covered with papers and other refuse. He characterized the condition as being a disgrace to Manchester.

An investigation developed the fact that the appearance on Main street on Sunday was due to the storm of the previous evening. The papers and refuse had no doubt been carried from the rear of many of the business establishments by the high winds and had found a final resting place on our Main street.

The fact that the town gang had gone over the main thoroughfare on Saturday, further strengthened this theory.

It appears however that the merchants are not entirely to blame for these conditions. A large majority of them have complied with the requests of the local health and fire boards, have constructed bins or cages and in many instances have had their refuse carted away. A number of the business men stated that they have placed all discarded material in boxes and have had covers placed on them in order to keep the rear yards clean.

On their arrival in the morning
however they have found the refuse scattered all over the place and the boxes gone. This condition has existed for the past four or five months and is due to the fact that someone has been stealing the boxes and barrels in which the refuse has been dumped. To make matters worse they have emptied the boxes and allowed the refuse to blow here and there. Others state that even with cages it is almost impossible to keep their places clean as small boys dive into these receptacles for souvenirs and in their hunt throw papers left and right.

It is thought that the recent order of the selectmen to the effect that an investigation be conducted by our Chief of Police and that all persons found guilty of the thefts which have caused the above conditions be warned that a repetition will result in prosecution, will materially aid our merchants to keep their back yards clean.

JESS SENDS OUT S. O. S. FOR SPARRING PARTNERS

Champion Wants Huskies Who Can Hit Him Hard Enough to Make It Hurt.

Toledo, O., June 11.—Jess Willard today sent out an "s o s" for sparring partners—the bigger and huskier the better. "I want only fellows who will fight me—who will stand up under everything I hand out and who can hit me back hard enough to make it hurt," announced the champion.

The sudden determination of Willard to indulge in some intensive training followed upon the trail of the announcement that Billy Rocamp, sport writer of Philadelphia, had been named to referee the big fight with Jack Dempsey on the fourth.
The selection of Rocamp came as a big surprise as to the third man.

Rocamp is a good two fisted individual who knows every angle of the boxing game; fearless and impartial and a man ideally suited for so important a task, as that which confronts him.

There is no possibility of an argument over Rocamp. Both fighters, as well as Tex Rickard and the Toledo Boxing Commission agreed yesterday to be bound by the action of Biddle's board in the matter of the arbiter appointment.

Willard apparently approved of the conclusion today that Jack Hem-pel and Walter Monahan have not played enough rough stuff to fit him for the battle on the fourth and declared he would grab any good looking sparring partners that are obtainable.

DISABLED SOLDIERS MAY TRAIN AT TRADE SCHOOL

Director Tucker Confers at Capitol
With Federal Board Members—
Plans to Aid Service Men.

Director James C. Tucker of the local trade school, the directors of eight other state trade schools and Frederick J. Trinder, state director of trade education, held a conference at the Capitol yesterday with William H. Whitney and William Wadsworth, representatives of the federal board for vocational education.

It is planned to receive in the Connecticut state trade schools disabled soldiers requiring re-education to qualify them to earn their own living and at yesterday's conference it was decided to have the director of each school act as councillor of the federal board for vocational education and, as such, to have charge of the soldiers, giving particular attention to their living conditions outside the school and their general welfare. No definite policy was announced.

The other directors, besides Mr.
Tucker, who attended the conference were George W. Buck, Danbury; E.
D. Packard, Stamford; Frank R.
Lawrence, New Haven; H. H. Wilbur, Torrington; H. S. Hall, New Britain;

the Hungarian peace delegation to Paris, now that the Hungarians have Czechs do likewise.

C. D. WHITFORD DEAD.

Oneco, June 11.—Clark D. Whitford, 78, for more than fifty years hotel proprietor, died suddenly here this morning. Whitford had been active in Republican politics and held many town and county offices during his life. He was also engaged in the grain business.

SHORTAGE IN PENNIES IS CAUSED BY THRIFTY BOY.

Bellevue, Iowa, June 11.—For some time the banks at Preston, near here, faced a shortage of pennies, and they had to secure a supply from other money centers. No one seemed to know where they all went.

Finally the mystery was solved.
Henry Hohlenhoff, the young son of Hans Hohlenhoff, of Preston, brought 5,000 to the bank and deposited them. He had saved them since January through the operation of his father's milk wagons. They weighed an even thirty-three pounds.

LOSE THREE HORSES WITH COMBINED AGE OF 96.

Malvern, Iowa, June 10.—Mr. and Mrs. John Davidson, of near Hastings, lost three horses recently, and the combined age of the three animals was ninety-six years. Mr. Davidson raised the horses from colts and they had never been out of his possession.

The Davidsons also hold some other records for long time possession. They have a wringer they have owned for forty-two years—and are still using—a Howe sewing machine still in use after the same length of time. And they have delivered milk to one customer for thirty-five years.

COLTS HOLD UP TRAIN.

Marion, Ind., June 11.—Eastbound passenger train No. 6 on the Clover Leaf Railroad was delayed when two colts got on the track and refused to leave. They traveled in front of the engine all the way from Warren to Liberty Center and behind them the engine puffed and snorted and threatened, but the colts

UNCLAIMED LETTERS.

WOOD CALLS NATION TO FIGHT RED FLAG

Makes Strong Plea for Aid in Crushing Radical Forces.

WANTS A REGULAR ARMY

Reds Are Striving to Tear Down What We Have Spent Our National Life in Building, General Says.

Schenectady, N. Y., June 11. Pleading for the ideals of a virile Americanism and nationalism, General Leonard Wood in his address at the commencement exercises of Union College here last evening, called the nation to battle against the red flag and red flag doctrines.

General Wood also urged fair treatment to the men who are returning from war and from training camps, for the galvanization of the spirit wrought by the war into a more intense and creative American patriotism and the cooperation of capital and labor in the task of transforming the war industries into peace industries and the launching of the country upon a new era of prosperity.

General Wood welcomed the new spirit of international cooperation, but warned that it cannot be regarded as a substitute for patriotic nationalism. "We want to speak softly," he said, quoting Colonel Roosevelt, "but carry a big stick; that is to say, be just and fair, but also be strong and ready to support the right, not only with words, but with force, if necessary."

In his address General Wood referred repeatedly to the principles of Colonel Roosevelt and urged them as the guiding light for America in her future domestic and foreign policies.

Put Down Red Flag.

"Put down the red flag," he said. "It stands for nothing which our government stands for. It is against the integrity of the family, the state and the nation. These are times of dangerous psychology. It is not time now for unthinking action."

General Wood continued: "While we welcome desirable immigration and extend a helping hand to those immigrants who come to us with the intention of adopting our customs and living up to our ideals, we should turn our faces against those who come to us with ideas repugnant to our civilization and with purposes and ideals hostile to our form of government. We want none of this class here—a class which, drunk with the light of liberty, strives to tear down what we have spent our national life in building up."

"We must also look ahead to the establishment of a sound system of national preparedness—not a preparedness for war, but a preparedness which will be an assurance against war. We all believe in any arrangement between nations which will result in their talking things over before resorting to force, provided such arrangement does not interfere with our essential sovereignty. We must remember that arbitration will be far more successful if we are not only right but also have strength."

Wants Regular Army.

"We want a good navy, always ways ready, and a regular army, sufficient for the peace needs of the nation and adequate as a training force for our citizen soldiers, and, as I see it, a system not unlike the Swiss in its general character, but embodying much of industrial and vocational training. Such a system will lead to the establishment of much better physical conditions among our youth, to conditions of greatly improved industrial and economical efficiency, to better coordination of mind and muscle, to habits of promptness and thoroughness, respect for the law, knowledge of persons and general sanitation, and, above that, knowledge and a better understanding of the diverse elements of our population."

"We must do all we can to maintain that fine feeling which exists between ourselves and the Allies—the kind which makes relations and understandings endure, which grew up and became true during the war, because it was founded upon not only community of interests, but also a community of moral ideas. Let nothing arise to divide a wedge between us and the Allies."

LITHUANIA'S JOAN OF ARC OFF FOR FRANCE TO TAKE UP BATTLE FOR NATION'S FREEDOM

New York, June 11.—Mariona Kizis, a little Lithuanian, born in the mining town of Pittston, Pa., is Lithuania's Joan of Arc. Her father was a coal miner, and recently she was asked by Lithuania to go to Paris as one of the two women representing her nation. Her armor is shining consciousness of her self-sacrifice. Her vision came to her when she was ten years old, and since that day she has kept before her the Lithuanian flag. She has thought and labored only for her countrymen, here and in their oppressed motherland on the Baltic Sea.

One million of Mariona's countrymen live in America. Fifty-six thousand of them lived unhappily in her own mining town. But not as unhappily as they had lived in Europe under Russian, German and Polish oppression. It was on the picture of these stalwart men's stunted lives in the coal mines, and on the oft-painted picture of the worse misery from which these men had fled for freedom in America, that the little Lithuanian girl grew up.

Lithuania is asking the world to recognize the independence which it has wrested from Russia. England has consented to acknowledge its independent republican government. America's support is necessary to strengthen its claims at the Peace Conference.

Mariona, or Mary, as she likes to be called, is a tempestuous, temperamental creature, laughing one minute for the sheer joy of living, and at another instant throbbing with great resolves and hopes.

And Mary sings. It is her voice which has lifted her from the depths of the coal mine country. She sang one evening at a church festival for the poor miners whose sad faces showed their difficult lives—lives that were made up of a long day of working, poor food and heavy sleeping. And the pleasure which her singing gave to these miners showed her the way to arouse her countrymen from their apathy.

WHEN TO CUT HAY.

The late spring may bring corn cultivation and hay harvest at the same time. To accomplish both operations will require careful planning for the use of teams and labor.

Part of the day may be spent in hay making, while the remainder less suited to this may be spent in tillage. Better still, where there are two teams one may be used for the mowing and the other at least part of the time for cultivation. By such planning and coordination of time and labor, the hay making should proceed almost at the normal speed and yet the cultivation should not suffer.

A great deal of hay is cut too late. Tests have shown that 17.7 per cent more digestible matter is obtained when timothy is cut in full bloom than if left standing until the seed is ripe. The digestible protein, carbohydrates and fiber are all highest at this stage. The dropping of the slight until the seed is formed, but after this the nutrients drop off rapidly.

In two states tests showed the red clover hay yield to be greater when the plants were in full bloom. The woody fiber increased after this, but the digestible nutrients dropped off as the clover became mature.

Most farmers have noticed that orchard grass is quite woody and undesirable for hay. By cutting this grass when in full bloom a good quality of hay may be had. However if neglected a very few days it becomes almost worthless.

Farm feeding experience has confirmed the experimental evidence with regard to the time of cutting timothy and other hay plants. Many farmers say they can tell by the milk pail when the early cut hay is gone and the woody, unpalatable hay is given the cows. Careful tests where hay was cut at five stages indicated that the animals preferred the hay cut in the blossom and ate the hays in the order of cutting.

Hay harvest should start a little before the blooming stage in order that the bulk of the crop may be harvested at the proper time. Otherwise the least part of the harvest will come when the plants are woody and undesirable. On but few farms can the hay making be completed in a few days so that all the crop may be caught at the best stage.

Since experience of many farmers confirms the findings of experimenters, there should be an especial effort made this year in Connecticut to harvest the hay early so that it may be palatable and nutritious. This will save some grain to the farmers and will undoubtedly cause the cattle to have better health and keep in better condition when fed. Henry Dorsey, Agronomist, Extension Service, Connecticut Agricultural College, Storrs.

DOES KINDNESS PAY?

SCOUT LETTER BRINGS

CHECK IN FEW HOURS

Best Appeal of Boy Scouts is the Boys Themselves Says L. P. Knapp.

The Boy Scouts feel that their cause speaks for itself and hence, in their campaign, they have refrained from making a house to house canvass. Instead they have sent out a straightforward letter, printed below, giving the purpose of the drive and telling where funds may be sent.

Mr. L. P. Knapp, director of the drive, is well pleased at the response of the town to this appeal. The letters were sent out Monday morning and Mr. Knapp states that by 11 o'clock that forenoon he had received a check for the fund. The best appeal that we can make in this work, says Mr. Knapp, is to call attention to the straight, ruddy, upstanding young men who have had the benefits of Scout work.

Here is the letter which the Scouts are depending on to do their talking for them:

The Letter.

Dear Sir or Madam:

The Scout Oath.

On My Honor I Will Do My Best:

1. To do my duty to God and my country, and to obey the Scout Law;

2. To help other people at all times;

3. To keep physically strong, mentally awake, and morally straight.

The Boy Scout movement means a happier and more natural boy, a better and cleaner man because of its activities. The several local troops have been promised a summer outing camp, under proper supervision, during the last two weeks in July.

In order to meet the expense of such a camp and contribute our quota to the National Council we ask your financial backing in raising the amount of seven hundred and fifty dollars.

Two hundred and fifty dollars will be sent to the National Organization. In addition we need at least five hundred dollars to make the summer camp a success and defray local expenses.

Will you please make a contribution to this fund and send money or check on or before June 14 to Raymond Johnson Treasurer of Local Council?

Thank You.

L. P. Knapp, President Local Council.

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE GETS ADVANCE START

Representative W. B. Rogers and P. H. Dougherty Boost Fund On a Dare.

The Salvation Army drive for its Home Service Fund, which opens June 19 for a week's run, got an advance start in P. H. Dougherty's barber shop the other day. Commandant Fred Bartlett was in the chair and Representative W. B. Rogers was giving a discourse on his ideas about discontinuing having any drives for funds in Manchester. He finally said he might give a small donation to the Salvation Army drive and then he was through with them all. He then asked Commandant Bartlett, "How much do you think I ought to give to the Salvation Army" and the commandant replied "O, about twenty dollars." Here Mr. Dougherty spoke up and said to Rogers, "If you give twenty dollars, I'll give five." "I'll call your bluff," said Rogers. Dougherty took out his check book and the other for twenty dollars, and two checks, one for five dollars and signed by Dougherty and Rogers respectively, were made out and handed to the commandant.

MORE THEFTS COMMITTED IN THE EAST CEMETERY

Flag Taken from Bugler William Crawford's Grave—Flowers and Ribbons Also Missing.

Since the report of the theft of a silk flag from the grave of Private James M. Finlay in the East cemetery, it has been learned that his grave was not the only one visited by the thieves. A silk flag, placed by the United Spanish American War Veterans on the grave of Bugler William Crawford, who served with Company G through that war, also has been stolen. Just the flag was taken, the staff being left as in the theft at Private Finlay's grave.

According to Superintendent Duncan, flowers are often stolen from the graves and also the ribbons from the flowers, the girls using them for hair ribbons. Superintendent Duncan says he has remained in the cemetery until midnight in an effort to apprehend the thieves at their work.

The East cemetery is not the only cemetery that has been visited by thieves. In St. James' cemetery, several dollars' worth of flowers were stolen recently from the grave of Mrs. Thomas McNeary.

HEAD OF HEALTH BOARD HEARS EXPERTS LECTURE

Dr. Moore Will Give Manchester Benefit of Course of New York Lectures.

With the object of making Manchester at least one of the healthiest communities in the United States, Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, is sacrificing two days each week by attending a special course of lectures in New York city at his own expense.

Dr. Moore is the head of the health board. His hobby is municipal health perfection. Although the salary connected with the position is insignificant, Dr. Moore wants to know the very whisper in health matters so he attends the lectures.

For the last month or more the local physician has taken a train to New York, hopped into a taxicab, sped around to the lecture rooms, taken his notes and then sped back to the train and to Manchester. At these lectures, professors, internationally famous, speak on municipal problems. Doctors from all parts of the United States, to the number of 200 attend. No more than this number could be accommodated and one had to get on a waiting list to be able to attend at all.

Manchester will get the benefit of these lectures in modern sanitation methods.

Director Whiting and Corps of Able Instructors Will Have Charge of Activities There.

The Ninth district playgrounds and summer activities at the Recreation Center will open for the season Monday, June 30. Recreation Director Whiting will have general supervision of all the activities, while his assistants will have charge of the boys' and girls' work at the different playgrounds. Walter Olson will have charge of the boys' work at the Cottage St. playground and Fred Weber, the new man from the Springfield Y. M. C. A. Training College, will be in charge at the westside playground.

Miss Helen Peglar of Westfield, N. Y., will be here after July 15 and will have charge of the girls' work at one of the grounds while Miss Pearl Dougan, a local girl and Miss Donnie Cottral of St. Joseph, Mo., will be in charge at the other ground, each taking part of the summer.

Miss Cottral is a student at the New Haven Normal school. For two years, she was engaged as an instructor at the municipal playgrounds in St. Joseph, Mo., and for one season was the swimming instructor at the Y. M. C. A. there. Before going to New Haven, she spent two years at the St. Joseph Junior College.

Miss Dougan is a graduate of the New Haven Normal school, class of 1916 and this summer will make the fifth season she has spent as an instructor at the local playgrounds. During the past year she has been engaged as a physical instructor at Farmingdale, L. I.

Miss Peglar is a graduate of the New Haven Normal school, class of 1918, and for the past year has been engaged as a physical instructor at Highbridge, N. J. She has been engaged to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Mary Kiely, who was obliged to give up her work here because of ill health. As told above, she will work on one of the playgrounds during the summer and in the fall will take up Miss Kiely's work at the Recreation Center.

Miss Marlon Tinker, head lady instructor, will have charge of the girls' swimming classes at the Recreation Center pool during the summer months.

What Else Could It Be When the Machine Shop Meets the Velvet Mill?

Thursday night the Machine Shop and the Velvet Mill will come together for their first league game, and it promises to be some clash as both teams are evenly matched.

The Machine Shop nine has beaten the Velvet in an exhibition game, and is feeling rather confident, but Manager Rowell states that the reason his team lost was because of the continual shifting he was compelled to do in order to give all his men a trial.

It is expected that "Bill" Cotter will do the hurling for the Machinists and Ed Markley for the Velvet. With those two opposing each other it sure will be some battle, as they have many old scores to settle since the days when Markley used to burn them over for the Rockville team and Cotter opposed him on the local Independents.

Besides the pitching duel which is sure to result, both slab artists are generally recognized as being the noisiest coaches in town, and it will be a treat to watch the rival pitchers trying to rattle each other.

Legget, the promising young catcher of the West Side, will handle Markley's delivery, and "Whack" Coleman will perform in like manner for Cotter.

Coleman has been out of the game for a year owing to the fact that he was busily occupied during that time with the 26th Division in France.

THE ROYAL FAMILY OF HOMESTEAD PARK HAVE DAY IN COURT

"King" Sokolisky and "Queen" Before Judge Arnott for Assault.

PRINCE S. DRINKS TEA

The Ways of Justice are of Little Interest to Him While the Cookies Hold Out.

A well sharpened axe and a good sized stone were exhibits A and B in a police court case this morning that was tried before Judge Arnott. The accused was none other than the famous King of Homestead Park, Frank Sokolisky and his Queen, Mrs. Sokolisky. He was there because of an alleged assault upon Mrs. Slago, a neighbor, whom he accused of stealing his chickens.

Came Prepared. Frank did not come into court empty handed or unprepared. He went to Hartford for his counsel for, as he told the Herald man, he knew that he would have to pay well anyhow for the advice of a lawyer. Attorney Levy represented Sokolisky and his wife and he brought along an assistant with him. A Hartford interpreter was also present to assist in the testimony. Sokolisky had one of his children with him and the little fellow seemed to enjoy the case fully as well as any other person in court, for he munched from a bag of cookies and drank a bottle of tea while the lawyers were deciding the fate of his father and mother.

The residents of Homestead Park and neighbors of the troubled party were in court as witnesses of the scrap and also as spectators. The row took place two weeks ago last Saturday morning.

Judge Gives Advice. The lawyers for Sokolisky and Prosecuting Attorney Hathaway had several tilts over the introduction of the evidence and it required the strict attention of the judge to keep up with the proceedings. In deciding to suspend judgment in the affair Judge Arnott said that it was hard to tell just what it was best to do. There was apparently hard feeling between neighbors in the Homestead Park section, he said, and he thought that there was fault on both sides. In this particular case no one was hurt seriously and the Judge told Sokolisky that the next time he had a grievance against his neighbors it would be advisable not to try to take the law into his own hands.

In the case of Mrs. Sokolisky the Judge also suspended judgment. It will be remembered as told in the Herald, that when the officers went to the Sokolisky home to arrest Frank, Mrs. Sokolisky interfered violently and managed to get her husband away from them. Later she was arrested and charged with resisting an officer of the law.

After the trial was over Attorney Levy made a little speech to the people concerned in the trial and especially the residents of Homestead Park on good government and the proper way to conduct themselves as American citizens. He, no doubt, will have a word to say to the "King" in private.
