

MRS. MARGARET TOPLEY.

Mrs. Margaret Topley, who has been a resident of this town for the past 31 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edward Stanfield, of 39 Eldridge street, early this morning. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Edward Stanfield and Mrs. John Crosky, 20 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren. The funeral will be held from her late home Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, daylight saving time. Rev. G. G. Scrivener, pastor of the South Methodist Episcopal Church, will officiate and burial will be in the East Cemetery.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, April 29.—The cotton market opened steady today, prices being five points lower to three points higher. At the end of 15 minutes the list was about seven points below the previous close.

ABOUT TOWN

T. P. Holloran of Center street has received his new Hupmobile touring car from Madden Brothers, local distributors.

R. J. Smith has sold for James Finnegan his two building lots at Blissett and Spruce street to Michael Lechuk, of Birch street.

F. S. Stoughton has entered the employ of the Stephens-Filliers Auto Company as salesman. He will also continue his real estate business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. House, are in Atlantic City this week. Mr. House is attending the Ninth annual meeting of the National Chamber of Commerce at which Herbert Hoover will be one of the principal speakers.

Dr. C. C. Burlingame, of the Cheney Mills will be one of the speakers in Middletown tomorrow at the Eleventh annual session of the Connecticut Conference of Social Work. Dr. Burlingame will speak on "Social problems of industry."

The Town Clerk's office will be open tomorrow afternoon until five o'clock and on Monday evening until nine o'clock for the registration of dogs. Monday evening will be the last chance to register a dog. So far only half of the town's dogs have been registered.

Supt. H. A. Nettleton, of the Connecticut Co. in commenting upon the published accounts of the meeting at the Capitol Thursday when the local judgeship battle came up for a hearing, said today that he did not suggest the "indignation meeting" which was held in the Center church as the accounts read.

Madden Brothers, local agents for the Indian motorcycle, have delivered a special model to the police department of Manchester. Officer William Barren will be assigned to traffic duty every Saturday and Sunday. On holidays the traffic officer will also be on duty to watch for violators of the rules. The motorcycle is rated at 35 miles an hour.

The contracts for the laying of the 70,000 square feet of sidewalks in Manchester was signed yesterday afternoon by the highway committee of the board of selectmen and the United Construction Company of Southington. Work will be started immediately and the street where the work is to begin first will be specified by Town Engineer F. H. Bowen.

William Rubinow wishes to have the selectmen favor the extension of Purnell Row to Cottage street. He informs the board that he is ready to donate some land to make the proposed street. At present Purnell Row ends near the livery stables of Archie Hayes. He says that other property owners are willing to give enough land to make the street as they realize the advantages of such an action.

"THE VILLAGE SCHOOL MA'AM."

To Be Presented By Manchester Grange at Cheney Hall Saturday Evening.

The Manchester Grange will present a four act play entitled "The Village School Ma'am" in Cheney Hall tomorrow evening. During the action of the play the following songs will be rendered by the Acme City Four; The Rosary, Mammy's Good Night Lullaby, My Kentucky Babe, Broadway Rose, Asleep in the Deep, Your Eyes have Told me so, Moonlight on the Lake, and Carry me back to Old Virginia. The cast is as follows:—

Richard Elliott, storekeeper and postmaster—William E. Hill. James B. Graham, a commercial traveler—Harry H. Cowles. Rev. Mr. Flick, the village parson—William J. McCormack. Hosea Clegg, who belongs to the G. A. R.—John McLoughlin. Sam Olcott, who has a better half—Ralph C. Eaton. Tad, just a boy—Arthur D. Jarvis.

Sylvia Lennox, the village school ma'am—Miss Florence M. Balch. Oda May Alcott, who has had advantages—Miss Alice Hill. Mrs. Alcott, her proud mama somewhat forgetful—Miss Louise Relchard. Elvira Pratt, a dressmaker—Miss Saide F. Miller. Poste, who was born tired—Miss Merle P. Miller. Acme City Four: Josh, Albert, Cadger, Eben, Albert Benoit; St. Gilbert Johnson; Rube, C. C. Brooks.

RUSSIA CHANGES ITS BERLIN REPRESENTATIVE

Berlin, April 29.—Victor Kopp, the Russian Soviet representative in Germany, has been replaced by Dr. Steinmann on account of the slowness of the diplomatic and commercial negotiations, it was announced today. The Russo-Germany negotiations, it was said, are being hindered by obstacles from both sides.

BIG REALTY DEAL.

The Manchester Construction Company has bought the Charles Rattenburg property on the corner of Main street and Middle Turnpike east. The sale was made through the agency of Robert J. Smith.

The property acquired by the Manchester Construction Company is one of the most desirable pieces of real estate on Main street between the north and south ends of the town. About 225 feet of the property has been bought extending from Middle Turnpike south. Just what the new owners intend to do with the land could not be learned today.

COME EARLY!

AND WHAT A STORY!

Picture it! Raoul Challoner with his, Nanette, and her baby lost to the world in their little cabin in God's Great Wilderness—happy in their hiding place free from law's injustice, their only friends a big black bear and a wolf-dog. Then comes O'Connor of the North West Mounted to take them back. And as man and wife and child, bear and dog, start down on the trail that leads straight to the gallops their whole wide world bursts into flame. A forest fire so real that it staggers you! A battle though so fierce that it awes you. And a finish so fine that you'll cheer it!

You'll Have to Come Early if You Want to Get In To-day.

SAYS ROUMANIAN PRINCE IS BIGAMIST

The Lambrino family is one of the best known in Roumania and enjoyed the intimacy of the court. The intimacy increased when the Germans invaded Roumania and the royal family sought refuge in Jassy, where the seat of government was installed.

Prince Carol visited Mile/ Lambrino nearly every evening at Jassy until his regiment was sent to the Moldavian mountains for the express purpose of breaking up the court-ship. But Carol was determined to marry the general's daughter and by a private courier sent a letter urging her to elope with him to Odessa.

He promised her that under no cir-cumstances would he ever marry an-other woman and that if his father persisted in his opposition he would renounce his right to the Roumanian throne. Mile. Lambrino slipped away to Odessa incognito and alone. There according to the Gazette de Lauz-anne, the marriage was legally cele-brated in the Petrowska Cathedral. The prince wore his uniform and all his decorations. Two Russian officers were witnesses and the Roumanian consul at Odessa sent his felicitations to the newly wedded pair.

The following day the crown prince wired the news to his father and asked permission to return to Roumania. The king consented but in his reply reminded Carol that he had taken French leave from his regiment and would have to be pun-ished by 75 days imprisonment. A special train took the young couple to the Roumanian frontier. There it was met by an automobile. The bride was forced to leave the train and was taken to the home of her grandmother. The crown prince con-tinued on his way to the monastery of Oraitza where he served his prison term.

During this imprisonment Carol re-ceived visits from his father, who urged him to sign a document an-nulling the marriage. When Carol refused plans were made for him to visit the Far East in the hope he would forget his young bride. To block this scheme the crown prince's mechanical condition, but his parents were not aware of it. A child he was persuaded to take a trip to Japan. The machinations of the Rouman-ian court set then won success. Up-on his return from Japan Carol apparently forgot his bride, and gave his consent to a marriage with the Greek princess. This marriage was just recently celebrated, forming a new nuptial precedent in the Bal-kans. But, according to the laws of all civilized countries, says the Gazette de Lauzanne, "Carol is a bigamist."

Mrs. Bradway Will Be 103 Tomorrow

Aged Putnam Lady is a Real Daughter of the Revolution.

Putnam, April 29—Mrs. Sarah Bosworth Bradway, a real Daughter of the Revolution, is preparing today to celebrate her 103rd birthday to-morrow at her home in Eastford. As had been the custom for a num-ber of years the Elizabeth Porter Putnam Chapter, D. A. R. of this city, will call on Mrs. Bradway in a body, taking her gifts of flowers and fruit and extending their congratulations. Mrs. Bradway is the sole survivor of a family of eleven children. She was born in Eastford, the town where she now lives, April 30, 1818 and her father, Allan Bosworth, en-listed in the Revolutionary army in Ashford, an adjoining town. Mrs. Bradway is enjoying the best of health and retains her faculties to a remarkable degree. Her anec-dotes of her childhood days and youth always interest her callers on her birthday anniversary.

Among those who will call on the aged woman Saturday is Donald Clark, her great grandson, who has the distinction of possessing two living great grandmothers and his grandfather and grandmothers on both sides of the house are living. Mrs. Bradway lives with her daughter, Mrs. Darwin Clark.

MRS. ELIZA ROBINSON.

The funeral of Mrs. Eliza Robin-son, one of the oldest residents of this town will be held from her late home Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, daylight saving time. She is survived by John Robinson of Highland Park, Mrs. John Smith of Hartford, William Robinson of Sum-mit street, this town, and Mrs. Ralph Russell of 151 Maple street, also of this town. The funeral will be held from the home of Mrs. Russell where deceased formerly lived. Rev. J. S. Neil, rector of St. Mary's church will officiate. Interment will be in the Buckland cemetery.

Customs and Incidents of Early Days in Manchester

The Woman Teacher With a Big Stick—Geography Fifty Years Ago—The Last Day of School—Scientific Use of the Ferule—Reflections on the Bad Boy Age.

After Mr. Lilly left the school only one more man ever served as teacher. The others belong to the sex we admire. And they were without exception the finest type of Christian womanhood, ready to instruct and help us, striving to make lessons easy for us and showing exemplary patience with refractory scholars.

After the above statement it may seem paradoxical, but we had a teacher, a young woman of attractive appearance who from the start clearly demonstrated the fact that she was boss. She was of the Rooseveltian type and did not spare the stick. It was her custom to send the boys out into the woods and have them cut sticks as large as bean poles. After they had been used as whips until the ends were gone, the remaining part was whittled to a sharp point and used to point out places on the map.

Maps those days differed somewhat from the maps of the present day, Calling Wyoming, Attached to Dasotah, was quite a mouthful. Most of the country between the Mississippi river and California came under the general name of the Great American Desert, inhabited mostly by herds of buffalo and tribes of Indians. We had a vague impression that it was a second Sahara, abounding with lions and traversed by means of camels.

I have seen boys, nearly men grown, flinch under the whippings of this teacher and bite their lips to repress their tears. We young scholars were in such constant dread of punishment that it got on our nerves and decidedly interfered with our efficiency.

Sometime after we were informed that corporal punishment had been abolished by law in schools but if we did not behave some mysterious outside power would deal with our case. Our teachers appealed to our better nature to be obedient; and put us on our honor as little gentlemen and ladies to do so, and we responded loyally to the appeal, and no scholars in Gay City will ever more devotedly be loyal to their teacher than we were.

For example, it was the last day of the term. Mother, big sister, school visitor and other dignitaries were present and we were put through our paces. One small boy when called upon very promptly and loudly spelled dog and the fact that he spelled it backwards was dismissed with a smile.

One girl fell down on the word "boiler" and won our sympathy for her failure, but on the whole we came through with flying colors.

After school, while the elders remained to look at reports and discuss the standing of their hopefuls, we gathered around the step waiting for them. At this juncture the orator of the school came out on the step and raising his hand for silence recited the well known doggerel.

"Good bye scholars, Good bye school, Good bye teacher you d— old fool." It was the first time we ever heard it and it took it a second or two to sink in, but when it did we made a rush for him; but he was a wise boy and knew his audience. The boy nearest to him swung one blow into him; but as he had a good start and was a good runner he made his escape.

There is a hateful period in every boy's life when, to use the usual term; "he thinks himself smart." When we passed through that period we had a splendid teacher. A better woman never stood in a school house or anywhere else. She lived to round out her three score years and ten of life, loved and respected by all who knew her. She frequently had to enforce discipline by the use of a large ferule. Her method was to grasp us by the fingers, force the palm of the hand up, and administer several sharp blows with the ferule, and I can assure you that after such an application none of us proffered the request of Oliver Twist. During the hateful period whenever we receive this treatment we would force back the tears; and when we faded the room to go to our seats we would assume a wide grin and cause a ripple of merriment to run over the school.

It was pure bravado on our part; pure cussedness would probably be more applicable. At the same time it was open insult to the teacher. During the period when a boy "knows it all" he will do acts of meanness and forget them for the time being, but later on they will face him again. Like a certain ghost, they will not down. When, in later life one recalls the contemptible acts he did to annoy the teacher; he is inclined to feel much smaller than the man who crawled into the hollow trunk of the cork tree. We only travel this road once, if we were to make the trip a second time and knew as much at the start as we do now we are inclined to think that some concerns would be obliged to run overtime to keep up with the supply of Nobel prizes.

At that time, as at the present, there were parents who considered their children perfect. If there was any trouble at school it was entirely the fault of the teacher. Another class did not consider their offspring infallible. My parents belonged to the latter class, and I was given distinctly to understand that if I received a whipping at school I would receive another one at home when my parents learned of it. I received my share of punishments at school, but none at home. Like the wise married man, I made it a point not to inform my family of my actions while absent from home.

CAT CAME BACK TO LIFE NINE TIMES

Manchester, N. H.—Max, the janitor at the police station, is firmly convinced that the saying in regard to cats having nine lives is considerably more than a saying. A man brought three kittens to the station with the request that they be put where they would be no further worry over the high price of milk or the housing problem. The kittens were placed in the gas box in the basement constructed for the primary purpose of sending dogs on their long sleep, but occasionally tried out on cats. The gas was turned on and the pussies apparently gave up the ghost. Later they were found loudly calling for their breakfast, in lieu of which the gas was turned on for a second time, and for a second time the kittens went to sleep and awakened again.

Max says if the gas holds out he will endeavor to take the other seven lives which he is convinced they possess.

Circle Theater

The characters of the two of the bravest men in history are faithfully depicted in Vitagraph's special production "The Heart of Maryland," which will be shown again at the Circle tonight.

They are Abraham Lincoln and Robert E. Lee. They are shown but an instant, yet in that instant one gets a picture of the greatness of the leader of the North and the leader of the South. Both men were big as the incidents in the play will show. Lloyd Calvert, son of the Calverts of the South, a family who would give all for the cause of the Confederacy, is at school in the North at the outbreak of the war. He is a great admirer of Abraham Lincoln, and he is torn between his duty to his home and fellows and his love for the North.

He has an interview with Abraham Lincoln, and that great leader of the country tells him "Your position is a difficult one, my boy. To fight against your kin is a terrible thing, but to fight against your conscience is infinitely worse. If you believe in the justice of our cause it is your duty to support that cause, and may God in His mercy grant you courage and strength to make the sacrifice."

The occasion upon which General Lee enters the story is at the Calvert home in Maryland. Maryland Calvert, the heroine, is known as the fiercest little southerner of them all, and it is to present her with a citation that General Lee visits her home.

Nannie McNair, a ward of the Calverts, is a southerner and faithful to the cause of the North. While the southern ladies are having the chapter meeting in working for the soldiers of the South, Nannie, alone on the veranda, knits socks for the northern troops.

When General Lee drives into the yard he is impressed by the fact that Nannie pays no attention to him. Later, when he is the center of attention among the southern women, Nannie commences to sing "Yankee Doodle." This startles General Lee and shocks the southerners.

General Lee strides out on to the porch, and, saluting the American flag and Nannie, he says to her, "It is a fine thing, my dear little girl, to be unafraid to stand by the colors of the cause you believe in."

Remember this picture was never shown at the present prices anywhere in the U. S. Shorter subjects will be on the same bill and a Kid-tice show still be given Saturday morning at 10.15.

Tomorrow's feature will be William Russell in "The Iron Rider." Continuous show from 2 to 10.15.

Park Theater

Francis McDonald, a good actor, can testify to the truth of the statement that a bear as an opponent in mortal combat is a bad actor. He had an honest-to-goodness fight with a husky of the Bruno tribe and he knows whereof he speaketh. This experience came as a part of his lot in the role of a villain in James Oliver Curwood's sensational photodrama, "Nomads of the North," which is booked for a showing at the Park Theater Friday and Saturday. As the disturbing factor in the plot of the story McDonald finally catches the heroine (Betty Blythe) all alone in her lonely cabin away out in the woods of the Far North and when he proceeds to gain his revenge for her wedding another man, her husband's pet bear, Neewa, breaks into the house and accomplishes a spectacular rescue by engaging McDonald in a fight closely resembling the man-to-man battles you often see on the screen, but much fiercer and more exciting. McDonald fought for all he was worth—he simply had to, because though it was only make-believe on his part, it was not possible to hold the bear very much in check. "I thought I was going to stage a 'play' scrap and the bear got serious, then I had to dig in and really try to hurt the big brute, but I got hurt instead," Mr. McDonald said soon after the picture was completed. "And, let me add just one thing more, an unarmed man in a flesh-to-flesh fight with a bear has no chance in the world—he's sure headed for the other world."

A FINE VEGETABLE.

If you haven't grown the kohlrabi for the summer menu, give it a trial: it is one of the most useful of the quickly maturing vegetables. In fact it is supplanting the turnip as a summer dish on many tables. It needs to be sown frequently like the radish as it matures rapidly and must be used when about half grown or an inch and a half or two inches in diameter. Kohlrabis have been discarded by gardeners in many cases because they were allowed to become too mature as they wanted bigger roots. If the roots, or more properly speaking, the thickening of the stem, for it forms a turnip with leaves upon it above the ground which is the edible portion, grows too large it becomes woody and fibrous, and is too tough in texture for a table vegetable. It should be used when still small and tender, when it is one of the most delicate of the cabbage tribe. It has one particularly valuable trait in that it will grow in dry sandy gardens where other vegetables are usually a failure after the early spring months.

LOCAL SPORT CHATTER

Kelly of the Giants is crowding "Babe" Ruth hard for home run honors. At present he is tied with the "King of Swat" having made five circuit clouts to date. Ruth has made the Yankee owners shake hands with themselves since they purchased the demon slugger from the Boston Red Sox.

For the first time in six years the Hartford baseball team won the opening game. Looks like Irwin has gathered a pennant winning bunch for the Capitol city. Bailey, Hartford's right fielder, broke up the game with a "Babe" Ruth over the right field fence. The Hartford team will open the season in that city next Monday afternoon. Many fans from Manchester are planning to attend the games.

Muldoon, who caught for the Poli team last year, has signed up with the Willimantic team for the season. "Boogey" as he is known to baseball followers is considered to be one of the best semi-professional catchers in the business. Although he has not the whip that most catchers possess, he gets them down there fast enough to discourage those who attempt to pilfer second. He has an excellent faculty of steadying young pitchers.

"Babe" Chatter who attended Williston Academy has made the varsity baseball team of that institution. This makes the third major sport that Chatter has entered and won his spurs. He is a candidate for the initial sack. In addition to being captain of the football team for the 1921 season, "Babe" has made the basketball squad and is considered a good man in the mile run. His many friends are pleased to hear of his athletic prowess. He plans to enter Yale next year.

The Atlas baseball team will hold a practice on the Main street grounds this evening. All members of the team are urged to attend for final practice before the Rockville game Sunday afternoon.

Conran lost six of the eleven games with Sterback on his alleys at the north end Wednesday evening. Of late Conran has been hitting the timber for good scores. He rolled 118 for three games and lost.

The All-Star girls' basket ball team for the state will be picked and published in Saturday evening's Herald. In picking this team the members of the different teams who played in Manchester during the past season will be eligible. Sport Chatter has the records of every game played locally and the selections will be made from these records.

The Knights of Columbus will organize a team for the coming season Sunday morning. All members of the council interested will be on hand to select a manager and discuss for plans for the season. The meeting will be held in the social rooms about 10 o'clock in the morning.

A record attendance is expected at Mt. Nebo Sunday afternoon when the Manchester team meets the Rosebuds of Bridgeport in the opening game of the season. Just who will start the game for locals is a matter of doubt and known only to "Eddie" Munson coach of the team. The game will be called at 3.30 daylight saving time.

ATLAS JOIN NEW LEAGUE.
The Atlas of Manchester of which Thomas Stowe is manager, were admitted to the Central Connecticut Baseball League at the meeting held at the Y. M. C. A., Hartford, on April 26th. The league is composed of six clubs with Manchester, East Glastonbury, Plainville Aces, Newington, Elmwood, West Hartford as members. The league will play four rounds opening the season May 14 and closing the week after Labor Day. A. G. Kamm, manager of the Hartford Grays Baseball Club, is president, Richard Heller of West Hartford is treasurer, and R. Neff of Plainville is secretary. Mr. Neff is also official scorer of the league. The league adopted the Spalding Official cork center ball, and accepted the handsome trophy offered by A. G. Spalding through the Anderson Sporting Goods Company. The first round of the schedule for Manchester is: May 14, Atlas at Plainville, May 21, West Hartford at Manchester, May 28, Atlas at Newington, Memorial Day, Atlas at East Glastonbury, and June 5, Elmwood at Manchester.

RECREATION NOTES.

The swimming pool will be open for girls this evening from 7.30 to 9.30 o'clock.

The bowling alleys will be open for men tonight from 7 to 10 o'clock.

A large crowd attended the Lobby social at the Recreation Center last evening. Vocal and instrumental selections featured the first part of the evening and was followed by dancing in the auditorium. In the big gymnasium the older people enjoyed a progressive whist party.

GLIMPSE OF CALIFORNIA.

The California poppies, Escholtzias, furnish one of the brightest materials for beds of glowing yellow among the annuals. This is the state flower of California, where it grows wild in great masses, making golden sheets of color. It will grow readily almost anywhere and will even survive mild winters when protected. It will grow in almost any soil providing it has plenty of sun. Its grey green foliage is ornamental and makes a fine foil for the hundreds of golden cups it produces. While the type of the flower is yellow or orange there are cream and rose-colored varieties equally handsome and attractive.

This native of the golden west has been taken in hand by plant breeders and many beautiful new varieties have been introduced. It should be sown where it is to bloom as, like most of the poppy family, it objects to being transplanted. The seed is coarser than that of most of the poppies and its even distribution is not so difficult. The South African or Transvaal daisies, which rejoice in the complicated name of Dimorphotheca, which have been introduced only a few years add tones of burnt orange to the annual garden that are very attractive. A series of hybrids has developed a new series of shades ranging from white to deep orange and salmon. This plant makes fine bushes studded with bloom all summer, and its delicate daisies are fine subjects for bouquets.

SPRUCE ST. SPEEDERS.

Dangerous Practice by Autoists And Motorcycleists Because of Absence of Police.

Residents of Spruce street are wondering when the authorities are going to stop reckless driving on that thoroughfare. Automobileists and motorcycleists use this street for a speedway regardless of the intersecting streets from Charter Oak street to Center street.

On most of the cross streets a blind corner shuts off the view of the approaching vehicle. Maple street as it crosses Spruce is a good example of the danger, when driving north on the latter street. There is a store on the corner and a down grade makes it dangerous for driving above normal speed.

Police Commissioner Patrick McNeary was commenting on the subject last evening and said that he was going to recommend that the police keep a strict watch on traffic conditions on Spruce street. He cited a case last evening of a motorcyclist who nearly knocked him down. The matter he said had been brought to his attention shortly before.

When the new Nathan Hale school opens there will be some kind of regulations to slow up this speeding.

In the daytime there are no police stationed on Spruce street and autoists apparently ignore the dangers and rights of others.

ONE GOOD TURN DESERVES ANOTHER

Auburn, Mo.—Enter the champion freak traders—George Meriwether and J. J. Myers. Myers tired of conducting a general store here. He offered to sell his business to Meriwether for $1,900. The stock invoiced that amount.

"Won't take it that way," said Meriwether. "I'll give you two bits for each article in your store." Myers thought of his big line of slate and lead pencils worth a cent apiece. Meriwether thought of automobile tires and such things. "I'll go you," declared Myers. "I'm satisfied," he declared later when the freak invoice tabulated $1,866.25.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Nearly 50 pupils are on the honor roll of the local High school for this term. The Freshman class stands first with 21 out of the 50 honor pupils, the Juniors second with 14, the Sophomores third with nine and the Senior class last with only four. The list is as follows:

Seniors—A. Evelyn Johnston, Margaret Porter, B. Florence Seelert, Walter Reichard.

Juniors—A. Margaret Sundman, Stanley Clulow, Essie Frink, B. Beulah Brown, Helen Keith, Doris Robshaw, Anna Scheibenflug, Marjorie Burr, Hazel Chambers, Estelle Keith, Hazel Oxley, Eva Scriber, Beatrice Underhill, Rose Woodhouse.

Sophomores—A. Astrid Johnson, Mildred Seidel, Miriam Welles, Henrietta Kanehl, Sherwood Bissell, B. Elwood Peters, Robert McPherson, Eleanor Casperson, Bisney Harrison.

Freshmen—A. Ruth Holmes, Edith Schultz, Gladys Kletzie, Viola Greenway, Margaret Lewis, Stella Lincoln, B. Elsie Reinartz, Mary Reach, Francis McColium, Alice Harrison, Elsie Harrison, John Gill, Ruth Smith, Anna Tedford, Frank Valento, Harold Jesanis, William Hutton, Stuart Seegar, Elsie Lewis, Helen Cornet.

The school will open its baseball season Saturday with the New Britain High school. The team has been working hard for the past few weeks and a fast game is assured. The probable line-up is as follows: Captain Dougherty, catcher; Seelert or Wallet, pitcher; Cheney, first base; Bjorkman, second; Thornton, shortstop; McCaughey, third; Rogers, left field; Lovett, center field; Powers, right field; substitutes, Carlson, Henthall. The game will be at the Fouracre at 3:30 o'clock, and Crockett will umpire.

Manager Handley has arranged an excellent schedule for the track team. It is as follows:

May 7, Dual meet at Bristol.
May 14, Trinity Interscholastic meet at Hartford.
May 21, Yale Interscholastic meet at New Haven.
May 28, Triangular meet (Enfield, Bristol) at South Manchester.

The April issue of the Somanis events made its appearance yesterday. The paper is full of excellent stories and the joke department is unusually good.

MALES GETS LIFE

Charles Males, 41 years old, was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Connecticut State Prison at Wethersfield yesterday in Rockville, after being convicted of second degree murder for killing his former boarding mistress, Mrs. David Rogers, with whom he was infatuated. Males was taken to Wethersfield this morning by Deputy Sheriff John W. Watkins.

A verdict of guilty was brought in by the jury after being out one hour and a quarter.

Males, who is a native of Argentina, was charged with killing Mrs. Rogers of Andover on the afternoon of March 13, following an argument. He made his escape after the crime, but gave himself up the same day. He was defended by Public Defender Edward M. Yeomans of Andover, who made a strenuous effort to show that there was no malice.

NO AGREEMENT AS YET IN CARPENTERS' STRIKE

Men Still Out—Say That Other Mechanics Will Not Cut—Will Hurt Building Boom.

The strike of local carpenters is at a standstill as far as both sides are concerned. The contractors say that they have received no official notice of the strike from the carpenters. The carpenters deny this and say that the wage scale has been fixed for some time. They point to the fact that the Connecticut Builders Exchange fixed the wage scale before the building season open locally.

It was learned last evening on good authority that the local carpenters did not expect any wage reduction here. They were of the opinion that the local contractors would not put into effect the wage scale fixed by the Builders Exchange.

The West Side recreation building which is in the hands of the Ninth School district was the first to serve notice effecting the wages of the carpenters. The Manchester Construction which has the contract for the Nathan Hale school on Spruce street also announced a reduction of wages. This job was not affected as seriously as the west side building for the carpenters were about three weeks ahead of the rest of the building.

In speaking of the matter last evening a man who does not want his name used for fear of being boycotted said that it was only the carpenters who suffered a wage reduction that is, as far as he knew. Other trades were practically on the same wage scale as last year. He made this statement without malice he said, and he was of the opinion that the matter could be settled if both parties got together. Just at present the breach seems to be just as wide as it was about two weeks ago.

Building locally will suffer if the unions and the contractor do not come to an agreement soon. Tenements are scarce as shown by the number of persons answering the ad. in Wednesday's evening Herald. Rents have not come down to any extent and those who have a suitable rent will keep it regardless of the cost unless more building of homes does take place soon. Lumber and other building materials have dropped in price and the contractors feel that the cost of labor should also come down.

ODD FELLOWS' UNION MEETING.

To be Held in Hartford Monday Evening.

A degree team from Shepherd Encampment, I. O. O. F., will confer the Royal Purple Degree on a large class of candidates at a union meeting of all the encampments in Hartford District to be held at the Odd Fellows' Temple, Hartford, on Monday evening, May 2nd. A large delegation from the local lodge will accompany the team, and will be transported to and from the city in special buses. These buses will leave the Center at 7:00 p.m. (daylight saving time.)

The chairs will be occupied by the following officers, all of whom are Past Chief Patriarchs of Shepherd Encampment: Chief Patriarch, Thomas J. Rogers; High Priest, A. H. Simonson; Senior Warden, Joseph Behrend; Junior Warden, Frank Trouton; Guide, Charles Norris; Watches, Ralph Cone, Thomas Crockett, Clarence Wilson and William Knofskie; Guards of Tent, Fred Robinson and Samuel Richmond; Inside Sentinel, George McCormick.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEETS IN WAPPING.

This evening the Manchester Christian Endeavor Union will hold its quarterly meeting in Wapping, at eight o'clock standard time.

At this meeting the new officers of the Union will be elected. It is expected that the nominating committee has made some fine candidates. The speaker of the evening will be F. E. Duffy of West Hartford.

A report of the progress of the sales of the China Life Saving Stamps will be given. The Center society has collected nearly one hundred dollars already.

The members of the Center society will go by bus, leaving the Center at 8:15, daylight saving time.

Steal Three Mail Pouches at Bayonne

Bandits Hold up Baggage Agent in The Street and Shoot Him When He Resists.

Bayonne, N. J., Apr. 29.—Bandits early today stole three mail pouches, one of them containing registered matter, from the baggage agent of the Central Railroad of New Jersey while he was taking them from the station across the street to the post office. Matthew Lyons, the baggage agent, was shot in the face when he attempted to resist the robbers. The amount of money in the pouches is not known.

A fire alarm turned in about a block away, just before the robbery occurred, attracted all attention away from the scene of the hold up. The police believe the robbers turned in the alarm as a ruse.

The bandits made their escape in an auto.

Lyons was taken to a hospital in a serious condition. He was armed but was shot down before he had a chance to draw his gun.

An alarm has been telephoned broadcast throughout the metropolitan police district recently organized by police commissioner, Enright of New York. Lyons gave a fairly good description of the three of the bandits. The police believe four took part in the robbery.

An auto resembling the one used by the robbers was found later in the outskirts of the city.

Post office inspectors arrived from New York soon after the robbery and took charge of the federal and of the investigation. They stated no estimate of the loss could be made until all of the mail has been checked up.

A BEAUTIFUL BUTTERFLY.

M. St. Clair Burr, of 229 West Center street, reports this morning that a large and most beautiful butterfly has emerged from a cocoon which he had in his home all winter. He asks anyone who knows butterflies or who is interested in them, to come and see the beautiful insect.
