

ALL N. Y. HOTELS TO OBEY THE LAW AND CLOSE BARS

Others to Stop Sale of Whiskey but to Sell Wine and Beer.

CAFE PROPRIETORS PLAN FOR HOT TIME TONIGHT

Liquor Stores Packed Today By Crowds Buying Supplies—Using Limousines to Cart Wine Home.

New York, June 30.—All the hopes and all the fears of New York's gay rounders, the gentlemen with the perpetual thirsts, common drunks and the man who drinks a can of beer with his evening meal, not to mention the ladies, centered upon this afternoon's meeting of the Retail Liquor Association. For the liquor dealers, after hearing pros and cons from attorneys, will decide whether John Barleycorn shall be executed at midnight tonight or whether beers and light wines, at least, will continue to flow tomorrow just as if Congress had never happened.

Hotels to Obey.
Practically all the big New York hotels have decided to obey the law, though they believe that at present there is no effective provision for its enforcement. They have passed out the word that the beer spigots will turn no more after midnight tonight.

Many restaurants and bars appear determined to continue the sale of beer and wine, if the purchaser buys a sandwich or other food, but there is little prospect that whiskey and other hard liquors will be on sale tomorrow. However, the decision taken by the liquor association this afternoon will be quite generally followed throughout New York.

Hot Time Tonight.
In all the big cafes preparations were being made for a very hot time in the old town tonight. The police are bracing themselves for the final shock and there will be reserves on hand to calm all celebrants.

The liquor stores were stamped today by great crowds of buyers. Deliveries were refused at most places and at big downtown stores fashionably dressed women were dragging cases of champagne and other liquors into limousines and taxis.

TURKS MOBILIZE TROOPS TO FIGHT AGAINST GREEKS

Report Says 40,000 Soldiers Have Been Concentrated in the Vicinity of Smyrna.

Athens, via London, June 30.—Several clashes have taken place between Turkish and Greek troops in the region of Smyrna in which the former were dispersed, it was officially announced today.

The Turks are reported to have concentrated 40,000 soldiers in the vicinity of Smyrna.

On June 23 the Greeks attacked the enemy, pushing them back towards Ahmedeh. There were subsequent encounters.

MURDER TRIAL RESUMED.

Lawrence, Mass., June 30.—Pale and weak but her eyes reflecting confidence and determination, Mrs. Besse May (Skeels) Lundgren, was borne into court today to resume her place in the witness chair for the continuation of cross examination by Attorney General Attwill.

The woman accused as the slayer by poison of Florence W. Gay has been under the watchful eye of her physician ever since her collapse on Friday. The defendant remained in bed Sunday and had a restful night.

CROSBY ISSUES WARNING.

Hartford, June 30.—"All liquor dealers who open their doors tomorrow will do so at their peril," declared District Attorney John F. Crosby this afternoon when he came from a long conference with A. A. Alling and W. A. King, counsel for the Connecticut Liquor Dealers' Association.

JOHN BARLEYCORN BATTLING HARD FOR HIS LIFE TODAY

Worn and Bruised He Will Not Give Up Ghost Without
Grim Struggle—Enforcement
Code Not Yet Ready
—Just How "Dry" Country
Will be Tomorrow,
Matter for Conjecture.

Washington, June 30.—That John Barleycorn, worn and bruised will not give up the ghost without a struggle was evident from the situation on the eve of war time prohibition becoming effective. With no enforcement code yet having been enacted, and with the President having plainly indicated he would set aside the war-time ban had he the authority, just how "dry" the country will be tomorrow could be made only a matter for conjecture today.

Drastic Provisions.
The enforcement code reported out by the House judiciary committee cannot be passed within two weeks, it was believed and will be enacted only after what promises to be a bitter fight. Some of the provisions of the act are regarded by the "wets" as too drastic, and these will be opposed on the floor. On the other hand, dry members let it be known they favored a measure even more rigid, and that they would fight to have eliminated that provision under which liquor could be stored in private homes.

Holiday Recess.
The House was scheduled to start a holiday recess either tonight or tomorrow and the remaining sessions were to be devoted to other pending legislation. Therefore, it was unlikely that the measure could be taken up before the middle of next week.

To Prosecute Violations.
The Department of Justice was making preparations today, it was learned, to prosecute all direct violations of the war time law reported from tomorrow until the enforcement code is enacted, under the provisions of the original act. By direct violations, it was explained, was meant the sale of spirituous and vinous liquors. It was understood that the Department would not be so quick to act in cases involving the sale of beer, and will be satisfied to wait until the status of brewed beverages has been determined by the test cases that now are before the courts.

The Demobilization Date.
War Department officials refused to speculate today upon the date when it will be possible to say the army has been demobilized. The make-up of the army with its drafted men, national guardsmen and regulars together with volunteers for the duration of the emergency and for various periods, is so complicated that it was said the question as to when demobilization had been terminated probably would have to be decided by legal experts. It was expected that the point would be ruled on by the Attorney General's office.

Meanwhile, with the enforcement bill not enacted, the anti-saloon league contended that the original act carried sufficient provisions for its enforcement on the interim.

If the liquor men violate the war prohibition act, they do so at their own peril, was the warning issued by Dr. E. C. Dinwiddie, legislative superintendent of the league.

The League will seek to have the enforcement code made more drastic by the amendment of the provision allowing liquor to be stored in homes was revealed today in a statement by Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the League.

"The proposed provision for an unlimited amount of liquor to be permanently stored in the home is unwise," he declared. "It will turn many homes into speak-easies because the home is exempted from the search and seizure clause entirely unless it is in part a store or boarding house."

"The proposed code does not authorize the search of a house even if it is proven that liquor is sold therein.

HOLLWEG WOULD STAND TRIAL FOR EX-KAISER

Former German Chancellor
Asks Allies to Blame
Him for Crimes.

TAKES RESPONSIBILITY

Writes to Clemenceau That While He Was in Office He Was Responsible for Political Acts of Kaiser.

Dr. Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg, former German Chancellor, offers himself to the Allies for trial in place of his royal master, the Kaiser. He asks that he be considered to blame for all acts committed by the German government during the time he held office and will place himself at the disposal of the allied powers.

He asks that the "projected proceedings against his Majesty, the Emperor" be taken against himself. The request was made to Premier Clemenceau on June 25 in the following statement which Hollweg asked to have brought to the attention of the allied powers.

Hollweg's Plea.
"In Article 227 of the peace terms, the allied and Associated powers publicly arraign his Majesty, William II of Hohenzollern, former German Emperor, for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties. At the same time they announced their resolve to address a request to the Government of the Netherlands for the surrender of the former Emperor for purpose of trial.

"With reference thereto, I take the liberty of addressing a request to the powers to let the projected proceedings against his Majesty, the Emperor, be taken against me. For this object I hereby place myself at the disposal of the allied and associated powers.

"As former German Imperial Chancellor, I bear for my period of office sole responsibility, as regulated in the German Constitution, for the political acts of the Emperor. I believe I may deduce therefrom the claim that the reckoning which the allied and associated powers desire to demand for these acts shall be demanded solely of me.

Von Bethmann-Hollweg.

"Being convinced that the allied and associated powers will not deny international respect to the legal position fixed by public constitutional law, I may express the hope that they will be inclined to yield to my urgent request.

"VON BETHMANN-HOLLWEG.
"Hohenfinow, June 25."

The lunch cart, which has stood on the vacant lot north of the Ferris block for a number of years, was moved away today. W. E. Luettgens, who bought the cart a week or so ago from Leon Ames, sold it to a party in New Haven.

ALLIES REQUEST TURKISH ENVOYS TO LEAVE PARIS

Nothing Can be Done at Present Says Note Handed to Delegation.

EXHAUSTIVE SURVEY OF SITUATION TO BE MADE

So Many Other Interests Touched
That International Questions Will Take Long Time to Be Answered.

Paris, June 30.—Declaring that nothing can be done by their presence here under present conditions the Turkish peace envoys were today counseled to leave Paris by the Allies. The following note was handed to the Turkish plenipotentiaries:

The Note.
"The principal allied and associated powers desire to thank the Turkish delegation for the statements which they requested permission to lay before the peace conference. These statements have received and will continue to receive the careful consideration which they deserve. But they touch on other interests besides those of Turkey and they raise international questions whose immediate decision is unfortunately impossible.

"Though, therefore, the council are most anxious to proceed rapidly with the final settlement of peace, and fully realize the inconvenience of prolonging the present period of uncertainty, an exhaustive survey of the situation has convinced them that some delay is inevitable.

Requested to Leave.
"They feel that, in these circumstances, nothing would be gained by a longer stay in Paris at the present time of the Turkish delegation, which the Turkish government requested leave to send to France. Though, when the period arrives at which, for her, an interchange of ideas seems likely to be profitable, they (the Allies and associated powers) will not fail to communicate with the Turkish government as to the best method by which this result may be conveniently and rapidly accomplished."

PEACE CREATED HATRED SAY PRUSSIAN JUNKERS

German National Peoples' Party Issue Proclamation Bitterly Attacking the Treaty.

Berlin, June 29.—(Via London, June 30.)—The peace treaty signed on Saturday at Versailles, was attacked in a proclamation issued by the German National Peoples' party here today.

"The battle for German liberty and honor is lost," said the proclamation. "We want this disgrace to remain forgotten through generation after generation. The peace can create only hatred. The terms are unfulfillable."

The proclamation concluded with the expression that it could never be a "living, true peace."

(The German National Peoples' party is made up of Prussian conservatives and represents the old junker or war clique.)

J. T. ROBERTSON BUYS DEACON GRISWOLD PLACE

A large and attractive playground is assured for the Eighth District. J. T. Robertson of Oakland street has purchased the late Deacon Henry A. Griswold place. This estate consists of a house, a large barn and six or seven acres of land on Oakland street.

Mr. Robertson will undoubtedly offer this land as a playground to the Eighth District and it is expected that the boys and girls will soon be enjoying themselves there.

The estate, which joins other property now owned by Mr. Robertson, was purchased from Mrs. Whitmore Emmons, daughter of the late Deacon Griswold.

French and American Marines Clash in Brest Street Riots

Brest, France, June 30.—Several French marines were wounded and a number of American marines were injured in a riot which broke out here last night.

French marines were ordered from the streets of the city.

The rioting followed a brawl between French and American marines.

When fighting began American military police were called out to restore order. They fired their revolvers into the air in an effort to intimidate the mob, but with little success.

At the height of the trouble a crowd armed with missiles marched through the streets and attempted to stone Americans. Later in the night another mob hunted through hotels and private houses, declaring they were searching for Americans.

EARTHQUAKE ROCKS FLORENCE, ITALY LATEST REPORTS SAY 100 ARE DEAD

SALOON MEN HERE MAY PUT DRY LAW TO TEST

Question of Staying Open is Still Undecided by Some.

SAY LAW HAS NO TEETH

Police Will Take No Chances and Prepare for Big Night—Expect
Many to Lose Way Home.

"Will any of the local saloons open tomorrow morning?" This is the question that is being asked by many Manchester men today. The National War-time prohibition measure goes into effect this evening, and it has been reported that a number of local saloon keepers will open the doors of their establishments tomorrow morning regardless of the measure.

Legal advice, it is said, has brought forth the information that there is absolutely no penalty attached to evasion of this measure. Many prominent liquor men claim the bill has "no teeth. Rumors circulated about town indicate that the saloon keepers will open and stay open until orders have been received to close down.

A story published in an out-of-town paper stated that a local saloon man made a trip to Hartford a few days ago for the purpose of renewing his federal license for the sale of intoxicating liquors, the same to take effect from July 1st.

It further stated that the local man was informed by one of the officials of the internal revenue office in the Capitol City that no instructions had been received as yet to revoke any federal licenses for the sale of liquors, and that the necessary papers were being issued and would continue to be issued until revocation orders had been received.

Acting on the advice of this office, the local saloon man said he would remain open. He secured an internal permit for another year and had paid for same. The above information however has not been confirmed by the Hartford office of the United States Internal Revenue Department, and an attaché of this department stated Saturday evening that it was news to him.

Police officials in the larger cities are taking extra precautions today for what they believe will be an orgy of drinking tonight with possible serious trouble. In some cities the day shifts will be kept in reserve and not allowed to go home. Riot guns are also being distributed.

In Manchester the police do not believe there will be any serious trouble but they expect a large number of "drunks" and the patrolmen will try to induce these men to go home or have friends take them home as it is believed the town hall will not be big enough to accommodate the men who will need assistance tonight after attending the wake of John Barleycorn.

Enroute to the United States with President Wilson, on Board the U.
S. S. George Washington, June 30.—
(By wireless to New York)—President Wilson, who sailed from Brest yesterday afternoon, is very tired as a result of his long and arduous labors, but is highly pleased with the results of his work in Paris.

He plans to devote the greater portion of the homeward voyage to resting.

The President is preparing to address Congress reviewing what has taken place since the peace discussions opened.

Numerous messages of congratula-tion continued to pour in upon the President this morning. He devoted considerable time to answering the cordial felicitations from the rulers of various European countries and other personages who had wished him God speed.

To Reach N. Y. in 8 Days.
It is thought the President will reach New York harbor next Monday, making the voyage from Brest in eight days. According to present plans he will land at Hoboken and immediately board a special train for Washington. He will address a joint session of Congress on his arrival there.

The copy of the peace treaty which President Wilson is taking with him contains nothing essential.

Printed on ordinary book paper are the final terms, along with the original terms so that they can be compared and in order that the changes cannot be questioned.

American peace commissioners remaining behind will not recede from the position taken upon the Dalmatian question.

(The Dalmatian question involves territory upon the Adriatic claimed both by the Italians and the Jugo-Slavs).

Secretary Lansing has been directed to handle the American side of the negotiations and he will keep the President posted upon all developments. "It is generally expected that a way out of the difficulty will finally be evolved. However, it is stated as a positive fact that the United States will not accept the Pact of London as a basis of settlement in any manner whatsoever.

(The Pact of London was drawn up among Great Britain, France and Italy by which territorial concessions were promised Italy in the event she entered the war on the side of the Entente. The United States has never a party to this agreement.)

It is already regarded as certain that the President will denounce efforts to nullify the treaty through the passage of resolutions, similar to that of Senator Fall's. Such action would be characterized as taking the side of Germany. However, it is likely that a great portion of the opposition will disappear when all of the facts have been presented to the American Congress and the American public.

In addition to being a Presidential ship the George Washington might be termed a "bridal boat" as she is carrying seven French war brides to the United States. These young women married American soldiers just before sailing.

publicly executed.

Park Theater

Maisie, who for many years was known as the queen of British burlesque, was passively permitting Harlon, her partner, to blackmail her husband, John Steele, until—

Maisie was not of particularly fine character. She had been brought up in the wrong environment to be come the possessor of high ideals. So when Harlon found that Steele, supposing Maisie had been killed in a train wreck, had married again, Maisie even went so far as to help Harlon in his blackmailing scheme. Of course, Maisie protested at the job but her protest didn't go very far. And then, as stated before, something happened which made her change her viewpoint entirely. She got another slant on matters and she awakened into a big, whole-hearted woman.

You'll see what it was that awakened Maisie when you see "The Quickening Flame", the new World Picture, starring Montagu Love and June Elvidge, which is scheduled for showing tonight at the Park theater. Mr. Love is seen in the role of John Steele, while Miss Elvidge appears in the role of Maisie.

"The Quickening Flame" is a big story told in a big way. It gives these two famous stars splendid roles for the display of their great talents, and it tells a story that grips and holds the attention of every spectator from start to finish. There are many beautiful outdoor scenes in this production. From first to last it is a very superior picture.

Tomorrow D. W. Griffith's "A Romance of Happy Valley" will be the feature. It is, of course, one of the best pictures on the market because when Griffith directs a picture you know what that means.

The bill tonight will also contain Episode One of "The Carter Case", a Craig Kennedy Serial, with Herbert Rawlinson starring as Craig Kennedy and Margaret Marsh as Anita Carter in co-stellar position which episode deals with the mysterious murder of Anita's father, Shelby Carter, by means of an ingenious contrivance of scientific deadliness, such as German frightfulness in the great war has employed with terrorizing effect.

The gruesome murder occurs on the very moment that Craig Kennedy consents to undertake to protect Anita and her father and solve the riddle of Carter's secret enemies who seem to strike from the air. In mortal dread of the great detective's intervention, Carter's enemies decide to pounce upon Anita and Kennedy at once, while the latter is still unaware of his opponents and their mode of attack and consequently defenseless against their ruthless assaults. They overwhelm Kennedy and his friend, Walter Jameson, in a violent, hand-to-hand combat and with them helplessly bound, Anita is dragged by an airplane to apparent certain death.

Circle Theater

All the advance notices about Jane and Katherine Lee are true. Their new picture, called "Smiles", which will be shown tonight and tomorrow at the Circle theater is one of the best shown here in many a day.

The picture opens with a surprise, and the odd situation is followed immediately by showing Jane and Katherine washing a dog in a bathroom. Their father is at the front and they are being cared for by a housekeeper.

When an Aunt sends for them the housekeeper feels that a burden is taken off her shoulders. But instead of sending them in the usual way she economizes by putting parcel post stamps on them and turning them over to the postman. The housekeeper refuses to pay postage on the dog; but the wise animal hurries to the station, where Jane secretes him in the parcel post bag in which she has been placed.

The fun is rapid from that point on. The story has a touch of the war in it, and Jane and Katherine do their part in helping to get spies and in bringing their Aunt and her sweetheart together. It is a fine picture, full of fun and frolic.

On the bill also will be the serial "The Man of Might" and a comedy.

The Monroe Doctrine Is Protected By the League of Nations Covenant

On this page The Herald is printing a series of letters touching every angle of the plan for a League of Nations proposed by the Paris Covenant, now awaiting ratification by the United States Senate.

They are written by: William H. Taft, Ex-President of the United States.

George W. Wickersham, formerly United States Attorney General.

A. Lawrence Lowell, President of Harvard University.

Henry W. Taft, of the New York Bar.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Article XXI of the revised Covenant of the League provides as follows:

"Nothing in this covenant shall be deemed to affect the validity of international engagements such as treaties of arbitration or regional understandings like the Monroe Doctrine for securing the maintenance of peace."

It is asserted that this article does not adequately reserve the Monroe Doctrine because it is not a "regional understanding" and its purpose is not the "maintenance of peace."

It is also objected that although the Monroe Doctrine is a national policy, any dispute concerning its reservation in Article XXI shall be submitted to the League for arbitration or examination under Articles XIII or XV.

Its Origin. In 1823 a number of South American states, having thrown off the yoke of Spain, had become independent republics.

How It Developed. The principle of the Doctrine thus proclaimed has been so developed during the last hundred years that it now includes the prohibition of attempts by foreign nations, whether by war or purchase, or diplomatic intrigue, to make territorial acquisitions or establish new strategical footholds, upon or near the Western Hemisphere, or to secure political advantage in the domestic affairs of American nations.

Brandegge Says He Won't Support League "Until Hell Freezes Over"

Senator Declares He Will Not Be Buncoed with any Lingo about Humanity or the Moral Forces—Would Not Fight to "Please Somebody's Idealism."

In a special interview published in the Hartford Courant this morning Senator Brandegge makes the following remarks regarding his position on the League of Nations.

"I wish to say a word to the freedom of the good old state of Connecticut. This country has had three critical shocks. First, achieving its independence; second, framing its constitution; third, preserving the union under the constitution. We are now confronted with the fourth crisis. It is: Shall we preserve our independence or surrender it? I am an American and nothing else. I am an United States Senator and a member of the committee on foreign relations. I have taken an oath to preserve and protect the Constitution of the United States and, so help me God, I am going to do it.

"I thoroughly realize the responsibility which rests on me. I propose to use the best judgment that God has given me without fear or favor. The so-called covenant for a League of Nations which the Executive has made Article 1 of the peace treaty is, in my opinion, a hideous monstrosity. I shall never vote for it until hell freezes over and I think that event is probably somewhat remote. I am not to be buncoed with any lingo about humanity or the moral forces of the

HENDEE INDIANS FIND A HOLE IN ATHLETICS' CENTER FIELD

Weak Spot Lets Through Score of 4-2 in Favor of Springfield Players—Game Filled With Thrills.

Baseball thrills and suspense, the kind that makes the fans fighting mad, were furnished at the Mount Nebo grounds yesterday afternoon when the Hendee Indians of Springfield, serious contenders for the championship of Western Massachusetts, defeated the Athletics by a 4 to 2 score.

And it may be said without an attempt at an alibi, for there is no such word to be found in baseball vocabulary, that the weak spot in the Athletic line-up—center field—was responsible for the defeat. Poor judgment in this section in the second and fourth innings, paved the way for runs which resulted in a victory for the visiting aggregation.

Errors in this department yesterday were but a repetition of previous games. This particular department has been the Athletics' "jinx" since the inception of this year's baseball season. Misplays here have resulted in upsetting the Athletic morale, and it will continue this way until the center field position has been strengthened.

The game opened with Gaudette on the mound for the visitors and O'Connell for the Athletics. A double play, Sipples to Massey to Fay, with the visitors at bat, was the feature of the opening stanza which ended with neither side scoring.

Action started in the second when Phillips, Athletic center gardener, went after a hard ball from a Hendee batsman and when the ball was relayed the batter was safe at the dizzy corner on a three base hit. A sacrifice fly to deep left sent the runner home though he barely beat Schieldege's long peg to the plate.

This first of the second ended with the visitors one run to the good. The Athletics displayed their old time form in the last half of the second and smuggled in two runs. Kotsch up, hit to short and was given first base on a close decision. "Jerry" Fay laid down a neat bunt along the third base line advancing Kotsch to second. The latter came in on O'Connell's wicked wallop to short which bounded over the Hendee infielder's head.

Then followed a hit-fest. With the bases full Sammy Massey sent in another run with a sacrifice hit to the outfield. Gaudette, the Hendee moundsman pulled himself out a bad hole with three men on and one out by retiring the next two batters. The inning ended with the score 2 to 1 in favor of the Athletics.

A difficult running catch by "Jerry" Fay was the feature play of the third inning which resulted in neither team scoring. "Jerry" dashed far out into the side lines and stumbled. But he came up smiling with the sphere in his hand. The play was questioned by a visiting player, but he was silenced by the verbal fire from the guns of the McCullom brothers, ardent and faithful supporters of all Manchester sports.

Again in the fourth popped up the dreaded jinx. And in his usual haunts, center field. It cost the Athletics two more runs in this inning. With three men on and but one out, "Sammy" Massey came across with another brilliant play which was only one of many which he pulled off in yesterday's game. Sammy ran backwards after the sphere, clutched it, rolled over and over, coming up with the ball in his hands, and then completing a double play with the aid of Fay. The inning ended with the score 3 to 2 in favor of the Indians.

The fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth innings were replete with thrills, each side being unable to score. Gaudette was practically invincible and seemingly played the game himself during these innings. He shaded "Darby" in this department during this time. During one of these innings the Hendee catcher in running back for a foul, which he missed, nearly had convulsions when he swallowed a cud of tobacco.

pride of the Colonial League, maintained that aggravating smile, took up another notch in his belt, and with three or four porters, forced "Darby" and Freddy Warnock who followed, to hit to the waiting outfielders. The game ended with the score 4 to 2 in favor of the visitors.

"Sammy" Massey was undoubtedly the star of yesterday's game. He played faultless ball, accepted seemingly impossible chances without an error. "Jerry" Fay gave him a close run for high honors. Sipples and Schieldege also played well. It was hard to tell who was the star of the visiting aggregation Gaudette, the twirler, seeming to be the hardest worker. The box scores of the game follow:

HUDSONS ARE DEFEATED BY HARTFORD RAMBLERS

Five to Three Victory for Visiting Nine—Their Pitchers Too Much For Hudsons.

The Hudsons were defeated at the Four Acre lot yesterday afternoon by the fast Rambler A. C. of Hartford. The score was 5 to 3. The game was practically errorless and was fast, the twirling of Porteus being responsible for the visitors' victory.

OUTINGS ARE OUT OF IT WHEN WHITE SOX PLAY

Manchester Team Runs Up Score of 12 to 0 Against Hartford Club at Adams Street Grounds.

The White Sox administered a crushing defeat to the much vaunted Outings of Hartford at the Adams street grounds yesterday afternoon. The white wash brush was wielded in masterly fashion throughout the game which ended with the locals at the big end of a 12 to 0 score.

Strengthened by the acquisition of "Bill" Brennan and "King" Cole, the White Sox played a faultless and errorless game. The former appearing on the mound and the latter in left field. Brennan struck out nine Outings and in addition played a brilliant fielding game. Cole accepted three chances without an error and garnered three bingles, one of them a three bagger.

Lavoe of the visitors was given a beautiful reception in the last half of the first and for a length of time the White Sox were playing tag around the bases. Outing outfielders had the time of their lives chasing the sphere and relaying it home. When the inning was over eight tallies had been chalked up to the "Sox."

Again in the seventh Lavoe was viciously attacked by the locals who added three more runs to their score and for good measure added another in the eighth. Daoust at short pulled down two hard drives in the early stages of the game which were labelled hits. Plitt at the dizzy corner brought forth plaudits from the big crowd with a one hand stab of a hard drive from the bat of an Outing batsman.

McAdams, the hard work backstop of the Sox took like easy yesterday and handled the delivery of Brennan in masterly fashion. Only two of the visitors saw second during the game. In spite of the score the game was fairly fast and interesting. The box score follows:

GIVES THIS "THE O. O.;" IT LOOKS RATHER GOOD

Johnny Eckhardt Comes to Toledo With the Latest Dope That Dempsey Will Win Battle.

Toledo, O., June 30.—The backers of Jack Dempsey in his coming battle with the heavyweight champion Jess Willard on July 4 have another hunch to play on now that sounds like the dude of them all.

Johnny Eckhardt, of Philly, who blew into town Saturday, brought this hunch with him and has every one daffy over it. The hunch is this: A New Hunch.

Johnny says that Dame Fortune has been more than kind to challengers all over the world who have fought on holidays. Of course, there have been challengers who ran second on holidays, but whenever a champion met a challenger who had any chance at all on such a day he usually doffed the old laurels to him. Just give this list the north and south:

On Thanksgiving Day, 1901, at Hartford, Conn., Young Corbett knocked out Terry McGovern, the featherweight champion, in two rounds.

On Washington's Birthday, 1902, Johnny Kilbane beat Abe Attel, the featherweight champion, at Los Angeles, Cal.

On July 4, 1908, Battling Nelson knocked out lightweight champion Joe Gans at San Francisco in seventeen rounds.

On Washington's birthday, 1910, Ad Wolgast beat Battling Nelson, the champion, in forty rounds at Point Richmond, Cal.

On March 17, 1897, St. Patrick's Day, Bob Fitzsimmons knocked out heavyweight champion Jim Corbett in 14 rounds at Carson City.

On Christmas Day, 1906, Jack Johnson stopped Tommy Burns, heavyweight champion, in fourteen rounds at Sydney, Australia.

On July 4, 1910, Jack Johnson defeated Jim Jeffries, recognized undefeated heavyweight champion, in fifteen rounds at Reno, Nevada.

On July 4, 1919, at Toledo, Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard—

Oh, but this is too soon. If Dame Fortune is as kind to Denver Jack as she has been to a bunch of other challengers, then, boys—well, it will be the old gag over again.

The King is dead—Long Live the King.

ATLAS A. C. DEFEATS CRESCENTS

The Atlas A. C. defeated the Crescents, Saturday at the Main street ball diamond by a 3-2 score in a thrilling 11 inning battle. The Crescents had in their lineup such well known players as, "Bob" McKay, formerly of Manchester High, Wright, also of the same team, J. Noble, McKinney, and W. Stevenson, formerly of the Centers.

The Atlas nine played a great game on the defensive part. The sensational fielding of Richmond and Anderson in the outfield were features. Cervini pitched a great game for the Atlas fanning twelve, passing one an allowing only three scattered hits.

Fourth of July the Atlas will journey to Middletown to play the crack Tiger A. C. Cervini is slated to work for the locals.

PHYSICIAN DESCRIBES TESTS MADE ON JESS

Has Sub-Normal Pulse and His Flesh is Soft and Flabby.

WILL TIRE EASILY

Doctor Says That Willard Can Be Knocked Down and Out Same as Any Other Man.

Toledo, Ohio, June 30.—Is Jess Willard physically fit?

Blood pressure tests show that the champion is subnormal on all three counts and personal observation convinces that he is fat and flabby on the outside, which is indicative of very harmful flabbiness inside.

This is the conclusion of a Toledo-stone physician who ranks among the foremost in America and who has made a special study of blood pressure in its relation to health and physical prowess. He asked that his name be withheld for ethical reasons.

Test Made Week Ago.

"The test made of Willard a week ago by a Chicago physician shows that Willard's systolic pressure is 124 and his diastolic pressure is 82, making a difference of 42 between the two which gives the pulse pressure. Those figures show sub-normal for a man of Willard's age. His systolic pressure should be about 135 and his diastolic pressure 85, leaving a difference of 50 for pulse pressure—which is the normal average.

Sub-Normal Pulse.

"Furthermore, the pulse beats of Willard, taken by the physician were either 59 or 60. I don't know which because one paper had it 50 and the other had it 59. But in either case it proves Willard sub-normal again, for the pulse, of a normal man, between 37 and 46 should be between 70 and 80.

"There is no question about Willard carrying around some excess weight at this time. And he is flabby on the outside which means flabbiness and fat on the inside around the organs and streaked through the muscles. There is, of course, around all normal human organs, a certain percentage of fat which, instead of being harmful is of vital need. But when the fat increases beyond a certain point it is dangerous for any athlete.

"When harmful fat increases within the human body it makes its inaugural attack upon the muscles. It creeps into them and lessens the muscular power with every increase. Fat is unknown to the muscles of a perfectly trained athlete. Undoubtedly if you cut through one of the big back muscles of Jack Dempsey you would find nothing but fibre. But if the same thing was done with any man who is carrying excessive fat, thin, fatty streaks will show.

Will Tire Easily.

"Until an athlete rids himself of fat, both inside and out, he is not perfectly conditioned and must expect to tire rather easily.

That is because work calls upon the muscles to their utmost and when muscles are filled with fat their powers are but limited.

"Only those uneducated in human frailty as revealed by a study of the anatomy will say that Willard cannot be knocked out. The greatest giant that ever lived was subject to a knockout blow. A welterweight could knock out Willard if his punch landed on the right spot. It doesn't require a tremendous blow to the jaw bone to render a man unconscious. But the blow must hit those spots on the chin line that mean the jarring of the brain.

It is true that some men have greater power to resist punches to the jaw than others. And Willard has proven to be one of them. No man has ever knocked him down or out, but that is not because he is knockout-proof but because no man ever has landed on the right spot. If a fairly strong blow ever strikes Willard flush on the jaw on either side at the right point, Willard must crumple, the same as any other human.

Serviceable barrels of standard size are now made of paper.

CHENEY BROTHERS' NEW STOCKHOUSES ABOUT DONE

Aberthaw Construction Co. Removes Big Crane—Can Lock Up Two R. R. Cars in Shed.

The Aberthaw Construction company has nearly finished the two storehouses it is building for Cheney Brothers in the South Manchester freight yard.

The smaller of the two buildings is nothing more than a brick shed in which two cars may be locked, in case a shipment of silk comes in late in the day and has to wait for the Federal inspector to break the Government seals.

The other building is a three story structure, made of concrete, with a facing of brick. The walls, floors, roof and veranda are all of concrete.

There are no windows in the building and no connecting doors between the different compartments. There is a veranda for each floor running the entire length of the building and a door to each compartment, opening into the veranda.

To get from one compartment to another it is necessary to come out on the veranda and enter at the next door.

The big crane, which was used in hoisting the concrete and other material during the construction of the buildings, has been taken down and the company is preparing to move its equipment to another job.

When the roof of the smaller building was laid, a bridge was built from the second story veranda of the big storehouse to the shed, a distance of about 100 feet, and the men conveyed the concrete across the bridge in two-wheeled carts or wheelbarrows.

WALTER LUDWIG INSANE; IN NORWICH HOSPITAL

Possessed With Idea That He Must Stop All Noise at Hilliardville Mills.

The police were summoned to Hilliardville on Saturday evening to investigate the actions of Walter Ludwig who lives in that vicinity, and whom neighbors claimed was acting strangely and creating a disturbance.

Ludwig was taken into custody and detained at headquarters until yesterday afternoon when he was examined by local physicians. He was adjudged temporarily insane and later in the afternoon was taken to the Norwich Hospital for the Insane at Brewster's Neck.

Ludwig seemed possessed with the idea that he must put a stop to all operations of the Hilliard Mills. He was trying to cut the belts as he said they were making too much noise. To further delay the work of the plant he decided to burn up all the available fuel. At about this time the police arrived and put an end to his plans for "quieting" the mill.

CENTER FLUTE BAND WINS PRIZES AT SAVIN ROCK

Victorious in Competition With Musical Organizations From New York, New Jersey, and the Bay State.

Another notch was added to Manchester reputation on Saturday when the Center Flute Band of this town, in competition against twenty seven bands from Manchester, New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, captured two first prizes in the mammoth musical carnival and parade which was staged at Savin Rock, New Haven on that day by the Lanscrot Fife and Drum Corps of the Elm City. Persons who attended the carnival report that the "Rock" was jammed to suffocation.

The Center Flute Band won high honors of the parade which preceded the carnival by their appearance in the line of march. Before the parade it was conceded that a famous organization from Holyoke would capture high honors. The decision of the judges, which was announced at ten o'clock on Saturday evening conclusively proved that the "Centers" had triumphed over this Holyoke organization.

Again at the competition meet at the "Rock" the local band carried off the blue ribbon event of the day; the musical contest. The prizes awarded were two massive silver cups. These will be placed along side of eighteen other trophies which adorn the walls of Orange Hall.

Other bands from this section which took part in the New Haven celebration were: The Silk City Band, Talcottville Fife and Drum Corps and the Manchester Drum Corps. The trip was made in auto trucks.

Although they were not awarded a prize the members of the Manchester Drum Corps report that they feel the trip to have been very much worth while. The Corps were hospitably entertained Saturday night at "Shaller's Hotel."

SCHENDEL-BELL.

The marriage of Leo Schendel of Main street to Miss May Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bell of Wadsworth street, took place Saturday evening at the South Methodist parsonage. Rev. G. G. Scriever performed the ceremony. The wedding was a quiet affair and the couple were unattended. The newly wedded pair were in hopes that they would be able to get away from town without their many friends becoming aware of their marriage. However, the groom is a member of St. Mary's Young Men's club and some of the members learned of the wedding. The young couple had just reached the home of the groom when two automobiles filled with members of the club arrived on the scene and at once began to make things lively for the newly wedded pair.

They were treated to a jazz band concert and the automobile in which they had hoped to quietly make the first part of their wedding journey was gaily decorated with bells, cans, shoes, and other trumpery which would proclaim a marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Schendel left in the bedecked car but soon drove up a side street and removed the decorations.

The groom is employed in the office at the spinning mill of Cheney Brothers. After a wedding trip that will include a stay on Cape Cod, the young couple will make their home with the groom's mother, Mrs. Louise Schendel, of Main street.

EDWARD MCCARTHY SHOT ACCIDENTLY IN THE LEG

Friend Who Pulled Trigger "Didn't Know It Was Loaded"—Bullet Enters Calf of Leg.

Edward McCarthy of the West Side, well known throughout the state as a sporting referee, and familiarly known in Manchester as "Mul" was accidentally shot at the West Side playgrounds Saturday evening by John Fraher, a companion. The bullet, which came from a 22 calibre rifle, penetrated the calf of McCarthy's right leg.

McCarthy and a group of friends were chatting near the baseball grounds after having returned from a frog shooting expedition. One of the members of the group, the owner of the rifle, fired several times in the air and laid the gun down on the grass thinking the chamber empty of cartridges.

Fraher picked up the gun, aimed it toward McCarthy in a joking way, evidently of the opinion that it was empty because of the previous demonstration. He pulled the trigger. Instantaneously there was a report and McCarthy was seen to clutch his right leg.

He was given first aid treatment and carried to his home where medical attention was summoned. Dr. W. V. Trombly dressed the wound. It is thought that no serious results will follow.

He Himself Returns Without a Scratch—War Cook, Then Plain Buck, Then Corporal.

Corporal Arthur W. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Johnson, of Walnut street, is among the Manchester soldiers recently discharged. He arrived from overseas service at Philadelphia, June 22 and was discharged from Camp Dix the following day. He came over as a special casual and was put through the demobilization process quickly.

Corporal Johnson first served in Headquarters Company of the 102nd Regiment, and was cook of the company until January, 1918. At that time he gave up the cook's job, became a buck private and was sent to the front lines. He continued to fight at the front in all the big battles from then until the armistice was signed. He was only a short distance away when Sergeants George N. Thompson and Henry Newman of Company G were killed.

During all the fighting in which Corporal Johnson took part, he saw 20 of his sergeants and 17 lieutenants killed, yet he escaped without a scratch. He took part in a score or more of night raids and in these was equally lucky.

Since the signing of the armistice, Corporal Johnson has been through Metz and Coblenz and has visited Paris and England. Had he not come home just when he did, he would have gone to Italy for a 21 days' stay. But he says he has had enough and is mighty glad to get back home.

Since January, 1919, Corporal Johnson has been with the Headquarters Detachment, Army Service Corps.
