CIVIL SERVICE KILLED IN NINE DEPARTMENTS SINCE FIRST OF YEAR

All But One Have Been Ex- empted by Act of Gov. Holcomb.

DISREGARD OFTEN SHOWN TO STATE COMMISSION

Departments Did Not Accept Wait- ing Lists of Civil Service Com- mission—Made Own Selections.

Hartford, July 18.—Information given out by the State Civil Service Commission today shows that nine state departments were exempted from the rules and regulations of the commission this year. The exempted departments constitute more than a third of the departments which were originally under the commission.

Of the nine departments which were exempted, all but one were exempted by Governor Marcus H. Holcomb. In most cases direct application was made by the heads of the departments to the Governor without any hint of their action being given to the commission.

No Need to Commission.
There now remain only 18 state departments which are under order of the Civil Service Commission but it was announced today that the withdrawal of the nine departments since January 1, 1919 did not materially weaken the organization as these departments as a whole did not heed the rulings of the Commission but employed their office forces without selecting any of those whose names were recorded on the waiting lists of the Commission.

Tax Commissioner's Dept.
Of the departments which were exempted only one, the State Tax Commissioner's Department, had tried to comply with the rules of the commissioner or had been under the rules of the commission for a number of years. The Governor exempted this department upon request of the tax commissioner when the Civil Service Commission requested a report from him covering his appointment of employees in his department.

UTILITIES COMMISSION TO DISCUSS SERVICE

To Meet in Waterbury On Next Thursday to Hear All Com- plaints.

Hartford, July 18.—The Public Utilities Commission will hold the third of its series of "round table" discussions in the Common Council Chamber in Waterbury next Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, to receive complaints about the service rendered by public service corporations.

At a conference held in New Haven yesterday morning the commissioners received requests for additional stops on the lines of the Connecticut Company in that city and were asked to make a ruling compelling conductors of the company's cars to call the names of the streets.

Secretary Henry F. Billings of the commission announced today that the commissioners were conducting an investigation as to the necessity for making rulings on either requests and that the result of the investigation would be made known within a few days.

CROSSED BORDER 12 TIMES.

Washington, July 18.—American troops have crossed the Mexican border 12 times in the last six months, Senator Fall, of New Mexico declared in the Senate today.

"They have gone into Mexico to repel raiders and when they have examined the bodies of their victims they have found at least some of them soldiers in the uniform of the Carranza army," Senator Fall said.

"The people of the United States are not informed, but American troops have gone into Mexico 12 times in the last six months."

GEN. PERSHING THANKS BRITAIN FOR HONORS

"This Seals Our Friendship" He Says When Presented With Sword of Honor.

London, July 18.—"The honor you have bestowed upon me, similar to that which you once conferred upon former President Roosevelt, is of special significance for that great American was ever the friend of Great Britain, her people," declared General John J. Pershing today when the freedom of the city was presented to him at Guild Hall.

"This occasion," he added, "is significant testimony of the sincerity of the sentiment you bear us."

Referring to the sword of honor which was presented to him General Pershing said:

"Among those present were Colonel Winston S. Churchill, Secretary of State of War; Field Marshal Haig, the Archbishop of Canterbury, Major Scott, commander of the R-34 and General Maitland.

BOTTLING WORKS SEES BIG DRY TIME AHEAD

Hartford Concern Incorporates to Deal in Intoxicants "If Allowed by Law."

Hartford, July 18.—The filing of papers of incorporation in the office of the secretary of the state today by The Hartford Bottling Works, incorporated, marked the first big step to be taken here to combat the nationwide drought.

The concern is incorporated "to carry on the manufacture of carbonated beverages, seltzer, vichy and every non-intoxicating liquor, and to bottle said beverages and spring-water and to sell and deal in same at wholesale and retail, also "to deal in intoxicating beverages if allowed by law."

The company will begin business at once with an authorized capital stock of $25,000.

FIFTY-SIX TAKE EXAM FOR STATE INSPECTORS

Many Wish to Get Job in State Dairy and Food Commission's Department.

Hartford, July 18.—Fifty-six applicants for positions as inspectors of the State Dairy and Food Commission took the civil service examination given by the State Civil Service Commission and an eligible list of twenty-five names was obtained it was announced by the commission this morning.

The examination was given in the capitol several weeks ago by Charles G. Morris, president of the New Haven Dairy Company who acted as special examiner, Civil Service Commissioners John Brinmade and Thomas Hewes, Dairy and Food Commissioner Thomas Holt and Deputy Dairy and Food Commissioner Herbert O. Daniels.

Those who received the highest number of credits are: Ruell C. Stratton, Hartford, 96; Rudolph A. Spletstoeser, 93, New Britain; Gaylard T. Cannon, 92, Wallingford; and Frederick S. Chapman, 92, Saybrook.

FRED WALL RETURNED.

Washington, July 18.—The following nominations of Postmasters were sent to the Senate today by President Wilson:

Connecticut: Hartford, David A. Wilson; Manchester, Frederick H. Wall; Meriden, John F. Penders; North Haven, Walter H. Bishop; Norwalk, Michael J. Howard; Winsted, Edward L. Reidy.

FLYING TO DINNER.

Wichita, Kan., July 18.—C. F. Kettering, president of the Dayton Engineering Laboratory Company, of Dayton, Ohio, left here this morning at 7:45 piloting his own airplane in an attempt to reach New York City in time for dinner this evening.

Kettering flew from Dayton to Wichita yesterday, landing here late yesterday afternoon. The distance from Wichita to New York as the crow flies is 1,350 miles.

TO THE VANQUISHED GO THE SPOILS, SAY BULGARIAN ENVOYS

Amazing Proposal to be Brought to the Peace Conference.

WANTS TO DEPRIVE ALL HER NEIGHBORS OF LAND

Not Content With Demanding Terri- tory of Enemies, Bulgaria Wants Land Also From Her Allies.

Paris, July 18.—The Bulgarian peace delegation, headed by Premier Theodorof, which is now enroute to Paris, is bringing the most amazing proposals for territorial aggrandizement yet submitted to the peace conference.

On the principle that the spoils go to the vanquished, Premier Theodorof proposes that Bulgaria deprive her neighbors of territory as follows:

From Roumania, part of Dohrudja, ceded by Bulgaria under the treaty of 1913 after the second Balkan war.

From Jugo Slavia, part of Servian Macedonia.

From Greece, part of Greek Macedonia.

Wants Piece of Turkey.

Not content with trying to grab the land of her late enemies, Bulgaria also has designs on her former ally, Turkey, and Premier Theodorof proposes that parts of Turkish Thrace be annexed.

"If this is the price of Bulgaria's defeat what would Bulgaria have claimed if the German allies had been victorious?" exclaimed one amazed diplomat, when he heard of the claims the Bulgars were to make.

Watching Bulgaria.

For several months the allied chancelleries have been keeping a watchful eye upon Bulgaria. The Bulgars have been following their traditional policy for, waiting for trouble in Southeastern Europe in order to attempt to gain some of her neighbors' territory. Following the signing of the armistice in the Balkans last Autumn, Bulgaria kept ten infantry divisions and eight cavalry divisions on a war footing and also failed to turn over war materials.

Large bandits of Bulgarian out- laws have been ravaging property along the frontiers.

Been Encouraging War.

At the same time the Bulgarian government is reported to have been encouraging war between Italy and Jugo-Slavia to enable her to strike another treacherous blow at Servia. Bulgaria has fermented trouble between Italy and the Greeks in Asia Minor so as to keep the Greeks engaged out of the Balkans.

In consequence of the facts and bad faith, the peace delegates are reserving a chilly reception for Prince Theodorof.

FAVOR A COURT MARTIAL TO TRY WAR CRIMINALS

War Responsibility Commission Dis- cussing Turkish, Bulgarian and Austrian Cases Today.

Paris, July 18.—The war responsibility commission met today to discuss the character of the tribunal that will try Bulgarian, Turkish and Austrian offenders. It is understood to favor a form of court martial in the various countries. At the same time the commission is seeking to determine the exact form of the court that is to try the ex-Kaiser and the various German war lords.

The remaining details of the Austrian treaty are still lagging. The Little Five Five "considered certain of the political clauses today."

Italy's claims to Austrian concessions at Tien-Tsin, China, which were turned down yesterday, are understood to have been blocked by the Americans on the ground that they could not sanction the barter of territory.

The Situation Today.

Out of the mass of conferences and conflicting statements of the past 24 hours the situation at the opening of the second day of the strike was as follows:

National War Labor Board cannot act because the carmen refuse to go back to work pending arbitration by this body. It is against the Members Must Vote.

But even if a satisfactory arrangement is made cars cannot be operated for hours because the rules of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America provide that a strike can be ended only by a vote of the members assembled in meeting.

Scenes of yesterday were repeated today. Steam trains came to the city with coaches and engines swarming with humanity, the crush of motor vehicles was unparalleled and all avenue of entrance into Boston were literally jammed with destrans.

A Year Ago Today

One year ago today, Field Marshal Foch launched the great offensive that drove the Germans out of the Chateau Thierry salient, the first of the series of aggressive operations that brought the enemy to his knees. Three American divisions attacked on the opening day and nine American divisions had participated when the salient was wiped out.

The veteran First and Second American divisions, with the famous Moroccan division between them, bore the brunt of the attack through the eastern edge of the forest of Retz. They jumped off at 5.35 a. m. after only an hour's artillery preparation and moved with such strides that the second advanced five miles in four hours.

The 26th Division, (New England National Guard), attacked northwest of Chateau-Thierry, captured Torcy, Belleau and reached Bouresches village. The third division, east of Chateau Thierry, on the south bank of the Marne, merely marked time on the opening day, joining the attack three days later when the Germans evacuated Chateau Thierry and the north bank of the Marne.

Before the salient was completely wiped out, these American divisions took part in the offensive: First, Second, Third, Fourth, Twenty-sixth, (Yankee), Twenty-eighth, (Pennsylvania), Thirty-second, (Michigan and Wisconsin), Forty-second, (Rainbow), and Seventy-seventh, (New York National Army).

CAR STRIKE IN BOSTON ENTERS ITS SECOND DAY

No Change in Situation—"L" Subway and Surface Lines Tied Up.

BOTH SIDES DEADLOCKED

Neither Will Agree Upon Selection of Third Member of Arbitration Board to Take Up Carmen's De- mands.

Boston, July 18.—Complete paralysis of the elevated, subway and street car service in Boston and its suburbs continued today.

The strike of 7,800 union employees of the Boston Elevated Railway company entered its second day with both sides deadlocked over the selection of a third member of a local arbitration board to take up the carmen's wage demands.

A committee of strikers and representatives of the Board of Five Public trustees of the road met at Governor Coolidge's office this forenoon to make an effort to organize an arbitration agency acceptable to both sides.

Members Must Vote.

But even if a satisfactory arrangement is made cars cannot be operated for hours because the rules of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America provide that a strike can be ended only by a vote of the members assembled in meeting.

Shortage of Crops, Coal Famine And Many Strikes in Germany

Berlin, July 17.—(Via London, July 18.)—A disaster to German crops as well as a coal famine is threatened by the increasing strikes that are springing up all over Germany.

"This is a new Germany with fresh strikes reported every day," declared the director of the Bund der Landwirte, the greatest organization of land owners and rural workers in the country.

There is great excitement in the farming districts where agitations against the Junkers for better homes and higher wages are increasing constantly.

Dr. Koerte, of the coal supply department, expressed the fear today that with diminishing coal and food disorders would follow.

"I seem to see the grinning spectre of Bolshevism," he declared.

Dr. Koerte said there is on hand now but one-fourth of last year's coal reserve supply.

The Most Melancholy Business Of Tending Bar in Manchester

CENTER PARTY REFUSES TO CONDEMN SIR CARSON

Liberals Accept Motion But Union- ists Oppose—May Cause Split in Coalition Organization.

London, July 18.—A motion condemning Sir Edward Carson's incendiary Orange Day speech at Belfast was presented at a meeting of the new "hold all" political party last night, but was squashed, the parliamentary lobbyist correspondent of the Daily Express stated today. The meeting was called to discuss Sir Edward's speech. The resolution was moved by Sir Martin Conway and was accepted by the liberals, but was opposed by the Unionists.

"The Irish issue cuts right across the coalition," said the Times in commenting upon the political situation.

"The Daily Mail, (a Northcliffe paper which has been opposing Mr. Lloyd George), predicts that the unionist leaders will challenge the Premier's position before agreeing to the successors of various ministers who are said to be planning voluntary retirement soon. They include the following:

"Lord Ernle, president of the board of agriculture; A. J. Balfour, the foreign secretary; Viscount Milner, Secretary of State for the Colonies and Lord Inverforth, Minister of Supply.

"The big political question now is whether the next government inclines toward labor or is a permanent coalition."

WILSON WILL OVERCOME OPPOSITION SAYS MILLET

French Expert Writes That the Am- erican People Will Back Presi- dent on Peace Terms.

Paris, July 18.—"Washington is the center of the world today," writes Phillippi Millet, an expert on foreign affairs, in the Paris Mjdi, voicing France's intense interest in the debate in the United States Senate on the peace treaty.

"America is, at the decisive turning point in her history," continues Millet. "She has to decide once for all whether she will break with Washington's policy of isolation or from now on take a hand in world politics. Frank is convinced that she will adopt the latter course. We believe whatever the outcome of the Senate opposition to the treaty, the American people will back the President when he goes out on a nation wide appeal on behalf of the peace terms."

"The moment he speaks to the electorate, the Senate will have to toe the mark."

USES LANTERN TO FIND GASOLINE LEAK—HOSPITAL.

Muscatoh, Kan., July 18.—Noticing that his automobile was leaking badly, W. O. Turner took a lantern and crawled underneath the car to find the leak. He found it. It was the gasoline tank instead of the radiator. He will recover, his physician says.

So Long as Opponents Do Not Seek to Amend Treaty, President Has No Objec- tions to Interpretations of Various Provisions— This Will Speed Up Work, He Says.

Washington, July 18.—Republican Senators who were to discuss the peace treaty with the President at the White House today, as well as those who conferred with him there yesterday, expressed the opinion today that the Senate's ratification of the document might be expedited by an agreement that Senators be permitted to interpret the Senate's acceptance of certain of the disputed provisions in a resolution of ratification.

Senate Interpretations.

Administration Senators stated that if the Senate's proposed interpretations were confined to explanatory ones, and could, in no way be construed, technically, or otherwise, as actually amending or reserving, the text of the treaty—they could see no objection to them if they were confined to the Monroe Doctrine, the constitutional right of Congress to involve the United States in war, immigration, the tariff and other domestic questions. Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, a Republican advocate of the League of Nations who saw the President yesterday, but said he regarded his conference with the chief executive "too confidential to discuss" admitted that he was still of the opinion that the President's desire to have the treaty speedily ratified by the Senate might be realized if those Senators opposed to it in its present form were allowed to record explanation of how they regarded the League covenant, the Shantung settlement and others of its provisions which they have assailed.

It was learned that the President had informed Senator McCumber as well as Senators Colt of Rhode Island and Nelson of Minnesota, the other Republican Senators he saw yesterday, that he was unqualifiedly opposed to any sort of textual amendments or reservations his antagonists might attempt to bring up in the Senate or in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, as the adoption of a single material change in the text of the treaty would again throw it open to the 21 nations whose peace commissioners signed it in the final, official form he submitted it to the Senate.

At the same time it was pointed out to the President by Senators McCumber, Colt and Nelson in a friendly way that they believed that if the Senatorial opposition to the League of Nations, for instance, was permitted to express itself as to how the United States, in their judgment, was to be committed to the League covenant, especially with regard to domestic questions, any concerted effort to block the early ratification of the treaty would be overcome.

Names Opponents.

The President was also informed by his senatorial visitors that out and out opposition to the entry of the United States into the League of Nations would most likely be limited to Senators Borah of Idaho, Sherman of Illinois, Flanders of Washington, Fall of New Mexico, and Johnson of California, Republicans and Reed of Missouri, Democrat, although there was a possibility of Senators like Knox of Pennsylvania, Brandegee, of Connecticut, and McCormick of Illinois, "holding out to the last."

Those Who Saw Wilson.

The Republican Senators who were to see the President today were McNary of Oregon, an uncompromising advocate of the present treaty without amendment or reservation; Kenyon of Iowa, a progressive Republican, whose independent views were expressed when he recently

A Waiting Game.

The retail liquor men are playing a waiting game, though it may be said that it is not just the kind of a game they desire. Not only are they waiting for customers who never come but they are waiting to see what the courts are going to say about 2.75 per cent. beer. They are waiting to see whether the government will declare all restrictions off between the date of demobilization and the sixteenth of next January, when constitutional prohibition goes into effect. Most of all, they are waiting to see what the American public is going to say about prohibition, now that they have it, and how really dry that public want to be.

Naturally enough, the saloon men are a little on the offensive. They cannot speak moderately about the new laws and they have a regular Wilsonian hostility toward amendments or reservations when it comes to their opinion of the men who have brought on the national drought.

A Dull Outlook.

The liquor men are facing a dull

The answer to the question, How's the liquor business in Manchester? is—There ain't none.

Half the saloons in town are closed and the other half might be closed without anyone but the bartender knowing the difference.

A man doesn't have to waste any time in deciding what he will drink these days. The choice is limited to soda and near-beer. The way it works out is this:

In spite of Shakespear's contemptuous question (or was it William Jennings Bryan) about what's in a name, most everyone is influenced a trifle by the word beer and tries to overlook the "near." So near-beer is usually the first drink. But a swallow or two leads to a desperate call for soda, usually worded this way, "Augh! Give us some of that soda quick to kill the taste of this—stuff."

So the bartender sells two drinks now where only one went before. Mighty is the power of prohibition! Some feel that it is an even toss between soda and near-beer, but at five cents a glass, it's really a game of heads I win; tails you lose.

Plainly stated, the saloonkeepers are up against it. They are actually running in competition with every corner soda fountain and as an inducement to the public to come in and buy they have nothing to offer but cheap soda and near-beer. Near-beer resembles beer about as closely as a donkey-engine resembles the well known beast of burden. "I've never had such a taste in my mouth," said a thirsty soul in a south end saloon yesterday, "since the day I squeezed shaving cream on my toothbrush."

TRANSPORT ARRIVES.

New York, July 18.—The transport Northern Pacific arrived today with 2,445 overseas troops, including 265 wounded, who were placed aboard a hospital train for Camp Meade. The transports Kaiserin Augusta Victoria, Manchuria, Liberator and Ochoa were delayed by the fog down the harbor and probably will not dock until evening.

LOCAL GIRL ESCAPES MATRIMONIAL MIXUP

Was to Have Married William Smith Who is Wanted for Desertion From Army—Other Serious Charges.

Desertion from the United States army at time of war, theft and bigamy may be the charges which William Smith, formerly of the north end, recently of the south end and now of "somewhere in America" may be the charges which he will have to face if he ever comes before a bar of justice. Whatever may be the action on these charges, it is almost certain that Manchester girl is not bemoaning the fact that a wedding date set for next Sunday is broken.

The career of the young man is a varied one. He enlisted during the war and after training was sent overseas. During his military service he was arrested once for absence without leave and again for desertion. He has yet to face the last charge, it is said. According to cablegrams received in town early in the year, he was killed in action.

Smith's relatives accepted the War Department's announcement as correct. But on February 19th Smith appeared before them very much alive. He remained for a time, and he and a young lady here formed quite an attachment. The wedding was set for July 20th. But one morning Smith's brother-in-law awoke and found him missing and at the same time some clothes and money.

No news relative to Smith had been heard until sometime ago when relatives received another announcement from the War Department stating that Smith had been killed in action and that a sister, a beneficiary, would receive the premium in monthly installments. Attached to the letter was a photograph of Smith's grave in France.

Two more letters addressed to relatives have arrived since then. One comes from a young lady in Holyoke whom Smith married. The other comes from a young lady (wife No. 2) who states that Smith disappeared with her savings. She expresses her opinion of her late lamented in very forcible terms. She doesn't care for the money or Smith, but "she would just like to lay hands on him."

DISCHARGES REPORTED AT LOCAL WAR BUREAU

Soldiers and Sailors Returning Home in Numbers—Others Reported On Their Way.

Local soldiers and sailors who have reported at the War Bureau in the past few days as having been honorably discharged from the service are:

- First Class Private, William T. Corder, Private Louis J. Bertotti, First Lieutenant Charles J. Hall, First Class Sergeant Arthur J. Starkweather, First Lieutenant Warren L. Dexter, Private Joel H. Best, Private Robert Massey, Seaman John Boyle, Private Robert D. Turkington, Seaman Joseph R. Hughes, Horseshoer John J. Fay.

Word has been received in town that Frank Cervini of Oak street has returned from overseas and is now stationed at Camp Upton awaiting his discharge. Cervini has been overseas for about eight months and was attached to a hospital unit of the American Expeditionary Forces.

Joseph Fay of Pearl street arrived at his home in town yesterday and reported at the local War Bureau as having been honorably discharged from the service. Fay was attached to the "Engineers."

rules of the board to act while the strikers are still out.

The outstanding features in the strike today are: Deadlock over the third member, Charlton Ogburn, chief examiner of the National War Labor Board, suggested as third member. Carmen and trustees decide to ask Governor Coolidge to name third arbiter. His first choice, however, proved unacceptable to one side.

The men went on strike when the National War Labor Board failed to render a decision in their wage case within a 48 hours' period demanded by the Union. The strikers demand a raise in pay from a maximum of 48 cents an hour to 73 1-2 cents an hour and an eight hour day to supplant the nine in eleven hours in force.

Gov. Takes the Lead. Governor Coolidge and Acting Mayor Ford are taking the lead in aggressive attempts to relieve the situation. Efforts to notify Mayor Peters, spending his vacation near North Haven, Me., of the strike, have failed, it is now believed that the mayor and his wife are lost in the fog somewhere off the Maine coast while on a yachting cruise.

Corporation Counsel Whiteside has been notified that a big batch of telegrams sent to the Mayor in Maine are still undelivered and all efforts to reach the house by telephone have failed.

Several days ago the Mayor notified his secretary, Edward E. Moore, by letter that he intended to go on a yachting cruise with his wife. Secretary Moore has been in Maine two or three days and reports the fog as extremely thick along the coast. The corporation counsel has no fear for the Mayor's safety.

MAIL BAN ON GERMANY NO LONGER IN FORCE

Manchester Postmasters Receive Word Today That Restrictions are Revoked—Communications Now Open.

The Manchester postmasters received orders from the post office department at Washington today lifting the ban against mail for Germany. As there are many persons here who desire to communicate with relatives and friends in Germany for the purpose of ascertaining how they fared during the war, this information will be of particular interest.

It is now possible for the first time since April 7, 1917, to send mail from this country to Germany. The department's new ruling states that the order which prohibited dispatching such mail is revoked, effective at once, and that mail matter originating within the United States or its possessions destined for Germany shall be accepted and dispatched from the United States to destination, when conforming to the Postal Union rates and conditions.

DAMAGE SUIT BROUGHT CHARGES NEGLIGENCE

Fargo of Manchester Sues Hartford Man for $50 for Damages Suffered in Auto Accident.

Charles Fargo, through Attorney Raymond A. Johnson, has brought suit against Dudley Glasson of Hartford in an effort to recover $50, the amount of damages resulting on April 20th, when a team owned by Archie Hayes and driven by the plaintiff, was struck by an automobile driven by the defendant. The writ was served by Deputy Sheriff John F. Sheridan and is returnable before Justice of the Peace Robert E. Carney on the morning of August 4th.

The plaintiff claims that he was driving east on Center street, on the right side of the road and that the defendant was operating a motor vehicle proceeding in a westerly direction. The plaintiff further claims that the defendant's car was handled in a negligent manner and was traveling on the wrong side of the highway at an excessive rate of speed. The auto struck the front part of Fargo's vehicle smashing the dashboard, dashlight, left shaft and front wheel. The collision, the plaintiff claims, was caused by the negligence of the auto driver.

future and they are facing it practically alone. The bottling interests are scrambling into glassware. It really makes but little difference to the barrel manufacturers whether their kegs are filled with near-beer or real beer, and a lot of kegs are being filled just the same. The fellow who collects the rent can afford to take this thing with complacency also, for there is always a shortage of well situated store rents and the saloons occupied some of the best locations. The brewers are looking out for themselves and selling near-beer and other innocuous compounds to every soda fountain and grocery store in the country. But there is no alternative for the man who made his living directly from the sale of booze across the bar. He can get up in the morning and carefully strew his floor with sawdust, as in the good old days, and he can go to bed at night without ever having a single grain of that sawdust disturbed by the foot of a thirsty patron.

Such is the state of saloon keeping in Manchester in this glorious year of our unquenchable thirst, 1919. What's to Be Done. What are they going to do about it? That is a question that they would give a good deal to have answered. About nine saloons in Hartford are selling a drink that may or may not be 2.75 per cent. beer, opinions differ as to this. But it is generally admitted that a saloon business cannot be conducted on a beer basis. Manchester dealers are not inclined to try it. As a north end dealer expressed it yesterday, "Beer is sloppy stuff to handle anyway and the waste sometimes runs as high as a keg to a barrel." Besides this, as was pointed out by another saloon keeper, as cool weather approaches the consumption of beer falls off. But a small portion of a saloon's business in winter is based on beer.

The prospect before the saloon men here is decidedly melancholy. Most of them are sore at the prohibition public and some of them are sour, like a glass of stale beer.

STOCK MARKET

New York, July 18.—The stock market showed an irregular tone at the opening today with most of the standard issues weak.

Steel Common fell 1-2 to 111 3-4 and Crucible Steel showed a loss of 2 1-2 at 135 1-2. Cuba Cane Sugar opened 1 1-2 lower at 33 3-8 and Marine Common after opening 1-2 lower at 63 1-8 moved up to 63 7-8.

The lower priced rails were in good demand. Missouri, Kansas and Texas moving up 3-4 to 12 3-4. Studebaker moved up one point to 111 1-4. United Cigars fell over one point at 194 3-4.

The market at the end of the first 15 minutes was highly irregular.

A very weak tone developed during the forenoon, heavy offerings causing declines of from one to five points. Steel Common dropped from 112 1-4 to 110 3-4; Crucible Steel, nearly five points to 133 1-2; Baldwin Locomotive 2 1-4 to 114; Marine Common 2 points to 62 1-2; Ajax Rubber three points to 108; Mexican Petroleum five points to 192; Sinclair Oil over one point to 62 1-4; Cuba Cane Sugar 2 1-4 to 32 5-8; St. Paul Common 2 points to 48 1-4 and New Haven 1 1-2 to 36 3-4.

C. OF C. COMMITTEE ASKS FOR FUNDS NOW

Chairman Cairns Asks All Who Wish to Boost Baseball to Contribute at Once.

In the interest of better baseball for Manchester and in recognition of the work that has been done toward end by the Athletics the Manchester Chamber of Commerce voted, at a meeting several weeks ago, to raise a sum of money and give it to that team.

A committee was appointed for that purpose and about $280 has been pledged. The committee is desirous of making this an even $300 at least and Chairman John Cairns has issued an appeal to all lovers of good sport to contribute at once to this fund. Mr. Cairns wishes to get the money to the Athletics as soon as possible as now is the time it will do the most good.

FORD IS WASTING TIME SAYS TRIBUNE LAWYER

Two Hundred and Eighteen Pages Written into the Record Since Magnate Took the Stand.

Mount Clemens, Mich., July 18.—To substantiate charges that a report to the House Committee on Military Affairs by General Weaver was garbled and distorted in the pamphlet "Humanity and Sanity" circulated by Henry Ford, attorneys for the Chicago Tribune in Ford's $1,000,000 libel suit against that paper, today brought into court a copy of the original report. The copy was obtained, the attorneys said, from a clerk in Washington. The report dealt with the coast defense situation in 1916.

In previous testimony Ford declared that he had little to do with "Humanity and Sanity", stating it was the work of his publicity agent, Theodore Lavigne. Before Ford resumed the stand today Attorney Elliott Stevenson, for the Tribune, addressed to the court an admonition that Ford and his lawyers were wasting time in the examination of the automobile magnate.

"Two hundred and eighteen pages," said Stevenson, "have been written into the record since Mr. Ford took the stand and 116 have been taken up by objections. One third of the time since Mr. Ford took the stand has been wasted. I think in the future this should be discontinued."

Mr. Stuart Peterson of Bridgeport has been spending the past few days at home of Mr. Andrew Clemson of North Elm street.

Park Theater

John Bowers, screen player of eminence, makes his first appearance as leading man in Gordwyn Pictures in Madge Kennedy's newest production, "Day Dreams", by Cosmo Hamilton, which comes to the Park theater tonight.

Combining unusual experience with genuine gifts, the reason for John Bowers' success is not hard to find. He has appeared with almost every screen favorite and has built up for himself a following which could hardly be larger if he were a star himself. Youthful, earnest, typically American, John Bowers imposes on his admirers no hardships in becoming accustomed to his screen efforts. He stands for what everybody likes and has always liked in leading men.

His role in "Day Dreams" is a happy combination of all that he does best. The many scenes in which he participates with Madge Kennedy are said to provide the piquant star and her leading man with opportunities for much laughter, and some tears. Although a distinctly modern play, a highly romantic thread runs through it, offering Madge Kennedy and John Bowers excellent moments of contrasting appeal. They are seen as people of everyday life whose imagination brings about a seeming miracle and transports them to the land of their dreams.

"Day Dreams", abounds in moments of hilarious comedy of the sort which Madge Kennedy makes all her own and in which she is given brilliant co-operation by John Bowers. Gordwyn executives who have been present at the Fort Lee Studios during the taking of the scenes declare that the star and her leading man have a big popular success before them.

On the same bill will be a News Weekly and a comedy.

SEC. POLK LEAVES TODAY.

Washington, July 18.—Acting Secretary of State Polk was to leave today for New York, preparatory to sailing on Monday for Paris, where he will succeed Secretary Lansing on the American Peace Commission. Secretary Lansing is due to arrive in New York tomorrow and the under secretary planned to confer with him on matters regarding the peace conference before sailing.

Mr. Polk also planned a farewell call at the White House before leaving for New York.

CZECHO-SLOVAKS PARADE.

Washington, July 18.—A parade of 1,500 Czecho-Slovak veterans of the Siberian campaign, on their way to their native land, was held here today with President Wilson as the reviewing officer. Following the parade, the officers were presented to the President.

Circle Theater

There will be no show tonight at the Circle but the feature tomorrow will be Hale Hamilton in "After His Own Heart."

The story, written by Ben Ames Williams and published in the All Story Weekly, has a powerful plot which tells of a young millionaire who, through the loss of his wealth, faces the prospect of making a living for himself. While pondering his difficult problem he receives a strange letter offering him a large sum of money in exchange for one month of his time. He does not feel inclined to do this as no mention is made of what he is expected to do in return but, being of an adventurous spirit, finally decides to accept. He is taken to a large and mysterious house where he meets a doctor. It is then that he learns of the grim and amazing scheme for which the doctor wishes to use him.

IT PAYS.

(The Manufacturers Record). For months the United States government urged all business men to realize that they could "sell" prosperity to the country by big, bold advertising. It urged everybody to advertise heavily; if they were already advertising, to increase their expenditures and broaden their publicity campaign; and if they were not advertising, to begin an aggressive campaign.

Never was better business advice given, never was it more fully accepted, and never was there a greater demonstration of the wisdom of such advice. Business men everywhere commenced to advertise more freely and on broader lines. Many men who had never done much advertising saw a new light and began to advertise, while old-time advertisers made larger appropriations and gave greater heed to the almost limitless power of publicity.

The result is everywhere in evidence. The confidence displayed by heavy advertising begat confidence. The optimism of advertisers created optimism, and the pessimists slunk back into their holes and pulled the holes in after them—permanently buried face downward, as is the just desert of every man who becomes a pessimist in America.

Largely as an outcome of this splendid work, vigorously conducted by the Secretary of Labor and to whom great credit is due, every one now realizes that the country has taken the right road at the forks, and, instead of travelling toward the land of poverty and anarchy, is headed straight on the road to the land of abounding national prosperity, and this glorious change is largely due to the power of advertising, which created an air of optimism, and as a nation thinketh in its heart, so is it.

POWERFUL PILE REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Case of Piles in Few Days.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that over chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return. Just read what Henry J. Stone of the Love, Ohio, Fire Department says: "I had bleeding and protruding piles for three years and tried all kinds of remedies, without result, but was thoroughly cured after taking one bottle of Miro."

Frank J. Phillips of Bird Island, Minnesota, says: "I used half a bottle of Miro. It worked like a charm. I no longer suffered with bleeding and protruding piles. I never regretted the money for such blessing as I am now enjoying. I would have used the whole bottle, but it was not necessary."

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Sure, it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever. IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although the condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. If you druggist cannot supply you we will gladly send either of the above mail charges paid in receipt of war tax 6c, Ointment 50c, war tax 5c extra. Internal Treatment $1.50. Guaranteed Remedy Co., Elyria, Ohio.

NEW POLITICAL PARTIES.

The signs point to the creation of a new party in England. The idea has been voiced by Winston Churchill but it is undoubtedly a child of the brain of Lloyd George. The present Coalition government was built simply to see England through the dark days which are now ending and with their passing must go the makeshift party. Such is the way of politics.

An out and out declaration of old fashioned conservatism would be impossible for Lloyd George, as indeed it ought to be impossible for any political leader who would render public service in England. On the other hand, undiluted radicalism is leading too hectic an existence on the Continent for it to be unqualifiedly popular in the British Isles. It is doubtful if the Premier has the political audacity to go that way. Hence the scheme for the new Center Party which it is proposed to form.

Neither England nor this country has had much of a mind for three parties in the past. Anglo-Saxon political opinion is more conviction than theory and for that reason is inclined to the rigid attitude which found its perfect expression in the Puritanism of our early days. The Englishman and the American are usually for or against a thing without equivocation. This naturally leads to the formation of two parties which look on opposite sides of most questions.

Such a system is, of course, bound to often miss the mark in trying to settle a complicated problem. Somewhere in between the two extremes truth is oftentimes found. But it is our system and somehow we seem to get along fairly well under it.

In Europe things are different. There they have the Right and Left and the Center parties with sometimes a strong blending toward one extreme or the other. In such a situation the Center Party often holds the balance of power and it may be this possibility on which Lloyd George is counting.

Our greatest three party experiment was in 1912 when Roosevelt led the hosts of Armageddon. Then it might be said that the Republicans represented the extreme of reaction, the Progressives a brand of radicalism which the country was not willing to accept even under the leadership of the great Roosevelt and the Democrats a kind of half way position opposed to both the others but which, in the very nature of things, was bound to win.

Today there is no third party in this country and the Progressives have either returned to the fold or joined hands with the Democrats. At the same time the distinctions between the two great parties have, in large measure, disappeared. Dr. Luther used to tell a story about a political speaker who prided himself on being able to pick out the Republicans and Democrats in his audiences. Pointing to a man in the front row, the speaker declared "There's a Democrat" whereupon the individual in question stood up and apologetically admitted that he knew he looked like hell but that he had just come from the hospital. But today there are few discernible differences between the two major parties.

American political battles of the future are going to be fought over labor problems, just as they are in England, and so far neither the Democrats nor the Republicans have developed a labor policy which is comprehensive and definite enough to make a distinct issue. Perhaps they never will, and we shall see, as have the English, the growth of a strong, vigorous Labor Party asking no favors of either the old line organizations and successfully contending with them in the political arena.

YOUR WINTER'S COAL.

Coal is still selling at the same high prices that were charged during the war. Whatever may be the alleged reasons for the present rates, an expert writing in the Saturday Evening Post thinks they are due to the increased cost of mining and shipping. He makes the point that while there is still plenty of coal in the ground, that remaining is farther below the surface or more remote from the markets than that which has been mined in the past. He predicts that the price of coal will never come down to the pre-war figures and says that the time has come when it will be necessary to give up the old wasteful methods of using coal and by the aid of science, get much more out of a pound of coal than we do now. Electricity, he believes will help solve the power problem. Power stations should be established near the mines from which the "juice" could be distributed to manufacturing plants over a wide area much cheaper than the coal itself can be hauled to them. The development of electricity by water power, which has only just begun, will also reduce the consumption for coal for power.

Only a small percentage of coal produced is now used for domestic purposes, and when some of the much larger quantity now used for power is released, more will be available for heating dwellings. But here again there is much waste, which could be avoided by the transformation of coal into gas and distributing it to homes through pipes. However, these measures of economy cannot be adopted at once, and householders must be content to pay the present high prices for fuel to keep them warm this winter. Indeed it is said in some quarters that they will be lucky if they get their bins filled at that, for retailers are having difficulty in getting enough coal from the mines to fill their orders.

Through the gift of $2,000 to the Columbia Congregational church, the income of which is to be used to swell the pastor's salary, it will now be possible to pay him $1,000 a year, which is somewhat less than the pay of an able-bodied day laborer at current rates. It looks as if laborers were in the future to receive more than brain workers.

THE ENGLISH WAY.

(The Manchester Guardian.) There is a pleasant naivete in the surprise of an American correspondent over the lack of "dressiness" among British delegates at the peace conference. He should have remembered the story of Thompson, master of Trinity, walking with a friend at Kissingen and receiving with approval the dignified but not condescending salute of a beautifully dressed personage. "Who is that?" asked the friend. "A Russian prince?" "Oh, no," said Thompson, "that's my courier." W. H. Smith once wrote of the appearance of Lord Hartington at Homburg, "dressed like a seedy sailor." Ouida makes one of her aristocrats say: "You may have seen me in a shabby coat, but never in one badly cut," which was simply one of Ouida's limitations, for British statesmen reflect much credit on their tailors; a profound disregard of tailors is one of the marks of our higher statesmanship.

As Lord Lytton was the worst dressed man in one generation in the Lords, so was the Duke of Norfolk in the other, and there is nothing at all unlikely in the story of Mr. Balfour appearing in the lobby in a flannel shirt, a frock coat, gray flannel trousers and brown tennis shoes. It was the garb which to his mind best suggested a compromise between tennis and the House of Commons; so he wore it—and would have been surprised had any one commented on it in his hearing. Under secretaries, on the other hand, are generally rather carefully dressed. Does not that sum up the whole thing?

WANT NEW LABOR PARTY.

New York, July 18.—Labor is dissatisfied with both the Democratic and Republican parties and is looking for the formation of a new Labor Party, free from Socialism and radical ideas. James P. Holland, president of the New York State Federation of Labor, told the Lusk State Legislative Committee investigating alleged seditious activities in the state. Holland added that extremists are now weaker in the ranks of the American Federation of Labor than at any previous time in its history.

RECEIVE WAR CROSSES.

Washington, July 18.—The latest awards of the distinguished service cross were to two officers, two enlisted men and one interpreter of the French army and to seven officers and twelve enlisted men of the American army, all being decorated for extraordinary heroism in action in France, General Pershing cabled the War Department today.

Among the honored men was Private Herbert Kendall, Company H, 103rd Infantry, Wolfboro, N. H.

DAYLIGHT SAVING VS. PROHIBITION MEASURES

Both Forces Battling Today For Right of Way in House.

DEMAND FINAL ACTION

Dry's Want Enforcement Law Passed—Legislative Program Rather Unsettled at Present.

Washington, July 18.—Prohibition enforcement and daylight saving legislation were to battle today for right of way in the House, with the prohibition forces insisting that when they took the floor they should not be forced to give way during the day to daylight saving.

Chairman Haugen, of the House Agriculture Committee, was at work today with his colleagues to bring about an agreement on the daylight saving repeal rider to the agricultural appropriation bill which is held up in his committee, but the Democratic members, led by Lever, of South Carolina, were obdurate. They would not consent that there should be a unanimous report from the committee in favor of the bill.

Lever and other Democrats on the committee had favored repeal of the daylight saving law, and most of them had voted to over-ride the President's veto, but they balked at the Republican move to force the matter again upon the President. Facing this situation Republican members of the House Agriculture committee doubted today the wisdom of trying to force this legislation.

Want Final Action.

With the legislative program in the House unsettled, prohibition leaders were anxious to get final action on their bills, fearing their forces might be caught in the whirl and their grip on the situation broken. Enough votes for the passage of the enforcement legislation in drastic form seemed assured, but avowed anti-prohibitionists were beginning to present amendments, modifying some features of the bill and other similar amendments were expected to be urged with increasing vehemence and support.

There was a report today that an appeal has gone to Representative James R. Mann, who is in Chicago, from some of the most influential Republican leaders in Congress, to return and take up the Republican leadership in the House. This action is said to have been brought about by indecision on the daylight saving legislation and growing antagonism to provisions of the prohibition enforcement act insisted on by the anti-saloon league.

SAILORS ON GREAT LAKES BACKING UP THE UNION

Refuse to Sign On Vessels for Further Than Montreal—Several Ships Tied Up.

Cleveland, O., July 18.—Union sailors on the Great Lakes today were actively backing up the strike which has practically tied up Atlantic coast shipping.

They are refusing to sign on United States Shipping Board vessels for further than Montreal. According to G. L. Martin, Union organizer for the Great Lakes, several vessels are tied up at Montreal because the sailors refused to take them further.

So far only ships built for the United States Shipping Board on the lakes are affected. Union officials declined to say today whether they would go further in their support of the strike than they have done to date.

BELA KUN RESIGNS.

London, July 18.—Bela Kun, the Red dictator of Hungary, has offered to resign in favor of socialists, in order to avoid military intervention by the allies, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich today, quoting the Frankfurter Gazette.

A report was received in Paris yesterday that a revolt had broken out in the Bolshevik army in Hungary.

CHILD REBUKES KING.

London, July 18.—At the Derby races King George asked a lady of his acquaintance to bring her little daughter to the royal box. The King took the little girl on his knee, and, after some bantering, asked her how she would like to see him with his crown on. The child's reply was: "Don't be silly."

Senator Colt; Republican Speaks in Favor of League

Rhode Islander Asks that U. S. See the War Through—Must Not Forsake Our Allies—Is Not Impressed by Argument that We Will Lose Our Sovereignty.

Senator Colt of Rhode Island is one of the Republican Senators whose position on the League of Nations has occasioned some common concern to both sides. He has refrained until now from declaring himself and has at times been claimed by the friends of the League and at other times by those opposed. Yesterday he made one of the notable speeches of the session on this subject. Speaking without partisan rancor the Senator made it clear that he was by no means convinced that the League was letter perfect but that it did embody principles with which he was in hearty accord.

The speech follows:

Must Not Separate League.

"There has been much controversy over the question whether the League should not be separated from the Peace Treaty. I have always believed the League to be inseparable from the Peace Treaty because the treaty cannot be enforced except through the League. The Peace Treaty leaves the world on fire, with national aspirations unsatisfied, territorial limits undefined, racial conflicts impending and with incipient wars already started. If it is unthinkable for us to desert England, France and Italy when the world is in chaos we must become a member of the League as providing the only machinery for the restoration of peace and order.

"The provisions of the League with respect to arbitration or investigation and report have been criticized as not strong enough, but they clearly will tend to prevent war. As to the general objection that the League creates a superstate and hence is destructive of our independence and sovereignty I am unable to see the force of the argument in support of this proposition. Superstate cannot be termed when every national power that is exercised by the League requires the unanimous consent of the Executive Council or of the delegates.

MORE

"The League of Nations in its essence is simply an association of free nations. The principle of international co-operation as the means by which international peace can be made secure has never been tried before. All other means of preventing war have failed. Not to try this experiment would leave the world in the same condition of international anarchy as it was before the war. There is no antagonism between true nationalism and an internationalism which would substitute the reign of law for the reign of force.

See the War Through.

"If we believe that it would be dishonorable to withdraw from Europe at this time, to desert France, England and Italy in this critical hour when the whole world is in a turmoil, then the United States should certainly remain in the League during this world settlement and until peace and order are restored. To my mind we must at least see the great undertaking upon which we embarked in entering the war through to the end, and as a part of this undertaking we must help to re-establish a new world order by the enforcement of the terms of peace, which can only be done by our becoming a member of the League of Nations.

People Want No More War.

"I believe the great mass of the American people are convinced that something must be done to prevent future wars. They want something done. They do not want to leave the world in its old condition, and they favor the League of Nations, based upon international co-operation as the best solution of the problem. I am in favor of the principles embodied in the League of Nations. This does not mean that I have reached a decision that the League should be ratified in the precise form in which it is now presented.

"Nor am I impressed with the constitutional objections. The treaty-making power under the Constitution is of the broadest character and it includes everything that is properly covered by the term treaty, and is not in conflict with some express provision of the Constitution.

Protect Monroe Doctrine.

"I believe the popular sentiment is universal, and I share it, that the Monroe Doctrine should be clearly safeguarded. I also believe that domestic questions, like immigration, which in some of their aspects may be international, should be properly safeguarded. The storm center of these reservations seems to be Article X. As to the retention of this article much may be said on both sides. It may be argued that the United States ought not to bind itself for all time to guarantee the territorial integrity and political independence of the members of the League against external aggression and yet that argument might not apply with the same force to protecting the territorial settlements made by the Peace Conference until this new world order is fully established and the present peace of the world made secure. There is a wide distinction between a temporary and a permanent retention of Article X.

"Upon the question of reservations, I reserve my judgment for a full discussion and consideration."

DYNAMITE SCARE PROVES RAILROAD SIGNAL LIGHTS.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 18.—The police made a rush trip when Miss Rose Anon telephoned that she had discovered six sticks of dynamite on her porch. The cops hastily lifted a cushion from a rocker, saw the "dynamite" and wrapping the sticks in a paper hauled them back to the police station. An expert was called and pronounced the explosive simply red signal lights used by railroad men, and evidently were left there for their Fourth of July celebration.

ANGLO SAXON LEAGUE IS BASIS FOR PEACE SAYS GEN. PERSHING

Tells Englishmen There Must Be Union in Thought and in Heart.

SAYS SOLDIERS FEEL NEED OF CO-OPERATION

American Commander Warmly Received in House of Commons—Tells of Lessons Learned From English.

London, July 18.—Gen. John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American expeditionary forces, was enthusiastically greeted by members of the British House of Commons yesterday. The General was introduced by Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary for war, who paid a glowing tribute to both Pershing and the soldiers he commanded. After telling how they fought side by side with the British the Secretary said "Every day our feeling has grown stronger for these gallant men and their gallant commander."

In the course of his address General Pershing said:

"You do me signal honor by according me the privilege of meeting you all here at this time. I recall distinctly my last visit more than two years ago and how I was impressed by meeting the distinguished members who guided the destinies of this nation. You had gone through three years of war, gaining ripe experience, and the generosity of our reception was only equalled by the eagerness with which you gave us the benefit of that experience."

Learned From English. "We are not a military people; we inherited from you the fear of a standing army. We were wholly unprepared, although some of us felt that we would sooner or later enter the war. Had it not been for the lessons learned from you, I am sure our efforts would not have been what they have been. Our associations from the start were most pleasant. I was accorded a visit to general headquarters and learned from your commander-in-chief what was deemed most important for us to consider first."

"It was our preference to fight beside our brothers in blood, our own kinsmen, whose courage, aggression and tenacity we have always admired and which has had such an influence on our army in Europe. But we found the channel ports fully occu-pled with your supplies, therefore we were driven to the southern ports of France and compelled to choose other railroads to the eastern part of the western front.

"We always had in mind the possibility of using our troops on any part of the western front, and in planting our warehouses, we located them at a central point from which railroads radiated, and later found this sound, for we had to reach many parts of the front.

"We took up the question of training with your troops with general headquarters and found everything placed at our disposal. Officers were detailed to help us establish a staff college and corps schools; even officers of field rank instructed our men in the bayonet and in bomb throwing, thereby setting a fine example to our own officers."

Followed Our Own Policy.

"I recall also that your leaders in the war office, always direct in expression of opinion, agreed with me and my superiors that the Americans had formed their own army to fight in their own way, and did everything possible to help us carry out our aim. Field Marshal Haig told me that that was the only way, except possibly to meet an emergency, and hoped, as I did, that some day our armies would be located side by side.

"Fortunately, circumstances so shaped that instead of having to continue to this year we were enabled to end the war by the combined attack of the three armies. The association thus brought about has led to an understanding between the two armies that I am sure will be as lasting as time. I feel that the discharged and demobilized soldiers will carry with them into private life the necessity for closer and firmer union, to the end that we may be united as peoples likewise forever."

Must Be Based on Anglo-Saxon Union.

"It seems to me that all discussion of ways and means to prevent war and of plans for combined nations must be based on a union in thought and in part of the Anglo-Saxon peoples."

Viscount Middleton, representing the war office and the House of Lords, paid a warm tribute to Gen. Pershing and the American army.

TENNIS STARS MEET.

Chicago, July 18.—William Tilden, Jr., of Philadelphia, the National champion, Walter T. Hayes, of Chicago, and William Johnston and Robert Kinsey, the pair of California stars, are scheduled to meet today in the semi-final round of the National Clay Court Tennis championships. Tilden will play Kinsey and Johnston will clash with Hayes.

$1,000 SIDE BET.

New York, July 18.—Ted Lewis and Jack Britton met on Broadway today and before they parted they had made a side bet of $1,000 on the result of their coming eight round bout at Jersey City July 28.

LOCALS MUST PLAY BEST BALL SUNDAY

All Home Teams to Play Here in Past Tilts Against Some of the Best.

Local fans are assured of plenty of fast baseball in town on Sunday as all the teams will play at home. The Athletics will stack up against the fast Hendee Indians at the Mount Nebo diamond, the Hudsons will have for their opponents at the West Side playgrounds the Acorns of Kenington, Mass. The White Sox are scheduled to meet the Colt Fire Arms Company's team of Hartford at the Adams street lot.

This is the Hendees second appearance in town against the Athletics and the game promises to be of some interest as the Bay State welders of the hickory captured the first contest by a 4 to 2 score. Gaudette, the former sensation of the Federal League, is slated for Hendee mound duty on Sunday. He will be opposed by either Freddie Warnock or Darby O'Connell. The Hendees are booked for a series of games with the famous Flak Red Tops for the championship of Western Massachusetts according to the announcement in a Springfield paper yesterday. Manager Dowd expects to have "Pop" Edgar in the lineup for Sunday's game.

The Col's team, which will stack up against "The Sox" now holds second place in the Capitol City Industrial League. "Rube" Pollard, former Eastern League star, will appear on the mound for the visitors with his battery-mate Howerly on the receiving end. With the fast Colt aggregation behind him the White Sox will have to step some to come out at the big end. Daust and McAdams will in all probability be the local managements selection. This game will be called at 3.15 with Wormstedt of Rockville holding the indicator.

The Acorns of Kenington, who will appear against the Hudsons, are playing exhibitions throughout the state and have won 15 out of 19 games played.

The feature of their line-up is a one armed player, who, it is claimed, can play any position in the field with marvelous ease. With this team against them, the Hudsons face the strongest opposition of the season. Both the Hudsons and White Sox are eager for victories over fast teams at the present time in order to test their ability. The winner of a series which is being arranged between these two teams, will challenge the Athletics for the town championship. Manager Edwards has chosen Lang for Sunday's pitching selection.

Judge Alexander Arnott representing Frank Krar has brought suit against John Knoll for $44.64. A hearing has been assigned for Monday.

PERRETT TO LECTURE ON S. A. OVERSEA WORK

Large Collection of Allied and Enemy Trophies Will Be On Exhibition.

A lecture on overseas work with the Salvation Army, together with an exhibition of war trophies, will be given at the Salvation Army Citadel on Tuesday evening by Adjutant Edward J. Perrett of Edgerton street, who returned recently from active duty with the "army" on French soil. The Adjutant has a remarkable collection of souvenirs which include:

- One Boche gun taken from Thiacourt, France, October, 1918.
- One American gun taken from St. Benoit, France.
- One French gas alarm.
- One British gas alarm.
- One Hun gas mask.

- French message container used on carrier pigeons.
- Hun shells taken from airplane on October 25th, 1918.
- German barb wire cutters.
- American gas mask and steel helmet.

HOSE CO. NO. 2 ELECTS NEW ANNUAL OFFICERS

Dr. Sweet Again Foreman—Plan for Convention in New Haven for September.

At the annual meeting of Hose Company No. 2 of the north end fire department held last evening, Dr. F. A. Sweet was reelected foreman, Charles B. Loomis and H. L. Wilson assistants, Arthur E. Wilson secretary, Thomas Ferguson treasurer, William McGonigal steward and Charles B. Loomis auditor. Dr. Sweet and Charles B. Loomis will represent the company at the annual convention which is to take place in New Haven in September.

LOCKOUT IN CHICAGO.

Chicago, July 18.—Approximately 100,000 workmen affiliated with building trades here were locked out by building contractors today and millions of dollars worth of construction work was halted.

The lockout followed refusal of the workmen to respond to an ultimatum from the Building Construction Employers' Association that unless the men called off strikes that have been in progress for several weeks, all construction work would be stopped.

Developments in the street and elevated railway labor situation became more acute today when members of the union began taking a strike vote. Attempts to reach a compromise agreement on wage increases demanded by the carmen have failed.

FOCH IN LONDON.

London, July 18.—Marshal Foch, generalissimo of the allied armies, arrived from France today to take part in the peace celebration tomorrow. Great crowds cheered the famous soldier as he was driven to the Carlton Hotel.

Field Marshal Haig and scores of other notables greeted the Marshal at the railway station and extended formal welcome.

A guard of honor composed of Irish troops accompanied the Marshal while bands played the national anthem, the Marseillaise and the march of the men of Harlech.

KAROLYI LEAVES FOR U. S. Copenhagen, July 18.—Count Michael Karolyi, famous Hungarian statesman, has left for America, the German newspaper Kreuz Zeitung learns. Bela Kun is reported to have allowed the count to retain his fortune.

"WHERE IS OUR FATHER?" PLAINT OF THREE KIDS

All the Way From New Bedford to Find Thomas Carr Who Has Disappeared—Children in Care of Cheney Brothers.

Manchester a few days ago formed the background for a rather pathetic episode, when three children from New Bedford alighted from a train at the north end depot. There was an eager look upon their happy faces as the leader of the trio, a boy of twelve, dashed in among and around the people who were collected on the platform, evidently in search of someone who was to meet them there.

The dejected appearance of this boy when he returned soon changed the happy look on the faces of the younger two, a boy and a girl. The leader read the letter which he held in his hand and, undaunted, set out on a voyage of inquiry. He asked the way to the Edgewood Inn and the stranger to whom he had directed the inquiry told him to take a Crostown car.

The trio of juveniles boarded the trolley and were transferred at the Center to a Hartford car, which dropped them off at the Inn. Into the lobby, bag and baggage, stalked the three. Said the elder to the general manager, "I'm looking for my father, Mr. Thomas Carr, we came all the way from New Bedford to see him." The manager pityingly looked at the boy for he knew the father. "Sonny," said he, "I'm very sorry, your father is not here. He went away a few days ago and I don't know where he is."

Put yourselves in the children's position and imagine their feelings. They were happy with their grandmother in the little New Bedford home until one day a letter came from the father, Thomas Carr, a weaver at the Cheney Brothers' plant, who was boarding at the Edgewood Inn. The letter which was sent from Manchester on the tenth of July and received on the eleventh must have read, "Send the children at once to Manchester. I am working here."

And so the grandmother following instructions parted with her charges, two boys age twelve and a girl age five. They arrived in Manchester and were informed that the father had given up his job at the mills, received his wages and had departed, leaving no word as to where he was going and making no provisions for the children whose arrival he no doubt expected. The firm of Cheney Brothers will see that the children are well taken care of and sent back to their grandmother who, no doubt, is more of a trustworthy guardian than the father.

A. O. U. W. PLAN OUTING.

The members of the Past Master's Association A. O. U. W. of Connecticut will hold their summer meeting at Moegling's Beach House, Savin Rock, Saturday afternoon, July 26th.

The Supervisors of the different districts throughout the state will meet at the same time and place with Brother C. E. Embree, the new Superintendent of Extension, who will be present and outline plans for the extension work he is inaugurating. Invitations have also been sent to the principal officers of the different lodges and all members of the Order, and their lady friends are invited as well. It is planned to make this a general get-together and picnic such as has not been held by the A. O. U. W. in several years.

ELECTIONS COME HIGHER.

Cleveland, Ohio, July 18.—It's just one increase after another, moaned a Cleveland city official when news of the latest boost in prices was broken.

Now it's the elections. It is going to cost the city of Cleveland $155,000 more this year to take care of the 75,000 women voters under the suffrage amendment. The payroll of election officers will be increased $35,000, a large part of which will go to women precinct election officers, and 300 new voting booths will cost $120,000.

MOCKS STUTTERER AND NOW HE'S GOT HABIT.

New York, July 18.—Michael Bakun, of Brooklyn, probably will stutter for some time—all because he mocked Daniel Mucertine, one of his fellow-workers, who has stuttered since birth. Bakun mocked Mucertine and the latter swung one on his jaw which broke it. When Bakun appeared in court he stuttered so badly he could hardly talk. "Serves you right," said Magistrate Frothingham. "Defendant dismissed."

WILDE WINS ON POINTS OVER AMERICAN BOXER

Britisher Visibly Distressed at End of Bout—American Fight Fans Sny Decision Was Unjust.

London, July 18.—Jimmy Wilde, fly-weight champion, today holds a 20 round decision over Pal Moore, the American bantam, of Memphis, Tenn.

Wilde was awarded the decision by referee Corri on points, though at the end of the 20th round the British boxer was badly used up, bleeding from nose and mouth and visibly distressed. The decision was unpopular with the large American contingent which was included among 20,000 spectators who crowded the Olympian Coliseum. General Pershing, the Prince of Wales and Prince Albert were present.

UNFAVORABLE COMMENT.

New York, July 18.—Reports from London, telling how Jimmy Wilde was awarded a decision over Pal Moore at the end of their twenty round bout last night, caused a storm of unfavorable comment in boxing circles here today.

Accounts of the fight, from a number of sources, indicate that Wilde was badly beaten up by the American boxer and that the English system of scoring points proved unfair to Moore. Boxing fans here are recalling the experiences of Willie Ritchie, Gunboat Smith and other American boxers, and it is the consensus of opinion that Jack Dempsey, the new world's champion, will do well to confine his activities to this side of the water.

PROBE COAL PRICES.

Washington, July 18.—Investigation of increased costs of coal to be made by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, is provided by a resolution introduced in the Senate this afternoon by Senator Frelinghuysen, of New Jersey.

The resolution calls upon the Senate committee to determine whether high coal costs are due to economic conditions or profiteering.

GOVERNOR AT CAMP.

Hartford, July 18.—Governor Marcus H. Holcomb left his home in Southington this morning to go to the Connecticut State Guard Camp at Niantic where he has spent much of his time since the camp opened two weeks ago. A special tent had been pitched near the headquarters building for his accommodation. The Governor returned yesterday afternoon from a trip of inspection to the hatches of the Fish and Game Commission.

WILSON ASKS SENATORS NOT TO AMEND TREATY

critized old guard Republicans like Smoot, of Utah, and Warren of Wyoming, because of the reduction of the appropriation for the vocational rehabilitation of maimed American soldiers which caused the President to veto the sundry civil bill; Carpenter of Kansas, and Kellogg of Minnesota, who are both for the League Covenant with the minor interpretations, discussed with the President yesterday by McCumber, Colt and Nelson.

The President's conferences today were to be the last, at his invitation, until next Tuesday. It was stated at the White House. The President planned a day of comparative rest tomorrow, and on Monday he will have "open house" for Senators and Representatives who may wish to call. On the following day the "invited conferences" will be resumed, it was stated.

It was distinctly understood by McCumber, Colt and Nelson, however, according to the information they communicated to other Republican senators today that the President was unalterably opposed to the treaty being interpreted in any way that could be construed as textual amendments or as revisions, such as certain of the more radical Republican Senators still claim they will be able to fall back on or else prevent the ratification of the treaty, although they admit that they could no longer hope to muster the majority necessary to change the league covenant or any other part of it.

Can't Offend Other Nations.

The opposition Senators might be permitted, however, to describe the suggested explanatory or interpretive clauses of the proposed resolution of ratification as "interpretations," it was stated, provided that the language employed in framing them could not be construed as nullifying any of the text, or as being offensive to the nations other than the United States which signed the document, or as throwing any part, section or article, open to interpretation, survey or other action on the part of the league council.

PERMANENT GENERALS.

Washington, July 18.—President Wilson this afternoon urged Congress to confer the permanent rank of General on General John J. Pershing, commander in chief of the American Expeditionary Forces and Chief of Staff Peyton C. March, and the permanent rank of Admiral on Admiral William S. Benson, chief of naval operations and William S. Sims, who was in command during the war of naval forces in European waters.

JOHN D. KICKS ON PRICE.

Portsmouth, N. H., July 18.—If John D. Rockefeller has to pay thirty cents a gallon for his gas—his own product—he is determined to get his money's worth. He stood out for his rights on this point today protesting that the pump used to re-fuel his four automobiles did not give honest measure. The pump passed a triumphant examination however.

"Well," remarked the oil king, "that's the first correct pump I've seen in several days."

NO FLYERS FOR U. S.

Washington, July 18.—"The United States will have no active flying service after September 1," Senator Wadsworth, Chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, declared in the Senate this afternoon.

"The army air service is reduced to a mere shell," Senator Wadsworth said, "by the failure of Congress to make a sufficient appropriation for aviation. There won't be more than a dozen flying officers after September 1."

MCCOY KNOCKED OUT.

St. Paul, July 18.—Al McCoy, Brooklyn middleweight, pulled a "Jesse Willard" in his battle with Mike O'Dowd, of St. Paul, middleweight champion, last night, hitting the canvas seven times on clean knockdowns before he took the count of ten. McCoy had no luck in the matter of tossing in the towel, however, as the referee kicked the towel out of the ring twice when McCoy's manager threw it in. The knockout came in the third round.

Did His Best.

The tramp touched his hat and walked along beside the horseman. "You wouldn't think, 'er," he said, "but I once had a happy home." "Then," said the rider, "why didn't you do something to keep it happy?" "I did, 'er," said the tramp; "I left it."—London Tit-Bits.

TRADE SCHOOLS ASSIST DISABLED SERVICE MEN

Superintendent Trinder Tells of Work—Over Fifty Now Learning Craft of Some Sort.

Hartford, July 18.—Frederick J. Trinder, superintendent of the state trade schools announced today that over fifty disabled soldiers and sailors of the state had been enrolled in the various trade schools run by the state.

These men are now being taught trades and upon the completion of the courses will be given positions through a placement office conducted by the federal vocational department of rehabilitation. The course is given free by the state to all ex-service men who apply and are willing to be examined by the advisory board of the department.

It was announced that the state can care for over 400 additional ex-service men. Transportation for the men from their homes to the schools is now being arranged by the directors of the State Trades Department.

GERMANS "REGRET" MURDER.

Berlin, July 18.—Following a meeting at the war ministry to discuss the killing of Sergeant Mazehheim, of the French military mission, announcement was made by war office officials that a conciliatory note would be sent to Paris in reply to the French representations demanding a heavy fine for the crime.

The Mayor of Berlin has been held blameless by the government but chief of police, Herr Ernst, has been summoned to Weimar for examination by the cabinet. The Berlin police are said to be working hard to find the murderer.

Officials of the War Office, in discussing the incident, "regretted" the challenging attitude taken by the French government in its note.

IS WINNING PITCHER AT 40

Joe McGinnity, Famous "Iron Man" of Giants, Will Play With Vancouver This Season.

Although he has passed his fortieth milestone, Joe McGinnity is still pitching—and pitching winning ball at that. The once famous "Iron Man" who helped to win two National league pennants and a world's championship for John Joseph McGraw and the Giants, is now a member of the Vancouver club of the Pacific Coast International league.

McGinnity has lost most of his speed of former days, but his good control and deceptive underhand ball still enable him to fool the minor league batters. The "Iron Man" was one of the leading pitchers in the Pacific Coast International league last season. He won nine games and lost two for a percentage of .818.

DISLIKES 16-PLAYER LIMIT

On Account of Numerous Injuries to Men on His Team Manager Herr Wants an Increase.

Eddie Herr of the Salt Lake Bees is one manager who absolutely does not believe in the 16-player limit. Eddie has had several cripples on his team during the past few weeks, and has been handicapped in that respect so badly that he is overanxious to see an increase in the player limit. At the present time the Bees are in a rather crippled condition, and Eddie claims that, with the great attendance going on, there must be real playing as a return to the fans for their generosity in turning out to the games. Eddie says that the league is drawing big enough crowds to lift the ban.

NELSON PICKS DEMPSEY; GIVES SCOFFERS THE "RAZ"

One Time Title Holder Chose Three Heavyweight "Champs" in a Row On Eve of Fights.

New York, July 18.—Down in the little but widely advertised town of Hedgeswich, Ill., dwells the original "I told you so" of the fist world—"Battling Nelson," if you please.

Bat picked Johnson to win over Jeffries, Willard to win over Johnson and then, right in the face of a sea of Willard admirers, picked Dempsey to defeat the champion. And here is the logic Bat issued on the day previous to the fight to the writer while in Toledo waiting for the big quarrel:

"Picked Johnson over Jeffries, Willard over Johnson, and now making it three straight by picking Dempsey over Willard. Dempsey has in his favor youth and eleven years. He is in good condition and Willard is not. He has trained properly and Willard hasn't. He has been fighting regularly and Willard hasn't. Dempsey likes the game, can punch, is over six feet and weighs nearly 200 pounds. These are reasons enough why the challenger should and will win."

And what the "I told you so" did to the doubtful ones that night in Toledo after the fight was a sin. To one bird in particular whom Bat begged to "get down" on the challenger, Bat sputtered as follows:

"Yes, I know all you guys say that old Bat is crazy. Just like a fox I'm crazy. I feathered my nest on this battle and what is more, I'm going to feather my nest on others. Pick 'em? Say, that's my biggest suit. I don't pick from the standpoint of favoritism. I look 'em over, watch 'em work and then I pick the winner. Easy for me, and still you guys say old Bat is nuts. There's a lot of fine nuts in this country."

And then Bat happened to think of a few painful details of the big scrap and let go as follows:

"Say, where do they get that idea of charging two bits for ice water at the ringside? Sure, I put up two bits and the guy only let me have one dipperful of water. Can you beat it? Then I goes and puts up two bits for a hot dog and it was cold. Can you beat that? Just watch me at the next fight. I'm going to be there with a whole commissary department and with all my loose change down on the winner. 'Yep, Bat's pretty crazy, I'm saying.'"

TAGGING THE BASES

The Reds bunched hits off Al Mamaux and Sherry Smith, beating the Dodgers easily. Daubert led in the hitting, getting three blows.

Washington mauled "Red" Faber's delivery for seventeen safeties and the White Sox went down in defeat. Judge made four hits.

It took 17 innings for the Browns to defeat the Yankees after they had come from behind, tying the score in the ninth. An error by Bodie, who bobbled Roberston's single in the ninth, enabled St. Louis to tie the score.

Eddie Ainsmith's double in the second inning scored the runs that gave Detroit a victory over the Athletics.

Jess Barnes gave up only four hits to the Cubs and kept the Giants in first place.

Meadows and Jacobs, pitchers exchanged by Philadelphia and St. Louis, pitched against each other and Meadows won for the Phils, shutting out his erstwhile team mates.

BOLTON

Rev. Frank K. Abbott and son are in Brooklyn, N. Y., visiting the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Frank K. Abbott.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Skinner of Belknap are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter Monday the 14th. This is their third child.

Miss Lillian Reeves of Indianapolis is visiting Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Levey. Miss E. D. Shelton of Boston is a guest of Mrs. J. Wesson Phelps.

Mrs. S. M. Alvord has arranged for a neighborhood picnic to go by automobile truck to Riverside Park, July 29th, and wishes all to go who wish so to do.

TO GIVE UP FLIGHT.

St. John's N. F., July 18.—Captain Frederick P. Raynham, whose second attempt last yesterday to "hop off" on a flight to the British Isles ended disastrously, said today that he probably will ship his damaged Martinsyde plane home on the liner Gramplan, leaving in a few days and return to England himself.

Grave Situation in Germany Predicted When Enforcement Of Peace Terms Becomes Issue

London (by mail).—Now that the Germans have accepted the terms of peace, the real test as to whether those terms will be fulfilled to the letter will come not next week or next month but at the end of two or more years' time. Then there may be, in the language of the street, "something doin'."

That is a belief and a fear that is entertained in responsible quarters, though obviously no official desires to be quoted.

The situation, in brief, which is counted upon by German radicals and others to loosen the Allied shackles and destroy the peace edifice, is this: In a couple of years' time, or at the most, say five years, let the truly elected representatives of German labor rise up and say: "Rescind such and such a peace term. It is against the interests of world democracy and peace. If it is not withdrawn we shall fight!"

And the Allies would then be confronted with this very difficult problem: "Can we enforce such and such a term? Will the people back us up? Will they fight?"

There is every reason for believing that the common working and fighting men of all the Allied countries would refuse to enter again into another great war. The memory of the recent conflict is still too vivid and its sorrows and losses too great. They would, no doubt, fight for their own defense, but to fight to enforce some peace term which they might vaguely understand would be something else. The fact that unless such a term were enforced might throw heavier taxes upon Allied workmen, owing to the German delinquency, would have little argumentative weight, especially among those soldiers who gave four years of their lifetime and earning power to the recent conflict.

The situation is one the Germans are counting on very strongly today. They are even open about proclaiming it. The Manchester Guardian sums it up thus:

"The bulk of the German socialists believe that all over the world the labor parties are enormously increasing in strength and will soon have political control. These parties will see the workmen in Germany working under different conditions from themselves, and very soon the terms will be modified in all directions."

As the London Times points out, the Independent German Socialists and Communists frequently advocated the signing of the peace in the hope that the "world revolution" would come quickly.

"We must be done with the state of war, they say, and it is idle to dispute over terms dictated to us by a triumphant capitalism," says the Times. "They are no worse, the Germans say, than the terms which triumphant German capitalists would have inflicted. Sign the Peace, and let us get on with the Internationale; the united workers of the world will make short work of the Terms as soon as they have come to power!"

Clearly, heavy pressure could again be put on Germany at any time simply through the blockade. But, with insidious propaganda for "world socialism," which the Germans already are preparing to unleash, will the Allies, or even the League of Nations, be of sufficient power and influence to keep order in their own lands and at the same time make Germany "toe the mark" or tote in the marks?

DEWDROP STORIES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

THE VERY TALL FAIRY. (Written for the United States School Garden Army.)

"Oh, who are they?" cried Dolly, almost frightened.

"Those are Indians," said the Fairy. "Don't be afraid of them. They will not hurt you. They are dancing the Harvest Dance. Sometimes they call it the Corn Dance. Long years ago there were many Indians in this country. They had dances of different kinds. In the fall, when the corn was all gathered, they would dance to show how glad they were that they could have plenty of food for the winter. The women—they are called squaws—dried the corn and then ground it up into meal."

"I didn't know there were any Indians in our garden," said Dolly.

"They are only in the dewdrop," said the Fairy. "I just wanted you to know why it is called 'Indian' corn. The Indians had a funny way of knowing when to plant their corn in the spring. They said—'We plant it when the oak leaves are as large as squirrels' ears.' That means you must not put the grains in the ground too soon. They should be planted about May or June. Some vegetables, you know, can be planted as early as March. The radish is one. But then you can keep on planting radishes and gather one crop after another."

"The Potato Fairy told me just how to plant potatoes. Next year I shall be big enough to have a garden and I should like to know what the different kinds of seeds like."

"Well, I'll tell you how corn likes to be planted," said the Fairy.

"In the first place the ground must be plowed. I hardly think you could do that, but I will tell you so if any one asks you, you can know what to say. Then the ground must be made into good food for the seeds. People buy what they call 'fer-til-lizer' for that. Can you remember such a long word?"

"I'll try," said Dolly.

"Then the corn must be planted in rows about 3 feet apart. I notice that the corn in your garden is put in just right. In a big field it can be planted in long rows, but in a smaller garden like this it is best to have it in a kind of block. You see, there is a fine yellow powder that grows on the corn tassels. It must fall on the silk of the young ears so they will have plenty of grains on them. Unless the stalks are near enough together this powder is wasted and then there is no good corn."

"Is the corn silk like your hair?" asked Dolly.

"Yes, just like it."

"I think it is lovely," said the little girl.

"Thank you very much. Well, when you get the first roasting ears from your corn do you think you can remember all I have told you?"

"I think I can," said Dolly. "And I shall never forget those funny Indians. Just to think how many wonderful things there are in a garden. How glad I am that I can see the Dewdrop Fairies."

KISSES IN PARK HELD

O. K. BY PARK BOARD.
Springfield, Ill., July 18.—Is kissing in the park disorderly? No! Nor spooning, either. So ruled the Springfield park board.

Announcement that the board intended to "stop destruction of property, stealing of flowers and disorderly conduct" was construed as a blow at love making on the park benches. Young folks became frantic. Announcement by the board was quickly made.

The park board doesn't take cognizance of mere kissing or a little spooning so long as the spooning is in the proper way. "Boys and girls are human, and the parks are big. Anyway, it would be an impossible task. It can't be done. Our policemen make their rounds, but even a gray-haired policeman might overlook a little kiss."

FRENCH WOMEN APPEAR

IN STRIKING COSTUMES.
Paris, July 18.—"They're Wearing 'Em Higher in Hawaii" now runs second best to the styles in "gay 'Paree." French fashion dictators have decreed that Milady must shorten her skirts, even to the calf of the leg, and also use less goods in making the waist or upper part of the garment. As a result, feminine fashion leaders are now appearing in costumes which seem to have been ingendered for girls of ten and twelve; that is, when length is considered. Of course, the sleeves have been shortened and in most instances the waist, or bodice, is cut exceptionally low both in front and back. Low-cut stockings, or half hose, are usually worn with this costume.

BECOMES STEPFATHER TO

HIS OWN GRANDCHILDREN.
Jersey City, N. J., July 18.—Fredrick Schmidt, sixty, has become the stepfather of his own grandchildren. This unusual relationship was brought about a few days ago when Schmidt was married to the widow of his son, Mrs. Emma Schmidt, thirty-two.

"It's unusual, but we love each other," said the bride. Her former husband died three years ago.

NEW DIVORCE PLEA.

Akron, Ohio, July 18.—Another ground for divorce has been found. Katherine Gardis, says Louise Gardis, is "fond of long rests after short periods of labor," in her petition for the annulment of the bonds.

FAMED RUSSIAN DANCER.

GREAT HIT IN LONDON.

London, July 18.—Madame Thamar Karsovine, the world-famed Russian dancer, now has London gasping for breath and tingling with excitement while appearing in Serge Diaghlioff's season of Russian ballets in the British capital. Her startling, striking and decidedly scanty costumes have made her one of the most talked about women in London, and many critics are dividing their time between complimenting her ability and criticizing her costumes. Regardless of such criticism, the artist has been received with a record welcome.

BALL OF LIGHTNING PLAYS PRANK IN MAINE HOME.

Saco, Me., July 18.—During the heaviest thunder storm of the Summer here the two-story farm house of James W. Fenderson was struck by lightning. A ball of fire raced through every room in the house, setting fire to the curtains, upsetting the furniture and tearing plastering from walls and ceilings.

Mr. and Mrs. Fenderson and their sons, who were sleeping in the dwelling, were shocked.

NEWLY-WEDS SURPRISED BY FORMER CO-WORKERS

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schendel Entertained By a Party Given By Office Force of Spinning Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schendel of Main street were pleasantly surprised at their home on Main street last evening, by the members of the Spinning Mill Association. The Newly-weds were presented with many valuable gifts, including a purse of gold, amounting to $30, from the entire association. A presentation speech was made by Otto Nelson in behalf of the members. "Make yourselves right at home" was the invitation extended by the hostess, and the young people did. During the course of the evening solos were rendered by Messrs Stevens, Sudd and Felder. Carl Noren gave a number of impersonations in Swedish. A quartette composed of Messrs Montie, Wickam, Sudd and Nelson, drew forth rounds of applause. Games were also enjoyed and refreshments served.

LABOR SHORTAGE AT TOLLAND JAIL.

Prohibition is the main cause for shortage of labor at the county jail at Tolland, Jailer John Abbey had but four prisoners under his care, two of whom will be discharged the latter part of this month. It takes six men to run the jail farm. The four men now confined are keeping up the place, but the jailer declares that help will have to be engaged this month if no more prisoners are brought in. Only one arrest has been made this month by the Rockville police, and that for reckless driving. Last year ten arrests were made for the corresponding period.

QUALITY AND PRICES ARE WHAT COUNTS

We believe in giving a square deal to all, which means perfect vision, highest quality goods and low prices. As we sell six times as many glasses as anyone else in Manchester we can afford to sell them cheaper. If you want good, yet extra good glasses and don't feel that you can pay the high prices charged by some, then you should call at our South Manchester office and receive a square deal and get your glasses at the right price. Office Open Every Night Except Saturday from 8.30 to 5.00 p. m. At Optical Dept. G. Fox & Co. during the day. LEWIS A. HINES, Optician, Eye-Sight Specialist, 100 Main Street, Manchester, N.H.
