GERMAN GOVERNMENT IS GIVEN A FREE HAND

Reichstag Takes View That Penalties Abrogate Treaty of Versailles.

DISCLAIMS RESPONSIBILITY

Leader of Centrum Party Declares No Government Can Carry Out Allied Indemnity Demands as Formulated at Paris.
Berlin, March 14.—The vote of confidence in the cabinet by the Reichstag gave it a free hand today to deal with the new indemnity situation created by the allies' occupation of Dusseldorf, Duisburg and Ruhrort.

Dr. Trimborn, leader of the Centrum Party, during the debate in the Reichstag which preceded the vote of confidence, urged all parties to support the present ministry, adding:

"Neither the government nor any other can carry out the allies' indemnity demands as formulated at Paris."

Dr. Trimborn emphasized Germany's desire to rebuild northern France with her own money and her own architects.

Penalties Abrogate Treaty.

"Our vote of confidence was given to the German cabinet not to Dr. Walter Simons, the Foreign Minister," said Count Westarp, leader of the German Nationalists. "Even the first indemnity proposals tendered by Dr. Simons at London did not have the approval of the German experts. It is lucky for us that the allies did reject both sets of German counter proposals."

Count Westarp urged the government to take the view that the allied penalties abrogated the Treaty of

SITUATION IN CUBA IS CAUSING APPREHENSION

Liberal and Conservative Leaders Fail to Help Crowder.

DISPUTED CASES DELAYED

Liberals Want American Intervention as the Only Means of Securing What They Consider a Fair Solution.

Washington, March 14.—Though State Department officials are unwilling to say that intervention in Cuba is likely, it was freely admitted here today that the situation in the island republic is causing a great deal of apprehension. Reports from Gen. Enoch H. Crowder, now in Havana in an effort to clear up Cuba's political and economic difficulties indicate lack of co-operation on the part of leaders of both the Liberal and Conservative parties, with the Liberals apparently determined to bring on American intervention as the only means of securing what they consider a fair solution of the problem.

President Menocal, according to Gen. Crowder's reports, apparently has been doing everything possible to hasten the by-elections which must be held in certain disputed districts before it can be determined definitely who was elected president in the main elections last November. The Supreme Court, however, which is commonly regarded as conservative had persistently refused to speed up the process of deciding disputed cases, notwithstanding repeated urging from Menocal.

Liberals Urge Intervention.

Leaders of the Liberal Party, headed by Gomez and Arrango, who claim to have been elected president and vice-president, respectively, in

Soviet Claims Capture of Three Forts at Kronstadt

London, March 14.—The Moscow Soviet claims the capture of three forts at Kronstadt from the insurgents, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Helsingfors today. The Helsingfors correspondent of the Daily Express reported that firing has been resumed between the fortress of Kronstadt and forts on the mainland west of Petrograd. An unconfirmed report was current at Helsingfors that General Budenny, whose cavalry formed the strongest unit of the Red Army, has gone over to the anti-Bolshevik forces at Orel. Gen. Budenny's cavalry troops played a spectacular part in the Russian drive against Poland last year.

Police Searching for Clues to Slayer of Mrs. Edith M. Wilson, Church Organist of Perth Amboy, Who Was Killed Less Than 100 Feet from Her Home.

Perth Amboy, N. J., March 14.—A few blonde hairs clutched in the hands of pretty Mrs. Edith Marshall Wilson, church organist, form the main clew police are working on today in running down the slayer of the young woman, whose brutally mutilated body was found in a lot less than one hundred feet from her home late Saturday night. Early today it was reported the police had detained four men on suspicion but this report later turned out to be untrue.

The murder of Mrs. Wilson has deeply stirred the entire community. Her beauty and talent had made her known to hundreds of people. She and her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Marshall, came here from Brockton, Mass., about four years ago. Mrs. Wilson, then Miss Marshall, began teaching music. She married Harvey Wilson, a chemical broker, from whom she has been separated recently over some minor difficulties. He is travelling in the West.

Commission Rushes Guaranty Payments to Save Railroads

Washington, March 14.—The financial plight of the railroads was reflected today in a veritable jam of demands for money at the Interstate Commerce Commission. The carriers have lost no time in presenting claims for partial payments of sums due them under the Federal guaranty.

At the commission, a large force of experts was engaged upon the accumulated work. The claims are to be verified as speedily as possible to relieve many of the carriers of present financial difficulty. Some of the roads, unable to meet their fixed operating charges, count upon these payments to partly relieve their credits strain.

During the week the payments certified probably will reach as high as $50,000,000. Officials estimate that by the middle of April total payments, representing partial sums found to be due the roads, may aggregate $200,000,000.

Officials of the commission also arranged to hurry forward the payments to the roads, under the sections of the act, authorizing loans out of the revolving fund set aside by Congress.

West Point Cadet Shoots

West Point, N. Y., March 14.—Before the eyes of scores of cadets James L. Baum, Jr., of Pittsburgh, a second year class man at the United States military academy, fired a shot through his head Saturday morning, during a few hours later, it became known today. It was reported that he was despondent because of his scholastic standing. He had written letters to several friends which showed that he was in low spirits. He shot himself while walking across the drill grounds on his way to class formation. He was rushed to the post hospital, where he died shortly after noon.

Many Wounds on Body. There were many wounds on the body. It was believed that the young woman was first struck down from behind as a wound was found on the back of her head. The autopsy showed that a hemorrhage caused death and it is believed the victim may have died from fright superinduced by shock. She had been under treatment for heart troubles.

Some Jewelry Missing. Some of the jewelry worn by Mrs. Wilson was missing and some of it was found near the body. Her pocketbook, untouched, was on the ground near the body.

A woman whose name is being withheld, told the prosecutor that she saw four men near the scene shortly before the murder occurred. She said one of the group had followed a young woman who passed by and who, the witness believed, was Mrs. Wilson. All of the men, the witness said, looked to be foreigners.

It was learned that the authorities are trying to get in touch with Mrs. Wilson's husband. They are anxious to learn if he knows anything about any one having threatened Mrs. Wilson.

ANDOVER WOMAN MURDERED SLAYER GIVES HIMSELF UP

Thought to Have Been Done in Fit of Jealous Rage—Manchester Police on the Job—One Man Injured in Trying to Defend Woman.

Mrs. David Rogers, of Bear Swamp Road in Andover, was shot and instantly killed by Charles Males, also of Andover, in her dooryard last evening, following an argument between Males and a man named Tony Mack. It is thought that Males killed Mrs. Rogers in a fit of jealous rage.

Charles Males, the murderer, was at one time a boarder at the home of Mrs. Rogers. Tony Mack, also of Andover, was another boarder at the same place. Yesterday afternoon Males, who had recently opened a barber shop in town, visited the home of the Rogers'. When he arrived at the house he talked with Mrs. and Mr. Rogers. While he was talking with them he noticed Tony Mack coming down the road. He went out of the house and started an argument with Mack. During the argument both Mr. and Mrs. Rogers came out of doors. The talk grew heated and Males drew a revolver from his pocket. When he did so Mr. Rogers said:

"Here, here, none of that stuff around here," motioning towards the revolver. By this time Mack had drawn closer to where they were standing. Turning towards Mr. Rogers, Males said:

"I'll break up your home before night," and with this remark started to shoot. According to witnesses the first shot went wild. Mack closed in with Males and was shot through the right hand. Turning towards the house, Males fired again and shot Mrs. Rogers through the right temple, killing her instantly.

Hailed as Victory Over Bolshevism

Rioting in Paris Follows Big Victory of Government Over Extremists in Elections for Deputies.

Paris, March 14.—A clash occurred in front of the City Hall early today while adherents of the government were rejoicing over the defeat of the Communist and extremist candidates for the Chamber of Deputies by government candidates in the election yesterday.

The rioters were dispersed before there were any serious disorders.

The Socialist newspaper "Humanite" attributed the defeat of the Communists and Socialists to "the lies of the government."

The government supporters among the newspapers expressed surprise at the size of the government's majority and referred to the election as a national victory over Bolshevism.

War Responsibility.

"The German government must change its propaganda on the question of war guilt," declared Count Westarp. "We must hammer into the world's mind that Germany was not responsible for the war."

"The history of the war began with the annexation of Alsace and Lorraine," said Dr. Breitscheid, leader of the Independent Socialists, in replying to the declarations of Count Westarp.

"We Germans bear the moral guilt of the war," he continued. "It is my duty and our duty to tell Count Westarp that he falsifies when he says that there is no shadow of war guilt upon Germany."

Majority Socialists speakers attacked the government for large money disbursements to the ex-Kaiser.

SIX IRISH REPUBLICANS ARE HANGED AT MOUNTJOY JAIL

Executions Cause a Tremendous Sensation and Quell All Talk of Further Peace Negotiations.

Dublin, March 14.—Six members of the Republican army, convicted by British court-martial and sentenced to death, were hanged at Mountjoy Prison this morning.

The executions caused a tremendous sensation and have had the effect of quelling talk of further negotiations for the time being.

Business at a Standstill. Even the post-office was closed. Outside of Mountjoy Prison thousands were gathered.

Many kneel in prayer and the sobs and cries of lamentation filled the air. Inside the prison, within a few hundred feet of the spot where the six men met their death was Arthur Griffith, Sinn Fein Member of Parliament, vice president of the Irish Republic and head of the Sinn Fein organization. He is a prisoner.

Attempts to secure a reprieve for the six Republicans failed. Word was received from London early today that the Home Office and the Irish Office would not interfere. The authorities then made the final arrangements for the executions. It was decided that the men should be killed in pairs beginning at 6 o'clock.

other group of people exists in the entire world which could produce such a display. The daily task of the workers may seem humdrum. But when all the tasks of the many workers have been coordinated in the proper sequence the result is marvelous. Therefore each one can take personal pride in the achievements, for every step in the progress is important and the final success depends upon the skill and carefulness of every worker.

Cheney Hall Transformed In the half century during which Cheney hall has served the public in many capacities it has been decorated for numerous special occasions; but never has its transformation been so complete, never has its interior been so gorgeous as at this time. No matter how familiar one may be with the old hall he would not today recognize his surroundings were he suddenly set down within its walls. Windows have been completely obliterated; the front and body of the stage have been rebuilt, the gallery has vanished, the artificial lights have been obliterated. All the proportions of the hall have been changed. Walls and ceiling have been completely screened by gorgeous draperies upon which hidden lights cast a dazzling brilliance.

Outcome of N. Y. Exposition The silk show opened at noon today and will continue through the week. It is an outcome of the silk exposition at the Grand Central Palace in New York last month at which Cheney Brothers joined with other American silk manufacturers in the first united exhibit of their products ever given. The show made a great hit, the attendance far exceeding that at any exposition of the many which have been housed at the Grand Central Palace. The exhibit of Cheney silks was the largest and finest shown and as a result of their display Cheney Brothers booked orders for half a million yards of their silk fabrics and were enabled to start their mills on full time. It is believed by the firm that the local exhibit will still further stimulate the demand for their goods. Buyers from all the leading dry goods centers have been invited to attend a private exhibit here Wednesday and will be able to examine the goods at their leisure and free from the confusion and embarrassment of the large crowds which were at all times present at the New York show.

Exquisite New York Exhibit. It was the intention of Cheney Brothers to reproduce in South Manchester, so far as possible, their exhibit in New York. Everything shown at New York was carefully packed and labeled; the fixtures which formed the architectural background at the Grand Central Palace were taken down and shipped to Cheney hall where they were cut and fitted to conform to their new location. The same skilled decorators which arranged the display in New York were brought to South Manchester and for the last week have been working day and night re-assembling the exhibit at Cheney hall. It was found that there was room for more material here than in New York, and with the warehouses of the mills close at hand to draw upon new and fresh fabrics have been introduced. The artists and decorators who have been engaged on the work now pronounce the display in Cheney hall to be much superior to that in New York.

Cheney, will take part in the tableaux, which will occupy about twenty minutes at each showing. Appropriate music will accompany the tableaux. The silk show will be open from noon until six o'clock every afternoon and from seven to eleven every evening. Wednesday afternoon will be exempted to permit a private showing to out-of-town buyers.

Benny Starts Again in the Junk Business

Says He Will Pay All His Debts If His Creditors Give Him a Little Time

"Now I'm broke. I haven't a dollar and I would like to start in the junk business in Willimantic, but I have no money to take out a license. If you will be so kind, Chief let me try it out for ten days and I will pay." The foregoing was a statement made by Bennie Haskell formerly of Manchester to Chief of Police Kilborey of Willimantic a short time ago. According to Bennie, who is very much sought after hereabouts by his creditors he intends to start in business in Willimantic. He was given ten days to get a start in the Thread City and his time expires the 17th of March. He told the Chief of Police in that city that he was an honest man. One or two around the station recognized Bennie and he was given a trial. He has been missing from his usual haunts in Manchester for over a week. He told a Herald reporter the following tale yesterday afternoon: "I have a lot of money which is due and I have not money to pay it. What will I do? I can start fresh in Willimantic and save money. The junk men from Hartford who are not residents of Manchester can get a license from the Chief of Police and collect rags and paper stock round town while I am a resident and can get nothing. Is it fair I ask you?" He then recounted his adventures since coming to Manchester. They are well known. He bought a

Circle Theater

"So Long Letty" the new Bobertson-Cole super-special produced by the master comedy-drama producer Al Christie, will open at the Circle Theater tonight. The film is a screen adaptation of the famous Oliver Morisco comedy of the same name, which for five solid years has "held" the theatre-going public of the country.

The story deals with two newly married couples who present a combination of vastly different personalities. One husband, a gay bird, has married a girl who doesn't care a fig for purple and fine linen and devotes most of her time to the preparation of excellently cooked meals and the care of her home. The other hubby, a honest to goodness home loving chap, has placed the gold band on the hand of a sweetie who is strong for cabarets and the gay and festive life and who can't boil water without burning it.

The opening of the picture finds the newlyweds as neighbors in a sunny California town. The difference in dispositions soon brings dissatisfaction on all sides with both husbands and wives striving to conceal their real feelings. The gay dog wants his wife to spruce up like the wife of his neighbor, while the neighbor wants his wife to do a ginham gown and practice up in the old fashioned, cultured art. As far as the husbands are concerned, they decide, after a conference, that a divorce is the only way out of the mess. After the divorce, each intends to marry the wife of the other. The scheme is explained to the wives who hold a conference of their own and decide to swop husbands for a week before entering the courts. Just what happens in the week following is a knockout. On the same bill will be a two reel comedy, the Fox News and the last episode of "The Invisible Hand."

TWO DRUNKS ARRESTED

Frank Smith and Andrew Louss, both of Maple street, both foreigners, who could understand but little English, were picked up late last night by Officers Barron and McGlynn, in an intoxicated condition. In court this morning they were charged with intoxication and breach of the peace, and both men pleaded guilty. The officers told Judge Carney that they were making such a noise that they disturbed the entire neighborhood. They carried with them two cans of gasoline and were allowed to take their way with them when they left

Park Theater

Mary Pickford's latest United Artists production, "The Love Light," which will be seen at the Park Theatre on to day and tomorrow, is an entirely different story and an absolutely new characterization than anything in which the World's Sweetheart has heretofore appeared.

Ever since Mary Pickford has had her own producing organization and could dictate as to the type of photography in which she was to appear, she has adapted the policy of never adhering entirely to one line of parts, not only because she believes that the public likes variety, but because she believes the different lines of characters tend to increase her ability as an artist.

Those who saw her recent comedies will certainly enjoy her in her forthcoming production which was written and directed by Frances Marion, who has been acclaimed the leading scenario writer of the country, and bids fair to standing at the head of the list of directresses.

"The Love Light" has unusual interest owing to the fact that the idea was worked out while Miss Pickford was on her honeymoon. She met Frances Marion in Italy, also on her honeymoon, and the two worked out the story sitting on a high rock overlooking the Adriatic and it was in Italy they secured many of the properties and several of the players who support Miss Pickford. The players and properties were brought all the way from southern Europe to California where the Italian settings were minutely reproduced from photographs taken by the two. Miss Pickford has appeared in comedy-dramas but never in an emotional drama of the type of "The Love Light," and it was only after careful study and deliberate consideration that she felt herself equal to the tremendous role she plays in this story.

A new two reel comedy release and another entirely different western drama, with the Park Theatre News will be the offering of the manage-

A. H. Van Buren, whose reputation as leading man with the Pol's Players at the Palace Theatre is well remembered, is at the Capitol Theatre, Hartford for three days in "Jump Through." In this comedy which a musical theme is introduced, is supported by Winifred St. Clair, well known on the legitimate and vaudeville stage. A good play, "Prisoners of Love" in which Betty Compson appears. She has the role of a girl whose beauty proves a legacy of peril. There are many situations of dramatic intensity, because of the girl's father's questionable standards of honor and because of rivalry for the girl on the part of two business partners. Lyons and Yosco are a team of Italian comedians, Philia and company are a sextet of singing and dancing technicians. Kaufman and Lillian are a musical pair and the Belleclair Brothers do feats of strength.

The Stage. The most conspicuous object in the stage which has been transformed into an oriental apartment, approached by a broad staircase of dark Italian marble. The entrance is heavily draped with silks and satins in contrasting colors. At the top of the arch and extending to the walls on either side is a heavy festooning of magenta taffeta, looped half way down on either side by broad straps of blue and gold. Beneath the center of the arch is a Japanese grille and below that on a background of green satin is the trade mark, Cheney Silks, drawn on a ground glass oval and lighted from the back. The green satin in turn parts in festoons which fall to the stage floor. On either side of the stage entrance are two dark marble pillars, a few feet apart, and between each pair are stands on which are displayed rich silken dress fabrics of tinsel and brocade. In broad panels next the walls and edged with green velvet are sheets of dark blue and gold upholstery silk of rich design. The walls of the apartment on the stage are arranged in the form of a half oval with nine panels, each of a different design. The floor is covered with silver foliage. The whole is flooded with reflected lights, making a scene before which one stands in speechless amazement.

Other Decorations. The ceiling of the hall is of a light fabric of Japanese design which was brought from the New York show. It is not of Cheney Brothers' production but was used by New York decorators in preparing the Palace for the silk show. It is festooned from a narrow panel through the center of the ceiling to a temporary cornice several feet lower than the permanent cornice of the hall and forming the top line of a row of display booths. Of these booths there are eight on either side of the hall, each devoted to some particular kind of fabric. They are tied together by a continuous low platform in front of them on which crumpled silks are arranged in such a way as to merge the colors in the different booths. At the entrance end of the hall is a throne-like canopy beneath which is displayed a beautiful pyramid of the new tinsel brocades, which wind in graceful folds up to a floral vase. The base of this pyramid is of lilac chiffon velvet, a fabric so delicate that a yard of it can be drawn through a finger ring. In the center of the floor is an oblong dais on which is a brilliant display of plushes and velvets. The effect of the ensemble is greatly aided by the lighting arrangements. Here and there large silken spheres screen the electric lights. In other places canopied stands are used; but most of the light comes from boxed reflectors which flood the displays in such a way as to bring out the sheen and tinsel to the best advantage.

The basement floor of the hall is given over to an exhibit of many of the processes of silk manufacture. While not as spectacular as the exhibit on the main floor it will be found most interesting and instructive. Here are machines knitting stockings and neckties, cap and tube winders, dyeing machine, box-making machines and silk testing apparatus. Processes of designing, dyeing and printing are also shown. There is an interesting exhibit of the progress of silk from the cocoon to the finished product. Of the individual exhibits more will be said in livery stable at the north end of the town. Bennie decided to build, in front of the building he erected a brick block two stories high. Apartments are above and two stores below, a fruit store and automobile accessory store. He intended to run the business himself at first but he sold it to Howard Hastings who later sold it to Devlin and Scott who now run the business. About ten days ago attachments were placed on the property and Bennie departed for parts unknown. He has since been located in Willimantic where he intends to start anew. He is at present scouring the counties of Tolland and Windham for new business and promises to pay all debts. No action has yet been taken, as far as could be learned, by his creditors in Manchester and other places.

SCOTS TO ORGANIZE

The Scotch people in town are planning to organize a branch of Scottish Clans in town and a meeting for this purpose has been called to take place on Tuesday evening at eight o'clock in the Lincoln school. This order is the largest organization of Scotchmen in the world and subordinate clans are located in all the principal cities and towns in the United States and Canada. All men of Scottish descent, either born in the United States or Britain, or if they can prove Scotch descent, are eligible for membership. The order provides both death and sick benefits but the idea of organizing a clan in Manchester is to create more social fellowship among the Scotch people in Manchester. John B. Watson of Hartford will tell of some of the benefits and aims of the order at the meeting.

BIG ARRAY OF LAWYERS IN FIGHT IN STILLMAN DIVORCE

Suit of Multi-millionaire Banker Promises to be the Most Sensational in the History of America—Indian Witness Disappears.

New York, Mar. 14.—With Mrs. Anne Urquhart Potter Stillman, defendant in the divorce suit of James A. Stillman, multimillionaire president of the great National City Bank in retirement, her formidable array of lawyers today began a fight to force the husband into the open and get him upon the witness stand in preliminary litigation.

Inner Secrets of High Life
 The lawyers have begun to abandon their efforts to put the divorce case through secretly and quietly. There were indications that, before it is finished, the public may learn much of the inner secrets of high life.

Mrs. Stillman is living quietly at her magnificent country home in the Pocantico Hills, not far from the John D. Rockefeller estate. The Stillman place is under heavy guard.

A Sensational Case
 For the time being the scene of legal action in this suit—which promises to be the most sensational in the history of America—shifts from Poughkeepsie to White Plains, Counsel for Mrs. Stillman said they would appear before Justice Morchauer at White Plains and seek to have a motion issued compelling the banker to show cause why he should not appear in open court to be questioned.

This move, it was believed, was a counter stroke against charges made by the banker involving the paternity of Mrs. Stillman's 23 months old son Ghy.

Indian Witness Disappears
 If Mr. Stillman is compelled to testify he may be asked about incidents to support Mrs. Stillman's allegations in her counter charges. She named five co-respondents, some of whom were said to be "rich and socially prominent in New York City.

Plans for the defense have suffered a set back as a result of the mysterious disappearance of an Indian guide, formerly employed at the Stillman summer camp in Canada, who was to have been one of Mrs. Stillman's chief witnesses.

The missing guide's story had been counted upon by Mrs. Stillman to refute some of the banker's allegations regarding her relations with Fred Beauvais, the half breed who was named co-respondent.

Setback to Defense
 The missing guide's story also was counted upon to furnish substantial support to Mrs. Stillman's amended answer which is to be the subject of a legal fight in the White Plains

WORLD RECOVERY SLOW

It is somewhat surprising, but none the less gratifying, to find from worldwide reports of American consuls, just issued by the Department of Commerce, that Italy is practically the only country in Europe which is shaking off the general business depression. Government finances are reported favorable and Italian banks are reporting large profits. Labor unrest and strikes are lessening in the face of the conciliatory attitude of the Giolitti government. There is, of course, serious political unrest, involving possibly grave industrial disturbances, but these expert reports tend to show that Italy, under the wise guidance of Premier Giolitti, is stabilizing herself.

Reports from the rest of the world are less satisfactory. Heavy taxes in England, are causing money tightness and exports and imports are decreasing, contributing to unemployment. Something the same conditions obtain in France and in the Scandinavian countries.

Depression in China is very slowly lessening but Japan shows better results. Trade in South America continues stagnant, with the exception of Peru where prospects are a little brighter than in the neighboring republics.

One peculiar aspect of the general world situation is the steady recovery of German trade and a marked increase in energetic business activity. Austria is still in an extremely bad position, the cost of living having risen another ten per cent. in February.

World conditions necessarily vital importance to the United States, and it is not too much to say that any other, still there cannot be permanent recovery until the major part of the world gets on its feet.

PRESIDENT HARDING'S APPEAL FOR CHINA

"At the earliest practicable moment" of his administration President Harding issues, with becoming gravity and vigor, an appeal "in behalf of the starving people of a large section of China." The seriousness of the crisis is emphasized by the fact that already several million dollars have been remitted to the relief committee from funds collected in the United States and yet in the light of a "much more accurate understanding" the President is convinced that the means thus far placed at the command of those organizations "are entirely inadequate to the task they confront."

If the "whole" of New England actually were on the verge of death from starvation and if Pennsylvania and New York states were rapidly approaching that condition we would more closely appreciate the tragic blow from which China is suffering. Our hearts are never sealed to the cry of distress no matter from whence it comes. We, as a people, have given generously in aid of the unexampled misery caused by the great war.

China's despair, however, is not the result of a conflict of human passions. It is a visitation of God, the purpose of which no one is inclined to question. "The cry for succor comes to us from a people far distant," declares President Harding, "but linked to us by manifold ties of friendship, association, confidence and goodwill." In that sentence the President discloses that he is a deep and careful student of history but not a closet recluse. We have been the only sincere friend of China and China always has evidenced her appreciation of that historical fact.

President Harding asks the American people to continue giving as generously as they can "in this hour of China's great distress." He declares that our friendship always has been reciprocated and there is "little doubt that whatever we can give now will not be wasted on a naturally kind and peaceful people, either materially or spiritually."

COAL DISCOVERIES AND DEVELOPMENTS

Reports that German chemists have succeeded in liquefying coal and are now about to begin the manufacture of liquid coal on a commercial scale do not imply any new discovery. During the World War Germany succeeded in perfecting such a process and the actual conversion had been made years before. If, however, it turns out that the Germans have succeeded in making liquid coal at a moderate cost of production the development will have a tremendously important bearing on industry and on household heating. The trouble with raw coal under present circumstances is that much the greater part of its valuable properties goes up the chimney and is lost beyond recall.

If liquid coal becomes obtainable on a universal scale and if it is able to supersede its more or less solid relation the result would greatly simplify a plan recently put forth for the supplying of New York City with fuel. The proposal advanced was to provide the city and its people with an unlimited supply of hard coal by bringing it from the anthracite regions through two fourteen-inch pipes with water pressure. Engineers are of opinion the coal would travel at the rate of seven feet a second and that the pipes would bring 7,000,000 tons of coal a year to the metropolis. They believe also that the transportation of coal by this plan would be much cheaper than the present method of carrying it in freight cars.

Pipe lines and huge storage yards would have to be constructed and the initial cost no doubt would be considerable. But the same conditions applied to the great pipe lines of the Standard Oil Company and they certainly have paid large dividends on their construction cost.

Should the German developments, however, prove commercially profitable to any reasonable extent they would put the New York proposal in the discard in short order. The world is in an inventive mood. The World War gave a great impetus to scientific discovery and that we are on the verge of such revolutionary discoveries and inventions as made notable the nineteenth century few will venture to deny.

CABARET JAZZ HAS RUINED CLASSIC BAREFOOT DANCING

Chicago.—The high priestess of interpretive barefoot dancing has repudiated the cult she founded.

Shocked by followers of her own school of gauze draped terpsichores, Mrs. Jean Van Vlissingen is starting to report the interpreters of the dances through the system of Greek poses. The intrusion of the subject by so-called interpreters who use the Grecian dance as a pretext for scantiness of costume, caused Mrs. Van Vlissingen to decide she had started something that ought to be stopped.

"It was all right, she said, to dance for health and for pleasure's sake, when she was training Isadora Duncan and other girls in the seclusion of her studio or their homes, but commercialism has 'debauched it.'"

"Years ago this art was modestly done in innocent expression of the soul's emotions," Mrs. Van Vlissingen said yesterday. "But it has become an awful menace. It finds me lamenting over the wreckage of twenty-five years of my work—work that I treasured as the consummation of the living ideal of the beautiful in dancing. In its present state, barefoot, barelegged, dancing is a menace to everybody, spiritually and mentally."

"But while I deplore the degradation of the art I cannot surrender my ideal of dancing as an expression of joy, of natural exhilaration, of life itself."

PERFECTS NEW DEVICE TO SEND WIRELESS PHONE MESSAGES

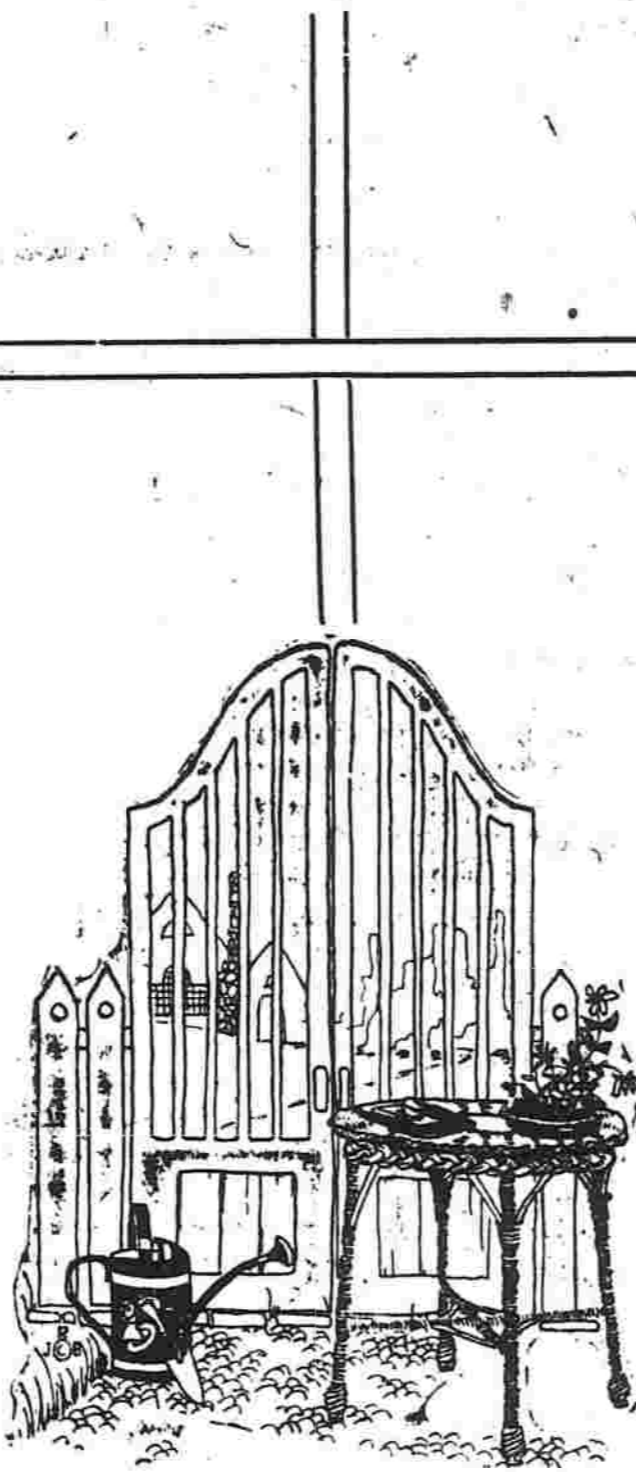

Los Angeles.—What is claimed by its designer to mark a revolutionary step in wireless communication has been perfected here by George M. Knight, a radio engineer, in a selective apparatus which he uses on a wireless telephone of his own invention.

"The success of my device is all due to what is known as tuning. My device calls for all magnetic circuits, there being no capacity coupling or inductive coupling. It is foreign to all other circuit using devices in that no condensers are used."

Knight says he has made some remarkable demonstrations with his wireless telephone in working with stations in Southern California and out to ships on the Pacific.

He served with the One Hundred and Eighth Engineers in the American forces in France. He was badly injured in an airplane accident and for fourteen months was confined in various hospitals in the United States after being brought back from France.

New York Letter by Lucy Jeanne Price

New York, March 13—Springtime and Romance—Henry George Deppe of Palmerton, Pa., met it at Ellis Island the other day, all equipped with a French dictionary under one arm and a bunch of violets under the other. Henry George Deppe has reached the years accredited to discretion. Underneath his gray hair are said to be brains as keen and hard as you often find them. But it was an adventurous romance just the same that brought him, all be-violeted, to Ellis Island. He was there to meet Mme. Julie Vennet, his prospective bride. The meeting was a sequel to a war romance in Dijon, where Lieutenant Arlington Deppe, met, fancied, and made love to Mme. Vennet, but forgot to tell her that he was married. She wrote Lieut. Deppe after his return home. His father answered the letter and later asked her to marry him and forget her unfortunate love for his son. He is now going to make a fight to prevent her being sent back to France.

After having selected "perfect blondes," "perfect brunettes," "perfect hands," and yes, "perfect ankles," E. O. Hoppe, the English artist who has been over here adjusting merits for several months has declared that Madge Kennedy has the "perfect wink." Its innocent, rather than ultra-sophisticated, he says.

One of the new amusements in town is choosing titles for the pictures at the exhibit of the Society of Independent Artists. The titles already affixed may be exchanged just as easily as not. For instance there is a geometric conglomeration entitled, rather largely, "Forced in Motion." One critic pointed out that with equal appropriateness, it might be "The Beginnings of a Harvester Factory," while one named simply "Figure" would go well under the subterfuge of "Building Blocks."

other evening with "Nice People," the new play by Rachel Crothers. The play is concerned with much the same thing we have reading and hearing so constantly with this past year; "How awful this young generation is!" In "Nice People," the heiress, who is shown as Exhibit A of the generation's frivolity, goes out into the rural districts and is regenerated. It is well-acted and withal pretty good, but we have had so many plays of the wicked city people being made over into very worth while creatures just by the influence of country air that it lacks novelty.

Is this a matter for the memory trainers, the psychics, or those versed in the art of giving signals in card playing? Two men were arrested here the other day and locked up for having burglar's tools in their possession. At first they denied their guilt. When taken to the police station, they requested that they be given a pack of pinocle cards, saying that they could refresh their memory while playing cards. After a few hands were dealt, according to the police, they enumerated more than fifteen robberies they had participated in.

It takes courage just to dance sometimes. Michel Fokin the Russian dancer and Vera Fokina, his wife, were giving an exhibition of their famous art the other night at the Metropolitan Opera House when Mr. Fokina tore a ligament in his leg. The curtain had to be dropped, but within ten minutes, when the leg had been bandaged, he insisted upon returning and finishing the dance. It must have been clear torture, physical, said, but he went through to the end, with hardly a sign that he was not in his best form.

For seventy years Leonard Beebe has been tasting tea. This man has probably exerted a more profound influence upon the American tea table than anyone else in the country. Now he is 88 years old and he is going to retire and never taste, or smell or touch another leaf of tea so long as he lives, he declares. The proper serving of approximately one-quarter of a million boxes of tea has depended upon the condition of his palate during the 70 years he has been in his laboratory. LUCY JEANNE PRICE

STARTLING MODELS IN FRENCH DRESSES

Paris.—Startling are the new spring models of dresses and costumes for women seen in Paris dress-making establishments. Envious of the success achieved by stage costumers in showing dresses made up of two distinct colors leading dress-makers are bringing out dresses one-half of which will be in one color, for example red, and the other half of another color, green. Some dresses will be divided up in quarters and each quarter will be of a different color. Some striking combinations of colors have been shown and costumers anticipate a big success.

SNAKE SKIN GLOVES

Paris.—"Serpent" gloves made of the skin of a small python are now being worn by Parisiennes. On the back of the hand there are two small emeralds to imitate the serpent's eyes.

LOCAL SPORT CHATTER

Crosby High school of Waterbury took third place in the United States High Schools' Championships played at Chicago during last week. On Saturday there was a chance for the Connecticut High school to cop first place but the Brass City boys were defeated in both of the last games, thereby being forced in third place.

Crosby's success in basketball this past season has been due to the efficient coaching of Edwards, the well-known Y. M. C. A. star of that city. He is rated as one of the fastest players in the East under amateur rules.

Johnnie Beckman's fast Celtic team of New York walked away with Company E of Holyoke on Saturday night. The Company E team represents Holyoke in the Inter-State League but was no match for the New York outfit.

The famous Clark Munies of Cleveland, Ohio, defeated the Skinner Girls of Holyoke in the latter city on Saturday night by a score of 16 to 10. The Holyoke aggregation proved no match for the westerners who had the game well in hand from the first toot of the whistle.

The Clark Munies are reputed as being the champion girls' team of the world, just as Beckman's Celtics are the champion male basketball team of the world. It would seem that Holyoke had enough high class basketball for one evening.

If there were a hall in Manchester with sufficient playing space and seating capacity, there is no doubt but what this town would support a fast team and the fans would be given an opportunity of seeing something real in the line of basketball.

Manchester has always been a good sporting center and it would pay easily to divide, if arrangements were made for next season to have a basketball.

One of the best basketball players ever produced in this town was John Fickles, of the Class of 1904 at the South Manchester High school. He played afterwards on the University of Pennsylvania varsity basketball team. He was a guard and considered one of the fastest in the East. He also made the varsity track team, specializing in pole vaulting.

The Atlas basketball team will play the Baltic basketball team at the Recreation Center this evening in the preliminary game to the Co. G-Emerald game. The visitors have the edge over the locals in the present series by winning the first game 29 to 24 at Baltic some time ago. The locals however are confident of winning the game this evening by a comfortable score.

Harry White won the weekly prize offered by the Casino alleys. He rolled 108 for the hat which is offered to the winner with the highest score at the end of the week. Wilkie had won the prize four weeks in succession.

The Hartford bowling team, which was to have played three Manchester bowlers on the Casino alleys Saturday evening, failed to show up. A large gallery of bowling fans were disappointed. A. Anderson, Partons and Stratton were to have met the visitors.

Would someone kindly leave the Traveler girls' basketball team's record where it could be found? They are wasting a lot of perfectly good time by saying that they are in line for the championship of New England and that they have already annexed the state title. Could it be possible that they have forgotten the trimming they received in Manchester by the present title holder of the State, the "Rec" girls basketball team of Manchester?

The departure of "Punk" Lam-brecht for Mobile will add another to the list of Manchester boys who have gone out to play in fast baseball. "Wee Willie" Aspinwall was one of the first, when he left here to sign up with Jack Tighe's Norwich team of the Connecticut league in 1903. Then Bronkie, "Pop" Edgar, "Jim" Moran and Joe Madden left. Bronkie's career is too fresh in the minds of baseball fans to permit repeating. "Pop" Edgar played with the Twin-City League in Vermont, "Jim" Moran also played there as well as in the Blue Grass League in Kentucky where he was taken with Edward Olson, another local boy by Hogan Yancy, who coached Trinity College in 1910. Joe Madden was with Jesse Burkett's Worcester Eastern League team in 1912. Taken all in all, this town has sent a pretty fair aggregation to other places to play baseball.

The Emeralds of Willimantic who to play in this place tonight against Company G illustrates another instance of the meaning and results of team work and club spirit. This team has remained intact practically for the past four years, first playing ordinary basketball, but this year climbing into the high ranks around Connecticut. All of the players have a great pride in their club and they are as clean and gentlemanly a bunch of athletes as can be found anywhere in the country.

WATCH FEET WHILE WATCHING A PARADE

Chicago—The next time you watch a parade don't let the mounted policeman's horse step on your foot. You can't recover damages for your injury.

So decided the Corporation Counsel's office here in the suit of Elinor Christiansen, who sued the city for injuries received during the Elks' convention parade. The city law department held that police and firemen cannot be held liable for accidents to spectators on the sidelines when they are performing civic duties.

BUTCHER SHOP FIRE MADE FREE BARBECUE

Chicago—West Madison street had an impromptu barbecue recently where fire did $4,000 damage to the butcher shop of Frank B. O'Hara. Pork loins, hams and sides of beef were done to a turn by the blaze and hundreds of spectators responded to O'Hara's invitation to "help themselves."

WETHERAL'S TEAM WINS. Takes Three Straight Games From Wiganowski's Team in Big Pin League.

Wetheral's team took three straight games from Wiganowski's team in the big pin bowling league at the Recreation Center Saturday. Wiganowski captured high single honors with 155, and Lautenback took three-string honors with 403. Several old-time bowlers, who used to roll the big pins years ago, have joined the Recreation Center for the purpose of taking part in this league.

MIKE O'DOWD'S BOUT WITH JOHNNY WILSON

New York, Mar. 14.—Mike O'Dowd will put in three days of hard work this week in preparation for his 15 round championship bout with Johnny Wilson at the Garden Thursday night. O'Dowd is working with Harry Willis, the giant negro, and other sparring partners. Wilson who is training at Charlestown, Mass., was 7 to 5 favorite in oral betting here today.

"Snooks" Dowd, the great basketball star, will play with Co. G against the Emeralds at the Rec tonight. Music and dance after game.

America's Fastest Forward to Play With Co. G Tonight

Strengthened by the acquisition of "Snooks" Dowd and "Tommy" Sheehan of the Springfield team of the Inter-State League, Company G expects to accomplish this evening a task that it has twice tackled desperately—and failed to finish. The task is to trim the crack Emerald quintet of Willimantic. Twice, on the home court, have the locals attempted to down the wily wearers of the green. And twice—once it looked as if the trick would be turned—have the locals been set back. To trim the Emeralds before the close of the season is the one ambition of the G boys. This is the last try, and should the locals fail, the Emeralds will hold a record of three straight wins. In the minds of Thread City fans another Emerald victory will make up for Manchester's baseball triumph of 1920. Tonight's game will again be played in the Recreation Center court, beginning at 8:15 o'clock. There will be a preliminary game.

But the Emeralds will find that they have a hard nut to crack tonight. For it takes at least two extraordinary guards to watch the flashy Dowd. "Snooks" is acknowledged to be the fastest forward in American, not excepting the great Beckman. The latter is a wizard when "fed" properly, but it has been generally conceded by those who have seen the pair in action that "Snooks" is the faster of the two. "Snooks" is an extremely dangerous man with the ball and the local fans generally conceded by those who have seen him in action last Monday evening will never forget the sight of this shifty forward shooting through a three-man defense as if it were tissue paper. To see Dowd in action alone is well worth the price of admission. It is doubtful if the Inter-State star will be seen in action again this season as he leaves next week to join the Cleveland Indians baseball team.

Although not as flashy as Dowd, "Tommy" Sheehan is rated as a basketball player of no small ability. He is rated as the best guard in the Inter-State League and the statement is worthy of note considering the calibre of the teams in the league. Sheehan is capable of handling two forwards and with Madden as a running mate, it would appear that Bellair and Normandin of the Emeralds are going to have an extremely hard task to locate the hoop or set themselves for any kind of a try. And it might be added that Keirans and Pickett will feel as though they had been through a marathon when they finish the forty-minute task of covering Dowd.

With the two visiting stars the locals feel that they can give the best team in New England a stiff battle and it certainly looks like a G victory this evening. "Tump" Johnson or Eddie Quish will play forward with Dowd; Fay will take the center position, and Sheehan and Madden will pair off as guards. The Emeralds will use their regular line-up, which is as follows: Bellair and Normandin, forwards; Higgins, center; Keirans, Pickett and Downer, guards.

U. S. SAILOR WAS TORTURED BY BOLSHIEVIKI IN RUSSIA

Brookfield, Mo.—Francis Foreman, a sailor in the U. S. Navy, revealed while on a visit to his home here a story of unspeakable torture while held a prisoner by the Bolsheviki in Russia. MANCHESTER WOMEN BUSY. Red Cross Emergency Groups Engaged in Active Work Since 1919.

In the autumn of 1919, the Emergency and Loan Department of the Manchester Red Cross Chapter was organized. Eight small groups of workers were formed, each headed by two women experienced in making surgical dressings during the war. They volunteered their services in case of emergency and were ready to assist the visiting nurses of the town and the Manchester Memorial hospital in the making of dressings and other necessary supplies.

During the winter and spring of 1919-20, these groups made for the Red Cross and Child Welfare nurses, two dozen maternity packages copied from a model prepared by Miss Isabelle Moore, school nurse in the Eighth District. Each package contained sixty-five articles. These were sterilized by Miss Platt at Cheney Bros. Medical department. Other sick room comforts were also made for the visiting nurses.

In the autumn of 1920, the groups began working at the hospital two or three times a week and have made thousands of dressings and helped with the sewing.

A report for February follows: Dressings, 3,631; articles marked, 112; articles made, 13 children's nightgowns, 12 operating gowns, 8 pillow cases, 3 pneumonia jackets, 2 blankets hemmed, 6 baby blankets edged with crochet.

The following women are in charge of the work: Miss Edna Skinner, Mrs. E. B. Allen, Mrs. John Alvord, Mrs. W. S. Coburn, Mrs. F. A. Isleb, Mrs. W. F. Hannon, Miss Mary Hutchinson, Mrs. Henry Nettleton, Mrs. F. A. Verplanck, Mrs. N. A. Burr, Mrs. N. B. Richards, Mrs. Austin Cheney, Mrs. C. R. Burr, Mrs. E. A. Letney, Mrs. J. P. Cheney, Mrs. C. C. Burlingame.

The Emergency department is also equipped with a kit bag, for use in case of accident, which is kept at the Red Cross headquarters in the House & Hale Building.

In the Loan Closet are many necessities and comforts of use in caring for the sick, which can be borrowed by those needing them, and this department was also active during the grip epidemic of 1919-20.

PLAN CITIZENSHIP FORUM AT WEDNESDAY'S MEETING

Women Voters of Town are Invited to a Meeting at the Recreation Center.

Invitations are being received by the women voters of the town to attend a meeting at the Recreation Center Wednesday evening in the interests of a Citizenship Forum to aid the women voters.

The aims and purposes of the Connecticut League of Women Voters will be fully explained to the women of the town at this meeting. The work of the Child Welfare Committee is so closely affiliated with the principles upheld by the League that the Committee has invited Miss Marjorie Cheney to explain some of the conditions existing in this state today. Miss Cheney has recently returned from California to work with the State Child Welfare Committee of which she is a member. She is working for the establishment of a Child Welfare Bureau.

A large delegation of Manchester women were present at the Capitol last Thursday to hear Miss Cheney explain to the committee many interesting facts concerning conditions in this state.

The speakers at the meeting Wednesday evening and their subjects will be as follows: Miss Mabel Washburn, "Purposes of the League;" Mrs. Mary Bulkeley, "The Citizenship Course;" Mrs. William H. Deming, "Legislative Problems;" Miss Marjorie Cheney, "Child Welfare Bureau."

Mrs. Herbert Knox Smith will have charge of the meeting.

The enthusiasm with which the women of Manchester have answered the call for volunteer workers has been most gratifying to the department.

CONTRACT GIVEN UP. Flynt Company Not Able to Finish Work on West Side Building.

It was learned last evening that the Flynt Construction Company of Palmer, Mass., which was awarded the contract for the West Side Recreation Building recently, has returned the contract to the Ninth District. Financial difficulties is given as the reason.

The Flynt Company was awarded the contract last fall and under the terms was to have the building completed in 30 weeks after the signing of the contract. The work was carried on up until Saturday noon-time. At this time the workmen employed there were given to understand they would not be needed unless the district carried the contract.

The work will be finished by the Ninth school district which will keep the men at work. The Flynt Company completed the Manchester Trust Company's new home on Main street and during the previous summer erected the Mutual Heating plant in the rear of the House & Hale Block.

SEES WILD GESE Probation Officer J. W. Goslee and his nephew Kenneth Aitken, son of Selectman James Aitken, went to Bolton Pond Saturday to spend Sunday at the cottage owned by Mr. Goslee.

On Sunday morning they were awakened shortly after day break by a great noise made by flocks of wild geese and ducks. There was more or less fog arising from the pond and this for a time shut off the view of the birds. But a little later the sun came out and Mr. Goslee says he never saw a larger flock of wild geese and ducks in his life. After a time the birds flew away toward the upper end of the pond.
