BRITISH DIRIGIBLE IS HALF WAY ACROSS ATLANTIC EARLY TODAY

Commander Scott Sends Messages to London, Reporting His Progress—Making
About 45 Knots an Hour—
Weather Reports Indicate That Storm May Catch
R-34—Seen by Steamer.

London, July 11.—The giant British dirigible R-34 had completed more than half her 2,900 mile journey to London from the coast of Long Island, messages received by the air ministry indicated early today. Commander Scott wirelessed at 4 o'clock this morning, Greenwich time, (midnight, New York time) that the dirigible had reached 43.40 north, 46, west. This position is about 1,300 land miles east of the southeastern coast of Maine and showed that the R-34 had travelled more than 1,500 miles at that time. The R-34 gradually swung northward during the night, following the sweep of the southern steamer lane as she approached the Irish coast. Major Scott wirelessed that she was making about 45 knots an hour.

To Arrive Saturday.
Unless she encounters unexpected difficulties it now appears certain that the R-34 will arrive here early Saturday.

The dirigible reported that she is now in direct communication with wireless stations at Clifden, Ireland and the Azores.

Destroyers Ready to Aid.
The air ministry wirelessed the R-34 this morning that destroyers were being held in readiness at Berehaven, Ireland to go to her assistance in case of need. The dirigible was also informed that the air ministry had provided accommodations and landing parties for the airship at Fermoy, Ireland, near Cork, Kingsnorth, East Portunna, Scotland and Paulham, a suburb of London.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon the air ministry had received no further word from the R-34 and were somewhat concerned over her failure to report her position. The weather report showed a slight depression over the Atlantic area through which the dirigible was proceeding this morning and it is possible she may have been caught in a storm. Officials are satisfied, however, that she will arrive here between noon and four o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Has Plenty of "Gas."
With her homeward flight more than half completed, the big airship has nearly two-thirds of her gasoline supply left. When Major Scott reported his position to the Admiralty at that hour he said that the R-34 had consumed only 1,633 gallons of fuel and had 3,027 gallons remaining in her tanks.

Along Steamship Lane.
Throughout the early morning hours, the R-34 continued along the southern steamship lane, bearing slightly to the north as she approached Ireland and proceeding at a speed of about 65 land miles an hour. She made better time than she had made last night and evidently had another strong wind at her back.

SHIP PASSED DIRIGIBLE.
New York, July 11.—The British transport Saxon, arriving here today, reported passing the R-34 at sea yesterday afternoon, making about seventy miles an hour. "She passed us about 500 feet overhead," said Captain E. G. Diggle. "Everybody who was physically able was on deck and all drank toasts to her in bubbling champagne as she passed over."

TOWN FATHERS AVOID BUILDING LINE CASE

Debate Routine Matters Only at Monthly Meeting.
PAY BILLS OF $12,000

The selectmen of the Town of Manchester transacted official business matters in record breaking time at their regular monthly meeting at the Hall of Records last evening. The meeting, which lasted but one hour and a quarter, adjourned at 9.10 p. m.
An afternoon session was held for the purpose of approving the outstanding bills against the town for the previous month. These bills, which amounted to over $12,000, were ordered paid.
The value of having a physician as a member of the board was demonstrated at this session when Dr. Thomas H. Weldon discovered that the town was about to pay a bill of $102 for medical treatment to a woman who was not a resident of Manchester.

This woman was visiting Polish friends at Keeney court when she was taken ill. The attention of the charity commissioner was called to the case and because of the inability of the woman or her friends to speak English the commissioner thought she was a resident and ordered her removal to the Hartford Isolation hospital.

A bill amounting to $102 for medical treatment was forwarded to the town. The selectmen ordered this bill paid and will call the attention of the Hartford Charity Board to the matter as the woman was a resident of Hartford. The Hartford board will no doubt reimburse the town to the extent of this amount.

Many personal taxes on the list of 1917 were abated, as many of the persons whose names are on this list cannot be found. F. B. Horton's bill for killing 11 dogs during the month of June was ordered paid, as was also an invoice for road oil amounting to $1,851.02. The board also signed the County Tax bill for $4,382.96. This bill came in unexpectedly and it was thought that it would not be included in this year's budget. A long discussion regarding the claim of Mrs. O'Donnell of Hilliard street for damages incurred to her property because of a change in grade was tabled until the evening's session.

The Evening Session.
At the evening session Clerk George H. Waddell read a communication from Attorney William S. Hyde, representing Mrs. O'Donnell, requesting that action on this matter be taken immediately.

Because of this change of grade in front of her property on Hilliard street, his client was forced to build a retaining wall which cost her $400. It was requested that the town reimburse Mrs. O'Donnell for this amount. Chairman Johnson called the attention of the selectmen to the fact that this case was of 3 years standing and was one of the old pending law-suits with which the town has to contend. One of the members intimated that the wall built by the Hilliard street property owner was of a fancy nature and could have been erected at the time for about $200. It was voted to refer the matter to Town Counsel Alexander Arnott for recommendation and that Mr. Hyde be notified of this action.

The question of the establishment of lost boundaries on East Center street also came up, but action was postponed at the request of Mrs. B. F. Jenney, a property owner in this section.

The Highway Committee was authorized by the board to order another car of road oil, the amount ordered to be governed by the committee. A resident of West Center street requested that road oil be sprinkled on the strip of road between Cooper street and the junction of West Center. The matter was referred for investigation.

Contrary to expectations the selectmen were silent on the encroachment controversy and also on the Sheridan drainage question. The meeting adjourned at 9.10.

All Rome Shops Closed; Strict News Censorship

London, July 11.—The mystery over what is actually happening in the Rome labor troubles was heightened today by a brief Reuter News Agency cable, reporting that all the shops in Rome excepting those selling foodstuffs, have been closed and that only one newspaper, the Popolo Romano is publishing.
Disturbances, in which many persons were killed and injured, have been general throughout Italy for several days. They began in the northern part of the country over the high cost of food and clothing and rapidly spread to the cities.

The government relieved the situation by forcing a fifty per cent cut in prices, but in the meanwhile a general strike was proclaimed at Rome. Later, however, this was reported to have been called off by the Italian Chamber of Labor. At Taranto the situation became so serious that the Ministry of Marine declared martial law and naval officers undertook the administration of the city's affairs.

FEDERAL COMMISSION RAPS MEAT PACKERS

Declares "Big Five" Will Soon Dominate Food Market.
ASKS FOR PUBLICITY.

Says Small Dealer is Not at Serious Disadvantage—Does Not Know
True Ownership of Competitors.
Washington, July 11.—The nation's food supply will soon be dominated by the Big Five meat packers unless steps are taken to prevent it, the Federal Trade Commission stated in a report to the President on its investigation of the meat industry, made public today.
The report which is part one of a series, treats of the "extent and growth of power of the five packers in meat and other industries."
Threatens Freedom of Market.
"A fair consideration of the course the five packers have followed and the position they have already reached must lead to the conclusion that they threaten the freedom of the market of the country's food industries and of the by-product industries linked therewith," says the report.
"The meat packer control of other foods will not require long in developing," it adds.
Declaring that the history of the packers "has been interwoven with illegal combinations, rebates and with undisclosed control of corporations," the commission urges the importance of full publicity of corporate ownership for all industries.
"Unfair Competition."
In the absence of adequate laws, the commission points out, "unfair competition may, run its course to the goal of monopoly and accomplish the ruin of competitors without the secret ownership being suspected and consequently without complaint to the commission or investigation of facts. The competitor is in jeopardy so long as he has not the knowledge of true ownership and the public is entitled to such knowledge."
The complete report referred to above will be found on page four of today's Herald.

TWO CENT FARE RAISE STARTS BIG BOYCOTT

Thousands of Commuters Use
Steam Trains or Walk to Work in Boston.

Boston, July 11.—Thousands of residents of Greater Boston today began a determined boycott of the Boston Elevated Railway System. The boycott is said to have assumed such large proportions as to nullify the revenue increase anticipated by the public trustees of the road when they raised the carfare from eight to 10 cents yesterday. Taking advantage of lower tariffs on the railroads thousands of commuters today came to the city on steam trains while others, refusing to pay the additional two cents, walked from Charlestown, Cambridge, Roxbury, South Boston and on a smaller scale in other outlying communities.

SENATE PREPARES FOR FIGHT AGAINST LEAGUE OF NATIONS

TRADE WITH GERMANY WILL BEGIN AT ONCE
Acting Secretary Polk Makes Statement Following Talk With Wilson.

DYES STILL SHUT OUT
Ban on Communications With Germany Will Be Lifted at Once—Lansing Salls for Home Today.
Washington, July 11.—Trade relations with Germany are to be resumed at once, Acting Secretary of State Polk announced today, following a conference of more than an hour with President Wilson.
The trading with the enemy act still remains on the statute books, it was pointed out, but business will be carried on under blanket licenses which will permit the importation of practically all products from Germany, with the exception of potash, chemicals and dyes. The ban on communications with Germany also will be lifted immediately, it was stated.

Will Make Shantung Issue One of Points of Attack—
Lodge Rejects President's Offer of Co-operation with Foreign Relations Committee—Borah Hopes for Solid Opposition.

SENATOR BRANDEGEE ON THE ADDRESS.
Commenting on President Wilson's address before the Senate yesterday in which he presented the peace treaty to that body, Senator Brandegee said:
"Soap bubbles of oratory and souffle of phrases."
Washington, July 11.—Shantung was to be made one of the principal issues of anti-administration opposition to certain provisions of the peace treaty, it was ascertained today from Republican Senators. They predicted that that part of the pact which would give the Japanese control over the Chinese province would never be agreed to by the Senate.
Senator Borah, of Idaho, expressed flat disapproval of the Shantung province solution. He declared the whole question of the extension of Japanese domination of China would serve to solidify opposition to President Wilson's ideas with respect to the principles involved in the League of Nations covenant.

NAME HARDEN AS GERMAN
AMBASSADOR TO THE U. S.

Firebrand Editor of "Zukunft" is Mentioned—Is Well Known in This Country.
Berlin, July 11.—Maximilian Harden, firebrand editor of the Zukunft, is being prominently mentioned as the government's probable choice for Ambassador to the United States. Several prominent Germans have urged Harden's appointment on the ground that he is well known and well thought of in the United States.
Maximilian Harden has long been known for his opposition to the militarist party that surrounded the German ruler. His exposure of a court scandal several years ago first brought him to prominence. He repeatedly indulged in frank criticism of the government and the Kaiser during the war with the result that his newspaper was several times suspended and Harden was finally denied the right of either writing or speaking publicly.

Early action was anticipated by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Senator Borah's resolution calling upon the President to furnish the Senate with the protest against the Shantung agreement, Secretary Lansing, General Bliss and Henry White were said to have filed in writing with the peace commission.
Will Not Hear President.
Lines between out and out opponents and opponents in the Senate of the proposed entry of the United States into the League of Nations were tightly drawn today as a result of the announcement by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, that President Wilson would not be invited to appear before the committee after it began consideration of the treaty on Monday next.
Senators, both Democratic and Republican, who were still divided as to the form in which the league covenant should be accepted by the Senate, although favoring a League of Nations of some kind, declared that they were not prepared to go to the extreme of refusing to ratify the treaty unless amendments were made to it.

NO 2.75 FOR "RHODY."

Little State Says 4 P. C. Beer's Not Intoxicating.

Providence, R. I., July 11.—Two and three quarters per cent beer may be intoxicating for folks in other states but not for the inhabitants of "Little Rhody."
Providence police commissioners today announced that they would soon issue licenses on the theory that beer of four per cent alcoholic strength was not intoxicating and authorizing the sale of the same which will be done unless Congress intervenes.
The Rhode Island state legislature some months ago passed a law defining four per cent beer as non-intoxicating.

WORKING FIVE DAYS.
Norwalk, July 11.—The Norwalk Iron Works Company has posted a notice stating that, owing to the shortage of business the working schedule, commencing this week, will be reduced to five days a week. This firm had many sub-contractors during the war, notably the placing of air compressors at the nitrate plants at Sheffield, Alabama. It is expected that the shortage will be but temporary.

HAYS NOT ILL.

New York, July 11.—Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican national committee today characterized as absurd a report that he had suffered a nervous breakdown and had been forced to go to a sanitarium.
"I never was in better health in my life," said Hays.

DUTCH MAY NOT GIVE UP DETHRONED WAR LORD

Holland's Reply to Allies' Warning Interpreted as Unfavorable Answer—Blockade Still On.

Paris, July 11.—Holland's reply to the warning of the allies to safeguard the ex-Kaiser and the former Crown Prince was interpreted in some quarters today as presaging a negative attitude when formal demand is made for the surrender of the dethroned war lord and his heir.
The Dutch government, while expressing its consciousness of international obligations, declared it would exercise its sovereignty as it saw fit. The blockade of Germany is still in effect, but it will be lifted as soon as the German courier arrives with the text of the National Assembly resolution ratifying the peace treaty.
A new German delegation is expected to arrive at Versailles during the day.

Early action was anticipated by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on Senator Borah's resolution calling upon the President to furnish the Senate with the protest against the Shantung agreement, Secretary Lansing, General Bliss and Henry White were said to have filed in writing with the peace commission.
Will Not Hear President.
Lines between out and out opponents and opponents in the Senate of the proposed entry of the United States into the League of Nations were tightly drawn today as a result of the announcement by Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, that President Wilson would not be invited to appear before the committee after it began consideration of the treaty on Monday next.
Senators, both Democratic and Republican, who were still divided as to the form in which the league covenant should be accepted by the Senate, although favoring a League of Nations of some kind, declared that they were not prepared to go to the extreme of refusing to ratify the treaty unless amendments were made to it.
What form the proposed reservations were to take was a question on which Republican Senators were still disagreed today.
Plans for Tour.
In the meantime, preparations for the President's proposed tour of the country in behalf of the early ratification of the treaty by the Senate without amendments or reservations were under way.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN BRINGS IN SIXTY-FOUR

Team No. 2 of Army and Navy Club Now Holds High Place in Drive.

Team No. 2 jumped into the lead in the race for new members in the Army and Navy club yesterday, and at nine o'clock last evening was leading with a record of ten new members for the day. Team No. 3 came in second with 6 new members. The total number of new members secured by the ten teams yesterday was 24, which added to Monday's and Tuesday's results, makes a grand total of 64.

Team No. 2 now leads with a record of 14 new members secured. Team No. 4 is in second place with 12 new members and Team No. 3 is in third place with 10. Team No. 9 got away yesterday by securing 1 new member, this being the first secured in the three days.

"The purpose of the Army and Navy club is to promote the friendly and social intercourse of its members in addition to intellectual improvement," said Chairman Albert Dewey last evening. "To make this possible a large and beautiful club house has been provided by the townspeople. It is finely equipped with up-to-date furniture, has a large entertainment hall in the center with a pool and card room at one end, and a reading room at the other. All local ex-service men should join now while the charter membership privilege is open, and enjoy these privileges. I am exceedingly gratified at the results obtained, for it demonstrates that the boys are taking an interest in the organization.

Yesterday's results are as follows:

Team No.	Wednesday.	Total.

BRINGS ENGLISH BRIDE HOME FROM OVERSEAS

Lieut. Hall and Girl He Married Across Water Get Warm Welcome from S. A. Band.

Lieutenant Charlie J. Hall, who returned Wednesday afternoon after more than three years' overseas service with the Royal Flying Corps of the British army, was given a welcome home party last evening by the Salvation Army band at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hall of Summit street. Lieutenant Hall brought home with him his English bride, to whom he was married last winter. Two other brothers in the Hall family, Lieutenant Leonard R. Hall of the Army of Occupation, Germany and Bugler William P. Hall, who received his discharge in France to work with the Salvation Army overseas, are expected home soon. All three brothers were members of the Salvation Army band before enlisting.

At last night's party, speeches were made by different members of the band and all expressed their pleasure at the progress Lieutenant Hall had made in the service. He has sleeve, each denoting a year's service three blue service stripes on vice. Refreshments were served during the evening and special music was provided by the orchestra from the band.

Lieutenant Hall's father and mother replied to the speeches made by the band members. Mrs. Hall told how hard it was when her three sons asked if they might enlist. She said she could not tell them to stay or to go, but simply told them to do what they knew was their duty.

Besides the two Hall boys, there are two more members of the Salvation Army band still in the service. They are James V. Munsie and Eldred McCabe. When they return, the band will have a total membership of 38. Twenty-one members of the corps served in the war and about two-thirds of them came from the band. To fill the vacancies, a number of the girls joined the band and are now recognized as some of the land's best musicians. There are now six girls playing in the band. Some people have asked, now that the men were returning whether the girls will drop out of the band. The bandmen answer in the negative. "The value of the girls' services is recognized and they are to be retained as members of the band."

Lieutenant Hall is a cornet player of ability and before enlisting was one of the soloists in the local band. His return will add greatly to the work of the band, which is now recognized as the best in Manchester and one of the best Salvation Army bands in New England. During the past year, many demands have been made for its services from all over the state.

FIVE BROTHERS RETURN HOME FROM THE ARMY

Torrance Boys Get Together for First Time in Four Years—One Still in Service.

With the recent return of William Torrance of Headquarters Troop, 2nd Cavalry, United States Regulars, from overseas, the family of Archibald Torrance of 15 Newman street has been united for the first time in four years.

Mr. Torrance at one time had five sons in the service. Three were overseas and two were stationed at camps in this country. They are all back in this country now and are home with the exception of George Torrance, a member of the aviation forces, stationed at Mineola, L. I. George paid a flying visit home recently for the reunion and the happy parent viewed with pride five sturdy, bronzed faced sons, products of military training. William, who wears two gold stripes, was overseas with the "regulars." Hugh was a member of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces for four years. Jimmie was attached to the 82nd division of the American Expeditionary Forces overseas. Andy was stationed at a southern camp when much to his regret the armistice was signed.

POLES WARNED TO STOP.

Paris, July 11.—Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the allied armies, was today instructed by the Council of Five to send a note to Poland demanding that the Poles cease hostilities.

The Poles are fighting nearly all of their neighbors, but especially the Ukrainians and the Lithuanians. A violent battle was reported raging between the Polish and Ukrainian armies in Galicia yesterday.

Park Theater

The necessity for arresting his own father—this is but one of the dramatic moments confronting Tom Moore as Dick Latham in "Go West, Young Man," the Irish star's new Goldwyn Picture. It comes to the Park Theatre tonight and tells a story in which comedy and drama are cleverly blended.

The incident mentioned above is not, as might be suspected, of tense melodramatic character. In fact, it is distinctly amusing. Dick Latham is sheriff of a so-called bad town in the West. By degrees he reforms it and succeeds in making gambling a misdemeanor. Even chewing tobacco is abandoned to humor the young reformer.

As a matter of course, Sheriff Dick's attention is called to a group of strangers, thought to be rich Easterners, who are gambling in a room at the hotel. Dick goes to the place, quick to seize the opportunity to make his authority felt with the idle rich. He flings wide the door, levels his revolver and looks into the eyes of his father.

The situation is made amusing by the fact that only a few months before Dick's autocratic parent had taken him to task for not working, whereupon the son set out to make a living for himself, ignoring his father's chagrin when Dick took him to his word.

Of course the incident is made the most of by Tom Moore as the youthful sheriff and Melbourne MacDowell as his dumfounded father.

Tomorrow the feature will be "The Cry of the Weak," with Fannie Ward playing the star role. A comedy and "The Red Glove" will also be on the same bill.

Circle Theater

Business men in Manchester have for many years complained of the many Mancheters there are in the United States and hardly a day goes by but there occurs a mix-up in shipping. There are just fourteen Mancheters in this country and the movie men are having their old troubles again.

Last evening the Circle management expected Bert Hall in "A Romance of the Air." It went to some other Manchester. Today Manager "Doc" Sullivan discovered after much telegraphing and telephoning that his show was in some other Manchester and could not be located. As a result he had to make an auto trip to New Haven early this morning and not to disappoint his patrons he secured a show just as good, if not better, because of its timeliness.

The star of tonight's play is none other than Jess Willard the former heavyweight champion who was knocked out in Toledo last week by Jack Dempsey. Fight fans have longed to see the former champion in action and tonight is their opportunity.

It is a love story but through it all Jess shows how he fights. There are many rounds of prize fighting in it and fight fans will get a close up of the man who made so great a fizzle of his bout on July Fourth. Shorter subjects and comedies will make up a dandy bill for your entertainment tonight at the Circle.

The weather is just cool enough now to enjoy a good show, so come around. Tomorrow's feature will be "Fighting Destiny," with another episode of "The Tiger's Trail," a comedy and the Pathe News.

On Sunday the feature will be "False Evidence."

Herbert Finnegan of Ford street, who has been teaching at the Hill School for Boys at Pottstown, Pa., since his discharge from the service, left this morning for the school's summer camp at Wolfboro, N. H., where he will spend the remainder of the summer as an instructor.

The scheduled baseball game between the Machine Shop and Main Office teams of the Industrial League, was postponed yesterday on account of the rain and will be played some day next week.

SLAYS SON-IN-LAW.

Bluefields, W. Va., July 11.—Roy Willard, 20, bridegroom of half an hour is dead today and his mother-in-law, Mrs. W. J. Taylor, is being held by the police charged with the shooting. Mrs. Taylor had objected to her daughter marrying Willard and refused to witness the ceremony which was performed at the home of a neighbor. A few minutes after the marriage Mrs. Taylor appeared and fired six shots at Willard, the young bridegroom being killed instantly.

NEW DEAN FOR SEMINARY.

Cambridge, July 11.—Rev. Charles R. Slatery, rector of Grace Church, New York, today was recommended by the board of trustees of the Episcopal Theological School as dean of that institution to succeed Dean George Hodges, deceased. Dr. Slatery is a graduate of the theological school. Before taking up his present charge he was dean of the Fairbairn Divinity School, Fairbault, Minn. His name has been sent to Right Rev. William M. Lawrence, Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Mass for confirmation.

Priceless Methodist Relics Are Exhibited at Centenary

What is described by Professor La Mont A. Warner, of Columbia University, director of Fine Arts at the Methodist Centenary Celebration, Columbus, Ohio, as the finest and most valuable collection of Methodist relics ever gathered in the world, is on display at the Centenary Exposition.

"No value can be placed on this collection," declared Prof. Warner. "It is priceless because nothing here could be replaced if lost." The collection was loaned to the Exposition by its owner, Dr. John F. Goucher, of Baltimore. Several articles in the exhibition belong to Emory University, at Atlanta, Ga.

The original ordination papers of Francis Asbury when he was made the first bishop of the Methodist church in America, in 1784, by Thomas Coke, are in the exhibit. Bishop Asbury as a layman had been sent to America from England by John Wesley in 1771 to extend the work of the new church here. Later, in 1784, Wesley ordained Thomas Coke a bishop and sent him to America to ordain Asbury and to work with him here. Accordingly, Francis Asbury, a layman, was made a deacon of the church on Christmas day, 1784, he was made elder the next day, and on the third day was ordained a bishop, by Bishop Coke.

An old etching in the collection shows this ceremony.

A rickety old wooden pulpit which was used by Bishop Asbury, Strawberrybridge, McKentry, Whatcote and 64 other appointed Methodist itinerants between 1768 and 1809, occupies a conspicuous place in the exhibit. For more than 40 years John Evans, the first recorded convert to Methodism in America, made of his home a regular appointment for circuit preaching, and this pulpit was erected there for the purpose.

A small oak table on which Bishop Asbury wrote most of his journals is among the valuable relics. It stood in the Warfield home near Sam's Creek, Md., for more than 100 years, and was presented to Dr. Goucher by the Warfield family in 1896. First edition early hymnals and prayer books, personal letters of pioneers of the church and quaint old etchings showing scenes in the early history of Methodism make the exhibit one of unusual interest. The personal diary of John Wesley, letters which he sent to members of his family, a prayer book presented by him to his wife, and other personal effects of his father of the church, surviving nearly 200 years, are considered invaluable by their owners, who have loaned them to the Exposition.

BUILDING PERMITS SHOW CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY

Seventeen Permits Issued Showing Building Amounting to $28,800 for Month of June.

Building Inspector S. Emil Johnson's report of permits issued for the previous month demonstrates that local building activity is on the increase. Seventeen permits were issued amounting to $28,800. The highway permits were for $5,000 estimates and were issued to Carl Marks of Summer street and Arthur Mercer of East Center and Walker streets. The lowest was a $50 estimate issued to Hugo Lautenbach. The building inspector's report for the month of June follows:

- June 1st to July 1st.
- John M. Shewry, 3 Church street, addition veranda, $200.
  - Hugo Lautenbach, 154 School street, addition garage, $50.

WON'T NAME SENATOR.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 11.—The name of Senator Harry S. New, of Indiana, will not figure in the defense of Harry S. New, Jr., slayer of his 20 year old fiancée, Freda Lesser in Topanga Canyon early Saturday morning, according to present plans of the defense.

Mrs. Lily M. Burger, mother of the prisoner, will not bring into court at the trial of her son the story of her alleged girlhood love affair with the Senator. The name of the Senator will be kept in the background just as much as possible, both Mrs. Burger and John L. Richardson, her son's attorney, have indicated.

40,000 SAILORS MAY STRIKE.

New York, July 11.—The threatened strike of 40,000 sailors employed on coast wise vessels hinged today upon a conference now in progress in Washington between officials of the United States Shipping Board and union officials.

Labor leaders here declared today that if the strike is called it will practically paralyze the coast wise shipping industry from Maine to Texas. They said 250,000 men will walk out.

WHITE SOX VS. CORINTHIANS.

The local White Sox will have for their opponents Sunday afternoon at the Adam street grounds, the fast going colored team, the Corinthians, of Hartford.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 11.—There was vigorous buying of many stocks at the opening of the stock market today and during the first 15 minutes good gains were recorded. Marine Common rose 1 5-8 to a new high record of 64 1-4 and the Preferred rose 1 1-4 to 122 3-4, and American Inter one point to 113 7-8.

Steel Common after advancing to 113 3-8 yielded to 112 7-8. American Hide and Leather advanced one point to 40, a new high record; Pierce Arrow 2 1-2 to 64 1-2 and Sinclair Oil 1 1-8 to 65.

Ohio Cities Gas opened 7-8 higher at 60 3-4 and Industrial Alcohol rose four points to 143.

Irregularity prevailed during the forenoon stock market trading. Marine Common was featured and rose over three points to a new high record of 65, while the preferred sold up to 112 3-4.

U. S. Rubber yielded 2 1-2 points to 130 1-2; Crucible one point to 116; Industrial Alcohol 2 1-2 to 140 1-2 and Steel Common one point to 112 3-8.

FIRST CONFERENCE TODAY.

Paris, July 11.—The first conference between the new German envoys at Versailles and the allied commission appointed to deal with them is scheduled to take place this afternoon.

They are to discuss the future of the Rhineland territory. The allied commission is made up of American, British, French and Belgian representatives.

REDS PLOT IN ANATOLIA.

Constantinople, July 10.—(Via London, July 11.)—A plot to bring about a revolution in Anatolia by Moustafa Kiamil, former Turkish commander in the Caucasus and Admiral Raoul, has just been discovered. The object was to resist Greek occupation. While the government was said to be powerless to resist the rebels, serious fighting is not expected on account of lack of armaments.

Anatolia is in the westernmost part of Turkey, bordering the Mediterranean. The allied troops were recently landed there.

THE FIUME SITUATION.

Paris, July 12.—The inter-allied commission which will investigate the situation at Fiume, where the Italians and Jugo-Slavs are at loggerheads, has received its final instructions. It is expected to begin its work early next week.

WILSON PLAYS GOLF.

Washington, July 11.—President Wilson today enjoyed his fourth round of golf since last December. With Mrs. Wilson, he was on the Kirkside Links bright and early and appeared to have lost none of his skill by reason of his long "lay off."

THE BULGARIAN TREATY.

Paris, July 11.—On motion of Secretary of State Lansing, of the American Delegation the commission framing the Bulgarian treaty was today directed to hand in the completed terms to the Council of Five not later than July 25.

CANDIDATE FOR MAYOR.

Waterbury, July 11.—Attorney Francis P. Gullfollis, who ran for Lieutenant Governor of Connecticut four years ago today announced his candidacy for the nomination of mayor on the Democratic ticket. He is prominent in state and local politics.

A REGULAR DIVISION.

Washington, July 11.—What is a regular division?

This interesting inquiry comes from the U. S. Marines, serving with the Second Division, now on duty in Germany. The Second Division has a total strength of 26,467 officers and men. Of these 23,513 are men who enlisted or were drafted for the period of the emergency only. The remaining 2,954 men must serve until their regular enlistment term expires.

"The folks back home, when they read or speak of the First, Second, Third, Fourth or other regular divisions," says a Marine officer, "at once think of old war-hardened veterans. There are as many real regulars in our division as in any other, and we have less than 3,000."

4th DIV. COMING HOME.

London, July 11.—The Fourth Division of the American army of occupation began leaving the Rhine district Wednesday morning, said a Coblenz dispatch to the Daily Mail today. The troops are en route to the United States and shortly will be followed by other American divisions.

GERMAN ENVOYS START.

Berlin, July 10.—(Via London, July 11.)—Two German commissioners, empowered to deal with peace questions, left for Versailles today. The first, headed by Under Secretary of State Lewald will negotiate regarding occupied territory. The second, headed by Under Secretary Scheroder, will consult the allies on the restoration of Northern France and Belgium.

VERMONT'S FIRST ELECTROCUTION

Rutland, Vt., July 11.—George E. Warner, condemned murderer, will be the first man in this state to go to death in the electric chair. This became certain today when Governor Clement refused to commute Warner's sentence. It is expected the execution will take place tomorrow at Windsor State Prison. Warner was convicted of having shot to death his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wiggin, of Andover in November 1911.

COMPLICATIONS ARISE.

Paris, July 11.—Complications over the Austro-Hungarian frontiers has delayed work on the final draft of the Austrian treaty. It was declared today the remaining terms will not be ready before next week.

THE SPEECH A FAILURE.

To those who have been in this country, close to the skirmish line of the conflict that is raging about the League of Nations, the President's address to the Senate, upon the presentation of the treaty, makes it evident that Mr. Wilson is not yet aware of the character of the opposition he is facing.

The occasion demanded a fighting speech and the President delivered an address that was totally void of passion, that was cold in its appeal to reason, that was so scholarly as to almost give the impression that he thought he was talking to men who sat before him with open minds and unbiassed opinions.

The speech was pitched on too lofty a plane for the purpose in hand. The President spoke as though the United States Senate were a body of judicious lawmakers, of statesmen having the single purpose of best serving their country and embodying its ideals in our national policy. Had he been within earshot of the Senate for the past three months he could have made no such error.

As an effective stroke for the League and the treaty the speech is a disappointment. The President would do well to read the Congressional Record covering the months of his absence. After a perusal of the Senatorial speeches against the League therein he would see that no mere exposition of the situation will move the opposition.

Mr. Wilson says that at Paris he and the heads of the allied nations soon found that they must establish the principle of the League as a basis upon which all the rest of their labors would depend, that they could do nothing until such an ideal was incorporated into the treaty.

This is meaningless to the opposition Senators. First principles are nothing to them. Ideals have no place in their philosophy.

The President, in appealing to them to sustain America in the high place won for her by the soldiers in the field and to keep untarnished her bright record for international Christianity was on the wrong track. The Senate long ago rejected the appeal to reason so far as the League of Nations is concerned.

The legal battles over the right of saloons to sell 2.75 per cent. beer, which promised to be so hotly contested, are gradually abating. Saloon men are coming to the conclusion that the game isn't worth the candle. They have found that when they confine their sales to this light beer their business does not pay expenses. For that reason they are not very keen about spending money to establish their right to sell it.

An increasing number are going out of business permanently and are offering their places to rent. Some will hold on in the hope that the war time prohibition law will be lifted for a short period before the constitutional amendment takes effect in January and that they will thus have an opportunity to unload their stocks of wines and liquors before the country finally goes dry.

Why are the people of the United States called Americans, to the exclusion of others on this continent? The answer is easy. It is because our country is unfortunately named. There is no possible way to apply the name to the resident without cumbersome circumlocution. A resident of Canada is a Canadian; of Mexico a Mexican. Every country has a compact appellation for its citizens. But you could not call a resident of this country a "United Statesian," so perform he is incorrectly dubbed an American.

This ice question will be settled one of these days by artificial refrigeration. At present the process is too expensive for general adoption, but it is cheaper than it used to be and as further improvements are perfected it will become a practical substitute for natural ice.

The Hartford Courant's opposition to the League of Nations would carry more weight if it were not for the fact that the Courant opposes everything, regardless of its merits, which is advocated by President Wilson.

Is This Nation's Food Supply In Control of Five Packers?

Federal Trade Commission Report Warns Against Domination of Food Market by Big Five—Their Interests and Power Now World Wide—No Chance for Small Dealers.

Warning of an approaching domination of the nation's food supply by the Big Five Chicago meat packers, the Federal Trade Commission today made public Part I of its report to the President on its investigation of the meat industry, bearing on "Extent and Growth of Power of the Five Packers in Meat and Other Industries."

"An approaching packer domination of all important foods in this country and an international control of meat products with foreign companies seems a certainty unless fundamental action is taken to prevent it," the report says.

"A fair consideration of the course the five packers have followed and the position they have already reached must lead to the conclusion that they threaten the freedom of the market of the country's food industries and of the by-product industries linked with them.

"The meat packer control of other foods will not require long in developing."

Declaring "the history of the packers' growth is interwoven with illegal combinations, rebates and with undisclosed control of corporations," the report also urged the importance of full publicity of corporate ownership for all industries.

"As to devices for secret control, there does not exist adequate law. In its absence unfair competition may run its course to the goal of monopoly, accomplish the ruin of competitors without the secret ownership being suspected and consequently without complaint to the Commission or an investigation of the facts.

The competitor is in jeopardy so long as he has not the knowledge of true ownership and the public is entitled to such knowledge."

Extensiveness of Packer Activities. Pointing out that the Big Five packers jointly or separately wield controlling interest in 574 companies, minority interest in 95 others and undetermined interest in 93—a total of 762 companies—and that they produce or deal in some 775 commodities, largely food products, the report gives this picture of growing packer invasion into related and unrelated industries:

"In addition to meat foods, they produce or deal in such diverse commodities as fresh tomatoes and banana strings, leather and cotton-seed oil, breakfast foods, vin flz, curled hair, pepsin and washing powders. Their branch houses are not only stations for distribution of meat and poultry, but take on the character of wholesale grocery stores, dealers in various kinds of produce and jobbers to special lines of trade.

"They have interests large enough to be a dominating influence in most of the services connected with the production and distribution of animal foods and their by-products, and are reaching out for control, not only of substitutes of animal food, but of substitutes for other lines in which the integration of their business has led them. They are factors in cattle-loan companies, making the necessary loans to growers and feeders of livestock; are interested in railways and private car lines transporting livestock and manufactured animal products. In most of the important stock-yards companies—the public market for the bulk of food animals; and in live-stock trade papers on which growers and feeders rely for market news.

"They are interested in banks from which their competitor packing-houses borrow money; in companies supplying machinery, ice, salt, materials, boxes, etc., to themselves and their competitors; they are determined; they or their subsidiary exchanges where future prices are determined; they or their subsidiary companies deal in hides, oil, fertilizer material, and other products from other packers these crude by-products, and themselves carry the manufacture thereof to a further stage than most of their competitors.

"They are important factors in the leather industry, in oleomargarine and lard substitutes, in cotton-seed oil, in fertilizer, in soap, in glue, etc.

"Their vast distributing system, with the advantages arising from the control of private cars, cold storage, and a net-work of branch houses, has enabled them to extend their activities on a large scale into poultry, eggs, cheese, butter, rice, breakfast foods, canned vegetables, soda-fountain supplies, and other lines.

"From rendering edible fats from what would otherwise be wasted in their own factories; they have reached out to secure for rendering the waste fat and bones of local butchers in large sections of the country, and in some instances are interested in companies contracting for the disposal of garbage of large cities.

"Individuals of the Armour family are owners of grain and elevator companies and J. Ogden Armour and the president of one of the Armour subsidiaries are important stockholders in a company producing mineral deposits in Utah a substitute-for potash as an element of commercial fertilizers.

"J. Ogden Armour is also a prominent factor in the American International Corporation, with its shipping and ship-building interests, its import and export companies in various lines, its interest in a company organized to develop cattle raising, meat packing, quebracho extract and allied businesses in Paraguay, its control of a large tea-importing company and a sugar-machinery corporation, and its minority stock in the United Fruit Company. Some of Swift & Co.'s subsidiaries are growing tropical fruits in Hawaii; a subsidiary of Wilson & Co., Inc., has reached into the salmon fisheries of Alaska, and a Morris concern cans shrimp taken in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico. Cattle brought from Central America are slaughtered by or for some of the packers at Mobile and Jacksonville. In England, France, Italy, Holland and other European countries large meat-distributing companies have been organized by the packers to sell the meats from their plants in the United States, Argentina, Uruguay, Paraguay, Brazil, and Australia."

"The Big Five, the report shows, have control of or interest in public utility corporations in Sioux City, Kansas City, South St. Paul, Portland, Ore., South San Francisco, South St. Joseph, Mo., Hill City, Minn., Fort Worth, Tex., and Chicago.

As to financial power, the report in part says: "The packer has drawn to a marked degree upon the banks of the country for liquid funds... he could not operate on the scale he does without the very large loans furnished by the banks. To assure himself loans ample to his purpose, the big packer has secured affiliation through stock ownership, representation on directorates, and in other ways, with numerous banks and trust companies. Mr. Armour, Mr. Swift, Mr. Morris and Mr. Wilson are directors in banks affiliated closely with those who are strong at the sources of credit in the United States. Being thus allied with the powerful interests that are the sources of credit, the packers, powerfully not only for financing their own national and international operations, but for affecting, for good or for ill, the credit of cattle producers and of competitors or customers in any line."

The Big Five in the Leather Industry. The packer invasion of the leather industry is shown in the report to have reached the following point at the close of 1917: Armour, Swift, Morris and Wilson—Cudahy not being engaged in tanning until the close of 1917—produced 44 per cent of the country's total output of sheep and lamb shoe stock; 17 per cent of sheep and lamb glove and other stock; 11 per cent of shoe stock tanned from calf, kip and all skins other than sheep and lamb and goat and kid, and 23 per cent of skins (except glove stock); 12 1-2 per cent of shoe stock from cattle sides; 9 per cent of harness leather; 45 per cent of strap leather; 21 per cent of belting; 22 per cent of sole leather; and 13 per cent finished splits.

The proportion of stocks of hides held in the United States by the Big Five packers as against all other interstate slaughterers, the report shows, ranged from 90.7 per cent of a total of 96,989,826 pounds on January 31, 1916 to 83.6 per cent of 143,921,858 pounds on July 31, 1917, at no time dropping below 87.1 per cent.

Big Five in the Fertilizer Industry. Armour & Company, Swift & Company and Morris & Company, the report shows, produced in the fiscal year of 1917, approximately one fifth of the entire production in the United States of mixed fertilizers, and one tenth of acid phosphate. Armour & Co. had 30 fertilizer plants in various parts of the country; Swift & Co. slaughterers houses are equipped with fertilizer plants.

In the Cottonseed Oil Industry. The Big Five packers of the season of 1916-1917 produced nearly one third of the nation's entire refined cotton oil output of 201,389,000 gallons, or 81.8 per cent. Three other interests, the Proctor & Gamble Company and the American Cotton Oil Company, produced 42.6 per cent, and all other companies, 25.6 per cent. Of crude cottonseed oil, the three of the packers operating cotton oil mills, Swift, Armour and Morris, produced only some 8 per cent of the total production, using however, large quantities purchased from other concerns in their manufacture of oleomargarine, lard compound, cooking oils, soaps, fertilizers and other products.

Production of lard compound and lard substitutes by interstate slaughterers during the first half of 1917 was 87 per cent in the hands of the Big Five packers, the report shows. Including all cottonseed oil manufacturers as well as interstate slaughterers, the Big Five produced during this period was 49.4 per cent of the total production of lard compound and lard substitute by these groups. The average monthly holdings of lard compound and lard substitutes by the Big Five during 1918 was 91.0 per cent of holdings of all interstate slaughterers. Of cottonseed oil soap stock for the season 1916-1917, the Big Five produced 30.2 per cent of the total for the country.

Oleomargarine Production. Oleomargarine production for the entire United States from July 1915 to June 1916 was 41.7 per cent controlled by Armour, Swift, Morris and Wilson interests; and 74.1 per cent by the "Ole Legislative Pool," embracing beside these packers, John F. Jelke Co., and W. J. Moxley, Inc., says the report.

Own Grain Elevators. In grains, the Armour Grain Company, Chicago, of which J. Ogden Armour owns 64 per cent of the stock and other members of the Armour family 22.9 per cent, directly or through its subsidiaries operates over 90 country grain elevators. Its eight terminal elevators at Chicago and its two at Kansas City constitute 25 per cent of the total elevator capacity of those cities. In 1917, its sales were 74,847,000 bushels or 22.6 per cent of all grain receipts at Chicago, the world's greatest market; and its business is growing rapidly. In connection with its chain of country elevators, the Armour Grain Company merchandise, fertilizer, feed, coal, fence posts, wire fencing, builders' hardware, binding twine, lumber, mill work, cement, lime, plaster, brick, sand and gravel and roofing.

In the manufacture of breakfast foods, and stock and chicken feeds, the Armour Grain Company, says in the report, "is expanding especially in the producing retail brands. Within four years, it has undertaken the manufacture of Armour's Oats, has taken over the Buffalo Cereal Co. with its many brands of cereal foods and animal feeds, and in 1917 took over the Maple-Flake Mills, of Battle Creek, Mich."

Packer Control of Other Foods. "The reason why the packers are seeking control of the substitutes for meat—the foods that compete with meats—are obvious," says the report. "If the prices of substitutes for meats are once brought under packer control, the consumer will have little to gain in turning to them for relief from excessive meat prices." An Armour advertisement in the New York Daily Mail, December 31, 1917 said in part:

"The intelligent housewife has come to realize that the Armour name is synonymous with virtually every food she needs for her table—practically everything for every meal in the week, including the 'Meatless Day'! Soups, fish, vegetables, fruits, condiments, beverages—she can obtain them all under the guarantee of the Armour name."

Packers in Poultry and Dairy Products. "Judged conservatively by trade estimates, the Big Five handles at least half of the poultry, eggs and cheese and all except Wilson & Co. state commerce," the report states. "Most estimates place the total production in dressed poultry and eggs controlled by the packers at a higher percentage.

"Practically all estimates received stated the packers handle 75 to 80 per cent of all cheese produced in Wisconsin alone where 55 per cent of the entire country's cheese was made at the time of the last manufacturing census in 1914. All of the Big Five are distributors of cheese and all except Wilson & Co. own and control large cheese companies.

"The packers are also important factors in condensed milk, and are rapidly increasing their proportion of Wisconsin's covered by their creameries, condenseries and buying stations, and a similar process of concentration and control is already evident in the other principal dairy states.

The Butter Market. "Swift & Co. is the largest single butter distributor in the United States, handling in 1915 approximately 50,000,000 pounds or nearly as much as the combined sales of the two largest non-packer organizations; and the butter department was pushing for a 25 per cent increase in 1918 over 1917. Swift & Co. alone for its own creameries, collects cream in Arkansas, California, Colorado, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, Texas, Wisconsin, and Wyoming. Companies owned or controlled by it, such as W. F. Priebe & Co. Western Meat Company, Union Meat Co., and Libby, McNeill & Libby, obtain milk and cream in still other states.

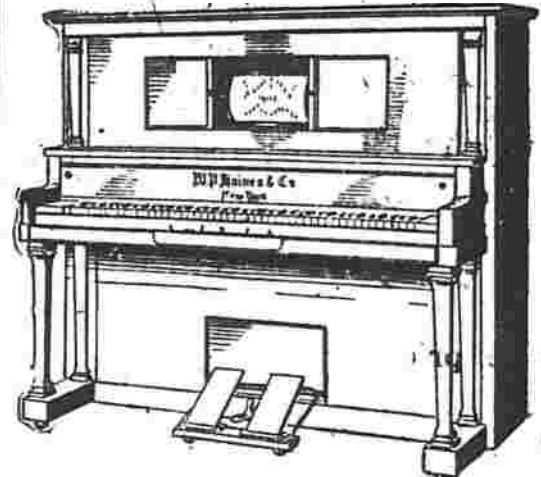

"Armour & Co. in 1916 handled in its branch houses alone over 28,000,000 pounds of butter. Most of its creamery butter was manufactured by the Eau Claire Creamery Co., Eau Claire, Wis., which is controlled by Armour; the Kentucky Creameries, Louisville, owned entirely by Armour; Oakdale Creamery, Oakdale, Cal., A. S. Kinnimonth Produce Co., Winfield, Kan., and the Michigan Ice & Cold Storage Co., operated by Armour; and the Armour plant in Rochester, Ind.

"Morris & Co. operates no creamery but controls Sherman White & Co., Fort Wayne, Ind., and buys large quantities of butter manufactured by other concerns; Cudahy owns the D. E. Wood Butter Co., Evansville, Wis., and the Sunlight Produce Co., Sioux City. Wilson & Co. owns no creameries but purchases outside.

The Big Five, the report shows, sold in 1916 through their branch houses alone, nearly 100,000,000 pounds of poultry, 90,000,000 pounds of butter, 75,000,000 pounds of cheese and over 135,000,000 dozen eggs.

Packers in Canned Fruits. "Fruit and vegetable canning, are remote from slaughtering and meat packing, but the big packers, through their branch house system of distribution possess special advantages in this field of industry," the report says. "The Big Five's advantage rests not so much on their ownership of canning factories, although in some branches their output amounts to more than a quarter of the total for the United States, as upon their rapidly growing control of the wholesale distribution of canned goods. Armour & Co. increased its canned goods' sales from about $6,500,000 in 1916 to $16,000,000 in 1917, whereas the combined sales of these products of Austin Nichols & Co. and Sprague, Warner & Co., two of the largest independent wholesalers amounted to only some $6,000,000 in 1917. Although distribution is the point at which the packers have acquired the largest control, they are nevertheless entering the field of manufacture."

"In 1917, the Big Five's combined sales of meats and all other commodities totaled $2,127,245,000; in 1918 they were over $3,000,000,000.

single move, on the statement of the vice-president of the company, 'the greatest rice merchant in the world.' During this period the wholesale price of rice increased 65 per cent. "Even the oldest and most strongly established wholesaling houses find that line after line of their merchandise is being absorbed by the packers' branch house system. First the packers encroached on the handling of butter, eggs and cheese, then on canned goods, and on various kinds of 'package goods'; and now are handling increasing quantities of rice, coffee and other staples.

"As to both cattle and sheep," the report states, "The percentage of substitutes a monopolistic position, considering the harmony with which the five work together in their purchase of animals and the extensiveness of their distributing systems. These combined percentages of control indicate a potential degree of influence over the price paid to the Big Five Dominate Meat Industry. The Big Five in 1916 according to commission figures, slaughtered $2.2 per cent of all cattle slaughtered by interstate slaughterers; 86.4 per cent of all sheep; 76.6 per cent of all calves; and 61.2 per cent of hogs.

"In 1917, the Big Five's combined sales of meats and all other commodities totaled $2,127,245,000; in 1918 they were over $3,000,000,000.

GOODWIN'S NEW SODA FOUNTAIN.

Built From Designs of Manager Mack—Finest in the Country.

The Goodwin Drug Company of Hartford take pardonable pride in the new soda fountain recently installed in their main store on Exchange Corner. The fountain, which occupies nearly the entire north side of the store, is a marvel of completeness, embracing every up-to-date sanitary convenience for dispensing soda and ice cream. It was built by the American Soda Fountain Co., from plans drawn by Manager John F. Mack and is the finest fountain they ever turned out.

In connection with the new fountain, a complete refrigerating plant has been installed in the basement of the store, as well as an equipment for making the ice cream served at the fountain, a cooling room and a sanitary kitchen for washing and drying the glasses and dishes. Only skilled male soda clerks are employed at the fountain, which will continue to maintain its well established reputation as the leading soda dispensary in Hartford.

Manager John F. Mack of the Goodwin Drug Company is a former Manchester boy. He has been with the company for 27 years, for the past 14 years as manager. He has seen the business grow from one store with seven employees to three of the best equipped drug stores in Hartford with 87 employees, of whom 14 are registered pharmacists.

BOLTON

Miss Esther Harowitz with several friends is taking a trip by automobile through the Catskill Mountains. They will return by the Mohawk trail.

Miss Minnie O. Engle of Hartford is the guest of Miss Annabel Post, Miss Katherine K. Lee has returned home to Rhode Island with her aunt, Mrs. Jennie Lee Ross, for a visit.

William R. Grant has received word of the death of his brother, Albert Grant, of Little Falls, New York.

Miss Florence Loomis of New York is expected the first of the week to visit at her cousins, Charles N. Loomis.

Misses Elizabeth Daly and Margaret Daly are in Storrs attending the summer school for teachers, their sister, Miss Mary Daly, is planning to attend soon.

Recent guests at Mrs. Francis E. Ruggles were her son, Carlos Ruggles, and Mrs. Ruggles, Mrs. Mary Anthony, Miss Marjorie Brown and Calvin Ruggles, all of Springfield, Mass.

Miss Winifred G. Carpenter of New Rochelle, N. Y., is in Rockville as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Adeline M. Sperry.

TAGGING THE BASES

Miller Huggins believes that the only good Indian is a dead one.

Cleveland's tribe of Aborigines yanked the Yanks out of first place by winning an even break in a double header.

Jawn Quin goose-egged the Fohlmen in the first game, allowing but six hits. In the second game four Yank pitchers—Thormahlen, Russell, Smallwood and McGraw—took their bumps in order.

Leibold, Jackson and Gandil led the White Sox attack against Philadelphia which resulted in Chicago bouncing into the lead over the heads of the Yanks. Williams pitched air tight ball.

Carl Wellman, gave a pitching exhibition for the entertainment, but not for the benefit of the Red Sox. Emulating Wellman, the Brownies got busy in the second half of a double header and mopped up.

The National League had a damp day. Every game in the senior circuit was postponed because of rain.

KEEPING OUT FLIES.

Warm weather forces the housewife to open up all doors and windows. The fly is prone to take this open window as a friendly sign of welcome and flies in to make himself at home.

Many people have come to realize that the housefly is not a "poor little fly" but a very filthy fly and is probably the cause of much sickness and many deaths. For the fly is not at all particular as to his food; he likes milk and cakes and almost all the kinds of food which people eat, but he can be often seen enjoying a meal of the contents of the garbage can, the manure heap and refuse of all kinds, says Miss Helen Bolan, in charge of Girls' Clubs for the Extension Service of Connecticut Agricultural College at Storrs.

The fly's liking for these repulsive things makes him a positive source of danger. By the use of the microscope it has been shown that on a single fly there may be as many as 6,600,000 bacteria or germs. These are not all likely to be disease germs, but a few are enough to cause fatal illness. Some of the filth and germs on the legs of the fly are going to be deposited on the very next thing he settles on. It may be the milk picher or the lips of the sleeping child. The fact that some life insurance companies distribute free fly swatters is significant.

To protect your home from flies, have doors and windows of your house screened, especially those of the kitchen and dining room. Care should be taken to see that the screens fit accurately, that they are always in place, and that the screen doors are not left open or held ajar. Wire screens are most satisfactory and last for several seasons. When the netting becomes rusted or worn out, new netting may be attached to the old frames. Brushing over the screens with a thin coat of paint or shellac each season prevents rust and consequent wear. If the rather high cost of wire screening seems prohibitive, flies can be kept out by cotton mosquito netting. This, while not so durable will ordinarily last for one season. The netting may be tacked onto old frames of window and door screens or if frames are lacking the netting can be tacked over the windows.

As flies occasionally do get into the house, the housewife should keep all foods covered. People who find they cannot keep ice in their refrigerators this season because of the high cost, should provide themselves with some other device, such as the iceless chest for keeping the foods cool and covered. Flies that do get into the house should be chased and killed, or should be caught by sticky fly papers, or fly poison preparations. Sticky fly papers should be placed where there is no danger of its blowing onto things. The spiral type is usually most satisfactory. Where there are children or house-pets fly poisons are not recommended.

The only good fly is the dead one. SOCIALISM AS IT WORKS. (From The National Republican.) Government ownership of railways in the United Kingdom has resulted in increased rates, poorer service and an annual deficit of a half billion dollars. Socialism works the same way in all languages.

STILL BUZZIN' 'ROUND. (From The Detroit Free Press.) The more this country does for Carranza the nastier he acts. A good swat in the solar plexus might teach him manners.

King of Serbia, Now a Paralytic And Almost Forgotten, Voices His Thanks for Yankee Philanthropy

Athens, July 11.—Alone, almost forgotten by the world, King Peter of Serbia lives surrounded by a few faithful officers, at Phaleron, a few minutes' ride from Athens. The King is suffering from paralysis and passes most of his time in one room of a small house overlooking a sea dotted with the lateen sails of Greek fishermen. Occasionally a courier arrives from Belgrade bringing word to the old man from his son, Prince Regent Alexander. King Peter still takes an active interest in world events despite his physical condition. Occasionally he rides down to Athens when he learns that a fresh batch of mail and despatches for him has arrived. On these trips he is assisted into a side car attached to a motorcycle, as he prefers this simple conveyance to the automobile. King Peter lives the simple life at Phaleron. He rises early and retires at sunset. His food is the simplest possible. His home is very modest in all its appointments. Despite his condition King Peter recently received a newspaperman and expressed his thanks for what America had done for his country. "Serbia will never forget what America has done for her in her need," said the old King. "No nobler sentiment than that of charity can touch the heart and never has a people obeyed in fullest measure the promptings of that sentiment as has the American people. Noble sentiments call forth noble sentiments and the Christian charity of the American people, so marvelously organized by the Red Cross has made my own and the heart of our people beat with a feeling of profound gratitude. "And this sentiment is the deeper because our misery was great and America's help came promptly. The war has ceased, but our misery continues. Responding to that need, America has worked miracles. Many tears have been dried and much suffering alleviated. "The deep sadness so painfully depicted on the faces of our mothers, our sisters and our children left at home awaiting the day of liberation, barefooted, hollow-cheeked and broken-hearted—all have given way to the smiles which now brighten these same faces everywhere the Red Cross has passed. "And this smile of the people is engraved on their faces by the feeling of gratitude reflected from the bottom of their hearts and souls touched by the kindness and the charity of the American people. "I am personally grateful for this Christian charity, marvelous in its way, for it has changed, as if by enchantment, tears and suffering into smiles and joy. "Sprung from the Serbian people as I am, indeed, a part of them, I do as they do, and say simply to the American people, to all the generous givers in America who have made and are making this wonderwork of the Red Cross possible: "Thank you, thank you, with all my heart."

IS U. S. FOOD SUPPLY IN PACKERS' CONTROL?

producer and over the price paid by the consumer, sufficient, if exercised, to account for a large share of the suspicions and complaints that have arisen over the meat industry."

The explanation of the 81.2 per cent slaughter of hogs lies, the report points out, in the nature of the products. The advantage of the big packer to utilize by-products most efficiently has less scope in hog slaughter because only some 10 per cent of the live hog goes to by-products as against 20 per cent of cattle. Also, the big packers lose the special advantage of their highly developed refrigeration and private car-line systems, since cured hog products do not require refrigeration in shipping. For these reasons, the report stated nearly all the independent interstate slaughterers confine their interstate trade to cured hog products; and in fresh meats do principally a local business.

Can Keep Down Small Dealer.
"The ability of the large packers to undersell the small slaughterer locally," says the report "is a potent weapon, even if unused, to keep him from undertaking any aggressive campaign to increase his business. The branch houses and peddler car routes of the Chicago packers cover the country with such a network that the local slaughterer realizes that he cannot maintain himself against their distributing system if he should attract their unfavorable attention by aggressively trying to increase his volume of business. The local packer, though able to compete in the local market fears to exert his full powers. His strong tendency is to come in 'under the umbrella' of big packer prices and to content himself with a modest share of the near-by business. Evidence on this point and on competitive conditions generally is given in other parts of the report."

Growth of the Big Five.
Commenting on an elaborate table of "The Packers' Progress 1857-1917," the report says:

"To reconstruct the economic and financial history that lies behind this bare record of outward change would be an undertaking replete with human interest. There can be little doubt, that such a history, if it could be written, would reveal imagination, energy, shrewdness, and indomitable determination on the part of the founders of these great slaughtering companies, but would also reveal, even if obscurely, a background of wreckage brought about by unfair and oppressive methods followed by these packers in their progress toward their goals."

From four slaughtering plants in the decade, 1858-1867, the Big Five had built or acquired by 1917, 91 slaughter plants—22 3-4 times the number in 1867. In the ten years from 1908 to 1917, their number of slaughtering plants increased 60 per cent.

Starting with two branch houses in 1884, the Big Five had 211 by 1894; 743 by 1904; and operated 1,120 in 1917.

"Getting Ourselves Talked About"

Largest and Most Up-to-Date Soda Fountain in America

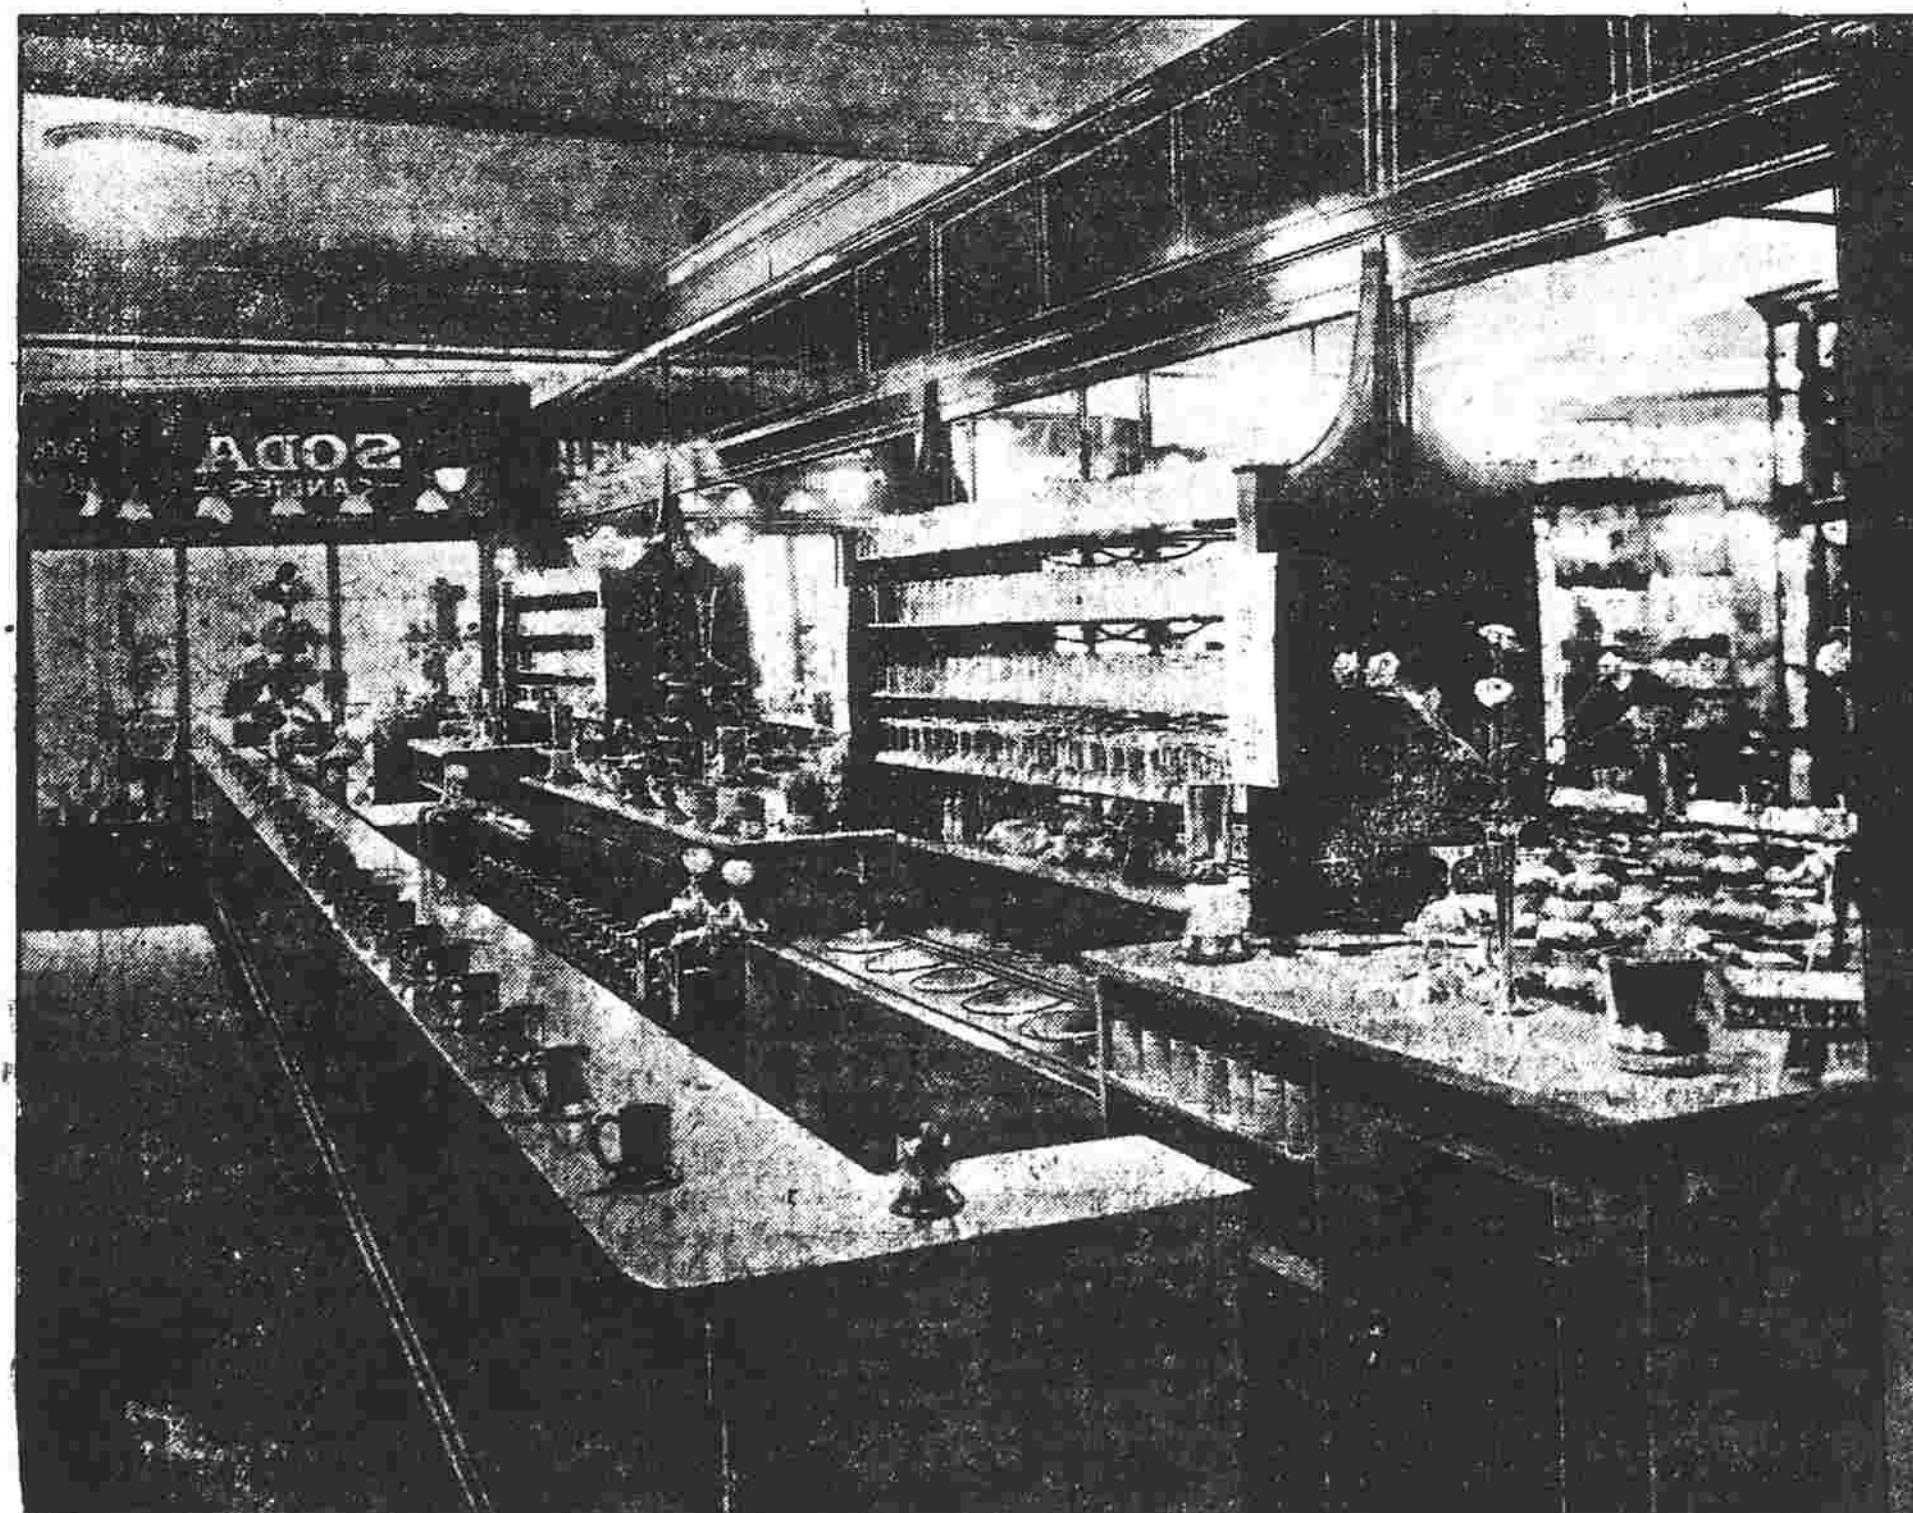

Our New Sanitary Soda Fountain at our Main and State street store is constructed of Knoxville Marble, Slate and Silver, and not one bit of wood has been used in its construction. It is operated by automatic refrigeration; not a bit of ice is used and we have not had occasion to use ice since May 4. However to protect ourselves in an emergency, we manufacture 300 pounds of ice daily in our brine tanks. Our new Fountain has been in operation just six weeks and during that time, even in the hot spell of last week, we have been able at all times to serve Ice Cream and Ices absolutely hard and to draw Cold Soda. The Fountain is 35 feet in length and has two sections, each holding 1,200 clean glasses, ice cream and sundae cups and parfait glasses. The back compartment has three large refrigeration closets with pipes continually covered with ice, which enables our fruit syrups, ice creams and, in fact, everything at our Fountain to be continually on ice. The Fountain is supplied from a sanitary kitchen by a large plunger elevator. We employ only expert men soda dispensers, who are skillfully trained, and from whom we exact absolute cleanliness, politeness and A No. 1 service.

Ice Cream-making Machine

This machine is constructed of victory silver and silver plated copper and enamel. It has a capacity of 40 gallons per hour. The results of this machine mean still further improved Goodwin's Perfection Ice Cream and a trial of this delicious Cream at any of our stores will convince you. It is made of sweet cream and fresh eggs; no Chinese egg powder used. A state law requires 8 per cent butter fat in ice cream. You get 18 per cent butter fat in Goodwin's Perfection Ice Cream. It is served only at our fountains.

Our Automatic Refrigerating Plant

This place is located in our basement in a room with a concrete floor and white enamel walls. In the rear of the picture is shown a steel brine tank which contains 200 cubic feet of zero brine. At the left side of engine is shown ammonia circulating pipes which insures absolute refrigeration in entire soda fountain, hardening room and refrigerating rooms in basement. This brine is also used for freezing ice cream. There is no ice or salt used and the result is absolutely pure, clean cream. This is a made-in-Hartford product.

Sanitary Kitchen

All our cooking is done in our sanitary kitchen by steam, 40-gallon steam jacket aluminum kettles being used, which insures an even cooking. All hot water service to kitchen and fountain is obtained in most modern gas fired way. All our syrups, fruits and supplies are prepared in our sanitary kitchen daily and then distributed to our branch stores, thus enabling our patrons to secure the same quality in all stores.

Fancy Luncheonette

In a short time we will serve at our Sanitary Fountain a fancy luncheonette—hot coffee, dainty wholesome sandwiches and French pastry. All are to be served in the most appetizing manner.

Heat vs. Cold

When it's 100 in the shade on Exchange Corner it is below zero where our ice cream is stored.

ABOUT TOWN

Dr. George W. May returned yesterday from a three weeks' fishing trip in Newfoundland.

Washington Lodge, L. O. L., No. 117, will hold its annual outing on Saturday, July 12th, at Riverside Park, Springfield.

The Y. P. S. C. of the North Congregational church will hold a paper sale tomorrow afternoon. Any one wishing to contribute please leave papers on veranda and they will be called for.

Word has been received that Wallace M. Hutchinson of 24 Bigelow street has arrived in New York after twelve months' service overseas and it is expected he will receive his honorable discharge within a few days.

Pinafore, the most popular light opera that Gilbert and Sullivan ever wrote, will be presented at the Chautauqua tent tonight. The cast, chorus and orchestra will include 35 people. With good weather the canvas is sure to be crowded. The performance will begin at eight o'clock.

Manager "Jim" Sullivan of the Palace theater, Broadbrook, is spending a few days with his brothers, John F. and Doctor P. L. Sullivan, of the Park and Circle theaters. Manager Jim states that a few days ago he broke all attendance records ever held by the Broadbrook house.

Local business men who are subject to special internal revenue or current taxes should pay no attention to the announcement that a deputy would be located at the post office for the purpose of receiving tax moneys or returns. Returns for special or current taxes must be made out and sent into the district office at Hartford before August first.

NORTH END PLAYGROUND NOW OPEN FOR SUMMER

Marion Taylor in Charge Every Day—Dr. F. A. Sweet Supervisor for Season.

The north end playground is now open to the public. Miss Marion Taylor, who has had experience in such work, is in charge of the grounds and will be there every day in the week. The grounds will be open for the present from 10 to 12 in the morning and from 1 to 5 in the afternoon. The authorities are getting the equipment ready just as soon as possible and it will be placed in position at an early date. Dr. F. A. Sweet will have the supervision of the grounds for the summer.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC.

St. Mary's Young Folks Going to Riverside Park for Outing.

The annual picnic of St. Mary's Episcopal Sunday school will be held at Riverside park, near Springfield, Thursday, July 17. Special cars will leave the south trolley terminus at 7.45 o'clock in the morning and will also stop at the foot of Locust street to pick up any who wish to start from there. On the return trip, the cars will leave Riverside park at 4.30 in the afternoon, arriving home about 6.30. If stormy, the picnic will be held the following Thursday.

Tickets for the picnic must be procured in advance, as no tickets will be sold on the morning of the picnic. The committee on transportation will be at the parish house Monday and Tuesday nights to sell the tickets.

WHO'D A THINK IT?

If the statement made by an out-of-town chauffeur to Walter Luetgens, has any truth, Manchester was honored yesterday afternoon by the appearance in town of two internationally famous stage celebrities and an equally famous woman aviator. These persons were no less than Harry Lauder the Scotch comedian, Eva Tanguay of "I don't care fame," and Ruth Law the aviator who recently established a world record for a cross-country flight.

The chauffeur, an ex-service man, drove up in front of Mr. Luetgens' store in a touring car bearing a New York marker. While Luetgens was filling the gasoline tank of the car, the chauffeur said that he was waiting for a number of New York "big bugs" who were in town on a short visit. "Who are they?" inquired Mr. Luetgens. The chauffeur answered, "Oh I've got three of them; Harry Lauder, Eva Tanguay and Ruth Law, the aviatrix."

ORANGEMEN CELEBRATE BOYNE BATTLE SATURDAY

Washington Lodge Will Go to Riverside Park—To Meet Other Orangemen There.

Local Orangemen are planning on a big time tomorrow in observance of the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne. Washington lodge has made all necessary arrangements for a day's outing at Riverside Park, near Springfield, and all the Orangemen in Manchester and their families are invited to join in the celebration. Tickets for the outing have been on sale for some time and it is expected that upwards of 300 will go. Special cars will leave the south trolley terminus at 7.15. The Orangemen will assemble at Orange hall at seven o'clock and march to the terminus in a body. They will be led by the Center Flute band, which will furnish music throughout the day.

It is expected that members of the Orange lodges of Hartford, Gilbertville, Three Rivers, Chicopee and Springfield will unite with the local Orangemen in the festivities at Riverside Park.

The monthly meeting of Washington lodge will be held in Orange Hall this evening, at which time the outing committee will make its final report. Tickets for the trip to Riverside tomorrow may be procured up to tonight.

OUTING AT MARLBOROUGH FOR FIREMEN TOMORROW

Hose and Ladder Co. No. 1 Plans Many Stunts at Sheep Barbecue—Held Drill Last Night.

Hose and Ladder Company No. 1 of the South Manchester fire department held a drill at its hose house on Pine street last evening, when all the members were instructed in the use of the apparatus. The company has a hydrant installed in the hose house to use for such drills. It is not connected with the water supply, but the firemen can go through all the stunts of connecting up the hose, the two-way and three-way nozzles and get practice in handling all the different parts of the apparatus, the same as if at a fire. One of the men said this morning that he thought he knew quite a lot about the company's apparatus, but that he learned a good many new things at the drill last night.

At last night's meeting the outing committee made its final report. The outing will be held tomorrow at Marlborough, where the company has had so many good times in past years. The trip will be made in automobiles, leaving the hose house at 6.30 in the morning. Those who cannot get the whole day off will leave at 12 o'clock. A sheep barbecue will be served about one o'clock. This will be the feature of the day's outing, although the baseball game between the married men and single men is already being discussed, pro and con. Besides the ball game, there will be other sports, such as a tug of war, volley ball, quoits, shot put and fat men's race.

Returning, the firemen will leave Marlborough about six o'clock in the evening.

WILL BURN MORTGAGE AT PENTECOSTAL CHURCH

Special Services to Mark Rededication—Rev. A. K. Bryant to Be Speaker.

Beginning tonight, a series of special meetings will be held in the Pentecostal church in celebration of the rededication of the church and the burning of the mortgage on the church property. Meetings will be held at 7.30 tonight and tomorrow night and three services will be held Sunday. The burning of the mortgage will take place at the Sunday afternoon meeting. Rev. A. K. Bryant of Everett, Mass., will be the special preacher at the services.

POST OFFICE VACATIONS.

The vacation period is on at the South Manchester post office and will last for several weeks as each employee is entitled to a vacation of 15 working days. Letter Carriers A. H. Simonson and Charles Rogers are now on their vacations and their routes are being covered by Substitutes Gordon Thornton and Ralph Lamenza. When they return two more carriers will go. This system will be carried out until all have had their vacations.

CHAUTAUQUA SPEAKER SAW WAR IN HUNLAND

Tells Large Audience How Hatred for America Developed.

MUSICIANS PLEASE ALL

Quartet of Young Women is Popular With Crowd—Pinafore to Be Given Tonight.

Another large audience attended the session of the Chautauqua last night when an excellent program was provided. The first part of the evening was devoted to a concert by the Eekhoff-Jordan company which is composed of four young ladies, each one of whom is a musician of ability. The audience was well pleased with the work of the young ladies as every number was encored and in fact Miss Louise Bekhoff was called back for the third time. She has a wonderfully good soprano voice and her selections were exceptionally pleasing. The quartet of artists made up a program that has seldom been equaled in this town.

Germany From Within.

D. Thomas Curtin, who is a newspaper correspondent of ability, gave his lecture on "Behind the Scenes in Germany." His talk was the result of his own experiences in Germany and in Austria since August of 1914. He was a representative of the London Times or the Northcliffe Press, which includes some of the famous English journals, and appeared on the platform in the uniform of a British newspaper correspondent. Mr. Curtin is a native of Boston and is a magazine writer of some note. When the war broke out he was in Hungary. His lecture dealt largely with the great amount of propaganda the German government distributed to the world in the effort to cover up the real facts relating to the cause of the war. Being a representative of one of the great British papers he was in touch with some of the great men and he saw things from the inside. He told his audience of the effort made to keep the United States out of the war and when that seemed impossible he said that the German officials, as well as the people at large, developed a hatred for everything American that was amazing.

The lecture was very interesting from start to finish and although the people of Manchester have listened to many other lectures of a similar nature the one last night was a little different in that it was given by an American who really was behind the scenes and saw the treacherous work of the Germans.

The ever pleasing opera Pinafore, by Gilbert and Sullivan, will be the feature of tonight's program.

WHITE SOX VS. HUDSONS.

Arrangements are being made for a series of games between the White Sox and Hudsons. It is thought that the first game will be staged the latter part of the month. Both teams are fast and pretty evenly matched. It is very probable that the winner of the series will play the Athletics.

QUALITY AND PRICES ARE WHAT COUNTS

We believe in giving a square deal to all, which means perfect vision, highest quality goods and low prices.

As we sell six times as many glasses as anyone else in Manchester we can afford to sell them cheaper. If you want good, yes extra good glasses and don't feel that you can pay the high prices charged by some, then you should call at our South Manchester office and receive a square deal and get your glasses at the right price. Office Open Every Night Except Saturday from 6.30 to 8.30 p. m. At Optical Dept. G. Fox & Co. during the day.
