

Norris Asks to be Excused From Visiting Pres. Wilson

Chief Senate Antagonist to Shantung Provision of Peace Treaty Does Not Wish to be Bound by Any Confidence Chief Executive May Impose on Him.

Washington, July 21.—Senator Norris, of Nebraska, chief Senate antagonist to the Shantung provision of the peace treaty, was today undecided whether he will accept President Wilson's invitation to meet him at the White House. The Nebraska Senator was included in the White House appointments announced for today, but postponed because of the President's illness, and it is understood that he was to have asked that he be excused for the present.

Wants to be Free to Speak.
It was understood that one reason Senator Norris was reluctant to confer with President on Shantung was because he planned to deliver another address on the subject in the Senate in the near future and he therefore did not want to be bound by any confidence the President might impose upon him. The President might impart to him "inside information" regarding Shantung, it was pointed out, which the Senate had already received or might receive from other sources, and which, owing to the President's confidences, he might be unable to incorporate in his expected speech.

Appointment Resolution.
With the President desirous of postponing his conferences with Republican Senators at the White House Senator Hitchcock, of Nebraska, ranking Democrat of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was scheduled to introduce in the Senate early this week the enabling act or resolution for the appointment by the President, "by or with the advice or consent of the Senate" of the representatives of the United States in the League of Nations council and assembly and other official bodies.

Opposition Will Windle.
It was agreed between the President and Senator Hitchcock, it was stated, that the measure should emphasize these explanations or interpretations of certain moot provisions or aspects of the peace treaty against which opposition in the Senate-administration Senators said would probably dwindle, and once they were clearly defined and understood. Some Senators who are out and out advocates of amendments or reservations declared today that there were explanatory interpretations which would not satisfy them.

RUMORS VERIFIED.

London, July 21.—Dispatches from Swiss sources today confirm the report that Bela Kun has been disposed as Red dictator of Hungary and that a Bolshevik leader of even more radical tendencies is in the saddle at Budapest. The new regime is reported to be forming a terrorist army. Bela Kun ruled approximately four months.

TO GET STRIKE BREAKERS.

New York, July 21.—Members of the American Steamship Association probably will be asked to pool their interests and move the most important shipments tied up by the marine workers' strike, at this afternoon's meeting, it was said today. Recruiting officers for strike breakers will also be opened and every effort made to replace the strikers. About 800 longshoremen quit work today.

SECRET PEACE PACT.

London, July 21.—The Laibach correspondent of the Daily Express comprehended today that he had learned that the Italians and Roumanians have concluded a secret treaty, aimed against the Jugo-Slavs, unknown to the peace conference in Paris.

U. S. to Handle New Mexican Problem With Vigorous Hand, Say Officials

Washington, July 21.—The United States government intends to handle the new outrages against American citizens in Mexico with a firm and vigorous hand, despite assurances from Carranza that he would make earnest attempts to prosecute the murders of John W. Correll, victim of Mexican bandits. This was plainly reflected today in the attitude of State Department officials. Both the State and Navy Departments were awaiting additional details of the Temesi River incident and officials made no effort to minimize the seriousness of the situation caused by the attack upon and robbery of American sailors of the U. S. S. Cheyenne, by an armed force along that stream. They refused to divulge what procedure would be followed but made it very plain that they had no intention of letting the matter drop. It was believed in some quarters that the Carranza government would be called upon to disavow the attack and to furnish satisfactory guarantees that there would be no recurrence of such incidents. Thus, it was pointed out, the way would be opened for drastic action by this government in the event that Mexican outrages did not cease forthwith.

BOSTON'S STRIKE OVER; EMPLOYEES WIN BATTLE

"Hub" Carmen Are Now the Highest Paid in the World.

THE NEW WAGE SCALE

Beginners Get 50 Cents an Hour as Motormen and Experienced Men 60—Rhode Island Still Tied Up.

Boston, July 21.—Wheels of surface, elevated and subway cars of the Boston Elevated Railway Company turned today after a four day suspension caused by a strike of 7,800 union employees. The strikers went back to work as the highest paid carmen in the world, according to union leaders. But they considered that their greatest triumph was the recognition of the eight hour day, under specified working conditions. Under this phase of the award of a local board of arbitration the Boston Elevated men become the first street railway workers in the United States to achieve eight hour day conditions.

Hereafter the actual working day of the men will not be interrupted by layoffs which formerly dragged out the period during which the men were on call each day.

The New Wage Scale.

The carmen were receiving a minimum of 43 cents an hour and a maximum of 48 cents for 9 in 11 hours work. They demanded 73 1/2 cents for 8 hours. Under the new scale they receive from 47 cents an hour to recruit brakemen on rapid transit lines to 62 cents an hour to experienced motormen on the same lines.

Surface line motormen receive 50 cents per hour for beginners and 60 cents per hour for experienced men.

Means Ten Cent Fare.

Trustees of the road said that the additional cost of the wage award to the company would be about $1,500,000 for blue uniform men alone. They said they could meet it if the public would continue to patronize the road and pay the ten cent fare. The loss to the company during the strike was estimated at $250,000 and the loss to the men in wages about $160,000, the trustees said.

R. I. STILL TIED UP.

Providence, R. I., July 21.—The third day of the trolley strike here, in which the entire traction system of the Rhode Island Company, serving thousands of people and forcing 2,700 employees of the road to remain idle, opened today with the union officials considering the receivers' proposition of 55 cents an hour with the 1917 working conditions in effect.

Business Agent Coleman of the Carmen's Union, said it was doubtful if the strikers would accept 55 cents in view of the 60 cents awarded striking carmen in Boston. The Rhode Island carmen demanded a raise from 48 to 75 cents an hour and the eight hour day.

WASHINGTON RACE RIOTS WORRY CAPITAL'S POLICE

Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Mobilizing to Make Attack on Blacks Tonight.

Washington, July 21.—Washington today faced the possibility of witnessing real race riots. Following small disturbances on two nights, the word went out today for mobilization tonight of service men, who it was stated, would attempt to "clean up." It was believed tonight would find both the military and metropolitan police facing a serious situation.

Disturbances along Pennsylvania avenue, scene of many historic parades, and pageants, continued until early today, and it was estimated that some 15 negroes were injured in the score or more clashes. No weapons were used by the participants. But flying fists, with negroes on one side and soldiers, sailors, marines and white civilians on the other, did considerable damage. The spark of race riot has been smouldering for more than a week as a result of several attacks upon white women by negroes.

FIVE CORSET FACTORIES SHUT DOWN BY STRIKE

Over 5,000 Employees Have Now Quit—Want Increase of 50 Per Cent.

Bridgeport, July 21.—A general strike of corset workers in all the factories here that were still in operation went into effect at ten o'clock this morning, tying up the center of the corset industry of the country. About 3,600 employees walked out, from five factories, joining the 2,500 that were locked out by Warner Brothers on July 12.

The workers want an increase of 50 per cent in wages, a 44 hour week, a closed shop and free thread for their work.

A peculiar condition prevails in the fact that the demands have not yet been presented to the employers. The demands were formulated on July 11 and Warner Brothers, the next morning, before any presentation had been made, closed their factory. Since then the union has been conferring with Warner Brothers, but has had no connection with any of the other concerns.

Warner Brothers had conceded the free thread and had practically reached an agreement on wage increases of from 15 to 30 per cent in various departments, but a deadlock existed on the closed shop and the 44 hour week. The other factory officials had unofficially announced that they would stand by Warner Brothers' position.

PLUMBERS STRIKE.

Stamford, July 21.—The local plumbers went on strike here today because the master plumbers declined their request for $7 a day and other requests. According to members of both sides of the controversy, it is expected, a compromise will be effected in a few days.

PERSONAL DISLIKE OF WILSON, REASON FOR LEAGUE ATTACK

So Says Senator Harrison of Mississippi in Fiery Speech Today.

LODGE'S MIND BECLOUDED BY PARTISAN PREJUDICE

Opponents of Pact Employing Oratory Which Sounds Sympathetic to German Ears, He Declares.

Washington, July 21.—"To personal dislike" of President Wilson, Senator Pat Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, attributed much of the opposition among certain republican Senators to ratification of the peace treaty in a speech in the Senate this afternoon.

Harrison also charged that the Republican Senators reflected the opposition to the disarmament provisions of the League of Nations covenant on the part of the munition and armament workers of Pennsylvania, Delaware, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts "into whose pockets millions of dollars have flowed in the past decade."

Republicans Jealous.

The Mississippi Senator declared that certain Republican Senators, jealous of President Wilson's "growing ascendancy" exhausted every means at their command to embarrass and harass the President while he was laboring at the peace conference. He assailed Senators Knox of Pennsylvania, Frelinghuysen of New Jersey and Lodge of Massachusetts, who, he said, had argued that the league covenant "affected the rights of American labor."

"When did these distinguished Senators become so solicitous, so much interested in the welfare of labor?" he asked. "What is there in their public records to disclose to labor their interest in it or sympathy for it?"

Accuses Lodge.

Senator Harrison accused Senator Lodge of attempting to embarrass the President during the Flume controversy, by telegraphing the Italian societies of Boston approval of the Italian claims in the Adriatic.

"His mind was beclouded by partisan prejudice and his heart was moved by political expediency," the Mississippi Senator declared.

Fan Fires of Discontent.

Republican Senators, Harrison charged "when the representatives of America were doing everything in their power, commensurate with right and justice, to compromise our differences with Japan and maintain our friendly relations with her, fanned the fires of discontent and did everything to widen the breach.

In their efforts to hamper and injure the President, Senator Harrison continued, they had even gone so far as to adopt tactics and employ oratory which "sounded sympathetic to German ears."

YOU CAN'T WALK THERE; WHY NOT TAKE AN AUTO?

Hand Your Name in Tonight and a Place Will Be Reserved for You.

One of the especially pleasant features of the Chamber of Commerce outing which is to be held at Savin Rock on Thursday will be the auto ride down there.

All that is necessary to have a comfortable seat in a machine for the trip is to notify the outing committee. But this notice must be sent out tonight so as to reach Secretary George Waddell of the committee tomorrow.

The committee plans to have the list printed and distributed and in order to do this it will be absolutely necessary to have the names all in tomorrow.

Sand in cards of acceptance tonight and be assured of a place in a machine for the big time.

"WE CANNOT START ANOTHER WAR" SAYS VON BERNSTORFF IN SPEECH

President Is Ill; Ordered to Bed By Doctor; Condition Not Serious

Washington, July 21.—President Wilson, immediately upon his return today from a week-end cruise on the Mayflower, was ordered to bed by his personal physician, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, who said the President was suffering from an attack of dysentery.

Admiral Grayson stated that the President's condition is not at all serious, but that he will take no chances and will keep him in bed until he has fully recovered. He hoped, he said, to have the President up and about in a day or two, although he could not say positively when it would be. The President is understood to have been anxious to keep the appointments he had made for the day, but Admiral Grayson persuaded him to postpone them. When the President left Saturday night for his cruise on the Mayflower he was slightly indisposed from an attack of indigestion, and the cruise failed to benefit him.

The President's engagements today called for meetings with Senators Edge, of New Jersey, Norris, of Nebraska, Calder of New York, and Cummins of Iowa, in addition to Thomas Nelson Page, Ambassador to Italy, who was scheduled to tender his resignation.

AUSTRIA HANDED PACT; BULGARIA IS THE NEXT

Former Dual Monarchy Has Ten Days to Sign Up.

ARMY LIMITED TO 30,000

May Have But One Munition Plant— Czecho, Poles, Roumanians and Jugo-Slavs Must Help Pay War Debt.

Paris, July 21.—With the Austrian treaty virtually disposed of, the final terms having been handed to Dr. Renner, of the Austrian peace delegation without ceremony yesterday, belief prevailed in conference circles today that the Bulgarian treaty would be completed this week and presented to Premier Theodorof within ten days.

Austria is expected to signify within the ten days stipulated by Premier Clemenceau her readiness to sign up. Dr. Renner sent numerous notes to the conference and Premier Clemenceau, after handing in several replies finally told him that the treaty itself would constitute the answer to the balance.

The main points of the Austrian treaty are:

- 1—Austria will be granted a slice of Hungarian territory between the Danube and Jugo-Slavia in the region of Odenburg and Stein.
- 2—Czecho-Slovakia will be granted a bridgehead on the south bank of the Danube facing Pressburg, thus gaining access to two railroads running southward.
- 3—Austria will be granted a strip of Czecho-Slovakia near Gmund and along the Moravia valley.
- 4—The Austrian army will be limited to 30,000 men, supplied by one munition plant.
- 5—Czecho-Slovakia, Poland, Roumania and Jugo-Slavia are to bear $300,000,000 of the former Dual Monarchy's war debt. The Czechs are to pay half and the balance is to be levied among the other three powers. These states must also meet a portion of Austria's pre-war public debt as well as certain other financial liabilities.
- 6—Austria is bankrupt.

Conference experts agree that the war leaves Austria absolutely bankrupt and that the allies will have to take up the task themselves of restoring her economically and financially.

The biggest questions now outstanding are:

- 1—Settlement of Turkey's new frontiers and the status of that nation.
- 2—The Adriatic problem. No agreement on Turks. No definite agreement has yet been reached regarding the proposal to expel all of the Turks from Europe. In view of the determined stand made by Mussulmans living in territory under British sway it is

Would Not If She Could, He Declares—Warns Against Speculating on War Be- tween Japan and U. S.— Must Comply With Terms of Treaty and Get Into League.

Berlin, July 20 (via Berlin, July 21).—"Everybody living in Germany knows that we neither would nor could undertake a war of revenge," declared Count von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, in an address here this afternoon.

No Japanese-U. S. War.
Count von Bernstorff also warned against speculating on a war between America and Japan which he said "is a mistake often made in Germany before." This speculation, added Bernstorff, would revive Germany's old reputation of figuring on discord between other nations. Such a conflict, the former Ambassador argued, is made further improbable because the United States is concentrating on her Pan-American interests while Japan is looking to the Far West.

"We Must Comply."

"The protest under which our government signed the treaty still remains in full force, but having signed loyalty and honesty demand compliance," continued Count von Bernstorff. "This, however, will not prevent us from announcing to the whole world that our foreign policy centers in revisions of the terms promised by our adversaries."

To Get Into League.

The ex-Ambassador said that the safest foreign policy would be for Germany to strive for admission into the League of Nations as the best medium to facilitate the resumption of friendship with the allied and associated powers and to "insure a fair revision of the peace treaty," especially aiming at a union of Germany and German Austria and the restoration of lost German territory or leastwise of the German nationality of its population.

C. of C. Committee and Company Officials Discussing Situation Be- hind Closed Doors.

Norwich, July 21.—In an effort to arrange immediate settlement of the strike of employees of the Shore Line Electric Railway Company the committee appointed at Saturday's conference of members of the state chamber of commerce here, consisting of Theodore Bodenwell of New London, Attorney A. Search for Russian Who Slew His Neighbor.
Southbridge, Mass., July 21.—Search was made today for Michael Makowitch, aged 41, a farmer, accused of killing Louis E. Wells, aged 45, in front of his farm in Union, Conn., across the state boundary line.

Witnesses said Makowitch drove up in his team last night, stopped within four feet of Wells, stood up in the vehicle and fired a rifle bullet into the heart of his neighbor. Then he calmly drove away.

Makowitch's wife left him a week ago, taking her seven children to the home of Wells. This is believed to have made Makowitch angry against Wells.

BUILDING LINE MEETING NOW IN HANDS OF JUDGE

Judge Smith Reserves Decision After Hearing Arnott and Hyde Present Arguments.

A hearing on the writ of mandamus ordering the selectmen to call a special town meeting to discuss the proposed removal of that part of certain buildings on Main street, which it is alleged extends over the building line, was held before Judge Edward L. Smith in Hartford today at 10.30 o'clock.

After hearing both sides of the case and listening to testimony by several engineers the Judge reserved his decision.

George A. R. Johnson, the town engineer who drew up the map which is said to differ materially from the written description of the building line, was one of those called to testify before the Judge.

Albert L. Washburn, an engineer of Hartford, was called in as an expert to render an opinion on certain points.

Other witnesses were Howard Taylor, W. C. Cheney, members of the Board of Selectmen and J. F. Bowen, town engineer.

Judge Alexander Arnott spoke against the calling of the meeting and William S. Hyde presented the arguments in favor of such action. The pleas of each side were rather extensive and Judge Smith said that he would require some time in which to render a decision.

Although both cars suffered from the crash, no one was hurt. The Overland received the worst damages, a front wheel being shattered and the hood smashed. Damages to the out-of-town car were of a minor nature.

According to witnesses, Jacobs was proceeding west on West Center street and was just about to turn on to Cooper street, when the Packard, coming east on West Center street, crashed into him. The Overland was taken to a garage for repairs while the other car proceeded to its destination.

TO MAKE AUTO MARKERS IN STATE REFORMATORY

Contract for $70,000 Worth Won by Connecticut Institution—Will Save Money.

Hartford, July 21.—Automobile markers valued at from $60,000 to $70,000 will be made at the Connecticut Reformatory for Boys at Cheshire beginning August 1 and 2,500 plates will be furnished the motor vehicle department daily, it was announced today by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles Robbins B. Stoeckel.

It is expected that all of the markers to be used next year will be stored in the basement of the Capitol by November 1. Machinery has been installed in a special building constructed at the reformatory and the work will be carried on under an appropriation of $80,000 by the last session of the Legislature.

Commissioner Stoeckel said the bid put in by the reformatory for the automobile markers was several thousand dollars less than one put in by an Ohio corporation which has contracted for the work in previous years. No Connecticut firms have contracted for the work and the money to be paid the reformatory will remain in the treasury of the state government as it will be transferred from one department to another.

Markers for other state departments are also to be made at the plant installed at the reformatory.

WOMEN HARDER TO PLEASE THAN MEN IN MARRIAGES.

At least divorce figures compiled for the past year by County Clerk Haserodt would so indicate and he declares "figures never lie."

During the past twelve months 2,680 women sought to sever the tie that binds, while 1,253 men asked the court to free them.

William Howard Taft Writes About Treaty Reservations

Treaty Can Not Be Changed Without Consent of Other Nations which Helped Win War—France and Smaller Powers Regard Article Ten as Vital.

BY WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT. Copyright, 1919, by Public Ledger Company.

Mr. Root's letter to Mr. Lodge raises two questions that will bear discussion. He suggests reservations instead of amendments in the ratification, and says that they need not and will not delay the going into effect of the treaty of peace. He says that many precedents justify this view. This statement needs analysis in order to understand it and its weight.

A treaty is a contract. The minds of the contracting parties must meet before it becomes binding on either. One party cannot change the contract after the other has agreed to it, and bind the other party to the change, without the other's acquiescence in it. Strictly speaking, a reservation in the consent of the Senate to a signed treaty, though the reservation be only one of interpretation, must be concurred in by the other party if the reservation is to play any future part in construing the treaty. Otherwise, the reservation is merely an ineffective expression of opinion by the Senate. This was the case in the Spanish treaty, where, after ratification, the Senate passed a resolution as to what it meant by its ratification. The Supreme Court held that it had no effect in construing the treaty.

How Treaties Are Made. The ordinary procedure in treaty making is first the drafting and signing of the treaty by the plenipotentiaries of the contracting governments. The signed duplicates of the treaty are referred back to the Governments, to be ratified by them. These ratifications are then exchanged between the contracting governments, and each government makes known, in its own way, the treaty thus agreed to. It is in the procedure of exchanging the ratifications that such reservations as Mr. Root speaks of are acquiesced in and become part of the treaty. If the ratification of the United States, for instance, contains a reservation to which the Government receiving it makes no objection, it may be held to acquiesce in the reservation contained in the ratification of the United States, and thus to agree to make it part of the treaty.

As to Article Ten. There is no real distinction in principle between reservations and amendments; but important amendments are not usually incorporated in treaties in this easy, silent and summary way. The nation receiving a reservation in a ratification would naturally require further negotiation and conference if the reservation changes materially the obligations of the parties to the treaty. The precedents to which Mr. Root refers, therefore, are not important in deciding the question which his letter raises to the Article X, because the question in each case always is whether the reservation or amendment is so important that the other nations are not likely to let it go without question. If they do not, then negotiations must be resumed and the delay which Mr. Root seeks to avoid must occur. The issue, therefore, is whether the other nations in receiving a ratification of the United States containing a reservation refusing to consent to Article X, and striking it out of the obligations of the United States under the treaty, would accept the ratification, without demanding, as they would have the right, further negotiations before consenting to this change.

France Would Object. The anxiety of France to strengthen her defense against Germany, apparent throughout the proceedings of the conference, indicates that she would ask further conference. Her representatives labored to secure a provision in the league covenant under which a permanent international police force would be constantly under arms and under a general staff, to act instantly in defense of league members subject to unprovoked attack. More than this, she secured the promise of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lloyd George to present to their respective governments a special defensive treaty securing the instant action of England and the United States in case of an unprovoked attack by Germany. We can reasonably surmise, therefore, that France would seriously object to eliminating an article furnishing her some defense against such an tack, however short it may fall of her earnestly expressed wish.

Moreover, other and smaller nations would probably object. The importance of the article in the whole plan of the league is manifest. It is the inducement by which the weaker nations are brought into a league. It is the chief protection which the league offers them. The fact that the United States, with its great prestige, its disinterestedness and its moral influence, as well as its military potentiality, is under the obligation of Article X constitutes the great cautionary and minatory effect of that article, making it powerful as an agency in restraining wars of conquest. If the United States is to back out of the article, the league will be weakened. The nations, great and small, interested in the league, therefore, will not be likely to pass over such an amendment lightly, but will naturally insist on a re-examination of the whole covenant when its character is thus materially changed.

The Hyphen Again. Mr. Root's argument that we should refuse consent to Article X because some of our foreign-born citizens may object to our helping to discipline their native countries under the Article is a curious one in view of the lessons of the war just ended. We probably had more natives from Germany than from any other country in our citizenship when we went to war with Germany. Nothing came under more bitter condemnation than their hyphenated citizenship and their opposition to the war. The question which Mr. Root's objection raises, therefore, is whether, after this experience, we are to allow those who seek refuge in our country and enjoy the boon of our freedom and institutions to restrain us from doing our duty and sharing the burden of the world in maintaining peace. Shall we thus officially recognize and acquiesce in the generally condemned hyphenated Americanism? Shall we avowedly allow it to influence our future international relations? One of our great national aims, now insisted on, is a more complete Americanization of our foreign-born citizens. Is no reform to be brought about in this regard? Is anticipation of this continued evil to deter us from a course full of world usefulness?

SAM KOTCH SNATCHES VICTORY IN THE NINTH FOR THE ATHLETIC NINE

Great Game With Hendee's Goes to Manchester by 6-5 Score.

RUMPUS OVER DECISION RECALLS THE OLD DAYS

Kotch's Fast Slide Fools Visitors—They Protest Ump's Verdict But Yield in End.

Sammy Kotch today is the miracle man of Manchester. The stocky little right fielder of the Athletics came into his own yesterday afternoon at the Mount Nebo grounds and has endeared himself in the hearts of local fans forever. Sammy virtually won yesterday's game by his daring steal from third. It tied the score and paved the way for an Athletic victory over the Hendee Indians by a score of 6 to 5. It was a ninth inning victory, and it happened this way:

The home team came up in the ninth inning with the score 5 to 4 in favor of the visitors. "Jerry" Fay up, faced Gaudette and slammed the first offering far out into right. It looked good for a homer and the crowd arose to their feet as one. But Finn, the Hendee right gardener pulled down the sphere with a wonderful one hand stab. The crowd groaned and Jerry retired. Mister Samuel Kotch then stepped to the plate and sent one right over the bag of the dizzy corner.

Lamprecht up, advanced Kotch to second with a safe hit to left field. Kotch took third and Lamprecht second when Reynolds threw wild on the return. The crowd pleaded with "Darby" O'Connell to tie the score with just a "lil one." But the best Darby could do in this case was to pop a weak one to center. Scheidte advanced to the plate determined to do or die. What a chance for glory! A man on second and third and two out. One needed to tie, one more to win.

The Indians Go Wild. Two balls and one strike were called on Scheidte. It looked bad. Just as Gaudette was winding up, Kotch electrified the crowd by a daring steal from third. The ball and Sammy reached the plate almost simultaneously. A moment of suspense and then the umpire's decision. "Safe" yelled Buster Johnson. And then followed a mob scene paralled only by Griffith's famous "close-up" battle in the "Birth of a Nation."

Umpire Johnson was surrounded by irate Hendee rooters and players. An outer circle of home team rooters soon formed in large numbers. Backstop Feeley of the Indians protested that he had touched his man before he struck the plate. Buster differed from his opinion and refused to alter his decision. The scene was a repetition of the old Rockville-Manchester contests. Play was resumed shortly after with Lamprecht on second and Scheidte at the bat. The ball shot out from Gaudette's hand. Crack, the sphere flew toward left field on a low line. Lamprecht rounded the dizzy corner as the fielder made his return, and Lamprecht's safe slide into the plate put the finishing touches on the greatest battle ever staged on Mount Nebo. It was six o'clock when the contest ended but the fans didn't care.

Bring Many Rooters. The Indians arrived late yesterday afternoon, although preceded three hours in advance by about 100 hundred loyal Hendee rooters who came down in trucks. Finally the contenders for the championship of Western Massachusetts appeared and after a few minutes' practice got into the game.

The visitors started off in earnest in the opening stanza but clever support by the locals prevented any tallies. The Athletics determined to get Gaudette in their half. Manager Dowd sent Scheidte to the plate. The latter walked and took second on Sammy Massey's sacrifice. "Pop" Edgar, recently returned overseas veteran, made his first appearance on a United States diamond this season and was given a great ovation. "Pop" acknowledged the plaudits of the crowd with a smashing liner to short. The drive went through Denault and Scheidte romped home with the first run of the game. The inning ended with the score 1 to 0, favor the home team. The visitors gained a lead in their half of the second however was Denault singled to left and look third on Cerago's double. Both batters were sent across the pan by Feeley's hit to center. The Athletics could do nothing in their half and the second inning ended with the score 2 to 1 in favor of the Hendees. Both sides were retired in one, two, three order in the third.

Gain in the Fourth. In the fourth Manchester gained two more runs. Wilson up singled and took second on a fielder's error. Another error in the Hendee outer garden on Fay's hit enabled Wilson to cross the plate. Kotch sent a scorcher through the shortstop, scoring Wilson from second. A double play ended the inning.

By bunching hits in the sixth the visitors sent three men across the plate, thereby gaining a two run lead. "Darby" O'Connell replaced Fred Warnock on the mound and the game went scoreless until the Athletics' half of the eighth when "Pop" Edgar opened with a two bagger and was sent home by Sipples' clout of the same calibre. The score stood 5 to 4 favor the visitors when the ninth opened up. The Hendees were retired in one, two, three order, and then the ninth inning battle for supremacy began. The box scores follow:

LANG PITCHES HUDSONS TO A CLOSE VICTORY

Acorns of Kennington, Mass., Are Trounced at West Side Playgrounds Yesterday.

Lang's pitching enabled the Hudsons to defeat the fast Acorns of Kennington, Mass., at the West Side playgrounds yesterday afternoon by a score of 6 to 5. Yesterday's victory for the Hudsons was a remarkable one as the Acorns have trimmed many fast teams throughout the state and have a 99 per cent record. Dasil, the one armed wonder of the visitors, proved to be a big drawing card. He played center field, but was not given much of an opportunity to display his ability.

Aside from Lang, Wilkinson and Denny starred for the locals, their work with the willow being a dominant factor. Both men were credited with 2 two-baggers each. J. McCormick and Hutchinson starred for the visitors. On Sunday, August 3rd, the first game of the series between the Hudsons and White Sox, will be played. This game will be staged at the Pleasant street grounds.

FAMOUS HOTEL SOLD.

London, July 21.—The Bull and Royal Hotel, at Preston, which for more than a hundred years has been famous as a sporting and social centre of the north, has been sold by Lord Derby to a local syndicate.

The Bull and Royal was bought by Lord Stanley, afterwards the twelfth Earl of Derby, in 1773, and has remained in the family ever since. Its great assembly rooms, which were added by the Lord Derby of cock-fighting fame, were always the scene of dances during the old Preston races, which were discontinued in 1848.

"BEST MAN" AS NINETY-TWO. Sao, Mafo, July 21.—When William Lorenzo T. Davis, eighty-one, took as his bride Mrs. Dora Augusta Weymouth Davis, aged fifty-seven, the "best man" was Alan Davis, ninety-two years old.

WHITE SOX HOLD COLTS TO SIX TO FOUR SCORE

Hartford Nine Makes Strong Rally But Finds it Too Late to Count.

In a rather loosely played game at the Adams street grounds yesterday afternoon, the White Sox defeated the Colt Fire Arms Company's team of Hartford by a score of 6 to 4. The locals outplayed the visitors at every stage of the game and victory for the former was never in doubt.

The Sox gained a five run lead in the early stages of the game and began to take things easy. So easy in fact that the visitors took advantage of the opening in their half of the seventh and sent three runs across the pan. P. Daoust who had the pleasure of pitching against his former team mates, then tightened up and there was no more scoring by either team after this inning.

Spans Ankle. Plitt, the local's third baseman was the star of the game and featured with his work at bat, connecting safely three out of four times at bat. Algrithm also played well at second. P. Daoust, having resting his twirling arm for a week, came back and pitched effectively throughout the game. He shaded Moran of the Colt team whose twirling was also of stellar calibre. Outfielder Fisher of the visiting aggregation was forced to retire when he sprained his ankle badly while making a hard try for a hit ball. The box scores follow:

PERILS OF BASEBALL IN NINE BIG REELS

Athletic-Hendee Game Furnishes Series of Thrills to Spectators.

Aside from the thrills furnished at the Mount Nebo grounds yesterday afternoon, there were three accidents. While the pitchers were warming up before the game a baseball, thrown wild, struck Michael Raggetts of Keener Court on the head knocking him off a section of a water main on which he was sitting. Michael, better known to the juvenile element as "Pop", was picked up and carried to the water bucket for treatment. A large abrasion on his forehead loomed up prominently. "Did it hurt you Pop?" asked a bystander. "Just knocked me off the pipe, that's all", replied "Pop."

During the game a foul ball shattered the wind shield of an auto stationed out in the field. Two women were in the car at the time but they escaped being hit by the flying fragments. Later on a young lady sitting near the side line was hit in the forehead by a ball hot off the bat of a Hendee player. The young lady was given first aid treatment and recovered sufficiently to witness the spectacular finish of the game.

FORM SOCCER TEAM.

At a meeting held last week in the Recreation building, a new soccer team for Manchester was organized. This team, which will be known as the Manchester Swifts, plans to compete in the Hartford and District Soccer League. The management has secured such local stars as Falcon, Dixon and Hewitt. A meeting will be held at the Recreation Center on Thursday evening for the purpose of electing officers. All former junior players are requested to appear.

THE POPULAR VOTE.

It is unfortunate that all ratifications of Constitutional amendments are not subjected first to a popular vote instead of to legislative action.

The Court was once in favor of the direct primary for nominating candidates for office, but has now recanted on that subject. The same objections that apply to the direct primary apply to the popular vote on constitutional amendments.

This is not a good time for Mexico to presume upon the good nature of the United States government. We are not doing as much watchful waiting as we were a few years ago, neither are we so unprepared for war as we were then.

WATCH AUSTRIA.

The delivery of the final peace terms to Austria was a business-like affair. There was no ceremony and no one went out of their way to keep from offending the sensitivities of the Austrian representatives.

Yet the treaty should receive the best thought of all statesmen for it is on Austrian territory and the adjacent lands that much of the world's trouble has been bred. It is there that democracy was least established and it is there that the great democratic nations will have to give their attention to the growth of liberal ideas.

PROHIBITION BRINGS AN

END TO TIPS, SAY WAITERS. Cleveland, Ohio, July 21.—Prohibition may be hard on those who needed a cocktail to stimulate their appetite and a quart of champagne as a chaser, but it has become a regular nightmare for the chaps who used to serve the drinks.

PRINCE JOACHIM GAMBLER.

Geneva, July 21.—The Tribune states that Prince Joachim of Prussia, one of the ex-Kaiser's sons, has just bought for nearly $100,000 the beautiful villa named Favorita, at Castagnola, near Lugano.

BELGIUM TO MAKE OSTEND

PLAYGROUND OF SIGHTSEERS. London, July 21.—Belgium proposes to make Ostend the world's playground.

It is believed that Belgium will see an enormous influx of visitors, who, from various motives, will want to see the famous battlefields. Ostend, being the natural center from which these tours will radiate, will have unique opportunities for following visitors of their surplus money and time by means of a great variety of attractions proposed to be erected there.

THE BOY SCOUT CAMP DRAWS CROWD SUNDAY

Many Visit Lads and Bring Good Things to Eat—Watermelon is Scout's Favorite Fruit.

Visitors and watermelons predominated at the Manchester camp of Boy Scouts in South Coventry yesterday. Although the visits were enjoyed by the youngsters, it is safe to say that the latter were enjoyed equally as well. In the morning the scouts hiked to Coventry and attended church in a body. On their return, visitors from town began to arrive.

The baseball series came to a close Saturday when Whiting's team captured the deciding game from Kjellson's team by a score of 23 to 1. The fourth game was also won by the former team by a score of 20 to 13 score. Three of the scouts returned home Sunday evening. Five "rookies" are expected at the camp today.

Under the military terms the Austrian army is henceforth reduced to 30,000 men on a purely voluntary basis.

SOLDIER-ENGINEER INVENTS

NEW HOME-HEATING METHOD. What is said to be one of the greatest inventions of the present century—and called the radiator-boiler—was recorded recently at the United States patent office in Washington.

Strangely enough, this is one of the good things that has come from the great war. It is the invention of a soldier-engineer. The heating of barracks and hospitals, where there were no cellars, was a problem, and it set him to thinking.

Save fuel—only one fire is needed, and the 40 per cent of heat that a stove or hot-air furnace wastes in the stove pipe is used to heat the water.

Prevent fires—for the boiler is water-backed and it can stand on a wooden floor with perfect safety. Besides, the legs are cast solid and cannot be knocked out—the radiator-boiler will not upset.

Lasting—it will not wear out, burn out, warp like a stove, or be found useless, if a building is altered. It can be enlarged or made smaller with ease.

Saves money—by "saving fuel; saves labor of climbing up and down stairs and feeding many fires; saves doctor bills by keeping all rooms at an equal temperature; and outlasts the building in which it stands, since it is made of cast-iron, which is practically indestructible.

This invention marks another victory for the great mass of the people over hard living conditions.

Austria Gets Final Terms Of Peace From the Allies

Her Army Reduced to 30,000—Must Pay Certain Sums of Cash—Thousands of Cattle to be Given Up—Art and Historical Treasures Must be Returned—Austrians Have 15 Days in Which to Answer.

Paris, July 21.—The final sections of the peace treaty with Austria were handed to the delegates of that nation yesterday by the representatives of the Allies at St. Germain without any ceremony whatsoever. The Austrians have had a portion of the treaty since June 2 but the sections delivered yesterday comprised the important ones concerning reparations, financial and military regulations. The reduction of the Austrian army, the payment of certain sums of money, the restoration of objects of art and the delivery of considerable live stock constitute the outstanding features of the treaty.

In an accompanying memorandum the Austrians were granted 15 days in which to consider the treaty and make their final observations.

Reduce the Army. Under the military terms the Austrian army is henceforth reduced to 30,000 men on a purely voluntary basis.

Paragraph five, relating to the military, says that the Austrian army shall not exceed 30,000 men, including officers and depot troops. Within three months the Austrian military forces shall be reduced to this number, universal military service abolished and voluntary enlistment substituted, as part of the plan "to render possible the initiation of a general limitation of armaments of all nations."

Enlist for 12 Years.

The army shall be used exclusively for the maintenance of internal order and control of frontiers. All officers must be regulars, those of the present army to be retained being under the obligation to serve until 40 years old; those newly appointed agreeing to at least 20 consecutive years of active service. Noncommissioned officers and privates must enlist for not less than 12 consecutive years, including at least six years with the colors.

Within three months the armament of the Austrian army must be reduced accordingly to detailed schedules, and all surplus surrendered. The manufacture of all war material shall be confined to one single factory under the control of this state and other such establishments shall be closed down or converted. Importation and exportation of arms, munitions and war materials of all kinds is forbidden.

Reparation.

The allied and associated governments affirm, and Austria accepts the responsibility of Austria and her allies for causing loss and damage to which the allied and associated governments and their nationals have been subjected as a consequence of the aggression of Austria and her allies.

While recognizing that Austria's resources will not be adequate to make complete reparation, the allied and associated governments request and Austria undertakes, that she will make compensation for damage done to civilians and their property, in accordance with categories of damages similar to those provided in the treaty with Germany.

Thirty Years to Pay.

The amount of damage is to be determined by the reparation commission provided for in the treaty with Germany, which is to have a special section to handle the Austrian situation. The commission will notify Austria before May 1, 1921, of the extent of her liabilities and of the schedule of payments for the discharge thereof during a period of 30 years. It will bear in mind the diminutions of Austria's resources and capacity of payment resulting from the treaty.

As immediate reparation, Austria shall pay during 1919, 1920 and the first four months of 1921, in such manner as provided by the reparation commission, "a reasonable sum which shall be determined by the commission."

Ship Replacements.

Austria, recognizing the right of the allies to ton-for-ton replacement of all ships and fishing boats belonging to nationals of the former empire, agreeing to deliver them within two months to the reparation commission. With a view to making good the losses in river tonnage, she agrees to deliver up 30 per cent of her river fleet.

The allied and associated powers require, and Austria undertakes, that in part reparation she will devote her economic resources to the physical restoration of the invaded areas. Within 60 days of the coming into force of the treaty, the governments concerned shall file with the reparation commission lists of animals, machinery, equipment and the like destroyed by Austria and which the governments desire replaced in kind, and lists of the materials which they desire produced in Austria for the work of construction, and which shall be reviewed in the light of Austria's ability to meet them.

Animals Demanded.

As an immediate advance as to animals, Austria agrees to deliver within three months after ratifications of the treaty, 4,000 milch cows to Italy, and 1,000 each to Serbia and Rumania; 1,000 heifers to Italy, 300 to Serbia and 500 to Rumania, 50 bulls to Italy and 25 each to Serbia and Rumania; 1,000 calves to each of the three nations; 1,000 bullocks to Italy and 500 each to Serbia and Rumania; 2,000 cows to Italy and 1,000 draft horses and 1,000 sheep to both Serbia and Rumania.

Austria also agrees to give an option for five years as to timber, iron and magnesite in amounts as nearly equal to the pre-war importations as Austria's resources make possible. She renounces in favor of Italy all cables touching territories assigned to Italy and in favor of the allied and associated powers, the others.

Art and Science Material to be Returned.

Austria agrees to restore all records, documents, objects of antiquity and art and all scientific and bibliographical material taken away from the invaded or ceded territories. She will also hand over without delay all official records of the ceded territories and all records, documents and historical material possessed by public institutions and having a direct bearing on the history of the ceded territories which have been removed during the past 10 years, except that for Italy the period shall be from 1861. As to artistic, archeological, scientific or historic objects formerly belonging to the Austro-Hungarian government or crown, Austria agrees to negotiate with the state concerned for an amicable arrangement for the return to the districts or origin on terms of reciprocity of any object which ought to form part of the intellectual patrimony of the ceded districts, and for 20 years to safeguard all other such objects for the free use of students.

Stolen Treasure.

As for special objects carried off by the house of Hapsburg and other dynasties from Italy, Belgium, Poland and Czechoslovakia, a committee of three jurists appointed by the reparation commission is to examine within a year the conditions under which the objects were removed and to order restoration if the removals were illegal. The list of articles includes among others:

For Tuscany, the crown jewels and part of the Medici heirlooms; for Modena, a "virgin" by Andrea del Sarto and three manuscripts; for Palermo, 12th century objects made for the Norman kings; for Naples, 98 manuscripts carried off in 1718; for Belgium, various objects and documents removed in 1794; for Poland, a gold cup of King Ladislaus IV, removed in 1772, and for Czechoslovakia, various documents and historical manuscripts removed from the royal chateau of Prague.

The New States.

States to which Austrian territory was transferred and states arising from the dismemberment of Austria shall acquire all property within their territories of the old or new Austrian governments, including that of the former royal family. The commission and credited to Austria is to be assessed by the reparation commission on the reparation account.

Property of predominant historic interest to the former kingdoms of Poland, Bohemia, Croatia, Slavonia, Dalmatia, Bosnia, Herzegovina, the republic of Ragusa, the Venetian republic, or the Episcopal principalities of Trent and Bressanone, may be transferred without payment.

Must Indemnify Dispossessed Nationals.

Austria renounces all rights as to all international, financial or commercial organizations in allied countries, Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria, Turkey or the former Russian empire. She agrees to appropriate on

DEWDROP STORIES FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

DOLLY LEARNS WHY SEEDS OBEY.

"Do you ever think," said the Fairy Queen, "how strange it would be if you could not know what kind of a plant would come up when you put a seed into the ground?"

"Why, they have to come up right," said Dolly.

"They wouldn't unless they obeyed what they were told to do. Suppose you planted a grain of corn and an onion should come up—or a potato—or even a weed, perhaps?"

"I never thought about that," said Dolly, who had heard her brothers, Bob and Billy, talking about the United States School Garden Army.

"Do you think you could have a garden if you had to take a chance on every seed you planted? You know when you plant a grain of corn that the corn fairy will bring up a beautiful, tall stalk of corn. You know when you put one of the 'Seven-eyes' into the ground that you will have a potato plant. They do what they have been taught to do; they obey like good soldiers."

"But who tells them what to do?"

"Do you know who is the highest officer in the army?"

"Oh, yes—the General."

"And then come other officers—colonels, majors, captains, and soon. Now, the good soldier, when his officer gives him an order, does not say 'Did the General tell me to do this?' He just goes on and does it, because he knows it is an order from Headquarters. The seeds are like good soldiers. They obey orders and do what they have been trained to do."

"But how do they know what orders are?"

"Seeds are like animals, little Dolly. They have some ways of knowing things that we can not find out. Do you remember when you moved here?"

"Oh, yes; it was only last year. We came here so we could have a garden."

"Do you remember how old Maria MacDougal acted?"

"Oh, yes! We brought her here in a covered basket in the car, but she ran away."

"Where did she go?"

"Why, she went back to the old house. It took her two days to get there. I cried and cried and Father-bob said he was sure we would find her at the old house. So we went back there ever so many times. At last she did come back. She was dirty and hungry."

"Then what did you do?"

"We brought her back in the basket and kept her shut up in the basement a while. Then she stayed."

"Could you have found your way back to the old house alone?"

"Oh, no. It is ever so far."

"How do you suppose a cat did it?"

"I don't know."

"Something in Maria—something that we call 'instinct'—told her where to go. In the seeds there is something like that. They know what they are told to do and they do it. They never disobey, and they always tell the truth."

"Tell the truth?" said Dolly, laughing. "What do you mean?"

"I mean just that. If you could not believe the seeds you wouldn't have much of a garden. Don't you remember what I said about planting a corn seed, and knowing that a cornstalk would come up?"

"Oh, of course. I see. How awful it would be if we couldn't believe the seeds. Just think, if I should plant—a Johnny-jump-up seed and a poison ivy should come up?"

"I see you know what I mean. So when you say the seeds do not have to obey, you are wrong. They are the most obedient things in the world. And they do not ask foolish questions about 'why should I obey?' They know that there is a great and wise Power that has taught them just what to do. All they have to bother about is to follow orders."

"I see what you mean," said Dolly, quite soberly.

And I believe she did.

HILLSIDE INN IS DELIGHTFUL EATING PLACE

New Roadhouse Just Over Bolton Line on State Road is Valuable Acquisition to Manchester Suburbs.

An artistic bungalow recently built on the hillside south of the Bolton road just over the Manchester line has in front of it a swinging sign labeled Hillside Inn. The place was built as a stopping place for automobile parties passing through on the state road. Incidentally it provides for residents of Manchester a pleasant place to get well-cooked food, served in first class fashion.

The proprietor of the place is Walter Giesecke, a young man who is an experienced chef and hotel proprietor. He is assisted by his wife who looks after the comfort of their guests in the dining room. Yesterday the house advertised a chicken dinner and those who tried it went away sounding the praises of the cooking, the service and the clean and artistically furnished rooms.

While visiting relatives in this vicinity Mr. Giesecke noticed that there was no place of refreshment on a long stretch of the state road between Hartford and Willimantic. He decided that such a place was needed. As no suitable building was obtainable he decided to build one. The bungalow he has erected on the hillside, on a plot out of the woods, is not a large one but is of a most attractive design. It has a broad veranda overlooking the state road. The interior has polished hard wood floors and is artistically decorated. It is arranged especially for the convenience of guests, with large and small dining rooms and a well equipped lavatory on the main floor. A private water system supplied by an artesian well and an independent electric lighting plant make possible all the modern conveniences. The dining rooms are equipped with an abundance of linen and fine china and glassware.

The Hillside Inn is bound to be popular not only with automobile tourists but also with residents of Manchester, who have long felt the need of such a place. The house has a telephone in the Manchester exchange and arrangements may be made at any time for parties. The automobile run from the Center to the Inn takes not over ten minutes.

Mr. Giesecke has bought land enough to permit the enlargement of his place if business warrants it. One of the things he has in mind is an outdoor garden where meals may be served in warm weather. He already has a small refreshment stand by the roadside where scores of automobilists stop every day for sandwiches, ice cream and cool drinks.

Park Theater

Shirley Mason, who has become famous through her screen and stage work, is starred in the new World Picture "The Unwritten Code" in which her leading man is Matt Moore. This unusual and gripping story of Japan is presented by World-Pictures and it has been staged in the most artistic manner of any picture released in a long time. It will be shown tonight at the Park theater.

Miss Mason is seen in the role of a Japanese girl while Mr. Moore appears in the role of an American traveler in the Orient who meets and falls in love with this girl. The girl's father is an inveterate gambler and he finally becomes deeply indebted, through his gambling, to the owner of a geisha house. The owner of this house finally persuades the girl's father to sell him the girl in order to satisfy these debts. The American upon discovering that this horrid fate is in store for the girl goes to her rescue and finally, after the death of the girl's father, marries her. Then her brother, who was the American's room-mate in college back in the United States, comes home to Japan and finds that the American husband has come to a realization of the difficulties surrounding his marriage and is making his Japanese wife unhappy. Then the brother advises the girl to discard her American husband. You'll be surprised to see what happens when the girl is given this advice.

You'll enjoy "The Unwritten Code". It is striking, delightful, entertaining and staged in a wonderful artistic manner. In fact it is one of the most artistic films seen

A few days later MacDonald played a golf match with several friends on Revere Beach while the tide was out. MANCHESTER FISHERMEN CATCH FOUR BIG ONES

And the Best Part of This Story is That They Brought the Fish Back to Prove It.

In the show window of Hannon's market were displayed this morning four of the largest black fish seen in this vicinity for a long time. They were caught by a party of fishermen made up of men from this town and Hartford. In the party were P. J. Hutchinson, Patrick Hannon of this town and J. E. O'Connor and Lyle Roscott of Hartford. The fish were caught Saturday off Sound View. These men were called the champion fishermen of Sound View. They did not claim to be experts, but it was strange that men who were fishing within 50 feet from the party fished half the forenoon and caught only a few small ones. P. J. Hutchinson claims that it was the bait that they used that proved too tempting for the big ones. Besides the four large fish, one of which weighed over four pounds, the party caught enough to feed 20 people.

THREATENS TO SHOOT CHIEF GORDON; LANDS IN JAIL MINUS PANTS

First Drunk of Dry Session is About 2.75 Per Cent Sober Today.

AUTOMOBILE LAWS ARE CAUSE OF THREE CASES

Fast Driving and Disregard of License Laws Fill Docket Formerly Crowded With Booze Cases.

Berthold Hoffner of West street, was the first man to be brought into court for intoxication since the town went dry. He was before Judge Carney this morning and besides being charged with intoxication there were two other counts, breach of the peace and assault on Chief of Police Gordon. The chief had a call from the Hoffner house yesterday afternoon and when he went there he found Hoffner in the house with a gun pointed directly at him. Hoffner told the officer that if he entered the house he would shoot him.

Chief Gordon told Hoffner that he would be forced to come along with him finally, and the best thing to do was to come along peacefully. But the prisoner put up a big fight and when he appeared in court this morning it was evident that the officer did not get the worst of it.

Left in a Hurry. Hoffner did not have time to dress after the chief got hold of him. In court this morning he wore a pair of khaki overalls and an undershirt that was ripped up the back. He appeared tired and did not have much to say. It was apparent that he had not fully recovered from his spree and the case was continued until tomorrow morning.

Detroit Style.

William Bethel of Detroit, Michigan, who is visiting in town, was in court on the charge of driving an automobile without a license. He was arrested by Officer Fitzgerald. Bethel claimed to be a chauffeur in Detroit and showed a badge similar to that of a policeman, which he said was all that was necessary out there. But there was nothing on it that showed that it belonged to him. The Judge thought that he would give him the benefit of the doubt and suspended judgment in his case.

Fast Driving Car.

The case of Ernest Jacobs, who was charged with driving a car recklessly, was continued until Wednesday morning.

Fine Remitted.

Henry Starkweather, son of Fred Starkweather, the ice dealer, was fined $10 with costs for driving an automobile without a license. The boy is not old enough to get a license. Yesterday he was running his father's truck with some ice when he was arrested by Officer Fitzgerald. The Judge agreed with Attorney Hyde, who represented young Starkweather in court, that the boy would be sufficiently punished if fine was remitted, and he was allowed to go after paying the costs.

WILL DISCIPLINE LIGHT THAT CALLS THE POLICE

Short Circuit Spree Gets Red Signal Lamp Into Trouble—Will Be Moved From Phone.

The red light on the corner of Main and Oak streets placed there for the purposes of signalling the police, and whose actions came pretty near upsetting the morale of the department, is to be moved to a new location. It is claimed that the telephone in connection with the light was not set far enough away and caused a "short" at times, this being the reason for the tricks the light has been playing on the cops. The light will now be set on one of the White Way poles opposite George Smith's store and the telephone placed in the rear of the building, with the connection running underground.

MOOSE HAVE GOOD TIME.

Moose members returning last evening from the big outing at Crystal Lake characterized the event as some "blow out." There was no schedule of arrival or departure. The members went when they pleased and came back in the same manner. Field and aquatic sports were enjoyed.

CHENEY EMPLOYEES GO TO MARLBOROUGH LAKE ON SPLENDID OUTING

Weaving and Throwing Depts. Enjoy Big Day of Outdoor Sport.

ANNA LOGAN IS STAR OF FAST BALL GAME

And as a U-boat Very Few Have Seen a Better Craft Than William C. Cheney.

Saturday's elements held no terrors for the employees of the Weaving and Throwing departments of Cheney Brothers. With the rain beating a tattoo on their leather covered tops, twenty autos left the Main office at noon for Marlborough Lake, loaded down with the revelers. Included in the party were the foremen and office clerks of these departments and also a number of the members of Cheney Brothers' firm and their wives.

The caravan passed through muddy roads and many doubted Fred Bendall's prophecy that the rain was but a matter of a few hours. Today however Fred's reputation in the estimation of the members of this party is parallel with that of Uncle Horace Johnson's. A few minutes after the party had arrived at the Cheney Cottage at Marlborough, "Old Sol" broke through a cloud bank.

Immediately upon arrival, the commissary department got into action. Owing to wet grounds it was decided to serve dinner on the cottage porch. Chairman John Bissell together with Austin and Phillip Cheney superintended the culinary efforts of the aides, while Fred Bendall sat in the corner and shelled peas. Remembrances of that dinner will go down in the annals of Manchester's social events as being one of the best ever.

Covers were laid for one hundred persons who were served by five young ladies. The dinner consisted of, roast chicken and dressing; boiled potatoes; new summer peas; apple pie, ice cream and lemonade. And in spite of this mighty feed, there was an evening menu of sandwiches and ice tea.

The "Big Shows."

It was hard to tell which was the feature of the afternoon program, the baseball game or William C. Cheney's imitation of a submarine. And then Doris Ahern's exhibition of fancy diving must be taken into consideration and the smoking contest which was won by L. S. Lahey. Ralph Russell's umpiring of the baseball game also created a sensation, such a sensation in fact that he was forced to retire in favor of Louis Heebner.

The baseball game was won by the Throwing Department by a score of 15 to 7. With the score 7 to 5 in the ninth, favor the "Weavers", William C. Cheney started a batting rally that resulted in ten runs. The outfield was covered by girls. Anna Logan of the Throwing Department's team featured with two two-baggers, a single, and a wonderful throw to the plate, nipping a runner. Levi Wheaton introduced a novel method of keeping score on a stick. It is said that Captain Ike Cole has not got over the effects of his team's defeat.

A smoking contest with fifteen entries followed the game. This was won by L. S. Lahey who was carried off the field. Because of wet grounds it was decided to postpone many of the athletic events and it was announced that aquatic sports would be in order. The electrically propelled pontoon raft at the lake made a big hit. Clifford Cheney acted as pilot and engineer. Doris Ahern made a number of sensational dives. It is said that she fell "flat" in two or three of them, but it was only an oversight on Doris' part.

William Sub-C. Cheney. During the bathing period a shriek was heard. Everyone made a hasty retreat for the shore. A trembling girl pointed to an object which was floating on the lake and all eyes were focussed in that direction. "It must be a 'sub' said one of the party, for the strange looking craft was emitting smoke in all directions. But terror soon changed to laughter for as the "sub" approached, the party discovered that the cruiser which had thrown such a scare in their midst was none other than William C. Cheney, tranquilly floating up stream on his back and peacefully smoking a cigar.
