COAL COMMISSION TO MEET 'AT ONCE' TO ADJUST DISPUTE

Operators' Protest Will Have No Influence Say Wash- ington Officials.

TO TAKE FINAL ACTION

Wilson's New Board Has Govern- ment Orders to Settle Matter for Good—Howat Must Decide or Go to Jail.

Washington, Dec. 22.—The Coal Commission, appointed by President Wilson to adjust the coal controversy, will meet "right away" despite the protests of the operators. This was learned at the White House today. The exact time has not been set for the first meeting.

Operators protesting. Officials here today interpreted the action of the operators as an "Attempt to Prejudice" the action of the Commission. They declared that it appeared as though the operators wished a definite assurance of what the Commission would do. The final action of the commission will have the stamp of government approval and the President is placing implicit confidence in the body, it was learned at the White House.

Will Not Accept. The operators went into conference here today to further discuss the action they will take with regard to the President's proposition that they should accept the commission's action as it exceeds the Garfield proposition.

The President's letter appointing the Commission has not met altogether with the approval of some of the miners in as much as it lays down a demand for unanimous action by the commission, it was learned today.

Howat Must Decide.

Indianapolis, Dec. 22.—Alex Howat, President of the Kansas United Mine Workers of America, has until 2 o'clock this afternoon to decide whether he will go to jail or "will cease hostilities and let men go to work."

Judge Anderson in Federal Court continued Howat's contempt of court's case until next Monday and allowed him until two o'clock today to determine upon his future course in connection with the strike of Kansas miners.

PREMIER TO OUTLINE NEW HOME RULE PLAN

Great Britain's Cabinet to Meet To- day When Important Announce- ment Will Be Made.

London, Dec. 22.—A Cabinet meeting was held this morning to consider the details of the new Irish Plan which Premier Lloyd-George was to outline to the House of Commons this afternoon.

Sir Gordon Hewart, the Attorney General, and Ian MacPherson, Chief Secretary for Ireland were among those present.

The King's Secretary called at the Premier's official residence in Downing Street during the meeting.

COOLIDGE ASKS PEOPLE TO FIGHT AGAINST REDS

Boston, Dec. 22.—Governor Coolidge today called upon all the people of Massachusetts to organize themselves into a big vigilance committee for the suppression of "Reds" propaganda and for the punishment of radical agitators. The governor said he was informed that Soviets are being formed in the state with the object of securing revolution by force. Against this great danger, said the governor, the people must ally themselves with the police and public officials. Punishment first and deportation afterwards was urged by the governor.

Parliament to Have Power To Declare War in Italy

Rome, Dec. 22.—Formal announcement was made by Premier Nitti in the Chamber of Deputies that the government proposes to introduce a bill giving Parliament the right to declare war and make peace, a prerogative that was formerly from the Socialist section.

Premier Nitti's speech followed the vote of confidence in the government. The Premier stated that the Plebiscite which was held in Fiume on December 18 resulted in four-fifths of the votes being cast in favor of the government's proposals of settlement.

Make Friends With Slavs.

Replying to Socialist interpolations, Premier Nitti said: "We must establish friendly relations with Jugo-Slavia. The Adriatic question has been transformed into one of life and death for the nation, but let us not exaggerate Fiume's value is only sentimental, not economic."

Americans Interfering.

Deputy Modigliani was cheered when he said American capitalism

MONTENEGRINS FACING DANGER OF STARVATION

Crops Partly Ruined by Drought and Plague of Grasshoppers.

Podgoritz, Montenegro, Dec. 20.—(Delayed)—Montenegro faces the grave danger of a food famine before the winter is over. Every effort is being made to conserve the small supplies of cereals and meats within the country until February or March when, it is hoped, more stable conditions throughout the world will bring more stocks of food up the Adriatic.

Crops Partly Ruined.

The crops which looked very satisfactory in September were partly ruined by a long drought. A grasshopper plague ravaged thousands of acres in the Black Mountain country and left the peasants in despair. Very few supplies have found their way into the country since the signing of the armistice.

Threatened With Epidemic.

For a time Montenegro was threatened with another typhus epidemic, but the American Red Cross Mission under Lieut. Col. R. H. Fairclough of Stanford University apparently has the disease under control.

Political disorders in Montenegro are rapidly coming to a head. The Jugo-Slav government has corralled most of the principal supporters of the Ex-King Nicholas, who, it was alleged, was directing the political campaign from his hotel suite in Paris, hoping for his early reinstatement upon the throne.

PEACE BY CHRISTMAS SUPREME COUNCIL PLAN

New Note to Germany to be Ready by Tomorrow to be Signed Wed- nesday.

Paris, Dec. 22.—Developments moved so rapidly today that the Peace Treaty may become effective before Christmas.

The Supreme Council met during the morning and virtually agreed to the text of a reply which, it is believed, will satisfy Germany. The British delegates concurred with the views of the others as to the contents.

The council will meet again tonight, when, it is understood the note will be drafted. If this is done it may be handed to the Germans tomorrow and the protocol of settlement may be signed on Wednesday.

was interfering with the solution of Fiume problem." I can easily foretell the American capitalism will never play any part in the life of Fiume, Danzig or Odessa. That country is so powerful economically and territorially that it would never knowingly commit an injustice in the settling of European questions, but the United States is not fully acquainted with the ethnical problems of the Adriatic. The charge that the United States is grasping appears to be unfounded. None of the Allies is opposing Italy hence final settlement of the Fiume question is only a question of time."

No Political Changes.

Premier Nitti told the Socialists that no institutional or political changes would improve the economic situation. Italy, he said, is now living on foreign credits.

The newspaper Epoca states that the National Council has broken with Gabriele D'Annunzio, whose forces are occupying Fiume. The breach came over D'Annunzio's insistence upon certain election candidates in Plebiscite.

San Francisco Couple To Sell Unborn Child

New York, Dec. 22.—The offer of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Barnett of San Francisco, to sell their child, whose birth is expected about Christmas was characterized as "too terrible to talk about" by Judge Jean Norris in Jefferson Market police court today. Judge Norris was the first woman to be appointed a police judge in New York City.

"Oh, it's terrible," Judge Norris said, "too terrible to talk about."

Nelly Bly Talks.

"I consider such an act an awful crime—a terrible thing," declared Nelly Bly, world famous woman newspaper writer. "When will people cease bringing unwanted children into the world."

"Just think of the innumerable little tots, wee mites of misery, who are born with this terrible heritage of trouble ahead of them."

Favor Birth Control.

"This is one of the strongest possible arguments for birth control. And it is just as strong an argument against maternity pensions for women. For such pensions would only be an inducement for more babies."

Aged 32, Mother of 18.

"I know personally of one woman who is only 32, but is the mother of 18 children. She has to work and is unable to give proper care to them and out of the whole 18 she has born only two are alive and one is in the hospital."

Another case comes to my attention where a woman came to me trying to sell her baby. The woman actually sought to bargain for the child. I learned that she attempted to get the boy to others but could not sell her "price". She said that another child was coming and she thought she could do better by trying to sell it at birth. I would rather talk to a murderer than such a person."

OLD COURT DECISION MAY YET BEAT BERGER

Good Government League to Bring It Up in Fight to Keep Socialist From Congress.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 22.—An old decision of the Wisconsin Supreme Court which held that votes cast for a candidate whom the voter knew could not serve were null and void, which was the case in the seating of Henry E. Bergler, defeated in the recent special election by Victor L. Berger, Socialist, who had previously been refused a seat in Congress because of violations of the Espionage Act.

The court decision on which the Good Government League is planning a fight to prevent Berger from being certified as Congressman from the Fifth Wisconsin District was handed down in 1910.

LARGEST DRYDOCK OPENED

Boston, Dec. 22.—In the presence of a notable gathering of officials of the nation, state and city, the new state drydock—the largest on the Atlantic coast was opened today.

The Battleship Virginia was the first in the mammoth dock amply able to accommodate the largest vessel afloat. The dock is 1,170 feet long, 114 feet deep and has a capacity of 55,000,000 gallons of water. It has been leased to the Navy. It is located near the army supply base in South Boston.

BANDITRY MUST BE STOPPED

Washington, Dec. 22.—The State Department has made strong representation to the Mexican government insisting that banditry in Mexico and attacks on Americans be put down.

The State Department today announced that the American Embassy in Mexico City has been ordered to renew its request that the bandits who captured Frederick Hugo, an American, at Musquib, be punished and to insist that steps be taken to stop similar incidents.

In Our Town

FAME'S LITTLE DAY.

There are two pictures pasted on the post office window, in the south end, both works of art, distributed by the State Council of Defense to stimulate the sale of War Savings Stamps.

The one depicted the famed and venerable Archbishop of Malles, Cardinal Mercier, paying homage at the cradle of American liberty, the Liberty Bell in Philadelphia, during his recent tour of the United States.

The other is a photograph of Jack Dempsey, the heavy-weight champion boxer of the world, a veritable tiger-man in the squared arena, but who neglected to don either Khaki or Blue when he—men were needed to fight the Huns.

The children passing by on their way to and from the school throng around the picture of the conqueror of Jess Willard, while few and far between are those who gazed at the likeness of the man who defied the German millions, Mercier, "The Bravest Man in Europe."

Speculators Panic Stricken As Government Sleuths Probe Supreme Court Decision Leak

U. S. WANTS BUSINESS MAN PRESIDENT WHO CAN SHAVE DOWN LIVING COSTS

Both Democrats and Republi- cans Admit Price of Bread and Meat Will Be Big Issue in 1920.

Washington, Dec. 22.—A business man for President and the price of bread and meat as the one great issue of the 1920 campaign, political longheads of both parties here today admit will be the winning combination during the coming struggle.

Speaking in reasonable parable they declare democrats and republicans alike, that the wise men of the east—or west—who would reach the White House and its environs next fall must early and plainly write across their political Star of Bethlehem the motto: "A wasteless administration and cheaper living for all."

Party leaders at national headquarters here do not try to conceal that this is the unmistakable sign of the times.

Several Washington and New York Tipsters Confess— Expect to Clean Up Investi- gation Within Few Days— Army Officer Latest Sus- pect in Case—Much Money Won by Advance Informa- tion from Capital.

Washington, Dec. 22.—The gang of Washington and New York speculators involved in the alleged "leak" in the Supreme Court decisions case today are, in a state of panic while Secret Service agents are putting the finishing touches on the chain of evidence connecting them with the affair.

Several Have Confessed.

Confronted by witnesses who came to Washington from New York, some of these implicated have made a clean breast of their share in trading in Wall street information which the principal in the case claimed he had from a minor attaché of the Supreme Court. Other developments are now pending and a clean up of the whole case is merely a matter of days.

Department of Justice.

The Department of Justice has already refused to make public details of the probe which is under way, but it is known that officials working on the case see the beginning of the end.

At least one more person is understood to have been involved in the alleged "leak" through the admissions of others and, in addition to the Washington lawyer, the Department of Justice lawyer and the minor attaché of the Supreme Court already questioned; others also have been questioned by the federal authorities and still others may be called on to explain their actions.

Searching for Facts.

Every man connected with the investigation has worked in the conscientious knowledge that the honor of the nation's highest judicial tribunal was being defeated and neither tireless effort nor expense have been calculated in search for facts "if this be true there shall be relentless pursuit of the guilty whoever they may be and punishment meted out to them to suit their infamy."

Army Officer Implicated.

The department of Justice is interrogating a former army officer who, according to well established evidence played a prominent part in connecting the tipsters with Wall street gamblers. This man is well known in Washington as a "high liver" and speculator. He left the army under a cloud. His wife is the daughter of a wealthy merchant of a middle west city. He resides at a fashionable Washington hotel and was the "life of the party" when the "leak" gangsters met in New York in recent occasions and entertained Wall street men and Broadway women associates in lavish style.

To Clean Out Tipsters.

The Attorney General not only intends a round up of individuals in the financial district who trade on advance information from "inside government sources," Supreme Court and otherwise, but also to make a clean sweep of sleek tipsters and "propaganda sharks" now infesting departments of the government, "thick as bumper cars" as one official expressed it.

"You can bet your life that there is no leak in Wall street today on any Supreme Court decision" said William J. Flynn, chief of the investigating bureau of the Department of Justice. "The products of at least one bunch of tipsters has been reduced to a pitiful squalling in save their hides."

THIRD AUTO ACCIDENT VICTIM MAY RECOVER

Kazmerchik, Now in Hospital, Said to Be Out of Danger.

BEGIN INVESTIGATION

Public Utilities Commission Engineers Begin Investigation—Funerals of Sebula and Lang Tomorrow.

Engineers connected with the Public Utilities Commission conducted an investigation today in an effort to ascertain the cause of the accident which happened on the Hockanum river bridge about 9 o'clock Saturday evening, resulting in instantaneous death to two Manchester men and painful injuries to a third. It is the opinion of the trolley officials that the crash between the trolley and auto was unavoidable. The outcome of the commission's investigation has not yet been made public.

The dead are: George V. Lang, age 31, unmarried, of 9 Mather street, and Andrew A. Sebula, age 35, of 10 Bank street. Sebula was married and had three children. Both were employed in the dressing department of Cheney Brothers' mill, the former being a foreman and the latter an assistant foreman. Sebula was of a mechanical mind and had invented a door lock. Frank Kazmerchik, the third occupant of the car, has miraculously escaped death. He also resided at 10 Bank street and was a friend of Sebula. Kazmerchik will live, it was announced at the Hartford hospital this morning. His injuries, which consist of superficial lacerations about the face and body are not of a serious nature, it is reported. These three men were the only occupants of the ill-fated auto.

It appears that Lang, who was the owner of the auto, a Ford coupe, was driving and that he skidded off the roadway on to the west end of the bridge, which spans the Hockanum river just west of the Love Lane switch, in the path of the trolley car. The auto was on the end of the bridge when the crash came. It would probably have shot across the bridge and dropped into the river had it not struck the car. A portion of a wooden pole at the west end of the bridge was ripped off by the Ford. The Ford was pushed along the rails by the trolley a distance of seventy feet. There were numerous spots of blood along the rails.

According to the story told by Motorman John McKenna of Rockville, who was in charge of the car, the auto loomed up in front of him and turned turtle just as he started to cross the bridge. His car was west bound and had left the Center about fifteen minutes late. The auto was proceeding toward Manchester. McKenna applied the emergency and threw the controller into reverse bringing the car to a standstill. There were but few passengers in the car when the crash came and none were injured.

Directly Under Car. Kazmerchik was thrown to the roadway but Lang and Sebula fell directly in front of the wheels of the car. Lang's body, face down, was wedged in between the trolley rail and the motor guard and Sebula lay on the north rail, the front wheel of the trolley having passed over his neck. A call was sent in for the wrecking crew, for it was necessary to jack up the trucks of the car before the bodies could be removed.

Calls were sent in from the dispatcher's office at the Center for Holloran Brothers' ambulance, Medical Examiner William R. Tinker and Captain of Police William R. Campbell. Upon the arrival of the ambulance, Kazmerchik was rushed to the Hartford hospital. Medical Examiner Tinker viewed the remains of the two victims and ordered their removal. The bodies were taken to Holloran Brothers' undertaking rooms by the ambulance on its return trip where they were again examined by Dr. Tinker. It was his opinion that death was instantaneous. The crash tied traffic up for an hour and a quarter, the passengers being transferred from car to car.

The funeral of Andrew A. Sebula will be held from Holloran Brothers' chapel on Center street tomorrow morning at 8.30 o'clock. Services will be held in St. James' R. C. church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be in St. James' cemetery.

Mr. Sebula is survived by a wife and three small children, also a brother who resided in Hartford. Lang Funeral. The funeral of George V. Lang will be held from his late residence, 9 Mather street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Richard Peters, pastor of the Second Congregational church will conduct the services, which will be private. It is requested that flowers be omitted. Burial will be in the Buckland cemetery.

Mr. Lang is survived by his mother, Mrs. Josephine Lang, by his sisters, Carrie Lang, Mrs. Joseph Wright, Mrs. Elsie Murphy, all of Manchester, Mrs. Arthur H. Grant of Elizabeth, N. J., and Mrs. Alice Foley of Hartford and by his brothers, William Lang of Detroit and Arnold, John, Alexander and Robert of this town.

KULISH ON WAY BACK TO RUSSIA WITH REDS

Is Now on U. S. Transport in Company With Other Radicals.

WHY HE WAS DEPORTED

Stories Which Gave Town Bad Name Had Very Little to Do With Final Action of Federal Authorities.

Manchester's Christmas present to Russia was mailed a little late and it may not reach that country until New Years. But Mark Kulish is on his way back to the land of sovietism and samovars. He left before dawn yesterday and now he is about forty hours out, just getting his sea legs on the U. S. Transport Buford. Mark is one of a flock of 249 Reds on board the ship under the protecting wing of Emma Goldman and he will be well cared for unless the weather proves too rough.

Stories which were printed in connection with this man gave the town a bad reputation throughout the state. Even a peaceable police commissioners' meeting could not be held without Meriden spreading headlines about the nest of anarchy in Manchester and the frenzied plans of the town for trebling its police department. The Americanization Committee could not open a night automobile school without Bristol distending its nostrils to smell the rat.

Why Kulish Had to Go.

It was not machine guns, or machine gun stories, or blue prints, or little machine gun models that damned Kulish in the eyes of the federal inspectors who arrested him November 8. It was not because of any plans that he had made against a member of the Manchester ter or of any rabid utterances, threats or plans. The fact that he was secretary of the union of Russian-laborers condemned him and was good and sufficient grounds for his deportation. This is substantiated by a member of the Manchester Americanization Committee who attended the hearing on the evidence brought against Kulish by the Federal inspectors.

The organization of which Kulish was the local secretary was a national association and had a thoroughly anarchical constitution. It would abolish all forms of government, put all forms of industry in the hands of labor, and in general destroy every vestige of things as they are and transform political functions into the soviet system now in vogue in Russia. Although Kulish said that the extent of the order's activity in town was holding dances, socials and parties, the tendency of the union was toward changes of political importance.

Kulish had the seal of the society in his possession when he was arrested. He had already been designated as representative to conventions held by the union in several cities in this state and in New York city. There was every indication that he was thoroughly in sympathy with the organization's purpose.

Told Conflicting Stories.

The Manchester member of the Americanization committee who attended the hearing said he was convinced that Kulish made many false statements. In fact it was proven during the trial and afterward that he had concealed many facts and told deliberate lies. He said that the blue prints had been handed to him in the course of his work and for his information. The two Vickers' machine gun locks that were found among his belongings, he said, had been assembled from scrap parts that had been thrown away. This was emphatically denied in a statement made by a foreman in the company for which Kulish worked. Had Russian Lawyer.

Kulish was represented by a Russian lawyer who was able to present the case in the most favorable light. And during the trial Kulish was given every possible chance to explain his action and to show why he should not be deported. Although the lawyer endeavored to prove that Kulish was a man of only ordinary education it was pretty well brought out that the prisoner had a keen and alert mind.

No evidence was brought out in the trial that would point to any other important or active members of the Russian organization in Manchester and it was thought that Kulish was the only really dangerous member, and even he was little more than a tool of leaders in other cities. Kulish did not object to going back to Russia. But he wanted to designate the place and to pay his own fare and to travel on a ship of his own choosing. Kulish's deportation was forestold in the Herald ten days ago.

A part of the first tent of movable type ever made cast in the year 1403 in Seoul, Korea, is now in the American Museum of Natural History in New York.

CONCERNING COMMUTERS.

Those Manchester residents who appeared before the Public Utilities commission last week put up a strong plea for a commuters' rate between Manchester and Hartford.

The Manchester lines have had commuters' tickets since they were opened more than 25 years ago. A generation has grown up with this privilege and hundreds have chosen their employment and established their homes on the basis of a low fare between this place and Hartford.

It seems therefore that Manchester has a claim for commutation rates which does not apply to other places which have never had the special rates and have adjusted themselves to the regular fares.

The remaining question to be considered, is whether the Manchester lines can be run profitably if they carry so large a proportion of their passengers at reduced fare.

Now President Wilson passes the buck to a new coal commission. COMPROMISE BY AMPUTATION (Springfield Republican.)

THE LATEST ONE. It is indeed a dull day in Washington when Senator Knox does not end the war by resolution.

PROBING MEXICAN ARRESTS. Washington, Dec. 20.—The American Consulate at Mazatlan Mexico, has been directed to report as to the status of the cases of the two American sailors under arrest there for assault upon a Mexican.

$75,000 FIRE IN VERMONT. Bennington, Vt., Dec. 20.—Part of the business section of this place was swept by fire today.

PROHIBITION ALL WRONG SAYS RICHARD CROKER. New York, Dec. 20.—"America may be the Land of the Free but it is also the Home of Prohibition," was the comment of Richard Croker, former boss of Tammany Hall, who is here today on his way to Florida.

cruel terms. His voice was the most eloquent of those who warned us against the document. In this country his speech was received with amazement by those who felt that Germany had forfeited all right to tender consideration and in Germany it was greeted with acclamation as a breach in that unity of spirit among the Allies that had made their victory possible.

Today the Senator specifically declares that if Germany does not live up to the treaty so far as we are concerned, we shall place her in economic isolation.

Austria is paying a terrible penalty for its part in the war. The situation in Vienna is thus described:

In darkness at night, the city is heatless day and night. There are no markets, for there is nothing to sell. If there were anything to sell there would be nothing with which to buy it.

The New York Sun feels humiliated because America is not represented in the aircraft show now in progress in Paris.

President Wilson at the Sorbonne in Paris urges World League as peace guarantee; degree given him by University of Paris first Honorary Degree ever conferred—German councils confer full powers on Ebert Cabinet; German troops sent to Riga front to check Bolsheviks.

We hardly dare to say it, but it does seem as if prices on meats had dropped just a tiny bit.

Now President Wilson passes the buck to a new coal commission.

Mr. Taft has sometimes distressed his friends by being too soft in compromise, but he is under no illusions regarding the real significance of the Knox proposal to have the Senate approve the treaty without the league.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The American Consulate at Mazatlan Mexico, has been directed to report as to the status of the cases of the two American sailors under arrest there for assault upon a Mexican.

The State Department will take steps to see that the men are given a speedy trial.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC OF FINE QUALITY

Churches of Manchester Outdid Themselves in Sunday's Programs.

The Christmas music at the Center church yesterday under the direction of Miss C. Louise Dickerman, organist, was unusually fine. The regular quartet was augmented by a chorus of experienced singers and by an orchestra consisting of Robert Doellner and William Holman violins and Katherine H. Howard 'cello.

At the South Methodist Church. "The Coming of the King," Dudley Buck's beautiful Christmas cantata, was rendered by the choir of the South Methodist church last evening, assisted by ten soloists.

Bendall, bass, as Melchior; and Kenneth Roberts, bass, as Balasar, Robert Mercer of Hartford, bass, rendered the solos—portraying King Herod. The offertory to the cantata, "Hark, Hark, My Soul," by Shelley, was rendered by the church quartet, composed of Clara Victoria Selin, Mrs. Bertelme W. Lashinske, N. C. Ingalls and Robert A. Mercer.

FRANCE MAY CHARGE FEE TO BATTLEFIELD VISITORS

Paris, Dec. 20.—The French Government is considering charging admission fees to tourists desiring to visit the various battlefields in France, it was stated today. RUBINOW WILL ENTER REAL ESTATE BUSINESS Offices in Russell Building Already Engaged—May Build On His Main Street Site.

William Rubinow, who recently sold his clothing establishment to Samuel L. Barrabee of Hartford, is planning to enter the real estate business after New Years. Mr. Rubinow has engaged offices in the Russell building on Main street and although he is not prepared to give out any information in regard to his future plans, he admits that it is his intention to conduct a real estate business in Manchester.

Asked if it were true that out-of-town parties had been negotiating for the purchase of his large building lot on the corner of Main and Maple streets for the purpose of constructing a theater, Mr. Rubinow said that several propositions had been put up to him, and that he had not yet made up his mind what he would do with the property. Mr. Rubinow has been looking over a set of plans which call for the erection of a modern, four story business block on the Main street site.

HUGE CHRISTMAS TREE IS HAULED INTO REC

It Will Be Loaded With Gifts for Kindergarten Children—Santa Claus Promises to be There.

"A regular 'he-Christmas Tree'", Director Whiting of the Recreation Center described it—that tree which is to be used for the Community Christmas celebration for the Kindergarten children's Christmas treat tomorrow.

"It is twenty-six feet high and at first we thought we might have to take down a wall of the Rec. to get it into the auditorium and we may have to use a traveling crane to get it into position", continued Mr. Whiting.

Tomorrow morning the Kindergarten children are to have their annual celebration and when a gift is distributed to every child there are sure to be smiles and laughter to spare. About 245 children will be present and many mothers and friends. Santa Claus will be there too to distribute the gifts. Christmas carols will be sung and the little children will take part in the special exercises. The High School orchestra will provide music.

MAN TO BE TRIED ON "MENTAL MURDER" CHARGE.
Evansville, Ind., Dec. 22.—Robert Miltstead is to be tried at Morgantown, Ky., a few miles south of here, on the charge of "mental murder," the Commonwealth Attorney of Union County announced. Miltstead, a paroled convict, is alleged to have driven to death, with fear as his weapon, Robert Morehead, a Union County farmer, who committed suicide on December 7.

The Commonwealth Attorney says he will seek to prove that Miltstead posed as a Federal officer, and told Morehead he would disgrace him by exposing his illegal conduct. Morehead left a note saying he would rather die than have his family disgraced.

MUTINY ON TRANSPORT BRINGING ENVOYS HOME

Six Men in Hospital and 11 Sailors in Irons As Vessel Reaches Port.

New York, Dec. 22.—A general investigation was begun today into the mutiny on board the U. S. Transport America, which arrived here from Brest with the remaining members of the American Peace Delegation.

When the America docked at Hoboken on Sunday six men were in the hospital suffering from gunshot wounds and 11 sailors, including two petty officers, were in the ship's brig with charges of mutiny and insubordination lodged against them.

Trouble was said to have been brewing on the transport for several days and resulted in shore leave being refused the sailors while the vessel was last in port at Brest. Refusal to obey orders on the part of certain members of the civilian crew were laid to agitations of an I. W. W. sympathizer.

A number of witnesses were summoned to appear at the general inquiry on board the ship and it was reported that a court martial might follow.

AGITATE FOR RETURN OF DEATH PENALTY IN OREGON.

Salem, Ore., Dec. 22.—Agitation for the return of the death penalty is gaining in volume in this State and legislators who meet here have presented resolutions for its consideration. The feeling is predominant throughout the state in favor of capital punishment, urged on by two prominent citizens of Oregon recently, one of whom it is believed was to be a candidate for Governor next election, and the inroads of the I. W. W. into this State furnished the spark to the movement.

WOOD ALCOHOL VICTIMS:

Cleveland, Ohio, Dec. 22.—Three deaths over Sunday due to drinking wood or denatured alcohol brought the death toll from this cause in Cleveland since Nov. 1 to 14. Eight more victims of this poisoning are in the hospitals and seven of them are expected to die.

Some cliffs on the Island of Formosa, in the Pacific, present a sheer descent of from 3,900 to 6,000 feet.

The Salvation Army will present "The Search of the Shepherd" tonight at eight o'clock at the North Congregational church. It will consist of thirteen tableaux of unusual beauty. This is the third appearance of the pageant in Manchester and those who have seen it praise it highly.

A special number of the Somanhis Events will be placed on sale tomorrow morning at the High School. It will contain a page cartoon from the pen of Herbert Swanson whose work has attracted considerable notice. Manager Kenneth Ringrose thinks this edition of the Somanhis is the best ever published in the school.

Circle Theater

Here is a synopsis of "Spinnery Three", the feature at the Circle tonight in which Lionel Atkinson plays the leading part:

Unhappy surroundings and cruel parents force Katinka Jenking to lead a very dissatisfied existence. The mill foreman, attracted by her, makes advances which Katinka resents. Joe Mercer, a mill worker, in love with her, pleads his cause, but the desperate girl chooses Lindsay, the owner of the mill. Katinka, ignorant of the fact that Lindsay is already married, proceeds to live a gay and careless life. Katinka's extravagance forces Lindsay to borrow money in order to pay the mill hands' wages. Ignorant of Lindsay's financial condition, Katinka continues her reckless living. Lindsay is unexpectedly called away as the mill hands are on the verge of riot, and Katinka then finds out the true state of affairs. Then she first realizes how much her reckless life has cost. Mercer learns of her affair with Lindsay and, losing control of himself, incites the workers to riot. They attack Lindsay as he is leaving the mill. Lindsay's wife leaves him when she learns of Katinka, and later the mill burns down, making his ruin complete. Katinka learns of this and decides to end all. Mercer prevents this and the urgent need of men and women over there gives to the two the opportunity of starting life anew.

On the same bill will be "Smashing Barriers" and a comedy. Big Christmas bill for Thursday.

Park Theater

June Elvidge with Earl Metcalf are presented in "The Woman of Lies", the new World feature, at the Park theater tonight. This is a remarkable picture and tells a story that will hold the attention of the most jaded picture patron.

Olive Sherman is about to be married to Tracy Norton when her father dies and it is discovered that he has been tampering with his company's funds. Seizing this as an excuse, Norton breaks their engagement. He says that since her father left no estate and he has nothing but his salary, it would be impossible for them to marry. In reality he is afraid that he would get mixed up in gossip if he did.

Olive goes to work for the Parkville Manufacturing Co., of which concern her father was treasurer. She is efficient and soon becomes a valuable member of their office staff.

In the meantime gossips have been busy with Tracy Norton and the general verdict is that in breaking his engagement with Olive Sherman he has been a cad. To protect himself from this gossip Norton starts some on his own account, mysteriously hinting that there were other reasons for breaking with Olive.

He is successful and soon Olive is ostracized. She is discharged from the Parkville Co., at the insistence of Mrs. Marrison, wife of the president whose daughter, Lillian, is seeking to marry Norton.

"The Trail of the Octopus" and "Vaudeville", the movie novelty are on the bill tonight.

Tomorrow the big feature will be "When Bearcat Went Dry."

Also Helps to Whitewash Hartford Team by Rolling 143 as High Single—R Sad Gives Victors Three Strings.

In a special week-end match at Conran's bowling alleys at the North end, the Victor bowling quintet gave the Colt's Firearms team of Hartford a terrible trimming. The victors were defeated three straight games and the final tally showed the locals 182 pins in the lead. The rolling of Stratton was the feature of the evening. The Victor anchor man captured high single with a string of 143 and averaged 106.3 for the three strings. R. Sade got high three-string total with 320. The Victors had a team single of 565 and total pinfall of 1516, an average of 101 for the team. The scores:

SOCCER REFEREE GIVES FEE TO POLISH WIDOW

Schofield of Bristol Leaves His Fee to be Used for the Wykioneck's Merry Christmas—Olympics Defeat S. K. F.'s 3-1.

The story told in the Evening Herald last week about the family of Mrs. Mike Mykioneck of Wapping whose husband died a week ago has evidently touched the hearts of others than residents of Manchester. Yesterday afternoon at the Manchester Olympic-Hartford S. K. F. soccer game, William Schofield of Bristol, Conn., the referee left instruction that his fee should be given to the Polish widow in Wapping.

Mr. Schofield is one of the most prominent soccer officials in New England and in order to boost the sport in this state he has offered to referee all contests gratis, the only provision being that the usual fee be turned over to charity work. On being informed of the condition of the Polish family in Wapping he ordered that his fee be left at the Herald office to be given to the family.

Yesterday's game at the West Side playgrounds was played during a snow storm and resulted in a victory for the Olympics. The score was 3 to 1. Fallon and Hewitt carried for the locals, the former contributing two goals and the latter, one. The S. K. F.'s only goal was made by Chipps. The defeat of the Hartford team gives the Manchester Soccer club a firmer hold on the Hartford District league cup. Attendance at the game was handicapped by the storm.

TROLLEY CAR RUMPUS BRINGS MEN TO COURT

Three Are Fined Today for Saturday Night Breach of Peace.

MOTORMAN HIT IN FACE

Quarrel Results in Fines—Parod Must Pay $15 and Costs—Others Fined $5 Each.

William Parod and Daniel Rudaz, both of 635 Center street, and George Miner of 6 Lincoln street, were taken into custody by Patrolman William Barron Saturday evening on complaints made by Motorman James McGuire and Conductor William Brown, trolley men on the Manchester lines. In police court this morning they were charged with breach of the peace. Parod was fined $15 and costs and the other two were each fined $5 and costs.

McGuire testified that Parod was in a quarrelsome mood on his car and was using profane language. McGuire told him to stop and Rudaz, who is Parod's brother-in-law got into the argument. Miner joined the other two and McGuire was struck in the face. Miner threatened to play the whole outfit after he got warmed up.

Both Parod and Rudaz jumped off the car and disappeared in the darkness. McGuire proceeded toward the Center and he states that Miner was using uncomplimentary language during the rest of the run. At the terminus McGuire called Patrolman William Barron over to the car and Miner was placed under arrest. The officer was also instructed to keep a close watch for Parod and Rudaz. The car proceeded toward Hartford and on the return trip McGuire sighted the two men standing near the Odd Fellows building at the Center. He called Patrolman Barron, who placed them under arrest.
