GREAT CHEMICAL EXPERIMENTS WILL MAKE THE UNITED STATES READY IN FUTURE EMERGENCIES

Knowledge of American Precautions Will Deter Other Countries from Forcing Hostilities—Gas Preparations on an Enormous Scale—Great Stores of Chemical Weapons at Edgewood Arsenal.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The knowledge among other countries that the United States has decided to continue its chemical warfare service to a point not surpassed by any nation, will go a long way toward deterring them from forcing hostilities against this country. This is the belief of Brigadier General Amos A. Fries, chief of the chemical warfare service, expressed in his annual report to the Secretary of War, made public today.

No Future Handicap.
"The American is truly a sportsman and in war as in sport, he is perfectly willing to stand any punishment providing he has an opportunity to give as well as to take," said Gen. Fries. "The really serious objection to chemical warfare in the world is not to use it, but to be forced not to use it."

Such circumstances as a man who has up to his eyes in a handicap can suffer a terrible handicap, but such handicap can occur in the future with the chemical warfare service thoroughly alert to the possibility.

FINANCIER PONZI GETS FIVE YEARS

Boston, Nov. 30.—The last act in the thrilling drama of Ponzi finance was enacted in United States district court here today, when Charles Ponzi, fallen financial idol of thousands, was sentenced to serve five years in Plymouth county house of correction.

With his pretty wife bravely looking on, the young Italian, who a few months back had been proclaimed a "Modern Midas," stood in the crowded court room and pleaded "guilty" to one of 86 counts charging use of the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Honest But Hypnotized.
Judge Clarence Hale heard an impassioned plea by Ponzi's attorney, who claimed the "financier" was honest but was "hypnotized by a belief in his own star" and that he made only $25,000 for himself out of the millions he took in. The United States district attorney in asking for the maximum penalty, termed Ponzi's statement a "strange mixture of childishness and duplicity." He suggested that Ponzi be kept near Boston so that he might aid in straightening out his tangled affairs to the benefit of his creditors.

Then Judge Hale pronounced sentence and looked straight ahead as the wife wept softly.

Maximum Penalty.
The maximum penalty for the crime of mail fraud is five years in prison and a fine of $10,000. The judge understood that the defendant had the other $50,000.

While Ponzi, who promised thousands fifty per cent. in 45 days by "investments" in foreign exchange, is still under state indictments for frauding the public, it was the general opinion today that five years would be all the time he would have to serve in jail.

$100,000 Fire at Concord

Newspaper Office, Theatre and Several Stores and Offices Destroyed.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 30.—Fire early today destroyed White's Block, burning the office of the Concord Patriot, White's Theater and several offices and stores. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

Thirty-five persons sleeping in adjoining houses were driven to the street in their night clothing and employees of the Patriot were in danger of being trapped by the quickly spreading flames. The fire started from an unknown cause in the theater. New Hampshire's state house nearby was showered with sparks.

MRS. MACSWINEY EXPECTED THIS WEEK

New York, Nov. 30.—Elaborate plans were being perfected here today for a fitting reception for Mrs. Muriel MacSwiney, widow of the late Lord Mayor of Cork, and his sister, Miss Mary MacSwiney, who will arrive here Friday or Saturday. They are coming in response to an invitation from the American Committee on Ireland to give testimony as to conditions in that country.

The woman's committee, headed by ex-Congresswoman Jeanette Rankin, which will have a leading part in the reception for the two Irish women, includes Miss Anna Withington, of Boston; Miss Julia Emery, of Washington; Mrs. William John S. Brown, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Tosca Bennett, of Hartford, Conn.

STRONG PROFESSIONAL TEAMS TO MEET

SIXTEEN ADDITIONAL BUILDING INDICTMENTS

Members of Employing Association Are Charged With Destroying Records.

New York, Nov. 30.—Sixteen additional indictments were handed down in the building graft scandal here today. They were against members of the Employing Metallic Furring and Lathing Association, a builders' organization, who are charged with destroying records sought by the Lockwood legislative committee delving into the network of corruption that has sent the cost of materials, labor and rents in New York skyrocketing. Arthur Greenfield, president of the association, heads the list of the sixteen indictments. All were immediately arraigned and pleaded not guilty. Bail was fixed at $1,000 each, and the accused were given ten days to make the customary motions.

Meanwhile, the trial of George S. Backer, wealthy builder under indictment on a perjury charge, got well under way. Backer was one of the first witnesses heard by the Lockwood committee and his testimony supplied the probers with important "leads" incriminating Robert P. Brindell, reputed building "czar," under triple indictment and out on $100,000 bail.

GRAFT SCANDAL SPREADS

Trial of Barker on a Charge of Perjury in Building Probe Gets Well Under Way.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 30.—Frederick W. French, assistant cashier of the City Trust and Savings Bank, was arraigned today on charges of embezzling between $300,000 and $500,000 of the bank's funds. He is said to have confessed to speculations extending over a period of ten years.

French's method, according to his alleged confession, was simple. Whenever a bank examiner would place securities in an envelope and seal it, French would lift the seal and replace the securities with bank paper. The next examiner, seeing the seals on the envelopes, would pass them.

An examiner, who was seeking to trace a small mortgage trapped French. He discovered the blank paper in one envelope and opened others. French was arrested.

French told bank officials that he had dreams of piling up a fortune that would rival that of Rockefeller of Morgan. He said most of his deals went and produced a card index purporting to show what had become of the money he is accused of taking. His speculations, it is said, amount to $100,000 more than the capital stock of the bank. He deposited $250,000 to prevent a seizure.

BOMB WRECKS BUILDING IN HEART OF LONDON

Special Constables, Organized During War, Notified They May Be Called Out for Service.

London, Nov. 30.—A building was wrecked in the heart of London early today, by the explosion of a time bomb. The explosion occurred in a leather store near London Bridge at 11 o'clock. There were no casualties. All the streets in the vicinity of the explosion were closed to traffic in fear that other bombs might have been planted by terrorists. Scotland Yard detectives who investigated the explosion said that the bomb evidently had been carried into the building before the close of business on Monday and left concealed in a package.

Drastic Police Precautions.
Two unexploded bombs were discovered during the morning at Rumlund and Tarshfield, in Monmouth-shire.

Police precautions were made even more drastic in this city today than they were yesterday, as a result of the explosion near London Bridge.

Scotland Yard officials said that the infernal machine evidently had been constructed by T. N. T. No evidence was found to connect the Sinn Fein directly with the explosion, but the outrage has caused the greatest alarm.

Members of the special organization of constables, organized during the war, have been notified that they might be called out for service.

Moss Accuses Two in Pierce Murder

Pittsburg Police Hunting For Slay-ers of Wealthy Philadelphian.

Pittsburg, Nov. 30.—Police here were today hunting for "Al" Smith, central figure in the murder of Henry T. Pierce, wealthy Philadelphian, according to the testimony of the three other participants. Smith came here Sunday with Jack Moss, according to the story Moss told the police. Smith left Monday and has not been seen since. Captain of detectives Clyde Edeburn believes Smith may be in hiding in some underworld resort and a dragnet was thrown out this morning.

Moss, arrested last night, made two confessions to Captain Edeburn. In the first, which was verbal, he placed the blame for the Pierce murder on Peter D. Treadway. Later he wrote out a confession in which he declared "Al" Smith had struck the fatal blow.

Philadelphia detectives took Moss to that city today.

WOULD ACCEPT NOTHING

"A short time afterward, Mr. Sands told me he had made or would make $1,000 in connection with this transaction and that he was 'going to take care of me.' I told him I would accept nothing.

"He then mentioned the $600 which he still owed me in connection with the changes made in his house which I had built, saying that he had not forgotten it and would pay it.

"I gave not thought as to what Mr. Sands relationship was to the principal that looked upon him as vice president of a large bank, and a man who was justly indebted to me.

"I then told him I would be glad to have him pay me what he owed me, but that it would in no way be connected with fees or commissions involving government work.

"Upon my request, he subsequently paid me the $600 as follows:
February 18, 1918—$300; January 26, 1918—$200, and August 5, 1918—$100.

"I have no knowledge of where this money paid me by Sands came from.

Loan from Sands.
"Mr. Sands also made me a loan of $800 on May 21, 1918, for which I gave him my note. This was repaid by me to him July 14, 1918, with interest, at which time Mr. Sands was unable to find my note.

FIRE IN LOWELL CAUSES $50,000 LOSS

Lowell, Mass., Nov. 30.—Fire in Central Block in the heart of Lowell today threw 150 women into a panic, trapped one of them on the fifth floor and did $50,000 damage. Miss Katherine Blenner Hasset, a milliner, the trapped girl, ran to a window and would have hurled herself out had not the crowd on the street below cried to her to wait. John McNally, a fireman, reached the fourth floor window by a ladder, crawled inside, went up the flaming stairway, wrapped his coat around the young woman and brought her to safety. Both were burned, McNally being taken to the hospital. The fire started from the explosion of a can of naphtha.

MORE PROOF OBTAINED BY OUR HEALTH BOARD

Authorities Tell More About Tuberculin Tests on Cows.

FIGHT FOR PURE MILK

Ten Per Cent of Children Under 15 Years of Age Who Have Tuberculosis Became Infected Through Milk.

Discussion over the board of health's plan to have all cows furnishing milk for Manchester tuberculin tested, has spread beyond the confines of the town. Other places are inquiring about it and steps will be taken shortly to have the surrounding towns take up the work so that if the milk cannot be sold here it cannot be dumped on the towns in the immediate vicinity.

To Help Dairymen It should be understood that the board of health is not aiming to injure the producers of milk. Rather this agitation is started to help them. A statewide plan is on foot to have the next session of the legislature make appropriations to adequately compensate any dairyman whose herd must be destroyed because it has tuberculosis.

Today in the mails came a letter from E. I. Smith of the Hartford branch, U. S. Dept. of Agriculture Bureau of Animal Industry. Mr. Smith writes to Dr. D. C. Y. Moore concerning a story that a herd of cows belonging to William J. Maguire of this town had been tested for tuberculosis and when the cattle had been slaughtered no signs of tuberculosis had been discovered. The story was meant to show that the present test is not certain.

Sends Along Proofs Mr. Smith writes: "In your splendid efforts to obtain pure milk, such absurd statements should not be permitted to stand unchallenged. Therefore, for your information, I am enclosing a copy of the official reports of the department."

The official reports enclosed prove beyond a doubt that the best methods backed up the tests.

Additional Proof In addition to this, the health board has found that at the time the Maguire herd was tested, one of the cows was placed in pasture in Bolton. In the same lot was a healthy cow belonging to Mrs. Mary T. Helburg. When this woman heard about the tests she asked that the cow be taken away from the same pasture in which her cow was feeding. It was a week before the animal was removed but in that short time her cow had become affected and later developed tuberculosis.

Made No Complaint Himself This statement is made to show how quickly other animals of a herd can become affected with tuberculosis and that it is for the protection of the producer himself that these tests are made. And in passing it may be mentioned that Mr. Maguire himself made no complaint because his herd had to be slaughtered.

Bovine Germs Recognized Dr. Moore has been in communication for the past week with authorities on tuberculosis. He has been informed that ten per cent of tuberculosis in children under 16 years of age can be traced to impure milk. He also has found out that tuberculosis germs of the human type and those of the bovine or cow type are radically different and examinations can tell with certainty if the child became infected through milk or otherwise.

This physician believes, ought to be sufficient proof for anyone that milk does cause tuberculosis and is his best argument to have all cows tested.

WHITE THINKS HE CAN BEAT LEONARD

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Despite the knockout which the champion dropped on his chin at Benton Harbor on July 4, Charley White, the Chicago lightweight, still believes that he is the master of Benny Leonard. He is exerting all his efforts these days in an attempt to obtain a return match with Leonard. The latest move in White's campaign is the organization of the Charley White Boosters of Chicago, formed to aid White to bring the lightweight championship to Chicago. Many prominent men have affiliated with the club.

White has signed articles for a fight with Leonard at Jersey City on December 10. The champion, however, has not agreed to the match.

Park Theater

"The Fortune Teller" played at the Park tonight is a perfectly obvious picture with a lot of old fashioned ingredients which has for its motif the theme of mother-love, and the fact that it generates a spiced heart throb. The star, literally, carries the heavy burden on her shoulders, and her emotional capabilities are certain to react upon the feminine portion of an audience. She is not afraid of using make-up in getting into character, the sincerity of her work being realized in her frightful appearance as a fortune teller of a one-horse circus.

The plot takes its characters through an assortment of hectic and arbitrary scenes—with the low pedal being used continuously on the elements of pathos and comedy. Harassed by her cold and scientific husband, divorced and deprived of her child, she finds refuge with a stepping-villain who is her nemesis from the time he drives her into his arms until he meets a timely death. Twenty years pass by and we see her as a derelict, her sober moments expressing the ache in her heart for her boy. And he comes into her life, although she is too ashamed to reveal her relationship. The action presents scene after scene of unadulterated melodrama and coincidence does much to rob it of reality. Counter-plot and counterplot come forward—showing her struggle, the boy's and the attitude of the relentless father.

Tomorrow feature will be "The Cowpuncher" a great Goldwyn special.

Circle Theater

"From the heart of the world to the edge of the world" moves the action in "The Spirit of Good," a thrilling screen production by Wm. Fox presented at the Circle Theatre last night.

Madeline Traversé, one of the most famous women of the screen, plays the part of a New York show girl who, breaking an impossible union, goes to a part of the world where gold rules men and where love is distinctly not a drawing room affair. She becomes the idol of a dance hall, and wins a great fight against long odds.

The story, which is admirably fitted to Miss Traversé's personality, is a masterpiece of plot.

Cazeneuve directed the production. The cast includes such well-known names as those of Frederick Stanton, Dick La Reno, Charles Smiley and Cle King—all of whom do admirable work.

This will be the feature again tonight.

Tomorrow there will be 11,000 feet of entertainment here. "The Marriage of Souls," two episodes of "Trilled by Three," and a screaming farce, Hank Mann in "The Village Blacksmith."

THE STOCK MARKET. New York, Nov. 30.—There was an unusual dragging tendency at the opening of the stock market today. During the first fifteen minutes, the leading issues reflected little speculative interest. Most important movements were to lower prices.

A good deal of attention was attracted to Republic Steel, which fell over 6 points to 66, followed by a rally to above 69.

Chile Copper was also heavy and yielded 1 1/2 to 10 1/2. Bethlehem Steel B was again in supply falling 5-8 to 53 1/2. Southern Pacific sold 1/2 to 1 1/2 per cent, and sold at 112 1/2, a gain of 3-8. Mexican Petroleum advanced 1 5/8 to 161 1/2, and then reacted to 160 3/4. Stromberg Carburator fell 2 points to 40 1/4 and Vanadium Steel yielded nearly 2 points to 40 1/2. Steel Common improved fractionally at 82.

THE COTTON MARKET. New York, Nov. 30.—The cotton market opened steady today at a decline of four points to an advance of eleven points and later ruled firmer, prices working upward to a net gain of twenty to twenty-three points. Selling early was based on poor cables from Liverpool, bearish English opinions and selling orders from that quarter. There was a good demand from trade sources and from new speculative buyers, while offerings from the South were limited. Private cables reported a strong Egyptian future market with January contracts closing at 39.75, compared with an opening quotation at 35. Two December notices were in circulation at the start here. New Orleans was a small seller.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE. New York, Nov. 30.—An easier tendency was shown at the opening of the foreign exchange market today. Demand sterling yielded 3-8 to 3.48. France yielded one centime to 6.05 for cables and 6.05 for checks. Marks yielded 3 points to 1.40. Lire fell 2 to 3.67 for cables and 3.66 for checks.

"However, I have my cancelled check bearing my endorsement. This represents every cent Mr. Sands has paid me since December 21, 1917.

"Of the $40,000, which Mr. Sands says he was paid for procuring contracts, I never heard until it was mentioned in anonymous letters coupled with threats that unless something was done to stop the Department of Justice action against Mr. Sands that my name would be brought into it.

Requested Investigation. "Upon receipt of these letters, I personally reported the matter to the Department of Justice, requesting that an investigation be made of my transactions with Mr. Sands.

"I feel that it is unnecessary for me to say that I never by word or deed tried in any way to assist the Providence Engineering Co., or any other company, to procure a contract.

"Regarding the testimony given before the committee by Benjamin F. Fuller, who has been indicted for forgery and sentenced to the penitentiary for four years, that Mr. Sands gave me a check in his presence, I beg to say that this statement is absolutely false.

"I therefore, most urgently request the committee to request Mr. Sands to immediately produce all his checks made to me since January 1, 1918."

Bolling testified that on the night of October 17, 1919—a year after the first anonymous letter threatening Bolling had been sent—Sands came to him and pleaded with him to intercede on his behalf to stop the "persecution" by Federal bank examiners.

"He wanted me to go to the President," said Bolling, adding: "Not once, but three or four times Mrs. Sands kept ringing me up asking me to intercede with President Wilson in her husband's behalf."

"Did you ever mention the matter to President Wilson?" asked Chairman Walsh.

"No, sir."

Asked whether he ever saw any body else in Sands' behalf, Bolling said that on Sands' plea he took him to United States Senator Owen, of Ohio, and listened for an hour while Sands recited his troubles.

"What did Senator Owen say?" asked Chairman Walsh.

"He seemed sympathetic, but I don't think he ever promised to do anything," replied Bolling.

Pressed as to why he had not traced the first anonymous letter, which was sent from a New York hotel on October 2, 1918, Bolling said the letter did not reach him until February 19, 1919, because he had been on a European trip. Bolling admitted he had done nothing to investigate the letter beyond calling it to the attention of the Department of Justice.

Bolling after reading his statement, related his business dealings with Sands including the financing by Sands to the extent of $30,000 or $40,000 of the brokerage firm of F. A. Connelly & Company, in which Bolling was a partner.

Bolling said he lost $17,500 in the brokerage firm, "although people have said that I made a million," and that he severed his connection with the firm following the "Lawson leak" investigation in May 1917. He said Sands had made him three personal loans in January 1917, amounting to $7,500 and that he repaid this in May, 1917, by personal check.

"Was there anything said at this time about anything due you on account of extras on Sands house?" asked Chairman Walsh.

"I don't remember," answered Bolling. "The $600 Sands owed you on account of the house was not repaid?"

TO SPEND $10,000,000 ON MID-EUROPE'S YOUNG

Col. Olds Sails to Carry on Red Cross Fight Against Disease Among Children.

Colonel R. C. Olds, Chief American Red Cross Commissioner in Europe, sailed yesterday on the steamship Aquitania, with authority to spend up to $10,000,000 of Red Cross funds in the next twelve months in child relief work.

In carrying out the organization program, he said, there would be close co-ordination with the American Relief Commission headed by Herbert Hoover. Commissioner Olds came here two months ago to confer with American Red Cross authorities regarding the new European program.

"I carry with me the approval of a general plan concentrating all available resources of the European appropriation on the problem of child relief," said Commissioner Olds. "Primarily we will concentrate on Poland, the Balkans, the Slovak States, Hungary and as much of Russia, as can be reached. The Red Cross program looks toward the health of the children in contradiction to the American Relief Commission's work of child feeding.

"Matrnatrition has left a dreadful wake of child disease ranging from the more curable maladies, including lockets, to the worst forms of tuberculosis. The necessity for medical care, doctors, nurses, medicines and hospital necessities becomes a contemporary problem with the actual distribution of food. The program will be administered largely from Paris as in the past."

Commissioner Olds was asked to comment on the demand in labor circles that the Red Cross formulate a program of Irish relief and go into that country with American relief forces.

"I have been away from Paris for two months," he said, "and I have seen so thoroughly out of touch with our detailed reports on the situation in Ireland as in other countries, that I do not feel qualified to answer. The American Red Cross has no intention of discriminating against any country. Ireland's cause will have a 100 per cent hearing before the Red Cross European Commission."

YALE FORESTRY SCHOOL.

With a continuous history of two decades behind it the forestry school at Yale claims to be the oldest existing in the world, having been organized to meet the need for trained foresters which became evident when the national forests of the United States were created.

There has been, of course, for more than 20 years, preparatory training for the great forest services of India, China and Russia although possibly these courses hardly were to be dignified by the title of schools. They were really more, or less dependent on the personal decisions and inclinations of the students themselves.

For its short existence the Yale school has a fine record and, in addition to the graduates it has supplied to the United States Forest Service, its alumni have carried its traditions and its training into the forest services of Canada, the Philippines, Hawaii, South Africa, China, India, New Zealand, Brazil and San Domingo.

It is the intention to hold a general reunion of the graduates at New Haven on December 21 and it is expected that about one-third of the 513 students who have attended the school will be able to be present.

FILIPINO EDUCATION.

It is encouraging to find from the report of the Director of Education for the Philippines that education is making considerable advances in the islands largely through a substantial increase in the school funds during the year.

It is also through the diligent co-operation of the people, who in some places went so far as to construct temporary school buildings and to equip them at their own expense.

The report shows that many new elementary schools have been opened recently and many additional elementary teachers appointed while fees in the intermediate schools have been abolished, a step which will have good consequences for the future of education in the islands by enlarging the reservoir from which future teachers must be drawn.

There still exists a great shortage of American teachers, who mostly are assigned to the secondary schools, and, in consequence the special training of Filipinos has become more important than ever before. It is also noted in the report that the salaries are not sufficiently high to have attracted much more than half of the graduates from the Philippine Normal School, since its foundation and that additional provision must be made in the near future.

The subject of education in the islands is bound to attain considerable importance next year with the apparent certainty that the question of Philippine independence will be revived once more. The advance made can be estimated from the fact that illiteracy on the islands has been reduced from 70 per cent. in 1903 to 30 per cent. in 1919.

The young man who has rejected a legacy of a million dollars on the ground that he objects to a system which staves thousands while hundreds are starved seems to us inconsistent. If he thinks that million should be devoted to the aid of the poor he would be doing a noble thing if he accepted it and devoted his life to its distribution. By rejecting the inheritance he loses control of it, and it may fall into the hands of the idle rich, for whom he professes such contempt.

Tomorrow ushers in December, the first three weeks of which will be occupied by the delightful task of selecting Christmas gifts. Most of this work will be done by women. The men's share will come after Christmas, when the bills come to them.

KENTUCKY CRUDE

NEW YORK POLICEMAN KILLS BOY BURGLAR

Young Desperado Smashes Store Window Steals Two Revolvers and Threatens Officer.

New York, Nov. 30.—The latest of boy-burglary episodes, ended today when policeman Joseph Smith shot David Steele, 16, below the heart.

Steele is charged with being one of the three boys who smashed a Forty-Second street store window, grabbed things and ran. Smith gave chase and cornered Steele, who whirled, pointing two navy revolvers and yelled: "I've got the drop on you. Now step back, or I'll blow your head off!"

Policeman Smith did not know the revolvers were two of nine taken from the window and not loaded. So he fired. When asked at the hospital who his companions were, Steele said:

"I'm no rat. I won't squeal. I broke the window with a piece of Irish confetti (a brick). I had two guns in my hands and (turning to Smith) I would have killed you if they had been loaded."

Ponzi Sentenced to Five Years

Boston Financier Pleaded Guilty to Using Mails in Scheme to Defraud.

Boston, Nov. 30.—Charles Ponzi, get-rich-quick financier, was sentenced to serve five years in Plymouth county jail, when he was arraigned in United States court today and pleaded guilty to using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Boston, Nov. 30.—Charles Ponzi, get-rich-quick financier, was placed on trial in the United States court today in answer to indictments, embracing 43 counts charging using the mails in a scheme to defraud. Ponzi was brought from East Cambridge jail to federal buildings accompanied by his wife. Under the law, if found guilty, Ponzi could be sentenced to five years imprisonment on each of the counts.

Female "Raffles" at Northampton

Woman Confesses Robbery of Over 20 Smith College Students.

Northampton, Mass., Nov. 30.—The career of Mrs. Francis M. Davis, whom the local police call "Mrs. Raffles" and who has confessed to the robbery of more than twenty Smith College students, is under investigation today, in an effort to check up her statements.

Mrs. Davis when arraigned in the district court here broke down and admitted the theft of a raccoon skin coat valued at $500 from Miss Mary McBain, of Cleveland, Ohio, a freshman at the college. Later the woman also confessed the theft of various articles and sums of money from a score of other students. She was held in $5,000 bail for the grand jury.

NEW SAVINGS STAMP.

Two new United States Government securities are to be offered to the people of New England and the rest of the country in 1921, according to the Savings Division of the First Federal Reserve District. They will be a $1 Treasury Savings Stamp and a $25 Treasury Savings Certificate and will be put out in response to demands which have arisen for securities of these denominations, particularly in the industries. This district now has more than 3,000 War Savings Societies operating among its industries, with a membership of about 100,000 men and women, boys and girls, all saving systematically and voluntarily. There also are many of these societies, under varying names, such as "Happy Jack" clubs, in the public, parochial and private schools, which represent a very large total saving through the purchase of the twenty-five cent Thrift Stamps. The savings campaign has demonstrated that the workers like a $1 unit for saving and that they also will appreciate an opportunity to invest $25 in a certificate.

CHEMICAL EXPERIMENTS WILL MAKE U. S. READY

ties of that arm and given sufficient funds and power to prosecute its researches, its development and its training."

Numerous Experiments. "The United States," added General Fries, "with its incomparable natural resources, and highly developed manufacturing possibilities will be able to manufacture and deliver on the field of battle a greater quantity of chemicals than any other single nation, or indeed any other group of nations."

During the fiscal year, he reported 26 experimental projects were in progress. These included work on a chemical shell; boosters; bursting charges; fuses; new designs of smoke shell; an assembly plant for fixed chemical ammunition; exploders for livens projectors; flashless propellants; propellant charges, and fuses for Stokes mortars, thermit grenades; incendiary bombs and smoke generators for tanks.

Stores at Edgewood Arsenal. At Edgewood Arsenal, he said, there is stored approximately 1,000,000 pounds of different substances of a toxic nature and 288,500 gas filled projectiles.

In addition there is now in permanent storage approximately 2,500,000 shells (all calibres), 285,000 hand grenades, 30,000 four-inch Stokes bombs, 60,000 empty Livens drums, 20,000 Livens projectors and 97,000 base plates for projectors.

Edgewood Arsenal is now equipped to manufacture the gas for and to fill about 50,000 gas shells per day, in addition to filling large numbers of Stokes mortars bombs, Livens projectors, grenades and incendiary bombs. The gas mask program calls for the manufacture of 120,000 gas masks during the coming year and for the manufacture of 300,000 for the year following.

Equipped for Future Wars. "A future war," said General Fries, "will find this country filling gas shells in large quantities within one week of the time the order therefor has been received. A future struggle will see our army equipped with the most modern gas mask and a skeleton organization for the manufacture of masks in enormous quantities. Our next war will find a regiment of thoroughly trained offensive gas troops ready to take the field. These problems are being worked out in these days of peace, that a future emergency may find them solutions instead of problems."

PRESIDENT-ELECT HARDING IN JAMAICA

Most of the Party Seasick on Trip From Canal Zone in Squally Weather.

Aboard U. S. S. Pastores. (By radio) Nov. 30.—The arrival of President-elect Warren G. Harding and party at Kingston, Jamaica, this morning was delayed, owing to squally weather encountered in the Caribbean sea.

Senator Harding was to become the guest of the British governor-general at Kingston. After breakfasting at Governor-general's mansion, Senator Harding was to motor across the island today, stopping in the midst of a jungle for a picnic lunch.

The American president-elect this afternoon, planned to take a dip in British waters at Port Antonio, before re-embarking on the final leg of the journey to Norfolk.

Party Tossed About. The squalls encountered shortly after leaving the canal zone tossed the fruit ship about considerably, making most to the party quite sick. They were glad to learn that better weather was forecast for the remainder of the trip. Senator Harding managed to keep on deck yesterday, but Mrs. Harding kept to her stateroom.

Senator Harding did not plan to make any speeches today other than the brief one in which he will thank the Jamaicans for the welcome extended.

Before the Pastores anchored today, Senator Harding released some homing pigeons, which were to carry a good-bye message to Panama friends.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN DEBATE CONTINUANCE

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 30.—Whether the state organization of Republican women will be continued in its present form was expected to be decided at the state meeting of the organization perfected following the adoption of national suffrage for women, held at the Hotel Tarr here today. Mrs. J. W. Alsop, of Avon, state chairman presided at the session, which was attended by delegates from all parts of the state. Mrs. Alsop read her report of the activity of the organization during the last national campaign and the reports of the secretary and treasurer were also read at the morning session of the women.

This afternoon, there will be addresses by Mrs. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson. Other speakers were expected to include Governor-elect Everett J. Lake, of Hartford. Luncheon precedes the afternoon session. Following the addresses, there is expected to be an open discussion of the future of the organization. The question of continuing the organization will probably be decided at this time.

"LAW AND ORDER PARTY" VISITS PUNISHMENT

Darien Young Men Administer Severe Trouncing to Wifebeater and Pour Away His Cider.

Darien, Conn., Nov. 30.—William Dance, a well-known character, who has several times faced a local court on charges of intoxication and beating his wife, exhibited a badly battered countenance when he appeared before a local justice last night to answer to similar charges again. It was charged in court that a party of local young men had visited Dance's house Saturday night, following his arrest, and after administering a severe beating, had taken several barrels of cider from Dance's cellar and poured it in a brook.

Attorney Samuel Gordon, of Stamford, also charged that a selectman and a justice of the peace had witnessed the action of the "law and order" party and had refused to issue warrants for their arrest. He expressed the opinion that the selectman and justice should themselves be arrested for condoning an offense against his client. The case against Dance, who is a brother of a local constable, was continued until Wednesday night for a further hearing.

TO HOLD BENEFIT DANCE FOR OPEN AIR SCHOOL

Planned by Ladies of Charity—Proceeds Will be Given to 8th District's Open Air School Fund.

Ladies of Charity are to give a dance for the benefit of the Open Air School of the Eighth District, December 27th. There is a real purpose in holding this dance and everyone should help make it a success. The proceeds will be given to help the pupils of the Open Air School in the North End.

The maintenance of this project has depended upon private subscriptions. It was not adopted at the North End until it had been thoroughly tried out at the South End. Already much benefit has been derived by the sixteen pupils who have been backward in their studies owing to physical handicaps.

There are many in town who believe that this work should be carried on and hope that the town will eventually take over this project and continue the good results which have been obtained in this part of the school program.

The Ladies of Charity have planned this dance with the hope of furthering this work and ask the cooperation of every one.

The following committee has charge: Mrs. Mary Smith, Mrs. M. T. Moriarty, Mrs. John Gleason and Mrs. P. F. Hannon.

CAPPER PROGRAM TO AID AMERICAN FARMERS

Kansas Senator Proposes Legislative Plan for Immediate Relief to be Submitted to Congress.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Members of Congress from agricultural states were engaged today upon a program of emergency legislation to provide immediate relief from the "price panic" which is reported to be causing American farmers great financial embarrassment and distress.

Senator Capper, Republican, of Kansas, predicted such a program would be ready for submission to Congress when it reconvened on Monday next.

The salient features of the proposed Capper program were outlined as follows:

- 1.—Immediate re-establishment of the War Finance Corporation, about which Eugene Meyer, jr., its wartime chairman, is to confer with Senators tomorrow;
- 2.—Immediate re-establishment of trade relations with foreign countries and the re-adjustment of credits so as to permit European markets, especially, to absorb this country's surplus products;
- 3.—Extension of adequate credits to farmers, by means of short-time and long-time loans, so as to permit them relief from the present contraction of credits from which their representatives in Congress declare they are suffering acutely;
- 4.—Fair and open markets for all farm products, free from manipulation by gamblers and speculators;
- 5.—Congressional authorization for nation-wide, co-operative marketing by farmers, through the Capper-Hersman bill passed by the House and favorably reported by the Senate judiciary committee last session;
- 6.—Broadening and strengthening the Federal farm loan system, so as to allow farmers personal credits;
- 7.—A national marketing board, in which the producers will be represented with power to regulate marketing and to advise and assist in stabilizing prices;
- 8.—Federal regulation and supervision of the packers, especially with respect to the stock yards.

Many Family Jars Due To Glaring Wall Paper

New York.—Many schemes have been suggested to make home happy and thereby cause husbands to stay by the hearth, but the latest advice is that coming from Andre Groult, famous Parisian decorator, who says the right kind of furniture is half the battle.

"Innumerable homes are broken up because people don't know how to choose the right kind of furniture," says Monsieur Groult.

"Women are to be blamed more than men, because the women, as a rule, have most to say about the home.

"If a woman would bear in mind that walls should be covered with colors which suit her complexion, that carpets should be selected to hide or display her feet, that furniture should be stiff or restful according to her temperament, whether active or languid, she would always look best in the home and therefore always be attractive to her husband."

Harken, unhappy wife, and hasten to that shop where you saw the very chair you thought expressed your personality before it is too late!

Opinion of New York Woman. Further commendation for Mr. Groult's plan comes from a New York authority on household arts, who is also a pretty young wife, Mrs. Christine W. Nelson, instructor of the department of household arts at Teachers' College, Columbia University.

"I don't wish to speak officially now, but from a personal standpoint," says Mrs. Nelson. "I have always had very decided views about home furnishings. Furniture is the background of home life and should not be ornamental alone. It should meet the needs of the family, be useful and simple.

"Furniture should be chosen so as to minimize labor in caring for it. Simple lines, less stuffing of satins and tapestries, would relieve many a housewife from a burden and transform her home into a place of pleasure.

"Consider the tired husband who comes home at night to the 'parlor.' Oh, yes," smiles Mrs. Nelson, "there are really a few parlors left in the world, hard as it may seem to believe. A man wants one good comfortable chair. He can't find it. He wants to lean back and relax, to read in a good light.

"Lighting is very important in point of comfort, too.

Easy Chair, Good Light.

"The husband should have a restful chair, not far from a lamp, which sends its rays, not only down, but out far enough to be useful. Nothing is more irritating or makes a man crosser than a lamp that lights a spot on the table or floor and refuses to cast a gleam on his book or newspaper.

"Many men are actually afraid to relax in the homes they have bought and paid for; the tables are so perfect it would create a small revolution if cigarette ashes ever fell upon their surfaces.

"Then there is the subject of color in the home.

"Even the person who knows nothing of color is influenced unconsciously by bad color, glaring, crude color. It has a fatiguing effect.

"Walls are the background of the home. In a small city apartment they should be a restful gray or tan of a light tint.

"Dark wall covering makes for a morbid atmosphere in a room. Then there is the old red rose insanity patterned paper we see seldom, happily seldom. It is annoying, irritating and distracting.

Plenty of "Living Rooms."

"While the home should primarily express the personality of the owner, it should be in keeping with its occupants' station in life, and should be livable.

"Every room should be a 'living room' in the sense of being sane and comfortable.

"A woman should choose her furniture so that if necessary she can care for it alone. It should not be too heavy. Massiveness and stuffed things are awful in a small room, but one large, comfortable chair is not out of place.

"Now, I have always been devoted to the use of a bit of wicker. It is often a gay, bright note in a room, adds a little touch of personality, and is not easily injured when, for instance, children lean upon it.

"Above all things I want homes to be free from the institutional look."

Views of Psychologist.

From a professor of psychology at Columbia University, who, in matters of the home may be called but a mere man, comes a somewhat different opinion about home furnishings and their effect on marital happiness. Professor E. S. Hollingsworth is also married, but refuses to believe too much in Monsieur Groult's theories.

"Psychology points out," says this authority, "that our feelings are not localized, that is, we don't know what causes them. For instance, you have a toothache, you are cross, unreasonable, think every one is your enemy and a liar.

"Of course, the cause is the tooth, but you blame every one who gets in your way.

"In advertising, the theory is the same. You may like the actual 'copy' in an 'ad' and yet decide you don't care for the article advertised because you have unconsciously been influenced by an unpleasant picture illustrating a story which runs alongside the perfectly good advertisement.

"You will hate, perhaps, some editor's opinion, because printed beside it is a poem that seems silly to you or to a drawing you don't like or can't appreciate."

LITTLE FISHING VILLAGE TO BECOME BUSY PORT

Point Isabel, Tex.—This sleepy little fishing village, which slumbered on in oblivion until the visit of President-elect Harding brought it into world-wide attention, is to-day awakening and holds forth promises of being one of the busiest ports on the southern coasts of the United States.

Point Isabel, for more than a century only a collection of small Mexican fishing shacks is slated to become the port of the entire Rio Grande Valley. The Government has appropriated money to open a channel from this little port to the Gulf of Mexico, and the public-spirited citizens of the Rio Grande Valley have raised sufficient money to change the Brownsville-Point Isabel narrow gauge railroad into a standard gauge road.

Millions of dollars of produce from the Rio Grande Valley will flow out to the world from this tiny little village, and already plans are being made for the establishment of a huge warehouse here.

Point Isabel up to this time has been known locally only, and its population, almost entirely Mexican, has devoted its entire time to fishing, when the population chose to work. The village is built upon the Mexican plan and it is typical of the old world. Only the presence of a handful of marines and sailors attached to a naval radio station give it the appearance of really belonging to the United States.

Without a Bathtub Primitive indeed is the village now. There is not a bathtub in the entire village. There is one lone telephone line which connects it with the outer world and telegraph facilities are nil.

For recreation the people of Point Isabel sit upon the porches of their little shacks all day long in the sun. On rare occasions there is a dance, and the Mexican boys, with gaily colored scarfs about their swarthy throats, dance the old-fashioned dances with the greatest of decorum with dark-skinned but prettily featured Mexican girls.

Burras, pigs and cattle roam the village square at will. Doors are never locked. The hogsgow can be moved by any two normal men. There is one general store, and the post-office boasts of two lock boxes.

All of this is now ready to give way to the march of progress, and historic and quaint old Point Isabel in another year will be a thriving port, pouring out to the world huge supplies of cotton, fruit, vegetables, and cattle from the Rio Grande Valley.

WINS DECORATION OF CHINESE ORDER

San Rafael, Cal.—Captain Robert Dollard, of the order of Chia Ho.

So might the veteran shipping man of the Pacific Coast write his name, now that he is the possessor of the decoration of the Chinese order. It has been awarded to him by the Chinese Government for his services during the Great War. General John J. Pershing is also a member of the order.

The medal consists of two silver and gold stars overlapping with a raised shock of wheat in the center. Dollard, during the war, succeeded in securing for the Chinese Government from the United States contracts for the construction of eight steel ships valued at $14,000,000.

COMPARES COST OF WAR AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS

League to Enforce Peace Shows Great Reduction From Expense of Armaments

The League to Enforce Peace yesterday pointed out that one of the items under discussion by the Assembly at Geneva was the budget for the League of Nations, and that this would be about $4,200,000 for the coming year. The organization here pointed out that the tentative budget for the League now made "it possible to form a pretty correct idea what the world will have to pay for the new form of insurance represented by the League."

"The first budget provided for an estimated income of $1,200,000," according to a statement sent out by the League to Enforce Peace, "but the States invited to join the League declared their accession so much more quickly than had been expected that the actual income of the period up to March 31, this year, amounted to $1,396,372. Of this sum only $544,142 was spent, leaving a balance of $852,230 for the second budget period from April 1 to Dec. 31, this year.

"The total expenditure estimated for the latter period and approved by the August meeting of the Council was $2,000,000. This included $345,000 for the establishment of a well needed reserve fund and $650,000 for the International Labor Office, which, under the covenant, must be financed by the League.

Because of the rapid development of the League's activities during the summer and autumn, and particularly because of unforeseen expenses connected with the winding up of various angles left behind by the great war—such as the repatriation of prisoners to and from Russia, for instance—the Secretariat has found every penny of the estimated appropriation needed and has even had to use up the intended reserve fund. This expenditure, however, includes the first payment on the property acquired by the League for its permanent seat at Geneva.

"The third budget, covering the entire year of 1921, provides for a total expenditure of $4,200,000—or, to be very accurate, 21,000,000 francs. A dollar represents really about 5.2 gold francs, but for our present purposes it will be sufficient to reckon it at an even five. The appropriations provided by this budget all under five heads:

- Cost of permanent headquarters and equipment $400,000
- Cost of Council Assembly and Secretariat . . . 1,230,000
- Cost of various permanent organizations . . . 700,000
- Reserve fund . . . 470,000
- Cost of Labor Office . . 1,400,000

"Total $4,200,000

"An international commission has been at work on a system providing for an absolutely just apportionment of the total cost of the League among the nation members, and its report will come before the Assembly for action. In the meantime the system used by the Postal Union has been applied. It divides the total cost into a certain number of units, then all the nations are divided into seven classes that have to pay from one to twenty-five units each.

"The year before the great war broke out Congress appropriated a total sum of $219,211,155 to cover the expenses for one year, during a state of absolute peace, of the navy, the fortification system and the military academy. In 1918, when we had been at war for a year, the Sixty-fourth Congress had to appropriate the enormous sum of $10,221,231,135 for the same purposes.

"If the United States had belonged to the League from the start, it would have been placed in the first class, paying twenty-five units. This means that it would have had to pay $104,760 for expenses incurred up to the end of this year, and that for next year it would have been assessed a total amount of $220,296.

"Such a comparison shows that belonging to the League next year would cost us exactly one-tenth of 1 per cent. of what we spent on armaments during a single year before the war, while it would amount to something like two-thousandths of 1 per cent. of what the direct cost of our belligerency reached in 1918. What the war cost us indirectly during the same year is, of course, past reckoning, but the sum was undoubtedly so great that the mere bookkeeping expenses exceeded the entire cost of running the League of Nations."

HIS EARS RECEIVED HIM.

"Julia," her father called from the top of the stairs, "did I hear a smack down there just now?"

"If you did," she replied, "you're a wonder. I've been hoping to hear one all evening."

WARN AMERICANS TO GUARD MONEY AND JEWELS IN PARIS

Paris.—"Keep your money, jewels and furs carefully locked away." Such is the advice being given by the managers of prominent Parisian hotels to their guests. The need for such advice is found in the ever-growing frequency of robberies committed in hotels. A gang of international thieves is thought to be operating in all leading hotels, and the French authorities, although they have sent out their best detectives and police after members of the gang, have failed to discover any culprits.

American visitors are usually the biggest sufferers and their money and jewels disappear practically before their very eyes. Recently an American woman living at a prominent hotel found that a pearl and diamond barpin valued at $24,000 which she had left on her dressing table at night had gone in the morning. The next day at another hotel another gem valued at $4,000 had disappeared in the same way. Two days later a South American who had only just arrived here ordered coffee for his breakfast and after having drunk this fell into a sound sleep. When he awoke he discovered that his pocketbook and various jewelry were gone.

It is believed that this gang or gangs have women accomplices working in the hotels, and the police are baffled by the daring shown by the thieves.

ONE CINDER COSTS RAILROAD JUST $1,500

Boston.—The Supreme Judicial Court is called upon to decide of Solomon Shine, a shoe salesman, against the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad for injuries received when a cinder entered his eye. Shine, who is seventy-two years old, boarded a train at Taunton, September 10, 1917, and sat at an open window. He claims he suffered an injury from a piece of cinder from the locomotive. The case was reported to a full bench by Judge Raymond. If the court finds for him, Shine will receive $1,500 damages.

POSTPONE HOSPITAL OPENING TO DEC. 15

Plaster System Cause of Exasperating Delay—Table of Rates Announced

The trustees of the Manchester Memorial Hospital met last night and completed the arrangements for postponing the opening of the hospital until December 15, owing to the unexpected delays of the contractors for the sprinkling system. The contract for this system was awarded last January with the understanding that the system would be installed by May. But under one pretext or another the contractors have neglected the job until now, when the hospital is completed and ready to open. It seemed to the trustees impracticable to give patients proper care while workmen are flocking all over the building and making all sorts of noise and confusion.

Rates for Patients.
The following rates for patients were adopted:
Ward patients, $14 per week.
Ward patients, compensation cases, $22 a week.

Use of operating room by ward patients, $3 for minor operations; $5 for major operations.
Maternity ward patients, $17.50 a week.
Children's ward patients, $10.50 a week.

Private Room Patients.
The rates for private rooms will vary from $25 to $56 a week. Fees for private room patients will be somewhat higher than for ward patients. Operating room fees will be $5 for minor operations and $10 for major operations. Maternity patients in private rooms will be subject to a fee of $5 for use of delivery room.

Miscellaneous Charges.
Fees for X-Ray work will vary from $2 up. Patients having private nurses will be charged $10 a week for the nurse's board. Friends of patients in emergency cases wishing to remain temporarily in the hospital will be charged regular room rates. Private rooms are available. Patients served with meals in the hospital.

Committees in order to secure close supervision of all departments of the hospital work. The assistants were:

- Executive committee, Mrs. A. L. Croftell, J. T. Robertson and Rev. W. J. McGurk.
- Finance committee, Horace B. Cheney, Elwood S. Eli and Rev. P. J. O'Connell.
- House committee, Dr. D. C. Y. Moore, Miss Mary Cheney and Mrs. Walter S. Coburn.
- Attorneys, Howard I. Taylor and V. S. Hyde.
- C. Elmore Watkins, president of the hospital board, is ex-officio member of all committees.

CHINESE BUY TOMBSTONES AND THEN GIVE THEM BACK

Boston.—A Boston building of monuments for many years has been favored almost exclusively with the tombstone work of the New England Chinese has observed two striking things about John Chinaman in Boston.
"The first," Harry P. Smith said, "is that in all our experience we have never known of a Chinaman to die in such circumstances that the city would be called upon to pay his burial expenses."
"And the second is that Chinese deaths invariably occur in the winter. During the summer months we have seldom, if ever, been called upon to produce a tombstone for one of them."

Another singular fact connected with Chinese funerals in America is that ten years after the funeral the casket is disinterred and the body shipped to China. Every Chinaman finally is buried in the land of his ancestors.
"Usually," says Mr. Smith, "the tombstone comes back to us after this disinterment."
One of the most interesting sights in Greater Boston is the Chinese section of Mount Hope cemetery, in the Mattapan District of Dorchester. Here the bodies of more than 500 Chinese from all parts of New England have been temporarily laid at rest.

AN EXCELLENT IDEA.
A suitcase with a reversible side, carrying two addresses, has been patented for shipping clothing between its owner and a laundry.

The monthly meetings are not only more numerous than those of the church, but also very much larger in proportion to its size.

That Sore Throat Needs TO GIVE MESSIAH AT Begy's Mustardine CHRISTMAS TIME

When your throat is sore, it's a sure sign you need Begy's Mustardine. That is, if you want to get rid of it in the quickest possible time.
It's really marvelous how this really new mustard plaster will end sore throat, tonsillitis, chest colds, pleurisy and bronchitis.
It's no exaggeration to say that it often conquers them over night, and it's just as speedy a remedy for neuralgia, lumbago, stiff neck, aching feet, sore muscles and swollen joints.
Rub it on freely. It cannot blister, but it surely will ease the pains of rheumatism and gout, and you won't have to wait till tomorrow for relief. You'll get it today—often in an hour.
30 or 50 cents buys a yellow box full of Begy's Mustardine and one small box will do the work 50 blistering mustard plasters.

SHOULD BE LESS MUSIC.

Th operas was a very good one. Nobody knew what it was all about. The music was splendid, but rather too loud for conversation.

The Dorcas Society of the Swedish Lutheran Church will hold a fancy article sale Wednesday evening, December 1. The sale will be held in the basement of the church.

Community Chorus Rehearsing at Rec—More Singers Wanted

About forty local singers are members of a community chorus which is rehearsing Monday nights at the Recreation Center in preparation for the public rendition of the Messiah at Christmas time. The solo parts are to be taken by out-of-town singers.
The chorus is not limited to its present membership. In fact it is desirous of increasing its membership although those who join now with the intention of taking part in the Messiah must be either good music readers or familiar with that composition. There are no doubt many in town who measure up to these requirements and who would enjoy taking part in the production. F. J. Bendall, the manager of the community chorus, says that all such will be welcome at the rehearsal next Monday night. Mrs. R. K. Anderson is directing the chorus and John Cockerham is accompanist.

ROCKVILLE WOOLEN MILLS RUNNING ON HALF TIME

The Rockville woolen mills, with the exception of the Rock Company, continue to run only three days a week, and there are no indications for improvement in business at present, at least until after the new year. There appears to be little demand for goods in the market. The Rockville mills, especially those in the Rock-anum syndicate, make the finest quality of woolens, and what little demand for goods there is in the market, is more for a cheaper grade of goods. The Rock mills, of which Frederick Swindells is manager, have been more fortunate than the other mills so far this fall and have been running full time, with some overtime. The mills have been running evenings until 10 o'clock.

PEACOCK PLUMES ON LONDON HATS

London.—Many women are no longer superstitious about the ill luck attributed to the wearing of peacock plumage. The favorite hat of the early winter is made of the feathers of this bird, with the head reared aloft above a bunch of "eyes."
A fashion has arisen for brilliantly hued hats, including among the present and past fashions. A sequined hat is of remarkable brilliancy, sparkling from crown to brim. Cerise velvet is used for hats adorned with donkey-eared bows. Bow-shaped crowns are seen in vitriol green and golden brown shades, with brims to match.
Eccentric quill feathers in pin! with scarlet spots, pointing downward and almost framing the face, were the adornments of a black panne turban at a hat show recently.

BOSTON IS STRUGGLING WITH HOUSING PROBLEM

Boston.—Only 230 families provided for among the thousand who seek homes is the record of building accomplishment for the ten months ending with October in the City of Boston. This is the information furnished to Senator Calder, of the Senate committee on housing and reconstruction, by Charles S. Damrell, chief clerk in the department of building. September led the other months of the year with seventy-one families provided for.
Application of the past week call for ten three-family houses to cost $12,000 each. The permits are being held up pending further investigation as to whether garages may be permitted in the sub-cellars of these houses.

The "Cops" again demonstrated that their bowling team is the class of Manchester. Yesterday afternoon they beat the "Nickel Snatchers" after they had loaned Schendel to the trolley men. They took the "Nickel Snatchers" in to camp by about 115 pins and won two out of three games. This makes eleven out twelve games they have won. Mike Fitzgerald was the star of the game. He had high single of 128, and high three string of 331. Schendel helped the trolley men but the "Cops" were to much for them even with him in their line up.
