SEAMAN WILL STICK IN NOMINATION RACE

Reconsiders His Decision to Withdraw on G. O. P. Ticket.

FRIENDS INDUCE CHANGE

Story of His Withdrawal Brings
Numerous Requests From Citizens
That He Stay On List Predict Election.

It is probable that Earl G. Seaman will allow his name to remain as a candidate for the office of selectman on the Republican ticket. Mr. Seaman stated this noon that although he had decided not to run, his friends had urged him to reconsider his decision.

When it became known last evening that Mr. Seaman had decided to withdraw his name, there was a stir in political circles. Many were of the opinion that he would prove a candidate and would land one of the offices.

Last evening Mr. Seaman was besieged with inquiries regarding "The Herald's" announcement. A host of supporters prevailed upon him to accept the nomination. "It is because of their earnest wishes to have me run, and because of their confidence in me, that I have decided to allow my name to remain on the list," said Mr. Seaman.

LET LEAGUE OF NATIONS TAKE CHARGE OF FIUME

Admiral Andrews Sends Cablegram to Admiral Sims Telling How to Settle Dispute.

London, Sept. 4.—The taking over of Fiume by the League of Nations for an indefinite term of years is proposed as the only logical solution of this problem in a cablegram sent to Admiral Sims, former commander of the American naval forces in European waters by Admiral Andrews, U. S. N., according to advices from Paris today. Admiral Andrews has been making a study of the Adriatic trouble involving the territorial dispute between Jugo Slavia and Italy.

The cablegram, which is dated Paris, September 2, says:

"Fiume will not be settled nor will normal conditions prevail either under Italian or Jugo-Slav rule after what has happened. It must be taken over for an indefinite term of years by the League of Nations or protected as a free state."

No solution can succeed which does not pledge that Fiume and Susac are practically one town, both as regards business and residential districts. Many of the people are tired of Italian oppression and want to be free. This feeling is shared by many Italian residents, particularly among the working class.

RAILROADERS FOR STRIKE 325,000 AGAINST 5,000

Officials Confident That Action Will Be Taken to Avert Trouble—To Meet Again Monday.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 4.—Officials of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way employees announced that the counting of the ballots in the referendum of that organization of the shop railway laborers on the question of their striking if their demands for higher wages, now being considered at Washington were refused, was completed last night and showed 325,000 for a strike and 5,000 against such action. Officials expressed every confidence, however, that satisfactory action would be taken by the Railroad Administration to avert the strike.

The Brotherhood will consider the matter at Monday morning's meeting here.

GERMANY WANTS TO BUY FOOD.

Paris, Sept. 4.—Baron von Lersner, of the German peace delegation has requested the allied and associated powers to authorize Germany to send abroad 150,000,000 marks in gold to pay for food supplies.

SANITY NOT VANITY WILL LOWER PRICES.

New York, Sept. 4.—If the public would display more sanity and less vanity in buying shoes a noticeable depreciation in price soon would be felt. This is the gist of a statement issued by Michael Frelson, a member of New York's fair price committee, in a report in which he declares shoe manufacturers have not profited.

In 1914, he says, leather sold for thirty cents a square foot. Today it brings $1.50. Shoes that can be bought in New York for $15 was sold in London for $30 and in Paris for $40.

AS HOOVER LEAVES CLEMENCEAU GRIEVES: EUROPE NEEDS HIM

Premier Sorry That Our Expert Has to Return to the United States.

AMERICA MUST HELP EUROPE TO RECOVER

French Statesman Takes Gloomy
View of Economic Situation—Says
Americans Do Not Realize Seriousness of Situation.

Paris, Sept. 4.—Premier Clemenceau takes a gloomy view of the European economic situation and greatly deplores the departure of Herbert Hoover, chairman of the Inter-Allied relief commission, it was revealed today as Mr. Hoover left for London on his way home to the United States.

Mr. Hoover got Premier Clemenceau's pessimistic views when he called to say farewell. Later he told your correspondent that the Premier had requested him to return with a plan to ameliorate the situation.

WILL U. S. HELP?

Premier Clemenceau asked Hoover if the whole United States planned to help Europe out of her present predicament.

Mr. Hoover replied that he was not in a position to say what would be undertaken on the part of America but agreed to report the full seriousness of conditions to President Wilson at Washington.

Mr. Hoover gave his word that he would advise the United States to give further help to Europe.

Don't Realize the Necessity.

As M. Clemenceau thanked the American official he observed:

"The United States is so far away the people there are unable to realize the urgent necessity for action."

Mr. Hoover, upon his arrival in the United States will go to California at the first opportunity to look over his own business interests which he has neglected for the past five years.

TO PUNISH SOLDIERS WHO FIRED AT AVIATOR.

Laredo, Texas, Sept. 4.—The 24 Carranzista soldiers who fired upon the American army airplane severely wounding its pilot, Captain David W. McNabb, will be punished by Mexican authorities, it was announced today by General Raynoldo Garcia, commander of the Carranza garrison at Nuevo Laredo, across the border.

General Garcia has made a complete report on the incident to President Carranza. A nephew of Garcia is commander of the detachment which fired on the Americans but was absent at the time.

FEROCIOUS PUMPKIN KEEPS BULL DOG OUT OF KENNEL ON MIDDLE TURNPIKE

Frank Damico Finds His Pet Dog Ousted from House and Home by Savage Vegetable Which Just Went Right In and Took Possession—Now He Has Got to Murder the Pumpkin or Smash the Dog-House.

(Special to the Evening Herald).
Homestead Park, Sept. 4, 1919.
A. D.—A dog, belonging to Frank Damico of Middle Turnpike, has been robbed of its home by a pumpkin.

Early in the summer Mr. Damico planted some pumpkin seeds near the dog kennel.

The vines of one of the plants grew into the kennel.

Mr. Damico noticed of late that his dog hung around the house at night and refused to go near the kennel.

He decided to investigate and last evening went to the dog's former home.

He found a large pumpkin growing inside "Hector's" house. There was no room for the dog inside.

Mr. Damico states that in order to remove the pumpkin he will have to tear down the kennel.

CONGRESS IS WILLING TO AID THE PRESIDENT

Stands Ready to Help to Have Capital and Labor Agree.

A ROUND TABLE TALK

Joint Committee to Invite Big Men of Country, to Talk Over the Situation.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Congress stands ready to aid in the conference between capital and labor proposed by President Wilson and with this in view Senator Kenyon of Iowa today called a joint meeting of the labor committees of the House and the Senate to attempt to give a legal status to the meeting.

A resolution introduced by Senator Poindexter of Washington was laid before the joint committees which would give the President the "authority" to call the conference and would pave the way for an appropriation to defray whatever expenses might be incurred.

Senator Kenyon was also hopeful that the joint committee would take action which would lead to the calling into the conference representatives of the labor and capital chosen by Congress.

Those to Be Invited.

Authority would be given to the President to invite to the conference those whom he might desire, but the following would be named as those who should be invited under the terms of the resolution:

E. H. Gary, Frank P. Walsh, Chas. E. Hughes, A. B. Garretson, William K. Vanderbilt, Franklin K. Lane, William B. Wilson, John D. Rockefeller, Samuel Gompers, Daniel Guggenheim, Charles H. Moyer, J. P. Morgan, Andrew Furuseth, F. S. Peabody, Frank J. Hayes, J. Orden Armour, John Fitzpatrick, E. L. Stotesbury, and W. D. Mahon.

"This is going to be a big thing for the nation," Senator Kenyon said today. "Of course, I can't say that all of the opposition, but I know that all of the far-seeing and thinking members of the Congress are ready to help the President in every way to reach an understanding between capital and labor."

TWO KINDS OF COAL ARE SOLD TO LOCAL DEALERS

One Costs a Lot and the Other Costs
More—Shipments Held Up Until Dealers Hand Over Extra Cash.

A rather startling disclosure of methods used by coal mine owners in the exploitation of consumers was made this morning by a Manchester coal dealer. According to his statement he was able to get any quantity of coal by paying a premium of $1 or $1.50 a ton. Unless he paid this premium it was almost impossible to obtain the coal he desired.

Producers in Agreement.

Profiteering of this kind, it is not carried on by the mine owners themselves, said the local dealer, but by a third party, who, it seems, has some secret agreement with the owners. Repeated efforts to get coal directly from the mines have been in vain. Attempts to obtain a supply have always met with the same answer from the producers: "We'll see what we can do for you." And nothing would be done about it.

Plenty of Premium Coal.

But when the request is made to the "premium coal" dealers and such a request is backed up with the promise to pay extra money the dealer soon has several cars backed up to his sheds.

Only a Difference in Price.

The only difference between "premium coal" and the ordinary coal is in the price. There is no difference in quality. The party with the secret agreement with the producers gets the substantial rakeoff on every ton, and the consumer must pay the premium.

Coal is not scarce and there is no great danger that it will be, according to statements made by local dealers. For a time the railroad strike stopped the movement of coal but now large shipments are beginning to come through. The present supply of stove coal is low and egg coal is not plentiful but there is a quantity of both chestnut and pea on hand.

HEALTH CONFERENCE.

Hartford, Sept. 4.—State Commissioner of Health John C. Black and Dairy and Food Commissioner Thomas Holt left for New Haven this morning to attend the annual conference of the health officers of the state.

SAYS CUMMINS R. R. BILL IS CLASS LEGISLATION

Head of Brotherhood Declares Measure
Would Prevent Engineers
From Going Out On Strike.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 4.—"The passage of such a bill would be class legislation aimed at railroad workers as a class."

This was the declaration of Warren S. Stone, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, regarding the Cummins railroad bill. He had in mind the provision for compulsory arbitration.

"Compulsory arbitration boils down to compulsory work," he said. "The brotherhoods and other organizations of railroad workers would not permit themselves to be deprived of their last economic weapon, the strike."

Timothy Shea, head of the engineers and firemen notified the brotherhood's legislative representative in Washington that the organization would oppose the bill. He also announced that the demands of the engineers and firemen for 45 per cent wage increase will be presented to the wage board of the railroad administration September 24.

Supt. Verplanck Finds Only 128 in Ninth District Who Earn Money on Tobacco Plantations—Does Not Think Schools Should Be Closed—Letter in Herald Leads to Investigation— Earnings of Boys and Girls Greatly Exaggerated.

Should the schools within the jurisdiction of the Ninth District suspend activities temporarily to enable 128 pupils to work on tobacco plantations while over 2,000 pupils roam the streets in idleness? The answer is obvious. In all cases the majority rules.

The question arises from a letter published in an issue of last week's Herald. The letter, signed by a tobacco grower, set forth the fact that the opening of the schools would deprive the town or its children of $5,000. The grower stated that the 300 school girls and boys working on tobacco were earning about $800 a day.

"Could it not be arranged to keep the schools closed for next week?" is one of the questions asked by the writer. He further added that educators in New York state are allowing the children a few days of grace in order that they may help in harvesting.

Since the publication of this letter, Superintendent F. A. Verplanck of the Ninth District schools has been besieged with inquiries regarding the situation. One voice over the phone asked if the schools were to be closed until after Thanksgiving.

In the Hartford Courant there appeared this morning, an article stating that the children of Manchester earned $6,000 a week in the tobacco fields.

Determined to get to the bottom of the matter, Mr. Verplanck proceeded to take a canvass of the pupils of the entire Ninth District who had been working on tobacco.

In addition to this the teachers and instructors were ordered to report back the number of registered pupils in the various class rooms.

Superintendent Verplanck's investigation shows that there are 2295 pupils in the schools in the Ninth District. Of this number, 128 had worked in the tobacco fields during the past two weeks. If the wages amounting to $6,000 per week apply to this number of children, it means that they have been receiving about $8 per day.

"Should the schools within the jurisdiction of the Ninth District suspend activities temporarily to enable 128 children to work on tobacco plantations, while over 2,000 roam the streets in idleness?" asks Superintendent Verplanck.

NO GROUSE SHOOTING THIS YEAR UNDER LAW

Last Session of Legislature Declared
Closed Season Until October 8, 1920.

Hartford, Sept. 4.—Upon receipt of hundreds of inquiries concerning the closed partridge season the State Fish and Game Commission announced today that the law passed by the last session of the Legislature declaring a closed season on ruffed grouse and female pheasants until October 8, 1920 would be rigidly enforced. The law provides a fine of $50 as a penalty.

"I'm Not Going to Debate Treaty, It Debates Itself," He Says —"I'd Rather Have Everybody on My Side Than Be Armed to the Teeth"—Touches Lightly the Irish Question—Why He Refused to Give Italy Land—No Indemnity Claimed of Germany, Only Reparation.

Memorial Hall, Columbus, Ohio,
Sept. 4.—To the strains of "Dixie," played by an orchestra, led by a good looking young woman, Miss Lillian Stocklin, President Wilson entered Memorial Hall at 11.25 today. The President plainly appreciated the compliment and bowed smilingly to the big crowd which filled every inch of space in the structure.

Because of the street car strike the crowd that greeted the President in the business center of Columbus was much smaller than had been anticipated. However, the reception pleased the President and he was all smiles as he returned the greetings of the Columbus people.

Cheers for a Minute.

Cheering which lasted a trifle more than a minute greeted the President and Mrs. Wilson as they took their seats on the platform.

On behalf of the reception committee, Mrs. Wilson was presented with a huge bouquet of pink roses tied with pink ribbons.

Following a very brief introductory address by President Thompson of Ohio State University, former Governor Campbell was introduced and made a short address.

Former Governor Campbell characterized President Wilson as "the first citizen of the big round world" and the President again was warmly applauded as he strode to the front of the platform and began his address.

"Mr. Chairman, Governor Campbell, my fellow citizens," began the President, "it is with great pleasure that I greet you. I have long chafed at confinement in Washington. I have wanted to report to you and to other citizens of the United States. It has become increasingly necessary that I should report to you. After all of the various angles that the treaty has been held up to you, I think that you want to know what it is that treaty. It is unique. I cannot do you a better service nor the peace of the world a better service than to tell you what this treaty does."

To Punish Germany.

"It seeks to punish a nation that attempted to perpetrate one of the greatest wrongs in history. The men in Paris wanted to do justice. They wanted to punish Germany for her utter disregard for human rights, for wrongs to women and children. The people of Europe not only saw their country devastated but a reign of terror inaugurated."

"The people who framed this treaty had no desire to overwhelm Germany. But they intended to burn into the souls of the German people the wrongs they permitted their rulers to perpetrate."

"I believe from what I can learn that there is a consciousness in German hearts of the wrongs committed. The Austrian delegates admitted that the war was a crime."

"Everything in the treaty was designed not to humiliate Germany but to right the wrongs she has done. No indemnity is claimed in this treaty, only reparation. There is no indemnity. Do not forget that. And, in the terms of reparation they are framed with an object which considers Germany's ability to pay."

To End All Wars.

"I am astonished at some of the speeches made. They carry statements not facts. This treaty is not intended to end this single war. It is intended to serve notice on any nation that attempts such aggression in the future that the nations of the world are united to punish such attempts."

The President then paid high tribute to the allied cause, declaring that the promises made to the people of the United States must be carried out. He declared that in taking the "flower of American youth" to fight the war the nation had promised that the object would be to end wars. Disregard of this promise would be an infamy the President said.

"This is what the League of Nations is for," said the President. "It is to prove to the nations of the world that the nations will combine against any nation that would emulate Germany's example."

"The league of nations is based on the experience of the present war. Germany never would have entered this war if she had known that Great Britain and the United States were to enter it. When you are told that the League of Nations is for any purpose but to prevent war tell them that is not so. The passions and rivalries of this war are not ended. Unless there is a league of nations the most ambitious nations will be ready to attempt aggressions the moment the world has recovered from the financial strain of the present war. This treaty builds up nations that never could have gained their freedom in any other way. They are built up by gifts. The Austrian-Hungarian government was held together by military force. Its people did not want to live together. Hungary, a willing partner, because she wanted Austria's strength, sympathized entirely with Jugo-Slavia. Bohemia was an unhappy partner. So was Poland, divided between Russia, Austria and Germany. Poland could never have won her independence if it had not been for the peace treaty. Small nations had been crushed by the combined power of Europe. They did not intend the small nations should have the right to live their own lives. The American principle was that they have that right. That is what we fought for in Paris. Strategic reasons did not count. We gave the people their own rights."

The Italian Problem.

"Strategic reason is could not count. There is no one who sympathized more with Italy than I. But I had to refuse to give Italy territory inhabited by Slavic peoples. They wanted the Adriatic for military reasons. If there is no league of Nations Italy needs this territory but if there is a League of Nations Italy need not fear. The nations of the world will protect Italy."

"I had rather have everybody on my side than be armed to the teeth. Sympathy of mankind will be behind the league of nations."

The President declared that he believed he could interpret the sentiment of the people better than some of his critics.

U. S. Friend of Mankind.

"America is the friend of mankind," he said, "and her people know it. If my adversary is armed and I am not I do not press the controversy. And that will be the attitude of nations of the world when the league is a fact."

"Some of us wished that the treaty could reach some other age-long wrongs in Europe. But we could not drag these into the treaty. But I am hopeful that the time will come when these wrongs, over which we had no jurisdiction, will be righted."

This was the first time that the President had referred, even by inference, to the Irish question, and his words were listened to by his audience with the deepest attention. He declared that revolutions do not start over night, quoting Carlisle's reference to the years of hate behind the French revolution.

To Right a Wrong.

"Wars come from the seed of wrongs, not from right," said the President. "This treaty is designed to right a wrong."

MEXICANS KILL WOMAN AND ATTACK DAUGHTER

Senate Committee Investigating Story Brought to Border—Bandits Also Kill Would Be Rescuer.
El Paso, Sept. 4.—Investigation seeking to verify the story of the killing of Mrs. E. A. Martensen, an American woman, and the outraging of her ten year old daughter by Mexican bandits was being made today. The facts are to be laid before Senatorial committee investigating conditions in Mexico.
The story of the outrage was brought to the border by J. N. Quall, field secretary for the National Association for the protection of American rights.
Sent Gold to Wife.
Two years ago Mrs. Martensen's husband, forced out of Mexico by the bad conditions, sought work in El Paso and several months later sent his wife $40 in gold. Mexican bandits who saw her receive the gold at Guadalupe, in the state of Chihuahua followed her to her home. When she refused to let them into the house they shot through the door, one of the bullets wounding Mrs. Martensen. The bandits then broke in and compelled the wounded woman to tell where she had placed the money. After that they demanded that she make them coffee and when she was unable to rise from the floor to go to the kitchen they fired three more bullets into her.
Then, seizing the child, according to Quall's story they tore the clothing from her and when her screams brought a party of passing Mormons to her rescue, the bandits opened Attorney Harry M. Burke, who represents George H. He quoted the law and cited cases that had been passed upon by the Supreme Court to sustain his point and, after hearing the question debated by the lawyers on both sides, Justice Carney agreed with Mr. Burke and dismissed the jury.

The case in question is that of John Proctor against George H. Williams and Alfred B. Crest. These men leased the garage on West Center street from Mr. Proctor last March. The lease was for a term of three years and dated from April 1, 1919. The lease was drawn up by Judge H. O. Bowers. It provided that the rent be paid on the first of each month with a five day grace privilege. The lessees had the privilege of buying the property at any time during the life of the lease at a sum fixed by the owner and agreed upon.

Boston, Sept. 4.—In the belief that the actors' strike, which has closed six theatres here, is tending to unsettle the labor situation generally, Commissioner Charles G. Wood, of the State Board of Arbitration took steps today to bring about an agreement.

"This strike, general in its character, is very seriously affecting the public interests," said Mr. Wood. "Its influence upon industrial relations is everywhere felt. It is just the sort of strike that appeals to many and actuates them to do the same thing.
Mr. Wood says he was planning to begin an investigation immediately. The statement of Hal Forde, chairman of the Equity forces in this city that the situation promises an early settlement is denied by representatives of the producing managers.

PRINCE HAS THE GRIP.

Algoma, Ont., Sept. 4.—The Prince of Wales is suffering from the Canadian "grip." Not the old fashioned kind that sends people to bed with hot water bottles and a vacant feeling, but the kind that comes from gripping too strongly the thousands of Canadian hands that have been extended to welcome him to the dominion.
So sore is the royal heir's right hand that he is now using his left in greeting until his right can recover. After the Prince's visit to Toronto the Duchess of Devonshire had to bind up the Prince's hand with liniment.

He was already on the Democratic ticket for the office of assessor and his place is to be filled by William P. Quish.

Mr. Reid has already held the office of selectman and served in that capacity two years. He has also gained considerable information in regard to Manchester politics through serving as chairman of the Democratic committee. He is known to local people as a real estate auctioneer and dealer.
William P. Quish, will go on the ticket as a Democratic candidate for assessor. "Bill" Quish, as he is better known to his many friends in town, is starting his career in politics. He is an undertaker with the G. E. Keith Furniture Company.

TO INCREASE CAPITAL.

Manchester Realty Co. Will Double Original Fund of $50,000.
The board of directors of the Manchester Realty Company, organized a month ago with a working capital of $50,000, have decided to increase the capital stock to $100,000.
When it was announced during the early part of July that a new realty company was to be formed in Manchester with a capital of $50,000, there was a rush for subscriptions.

The lowest purchasable share was $1,000, the amount to be paid immediately. In less than a week $50,000 had been secured and many were disappointed in not being able to obtain a "block" in the new company.
Because of this fact, the directors at a recent meeting decided to double the original capital. As soon as permission can be obtained to make the necessary change in the original charter granted to the company subscriptions will be received.

STOCK MARKET

Baldwin* yielded further to 12 1/2-1-2. The reverses in both Crucible and Baldwin led to selling all round the room.
The rail stocks showed strength at the start, but Mexican Petroleum advanced to 193 dropped to 189 3/4. Sinclair rose 1-2 to 69 1-2 and then reacted to 68 7/8.
There was excited trading in many issues during the forenoon. The steel issues were under pressure yielding from two to 15 points while other stocks made gains of 7 to 15 points. Crucible Steel broke to a low of 179, a loss of over 15 points Baldwin Locomotive broke to 124 1-2 and Steel Common yielded one point.
Studebaker rose over five points to 119 3/4; Central Leather 4 1-2 to 104 3-8; United Retail Stores 3 7-8 to 93 3-4; Atlantic Gult 3 3-4 to 164.
New York, Sept. 4.—There was an irregular tone to the stock market at the opening today, profit taking causing declines in some stocks while others made good advances.
Crucible Steel sold off over 12 points to 182 while Baldwin Locomotive, after opening up nearly three points at 132 reached to 130. Bethlehem Steel B opened unchanged at 96 1-2 and then yielded one point. American Locomotive advanced nearly two points to 99 and American Car and Foundry 2 5-8 to 138 5-8.
Central Leather became prominent with an advance of over two points to 102. Allis Chalmers was in demand and rose two points to 48 while Industrial Alcohol advanced 1 1-4 to 130 1-4.

Drew on Manchester Trust Company for Funds Which Did Not Exist—Will Be Brought to Hartford.

The versatility of William Henry Ryan, former Manchester business man, has finally landed him in the "Tombs" in New York city. The man who assumed such characters as a clerk, bartender, florist, broker and business man, is now in a cell which no doubt has harbored more brilliant "confidence men" than he.
Ryan's career started presumably in Boston, for he claims the "Hub" as his home. His escapades in that city are a matter of court history. He came to Manchester and obtained employment in Cheney Brothers' mills for some time as a clerk.
Later, he became a bartender at the Orford Hotel. After giving the latter occupation a try-out, he decided to go into business for himself and started a grocery store at the north end of the town. The business, with the help of a hard working partner, succeeded. Eventually Ryan departed with a large sum of money leaving his partner alone and without money to face a host of creditors.
Though Ryan had told of having wealthy relatives in Boston his standing in the community in which he claimed these relatives resided was not of a complimentary nature.
The episode in which Ryan figured finally died out for charges were not pressed against him. He came back to Connecticut and took up quarters in Hartford, working there in a number of business establishments. It appears that while in this city he acquired the habit of passing worthless checks.
Capitol City residents who had honored these checks found them to be no good. One of them, drawn on the Manchester Trust Company, was protested. The Hartford police got wind of his antics and set out on his trail. Ryan in some way "got wise" and departed rather unceremoniously.

Yesterday, Detective Sergeant Edward Liguish of the Hartford Police department dropped into town to secure additional information regarding Ryan. He left last evening for New York to secure extradition papers. In all probability Ryan will arrive in Hartford by Monday and will be tried.

FATHER ARRIVES IN TIME.
New York, Sept. 4.—A flying night trip from Washington to New York by automobile enabled Representative Bankhead of Alabama, to arrive here in time early today to be at his 19 year old daughter's side when she was operated on for appendicitis. The daughter, Miss Talulah Bankhead, who has been playing in "39 East" at the Maxine Elliott theater, was taken ill suddenly. She would not consent to the operation till her father arrived.

The almond trees of Spain yield about 25 per cent. of the world's supply.

UNDERWOOD ADVOCATES A SUPREME R. R. COURT

Senator from Alabama Presents Novel Plan in His Speech Today.

VEST IT WITH POWER

So That it Could Settle for Good All Questions of Fixing Wages, Transportation Rates and the Like.

Washington, Sept. 4.—Creation of what in effect would be a supreme court of railways, vested with the broadest of powers and including that of fixing wages and working hours of the men, was advocated by Senator Underwood, of Alabama, in a speech in the Senate today.

"Such a tribunal," said Senator Underwood, "must not only have the power and be prepared to do what is right and just by the labor employed on the railroads but must have authority and power to see that property is not confiscated by its decisions. For should you confiscate the property of transportation companies of America you would break down the channels of transportation as effectively as you would break them down in a strike, with the resultant injury to the people of the United States. A tribunal of this kind must also have the authority and opportunity to consider the rights of the shippers and travelers of America, who, in the last analysis will bear any increased burden that falls on the carriage of property or persons over the transportation lines. This tribunal must have authority and power to protect the rights of the whole people of the United States against the recurrence of lockouts and strikes.

Leave It To Court.

"If you want a final and just solution of such a controversy, you are practically driven to leaving the decision to a governmental commission that has full and ample opportunity to investigate the rates of wage, the earning power of the transportation companies, the cost of living, the burden that rests on the shipping public, and after a fair and full investigation, to determine what is a fair, just and living wage for the men and to how great an extent a fair and living wage may be increased to enable the toilers to secure the higher ideals of life and living; second, how far this charge can be placed on the capital of the corporation without breaking it down, destroying the value of its securities, bankrupting its property and taking away from the investing public a fair return for capital invested;

third, how far an increased charge for labor, interest, of supplies can be handed down to the public without doing injustice to the shipper and travelers without becoming a menace to the development of the industry of the country.

Rate of Wages.

"All of these questions must be determined by a court of an independent commission, but their findings, except so far as they may determine the rate for transportation that must be paid by the railroad companies and the rate of wage that must be received by the men if they continue their employment, will be academic, because they will have no power to operate on the side of the problem in which the general public is interested. The power to determine what are just and reasonable rates of transportation of persons and property over the Interstate Railroads of this country is fixed by law and any increase or decrease of these rates must be made under the law of the land. Therefore, it is essential that the board or commission that is given the power to adjust the wage scale of the men must also have the power to reflect its findings into the rates charged for the transportation of persons and property over the railroads.

Transportation Rates.

"The board or commission that is created for the determination of these grave questions must determine whether the rates for transportation shall be increased and whether a charge made against the railroads for increased wages shall remain a charge on its capital, or whether in justice and fair dealing, it shall be handed on to the shipper and the traveling public. It is therefore clear to me that the same power that has the right to fix the rates of transportation should have the power to fix the rates of wages and hours of labor on the great transportation companies of the United States and that this power and this duty should be given irrevocably to a governmental commission or board in order that it may do justice between employer and employee.

"The granting to a governmental commission or board of the power to determine the hours of labor and the rate of wage will solve the problem for the future. Men will not strike against the just decision of the government. After a fair determination of the controversy by an impartial tribunal, public opinion will force the contending parties to accept the verdict rendered as final.

"It must be done in the interest of the men involved, the industry of the people and the peace of the nation."

LEONARD FIGHTS TONIGHT.

Philadelphia, Sept. 4.—Benny Leonard and Soldier Bartfield will meet here tonight in a six round bout. Rain caused the postponement of the bout Wednesday night.

CLARA JUUL MARRIES SAILOR IN NEW LONDON

Well Known Manchester Girl Weds Henry L. Radcliff—Both Have Seen Service in Navy.

Miss Clara Juul, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Juul of Manchester Green, was married this morning in the city of New London to Mr. Henry L. Radcliff of Salem, Ore.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Weldon.

The bride is a graduate of the High School in the class of 1911 and for the past 18 months has been acting as a yeoman in the navy.

The groom is a chief pharmacist's mate in the U. S. Naval Hospital at New London.

CALL OFF RALLY.

"Big Four" Thinks Politics Would Have Small Chance Against Baseball.

It was announced this morning that the rally to be held by the "Big Four" at the Park theater on Sunday afternoon has been postponed. A member of the "Big Four" stated that he had not taken into consideration the fact that Manchester's biggest baseball game of the season was to take place on the same day.

AGED MAN WALKS 100 MILES IN SEARCH FOR WIFE.

Elgin, Ill., Sept. 4.—With his feet horribly blistered, John Jorgensen, aged sixty-five, entered the State Insane Asylum here. He was looking for his wife and had walked more than a hundred miles from Clinton, Wis., in search of her. Hospital attendants located Mrs. Jorgensen as an inmate and a reunion followed. She was committed in 1918 from Rockford, where the Jorgensens lived at the time. After the commitment Jorgensen went to live with his son-in-law at Clinton. Becoming lonesome for his wife Jorgensen asked his son-in-law for assistance to go in search of her. Refused, he started out and walked the distance. After meeting his wife and explaining his predicament, hospital officials found employment for Jorgensen in the institution so he could remain near her.

BAN TO BE GRILLED.

New York, Sept. 4.—Ban Johnson, president of the American League, was scheduled to undergo an examination in the Mays case controversy here today before George J. Gillespie, referee of the hearing preliminary to action in Federal court tomorrow. Johnson, it is said, will be asked regarding his illegal financial interests in the Cleveland club, his alleged animosity toward certain club owners and his alleged partisan action in suspending Carl Mays.

WORLD WAITS ON U. S. TO RATIFY TREATY

to right the wrongs of Europe. It is a measurable success. Do not forget this fact. There are regions in Europe where you cannot draw national lines. There must be approximate lines drawn in many cases. That is what we have done. That is what is being done in the Austrian treaty."

The President then explained how the various boundary lines were drawn in the treaty, explaining that plebiscites were necessary to determine exactly what nation certain peoples wanted to live under. This statement was greeted with applause.

"These people shall have their choice of government," said the President. He declared that this was the governing principle that actuated the peace conference. He told how he had informed the Italian peace delegates that if they were to have every place where their racial demands were in the ascendancy it, might be necessary to cede New York to them as there were as many Italians in New York as there are in Rome.

Labor's Magna Charta.

"This treaty also contains a magna charta of labor," he continued. "Next month there will meet in Washington an assembly of working men who represent the labor of the world. It will meet, let me tell you, whether this treaty is ratified or not. It will consider the rights of women workers, of child workers. It will forecast the day when peoples will be content in their lives. It will deal with all phases of compensation and otherwise.

"Nations consist of their people not of their governments. Heretofore nations have been thought of as government only. This is not true in this treaty. Why, while Germany loses her colonies under this treaty they are not annexed to any other nation. These colonies are not to be exploited. Their people cannot be used to fight the battles of nations that have mandatories over them. The mandatory power must see that the peoples of these colonies are protected and their welfare safeguarded.

"I used to be told that this was a time when the mind was monarch. I do not believe this. This treaty designs to draw human endeavor together and unite the better passions of peoples of the world. That is the treaty. Did you ever hear of it before? Did any one before tell you this? I want all Americans to read the treaty themselves or if not if it is too technical, I wish they would read the interpretation of men who made it.

Selfishness of Governments.

"I hear a great deal about the selfishness of other governments. I would be doing an injustice to the high minded men with whom I was associated on the other side of the water if I did not say their objects always were of the best. We differed about details, but we never differed about principles. If I could not have brought back the kind of treaty I did bring back I never would have come back.

Treaty Debates Itself.

"I have not come to debate the treaty. It debates itself. I am here to expound the treaty. I want to urge you to assist the people of America in support of this treaty. Don't let men pull this treaty down. As I passed through the ranks of those youngsters in khaki five minutes ago I felt I could salute them. I felt they would accept what I accomplished. The treaty will be accepted. I have never doubted that fact. I have been impatient of delay. But it is not dangerous delay. Do you know the world is waiting on America today? The peoples wait on us. America today is the only nation fully trusted by the peoples everywhere and we will tell them so."

THE PRESIDENT ARRIVES.

Memorial Hall, Columbus, O., Sept. 4.—Ohio's capital city greeted President Wilson today. It was the first actual stop on his speech making program that is to take him to the Pacific Coast. However, long before he reached here, he had received the welcome greetings of an interested populace.

Early this morning the train stopped at Dennison. There a crowd of citizens, many of whom wore the uniform of the Red Cross, shook hands with the Nation's chief executive. The President had just finished breakfast and made his appearance on the platform of the private car Mayflower as soon as the train stopped.

Hand Shaking Bee.

The hands of the crowd were exposed and in the fashion of hand shaking bee was soon in progress. The President engaged in conversation with his well-wishers. One incident that aroused much comment, happened as the train was about to pull out of the station. An elderly gray bearded "buckeye" held the President's hand for a second or two and said:

"Mr. President, Darnison voted against you in the last election but it certainly will be for you in 1920."

The President smiled broadly, then shaking his head with a typical Wilsonian gesture, said:

"Oh, no, no."

"Oh, yes, we will," was the rejoinder.

Trip Without Incident.

The trip from Washington was without incident. The President retired shortly after Harrisburg was left behind but arose early. He sat in the drawing room of the private car, chatting with Mrs. Wilson most of the morning. He was in an unusually happy mood. It was plain that he regarded the trip as more or less of a vacation and all cares of state were banished.

Here and there as the special flashed through stations crowds gathered to cheer and both the President and Mrs. Wilson waved greetings to the people, especially to the women and children who were in the majority.

There was an utter absence of partisanship so far as the crowds were concerned.

The people plainly had turned out to see the chief magistrate of the nation and they were enthusiastic in their greeting.

"Make War Impossible."

Another incident at Dennison very materially impressed the President. One man whose name was not learned after shaking hands, said:

"Mr. President, I lost two of my boys in the war. I have one left. I am looking to you to save him for his mother and me by making future wars impossible."

The President shook hands with the man from the platform and replied:

"The whole world is hoping that this can be accomplished."

President in Good Health.

The special train of the President, which will be his temporary home for nearly a month, is one of the best ever assembled. The private car Mayflower, attached to the rear of the train so that the President will be able to see the people all along the line. Both he and Mrs. Wilson are in excellent health; the President especially showing no signs of the strain of his battle with the Senate so secure ratification of the treaty of Versailles.

It was plain by his attitude that he was very anxious to sound out public opinion. At the brief stops made during the morning he encouraged conversation with the people. The talk, however, had little to do with the affairs of state. To Red Cross workers he addressed questions as to whether they still were keeping up the work of feeding and caring for troops passing through and he showed evident pleasure when told that this was so and that the men who fought in France were having their wants looked after as they passed en route to their homes.

Interviews Farmers.

The farmers were asked regarding their crops. But the individuals in the crowds who interested both the President and Mrs. Wilson the most were the children. Mrs. Wilson especially loaned far over the rail of the little ones. The President was besieged with telegrams urging that the special train be held up at additional points to allow the people to see him. However, it was officially announced that there would be no changes in the schedule. The proposal to have the president spend an additional day in Seattle and take one from San Francisco was negated by the President, who said that he wanted his initial itinerary adhered to.

At all times on the trip the President will remain in touch with Washington. Secretary Tumulty and his assistant, Thomas J. Brahaney received a number of official dispatches throughout the day and they were promptly taken care of.

INTERNATIONAL TRAINS NOW.

Paris, Sept. 4.—International train schedules for Europe are being worked out here. The Orient Express will travel in the future by way of the Simplon Tunnel instead of through Vienna, touching Belgrade and Bucharest, while a section will go on to Athens. An express service from Paris to Warsaw by way of Strassburg and Prague will be established and the first train is expected to start September 15.

FOOD SALE.

CUT DOWN THE BILLS.

It is interesting to note that we are not the only country which is plagued by the high cost of living and that there are other nations which are resorting with charges of governmental extravagance at a time when private citizens are especially feeling the tax burden.

The sensational claim of Lord Fisher of England that the British fleet was but little better than a lot of junk and that the government should "sack the lot" originated as part of a great campaign for economy which is sweeping the British Isles.

Politicians have seized the opportunity to accuse the Lloyd George government of tremendous expenditures and, during the absence of the Premier, Lord Rothermere has declared that Bonar Law has been guilty of a wholesale waste of public funds.

Undoubtedly expenditures are still going on at a tremendous rate but the question is whether they are not, in large measure, justified.

The war everyone was so intent on victory to pay much attention to the purse strings and so long as military success was achieved it could cost what it would. There was no kick.

But now things are different and a majority of the English nation, just as in the United States, feel that it is time to call a halt.

So far as junking the British fleet is concerned, we may safely discount Lord Fisher's statement about 75 per cent. because of the difficulty of arousing the public's interest without first giving it a jolt.

Nevertheless, the British government has more than once declared that it stood ready at any time to cut down her stupendous sea armament at any time other nations could be persuaded to adopt a like course.

Nothing of this sort could be done while Germany stood armed to the teeth and arrogantly brandishing her sword in the face of both France and England. But now that the German menace has been eliminated it is too much to hope that a general retrenchment will follow?

The Lloyd George government has already informed our Administration that England was willing to hold up her naval program until she could adopt a policy in harmony with our own and as soon as we can get through the present treaty struggle we may expect to see a joint proposal on the part of the United States and Britain that the nations of the world stop the useless and dangerous practice of racing for first place on the list of armed powers.

SIX-CENT FARE IN EFFECT

EACH PASSENGER THANKED. Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 4.—"Thank you," said the conductor on a Capitol avenue trolley car recently as a passenger dropped six cents into the beckoning hand.

"How's 'at?" queried the skeptical passenger.

"Thank you," repeated the conductor.

And everybody who boarded the car and spilled six cents into the coffer of the transit corporation received the same greeting.

"If your name isn't Chesterfield, you been readin' his mail," commented the first skeptical passenger as he rose to leave the car.

You may insist upon going to the dogs for a reasonable length of time, but remember that eventually even your friends get tired.

SUFFERING CHINA.

Graft, Buddhism, Disease and Ancestry Worship Demoralize Country.

China's burden is ancestry worship her grafting, corrupt officialdom, quack doctors and her military party, according to Charles O. Ford, secretary to the Right Rev. Charles D. Williams, Episcopal Bishop of Michigan, who has just returned from a tour of Episcopal missions in Japan, China and the Philippines in company with Dr. John W. Wood, head of the foreign department of the Board of Missions of the Episcopal Church. Dr. Wood will make report of his observations at the General Convention of the Episcopal Church to be held in Detroit, October 8 to 27.

"By her ancestry worship China is linked to a dead past," says Mr. Ford. "Much of her tillable land is covered with graves; modern progress is arrested by fear of disturbing the spirits of the departed. Polygamy and concubinage are permitted and even approved, lest there be no sons to perform the ceremony of ancestry worship."

Graft and Disease Rampant. "China's corrupt officials and her military party are grinding down the great mass of the people, diverting money raised by the people or borrowed from other nations for their own illegitimate gain.

"Disease—and never have I seen such terrible and malignant diseases and growth as in China—is rampant, and few are the trained Chinese doctors to combat it. The people generally are at the mercy of quack doctors, conscienceless Buddhist priests and a multiplicity of ignorant superstitions. One marvels at the virility of a nation which loses more than 60 per cent. of its children before they are three years old.

"China's religions are Confucianism and Buddhism. The first has little hold on any but the educated classes. The second degenerates into a vast organization of graft for its priesthood, who prey upon ignorance and superstition. Today Buddhism seems to be losing its hold on the Chinese. There are many temples, but except during the Chinese New Year and certain festival periods they seem not to be generally attended.

"Amid such conditions Christian missionaries in China are wielding an influence which is going to play an important part in the future of the East.

Missions Spread Education. "Often in whole provinces one finds every Chinese school closed for lack of funds or teachers. To every mission, large or small, are attached day schools for boys and girls. In the larger centres of population are schools corresponding to the American grammar, high and preparatory schools. And in such cities as Shanghai, Wuchang, Peking and Nankin one finds great Christian universities with English as well as Chinese courses which are turning out the men who are destined to become the leaders of the new China.

"The women the Church is sending to China are beginning to touch the lives of the Chinese women. They are giving instruction in hygiene and sanitation in the care of the children.

"When one sees the crowds who throng the dispensaries of the Christian hospitals, the terrible and loathsome growths and diseases with which they are afflicted, the absence of even the simplest ideas of sanitation and decency, the damp, dark, dirty, ill-ventilated houses, the narrow, crowded, often wholly sunless streets, the tortures to which the poor people are subjected by ignorant quack doctors, one realizes the great service medical missionaries are rendering.—Charles F. Mirick in The Detroit News.

U. S. TRUCKS AS JITNEYS.

Columbus, O., Sept. 4.—Councilman Fred Zimper has wired Secretary of War Baker asking that 150 government war trucks stored at the state fair grounds be loaned to the city of Columbus to be used as jitneys during the street car strike. If Baker grants the request the city proposes to place competent drivers in the trucks and route them to all parts of the city.

ENGINE TROUBLE.

Meriden, Sept. 4.—The Springfield New Haven commuters' train leaving Meriden at 7:22 was delayed until 8 o'clock just below the local station this morning when the engineer noticed a connection rod flying wild. A bolt had been lost. In New Haven this train becomes the bankers' express to New York.

1914. Germans suddenly swing east from Paris; 750,000 men deflected toward German center at Verdun—Lemberg and Halicz fall before Russians who now dominate all eastern Belgium via England—President appeals to Congress for $100,000,000 war revenue tax.

1915. Allan liner Hesperian sunk by submarine, 1 American among those lost—Henry Ford gives $1,000,000 for campaign against "Preparedness"—General Leonard Wood delivers farewell address to this year's Plattsburg camp.

1916. French on Somme again break German line on 12 mile front; take two more towns and 2,700 prisoners, reach outskirts of Comblès—Russians again advance in Galicia; General Brusiloff in four days takes 19,400 men, 12 cannon, 76 machine guns.

1917. President, Cabinet and Congress march in great draft parade—Russian hosts in full retreat; Germans cut nine mile gap in line at Riga—London bombarded in second air raid in 24 hours; 108 killed at Chatham, 100 also in naval barracks—Germans stripping Belgium of machinery or orders from Berlin.

1918. Germans retreat on 20 mile Veste line; Franco-Americans pass beyond Chassemy, Vauxcerc, and Blanzey; foe driven from Oise—Haig nearing Cambrai, throws Germans back in 15 mile sweep, many villages captured—More than 1,600,000 Americans already overseas—Bolshevik army destroyed east of Lake Balkal—Omsk Provisional Government declares war on Germany.

HOW TO TRAIN FOR FOOTBALL.

By T. E. Jones, Athletic Director, The University of Wisconsin.

"I ate at home, and went to bed early." Thus a star tackle explained his success. He meant simply that he had trained.

The three important factors in training are diet, rest and work.

DIET: It is impossible to give a strict diet that will apply to everyone. Diet should not be too narrow and hard. The food should be plain and the meals should be regular. Good, wholesome food, well cooked, is necessary to perfect training. This should be eaten regularly and intelligently.

Eat substantial foods, beef, mutton, chicken, steak, eggs, oysters (veal and pork are hard to digest).

cheese, peas, beans, milk, fruit, vegetables (except corn and cabbage), toast, bread (not hot bread nor biscuits). Avoid pastries and fried and greasy foods, also avoid condiments, spices, pepper and highly seasoned foods. Neither coffee nor chocolate is good. Eat three meals a day, the heavy meal coming at night. Drink plenty of water between meals but sparingly of it while eating. Tobacco in every form should be avoided absolutely.

REST: Rest is a very important part of training. An athlete should have eight hours of regular undisturbed sleep, with plenty of fresh air.

WORK: The best place to condition a man is on the field. Start in easy. Better start getting in condition two or three weeks before the first call for candidates for the team. Work should be regular.

The amount of work varies with the muscular and nervous makeup of the man. It is best in training for football to get all the exercise needed by practicing something that will help you in the game. Practice the rudiments of the game, punting, handling the ball, dodging, kicking, etc. Don't overwork. It is better to be under-trained than over-trained.

THE SECRET OF ALL-AROUND AMERICAN GIRL.

By Louis Freyer, Director of Physical Training for Women.

"She works hard, plays hard, has a good time and gives a good time. She is healthy and happy and busy."

"How is that, Margaret, for a definition of an All Around American Girl?" I asked my niece, who is a junior in high school.

"Why, a girl who is all that is a wonder," Margaret replied.

"Do you mean any girl can't do all that if she wants to and really tries?" I asked.

"Well, of course, there is Mary Louise. She is a wonder!" exclaimed Margaret. "She gets A in her studies, plays a ripping game of tennis, is the best player on the basketball team, and goes in for dramatics."

She isn't one speck braggy either, and she is never crabby. The girls are all crazy about her and what Mary Lou says goes."

"How about Katherine and Dorothy and Marie, why aren't they 'wonders' too?"

"Oh, Katherine won't go in for basket ball this year—because it is a bother to get into her 'gym' suit every day. She is a cracker-jack forward too, and we need her. And Dot can do loads of things. She is our star swimmer, but her grades are never up so she can enter the meet. We sophs would have won easy last year if she had been our representative. Dot hates studying and says she won't lose out on good times just to get high grades. It makes us girls so cross."

"And what keeps Marie from being a wonder?" I persisted.

"Marie is an old grind," replied Margaret scornfully. "She won't go in for anything for fear she won't get A in every subject."

"After all," I concluded, noting Margaret's preparations for a tennis game, "I am not convinced that Mary Louise is a wonder. She just has sense to see that it is much more interesting and fun to work well and play well and know how to do a number of things. Every girl can be as much of a wonder as Mary Louise if she will only realize how tremendously worth while it is to be 'all around.'"

"I think so too, Auntie," replied

Mayor Stewart emphasized that this is no wise any wish to disregard the Governor, but merely a matter of Savannah keeping a good time when she has it.

KANSAS JUDGE APPROVES SPOONING IN THE PARKS

Snaps Pictures in New York to Use in His Campaign Against Anti-Spooners in His City.

New York, Sept. 4.—Judge Casimir J. Welch, who is known out west as the "Smiling Judge," is going back to Kansas City and tell the park cops that public spooning is one of the things that has helped make New York great.

Some months ago, it seems, Kansas City was aroused when its park policemen and rural constables unearthed a growing tendency on the part of young men and women to whisper sweet nothings to each other in automobiles on shady public roads. Judge Welch defended the system. During his visit to New York he has snapped scores of pictures of devoted couples in a love clinch on park benches and even has some showing young men's arms twined around the waists of sweet young things on the most brilliantly lighted boulevards.

"I shall use them in my campaign against the anti-spooners of Kansas City," he said.

STORK LOSING HIS POPULARITY IN THIS TOWN?

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 4.—The stork has suffered another loss of popularity in this city—his average for the period of 1919, ending July 1, having slumped approximately 12 per cent. below his record for the same period of 1918.

According to Max Kauffman, secretary of the City Health Department there were 6,481 births up to July 1 of the current year, as compared with 7,393 births for the like period of 1918—a loss of 872.

Charming Models in Wool Suits

PLAIN TAILORED AND FUR TRIMMED

Suits are unquestionably somewhat higher than last season, due to the increase in the cost of both materials and labor. Nevertheless we have tried to offset as far as possible the advance by placing our orders early and avoiding later advances that could not be prevented owing to the present most unusual conditions.

The new Fall Suits are exhibited in fine quality clinging materials such as velour, silvertone, duvetyne and broadcloth.

The new color range consists of brown, beaver, reindeer, taupe, canard and Pekin blue, burgundy, henna, plum, green, navy, black and oxford mixtures.

We show a pleasing line of Suits at $45.00, also the better grades up to $125.00.

Colonel B. P. Nicklin, commanding this recruiting district, states that the War Department has directed the recruiting service to make a special drive to secure recruits for the Signal Corps for service in Europe, Siberia, and the Mexican border.

Telephone operators, linemen and repairmen and expert radio operators are urgently needed in the Army of Occupation on the Rhine with the Signal Corps. Previous service men may enlist for one year, all other applicants for three years.

TO RESTORE SHANTUNG WITHIN A YEAR SAYS JAPANESE DIPLOMAT

Secretary Matsuoka Outlines Policy His Government May Follow.

NO JAPANESE SOLDIERS ON SOIL OF SHANTUNG

Japan's Pledge to World Will Be Carried Out, He Declares—Negotiations to Begin Soon.

New York, Sept. 4.—Restitution of the province of Shantung to China by Japan within a year was predicted today by Yosuke Matsuoka, secretary in the foreign department of Japan and a member of the Japanese peace delegation. He has just arrived here from Paris on his way to Japan.

"I should not be at all surprised," he said, if our government opened within a very few months or even a few weeks negotiations with the Chinese government with a view to settling the Shantung question in a way satisfactory to all concerned."

In a statement on the Shantung question, Mr. Matsuoka said: "To those of us who have participated in the peace conference, there is not the shadow of doubt that Japan will withdraw from Shantung at the earliest possible moment. The peace treaty requires Germany to hand over to Japan all the documents relative to Shantung within three months after the treaty comes into force. When this is done, Japan will immediately take steps toward the restitution which Japan has pledged herself to make in favor of China."

Japan's Terms.

The terms on which Japan will reconstitute Shantung are now fairly well known to the world. Briefly stated, the main points of these terms are:

"First, Japan is to restore Katsu Chou, the German leased territory to China.

"Second, in returning Kiau Chow to China Japan in the interest of all nations, asks only one thing, namely that the territory be open to international trade. It is only as a natural corollary of this proposed measure that Japan also desires to establish an international, not a Japanese settlement, in the city of Tsing Tao.

In the Chino-Japanese agreement of May 25, 1915, a Japanese settlement was to have been established in addition to an international one, but Viscount Uchida, our foreign minister, declared on August 8 last that Japan would waive the right to establish a Japanese settlement.

"Third, Japan will withdraw all her troops not only from the railway zone but from Tsing Tao. After the restitution of Kiau Chow, not a single Japanese soldier will be left in the soil of Shantung.

"Fourth, the Shantung railway of 270 miles will be operated not by Japan but by a Chino-Japanese joint corporation, in which both Japanese and Chinese capital will be represented. Of course, China will participate in the management of this railway.

"Fifth, Japan will withdraw her police force from along the railroad and entrust the Chinese authorities with the policing of that region.

"Besides the matters included in the above five categories, there are questions of the German submarine cables, railway loans and preferential rights with regard to the supply of capital and materials and the employment of foreigners in Shantung I believe these questions can easily be settled.

"I do not wish to say that these will be the exact terms, but I am prepared to declare that our overture to China will be along these lines. Let me emphasize once more that these negotiations will be entered into within a very short time. The solemn pledge she has given to China before the whole world will be carried out under all circumstances.

"Japan has taken nothing from China in Shantung, but proposes to give her much. . . . What we have taken in Shantung was taken from Germany not China. This point cannot be too strongly emphasized."

FINGER BITTEN OFF BY PIG.

Greenfield, Ill., Sept. 4.—S. R. Garman, a farmer living near here, lost the third finger of his right hand when the member was bitten off by a pig he was attempting to hold. Garman tried to catch the pig by the ear and his finger slipped into the pig's mouth.

DR. C. C. BURLINGAME RICH IN WAR HONORS

Manchester Physician Has Many Awards From European Nations.

CITATION FROM PERSHING

Also Has Honorary Commission in Polish Army—Is Chevalier of Legion of Honor.

What is acknowledged to be the highest of French military honors, has been conferred on Dr. C. C. Burlingame, head of the medical department at Cheney Brothers, who up to a few weeks ago held the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the American Expeditionary Forces. The honor conferred is the Decoration of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor of France. It is equal to the Victoria Cross awarded by the British government for deeds of valor.

The honor comes to Dr. Burlingame in recognition of the services rendered by him as Director of the Bureau of Medical Surgery in the American Expeditionary Forces. The decoration is accompanied by a certificate which reads as follows:

By Decree.

"The Grand Chancellor of the National Order of the Legion of Honor, certifies that by decree, on the fourteenth of May, 1919, the President of the French Republic confers upon Lieutenant Colonel Clarence C. Burlingame, the Decoration of Chevalier of the Legion of Honor."

The certificate is signed by the Grand Chancellor of the national order.

Citation From Gen. Pershing.

In addition to this honor comes a citation from General Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Forces in Europe. The citation signed by General Pershing was issued on April 19, 1919 and was received yesterday morning.

This citation reads as follows: "For exceptional, meritorious and conspicuous services as Director of the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery of the American Expeditionary Forces. In testimony thereof and as an expression of appreciation of those services, I award this citation."

The citation is signed by General John J. Pershing.

Dr. Burlingame also has been notified that the Revolutionary Medal of the Czechoslovak government has been awarded him. Aside from being an American officer, Dr. Burlingame holds an honorary commission in the Polish Army as the Polish Eagle, recently awarded to him, carries with it this honor.

Another distinction which is Dr. Burlingame's, is that of being the holder of the French Medal of Honor.

A collection of war souvenirs are also cherished possessions. These include aerial photographs of an important French battle at its height. Dr. Burlingame owns the casing of the last shell fired by the Huns in this battle, as well as German dress and battle helmets and the like.

Dr. Burlingame brought back copies of a French paper showing the places in Paris where the shells which were fired by the German "Big Bertha" struck and also the places hit by German bombs.

BATTERED NEGRO, DUBIOUS AS TO WEAKER SEX, VOTES FOR SUFFRAGE

Atlanta, Sept. 4.—When the next woman suffrage issue comes to vote it will have the support of at least one more Atlanta man, according to Henry Steed, negro, who declares there is no such thing as the weaker sex.

Steed, who was at Judge Johnson's matinee on a charge of disorderly conduct, started out full of corn liquor and a desire to do battle.

Steed claimed he didn't remember exactly what happened later, but witness of the affair said a white woman who didn't seem to appreciate a negro's bravado proceeded emphatically to express her opinion, by means of an umbrella, propelled in a manner similar to that used when playing golf.

A $25 fine, thirty days in the stocks and a bump on his head the size and shape of an umbrella handle were the results of Steed's spree.

A special program of entertainment has been arranged by Mrs. Florence Hillsburg, the director. The visitors will have the use of the entire building and also the auditorium. The principal speaker of the evening is Judge Francis Pallotti of Hartford.

DOCTOR WARNS GIRLS OF DANGER IN FAULTY EATING.

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 4.—The greatest havoc wrought on girls' health is due to faulty eating and to lack of proper exercise.

Dr. Augusta Rucker, director of the division of health of the Young Women's Christian Association, is authority for this statement.

She has informed local citizens that girls eat irregularly, too fast and without proper regard for the rules of diet.

It is her plan to establish health centers all over the country where girls and business women can be examined and advised in health matters and take corrective gymnastic exercises.

BOLL WEEVILS RAVAGE SOUTHERN COTTON FARMS.

Americus, Ga., Sept. 4.—With Sumter County farms having yielded 27,000 bales of cotton last season, farmers and cotton men here variously estimate the current year's production at between 13,000 and 18,000 bales. George O. Marshal, county farm demonstration agent, estimates the yield at 13,500 bales, while L. G. Council, a warehouse man, places it at 13,500 bales. These figures are especially interesting in view of unprecedented boll weevil ravages throughout the county. The bumper crop raised in 1911 totalled 52,000 bales in Sumter County, while in 1914, 42,100 bales were produced.

SPLIT AMONG BURGLARS OVER PROHIBITION.

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 4.—Not even the burglars are unanimous on this prohibition question.

"Wet" burglars stole sixteen cases of whiskey from John Gliske.

"Dry" gentlemen of the same craft stole two cases of grape juice from a neighboring grocery store.

Reports to the police, however, show that the "wet" burglars predominate in the profession.

WIDOWS OF CONFEDERATE VETS APPLY FOR PENSIONS.

Macon, Ga., Sept. 4.—Fifty Confederate veterans' widows have applied for pensions in Bibb County under the new pension law, which allows widows of Confederate veterans married prior to 1880, and allows veterans, irrespective of what they are worth, to obtain pensions. Most of the applicants, however, were widows. Very few veterans applied. The number will probably reach 100.

MANAGER HUGGINS DOES NOT REALIZE WORTH OF POPULARITY AND PUBLICITY

Hard-Working Leader of New York Yankees.

There is no keener student in baseball than Miller Huggins, manager of the New York American league team. He constantly is thinking out plays, and tries to implant his ideas on the men he commands. He is a clever judge of pitchers, and though he always played the infield, he can teach a young pitcher more than the average retired star moundman.

Not Popular With Fans.

Despite his success here, it nevertheless is true that Huggins has not won a great deal of popularity in New York, complains a New York critic. He has won many acknowledgments of his ability, but the fans do not feel for him like they do for McGraw or like they did for some of his numerous predecessors, particularly Clark Griffith and Bill Donovan.

Huggins largely is to blame for the fact that he has not won more popularity in New York. He discounts both popularity and publicity. Despite the fact that he is one of the smartest men that ever trod on a ball field, and is a lawyer in the bargain, he does not seem to realize what assets popularity and publicity can be to a successful manager.

Lets Huston Do Mixing.

He is willing to let the congenial "Cap" Huston do all the mixing for the club. There perhaps never was a club in which there was greater intimacy between the owners and baseball writers than there is between Ezzert and Huston and the New York Chapter of Baseball Writers; yet on the other hand, few managers are as distant from the men who write of the exploits of their team as Huggins.

DIAMOND NOTES

The Red Sox are going better now.

Lee Meadows continues to hurl glittered ball for the Phillies.

The Giants surely are getting their money's worth out of Phil Douglas.

Cincinnati is making money these days. Pat Moran is responsible for it.

They made a mistake with reference to Mr. Ragan. He should be named Finnegan.

Bigbee of Pittsburgh, just a fair outfielder, is the leading base stealer in the National league.

There are many fans pulling for the Cincinnati Reds to win the pennant in the National league.

There is a scramble among managers of the leading ball teams in both leagues to get star pitchers.

"Every little magnate has a sensible of his own," seems to be the popular tune in the American league now.

Ray Roberts' recent no-hit game for Atlanta against Nashville was the second of the season in the Southern league.

Talk about your Schalks and Ruels, but no club has shown a better young catcher than have the Mackmen in Perkins.

The retirement fever, a bee always in the bonnets of Frank Baker and Duffy Lewis, has struck these two Yankees early.

Gus Bono's no-hit game for Shreveport was the first of the season in the Texas league. The San Antonio Aces were his victims.

Mario De Vitalis of Brown university fame, has become a Yankee. He has returned from overseas. He is a right-handed pitcher.

If there is a slower pair of pitchers in the American league than George Erickson and Elmer Myers their names cannot be recalled.

Cub fans have become exceptionally rough lately. Umpires cannot make a close decision without being greeted with a shower of pop bottles.

Manager McGraw of the Giants is charged with having said that he was glad to get out of the town of the Hun when he left Cincinnati.

If anyone tells you Wilson Fawcett isn't as good an outfielder as the Yankees have had in five years, go to the mat with him. And he can hit!

MUST ABOLISH FREAK BALLS

Manager Stallings of Boston Braves, Opposed to Use of Paraffin, Emery, Etc.

Manager Stallings of Boston believes firmly that baseball authorities will have, sooner or later, to banish all paraffin, emery and other accessories that make startling curves in baseball. The spitball is not used by the young fellows coming in. It is the old boy who feels himself slipping who takes to it and keeps himself in baseball several years longer than one who does not use it.

"Take emery," says Stallings. "A man can put it on his glove and an umpire can rub his hand over it and not detect the dust. Yet there is enough there to roughen the ball and let the twirler get a grip on it.

"One twirler on a winning club has so much paraffin scattered about his person that he smells like the Standard Oil. He makes no bones of it. The catcher gets a new ball and bounces it to the pitcher on the ground. That makes a rough spot and the pitcher smooths the side opposite and you have a curve that will out-break a spitter."

NEALE TO IMPROVE BATTING

Cincinnati Outfielder Thinking Seriously of Changing His Position While in Field.

Earle Neale of the Reds thinks seriously of changing his batting position. The pitchers have been keeping the ball inside on him with the result that he is popping up steadily. He does not know whether to move closer or to step back, but is going to do one or the other to improve his hitting.

BASEBALL HONORS FOR HARVARD MAN

Robert W. Emmons, second, captain-elect of the Crimson nine, has been awarded two trophies offered for individual prowess on the baseball diamond at Harvard. The advisory baseball committee announced Emmons as the winner of the Wingate cup, offered annually to the best all-around player on the team. He had previously won the Barrett Wendell bat as the nine's best hitter. Emmons plays shortstop.

POCKETS BARRED BY CHRIS VON DER AHE

Cincinnati Won From St. Louis Through Odd Accident.

Ball Hit by Visiting Player Got Stuck in Pocket of Carroll and Batter Scored Before Sphere Could Be Extracted.

Way back in '89 Cincinnati was playing one afternoon with Chris Von Der Ahe's St. Louis aggregation on the St. Louis grounds.

Cincinnati had a man on first base and two out, and needed two runs to win.

Cliff Carroll was playing center field for the St. Louis nine. The Cincinnati batter hit a slow grounder to center, and Carroll ran up to gather it in.

The situation was ticklish, and Carroll prepared to field the ball carefully. He squatted down to meet it, and got his hands in position. Just before it reached him the ball hit a clump of dirt and bounded high. Carroll grabbed for it with both hands, just as it hit him in the chest.

Somehow in the struggle the ball was wedged into the pocket of Carroll's uniform shirt. It got in there, and Cliff had a terrible time trying to get it out.

The runner stopped at second long enough to see that something was the matter. Then he started for home, with Carroll still digging away at his shirt pocket.

The result was that the runner got home safely and Cincinnati won the game.

Von Der Ahe almost had a fit. He fined Carroll fifty for putting the ball in his pocket and made a rule that thereafter no pockets of any kind should be allowed in the uniforms of his team.

TENNEY OPENED EVANS' EYES

ty well of his own ability. He was quite satisfied that he would make good as a first sacker in the big show, and then one day he saw Fred Tenney. Tenney was a wonder in those days, and Evans was amazed at the way he covered that old bag. He looked at him in silence for perhaps five minutes and then, walking to the dugout, he threw down his first baseman's mitt.

"I thought I was a first baseman," he said, with a shake of his head, "but I'm not. That bird out there is, though. From now on I'm going to devote my time to the outfield."

"And," supplements Helne, "he did."

PRaise FOR FRED HOFFMAN

Yankee's New Backstop, Secured from St. Paul, Expected to Star With Huggins.

Although he hasn't yet had an opportunity to unveil his wares, Fred Hoffman, the Yank's new catch catcher from the St. Paul club, is said to be one of the most promising backstops dug up in the minors in many a day. Hoffman joined the Yanks recently and has only done light work, such as warming up pitchers. Hoffman made a big hit with St. Paul, where Mike Kelley, the manager, saw in him a potential star and shipped him forward to his friend, Miller Huggins.

BIG GUN NOT WORTH WHILE

American Ordnance Experts Could Outdo the Hun in Savagery, but Are Not Likely To.

The Hun 75-mile gun with which Paris was harassed is doubtless still regarded by many as evidence of the much-advertised German mechanical ingenuity.

Ordnance experts have long been aware of the possibility of such a gun. But they have also been aware of its impracticability owing to a lack of means of controlling its fire effectively in such dastardly work as shelling a great city regardless of whom or what was hit.

As an object lesson our ordnance department has designed, without actually building, a supergun which dwarfs the German machine into insignificance. The data, recently made public through the Scientific American, fairly bewitches the lay mind.

The barrel of the gun is 225 feet long and weighs 325 tons. The pressure developed is 45,000 pounds to the square inch. The projectile has a muzzle velocity of 8,500 foot-seconds, and develops the terrific energy of 300,000 foot-tons. Its range is 121 miles, approximately the distance between Chicago and Madison, Wis. Its time of flight is four minutes, and it soars heavenward to a height of 48 miles.

This is awesome; but the cold-blooded expert points out that, after all, the gun delivers only a 400-pound shell, containing 60 pounds of high explosive, and that such a gun would cost $2,500,000. A bombing plane costing $30,000 would drop a 1,000-pound bomb with greater accuracy of aim.

The German supergun demonstrates the savagery of the Hun—the Berserker madness that strikes regardless of whom it strikes. But it also demonstrates an intellectual weakness—the love of mechanism for mechanism's sake. A complicated or difficult piece of machinery captivates his admiration because it is complicated or difficult, regardless of its practicability.

With American genius, simplicity is the desideratum. The mechanism, for instance, of the Browning automatic, whether pistol, rifle or machine gun, is astonishingly simple and practically demountable by the fingers alone. One looks at it and wonders why it wasn't invented half a century since. And right there one pays genius a high tribute.

Kei Hara.

For the first time in the history of Japan a man without a title is at the head of the government. Mr. Kei Hara, the present premier, is a commoner, born in northern Japan, and educated in Tokyo on a scholarship founded by the feudal lord of his clan. He studied law as a profession, but entered journalism, serving on the immediate journalistic ancestor of the now well-known Hochi Shimbun.

From journalism he entered diplomacy under Marquess Inouye, then foreign minister, and was sent as consul to France. Returning to Japan he became director of the commercial bureau of the foreign office under Count Mutsu; and then in turn minister in Korea, and vice minister of foreign affairs in Japan, retiring temporarily to private life when Count Mutsu gave up the political work that had earned him the reputation of being the greatest modern Japanese diplomatist.

Mr. Hara returned to national politics in 1912 as minister of communications in the new cabinet of Prince Ito, and from that appointment his rise has been steady till he was lately made premier, and so became the first commoner that has ever in Japan occupied so high a position.

How It Began.

Customary figure as the boy scout has become in the United States, General Baden-Powell's visit added much to American knowledge of the movement. A good many newspaper readers were probably surprised to learn that it owes its beginning to the Boer war and the siege of Mafeking, without which it may be questioned whether there would be any boy scouts.

In command at Mafeking, General Baden-Powell looked far beyond the siege and saw that great and useful organization of boys might be developed from the corps of boy messengers organized to serve the forces holding that hard-pressed town. That was the beginning of it, but the same force of character that defended Mafeking carried forward the boy scout idea until it was generally recognized as a project for character building rather than encouraging militarism in the young.

Another bit of information that probably surprised many Americans was that Baden-Powell is descended on his mother's side from Capt. John Smith.

Kept Old Funeral Customs.

Following an old family custom, the body of Mrs. G. H. Haigh, daughter of the late Sir Robert Hart, was buried at midnight in the family vault at the little village church at Walth, England. The body of Mrs. Haigh, who was eighty-nine years of age, was brought from Penryn, Cornwall, Wales, and conveyed from the station to the church in a farm wagon, drawn by four black horses and escorted by three dozen men carrying lanterns. The six stork's tribute was a large cross of evergreens.

NEGRO QUACK DOCTOR SENT TO WORKHOUSE.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 4.—Alfred Brown, a negro, stripped of his professional title of "doctor," is going to the workhouse for a year. He's going because he recommended peculiar prescriptions to Miss Alice Buckley, a policeman, for the removal of a husband who did not exist.

Miss Buckley visited the "doctor" and asked him what was the matter with her.

Miss Buckley said the negro told her that her husband was in love with a fat blonde woman who lived nine blocks from her home. He recommended certain incantations that were to make the blond woman "shrivel up and blow away," and her husband go crazy.

In experimenting with soap bubbles an English scientist developed an apparatus that blew them large and substantial enough to be used as backgrounds for photographs.

Veteran Alexander's Match With Patterson Is Talk of Tennis World

New York, Sept. 4.—Speaking of the grand old men of sports, have you ever seen Frederick B. Alexander?

If you lean at all toward tennis and have not seen this veteran in action you have missed a real treat, for he is a hindoo with a tennis racket, and don't let 'em tell you different.

In the recent national lawn tennis tournament at Forest Hills this grand old man of the present-day tennis stars was very much among those present in the first round, but he drew a tough baby when he was called upon to face Captain Gerald Patterson, star of the Australian team, and went down to a glorious defeat at the hands of the Antipodean.

But even in defeat Alexander was a hero in the eyes of the tennis bugs who saw his efforts against the star from the faraway Pacific. And those who were familiar with Alexander's history as well as that of Patterson remembered that the veteran was playing in Davis Cup matches before Patterson ever came into prominence. In fact, Patterson chased balls in matches in which Alexander took part. At that time Patterson was in his early teens, while the veteran New Yorker was at the top of his form.

In justice to Patterson it must be recalled that to Patterson it seemed to Alexander with a sore right arm. He injured his arm in the National doubles tourney at Boston and came on to the court at Forest Hills with bandages. But he had youth on his side, and the speed and strength that goes with it, while Alexander, sans the fire and staying power that were his in other years, was finally forced to bow to the younger man, but only after one of the most interesting matches of the whole tournament.

The veteran burned himself out in the first two sets. He won both sets with comparative ease, or at least it seemed so to the spectators. Wiser tennis critics nodded their heads and said that Patterson was letting the "old boy" wear himself out, and this proved true with the beginning of the third set. But as we said before, Alexander, was great, even in defeat.

Pitted against the average tennis player the veteran Gothamite can still put up a brand of tennis that makes spectators sit up and yell, or clap their hands until the palms sting. He had a repertoire of shots the like of which is not boasted by any other player in the United States and, as they say in other lines of sport, he has forgotten more about the game than many players ever knew.

Alexander first attracted country-wide attention back in 1890 as a player for Princeton. He won the intercollegiate doubles title with R. D. Little as his partner that year. The following year he captured the intercollegiate singles championship. In 1895 he won the Middle States singles championship, and the same year, with H. H. Hackett, took the doubles title for that section. Again in 1910 and 1911, Alexander and Hackett were Middle States doubles champions.

Alexander has shared the national indoor doubles title six times. In 1904, '07 and '08 he held the title with H. H. Hackett. In 1911 and '12 he won it with T. R. Pell, and in 1917 he and Dr. Rosenbaum captured the event. He was also runner up for the indoor singles title in 1918, when S. H. Voshell captured the honor.

The veteran, by the way, has devoted most of his time to the playing of doubles, and at this branch of the game he has always been a wizard. He held the national outdoor doubles title with H. H. Hackett for four successive years, from 1907 to 1910 inclusive. In 1917, in the patriotic tourney, he finished on top in the doubles, teaming with Harold Throckmorton. He was at the top of his form as a seasoned player back in 1908 when he represented the United States in the Davis Cup matches with H. H. Hackett. These two players comprised one of the most famous and consistent tennis teams ever formed in this country.

GREAT IN HISTORY

And Wonderously Beautiful Is the City of Lisbon.

Portuguese Capital Has Had Many Names Through the Centuries— Was Last Stronghold of the Moor in That Country.

The way of a name, especially a well-known name, is interesting to very many people outside the ranks of the confirmed etymologist. The strange way in which, through the centuries, a name, gradually changes and changes until it has really changed out of all casual recognition, yet never quite parts from its original, has a fascination all its own. Lisbon is a very first-class example. No one, off-hand, would think of connecting the name, with Ulysses, and yet your etymologist dives into the subject and so connects it without apparent difficulty. Every one, of course, knows the legend that Lisbon owes its origin to Ulysses. It makes no difference that the mythical city founded by the great wanderer is declared by Strabo to have been rather in the mountains of Sparta. Such contentions never make any difference to a well-established tradition. And so the oldest name by which the city ever was known, that is to say Oliampo, came to be written Ulyssippo. This on Phoenician lips, says the authority, appeared as Alisibibo, or the friendly bay. Then came the Romans, changing the name, but retaining the appreciation of the happy situation of the beautiful city on the heights above Tagus by calling it Felicitas Julia. After the Romans came the Moors with their Al Aschibuna, still carrying out the same idea, and after the Moors, the Portuguese, with the Alisibona. From that to the Lisboa or Lisbon of today is but a step.

And what a history there is in it! It carries one safely through the centuries, touching lightly on the story of Phoenician, Roman and Moor as each, in turn, held sway along the shores of Friendly-bay. Lisbon, indeed, was the last stronghold of the Moor in Portugal, and the story of how King Alfonso I laid siege to it through many months, in 1147, and, at last, with the aid of English and Flemish crusaders on the way to Syria captured it, is one of the great romances of history. Other landmarks and epochs in the history of Lisbon are the burning of the city by the Castilian army of Henry II, in 1373; its period of splendor and greatness in the sixteenth century, when the Portuguese empire was spreading itself into India and Africa; its long years of humiliation from 1580 to 1640, when Lisbon was a provincial town under Spanish rule; its release from the Spanish bondage; the great earthquake of 1755; and the grand rebuilding of the city under the famous Carvalho.

Carvalho had a gracious task: Lisbon has always been famous for the beauty of its situation, and few who write about Portugal today fail to attempt, once again, to convey the beauties of its blue waters, its white, red-roofed houses, the wonderful verdure of its gardens, and over all the "peerless blue of a southern sky." "The eyes rest," says one writer, "upon a succession of amphitheatres built up with their upon tier of houses great and small, which the sorcery of Lustration sunlight transfigures into the semblance of a city of palaces and many mansions built up of marbles of delicate and varied hues." The westernmost of European capitals spreads itself in leisurely fashion over its 11 hills, extending for more than five miles along the shores of the famous Rada de Lisbon, and for more than three miles inland. Beyond the narrow channel leading out of the Rada through which flow the waters of the Tagus lies the open sea, and some 800 miles away over the horizon to the west are the Azores.—Christian Science Monitor.

The Stories They Tell. They say on Broadway that one of the best-known workmen took a contract to write a book for a new comic opera and received an advance fee of $1,000. When the time came to deliver the work he had not written a line. He did not want to admit this and he did not want to give back the $1,000. So he went to a bookstore, bought the book of an old opera, had it typewritten and read it to his patron.

"That," said his patron, "is the worst I ever heard, Harry. I can't take that mess of junk. It wouldn't last two days on Broadway." "Let me try again," he begged. So he turned in the book of a big success when the amended date came around. The first book was that of "Patience," by Gilbert and Sullivan.

Make Study of Eugenics. The eugenics record office at Cold Spring Harbor, L. An elaborate classification of traits has been worked out.

Circle Theater Park Theater

Clara Kimball Young and her own company will appear at the Circle Theatre tonight and tomorrow with her latest select picture, "The Savage Woman," from Francois Cure's "La Fille Sauvage," adapted for the screen by Kathryn Stuart, is a role vastly different from any which Miss Young has before chosen for the screen, takes this celebrated star away from her usual society play and shows her to exceptional advantage as Renee, daughter of a French trader, derelict in Abyssinia.

When her father leaps to his death the girl wanders away and finds herself in the ruins of an old place once belonging to the Queen of Sheba. Here she is mistaken for the reincarnated queen herself, and desired by the native prince as his bride, she is frightened and blinds him with the flashes from her mirror while she makes her escape. Fleeing once more, she is shot by a French explorer, Lerier, who binds up the slight wound and struck with her dusky beauty, takes her back to France.

Here Renee is happy until she learns two unheard of things—jealousy, and the fact that a marriage ceremony is desirable. Aimee Ducharme, a former mistress, is winning Lerier back for he has missed her brilliant conversation, and her jealousy thoroughly aroused, Renee destroys a precious relic which Aimee has brought to Lerier from Cyprus. Then overcome with remorse, she decides to go back to Abyssinia where many such stones can be found to replace it.

Lerier discovers that he loves Renee when it is too late, and thinking her dead, is drawn back to their old haunts. He is captured by the native prince and is about to be sacrificed, when Renee appears and saves him. This is the greatest photoplay Miss Young has ever appeared in. It is greater than "The Common Law," which packed the Circle when shown here.

"A Sage Brush Hamlet" is the unique title of William Desmond's latest production distributed by Exhibitors Mutual. It will be shown tonight at the Park.

This picture gives the popular big star a splendid opportunity for the rollicking brand of humor he has made his own in such productions as "Bare-Fisted Gallagher" and "White-washed Walls." It is western, breezy, full of clean and wholesome comedy and bristles with tense action that moves at a fast pace. "Locoed Larry" Lang is a rollicking, reckless leader of a wild crew of cow punchers. Years before Larry's father had been murdered by Claude Dutton, leader of a bad gang of rustlers, and Larry had sworn that some day he would "get" Dutton. With this in mind, he started out to create the impression that he was a drunken fool, in order to convince Dutton that he had forgotten the murder and so lure the rustler from his retreat.

Larry finds himself the possessor of a legacy left by an aunt, consisting of Dora Lawrence, a distant cousin, and a feather-bed. He becomes involved in some very embarrassing situations when he tries to induce the girl to leave the ranch. Dora threatened to leave clad only in her diaphanous "nightie" if he insists on her going.

Dutton and his gang raid Larry's ranch and are about to carry off Dora, when Larry shoots himself into the scene, rescues Doris and routs the gang. On the same bill will be the Ford Weekly and the first chapters of the new serial "The Masked Rider." The first episode ends with Pancho villainously plugging the message of hate written in fire. This shows Blanche, the young daughter of Burrel, who has been kidnapped, tied to a tree, stripped of the waist and Pancho's lieutenant with a red hot branding iron in the act of applying the iron to Blanche's back.

HEAVILY ARMED COPS ARREST TWO DOGS. Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 4.—The officers went heavily armed. They were told that "Shep Doe" and "Rover Roe" were hard cases. But they did not use their handcuffs. They simply collared their prisoners and they came along. The prisoners refused to discuss their case. They were dogs, the first arrested under a new Ohio law which permits issuance of warrants for canines.

CONN. C. OF C. WILL INVESTIGATE TROLLEY SITUATION IN STATE

Will Make Report of Conditions to the Legislature in 1921.

SAY LAST ASSEMBLY DID NOT KNOW FACTS

Hope to Help Put Trolley System on "Safe, Fair and Efficient Operating Basis."

Appointment of a Street Railway Commission to the Connecticut Chamber of Commerce was voted at the Executive Meeting of the State Chamber in Hartford today. The informal approval of the State Public Utilities Commission to whom the official investigation of the Connecticut trolley problem was confided at the close of the last General Assembly, has been obtained.

The purpose of the Commission as stated in the vote passed at the Executive Session today is "to continue the study of the street railway problem and to report to the General Assembly of 1921 the conditions at the close of the year 1920, together with recommendations and necessary legislation which they believe to be required in order to place the street railways of the state on a safe, fair, and efficient operating basis."

According to the statement made, the Chamber feels that the failure of the General Assembly to pass measures of relief in such cases as this is due, not to disinclination to render honest and efficient service, but to a lack of understanding and knowledge of what the public wants. This lack of understanding is due, in turn, to the fact that the situation has not been adequately laid before the public and no consensus of public opinion has been secured. Richard T. Higgins, Chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, stated the same belief in his letter to the State Chamber of this subject. "The more thorough the investigation from all angles by parties or bodies representing solely the interest of the general public, the more convincing will be the report of actual facts and recommendations for relief by such investigating bodies."

It is expected that the personnel of the commission will be announced next week and the work will be commenced at once.

MARIE, "CLAD IN GARB OF NATURE", EMBARRASSES POLICEMEN

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 4.—Would you have thought it possible? Two policemen were embarrassed Tuesday by a call these officers found Marie Smith, twenty-two in an alley.

A police reporter says the policemen were embarrassed because they found Marie "clad only in the garb of nature." At a nearby house the officers borrowed a sheet and took Marie, who is colored, to the county jail to await action by the probate court.

WANT THE WORLD SERIES EXTENDED TO 9 GAMES

Much Comment Over the Suggestion Made by National Commission—The Arguments.

New York, Sept. 4.—The recommendation of the National Commission for increasing the number of games in the world's series this year has aroused a storm of comment in baseball circles today.

Arguments for and against the plan to extend the series to nine games are being advanced on every side by baseball magnates, managers and critics, and while the plan has many supporters the consensus of opinion is taking on a negative complexion.

With the national commission in favor of the change, however, and the support of but five clubs in each league needed to put into effect, it has at least an even chance of going over. The major leagues have eight days in which to vote on the question.

The opposition of Charley Comiskey to the plan has encouraged those who are unfavorable to it to speak up, for with the White Sox standing out as prospective pennant winners in their league Comiskey would profit should the period be lengthened.

Colonel T. L. Huston, of the Yankees, has sounded the keynote of the opposition. It is the old cry of "commercialism." Huston is against the plan and is supporting Comiskey. Manager McGraw and President Stoneham of the Giants are doubtful that a change in the world's series would make for the good of the game and Manager Huggins of the Yanks says that seven games are enough. Colonel Ebbets, president of the Dodger ballgame series would be popular with the fans. Meanwhile baseball critics here are recalling that the National Commission promptly squashed suggestions for extending the series in the past, invariably stating that charges of commercialism would be heaped on every hand. The question will be definitely settled on September 13, when the commission holds its next meeting.

Rev. Dr. Howard H. Russell, Westerville, Ohio, founder of the Anti-Saloon League of America, accompanied Mr. Bryan and will speak briefly.

These speakers will urge that there be enacted and enforced whatever state and federal measures may be necessary. They will say that prohibition is in the constitution of the United States by the favorable action of 45 legislatures, and must be respected. They also will forecast ratification of the eighteenth amendment by the three remaining legislatures of Rhode Island, Connecticut and New Jersey.

Wiles and schemes of liquor men to set aside and ignore prohibition will be explained by the speakers, and the people will be urged to be alert and vigilant.

A campaign to make the whole world dry will be described by the speakers. Mr. Payne says, no auditorium is large enough to hold the men who want to hear Col. Bryan and in recent tours has been speaking to overflow audiences everywhere. It is announced that admission to the meeting will be free.

ARTHUR E. HOLMES BACK FROM OVERSEAS SERVICE

Herald Man Who Saw Fourteen Months' Foreign Service in France Reaches Home.

Arthur E. Holmes of North Main street arrived home last evening, having been mustered out from Camp Devens. Mr. Holmes was in the service eighteen months, fourteen of them being spent overseas. He was at the Mountaucon front doing duty the same day that Corporal Joseph Dilworth of this town was killed. Mr. Holmes was a member of the 5th Field Signal Battalion of the Third Division which was one of the first divisions to cross the Rhine into Germany on the first day of December.

Mr. Holmes is a member of the printing staff of the Herald and is the last to return from the war. Altogether the Herald had eight men in the service.

MOR VICTORY MEDALS HERE FOR VETERANS

War Bureau Receives Another Shipment of Engraved Trophies for Ex-Service Men.

Another shipment of Victory Medals was received at the local War Bureau this morning for distribution. These medals are fully engraved and bear the name and rank of the individual owner. The process of engraving the names is done by hand and for this reason the medals have been slow in arriving.

The War Bureau anticipates the arrival of all the medals in a very short time. Those who have not as yet received them should have a little patience as the local bureau is doing everything in its power, to speed the work along.

The names of the men for whom medals have been received are as follows:

Everett R. Anthony, Clarence H. Andrews, Emil A. Andron, Ernest J. Armstrong, Joseph Bertotti, Victor W. Bronke, John Boyle, Louis Bertotti, Alphonse E. Bernby, Frank Cervini, George H. Carter, Wm. J. Dexter, Ward E. Duffy, William J. Downing, John J. Fay, Louis Grassano, Michael Gorman, Charlie J. Hall, Joseph R. Hughes, William Hill, Robert C. Howes, Wm. J. HORSE THIEF CHASERS USE FAST AUTOS NOW.

Akron, Ohio, Sept. 4.—"Hoss" thief chasers have given up their fiery steeds for autos.

In former days these riders sat in saddles on feet-footed horses. Visiting the office of Sheriff Hutchinson, a company of twenty men horse thief chasers employed as "riders" by a horse owners' protective league, obtained permission to hunt through Summit County for the thief who, from the barn of F. A. Snyder, in Tallmadge, stole, at night, a horse and buggy loaded with crates chickens.

Dr. Sloan has resumed his former office hours, 2 to 3 in the afternoon and 7 to 8 in the evening, except Sundays.—adv.

You cannot place men behind whitewashed walls, black steel bars, amid gravel yards, and expect them to come out better than they went in.

QUALITY AND PRICES ARE WHAT COUNTS

We believe in giving a square deal to all, which means perfect the, highest quality goods and low prices.

As we sell six times as many glasses as anyone else in Manchester we can afford to sell them cheaper. If you want good, yet strong, good glasses and don't feel that you can pay the high prices charged by some, than you should call at our South Manchester office and receive a square deal and get your glasses at the right price. Office Open Every Night Except Saturday from 6.30 to 8.30 p. m. At Optical Dept. G. Fox & Co. during the day.
