

LEAGUE OPPONENTS PLAN TO TOUR U. S. JUST LIKE WILSON

Johnson, Borah, Poindexter, Sherman and Reed to Take Stump.

LODGE, KNOX AND MOSES MAY ALSO TAKE PART

Johnson to be Chief Spokesman—To Go Across Continent—Reed Says
U. S. Will Be Used as "International Cat's Paw."

Washington, Aug. 29.—While President Wilson is on his speech making tour, Republican Senators opposed to ratification of the German treaty and entry of the United States into the proposed League of Nations plan to deliver a series of addresses themselves in various parts of the country.

Johnson Chief Speaker.
Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, will be the chief spokesman on the stump for the President's Senatorial opponents. He said today he planned a speaking drive "straight to the Pacific coast." His voice probably will be raised against the treaty in California at about the same time the President is engaged there in urging its acceptance by the Senate. Senators Borah, of Idaho, Poindexter, of Washington and Sherman, of Illinois, Republicans, and Reed, of Missouri, a Democrat, who all are avowed advocates of rejection of the treaty, plan to speak as often and in as many places as they can whenever their Senatorial duties will permit them to absent themselves from Washington.

Other opponents.
Other vocal opponents of the treaty are Senators Lodge, of Massachusetts, of Pennsylvania and Moses, of New Hampshire, who may also deliver addresses on criticism of the treaty and of the President's course in different cities or states. But upon Senator Johnson is expected to devolve the largest share of the burden of answering "out in the country" whatever arguments the President may advance in support of the treaty and the League of Nations.

Started Last Evening.
Johnson virtually opened his speaking campaign last night, when he appeared, with Senator Reed, at a mass meeting held in Baltimore under the auspices of the League for the preservation of American independence. Both he and Senator Reed bitterly attacked the Shantung and their provisions in the treaty. Senator Johnson charged that Great Britain, France, Italy, and Japan divided the spoils of the war under the guise of secret treaties and that during the war, when representatives of these four powers were appealing from the rostrum of the United States Senate, a privilege that had not been accorded any foreigner since Lafayette's visit, to the "lofty sentiments and altruistic purposes of the American people, their very pockets were bulging with the secret treaties they had made among themselves for the partition of the world and the distribution of the spoils of the war."

Had Enthusiastic Meeting.
Upon their return to Washington from Baltimore, both Senator Johnson and Senator Reed reported they had had a "great and enthusiastic meeting."
"And we have only really begun," Senator Johnson remarked.
"In his speech last night, Senator Reed declared that 'if the United States is to adopt a policy of intermeddling with the affairs of other nations we shall only be an international cat's paw.'"
The Baltimore meeting was described by both Senator Johnson and Senator Reed as a forerunner of "what was yet to come."

DIES FROM HEAT AS FATHER AND MOTHER DID.

Pans, Ill., Aug. 29.—Overcome by heat while driving an automobile to a ball game at Taylorville, near here Ray Brubeck, aged twenty-seven, of Edinburgh, died. His father died the same way three weeks before. His mother died the same way five years ago.

Bolshevicks Massacre 800, Imprison 18,000 Persons

Geneva, Aug. 29.—Eight hundred persons, including women and children, have been massacred by the Russian Bolshevicks in revenge for the loss of Krasnaia and Gorki to the White Guard troops, said a Helsinki dispatch to the Journal today.

The Red officials at Petrograd have imprisoned 18,000 persons, including numerous foreigners, who do not know what their ultimate fate will be.
Many wives and children of the White Guard officers are reported to have been seized by the Russian Reds as hostages.

GERMANS LOOT DANTZIG AND TERRORIZE PEOPLE

So Writes Newspaperman Who Has Reached Geneva—City Now a Polish Port.

Geneva, Aug. 29.—The Germans who are evacuating Dantzic are systematically sacking the city and trains are transporting machinery and materials of all kinds to Berlin, according to Robert Vaucher, the Journal's Petrograd correspondent who has just arrived here by way of Dantzic. He declared that the Germans are terrorizing the population in territories where plebiscites are to be held shortly, threatening reprisals that will ruin the people unless they vote in favor of the Germans.
(Under the peace treaty Dantzic, which was formerly a German port on the Baltic, became a Polish port).

EXPECT MANY CHANGES IN THE KENDRICK BILL

Senator Gronna Says Bills Aimed at Food Producers Will be Amended.

Washington, Aug. 29.—The Kenyon and Kendrick bills, aimed to regulate the packers will be largely amended before they are submitted to the Senate today, declared Senator Gronna, chairman of the Agriculture Committee of the Senate which has the bills before it for consideration.
Thus far the burden of opinion expressed before the committee has been in opposition to the proposed legislation. Members of the committee have not yet been able to formulate an opinion whether this opposition is general, or whether it merely represents some classes.
"It is evident, of course, that the livestock men are opposed to the bills," Senator Gronna said today. "I don't know whether this indicates a general opposition or not. I don't know what the feeling is in my state. I hope that we will be able to take a recess about September 15 until the harvest season is over when we can get some of the real farmers in here and find out what they think."

Representatives of the packers declared today they will continue their fight against all regulations and will not accept any compromise on amendments.

KINGS DID NOT IMPRESS GENERAL PERSHING'S SON

Youngster More Excited Over Drum
Major Than Over Introduction to Royalty.

Paris, Aug. 29.—"Sergeant" Warren Pershing, the young son of General John J. Pershing, who will sail for home with his father on the Leviathan on Monday was not impressed by the European royalties with whom he came in contact. This was illustrated by the following story told here today:
While watching the great military review in front of the royal stand in London in July, Warren was recognized and taken up the steps and introduced to King George, Queen Mary, former King Manuel, of Portugal, and other members of royalty. Later, at their hotel, General Pershing remarked to his son:
"Well, Teddy, you have had a great day. What did you think of the Kings and Queens you met?"
Warren pondered a moment and then responded with enthusiasm:
"Say, daddy, did you notice that drum major? Wasn't he just fine?"

THIEVES SANDBAG CLERK AND STEAL $1,000 CASH

Employer of Connecticut Co., in Bridgeport Found Unconscious in An Alley.

Bridgeport, Aug. 29.—Obtaining keys from the pockets of Charles Benson, a receiving clerk, whom they sandbagged in the receiving office of the Connecticut Company, on the second floor of the trolley barns on Congress street here early this morning, thieves robbed the cash drawer of $1,000 in cash, overlooking $3,900 in the safe and several hundred dollars in silver money. Benson was found unconscious in an alley way about 20 feet from the office by a night watchman. He was unable to describe his assailants but said he was struck from behind. The police are grilling Benson in an attempt to get a clue to the identity of his assailants.

EXPLORED TIMBERLANDS WITH THREE AIRPLANES

Aviators Survey Million and a Half
Acres in Labrador Never Measured Before.

Boston, Aug. 29.—After flying further north than any airplane has before succeeding in navigating, Captain Daniel Owen, of the Royal Aviation Force has returned to Boston, following a six weeks' air cruise over Labrador with three machines and a crew of thirty two men.

Captain Owen's trip was for the purpose of exploring timber and pulp lands. More than 2,400 square miles were covered by the aviators who surveyed upwards of 1,500,000 acres of timberland along the Alexis River. The expeditionary force brought back complete maps of the country, about 1,500 photographs and about 10,000 feet of moving picture film. Almost perpetual daylight permitted photographic work from the air 20 hours daily. Photographs were made at an altitude of about 2,000 feet and mapping was done from a height of about 9,000 feet. A forced landing in the desolate wild lands meant instant death.

PROTEST THE SENDING OF YANKS TO SILESIA

House Foreign Affairs Committee
Asks Pertinent Questions of Lansing and Baker.

Washington, Aug. 29.—A clear definition of the attitude of the United States with reference to Russian, Japanese and Silesian questions was sought today from Secretaries Lansing and Baker by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.
These representatives of the administration were invited by the committee to attend its session today that the House might learn how much longer American troops are to be kept in Siberia, why British and French troops have been withdrawn from Siberia, and the Japanese policy towards Siberia as Japan still is maintaining military forces in that country.
The House resolution protesting against the sending by the United States of the fifth and fiftieth infantry regiments to Silesia also was to be taken up by the committee.
The sentiment of the committee it has developed, is strongly in opposition to the retention of American soldiers in Siberia and to the sending of American holdiers to Silesia.

SCORES OF STRIKES PARALYZE INDUSTRY THROUGHOUT NATION

Summary of Labor Trouble in Various Cities in the United States.

THOUSANDS NOW OUT; MORE READY TO QUIT

From Actors to Ordinary Laborers
Runs the List—The Eastern States Hardest Hit.

New York, Aug. 29.—Actors and actresses, members of Actors' Equity Association, on strike to enforce recognition of the union, closing 26 theatres. Piano workers threaten strike to force recognition of union and obtain eight hour day, claiming 15,000 would go out.

In New England.
Boston.—Fearing a strike of Boston policemen to enforce recognition of their labor union, a citizens committee has been formed by Mayor Peters to handle the situation in the event of strike, and a volunteer police force of citizens is being organized. Leaders of many labor unions pledge a general sympathetic strike and today the elevated carmen voted to strike if the policemen walked out.

More than 3,000 shoe workers have been on strike since June in the factory of the Thomas G. Plant Company here, demanding recognition of their union and higher wages. Trolley men operating the Berkshire Street Railway lines from Canaan, Conn., to Bennington, Vt., are on strike for more wages.
Several hundred gas house workers quit at Worcester because more pay and city's supply of gas is low. Five thousand union carmen, operating service for 500,000 persons in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island have voted to strike unless the public trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Railway Company agree to a revision of the recent wage award of the National War Labor Board.

Five hundred machinists are on strike in Springfield, Mass., for higher wages.
Ladies tailors of Boston have arranged plans for a strike to enforce their wage demands.
There are approximately 100 more smaller strikes in various sections of New England, 20 of them in Boston, according to industrial statistics just compiled.

At Cleveland.
Cleveland—Between 250 and 300 members of the International Brotherhood of blacksmiths out, causing closing hammer shop Champion Machine and Forging Company seeking 25 per cent. increase. City firemen through Cleveland Federation of Labor present demand for increase of $500 annually.

East Liverpool, Ohio—Representatives of National Brotherhood of operative potters and United States Potters' Association named to consider demand of 8,000 pottery workers for 25 per cent. wage increase; conference opens in Atlantic City, Wednesday, September 3.

Akron, Ohio—Three thousand machinists on strike for shorter hours, higher pay, still-out. No settlement in sight. Strike of electrical workers expected. Vote of members on question being kept secret.

At Baltimore.
Baltimore—One thousand cigar makers on strike. Demand increases in wages, adjustment of working conditions and recognition of union.
Washington—Actors' strike resches capital. Belasco Theatre closing doors.

In the Western States.
Chicago—120,000 carpenters and allied building trade workers, on strike demanding wage increase. 200 lunch room employees out demanding increased pay.

Actresses and actors striking for recognition of union. 500 cleaners and dyers striking for wage increases and shorter hours. 200 optical workers on strike for wage increases.

Springfield, Ill.—15,000 insurgent miners demanding state wide strike for wage increase.

DON'T HISS PRESIDENT WARNS SENATOR REED.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 29.—A dramatic incident occurred last night when Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, during an impassioned speech in opposition to the proposed League of Nations, checked what appeared to be a demonstration against President Wilson. When Senator Reed mentioned the name of the President there was scattered hissing. Senator Reed, in ringing tones raised his voice to a high pitch.
"Don't hiss the President of the United States," he fairly shouted. "You may criticize him. Don't hiss him. He is our President."
Prolonged applause followed.

EXCITEMENT ON 'CHANGE; PRICES SOAR SKY HIGH

Excited Trading Similar to Early Days of War Witnessed in New York.

New York, Aug. 29.—Excited trading similar to the hectic early days of the war was wild on the New York stock exchange today. There was a general soaring of prices, leading stocks going up from two to nine points, with heavy buying. The rise was general in all lines. Crucible Steel went to a new high mark rising 8 1-2 to 162 1-4. There was heavy trading in Southern Pacific which sold as high as 105. Oil stocks were featured, Mexican Petroleum rising five points to 181.

SEARCH FOR THE BODIES OF TWO WOMEN AND MAN

Thought to Have Been Drowned Yesterday
When Canoe Overtaken Near Woodmont—Names of Women Unknown.

New Haven, Aug. 29.—Search was being continued today for the bodies of John Knight, chief clerk in one of the offices of the New Haven road here, and two unknown women, believed to have been drowned, when Knight's canoe, in which he is thought to have been paddling with three women, was overturned late yesterday. Practically all that is known of the accident was learned from Mrs. Gustave Goebel, who was found unconscious floating on the water of Bradley Point, near Woodmont, her arms clutched about a canoe paddle. Mrs. Goebel was resuscitated and brought to the hospital by her rescuers. Mrs. Goebel was conscious this morning, though in a serious condition from hysteria and exposure.

When rescued it was at first thought Mrs. Goebel was dead. There was no sign of the canoe or any other craft in the vicinity. Later she was able to give some information which led to the discovery that Knight was missing from the summer home where he was staying with his family at Woodmont, and that he had left yesterday afternoon for a canoe trip in the Sound. Mrs. Goebel has been unable to tell the names of the other women except that she believed one was Mrs. Hotchkiss, of Pond Point.
Gustave Goebel, a cigar maker of this city, said when notified, that he knew nothing of his wife's whereabouts yesterday.

ELOPERS HELD BY POLICE.

Derby, Aug. 29.—Mary Reed, 18, a good looking, well dressed young woman from Olean, N. Y., is held here, pending receipt of word from Olean as to her disposition. She came here yesterday with Mike, alias "Blackie" Rossi, who was arrested soon after his arrival and held for the police of Little Falls, N. Y., on a charge of burglary and grand larceny. Little Falls officers took him to that place today. Miss Reed says she eloped with Rossi from Olean Monday and he had promised to marry her but had not kept his promise when they arrived here. The girl is grief stricken over her predicament.

WAGE INCREASE.

Bristol, Aug. 29.—The Bristol and Plainville Tramway Company today gave notice of an increase of five cents an hour to their employees numbering about 50 men, the increase to commence on Monday. The men have averaged about 40 cents an hour heretofore.

TROLLEY JUMPS TRACK.

Stamford, Aug. 29.—One woman was seriously injured, and several others received minor injuries when a trolley car owned by the Connecticut Company, jumped the tracks here last night. The injured woman, Mrs. Ellen Murphy, of this city was jolted out and landed on the tracks. The car broke a pole, which loosened a live wire. It dropped on a telephone wire causing a short circuit. Several houses at Shippan Point, the scene, caught fire from the short circuit.

NEW SYSTEM FORMED.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 29.—As a result of the mishaps which have occurred recently to American aviators in patrolling the Mexican border, a new system was inaugurated from army headquarters here today. Hereafter the patrolling will be done in pairs, so that if one ship becomes disabled the other can report it at once.
Flights have been re-organized, making ten planes to a flight instead of six as formerly.

Senator from Pennsylvania Says Only Safe Way to Deal With Pact is to Decline to be a Party to It—Is Hard and Cruel Peace for Germany, He says.

STRIKING SENTENCES IN THE KNOX SPEECH.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Striking sentences from Senator Knox's speech today:
"The more I consider this treaty the more I am convinced that the only safe way for us to deal with it is to decline to be a party to it at all."
"I see no reason why we should be parties to imposing upon Germany a treaty whose terms our negotiators say, she will not be able to meet."
"A treaty that robs our ancient friend, China."
"A treaty that with ominous presages our involuntarily pre-announced volcanic world conditions."
"The treaty as it stands is but another harbinger of other greater wars."
"The mind stands appalled and refuses to grasp the infinite possibilities which arise from the ramifications we are asked to assume."
"The treaty as it stands cannot be enforced. This is admitted by its proponents."

Washington, Aug. 29.—Complete rejection of the treaty of Versailles was urged by Senator Knox, Pennsylvania, a Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, and a former secretary of state and attorney general in the Senate this afternoon.

"The more I consider this treaty the more I am convinced that the only safe way for us to deal with it is to decline to be a party to it at all," Senator Knox said. "I think we should renounce in favor of Germany any and all claims for indemnity because of the war and see that she gets credit for what we renounce as indeed she should for the value of all she gives up as against a fixed and ample indemnity."

Should Be Fixed Amount.

"I agree with the President when he says the indemnity should have been a fixed amount. We ought to renounce all participation or membership in commissions, committees, boards or otherwise provided for in the treaty in aid of its execution to which by its terms we are parties. We ought not to accept cessations of German territory. We ought to declare a general policy to regard with concern any threat of disturbance of general world peace, but at the same time we should reserve complete liberty of action either independently or in conjunction with other powers in taking such steps as we determine wise for preserving the peace. We ought then to carry out the spirit of the act of 1916 which authorized the President to convene the nations of the world together to establish a code of international law, reduce armaments, to establish an international tribunal and go as far as possible in the direction of securing peace through justice, through a league to which all the world are parties in its formation. This would be a fitting, generous and dignified exit from a situation in which primarily we had no direct concern."

"It is indeed a hard and cruel peace that this treaty stipulates and I have no objections to its being so but see no reason why we do not partake in its spoils, should become parties to its harshness and cruelty. I see no reason why we should be parties to imposing upon Germany a treaty whose terms, our negotiators say, she will not be able to meet; a treaty that robs our ancient friend China, a way approved by our negotiators; a treaty that lays the foundation for centuries of blood letting into which we should not be drawn; a treaty that contrary to our own judgment, fails to fix the amount of indemnity to be paid, leaving that vast question to the whim of a majority of a committee."

SIMILAR CHARGE TO BE MADE IN OTHER CITIES

Stonington Man Passes Worthless Check For $32 On Edward McKinney of This Town.

John Henry Ryan of Stonington, Conn., the man who betrayed the friendship of Assistant Manager Edward McKinney of the north end branch of the Morris Beef Company, is now resting in the Lawrence, Mass., county jail. The sentence imposed by the judge covers a period of three months.

During Ryan's checkered career Manchester was among the many cities which were favored by his visits. Although the police records say that his home is New London, he is really a native of Stonington and comes from a well-to-do family.

Edward McKinney and Ryan were boyhood friends. The former comes from Mystic, a town about six miles from Stonington. One day, about three months ago, Ryan dropped off a train at the North end station to see his friend. During the conversation he asked McKinney if he could endorse a check for him. The amount of the check was $32 and was drawn on the Waterbury National Bank. McKinney unaware of the reputation his friend had acquired readily consented.

The check was cashed by Thomas W. Oxley a north end grocer. It was found to be worthless. McKinney made good on the face value and reported the case to Chief of Police Samuel Gordon. Whether the chief will take action against the author of bad checks has not been decided for Ryan must first be released from the Lawrence jail.

Many Cities Want Him. Ryan aside from being wanted in a number of Massachusetts cities is also on demand in Bridgeport, Providence, New Haven and Hartford, the police of the latter city have been looking for him since the early part of July. He has separated a number of Hartford merchants from their money by the use of fraudulent checks. It is said that the Hartford police will institute proceedings as soon as Ryan is released.

HARSH BUT TRUE.

In the sincerity of its conviction that the League and the Treaty should be ratified at once and without serious alteration the Herald has used some rather harsh terms in describing the coterie of United States Senators who are attempting to burke the Treaty and strangle the League. As the debate goes on in Washington and as the tactics of these obstructionists become more and more apparent the Herald believes it has been fully justified in its denunciation and that the Senators have furnished out of their own mouths, evidence which substantiates our imputations.

We have called the opposition to the Treaty and the League "short-sighted and unwise." In other words, at least, what means words, can be used to describe a policy which has deliberately sought to create hot blood between this country and England. The open and shameless bidding of the opposition Senators for the Sinn Fein vote in this country has already brought the angry request from one British political leader that the United States "mind her own business." The war has been practically without meaning for those statesmen who would foment hostility between the two great English speaking democracies of the world and yet the League obstructionists have not been above such miserable work. But the case is not limited to England. By voting solidly in favor of striking out the name of Japan and substituting the name of China throughout those sections of the Treaty which deal with former German rights in Shantung these Senators have deliberately insulted the proudest and most sensitive nation of the East. Even while the war was raging, men have shuddered to think of how much more terrible would be the conflict when mighty Asia stirred from her centuries of slumber, marshalled her millions and swept to war against the civilized peoples of Europe and America. The Treaty and the League are built in part to render such a tragedy impossible yet the obstructionists are seeking to annihilate both of them and in their efforts they have slapped the leader of the yellow millions in the face.

If such a policy is not short-sighted and unwise, what is it?

We have accused the Senate obstructionists of playing false to our allies and as the weeks have passed that falseness appears more and more despicable. We stood aloof from the war for nearly three years while France and Belgium and Italy and British Empire and all the others were battling with the hideous monster which had its heart and head in Germany and stretched its ghastly length across Europe from Heligoland to the Dardanelles. When at last we joined the struggle it was with the conviction that the Allies' cause was really our cause and that their purposes and ideals were likewise ours. We joined hands with them in a League of Nations to win peace and now we are seeking to maintain the League that the peace may endure. But the Senate obstructionists would shatter the League and force the United States to stand alone, to forsake the comrades of the battlefield, to try and perpetuate the old isolation which the war proved to be impossible.

They would do even more than this for they seek to kill the Treaty and force the United States to present new terms to Germany. This is the most humiliating aspect of the whole proceeding. Germany has been whipped in the trenches and the peace council at Paris so drew the Treaty that she could not claim a diplomatic victory. Ever since the Treaty was handed to her Germany has been whining that its terms were too hard and that her counter-claims were not given the consideration they deserved. Those who are trying to break up the Treaty in Washington are simply playing Germany's game. They propose that the United States present another set of terms to Germany, that we allow her a chance to renew the bargaining and present her demands along for a milder peace. Ever since the war began there has been something that was so dreaded by the Allies as a separate peace. That was the acme of baseness and treachery. Yet in their blind opposition to the Treaty and the League there are men in Washington who would have the United States take just such a step. If this is not falseness to our Allies, what is it?

We have said that the violent and partisan hostility to the Treaty and the League was un-American and we go no further than the ideals and declarations of our greatest Americans for proof of that. The dream of a time when the nations would stand united against international wrong and violence has been one which has been voiced by Americans with special force and ardor. Theodore Roosevelt declared that "the ruler or statesman who could bring about such a combination would have earned his place in history for all time and his title to the gratitude of all mankind." William Howard Taft is one of the staunchest advocates of the plan and has declared in a letter to the National Chairman of the Republican party that were he a Senator of the United States he would vote for the Treaty and the League without alteration of any kind. John Hay was inspired with this ideal and as Secretary of State under McKinley worked ceaselessly for greater co-operation among the powers of the world. Henry Cabot Lodge was for it before an unkind fate thrust him into the leadership of a cantankerous faction in the United States Senate. George W. Wickersham, who was a member of Roosevelt's cabinet, is for it and has repeatedly urged that the Senate vote for the Treaty without change. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, and President Lowell of that institution are among the foremost advocates of the League and the Treaty as they now stand. But the list grows needlessly. Chapter and verse could be sighted through all the glorious annals of American diplomatic history to show how we have ever stood for such a scheme of world organization as the Treaty and the League make possible.

If to forsake this ideal now is not un-American, what is it?

We have maintained that the opposition to the League and the Treaty was essentially insincere. We still believe that it is pretending to be something which it is not for the obstructionists know that were they once revealed to the American people in their true characters they would be held in a public contempt which would render them powerless to realize their selfish ambitions. Do not the facts bear us out in this? What sincere motive can there be behind the proposition of Senator Fall to amend the Treaty in more than fifty places so as to exclude the United States from a plague in the various councils and commissions created by the document. It cannot be that he feels that he should sweep out of foreign affairs for he does not include all the commissions in his resignation. It cannot be that he is inspired by a faith that we will again be drawn into war for he has always maintained a most pugnacious attitude towards Mexico. No, the Fall resolution is a sly attempt to kill the Treaty and it stamps both its author and the Senators who voted for it as men who would do by parliamentary flim-flam that which they dare not try to do openly and above board.

Again, what sincere purpose can there be behind the decision of the obstructionists on the Foreign Relations Committee to extend hearings to representatives of all the disgruntled nations of Europe? Greeks, Egyptians, Lithuanians, Letts, Ukrainians, Estonians and negroes from the German colonies in South Africa have been informed by the trouble hunters on the Foreign Relations Committee that they would be welcome at Washington and that the Committee would give ear to their complaints and their accusations against our allies of the war. Whom do the obstructionists think they are bamboozling except the misguided representatives of these unhappy nations themselves. The opposition Senators know that they cannot alter the conditions of these peoples in any way whatsoever, that they cannot right a single wrong in Cairo that they cannot remedy a single injustice in Windhoek. But they can stir up trouble among our allies who are standing by the Treaty and they can so muddle the League as to make its passage more difficult.

To come to the crowning hypocrisy of all, the Shantung resolution. Here we have Senator Hiram Johnson of California standing hand in hand with William Randolph Hearst, Hearst striving to provoke Japan to war and Johnson tearing up Japan's agreement to keep the peace. Still if may be unjust to Senator Johnson to say that he is insincere in this respect. He seems honest in his desire for a blood encounter with Japan and, think of his statesmanship what we may, we cannot say that he is two-faced in this. But what of the action of the obstructionists as a whole? They would oust Japan from Shantung on paper by crossing out her name where ever it appears in the Treaty but they know that Japan is actually in possession of that territory, that she has established herself there by a military victory over Germany and that she will continue to remain there until she is driven out by another army or until she withdraws of her own free will. President Wilson has succeeded in obtaining her promise, made in the presence of the allies at Paris, that she would withdraw and restore Shantung to China where, of course, it rightfully belongs. But this promise depends on the Treaty and the League and it is the Treaty and the League which the Senators in opposition are bound to destroy. Unless the Senators mean to follow the rejection of the Treaty by a declaration of war on Japan all their talk of friendship for China is deceitful cant. As Senator Porter J.

McCurdy, Republican from North Dakota, charged in his address of this week, the opposition Senators are striving to drive a poisoned dagger into the Treaty under the guise of friendship for China. The League offers China, and every wronged nation of the world, its only hope for justice and yet the obstructionists are using the oppressed and weak nations as screens from behind which to strike down the League. If this is not insincerity, yes hypocrisy, what is it?

It is because the opposition is cankered with these unfortunate qualities that we are confident it will ultimately fail. The Senate obstructionists are not the first ones who have tried to throw dust in the eyes of the American people and been chagrined to find how clear their perception of right, of justice, and of honor remained. There is no reason to fear that that perception is yet dimmed and while it remains clear and bright the League and the Treaty are safe.

PRICES COMING DOWN.

It is impossible just now to say when prices inflated by the war will be restored to normal but there is good reason to believe they are on their way. After the Civil War from two to three years elapsed before war prices came down to normal. It probably will take as long after this war. But signs multiply that the recession has begun. In the first place the President of the United States has served notice on the country that profiteering must cease. Steps already taken by the government have checked the advance of necessities and have produced a decline in the price of food. While the reduction is so small, that you would hardly notice it, still it is a reduction and not an advance as it would have been had the government not interfered.

From the railroad men came the impulse which has turned the tide. They threatened to strike for higher pay unless the price of living was reduced. They appealed to the President, who told them that wages were high enough but living necessities must come down. The railroad men have now been advised by their leaders to defer their demands for ninety days, pending the efforts of the government to reduce the prices of necessities. This would be sensible action, and an example worthy of emulation by all wage earners who, although well paid, are having hard work making both ends meet. The "price" which the President asks for will have an important effect in the depression of living costs for it will keep up the supply of necessities, whereas strikes only shorten it.

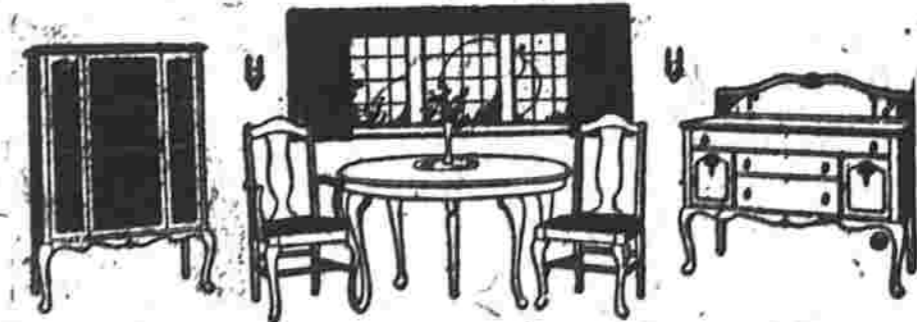

Meanwhile there is concerted action between national, state and municipal authorities to cut out profiteering. Rigid investigations are in progress. Hoarded stocks are being placed on the market and profiteers are being forced into the limelight.

The Misses Donnie and Bonnie Cottrell who have been engaged in recreational work in Manchester during the summer season, will leave this evening for New Haven where they will resume their studies in Dr. Arnold's Normal School of Gymnastics. The Misses Cottrell have gained many friends during their stay in town and their work has been praised very highly by Director Whiting. Miss Bonnie Cottrell has had charge of the girls' and ladies' swimming classes at the Recreation Center while Miss Donnie has been engaged in playground work. They will be graduated from Dr. Arnold's school next year.

Miss Marion Tinker, supervisor of the female recreational activities at the Recreation Center also leaves this evening. Miss Tinker has accepted a position as Recreational Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Westchester County.

THE "HIP" CLOSED.

Largest Playhouse in the World is Shut Up by Strike.

New York, Aug. 29.—The Actors Equity Association was expected to take radical steps today to end the drama strike which has now closed twenty six of the largest theaters in New York.

In an address to the strikers last night, Ed Wynn, one of the guiding spirits in the war, promised a plan would come to a head today which would force the managers "to act hurriedly or there will be a new set of managers by Monday."

The Hippodrome, the largest theater in the world, was closed last night when musicians and scene shifters refused to go to work. More than 1,000 persons were thrown out of employment as a result.

Vampire In Real Life Brings Death and Ruin

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 28.—Mrs. Maud Kaftz—a vampire in real life!

The woman around whom centers the suicide of Charles McGwire, the bombing of the residence of Oscar Lawler and the sordid tragedy of a ruined home and a broken-hearted husband is, by her record, the stage vampire become a living personality.

Her life study is a character study of fascination—her fascination—her power—over men of a certain type. Men mark the milestones of her life. And these men suffered.

William Kaftz, Charles McGwire and her other friends and admirers were drawn to the flame of her personality and were scorched by the blaze. Her husband died, broken-hearted, eight months after she shot him. McGwire lies in a suicide's grave, dishonored, and charged with the bombing of the residence of Oscar Lawler and the serious injuring of Mr. and Mrs. Lawler. Those other men whose lives touched hers are in troubled waters.

None of the elements of the vampire are lacking. She had beauty, she had that mysterious call that lures men even to their own destruction. She lived—and loved—and laughed and the men "they called her their lady fair." When the skies were rosy she was an "angel." Denied her will, this "purring tiger cat" unsheathed her claws—and some one paid. Strawn at the side of her life's pathway lie the men who have loved her. And in their fall, as always, has suffering been brought to others.

Trouble, trouble—love, hate, revenge, the whole gamut of passionate emotions, enshroud the career of Maud Kaftz. And always trouble.

Born in Toronto, Ohio, forty years ago, she has been characterized by her own sister as a "wayward girl" since she was eleven years old. Her parents were substantial people and she was given educational opportunities, but failed to take advantage of them. Her mother is said to be still living in Toronto.

Little is known of her life up to the time of her meeting William Kaftz in Los Angeles in 1905, but she had been to California before, in 1900, and there were rumors of a tragedy in San Jose. A man shot another man there. Both are said to have been admirers of the then Maud Myers. Her remarkable influence over men of a certain type had, as far as can be learned, claimed its first tragic denouement.

Kaftz Passionately Wooes. In 1905 Maud Myers came to Los Angeles with her parents and sister. They rented a house at Winfield and Westlake. William Kaftz, who was in the real estate business, had this house on his list and called there to show it to a prospective buyer. He met Maud Myers, and his middle-aged heart throbbled with youth. He came to sell. He remained to court—and to regret. At that time he was about twice her age. He proposed to her, she says, very soon after that, but she refused him and he followed the family the following year when they returned to Toronto, proposed again, and they were married in 1906, coming immediately to Los Angeles to live.

Apparently all went well, or fairly well, for some years. Mr. Kaftz complained because his wife refused to bear him children and there were stories of several quarrels, but on the whole Kaftz's marital sea was comparatively unruffled until the death of his wife's father. Mr. Myers always had told his daughters he was in moderate circumstances. He had settled $5,000 on Maud when she married Kaftz, but had led her to believe he was a comparatively poor man. With his death it was learned he was wealthy and Mrs. Kaftz inherited $50,000.

Handsome Stranger Appears. Enter—trouble. This was the cue and trouble accepted it.

Mrs. Kaftz bought, against her husband's advice, an expensive limousine and engaged a chauffeur, Jacob Migeot. She made many trips in the car which kept her away from home all day. She said she was shopping, but her husband was warned that at an automobile show she was accompanied by a "handsome stranger" and wore orchids. The stranger was Jacob Jepsin. This was the beginning. Far beyond lie Campbell, Ahearn, Beyerle, McGwire the shooting of William Kaftz, while the smoke from the burning Lawler home rises in the distance.

MEXICAN BANDITS AGAIN

This Time They Defeat Carranzista Soldiers.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 29.—In an attack on a federal troop train Mexican bandits killed and captured 150 Carranzista soldiers, according to a telegram received here today. The attack, which took place at Espinal de Morelos, state of Chiriqui, also netted the bandits several pieces of artillery, much ammunition and other army supplies.

Bandits also derailed a federal troop train 70 miles south of Laredo on Tuesday.

NEW VICTOR RECORDS FOR SEPTEMBER

BEAUTIFUL OHIO—Waltz. May Earl. 10-inch list price $1.00. "Beautiful Ohio" is one of those songs of the day which have come to stay. It is this was ever doubtful, the last lingering doubt has vanished now that Kreisler has made a Victor record of it; for Kreisler plays waltzes as no other violinist plays them, and this is one of the best waltzes in years.

PHILADELPHIA ORCHESTRA
74528 Scheherazade—Festival at Bagdad. Rimsky-Korsakow. 12-in., list price $1.50. The bold theme sung in octaves by the brass with which this movement opens, is the sea motive. It is heard in the previous movements, also, but never with such commanding power for this fourth movement from "Scheherazade," a group of pieces based on the Arabian Nights tales, is really an epitome of all the rest.

Take Me to the Land of Jazz, 18569—10 in., list price 85c. John Steel

I Ain't 'en Got 'en No Time to Have the Blues, Murray Spauls
Take Me to the Land of Jazz, Marlon Harris
Something absolutely new! You never before heard anything like "I Ain't 'en Got 'en No Time to Have the Blues," by Andrew B. Sterling and Harry Von Tiger. It is an "eccentric" humorous number in which certain Jazz effects have crept into both music and words.

19503—10 in., list price 85c.
Ruspama, One Step, Pietro
Have a Smile Medley Fox Trot, Pietro

Pietro's accordion is so full of melody it is hard to believe a single instrument can yield so much sound. "Ruspama," by Mary Earl, is a lively piece of music, with catchy tunes, unexpected changes of harmony and in perfect dancing rhythm.

19504—10 in., list price 85c.
Fidgety Feet—One Step, Original Dixieland Jazz Band
Lazy Daddy—Fox Trot, Original Dixieland Jazz Band

"Fidgety Feet" is a clever piece of Jazz music by La Rocca and Shields in which a novel rhythmic effect is produced by having two silent beats introduced here and there. The result is starting, but highly stimulating. "Lazy Daddy," by La Rocca, Shields and Ragas, also introduces somewhat similar "stunts." You never can tell just what these Jazz fellows are going to do next; but they always contrive to do something you never thought of before.

FIRE DEPARTMENT WANTS 200-POUND HEROINE FOR DAILY RESCUE

Chicago, Aug. 29.—A heroine, weighing 200 pounds, who is willing to be rescued daily is wanted by the Oak Park Fire Department. Captain William Waters thus far, has served as hero and is determined to relinquish the honor in favor of a heroine in order to satisfy his fire crew.

A part of the daily drill of the fire crew in Oak Park is to "rescue" a comrade and run up a ladder with him. Recently Captain Waters has taken his turn to be "rescued", and after being carried up the ladder and later dropped on the floor with a dull thud the captain decided to advertise for a heroine.

TOLEDO WILL LOSE 12,000 FOREIGN POPULATION.

Toledo, Ohio, Aug. 29.—This city will lose 12,000 of its present population within three months, according to the manager of the foreign department of a local bank. Lifting of the restrictions on foreigners desiring to return to their homelands will cause the exodus. Four thousand Bulgarians will return to their homes, it is said.

U. S. HAMPERED BY LACK OF METRIC STANDARDS

Caused Much Inconvenience During the World War—Retarded Speed in Manufacture of Munitions.

San Francisco, Aug. 29.—In his monumental report, "America's Munitions", just issued, Benedict Crowell, Assistant Secretary of War and Director of Munitions, reveals that the United States was hampered in the World War because we did not use the metric system of measurements employed by the French and all our other allies, except Britain. In numerous instances he shows that the lack of universal standards of measurement meant that in the making of munitions, the American ordnance engineers lost weeks, and "even months of time on the part of whole staffs of experts working at high tension."

Concerning the manufacture of the famous "75" cannon, the report says: "To avoid delays and confusion, we decided to redesign the American and British guns (of similar size) to make their bores uniformly 75 millimeters, thus simplifying the ammunition problem and making available to us in case of shortage the supplies of shell of this size in France."

World Trade Club of San Francisco has urged that the United States adopt the Metric System; not only because of its superiority to our present weights and measures, but also in order that our nation be able to go speedily to the aid of France, and co-ordinate our resources with hers, in case of future attack.

LOST BOY ASLEEP ON PORCH.

Hopedale, Mass., Aug. 29.—Earle Draper, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Draper, who was reported lost and kept the firemen on the jump searching the neighborhood, was found two hours later by his mother on the north piazza of the Draper home. The boy had covered himself with carpeting and was fast asleep.

Circle Theater

So much comment has been heard in town over "The Wicked Darling" which made so great a hit at the Circle last evening that a synopsis of the story is given. The play will again be shown this evening. Here is the synopsis:

Kent Mortimer attend a ball with his fiancée. He tells her he is ruined and that he must sell even his household effects to keep his head above the financial waters. She coolly tells Mortimer their engagement is at an end, returning all his gifts, except a string of pearls, which she loses on entering her cab.

Mary Stevens, "The Wicked Darling", whose habitat is the underworld, matches the gems from the limousine step and flees, a policeman several persons in pursuit. She finds refuge in a home, the door of which stands open. Mortimer has returned to pay his cabbie, and the girl enters without being questioned. There Mortimer finds her. She tells him she is "down and out." He tells her he must sell his home—that he is "at the end of the string." She also learns the story of the broken engagement and that the pearls she has really belong to Mortimer. He thinks her a thief at first, but later allows her to go. She sneaks back later and passes the night in his house, and as she goes in the morning takes a picture of Adele Hoyt. She goes to work in a cheap restaurant as a waitress, living at a boarding house not far away. One day Mortimer chances in the restaurant and their acquaintance is renewed. In defense of Mary, for whom he has come to have a deep regard, Mortimer's arm is broken and Mary thereby discovers that he has not paid his rent. She takes two of the pearls to old Fadern and gives the money to Mortimer's landlady. Fadern and the gunman shadow Mary and ransack her room.

Not finding the rest of the pearls, the gunman jumps to the conclusion that Mary has them. In the struggle between the two men, Mary's real past is revealed and when she calls, Mortimer sorrowfully casts her out of his life. As a last resort, Mary returns the pearls to Mortimer's former fiancée, who returns them, with a letter, to Mortimer, who then starts out in search of Mary. He comes to her rescue just in time. In their attempt to force Mary to reveal the hiding place of the pearls, Fadern and the gunman, in their

SON INCORRIGIBLE; FATHER ENLISTS HIM IN ARMY.

Clinton, Ill., Aug. 29.—John Vary, aged seventeen, threatened the life of his father. The boy was incorrigible. Punishment and arrest had no terror for him. But his father thinks he has found a way of taming him. He took his son to a local recruiting station and compelled the boy to enlist in the army, where he expects the discipline will correct his faults.

U. S. CAPITALISTS WANT JAP LABOR BUT THE UNIONS ARE AGAINST IT

Dr. Hattori, Delegate to Brussels Conference Gives His Side of the Controversy in Newspaper Article.

London, Aug. 29.—Japan's emigration policy and her attitude towards China are defended by Ichizo Hattori, chairman of the Japanese delegation to the Brussels international parliamentary conference, in an article in the Fall Mall Gazette.

Dr. Hattori, who is a member of the Japanese House of Peers, declared that "Japan's future development must necessarily be very closely associated with China" and that "It is Japan's sincere desire to establish amicable relations, based on mutual understanding with China."

On the subject of Japanese labor Dr. Hattori contended that on broad lines, American capitalists desire to employ Japanese workers, but are opposed by American labor interests.

The article, in part, follows: "Japan's population is increasing at the rate of 600,000 yearly and already the country is overcrowded. We must obtain an outlet for our surplus population."

"As the nation does not desire to interfere in the domestic politics of any other country, we hereby resent any imputation of race inferiority. We frankly recognize that every country has a perfect right to order its own affairs in its own way. If organized labor in America objects to Japanese working there we do not feel we have any cause to complain. We contend, however, apart from displacing labor, we have the right to develop our future in our own way."

As to America. "In America any discussion as to future development inevitably turns upon the racial question, although it is really the labor problem that is meant. We regard the labor phase as an unessential part of the question. The Japanese do not want to interfere between Capital and Labor in any country."

"On broad lines American capitalists desire to employ Japanese labor, while American labor is determined that the capitalists shall not do so. And for the present the latter have triumphed."

"I am convinced that great fields of activity are open to us where there is no possibility of clashing local prejudices and where the value of our labor is being steadily recognized."

Demand from South America. "When South America is really opened up there will be an enormous demand for our men. Japan does not want any more colonies. We recognize that all available territory has been taken up. What we do desire is to be regarded as equal competitors in the markets of the world."

"Therefore I emphasize the difference between General racial problems and the mere side line issue of cheap labor. No serious proposal was ever made to exclude the Japanese from any country solely because they were Japanese. That is another matter."

"Great industrial development occurred in Japan during the war. Since the armistice there has been some depression but that is only temporary. When conditions are settled our prosperity will develop on a scale not dreamed of before the war. As our industries increase so will our powers increase for absorbing surplus population."

ROGERS BRINGS SUIT FOR ACCIDENT DAMAGES

Asks $5,000 Compensation Injuries Received in Auto Crash.

CASE IN SUPERIOR COURT

Both Machines Insured by Same Company—Defendant Furnishes Bonds—Claims Defective Steering Apparatus.

Selectman Willard B. Rogers has brought suit against Raymond Framinville of Middletown for personal injuries and property damages incurred in an automobile crash which happened on the Meriden Road near Middletown a few weeks ago. The suit was brought by Judge Alexander Arnot and is returnable to the Superior Court for Hartford County. The damages asked for are $5,000.

The accident happened in the evening when Mr. Rogers was returning from Meriden. According to Mr. Rogers, his car was seven feet off the highway to the right when it was hit by the Framinville auto. Mr. Framinville acknowledges that the Rogers car gave him plenty of leeway but claims that his steering gear became effective as he reached the top of the hill and that he could not turn back.

Mr. Rogers' car was a complete wreck and the injuries he received necessitated his removal to the hospital. The Framinville car was also badly damaged. The latter car was taken for repairs to a garage where it was attached by Mr. Rogers. Mr. Rogers has released the attachment suitable bonds being substituted.

The feature of this case is that the Massachusetts Safety and Bonding Company carries liability on both cars. The defendant carries an insurance of $5,000. He has a liability insurance of $5,000 and a property insurance of $1,000.

AUSTRALIAN TO MEET FRISCO'S TENNIS STAR

Field Has Narrowed Down to 10 Contenders for Title at National Tennis Tournament.

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Gerald L. Patterson, star of the Australian tennis team, will be put to the acid test on the courts of the West Side Tennis Club here this afternoon when he meets Billy Johnston, of San Francisco, in the fourth round of the National Tennis singles.

With fair weather on tap and the field narrowed down to sixteen contenders for the title, the biggest crowd of the week was expected to be on hand for today's matches, among which the Patterson-Johnston contest stood out as the big feature.

Patterson has exhibited his prowess in but two matches since the tournament got under way. Both Fred B. Alexander and Watson M. Washburn forced the Australian to go five sets to defeat them. He was not called upon to play in the second round, as Randolph Lycett, one of his team mates, defaulted to him.

Australian is Clever. "On his showing to date the crack Antipodean player has proven himself to be the master of many brilliant shots and a player of great endurance. His staying powers enabled him to wear both Alexander and Washburn down, and the fact that his playing improved as a match progresses has led tennis experts to believe that he is holding something back for the more important matches in which he is sure to figure."

In Johnston the Antipodean will meet one of America's best. The San Francisco player is carrying the hopes of many tennis followers on his shoulders today and if Patterson succeeds in beating him there is little doubt that he may be expected to fight his way into the semi final round.

Today's schedule offered an attractive list of matches. In addition to the Patterson-Johnston match Norman E. Brooks, veteran Australian, was scheduled to cross racquets with Charles S. Garland, the young star from Pittsburg, and the match between them looked to have an area chance to win.

Robert L. Murray, the national champion, and Conrad B. Davis, of Washington today, while A. Norris Williams, II, was scheduled to face R. V. Thomas, of Australia. William Thoma, II, at Philadelphia, was matched with Ichya Kamegasa, the Japanese star, Maurice E. McLoughlin, of Los Angeles, drew Percy Easton, Rockville Center, L. I., and Nat. Miles, Boston, was scheduled with Wallace F. Johnson, Philadelphia.

RAILROAD SHOP CRAFTS PUT IT UP TO WILSON

Give President 90 Days to Reduce the Cost of Living.

OTHERWISE, MAY STRIKE

If Strike is Called Almost Three Million Railroad Men Would Quit Work.

Washington, August 29.—Industrial peace in the United States depends on the results the government can show in the next 90 days in its campaign to reduce the cost of living. That time limit was tacitly set today by the executive council of the railroad shop crafts in suggesting to union locals throughout the country that President Wilson's compromise offer in response to their demand for higher wages should be accepted pending the outcome of the effort to restore a normal price level.

If the cost of living does not come down, the 500,000 members of the shop crafts would reserve the right to strike for more money, and with them probably would be associated the remainder of the 2,500,000 railroad employees, all of whom have been considering the same problem.

Lower the Prices. The letter of the executive council served to compose somewhat the uneasiness felt in official circles over the immediate labor situation and to focus attention on the legal measures being directed by Attorney-General Palmer and his assistant, Judge Ames to take the inflation out of prices by punishing hoarders and profiteers.

"In our opinion," the letter said, "the next 90 days will bring the entire situation to a head and if a strike is to take place every class of railroad employees should be willing to join in the movement, share their full measure of responsibility and not leave the issue to be decided by the 22 per cent. of the railroad employees represented by the federated trades."

May Not Be Accepted. Apprehension was evident, however, both in the letter and in the conversation of the international officers, that the men might not be willing to accept the suggestion that the question of a strike be left in the hands of the executive council and a suspension of work be ordered only after a "reasonable time" had made it clear that such a step was necessary to afford relief.

The letter said the proposal was certain to draw criticisms from individuals "who have not as yet indicated a desire to listen to reason," and that it was conceivable some men would want to rush into a strike now. Officers of the unions declined to hazard a guess whether the advice would prevail, but hoped that the more moderate element would dominate the deliberations.

Attorney-General Palmer has said that a few convictions for hoarding cases of profiteering and hoarding would end that trouble within 60 days. In order to obtain criminal convictions for such persons as the administrator believed to be guilty of bringing the country into more serious danger, even than the war with Germany, amendment of the food control law now pending in Congress is necessary. The legislation to impose $5,000 fine of two years imprisonment or both for violation of the law has been reported out in both House and Senate but neither body has acted on it.

VISIT OF JAPANESE SILK EXPERT

Mr. Kagayama, director of the Agricultural Experimental Station of the Japanese Government, is due to arrive in New York this week according to advices received by the Silk Association of America. He is coming to America by order of the Japanese Government and it is expected that his visit will be of great assistance to the silk association in its efforts to work out a solution of the problems surrounding standard classification of raw silk.

Ice Cream In Manchester Is Second Best In Connecticut

The quality of the ice cream dispensed in Manchester ranks second among all the cities and towns of the state of Connecticut was the statement given to a Herald representative by Dairy and Food Commissioner Thomas Holt at the capitol yesterday afternoon.

Commissioner Holt and his assistants have just finished a preliminary examination of ice cream in practically all the places where it is sold throughout the state. The investigation has been made to learn whether manufacturers and dealers are living up to the pure food laws and to see that the per cent. of butter fat is according to the standard prescribed by statute.

Nine Brands Examined. According to the figures given at the capitol yesterday the ice cream of nine dealers in Manchester has been examined. It was impossible to obtain the names of the dealers and the per cent. of butter fat contained in their brands as the investigation so far is merely to warn and mision on reparations; a treaty predicated upon the assertion that a stricken and helpless world required our counsel and support but leaves to the beneficiaries the decision as to the measure and character of the benefactions they are to receive; a treaty that with ominous words presages our involvement in the eruptions of suppressed volcanic world conditions; a treaty that would require us to underwrite all the regional understandings between nations recognized by the League, most of which are based upon oppression of weaker nations, many of which are as yet secret and undisclosed and when disclosed might drive us to acts of injustice similar to that in which the president felt himself compelled to acquiesce in the case of Shantung."

KNOX URGES THE SENATE TO REJECT THE TREATY

The Mind Stands Appalled. "The mind stands appalled and refuses to grasp the infinite possibilities which arise from the ramifications of the obligations we are asked to assume. Looking at the treaty as a whole it is to be wondered at that we are asked to guarantee by our arms and our resources, the territorial status which it creates."

"I have not sought to propound or establish any thesis beyond this: The treaty as it stands cannot be enforced. This is admitted by its proponents. The treaty as it stands is but a harbinger of other and greater wars. This being true the question must come—why was this treaty so drawn and the vanquished compelled to sign it? It may be when we get all the documents this will appear. And yet in spite of all these great duties and obligations we assume for the future in spite of our great contribution in men and resources to the successful fruition of the great joint enterprise we entered, it seems to be proposed that we are to waive all participation in the benefits of this treaty, and that we are to add further to the general burdens of the people by ourselves compensating our citizens who have suffered losses in this war.

Our Task, Heavy One. "The weight of the task resting upon us is not light but the people demand that we fully perform it, in accordance with our sworn duty. We can in this matter take the ipse dixit of no man. "I have put before the people as tersely as I could, the salient features of this treaty so that knowing them their counsel might assist us in our work. For one of the great defects thus far incident to the treaty is that too few minds have functioned on its provisions and perusing it one finds it impossible to believe that any responsible mind had sought to co-ordinate its provisions and trace out their ultimate logical conclusions."

"Nothing in all our history has called for a clearer definition of present and future, a keener or juster understanding of our free institutions, a clearer vision of the mighty mission of our great nation in the world or the dedication of a purer and loftier patriotism than the consideration of this treaty. "Unless we shall have the guidance of the infinite wisdom we shall fail in our duty and wrecking our beloved country, the victim of the treasonable betrayal."

PLAYGROUND PAGEANT BEAUTIFUL SPECTACLE

Large Audience Applauds Ability of Young Girls in Play.

CHARMING OUTSIDE STAGE

Play Ground Girls Give Appealing Interpretation to the Fairy Story "The Toy Shop."

The pageant and play given by the children of the east and west side playgrounds at Educational Square last evening proved to be a great success. The various characters were admirably acted by the juveniles and the gathering of over 900 people who braved threatening skies to witness the play were well repaid.

The natural settings and artificial effects made a perfect stage. When the pale blue flood of a huge spotlight belonging to the Park theater was directed on the multi-colored dresses of the girl players, the scene was entrancing.

The opening scene was the shop of Tackhammer, the toy maker. In a huge semi-circle were the products of his handiwork. There were dolls of every kind. Sailors, paper dolls, dancing dolls, French dolls, jumping jacks, Japanese, Scotch and American dolls.

Tackhammer—Miss Helen Hillsburg—opened the play with a song while working on his toys. At the end of his day's work he tests out the voices and ability of a number of new toys. Then he turns out the lights and goes to bed.

The dolls are unanimous in expressing the wish that they might become real when the Good Fairy—Dorothy McHale—suddenly appears in their midst and bestows upon them the privilege of becoming real girls and boys for an hour. Little Miss McHale proved to be a good dancer and took her part well.

Helen Moynihan portrayed the character of the pretty French doll with whom both Capt. Fritz—Mary Clune—and Jack in the Box—Catherine Massett—are in love. Jack doesn't like his box but because he is an Imp he has to stay there while the others play. The Jap doll—Lillian Krob—sympathizes with Jack and finally wins his love.

In the meantime Diddy Tackhammer dreams that his paper dolls dance. His soldiers go through a military drill and his sailors dance the hornpipe. The Scotch doll—Alice Anderson—was forced to bow to many encores after the Highland Fling. The dance of the seven jumps by the Japs also brought forth rounds of applause.

The feature of the evenings was the American Doll's dance by Mary Whippert. This little miss had never danced before until trained by Miss Peglar. She showed exceptional grace and talent in her interpretation.

Tackhammer finally awakes only to find that his thoughts were a dream. Once more the scene changes and the story ends when the dolls again become mere toys.

There were sixty seven girls in the play, all under fourteen years of age. Miss Florence Skinner played for the singing numbers and the music for dancing was rendered by the Victor orchestra. The dancers were coached by Miss Helen Peglar, the Misses Bonnie and Donnie Cottrell and Miss Marion Tinker. All rehearsals were supervised by them. The costumes and settings were devised by the coaches.

PRESIDENT TO CONFER WITH GOMPERS TODAY

Entire Labor Situation to Be Discussed—To Be Most Important Meeting.

Washington, Aug. 29.—One of the most important conferences since the labor situation became acute will take place this afternoon. President Wilson and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, were to discuss the general labor situation. The exact time has not been fixed. The President let it be known that he was willing to receive the veteran labor leader at any time that suited his convenience.

All the schools in districts one to eight will open on Tuesday. The Ninth District schools will start Wednesday.

IRELAND'S HOPE IS IN TREATY

Senator Nugent Says League Offers Only Chance for Solution of Irish Question.

SPEECH IN THE U. S. SENATE

Declares That Every Friend of Ireland Should Be a Supporter of the Peace Treaty.

Washington, Aug. 29.—Senator Nugent of Idaho in a speech delivered Monday in the Senate, advocated the League of Nations as an effective instrumentality for the solution of the Irish question. The unqualified endorsement of the League of Nations by the League of Nations is regarded as significant in view of the fact that he is the colleague of Senator Borah, one of the leading opponents of the treaty.

The Senator argued that under the terms of the second paragraph of Article XI of the covenant it is declared to be the friendly right of each member of the League to bring to the attention of the Assembly of the League any circumstance, whatever affecting international relations which threatens to disturb international peace. Under this provision, he said, the United States or any other member of the League could bring before the Assembly or Council the Irish problem.

"I believe," he said, "that neither the Assembly nor the Council is empowered to take any action in the premises, that they can do nothing more than advise, and can only do that by unanimous vote, but I believe a hearing on the question or the mere fact that it has been presented will have a beneficial effect and will lead to the formulation of a plan of adjustment that will be adopted by the interested parties."

The Senator went on to say that a very large part of the English people are in sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people. "That sympathy, however," he said, "does not now and in the very nature of things will not find expression so long as present conditions exist, for the masses that there is a deep seated belief in the minds of Englishmen that if war were to continue, if no action is to be taken by the nations of the earth to guarantee future peace, the domination of Ireland by Great Britain is a matter of self preservation."

The English viewpoint is that an Ireland contains a population of but 3,000,000, it is a small island, and, if attacked, would be overrun and devastated as were Belgium, France, Italy, Serbia and Roumania during the late war; that her people would have no avenue of retreat open to them and would of necessity be compelled to yield to overwhelming numbers and resources and submit to their conquerors, who would then be in a position to spring at the very throat of the British empire should they so desire."

It was the Senator's argument that if the League of Nations comes into being this fear will be removed. He declared every friend of Ireland should be a supporter of the League, as in it lies her most promising prospect for independence. The Senator reviewed the general features of the League, declaring that for the first time in the history of the world the great nations have seriously taken up the subject of adopting means for the avoidance of war. As there are no precedents, he said, it is but natural that the present treaty contains some minor faults. But he declared the consideration which banishes all other aspects of the treaty is that it is a beginning of a movement which ultimately will prevent warfare. "I believe," he said, "that public opinion in this country, and the viewpoint from which the world problems will be considered in the new era upon which we are about to enter, will have much to do with the accomplishment of that result."

PILE SUFFERERS! CLEVER OHIO CHEMIST SAYS THIS GREAT PRESCRIPTION TAKEN INTERNALLY HAS NEVER FAILED

Even chronic cases of 20 to 30 years standing, with profuse bleeding, have been completely cured in from three to ten days.

No discovery of recent years in the field of medicine has caused such a stir amongst the medical profession as the recent discovery that piles can be successfully treated and cured at home by a wonderful prescription known to our grandfathers as Pile Remedy.

It has been proved that so-called external remedies applied or inserted into the rectum cannot cure piles and that the best only give temporary relief. It is also true of surgical operations which simply remove them after formation, but in no wise acts on the source of the trouble.

N. Y. POLICE COURT IS SPANISH GALLANTRY

Magistrate Meets it for the First Time and Succumbs—What Else Could He Have Done?

A courteous and elegant defense against an infraction of the automobile rules of New York City was recently made by J. Alvarez Buenavista, secretary of the Peruvian Embassy. Summoned to appear in the Traffic Court, Mr. Buenavista wrote a letter in which "The Secretary of the Peruvian Embassy presents his compliments to His Worship, the Chief City Magistrate" and hopes "that his absence will not be construed as wanting in respect to the court," explaining further the unavoidable circumstances that took him from the city. Referring to the infraction of the rules, the polite letter-writer continued, "In the present instance, the police officer, Edward Collins, raised his hand so suddenly that the machine, which was already at the corner with required speed to effect a crossing, could not be brought to a standstill within the prescribed limits." "More than that," he graciously ended the letter, "J. Alvarez de Buenavista takes advantage of this opportunity to tender the expression of his highest consideration." The judge dismissed the charge. One feels, in the circumstances, that he had no choice.—Christian Science Monitor.

TAGGING THE BASES

Ferdie Schupp pitched his best game in two years when he let the Pirates down with one hit.

Bradley Hogg had the number of the Giants and the Phillies had Jess Winters measured for a beating, which they gave him, with a vengeance.

The hitting of Witt and Walker featured the victory of the Mackmen at Boston in the first game. Pennock blanked the A's with three hits in the second game, Jing Johnson allowing Boston but four.

Carl Mays won a 14 inning duel from Walt Johnson in the first game of a double header and George Mogridge outpitched Harper and Zachary in the second pastime.

The hitting of Pipp, Beckinbaugh, Lewis and Judge was heavy and timely.

Sufferers from rheumatism will be pleased to hear that there is a sure cure for their malady. A split mackerel must be bound round the affected part, when relief will be at once obtained—or so many people in Wales say.

UNWISE BUYING MAKES HIGHER LIVING COSTS

Shop Girls Buy Expensive Fur Coats on Installment Plan

APPEAL IN HIGH PRICES

More Steaks at Sixty Cents a Pound Sold Than Same Product at Forty Cents—Encourage Profiteering.

Hartford, Aug. 29.—One of the reasons for the present high cost of living according to a statement issued today by the Connecticut War Savings Committee, is the fact that people are spending money lavishly for luxuries. The committee's fight on extravagance as a factor in high prices is part of its publicity campaign in co-operation with Robert Scoville, Food Administrator for Connecticut.

Buy Unwisely. "Information has come to this office," says the statement, "indicating that profiteering has been and is practiced in Connecticut to a considerable extent. Its elimination is simply a matter of efficient police work by the Department of Justice and the Food Administration. That, however, is only part of the story. This office also has information from time to time showing unmistakably that the public in general is not buying wisely or carefully."

$300 Fur Coats on $16 a Week.

"Unfortunately, it is not only those of some means who are extravagant. In many ways the poor are becoming as foolish as the rich. This month, for instance, a woman representative of one of the department stores in Hartford is reported to have taken orders for 350 fur coats from girl employees of an insurance company, on a dollar a week basis. The coats cost from $125 to $300 each, but in this insurance office they were purchased by many girls earning probably $15.00 a week or less. Some of the girls will be paying on the coats for three or four years. By such reckless extravagance as this the prices of luxuries are made to soar, and to some extent the prices of necessities follow. Some Merchants Discourage Thrift.

"It is interesting to note in passing that the owner of the department store which sold the fur coats to the girl clerks and stenographers, has always been lukewarm toward the War Savings campaign, and has told other merchants that it would be 'bad business' for the department stores to help spread the gospel of thrift among the people. Fortunately, his opinion was not shared by the majority of public spirited Hartford merchants."

The statement gives other examples of extravagance on the part of consumers, including those of small means, and announces that a considerable body of statistics will be assembled by the representatives of the War Savings organizations and will be placed at the disposal of Food Administrator Scoville and the public.

Cash Liberty Bonds for Clothes.

The committee cites the instance of girl employees of the American Thread Mills at Williamstown, who cashed in Liberty Bonds and War Savings Stamps, when they were working but thirty-six hours a week to purchase expensive clothing. Last winter it is estimated, 95 per cent of the Liberty Bonds sold during the war to the girl employees of this factory were thrown on the market and a large percentage of the girls bought fur coats, and in most cases on the installment plan.

"This is not an isolated instance," continues the statement, "but an example of a general state of mind which is not restricted to any one class but appears to have affected wage earners whose incomes are pitifully small, as well as those who have been making 'big pay' on war work or receiving profits on war investments.

Quality Not Indicated by Price.

"One of our field secretaries found recently that a certain meat market in this city was selling sirloin steaks at 40c per pound and 50c a pound, according to the label. On telling a friendly clerk that he wanted the best steak in the store, he was advised to take the 40c steak. Naturally he asked why he should take the 40c steak when there were two other steaks marked at 50c and 60c respectively. The clerk insisted that the 40c steak was actually the best, but added with a smile that most people insisted on buying the 40c steak because the price was highest."

THE CONNECTICUT WAR SAVINGS COMMITTEE AGAINST HOARDING WITH FOOD ADMINISTRATION

Food Administrator Scoville today stated that the American people should not hoard commodities for present high prices. Any merchant will continue this with detailed instances showing that even the poor judge the articles they buy by the price rather than by common sense. Thus they encourage profiteering, and it is just this sort of person (one who insists on paying the top price for best meat, coffee and other commodities) who hoards the goods that the cost of living is too high.

BROKE EGG MARKET YEARS AGO, PLANS NEW ATTACK ON FOOD PRICES

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Frank S. Krause, organizer of the old "Thirty-Cent Egg Club," with which he broke the egg market several years ago, has organized the national "PEC" club, which stands for pork, eggs and coffee. In addition to being president of the new organization through which he hopes to smash prices on the three commodities, Krause is running as the "free and unfettered" candidate for Mayor of Cleveland. Krause urges the members of his club to boycott pork, eggs and coffee for three weeks in order to force prices down.

HOUSEWIVES PICKET STORES OF PROFITEERS.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 29.—Women who have been boycotting stores because of alleged profiteering crowded Dorchester Court at the trial of three of their number for blocking sidewalks while picketing Mrs. Ida Patlock, twenty-eight; Mrs. Theresa Snyder, twenty-four, and Mrs. Ida Dunkalis, forty, were arraigned. Mrs. Patlock and Mrs. Snyder were found not guilty and the case of Mrs. Dunkalis was dismissed without trial. The women and their friends testified that the pickets kept moving at all times.

H. C. L. CLASHES WITH REGULATIONS OF ARMY.

Chillicothe, Ohio, Aug. 29.—Military regulations were framed long before old H. C. L. clambered into the spotlight. Nevertheless the rules and regulations must be obeyed. For that reason Major A. N. Besnah, supply officer at Camp Sherman, is up a tree.

A former member of the 33d Division court-martialed in France and ordered temporarily imprisoned for six months' imprisonment, is soon to be given his freedom. Army regulations provide that he cannot retain his uniform but must be furnished "with a suit of civilian clothing at a cost not to exceed $10."

QUARANTINE 6000 ACRES OF ALFALFA BECAUSE OF WEEVILS

Montrose, Col., Aug. 29.—Six thousand acres of alfalfa have been quarantined by county commissioners because of the alfalfa weevil, found there June 1 by the State entomologist, who stated that unless such action was taken all of the alfalfa district would have to be quarantined. Under the quarantine restrictions no hay or straw can be shipped from the quarantined acreage.

CIGAR STUB FIRES AWNINGS

Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 29.—One cigar stub, carelessly thrown from a hotel window here, set fire to three awnings and the fire department had to be called out to put out the blaze. The stub was thrown from one of the upper windows of the hotel and set fire to awnings on the sixth, fifth and second floors. No damage, outside of destruction of the awnings, was reported.

HIS CONSCIENTIOUS DOG LANDS HIM IN COURT.

Sison, Cal., Aug. 29.—That even a watchdog may be too conscientious in his work is the advice of Forest Ranger Ross McCloud and Game Warden J. S. White, who were stopping for a few minutes at the home of W. J. Moffett in the mountain district of Moffett's dog to the brush every few minutes. They investigated, found deer which had been killed out of season and took Moffett before court where a $25 fine was inflicted. Moffett now has doubts as to the value of his dog.

DISCOVER VALUABLE LIMESTONE DEPOSITS.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 29.—Valuable limestone deposits have been discovered on 100 acres of land owned by the city of Colorado Springs. Limestone is valuable in the manufacture of cement and the land may be leased for that purpose.

FIRST ICE CREAM SODA MIXED TO PLEASE A GIRL

The War Most Good Things Start—First One Constructed Fifty Years Ago.

The next time you enter a drug store for your favorite cold drink, you are indebted for the invention of the ice-cream soda to a former resident of Lancaster, Pennsylvania, of the New York Sun tells us. Some 70 years ago, George H. Boyer was a young man in that town, and enjoyed the friendship of a dear little girl who never could decide whether she preferred to consume first her ice cream or her glass of soda water. To please her, and half in fun, Mr. Boyer experimented with a combination which should enable her to enjoy both at the same time; that is, he made the first ice-cream soda. It proved to be so delightfully satisfactory to this young epicure that presently it was offered to the public on an ever-increasing scale, and from this humble beginning a real industry has grown.

COAL SHOULD NOT BE SCARCE THIS WINTER

Congressman Lomorgan Gets Favorable Report From Geological Survey Head—Coal Being Mined Rapidly.

(Special to the Evening Herald.) Washington, D. C., Aug. 29.—Congressman Lomorgan conferred this week with members of the Federal Trade Commission and Mr. Leshner of the Geological Survey in regard to the coal situation in Connecticut during the coming winter.

The Fuel Administration having gone out of existence the Geological Survey has been doing most of the work along that line recently. Mr. Leshner informed the Congressman that the anthracite situation could be considered good as coal is being mined rapidly and the general situation is favorable.

The bituminous situation while not so favorable will not enter into an extreme condition unless poor railroad handling or lengthy labor difficulties should hamper production.

Mr. Leshner pointed out that everyone should get coal enough this winter in Connecticut even if for a little time they should be on the anxious seat. He stated that the Government without the Fuel Administration could not take the direct interest it took in the situation last year and consequently every one should endeavor to put in his winter coal as soon as possible.

Park Theater

In Rex Beach's "The Brand", to be presented by Goldwyn at the Park theater, tonight the hand of the author is seen from first to last. The fact is his personal supervision contributes largely to the success of his photo-drama produced for Goldwyn. Never writing about a locale with which he is not thoroughly familiar, the knowledge he brings to the task of visualizing his stories on the silver sheet cannot be overestimated. The production of "The Brand" excited much from the novelist.

Considerable of the action transpires in an Alaskan dance hall, a familiar enough sight in motion pictures, and usually the setting is a faithful replica of the original. Mr. Beach proposed no departures when the time came to erect this setting. He insisted, however, that every detail should be perfect. Close inspection assured him that everything was correct, but he made a pertinent suggestion.

"The stage curtain," he said, should be covered with advertisements, such as one always seen in Alaska. I'll write the inscriptions myself; then they can be painted correctly." This was done at once and the result was that such atmosphere was created by the simple expedient of reproducing one of the hundreds of details of Alaskan life stored in Mr. Beach's memory. Hotel rooms at $10 a day are advertised on the dance hall curtain, we learn that gold dust will be taken in payment for lodging, and that a singularly stressed in the hotel announcements is that the rooms are steam heated, and so on. A trifle perhaps, but the author contends that "trifles make perfection and perfection is no trifle."

SELECTMEN TO MEET IN SPECIAL SESSION

Will Take Up Routine Business Tonight and May Consider the Building Line Question.

The board of selectmen will meet in special session at the Hall of Records this evening. In addition to the transaction of routine business the town fathers will look over the final reports of the various officials submitted for the annual printed report.

Whether the board will take action on the sentiment of the voters expressed at the recent special town meeting is a matter of speculation. At a recent meeting the question was tabled until such time when a full board convenes. It seems to be the opinion of many that the selectmen will not concur with the action taken by the voters.

REINHOLD-MURRAY

Herman Carl Reinhold, Jr., of Hartford, and Loretta Virginia Murray of Manchester, were united in marriage at the Second Congregational parsonage at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon by the Rev. The marriage will take place September 13th at eight o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's parents.

THAT RATON

The baton of a marshal appears to be a somewhat inconvenient possession on such occasions as state processions. What to do with it, in fact, visibly preoccupied Marshal Foch on a recent occasion, at the London Victory Procession. Sir Douglas Haig had had enough of his in Paris, and discarded it for an ordinary whip, which he grasped in his left hand along with his reins.

QUALITY AND PRICES ARE WHAT COUNTS

We believe in giving a square deal to all, which means the highest quality goods at low prices.

As we sell six times as many glasses as anyone else in Manchester we can afford to sell them cheaper. If you want good, yet extra good glasses and don't feel that you can pay the high prices charged by some, then you should call at our South Manchester office and receive a square deal and get your glasses at the right price.

Office Open Every Night Except Saturday from 8.30 to 9.30 p. m. At Optical Dept. G. Fox & Co. during the day.
