H. S. BASEBALL TEAM NEEDS NEW MATERIAL

Captain Wright Calls Practice to Inspect Material for Team.

CLASSES HOLD MEETINGS

Committee Appointed to Select Memorial for Ruth Harris '20—Good Speakers in First Assembly.

Captain Wright of the baseball team has called a fall practice in order to give the coaches and himself a chance to see next year's material. There are three men left from the old nine. Wright who has officiated behind the bat for the last three years, and Turkington and Robb.

Plenty of Material. There is an abundance of good material in the school and hope is high for a good team next year. Captain Wright is looking around school for a "black horse," because the weakness of the team next year will doubtless be in the pitching staff. Wright has done some pitching with the Crescents, a local team, and probably will have to do it for the High School next year.

Senior Class Meeting. The Seniors held a class meeting in preparation for their social which comes a week from tonight. It was decided to have a masquerade.

Memorial Committee. A committee appointed by the class is now choosing some fit memorial to Ruth Harris '20, who died last winter. The committee is: Elizabeth Bayne, Esther Johnson, Herbert Swanson, Charles O'Dowd.

To Have Class Rings. The Junior class held a meeting yesterday afternoon to arrange for a social and to appoint a committee to inquire about class rings. The committee is: Agnes Hannon, Lolita Aitkin, Ernest Benson, Frank Waddell.

Senior Assembly was held yesterday afternoon for the first time this term. The speakers were Gertrude Berggren, Hazel Johnson, and Helen Lahey.

Miss Berggren was the first speaker and set a fine example for the other Seniors to follow by her excellent talk. Her subject was, "General Pershing's Welcome to America." She told of the admiration the General had for his American soldiers.

Miss Johnson spoke on, "Mr. Hoover's Retirement." She gave a vivid picture of the world famous man who advised when eating corn muffins to imagine them to be doughnuts.

"The President's Tour in Behalf of the League of Nations," was Miss Lahey's subject. She reminded her audience that the President was trying to please the nation as a whole and that he was touring the districts from which the congressmen come who are opposed to the League.

BABY SHOW JUST AS DELIGHTFUL IN MOVIES

Pictures Are Remarkably Clear and Complete—Audiences Cheer Favorites—Last Showing Tonight.

Manchester's baby show is just as delightful and entertaining on the screen as it was when held in Center park. It is a faithful repetition of the events that took place at the town's greatest and most successful juvenile event and no detail has been overlooked.

The large crowds are shown and also the babies. The cinema man has produced a number of surprisingly clear "close-ups" of the prize winners. In fact, the entire picture throughout has been photographed very clearly.

The picture was shown last evening before two audiences. Each favorite brought forth applause as his or her picture was flashed on the screen. The sale of tickets by the Child Welfare Committee is to pay the expenses of the undertaking. The baby show will be shown for the last time this evening.

TO SING THE ATHLETICS TO WIN FROM WHITE SOX

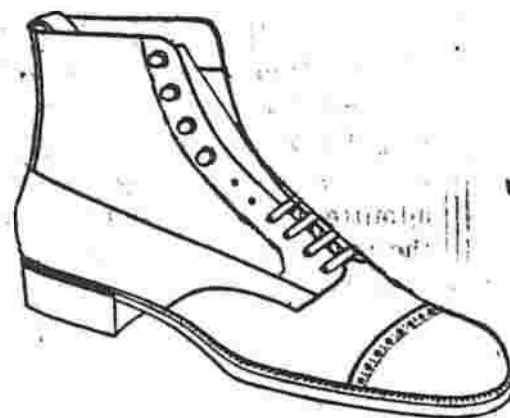

Local Girls to Repeat Their Springfield Hit—"Wing" Murphy Chief Umpire—White Sox Strengthen Team.

One of the features of Sunday's game at the Mt. Nebo grounds between the Athletics and White Sox, will be the singing by the loyal Athletic rooters, composed of about twenty girls, of parodies of the latest song hits. These girls made a great hit at Springfield in the game between the Athletics and Hender Indians, and their singing not only adds life to the people attending the game but puts a lot of "pep" into the players.

"Wing" Murphy of Hartford will undoubtedly be umpire in chief at these games with another competent umpire on the bases; and the fans who intend to see the start of these games should remember that Sunday's game and all the games of this series will start promptly at three o'clock, which will allow ample time for extra innings should an overtime game be necessary. The grounds will be roped off for Sunday's game and two of Manchester's finest will keep the crowd a reasonable distance from the playing field.

The Athletics intend to use a purely local team in this series and the team they have used all season.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EVENING HERALD

JAMES W. CHENEY DEAD AT AGE OF 81

Was Active in Cheney Brothers Business for More Than Sixty Years.
RETIRED SINCE 1915

Faced Approaching Death Calmly— His Long and Useful Career.

James W. Cheney, ripe with years, fell into his last sleep at seven o'clock last night. For nearly a year he had been confined to his room, yielding gradually and patiently to the on-coming infirmities of old age. He knew his end was not far off and had made every preparation for his final departure on the long journey. Up to last Sunday morning his mind had been clear and he took an active interest in what was going on both in his home and in the world at large. But a change was noted by his family at that time. He failed steadily during the week and yesterday it was plain that the end was near. Weakness gradually overcame him, and with the setting of the sun his life went out. He was 81 years old last February.

James W. Cheney was a relative of the founder of the Cheney Brothers, and was an important factor in its industrial, political and social life. Easily approachable, kind hearted and affable, he made many warm friends. He was connected with the silk industry of Cheney Brothers for more than 60 years. He began as mail boy before there was a post office at South Manchester. At that time the mail for the silk mills came to Manchester Green, then known as Manchester. Gradually he assumed more important positions until he became a director of the corporation and in charge of the dyeing and printing department. He retired from active business in 1915. During the period of his connection with the firm he saw the business expand from a small factory employing two or three hundred hands to a plant covering many acres and employing more than 4,000.

Mr. Cheney's interest in the development of the silk business did not preclude his taking part in local and state affairs. He was not only public spirited and active in promoting the interests of his home town but he also had a friendly feeling for the unfortunate. His many acts of private charity will never be known. In a larger way he served the unfortunate through his membership in the Connecticut state prison board which covered a period of 22 years, during 15 of which he was president of the board. In this capacity he attended many national conventions of prison managers and studied the most successful examples of penal institutions. He was quick to favor the adoption of the best modern methods in our own state prison, and while not going to the extremes which have been of doubtful value in some states, he helped to bring about many reforms which have made the Connecticut state prison one of the best in the country. All this work was performed with no further reward than the consciousness of duty well done.

Mr. Cheney took an interest in politics early in life, not for the purpose of gaining office for himself but with object of electing other good men. For 35 years he was a member of the Republican town committee of Manchester and took an active part in the nomination and election of many of the town's officials and representatives. Naturally in the course of time political honors came to him personally. In 1896 he was a delegate to the Republican national convention at St. Louis, which nominated President McKinley. Prior to that, in 1871, he represented Manchester in the legislature. He also represented the town in conventions of the party, state, senatorial, county and congressional. Repeatedly he declined nomination to office, preferring that political rewards should go to someone else.

The name of Mr. Cheney is on the bronze tablet at the entrance to the great stone bridge which connects Hartford with the opposite shore of the Connecticut river. He was a member of the board which built the bridge and served as its secretary.

Back in Civil War times Mr. Cheney joined the Hartford City Guard as one of its charter members. Later he acquired the military title of major by being chosen for that position in the City Guard Veteran association.

Owing to his geniality and social qualities Mr. Cheney was always the center of any group of men with whom he was associated. He was an ardent Mason and was a past master of Manchester lodge. Until failing health kept him at home he was always an enthusiastic attendant at ceremonial and social sessions of the lodge. He was also member of the Connecticut society, Sons of the American Revolution.

Mr. Cheney was the last survivor of a large family of children of George Wells Cheney, one of the seven original Cheney brothers. Among others who passed away before him were John S. and George W., who were also connected with the silk business, and William H., who for many years ran the Cheney store and was postmaster at South Manchester. On February 5, 1868, Mr. Cheney married Harriet Elizabeth, daughter of Halsey and Adeline (Bliss) Cheney. Mrs. Cheney died several years ago. He leaves two children, John Platt Cheney of East Center street and Mrs. Walter Olcott, who with her husband has shared her father's home on Forest street.

The funeral will be held at the house Saturday afternoon at 2.30. It will be conducted by Rev. John Coleman Adams of Hartford and Rev. Dr. C. E. Hesselgrave of this place. Friends are requested to omit flowers.

ARMY FOOD SALE STARTS NINE O'CLOCK MONDAY

Town Treasurer George H. Waddell has issued the rules governing the distribution of the supply of army food that arrived in this town yesterday and has figured the price list. Sale of the goods will start Monday morning at nine o'clock in the Town Hall.

The sale will be conducted strictly on the "cash and carry" plan and no paper or string will be furnished for wrapping. All persons should bring their own baskets and carry the food away with them. BRITISH RAILROAD MEN TO STRIKE AT MIDNIGHT

Nation Wide Walkout Ordered—Men Demand Standardization in Matter of Wages.

London, Sept. 26.—The railwaymen will go on a national strike at midnight, it was announced today by J. H. Thomas, head of the national union of railwaymen.

It previously had been stated that progress was being made towards an adjustment of the trouble by the executive organization of the union and the cabinet.

The men are demanding standardization of wages among other things. A conference was held at the premier's official residence in Downing street and the presence of the war and food ministers indicated that the government will make a stiff fight to maintain transportation service.

Only the trainmen will go out as the amalgamated society of engineers did not join in the strike movement.

INDIAN "MEDICINE MAN," LAST OF "CULT," DIES AT 109.

Prince Rupert, B. C., Sept. 26.—"Skookum Charlie" Williams, one hundred and nine years old, last of the medicine men of the "People of the Rabbit" is dead on the reserve of his tribe on the Skeena River, ninety miles inland from Prince Rupert.

The venerable Indian was once the most powerful medicine man of the coast tribes. His medicine was considered a panacea not only for physical but spiritual ills. He cured the sick, exercised evil spirits and safeguarded his patrons against the malignant influence of demons and ghosts. He grew rich, as Indian wealth is reckoned, by his incantations and his sale of charms and amulets.

DEVOURS 8 LARGE WATERMELONS.

Logansport, Ind., Sept. 26.—Three watermelons, large size, were devoured by Blaine Deltler in an eating contest here. Ben Hahn dropped out of the race after reaching the three-quarter post in the third heat. Two and three-quarter melons were his limit, but he limped under the wire with second prize.

Why We Say to You-- 'Hart Schaffner & Marx'

One of the reasons for our making so frequent and so emphatic an argument about Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes is that they represent the quality idea in merchandise which business men everywhere recognize as the thing people want.

Good quality in all-wool fabrics, good tailoring, good style, right fit; what more does a man want in clothes? The only point to be particular about is that when you pay for these things you get them.

As for that, Hart Schaffner & Marx guarantee it; we guarantee it; we promise more than quality, material and work; we guarantee your satisfaction.

You ought to think of them as your clothes.

SEEKING CHICAGO NUN.

Woman in Convent Heir to Fortune of 19 Millions.

Dubin, Sept. 20.—A Roman Catholic nun, believed to be living in a convent somewhere in Chicago, is being sought as one of the few heirs to a fortune of $19,000,000 located in India. She is a relative of Thomas Quinn, of County Clare, who had gone to India to make his fortune but return to Ireland to die. Quinn was regarded as moderately wealthy.

The heir disposed of the property in Ireland but failed to mention scattered holdings in India which were believed to be worthless ventures. It is now learned that the land owned by Quinn in India contains the most valuable mineral deposits.

Circle Theater

"The Finger of Justice," with Crane Wilbur playing the star part, "went over big" at the Circle last evening. Today nothing else is being talked about in the mills and the management is preparing for a capacity audience this evening. Tonight the same feature will be shown again.

On the same bill will be a comedy and educational films. The feature for tomorrow will be a special one. Baby Osborne, the only rival of the Lee Kids will be seen in a de luxe feature, "Milady of the Beanstalk." Baby Osborne has more friends among Manchester movie fans than any child actress with the exception of the Lee Kids.

Decide On Nosophia Which is Just as Mysterious—Plan for Theater Party and Dinner.

The regular weekly meeting of the D. Y. U. Y. K. Club was held Thursday evening in the club rooms of the Recreation building.

First a business meeting was called at which the following officers took their places: Mary Donahue, president; Florence Dwyer, vice president; Grace Mahoney, treasurer; Bessie Logan, secretary. It was voted that the name of the club be changed to the Nosophia Girls. So from now on they will be known by that name. It was also decided to have a theater party October 3rd after which they will have dinner at a hotel.

Refreshments were served by a committee of eight girls of which Loretta Coleman was chairman.

The rest of the evening was spent in singing and dancing. Grace Mahoney, as usual, helped out with her fancy dancing. Miss Ann McCarthy also did her part by telling her funny stories and reciting poetry.

MANCHESTER TO WELCOME TURKINGTON GIRLS TOMORROW

Salvation Army Lassies With War Honors Expected to Reach Town Late Tomorrow Afternoon — Parade and Reception.

MAURETANIA MAY DOCK LATE.

A telegram was received shortly before the Herald went to press that the Mauretania may be later in docking than was expected. This may not interfere with the arrangements for the welcome. But if the Mauretania does not put in until Sunday the celebration will have to be postponed. The telegram: Mrs. Edward Turkington, Winter Street. Mauretania will dock Saturday or Sunday. Signed, Mrs. Col. Joseph Atkinson.

A large welcome home reception is being planned for the Turkington girls, Myrtle and Florentine, who are expected in New York late this evening or early tomorrow morning. According to despatches received in town, the Turkington girls left Liverpool on the S. S. Mauretania.

HALFOUR ONLY HALF A GALLANT, ACCORDING TO STORY TOLD IN PARIS. Paris, Sept. 26.—(by mail).—They are telling a story about Arthur Balfour, the British Foreign Secretary, which shows that he is only half a gallant.

As a change from the labors of the conference, and from his passionate pursuit of tennis, Balfour mingled with the Victory parade crowd. Whilst walking along the boulevards he was suddenly surrounded by three lovely young women, who suggested he should pay for some beer. Rather taken aback, he agreed, and the four sat down outside a cafe. The statesman called for four glasses, paid for them and immediately drank his own. Then, to the complete discomfiture of the three Parisiennes, he hurriedly arose, doffed his hat and walked away without a word.

COUNT OF PARCEL POST BEGINS OCTOBER 1ST

Postmaster Quish Will Count and Weigh All Parcel Post Packages During First Fifteen Days of October.

Beginning next Wednesday, October 1, Postmaster Thomas Quish and his assistants at the south end post office will begin the enumeration of all parcel post packages that pass through the office for the next fifteen days. Every piece of parcels post matter will be counted and day by day the number will be recorded. Each package will also be weighed and the weight recorded.

Guide to Business. When all this information has been collected at the end of the fifteen days it will be sent to the Post Office Department at Washington. There it will be checked against previous records of this office compared with the records of other offices which are similarly situated. In that way the department officials will have an accurate guide in the appropriation of funds and in defining the personnel.

Representative Period. The first fifteen days of October are taken as being the most representative. They contain no holidays of any importance.
