500 FEDERAL TROOPS STOP FURTHER RIOTING IN ELAINE, ARKANSAS

Death Toll Now Fifteen—More Dead in Canebrake Section.

SEVERAL MINOR CLASHES REPORTED DURING NIGHT

Seventy-Five Negroes Now in Jail—Saw White Man Was Leader—Told Them to Refuse to Pick Cotton.

Elaine, Ark., Oct. 3.—With 500 federal troops and about 1,000 volunteer searchers engaged in rounding up negro disturbers in Phillips county, military authorities were confident today that the race riots in this county, in which four white men and eleven negroes are known to have been killed, are "well in hand" and do not anticipate further trouble.

While the number of known dead in the riots total fifteen, authorities say the death list will be greatly increased when a thorough search is made of the canebrake section where several negroes are reported killed.

Several clashes between soldiers and negroes in the Canebrakes in the southern section of the county were reported late yesterday. A number of negroes are said to have been killed in these fights, but details of the battles are lacking today.

Government agents, who have been at work in the riot swept section of the county for several days are said to have uncovered evidence of a well organized negro uprising.

White Denies Plot.
O. S. Bratton, a white man, arrested in connection with the murder of W. A. Adkins, special officer killed in a battle with several negroes Tuesday night, was closely questioned regarding the negro uprising, but according to the Federal agents, denied knowledge of the plot.

75 Negroes in Jail.
Seventy-five negroes arrested Wednesday and Thursday are held in the Phillips county jail today. Several of these prisoners told the authorities of the activities of a white man who for the past two months has been "organizing the negroes to oppose their white employers."

The negro prisoners declare that when the better element among them refused to join an organization of negroes started by a white man to "force equal rights for the negro." Threats against their lives and homes were made. The negroes say they were told that the government intended buying all the cotton, and were advised to demand their price and to refuse to pick cotton unless their demands for wage increases were granted.

Gov. Chas. E. Brough, who was fired at by negro rioters late yesterday has ordered a thorough investigation of a negro farmer organization suspected of being back of the plot for the uprising.

FIND SIX SKELETONS.

New Haven, Oct. 3.—Excavating for the new plant of the Seamless Rubber Company on Hallowell avenue today workmen dug up six human skeletons. The place was the scene of a temporary army camp during Civil War times and the skeletons are believed to be the remains of persons possibly buried at that time. When the discovery was first made the skeletons were believed to be those of Indians. But coroner Mix was notified and he sent medical examiner Scarborough to the spot. He said the skeletons were not those of Indians. There is little chance of identification as the skeletons were together in a common and unmarked grave.

"MEANEST MAN" STEALS SOLDIER'S WAR MEDAL.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 2.—The "meanest man" has been found again. A colored soldier entered a local tailor shop to have his uniform pressed. While the tailor was temporarily absent someone entered and took the colored soldier's medal from his coat.

Danger of National Strike Now Looms Up in England

London, Oct. 3.—Following the deadlock in the railway negotiations danger of a national strike again loomed up today. J. H. Thomas, executive secretary of the national union of railwaymen, declared that the deputation of eleven from the transport workers and allied unions "would unanimously support the railroaders' refusal of the government's terms." This deputation is continuing its efforts at mediation however.

Official Statement.
Railway traffic is improving and more strikers continue to report for work, according to the following official communication issued by the government at noon:

"No application has been received from the railwaymen for an interview. There is marked improvement in traffic, particularly in the handling of freight. More men are returning. Food stocks are at a satisfactory level."

Hope for Settlement.
The outcome of the present situation which has been precipitated by the breakdown of the negotiations with Mr. Lloyd George is obscure, but hope for a settlement before next week has not been abandoned.

The Daily Herald, official organ of labor, characterizes the government's demand that the strikers return to work as "an unconditional surrender," if the railwaymen consent.

Millions in Wages Lost.
The Daily Express estimates that the first week of the strike has cost approximately $5,000,000 in wages, loss of production and depreciation.

The Daily Mail expresses the opinion that "the strike is on its last legs," adding:

"The strikers have nothing to gain from prolonging it."

The Daily Telegraph in its comment said:

"The nation is determined to defeat the strike, as well as to secure a settlement that is clean and just to the commonwealth as well as the men." Geo. Bernard Shaw, famous Irish essayist, has an ironical article in the Daily News. He says:

Daily News Compliments.
"Another strike or two on this scale and Premier Lloyd-George, who always goes abroad to find out how to do things, will be in Moscow taking a few hints from Nicholas Lenine on the gentle art of pressing private capital and private labor into the public service."

Shaw suggests that rail travel be free to the public, adding:

"If Premier Lloyd-George's mind had not recoiled from the unnatural stretch of war into original suburban dimensions he would not talk like a Blackheath season ticket holder about making traffic pay. It is the business of traffic to make other business pay."

No Strike Against State.
Thomas charges that announcement was made in certain places last night that the strike had ended, but, he declared, the railway men will not return to work until ordered to do so by their executive committee. He explained that the delegation from the transport workers and allied unions again called upon Premier Lloyd George today because of the danger of other organizations joining the strike.

"This is not a strike against the state," said Thomas. "If it were I would not be leading the men."

"The railway men will not return on future promises, but only on definite assurances that their just claims will be met."

Thomas said there would be no meeting of the executive organization of railway men over the weekend. He will take advantage of the lull to go into the country and explain his position.

NEW BILL MAY PROHIBIT IMMIGRATION TO THE U. S.

Foreigners Will Be Given Limited Time to Become Citizens—If They Will Be Deported.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Passports for all immigrants is the chief provision of a bill soon to come from the House Immigration Committee. The measure will require all aliens coming to this country to be provided with passports, duly made out by the authorities of the country of which the alien is a citizen, or subject, and vised by the American representative in that country.

Time Limit Set.

If the alien is coming on business or for a visit, a time limit for stay in the country will be fixed. If he plans to make this country his home, he will be required to make a declaration of purpose on landing, and if no effort is made within a given time to comply with other requirements for citizenship in the United States, he shall be deported.

It is expected, also that the bill will either prohibit all immigration for a period of years—two, three, and four year periods being under consideration—or will carry other restrictive features in addition to those of the existing law, so as to make admission most difficult. The present sentiment in committee is to include in the bill a provision for rigid exclusion of all Asiatic immigrants. Many Pacific coast witnesses who have appeared before the committee have alleged that the Japanese authorities are not observing in good faith the gentlemen's agreement with this country in the matter of prohibiting Japanese laborers from coming to the United States, and that hordes of Japanese are coming in under passports issued them by the Japanese officials and are being smuggled in by various methods.

NEEDLE IMBEDDED IN HAND 25 YEARS BREAKS.

M'Alister, Okla., Oct. 3.—The knowledge that a sewing machine needle was imbedded in her hand seemed a trivial matter to Mrs. S. A. Scott twenty-five years ago. In fact she had forgotten all about the needle until recently, when she broke the bit of steel while twisting a lid onto a jar of fruit preserves. An abscess developed.

BERKMAN LEAVES JAIL UNDER $15,000 BONDS

Noted Anarchist Plans to Begin Campaign for Betterment of Prison Conditions.

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 3.—Leaving Atlanta at 1.15 this morning in company with his New York lawyer, Harry Weinberger, Alexander Berkman, anarchist and social agitator, a free man under $15,000 bond, is speeding toward New York today.

The bail was made of liberty bonds deposited in Washington. Berkman had served two years in the federal prison here for interfering with the draft of soldiers at the outset of the war.

He intends to begin a campaign on his arrival in New York for the betterment of prison conditions and make efforts to secure public favor for the immediate amnesty of all political and industrial prisoners in the United States.

FIRE WHISTLES INCREASE INSURANCE RATES.

Topeka, Kan., Oct. 3.—Fire whistles are almost a thing of the past in Kansas. The reason is because the fire insurance companies charge higher rates in towns where there are fire whistles in an added risk, because telephone patrons will call up to learn the location of the fire when they hear the whistle, and the work of calling the firemen—volunteers—is greatly delayed, often resulting in heavy losses.

ASKS DIVORCE FROM HUBBY WITH ARTISTIC TEMPERAMENT

Providence, R. I., Oct. 3.—Because her husband, who is said to be "a plumber of artistic temperament," asked her to pose for photographs in the nude, Mrs. R. F. Carey has brought a suit for divorce before Judge Hahn in the Superior Court.

Mrs. Carey declares she has been married twenty-five years, and that her marital career has been featured by indignities and brutalities.

MISSION TO BALKANS.

Paris, Oct. 3.—The United States State Department is sending a mission to the Baltic provinces to look after American interests; it was learned in American conference circles this afternoon.

"THE PRESIDENT'S CONDITION IS UNCHANGED" IS ADMIRAL C. T. GRAYSON'S LATEST BULLETIN

U. S. STEEL CORP. CALLED REAR GUARD IN LABOR TROUBLES

Tight for the Steel Workers Assails Owners in Senate.

GARY'S FACTS ARE NOT FROM RELIABLE SOURCES

Tight Declares Corporation Voted $20,000,000 to Fight Unions—Gave Preference to Foreign Workers.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The United States Steel Corporation "was the rear guard" in the procession of wages and working conditions, Michael Tighe, of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, declared today before the Senate Commission investigating the steel strike.

Tighe declared that foreign labor was brought into the steel industry in order to lower wages.

Gary Misstated.
Referring to Judge Gary's testimony Tighe said, "I am convinced that his statements were not made from first hand knowledge. The difference between the facts as they are and as he stated them is as great as the distance between his office in New York and the steel plants."

Millions for Union Suppression.
Tighe declared that in 1901 the steel corporation had voted a fund of $20,000,000 for suppression of unions. Tighe said this fact had been divulged by a steel mill owner who was friendly to organized labor.

"They made the same claim as they do now—that our organization didn't represent the men," Tighe said.

"At union rallies we have never given attention to what seems to be the paramount issue, so far as the corporation is concerned, the open and closed shop," he added.

Tighe went into great detail as to the history of attempts to organize steel workers.

Preference Given Foreigners.
Tighe read an advertisement which appeared in a Pittsburgh paper in 1909, calling for employees for the steel mills and which stated "Assyrians, Serbs and Roumanians preferred." This, Tighe said, was an example of how the steel corporation had taken foreigners into the industry in preference to Americans.

Tighe declared that this was the reason that foreigners predominated the steel industry now.

LOOKING TO GARY.

Pittsburgh, Oct. 3.—Judge Gary's flat statement to the Senate investigating committee in Washington that "if you leave this situation alone it will settle itself" summed up in ten words the attitude of steel operators in the Pittsburgh district. Judge Gary spoke, it was generally admitted in steel circles today, not only for the United States Steel Corporation, but also for the other big operators in this district who are standing with and looking to the corporation for guidance in this struggle.

Strike Not Won Yet.

"The strike is not won yet," it was said at the offices of one big concern today. "Nor will it be for some time. But we are making progress. We have made progress every day since September 22, when the strike was inaugurated."

So far few, if any preparations have been made for the visit of the committee to Pittsburgh, except by the strikers' national headquarters. The strikers are preparing depositions, getting affidavits and lining up the data from their side of the matter to present to Senator Kenyon and his assistants. The operators, however, have generally, done nothing.

DIVORCE UNSCRAMBLES FAMILY
Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 3.—A divorce decree is a wonderful thing, sometimes. One just grunted here unscrambled a family, resulting in eight children of one family losing a father and regaining an uncle. Three lost a mother and regained an aunt.

Mrs. Ida Friedman, who secured the divorce from Isaac Friedman, was a sister of his first wife. He had three children by his first wife and eight by his second.

U. S. Has Right to Pay Claims With Seized German Property

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 3.—The United States government has the power to pay various American claims against Germany out of the German property seized during the war by the alien property custodian and now in possession of this government, Attorney General Palmer said this afternoon in an address before the Missouri Bar Association here. The treaty of peace carries Germany's acquiescence in any such action that congress may decide to take with the enemy property taken over by the United States, according to Mr. Palmer.

"The United States has the right to use such property to pay the claims of Americans on account of any of their property in Germany that may not be returned to their ownership," he declared. "Or on account of claims for damages to their property there, or in payment of debts which American citizens may have against German subjects. The United States may also use the funds in payment of losses incurred on account of the illegal acts of Germany during the world war, but before the United States entered the war. These claims arise principally out of loss of life and property due to submarine attacks.

"Finally, the United States can, if it chooses, turn over all or any portion of the fund to the reparation commission, thus making up a portion of the obligations which Germany must pay under the treaty."

KING ASKS PERMISSION TO VISIT PRESIDENT

But Because of Wilson's Condition Request is Denied—Officially Welcomed in New York Today.

New York, Oct. 3.—King Albert of Belgium, telegraphed to Washington requesting the personal privilege of visiting President Wilson, but the request was denied because it was stated the President's condition is such he could not be subjected to the slightest degree of excitement or fatigue, it was officially announced today at the Waldorf-Astoria where the royal visitors are stopping.

King Albert and his party were greeted by a cheering throng when they left the Waldorf to go to the foot of 34th street to board a ship to take them to the battery. The streets about the hotel were jammed and the appearance of the royal pair was the signal for a big outburst of cheering.

KING'S "NIGHT OUT"

New York, Oct. 3.—King Albert of Belgium did the town "incog," last night, and Queen Elizabeth went cabaretting.

But despite his "night out" the King was up early this morning in his suite at the Waldorf, preparing to receive New York City's official welcome at City Hall from Mayor Hylan at noon.

Attired in a dark grey coat, blue trousers and a soft fedora hat, flattened on one side, wearing a stand-up collar with a black four-in-hand cravat, King Albert in company with Rear Admiral Andrew T. Long wandered about Manhattan last night, taking delight in the sights along the White Way. He returned to the hotel at 12.45 a. m., and ten minutes later had retired.

And the Queen, too, stayed out late. With the Baron and the Baroness De Cartier De Marchienne and the Countess Chislaine De Caraman-Chimay, she visited a cabaret, staying through the entire performance. Few there were aware of her identity. Queen Elizabeth and her party had intended going to a motion picture theatre on Broadway, but decided on the cabaret rather than suffer the inconvenience of the crowd waiting to enter.

EX-PRESIDENT TRYING TO INFLUENCE "MILD RESERVATIONISTS."
Washington, Oct. 3.—Former President William Howard Taft conferred with a number of "mild reservationists" on the republican side today on the possibility of the Senate being able to agree in the near future to reservations to the peace treaty.

Taft visited Senator McCumber, Republican, of North Dakota, a League of Nations advocate, in his office at the Capitol. Senator Kellogg, Republican, Minnesota, and other "mild reservationists" dropped in on the conference.

"My sole object is the ratification of the treaty," Taft said as he left the conference.

CONTRACTOR DYING.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 3.—George L. L'Honnmidieu, a contractor of Flanders, L. I., who attempted suicide yesterday by cutting his wrists with a razor and then jumping out of his room at the hotel Morehouse here, was reported to be in a serious condition at St. Vincent's Hospital today. His recovery is doubtful.

PARIS ACTORS STRIKE.

Paris, Oct. 3.—The music hall strike has extended to the legitimate theaters and the Opera Comique Odeon-Been closed.

Still Confined to Bed With Trained Nurses in Attendance—Mrs. Wilson at His Bedside—Other Doctors in Consultation—Secretary of State Lansing Doing Wilson's Work at Present.

Washington, Oct. 3.—"The President's condition is unchanged," said Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson's bulletin, issued from the White House this afternoon, following a consultation with Rear Admiral Stitt, of the Naval Hospital, and Dr. Sterling Ruffin.

STILL IN BED.

Washington, Oct. 3.—The President is still confined to his bed, was stated and there are trained nurses in attendance. Mrs. Wilson is constantly with the President and caring for his every need.

The President has absolutely no fever, it was stated, and his heart action is perfect. These were taken as extremely favorable signs.

Exhaustion of Nerves.
It was reiterated that the President's condition is due entirely to exhaustion of his nerves, and that the original program of complete rest and quiet will be adhered to.

Secretary Tumulty let it be known today that he had informed the President of the ratification of the peace treaty by the French Chamber of Deputies yesterday, and of the defeat in the Senate of the Fall amendments to the treaty. He said the President was "greatly heartened by the news."

Lansing Doing Work.
Many of the affairs of state that usually would devolve upon the President are being handled at the present time by Secretary of State Lansing. The secretary, it was pointed out, is familiar with all of the President's policies, and especially those in connection with the peace treaty, and he will continue to be at the helm in this respect until the chief executive is strong enough to take them up again.

No Comment on Bulletin.
Dr. Grayson declined to comment on the bulletin, or to discuss the President's illness in any way. The last bulletin issued by Dr. Grayson at 10 o'clock last night, stated that the President was "a very sick man," Reports of impending operations, and of X-ray examinations continued to be circulated, but none of these brought forth any comment from the President's physician.

EARLY REPORTS.
Washington, Oct. 3.—While the President's condition has caused deep concern, Admiral Grayson insists that it is not alarming, and is anxious that this be realized by the country at large.

In the meanwhile he is taking no cognizance of the many rumors that are being circulated throughout the country and which are reaching the capital. Reports that X-ray examinations have, or are to be, made and that it may be necessary for the President to go under the knife have brought forth no formal comment.

Needs Rest.
Dr. Grayson reiterates that the President is "on the ragged edge" as a result of the intense strain he has been under ever since the start of the war, and during the past year especially, and that complete rest is necessary for his recovery.

The fact that Dr. Francis X. Dercum, the noted neurologist, who was called in on the case yesterday, had returned to Philadelphia, was pointed out as indicating that, while the President's condition may be anything but satisfactory, it is not alarming.

Another Consultation.
There will be another consultation today, it was learned, between Dr. Grayson and two other physicians.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE IN THE EVENING HERALD

ABOUT TOWN

The Sons of Temperance No. 45 will meet at the home of E. L. G. Hopenhal tonight at eight o'clock. P. J. Hutchinson of the firm of Strickland and Hutchinson has returned from a business trip to New York and Boston.

Frank Nichols has sold John F. Sheridan's two family house on Hilliard street opposite the Bon Am factory to Roy Nichols of East Hartford.

The Dodger A. C. will meet the Red Arrows of Hartford at the Mount Nebo grounds on Sunday afternoon. Both teams are composed of juvenile players.

A social and dance will be held in the auditorium at the Recreation Center this evening. Music will be furnished by a five piece orchestra. The affair is for members only.

David Powers has returned to his home in town after having been honorably discharged from military service. Powers was overseas for almost two years and holds a French decoration for bravery.

Dr. Thomas H. Waldon left yesterday for Crescent Beach to visit his family for the rest of the week. The Waldon family expect to close up their cottage for the season at the end of the week and return home.

Physical examinations were held at the Recreation Center last evening. Under a new ruling all new members of the "Rec" must pass a physical examination. Last night's examinations were in charge of Dr. William Tinker.

An opportunity will be given to all those who wish to take night courses at the Trade School to register tonight. Director Warren of the school has a choice of courses to offer to men who wish to obtain the finest kind of a technical training.

Dr. N. A. Burr of Park street is in Boston this week attending clinics which are being held at the different hospitals in that city. He will also visit the Harvard Medical school in Cambridge. Dr. Burr expects to be away for about a week.

But few voters attended the demonstration of the voting machines which has been held at the Town Hall for the last two days. Many seem of the opinion that better results would be obtained by placing one of these machines in a down town store.

Washington L. O. L. No. 17 will hold its first R. A. P. M. of the fall in Orange hall on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. At this time a degree will be conferred on a large class of candidates. A large attendance of local members is anticipated and there will also be a large delegation of out-of-town guests.

A miscellaneous shower was given at the home of Mrs. Edith Dowd on Lilley street last evening in honor of Mrs. Walter Tedford, who was formerly Miss Margaret McKinney. Musical selections were given by Miss Mary Newman and Miss Sarah McKinney. Vocal solos were also rendered by Jane Smith and Mary LaTiere of Hartford. During the evening Mrs. Tedford was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts.

That there will be no further action taken by John Proctor against George Williams who was awarded a decision by a justice jury in the Proctor-Williams case after the trial of Wednesday is indicated by the fact that Mr. Proctor called at the Williams garage yesterday and told Mr. Williams that he would install a heating plant at once. He also accepted a check for rent due and rent for September was paid in advance.

The Victor Bowling club will meet the Underwood Typewriting Company's teams at the Brunswick alleys on Birch street this evening. Three games will be played, the first game to start at 7:30 o'clock. "Pike" Nelson, a former Manchester boy is a member of the Underwood team.

A sure sign of winter is the familiar lantern of Joseph Desrie, Manchester's well known furnace men Joe started in on his rounds yesterday after a summer's rest on his farm in Glastonbury. He has been taking care of the furnaces in the business establishments on Main street for twenty four years.

JAZZ KINGS COMING TO TINKER HALL OCT. 7

Monarchs Through New England—Can Do Things With Clarinettes, Trombones, Saxophones and Drums.

Costello's Jazz orchestra, an aggregation of ten master musicians, will be at Tinker hall on next Tuesday to give the first dance of the season. This orchestra from Hartford, has been touring New England for several seasons and critics all over acclaim it as the best in its line.

Wonderful new effects are introduced by this orchestra. It has just a right proportion of string and wood to offset the brass. There are three violins, a piano, two clarinettes, a cornet, a saxophone, a slide trombone and drums with all the trap effects needed for the jazziest sort of jazz.

Those local dance enthusiasts who have heard the orchestra play in Hartford, are anxiously awaiting next Tuesday evening when the first jazzy sounds will emanate from Tinker hall.

PRESIDENT'S CONDITION IS UNCHANGED

The names of the latter were not revealed, but it was thought that they would be Drs. Ruffin and Stitt, who were called in on the case yesterday. A report that they would be two physicians who had not been consulted previously, was generally discounted. Dr. Dercum was not expected in Washington today.

DAUGHTER GOES TO CAPITOL

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, formerly Miss Jessie Wilson, left her Cambridge home today for the bedside of her father, President Wilson, at Washington. Her husband who is an instructor at Harvard University was scheduled to follow her later in the day. Mrs. Sayre left home hurriedly carrying only a hand bag.

The Sayre apartment is being renovated and it is understood that for this reason the children were visiting at the home of Mr. Sayre's parents in Amherst. On leaving, Mrs. Sayre told the man in charge of the work of renovation that she was not sure when she would be back.

Messages of Sympathy.

In the meanwhile messages of sympathy are pouring down upon the White House from every corner of the globe. A very few of these have been communicated to the President up to the present time, it is understood. Among them are messages from President Poincare and Premier Clemenceau of France. There has been a constant flow of callers at the executive offices to inquire about the President, and prominent among these today was Edward Douglas White, chief justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, Bernard M. Baruch and Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

Secretary Tumulty reiterated that the President's mind was to be kept as free as possible from the cares of state. It was also stated that neither of the President's daughters, Mrs. William G. McAdoo and Mrs. Francis B. Sayre, who are due to arrive in Washington today, had been summoned. They expressed a desire to come here, and were told they could, if they so wished.

EX-RETURNS TAFT RETURNS TO CLASS AT YALE

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 2.—Ex-President William Howard Taft, of the class of 1878, who was granted leave of absence from Yale University to assume the chairmanship of the War Labor Board, has returned to continue his teaching duties as Kent professor of law in the college and as professor of constitutional law in the School of Law.

It is understood that Professor Taft will concentrate his teaching work so as to complete it for the academic year, which began on September 25, in the first semester.

LAUNCH MOVEMENT TO RECHRISTEN 'GERMAN TROUT'

Gunnison, Col., Oct. 3.—Disciples of Ike Walton have launched a movement here to change the name of the "German brown trout" to the "Yankee brown trout."

When a State newspaper paid a prize to the almsrod catching the largest trout in this vicinity the letter enclosing the check stated their one regret in making the payment was that it was a "German" trout that won the prize.

W. C. T. U. IN ANNUAL MEETING AT WILLIMANTIC

Temperance Workers Will Hold 44th Annual Convention October 15th and 16th—Nationally Famous Speakers On Program.

The forty-fourth annual convention of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Connecticut will be held in the First Congregational church of Willimantic, October 15th and 16th, opening at 10:00 a. m. The president's annual address and the reports of the corresponding secretary and treasurer will be presented during the first afternoon. Election of officers and department work will be taken up the following day.

Wednesday evening, Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts, D. D.; of Washington, D. C., superintendent of the International Reform Bureau, will speak on "New Battles for Loyal Citizens." Mrs. Lara S. LaMance, a National organizer, who is spending the month in the state, and Dr. Valeria H. Parker of Hartford, field secretary of the Society of Social Hygiene will also give addresses during the session.

There will be a meeting of the local chapter of the W. C. T. U. at the parlors of the South Methodist Episcopal church Tuesday afternoon at half past two for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend this convention.

WHY DID WE FIGHT?
The gayly colored hillsides of the fading year are not unmixt with sorrow. They remind one of another land where blossoming trees are humbled to the ground and beauty lost in war's destruction. They remind one of poppy fields that cover the forms of men just budding into life, men whose glory was in their honest hearts and unselfish sacrifices and whose hopes were still unfulfilled.

The verdure of France has gone, these forms are gone. Only one year back wives and mothers and fathers too were breathing across the sea their anxious prayers. Prayers for what? That their dear ones should be returned in safety? Yes, but that was not all. No heart, which felt the pangs of separation or the daily loss of comrades, answers that was all. He only answers that was all whose eyes are blind to human good, whose heart is seered with selfishness.

The American people rose as one at the call to arms, first, because it was expedient to join our forces with others and beat the demon, Militarism, across the sea rather than meet him here a boasting victor. The American people, rose too, because we had a sense of justice and were tired of seeing weak peoples bartered and sold in the markets of Europe. We wanted to help fight one and for all against the spirit of oppression and destruction. Then, by no means least in the hearts of the people was the longing to make an end of war, to lift this old world from the burden of the past with its bickering, its hatreds, its massacres to the realm of Christian brotherhood among men. Not that we believed all strife and envy and cruelty would cease but that we set our faces firmly toward the goal of a warless world with a machinery—the best possible—to settle differences and establish justice, a machinery, like our own Constitution, imperfect, and so acknowledged by its makers, but a machinery that could be improved and altered to meet future needs.

It was for these things we marshaled our men across the sea and sent them to live like rats in holes in the face of German cannon. It was not to make munition men rich or gain supremacy in commerce or add conquests to our land. Men have died for such things, but not American men, sent out by an American president, an American congress, and the American people!

Less than a year has passed since our men were fighting and dying for the highest objects any nation ever fought for, but from the moment the glory was won, the victory ours, there have been men so miserably of soul, so destitute of greatness that they have dared to attempt a wholesale tricking of the people in putting upon this great issue a false and malicious interpretation. This little band refused to state their real reason for opposition and at first the common voter could scarce believe men could be so low as to view a question affecting so many millions of people in a partisan and personal way. Little by little our eyes have been opened to their chicanery and men and women everywhere, regardless of party, are refusing to accept such pharisaical reasoning as some of these leaders are vaunting, and are demanding the League of Nations to protect their children and their children's children from the frightful horrors of another such war. This small band would have us continue under the old system that resulted in the World War. They would have us make no attempt to improve matters for their philosophy says, as did the Germans, wars must always be, wars are good for nations, hence stop them not.

But the people, the great mass of the people of America, are expressing as never before their detestation of such tactics and their desire for the League. The challenging by ex-Senator Crane of Republican opposition to the League in Massachusetts and the fact that a Democratic leader, Senator Reed, attempting to

SOUTH P. O. OFFERS CLERICAL POSITION

Ex-Service Men to Have Preference in Examination for Position of Clerk and Carrier.

The United States Civil Service Commission will hold a competitive examination at South Manchester, Conn., October 13, 1919, for the positions of clerk and carrier in the post office at South Manchester, Connecticut.

Applicants must have reached their 18th birthday, but not their 45th birthday, on the date of examination, and must be citizens of the United States. Male applicants must measure not less than 5 feet 4 inches in height in bare feet. No male applicant who passes the examination will be eligible for appointment either as clerk or carrier who does not weigh at least 125 lbs. without overcoat or hat. It will be inadvisable for male applicants whose normal weight is less than 125 pounds to enter the examination. Female applicants are not required to be of any specific weight or height.

Each applicant will be required to submit to the examiner on the day of examination a photograph of himself taken within two years.

The entrance salary is $1,000 per annum with promotion of $100 every year until a maximum of $1,500 is reached.

For pamphlet of information and the required application blank, address the Local Secretary at the South Manchester, Conn., post office, or the District Secretary, Customhouse Tower, Boston, Mass., with whom applications must be filed in time for him to arrange for the examination.

The height and weight requirements for post office clerk and city carrier are omitted in favor of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines, and they are given preference in consideration for appointment.

FEW HUNTERS APPLY FOR SEASON LICENSES

Commissioners Ask the Cooperation of All Sportsmen in Carrying Out the Rules for the Protection of Certain Game.

Apparently but little hunting will be done in Manchester during the season which opened Wednesday. So far Town Clerk Benton has issued only seventy-nine licenses which number is below the normal. For an unusual reason he has not been able to provide each person licensed with a copy of the game laws. Because of the shortage of paper the State Fish and Game Commission has not been able to publish the laws in individual form for the hunters. Copies will not be ready until about the first of November.

At a session of the game commissioners held recently in Hartford it was decided to rigidly enforce the new game laws.

Particular attention will be given this year, it was pointed out, to the closed season on partridge, and the wardens received copies of a warning which was issued by the board of fisheries and game. This warning reads:

"Chapter 145 of the Public Acts of 1919, entitled 'An act establishing a closed season for partridge or ruffed grouse,' provides for full protection to our ruffed grouse, commonly called partridge, and female pheasants. The law is:

"No person shall hunt, take, kill or attempt to kill any partridge, ruffed grouse or female pheasants prior to October 8, 1920. Every person who shall violate any provision of this act shall be fined not less than $25 nor more than $50, or imprisoned not more than thirty days, or both."

"We shall rigidly enforce all the fish and game laws, and ask the cooperation of all sportsmen. We urge them to use their influence and to report to the county warden all known violations."

The county wardens who received their instructions and will pass them along to the deputy wardens are: Hartford County, Charles Althouse of Granby; New Haven County, C. H. Hall of Derby; New London County, James F. Bugbee of Lyme; Fairfield County, Wilbur F. Smith of Norwalk; Windham County, Harry E. Batty of Killingly; Litchfield County, Isaac P. Hornbeck of Falls Village; Middlesex County, James H. Footitt of Middletown; Tolland County, Ernest W. Avery of Rockville.

Army and Navy Bulletin Board

The Army and Navy Football team will play the first game of its existence under that name as well as the first game of the season Sunday, October 12th. It will have as its opponent the strong Clay Hill aggregation of Hartford. The Army-Navy team has been practicing ever since the Tigers decided to play under the club name. As most of the players in the ex-service men's team are of the old famous football squad, Manchester is assured this year of some of the best football that it has ever seen.

Thomas Chambers has been appointed manager of the team and Sammie Massey is captain. Manager Chambers has the following men to draw from: Massey, Rood, H. Bissell, E. Anderson, W. Brennan, R. Woodhouse, "Cap" Peterson, Rau, H. Benson, Hayden, "Jerry" Fay, Earl Ballsper and Bob Hamilton.

Team Managers Appointed.
James Velch of the Athletic Committee has appointed Eddie Quish manager of the basketball team, Walter Olson, manager of the track team, James Kroh, manager of the wrestling team, Walter Vennart in charge of boxing, David McCollum in charge of bowling and Allan Dexter, manager of the hockey team.

For Canteen Assistants.
In order that he might have better supervision of the canteen and to provide for improvements, William Thornton of the Canteen Committee has appointed as his assistants, William J. Stevenson and Fred Woodhouse.

Busy With Basket Ball.
Manager Edward Quish is working out twelve candidates for his basketball team. He thinks prospects are good for the best basketball team that Manchester ever had. He expects to revive the reputation of the old G Team when that reputation was at its best and spread the name of a new Manchester quintet throughout the state.

Dave Thinks Bowling.
Dave McCollum spends most of his time now thinking bowling. He realizes that there are in town some pretty clever artists that can toss a ball at a few sticks of wood and send them flying to the four corners. But he says he has invented a new ball that breaks like a sky rocket any place that he wants it to break.

He is going to teach this to a few dependables and on the strength of it is organizing five or six teams to go out and clean up.

GREAT BRITAIN DEFENDS HER EGYPTIAN POLICY; FOLK GIVES AMERICAN VIEWS OF THE SUBJECT

Willing to Give Them as Much Self-Government as They Are Capable of Carrying Out—English Side.

London, Oct. 3.—Following the allegation of the Egyptian Nationalist delegation in Paris, headed by Zagloul Pasha, that the peace conference refused to hear them and the appearance of counsel for the Egyptian Nationalists before the American Senate Foreign Relations Committee in Washington, I have made an effort to get the formal views of officials of the British Government, notably the Foreign Office, upon this matter.

While British officials declined to discuss the Egyptian claim because of the delicate situation now prevailing, Great Britain's position regarding Egypt may be summed up as follows:

"England wants to give the Egyptians as much self government as they show themselves capable of carrying out. Great Britain truly intends that Egypt should have autonomy, but it is for us to decide how much self rule the Egyptians are capable of. It is for this reason that the Government will dispatch a British Mission headed by Lord Milner into Egypt in October to canvass the whole situation and make recommendations. It must be remembered that 90 per cent. of the Egyptians are illiterate, and the problems are somewhat similar to those encountered by the United States in the Philippines.

"The Nationalists have not yet proposed a workable programme. Zagloul Pasha's Nationalist delegation in Paris has been ignored by all circles and Zagloul is losing influence at home owing to the expenditure of Nationalist funds without accomplishing anything.

"Britain is also awaiting ratification of the peace treaty, which will automatically back up the protectorate proclaimed at the outbreak of the war. It must be remembered that Egypt was unsettled for a century, and yet in the past forty years Great Britain has succeeded in saving the country and establishing a stable administration there.

"Theoretically Egypt was part of the Turkish Empire until we proclaimed a protectorate and Turkey, as the suzerain power, nominally appointed the Khedive. When the war came on Great Britain, due to prior international arrangements, had to occupy Egypt to guarantee order. Great Britain offered to defend the Egyptians from a Turkish attack without any obligations accruing to the Egyptians themselves. The Nationalists now contend that they only accepted the protectorate as a war expedient and never understood that the decision was final.

"The Egyptian Government voluntarily agreed to accept liability for 3,000,000 pounds it had spent on behalf of Great Britain for war purposes. This sum, however, represents only a small part of the cost of British war operations in that theatre.

"Four hundred thousand Egyptians volunteered for work in the labor corps of the British army. They were well paid. Petty Egyptian officials, however, thought to further their own ends by forcing peasants to join up.

"True there were some inconveniences owing to war legislation and some grumbling on the part of the peasants because much of their produce had been requisitioned for the army. But they were paid for it at carefully fixed prices.

"Egypt gains importance through the geographical location of the Suez Canal. Great Britain must see to it that Egypt does not fall under the sway of any other nation. The Egyptians' sole sympathy toward the Turks is based on religious affinity. The mass of people are childlike and easily swayed.

"Investigations proved that alleged atrocities by British troops were groundless. In two villages where General Allenby investigated, it was found that charges against British troops were groundless. Despite all provocation when our troops were sniped and spat upon in the streets and seven officers were murdered on a train out of Luxor the British behaved magnificently, exciting the admiration of all moderate Egyptians."

Seizure is Pure Burglary—Britain Claims Egypt as Spoils of War—Mocks Self-Determination Policy.

Washington, Oct. 3.—Ex-Governor Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri, who was appointed by the Legislative Assembly of Egypt to act as counsel for its Delegation to the Peace Congress, today severely criticized Great Britain's explanation of her Egyptian policy.

When Great Britain's pledges of altruism, he said, are set down side by side with her treatment of Egypt, "the result is awesome to the democratic mind.

"The continued forcible holding of Egypt," he asserted, "is not only in violation of that nation's pledges violation of the assurances made by Great Britain to the Egyptians, but is in violation of that nation's pledges to the world in the beginning of the war—not to ask for territory out of the war.

"On November 10, 1914, Mr. Lloyd George called on the world to witness the utter unselfishness of Great Britain. Yet Britain now claims Egypt as spoils of war, as a subject and conquered nation. The value of the natural resources so seized is beyond computation.

"The principles for which Great Britain claimed to be fighting are now discarded: the right of national self-determination is mocked. Her conduct toward Egypt is evidence that Britain endorses the principles of the League of Nations with her 'fingers crossed.'

"At the beginning of the great war Britain removed the Khedive and appointed a sultan of her own choosing to the throne of Egypt. This was announced at the time as a war measure and was accepted by the Egyptians as such. The Egyptians were told that it was a step toward their absolute independence. Great Britain implied that the protectorate was only for the period of the war and to be terminated at the close of hostilities.

"The Egyptians took sides with the Allies, believing they were struggling for the right of national self-determination throughout the world. When the armistice was signed they rejoiced, because they believed their hour of deliverance was near.

"The Egyptian General Assembly, the majority of which is elected by the people, appointed a commission to go to Paris to attend the conference, believing there would be a League of Nations, and that Egypt would be a part of it. This commission was headed by Pasha Zagloul, former Minister of Justice.

"When the commission arrived they found that recognition of the so-called 'protectorate' of Great Britain over Egypt had been written into the treaty. This 'protectorate,' in the legal sense, is merely masked annexation. It is the same character of 'protectorate' the burglar proclaims over the property of another as he appropriates it to his own use.

"Apparently through the influence of Great Britain, the Egyptian commission has been kept in Paris and not allowed to go either to Egypt, England or the United States. It, apparently, was through the influence of Great Britain that this delegation was denied a hearing by the Peace Congress and 'ignored by official circles' in Paris.

"In the apparently authorized interview to the International News Service, the British Government now says the mass of Egyptian peoples are 'childlike and easily swayed.' That is the view always held of the people of an oppressed nation by the oppressor.

"The interview says the case of Egypt is analogous to that of the Philippines. The status of the Philippines did not arise out of this war; the present status of Egypt did. Moreover, the President has announced that the Philippines should be independent as soon as, through a League of Nations, they may be afforded adequate protection in that independence. Will Great Britain announce as much for Egypt?

"Ordinarily the United States might not be concerned with a wrong inflicted by Great Britain upon another country; but when the United States is asked to be a party to the wrong and ratify and glory the wrong the matter must assume an entirely different aspect. If there shall be a League of Nations the first case for trial will be Egypt against Great Britain for the right of national self-determination.

SENATOR MCLEAN ASSAILS LEAGUE, DENOUNCES POLICY OF PRESIDENT

Will Vote for Reservations—Wants Treaty Sent Back if They Fail—Says League Tries to Dictate to Creator Outlines His Own Idea of What League Should Be.

Washington, Oct. 2.—In a speech and ridiculing the League of Nations, Senator George P. McLean declared yesterday that the covenant established injustice rather than justice and that it will prove to be a breeder of wars. The Senator said that he would vote for reservations and if these could not be passed he would endeavor to have the treaty sent back to the signatory powers for revision.

The Senator spoke in part as follows: The momentous issues involved in the covenant of the League of Nations have been frankly and fully and very ably discussed by my colleagues. I have no desire to repeat the many grave objections that have been urged against some of the covenants contained in the League. My only purpose at this time is to put into the record a few general observations in support of my position, before final action is taken by the Senate.

Duty of Both Parties.
In the first place, I want to note the persistent attempts which have been made to ascribe opposition to the League to partisan prejudice. In this matter, as well as others of consequence, Democrats will and should make the most of Republican mistakes, and Republicans will and should make the most of Democratic mistakes, because both parties have made, and will make, mistakes. The choice between Democratic and Republican statesmanship, must always be a choice of imperfections, and it is the duty of the minority to discover and restrain, as far as possible, the unwise purposes of the majority. At the present time it so happens that the agency entrusted with the sole power to propose treaties for the United States is Democratic, whereas the dominant party in that branch of the government, vested with the power to dispose of treaties, is Republican. Under these conditions of bi-partisan responsibility, it would seem to be the duty of each branch of the treaty-making power to invite and heed the criticisms and advice of the other.

The Course of the President.
The course taken by the President is familiar to all. While there was opportunity to impress upon the other nations American ideas as well as American ideals, the President either ignored or resented the existence of the Senate, notwithstanding he had ample notice that his course was entirely unsatisfactory to a number of senators sufficient to respect his treaty. As a result, we have before us a document of some 80,000 words, prepared by victorious generals and practical politicians; a document imposing revolutionary obligations upon the American people; a document which preaches, the Sermon on the Mount and imposes the penalties of Leviticus. And yet, under the leadership of the executive, Democratic senators and the Democratic press have insisted and still insist that any man who dares to question the inspired origin of any one of the ill-considered and offensive obligations contained in this new gospel of super sovereignty, does so because he is a Republican and for no other reason.

A Rash Adventure.
Mr. President, the American people, without regard to party, will look with little favor upon any senator or editor who tries to secure the adoption or rejection of the pending treaty under the party lash. Every patriotic American, regardless of party, will want the Senate to make no mistakes in its disposition of the proposed venture into the bottomless pit of world politics.

The Way to Peace.
I am in favor of a League of Nations that will invite and promote peace, but it is my firm conviction that the success of such an organization will be found in agreement, and not in compulsion; and in agreements that are genuine and not rejected. War will cease when and only when the great peoples of the earth recognize the folly and brutality of war and possess sufficient common sense to avoid doing the things that cause war. In my opinion, the foundations of this covenant are defective in workmanship and materials and they will soon crumble under the weight of the colossal and pretentious super-structure. This covenant, in its primary conception, utterly ignores the basic principle of Anglo-Saxon civilization, namely the necessity of impartial disinterested tribunals for the settlement of disputes.

Justice is possible only where laws are administered by a wise and impartial sovereignty, whether that sovereignty be represented by a justice of the peace, or a jury of twelve disinterested men, or the court of last resort. Our own domestic peace would soon be lost if juries and courts were composed of friends of the litigants. It is possible that a dispute might arise so trivial that the super-sovereign council created by this covenant, would render an impartial and just decision, but I challenge the defenders of this covenant to point to a possible controversy of consequence that would, or could, be submitted to a disinterested impartial tribunal, in the first instance.

It creates an excessive council of nine nationals whose tenure of office will depend upon their ability to secure advantages for the countries they represent. The members of this council will be the agents of jealous principals, and as such agents they will be compelled to plot and deceive in the interests of their principals. What opportunities for colossal schemes of profit and power will be presented to these nine men, placed as they will be upon the mountain top of world politics with all the cities of the earth spread out before them.

Again, what will be expected of covenants that promise to preserve intact, for all time, the boundary lines of its friends, while it distributes the land of its enemies, however just such distribution may be. How do they know that justice will not demand the changing of other boundary lines in the future.

Dismember Central Powers.
I have received many letters from good men urging me to support this document. They insist that plain justice demands the dismemberment of Germany, Austria and Turkey, and I fully agree with them. The question that bothers me is—how do we know that justice will not demand other dismemberments in the future. The tears of war dry quickly, but the hatreds of war live long. Loss of land is loss of honor. A loss that will not be forgotten, or forgiven.

Sheer Folly.
Astounding as it may seem, the pending document does not attempt to add anything to the surface of the earth. It simply says to the Creator, "Hereafter, the executive council of the covenant for a League of Nations, and not you, will regulate the rise and fall of races and nations. This council will see to it now that no race, however, great or worthy it may become, shall have any more land than it has now, and no race, however degenerate and unworthy it may be, shall have any less land than it has now. In other words, this League proposes to take time and eternity by the forelock, and stay the laws of social integration and disintegration, and do it by force of arms. This is sheer folly! I do not believe the American people want to underwrite for all time the titles of England and France to millions of square miles of foreign soil.

If we subscribe to this document without amendments or reservations, if we subscribe to this league as it is, we shall invite at once the disapproval and ridicule of all the nations who are given no share of the spoils. It won't be many years before Germany, Austria, and Russia and Japan, and perhaps Italy and Spain and Mexico will find common ground upon which to denounce it as an attempt on the part of the English-speaking peoples to dominate the world.

Quotes Lenin.
The only man who has authority to speak for Russia already has characterized this league as a "Looting Trust" established by Great Britain and the United States for the purpose of enslaving the world. "America" says Lenin, "will, if she joins the 'League of Loot', be hated by every other nation, because her sole object in joining will be to loot by force."

The Ideal League.
Now is the time, above all others, to form a society of nations that will be free from conditions and penalties. I would call it a League of Nations under a preamble that would make its purpose clear and unequivocal. Distinctive among these purposes should be the establishment of a high court of arbitration, in which the nations can go in confidence for the settlement of their disputes. Disarmament will be possible only when the great and jealous and ambitious nations can meet and discuss the subject voluntarily and dispassionately as an economy to be sought in the interests of all for the equal benefit of all.

A League of Nations, free from coercion and threats of war, seeking in good faith to arrive at just and wise international conceptions, will accomplish much. A League of Nations which denounces the acquisition of title by conquest, and which welcomes the good offices of neutrals at all times, and promises a cooling-off period before beginning hostilities, will invite and promote peace.

I have called the attention of the Senate to a few of the considerations which have led me to the fixed conclusion that it is my duty to vote for reservations that will give this league a chance to live and America a chance to fulfill its mission. If these reservations are rejected by the Senate, I shall vote to return the whole of this medieval volume to its authors in the hope that its revisers will look for peace where peace may be found.

GOVERNMENT CONSUMPTION OF LUMBER DURING WAR.

Washington, Oct. 2.—A total consumption of nearly six and a half billion feet of lumber by the Government during the war is shown in recent figures compiled by R. C. Bryant, Industrial Examiner of the United States Forest Service. Of this amount of lumber purchased directly by the various Government departments, the Army consumption was nearly five and a half billion feet; the Navy more than 120,000,000 feet, and during 1918 the consumption of lumber for boat construction by the Emergency Fleet Corporation was nearly eight hundred million feet.

Of the Army consumption, airplane construction took about 181,000,000 feet, more than half of which was spruce.

SPANKS WIFE FOR FLIRTING WITH AMERICAN; FINED $5.

Cardiff, Wales, Oct. 3.—For spanking one's wife for flirting with an American officer, $5 or one month's imprisonment. Ernest Sounis learned the legal rate for turning wives across chairs and administering a hard spanking with an open hand after he had received this letter from his wife: "I met an American officer, who was awfully interesting. There are hundreds in Cardiff; more than British. They are fine, smart boys."

The Court's sympathies were with the girl wife and Cousins had to pay.

WEAKER SEX? GROCER DOESN'T BELIEVE IT.

Dayton, Ohio, Oct. 3.—There is one Dayton grocer who is wiser, even though the sugar shortage is still on. While there was the usual scramble for sugar for canning, a lady customer came in with a plea for sugar. "I'll give you one of these hundred-pound sacks if you carry it home," he said to the customer. And—she did.

SCENE OF BIG BATTLE NOW SHIFTS TO CHICAGO

Next Three Games in World's Series to be Played in Windy City.

KERR MAY BE PITCHER

Kid Gleason Has Seen Two of His Stars Humiliated So Far—White Sox to Die Fighting.

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The scene of the world's series struggle between the Reds and White Sox shifted to Comiskey Park today where the third, fourth and fifth games are to be played.

Flushed with victory in the first two games and confident they can clean up the Sox in straight games now, the Reds arrived this morning full of ginger. They came like conquering heroes and so far they are all of that.

The Sox trailed the Reds into town determined to fight tooth and nail to offset the triumphs of Pat Moran's sensational ball club. They will face the Moran men on the South Side this afternoon with their backs to the wall and they mean to fight to a finish.

Kerr to the Rescue.

"Lefty" Kerr, the surprise pitcher of the Sox staff this season, will probably be sent to the hill top by Kid Gleason. The Kid has seen his two star hurlers—Clotte and Williams—battered into submission by the National League champions. He had banked his hopes on these two hurlers and now, his pitching staff weakened, he must trust much to little Dick Kerr and to luck.

Pat Moran is expected to give "Hod" Eller a crack at the Sox today. The big right hander is ready to start and looked like the logical selection. The success of the Red southpaws in the first games may influence Sir Patrick to send Reuther back at the Gleasonites in the third game.

The late Harry Pullman, formerly president of the National League, once said: "Take nothing for granted in baseball."

Dope All Wrong.

Just how true those words rang out has been vividly pictured in the winning of two straight from the Sox. Cincinnati has proven rather conclusively that the "Dope" is very often the "Bunk", for on "dope" the Sox figured to win. The writer would not be surprised to see the Reds mop up now in five straight games and unless Kid Gleason and his boys can dig up something to wreck Moran's heavy freight train it will surely run them down in six games.

Sox Great Fighters.

The Sox deserve credit for fighting. They are a game bunch and have taken their two defeats like real fellows. They stood in their positions in the first game like helpless kittens while the Reds murdered the offerings of Eddie Clotte. In the second game they saw Lefty Williams contribute to the second victory of the Redville aggregation by handing out bases on balls in the fourth inning. Strangely enough the fourth inning is a big inning for the Reds. It has been so in the first two games.

Stick Work Missing.

The hitting power of the Sox in the pinches has been noticeable for its absence. They have fielded well and have fought well but they have withered under the scorching wizardry of Reuther and Sallee, failing to come through with sadly needed hits. The Sox cannot say they had no chance to win yesterday's game, for in at least two innings they could have made the Reds feel their power had they delivered hits in the pinches.

The Two Stars.

So far two players—both wearing the regalia of the National League—have covered themselves with glory. Reuther's great pitching and sensational hitting gave him the honors in the first game. Larry Kopf's timely triple with two runners on the paths in yesterday's game was the rap that brought victory to Cincinnati. Sallee's pitching was nothing out of the ordinary though he must be given the credit for the way he handled himself at critical moments.

Chicago fans, taken back with surprise at the treatment accorded their pets by the Redville gang, will turn in force today to see how it is done and to root for a reversal of form on the part of the South Siders. Comiskey Park seats 38,000

How Can Air Stop a Train?

By GRANT M. HYDE
 "What makes the whistling sound when the train stops, Dad?"
 "It's the air that stopped the train."
 "How can air stop a train?"
 "By means of the air brakes. Instead of having the brakeman put on the brakes by twisting the hand brake-wheels as they used to, the engineer puts on the brakes by compressed air.
 "On the car trucks there are brake-beams with iron brake-shoes beside each wheel. Under the floor is an air cylinder connected by rods and levers to the brake-beams. The air cylinders of the cars are coupled together by an air pipe under the cars and an air hose between cars. Up ahead in the engine this air pipe-line is connected with a compressed air tank. The air is compressed by a pump on the side of the locomotive boiler.
 "To stop or slow up the train, the engineer, by means of an air valve, turns compressed air into the pipe line under the cars and forces the brake-shoes against the wheels. The whistling sound is the escaping air as he releases the brakes.
 "Have you ever noticed the slow, regular breathing of an engine as it stands still? That is the exhaust from the steam-driven air pump on the side of the boiler. The exhaust is run through the smoke-stack to increase the draft of the engine fires.
 "Years ago, to stop a train, the engineer 'squealed for brakes' with his whistle, and the brakemen ran through or over the cars to set the hand brakes. That dangerous business was ended by the invention of the Westinghouse air brake about 30 years ago. Cars are still equipped with hand brakes for emergencies and to hold them while standing in the yards. Brakemen now have other duties, but their name comes from the old hand brake days."

How to Earn Money

Outside of School

How the Modern Girl Works

By MABEL CRONINE JONES
 "This is the day," said Mr. Johnson, "of the over-worked woman. It is impossible for my wife to get any suitable domestic help. Even if she could, I'm afraid I couldn't stand the prices you have to pay now. She has to do everything herself. I'm sorry. It's wearing on her. But what can I do? All I know is that our home would be in a pretty fix if she were fashionable enough to go on a strike."
 "Over in our neighborhood," said Mr. Baker, "are a bunch of smart girls. It is remarkable what those girls can do. They make good money, and they are worth it. They are helping my wife every day."

She Darns Well

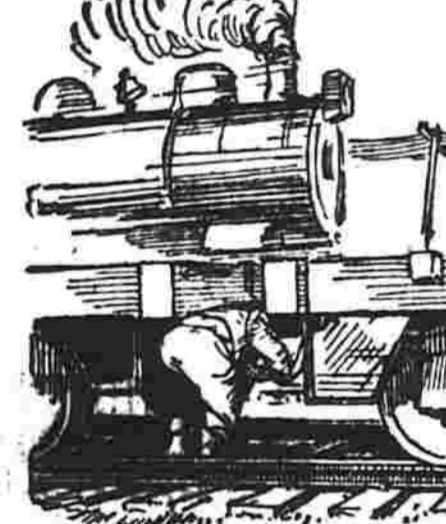

"One of them is quite an expert at darning. She has worked up a good business on our block. Each week, after the washing is done, she collects the socks and stockings that need darning. In a couple of days she delivers them ready to wear. I tell Mrs. Baker that it is a dollar well spent to have that job off her hands. She thinks so, too. That young lady makes a number of dollars each week."

Buttons, Rips, Tears

"One of her partners seems to cater more to miscellaneous mending. She comes around each Thursday evening after school and sews on buttons, patches the tears in the babies' clothes, and does all sorts of such odd jobs. I think that she visits a different family each evening and a couple on Saturday."

While Mother is Out

"Here are two theatre tickets I just bought. The only reason I could buy them is that there is another girl around our way who will come in and stay with the kiddies in the evening while Mrs. Baker and I go out. What we really do is pay her a half dollar for studying her lessons. It's easy for her. We always put the children to bed, and they very seldom wake up. But, of course, we wouldn't think of leaving unless there were some one in the house."
 "Well, if I were a young man again, I certainly would get acquainted with those girls of yours," was Mr. Johnson's comment.
 "(Some new ideas about errands, next week.)"

Park Theater

True to the standard set in her first Goldwyn picture, Pauline Frederick is again presented under the same auspices in a powerful drama of modern society. It is "One Week of Life," by Cosmo Hamilton, which comes to the Park theatre tonight and promises her admirers all that they expect of the colorful and fervent star.
 As Marion Roche she is persuaded to step from her inconspicuous position into the shoes, not to mention gorgeous frocks of Mrs. Kingsley Sherwood, to ride in the latter's limousine, sit in her box at the opera, meet all her friends and—dine occasionally with her husband. But as he is usually obscured by too frequent libations, there is practically no chance of discovery.
 It will be a week of life for Marion and for the other woman it will be also a week of life—of another kind. She will be free to enjoy herself as she never dared before. Why the society woman wishes to substitute herself and how it happens that Marion is willing to enter into such deception—this is brilliantly depicted in the photodrama, together with the strange situation which grows out of the exchange. Pauline Frederick plays both roles, but as the women never met conventional "double exposure" is not employed.
 The show this evening is for the benefit of the Eagle Football Club. A large number of tickets have been sold and if you have no ticket it would be advisable to come around early this evening.

Circle Theater

There will be another showing of "Hearts of Men" at the Circle this evening. This feature "went over big" last evening and now has a great local reputation. There is little doubt but that the theater will be filled this evening.

ONLY TEN CLEAR DAYS DURING ALL SEPTEMBER

Rest Are Either Rainy or Cloudy—
 Total Rainfall 4.30 Inches—An Unusual Amount.

Only ten days out of the thirty in September were clear. Seven days were partly cloudy and rain fell ten days out of the month. The remaining three days were just cloudy and the sun did not appear.

During the month just passed, there was a total precipitation of 4.30 inches which is the third greatest amount in the last fourteen years. The most rain that fell in a September during that time was in 1907 when there was a total precipitation of 11.56 inches. Last year the rainfall in September was 4.89 inches. The most rain in any twenty-four hours during the month came on the 2nd and 3rd when 2.31 inches, or more than half the total fell.

The highest temperature during September was 90 degrees on the 8th and the lowest, 41 degrees on the 27th.

LAWYER'S BRAND NEW DERBY SWIPED FROM COURT BENCH.

New York, Oct. 3.—George L. Donnell, political leader and lawyer, put a brand new derby, valued at $10 on a bench assigned to witnesses for the defense in Special Sessions Court, where petty robberies and other minor criminal cases are heard.

Ten minutes later, after Donnell's spell-binding reasoning had convinced the court that the young man charged with picking pockets was not guilty, he looked for his hat. It was gone, but in its place reposed an old, delapidated cloth affair.

"I would suggest that this honorable court put up a sign warning persons entering this room to beware of thieves," said Donnell, with no little irony in his voice.

PROF. BRUHL GIVES FIRST OF LECTURES AT HARVARD

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 3.—Professor Lucien Levy-Bruhl, of the University of Paris, who has just arrived in this country as an exchange professor from the Sorbonne to Harvard, made his first public appearance when he gave the first of a series of weekly lectures in French at Emerson Hall, in the Harvard yard. Professor Levy-Bruhl's subject was "Frenth Philosophy in the Nineteenth Century." The whole series of lectures will roughly parallel the college course which he is to give during the first half year under the title of "Philosophy 16."
 Professor Levy-Bruhl is a distinguished French philosopher.

HARTFORD'S SHOPPING CENTER

Beginning Saturday November first, our store will close Saturdays at six p. m.

Featuring Autumn Suits at Their Best in Material, Quality, Fit and Price

Note the reasons for selecting your suit now. Firstly on account of the savings to be made by buying early we're advised constantly that such and such a style, on reordering will cost more... Secondly, our stocks are now full and complete with hundreds of suits that we cannot reorder to sell again at present prices. Thirdly, we find that certain materials, sometimes colors are not in stock, therefore not obtainable immediately.

The balance of the ware, Friday and Saturday. We'll give the alert shoppers selections at their very best as to materials, colors, and a range of styles from which satisfactory choice can be quickly made whether it is a model for misses, a style for ladies of regular sizes, or suits for the stouter figures. Immediate action should be taken to make the special savings.

Simplicity the Keynote of the New Autumn Suits—Plain tailored lines but extremely beautiful in the richness of materials and linings. Among the newer fabrics you will find suits of tinseltone, Velours, Silvertones, Oxford, Bolivias, Velour checks, Glove Suede and Tricotines. The new autumn colorings give you a selection like this, tobac, infantry blue, reindeer, beaver, mole, chinchilla, pekin, dark brown, as well as the always popular navy and black.

There are Fur Trimmed and Self Collared Models. We have already had touches of the chill of autumn. You want your new fall suit, and need it, come select it here, make comparison if you will, we are full sure you will see the savings and will be most pleasantly surprised with the suits we are offering at $35.00, $39.50, $42.50, $45.00, $49.50, $52.50, $55.00, $59.50, $65.00 up to $495.00 each. Lookers are welcomed.
