WAVE OF VIOLENCE GROWING IN VARIOUS PARTS OF ITALY

Fighting Between Extreme Conservatives and Com- munists Reported on In- crease—Seventeen Killed in Three Cities.

Rome, Apr. 21.—Conflicts between Fascist (Italian extreme conservatives) and Communists are reported in increasing numbers in various parts of Italy. At Taranto two labor exchanges and a Socialist club were burned after street battles. At Eova 6 Communists and 3 Fascists were killed when a lorry carrying Fascists was attacked from ambush by Communists. At Parma troops charged into a rioting mob with machine guns, killing two. At Tuscani two were killed in a street battle today. Four were killed in that city yesterday.

As a result of this growing wave of violence the Socialist members of the Chamber of Deputies today notified Premier Giolitti that they will bring about complete absence of Socialist electors in the coming elections if the government does not stop the alleged provocative tactics of the Fascist.

Baseball Opens at Cleveland

World Champion Indians Meet Browns on Dunn Field in Un- favorable Weather.

Cleveland, O., Apr. 21.—"Der Tag" has come.

The day awaited by baseball fans written in action on the diamond. The contest seems no better than even bet that Tris Speaker's world champion Indians will meet Lee Fohl's Browns on Dunn Field at 3 p. m., and try open the local season.

If, however, the weatherman relents the teams will get in action under the eyes of the biggest crowd that has even seen an opening game here.

German Indemnity Called "Absurd"

American Official Opinion Re- ported to Believe That France's Claims Are En- tirely Too Ambitious.

Washington, April 21.—Seemingly authentic reports from Berlin that the German government has addressed an outright appeal to President Harding to intervene in the reparations dispute in the role of mediator were scanned with great interest today in official and diplomatic circles here.

Comment Guarded.

In the absence of official confirmation that the German appeal actually has been received, comment in high quarters was guarded. The attitude of the Harding administration on the question of reparations has been expressed only generally in the six weeks it has been in control.

Secretary of State Hughes in his recent informal memorandum to the German government took the stand that Germany is morally responsible for the horror of the World war, and being thus guilty, is obligated to pay reparations to the best of her ability.

Both Secretary Hughes in his communication and President Harding in his message to Congress, however, carefully refrained from expressing any view as to the amount which Germany can pay and still retain her economic equilibrium.

Called "Absurd."

Prominent officials of the Wilson administration were outspoken in their criticism of the French demands for $50,000,000,000 and 12 1/2 per cent of German exports.

SUSPECTED MAIL THIEVES ARRESTED

Detroit Detectives Capture Four Men and Four Women Thought to be Connected With Toledo Million Dollar Robbery.

Detroit, Apr. 21.—Surrounding a cottage at 160 East Montcalm street late Wednesday night, federal agents and a squad of city detectives arrested 3 persons, four men and four women for alleged complicity in the million dollar Toledo postoffice robbery, Feb. 17. The suspects were taken as they left the dwelling to enter a large touring car.

The alleged robbers were dressed for a long journey. No resistance was offered. The names given at police headquarters by the prisoners were: James S. Anson, 25, Detroit; George Rogers, 32, Detroit; Charles Furrer, 43, Toledo; Carl Greben, Detroit; Pearl Summers, Toledo; Emma Martin, Toledo; Stella Kaefler, 45, Toledo and Helen Farrer, 40, Toledo. The suspects are held on charges of having violated the U. S. Criminal code.

Federal officials have been working quietly on the case the last month.

For two days the East Montcalm street house has been under surveillance and the decision to round up its occupants was reached Wednesday evening.

James Sansom is believed by officials to have been one of the principals in the actual hold up at Toledo. He has been going under the alias of George Smith but his real name is Mike Campagni, the police say. It is their belief also that he is wanted by the Cleveland police on a charge of murdering.

With the capture of the suspects, the Toledo robbery has been arrested or interrupted.

The robbery took place early the morning of Feb. 17 when five armed bandits held up 3 clerks in the main office and escaped with ten sacks of registered mail. The value of the loot is said by federal officers to be $1,000,000.

VITAL TO REPARATIONS

Decision Will Have a Great Influence on Germany's Ability to Pay In- demnities.

London, April 21.—Premier Lloyd-George has sent a message to the British high commissioner in Upper Silesia asking why there is such delay in reaching decision of the Upper Silesian question, it was learned by the Int. News Service today. The premier's letter is understood to have an important bearing on the British policy in the German reparations crisis.

Wants Immediate Decision.

The premier pointed out in his letter that the Upper Silesian boundary question is to be decided, under the Versailles treaty, on the basis of the plebiscite returns. He urged that an immediate decision be reached by the inter-allied commission and that notification of that decision be forwarded to London within three days.

The letter is taken as the first indication of the line which Lloyd-George will take at the Hythe conference Saturday at which the German reparations crisis will be the main subject of discussion. In official circles this laconic reply was made today in response to inquiries as to the connection between Upper Silesia and the reparations crisis.

Inseparable From Ruhr.

Japanese Cabinet Approves Firm Stand on Yap Dispute

Tiko, April 21.—The cabinet coun- cil today approved the "firm atti- tude" of the Foreign Office in the controversy with the United States over the Island of Yap.

Marquis Okuma, former prime minister, is quoted in an interview

published in Hoochi as saying:
"The action of the United States on Yap is illogical and incomprehensible. I cannot approve of America's attitude. It is overbearing. The question was settled by the supreme council and America did not then protest against the settlement."

BRIAND AND LLOYD GEORGE WILL HAVE SECRET CONFAB

No Other Nations But France and England Will be Repre- sented at Reparations Dis- cussion at Hythe on Satur- day.

Paris, Apr. 21.—The conference at Hythe Saturday will be "strictly private" between Premiers Briand and Lloyd George and their respective secretaries, the Foreign Office announced this afternoon. Neither Marshal Foch nor Field Marshal Sir Henry Wilson will attend, it was said. The announcement further denied press reports that the Italian and Belgian ambassadors in London had been invited to the conference.

London, Apr. 21.—Neither Belgium, Italy nor the United States will be represented at the conference at Hythe Saturday the Foreign Office announced this afternoon.

The Foreign Office specifically denied cable reports from Washington that the United States was to be represented in the conference. It was also taken to deny the rumor that British troops are involved in the plans for an advance into the Ruhr Valley.

The announcement came as a bombshell to political and diplomatic circles, for it completely overturned all previous plans. The Hythe conference is thus reduced to a dialogue between Premiers Lloyd George and Briand, whereas the announced program had called for a thorough discussion of all big questions by representatives of the four chief European allies—France, Britain, Belgium and Italy.

Italy Not Satisfied

Comment on the foreign office statement revolved chiefly around the question as to what seventh hour development had upset the schedule and made the conference a two nations affair. It was at Hythe Saturday that Premier Briand was to submit to the statesmen of England, Belgium and Italy the complete plans France has mapped out for coercing Germany to meet the reparations demands on or immediately after May 1. It has been apparent for days that Italy viewed the prospect of fresh military action against the Germans with misgivings and that Lloyd George is opposed to it for practical economic reasons. Belgium alone was understood to favor whole hearted approval of an co-operation with the French plans. Today's official announcement gives the situation the aspects of a near crisis and subsequent developments are watched for with considerable tension.

BRYAN IN THE FIELD AGAIN AGAINST THE USE OF BEER

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME IS ADOPTED BY CHENEY BROS.

That Means That Town Will Have to Follow Suit—Push Clock Hands Ahead One Hour on Sunday Night on Retiring.

Cheney Brothers announced today that they would set their clocks ahead one hour next Saturday night and would run on the daylight schedule this summer. This means that Manchester will have daylight saving time for this firm with its five thousand employees regulates by its working hours the movements in so many homes that the rest of the town will be compelled to follow suit. While no official announcement has been made as all have been waiting to see what Cheney Brothers are going to do there is no doubt that the advance of clocks throughout the town will be general and that factories, schools, churches and places of amusement, stores, banks and post offices will be governed by the new time.

Schools May Not Change Clocks

Howell Cheney, chairman of the Ninth district school board, raised the question today as to the power of a school district to change its clocks when the legislature has approved standard time. While there is nothing in the law to prevent an individual or a corporation from setting its clocks as it pleases, a school district, being a sub-division of a municipality, would Mr. Cheney thinks violate the law if it abandoned the use of standard time.

"Of course," said Mr. Cheney, "we shall start the sessions of our schools an hour earlier, but it is doubtful whether we can legally change our clocks."

Concerted Move to Compel Reversal of Palmer Ruling Making Beer and Wine Available for Medical Purposes.

Washington, Apr. 21.—The dry swung into action for a final fight to prevent beer and wine sales on doctors prescriptions. Congress is the objective. Their battle plans are drawn and are to be pushed with all the legislative cunning for which past prohibition victories have been noted.

Bryan Is Leader.

Under the leadership of William Jennings Bryan the drys were brought together in a concerted move to compel an immediate reversal of a recent opinion of the Department of Justice which threw to the discard some of the more stringent rules of the prohibition bureau. The drys today charged that the objectionable opinion, drafted for the Treasury by former attorney general Palmer before he left office, is the "opening wedge of the wedge to restore the liquor traffic."

To Kill Palmer Edict.

Col. Bryan was particularly bitter today in discussing what he termed the disastrous results which may follow the Palmer opinion, authorizing beer and wine sales. In his opinion it will transform drug stores into wide open saloons. With other prohibition leaders Col. Bryan urged to make a vigorous drive at once on the administration to "kill" the Palmer edict.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon with general supervision in prohibition enforcement affairs, will decline to have a review of the opinion under attack but will proceed with haste to promulgate the regulations, placing beer and wine on the market for sale to those legally entitled to buy.

The drys turned again to the Attorney General in the hope that he will voluntarily dig up the Palmer opinion and reconsider the provisions in it chiefly under attack.

Resourceful drys, falling in their moves, may take their fight to the President and ask him personally to intervene, it developed today. They assert that under the procedure existing the President would instruct the Attorney General to reopen the whole subject.

The quiet maneuvering developed an earnest purpose by the drys to press the matter further tightening the Volstead law, as soon as possible to upset the effectiveness of expected administrative regulations. The plan of the drys is to take the so called exemptions in the Volstead law, governing liquors, wines and beers for medical purposes, relying on their strength in Congress to spike them with amendments so restrictive that will make it almost impossible to obtain liquors for medical needs.

Legal experts of the dry leaders were set to work upon suggested changes in the law ready to offer them if other attempts to annul the beer and wine programs meet with failure.

STRANGE REASON FOR DIVORCE

Wife Offered to Serve Sentence of Clara Smith Hamon if Convicted and Loses Husband in Conse- quence.

Emmettsburg, Ia., April 21.—H. P. Johnson is divorced from his wife today because Mrs. Johnson wrote to a Des Moines newspaper offering to serve the sentence of Clara Smith Hamon in case the latter were convicted of the slaying of Jake L. Hamon. Judge Lee granted Johnson an absolute decree of divorce.

"BIG BILL" HAYWOOD BREAKS JAIL

Leader of I. W. W. Reported to be On His Way to Russia.

Chicago, Apr. 21.—"Big Bill" Haywood, leader of the I. W. W., who has been presumed to have entered the federal prison at Fort Leavenworth yesterday to complete the serving of a 20 year prison sentence, has escaped from the federal authorities and is now en route to Moscow, Russia, according to word received here today by U. S. District Attorney Charles F. Clynne.

MURDERERS GIVEN 62 DAYS RESPITE

Illinois Governor Gives Men Who Were to Have Been Hanged To- morrow a Chance to Appeal.

Chicago, April 21.—Sixty-two days more life today have been granted three men who were to have been hanged in the Cook County jail tomorrow.

Governor Small relieved until June 23 Harry Ward, Grover Redding and Oscar McGavick in order that they might have time for an appeal to the Supreme court.

Ward, known as "The Lone Wolf," was convicted of the murder of Thomas Graney, a street cleaner. Redding and McGavick, both negroes, were leaders in a "Back to Abyssinia" movement and were convicted of killing Robert L. Rose, a sailor, who protested the burning of an American flag during a parade of the "Abyssinians" on the south side.

DRIVER OF BOMB WAGON IDENTIFIED

Several Persons Declare Man Under Arrest in Scranton Drove Wagon Into Wall Street Before Big Ex- plosion.

Washington, April 21.—Although three or four persons have identified Tito Luigio, now under arrest in Scranton as the man who drove the alleged bomb wagon into Wall Street shortly before the explosion there last September, W. J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice, stated today that he wants further proof that Luigio is the man wanted.

"Three or four persons who claim to have seen the delapidated wagon drive into Wall Street have identified Luigio," Flynn said, "but I am not altogether certain he is the man. I would like further proof."

Luigio will not be taken to New York for the present, Flynn stated, but will be questioned in Scranton and his finger prints will be sent to New York for comparison with prints which it is stated were found on pieces of the wagon and the harness picked up after the explosion.

AUTO BILL THROWN

OUT BY SENATE

The Senate today after a long debate upsetting the judiciary committee and by a rising vote of 18 to 13 supported Senator Brooks in his opposition to a favorably reported bill from the committee which would change sec. 43 of the present automobile code and revert to a former law by providing that of fines, forfeitures and costs collected for automobile violations, 25 per cent should be retained by the towns in which the convictions was had and 75 per cent, instead of all as at present, should go to the state highway commissioner for highway expenses.

Senator Brooks warmly championed by Senator Hall, of Willington and Senator Clark of Waterbury and others, predicted a wave of craft and speed traps and charged expectations of craft on the part of certain small courts, despite the uttered amazement of Senator Garlick and others, who professed astonishment that a state senator should voice such sentiments concerning courts of justice.

Senator Brooks who is one of the chief authors of the state auto code said the state had the reputation of having the best and most elastic and smoothly operating automobile law in the country and pointed out that the present total auto valuation of the state was $43,600,000, all new taxable property since 1902. As to chairman Delaney's contention that small courts needed some financial assistance and that the newly created courts of Fairfield and Windsor Locks could use the 25 per cent split, Sen. Brooks retorted that the Fairfield court was practically created in the hope of laying "speed traps" on the stretch of state road through the town.

The Senate passed from its calendar with an amendment by Senator Challenger a Bridgeport city charter change which reduced the personnel of the board of education from 12 to 8 and provides that teachers shall be paid twice per month.

The bill to require toilets in mercantile and manufacturing establishments retained its place on the calendar.

The Senate received unfavorable reports on the two bills calling for privileges for all people in all towns and amending the civil rights act.

Favorable reports were received on bills increasing from $25 to $35 the state expenditures for headstones for deceased soldiers, on a bill appropriating $2,000 to the state highway commissioner to erect along the state highway between New Haven and Springfield, Mass., memorials reading "Connecticut's memorial to those who served in the World War"; on a bill incorporating the Appraisal Title & Fidelity Co. of Hartford with Charles W. Cramer, Arthur E. Howard, Jr. and Arthur Searles Cramer as incorporators.

Under suspension of the rules the Senate passed two bills, with reference to a Norwich bond issue, approved by the governor April 13, the general law providing for excepting the value of the private electric plants and their bonds issues from the scope of the present statutory 5 per cent limitation on municipal bond issues.

The Senate today probably by error, inasmuch as Senator Delaney later attempted unsuccessfully to get a committee of conference, killed the bill favorably reported by the judiciary committee, for payment to the wife or children of a forfeited non-support bond. The House yesterday adhered on disagreeing action on an amendment.

The Senate took from the table with consent of Senator Banks and passed a bill paying $2,250 to ex-Senator Charles C. Cook of West Hartford for services in appraising the assets of the American Real Estate Co. of New York.

VOLSTEAD ENFORCEMENT BILL IN COMMITTEE

Hartford, April 21.—The House today referred to the judiciary committee the petition of the New Haven Chamber of Commerce for strict enforcement of the Volstead law, this petition having been previously sent to the federal relations committee.

The House received a favorable report from the committee on fish and game which reorganizes the present fish and game commission of eight members into a commission of three to be appointed by the governor on or before June 1 to serve respectively, two, four and six years and biennially thereafter for six years. The commission is required to meet at least once a month.

The committee on humane institutions reported favorably on a bill directing the governor to designate a member of the state board of control who shall be ex-officio a director of state aided hospitals.

The judiciary committee reported back favorably the bill which prohibits transportation of gasoline and explosives on common carriers and trolley cars as in the case of the recent Shelton tragedy.

There was an unfavorable report from the fish and game commission on a bill prohibiting more than one hook and line in fish.

Favorable report from the committee on cities and boroughs urging towns in cooperation with their trustees to erect state roads.

Favorable report came from the education committee providing for education of the adult blind of the state.

Favorable report was received on the transportation of children to and from public schools.

The House concurred with the Senate in recommending the forfeited rights petition of Herbert M. Knapp of Bridgeport.

Favorable report came in on registration of bulls and stallions, also on a bill extending the time until 1923 for building the Meriden, Hartford and New Britain railway company.

The House passed bills from its calendar including bowling alleys among the prohibitions in the present law concerning women and infants; making the owner of an automobile for negligent operation; providing for transfer to the state of the Conn. School for Girls at Middletown; creating the new probate district of Darien; changing the name of the Chatham probate district to East Hampton; authorizing New Britain to issue bonds; extending time for organization and construction of the New Britain, Kensington and Meriden Street Railway Co.; incorporating the Riggs School of Salisbury; appropriating $7,000 for experimentation in tobacco research at the agricultural experiment station; authorizing an increase to $10,000,000 in the capital of the Bridgeport Hydraulic Co. appropriating $50,000 for expense of acquisition and condemnation of land needed for improvement of approaches to the New London steamship terminal; authorizing pensions for public library employees; repealing the present fishery rights in Connecticut of residents of New York state; appropriating $150,000 to expand the water supply at the Norwich state hospital; authorizing Hartford county to take land needed for approaches for the new Windsor Locks-Warehouse Point bridge.

THE STOCK MARKET.

New York, April 21.—Although a few issues made gains at the opening of the stock market today the leading issues were under pressure and sustained losses of from fractions to two points.

The steel stocks were heavy, Steel Common falling 1-2 to 81. Other quotations: Crucible, 77; Republic Steel, 58 7-8; Royal Dutch, 61 3-8; Mexican Petroleum, 143 3-4; Studebaker, 79 3-8; Dome Mines, 21 3-4; Goodrich, 35 5-8; American Sumatra, 71; American Sugar, 87 3-4.

There was little doing in the rails. While the market showed a generally strong tone with rallies in the steel industrial and advances in the petroleum stocks, there were many issues which were in supply at concessions.

NEWS FLASHES

Los Angeles, April 21.—A slight earthquake shock was felt here at 7.40 a. m. today. The shock was hardly perceptible in the business district but in the southwestern part of the city there was some alarm and reports of slight damage were made later in the morning.

HUGHES WILL NOT QUIBBLE WITH JAPAN

Washington, Apr. 21.—There will be no "quibbling" with Japan in the controversy over the Island of Yap it was indicated strongly at the State Department today when attention was called to the number of reports emanating from Tokyo and London and Paris concerning the probable tenor of the Japanese reply to Secretary of State Hughes recent note.

This government, it was stated, will maintain firmly the position that Yap is a former German possession which was surrendered by her to the allied and associated powers of which the United States was one. There will be no deviation from that position.

Reports have reached the State Department that Japan in replying to the Hughes note, will take the position that Yap was allocated to her by agreement among the great powers before the U. S. entered the war and that, therefore the island is not among the fruits of victory to which this country can rightfully claim a share.

Such a contention, if it is made by Japan, will not be considered for a minute by this government, it was emphatically stated today. It was pointed out that Yap was discussed with considerable frequency at Paris and at no time during those discussions was any mention made of Japan having a prior claim to the important little island.

The State Department did not manifest today any particular concern over Tokyo reports that the Japanese cabinet had "refused to yield" on the Yap question. The cabinet in the view of those familiar with the workings of the Tokyo government has very little to do with the formulation of governmental policy in foreign affairs or any other policies of grave moment.

Above the cabinet is the advisory council, above the advisory is the privy council, and above all three stands the emperor.

They are responsible only to him and not to the Diet.

It is taken as a foregone conclusion here that the Japanese reply will be framed by the council, the so called "elder statesmen" and that the cabinet will have little if anything to do with determining its provisions or alone.

Officials here much prefer that "public comment in Japan is intended solely for home consumption.

PEGGY MARSH LOSES SUIT FOR MILLIONS.

Springfield, Ill., Apr. 21.—The Illinois supreme court ruled today that Henry Anthony Marsh, son of Peggy Marsh, London actress, is not the legitimate son of Henry Field and therefore is not entitled to a share in the Field millions.

Peggy Marsh claimed a part of the Field fortune for her son but the superior court of Cook County ruled against her contention and the higher court here upheld this decision.

New York, Apr. 21.—Mrs. Peggy Marsh Johnson, who last Jan. married Albert L. Johnson, nephew of the former Mayor of Cleveland said today that the verdict of the Illinois supreme court did not surprise her in the least.

"I had expected a decision along that line," she said. "However it makes little difference for there has been a settlement affected with Henry Marsh, whose father was Henry Field, by the Field estate.

"The Fields long ago have recognized that my boy is Henry Field's son but not his legitimate son.

Mrs. Johnson said she would make a further statement after telephoning her attorneys.

Mrs. Johnson later corrected her statement that a definite settlement in behalf of Henry Marsh has been made, but stated she believed that such a settlement was in process of negotiations between her attorneys and those of the Field estate. She said she did not know what the outcome might be.

Mrs. Johnson was preparing today to receive her little boy who for two months following her recent illness, was sent to the country for a holiday.

Her husband, a former army officer, is an heir to a large fortune.

SPRING OUT OF COURT

Suit brought by Clara Schmidt Against Manchester, at Last Settled.

The case of Clara Schmidt against the Town of Manchester was settled outside of court yesterday morning. The case was slated to come before Judge Webb and a jury yesterday in Hartford.

Judge Herbert O. Bowers, who defended the case, said this morning that it cost the town of Manchester several times more than the sum originally asked.

Following is a resume of the case: The scene of the accident was on the sidewalk on Hartford road near Olcott street going west. Mrs. Schmidt was returning to her home on the evening of September 28, 1915. Previous to this time the heavy summer rain had washed out deep holes in the sidewalk. The town had been notified of this condition as the sidewalk is one that is much used and had been in existence for many years. They failed to repair the walk and on the night mentioned the woman in question walked into one of these holes and twisted her ankle, tearing some of the ligaments and injuring her foot so severely that she has been a cripple ever since and it is thought will be so for some years to come. Her foot had to be placed in a cast for a long time. Suit to recover damages was brought against the town about a year later. The town refused to settle on the ground of the following technical point, namely, that proper notice of the accident was not filed with the town authorities.

The case was tried before Judge Burpee in the Superior court and he ruled that there had not been proper and sufficient notice given the town. The case was then carried to the Supreme court of the state and that court decided that sufficient and proper notice had been given and that the town was liable.

The case was returned to the Superior court and assigned for a hearing yesterday. However, before the court was opened the case was settled.

Circle Theater

William Farnum, the popular Fox star, whose pictures, ever since his memorable "Les Miserables" have won him a host of admirers, is the attraction at the Circle theatre tonight in his new production, "The Orphan". This is a six reel picture of a thrilling story laid in the desert west.

For years all the countryside has trembled at the mention of "The Orphan." Such is the name given to a notorious bandit, played by William Farnum. As we get to know the orphan, however, we find that despite all his evil reputation, he is good at heart. When the sheriff, who is seeking to kill him, is attacked by Indians, "the orphan" interferes and aids in driving them off. Again, when a stage coach, containing the niece of the sheriff, is attacked, he comes to the rescue. There is a reformation, of course, after he comes under the influence of the sweet girl, but not until he has fulfilled his vow, and killed the man who murdered his father.

There are few, if any, more thrilling pictures to come to the screen in recent months, than "The Orphan." Besides the daring riding and exciting chases, there are numerous realistic battle scenes. In addition, the picture has been taken in one of the most beautiful spots in America—the Western deserts, with their towering mountains in the background.

On the same bill will be a Mutt and Jeff cartoon, "Topics of the Day" and a Snub Pollard Comedy. Tomorrow's feature will be Wallace Reid and Wanda Hawley in "Double Speed."

LOCOMOTIVE EXPLODES

Men Blown to Pieces on Locomotive. Yellow Railroad and One Seriously Wounded.

Buffalo, April 21.—Three men were instantly killed and another seriously injured today when a high valley locomotive blew up near the town of Victor. The dead were Edward Sweeney, 40, residing in Shortsville; Neil Smith, 37, residing in Shortsville; Robert Berry, brakeman, Manchester. Stanley Flexer, 37, man, Manchester, badly hurt. The engine was one of the two locomotives that were drawing an eastbound freight train. The dead were practically blown to pieces.

Electric Light and Power Remove Drudgery From Home

Power of the farm has proved to be one of the greatest time and labor savers the farmers know. Power in the home is one of the greatest of booms to the busy housewife, but a recent survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture in 10,000 homes in the northern and western States discloses the fact that but 15 per cent of the farm homes in the country have this advantage.

THE BOLIVAR STATUE.

President Harding since his inauguration has given vigorous proof of his ability in the office of chief executive. It is his final decision which is manifest in the strong assertion of American rights, duties and privileges in the notes of Secretary of State Hughes to Panama, Japan, Great Britain, France and Italy.

The President's first public speech since March 4 was opportunely and felicitously inspired by the occasion of the unveiling at New York of a statue to Simon Bolivar, the George Washington of South America. It afforded him a rare opportunity to inform the world as to the exact meaning of the Monroe doctrine as conceived in the western hemisphere.

In view of certain present developments in Colombia, Costa Rica and farther south, foreign pretensions and encroachments that are not going without notice, this pronouncement of the President of the United States must be accepted as a grave and solemn warning to foreign nations to not go too far, an unimpaired and vigorous statement of the Monroe doctrine.

This hemisphere wants to live in peace and pursue its enlightened aims without the continual dread of devastating warfare that hangs over Europe. It wants no wars. Talking of the American system, President Harding with complete truth and propriety draws attention to the fact that history recalls no parallel of achievement in a period so brief. We have filled two continents with splendid and prosperous states, declares the President. We have maintained ourselves independent of the older systems, aloof from their differences and struggles, except when civilization with its back to the wall demanded the American strength in the scale on the side of right.

The honor given to Bolivar by our President is neither misplaced nor misunderstood. Venezuela, the donor of the statue unveiled in New York, claims him as peculiarly her own yet Colombia, Ecuador, Peru and Bolivia (the latter nation bearing his name) have reason to honor his memory as their liberator from the yoke of Spain. Had the forces that irresistibly compelled the thirteen colonies into nationhood been in operation in South America in Bolivar's time there might have been one mighty nation there instead of a congeries of republics, large and small. But destiny works its will on peoples as on individuals. However, the similarity of origin and of fundamental principles of political freedom bind the nations of the West powerfully together and President Harding's insistence on the existence of that strong tie is both statesmanlike and timely.

TO STOP LYNCHING

United States Senator Medill McCormick sponsors a measure which will receive cordial support in this part of the country and should have approval throughout the nation. He asks for the creation of a national commission to investigate mob violence. He bases his call for immediate action by Congress on "the appalling number of lynchings already this year and the condition of peonage and horrible murders resulting from it in Jasper County, Georgia"—murders for which the state of Georgia, the Empire state of the South has decreed, to her own credit, life imprisonment as punishment for the instigator.

President Harding in his message at the opening of Congress, adverted to this subject and declared that lynchings must stop in the United States. He made many friends during his pre-election tour of the South and undoubtedly the best element in the South will rally around his demand for real democracy and the reign of law.

McCormick is from Chicago and cannot be expected to understand thoroughly the problems of the South. There is in the North sympathy with the difficulties that have afflicted and still continue to bother the South but there is no sympathy with the frequent appeals to mob revenge. Such defiance of the fundamental law has no place in the United States and, if necessary, it will be suppressed ruthlessly.

In Senator McCormick's statement supporting his bill it is told that there were 295 persons killed by mobs in this country in the five year period from 1916 to 1920, inclusive. 3,112 were lynched in the last quarter of a century. With our immediate background of the great war these figures are not terribly appalling except in connotation with the departure involved in each case from the protective regulations that society has laid down for its own preservation.

They are appalling as a commentary on the successful progress of democratic institutions. And the record is not getting any better. Last year "sixty colored and nine white persons were lynched in this country." In less than four months of 1921 there have been 20 lynchings. There is no holier-than-thou disposition here in the north. There is just a jealous regard for the fair fame of our common country.

D. A. R. ON RACE SUICIDE.

A few years ago it would have been thought amazing for the Daughters of the American Revolution to comment on race suicide. Theodore Roosevelt altered all that. And so we accept with appreciation the resolution of the Daughters assembled at Washington calling upon their members "to do their duty to the revolutionary ancestors" by increasing the birth rate.

It would be strangely foreign to American sentiment to take the resolution in any other spirit than as a real patriotic desire to conserve and guarantee the welfare of the nation. Every Daughter is urged to give four children to America, every fourth child to be the special care of the D. A. R. Whether either contemplation is possible or practicable naturally remains to be proved, but it cannot be denied that the resolution is a move in the right direction.

"No country offers better conditions for the propagation of the human race than our fair land," say the Daughters, but it is a trifle difficult to follow them when they speak of the "conservation of the hardy pioneer race of America." Have there been no contributions to the stamina of the nation since 1619 and 1620 and no further development in that direction since 1776 or 1783?

DAYLIGHT SAVING AND THE CLOCKS

Returns from practically all the cities and large towns in the state reveal an overwhelming sentiment in favor of daylight saving. That being the case, the only way to bring it about without endless confusion is to advance all the clocks one hour. For generations people have had the habit of doing certain things at certain hours. Not only have they formed habits of rising and retiring at certain hours, but all day long each individual has had a more or less complicated timetable which has governed his actions. For example, he had not only a regular hour for starting and stopping work but in many instances the work itself has been divided into certain periods governed by the clock. Think for a moment of the number of times you consult watch or clock during a day and you will realize how completely your actions are governed by the timepiece. Then consider what it would mean each time you look at watch or clock to stop and think that the hands are an hour out of the way and to consider what effect that fact will have upon your accomplishments and your relation to others whose activities interlock with yours. Your mental processes will be multiplied many times a day and what is true of one will be true of everybody. In many cases the old habit will cause mistakes some of which may have serious consequences. If, by constant care, people train themselves to prepare for work at six a. m. instead of seven and to go to dinner at 11 o'clock instead of 12 and to perform all the other little duties of the day an hour earlier than their habit has been; then at the end of a few months they will have to begin all over again and adjust themselves to another time schedule, with more inconvenience and more opportunities for costly mistakes.

With the clocks set one hour ahead there will be no change of schedules.

There will be no need for conscious effort of the mind every time one glances at the clock. Certain duties will be associated with the same hours as they always have been.

In past years when daylight saving was universal and clocks were set ahead all at once the change was hardly noticed; whereas the very thought of trying to do everything an hour, earlier without changing the clocks has caused endless confusion. It would be better not to adopt daylight saving at all than to try to carry it through the summer months without changing the clocks.

EDWARD W. POST.

The circumstances surrounding the death of Edward W. Post yesterday make the case particularly distressing. A young man in the full enjoyment of health and vigor he was cut off without warning while hurrying to perform a public service. In a brief hour his two fine boys were left fatherless and his wife a widow. By profession an undertaker, Mr. Post was familiar with death and suffering. Only a week ago today he hastened to the scene of the Roger-mill explosion in response to a call for his ambulance and aided in removing the mutilated and quivering bodies of the victims to the hospital. He little dreamed then that a week later his own broken body would be borne to the same place.

Mr. Post was an active member of Orford Hose Company, a volunteer organization which has made a record for efficiency in getting to fires. Because his home was near the hose house and because he was familiar with automobiles he was chosen as driver for the chemical truck. Whenever the alarm for his company sounded he made all haste to reach the hose house and start the apparatus for the fire. In his zeal to answer yesterday's alarm he ran in front of a passing automobile and was fatally injured. With greater care and less haste he might have saved his life. But in his desire to serve others he forgot himself and in an instant his strength and vigor and all his hopes for the future were blotted out.

The proposition to license the sellers of "near beer" has been taking up a lot of time at the capitol this week, which might have been better employed in some other way. "Near beer" contains less than one and a half percent of alcohol and is as harmless as tea or coffee. The attempt to revive old saloon methods by associating this "beer" with a license system is deplorable. Everyone has a right to sell non-alcoholic beverages as freely as sugar or beans. The saloon and all that savors of it should be wiped out and forgotten.

Bird lovers have noticed an unusually large number of song sparrows in this vicinity this year. They are welcome additions to our bird colony. They have a cheery song and take kindly to human companionship. It is their habit to frequent the same localities year after year. Now that they have discovered Manchester it is to be hoped that they will stay with us.

TRAFFIC LAW EXPLAINED.

Editor of The Herald:—

The action of motorists in rushing to the scene of yesterday's fire and the resulting congestion of traffic at the Center, drew expressions of disgust from persons who witnessed the spectacle.

Article 4, section 7, of the Traffic Rules and Regulations of the Town of Manchester reads as follows: "The driver of a vehicle, on the approach of a fire engine or any other fire apparatus, shall immediately draw up said vehicle as near as practicable to the right hand curb or gutter and parallel thereto and bring it to a stop."

Violation of the above rule is punishable by a fine not exceeding twenty dollars for each offense.

Respectfully,

H. A. NETTLETON.

POTATO SCAB LOWERS GRADE.

Scab is an example of a field disease that causes severe depreciation in the value of a crop of potatoes, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The presence of a few scabby potatoes may lower the grade of an otherwise fancy lot. In some sections scab can be controlled by seed treatment, but in many instances careful grading will prevent scabby potatoes as well as those affected with wire-worm, white-grub, nematode, and flea-beetle injury from reaching the market.

New York Letter by Lucy Johnson Price

New York, April 21.—The massed array of witnesses of the two sides of the Stillman divorce case would make up a very good musical comedy of the sort where no expense is spared in the chorus effects. Simple Indians and pioneers from the Canadian forests will be offset by bespangled chorus girls of Broadway, not forgetting the nautical division from the good ship Modesty, Mr. Stillman's yacht. The available array includes astrologers, bell boys, maid servants, apartment house superintendents, and others too numerous to particularize, who would just be listed on the program as "ladies and gentlemen of the ensemble" or maybe, "voce-mary."

There's a terrible shock awaiting any visitor to the city from far away who goes down to see the excitement in the stock exchange these days. We've grown so accustomed to thinking of it as a place of hectic clamorings and chaos in which coats and collars are torn asunder that it is sort of like stepping into the hush of a library to go into the exchange these days. The brokers have taken to checkers to keep awake, some of them, while others spend the time comparing golf records, some livelier souls discovered that dice were helpful in whittling away the silent hours, but the governors reminded them that gambling is prohibited (of course) within the precincts of the stock exchange. There is nothing else to do. The frenzied public refuses to become frenzied right now about stocks. The only excitement the floor has seen in several days—or pretty nearly weeks—took place the other morning when one of the youthful members conceived a happy thought of livening up things by a new ticker arrangement. It is a transparent globe of water that they can be read twenty feet away. It looked so much like a goldfish bowl that the light-shes in it and almost upset business. But most of the time, now, the change is just about like the U. S. senate during a nice, long speech.

In "Dream Street," David Wark Griffith has achieved what a lot of New York bristles have been assuming this season to be well-nigh impossible. He has dramatized a story of goodness and light—and happiness in conflict with wickedness and darkness and despair, against a background in which the forces of darkness had all the best of it, and he has made goodness and happiness the victor and has given, at the same time, a tremendously artistic production. It is a sweeping answer to the people who have argued that in a story in which it looked as though happiness was doomed, it must be doomed, or else the drama misses the fire of realism and art. "Dream Street" in its bigness and its power is another "Broken Blossoms," but I'll admit that I was glad it lacked the final tragedy.

The controversy which has raged in art and court circles these past months between the claims of blondes vs. those of brunettes seems to have met not with a fairly practical decision in the quotation from a prominent hairdresser. "Which is the more artistic, he echoed. "Which the more royal?" And he shrugged his shoulders. "I don't know, I'm sure. All I know is that I get 40 cents an ounce more for blonde hair than for dark. That shows which most people want to be."

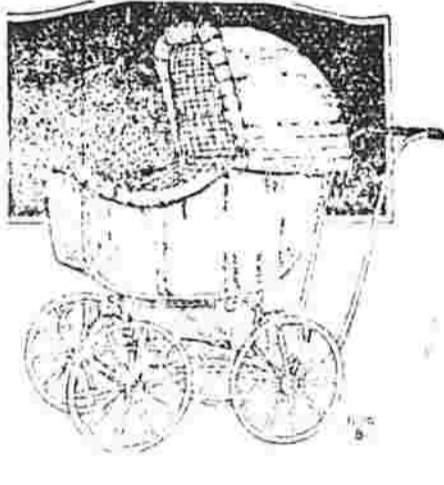

Anna Sabata, who decided that she would become a movie star rather than a waitress, got back her $40 paid for the lessons which were to be the open sesame to film fame. Miss Sabata appeared in court as complainant against George R. Cole, who had inserted the ad which lured her $40 from her savings bank. She had been promised, Miss Sabata declared, a position which would enable her to ride in a limousine. Instead, she had only been taught to recite "On Our Wedding Day", and she was still a waitress. She offered to recite it for the court, but before she got through, it was decided that the evidence was sufficient to get her $40 back.

It did seem a trifle like rubbing it in, to some of New York City's state income tax payers this year. Not only did it have to be paid—and minus some of the federal exemption—but they had to walk into the room which used to be the Cafe Sarvarin bar, to pay it. "I mailed mine," one heavy tax-payer was explaining on the bus, "just because I could not bear to walk into that room and see it all filled up with desks and clerks and people taking money—and not passing out what I used to get there in return for it."

WATKINS BROTHERS, Inc.

DEFECTS IN SCHOOL CHILDREN.

"The prevention and correction of mental defectiveness," says the U. S. Public Health Service, "is one of the great public health problems of today. Its influence is continually cropping out. For instance, recent studies have shown that feeble-mindedness is an important factor in prostitution, and that a marked proportion of juvenile delinquency is traceable to some degree of mental deficiency in the offender."

"A recent state-wide survey in Oregon shows that more than 75,000 men, women and children out of a total population of 783,000 are dependents, delinquents, or feeble-minded, and that more than 500 school children out of a total enrolled school population of 32,500 are more or less mentally deficient. The latter fact is significant when it is remembered that the condition of children of today is the best possible index to the condition of the community tomorrow."

"The Oregon figures are considerably lower than the average shown by the draft examination, indicating that they are certainly not higher than those that would be obtained in other states."

CAREFUL HANDLING IN FIELD PREVENTS POTATO LOSSES

Growers and shippers are responsible for much of the loss that results from shipping diseased potatoes.

Says His Prescription Has Powerful Influence Over Rheumatism

Mr. James H. Allen suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work. He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body. With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system. He freely gave his discovery to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. Mag-nell Drug Co., South Manchester, has been appointed agent for Allenru in this vicinity with the understanding that he will freely return the purchase money on the first two bottles to all who send their names and addresses.

FITZGERALD BROTHERS EXPRESS FURNITURE & PIANO MOVERS. 153 BIRCH STREET SO. MANCHESTER, CONN. PHONE 217. We Move Furniture Carefully!

since a large part of such losses can be controlled, if not entirely prevented, in the field, according to specialists of the Bureau of Markets of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Serious damage results from careless handling when the potatoes are harvested. Too many persons, it is said, handle potatoes as though they were so many cobbles rather than a perishable product. Even the breaking of the protective skin frequently proves serious. Such injury not only damages the appearance and necessitates deep paring of the tuber, but affords ready entrance to infection. Loss of this sort lies in every grower's and shipper's power to control, it is pointed out.

SIZE ALONE DOES NOT DETERMINE GRADE OF POTATOES

In grading potatoes too much dependence should not be put on sizing alone, say specialists of the Bureau of Markets, United States Department of Agriculture. A potato, for example, may be so covered with second growth knobs that it will not pass through the meshes of the grader, but it does not rightly belong in the first grade. The knobs mean much waste and require extra time in preparing the tuber for the table. Or, a potato may measure up satisfactorily to the standards of size and yet be so diseased as to be worthless. A potato may even present a fine price-winning appearance on the surface and be far below grade because of injuries or disease of which there is no evidence without cutting it. Freezing injury, or hollow heart, illustrates cases of this kind. The grower should not be blamed for losses which result from these causes, but to a great extent field conditions are the primary cause of the troubles, which appear when the potatoes are marketed.

ALL THE SAME TO HER. That daddy in the eyes of childhood is always just as big a man as any in the world was evidenced one day in the West Indianapolis branch library.

A tiny, smiling girl stood at the desk. "What does your father do?" asked the librarian in an effort to identify her father among the many men of the same name in the city directory. "He's either a 'millioner' or an engineer, and I can't remember which," returned the tiny one, with a puzzled frown.—Indianapolis News.

FINALS IN TOURNAMENT FURNISH MANY THRILLS

Eleven Wrestling and Boxing Bouts Held at the Rec.

SPECIAL BOUT PLEASES

Strong Man from North End Loses to Veteran from Hartford—Medals Awarded to Winners.

A goodly crowd attended the finals in the boxing and wrestling tournament held at the Rec last evening. There were eleven bouts and many thrills. With but one exception the decisions of the judges met with the favor of the fans.

The first bout on the card was a wrestling match between two 115 pounders named Phaneuff and Menekutz. The bout started with a rush but from the first Phaneuff proved the cleverer and at the end of five minutes and forty seconds he pinned his opponent's shoulders to the mat with a double arm lock.

Next was a boxing bout between Duplease and Young. Here were two clever boxers but from the start they threw science to the wind and stood toe to toe and swapped wallops. For two rounds honors were even but in the third and final stanza Duplease showed up better and he was declared the winner.

The third bout brought together two boxers in the 125 pound class, Giorgetti and Rohan. They fought so evenly for three rounds that the judges could not decide and ordered them on for a fourth. In this Giorgetti who had been leading most of the time, became more aggressive and was given the honors.

Wiganowski and Cervini stepped under the ropes for the next boxing bout. They weighed in at 135 pounds. Cervini seemed a bit heavier and was consequently slower than his opponent. Because Wiganowski carried the fight to Cervini all through the three rounds and landed the cleaner blows, he was declared the winner.

The fifth bout brought together Nilsson and Vendrillo in a wrestling match. They weighed in at 145 pounds. It was give and take for five minutes. Vendrillo had his man in dangerous positions many times but Nilsson squirmed out of them, but at the end of 13 minutes and 10 seconds Vendrillo downed his opponent with a leg and ankle hold.

The next bout brought together two clever wrestlers. Some of the fans present said they were as good as any at their weight in New England. Gladski, a Greek, was pitted against Playote, a Frenchman. They were veterans at the game and worked for fifteen minutes without a decision. The judges decided to give them a rest and allow them five minutes more later in the evening but Playote failed to appear and the bout was awarded to the Greek.

The seventh number on the bill started off with a rush. It was a boxing bout between Bellucci and Humphrey. The latter had his hands taped but the former neglected to do this. As a result, in the first round, Bellucci sprained his thumb and the judges called off the bout.

When Dietz and Fallot stepped into the ring for the next boxing bout the fans settled themselves down for a rattling good exhibition. They were not disappointed. Both boxers started off with a rush, Dietz with some knowledge of the game but Fallot swinging wildly. As a result of this wildness, Dietz walked straight into a terrific blow which struck him on the jaw and put him down for the count of five. He rose to his feet, groggy, with his hands down. His opponent made a rush for him and to save him the judges rang the bell stopping the bout.

This decision found little favor with the fans. Many of them believed that the round was ended and that since Dietz was on his feet he was not knocked out. The facts of the case were that the men had still a minute to go and that as Dietz was in danger of a knockout because of his conditions it was decided to stop the bout rather than have a real knockout.

George Bidwell and T. Hickey furnished the thrills for a wrestling bout next. Bidwell seemed stronger but his opponent had a new trick of wiggling out of tight places that won for him much applause. The bout ended in 14 minutes and 40 seconds when Bidwell clamped a body and arm lock on his man and forced his shoulders to the mat.

Mike Reggetts and Salvi Vendrillo boxed three rounds to a draw. These 65 pounders were in good trim and finished the bout fresher than any of the other contestants even though they fought just as fast. These boys are exceptionally clever and make a hit whenever they appear.

The star bout of the evening brought together Walter Wojnarowicz of the North End, and Tony Eselun of Hartford. Both are heavyweights. They agreed to wrestle for twenty minutes with the strange and toe holds barred.

The North End man was by far the stronger of the two but he is not yet an experienced wrestler. The Hartford man was an old timer, up to all the tricks of the game and at times he was unnecessarily rough.

The result of it was that the visitor wore out his opponent's courage and had him very much discouraged before the end of the bout. Twice Walter refused to continue but the shouts of the fans urged him on. His tricky opponent played his whole bag of stunts to rattle Walter and he succeeded. The judges had to decide in favor of the Hartford man as he had the better of the bout.

The winners were presented with medals after the bouts. The officials of the evening were: Jack Dwyer, referee for the boxing; Frank Hollister, referee of wrestling; Walter Olson, announcer; W. B. Rogers, Ray Miller, the professional boxer, and Will Asimus, judges.

Italian Ambassador at New Haven

Mayor Calls on Him And Later Count Ricci Visits Yale University.

New York, Apr. 21.—Count Vittorio R. Ricci, Italian ambassador, today received a formal visit from Mayor David E. Fitzgerald of this city, returning the visit of the ambassador at the city hall yesterday. The mayor and others called on the ambassador at the Hotel Tat and felicitations were exchanged.

Following the visit of the mayor, Ambassador Ricci paid a visit to Yale University where he was received at the administration by President Arthur T. Hadley and other Yale officials.

This afternoon the ambassador motored to Waterbury and will return to this city late today, to attend a reception to be given him in Woolsey Hall at Yale. He will later be the guest at a banquet to be given in his honor.

Bootleg Whiskey Causes Death

Two Small Sips Given by Her Sweetheart Kills Woman Who Was to Have Been Married Tomorrow.

New York, Apr. 21.—Two small sips of bootleg whiskey caused the death of Josephine Rahan, 32, according to her fiancé George Ferger, 42, who is under arrest pending autopsy. The couple was to be married Saturday. Ferger told the police that on his way to the young woman's house he met a bootlegger who sold him a half pint of alleged whiskey for $5. He gave his fiancée two drinks and took one himself. Miss Rahan died a few hours later. He offered to drink the rest of the bottle to show that it was not poison but the police are having it analyzed.

Stolen Automobile Drops 60 Feet

One of The Occupants Captured by Somerville Police While the Other Escapes.

Somerville, Mass., Apr. 21.—When a stolen automobile in which they were speeding dropped over a 60 foot embankment, crashed through two fences and imbedded itself in the side of a house today, two young men jumped from it uninjured and attempted to flee. Four policemen fired shots at one of the youths before catching him in a backyard. The other escaped. The youth apprehended identified himself as Maurice P. Fitzgerald, 17, of Cambridge.

BRITISH SHIPPING WINE TO AMERICA

Washington, April 21.—Great Britain grows in favor as a thirst quencher for "dry" America. British wines of ancient vintage now are being shipped for "medicinal purposes" to the United States at the rate of a quarter of a million dollars a year. March shipments of wines from London totalled $24,200. The bulk of the wine was entered through the New York custom house.

KNOX RESOLUTION REPORTED TO SENATE

State of War Between the United States and Central Powers Will be Ended Next Week.

Washington, April 21.—Within the next week Republican leaders of the Congress expect the long existing technical state of war between the United States and the Central Powers (Germany and Austria) to have been ended by a congressional resolution.

The Knox resolution, passed for the purpose by the last Congress, but vetoed by former President Wilson, will be reported favorably today to the Senate by the Senate foreign relations committee, according to the plan evolved by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, chairman of the committee, and Republican leader of the Senate, after consultation with President Harding.

In Senator Lodge's judgment the Knox measure will encounter few obstacles in either the Senate or House. He expects it to be passed by the Senate in the next few days, and by the House before the end of next week. He predicts it will receive the solid support of the entire Republican majority in both chambers.

Tariff Opposition.

Strong opposition to the equalization of exchange and anti-dumping features of the emergency tariff bill passed by the House has tied it up in the Senate finance committee with the prospect of Senator Penrose, the chairman, being unable to report it even in an amended form before next week.

The delay the tariff measure has encountered was not anticipated until the bill reached the Senate and when Senator Penrose's committee was forced to hold extended hearings on the equalization of exchange and anti-dumping provisions adopted by the House, the supporters of the Knox resolution seized the opportunity presented to secure immediate action on it.

THE BERGDOLL INQUIRY.

Washington, April 21.—Active investigation into the escape of Grover C. Bergdoll, millionaire slacker, was begun today by the special congressional committee appointed by the House. The committee's first step was to hold an organization meeting. At this meeting the procedure to be followed was decided on and preparations made to examine witnesses. Under the terms of the resolution ordering the investigation the committee may call in anyone it thinks will shed light on the circumstances of the escape.

Chairman Peters of the committee has not completed the list of those who will appear before the committee and time must be allowed for possible out of town witnesses who may be summoned it was said.

LOBBY SOCIAL AT "REC."

A lobby social and dance will be featured at the Recreation Center this evening. This will be the first of a series of weekly socials to be held this spring. Both instrumental and vocal selections will be rendered between 8 and 9 o'clock.

TRIAL OF "NICKEY" ARNSTEIN.

Washington, April 21.—Jazz music and playing cards, but no newspapers or other communication with the outer world have been provided for the 12 men who compose the jury in the trial of Jules "Nickey" Arnstein and his co-defendants, charged with bringing stolen bonds into the District of Columbia.

During the trial the jury will be under the supervision of deputy U. S. marshals.

The prosecution today is to be given an opportunity to show cause why Randolph S. Newman, one of the defendants, should not be dismissed, the defense charging that William E. Leahy, assistant U. S. attorney, in his opening address to the jury did not connect Newman with the charges as set forth in the indictment.

Reduce Those Dangerous Swollen Veins

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlarged or varicose veins and hunches to become normal, but also reduces gottor, enlarged glands and wens. Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moon's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded.

It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to hang on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. OLD POT VS. PERCOLATOR THERE'S NO DIFFERENCE

Queen of Coffee Demonstrators Says It's Just the Brand That Counts After All

At first you think it's her smile and her magnetic personality. Then you think it is the delicious cup of coffee she serves you. Finally you come to the conclusion that it is a happy blending of both. And you are right.

There are demonstrators and demonstrators in these days but Miss Koehane, who pleased so well at Hale's Self Serve last week that she will remain all this week also, is one out of the ordinary. She was sent here by Austin Nichols and Co. of New York, the world's largest distributors of food products and has been demonstrating coffee for the last twelve years. And something out of the ordinary is the fact that this is the first time she ever demonstrated any brand of coffee but Sunbeam.

But from the very start, so great a demand for Hale's Morning Luxury followed its introduction here, that the company decided to send their queen of demonstrators here to serve Morning Luxury. This by the way is specially blended by the same company for the Self Serve.

Everybody enjoys coffee but few know how to make it. Miss Koehane says that there are a half dozen ways of making coffee, all equally good but that if a poor quality of coffee is used the method of boiling it does not count. Yesterday she told a man from the country how to make coffee in his old fashioned pot and a second later demonstrated a modern percolator. She told both visitors that she would make equally good coffee both ways and she demonstrated it on the spot.

A visit to Hale's without a visit to Miss Koehane's demonstration booth is like seeing the play 'Hamlet' with Hamlet left out.

CHORUS GIRLS SAVE MONEY.

That the modern chorus girl is not the spendthrift of the popular stories is indicated by a survey recently made among the members of the chorus of "Good Times" at the New York Hippodrome. At the Hippodrome, 312 chorus girls have bank accounts, 131 own United States bonds, $9 have money invested in industrial bonds or conservative stocks. Only 15 admit that they had put their money and their hopes into "wildcat" investments, and only five admitted that they bet on the races more than five times a year.

TRAILING ARBUTUS IN DANGER OF EXTINCTION

Connecticut Leads in Its Protection—Street Sales Should Be Discouraged.

Throughout New England, the return of spring is associated with the flowering of the Trailing Arbutus.

Perhaps no other plant, by reason of the destruction which its beauty has brought upon it, has so forcibly drawn the attention of thoughtful persons to the need for conservation required by many of our wild flowers as has the Arbutus.

In the vicinity of our larger cities, it is now to be found only in rare and hidden localities.

Connecticut is to be congratulated on having taken the lead in the protection of the Arbutus by law.

time even in Connecticut, especially near the cities. The growth of the plant is very precarious. It spreads slowly, the prostrate leafy stems trailing over ground and taking root; and it seems not to spread by seed over any considerable distances.

The flowers grow so near the ground, that it is difficult to pick them without injury to the roots or to the trailing stems.

Teachers in every city and rural school, should explain to their children the nature of this plant and discourage those sad little bunches, with leaves pulled off and flower faces pressed close together, brought day after day with the best intentions to the school desk.

THE "BIG SHOW"

Novel Attractions of This Year's Circus at Madison Square Garden.

The "Big Show", the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus, is bigger than ever this year, with scores of brand new displays and novelties.

Chief among the new offerings are the trained wild animal acts that Messrs. Ringling Brothers have secured from Europe.

The human stars of the circus include the cream of the sawdust world. Dainty Lillian Leitze, who turns somersaults from the end of a rope while suspended far above the heads of the spectators among the Garden's roof girders; the Rooneys,

Davenport, and the All-American troupe of bareback riders; Hillary Long, who slides down a wire on his head; "The Golden Girl in the Golden Whirl"; wood-choppers from Australia; head balancers from Spain; aerialists from Italy; gymnasts from China and tumblers from Arabia.

In the department allotted to the congress of strange people are gathered all the freaks that Ringling agents have been able to corral during the past winter.

Park Theater

Eugene O'Brien, star of many a romance, is the leading character in a photo-drama of politics—a Seznick Picture entitled "The Figurehead," which opened last night at the Park theater.

He depicts the part of a wealthy well-bred young idler who accepts a nomination for Mayor of his city as a lark, but goes into the campaign in earnest after being transformed by the fire of a great love.

They "frame up" a scandal on him, which only rouses his fighting ire to the extent of a great combat.

Among the successful writers who dodge newspaper reporters will be found Edgar Rice Burroughs; the noted author of the seven "Tarzan of the Apes" jungle romances, the fourth of the series being "The Son of Tarzan," which will be shown in this city at the Park theater second episode in serial form.

Dealing with a theory of mental phenomenon that is declared to have electrified base audiences of the East, Marshall Neilan's latest production "Go And Get It" comes to the Park Theater, commencing Friday afternoon.

"Go And Get It" is a newspaper story in which an energetic team of reporters unearth a mystery of startling nature. Back of the entire mystery plot is the pertinent question of the day: Is the substitution of new human organs practicable so far as the prolongation of life is concerned?

CABARET LIFE TO CONTINUE. Chicago.—Chicago must continue to be a 1 o'clock town. A proposal to establish all night cabarets was severely frowned upon by the city fathers, despite the fact that the cabaret owners offered to pay an additional $1,000 per year in license fees for the privilege of remaining open all night.

BOY NEARLY SOLVES TRISECTION PROBLEM. Lawrence, Mass.—Edward F. Fratz of this city, a senior at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has come to the rescue of the mathematical savants who are floundering over the possibility of trisecting an arc, a problem on which ancient geometers have fallen down.

MANY TEACHERS FORCED TO DIET TO CONSERVE THEIR FUNDS. Chicago.—A special cult of vegetarians is growing up among the university instructors of the United States. Not only is meat absent from the daily fare, but the good old-fashioned butter is also missing—oleo and other substitutes replacing it.

UNIQUE DISTINCTION. "Don't you ever think of giving up your farm and moving to town?" "No," said Mr. Cobble, "I don't live, the way they are doing now, the man who stays in the country will some day become a sort of celebrity."

Only 516 of all the school teachers in the United States, the survey shows, received more than $4,200 per year and only 92 received more than $6,000. Resolving and cobbling of shoes, cutting of children's hair at home, living in rooms without heat, kerosene lights, refraining from marriage for lack of funds, taking no vacations and foregoing all social life are a few of the economies practiced by the pedagogues, according to the report.

FOREIGN BORN HAVE IMPRESSIVE RECORD.

Ten Per Cent. of Names in "Who's Who" Are Those of Former Immigrants.

That ten per cent. of the names in "Who's Who" are those of foreign born citizens is shown by an analysis made recently by The Inter-racial Council of New York, an organization composed of conference groups from among thirty-two of the races in America.

In making public its analysis the Council stated that the proposed restriction of immigration would affect the top as well as the bottom of America's future success ladder, since it would shut out the type of immigrant who has been forging to the forefront in the arts and sciences and the professions.

Classification of the foreign born listed in "Who's Who" shows the largest number to be in art, music, drama, painting, and sculpture. The church comes second with 238 persons. Others are as follows: Professors and teachers, 212; authors and journalists, 22; scientists and explorers, 128; commerce, 106; engineers and Geodetic survey men, 77; physicians and dentists, 69; diplomats and politicians, 75; social workers, 20; army and navy officers, 15; and agriculturists and horticulturists, 12.

CARE IS THE KEYNOTE OF SUCCESS IN HATCHING EGGS

Between making or losing money in raising chickens there is only a narrow margin. Contrary to many persons' ideas, no magic road leads to success in this work.

The following suggestions on incubation are given by poultry specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture: Have everything ready beforehand, and start your hatching operations early in the year.

A well-ventilated cellar is the best place to operate the incubator. The machine should be operated according to the manufacturer's directions.

See that the incubator is running steadily at the desired temperature before filling it with eggs. Do not add eggs to a machine during incubation. Turn the eggs twice daily after the second and through the eighteenth day. Cool the eggs once daily, according to the weather, from the seventh through the eighteenth day.

Attend to the machine carefully at regular hours.

Keep the lamp and wick clean. Test the eggs on the seventh and fourteenth days. Do not open the machine after the eighteenth day until the chickens are hatched.

Eggs saved for hatching purposes should not be subjected to high or low temperatures.

In cold weather place from 10 to 13 eggs under the hen; in warm weather from 13 to 15.

Always try the hen on china or nest eggs before setting good eggs. Given proper care and attention the hen is the most valuable incubator for the farmer.

Use insect powder freely to exterminate lice when necessary. February, March, April, and May are the best months for hatching, depending on the section of the country.

If several hens are set in one room it is desirable to confine them to their nests.

Straw and hay make good nesting material. Broody hens should be moved to the permanent sitting nest at night.

While corn is a good feed for sitting hens, water, grit, and dust baths should also be provided. All eggs should be tested by the seventh day, which often makes it possible to reset some of the hens.

SILK MILL NEWS

MOVIES ON FRIDAY

What was your idea of "a great life" when you were about seventeen? Did your imagination carry you off to distant lands, scented, mysterious islands in far off seas, where blue waves lapped upon a coral strand and the sun splashed the cliffs with gold?

"It's a Great Life" is to be the feature reel at Cheney Hall Friday evening for the benefit of the Machine Shop rest room. The picture is taken from Mary Roberts Rinehart's famous book, "The Empire Builders" and it is an enchanting tale of two boys in a prep school and the dreams they wove. It abounds in gorgeous views of a tropical island kingdom where oysters pave the sands and every oyster bears a pearl. Waving palms, dusky maidens dancing a jungle jazz for their white conquerors, row upon row of giant warriors in full war paint, cannibal cookery, savage battles—these are some of the elements of the boys' dream island where they reigned as kings.

Tickets for the performance may be obtained from the men of the Machine Shop or at the door Friday evening.

BIBLE AND SHAKESPEARE

REQUIRED
Cambridge, Mass.—Men who concentrate in the ancient or modern languages at Harvard must show an acquaintance with the Bible and with twelve plays of Shakespeare when they come up for their general examination for graduation at the end of their senior year.

According to the announcement of the Divisions of Ancient and Modern Languages, setting forth the requirements for the general examination, the Bible and the plays of Shakespeare are "two works of literature without which an adequate appreciation of English letters is impossible."

DISSENSION IN THE TRIPLE ALLIANCE

London, Apr. 21.—The first violent sequel to the disruption of the triple alliance that averted the threatened general strike last week, came today when a group of dissatisfied members of the vehicle workers union seized headquarters of the transport workers organization and rejected its officers.

TALCOTTVILLE

One of the best amateur entertainments that has ever been seen in this town was staged last evening under the direction and supervision of Mrs. C. Denison Talcott. The members of the Girls' Club gave the last act of James Barrie's new play "A Kiss for Cinderella."

The entertainment began with a piano solo by Miss Florence Pinney which was rendered in a most pleasing manner. Following her selection Mrs. Talcott came on the stage and read a synopsis of the two acts of the play that precede the one given by the club last evening. This was a fitting thing to do as it gave the audience an idea of what the characters were supposed to be, and also outlined the play so that the act given by the club would not be open blindly.

The play itself went off very smoothly. The part of Cinderella played by Miss Dorothy Talcott was taken by her with much ease and carried out to perfection in every detail. Robert Doggart made a fine appearance as the doctor took her park as anyone might imagine a woman doctor would be. Her decisive tone added much to her part. The part of the nurse played by Mrs. Helen Beebe was very complete and there was plenty of pep in her acting, characteristic of any live nurse. The part of No. 7 an attendant taken by Edward Polsten was very good. His facial expressions added much to the little that he had to say. Sumner Smith acting as the popular policeman and hero of the play took a hard part that he carried out successfully. Miss Eleanor Talcott took the part of the maid.

The play is supposed to represent a scene in a hospital in London since the war. A waif that has been caring for some orphans in her tiny home with the aid of the policeman is nearly frozen and is taken to this hospital through the kindness of an artist, whose sister is the doctor at this hospital. The waif is Cinderella.

Following the play—the Misses Annie Dodson and Sadie McNally sang a duet. Miss Alice Dexter attired in the costume of the women of 75 years ago gave a comic skit on "The Rights of Women," prepared by herself that proved to be a real hit. Miss Florence Pinney and Mrs. Helen Beebe played a piano duet in a most clever manner that won much applause. Miss Eleanor Talcott also gave two comic selections "A little boy at the circus," and "Uncle Josh and the Dentist." The first selection was true to life and her change of voice in impersonating two characters was very fine. The entertainment was closed with another piano duet by Mrs. Beebe and Miss Pinney.

Following the entertainment refreshments were served and a social hour was enjoyed by all. Talcott Hall was filled to capacity last evening. It was the largest attendance at an entertainment, that there has been in years.

DUTCH GOVERNMENT TAKES CONTROL OF DAIRIES

Washington—How the milk profiteers were put under the ban in Netherlands, and the public provided with adequate milk supplies at low prices was explained in a report by American Consul Anderson at Rotterdam.

The Dutch Government took over full control of the dairy industry, buying the output of the milk producers and reselling it to the public practically at cost. Consul Anderson said the Government pays the dairymen about twenty cents a gallon. Then it is sold to milk dealers, who are allowed to make a profit of about four cents per gallon in sales to the public. Anderson said the Dutch Government by this method actually loses, through transportation and other costs which accrue in handling. Profiteers in Netherlands, through heavy exports of milk to German territory, at high prices, ran prices high, making prices for milk and milk products almost prohibitive for the poor. Anderson said the Government Bureau receives and distributes about 40,000 gallons of milk a day. Shipments of 10,000 gallons go to Germany daily.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION

Washington, Apr. 21.—Reorganization plans now being considered by the new administration contemplate the transfer of prohibition enforcement from the Treasury Department to the Department of Justice it was officially announced today by Secretary or the Treasury Mellon. It is expected that the plan will go through and become effective in the near future.

LOCAL SPORT CHATTER

The Atlas baseball club will play the Alpines of West Hartford at that place Sunday afternoon. The local club will leave for that city by auto truck, and Manager Stove plans on using Cervini, the pitching ace of the club.

Baseball will be officially opened at Mt. Nebo on May 1st, when the Manchester baseball club meets the fast Rosebuds of Bridgeport in the opening game. Just who will form the nucleus of the local team is not known at present.

Here's a puzzling question that was asked by a number of sport fans to have Sport Chatter settle. A and B are tied for first place and C is one game behind both teams when the league closes. A and B roll off for first and second honors. A wins. Does this make C a contender for second place honors? Answer: The league games had all been played, and the question to settle the supremacy made it necessary for A and B to decide which had the better team. Even if C was but one game behind the leading teams and occupied third place in the standing, the roll-off had no bearing in the result of the league as both teams had finished their schedule and were tied as a result. The standing would be A first, B second and C third.

A large number of local fight fans plan to journey to the Rockville Town hall tonight to see the series of boxing bouts arranged by Promoter J. J. Connors. At the boxing tournament held last night at the Rec. tonight's bouts was the sole topic of conversation. There will be twenty-two rounds offered with Mike Morley of Hartford and Battling Dempsey, of Brooklyn, in the main go.

Conran lost to Harper of Waterbury in the State Tournament last evening on Conran's alleys. The start-off of the match was very exciting, Conran winning the first four straight but losing the last seven. In the eighth game Conran hit 118, but was defeated by Harper who got a score of 127. Harper has been at the game 21 years, having rolled in three world tournaments. Conran's average for the entire game was 103.6 and Harper's was 105.5. The scores: Conran—103, 114, 101, 118, 100, 105, 94, 118, 86, 99, 102. Harper—93, 107, 93, 93, 93, 115, 105, 127, 103, 106, 120.

GOT MONEY UNDER FALSE PRETENSES

Stamford, April 21.—Mrs. Ada Berg, a widow, 42, of 145th Street, New York City, is under arrest here charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Presenting an affidavit purporting to be signed by a justice of the peace of Chato, Mich., saying her home had been destroyed and she and four children were penniless, she collected about $25 from local householders. She confessed after her arrest that the affidavit was drawn by herself and was fraudulent.

FOUR POLICEMEN FIGHT WITH ROBBERS

Woburn, Mass., April 21.—Four policemen fought a running revolver battle today with three robbers surprised trying to break into the North Woburn Railroad station. The robbers abandoned their big touring car and escaped into the woods. It was discovered later that the Winchester post-office had been broken into and papers and letters stolen.

New hair for You?

Hair has been grown again, after baldness, in many cases. This is now scientifically proved. Yours may be an amenable case, but you have not been using the proper relief. So do not delay in applying Kotaliko. The producers are so confident they offer you satisfactory hair growth or your money back. Get a small box of KOTALIKO at any active drug store. Apply Kotaliko each day—watch your mirror! Do a kindly act—show bald friends this advertisement.

Glenwood

Don't Be Extravagant

By being too economical—think of the cost of doing without. The older the stove the more it wastes, not only in food and patience but in fuel. Saving a few pounds of coal each day means hundreds of pounds in a year. A Modern Glenwood gives wonderful results with the smallest amount of fuel. Get one and start saving now.

PEAS A NATION-WIDE CROP, BUT LOCAL METHODS VARY

Peas, sometimes spoken of as English peas, are adapted for growing from the Gulf of Mexico to Canada and from Maine to California, with the exception of a few local sections where they do not thrive. Peas require too much space for growing extensively in the small garden, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture, but are especially adapted to the farm garden. Garden peas are one of the first crops that can be planted in the spring, in fact, the seed can be put in the ground just as early as the soil will do to work.

In Florida and certain of the gulf coast regions the seed is planted in the fall and the peas gathered during the first days of spring. Farther north the seed is planted in February and March and the peas ready for use in May and June. Going still farther into New England and the northwest they are planted in April and ready for use in July or August, all dependent, however, upon the locality. In the southern district, where the ground rarely ever freezes, the seeds are planted about 1-2 inches deep, but farther north where late freezes are liable to form a heavy crust over the ground, the seed should be covered three to four inches in light sandy soils but not quite so deep in the heavier or clay soils. Peas will grow on most any good garden soil and require only a moderate amount of fertilizer.

Alaska or Earliest of All is considered one of the best of the early varieties and easy to grow. One pint of seed of the Alaska will plant about 100 feet of row, and while it is desirable to have brush or wire netting for them to climb on, they may be grown without any support whatever. Gradus, Thomas Laxton, American Wonder, Sutton's Excelsior and Laxtonian are among the best early peas. Telephone and Mammoth-podded sugar are among the best late sorts. All of the later varieties need a trellis or brush to climb upon.

An application of about 50 pounds of hydrated or air-slaked lime to a garden plot 30 by 60 feet in size will often prove beneficial. Lime has the effect of loosening and pulverizing any heavy clay soil and of binding loose, sandy soil. Lime also corrects sourness in the soil, which is often due to lack of drainage, but in a case of this kind drainage should be secured.

OREGON TO RETURN PILFERED LANDS OF INDIANS.

Mexico City.—A delegation of Kickapoo Indians presented a picture appearance when they called at the National Palace to ask President Obregon to give them back certain lands in the Muzquiz district of the State of Coahuila. The chief of the tribe said that the Kickapoos abandoned the lands a few years ago because of the revolutionary disturbances, in which they took no part. The Indians fled to other States and when peace came and they returned to their old homes they found that squatters had seized their farms. President Obregon announced that he would assist the Indians in reclaiming the lands.

TO KEEP UP THE WORK IN CENTER SPRING PARK

Chairman Johnson Confident That Residents of Town Are Willing to Assist the Town Officials

Chairman Aaron Johnson who has charge of the campaign to clean up Center Spring Park will keep on appealing to the citizens of Manchester to help in the cleaning up work. He naturally felt disappointed at the showing last week but hopes for a large turnout on Saturday.

Mr. Johnson was disturbed over the report that while cleaning up the Park he had not used good judgment when the men were burning the leaves. Mr. Johnson called attention to the fact that a week previous to the start of the cleaning up work there had been a fire in the park and before it was gotten under control it did destroy a number of young shrubs and laurel bushes. This, however, was not due to carelessness on the part of any one who helped to clean the park. Mr. Johnson said.

"We used the utmost caution in burning the piles of leaves and dead bushes. We would gather these leaves and bushes in a pile and set fire to them in places where they could do no damage. I inspected the places we were to gather these piles before we set the match to them. Not one single bush or shrub was damaged by those who helped clean the park on both Saturday afternoons."

It could not be learned last night whether the business men will help this afternoon but Mr. Johnson hoped they would and he is ready to lend any assistance required.

When the work of cleaning up the park has progressed far enough, the dam which will be situated at the west of the park, will be started. When this is finished and the water allowed to fill up the lake will cover an area of about eight and a half acres.

Those interested in the clean-up work should report at the Hall of Records at one o'clock ready for work on Saturday afternoon.

POST FUNERAL SATURDAY.

News of Sudden Death a Shock to the Community.

The tragic death of Edward W. Post, who died after being struck by an automobile yesterday, shocked the community and was the sole subject of conversation on the streets last evening. He was so well known that the news of his sudden death was more felt than in an ordinary case of this kind.

The local assembly of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus met last evening and decided to turn out in a body at the funeral which will be held from St. James' Church on Saturday morning. Campbell Council, K. of C., also decided to attend the funeral. The Foresters and the Firemen will also send delegations.

It appears that Mrs. Post was at her window at the time the accident happened yesterday. Although she did not actually see her husband struck she heard the news within a few seconds and has been on the verge of a nervous collapse ever since and under the care of Dr. T. H. Weldon.

RIFLE CLUB NOTES

The Somanco Rifle club finished the first series of squad competition shooting last week and held a social and supper last evening for the winners, at which about 30 members were present. The winning teams were Holub, Fontanelli, Long, Clark and Volquardsen.

The averages have been computed and five new teams have been formed for another competition. The club being a member of the National Rifle Association of America, the shooting will be according to the rules of the N. R. A.

The club has received its full government equipment from the War Department and have been invited to shoot in the National Small Bore rifle competition this coming May and June at the 50, 100, and 200 yard ranges.

The new teams are as follows: No. 1, Royce, Hathaway, Nelson, Bergeron, Anderson; No. 2, Cadie, Giordano, Wetherell, McCarthy, Cusson; No. 3, Holub, Fontanelli, Hanna, Hauschuis, Donze; No. 4, Wilson, Volquardson, Bratsnyder, Woodward, Bodnar; No. 5, Abbott, Clark, Smith, Bassett, Magnell.

TO KEEP UP THE WORK IN CENTER SPRING PARK

Chairman Johnson Confident That Residents of Town Are Willing to Assist the Town Officials

Chairman Aaron Johnson who has charge of the campaign to clean up Center Spring Park will keep on appealing to the citizens of Manchester to help in the cleaning up work. He naturally felt disappointed at the showing last week but hopes for a large turnout on Saturday.

Mr. Johnson was disturbed over the report that while cleaning up the Park he had not used good judgment when the men were burning the leaves. Mr. Johnson called attention to the fact that a week previous to the start of the cleaning up work there had been a fire in the park and before it was gotten under control it did destroy a number of young shrubs and laurel bushes. This, however, was not due to carelessness on the part of any one who helped to clean the park. Mr. Johnson said.

"We used the utmost caution in burning the piles of leaves and dead bushes. We would gather these leaves and bushes in a pile and set fire to them in places where they could do no damage. I inspected the places we were to gather these piles before we set the match to them. Not one single bush or shrub was damaged by those who helped clean the park on both Saturday afternoons."

It could not be learned last night whether the business men will help this afternoon but Mr. Johnson hoped they would and he is ready to lend any assistance required.

When the work of cleaning up the park has progressed far enough, the dam which will be situated at the west of the park, will be started. When this is finished and the water allowed to fill up the lake will cover an area of about eight and a half acres.

Those interested in the clean-up work should report at the Hall of Records at one o'clock ready for work on Saturday afternoon.

POST FUNERAL SATURDAY.

News of Sudden Death a Shock to the Community.

The tragic death of Edward W. Post, who died after being struck by an automobile yesterday, shocked the community and was the sole subject of conversation on the streets last evening. He was so well known that the news of his sudden death was more felt than in an ordinary case of this kind.

The local assembly of Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus met last evening and decided to turn out in a body at the funeral which will be held from St. James' Church on Saturday morning. Campbell Council, K. of C., also decided to attend the funeral. The Foresters and the Firemen will also send delegations.

It appears that Mrs. Post was at her window at the time the accident happened yesterday. Although she did not actually see her husband struck she heard the news within a few seconds and has been on the verge of a nervous collapse ever since and under the care of Dr. T. H. Weidon.

RIFLE CLUB NOTES

The Somanco Rifle club finished the first series of squad competition shooting last week and held a social and supper last evening for the winners, at which about 30 members were present. The winning teams were Holub, Fontanelli, Long, Clark and Volquardsen.

The averages have been computed and five new teams have been formed for another competition. The club being a member of the National Rifle Association of America, the shooting will be according to the rules of the N. R. A.

The club has received its full government equipment from the War Department and have been invited to shoot in the National Small Bore rifle competition this coming May and June at the 50, 100, and 200 yard ranges.

The new teams are as follows: No. 1, Royce, Hathaway, Nelson, Bergeron, Anderson; No. 2, Cadie, Giordno, Wetherell, McCarthy, Cusson; No. 3, Holub, Fontanelli, Hanna, Hauschulz, Donze; No. 4, Wilson, Volquardsen, Bratsnyder, Woodward, Bodnar; No. 5, Abbott, Clark, Smith, Bassett, Magnell.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, Apr. 21.—Without being active the cotton market was steady unchanged to three points higher today.

At the end of the 16 minutes the undertone remained steady with prices 2-4 points net higher, late months showing the most firmness.

American League Season Open

Red Sox Clash With Washington Today at Boston.

Boston, April 21.—Governor Channing Cox will throw out the first ball at the opening of the American League season here today when the Red Sox clash with Washington. Mayor Peters and other dignitaries will be among the guests.

Boston fans will get their first glimpse of Shono Collins, Nemo Leibold and Del Pratt in Red Sox uniforms. They will miss Harry Hooper who held down the right garden so long that he became an institution here.

Sam Jones, who is in the best form of any of the Boston hurlers list, will take the mound for Boston. Walter Johnson may be given the pitching assignment for George McBride's hopes.
